

ARE FORMING A "MACHINE" SAY THE DEMOCRATS

Ordinance No. 33, passed unanimously by the board of supervisors, has become, since the mayor vetoed it, a subject of warm party controversy, and when the veto is overridden next week, the lone Democrat on the board will probably be found voting against the ordinance. This is because the Democrats claim to have discovered that it is a fake as a reorganization scheme, and is merely designed to help in the creation of a new Republican road department political machine, with Charley Wilson as the head.

The scheme as described by the Republican members of the board is to place all the road work in control of the city and county engineer, abolishing altogether the office of road supervisor of the district of Honolulu, a job now held by Ellwood C. Wilder, Democrat. But the Democrats say that the ordinance doesn't do anything of the kind; that it leaves the supervisors in charge and doesn't give the city and county engineer any control over the road men. Here is the way the ordinance reads:

"Section 1. The Board of Supervisors of the City and County of Honolulu shall appoint, and may remove at pleasure, a suitable person as Engineer of the City and County of Honolulu, and shall also appoint, and may remove at pleasure, one suitable person for each district as Road Overseer for the Districts of Honolulu, Ewa, Wai-anae, Wai-anae, Koolaula and Koolau-poko, respectively. The salaries of said City and County Engineer and the salaries of the respective Road Overseers shall be fixed by the Board of Supervisors.

"Section 2. It shall be the duty of the City and County Engineer to superintend the construction, repair and maintenance of all public streets, highways, roads, alleys, trails, sidewalks, bridges and public places in the City and County of Honolulu, and it shall be the duty of each Road Overseer to supervise, under the direction of the City and County Engineer, the construction, repair and maintenance of all public streets, highways, roads, alleys, trails, sidewalks, bridges and public places within the district for which he is appointed.

"Section 3. It shall be the duty of the City and County Engineer and of each of the Road Overseers to make a report to the Board of Supervisors not later than the fifteenth day of each and every month of the work done under their supervision during the preceding month."

Section 3 is the joker, say the followers of Champ Clark and other tariff reformers. It means that the "road overseers" are really subordinates of the Board of Supervisors, and not of the city and county engineer, and that there is no consolidation of the departments at all. "The scheme is," said an angry Jeffersonian this morning, "to create a road department political machine in every district in the island."

With a simplicity different from the Jeffersonian brand, he sadly admitted that if the Democrats had a solid six in the county board they would probably do the same. "The supervisors have buncoed the public," continued the disciple of William Jennings Bryan. "They have been saying they were going to put all the road work in one department under the engineer and take it out of politics. You can read the ordinance for yourself and see that it is cleverly worded so that the engineer won't have any control over the road overseers at all. That

REORGANIZING SANITARY INSPECTION

The Board of Health expects to complete its work of inspecting hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, and other places subject to license by the end of the present month. Under the present law no license may be issued by the City and County Treasurer without a permit from the health department, and these permits are not issued until by careful inspection of the premises of all applicants are found to be in satisfactory sanitary condition.

Dr. Pratt, of the Health Board, states that all of the inspectors are very busy with this work, but that after this month they will be back in their regular districts. Owing to the increase in number of inspectors since the first of the month, made possible by recent legislation, the force now consists of seventeen inspectors instead of eight as formerly. This increase has made it possible to reduce the size of the districts to be covered by each man, and the work of redistricting is now being done. Dr. Pratt states that in no instance should an inspector require more than two weeks to completely cover his district, where before it was often difficult for him to do so in three weeks.

ONLY $20,000 TO PAY $35,000

The supreme court will probably soon be called upon to pass upon the validity of Act 143, laws of 1911, relating to the refunding of the claims against the Territory on account of the former merchandise tax law, after wards declared unconstitutional.

The Attorney General's department is at the present time working upon a submission of facts to be made in an action which will be taken before the court by Thompson & Wilder, attorneys for George Smithies, assignee of a number of these claims, aggregating about $18,000.

The act of the last legislature, under which the action is to be taken, appropriated $20,000 for the payment of these claims and a large number have already been presented to the Treasurer of the Territory for payment. All of these have simply been filed, however, the Treasurer holding that as the total amount of the claims aggregates about $35,000 or more, he is not warranted in recognizing any portion of them which might be paid from the $20,000 available. The present case will bring the matter to an issue which

INHERITANCE TAXES LARGE

The Territorial treasurer's department has just compiled a statement of the returns from the Territorial inheritance tax for the two years ending June 30. The total amount reaches the respectable sum of $191,322.35. This amount has been obtained in considerable part through the decrease of a number of very wealthy citizens during the term mentioned. The tax is two per cent on bequests to legal heirs of surplus above $5,000.

TEACHER COMING.

Acting Superintendent of Public Instruction T. H. Gibson has received advice from the Fish Teachers' Agency that it is sending as teacher in the Normal School, Miss Ada S. Varney, of Maine. It encloses testimonials of a very high character as to Miss Varney's ability and personality.

It will be determined by the decision of the Supreme court after the submission of briefs and arguments by both sides.

PLAN TO IMPORT SOME ITALIANS

Italy may be called upon before long to furnish its quota of Hawaii's polyglot population, according to a statement made this morning by Governor Frear. The Governor stated that the Territorial Board of Immigration has had the matter under consideration for some time, and that steps have already been taken looking to obtaining the consent of the Italian government.

Any good immigrants will be welcomed to Hawaii, according to Governor Frear's remarks on the subject, and Italy is believed to be in a position to furnish people of the class desired. He did not coincide with a suggestion that there might be serious danger of introducing "Black Hand" assassins with such immigrants.

At the present time Italy's emigration laws are said to be very strict, and it will require the full consent of the Italian government before recruiting operations can be undertaken.

OAHU FRUIT QUARANTINE FOR THE OTHER ISLANDS

The following notices occupy prominent positions on the wharves of the Inter-Island Steamship Co.:

"No fruit, melons, vegetables or roots grown on the island of Oahu can be taken to any of the other islands. No soil or plants with soil can be taken except soil which has been sterilized and plants which have been inspected and passed and bear a tag of inspection.

"The Board of Commissioners of Agriculture and Forestry of the Territory of Hawaii hereby make the following rule and regulation:

"Section 1. For the purpose of preventing the spread to other islands in this Territory of insect pests which have established themselves on the island of Oahu, all persons and corporations are hereby prohibited from carrying or shipping from said island of Oahu to any other island in said Territory any fruit, melon, vegetable or root, except fruits, melons or vegetables in original packages imported into this Territory from other places; and all persons and corporations are hereby prohibited from carrying or shipping any plant or any soil attached to any plant or any other soil, from said island of Oahu to any other island in this Territory; provided, however, that plants and soils which have been thoroughly fumigated or sterilized under the supervision of the Superintendent of Entomology or his assistants, may be so carried or shipped when properly tagged and certified by any such officer to be free from insect pests.

"Section 2. Any person or corporation violating the above rule shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed Five Hundred Dollars as provided by Section 390 of the Revised Laws as amended by Act 82 of the Session Laws of 1905 and Act 122 of the Session Laws of 1907."

SMUGGLING ALLIGATOR PEARS AT FRISCO MEANS A $500 FINE

Examiner, July 2.—The federal inspectors and watchmen at the various docks along the waterfront have had their duties considerably increased during the past two days. Instead of looking only for contraband opium and merchandise, a careful watch is being kept for the smuggling of certain Hawaiian fruits.

According to a recent ruling of the state horticulturist, admission is denied the little alligator pear. Any person convicted of carrying this fruit ashore will be fined $500. A notice was sent out three days ago that the law would become effective yesterday morning.

The state deputies have inspected the ice boxes of the various ships arriving from the islands and located considerable quantities of the fruit. This is now being served as salad to the officers and crews. It is expected that the pear will soon be worth nearly its weight in gold.

Two Problems For The Food Commissioner

Food Commissioner Blanchard is spending some time at present in investigating alleged misbranding of soy packages by local Japanese manufacturers. Some time ago it was found that some of the markers of this sauce were making use of empty tins which had originally contained imported soy, without destroying the original labels. This was stopped, but now it seems that labels printed in Japanese characters are being employed without the information that the product is of local manufacture. As this tends to convey the impression that the product has been imported, Mr. Blanchard believes that it is contrary to provision of the federal statutes, and the makers will probably be notified accordingly.

Commissioner Blanchard states that, generally speaking, the Japanese very readily conform to all provisions of the pure food laws, and that, in fact, imported food products, such as canned fish and meats from Japan, more often comply with the requirements than do similar products of American manufacture. The Japanese Merchants' Association, he states, has been very willing to co-operate in aiding him in his work.

"HONOLULU IS A FARCE"

Honolulu, T. H., July 11, 1911.
Editor Star:—In heaven's name, where were all the ardent orators who spoke of the Anglo-American brotherhood at the mass meeting, when the "Challenger" sailed this morning?
Honolulu should be proud of her patriots. The British cruisers, recently here, did them the honor of firing the first salute ever fired by the British to their independence. As a return, the Americans—about ten of them—went down to see the "Challenger" sail! No band, no cheers, no friendly aloha to our departing brother-nation's ship. What a send-off! Honolulu is a farce!
SINCERITY.

KING OF TONGA LEAVES ASYLUM

King George of Tonga escaped from the asylum this morning and for all any one knows he may be at this moment raising an army to restore him once again to his throne.

Just what unsettled George of Tonga is not known, but one theory is that the coronation of George V. came to his attention and aroused the old yearning for kingship.

The escaped George is quite a character. He speaks English excellently. "Father is a Britisher and my mother is a Tongan, and I am proud of it," he was wont to declaim for the benefit of all and sundry in the days before he got too rambunctious to be allowed to enjoy freedom any longer.

At one time the demented man worked for John Ouderkerk, and a very good workman he was, too. Although he weighed only 155 pounds, he possessed immense strength, and in handling a heavy piece of timber have one end on his shoulder while two other men were doing their hardest to raise the other end between them.

THE GOVERNOR'S VACATION PLAN

Governor Frear expects to begin work on his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior Department, within the next few weeks. He will not be able to get reports from his Territorial department heads until after the 31st of July, but at that time he will have his data all in hand. After the report is out of the way, and many other matters now involving much night work are in a measure cleared away, the Governor hopes to be able to take a very brief vacation. "They say a change of work is a vacation," said the Governor, smiling a little grimly. "And it is quite possible that my vacation will consist in working a little harder."

Given full publicity to the seriousness of the matter, and that practically every Japanese held up on the wharves by the inspectors understands all about the reasons for it, and cheerfully complies with the requirements. From the fact that Japanese handle a great deal of fruit marketed in the city, the importance of having their co-operation in fighting the pest is very great.

MRS. FERN IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. Fern, wife of Mayor Fern, is ill at her home, according to reports received this morning.

It appears that Mrs. Fern was taken suddenly ill yesterday afternoon and Dr. Mitamura was summoned to her home in Kapiolani Park.

The mayor did not put in an appearance at his office this morning and sent word that he would be absent all day, as he was "kanalua" about leaving his wife in her present condition.

The mayor's Japanese chauffeur was in town this morning and stated that Mrs. Fern was better.

When pay day comes take some part of your wages to the Bank of Hawaii, Ltd., and open a savings account. The money in such an account will be mighty handy when trouble comes.

TO BUILD BIG NEW STEAMER AND WITHDRAW THE ZEALANDIA

Examiner: To make a contract for a 10,000-ton liner for the Canadian-New Zealand-Australian route, Sir James Mills, head of the Union Steamship Company, has just sailed for the United Kingdom after a visit to Ottawa to make final arrangements for the new service which will be inaugurated in August. The new steamer will be of the type of the Makura, but larger, capable of averaging sixteen or seventeen knots, and will make the run between Auckland and Victoria in eighteen days. It will be used with the Marama and the Zealandia, which is operating under the arrangement with the New Zealand Shipping Company, being withdrawn. The new steamer Maungonui, now under construction in England, will probably be used pending the construction of the 10,000 steamer. Until recently the Union Steamship Company had a direct service between Victoria and Australia, but when the time for the renewal of the contract was due the Government of Australia notified Canada that it would only consent to continue the contract on condition that the steamships make no call at New Zealand ports. The Union Steamship Company now has a contract with the Dominion Government for a four-weekly service between Victoria and Auckland, New Zealand. The company has two ships of its own on the route and a third under charter. Two years ago the Dominion Government held a contract for a steamship service between Australia and Canada. The commonwealth contributed a subsidy of $133,000, the Fiji government $12,000 and Canada a subsidy of $185,000 a year, making a total of $330,000 a year. When the time came for a renewal of the contract, Canada was desirous of making a call at New Zealand, that country having offered a substantial subsidy, and as well agreed to reciprocal trade agreements with Canada, whereas the Australian government refused Canada's proposals for a similar treaty.

OVER THE TEACUPS.

By Lady Gay.

served, a frieze being formed by pen-nants of all nations, interspersed and surmounted by hundreds of vari-colored lights.

The supper consisted of various sandwiches, coffee, salad, ice cream, sherbet, cream biscuit and champagne punch, and after supper dancing was resumed until the wee small hours.

Many exquisite toilettes were worn at this brilliant affair.

Mrs. Montgomery Macomb was exceptionally handsome in a Paquin model of pearl gray chiffon, heavily embroidered in a riot of roses in a darker shade of gray, draped over a foundation of steel satin.

The bodice and long tab panels were fringed with steel head trimmings and a long double rope of exquisite pearls were worn.

Mrs. Koester, wife of Major Koester of Schofield Barracks, Lihue, was wearing a beautiful creation of heavy black duchess satin, fringed by jet and elaborately trimmed with jet motifs about the corsage.

A neck-piece of diamonds of unusual brilliance was worn.

Mrs. Cowles wore a confection of mauve pina in tulle effect over white liberty satin, bordered by a guelot fringe of lavender and with a huge corsage of violets, these flowers also caught at the side of her coiffure.

Miss Onie Kennedy was very dainty in a little French gown of forget-me-not blue chiffon over self-toned messaline, the corsage being trimmed with clusters of forget-me-nots and sequinned with silver.

A chic pon-pon of blue chiffon and forget-me-nots was worn low, at one side of her golden hair.

Mrs. A. T. Baldwin of Fort Shafter was regal in a robe of sable marquisette, draped over a foundation of black duchess satin and edged in parts by a deep guelot fringe of black silk.

Jet ornaments were worn in the corsage.

Mrs. James Madison Kennedy was alluring in a robe of coral tinted satin veiled by delicate self-hued chiffon, with very elaborate garnitures of pearls, a pearl bandeau being worn over the hair.

Mrs. Roy Francis Smith was very charming in a black lace robe over black satin, with satin panels, elaborately embroidered in black. A corsage of American Beauty roses completed this handsome toilette.

Miss Kuteaman wore a frock of white satin, veiled by long white silks marquise and trimmed with bands of French green velvet and beaded passamenterie.

Mrs. F. B. Edwards was very handsome in a Parisian frock of white chiffon, hand-painted, in a riot of pink and blue roses, over a slip of white liberty satin and trimmed by chic crystal fringe and crystal passamen-terie.

Miss Grace Robertson was very pretty in a Helen pink satin, made in baby waist effect, the corsage being outlined by a fine gold fringe.

Pink silk hose and satin slippers to match were worn with this dainty toilette.

Mrs. Wendell C. Neville wore an exquisite robe of plain white satin with touches of rose point lace.

Mrs. Bruce Cartwright, Jr., wore a handsome French model of turquoise velvet, made princess and severely simple, the low cut corsage being adorned by gold lace and embroidery with motifs of Point de Flanders lace introduced.

Miss Alice Cooper was lovely in a robe of pale maize satin, veiled by baby blue marquise, and Miss Schaefer wore an imported model of champagne liberty satin veiled by gold chiffon, hand-painted in a riot of golden roses, which bordered the tunic. A Grecian band of gold was worn over her coiffure.

Mrs. McStocker wore a handsome evening robe of blue satin, made severely simple in princess lines, and adorned about the corsage with suggestions of gold.

Miss Lydia McStocker was very lovely in a coral pink liberty satin veiled by soft pink marquise.

The long tunic was bordered by pink silk guelot fringe, and embroidered pink bands ornamented the bodice and sleeves. A broad gold band held in place her elaborate coiffure.

Miss Julie McStocker wore a pale blue satin frock, whose overdrape of cream mesh lace was softly veiled by delicate blue chiffon. Blue bands heavily embroidered with opalescent beads trimmed this charming frock and a blue band was worn over the hair.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Irwin Spalding entertained at a pretty informal dinner party last evening at their home on Punahou street in honor of Mr. Laird H. Long and Miss Olivia Long of Santa Barbara.

The table was dressed in peachblow pink double hibiscus and maidenhair, which were confined in a brass basket in the center.

Pink draped candelabra and hand-painted place cards completed the dainty appointments.

Covers were arranged for twelve.

Miss Alice Cooper is at present entertaining as her house guest Miss Mary Schaefer of Dayton, Ohio, who arrived Thursday on the Honolulu to spend the summer on the islands.

Cards have been received for a pol-supper at which Miss Alice Cooper will entertain tomorrow evening at her home in Manoa in honor of her house guest, Miss Schaefer.

Prior to the naval ball last evening
Captain and Mrs. F. B. Edwards entertained at dinner at their artistic quarters at Fort Ruger, after which the party motored to the brilliant function.

A gold basket, brimful of Golden Shower sprays, formed an attractive centerpiece, encircled by tall yellow-silk shaded candelabra.

The guest carus were hand-painted in tones of gold.

Among those present were Brigadier General and Mrs. Montgomery

AEROPLANES IN WAR.

The military are experimenting here as elsewhere with aeroplanes, but it is not certain that, as a weapon of offense, the device is formidable. Probably no missile which the aeroplane could carry would be more effective against a fort than a Whitehead torpedo is against a ship; yet steel mesh netting makes a ship fairly safe from such attack. Is it not supposable that layers of such netting above the vulnerable parts of forts would have a similar value, even allowing for the greater velocity of assault due to the attraction of gravity?

One trouble with dropping bombs from an aeroplane in actual warfare would be to get the airship near enough to place them with precision. The first thing an army commander would do on the appearance of a hostile aeroplane within a range of two miles would be to fill the air with shrapnel from guns which are being designed for that purpose and from ordinary guns which could get the proper angle of delivery; and if the stranger came within range of the modern weapons of infantry, to let go with the rifles of the whole force. Twenty thousand men aiming at an aeroplane within range, aided by fifty or one hundred pieces of artillery would make things very warm indeed for the aviators. Even if not hit, the enemy would be uncertain in his aim. Furthermore aeroplanes could fight aeroplanes as balloons fought balloons during the siege of Paris.

So far the best use foreseen for aeroplanes is scouting use, particularly at sea, with a base in a fleet. Theoretically land scouting should be of great value also, but it is worth remembering that sentinel balloons did not justify themselves during the Civil War. In the noteworthy instance of Chancellorsville, the Federal aeronauts ought to have been able to warn Hooker of the flank movement of Stonewall Jackson's corps of 23,000 men against Howard's lines on the Union right. That army saw the Hooker balloon easily enough but the balloon picket did not seem to be able to see the army which, brown and dust-covered, blended with the hue of the earth. Flying low European aviators have managed to make good sketches of the region underneath, but in war an aviator will find much reason to fly high.

THE IOWA IDEA IN RECIPROCITY.

Senator Cummins opposes reciprocity with Canada because it isn't more like free trade, which goes to show how far the insurgent senator is from his Republican moorings.

In general the Cummins amendments provide additions to the free list of the United States of practically all the manufactured products arising from the raw material furnished by the farm, including meats, flours and meals, prepared vegetables, prepared cereals, maple sugar and sirup and fruit juices.

In addition Senator Cummins proposed the free admission from Canada to the United States of coal of all kinds and logs and timber, which he declared to be the only concessions demanded by him from Canada. The amendments then provide also for the free admission from Canada of agricultural implements, portable and traction engines and boilers, automobiles, iron and steel products and ores, cutlery, clocks and watches, leather and its manufactured products, and woolen, cotton and silk threads and clothes, provided that Canada shall not maintain export duties or license fees upon the exports of all the articles enumerated in the bill, including wood pulp and print paper and coal and timber and logs, and also provided the president is equally satisfied that transportation rates upon imports from Canada are not unreasonably low as compared with United States products going the other way.

This is a program which ought to suit Bryan Democrats as well as the recall, initiative, direct primary and referendum must suit the remnant of the Bryan Populists.

SIGNING EDITORIALS.

The famous Senator Grady, of New York, one of the enemies for whom our Democrats loved Grover Cleveland, has introduced, and the State Senate has passed, a bill requiring all editorials to be signed by the author's names. The measure though odd is not new, for California had such a law about fifteen years ago in which a San Jose Senator tried to get even with the impersonal critics of the press by spotting particular writers and bringing them to bar. The statute, however, was ridiculed to death and finally buried, we believe, without benefit of mourners.

Among the questions raised at the time was whether an editorial by a hired writer, which the editor had directed him to write and had revised afterward, was to be signed by the man who merely put the editor's ideas together, or by the man whose original responsibility it had been added to by the alterations he had made in the text. Jerome Hart, who was then editor of The Argonaut, claimed all the editorials in that great weekly as his own, no matter who put them together and signed every one "Jeromehart." No one else was responsible for them; they all expressed Mr. Hart's personal sentiments. And the point held good.

Were a law like this enforced, the public would hear of a great many noteworthy writers for the first time—men who had, for years, guided the pen in the instructed composition of leading articles which had shaped the sentiments of the nation. Away back in Civil War times Horace Greeley got the credit—or discredit as the case might be—for every editorial and for many other articles, which appeared in the New York Tribune. Probably he wrote one a day when in the city and feeling well, but he was often away on lecture tours. The "On to Richmond" editorials, which covered him with obloquy after Bull Run were written by one of Greeley's staff, but under his orders. These leaders were morally his; the actual writer was little more responsible for them than the phonograph is which repeats your message. To have compelled the writer to sign the articles would have made him a scapegoat for Greeley's errors of judgment, but his identity would have surprised Tribune readers.

During our annexation furore, seventeen and eighteen years ago, the New York Sun took the lead against the Hawaiian policy of President Cleveland in a series of cogent articles on "The Policy of Infamy." Some of the annexation workers at Washington went to New York to thank Editor Dana in person. He was the responsible man to see as a matter of course, but to the astonishment of the Hawaiians he dragged a little, freckled, red-headed fellow from a musty den and introduced him as the man who had really done the writing. How absurd it would have been to make the latter take responsibility for the anti-Cleveland phase of Mr. Dana's policy; but it would have surely made a name for the red-headed youth.

If the New York law could prevail, the readers of the great papers would rub their eyes to learn whose language they had been reading for years as that of their favorite editor.

The criticism that Honolulu let the Challenger go without even a send-off from Berger's band is true enough to sting a little. It fell to the Challenger to make the first salute to the American flag ever fired from a British warship on the Fourth of July, and that was an event which ought to have been more warmly recognized where it took place. Honolulu should have turned out to speed the parting guest yesterday, but it didn't think of that courtesy in time.

Zelaya seems to have been inspired by Castro to come back; but both gentlemen may as well understand that as soon as Uncle Sam gets in his hay, he will take a look at those Venezuelan and Nicaragua fences.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

There are divers times and seasons when for sundry human reasons man would rather nurse his sorrow than to listen to a jest; when emotions sentimental and reflections incidental claim possession of his headpiece and his broad and manly breast.

There are moments when he's weary of this world that's passing dreary, and he wants to sit in silence thinking thoughts that smell of smoke; and at such a bitter season someone fit for spoils and treason nearly always comes to jar him with a punk and pallid joke. I have sat, too sad to frolic, with my stomach full of colic, drinking yarb tea from a dipper, while I sweated blood and swore; and a joker came and found me, told a string of yarns around me, till I smote him with the fig tree that was growing by my door. I have sat, of hope denuded, sat alone and mourned and brooded, for the scads I staked on Jeffries just a little year ago, and an aleck then narrated witticisms antiquated, heedless of my tears of anguish, blind to all my carking woe! Fellow beings, young or hoary! Ye who deal in joke and story, deal in tales with snowy whiskers, look before ye spring your gags! If ye find your victims nursing bitter grief and sadly cursing, it were well to can your legends, or you'll tear their souls to rags!

WALT MASON.

Chicago has found out that creosoted wood blocks make the best pavement and that eucalyptus makes the best wood blocks. It's interesting news for us.

Politics shows a decreasing call for socialistic innovations. The attempt to coerce the judiciary seems to have brought a complete halt.

The sugar market seems bound to give the laugh to that warning we had from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

They weren't bunco artists who robbed the two Korea passengers. They were plain highwaymen and should be looked after.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

JOHN A. HUGHES—The Hilo railroad operations are making a little stir in the car-building business.

E. A. MOTT-SMITH—I happen to know that President Taft thinks a good deal of Ex-Governor Carter.

POP SPITZER—Yes I saw Politz and Lewis at San Francisco. Lewis is getting ready to join the Comeback Club.

M. A. SMITH—The drydock will be all right when the piles are driven and the loss to the contractors will be trifling.

WM. R. CASTLE—I have collected a great deal of matter about the revolutionary period in our local history and may work it up sometime.

O. ST. JOHN GILBERT—Honey is about the only thing the bugs have not attacked. I tried to get into cotton, but the bollworm beat me.

T. H. GIBSON—There is no difficulty in getting school teachers for Honolulu. It isn't so easy to get good teachers for the outside districts.

DR. J. S. H. PRATT—With the authority the Board of Health now has this city will be a very different place, from a sanitary standpoint, in a good deal less than two years.

M. F. PROSSER—I shall be away for three months on the Alaska trip and may hear something of interest there about fish cannery labor though I am not going for that purpose.

E. NORRIE—Journalism in this city is more difficult than it was when Claus Spreckels put up for it. Why when he was boycotting the Advertiser the boys got $10,000 out of him.

J. ARADA—Speaking of the effect of war on art, the experience of my country has been different from that of Europe, as our fine arts were developed during long periods of peace.

JOHN A. PALMER—The outlook for the tourist business is fine. I don't think there have ever been so many arrivals at this time of year before. It is mighty encouraging to all lines of business.

PURSER SMITH, O. S. S. Sierra—That was quite a shock at San Francisco. The boys on the Wilhelmina tell me that one of the Wilhelmina's lawwers parted as a result of the agitation.

FRUIT INSPECTOR CARTER—I didn't come across any people strenuously objecting to my going through their baggage for forbidden fruits, etc. I explained what it was for, and everyone seemed perfectly satisfied to let me go through and look for myself.

WILL J. COOPER—I have just received a letter from an official of the Department of Agriculture having charge of the public road improvement, stating that he has heard of Hawaii's magnificent roads, and asking for photographs, which he will use on lantern slides and in magazine articles as examples for the mainland to follow.

JOHN A. McCANDLESS—I heard a man say that there ought to have been a flashlight picture from the stage of that big audience Sunday night. The mainland and English illustrated papers might have republished it, considering the occasion, and, in any event, it would be good to keep I believe with him that every church ought to make a photographic record of its congregation every year.

FRED W. MACFARLANE—Should Governor Pezar not care for reappointment, there is a good man for the position whose name I have not seen mentioned. George W. Smith, I mean, who has always been prominent here in all matters concerning the welfare and prosperity of the country. An additional point in Mr. Smith's favor is that he is not connected with any of the so-called big interests.

One of the judges at the Maui race meeting, appealed to by a jockey who had been caught napping and left at the post, as to whether it was a start, replied with sarcastic courtesy: "Yes, it was," and pointing to the disappearing horses, added, "and I believe they went that way."

Land of Puupueo Manoa Valley

Since we began selling lots in this land we have learned a thing or two: First: That the real demand is for moderate size house lots—and in accordance with our suggestion the owner has sub-divided; the two large lots into twelve smaller ones containing from 18,000 to 20,000 square feet: Still good sized lots!

Second: That the lots in this land come pretty near selling themselves: The reason? Because the lots are not remnants nor undesirables left over after the pick, but are the real choice locations. This is easily proved by a visit to the land. Let us show you.

THE IMPROVEMENT A GRADUAL ONE

Henry Clews, of New York, in his special letter of July 1, predicts an early revival of manufacturing activity and then treats of trade and industry partly as follows:

"An evidence of the continued abundance of money—a feature that has been the primary cause of the steady advance that has taken place in the market level—is the fact that accumulations of funds to pay the large semi-annual dividends and interest disbursements have been made this year without an appreciable hardening in rental rates for money. The July disbursements at New York are estimated at about $235,000,000, some important part of which will unquestionably seek reinvestment in the stock market. But beyond this the ability of the banks to finance these large transactions without strain furnishes good ground for belief that the crop requirements this year will also be quite as readily financed. Trade and industry are both gradually improving. Their improvement, however, will not be so sudden as to cause congestion in banking circles during the crop-moving season."

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Ewa mill may be shut down for three or four weeks while extra planting is being done.

A regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce trustees will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The pineapple season is late this year. Pineapples have begun to come in to the cannery from Waimea and Pukoua, and the Wahiawa crop will start in about ten days.

The government has made July 31 the limit for filing applications for preference rights to Punchbowl lands under the Kapiolani lease expiring August 15, 1912. So far, applications have been filed on 185 out of 285 sub-leases. F. Schnack is the adjuster.

Messrs. Hibi and Kimura, engineer and chemist, respectively, of the Tawana Saito Sugar Company, operating in Formosa, are visiting these islands to gather information regarding the sugar industry as conducted here. The mills of this company were manufactured by the Honolulu Iron Works.

Recent analyses of milk samples taken from the various dairies are very satisfactory, according to Food Commissioner Blanchard, who finds that all of the larger dairies are supplying milk of over 3 per cent butter fat, as required by law.

SUGARS STEADY; RUBBER DECLINES

Oahu came up three-eighths from last recorded sale on the Honolulu exchange board today, in a sale of ten shares at $31. This followed a lively movement between sessions at $30.75, or an eighth advance, sales of 79, 30, 15 and 130 shares at that figure being reported. Oahu was the only other sugar stock sold at the board, five shares going at the unchanged price of $4.62½, following 45 at the same price in recess.

Rubber afforded the rest of the transactions, Tanjong Olok selling at $33, a drop of two dollars from yesterday's report, in lots of five, five and fifty shares. Between sessions 175 and sixty-four of the same rubber sold at $31.75 and 100 at $32, so that the board sales indicate a recovery from recess prices. Pahang rubber sold at $20 for 280 shares reported, which is a decline of half a point.

Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Co. is unchanged in reported sales of twenty and ten shares at $38.50. Wahiawa also holds its own at $112.50 in sales of twenty-five, thirty, ten and ten shares, preceded by one of twenty at $112. McBryde shows no change in a sale of fifty shares at $6.50. Ewa sold down an eighth in twenty-five shares at $31.62½, but came back to $31.75 for fifteen shares. Hawaiian Pineapple shows an advance of $1.75 in a sale of fifty shares at $38.75, and Oahu Railway makes a jump of $1.50 in a sale of fifteen shares at $140. Sales of 500 and 100 shares of Honolulu Consolidated Oil at $1.55 are reported by the Hawaiian exchange.

HALAWA MORTGAGE.
By an indenture filed for record yesterday the Halawa Plantation, Ltd., conveys by mortgage to Theo. H. Davies & Co., Ltd., its entire property and output, to secure a loan of $75,000. This sum is to be repaid in annual installments of $5,000, with interest at 6 per cent.

The agency of this Kohala plantation was taken over by Davies & Co., on July 1, as the Star some time in advance intimated would be done.

ADVANCE IN BEETS.

SIERRA HAD A BIG CROWD

The Oceanic wharf wore its holiday aspect this morning, for the popular Sierra was leaving, and as usual, this meant a big crowd of friends to see the numerous passengers off to San Francisco. There was a strong tourist contingent returning to the mainland, while the theatrical life was represented by no fewer than twelve artists, all of whom have appeared in Honolulu for some time past. Naturally the remaining talent turned out in full force to say au revoir, and cooers from the Australians on the wharf were yelled, while all sorts of good wishes were exchanged.

Berger and his band were there, and a long program of music was played, the Sierra being late in pulling out owing to the inspection of baggage. There were 128 passengers in the cabin and twenty-nine in the steerage. Many of the latter were Russians. It was indeed a pretty scene as the big liner pulled out from the dock, to see the multi-colored leis that were peeled from shoulders and hats and flung back to the wharf, and the moving of the boat snapping the paper ribbons that were stretched across the intervening space.

A falling off in sugar cargoes is beginning, although the Sierra had a full quota, but there is not much in sight at present. This, however, will be compensated for by canned pineapples. The Sierra had this time about 1,100 tons of sugar and the remainder of her freight was composed of canned pineapples—about 530 cases—3,200 bunches of bananas, 200 bags of rice and a general cargo. There were four automobiles belonging to passengers and sixty-four bags of mail. The Sierra is due at San Francisco on Tuesday morning next.

Alleged Deserter on Sierra.
Harbor Officer Carter wears his police badge when he is searching ships, but at other times he wears another badge when he is searching for fruits, etc., that are forbidden to the passengers traveling away to the other islands.

This is all because he has set so high a standard in harbor police efficiency that Sheriff Jarrett cannot get a man at present to succeed him, so he has to act in a dual capacity for another week or so.

This morning Carter searched the Sierra, and he came across a man that answered to the description of a soldier named Herman Johnson, who has been posted as a deserter from Lelihu. The man strenuously denied that he was wanted; in fact he alleged that he had never been a soldier. Carter, however, thought that the description fitted him well enough to request him to allow the Sierra to sail without him, which she did. He was signed on at twenty-five cents a day, and he had a pass issued to Private Frank P. Hopper.

"Why," Carter reasoned, "if you have never been a soldier, what are you doing with this pass?" The bearer smiled, and replied that he had picked it up. The details of the matter have been sent to Lelihu, and an officer will, in all probability, come up from there tomorrow for the purpose of looking at the man to see whether he is wanted by the military officials.

The man detained by Carter later on stated that his correct name was Frank P. Hopper, as per the pass found in his possession. This was a thirty-six hours' pass, and expired yesterday. He stated that he was a member of Troop H. The matter will be investigated tomorrow. Two officers from Lelihu spoke to him, but were unable to identify him as being a member of Troop H, for they do not belong to that troop.

Alex. T. Brown Away Again.
The schr. Alex. T. Brown, which arrived here some time ago in distress from Port Townsend with a cargo of lumber, got away yesterday afternoon for Valparaiso, whither she was bound when she set out. The worm-eaten planks were all renewed, but the captain had some difficulty in getting a fresh crew, as the men that brought her here deserted at the first opportunity.

Alice Cooke Back to the Sound.
The schr. Alice Cooke left on Monday afternoon in ballast for the Sound, where she will most likely load lumber again for this port, as she is a regular trader in this commodity between here and the Sound.

To Improve Charts.
E. Vance Miller, the coast and geodetic nautical expert, left for the mainland this morning by the Sierra. He has been down here collecting data for sailing directions of the Hawaiian Islands and for correcting the charts.

This is a work that is badly needed. It is said, and when the new charts are available they will save shipping masters a lot of trouble and time. The Massachusetts supplies a case in point. This vessel took a course of fifteen miles off the coast because the officers were not aware that they could go closer with perfect safety. Had they had the latest charts, even, they would have been saved considerable time—six hours, at least, it is calculated.

Hongkong Maru Due Sunday.
The T. K. K. S. Hongkong Maru is due to arrive here on Sunday from Yokohama, en route to South American ports. She will load 850 tons of coal before proceeding on her journey. She will not bring any passengers or cargo here.

Hilonian's Arrival.
As there seems to be some misapprehension concerning the arrival of the Hilonian, it may be stated definitely that the vessel came in on Monday evening from Seattle and docked at the Hackfeld wharf, as stated in yesterday's Star. She was not held outside all night, but was passed and up to her wharf under two hours.

Honolulu Returned.
The Honolulu returned from her island connections this morning. Today she was taking sugar, and will leave for San Francisco on Saturday next.

What About
That Dandruff?

There is just this much about it: Dandruff is a germ disease, is most untidy, annoying, and leads to baldness. When chronic, it is very stubborn, but surely yields to thorough and energetic treatment. All germs must be destroyed, the scalp must be restored to health. Here is the remedy: Ayer's Hair Vigor. Ask your doctor about using it.

SPORTS

By H. M. AYRES.

HONOLULU MAY SOON HAVE NEW RACE TRACK

There is some talk of a meeting of the business men of the city at which the question of having horse racing and other sports on a regular schedule at Kapiolani Park will be discussed. The idea is to fence the track, though just how this can be done, in view of the fact that the park belongs to the public, has yet to be explained. There is also talk of erecting an immense concrete grandstand capable of seating thousands of spectators.

Whether the scheme goes through or not, the fact remains that the local merchants are awakening to the fact that lots of money which might be spent with them is going out of the island into the coffers of sporting organizations on the other islands which are progressive enough to cater to the wishes of the people. That horse racing is held in signal favor in the Territory is evidenced by the facts that large crowds journey out to the park to witness a scrub race, and that over three thousand people were present at the recent Maui race meeting. Even with the enlarged grandstand and bleachers, the association had to stop the sale of tickets long before the first race was called.

Everyone spends money when there is something worth while doing in the sport line, and no one knows this better than the local business men.

May Secure Another Track. It would seem that the laying of a half-mile track, provided the Kapiolani Park proposition fails to materialize, would turn out to be a first-class investment. One reason in favor of a half-mile track is that the expense would be halved. There would be room for an infield big enough to play polo in and the floral parade array could line up there for the adjudication of awards. There are a number of such events which could take place in the infield of a half-mile track, and the gate money from each would be considerable.

As regards horse racing pure and simple, there is no doubt that Honolulu should be the racing center of the Territory. Here are the people and here is the money. The Japanese, who love racing perhaps a little better than any other form of sport, would patronize the track liberally, and once interest were aroused among the Japanese community the proceeds would be very large.

John O'Rourke stated the other day that he would head a subscription list to build a track in Honolulu with a very handsome sum, and Felix Brugbell and Louis Morrell, two other prominent Hilo sportsmen, have made similar declarations.

It is understood that several prominent local people are becoming interested in the matter of establishing a track here and that the polo men are ready to fall in line.

Taking everything into consideration, it looks as if the prospects of Honolulu having a track and giving meetings of her own were brighter than they have been since the defunct Jockey club allowed the grandstand at Kapiolani Park to be removed while they were asleep.

to witness. There is little between the two and such a race would be a memorable one. Honolulu would like to be favored with it.

The Waialeas also claim the championship of the windward side and are frothing at the mouth for a go with the Kaanawa.

There are five men in the Y. M. C. A. handball tournament and each has to meet the other.

The gate money of the Wolgast-Moran fight amounted to $32,000.

Battling Nelson made another appearance recently boxing a six round no-decision bout with Percy Ciove. Honors were even.

Last Sunday the Alea Alohas defeated the Waipahu Juniors, 14-10.

If there is much more squabbling among the ball teams of the windward side an arbitration committee will certainly have to be appointed.

John O'Rourke will give a race-meeting at Hilo on New Year's Day providing anything is in sight to oppose his victorious string of horses.

Welsh Outpoints Baldwin.

Freddie Welsh of Wales jabbed, rushed and generated himself into a twenty-round decision over Matty Baldwin of Boston at the Auditorium, San Francisco, on June 23rd, writes W. J. Slattery in the San Francisco Call. "This marvelous fighting machine from the little Isle across the Atlantic surprised San Francisco by his aggressive tactics, his rough infighting and his ability to stand up and take a punch. His cleverness was a revelation, but as everybody expected this, no one paid much attention to it.

"The Welshman is a great fighter as well as a great boxer. Baldwin is also a splendid type of the aggressive millman, and he knows every trick of the game. He is willing, foxy and a great ring general, but like so many of the others, he lacks that necessary asset, the punch. If he had this, Welsh never would have beaten him. "The contest was one of the best we have seen here this year. Full of action in every round, it held the attention of the vast crowd of fans from the outset. In the earlier stages it looked like anybody's fight and the first ten rounds were even, but after that time Welsh managed to measure his man slowly but surely. He commenced to draw away in the eleventh and from that time on every one could see the finish of the game, willing little fellow from old Boston town.

"The foreigner, while a wonderful fighter, a master boxer and a game performer, will never succeed Joe Gans or Battling Nelson. He is no knocker out. He surprised us with everything save the punch, and this he does not possess. Had he carried it with him last night, Baldwin would have been carried out of the ring long before the finish."

Macomb, U. S. A., Major and Mrs. Koester of Lelihu, in whose honor it was given, Major and Mrs. Edward J. Timberlake, Captain and Mrs. Game and Captain and Mrs. F. B. Edwards.

Master William Ouderkerk entertained at a very charming party at his home on Makiki street on Monday evening, when twenty of his young friends were invited.

The rooms and lanai were elaborately decorated with quantities of La France roses and maidenhair.

During the early part of the evening the guests played several games, including Pedro, the prizes for this, a Satsuma hatpin and silk necktie, being won by Marjorie Gilman and Percy Nottage, respectively.

At ten, delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, and afterwards dancing was in order till eleven, when their machines called to convey the young guests home.

Those present were the Misses Marjorie Gilman, Fanny Hoogs, Ruth McChesney, Martha McChesney, Thelma Murphy, Beatrice White, Esther White, Myrtle Schumann, Madeline Ross, Ruth Soper; Messrs. William Hoogs, Frank Hoogs, Cyril Hoogs, Donald Ross, William Schumann, Marcus Monarratt, Oscar McCorriston, Charles McWayne, Clarence White, William Morgan and William Ouderkerk.

Better Milk

Not only must every individual dairy belonging to this Association be absolutely clean and sanitary; but as an additional precaution to provide the purest and safest milk, every drop is treated by new electric process.

The public is cordially invited to call at our milk depot, on Sheridan street near King, any day between 9 and 11 a. m. to see the new electric purifying process in operation.

You will find our depot an example of cleanliness and sanitation.

GREAT GAME THIS AFTERNOON

All hands aboard for the ball game. You bet all hands will be aboard, also the Royal Hawaiian Boob-boys, the Ancient and Amalgamated Order of Rooters and Billy the Bat Boy.

It will be a great game, that between the Kelos and the Chinese. Indeed, it would be hard to call to mind a baseball game which has occasioned such universal interest as that of this afternoon, or which will be so keenly watched.

The Kelos, while they have won both games played here, have done so by a narrow margin, and naturally the fans want to see a home nine win a game from the visitors, and the Chinese champions appeared to be considered the organization most capable of doing the trick.

The game will start at 4:30 p. m. The line-up will be as follows:

Chinese—Ah Toon, c.; Asam, p.; Apau, lb.; Kan Yen, 2d; Ah Tin, 3b; V. Ayau, ss.; Hong Chack, lf.; En Sue, cf.; Kui Fa, rf.
Kelos—Fukada, c.; Sagase, p.; Goto, lb.; Kanki, 2b; Kiroaki, 3b; Sasaki, ss.; Koyama, rf.; Takahama, cf.; Ishikawa, lf.

VARIOUS SPORTS AT HALEIWA

Manager Clifford Kimball of Haleiwa is taking great pride in the present condition of the golf links at Wai'alua. They have never been in better shape than at present, and the turf has never looked greener or smoother.

Every Sunday the members of the Wai'alua Golf Club play on the links, and they are at present engaged in a tournament for a silver cup, which has to be won three times before becoming individual property.

The competition has been running for several months and interest among the competitors is very high, for there is every prospect of a close and sporting finish to the tournament, and just whose sideboard the handsome mug is destined to ornament it is impossible to say.

Manager Kimball expects to put up a cup for open competition in a short time, and if he does so there is no doubt that Honolulu golfers will flock to Haleiwa to have a try for it.

Besides golf, there are other sports to be enjoyed by the visitor. The tennis courts are as good as could be desired and right at hand bathing of the best is to be had.

Fishing is one of the features of life at Haleiwa and may be prosecuted either from the rocks or from a canoe, or even a Japanese sampan. The usual small coast fish are taken with a bamboo from the rocks and at times the pa-u run well and afford fine sport. Fishing in a canoe, one may catch fine aawa, hulu, moano, olo and other fish. Occasionally a giant swordfish comes along and sometimes one is caught and landed after a hard struggle.

There is a fleet of Japanese sampans near Haleiwa, and if one is looking for deep-sea fishing, which, after all, is the real thing, he can easily arrange to be taken out in one, and can depend on being shown some expert fish-catching.

By moonlight there are the usual night-feeders to be caught from the rocks, and this form of fishing is a novelty which is appreciated by all who try it.

For the visitor who cares to go further field, there are doves in plenty to be shot out Mokuleia way, and one day since the opening of the season three guns secured a bag of a hundred birds.

Manager Kimball, who is a thorough sportsman himself, and Clerk Al are only too glad to furnish all information regarding sport to visitors to the hotel. The latter may always be sure of a warm reception and a good time generally whenever they elect to spend a day or so out Haleiwa way.

TWO CRYING NUISANCES CALLED TO ATTENTION OF THE SUPERVISORS

Editor Star: In these days of ordinance framing and while the question of garbage removal is still in the air, will you allow me to voice an opinion regarding two ancient, but ever-offensive nuisances with which this community is afflicted?

The more important of these is the burning of garbage in private yards. Generally a large, square hole is dug in the extreme rear, as far away from the dwelling as possible. Into this, or upon the surface, a mass of yard refuse is accumulated, flavored with a quantity of decayed vegetable matter and a sprinkling of stable manure. When the wind is away from the dwelling, this pile is free and burns probably all day. The vile smoke goes, of course, into the neighbors' houses. In the evening the wind settles down and the fire smolders all night. Then, for blocks around, the atmosphere becomes permeated with the abominable stench, which only the burning of decayed vegetation can produce. The smell of frying fish and onions in a Chinese restaurant is joy compared to it. There are many yards to clean and many fires to burn. As a result, the air for days and weeks is polluted with sickening odors; only when the fresh trades come from the hills are the scattered and the atmosphere once more clarified.

Garbage should be removed by the city, free of charge, and the burning of trash in yards in thickly-settled portions of the town should be absolutely prohibited.

The other nuisance referred to is that of the all-night dog.

We have in our neighborhood a canine whose deep-toned voice can be heard on a still night from Diamond Head to Barber's Point. All night he bays at the moon. When there is no moon he howls defiance to the answering challenge of another beast twenty-two blocks away. He is the kind of animal that always runs home when he sees another dog, and to make up for his lack of courage, barks furiously from the kennel door. No attempt is made to quiet him. Once in while he forgets himself and stillness reigns for ten minutes. He has probably found something to eat. Then comes the yap of a fox terrier around the corner, and again commences that deep-toned, monotonous howl, to last till daylight. For the weary listeners there is no such thing as sleep. The remedy is suggested: why don't you telephone the owner to stop it? I do not care to use such means of abatement. It would do no good. A telephone bell, ringing in a household at half-past two in the morning is no joke. I would not care to have that trick played on me, even if occasion warranted it. Besides, there are too many owners of such dogs, and a man could be kept busy all night telephoning. We have all heard the dogs' chorus from Punchbowl to Kakaako.

Some owners are intelligent and keep their dogs quiet at night. A city ordinance will not stop a dog's bark, but it can make a public nuisance of him if he is not kept under proper control.

How or why the people who maintain these nuisances stand it themselves defies explanation. They evidently do not consider as offensive either smoke, garbage odors or noise dogs. There are many who will agree with me that these evils are not too trivial for attention. This is not a rural community, and a well-drawn ordinance or two, with a disposition to enforce them shown, would soon effect abatement. Then the long-suffering residents would be surprised at the change.

Thanking you for the space allowed me for this kick, I am, yours truly,
W. W. NORTH,
Honolulu, July 11, 1911.

THE PUNCHBOWL LAND TITLES

It is doubtful if any steps can be taken by the Territory toward terminating the Kapiolani estate lease on Punchbowl before the time of its expiration, August 1, 1912, owing to the fact that sublessees who have no claim to preferential consideration in the final disposition of the lots object to a surrender of their holdings until the full time is up. The last legislature appropriated $20,000 for the purpose of buying the Kapiolani estate claims, but this cannot be used toward appeasing these sub-lessees.

There have been about 185 applications filed with Adjutant F. Schnack for preference rights to these lands, the total number of present leases being about 285. It is the intention not to receive any applications after July 31st. The matter of resurveying and redividing the Punchbowl lands according to modern city needs will probably be one of the first matters taken up by Charles H. Judd, the newly-appointed land commissioner, who will arrive here the latter part of this month, and probably take up his duties August 1st.

TAX QUESTION TO BE SUBMITTED

A submission of facts will soon be made to the courts in the matter of the Hawaiian Trust Company, Ltd., trustee of the estate of George Garbraith, deceased, vs. C. T. Wilder, Territorial assessor, the matter being now considered in the attorney general's department.

Under the terms of the will in question, the trustees are paying annuities to various heirs amounting to about $8,000. The income from the estate is about $17,300, and after deducting costs of management and other necessary expenses, there remains this year a surplus of $3,000. The Territory claims its right to tax as income this surplus, which the trustees contend should not be taxed. As the will provides for this status of distribution as long as the courts will permit, under the laws against perpetuity in such matters, and this may be one hundred years or more, it naturally follows that the accumulating surplus will become very large and consequently important from a taxation standpoint.

Another point involved is against whom assessment for income tax should be made in the matter of the distributed portion of the income. The assessor wishes to collect this tax

RESIGNATION IS DEMANDED

HILLO, July 8.—Deputy Sheriff James Mattoon will be asked for his resignation, to take effect July 15, as the result of the report of the grand jury made yesterday, in which one paragraph reads as follows:

"The deputy sheriff, James Mattoon, Sr., has been so absolutely careless in performing his duties that we consider him unfit and incompetent to hold his position any longer."

Police Officer Solomon Konia, at Laupahoehoe, who was in charge of the raid during which a Japanese was killed about three weeks ago, will also lose his position.

BIG SURPLUS IN THE TREASURY

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Official figures, subject to revision, indicate that the Federal Treasury for the fiscal year of 1911, which closed yesterday, will show an ordinary surplus of $45,681,620 and an excess of $31,495,923 over all disbursements including Panama canal and public debt transactions.

Total receipts for the year were far greater than the official estimate and will pass the $700,000,000 mark. The unexpected increase is due to the fact that $27,500,000 was paid in on the corporation tax, about $8,000,000 more than the official estimate and are in full $322,419,938, the greatest sum ever collected on that tax. Customs receipts for the year amounted to $312,346,209.

ON THIS ISLAND.
If you spend your holidays at Haleiwa you are near enough to town to run in and buy what may be needed in case of emergency. The bathing there is superior to any on the islands, for the beach is entirely free from coral. The fishing is good and boating is a pleasure beyond anything in the harbor here. The manager of Haleiwa hotel has in mind always the comfort and pleasure of his guests, and frequent dances, country rides and tennis and golf matches are the result. Haleiwa offers inducements not found elsewhere on the island and the house is well patronized all year round in consequence.

There're a lot of things need fixing

Says the Little Paint Man.

Things around the place will suffer from wear and tear. And after a while they get so shabby that we feel obliged to chuck 'em away and get something new in their place. But it's a mistake and if we only all had the "Brighten Up" habit we'd keep things spick and span all the time by having a pot of paint, a tin of varnish and a brush handy. Just read this and do some "Brightening Up" right away.

Governor Frear is quoted as denying that he has held up the consummation of the Kapaa land agreement made by the land commission with Senator Fairchild for the Makee Sugar Company. The Governor states that the matter has not been brought to his attention officially, and that he has not had time to take it up independently, but expects to do so soon. The agreement in question gives a lease on 750 acres to Fairchild for a nominal consideration for one year, on condition of improvements being made to the extent of $20,000. It is understood that Senator Fairchild's presence in the city just now is in reference to this matter.

ARE FORMING

is why Mayor Fern vetoed it and called it a fraud."

Wilder May Fight.

It is said that the supervisors' plans to fire Ellwood C. Wilder as city and county road supervisor, may be blocked, for a time at least, by a refusal of that gentleman to regard himself as fired. The old program is in sight again—the board will discharge him, then he may refuse to give up the office or stables, mules and other property of the department and the board is then expected to go to court to secure possession. In the meantime, there would be two road departments, one supported by the supervisors, with City and County Engineer Guy Gere as its head and Charles Wilson as road supervisor under him, and the other headed by Wilder.

The ordinance is resting just now under a veto by Mayor Fern. Aside from his disapproval of its provisions, Fern in his message declared that it had been illegally passed. It is designed to carry out authorizations of an act of the legislature which went into effect on July 1, and it was passed by the supervisors in June. This was done by the board under the advice of the city and county attorney's department that it was legal, in order that they might go ahead without delay on July 1.

Mayor Poorly Advised, Says Cathcart.

Mayor Fern, acting, it is said, under legal advice, says the board couldn't legally pass the ordinance till after July 1. City and County Attorney Cathcart says that if this is the only legal attack to be made on the ordinance, it is a waste of time going to court at all. "I cannot conceive that any lawyer of standing can have given the mayor such advice as is indicated by his veto message," said Cathcart. "Certainly whoever advanced the proposition that the board had to wait till after July 1 to pass its ordinance doesn't know much about law."

If a contest becomes imminent, it is said, the board may decide to save time by passing the ordinance over again. This, it is said, would be a quicker way out of the difficulty than having the matter go through the courts.

FUNDS FOR THE COMMISSION

The new Territorial harbor commission purposes visiting every government landing in the islands, in order to become thoroughly familiar with the needs of these different ports, as soon as possible. A start will probably be made within two weeks.

This was determined at a meeting this afternoon. All of the members were in attendance except F. B. McStocker, who is on another island.

Chairman Marston Campbell stated that he had taken up the matter of meeting the expenses of the board, with the governor, and that the executive was willing that these should be met out of the contingent fund, with the exception of salary for a permanent clerk.

MYHRE APPOINTED.

Halvor Myhre, formerly milk inspector under the city and county health department, has been appointed by the Territorial Board of Health to a similar capacity under Food Commissioner E. B. Blanchard. Mr. Myhre takes the place of Joe Richards, who is now occupying a place as assistant to Dr. Norgaard, Territorial veterinarian.

HOW THE EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS OF JULY 1 AFFECTED 'FRISCO AND OTHER PARTS OF CALIFORNIA

(Dispatches to the Sacramento Bee.)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Two earthquake shocks—the heaviest since the big shake of 1906 and separated by only a few seconds—jagged the central portion of California and western Nevada today. The first sharp shock, experienced approximately at 2:01 o'clock, was followed within a few seconds by one of similar intensity, each lasting about five seconds. Only trivial damage has been reported from any section, but in San Francisco and other cities in the affected area panic seized crowds in stores and restaurants and there was a pell-mell exodus from the large buildings.

Follows New Lines.

One peculiar feature of the shock was that it did not appear to follow the old "fault" in the earth's crust, which has been the playground of temblors in the past, but extended from the seacoast eastward to the Sierras, including hitherto exempt mountain areas. It was felt to the northward of Sacramento, in the Sacramento valley, southward as far as Fresno and to the east at Carson and Reno, Nev., the former place experiencing the heaviest shock in its history.

Some slight damage was done to buildings in San Francisco. Heavy stones in the cornice of the Mechanics' Bank building were moved slightly out of alignment; superficial cracks were made in several large office buildings; cornices of the new postoffice building were disarranged, and minor damage was done to the interior walls of a number of other buildings.

Man Dies of Fright.

Within a few seconds after the first shock many downtown buildings were depopulated in a wild rush to the streets. Telephonic and telegraphic service was suspended for some minutes because of the operators deserting their keys.

Herbert Hadley, a lodging house inmate, fell dead of fright, and some cases of hysteria or of cuts or bruises suffered in the semi-panic were treated at the emergency and other hospitals.

Santa Rosa, which suffered a greater disaster in proportion to its size than did San Francisco in the catastrophe of 1906, scarcely felt today's shock, further indicating that the seismic disturbance did not follow the lines of the old "fault."

San Jose, another heavy sufferer in 1906, reported that the shock today was the sharpest experienced since that time, but that it did no serious damage. Stockton and Fresno, in the San Joaquin valley, were frightened by the jarring, but there, as in Sacramento, where the state offices were deserted in a trice as a result of the temblor, the damage to buildings was trifling.

Severe in Carson.

In Reno, Nev., the shock was scarcely felt, but in Carson it was severe. The federal court was in session in the Nevada capital, and judge, jury and attorneys rushed post haste to the streets.

At the Santa Clara College observatory both reels were thrown off the seismographs. They were immediately replaced, but the record of the disturbance will be incomplete because of this action.

The mean time clock at the observatory of the University of California was stopped, for the first time since the great quake of five years ago.

The deep booming reverberation which usually marks disturbances of a widespread character accompanied the first tremor. In San Francisco the groaning and creaking of the strained steel structures in the downtown district played a larger part in frightening the populace than did the tremors.

Sharp on Tamalpais.

Word was received by the local weather bureau from the sub-station on Mount Tamalpais, 2600 feet above the sea, to the effect that the sharpest shock had been felt there since the disaster of 1906. The mountain is close to the "fault" which opened during the April quake.

Seismographs Put Out.

LICK OBSERVATORY (Mt. Hamilton, via San Jose), July 1.—The earthquake at 2 o'clock this afternoon was so severe that both seismographs were so shaken up that no record of value was made. So far as those instruments were concerned, the shaking up was more violent than that of the big earthquake some years ago. To the other instruments of the observatory no damage was done. The 36-inch

ARMY AND NAVY

By J. A. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)
WASHINGTON, July 1.—Young men ambitious to enter the United States army need not depend upon a nomination to West Point or Annapolis. So great is the demand that the Secretary of War has issued a general call, and any young man with good moral standing, and who can produce letters of reference, will now be designated for the competitive examination.

This unusual procedure is being taken in the hope of filling the vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant, which have been created by the recent increase, by authority of Congress, of the official personnel of all the fighting lines of the army. At present there are 286 vacancies, and only eighty-two of these will be filled by the graduating class at West Point. Only a few—perhaps not more than a dozen—will be filled from the ranks this year, so there will be left approximately 200 vacancies to be filled from civil life. Particulars may be obtained by addressing the Secretary of War at Washington.

Army and Navy Orders.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Army orders: First Lieutenant Rosier C. Bayley of the medical corps is relieved of duty in the Philippines, to take effect at such a time as will enable him to take the transport and proceed to San Francisco. By direction of the President, Captain Clarence M. Condon of the coast artillery corps is relieved from detail as major of the Philippine Scouts, to take effect August 15, and is assigned to the Fifteenth Company of the coast artillery corps. The President has accepted the resignation of Captain Welsley King of the Philippine Scouts, and he has been granted a leave until July 31. Captain Marborough Churchill of the First Field Artillery is relieved from duty in the Philippines and will join Battery D of the First Field Artillery.

Navy orders: Medical Director P. A. Lovering is detached from duty at the naval medical supply depot in New York and ordered to duty in command of the Naval Hospital at Mare Island. Medical Director M. H. Simmons is detached from the command of the Naval Hospital at the navy yard at Mare Island and ordered to home. Lieutenant W. I. Lightie is detached as commander of the Stewart to duty on the Asiatic station.

Say Captain Cook Was Sober.

Examiner: After a recess of two weeks, the trial of Captain Frank A. Cook was resumed at the Presidio yesterday morning. Cook is charged with having entered the Spreckels Market on the night of April 12, while intoxicated, and assaulted Night Watchman J. Hayes.

The court was in session for a short time only yesterday morning and adjourned without fixing the next meeting date. Three witnesses were examined for the defense. Policeman Gaylord, who arrested Cook, and Special Policeman Hamilton, the first man to enter the market after the quarrel and subsequent shooting of Cook by the watchman, testified that Cook was sober at the time.

Colonel J. C. W. Brooks, who has been trying to find eye-witnesses to the quarrel and shooting, was also a witness. He reported that his efforts have been unavailing.

A few weeks ago he went to Santa Rosa for the purpose of taking the dying statement of a man named Muethl, who, under the alias of Wentworth, claimed to have been an eye-witness, but the man died before he could make a statement.

Fortified Naval Bases.

Minneapolis Journal: Admiral Mahan says that our Atlantic fleet would require four months to reach the Hawaiian Islands, but that when the Panama Canal is completed, the fleet can reach Hawaii in four weeks from the Atlantic. The difference between four months and four weeks represents the military value of the canal.

A fortress in the Islands should be constructed capable of resisting any attack until the fleet could come to the rescue. What applies to Hawaii, attaches also to such points as are strategic everywhere in our domains. The policy requires adequate fortification of the Isthmus and of Guantanamo. If the fleet, owing to the inadequacy of their defenses is tied down to the Isthmus or to Guantanamo, by so much is the value of the fleet lessened.

Mobility and unity are the two requisites for the fleet. Adequate land fortification will secure the fleet mobility, so that it can safely leave any one point for a period to hasten to another point either to rescue or to strike. Unity without leaving bare one field, as the Pacific is comparatively bare today, will be secured by the canal, which will enable the fleet to pass from ocean to ocean and to appear at each at maximum strength.

To divide the fleet today in order to place half of it in the Pacific, would be foolish, since division would place in neither ocean a strength sufficient to guard either effectively. One overwhelming fleet able to move quickly is better than two fleets, neither quite equal to the requirements and likely to be beaten in detail.

Admiral Mahan's point is that to get from a fleet its maximum military service requires that fortifications of naval bases be sufficient to permit the fleet to leave any base unprotected except by its own fortifications for a time, while the fleet steams to other fields where it is needed or where it can strike.

Army and Navy Orders.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—By direction of the President, Captain Solomon P. Vestal, retired upon his own application, is detailed as instructor in military drill and tactics at the Hitchcock Military Academy, San Rafael, Cal., to take effect August 1, and will report for duty accordingly.

VISITOR AT THE UNIVERSITY CLUB YESTERDAY GAVE A VERY INTERESTING ADDRESS ON INDIA

Dr. A. R. Hume, who passed through here yesterday on his way to his home in India after a visit to the United States, was entertained at lunch at the University Club. Dr. Scudder presided, and among those present were Governor Frear, Chief Justice Clemons, W. R. Castle, P. Super.

Dr. Scudder, in introducing the guest said that one of the great privileges of living in these islands was the fact that they often came in contact with great men, who were engaged in all kinds of labor. He believed that the special committee of the University Club was always on the watch for those men to come through, and then give the members and their friends an opportunity to meet them and hear something about their work, so that they may know those who labored along the larger lines, and then whenever they heard of them they felt associated with them in their work. Dr. Hume's father had been engaged in work in India, and Dr. Hume's son was now laboring there, so that it might be said that three generations of the family had been engaged in work for the uplift of India. Dr. Hume was also well known in Great Britain as well as in the United States; his name in fact was known wherever the English language was known. He was sure that all present would be glad to have the opportunity to hear Dr. Hume and get into personal touch with him.

Situation in India.

Dr. Hume began by making a humorous reference to the fact that he always got his hair cut in every new country that he visited. Perhaps he would not leave his footprints on the sands of time, but he would leave some of his hair there.

The situation in India, he said, is a difficult one adequately to understand, and adequately to present, because of the heterogeneous character, and no man who has even lived there a long time can describe the whole of India, and no man can know something of every part of India. It is too vast for that. He was born there, and has labored there for thirty-seven years, and had been a representative in many departments.

The most important event of the last month was the crowning of the king

Best Government on Earth.

He believed that it was like this: The English government was the best government on earth; first, because it was strong; secondly, because it was progressive, and thirdly, because it was conservative. No other government on the face of the earth could succeed as Great Britain was doing in India. There were absolute fairness and justice. The whole government, of course, was not by Great Britain. There were 682 Indian princes in charge of large areas, which held about 70,000,000 of the population. These people were entirely ruled by the princes. Those 682 princes were absolutely loyal. They know that as long as they are not disloyal to the paramount power, and as long as they conduct their rule fairly well, they are absolutely sure of their present position. This is no small thing within the permanence of the English rule.

In this progressiveness everything is included, education, railways, banking, telegraphs. As a boy, Dr. Hume traveled in the first railway that ran out of the city of Bengal. That was in 1853. As an illustration of what the British were doing in the country, he stated that, two controlling principles have been in charge: the first was the encouragement of private enterprises in every legitimate way, and the second, government control. The private companies are promised five per cent on all approved railways, and in return they have to give the British government a voice in the management. There was never a dollar of water in any of the stock dealt with in this way. Control has been held so fairly that never has one railway competed in a war with another. There has never been

KILLED NEIGHBOR'S DOG WITH HAMMER AND IS FINED $5

Every dog has his day, and one poor pup certainly had his the other night, according to evidence adduced in the district court yesterday.

The case was that of Ching Sung Chang, charged with malicious injury by Mrs. T. S. Choy, in that he did kill a pet dog of hers by striking it on the head with a hammer.

Defendant is the landlord of a tenement house on Nuuanu street and complainant is one of his tenants. A short time ago the board of health people visited the house and suggested that there were too many dogs kept by the lodgers to be conducive to the general health.

Mrs. Choy stated that she kept her puppy in her own room on the lanai and that defendant came around, and after reconstrating with her for keeping the dog, hit it on the head with a hammer, causing its untimely departure for the dogs' heaven.

Mrs. Rose Kualo was another witness for the prosecution, and she proved to be a "lulu." Attorney Andrews, for the defense, questioned her in the usual manner, whereupon Mrs. Kualo became very indignant and told the learned counsel that she was "moloa." She also kept a dog in the house in question.

Asked if her dog made the veranda dirty, she told Andrews to go and see for himself or else consult the board of health.

"The man hit the dog on the head with a hammer and it fainted," said she on the stand. "It was a pretty and a happy dog and it was not sick so that it would die until Ching came along and hit it with the hammer. He tried to talk to me and I told him to 'beat it,' and he went and beat the little dog.

She stated that she wasn't on good terms with defendant, as the latter had ordered her to clean the cook-house, and she wasn't going to do anything of the kind because a lot of other wahoines used the cook-house and they should all help to clean up the place.

M. Kapoff, for the prosecution, talked Russian with Interpreter Grune at such length that Prosecutor Brown asked if witness' evidence couldn't be administered in small doses. He had little to say bearing on the case, however.

Defendant denied maliciously striking the dog. What he did was to point the hammer at the dog and the latter in a fit of playfulness knocked his head against the hammer. It died, all right, but he thought that sickness was responsible for its decease.

A. M. Brown, in conclusion, stated that ladies at the Young, Moana and Colonial had their lap dogs and that he saw no reason why a woman might not keep a puppy west of Fort Street. He maintained that the dog had been killed without legal justification.

Andrews contended that there was no malice, but that defendant was exercising his right in upbraiding the pup with the hammer.

Judge Monsarrat thought differently, however, and $5 and costs was his adjudication.

PLANS FOR THE FIVE JAPANESE SCHOLARSHIPS AT MID PACIFIC

In the current issue of the Friend appear the details of plans for the five Japanese scholarships at Mid-Pacific Institute, as arranged for by Theodore Richards during his recent trip to Japan, as follows:

When the first drafting of regulations concerning the contest for the five scholarships took place, there were present President Naruse and Mrs. Nitobe and Motoda with Mr. Richards at the house of Dr. Nitobe. It was clear that the Japanese gentlemen were keen to safeguard the quality of the scholarship, to a degree that the Mid-Pacific would not have considered essential. Hence the rules seemed to Mr. Richards to be somewhat rigorous, but he was convinced that the matter was entirely safe in the hands of such men and educators, who, notwithstanding the heavy demands on their time, were willing to take this rather arduous burden on them.

Their chief fear was concerning the character of the course offered at the Mid-Pacific to young men who would have passed in Japan examinations covering a high school course in either country. It must be admitted that the M. P. I. had shared the same fear, with the saving recollection that these young men would have to qualify for that extremely difficult condition, viz:—be able to do classroom work in a foreign language, which they could hardly expect to do well enough to take regular college work anywhere. So it was offered candidates that just as soon as they could qualify for the English required, they

The Friend Peace Society.

(A translation of a draft of rules prepared by Sec. Motoda, and submitted to the executive committee.) This Society is organized at the request of Mr. Theodore Richards, representing the paper "The Friend," and the Mid-Pacific Institute of Honolulu, Hawaii, for the purpose of managing all questions concerning scholarships provided for Japanese students in the institute.

As these scholarships are provided to promote friendship between the United States and Japan, the society aims to accomplish its object by the following means:

The Friend Peace Scholarships.

1. The scholarships given for Japanese students by "The Friend" are called the "Friend Peace Scholarships." These scholarships extend for a period of four years to the amount of 6000 yen.

2. These scholarships cover traveling expenses from Yokohama to Honolulu.

any cut-rate competition. The railways have all been able to borrow money on the government guarantee at three per cent interest, for extension. In 1909 909 miles of new railway were opened. The fast trains go at the rate of forty-five miles an hour, the slow from fifteen to twenty-five miles. The first-class rates are two cents a mile, second, one, and third, half a cent. The railway carriages are comfortable. There is a clause by which at the end of fifty years the government can take over the railways at their own valuation at the time. In 1903 the government began taking over the railways, and the former stockholders are being paid by loans, and these loans are being paid by the profits of the railways, so that before they get through that country will have a splendid railway system that will not have cost the taxpayers a red cent.

The third qualification is the conservative character. He knew that at times he had thought when he was much younger that the government might move just a little quicker, but after all, the conservative was the only practical rule.

Ultimate Self Rule.

It was his absolute conviction that the aim of the British administration was towards self rule as an integral part of the British empire. They knew that these people were going to have a large part in the management of their own affairs. Already a self rule is established in many of the municipalities, and this has increased since 1911, through the work of Lord Minto and Lord Morley. Speaking on the question of Indians governing themselves, a highly educated native, filling the position of attorney general, the Hon. Mr. Sachchidananda, speaking at Arrah on October last, said:

A Noted Indian's Views.

"Leaving aside the masses, that is the vast bulk of our people, it cannot be honestly said that even the educated classes have yet displayed in any appreciable degree the possession of that kind of character which one has to presuppose as existing in citizens of self-governing states. Our deep-rooted selfishness, our ingrained spirit of disunion, our blind confidence in the existing state of things and our reluctance to accept the efficacy of change, our helplessness in the face of natural evils and sudden difficulties, our short sighted covetousness that impels us often to kill the goose that lays the golden egg, our habits of sheer indolence and procrastination, our loose, careless talk and reckless promises and assertions, our distrust of each other and absence of any feeling of co-operation in us—these and many other failings of a like nature—all conduce to make earnest work difficult, slow, exasperating and as often as not abortive. They have a saying in the West that 'all are for each and each is for all,' whereas with us it is a case, I fear, of 'each for himself and only God for us all.' If, therefore, you desire to develop the character which will enable you to discharge properly your duties and responsibilities in the State, you have a treble duty to perform—firstly, to conquer the many short-comings of your character, to extirpate from your mind the pernicious effects of early teachings and surroundings; secondly, to teach and help your coadjutors in public work to do the same; and thirdly, to organize the work itself."

Meeting of East and West.

Dr. Hume said that that, he believed, was a correct diagnosis of the situation, and it was given by one of the most intelligent and leading men in the country.

The coming of the west to the east, of course, would make big difference, for the ideal of the west was to give every man the best chance to do for himself as well as he could. The mingling of the two races meant a vast change. Popular Hinduism was doomed. That meant superstition, ceremony, idolatry and such things. Some were for moderate reform; some were for thorough going reform; and some for still more radical reform. Some would take out the worst elements and yet stick to the best. There were many varieties of changes suggested by various parties.

Among other things Sir N. G. Chandavarkar in a lecture at the Y. M. C. A., recently said:

Message to the East.

"Let me tell you what I consider the greatest miracle of the present day; it is this, that to this great country, with its 300 millions of people, there should come from a little island unknown by name even to our forefathers, many thousand miles distant from our shores, and with a population of but fifty to sixty millions, a message so full of spiritual life and strength as the Gospel of Christ. This surely is a miracle, if ever there was one. And this message has not only come, but it is finding a response in our hearts for, as I have already indicated to you, the old conception of a spiritual worship of God has not entirely perished from the minds of the people, though it may be buried below a mass of ceremony and superstition. The process of the conversion of India to Christ may not be going on as rapidly as you hope, or in exactly the manner that you hope, but, nevertheless, I say, India is being converted; the ideas that lie at the heart of the Gospel of Christ are slowly but surely permeating every part of Hindu Society and modifying every phase of Hindu thought. And this process must go on, so long as those who preach this Gospel seek, above all things, to commend it not so much by what they say, but by what they do and the way they live."

In conclusion, Dr. Hume said, once the United States was not known, but now there was not a soul from the wise political diplomat to the humblest officer who has not a great respect for the United States. Dr. Hume expected that large and larger and more helpful relations would grow between the two countries. (Applause.)

The Masses Satisfied.

W. R. Castle, asked the opinion of the speaker on the apparent dissatisfaction existing in India against the British rule.

Dr. Hume replied that the 682 native princes were satisfied; 62,000 million people under them were satisfied; the great masses of farmers and artisans had no knowledge of the trouble. The only trouble was among the Brahmins, who were losing prestige relatively. The Brahmins have been the brains of the country. Now when the other classes came in gradually to take up their places, some of them became dissatisfied. They are intelligent, but they do not recognize that character as well as intelligence helps them to qualify. For the present the unrest is far less than it was. In a measure it was due to Lord Curzon in showing undue haste in dividing Bengal. They must have felt something like the people of Poland did over the matter of the division. But that spirit is far less than it ever was. Dr. Hume left in the Korea yesterday afternoon for India.

Officers to Retire.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Some time during the month of July fourteen comparatively young officers of the Navy will be forced into retirement so that the terms of the personnel act of March 3, 1899, may be complied with. The retirements will be forced by the board on selection, less euphoniously called the "plucking board."

Six captains "voluntarily" retired today, thereby furnishing the percentage of retirements required by the law. The retirements were voluntary in the sense that no official action was taken compelling them to get off the active list.

The officers who went on the retired list today and their recent assignments are: Burns T. Walling, commandant at San Juan, Porto Rico; James C. Gilmore, commanding the armored cruiser Maryland; Thomas D. Griffin, stationed in Washington; John M. Orchard, commanding the West Virginia; Ben W. Hodges, dispatch agent at London, and Edward Lloyd, commanding the receiving ship Wabash.

Only members of the "plucking board" have any idea as to the identity of the younger officers to be plucked, because their services are not as highly valued as some others. They are all secretive men whose chief business is keeping their own counsel.

The armored cruisers Maryland California have been ordered to San Francisco, to remain there during the stay of the teachers attending the National Educational Association convention. Representative Kahn asked for a detail of first-rate ships, and the Maryland and California are the available ones.

EARTHQUAKE

telescope is all right; so is the 12-inch instrument. Some of the clocks were put out of commission. Some plaster was knocked down in some of the buildings and a few cracks were made in the brick walls. Beyond this no physical damage resulted to the observatory or its equipment.

Ten Seconds Apart.

BURKELEY (Cal.), July 1.—A full reading of the Seismograph at the University of California could not be obtained on account of the absence from town of Instructor Wood, in charge of the instrument. A partial reading showed that the first of the shocks occurred at 20 seconds after 2 o'clock in the afternoon and the second 19 seconds later. The instrument showed that the shocks were the most severe since the earthquake of 1905.

Severest Since 1905.

SANTA CLARA, July 1.—So severe was the shaking of the earth in this city this afternoon that it threw both the component pens of the horizontal seismograph, at Santa Clara College, off the revolving drums and similarly affected the vertical instrument. When these were adjusted by Observer Albert Newlin, the north and south component swung its full amplitude for several minutes. The oscillations continued for more than ninety minutes, diminishing to less than one millimeter at the end.

This is the severest earthquake disturbance recorded here since 1905. According to Newlin, the fact that it is a local disturbance is demonstrated by the absence of preliminary tremors.

Newlin called attention to the latest bulletin by Professor W. T. Foster of Washington, D. C., in which it was predicted that a seismic disturbance would occur before July 3.

THE THEATERS

The new talent at the Bijou and Savoy theaters has made good. Barnes and Robinson, the team which made its appearance at the Savoy, were a hit from the start. Barnes does a clever piano stunt, while the feminine member of the team sings well, dresses well, and both do a conversational sketch which is clever throughout.

At the Bijou, the Boardman Sisters, playing a boy and a girl act, did a singing number which went well. Theirs is the usual "sister" act, and they are clever.

At the Park, the Tyrrells, the juvenile singers and dancers, and Harney and Haynes kept the audience well in hand with new singing and dancing features.

At the Savoy, the Ragtime Trio probably made the biggest hit of their engagement, for they were vociferously recalled to the stage, especially after their hula song and dance.

Ryan and Ryan, at the Bijou, are putting on this week probably the cleverest bit of soft shoe dancing and clog work that has been shown here. This versatile team, when warmed up, puts on some novel and unusually interesting steps, and last night won the admiration of a very large audience.

As to pictures, the Bijou shows one of exceptional interest, "A Trip to the Blue Grotto of Capri," showing the marvelous natural chamber in the cliffs, well worth seeing. The sunset part of this picture is wonderful.

There are some exceedingly funny films at the Savoy, but that showing life on the stage is full of human interest.

By-laws and regulations concerning candidates for the "Friend" peace scholarships in the forty-fourth year of Meiji.

1. Candidates must send in the following papers to the office before the 10th of June:

- Application.
- Curriculum vitae.
- Certificate from the Principal as to the character of the candidate.
- Certificate from a physician as to the physical condition of the candidate.
- Certificate of graduation.
- The result of the examination.
- Compositions.
- The candidates must send in their application in the following form:

To Count Shigenobu Okuma,

Chairman of the Committee:
I, the undersigned, respectfully apply for a "Friend Peace Scholarship," which affords an opportunity to study in the Mid-Pacific Institute.

(Signed)
3. The subjects for the compositions for this year are as follows: The Japanese composition, "How Can the Peace of the World Be Realized?" The English composition, "Friendly Relations Between Japan and the U. S. A., and How They Can Be Best Maintained."

4. The committee, after examining all these papers, will notify the successful candidates before the 30th of June.

5. The chairman of the committee will give each successful candidate the following recommendation:

"This is to certify that Mr. has been examined and approved by the committee as a successful candidate for a "Friend Peace Scholarship."

(Sgd.) Count Shigenobu Okuma.

6. In case the candidate requires a certificate from the committee when he applies for a passport, such will be given him.

7. Candidates must go to the Treasurer for the traveling expenses, and they must be in Honolulu not later than the 10th of September.

8. All letters must be sent to President Naruse Jinzo at his office.

NO SMOKING IN THE Y. M. C. A.

The Friend: Here is an editorial from "Association Men," the official organ of the Young Men Christian Association. The action reported here is along the line a number of Associations have taken recently. Will the Honolulu Association do likewise? I hope so. The editorial is called "Another No Smoking Dormitory."

"The Kansas City directors decided when they opened their building, that they would make a rule that no smoking would be allowed in the dormitories. There are 141 men in the rooms, and the rule is lived up to with trifling difficulty. Every room is filled and there are fifty men on the waiting list. Even many clubs and men's organizations are quite glad to omit the customary smoking and come to the Association's dining rooms without it, rather than go to the hotels where they could have that freedom. The secretary is convinced that it would be a good thing for all Associations to adopt the 'no smoking' rule in their dormitories. While a few might be deterred from taking rooms there, it is certain that no boy would get its sanction for acquiring the cigarette habit, with its evil results."

Of course where smoking is not allowed in the living rooms, it is not allowed elsewhere in the building. That means no smoking anywhere in the building. Let us hope the Honolulu directors will make a similar rule.

AN OPEN SECRET.

Many ask the reason for the continued and increasing demand for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The secret is that it never fails to give relief. The middle-aged men of today remember it as the remedy given them by their mothers for cramp colic dysentery when they were children, and its reputation as a positive cure for such ailments is still maintained. No remedy has ever been produced that is its equal for the prompt relief of pain. For sale by all dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.
