PHORCED PHORACING

Successful Raids by General

The printer told of the "galley" loved.
To his friend both tried and true;
"And 'Ed, it may seem 'comma'
cal—
But I'll give the 'case' to you.

'Her eyes are 'diamond,' teeth of 'pearl';
Her lips are 'read' and ripe;
There's 'nonpareil'—excuse my French—
Of beauty she's the type.

'You ought to 'semi c'ion' her,
I 'set up' with her nights,
Her 'form' locked in my foni 'M
brace'—
She calls that woman's rights.

'I've got her 'solid.' Oh, you bet
I'll 'stick'. She's got the 'quoin'
I'm 'going to press' my 'chase' until
Both heart hand and we join."

The Rejected Ms.

I climbed to the editor's sanctum,
And found him there sitting alone,
With paste-pot and scissors be-
him,

And ex's around him all strewn:
His hands were thrust deep in his pockets,

Dishelved and long was his hair;
'Bout his lips was a thinking expression,
His eyes had a far-away stare.

I trembled as soft I approached
him,
Felt a weakness creep into my knees,
As I said: "Her's a poem; read it, please!"

His eyes wandered back from the distance,
And calmly my person did note;
One hand was withdrawn from his pocket
And seized my poor lay by the throat.

'Twas a minute—methought 'twas a cycle—
Ere the editor opened his lips:
But the words that he spoke when they parted
Cast over my hopes an eclipse:
"Tis rhyme without reason—'tis rubbish,"

Each Ed in the basket would throw it.
Don't fool 'way your time with the Muse,
Believe me, you'll ne'er be a poet.

* * * * *

'Rejected! the duces—you don't mean it!
'Tis better than many I've writ."
Didn't know you! Ah, that is the reason

The editor saw nothing in it.
No matter how good the production.
If it comes from a pen that's not known,
Ten to one 'tis never accepted,
But in the waste-basket is thrown.

'Let's have it! I'll copy it over,
And send it as one of my own,
And I'll bet you the oysters at Cable's
'Twill not in the basket be thrown!"

Next week the poem that was
'rubbish"
When a name unknown did it
head,
Appeared in large type in The Critic
With a tribute of praise from the Ed.

Hawaii Holomua

PROGRESS.

The Life of the Land is Established in Righteousness.

HONOLULU, APR. 9, 1894.

THE HOLOMUA IS A "PEOPLE'S" PAPER AND IT REMAINS AT A "PEOPLE'S" PRICE. DELIVERED DAILY AT RESIDENCES FOR 50 CENTS PER MONTH.

DOUBLE DEALING.

Not in Accord with the People.

A card appeared last Saturday in the Bulletin apparently coming from the "Hui Aloha Aina." It was an attempt on the part of the few promiscuous haoles who run that establishment to discourage that immense meeting of patriots which will be held to-night at Palace Square. It is of course a surprise to the loyal people to see the Bulletin grab and publish an unsigned "card" in a political affair, backed by everybody connected with that sheet. But we are yet more astonished to see the editor of the Bulletin—shall we call it a Loyalist paper—in one column printing an anonymous "card" from the "hui" and in the next publishing the call for that meeting signed by the President, Vice President, Secretary and several directors of that organization. If the Bulletin desires to injure or hurt the cause of the loyal citizens, who meet to-night, it ought to say so without fear or favor. If it does not, it ought not to speak one way and act another. Mr. Marques who published the card appearing in the Bulletin has no more right to speak on the behalf of the "Hui Aloha Aina," than we have and the sooner the editor of the Bulletin realizes that fact the better.

"By the People."

The following from the morning's Advertiser, is really worth reading:

"The Queen's organ has come out in favor of government 'by the people and for the people.' Where does the ex-Queen come in? Is she the people?"

May we ask our philosophical contemporary what it understands by government by the people? Does that not mean a government representing the will of the people and formed so as to suit the majority? We think it does and we believe, that, if the PEOPLE decides to live under a monarchical form of government, that monarchical form of government will be a government by the people. If we are to have a republic here, the Advertiser will come out in the most emphatic spread-eagle language and prate about our being relieved from the "yoke of monarchy" and of our having now a truly popular government—although the non-elected President will hold his office for ten years without the sanction of the people and be given, through the fact that he has been able to corral the arms and ammunition in the country, more autocratic power than ever was granted to anybody since the days of the Kamehamehas—whatever form of government, the PEOPLE chooses is government by the people call it an Empire or a Monarchy or a Republic. As to the question of the Advertiser, "where does the Queen come in" we shall refer the next morning paper to our former issues in which we repeatedly have stated that the protests and opposition of the Royalists are not of or for the Queen as an individual, although, the principle of monarchy is being used as the common expression of the popular will. Hawaii demands the return to the constitutional government approved and supported by the people, previous to Mr. Stevens' coup d'etat; the return thereby of Queen Liliuokalani to the throne is simply an incident in that principle and is certainly not the main point, and nobody has ever claimed it to be so. We still believe in and will agitate for government by the people of the people and for the people.

Why They Don't Register.

The government organs have complained very much because the people don't register and they have claimed that there was a systematic move on foot to prevent registration of Hawaiians and Portuguese. The question of citizenship has a great deal to do with the hesitation among the foreigners to take the oath of the P. G. The Portuguese government, as well as other European governments, we presume, does not relinquish its supremacy over its citizens even if these should take the oath now prescribed by the Provisional government. But there is no guarantee that a future Hawaiian government will not claim all those who took that as subjects and insist in them performing the duties and obligations of Hawaiian citizens, and in case of an emergency deny the right of the man's home government to interfere on his behalf. Mr. W. O. Smith—the most learned Attorney-General—has given an opinion on the matter and he says that the oath will not interfere with the citizenship of the taker. Now this is very nice and as far as Mr. Smith is concerned, very pleasant, but as Mr. C. W. Ashford has pointed out (and he is nearly as good a lawyer as Mr. Smith) it isn't for the learned Attorney-General to decide such a question—it is for the Supreme Court solely and only. Nobody can know today what the opinion of the Supreme Court, in this matter will be and there isn't the mind-reader born, who ever could guess, how that immaculate body might jump on any question. Should now the Supreme Court decide that a taking of the oath owes allegiance to Hawaii-nee, and at the same time the representative of the man's government holds that he doesn't, there will be a conflict which might lead to the most disagreeable complications. As far as the Portuguese are concerned, we must say, that we consider it perfectly natural that they should refuse to register even leaving out of the question, the matter of citizenship. If they countenance and support the constitutional convention, they will be working dead against themselves. There can be no doubt, that, whatever government is framed here, equal rights will and must be granted to the Japanese. The semi-official organ of the Advertiser has already admitted, that, and has already prescribed a remedy, which would practically deprive the Japanese of the right to vote. The remedy is to restrict the franchise to Hawaiian citizens only, and to place an educational qualification on the privilege. Such method would beyond doubt, disfranchise the Japanese but it would most decidedly also disfranchise the Portuguese, and the leaders among whom who mean honest to their countrymen, have realized that the fact some time ago. The government organs have also realized the consequences of their own proposition, and they have therefore made another to the effect that those who join now shall be exempt from the coming rules of qualifications and become voters. Don't believe in the feasibility of the proposition for a moment. The Japanese will not allow it. They claim that they are prevented from registering and voting now—however willing they may be—and they do not believe in allowing other foreigners to get an advantage over them that would be just as much of an infringement of justice and an infringement on their treaty rights as has been the present state of affairs. They will insist in equality among all foreigners, and they will enforce their claim, if necessary, by force. The measures then to be adopted by the Hawaiian Government are such that aliens will be disfranchised, and we are unable to see the Portuguese should work for why their own political suicide. They have hardships enough here without helping in depriving themselves of their civil rights. It is well here to remind the foreigners that anyone taking military service under a foreign government according to all international laws loses his nationality at once. The reason simply is that a man taking military service (without permission of his home government) with a foreign power might at any time come into conflict with his own nation and be obliged to bear arms against his own country. Should the Supreme Court decide that a foreigner taking the P. G. oath is alleged to perform the duties of a Hawaiian subject and thereby carry arms in case of necessity that foreigner not alone loses his citizenship, his right to protection, but he becomes in the eyes of his home government, a traitor and a criminal amenable to the laws of his country. For these reasons it is well for all to go slow and ponder well before being induced by the smooth talkers of the P. G. to take a step which might be sorely regretted some day. And it is these reflections which keep the men away from the registrars—not any systematic effort to injure or quarrel with the supernaturally virtuous P. G.

FOREIGN NEWS.

EUROPEAN.

It appears from latest intelligence to hand that the European Anarchists, well aware of the tremendous risks connected with their hateful schemes, have taken the precaution to insure the lives of those to whom the bomb-throwing is entrusted. It appears there was an insurance policy for £8000 on the life of Vaillant, who threw the bomb in the French Chambers of Deputies, for which he suffered the death penalty; and it is also stated that the plotters killed at the explosion in the Church of the Madeleine in Paris were also insured. The appalling catastrophe which occurred at Santanda, in Spain, last November has had a lamentable sequel. While a number of men were engaged in removing the bulk of the vessel which was the cause of the original disaster, some of the unexploded dynamite went off, killing twelve persons and injuring thirty. The populace, incensed at what they believed to be the negligence of the authorities, to which they attributed the explosion, attacked the inspectors of shipping and it was found necessary to call out the military to quell the disturbance.

Another dynamite explosion has occurred in a French church, this time at Grenoble. Thirty persons were injured.

London, Mar. 19. At a Trades Union meeting in Hyde Park a resolution was carried unanimously in favor of abolishing the House of Lords.

London, Mar. 18. Lord Rosebery had a most enthusiastic reception at Edinburgh, where he delivered an address last night.

APRIL 5, 1893.

The worst cases of indigestion come from poor cooking as often as from the quality of the food. Years ago when the diet of the natives consisted principally of Poi and Fish dyspepsia was an unknown quality among them. Their digestive organs were not impaired by the many different articles of food which contact with foreigners has brought to their notice. It is not that the food is not suited to the systems of the Hawaiians that illness follows its adoption by them, but, because they do not take the same care in cooking. Now, that Stoves, and good ones too, are low in the price, there is no reason why every native on the Islands should not have one. We sell FANSY and have had such good reports from parties who have used them during the past four years. This Stove burns either wood or coal, and are good bakers. We have them in various sizes, and the price is governed accordingly.

We also keep a large stock of crockery, cups and saucers, Poi Bowls etc., either white or colored, which we offer at reduced prices. In fine China, we have what is considered by judges to be the best in the world. Our Haviland Ware is used in all the best families, because it is just as cheap as plain white China. This article is sold in sets or single pieces; if you do not feel that you can afford a full set at one time begin by purchasing a half dozen plates or a cup and saucer, you can then add to it from time to time until your set is complete. If you happen to break any of the pieces you can always replace them from our stock so that your set is always perfect. The decorations on the "2196" pattern, are Carnation stud and Gold, and are such that they never become common.

A good companion for the Haviland China in any house is the Ficher Steel Range. It is a little higher in price than the Iron Stove, but the saving in fuel soon makes up the difference. One advantage in a steel range Another is in the fact that the oven is ready for baking 15 minutes after the fire is started. Are already in the range, and you have only make connection with your water pipes and boiled to have hot water for bathing or cooking purposes. Our ranges are made of material twice as thick as formerly, consequently, they will last longer.

Some of the readers of the HOLOMUA are interested in land and consequently, have to do more or less fencing. We have a very large stock of plain and barbed, black and galvanized wire which we offer at the lowest prices. In connection with our wire, we sell the other materials, stays and washers, for making the celebrated Jones Locked Fence which is acknowledged by every one to be the best fence ever constructed. If you contemplate building a fence and wish to save money and have a wire fence that will not sag you cannot do better than buy the stays, wire and washers, and have the best fence you ever saw.

Understand one thing! We have the largest stock of goods for the house, ranch and plantation to be found in the Islands, and the prices are lower than any other store. If you want garden hose, sprinklers, spades, shovels, rakes, lawn-mowers or any thing else used in the flower garden, we can sell them cheaper than any one else.

Henry C. Lyons, the representative of Messrs. Raymond and Whitecomb of Boston, took with him to the Volcano March 20th the following party: Joseph E. Smaltz and wife, Miss Lizzie E. Smaltz, Emmons Crocker and wife, James L. Thompson, George de la Vergne, G. W. Sprague, Mrs. Isaiah Shaw, Mrs. Seeley I. Shaw, Miss Ella Torbert, and Master Albert Lobenstein. It is safe to say no previous party has ever had a more satisfactory trip or seen the Volcano in a greater state of activity.

LOCAL NEWS.

Politics are picking up again. The American League will not meet this evening. The Alice Cooke will probably sail for the Coast tomorrow.

Purser Kibling of the Claudine is thanked for news favors.

Dan Lyon's dancing class will meet at Arion Hall tomorrow evening.

Pleasant weather is reported by late voyagers between windward ports and Honolulu.

The scholars of the semi-public Government schools are enjoying a two week's holiday.

With the bottoms of the pants of local American (?) dues and leran when it is raining in London.

The Jockey Club will meet at the Hotel this evening to consider matters in connection with prospective races on June 11th.

Business continues as dull as ever. The "no spend any money" party have the pull at the Government "barrel."

The members of the secret League will not meet to-night, but adjourn quickly and re-assemble at Palaco Square.

The noise made by the large Tramway Co.'s bus is a nuisance and is dreaded as much as a dray by nervous horses.

The Rt. Rev. Bishop of Pano-polis accompanied by Father de Campos has arrived in town again by the steamer Claudine.

Messrs H. P. Baldwin, G. N. Wilcox and Paul Isenberg, well known sugar producers, arrived by the Claudine yesterday from Maui.

Senator Morgan intends to improve the Love property, on Emma street, next the Square, by having a fine dwelling house erected thereon.

The steamer Claudine brought to port here yesterday as cargo; 7682 bags sugar, 444 sacks potatoes, 262 bags corn, 30 head cattle, 31 hogs, and over 200 pecks miscellaneous mdse.

The arrival of the steamer Le-hua from Hawaii brings news that whales are plentiful along the coast. Thirteen whales were counted off Kaunakakai, Molokai, and a few were seen off Coco Head, this island.

It is reported that the famous "five pun" parrot of Major Krouse has been sent to a local paint-shop to have the colors brightened up. The story is thought to be simply a purser's yarn.

That dangerous school-boy weapon, the rubber sling, is again in vogue. All parents, school-teachers and police should capture and destroy such of these dangerous playthings as come within their reach, or else some child, or may be grown person, may be minus an eye.

Sunday was again disgraced by the rifle shooting at the Makiki butts, and the noise of which disturbed devotions at the Lunalilo Home which is supposed to be under the direct care of the missionary element. The music of the band would have been far more in consonance with the character of the day.

Amongst other passengers brought by the steamer Claudine yesterday, from windward ports were; Mrs M G Correa, Miss L Cockett, J L Damas wife and child, H S Tregloan, Geo Hons, E Langebein, Peter Quinn, M T Lyons, T F Cook, A W Carter, J Dias, I Hakuole, Y Amoy and 43 dock.

HANDS UP!

EX-DETECTIVE WAGNER'S

TALE OF A NIGHT.

An interesting story is told by ex-detective Wagner and which, after being reduced to the language of English-speaking people, runs somewhat as follows:

"You know, of course, of the many troubles which I have on my mind, and you know that I am a detective (?) who fears nothing, but trouble. Well, my mind was very uneasy last Friday evening, and after I went to my lone cabin and cooked my supper, I could not rest. I tried to read Shakespeare, but not having a copy in German, I did not do it. Well, it came to 10 o'clock and as there was no moon I thought I would ride out of town, Waikiki way, as I like the dark. I went out towards Diamond Head feeling perfectly safe, as my charger was strong and good, and my trusty gun was slung over my shoulder. Bat, hark! sounds from seaward. My eyes cut the deep gloom which hangs over sea and shore and I see, a boat, two men rowing and they reach the shore. Other sounds are heard but to which I give but little notice. Ha! the men come toward me! I hide. And now what do I see? Do my eyes deceive? No! there are the men bending under heavy loads of opium! One trip, two trips, three trips they make: opium every time. A wagon approaches, the opium is placed therein; the boatmen depart and are lost in the mist of the sea. Bat, bah! how happy I felt at the thought of the surprise which my presence would give to the smugglers who held the wagon. Ha! ha! little did they know that 'Wagner the daring detective' was near them. Methought, my time has come and on the morrow the Marshal and his men and the newspapers, will all ring my praises. Slowly and carefully I came from cover. I reached the road and—"Hold up your hands!" was an order which greeted me and I obeyed. There in the gloom with shotguns cocked and pointed at my heart, with murder blazing from the eyes which peered through the masked faces, stood two men, about 19 feet each in height, and weighing about a ton. What passed afterwards, is like a dream, the wagon went through a hole in the earth, the men dissolved into the midnight dew, and I, I was alone. My head ached on Saturday, but I reported the matter just the same, and it will be investigated. I hope to get the job of investigation."

Marriage Bells.

Mrs. Bena Good who has long and favorably been known to members of Honolulu society and Mr. Keilburg were quietly joined in marriage last evening at a residence in this city, the Rev. H. H. Parker of Kawaiahao church officiating. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Keilburg held a short reception to give to many friends, who would not be denied, the opportunity of presenting their congratulations. Many elegant presents were received by the bride, and the hearty good wishes which were showered on both, gives room to judge that in this case at least, marriage will not prove a failure. The happy pair intend to make a bridal trip to the other islands.

CORRESPONDENCE

[We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions or the utterances of our correspondents.]

EDITOR HOLONUA:

To kick a man when he is down is contemptible beyond description. Had the Advertiser taken the pains to investigate both sides of the Wichart matter, the labor-ed editorial as to an officer and his duty would never have been written.

JACK CUTLER.

Maui Politics.

On the evening of April 4th, there was a large and enthusiastic meeting of the "Hui Aloha Aina" at the Wailuku Skating Rink. There were between 600 and 700 people present. Speeches were made by John Kalama, John Richardson, A. P. Paehaole and others. On the 5th inst. a meeting was held at Spreckelsville and largely attended. The speeches by S. E. Kaiaa, Wm. Edmonds, John Kalama, Thos. Clark, Frank Metcalf and John Richardson were heartily received by the audience.

The closing words of one of the principal speakers were, "Leave that ballot alone. It's hot."

The almost unanimous feeling amongst the Natives around here is to have nothing at all to do with the election of Delegates to the Constitutional Convention and not to take the oath.

There is a split in the Wailuku (?) Union Party. The bone of contention seems to be the Asiatic plank in their platform. At the meeting of the Annexation Club, the matter came to a vote and the Asiatic plank was voted out, by a vote of 17 to 12. The leaders of the minority were S. F. Chillingworth, Geo. Hons and W. A. McKay. The majority was led by Kalua, G. Armstrong and D. L. Meyer. A very heated discussion followed. And the great politicians haven't cooled yet.

On the evening of the 4th inst. both parties met at the Court House for the purpose of holding meetings. The majority wing had decided to meet at the Court House on April 4th. At 4 p. m. of the same day Geo. Hons posted notices calling for a meeting of the American League at the same place.

The Kalua party got there first and held the fort despite the warlike attitude of Sheriff Chillingworth and his followers. It is said that Sheriff Chillingworth would have been pitched out of the window by a certain excitable court official, had they not given way.

After considerable bickering the disgruntled minority went to Bailey's Hall and held their meeting there, leaving Kalua's party masters of the situation, and in possession of the Court House.

The attempt to bulldoze the natives into registering is growing bolder and bolder. Sheriff Chillingworth has notified the Deputy-Sheriff in Makawao to register or take the consequences. The deputy refused point blank.

Another p.g. official at Waiea has been trying to bulldoze the natives there into registering and taking the oath. He has even gone so far as to threaten them with being shot down like dogs without tags on, should they refuse to register. A Hawaiian present threatened to hammer the stuffing out of him if he did not shut up. He shut up.

Mr. John Richardson has left for a tour through Kahakulua, Honokohau, and Kaanapali, for Lahaina, where he and William White will address the Hawaiians. The natives and most of the foreigners will have nothing to do with the convention, nor do they propose to have a constitution ranted down their throats without having it submitted to the people. All are anxious to hear what the people in Honolulu are doing. The general belief is that the Royalists there have thrown up the sponge or gone to sleep. The men who will be sent to that abortive fare of a convention will most likely be H. P. Baldwin, old Horner of Lahaina, schoolmaster Townsend, and perhaps a Kanaka. The Portuguese are abstaining from registering in spite of the plantation influences. Hana is the only district where the p.g. makes some progress. The cause is natural enough, as C. Bolte controls Hana plantation, and W. O. Smith the Reciprocity. We hear though that the American League party controls the district and will refuse to nominate that miserable ex parson Iosepa, who it will be remembered, played such a pitiful role in the last Legislature.

There was a slight fire, but considerable excitement, at Kawaiahao Church on Saturday evening. The cause was the falling of a large lamp and ignition of the oil. The "fire laddies" turned out promptly, but even the service of the Babcock Extinguishers was not needed. The organ-builders will probably profit from the damage done.
