FIRE IN A CIRCUS.

During a performance on January 12, in Berdicheff, Russian Poland, a fire broke out, and before the spectators could escape the whole structure was ablaze. Three hundred persons perished in the flames. Berdicheff is a city of about fifty-three thousand inhabitants, 50,000 of whom are Jews. It is poorly built, and is noted for its uncleanness, but is important in a commercial sense as being the place where five fairs are held annually, the principal ones opening on June 12th and August 15th, and continuing for four weeks. The value of the goods exposed for sale at each of these fairs is estimated at $3,000,000. Besides the Cathedral of the Assumption, Berdicheff contains three or four other Greek churches, a number of synagogues, a Catholic church and a Carmelite convent. The principal secular buildings are the theatre, the market, the Jewish Alms House and the Elizabeth Hospital.

A LACE STORY.

A very good story, and what is more, an authenticated one, is told of the wife of a well-known and respected Nottingham in Paris, and occupied with the colossal shopping which such visits a lace shop of exquisite fineness and delicacy, which was offered to her for the moderate sum of 240 francs. She would instantly have purchased it had she not been deterred by various mysterious signs of dissonance from her husband, which surprised her not a little, as she new him to be a judge of good lace, and wondered therefore at this lack of appreciation of this beautiful specimen. The moment they left the shop her disappointment broke forth: "John, why did you keep me from buying that lovely thing? And only £10! I am sure you could not thing that dear. Why did you not let me have it?"

"You are quite right, my dear," was the reply of the unmoved John. "We consider that a very superior article; and the reason I did not want you to buy it is because it came from one of my own frames, and I can let you have as many of the same kind as you like for 15s apiece!"—Blackwood's Magazine.

A young poet presents himself before the reading committee of the Comedie-Francaise, armed with a play in five acts.

Before beginning to read it he unrolls a package which he had brought under his arm, and presents each of his listeners with a handkerchief, remarking in a matter-of-fact way:

"You may want a spare one! There are some mowing scenes in my play!"

Ouida once asked Mr. Charles Reade what would be a good name to give her pet dog. "Tonic," answered the illustrious author, without a moment's hesitation; "for it is sure to be a mixture of bark, steel and whine."

THE EVILS OF PAINTING

And their Remedy.

"It has been said with much truth, too, that house painting might, with study and acquirement of taste, resume its rank as a liberal art."—Painters' Manual.

Believing the above to be true, A. B. KERR has now re-organized his system of working the business in Honolulu. In the first place he has secured the services of that celebrated artist, Mr. Max Kohn, formerly of San Francisco, whose work in the line of plain and decorative paper-hanging, frescoing, &c., is up to the present time unsurpassed, and on these Islands has never been equalled. For house painting jobs first-class mechanics only will be employed. In future patrons can depend upon my filling every order on the most scientific basis known to the trade.

The Sign Painting and Lettering department will be permanently presided over by Mr. GEO. STAVANER, (further comment unnecessary.)

KAMEHAMEHA I.

At noon yesterday the ceremony of unveiling the statue of the great hero of Hawaii was begun. The statue had been previously placed in position on its pedestal and was now covered with two Hawaiian flags, so arranged that by pulling certain wires the flags would fall apart, and being drawn away would disclose the great statue. Round its foot a picket fence was erected to keep the crowd away. In front of it benches were placed, and on these the members of the Assembly and the delegates were seated.

To the left of the statue (proper right) a covered platform was erected, on which were placed chairs for His Majesty and suite, His Ex. J. O. Dominis, Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, His Ex. R. M. Daggett, Major Wodehouse, Mous. Feer, the captains of the men-of-war, Their Ex.s W. M. Gibson, S. K. Kaai, E. Preston, J. E. Bush, Gov. P. P. Kanoa, Hon. G. Rhodes, Hon. C. R. Bishop, and other members of the House of Nobles, etc. His Ex. W. M. Gibson spoke as follows: "Your Majesty, Nobles, and gentlemen: By a resolution of the Legislature of 1878 a sum of $10,000 was voted for the erection of a monument commemorative of the discovery of these islands. This was placed in charge of a Committee, and a statue of Kamehameha was chosen as the emblem. This vote was passed on the centennial of the discovery. A statue was procured, shipped and wrecked. Out of the insurance we were enabled to procure a replica. This has arrived and is on its pedestal. The committee are now ready to present it to Your Majesty, and to render an account of their stewardship."

The Hon. J. M. Kapena then repeated a similar address in Hawaiian, after which Mr. Gibson formally invited His Majesty to unveil the statue. This was done very speedily, the whole arrangement working well, and at the moment of unveiling the Band struck up, salvos of artillery boomed through the air, genuine cheers rent the air, and the bunting began to fly from the flag-poles. The statue is a magnificent work of art in bronze and gilt, representing the hero clad in a feather cloak and helmet, with a long tapa thrown over his shoulder and hanging down in front and behind below the waist. The dress portion is richly gilt, the body is in plain bronze. In the left hand is a spear, and the right hand is stretched out half open, and palm upward, as if in the act of addressing an audience. The whole figure inclines forward. Round the base are four intaglios in bronze, representing scenes in the life of Kamehameha. After the cheering had ceased His Ex. W. M. Gibson read an address commemorative of Kamehameha, in which he recounted his great and good qualities. The address is too long for our columns, otherwise we would have great pleasure in presenting it to our readers, as it was very interesting. After this the Hon. J. M. Kapena gave a similar address in Hawaiian. Both of the addresses were received with cheers. The proceedings having terminated three cheers were given for Kamehameha, and His Majesty, His Majesty and suite returned to the Palace; the rest remaining to partake of lunch. The galleries of the Government Building were crowded with ladies, and the whole army stood as a guard of honor in a semi-circle round the oval.

NEARLY all those who are decorated with the Order of Kamehameha were present at the unveiling of the statue of their founder.

LOCAL & GENERAL ITEMS.

GRUMBLING to a great extent is heard about the power behind the throne. Why?

"King's weather" for the unveiling of the Statue. No rain till the ceremony was just over.

We are asked to remind our readers that the entries for the regatta close on the 19th.

We hear that the hookupu of animals has been sold to help to defray the expenses of the Coronation.

A new fence has been put up lately on Punchbowl street belonging to the Hospital. It is quite an improvement.

THE Commemoration Committee are to be congratulated on the good value they have got for the money expended.

Now the streets and sidewalks are so muddy that people have to lay down planks in order to walk along from place to place. The apathy of the Government is frightful.

THE "Tiger Paint Store," belonging to A. B. Kerr, furnished the material, or most of it, to decorate the bungalow at the Palace, and the artistic part was done by Mr. Max Kohn and his assistants.

How many people are allowed to ride in one 'bus? Many people are puzzled to answer this query, as during the recent bad weather and festivities the number seems unlimited.

THE fence on Beretania Street, of the entrance to the Anglican Cathedral has been pulled down. We hope the trustees will have a handsome fence erected in its place that will be a credit to the Cathedral and the city.

THE old wall of the Palace grounds, facing Palace Walk, has been pulled down, and a new one erected on the proper boundary line. This not only gives additional room on that narrow street but adds greatly to its appearance, as the new wall has been neatly plastered.

ONE old lady caused particular amusement yesterday by her repeated efforts to raise up a cheer on her own account. She never cheered with the others but her solitary hip-hip-hip, could be heard directly the others were done. And she was on hand every time.

ONE of the prisoners, named Kukona, who was pardoned by His Majesty in honor of his Coronation and who was released on Monday morning, was in the hands of the police again at 8 o'clock the same evening. His case will come on to-day for trial at the Police Court on a charge of gross cheat. He offered a valueless cheque or bill dated 1870 to a saloon-keeper, and wanted it changed.

We find that the cement iron-lined trough in front of Ward's Artesian Well on King Street is not yet repaired. If the miscreant who broke it will not repair it a subscription should be got up amongst all drivers on that road. Ten cents apiece would do it. It was indeed the greatest convenience to everybody and a priceless boon to that man who loved to be "merciful to his beast," and the man who repairs it will have the blessings of all.

The conclusion of Mr. Gibson's address yesterday was good: "On his dying bed he lay and when he was asked what order he had to give, he merely said 'move on in my good way.' Move on in my good way. Yes we trust that the Nation will move on in thy good way. That, by prudence, and sagacious conduct, by regard for the rights of others especially of the stranger dwelling within our border the state founded by thee will ever be preserved independent."

So far, notwithstanding we have four men-of-war in the harbour every thing has been very quiet and it is the general opinion that they have behaved more than ordinarily well, at least much better than was expected. It was also prophesied that for the fortnight work would cease entirely amongst Hawaiians. They would give themselves up to idleness and dissipation. So far although drunkenness is more than usual, and at nights most every one you meet is more or less intoxicated yet work goes on.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Correspondence is solicited on the topics of the day, or what may become so. We reserve the right to excise purely personal matter. We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions expressed by our correspondents.—Ed.

NOT TRUE.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—You say in your Tuesday's paper, "Those who thought the Coronation would be simply attended by Hawaiians must have been disappointed, for very few even of these were there." This is either a wilful or an unintentional misrepresentation of the truth. I have lived in Honolulu for the last six or seven years past, and have never, on any occasion, seen so large a crowd of Hawaiians; and several others, of much longer residence here, have made a similar statement in my hearing. No good is ever done by misrepresentation, and it is a thing that a public journal should never be guilty of.

A SPECTATOR.

[We give space to the above piece of hard and strong language because we like to hear both sides of the question but we still hold to our opinion, that, for such an occasion, the attendance was not as large as would be expected Ed.]

THE MAIL SERVICE.

Mr. Ormstead, special agent of the Pacific Mail steamship Company, and Mr. T. T. Gamble, Auckland agent of the company, have had two interviews with the Government in regard to the Pacific Mail Service. At the first interview the subject was discussed by the Premier, and the agents of the company. Owing to the change of Government at New South Wales, and the consequent unwillingness of the outgoing Government to enter into a contract which would bind their successors for a lengthened period, Mr. Ormstead was unable to come to any definite arrangement with New South Wales. The New Zealand Government had been informed of this by the New South Wales Government. That being the case, the Government of this colony declined to pledge themselves to anything in the meantime. A subsequent interview took place, the result of which was, that a cablegram was sent to Sydney asking the New South Wales Government what it intended to do in the matter. Mr. Ormstead was led to expect that New South Wales would favourably consider the question of a continuance of the service. Nothing has, up to the present, transpired as to the intentions of the Governments of New South Wales and New Zealand as to a continuance of the existing arrangement. There can be no doubt, however, that the contract must be renewed, as it is an absolute necessity for the North Island of New Zealand, at all events. By the San Francisco service as at present conducted, Auckland merchants receive their London letters in 38 or 39 days; whereas by the Suez service they would not receive them in less time frequently than 53 days. Besides, the San Francisco line may be greatly expedited by more rapid transit of the mails across the continent of America, and by swifter steaming across the Pacific, so as to completely outstrip the Suez mails, not only to New Zealand, but to New South Wales and Victoria.—N. Z. Herald.

George Cavenagh,
WHILE thanking the public for the very liberal patronage accorded to him in the agency business, would now state that he has sold the good will of his intelligence office business to M.
H. Medhurst.

Referring to the above, I beg to state that I am now in a position to supply help of any desired nationality. By attention to business I hope to uphold the reputation of the "Labor Agency" so successfully established by my predecessor.
