THE WORLD'S COMMERCIAL CENTER.

The world's commercial center is like the center of gravity in a child's rubber ball, and carries the toy of wealth wherever the fortuitous application of forces sends it. By analogy we often carry the material laws of the universe to the explanation of abstract economies and political theories. As we argue that a decline of heat causes the shrinkage of a world, so we argue that a decline in a country's manufactures causes a shrinkage in the national commercial world. In like manner the world's commercial center is visibly affected by the amount of "commercial heat" gathered at any given point.

In accordance with such general laws, the world's commercial center has shifted many times in the history of mankind from one country to another. For many years London has practically been the world's commercial center, but late investigations show that the "world's commerce is gradually shifting from England through Germany to the United States." The general movement of the world's commercial center has been westward, and, if it now shifts to the United States, as predicted, will have virtually put a girdle around the earth—not in "forty minutes" but in something less than forty centuries.

According to the latest German statistics, British manufactures have decreased on an average of one per cent. a year for seven years, while the "continental countries of Europe show a corresponding gain." Whenever the world's center of commerce becomes unstable, it will inevitably settle permanently in that country which has the greatest natural resources, and is dominated by a people who have character sufficient to develop the national wealth of the nation. It would, however, be foolish to argue that great commercial centers fluctuate, in the ordinary acceptance of that term. They do not; and the shifting of a commercial world-center does not take place in months, but in years.

As the Earl of Beaconsfield foreshadowed, shortly before his fall from office, the revival of trade in England, at that time, was dependent upon the revival of industries in the United States. England is not only dependent upon the United States, in a large degree, for her breadstuffs and provisions, but is also dependent upon the Great Republic for raw materials with which to feed her manufactures. The immediate future of the English people is entirely dependent upon their manufactures. But the United States not only furnishes England with raw materials, but the manufactures of America are gradually encroaching upon English home productions, and the revival of American industries will ultimately crowd English products out of a large portion of the world's market.

Some Political Views.

EDITOR DAILY HONOLULU PRESS—Sir: I saw that yesterday morning's editorial of your paper treats of an electoral circular which was printed last week, and in which my name was recommended to the voters, together with those of three other honorable gentlemen. You close your remarks with expressing the opinion that I am probably not in full accord with the utterances of that circular, and that you expected that something would be heard from me on the subject. You were right on this first point, for I beg to enclose herewith a list of points which would constitute my platform, if I were urged by public opinion to stand as a candidate for the next Legislature.

You will see by this document that I have certainly ideas and views of my own, although I do not find in what has been called by the Bulletin Mr. Squires' circular, anything which I would not be able to endorse. My views on most important questions seem to agree with those of that gentleman, as they will agree with all those which can be put forward, with my real independence, for the good of this country and for averting the dangers which threaten this little Kingdom, through the mismanagement of its Administration.

Nevertheless, I take this occasion of recommending to your kind attention the expression of my political ideas, as expressed in my own circular, and I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly

A. MARQUES.

The following is the circular of Mr. Marques, addressed to the voters of Honolulu:

TO THE VOTERS OF HONOLULU DISTRICT.

Gentlemen:—Having been asked by several prominent citizens of Honolulu to stand as Independent candidate for the next Legislature, I have made it a condition of my acceptance to be nominated by the people. But having at the same time been asked to formulate my political views, I have no objections to let them be known, and I beg to submit to your attention the following articles, which would constitute my platform were I to be nominated:

1. I shall defend the absolute integrity and sovereign independence of the Kingdom, and consequently shall devote all my efforts against any annexation or sale of the country, which belongs to the natives and to those citizens who have become naturalized.

2. I shall respect the Constitution and laws of the Kingdom, and shall aim to help the King in the carrying out of good government; but, as I consider that the Constitution needs to be amended, I shall advocate its revision, in view of arriving at a better administration of the country by the people, and of increasing the public liberties and the rights of our citizens.

3. I shall devote myself to obtaining the reduction of Government expenditures within the strictest limits of the receipts, and I shall also be in favor of reducing the taxation, and if it is not possible to reduce the actual outstanding debt, I shall at any rate be opposed to any measure which may tend to increase it.

4. I am in favor of increasing the population of the Kingdom by all practicable means, and I shall urge the Government to offer proper inducements to all bona fide settlers.

5. I shall advocate a thorough revision of the labor laws, taking care that the rights of the planters, under their present contracts, shall be respected.

6. I will not favor further Asiatic immigration supported by Government funds, and I will urge every measure needed to protect the natives and the foreigners from the encroachments of the Chinese.

7. The increase and preservation of the native Hawaiians is a matter of the greatest importance; I shall therefore devote my utmost attention to sanitary measures for their protection.

8. I shall make it my special duty to favor all measures and laws suggested for the benefit of the working classes, and all those proper for increasing the prosperity and resources of the country, and especially for developing its agriculture.

9. I shall devote special attention to the question of good roads, for them to be opened wherever necessary, and I will favor the measures to keep them in systematic and constant good order; I shall also attend to railways and telegraphs, as far as practicable.

10. In a similar way I shall favor all the facilities given to inter-island navigation and the building and repairing of landings and wharves.

11. I wish the Government to institute a special examination of the irrigation resources of our Islands, so as not only to increase the quantity of arable lands, but also to give occupation to the native laborers.

12. I shall study the ways of putting at the disposal of our people all lands now lying waste, whether they be Government or Crown lands, so as to enable every man to have his own home.

13. I shall insist that the acts of the present Administration be minutely overhauled, and shall specially devote attention to the coinage and finance questions.

14. If the state of the Kingdom requires it, I shall be in favor of a proper reduction of salaries, and also of uniting the army with the police forces, so as to combine efficiency with economy, and yet be able to give a better salary to the humble and useful policemen.

15. For Honolulu specially I shall endeavor that a municipal government be granted, with all proper care to assure a good administration.

16. I shall oppose undertaking the protection of distant islands, because all the attention of the Government should be devoted to the Hawaiian, and his welfare should be their constant care.

Such are the views I promise to honestly carry out, if am selected by the Honolulu voters, having only in view the good of this country, where my home is.

Pierola Going Home.

NEW YORK, December 30.—Ex-President Pierola of Peru arrived in New York this morning by the steamer St. Laurent, from Havre. The famous Peruvian, left this city only about two months ago for Paris. He found his native land under the rule of Iglesias too warm to hold him. His return is the result of the defeat of Iglesias by Caceres. He will sail to-morrow on the Pacific Mail steamer City of Para, and it is not unlikely that he may again take a prominent part in Peruvian affairs.

A Hydrophobia Hospital.

NEW YORK, December 31.—The World says: The first steps looking towards the introduction into this country of the famous method of treating hydrophobic patients, discovered by Louis Pasteur, were taken yesterday. The papers necessary for the legal incorporation of the American Institute of Hydrophobia were sent to Albany, and no time will be lost in bringing the organization to a condition of practical usefulness. The list of officers includes several men of recognized worth and talents. The President is Professor Alexander B. Mott.

OFFICE OF THE

Daily Honolulu Press,

No. 29 Merchant St.,

Honolulu, January 1, 1886.

To the Public:

We respectfully solicit your subscription for one or more copies of the "DAILY HONOLULU PRESS."

Our reasons for asking your support are these:

First—The DAILY HONOLULU PRESS is an independent morning paper, established in the interests of morality and good government, and will be devoted to advancing the prosperity of this Kingdom.

Second—The paper is conducted in a fearless, just and logical manner, aiming to fairly represent public opinion, and to be entirely free from everything objectionable in a family newspaper.

Third—It is our aim to make the DAILY HONOLULU PRESS the leading paper in this Kingdom. With this object in view we have secured the best literary talent, both at home and abroad, at our command, while the subscription price has been established at the low rate of FIFTY CENTS PER MONTH, with free delivery, so as to bring the paper within the reach of all.

Fourth—We desire to introduce our paper into every English-reading family in this Kingdom, feeling assured that it will be permanently retained after its merits, as a live, wide-awake journal, are once known.

Fifth—As an ADVERTISING MEDIUM, the DAILY HONOLULU PRESS possesses unequalled advantages, having retained all the subscribers to the late Saturday Press, in addition to a new subscription list, which is daily increasing, so that the paper is not only enjoying a large circulation in this city and vicinity, but is also mailed by every steamer to subscribers at almost every landing on the other Islands, and also to foreign countries, thus combining the advantages of both daily and weekly editions. The coming month, especially, our paper will have a much larger circulation than all the other daily papers combined, as we intend sending specimen copies to every resident on these Islands who reads English.

We, therefore, ask your co-operation in our enterprise, and trust you will avail yourself of this offer.

Very respectfully yours, etc.,

At ten o'clock last night a fire started in the rear of Roth's tailor shop, on Fort street. It was first discovered by one of the employees of the Press office, who with the assistance of the "brave compositors" of the Press, extinguished it before any damage was done. No alarm was turned in.

The body of Mr. Edward Oakley, who committed suicide on last Sunday morning, was exhumed yesterday, at the request of his friends, after he had been buried in an indecently hasty manner by the authority of somebody, and the funeral will take place this morning at ten o'clock from his late residence on Queen street. The funeral will be conducted under the auspices of his many friends.

The meeting of Pacific Hose Company, No. 1, last evening, was the most exciting of any ever held. The election of officers took place, during which Mr. C. K. Miller was elected Foreman; J. W. Macdonald, Assistant Foreman; A. Robertson, Secretary; F. Wood, Treasurer; A. H. Raseman, Delegate. A communication was read from the meeting of the Fire Department Board, stating that a new hose carriage was expected by the next steamer from San Francisco for the company.

The library which was left by the will of the late Queen Emma to the Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association has been all catalogued, and is now upon exhibition at the library building on Hotel street, where the public are invited to inspect it for the remainder of this week, after which the books will be placed upon the shelves for circulation. The library donated by Queen Emma is about 500 volumes of general history, voyages, travels, etc. This will bring the total number of books in the library up to about 4,700 volumes.

Yesterday afternoon a somewhat peremptory demand was made of Mr. Kawaiuli, the editor of the Pua Ana, for the letter published in that paper, and republished in the Bulletin, which was written by Mr. Fred. W. Hayselden in the interests of the Government party. The demand was made by Messrs. Hayselden, Kaulukou and their attorney, Mr. Whiting. The demand is stated to have been very abrupt, and was promptly refused. The Government party will be surprised to learn that the time has gone by when it can "bulldoze" even native editors.

The following gentlemen made speeches at the political meeting, held at Kaunakapili Church last evening: Pua, Kanui, Lokai, Keau, J. M. Poe-poe, Chas. Achie, J. O. Carter, H. Swinton, Kap. Jena, Henry Waterhouse, J. U. Kawaiuli and W. L. Holokahiki. Mr. J. W. Kawaiuli acted as Chairman, Mr. Kaiwi as Secretary. Mr. J. O. Carter, when called upon to speak, received loud applause from the audience. He made quite a long and pointed speech in English, Mr. J. E. Bush acting as native interpreter. After his speech he received another round of applause from his listeners. Mr. Holokahiki, who was the last speaker on the programme, when called took the platform, upon which the audience arose en masse and took their leave, much to the astonishment and discomfiture of the speaker.

They say: That the raid of some of the Government candidates for "a letter" on yesterday was only a partial success; that the matter-of-fact natives don't see quite as the "old man" does; that the assertions of the times are most delusive; that officer Fehlber is a valuable official in many respects, and would be more so still if he could only "keep his mouth shut" about cases that are going on in Court—or words to that effect; that the Opposition "boom" is quite healthy, in spite of the silver-coated editorials fired against it; that a young lady was heard to greet a friend at the Opera House last night with, "I'm pretty well, how are you?" that the other girl thought the same thing, but did not say it out loud; that the merry makers will make merry times when they arrive; that the wind blew very hard at Kaunakapili church last night; that it's a political wind that blows a few men good; that the authorities were not aware that carpenters were at work in the new bank building last Sunday; that there is a grave suspicion afloat that the said carpenters were protected by the veritable gipsy charm; that the police are on the scent of the Post Office robbers, and that they are likely to stay right there; that there will be political music in the air before long; that the temperance meeting at the wharf last Sunday afternoon was such a success that another will be held next Sunday; that the social "little boy blue" will blow his horn before the new year is old; that the new game, political religion, won't go down the Catholics, as will be seen at election time; that the "coming thro' the rye" policy of the so-called National candidates is failing to catch the native vote, as was expected; and that the large audience fully appreciated the play at the Opera House last night.

The Ward-Vernon Troupe.

A large and fashionable audience assembled last night at the Royal Opera House to witness the drama of "Forget-Me-Not," as performed by Miss Genevieve Ward and Mr. W. H. Vernon, assisted by Mrs. Captain Hayley, Mrs. J. D. Strong and Messrs. L. Montgomery Mather, Marnaduke Pike and H. Von Holt. The drama is of the semi-tragic sensational school, and has a good portion of nerve-working scenes in it. It will be considered rather too sensational by many of our citizens and rather good by others. As far as the acting of the drama was concerned, there is no variation from the truth in saying that the cast was probably stronger throughout than in any drama that has been produced here in the last two years. Mr. Vernon is a very clever and pleasing actor, and a fully sustained his part; in fact, it is a question if he did not carry off the laurels of the evening. Miss Ward's acting can hardly be judged properly after seeing her for the first time, and several performances would be necessary to form a judgment. At present it would be safe to say that to call her "the leading tragic actress of the English-speaking stage" would be too much praise for her ability; while to say she is not a very fair actress would be telling less than the truth. In the minor parts those Mrs. Hayley and Mrs. Strong did "excellent well." Mr. Pike, as Prince Malleotti, was moderately well sustained. By far the best sustained minor part among the gentlemen was that of Barrotto, the Corsican, by Mr. L. Montgomery Mather. Taken as a whole the play was the best produced in Honolulu for a long time, and it is to be hoped that the company will give us some more ere long. They have made a most favorable impression, and can now command a full house.

An Idea.

There was a sparkle in the twinkling eyes of the Polynesian laborers, and a "don't-you-see-me-now" look on their bright physiogns, as with bran new muzzle-loading muskets they filed down Fort street yesterday morning, doubtless "building castles in the air"—later on to laugh at the "effluvia low" with the awe-stricken and stay-at-home "boys." We trust this is the last of this game of playing with firearms among the Polynesian Islanders. These same style of arms too often in the past have been successfully turned against visitors to these islands, whether in search of labor or for missionary enterprise. While ornamental and attractive let them have the useful honor, short lived the usefulness might be. Better still leave those Islanders in their natural fields to sun out their sickly lives.

Puny at birth,
As at manhood's prime,
Seeming to live,
Yet wasting out their time.

Police Court Items.

Five drunks presented Judge Bickerton with $6 each.

J. Wessolo, charged with furious driving, was fined $5 and $1 costs.
Ah Pua and Sam Morris, charged with affray. Ah Pua fined $4 and $1 costs. Morris was fined $6 and $1.20 costs.

Chas. Clark, charged with violating express rule No. 6; fined $5 and $1 costs.

Kaauaua, charged with assault and battery; remanded until the 12th inst.

Lui, charged with disorderly conduct, was reprimanded and discharged.

Aua (k) and Nahaulu (w), remanded from the 9th inst. on a charge of adultery; found not guilty and discharged.

Pro Bono Publico.

One of the most attractive displays of elegant holiday goods in Honolulu is made by Messrs. King Bros., No. 87 Hotel street. Their assortment of Birthday, Christmas and New Years cards, of Prang's and other makes, is exquisite in design and finish, and are offered at extremely low rates. An inspection of their picture gallery will well repay the visitor, while artists can here find a choice selection of artists' materials. In the windows of King Bros. are also a fine collection of Clarke's fern carols, Island curios, etc., and some beautiful shells, painted in native scenes by Mrs. Thomas J. King, which are valuable mementos to send abroad.
