SENATE DISCUSSES HOUSE BILL NO. 1

Chair Says Secretary of Lower House Has It.

ASKS SENATORS TO TAKE SOME ACTION

Clerk of Senate to Meet Some Officer of House or a Committee to Present Dole the Bill.

When the Senate met this forenoon, the chair announced that the Speaker of the House had told him that House bill No. 1 relating to the appropriation of $45,000 for the expenses of the present session of the Legislature was still in the hands of the secretary of the House where it would probably remain until the Senate should appoint a committee on passed bills to confer with a like committee from the House.

Mr. Carter said the Senate could wait for its money as long as the House. Mr. Kaohi moved that the House return the bill to the Senate. After this was done, the secretary of the Senate could take the bill to the Governor.

The chair ruled this motion out of order, stating that the bill was the property of the House and therefore, could not be touched.

Mr. Kalaualani moved that the secretaries of the Senate and House jointly take the bill in question to the Governor.

Mr. Carter was in favor of taking up the matter and settling it immediately. The House no doubt had the big end of the horn. The Senate had done wrong in not acting on the suggestion of the House with reference to the appointment of a joint committee on passed bills. The members should now proceed to set themselves right.

Mr. Kalaualani was of the opinion that the Senate had the right to send the bill to the Governor in whatsoever manner it might happen to decide on.

Mr. White said the Governor was in the habit of sending his communications to the Legislature by his private secretary. He could not see anything out of the way by sending the bill to the Governor by the secretary of the Senate.

Mr. Achi said the bill was properly the property of the Senate. It was sent back to the House with an amendment and it should then have been sent back to the Senate.

Mr. Baldwin moved that the Senate committee on joint rules meet with a like committee of the House for the purpose of framing joint rules.

Mr. Crabbe moved the previous question. This carried and Mr. Kalaualani's motion which restated, added the assistant secretaries or second assistants to the list, was put.

Just here, the chair asked the mover to put his motion in writing. The Senators began to ask each other just how the whole thing would come out, points of order were stated and the Senate got into what seemed to be a hopeless muddle. Finally Mr. Carter moved that the Senate take a recess but this did not carry. After about ten minutes, Mr. Kalaualani sent the clerk the following motion which was carried:

I move that the clerk and any of his assistants go and meet with the clerk of the House of Representatives or their duly appointed committee to present Bill No. 1 which passed both houses of the Legislature, to the Governor for his approval.

Mr. Carter asked the mover if he thought the House Committee on Passed Bills would consent to act with the secretary of the Senate and Mr. Kalaualani answered in the affirmative.

Mr. Baldwin then presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Rules and Joint Rules be instructed to confer with the same committee of the House of Representatives in order that joint rules for the regulation of business between this body and said House of Representatives be adopted.

At 11:15 o'clock, the Senate took a recess until 1:30 o'clock.

FULLER'S BUSY DAY

FLEET OF VESSELS FROM SEVERAL PORTS

Steamers In and Out--Henry Villard Lost a Man--Leslie Baldwin In the Water-- Collision.

Today was one of the liveliest that the waterfront has seen for a long time. The Walaleale from Kauai and the Mauna Loa from Hawaii and Maui ports were the first vessels to enter the harbor. They both brought large cargoes of sugar, and the Mauna Loa had her usual number of passengers.

During the morning the big American ship Henry Villard which arrived last night 139 days from Savannah was brought in and taken to the railroad wharf where she will discharge her cargo of nitrate. With the exception of losing a sailor overboard on the way out the Villard's voyage was without special incident.

Following the Villard came the barkentine S. G. Wilder. She was towed into the harbor by the Eleu. After the tug dropped the Wilder the latter was under considerable way making for the dock and the little schooner Walaleale in charge of her Japanese crew started to haul across the barkentine's bows. The result was that the barkentine ran into and nearly sunk the schooner. Had it not been for the fact that both the Wilder's anchors were smashed to pieces. As it was she was not at all damaged but her crew got a scare that they will not get over for quite a while. The Wilder made a smart passage of 16 days from San Francisco and besides a full cargo of general merchandise brought a deck-load of mules and railroad ties.

The steamer Kinau with a very large passenger list and all the freight she could carry sailed for Hilo shortly after noon. Among her passengers were many of the visiting Shriners who took advantage of the reduced rate for a trip to Hilo.

The work of the stevedores in taking the little towboat Leslie Baldwin from the dock of the Metha Nelson and putting her in the water, was watched by a large crowd of interested spectators. The little vessel is the bulkiest and heaviest lift ever attempted here before and that the work was successfully done was through the efforts of the firm McCabe, Hamilton & Renny the stevedores. In San Francisco it took thirteen hours to get the Baldwin from the wharf to the deck of the steamer. Here it took less than a third of the time to put her overboard into the water. A specially provided pair of shear legs were brought here for the work and three donkey engines rigged to immense blocks and heavy tackle did the work. It is estimated that the lift this morning was about 45 tons dead weight.

Monday, Shriners' Day

Arrangements have been completed for the "Shriner" night at the Opera House Monday night, when Neil Gwyne will be presented by the Belasco Company. The entire house has been obtained by the Aloha Temple, who, with the visiting Nobles will attend in a body attired in full regalia. The house will be decorated for the occasion and the various peculiarities of the Shriners, visitors and natives alike, have been furnished to the comedians of the company so that much merriment may be anticipated. The Shriners reserve a section of the house for their seats while the balance will be placed on sale tomorrow at Wall, Nichols & Co. Wray Taylor has made an offer of his orchestra for the occasion, in honor of the visitors, a proposition which has been heartily accepted.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1 TAKES UP TIME

Representatives Discuss Their Relation With Senate.

AND THEN DISPOSE OF A RAFT OF BILLS

Committee Will Visit Kalihi Receiving Station--Emmeluth Calls Attention to Approach of Time Limit.

House bill No. 1 took up the larger part of the morning session of the House.

Mossman moved that the rules be suspended to take up this bill which for the third time had been reported back from the Senate.

Makekau claimed that the bill had been passed by the House, and wanted to be enlightened by the chair why the bill should be again taken up and amended.

Robertson stated that after this bill had been passed it was beyond the jurisdiction of the House to make any changes or amendments.

Emmeluth stated that the Senate had returned the bill with several suggestions and it had lain in the House since then without any action.

Robertson claimed the bill was not on the table having passed its third reading.

Emmeluth inquired of the clerk if the changes in the bill as required by the Senate had been made. The clerk replied in the affirmative.

Prendergast said the reason why the bill was again taken up was the change suggested in section 2 of the bill, and as it was very necessary and desirable to the members of this House that the bill pass, he strongly advocated making the changes.

The Speaker ruled that if the members desired to make any amendments to House bills they had a perfect right to do so.

Mossman then called the attention of the Speaker to a passage in the Organic Act and said that section 49 made it possible to take up the bill and make any corrections, and as author of the bill he suggested that the changes be made prior to returning to the Senate.

The Speaker called attention to the fact that if these amendments were not made there was a bare possibility of the bill not being signed by the Governor.

Makekau questioned the right of the House to make changes in any bill after it had passed its third reading, "and if we go on with this bill the people will think we are not capable of making laws. If the bill should be vetoed by the Governor and sent back to the House, then it would be possible to make changes."

Makekau was called to order by Mossman for occupying the floor three times on the same topic. After much discussion the Speaker declared that the amendment to the bill was in order.

Robertson declared that there was no other motion before the House except to suspend the rules. Mossman's motion to suspend the rules was read by the stenographer and the bill was again read by the secretary, after which it was voted that the word "publication" in section 2 be stricken out and the word "approved" substituted.

Emmeluth moved that Senate amendments to Bill No. 1 be concurred in, which was to change the spelling of the word "forty" in the bill.

Makekau objected to the Senate calling the House down on their manner of spelling, and wanted to challenge the entire Senate to an oral contest. The Speaker ruled that sufficient time had been allowed for discussion and on motion of Makekau the bill, with the amendments was approved.

Under the head of unfinished business House bill No. 8, relating to compulsory education, requiring children to attend schools up to twenty-one years of age was tabled.

Under the order of the day House bill No. 17, which relates to procedure in criminal cases was put over for third reading Wednesday. This action was made imperative owing to the amendments as passed not having been embodied in the bill and such amendments had never been handed to the Printing Committee. Monsarratt requested that his name be removed from the Committee on Printing. The Speaker refused to accept his resignation.

House bill No. 46 to prevent the employment of minors in places where intoxicating liquors are sold, and to prevent minors from visiting such places was read a second time and referred to the Committee on Public Health.

House bill No. 41 providing for names of streets, etc., in the district of Honolulu, island of Oahu, was read the second time and referred to committee.

House bill No. 42 providing for the numbering of buildings and lots in Honolulu referred to Public Lands Committee.

House bill No. 43 giving the right of appeal to any person adjudged in contempt was read a second time and referred to the Judiciary Committee.

House bill No. 44 to establish and maintain school libraries was read a second time and referred to committee on Education.

House bill No. 45, relating to keeping a disorderly house, passed the second reading and was referred to the Committee on Public Health.

House bill No. 46, relating to carriage tax, passed second reading and referred to Committee on Taxation.

House bill No. 49, relating to appropriating pension for ex-Queen Liliuokalani read for second time and referred to committee.

House bill No. 50 to prohibit gambling and gaming, referred to committee.

House bill No. 51, relating to the segregation of lepers, read for a second time and referred to committee on Public Health.

The rules were then suspended to allow Makekau to give notice of an act to regulate gambling and gaming.

Emmeluth called the attention of the members to the fact that but thirty days remained in which the House had to pass bills and he was opposed to any more time taken for junketing trips. His remarks were brought out by a resolution introduced by Makekau calling for the members to visit the Receiving Hospital at Kalihi for the purpose of examining the conditions as they exist there and under what conditions people are sent to Molokai. Considerable discussion was indulged in which was settled by the Speaker stating that those who desired to make the trip could do so.

A communication was then read from the Secretary of the Territory calling attention to the fact that copies of the Penal Laws were limited in number.

Senate bills Nos. 14, 13 and 16 having passed their third reading were transmitted to the House and assigned to various committees.

The House then adjourned until Wednesday morning.

Maui Land Company Incorporates Today

Articles of Incorporation have been filed with Treasurer Lansing by the Maui Land Company, Limited.

The principal place of business of the company will be at Wailuku. The business of the corporation will be that of raising stock, dealing in real estate, etc.

The capital stock is $25,000 divided into 500 shares of the par value of $50. Option is reserved to increase the capital to $100,000.

The incorporators are S. Ahmi, Y. Ah Chew, Young Kam, Yeong Young, Lum Lung and Fun Teung.

APANA IN TROUBLE.

While Officer Apana, in full police uniform was walking along on Lilihi street yesterday he saw a white man, J. F. Garvie by name, who was beating a mule with a rock. Apana says he went up to the man and arrested him for cruelty to animals. The fellow paid no heed to him and went on hitting the mule. Apana states further that the man hit him and then called on other laborers, all of whom were doing work for the Rapid Transit Co. According to the officer, these men appeared with hand-pikes.

Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth went up to the place at about noon today and arrested Garvie. The fellow states that Apana's story is a "pipe dream."

CAUGHT IN QUICKSAND.

A party of ladies and gentlemen returning from a luau given near Waiialea one evening last week got stuck in the quicksand. The vehicle containing the party was mired for several hours and only through the efforts of the gentlemen who were at times up to their armpits in the mire were the ladies rescued. The latter were much more scared than hurt but the clothes of the gentlemen were ruined.

REPUBLICAN CITY CHARTER.

At this afternoon session of the Senate, Senator Crabbe gave notice of a bill to provide a charter for the city and county of Honolulu. This is the Republican charter bill.

Mabel Esther Cassidy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cassidy, died today between one and two o'clock at the age of 14 years and three months. The funeral will be held tomorrow at the Cassidy home at Waikiki at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in the Nuuanu cemetery.

WRIT OF MANDAMUS TO CIRCUIT JUDGE

Humphreys Must Explain His Treatment of Trial Jurors.

TRAMWAYS COMPANY SUES ON AN OLD BOND

Supreme Court Hears Arguments in Case Appealed from the Fourth Circuit--Federal Court Thursday.

A writ of mandamus was issued by Chief Justice Frear yesterday ordering Judge Humphreys of the First Circuit Court to set aside and vacate an order made by him excluding W. T. Schmidt from further jury duty and forfeiting his jury fees as juror of the February term, 1901, of the said First Circuit Court, or to show cause before the Supreme Court Thursday, March 21, why he should not do the same.

The petition of W. T. Schmidt was presented by Attorney Lorin Andrews. It alleges that the complainant was sworn as a trial juror in the case of the Territory vs. Manu, and that when it was announced that the jury could not agree and that the vote stood ten to two, Judge Humphreys requested the names of the two jurors who were unable to agree. The Court was informed by the foreman that the names were W. T. Schmidt and C. K. Quinn. It is further alleged that Judge Humphreys then without cause and contrary to law and rights of said jurors harshly reprimanded them and ordered their per diem fees forfeited.

The Hawaiian Tramways Co., Ltd., has brought suit against Thomas S. Southwick, J. A. McCandless and F. J. Wilhelm for debt. The complaint alleges, among other things, the following:

That $1,559.60 is due the plaintiff from the defendants above mentioned.

That on October 11, 1899, Southwick, one of the defendants, instituted suit against the Tramways Co. in which the defendant prayed for an injunction and restraining order against the Tramways Co.

That an injunction and restraining order was issued by the Court against the Tramways Co. upon Southwick as principal and McCandless and Wilhelm as sureties.

That Southwick failed to sustain his claims in the suit according to the tenor and meaning of the bond and the injunction and restraining order was dissolved.

That in consequence of the issuance of the injunction and restraining order, the plaintiff was damaged and suffered great pecuniary loss and damage, and this pecuniary loss, damage and injury including counsel fees incurred for the dissolution of the injunction and restraining order and the discharge of the order granting the same, and also including money expended for work and labor and storage of materials, amount to the sum mentioned above.

Holmes & Stanley for the plaintiff.

Petition for injunction has been filed by the Ket Fui Kan Society vs. Gran Chang praying for an order restraining defendant from erecting certain proposed buildings on Beretania street at Kamakela. Before the plague fire, the defendant had erected a building on the premises in front of the club house of the society and while a suit was pending in court all of the buildings were destroyed by the fire. Within the past month, the defendant has been making preparations for the erection of another building at the same place and the court is asked to enjoin him from making further progress.

Geo. A. Davis, trustee in the matter of the bankruptcy of J. A. Butterfield reported to Judge Estee this morning that he could effect no sale of the property last Saturday because of the heavy incumbrances. He asked for an order to call the creditors together to consider the business.

In the Supreme Court this morning argument was heard on the bill of exceptions in the case of Isaac Erickson vs. The Volcano Stables & Transportation Company. The plaintiff was represented by Attorneys Smith & Parsons, defendant by Wise & Nickeus.

Federal Court adjourned this morning until Thursday at 10 o'clock.

NEGRO BURGLAR CAPTURED

High Sheriff Brown received from Sheriff Baldwin of Maui by the Mauna Loa this morning a communication relating to the capture of the negro who carried off the safe in Camp 5 store, Spreckelville, on the night of the 14th inst., the first news of which was received by the Bulletin over the wireless telegraph.

This man, Wood by name, a negro plantation laborer, was captured while boarding the Claudine for this port. In his possession was found $755 in gold and silver, also a silver watch, which was one of the articles in the safe.

The evidence in the case seems to be complete and the negro himself admits that he broke into the store.

The case is up for hearing before the district magistrate of Wailuku today.

Complaints are continually coming from Maui about these plantation negroes. They are a bad lot and this is being proved to the people of Maui. It will be remembered that Will Hudson, another plantation negro was arrested several weeks ago for shooting at a fellow laborer with a revolver. Numerous minor offenses have been reported from time to time.

UNFRIENDLY TO MACHINISTS

President of Association Says That All

They Want is Same Treatment

Given Boiler Makers and Moulders.

According to L. Jamieson, president of the Machinists' Association, the real differences that caused the walk-out at the Honolulu Iron Works have been kept in the background. It has been distinctly stated by the men all along, that they had little if any fault to find with the wages. The hours of labor, the rate for overtime and many other important regulations of the company are wholly satisfactory to the machinists.

"Our main grievance," said Mr. Jamieson, "is the apprentice system. Of course we wanted our union recognized and in the formalities of our demands perhaps made them look formidable. We want to get upon a basis as favorable to our members as the positions occupied by the boiler makers and moulders. Both of these organizations are to all practical purposes recognized by the Honolulu Iron Works. There are no non-union boiler makers employed and no non-union moulders.

"The apprentices grievance," continued Mr. Jamieson, "is apparent when I say that with thirty-one machinists we have twenty-one apprentices. When our union was organized in January the managers at the Iron Works began a scheme to outwit us. They put on extra apprentices. Their system of training is not to make all round machinists of these boys, but to make them expert along special lines. This is not fair to the apprentices nor to the machinists. Such apprentices would be practically tied to the Honolulu Iron Works, because at the end of their apprenticeship they are not qualified to do all around work.

"The machine department has been getting the worst of it compared with the other departments. Machinists' wages run from $3.50 to $4.50 per day. The boiler makers all get $4.50. There are no apprentices in their department. They are all union men and apprentices are taken in their department on a basis of one apprentice to five moulders. The machinists demanded similar regulations in their department.

"Our Grand Lodge of the American Machinists' Association will support us in our position," said Mr. Jamieson. "All married men will get $6 per week from the Grand Lodge during the strike and the local lodge is in good financial condition. Single men who are idle receive an allowance of $4 per week."

THE LIGHT THAT NEVER FAILS.

It seems almost incredible that any lamp could be so good enough to take the place of electricity on even terms, yet such is the case with the ANGLE LAMP. All over the islands people are throwing away their old lamps and replacing them with this lamp, not merely because it costs about one-tenth as much to maintain (it is no object to some people) but, beside being infinitely cheaper, it is more brilliant and more reliable in the bargain. It is a revelation to every one who uses it, and simply demonstrates that the old-fashioned lamp was a barbarous contrivance. THE ANGLE LAMP never smokes, smells or gives any trouble. It is lighted and extinguished as easily as gas, and is the idea light from every standpoint. We carry these lamps from $1.50 up.

GIVES HAWAII A BOOSTSays This City's Wealth and Population is Limited Only by Its Capacity to Accommodate.

Dr. Samuel Johnson of Asbury Park, New Jersey, is a Shriner and a typical Yankee. He is a guest of Honolulu, along with 200 other Nobles, and none in the caravan has fallen more deeply in love with the Hawaiian oasis than the voluble Yankee from the Atlantic Coast.

"I took a drive up Punchbowl hill today," said the doctor, "and as I viewed the city spread at my feet, I said the limit of the population and wealth of this city will be only its capacity to accommodate. This capacity will be tested in the very near future, too."

No man can know what it is to be a dyed-in-the-wool American until he has heard and seen a typical Yankee under a full head of steam. It seems that a trip to Honolulu sets all the furnaces going and shoves the pointer on the steam gauge past the 200 mark in less time than any other kind of fuel.

"When we sighted Diamond Head," said Dr. Johnson, "and saw the dear stretch of brown, brick-dust hills, we said in our hearts, 'How can we ever stay three weeks in such a brick kiln?' Now, we are wondering how we can taste all the beauties and realize the full richness of the islands before our date comes for sailing home."

"I am familiar with seaside resorts. Last summer, Asbury Park had a million visitors. I know the throngs who seek something new in Florida or Southern California each winter. I say positively, Hawaii is the Mecca for the winter tourists. They are coming. They will follow the flag. They must be told a few things, educated a little bit, but they will inundate this island when they come to know of its advantages."

"Yes, you lack a few very important essentials. The pilgrim must be brought from San Francisco to Honolulu in four days. Upon his arrival he must be able to flash back to his home a cable message saying, 'Arrived safe.' Ships of 14,000 and 16,000 tons must ply this route. These poor tubs that wobble and duck at every wave will not attract the classes that travel for pleasure. Get close to the States and then see yourselves boom. An Atlantic greyhound, a cable, the Nicaragua Canal—that settles it; the story's told."

"Uncle Sam, at least the whole smart portion of Uncle Sam, is delighted with his new Territory. Great development will follow and a decade will see these islands made the playground of hundreds of thousands of people."

Transportation Act Extends to Hawaii

The Collector of Customs here has received the following circular letter from the Secretary of the Treasury: Treasury Department, Office of the Secretary,

Washington, D. C., Feb. 23, 1901

To Officers of the Customs and others concerned:—The appended act of Congress, approved February 15, 1901, entitled "An Act to extend the privileges provided by an Act entitled 'An Act to amend the statutes in relation to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods, and for other purposes,' approved June 10, 1880, as amended," is published for the information of all concerned.

O. L. SPAULDING,
Assistant Secretary.

An Act to extend the privileges provided by an Act entitled "An Act to amend the statutes in relation to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods, and for other purposes," approved June 10, 1880, as amended.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the privileges of immediate transportation as provided by an Act entitled "An Act to amend the statutes in relation to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods, and for other purposes," approved June 10, 1880, as amended by an Act entitled "An Act to amend an Act entitled 'An Act to amend the statutes in relation to the immediate transportation of dutiable goods, and for other purposes,' approved February 23, 1887, be, and the same are hereby extended to the port of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii.

Approved February, 15, 1901.

By this it is seen that now Importers have the privilege of reshipping bonded goods to the States, where heretofore they had not the right.

SETTLING INDEMNITYMINISTERS FIND FEW OVERCHARGE CLAIMSRockhill Seems Satisfied With Progress That is Being Made—Chaffee's Reply to Count
Von Waldersee.

Peking, March 7.—The Ministers' Committee has completed its report, and the general principle to be adopted in the case of private indemnities, is based upon laws in harmony with the Roman and English systems. This decision was not reached without considerable discussion, some believing that the claims of men of good reputation, should be paid in full, without further consideration. On the other hand, a case was mentioned, where a man of high repute claims $10,000 each for his own, his wife's and his daughter's nerves, and $20,000 for property destroyed, whereas it is known that the latter estimate is more than thrice the value of all.

The negotiations, Mr. Rockhill says, are going on well, and he sees no reason why they should not be completed in two months, with the exception of the commercial treaties, which will take a long time. General Chaffee replied to the copy of General Ying Tehang's letter sent him by Count von Waldersee, that he had given instructions to the American troops, when any detachments were sent against robbers and Boxers, to obtain to the fullest extent possible, the assistance of Chinese officials, in making arrests and punishing the guilty.

Regarding indemnity for losses sustained by missionaries and native Christians, General Chaffee pointed out that his sentiments were well known to the American missionaries; that he was opposed to extortion in every form and that he favored strict justice in every case; and that, therefore, he would agree quickly to His Excellency's propositions, that the indemnities Sir Robert Hart had mentioned, should be settled by the diplomats.

Count von Waldersee will leave soon for Tsin-Tau, the trip possibly extending to Shanghai. He says that he expects to return to Peking temporarily.

TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1901.

Governor Dole has evidently been studying the life of Andrew Johnson.

Now arises an attorney who gives the Chief Justice an opportunity to get in a few body blows on his friend of the First Circuit.

Boss Croker will soon be applying to the Territorial executive for instructions in carrying out a "people's blowed" policy.

The Gillilan resolution doesn't indicate that the Governor gets a large amount of Republican support in blocking the Legislature.

A runaway on Liliha street resulted in a broken rib. It's a wonder there haven't been more broken necks considering the condition of the street.

Three bills passed by the Senate and the introducer was Senator Cecil Brown. Witness the inauguration of a close season on sparring for wind tactics.

The principal complaint the new importation of laborers seems to have is that at the end of a month's work they find they get their board for their clothes.

Aside from being good fellows of the kind that people like to entertain, the Shriuers will be walking advertising circulars on the beauties of Hawaii as a tourist's haven.

The time is fast approaching when short discussions and prompt votes should end the principal legislative measures through the bill to the Governor for action.

The only trouble with the Morning Organ gang is that members of this Legislature depend entirely on their honest income, and fail to make drafts upon a pile that had its place in former history.

Governor Dole's organ thinks he did right in treating the House of Representatives with scant courtesy. Possibly Owner Thurston dictated the reply as he has done more than one occasion for the Dole regime.

Having fed at the official pie counters on Supreme Court contracts and the like for several years, the poor old Morning Organ has an idea the Legislature is on the lookout for lunches at the expense of interested parties.

The presence of foreign warships in the harbor gives Honolulu social circles a taste of the old time activity that is always acceptable. Through annexation society lost a source of supply that was as important to its pleasures as the custom house was to the existence of the treasury.

If House Bill No. 1 is held up much longer, every time a legislator asks for credit he will be accused of looking for bribes. Legislative expenses ought to be met promptly and there is no sense or reason in the pay rolls being held up till the session is more than half finished with its business.

While Hawaii is seeking visitors some organization ought to tackle Andrew Carnegie and get him to come this way. Andrew having sold his steel works is out of a job except the effort required to spend his money. Having a reputation as a liberal giver, he certainly ought to think favorably of erecting a monument in Paradise.

The Morning Organ says the Legislature can easily locate J. K. Brown, J. K. happens to be a Federal officer, but you can bank on it that if Congress should inquire about his action, the query would meet a much different reception from the President, than that accorded by the Governor in answering the Legislature relative to J. K. Brown, a Territorial official.

Wiping out of the Territorial militia is a proposition that few legislators will countenance after a careful study of the position the militia occupies in every American State and Territory. The duty of the Legislature is to see to it that the amount appropriated for the militia is such as to allow an extravagance. Hawaii has too long paid a heavy price for functionary pompousness. Strict economy is what is needed.

Some progressive legislators might take the Pan-American Exposition matter in hand. The Chamber of Commerce voted the other day to see what the Governor is going to do about this exhibit. But what can the Governor do without the assistance and cooperation of a legislative appropriation. There is every reason why Hawaii and the Hawaiians should be represented at this exposition. This is the first chance Hawaii will have to put itself on display as a full fledged American Territory, and the opportunity should not be allowed to pass by a Legislature that is distinctly Hawaiian.

THE USE OF ASPHALT

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Reference to the article of Mrs. Eames in your recent issue, on asphalt as a valuable material for street pavements, and in extension of the discussion on this subject, I should like to call the attention of your numerous readers to the fact that the material now in use in this city is not asphalt, but an asphaltic material known as bituminous rock. There is a very wide difference between this material and that which is known to the trade as asphalt, and I hope to be able to show.

Asphalt is a natural pure material refined by nature almost always, but sometimes by man.

Bituminous rock is also a natural product, but its composition is anything else but pure. It is a mixture of mixed with sand and earthy matter, and some little stone and boulders by nature.

Many people of course do not know the difference between these materials but they could readily see the difference in the wearing qualities of pavements of these respective materials, if placed side by side.

Without desiring to prejudice the public against the use of bituminous rock in favor of asphalt or desiring to advocate the use of either in our city it can be readily seen that a pure material, placed upon a proper foundation must of necessity wear longer than a like material, in which is contained earthy substances.

Asphalt streets can be made either hard or soft according to the amount of flux or asphaltic oil which is added to it while being heated and as the flux is also pure, when the street is finished you have nothing in it but pure material and it properly laid is almost indestructible. Of course clean sand is mixed with the asphalt before it is laid on the street, but everything going into the construction of the street is pure.

With bituminous rock it is different. It is placed in the street just as it is dug out of the ground as it is not refined either by nature or man. It therefore contains a very large proportion of earthy matter which has no stability and very soon rolls away and leaves nothing but the little bitumen and sand with which it was mixed. Again, in bituminous rock you do not get an even mixture. Sometimes the sand and earthy matter lay around the bitumen; sometimes the bitumen exceeds the sand, and sometimes the earthy matter exceeds them both; while asphalt as used for street purposes being mixed by man, an evenness of mixture is always attainable, consequently better results can be obtained.

With bituminous rock great care must be exercised to see that it is properly "cooked" or heated so this has a great deal to do with its wearing qualities.

With asphalt the only care necessary in heating is to know that when it is placed on its foundation it is hot enough to spread properly. Of course in spreading care must be used with both materials, but in rolling asphalt has an advantage over bituminous rock in the fact that it being only pure asphalt and the particles would separate, as if they contained earthy substances, which in rolling would all go to places under a heavy roller such as we now have in our city. This separation, while not evident to the eye, will, under a powerful glass be found to exist. This separation permits water and dirt of every description to permeate the street material and its destruction thereby goes on rapidly, but asphalt retaining its cohesion presents a dead wall to penetration of this character.

I should also like to call attention to the fact that asphalt or bituminous rock for that matter, is not of itself so slippery, but the dirt accumulation on it, with the moisture makes it so, as streets of asphalt could be constructed so that, while not being so soft as to leave a deep rut after the passage of a heavy load over them, yet not so hard as to be unyielding, thereby giving a proper foothold to a horse. The street being elastic any imprint would hardly be discernible an hour after it has been made and for steep grades a wide gutter could be built in the center of the street, which would not only carry the water off but act as a foothold for horses.

In conclusion, the difference in cost of asphalt and bituminous rock is not so great but what the taxpayer would be amply compensated by the difference in wear of the former as against the latter material.

Respectfully,
R. G. MOORE.

Honolulu, March 11, 1901.

COUNTING THE EXPENSE

A man who has made a good road is a man who knows what a good road is. Mr. Hyatt speaks from this vantage ground when he says: "In my opinion Honolulu streets should be paved with asphalt." As an opinion coming from a man who knows the materials at hand and local conditions, it is worthy of attention. He adds: "The only objection to asphalt is its expense." Investigation shows that asphalt is no more expensive than any other good pavement. Wooden block pavements are absolutely undurable unless laid on a concrete foundation. The same is true of granite blocks. This raises the expense in that of asphalt, with results in the way of pavements not warranting such expenditure. No treatment can make wooden blocks or macadam absolutely sanitary. More and more are modern scientific methods excluding that which is not sanitary from practical consideration in the building of the modern city. Health is the first desideratum in the evolution of the fine citizen.

These existing reliable houses, experienced drivers, new rigs, fair prices and courteous treatment should call at the Territorial Station. Their telephone number is 3105. They follow and call for the day of change.

ing the steamer Neeau went out to tow the schooner in and found that she could not get her anchor up. Her windlass was out of order and she had a hole in her bolle.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MARTIN

The funeral of the late Mrs. Maria O.
K. Martin took place from Kawalabao church yesterday afternoon, the Revs.
H. H. Parker and W. D. Westervelt officiating. The interment took place in the mission part of the cemetery of the church, the deceased being the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Kekela, missionaries to Micronesia, who returned to Honolulu a year or so ago.

The pall-bearers were: Hon. Samuel Parker, Hon. Kekaula, George Smithies, Joseph Kuhla, Kilauna, John
Jones, Captain Pedersen and Lilika-lani.

The services were most impressive.
A large number of friends of the family were present and with them they brought floral tributes of great beauty and value.

Process for Preparing Leather

Under date of Rotterdam, January 8, 1901, Vice Consul Voorwinden transmits the following for the information of tanners:

"Mr. P. A. Bloys van Treslong Prins of 88 Laan Copes, The Hague, called at this Consulate a few days ago and showed me some samples of leather ready for saddle's use and seemingly of a very good quality. He stated that it had been prepared by a new process, by means of machinery of which he alone knows the construction, and that by using this system a moist hide can be turned into leather ready for saddler's and shoemaker's use in from two to three days, while by following the usual method of preparation it takes about six months. He also stated that, previous to making application for patent on the machinery, he would like to correspond with American tanners in regard to his process for making leather, with a view to introducing it in the United States."

The weekly edition of the Evening Bulletin gives a complete summary of the news of the day.

McClure's Magazine for March

The March issue of McClure's Magazine is one of notable value, a volume at once timely and permanent. The leading feature is a character study of Edward VII, written by the man in America most competent for the task.
George W. Smalley, the correspondent of the London Times. Accompanying the article are pictures which form a series of portraits of the new sovereign from earliest youth to the present.
Following this appreciation of the King, there is a collection of pictures of Queen Victoria. These are thirty in number, reproductions of photographs and paintings, and they are a complete pictorial souvenir of the monarch.
A descriptive text accompanies them.

Theodore Roosevelt, Vice President, contributes an article of great interest, in which he describes clearly the personalities of some who have labored with success in New York City for "Reform Through Social Work." An article of particular historical value, as well as vivid interest, is contributed by Ida M. Tarbell. This is entitled, "The Disbanding of the Union Army," and in it is adequately told for the first time the story of an event unique in history, how the Federal Government returned its army of a million men from the camps of war to the fields of peace. Among the other contents are:
"What We know about Mars," by Edward S. Holden, formerly director of the Lick Observatory; "Billy's Tear-less Woe," a story written and illustrated by Frederic Remington; "The Law of Life," an Alaskan story, by Jack London; "Dan McCarthy," a story of the New York police, by J. Lincoln Steffens; besides other short stories, an installment of "Kim," by Rudyard Kipling, and a poem by Josephine Dodge Daakam. The illustrations are many and excellent. Among the artists represented are F. V. DuMont, Frederic Remington, J. Lockwood
Kipling, Orson Lowell, George Varian,
Ellen Bernard Thompson and W. J.
Glackens.
