THE PENITENT SEAMEN

STRANGE EFFECTS OF A CONVERSION.

Got Religion At The Peniel Mission But Lost It When He Saw His Second Mate.

Douglas Robertson, second mate of the bark Highlands, had an exciting experience at the Peniel Mission when he came ashore the other night, and says that he narrowly escaped being murdered. One of the men who had left the vessel and been converted threw a bottle at his head, says the mate, and it whizzed past with a speed that was enough to have made the dose a fatal one if he had been true. "The man went up there and got converted," said Robertson, "but I think he was drunk when I saw him. I went to the religious meeting and was on my way out when the bottle was thrown. Religion did not seem to make the man any more gentle than he was before conversion. As I went down stairs he stood at the top and he let the bottle fly at me. It shot past my head and was smashed on the sidewalk." Asked if he had had any trouble with the man on the voyage, the mate said "I made him work."

The Peniel Mission is doing a lot of religious work among seamen. Meetings are held every night and on Sundays the workers in the mission go on the water front and on to vessels and hold services. The bottle-throwing convert was probably one of the "graters" who expense religion in most ports they visit for the sake of what they can get out of the missionaries.

WILL FISHER'S IDEA.

Colonel Will E. Fisher is not in sympathy with the idea of keeping private rigs hustling about on the streets. He says that such a system is a mark of a small town, and not a city—a bustling big city, as Honolulu is becoming. In other words, in making it "hot" for shopping rigs the police are impeding an avenue of trade that is recognized in large cities as most important. The Colonel thinks the remedy for crowded streets is a little hustle on the part of the government in widening the same.

THE CLEVELAND ADRIPT

THE SERIOUS PLIGHT OF A BIG STEAMER.

Three of Her Crew Travel 350 Miles in a Small Boat to Get Assistance From Maui.

The steamer Cleveland, Captain Klitgaard, is adrift with a broken shaft, several hundred miles from Maui. She was bound for San Francisco with a full cargo of sugar from Kahului when she was rendered helpless by the breaking of the shaft. One of her boats, with three men, started for Maui to get assistance, and at last reports was forty miles away from Maui, south by east. Where the steamer is is not easy to say, and it will be no easy matter to find her.

The news of the Cleveland's plight was brought here by the steamer Eric, which arrived this morning off the harbor, stopping here on her way to Japan, on account of the illness of the captain's wife. Yesterday the Eric spoke a small boat forty miles from Maui. There were three men in it. They informed Captain Roos of the Eric, that they were from the Cleveland, and were going to Maui to get assistance for the steamer, which had broken her shaft, and was practically helpless in the open sea.

The men in the boat stated that the Cleveland, when they left her, was 320 miles north-northwest of the island of Maui. The little boat had traveled 250 miles of the journey to Maui, a trip that must have required several days, so that the Cleveland must have moved a good deal since she was last located. She has two yards and can put up a little sail, but not enough to control her movements. If she lost her propeller, as she would if her shaft broke near the end, she could be more easily controlled with sails than with the propeller dragging astern.

The Cleveland left Kahului on the 12th, it is thought. She had 13,000 bags of sugar on board. She was about two days distant from port when the small boat left her, so that it would seem that the accident must have occurred on the 14th, and the little boat must have been six days on the way when it was picked up by the Eric. If this is the case, the Cleveland had time to drift a long way before any assistance could go to her, and her plight is very serious. If she was directly in line on the San Francisco route she might be picked up by the Australia.

Captain Saunders of the pilot house, thinks it likely, in view of the weather that has prevailed, that the Cleveland is northwest of Maui instead of northeast. The news of her difficulty was communicated to him by the captain of the Eric.

The Cleveland has something of a reputation as a hoodoo. She has been in a number of scrapes, and has been the subject of much controversy as to whether she is a good omen or a bad one. During the Civil War the Cleveland was a blockade runner, and was captured on one of her trips to Charleston. She was built in 1861, and has seen service of all kinds, all over the world. Her name has been changed many times. Lately she was used as a transport for the Philippines, after a lot of controversy as to whether she was seaworthy.

Alexander & Baldwin began to look for assistance to send after the Cleveland as soon as they received news of her plight. The search for her may be a long job, and only the largest of the island steamers are fit for the work. The Kinau or Claudine are best fitted for the contract. The Claudine has been at Maui, and may possibly have gone on the search already, though she very likely left for Honolulu before the three men from the Cleveland got there.

The steamer with her cargo of sugar worth over a hundred thousand dollars, so that there is big salvage in the job for any steamer that picks her up. The Australia would probably refuse to tow her as taking a tow would be a violation of the mail contract.

INFECTION HARD TO TRACE.

The source of infection in the case of Kakobano has worried the Board of Health worse, perhaps, than any other since the outbreak of plague in December last. It has been found out that the infected premises near the Walkiki turn. But this was nearly a month ago. Since then he was engaged in some work of clearing up there. In the meanwhile, and even later than that, he was an over town, and it is not shown that he was in the stables at Iwilei, which is the only infected place now known to the Board.

HOSPITAL PLAN PROPOSED

ORGANIZATION FOR HOME FOR INCURABLES.

Bishop Willis Formulates It—Approved By President Dole and Others—Contribution of Funds Already Made.

The Hospital for Consumptives and Incapables is an accomplished fact. Out of a great calamity has been brought forth an eleventh hour institution for which many have labored long, but seemingly in vain, while prosperity was unclouded by adversity. Relentless necessity has established the hospital; but benevolence must support and continue it. It has come into existence unplanned, but plans must be made for the future.

Bishop Willis has outlined a plan, simple, feasible, and susceptible of growth. It is approved by President Dole and others. It provides for immediate work. It suggests S. E. Damon for treasurer so that funds for its support may be contributed at once. But friends have not waited for a treasurer before making contributions, and The Star is able to announce a contribution received yesterday from a gentleman from one of the other islands, who wishes to be known in the matter simply as "A Friend."

The following is the plan of organization proposed, with the names of those who have already approved it: The need of a Hospital for consumptives, incurables, and others, who cannot be admitted into the Queen's Hospital has long been acknowledged. Such a Hospital has now been running for three weeks under the direction of the Board of Health, and all that is required is the sympathy and support of the public for it to become a permanent institution.

Its history is this: When the period of detention in the several detention camps was ended, it became necessary for the Board of Health to have one hospital for persons falling sick in the Relief Camps or elsewhere.

For this purpose the two-story building, which was formerly the residence of the Franciscan Sisters, when they had charge of the Branch Leprosy Hospital and Kapiolani Home on this site, was utilized by the Board of Health. The first patient was Kanaka, who was taken from the Relief Camp of consumption in a pitiable condition.

Under the superintendence of Dr. Bowman this building is now fully equipped as a hospital. There have been as many as 25 patients at one time during the last three weeks. On March 18 there were 17 patients, cases of typhoid, pneumonia, consumption and beri-beri.

Under pressure of a call for some reduction of the present extraordinary expenses, it seemed necessary to the Board of Health that this hospital should be closed, and the sick people removed to the Kapiolani Detention Camp. Had this been done a great opportunity would have been lost. Application was therefore made to the Board of Health for leave to carry on the hospital by public subscription. The Board granted the use of the building with its equipment. This was readily given by the Board, and so an opportunity is now offered for supplying in a humble way one of the greatest needs of the city without incurring the expenditure that would be required if a site had to be purchased and buildings erected.

Being already in running order, the hospital can be carried on at a very moderate cost. Mrs. Willis, who has given her ministrations here from the first, is willing to continue her services in the work and administration of the institution for the present.

Although it is necessary for the present to admit cases of all kinds which are refused elsewhere so long as the fear of plague continues, the object which the promoters of this appeal have in view is to provide a Hospital for Consumptives and Incapables.

To carry this object into effect, the undersigned propose an organization consisting of a President, Secretary, Treasurer and two directors, who with the three officers named shall constitute the permanent directors; that the directors should appoint a board of three managers, whose duties it should be to carry on the hospital, providing the necessary medical assistance, nursing and other employees, food and medicines, and to administer the funds voted by the Directors.

The undersigned propose the following names for Directors: President—Bishop Willis. Secretary—A. L. C. Atkinson. Treasurer—S. E. Damon. Directors—Rev. Father Valentine.

Being already responsible for the running expenses, the undersigned ask for contributions to be paid to the Treasurer or to the account of the "Kerosene Hospital Fund" at Bishop's Bank. At the end of a month the cost of the institution will be ascertained and the accounts will be published.

LEGACY OF THE COURT

DISCUSSION NOW ON IN DEAD EARNEST.

Two Speeches In Supreme Court This Morning, and Others This Afternoon—Several Points.

The matter of the constitutionality of the Supreme court came up again this morning before Justice Frear, Justice Whiting and Judge Perry. As stated yesterday would be the case, the petition for continuance in the case of J. E. Bush et al., vs. Republic of Hawaii, judgment, was the basis of argument.

In reply to this petition Attorney General Cooper presented certain affidavits, one of which showed that Chief Justice Judd had drawn his salary of last month. This was intended to prove that the Chief Justice did not consider that he was out of office, nor would be, until his successor was appointed.

Mr. Magoon questioned the court as to whether argument should be upon the validity of the affidavits, or upon the formal resignation of the Chief Justice and its intent.

Mr. Gear stated that there was more than one matter to be presented in connection with the subject of the Chief Justice's resignation, which he regretted as much as any other member of the bar. It was intended to show that the Chief Justice, if he had not resigned, had abandoned his office and, moreover, had a physical disability which disqualified him from occupying the office now claimed for him. It was the intention to present all of these matters together, but with the new phase assumed, it would probably be better to take one at a time.

Mr. Magoon gave as his opinion that the matter before the court was the resignation of the Chief Justice, and that only.

After a consultation of the judges, Justice Frear announced that the court was ready to hear argument on the matter of the resignation.

Mr. Long, of the firm of Magoon & Long, took the floor on the side that the resignation took effect from the time that it was submitted, and that the court was not constitutionally formed. Mr. Long continued his speech, until just before noon, going exhaustively into the subject of the resignation of the Chief Justice and its significance. Following him Mr. Magoon addressed the court for a few minutes on the subject of the law in regard to the absence of a head of the Supreme Court.

This afternoon George D. Gear is addressing the court on the subject before it. He will be followed by Attorney-General Cooper. The latter has formally stated to the court that the Government was satisfied as to the legality of its present personnel and was prepared to go on with any cases in which the Republic was interested.

FIRE IN IWILEI.

The fire department this morning burned nine shacks and the stables in Iwilei from which the Chinese plague patient, Sue Kam, was taken. The stables were the center of infection, but the shacks were so close that no distinction could be made. A good job was made of it by the fire lads.

THE BENEFIT BASEBALL.

Tickets for the benefit baseball game to the late Toyo Jackson were issued this morning and are being sold about town. They are going like hot cakes, all the friends of deceased buying a few. The first game was played last night, and the ball rolling by buying 100 tickets, paying $50 for them. It is now hoped that a neat sum will be realized. Assurance comes from both sides that the game will be one of the best and most amusing ever played in Honolulu. It will take place Friday week, and the reason that the ministers will have a matinee Saturday afternoon.

BITTEN BY A DOG.

Sanitary Inspector Morgan, district II, was set upon by a Scotch terrier at the home of a native, camp 3, on Vineyard street this morning and quite severely bitten. The teeth of the brute went through the man's leggings, and into the flesh, inflicting a laceration, deep gash. He went at the animal with an old cut-throat razor, compelling the natives to tie him up.

IMPROVEMENT NOTED.

Domingo Ferriera was fined $6 and costs on a charge of heedless driving. The evidence was somewhat contradictory, though it was clear there was some heedlessness. But it seems Ferriera's reputation in the District court is not of the highest.

"You are improving, Ferriera," said the court. "Usually, you are up here for beating a woman; this time it is a horse. You and the officer who arrested you contradict each other. I am inclined to believe the officer. I fine you $6 and costs."

PRINTING CONTRACT.

The Hawaiian Gazette Company was this morning awarded the contract for printing the biennial report of the Interior department. This was the only bidder.

BOW WONG ASSOCIATION

THE CHINESE CONSUL EMPLOYEES COUNSEL.

Will Fight Application of Progressive Society for Charter Before the Cabinet—Small Talk.

The Bow Wong Progressive Association matter was before the Cabinet again this morning. Paul Neuman appeared, representing the Chinese consul, and on the side of the question which would deny the charter. To offset this there was a letter from W. A. Honsha, attorney for the applicants for charter, setting forth in detail the objects of the association, which was read.

It is understood that Mr. Neuman and his client have no objection to the charter for an organization as described in the application, but the latter seems convinced that the real character of the society has not been stated. On the other hand it is an undisputed fact that some of the oldest and most responsible Chinese in the country are sponsors for the new society.

After considerable discussion the matter was postponed to Friday morning, when a decision in regard to the matter will probably be reached.

There has not been anything in years to stir the Chinese colony as this matter. Never before has an application for a Chinese charter of any sort excited so much interest. This is the first time here, and perhaps anywhere else, that a consul has taken a hand in such an affair, and is certainly the first time in history that a consul has lodged a protest with the "transition" administration of a Territory of the United States in such a matter.

In the Chinese community but little else has been discussed for two days. It would seem that the Bow Wong Progressive Association has received enough advertising to insure its success, at any rate. Feeling in certain circles against the consul for his attitude is very strong. At the same time that dignitary has friends. It will be a long time, however, before the breach between the clans is healed.

REPORT OF THE MASTER.

In the matter of the estate of the late H. A. Widemann, Master Henry Smith has filed an approval of the accounts of the administrators. A RAT KILLER WANTED

NO "PROFESSIONAL" CAN BE FOUND.

The Board of Health Looking For a Man Who Knows How to Slaughter Rodents Scientifically.

"Wanted—A rat killer; must understand his business thoroughly; salary for the right man. Apply to the Board of Health."

If there is a professional rat killer in Honolulu he had better interview Dr. Wood at once. The Board of Health is ready to go ahead with a campaign against rodents, and would like to get the services of a professional rat killer, but no such individual is to be found. In fact, no one in this modern community seems to know just what a professional rat killer is. The subject of rat killers was mentioned to Dr. Wood yesterday and he started as if he had heard an exciting piece of news. "Do you know any rat killer in Honolulu?" he exclaimed. The doctor looked disappointed when a negative answer was given and he was asked for information. "I don't know what a professional rat killer is," he said, "except that he is a man who kills rats. I don't know how it is done. They go into a place and somehow or other they get whole bags full of rats. I suppose they attract them somehow. We don't seem to have any rat catcher here."

The Japanese are justly famed for professional rat catchers, as it is in Japan they are most employed. Newspapers in the land of the Rising Sun frequently use the term "professional rat killer," but they do not explain how the killing is done. Among local Japanese the same lack of information seems to exist. The inevitable answer that a rat killer is a man who kills rats is all the satisfaction to be obtained, unless some well informed little brown man will come to the front and instruct an ignorant community in the mysterious art of slaughtering rodents.

John M. Melanphy, lockup keeper at the police station, says he never saw professional rat catchers except at the docks in London. There he has seen many of them. They wear a leather strap over one shoulder, to which were fastened brass rats, life-size, as a sort of badge of their profession. They would take contracts for ridding ships of rats for a lump sum for each ship. They would come on board with a large number of hemispherical-shaped wire traps and set these about in different parts of the ship, catching the rats alive, to be sold afterwards. It was whispered, to the ears of the doctor, that it seldom took more than a day to rid a ship of rats. The rat catchers would take their traps away, filled with live rats. How they got the rats to go into their traps was a professional secret, though it was currently understood they used anise seed.

These rat catchers, Melanphy says, seemed to have a sort of hypnotic or mesmeric power over the rats, and could handle and control them as a snake charmer does rattlesnakes and cobras. Though they contracted to rid a ship of rats and carried out their contracts pretty effectively, it was understood that they always left one or two pairs of rats in the ship to insure another contract for themselves, or some brother rat catcher in the future, an understood courtesy in the profession.

BOARD LACKS FUNDS.

The Board of Health is now absolutely without plague funds on account of the failure of the Council of State to appropriate. From the cashier of the Board it is learned that a large number of employees whose salaries were due last week, are anxiously inquiring about the money. Many of them have suffered fire losses and are in needy circumstances. Nearly $150,000 is now due by the Board on account of the plague, and must come out of the pending appropriation.

The schooner Malolo is still taking coal from the wreck of the William Carson, which is slowly rising in the water.
Captain McCloud arrived here on the ship St. Francis. He will succeed Captain Scribner as master of the Henry B. Hyde.
The bark East African sustained about a thousand dollars damage by the fire in her coal, not including the cost of putting out the fire.
A four-masted schooner and two barks were off Koko Head this morning. Now that the trade winds appear to have set in, many arrivals are expected.
The ship Henry B. Hyde brought 1,700 tons of coal for the navy department. She started from Norfolk with 3,500 tons, and left the balance at Valparaiso, where she put in with her cargo afloat.
The schooner Eric, bound for Japan, with lumber from the Sound, stopped off port this morning on account of the illness of Mrs. Ross, wife of the captain. Mrs. Ross was brought ashore for medical treatment, and the schooner will continue the journey.

TO USE SAILING VESSELS

LOUISIANA SUGAR PLANTERS' NEW SCHEME.

Monthly Service Between New Orleans and Great Britain—Outlet for Low Grades Sugars and Molasses.

NEW YORK, March 8.—It is now stated a movement is on foot to have established next year a regular service of sailing vessels between New Orleans and Great Britain, in conjunction with other ports, including this one. The scheme is to secure an output of the lower grade of molasses and sugar from Louisiana for the disposing of which products the cane raisers in that state have been laboring under a disadvantage because of high freight rates and other charges which have been included in the shipments heretofore to New York and points abroad. A monthly sailing from New Orleans to Great Britain is the aim of those behind the movement. According to arrangements, five vessels are to be engaged at first, and they are to take coal from this port or Baltimore to New Orleans, where they will load timber, rice, etc., besides the molasses and sugar for Glasgow or Liverpool, at which ports they are to procure cargoes of coal for the West Indies, loading sugar at these islands for points north of Hatteras. As a beginning, it might be stated, of this proposed movement, a rather unusual one, the barks Obed Baxter and Mary Hasbrouck, have been engaged to carry away from New Orleans during May or June about 8,000 barrels of molasses, to be ready by that time for shipment, each taking a part, and filling up with timber, rice, etc. The Baxter, which is to leave first, will take her cargo, however, to New York.

The Obed Baxter was in this port last September, and attracted considerable attention because she was the first vessel with iron rigging that had ever been here.

THE OCTOPUS CAUGHT AT LAST.
An octopus with arms three feet in length was found in a saltwater tank on the steamer Santa Rosa, now lying under repairs at Broadway wharf. The octopus made its presence known by seizing hold of Chris Johnson, foreman of the gang of laborers at work on the vessel. Johnson had just emptied the tank. He yelled for help and some of the men soon tore him loose from the tentacles.—San Francisco Chronicle.

LIGHTHOUSE HISTORY.
It is just 300 years since the first lighthouse was erected at Lowestoft, and this is noted in the official records as the first regular lighthouse upon the coasts of Great Britain. The next lighthouse to be established was nearby, at Winterton, just to the north of Yarmouth in 1616. Lowestoft has also the distinction of having the first lifeboat. It was in 1809, just 200 years after the first lighthouse was erected, that the first lifeboat was dispatched on her initial errand of mercy at Lowestoft. It is wonderful, that with so many imperfections as it is now apparently possesses, the local beachmen should have done such magnificent rescue work as they did with her.—London Leader.

FILIPINOS KEPT TALLY.
Salvador Martin, an old Spanish resident at Vigan, says that he once read twenty-five consecutive numbers of La Independencia, in which the deaths of 127,315 American soldiers were recorded.—Manila Tribune.

WHAT TO DO UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

It is very hard to stand idly by and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of the doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in, he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he hoped would give relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. For sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., general agents Hawaiian Islands.

ONE REPORT SUBMITTED

WORK OF COUNCIL OF STATE
 YESTERDAY.

Finance Committee Reports on Bill Recommending Items as They are and Wanting Increase in Others.

At the meeting of the Council of State yesterday afternoon the following report of the Finance Committee was received and tabled to be considered with
 the bill:

Honolulu, March 20th, 1900.
 To the President and Members of the Council of State.

Sir: Your committee to whom were referred items in the Finance Department of Act 2, now before the Council,
 beg to report as follows:

Under the head of Department of Finance in Act 2, the following appropriations are asked for:

"Interest on all loans and advances,
 including remittances to London, $45,- 000."

We are advised by the Minister of Finance that he has allowed for the payment of interest only $125,000, which will not be sufficient to pay the amount of interest on amounts to become due during the next two years,
 especially if the items asked for in Bill 4 are appropriated by the Council of State, for which bonds are to be issued.
 We therefore recommend that this item
 be appropriated.

The next item is "Redemption of outstanding bonds, Act of Oct. 24th, 1899, $43,000; the total bonded indebtedness
 and the Government and Postal Savings Bank, as per Minister of Finance report, is $4,890,351.49, of which amount the United States Government is to pay $4,000,000, leaving a balance to be borne by the Hawaiian Government of $890,- 351.49."

These bonds will become due on December 12th of the present year, and if our affairs are not fully arranged by that date it is our duty to make provision for payment of same, as it will be unfair to the holders of the bonds not to receive the money due them, especially as it will make no difference in adjusting our settlement with the United States Government. We accordingly recommend that this amount be appropriated.

Under the Postal Bureau, the following amount are asked for: "Incidentals
 Postal Bureau (unpaid bills, 1899), $9,052.30." These bills have been carefully examined by your committee, and the amount corresponds with the bills,
 consisting of regular and legitimate expenses of that Bureau, being for rents, bags, stamps, clerk hire, over-time of clerks, stationery, books, printing, etc., and we recommend that this amount be appropriated.

The next item is "Incidentals Postal Bureau $3,000."

With the great increase of business
 in this department, we realize the necessity of more money to carry on the work successfully, and we recommend that the full sum of $3,000 be appropriated.

Next item is "Postal Money Order
 Capital, $3,500."

We find that it is necessary at times
 to have capital to conduct this important branch of the Postal Bureau, and that the amount asked for is not more than is absolutely necessary. We therefore recommend that this amount be appropriated.

In the Customs Department the following items are asked for: "Incidentals
 Customs Bureau (unpaid bills, 1899)
 $1,232.32."

These bills have been examined in detail and the amount asked for agrees with the bills; they consist of expenses at Hilo, Mahukona and Honolulu, and are for rents, electric lights, telephones, salaries, printing, books and sundry items, and we recommend that the amount be appropriated.

The next item is "Damage done ship
 Santa Clara by carelessness of assistant harbor master in docking ship to railway wharf, $75."

Upon investigation we are satisfied it was more accidental than "carelessness," and recommend that the amount
 be appropriated.

The next item is "Incidentals Customs
 Bureau, $2,000."

We are advised by the Minister of Finance that the amount in the regular appropriation bill for this is $10,- 000, but we find, with the great increase of business in this department, that the extra amount asked for will hardly meet the pressing needs, which have already been considerably reduced by the Executive, and we recommend that the full amount be appropriated, especially as it is for the entire Islands.

Respectfully submitted,
 P. C. JONES,
 C. BOLTE,
 M. A. GONSALES.

SOME NEW OFFICERS.

The following were last night installed as the new officers of Excelsior Lodge, I. O. O. F.: E. Lofquist, N. G.;

 son, R. S. S.; A. K. Anvik, L. S. S.; W. C. Parke, D. D. G. S., was installing officer.

 following officers: J. D. McVeigh, C.
 P.; G. W. R. King, S. W.; F. W.
 Wood, H. P.; C. Charlock, G. W.; L. L.
 La Pierre, scribe; L. W. Hough, treasurer.

JAPANESE MINISTER.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—There is genuine regret in all circles of society
 at the announcement of the transfer of Jutaro Komura, the Japanese minister to St. Petersburg. He has been in Washington only about two years,
 but has made himself popular with everybody and beloved by those who knew him well. While the transfer to Russia is a promotion for Mr. Komura and demonstrates the great confidence
 which his government feels in his discretion and diplomatic skill, because of the delicate situation in which Russia and Japan are now placed, it is regretted that some other honor was not conferred upon Mr. Komura, so that he might have remained here.

EXPENSIVE COAL.

The navy department is informed that ordinary bituminous coal for steaming purposes is now $10 a ton at Gibraltar.
 The same quality can be purchased for less than $2 at Lambert's Point, Va. The high price is due to the lack of transportation, the British having chartered almost everything that can float to carry troops and supplies to South Africa.

THE LOGICAL CONCLUSION.

Since the foreigner pays the tax, it is, of course, desirable to make foreigners of as many persons as possible.—

Via Maxima.

Kalulani Drive—aptly termed, the via Maxima or Grand Boulevard, and in itself an artistic piece of engineering—affords easy access to all points, as also scenic and marine views of exquisite grandeur at every turn.

Electric Railway.

Contracts have been let for material, and the work of construction equipping and installation placed in the hands of a competent electrical engineer to be fully completed by June 1st. Having an independent power plant we are prepared to furnish electric power for lighting, heating and other purposes, to our home builders at most reasonable rates.

As Promised.

Our reservoirs are now completed and water mains laid so as to supply each lot. Permits for making water connections will be granted on application.
 An inspection of the attractive homes now building, or the name of purchaser of lots, will convince anyone that PACIFIC HEIGHTS is the choicest and most select of all the residence sites of Honolulu.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1900.

Sporadic cases of plague still continue, but they are readily located and the source of infection traced. As an epidemic the plague has ceased, and soon the sporadic cases will cease, and we shall once more be a clean city.

The hunt for the professional rat killer threatens to be as elusive as was the pursuit of the Holy Grail by the knights of the Round Table. We may see Mrs. Wood and Day, and Messrs. Cooper and George Smith starting forth on the quest, but ever returning baffled and worn. If we could only get hold of the piper our troubles would be over. But there is no piper and no grail in these prosaic days.

The idea of plague germs in dust is a new theory which the bacteriologists will have to wrestle with. The germs of tuberculosis are carried about in dust, we know. It is for that reason that the expectorations of those suffering from consumption are so dangerous. They dry up and then the germs float off and take root wherever there may be a pair of lungs in appropriate condition. On this account, apart from any unpleasant features, the drivers of tram cars should prevent people spitting on the floors of the cars. Such a habit is dangerous to the health of the community, and should be put a stop to.

Captain Slocum of the yacht Spray, visited St. Helena only a year or so ago, is perhaps the last independent American who has written of that spot. He has no complaints on account of the climate or anything else to make. Captain Slocum says "the air in the heights was cool and bracing," and adds, "It is said that, since hanging for trivial offense went out of fashion, no one has died there, except from falling over the cliffs in old age, or from being crushed by stones rolling on them from the steep mountains." Old Slocum was and is a shrewd observer, and it seems as if his authority might be taken against the pedantic and inaccurate gazetteers.

The halt called on prophylactic injections may seem odd, but what is the Board to do? The Japanese flocked in under the very proper impression that it made them immune from plague. The Board never contemplated this when it started out, but it is one of the things it has learned. It might really prove as great a beneficence as vaccination. In point of fact if it is what it claims to be it is the cheapest thing that any government has into its power to stay plague. The question is whether it is all that it claims to be. Certainly the Board of Health are of that opinion, and no layman is going to say that physicians ever make a mistake, or don't have adequate authority for what they do.

SOME THOUGHTS.

From the trend of opinion it is very evident that the two years appropriation bill asked to be passed by the Cabinet is not meeting with the unanimous approval that some thought it would receive. Even the people that are to profit by the various bills, as they now stand, are not satisfied, and undoubtedly the people in the outer districts will object.

The propositions of the bills The Star does not propose to discuss. The central idea is that appropriations are asked for two years from a body which is only acting on an emergency. To the theoretical thinker, to the honest politician, to the average man the proposition seems obviously absurd, yet it is made, and the idea in some quarters is that it will be carried out.

The fact that the Islands were in a very bad way because the organic law had not been passed, is a self evident one. But it does not make bad things better to use worse means to better them. It is true that at times you have to use ill measures that good may come. The present is a case in point. The Council of State has no constitutional right to appropriate the money of the taxpayers. The Council of State is not a representative body, and it is only by a great stretch of authority that it can ever be allowed to vote money outside of the gravest emergency.

The Council was within its powers when it voted for the emergency of the plague. It is within its prerogatives when voting appropriations at the orders of the President of the United States based on the Newlands' resolution. The Star does not impugn the authority, but is arguing the question. The authority for emergency has its basis in the statute book. The authority for permanent appropriations rests on no such authority. It is the authority of expediency, and the authority of expediency, however we all of us may cling to it, is a broken reed.

Let us see what the constitution of the Hawaiian Islands says of the Council of State. This is the way it is constituted. Article 81, section 1, says:

"There shall be a Council of State of fifteen members, five of whom shall be elected by the Senate, five by the House of Representatives, and five appointed by the President, with the approval of the Cabinet."

With regard to the powers of this body, the constitution has this to say: "Section 6—The Council of State may, upon the request of the Executive Council, appropriate moneys, when, during the time intervening between the sessions of the Legislature, the emergencies of war, invasion, rebellion, pestilence or other great public necessity shall arise."

Under this section the Council has been within its distinct prerogative of voting public money—luckily the treasury had it—under the word pestilence. The present appropriations being made by the Council of State are being made under the words, "or other great public necessity."

Now, whether the framers of our constitution or President McKinley, interpret the words, "or other great public necessity" to mean the ability to vote a two years' appropriation ahead, The Star knows not. That is not the interpretation it bears to the ordinary reader. That there was necessity to act in this way from Washington, one can understand. Money had to be spent, and public money can only be spent legally. The order which was in the President's hands, undoubtedly gave authority which no one can challenge, for appropriations to be made. But was that order for two years' appropriation, in face of an imminent vote for organization in Congress. The telegram does not bear this interpretation. The following is the telegram:

"The President does not consider it wise to reconvene the old Legislature, expecting the Council of State to provide for the requisite expenditures until Congress elects (enacts) the Hawaiian Territorial Bill. He approved Act 1 of the Council of State. JOHN HAY."

It will be noted that the telegram says "requisite expenditures," and is distinct in pointing out that those expenditures are to be "until Congress enacts the Hawaiian Territorial Bill." Evidently President McKinley did not contemplate a two years' appropriation.

To The Star matters of constitutional principle are vital. It matters not who does the wrong, it is ready to say who has done it. On the other hand, it is ready to support the inevitable logic of events which do not agree with theory. But whatever side it supports it must be convinced of the rectitude of the cause. With regard to the present question it made be well to call attention to the second paragraph of section 6, article 81, of the before-quoted constitution, under which all our present legislative proceedings are going on. It says:

"In case of such appropriation, the Minister of Finance shall render a detailed account of the expenditures made under such authority to the next regular session of the Legislature."

This is really a charming proposition under present circumstances. When the next regular session of the Legislature of the Territory of Hawaii meets there will be no Minister of Finance to report since his functions will have ceased to have any existence.

The position of the present moment is a very serious one, and fraught with serious consequences to ourselves. The dearest right to the Anglo-Saxon is, through its proper channel of voters, to control the expenditure of its government. Its government may make mistakes, but it must spend its money properly and in accordance with the views of those who have the supplying of it. The question one would like to put is how many people are being today represented in the Council of State? The Council of State is not a representative body, and under those circumstances, it behooves it to be extraordinarily careful, and to be very chary of authorizing things, much more than a few months ahead.

A GOOD WORK.

It looks as if the home for incurables is going to take permanent shape. The organization has now taken definite form, and prominent gentlemen, whose names carry weight and show that every creed and every kind of thought have united to carry on this truly necessary work. Dr. Wood has helped as far as he is able by giving the use of a building, and allowing the furniture which has been used in the kerosene detention camp, to be used by the present organization.

The work, under the supervision of Mrs. Willis, will be carried on in a satisfactory manner, and we may feel satisfied that a beginning has at last been made which will be of infinite value in the future. The terrible condition of the hopelessly incurable being driven from one shelter to another will be removed. There will now be a place to die in.

At the present moment people are taken into the hospital who are not incurable, but that is because of present peculiar conditions. The Japanese patients who are suffering from typhoid fever could not be received into the Queen's Hospital because they had been in detention or relief camps. Had they not been received in to the hospital at the kerosene camp, they would have had no attendance, and would have died where they could, in miserable shacks, or by the roadside. But this condition of affairs will soon be over, and under the new organization, the place will come to its proper sphere of a home or hospital for people in the last stages of consumption, or suffering from some form of incurable disease. What a haven this will be to some wretched sufferers, only those who have had to deal with this species of suffering can know. It is a most worthy and proper work which has been undertaken.

THE BLACK CAT

JUSTICE AND LAW SUCCOR THE HELPLESS.

William Sutherland Fined for Wanton Cruelty to the Incarnated Fairy of the Drill Shed Camp.

Justice with her unsheathed sword smote mightily to the confusion of the cruel, while she shed a tear for the sufferings of the suffering Hygeia incarnate
cat as she avenged his wrongs.

Just as the sun was setting on the evening of January 20, and his last rays pierced the thick smoke which hung over the burning Chinese town, a black tom cat, without a white hair on it, came purring into the drill shed which had just been turned into a detention camp.
The manner of this cat was so dignified
yet so benevolent; there was such confidence yet benignity in his demeanor,
that in spite of the hurry and excitement
of the time and the seriousness
of the emergency that was being met,
a moment could be spared by the busiest to stroke his glossy coat and repay in kind his advances. From his first entrance into the camp the black cat
shared authority with Attorney General Cooper in the management and routine of the camp. And well he repaid the kindness and deference shown. Not a single hospital case of sickness broke out in the camp. The sick brought there speedily recovered. All the babies born in the camp were strong and healthy,
and nursed well, and their mother's scarce felt the pains of parturition.
Discord, even in the camp seemed absent, and the serpent which invaded Eden was powerless in the presence of the good fairy black cat.

Dr. Meyer attributed the good health and the success of the medical department to the presence of the benign cat,
in the same degree that Attorney General Cooper and Chester Doyle did the success of the discipline provided.

The first set of inmates of the detention camp fulfilled their period of quarantine and left, and others came to take their places. But the cat with his benign influence remained, more strongly than ever entrenched in the affections of every one—save one.

William E. Sutherland, after a sojourn on the reef for vagrancy, came to the camp two or three weeks ago, and left Monday morning, but not without inflicting the only cruel, the only unkind treatment the cat had ever received. Filled with drink and angry at something that had been said to him, he seized the cat by the tail just as he was leaving, and swinging it around his head two or three times, tried to brain it by dashing its head against a fence. Happily, the charmed life the cat had given the camp extended to itself, and it was not seriously injured,
and prompt interference by Tanaka,
the Japanese boy employed at the camp,
rescued the poor animal from further danger.

Sutherland was fined $10 and costs
this morning by Judge Wilcox, who added to the punishment imposed by the law, the chastisement of his most indignant reproaches.

HOW THEY CATCH SMEELTS.

Residents of Surry are happy as well as busy now, for the head of the river is frozen and the smelting business began Saturday. The news spread about that smelts had appeared in the bay,
and those who were in readiness made quite a catch and several shipments were made. Others employed themselves in getting their tents on the ice, and Monday some sixty-five tents were located and one of the largest catches in the history of smelting in Surry was made, more than two tons being taken. The average quantity was from seventy-five to eighty pounds to a man. The smelts are shipped to Boston and New York via stage to Ellsworth, and sell for from 5 to 15 cents a pound.—Bangor (Me.), Whig and Courier.

dent Havemeyer makes under compulsion to the State of Massachusetts are models of indefiniteness, which have been followed by a number of the newer combinations, and the investing public has been left totally in the dark concerning the resources of the American Company.

It appears to show that the American Company, as well as all of the other refiners, are losing money on every barrel that they turn out.

The loss is not heavy at present—it is only 6 1-3 cents a barrel, with the margin between raw and refined about 3 1/2 cents per 100 pounds, which is the difference existing today. If this loss were kept up, however, it would amount to $485,000 during 1900—assuming that the American Company handles the same tonnage as last year, 1,385,000 tons. The independent refiners are losing proportionately as much, or a little less than a third of the above amount.

From reliable sources it is learned that the average margin between raw and refined during the whole of last year was about 1/2 cent a pound, or 2 1/2 cents a hundred less than now.

This means that the loss of the American Company last year on the product handled was about $1,135,000. The losses of the independent refiners on the 585,000 tons which they handled would,
at the same rate, bring the total losses
of the fight between the refiners up to about $1,500,000.

It is a curious fact that the statement which Mr. Havemeyer has made before various committees that there is no money in refining sugar with a margin of only 1/2 cent between raw and refined sugar is literally correct, as will be shown below.

The quoted price of granulated at present is 5 20-100c a pound, with 15-100
off on 30 days' delivery, and .05 of a cent further discount for cash, making the price 5c. It is a well known fact, however, that the actual selling price is but 4 7-10c a pound, or $4.30 a hundred. The price of raw, 96 centifugal, is now 4 1/2c a pound, leaving a margin between raw and refined, actual rates, of 5 1/2c
a hundred pounds.

Many persons who have been told that the actual cost of refining is about 3 1/2 cents a hundred overlook the fact that 100 pounds of raw produce only 93 pounds of granulated sugar, and the balance of the product must be disposed of for next to nothing.

In 100 pounds of raw there will be an average of 93 pounds granulated, 6 pounds syrup, and 1 pound waste. The syrup brings only 2 cents a pound, but,
for the moment, counting the waste as syrup, the two together will bring 14 cents. The total return from the 100 pounds of raw sugar, after the refining process, is therefore, only $4.87.

The actual cost of refining, by the most modern machinery, including the taking of the product from the lighters,
into the refinery, melting, boiling,
chemists, loading on trucks and repairs,
is 18 cents a hundred pounds.

Under less favorable circumstances
the cost would be more than 18 cents
a hundred pounds. Barrels cost about 25 cents each, but reckoning the cost according to 100 pounds, as is done in the trade, it would be 10 cents a hundred.

The company, however, paid about $2,000,000 in dividends on the preferred stock, and $4,500,000 on the common stock last year, or a total of $7,000,000.

The question naturally suggests itself:
"Has the company any mysterious source of wealth which it can draw on for dividends? If not, can it manufacture refined sugar more cheaply than these figures indicate?"

Well informed people in the trade declare that the cost cannot be reduced much below 34 cents a hundred, but that new improvements are being introduced every year which continually lessen the number of workmen required.—New York Commercial.

A HAPPY MARRIAGE.

An interesting story is told concerning the life of G. W. Stevens, the war-correspondent who died recently in South Africa of enteric fever. Four years ago he married Mrs. Christina Rogerson, who, although more than double his age, is a woman of wonderful charm, wit, and fascination. She enjoyed the spirit and gaiety of a woman of twenty when Stevens, then twenty-six, married her. She was then sixty-three years old. Mrs. Rogerson refused him repeatedly, but she eventually yielded to an unending importunity. Their married life was very happy, and at Merton Abbey, Nelson's one-time residence, they devoted the kindest parental care to six boys and six girls taken from the worst haunts of vice and misery. These children they prepared for honest livelihood.
Mrs. Stevens is a very handsome and a sister of the famous beauty, Mrs.
Henry Smith, whose daughter was the
Mrs. Virginia Crawford of the Dilke case. She has a substantial fortune in her own right.

ment against warfare.

A meeting of the Ladies' Society of Central Union church will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

On Saturday, April 7th, Jas. F. Morgan will sell at auction delinquent shares of McBryde Sugar stock.

The Board of Health published in this issue an amendment to the district where sanitary regulations apply.

Dr. Hoffman is getting all right. He took two doses of the prophylactic in place of one, which doubly upset him.

The Ladies' Society of the Central Union Church will hold a quarterly meeting tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the church parlor.

There will be a church social at Central Union church, Thursday evening. This will be a welcome to Rev. and Mrs. Brown and Miss Yarrow.

Kaluna, charged with the burglary of the care taker's cottage at Kawa-alahao church some days ago, is being tried in the district court this afternoon.

Miss Mary H. Krout will give a series of drawing room talks at the residence of Wm. C. Wilder, commencing on Monday next, from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock.

BRUTALITY ON THE SEA.

Second mate Chase of the bark St. Katherine is charged by members of the crew with fearful brutality on the voyage, and the men have begun proceedings to have him punished. Andrew Carlson has made a charge of assault against him and other men who are on the vessel and unable to get ashore yet, have charges to make.

The mate is accused of being responsible for the insanity of the man who went crazy on the voyage, his brutality, it is said, having been so terrible that the unfortunate victim lost his head. "Jacob had several beatings from the second mate before he went crazy," says Carlson, "and one night he was knocked down on the fore-caste head and beaten, just before he went crazy. The mate drove him crazy by cruel treatment."

He was knocked down twice by the mate with an iron pin and had two black eyes for many days. There were plenty of witnesses to the assaults and the men will testify for me."

Other members of the crew say that the second mate's brutality made the vessel a veritable hell. He is said to have used his fists and weapons that happened to be handy on the slightest provocation, and to have forced men to work to the limit of physical endurance. The men will tell their stories in court.

Captain Saunders had no use for his second mate and discharged him as soon as he reached here. On the voyage Chase was imprisoned for over a month, on account of his conduct. This, together with the presence of a crazy man on the vessel, made the trip a fearful hard one for Captain Saunders and the first mate. They had only about four hours sleep out of the twenty-four during the last four months of the long voyage round the Horn, one of them being constantly on the watch. The crazy man is no better. He raves constantly about the ship, and at times imagines that there is a devil in the cell with him.

The men say they have no complaints to make about the captain or the first mate.

TRUSTS.

The republican party can be depended on to suppress the trusts—in its platform.—Chicago Record.

The coal trust evidently has not succeeded in doing to the weather man what Senator Clark is alleged to have done to the Montana legislature.—Chicago Record.

The bathtub trust cannot scare the old inhabitant who was brought up to wash at the pump.—Pittsburg Times.

Mr. Rockefeller thinks trusts should be regulated by the state. His experience with the attorney-general of Ohio probably led him to that conclusion.—Chicago Record.

CLASH IN INSPECTION.

First Trouble Reported Under the New Inspection Regime.

The first trouble reported between health inspectors and citizens was reported to the Marshal and Dr. Wood yesterday. Captain Dudoit made complaint to the Marshal and Inspector Berger to Dr. Wood. Dudoit says that Berger came into his house without knocking at the door or otherwise announcing his presence and began going through the house, frightening Mrs. Dudoit who had been told about the several burglaries and holdups occurring lately and was in a state of nervousness. Captain Dudoit yesterday morning remonstrated with Berger and yesterday afternoon Dr. Wood went out to the house. He assured Captain Dudoit that inspectors must be gentlemanly but insisted that they must be allowed to inspect houses. Captain Dudoit said this inspector should not be permitted to come into his house, and this morning refused him admission. There the matter rests up to the present.

Captain Dudoit says he held the pleasantest relations with the volunteer inspector and would have done with the present inspector, if it had not been for what he considers the latter's lack of consideration.

F. J. Cross, the wireless telegraphy man, sailed by the Australia for London. He is being accompanied as far as the Mainland by his wife.
