Island Displays in Tropical Building Star Attraction to Exposition Sightseers
150,000 PEOPLE VISIT BUILDING ON FIRST DAY
Hawaii Exhibit of Pineapples at Palace of Horticulture Also Much Liked—Social Events Begin—Many Islanders Register at Headquarters

BY KAMAHAIA.
(Under this non-de-plume a well-known Honolulu woman will write for the Star-Bulletin special articles about the Panama-Pacific Exposition and its events, particularly those concerning Hawaii. Special attention will be paid to social events in which Hawaii folk figure.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Feb. 22.—It is a great exposition, this magnificent display in the gala city of San Francisco, and Hawaii has high place in its war-drawn attractions.
On the opening day of the exposition the swelling glass doors under the colonnade, which forms the entrance to the Hawaii building, admitted about 100,000 visitors who, passing to listen to the quiver concealed in the center of the building in a bow of bamboo, tree-ferns, palms, bird-nest ferns, and other tropical plants, passed on for a glimpse of the diorama of the Fall and Waikeiki to form a solid mob—eager, expectant, enthusiastic, almost incredulous—at the aquarium.
Some groups, doubtless, were bringing their children, some left the last week to join the mob of the other and now it all over again; some were profuse in the commendation and admiration of our wonderful tropical fishes, and one woman openly refused to believe their colors were real, remarking bluntly that Hawaii's exhibit was a shameful one and that the humane society of San Francisco must be inactive indeed to allow painted fish to be confined and displayed.
But Hawaii's "painted fish" are proving to be the star attraction in the exposition grounds, and daily the crowds press greater to get a glimpse of them. And daily their popularity is growing so that everywhere in the grounds, on corners, in shops, in street cars the question is asked, "Have you seen the wonderful colored fish?" One man was heard saying that he had traveled the world over, that he had seen fish in every quarter of the globe, but that he had never thought it possible that these fishes could display such rich hues. "You don't want to miss it," he told a group of friends on the car the other day. "You will find them in the Hawaii building." Hawaii's role in the greatest advertisement that Hawaii has ever had. The Pineapple at the Fair.
There is another Hawaiian exhibit in the Palace of Horticulture, where Mr. Lloyd Childs, representing the Hawaiian Pineapple Packers' Association, is doing a running business service of pineapples and Kona coffee for 10 cents a unit, and where, on the opening day of the exposition, out of 100,000 who passed through the building 5000 orders were served. Mr. Childs' exhibit, although incomplete, embodies many features which attract the attention of the passers-by and invites their interest in this great Hawaiian industry.
The entrance to the exhibit, which in itself proves a compelling attraction, in the form of a miniature pineapple field on each side with ripe fruit on growing plants, is approached through a vista of gorgeous spring blossoms and tropical ferns flourishing under the gigantic glass dome of the Palace of Horticulture. Within, seated at 100 tables and served by 20 attractive Hawaiian girls wearing lilac leis, people of every nationality may be seen from 1 till 5 o'clock watching of Hawaii's fruit, while in pick and shovel fashion, the girls are justly famous. In the center of this refreshment hall a fountain, surrounded by every variety of tropical plant and fern, falls softly in a crystal veil mingling with the music and adding charm

MURASKY TAKEN TO JAIL AFTER WARRANT ISSUED

City Official Failed to Appear in Police Court on Auto-Speeding Charges

With two members of the board of supervisors as interested spectators at police court this morning, Charles G. Murasky, city building and plumbing inspector, failed to appear in court to answer to three charges of violating the auto regulations.
As a result, not only was a bench warrant issued and police officers sent to search for the missing official, but the supervisors, Horner and Quinn, gave strong intimations that they will immediately begin an investigation of Murasky's conduct.
Murasky was arrested shortly after 1 o'clock and brought to court, where he was released on bond of $500.
Supervisor Horner, chairman of the police committee, said:
"If the charges against Murasky are true, he is a disgrace to the city government and should be discharged."
It was to learn for themselves what Murasky's offense amounted to that the supervisors went to the police court. Three charges—of reckless driving, of driving on the wrong side of the street, and of driving without proper lights—stand against Murasky, who was arrested yesterday and released on his own recognizance. He is charged with having hit two men in his headless course.
When the case was called, Murasky did not answer and immediately bench warrants were issued but later in the morning Deputy Attorney Chillingworth reported to the court that the inspector had not been found though a number of officers were looking for him.
Murasky was in an auto numbered 1768. It is said this machine is not a municipal car but one obtained from a local garage on the statement that a new auto was to be bought by the city and this was to be tried out.
Murasky's case was continued until he could be found and brought to court. He was brought to the station at 1:45 this afternoon by Detective Kellett.
James McQueen, also charged with reckless driving, was brought on request of his attorney, J. A. Magoon, the case was continued until tomorrow.

THREE KIDNAPERS ARE SENT TO PRISON

Mellon de la Cruz and three companions, all Filipinos, were convicted by a jury in Circuit Judge Ashford's court today of conspiring to kidnap a Filipino girl on the night of February 12. In passing sentence upon them this afternoon Judge Ashford informed the culprits that one of the greatest wars of history was precipitated by a similar crime—the Trojan wars, resulting from the stealing of Helen of Troy.
"When Helen of Troy was stolen," said the court, "the fat was in the fire. You tried to steal one Maria of Honolulu, but you didn't succeed."
De la Cruz, the principal offender, was given a sentence of 18 months' imprisonment and the others a year each.

KUPIHEA TURNS CHARGE AGAINST YOUNG SOLDIERS

House Member, Under Fire For Girls' Waywardness, Has Enlisted Men Arrested

A sudden turn was given the "Kupihia case" this afternoon when Representative D. M. Kupihia swore out warrants for William Bradbrook and French Oldham, enlisted men at Fort Shafter, charging them with burglary. The police patrol wagon was sent to Shafter and the men brought to the police station, where they were released at 3 o'clock this afternoon to appear in court tomorrow morning. Lieut. Mathews came to the police station and vouched for their appearance.
Oldham and Bradbrook are the two soldiers arrested in company with Kupihia's daughter and niece. Over this case and Judge Ashford's criticism of Kupihia when sentence was suspended on the soldiers, the "Kupihia case" has arisen.
It is understood that Kupihia claims the men were unlawfully on his premises and that this has led to his charge of burglary.
David M. Kupihia, Democratic representative from the fifth district, Oahu, made a vigorous denial of all the charges made by Circuit Judge Ashford against him at the preliminary hearing of the house investigation.

ALLIES ARE DENIED RIGHT TO CHANGE RULES OF WAR, IS PRESIDENT'S ASSERTION

HOLDS SHIPMENTS TO GERMANY IS NO VIOLATION OF NEUTRALITY—WILL ASK ENTENTE WHAT STEPS IT WILL TAKE TO ENFORCE BLOCKADE

Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—The government today made it known that the United States will stand firm by its rights as a neutral nation. England and France will be asked directly what means they intend to take to enforce the policy of a rigid blockade on Germany as generally outlined in yesterday's declaration.
President Wilson made it clear that it is his view that American ships sailing to Germany involve no violation of neutrality. The changed methods of warfare, the president said, do not empower any nation to change the recognized international rules for the conduct of war, both as to belligerents and neutrals.
The minister from the Netherlands today inquired of the state department what action the United States would take in the matter.
PARIS, France, March 2.—The French war office denies the gains claimed by Germany and says all the German attacks were repelled.
LONDON, England, March 2.—Both French and German official reports agree that there has been violent fighting around Champagne with unusually heavy losses.

ANARCHIST PLOT TO KILL RICH MEN, POLICE CHARGE

New York Detectives Say a "Reign of Terror" to Start With Dynamiting Church

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
NEW YORK, March 2.—An alleged anarchist plot to kill John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie, the Vanderbilts and other millionaires and to dynamite banks and other financial institutions was disclosed by the police today after the arrest of two men in a purported attempt to dynamite St. Patrick's Cathedral.
According to the police, the conspirators planned to inaugurate a reign of terror in New York, armed bands appearing simultaneously throughout the city and shooting, pillaging, dynamiting and robbing. The dynamiting of the cathedral was supposed to be the signal.
The two men arrested today were taken by detectives who say they have affiliated with them for months, living among them and aiding them in making bombs. When the alleged bomb-thrower entered the church it was filled with detectives in all imaginable disguises.

AGE OF MAJORITY FOR WOMEN FIXED AT 20 BY HOUSE

Twenty years was fixed as the age of majority for women when E. J. Crawford's house bill went through final reading in the lower branch of the legislature this afternoon, raising the limit of minority from 18 years to 20 years. The age of majority for men was fixed a 21 years.
Local attorneys raised the question of whether or not girls of the age of over 18 and under 20 years will be of age when the bill is adopted by the senate and signed by the governor. If no further amendments are made, it was agreed by attorneys that girls now of age under the 18-years statute but under 20 years of age will revert back to the age of minority when the bill as it passed the house today becomes law.
Garcia's bill to allow counties to issue improvement bonds, Cooke's bill to regulate the adoption of minors, Fawcett's bill relating to rights of judgment creditors, Rawlin's measure for the publication of the decisions of the United States district court, Newhall's bill relating to the hands of public officials and the measure of Aim to entitle defendants in certain trials to have traveling expenses included in bills of costs when cases are discontinued, dismissed or nonsuited, all went through final reading in the house today and are now before the senate.

Contrary to common opinion, Mr. F. F. Tiedeman, the German minister who was in the Hawaiian home (the age of a destroyer of warships for the during of the war), did not arrive in Honolulu aboard the Nautilus.

Germans Declare Czar's Forces Repulsed in Carpathians and Two Other Points in Line

[A. P. by Fed. Wireless]
BERLIN, Germany, March 2.—Germany's reply to the American note on its declaration of submarine warfare against all ships in the prescribed war zone, virtually accepts all the American proposals. The note is made public today. It agrees under certain conditions to have submarines halt and investigate merchantmen and attack only those carrying contraband or owned by enemies.
The only point on which it refuses to yield is the abandonment of anchored mines where needed as defensive measures. The German contention is that mines for anchoring destroy the use of neutral ships, its submarines cannot be expected to stop to investigate.

The proposal is made that an American commission be appointed to control the distribution of food supplies to the civilian population.

ABSENT SENATORS DRAW REPROOF OF PRESIDENT

Senators Quinn, Makekani and De-sha were absent when the senate convened this afternoon, the two last-named being in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Kawewehi, wife of Representative Henry Kawewehi. Makekani appeared shortly afterward and asked that he be recorded in the minutes as present. President Chillingworth ruled that members not present at roll call would be recorded as absent.

"The senate has fixed 1 o'clock as the hour of convening and there is no reason why all members should not be able to be present on time," said he.

Senate Bill No. 17, enacting the 1915 revised laws, passed second reading today. Senator Castle introduced a new measure, S. B. 20, to extend the franchise of the Honolulu Gas Company. On motion by Rice, Senate Bill No. 18, extending the franchise of the Honolulu Brewing and Malting Company, was referred to committee of the whole, to be taken up by that body next Monday, March 8, after the regular session. Senate Bill No. 19, prohibiting hunting with or the discharge of firearms in any city or county, was referred to the military committee.

Rice started a warm, though brief, discussion of parliamentary rules with a proposal to adjourn until 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Wirtz declared it couldn't be done, because the senate is sitting under a rule fixing the daily convening hour at 1 p. m. Rice read from the rules to prove his own contention, but the president finally squelched him by ruling his motion out of order. Quinn then moved to adjourn to the usual hour and the motion carried.

KUPIHEA TURNS CASE AGAINST YOUNG SOLDIERS

ing committee in the representatives' chamber last night. Judge Ashford denounced Kupihea at the close of the trial of two soldiers charged with contributing to the delinquency of Kupihea's daughter and niece recently.

Owing to the absence of Kupihea's attorney, Lorin Andrews, nothing was done last night further than to take Kupihea's statement regarding the events which led up to the arrest of the two soldiers. Chairman Rawlins of the investigating committee interrogated Kupihea on one or two points. He denied that any liquor-taste or such parties ever were held in his home. He said that if any such events took place, they were held in a house owned jointly by his sister, Mrs. Johnson, and himself, the part of an estate left to both and over which litigation between the two is now in progress. He said that this house was some distance from his own home and that he and his sister were not on speaking terms. He declared that the girls refused to live with him, although he had done all in his power to give them a good home. He said they lived with his sister.

He told the committee that when he got his first pay from the legislature in 1913 he took the girls out of the industrial school and placed them in a private institution where they remained until his funds became exhausted. At the conclusion of the statement, Chairman Rawlins asked Kupihea a few questions.

"Were you aware of your daughter's delinquency?"

"No, I did not know that she was doing anything wrong."

"Did you do anything to stop these occurrences after you learned what they were?" Rawlins continued.

"Yes," answered Kupihea, "I assisted in the arrest of the soldiers. I heard a noise about there and I sent a Portuguese boy out to call a policeman and Officer Morahan made the arrest."

Kupihea said he would call the policeman and Chief of Detectives McDuffie later to bear out this statement.

"Do you ever gamble?" Rawlins asked him.

"I don't know how to play any card games," was the reply. "I never gambled in my life."

Nearly everyone concerned in the case was present except Judge Ashford.

A large number of men and women interested in child welfare and civic morality were in the audience, and many members of the house attended.

Attorneys Alexander Larnach and George Curry were also in attendance, ready to be called if their testimony is wished. They defended the two soldiers in the trial before Judge Ashford.

It is stated that they are prepared to testify to circumstances that will indicate Kupihea knew about the debauches at the house where the girls were found with the soldiers. It is expected they will be called at the next hearing.

WITH THE FRENCH WOUNDED

The Woman's Sacrifice.

Paris, Mar. 2, 8:30 p. m.—Away from the battlefield one sees war stripped of its glamor. We see the heroic work of nurses who are on duty day and night. There is devotion, self-sacrifice, suffering patriotism—qualities which only a great war and its terrible consequences can inspire to the highest development. The women everywhere are helping and every one sees self-sacrifice and devotion to country.

The women of the United States do not know how fortunate they are. Here there are plenty of women who suffer in silence, whose strength is out of proportion to their ambition. Their hands are tied by some chronic disease common to womanhood; that weak back, accompanied by pain here or there, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, maybe fainting spells or spasms, are all signals of distress for women. She may be growing from girlhood into womanhood, passing from womanhood to motherhood, and later suffering from that change which leaves so many wrecks of women. At any or all of these periods of woman's life she should take a tonic and nerve, prescribed for just such cases by a physician of vast experience in the diseases of women. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has successfully treated more cases the past fifty years than any other known remedy. When you feel dull, headachy, back-ache, dizzy, or perhaps hot flashes, there is nothing you can accomplish, nothing you can enjoy. You can find permanent relief in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is sold by medicine dealers, or trial box by mail from Dr. Pierce, Invalid's Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of 50 cents, or one dollar for large box.—Adv.

GUSHER OF LAKE VIEW NO. 2 RESUMES WITH 20,000 BARRELS DAILY

Stockholders of Lakeview No. 2 Oil Company received a postcard this morning announcing that the gusher had begun flowing again, overcoming the throttling device lately put in when the well had been recessed. Its output is 20,000 barrels a day and, with improving market deliveries, the prospect for continuance of dividends after the initial one-payable March 15, appears good. The postcard reads: "No. 1 well, which originally came in May 10, 1914, and which stopped flowing on October 24, 1914, is again producing at its old rate—about 20,000 barrels per day."

"The well is under control and the entire flow is coming through the inside, or 6 1/2-inch casing. The gas pressure is so great, however, that it will be impossible to throttle the well down for the present."

"The production is being run to the pump holes and we have storage ahead for at least six months to come. The quality of the oil remains about the same as when the well stopped flowing in October."

"Oil deliveries thus far in February are in excess of what they were at this time in January."

RICH WOMAN WHO ACTED AS WAR NURSE IN FRANCE IS VISITOR IN HONOLULU

Mrs. James C. At the outbreak of the European war, Mrs. Parrish joined the Red Cross nurses at Deauville, where she assisted in nursing many soldiers back to life. Mrs. Parrish said today that out of 327 patients in the hospital at the time she was there only three had died. A number of New York society women were enrolled as nurses in the same institution.

ATTORNEY SAYS PERRY IS WITH SMART'S LAWYERS

One of the attorneys of Mrs. Knight commenting on the brief hearing had yesterday before Judge Whitney on the question of his disqualification in the Smart litigation, said he noted with interest and amusement that Judge Perry took occasion to state to Judge Whitney that in his opinion the showing made did not amount to a legal disqualification of Judge Whitney, which is exactly what Smart's lawyers also said.

Mrs. Knight's attorney further said: "Did you notice that Smart's attorneys not only secured copies of our motion to disqualify Judge Whitney for themselves but also for Judge Perry as well, Judge Whitney's order for service upon Judge Perry being covered by the order obtained by Mr. Milverton for Smart. It shows that in this particular issue, anyhow, Smart's attorneys and the judge are sleeping under the same coverlet."

"We by no means question Judge Perry's integrity of purpose in this matter, but straw shows which way the wind blows, and in this case illustrate the necessity for the ruling established by the court that where a minor is sued his opponent is never allowed to even suggest who shall represent the minor and anyone so suggested, even if a second Apostle Paul, is disqualified thereby. The rule is based upon our knowledge of human nature, that it is well nigh impossible even for the best of people not to be swayed unconsciously by the source of their employment."

Tindell is said to have driven the machine at a fast pace and not to have stopped after colliding with the smaller vehicle. The motorcycle was badly damaged.

TUESDAY.....MARCH 2, 1915.

Better to be despised for too anxious apprehensiveness than ruined by too confident a security. — Burke.

AN EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY TO GET THE FACTS.

A bill has been introduced in the senate extending the license of the Honolulu Brewing & Malting Company for fifteen years.

It is rumored around the capitol that none of the Oahu senators would introduce the bill, quite logically being unwilling to stand sponsor for booze to this extent. We don't blame them. For more than a year there have been intimations that the brewery crowd was rather deeply interested in the retail liquor business, which is against the spirit and in certain aspects against the letter of the license law. There have been intimations and whisperings that the long arm of the brewery was grabbing in the retailers' profits. The recent charge by Dr. Wadman that the wholesalers are illicitly interested in the retail liquor business is in effect a charge against the brewery. Whether the brewery or its manager has been interested in retail licenses is a disputed point and one that the Oahu license commissioners have expressed themselves as being anxious to clear up.

The appearance of this bill in the senate affords an excellent opportunity for going to the bottom of the brewery's transactions. The senate is holding a series of public hearings on important measures. A public hearing on the brewery bill would be distinctly in order.

Let's have the facts. Dr. Wadman made definite charges. If they are true, the brewery's license should not be renewed. Are they true or untrue?

PRaise WILL BESTOWED.

Gen. Carter's praise of the good conduct of the enlisted men in Honolulu during Carnival week is heartily echoed by the people of this city.

Seven thousand soldiers were in the city for the festivities but there was no perceptible increase in disorderliness. The enlisted men made a splendid record for orderly conduct and for self-restraint. The police authorities had no trouble with the soldiers, for they were taking care of themselves. They entered heartily into the care-free Carnival spirit and kept themselves within bounds far better than many civilians.

This is a fine record but it is typical of the majority of the soldiers stationed on Oahu. They are self-respecting American citizens, wishing neither to be petted nor patronized but to stand on their own feet. To many of them this talk of "What can we do for the soldier" is objectionable because it smacks of patronage. The soldier asks only fair treatment and that much is his due.

The military helped very greatly to make the Carnival what it was, as they have helped before and will help again. And on duty and off the 7000 enlisted men acted more becomingly than 7000 college boys would have done, because they exercised more self-restraint. They have made Honolulu as well as their commands proud of the Oahu soldier.

PAVING PALAVER.

Full publicity will not hurt any paving or any paving company which relies on merit to win its way in Honolulu.

The Star-Bulletin has no interest, direct or indirect, in any kind of paving except a public interest in paving that is economical and durable. In giving space to advocates of asphalt-macadam or bitulithic or sheet asphalt or asphalt concrete or any other material or mixture, this paper is actuated only by a desire to increase the public knowledge of good and bad brands.

Bitulithic properly laid and warrentite properly laid are good pavements. Even those who oppose warrentite and bitulithic do not deny this. What they say is that in adopting any patented pavement the taxpayers have to pay for the patent as well as for the material and the construction.

This is at the bottom of the opposition to adopting bitulithic for Manoa. On the other hand, Manoa clearly does not want a cheap pavement that will go to pieces in a few years. Asphalt-macadam as it has been laid in Honolulu is criticised as cheap and unsatisfactory. Most Manoaites are willing to pay a good price for a good job.

Contractors who are business rivals of the Bitulithic Paving and Concrete Company attack the selection of warrentite for Manoa.

Unless they are prepared to show conclusively that some other material or method of mixture will give satisfactory results for Manoa at a less cost, their criticism is not in order. If they can show Manoa property-owners a durable and satisfactory paving at a saving in expense, their criticism is in order.

But whose arguments are to be taken? How can the ordinary property-owner, with no technical knowledge of paving construction, decide between the rival claims put forward?

Normally the city engineer would have great influence in deciding the type of paving to be laid, but in this case what the city engineer says seems to be treated as of little weight.

It is just this situation that the College of Hawaii, as a public service institution, hopes to meet, just this problem it hopes to solve. The plan worked out by President Dean and Professor A. R. Keller, of a road engineering laboratory to test various types of paving and determine the best for various uses and various sections of the city, is a plan that ought to bring tangible results. Tax-payers, with a laboratory of this sort in operation, need accept the statements of no contractor. The tests will furnish the proper statement.

The legislature should pass the very reasonable appropriation bill for this road laboratory. In the meantime, all the facts and figures and all the publicity regarding the experience of other cities may be digested. If one contractor puts forward false claims, let his rival step up front and say they are false. In the ensuing melee of words, the public is likely to get a pretty clear idea of what it wants—and under the frontage-tax idea, "what it wants is what goes."

LET HONOLULU FIX THE SALARIES.

Mayor Lane's very creditable opposition to the legislative bill increasing his salary ought to be backed up by the opposition of the other city officials whose salaries the same measure seeks to raise. If this bill is wrong for him—and wrong it certainly is—it is equally wrong for them.

They were elected, as he was, with the full understanding of what their salaries were to be. They went before the people, as he did, on a platform of economy; and particularly on the pledge to hold down the city's "overhead" charges.

It would be basically wrong for them to urge or even to acquiesce in a bill raising those salaries during their term in office.

The people of Honolulu should have the right to say what salaries are paid their officials. If the house and senate desire to pass legislation that squares with the principle of broad self-government for this municipality, let them amend the city charter so that the voters of Honolulu may have the right to fix the salaries of their servants.

And let the Oahu member or members then come forward with the proposal now embodied in the house bill. Put the proposition to vote of the people—see whether they wish to boost salaries up and down the line.

The solemn manner in which Congress goes about tearing down all the work of Uncle Sam's real military experts in laying out army and navy programs constitutes one of the world's greatest wonders—how the statesmen get away with it. The orderly process of keeping the navy up to standard is entirely shattered when the politicians get hold of the appropriation bill. In eliminating the appropriation for a hospital ship, the congressional conferees are exhibiting their inability to legislate for the navy.

"Jim" Haley is confirmed United States internal revenue collector. Wyoming, Tennessee, South Carolina and Mississippi make their bows to Nevada.

J. P. Morgan is to be sued for the recovery of the will of Martha Washington. These will cases certainly do involve the financiers.

Utah is stepping along toward prohibition. It won't be long until Hawaii is in the small majority of "wet" commonwealths.

Civic center is a matter of civic sentiment and of civic sense.

JACK LONDON ARRIVES FOR VISIT TO KAUAI

Jack London, author, playwright and navigator, today arrived in the Matsonia to spend some time on the island of Kauai, which he says is the only spot not visited by him eight years ago when on his famous cruise in the Sloop Snark.

"I am down here for a rest, recreation and work," he said. "I am a writer and a typewriter. I presume that the usual literary output will continue during my stay in the islands. I have always wanted to visit Kauai. I regretted not going there when I was last here in the Snark."

London was greeted when he left the liner by Mrs. E. S. Goodhue of Kona, Hawaii, at whose home the Londons will visit before returning to the coast. Secretary A. P. Taylor of the Promotion Committee placed the services of that department at the disposal of the novelist.

"I am now writing dog novels," said London, who fairly radiated good cheer as he became the center of a group of friends made on his former visit. "I expect to stay in the islands for about a month."

London will remain on the Matsonia on its trip to Hilo, leaving the vessel for an overland auto trip to the home of Dr. and Mrs. Goodhue at Kona. His stay on Hawaii will be brief. It is his present intention to return to Honolulu in the Matsonia early next week. He then plans an extended motor tour of Kauai. The writer expressed much surprise when told by Secretary Taylor that the finest roads in the territory are to be found on the island of Kauai.

CHINESE SHOTS GIRL, WOUNDS SELF FATALLY

Jealousy is said by the police to have prompted Tong Yung, a young Chinese, to fire several shots at Kamaloo Keokohu, a pretty Hawaiian girl, this morning, wounding her in the right arm and later to slash his throat with a razor.

Tong Yung was found by Detectives Apana and Hutton lying in a pool of blood in Kamanuani lane, some distance from the scene of the shooting. The young woman is said to have divided her attentions between Tong Yung and Lee Sia, at which Tong is alleged to have manifested intense jealousy.

He called at the room of the girl in a Beretania street lodging house shortly before nine o'clock this morning. A stormy scene followed. Tong pulled a 32-caliber revolver and fired. One bullet penetrated the right arm making an ugly flesh wound. Several bystanders had a close call from injuries from flying lead.

Officers Hutton and Apana set out in pursuit of Tong. He was trailed to the narrow alley off Beretania street, where he was found with throat slashed from ear to ear. Physicians at Queen's hospital said he would die. After the shooting the woman fled from Yung to the home of Lee Sia. Deputy Sheriff Asch is today making a complete investigation of the affair.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

SUPERVISOR HORNER: I am hoping to get action soon on straightening out and enforcing the traffic ordinance. Today I am meeting with a representative of the new Automobile club to discuss the matter.

WILL H. HARGREAR (in a letter to James S. McCandless): By the way, the Hawaii fish exhibit is a wonder. The building is packed morning, noon and night, and you have to fight your way to get in to see the "painted fish." The fair is a winner.

SENATOR A. J. WIRTZ: The public is always welcome at the senate hearings, of which there are to be a number this session. The bill giving electric companies the right of eminent domain, for instance, is one of great interest here, where our lands are limited and intensive agriculture is the rule. That is to be discussed probably at the public hearing Thursday evening.

Plans were filed for a $1,000,000 addition to the Hotel McAlpin, New York.

'CIVIC CENTER' MESSAGE MEETS VARYING OPINION

Strong Sentiment in the Upper House Against Taking Sides in Federal Site Controversy

Governor Pinkham's message to the legislature yesterday, urging the "civic center" site for the federal building, has stirred varying feelings in the breasts of the solons.

There is now a strong movement afoot among the lawmakers to take no stand for any one site but to urge the treasury department to make its own choice as quickly as possible with the building.

On the other hand, Republicans and Democrats both would like to support the governor's message, the spirit of which they hold is admirable. There is no denying that the governor has strong support among members of the Republican majority, though not of the Democrats.

A leading Oahu Republican senator expressed himself today as follows:

"I'm with the governor on his general proposition of a civic center—but I rather hesitate about taking any hand in the controversy over the site for the federal building. Many of us fear that if we start taking sides the whole matter will be up in the air again."

The chairman of the Honolulu city council, who has been asked to make a vote decided to let the treasury department make the choice. "I think the legislature ought to do the same," he said, "and let the treasury department make the choice."

We can, however, urge the treasury department to start actual work as soon as possible.

An influential Democratic senator takes this view of it: "The governor's message was broad and to the point and I believe he should receive the support of the legislature unless it should appear that our action would imperil the building. I don't believe it will. The legislature should have had its say in the first place, not the Chamber of Commerce. We like to support the governor and unless there is actual opposition to the Irwin site, I don't see why we should not endorse his message."

Some of the senators are anxious for a public hearing on the question. President Chillingworth said today that the Oahu delegation, to which the message was referred in the upper house, would probably attend a meeting at the capitol tomorrow afternoon and see what discussion would bring forth there on the building site. "I understand the chamber is going to talk the matter over," he said, "and we will not hold a meeting until after we hear the arguments of the businessmen. Perhaps we may be able to make up our minds then."

Senator Chillingworth is among those who are rather averse to taking sides in the site controversy. It was learned from another source today that a memorial to the treasury department is being prepared which does not put the legislature on record for any site but simply expresses the hope that speedy action will be taken in Washington in the discretion of the department officials. It will probably soon make its appearance in parliamentary form in both house and senate.

City and County Treasurer Looking has registered to date $22,400 in municipal special fund, returned as miscellaneous salary checks. Through the efforts of Mr. Conklin, all warrants have been neatly cashed upon proper identification.

'THE ESCAPE' WORTHY TO RANK WITH BEST HONOLULU HAS SEEN

"Eugenio Film-Play" Has Less of Theory Than of Vibrating Life—Powerful Story Superbly Told—Not More Statistics, But More Playgrounds and Less Booze is Its Lesson

A deeply moving story of misery and suffering in the slum district of New York, told to illustrate the "error of unwise human mating," is "The Escape," which opened at the Liberty theater last night for an engagement that promises to rival in success the remarkable run of the Annette Kellerman film, "Nautica's Daughter."

As different from the wonderful Kellerman production as darkness from light, "The Escape" nevertheless has a deeper and more significant story, and its realism is much greater. It is an extraordinary picture both from the standpoint of unusual theme and of remarkable production. And it vibrates a sympathetic chord with such force as to hold many spectators near to tears for two hours of vividly portrayed scenes.

The play is one that will arouse either strong advocacy or strong opposition. It has many very unpleasant mental scenes, but they are not exaggerated. Pathologists will testify to their truth, though they are often repellent to the spectator.

Briefly the story is of a tenement-house family, the Joyces, headed by a drunken, worthless father, who has bequeathed to two of his children, a boy and a girl, a heritage of physical and moral ugliness. Poor little Jennie, frail of body and weak of character, and the boy, with a desperate strain which leads him to cruelty and dangerous passion, are the victims of their father's excesses. May, strong and virginal, is coveted by Bill McGee, a thoroughly bad character, bully of the district, but after she meets Dr. von Elden and is impressed with his warnings to get away from her environment, she leaves home on the day she is to marry McGee. Little Jennie marries him later and the story depicts with terrible sadness the birth and death of her baby, the baby that always cried. Meanwhile May has fallen into luxurious surroundings but is warned by Dr. von Elden that she should escape these also and devote her time and life to wholesome work.

"The Escape" has been widely heralded as a "eugenic story," to teach the necessity of care in mating the human species. In reality, its chief lessons are those of temperance in living, of wholesome surroundings, of decency and cleanliness.

The prologue to the play shows on the screen a number of low forms of animal life, beginning with the amoeba. This part of the picture is a lesson in zoology familiar to all who have ever looked through a microscope in a biological laboratory. The prologue is mildly interesting, valuable from the standpoint of information but with little bearing on the real story or the real lesson.

It is the pictured tale itself that makes this film one of the really big features offered to Honolulu theatergoers. From a spectacular standpoint it is unusually good, with vivid scenes of New York tenement and dive life, police procedure, the busy streets, and with a scene at a fashionable dinner party at which a dance is given that alone is a feature worth mentioning. But even above the spectacular effect is the gripping story, sad and threatening and yet with a pale ray of sunshine at the last when May, saved from uselessness and perhaps worse through the influence of a young physician, finds at last a worthy lover. His personality, by the way, is the one interesting thread that runs through the tale.

From a medical standpoint the story mating. It is real life.

NEW MOVIE STAR IS FEATURED IN EMPIRE DRAMA

Its sole object being to entertain, relating by all of the camera an interesting story, and giving opportunity for clever stars to bring out a fine comedy, "Kiss Me Good Night" is a two-part feature offered patrons at the Empire theater today. Lottie Briscoe, as Betty, indulges in a flirtation with a host of young men. In the end she is obliged to marry one of them. Arthur Johnson has been assigned an important part in the picture. It is amusing throughout and is filled with gorgeous interiors.

A stirring detective story is told in the production, "When the Night Call Came." It is a great crook play and has to do with the night life of a great metropolis. In the drama a strange change of heart is vividly depicted.

Funny in the extreme, the farce-comedy, "The Fable of the Brash Drummer and the Nectarine," has a flavor of the George Ade brand of pleasantry. Cleary Fitzgerald is featured in Roy McCardell's drama, "The Ladies War." James Feeley, A. Moreno and K. Norman have leading roles.

and its presentation are interesting. From a human, public welfare standpoint, the film is superbly effective. One does not remember the much-discussed subject of eugenics upon seeing this film-play nor does the mating of physically high-grade humans seem so all-important. What the spectator thinks of in the midst of these scenes of crowded city life and sordid existence is the crying need for wide, open spaces for children to breathe in, for parks and playgrounds, for kindergartens to bring them up properly, for wholesome teaching at home. And, above all, this play is an indictment of homes—an indictment as fearless as "John Barleycorn." For it is booze and booze's evils that wreck the Joyce home, that still the baby lips of Jennie's one dear possession, that drive the boy to deeds of madness, and that send May into the terrors of the streets.

Those who believe in eugenics, those who do not, those who don't know anything about the subject—all will be interested in this story. It is less a theory than a realization of physical

'MAKING OF BOBBY BURNIT' TO BE NEXT BILL AT THE POPULAR

Scene from "The Making of Bobby Burnit."

Mary Pickford continues to be the star attraction at the Popular theater, despite the fact that some of the best features seen here in some time are included in the bill. Miss Pickford is appearing in "Such a Little Queen." Last night the house was well filled, despite the after-Carnival tired feeling of the public, and every one enjoyed every scene in the five reels in this clever romantic comedy in which Miss Pickford shows to such good advantage.

"Such a Little Queen" will continue at the Popular tonight. In addition there is an up-to-date Pathe Weekly review that is even better than those that have been shown in the past month.

Besides these, Shanley's Cabaret De Luxe is putting on a clever song bill, lasting 40 minutes. The songs are new and catchy and well sung.

Beginning tomorrow there will be a new bill with "The Making of Bobby Burnit" as the leading moving picture feature. This is a clever romance from the play written by Winchell Smith, author of "Brewster's Millions." Bobby Burnit is a character something after the pattern of Monty Brewster in "Brewster's Millions," and though the new picture tomorrow night will handle the problem of suddenly acquired wealth in a different manner than in Smith's first play, the story is filled with plenty of comedy and with Edward Ahearn in the title role and supported by an excellent cast it is well carried out.

And last but not least tomorrow's offering will include a complete change of program by the clever singers comprising Shanley's Cabaret De Luxe.

BIJOU BILL IS FULL OF LIVE WIRE FEATURES

With the Alphin Musical Comedy Company in an entirely new bill and with three superlative vaudeville acts as an added attraction, the Bijou theater offering this week is one of the biggest and best shows ever given in Honolulu. There is not a dull moment from start to finish.

The new bill of the Alphin company, "Helen the Broker," is one continuous scream, affording Jules Mendel and Rose Mendel in the characters of Helen, a pawnbroker, and his wife, a team comedy opportunity which they have not heretofore had. Both are clever funmakers and last night they kept the big house in a roar. Ethel Davis and Bessie Hill also had vivacious parts and Miss Davis scored heavily with her rendition of "Honolulu for Mine." George H. Ford, Grover Schupp and William Gould have good parts and enact them splendidly.

Among the song hits last night were "Cooney Melody" by Gerlie Alvarado and baby dolls; "Pet Names" by George Ford and Bessie Hill; "Honey Gals Me Around" by Lillian Goodwin and baby dolls; "Safety First" by Bessie Hill and baby dolls; "Salvation Glide" by George Ford and baby dolls. Wright and Dietrich again made a tremendous hit with their sweet singing turn, and Brown and Jackson retained their reputation as funmakers and laugh producers. The Helen Lewis Wallis Trio held their audience last night in almost deathlike stillness during their sensational and thrilling act through simultaneous two-wonder act at the close of the film the big piano house rang with the applause of appreciation.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

DIGEST OF BILL WHICH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERS ARE URGED TO DISCUSS AT MEETING CALLED FOR 2 O'CLOCK TOMORROW (WEDNESDAY) AFTERNOON

Digest of Senate Bill No. 2—"Castle Bill," "Workmen's Compensation," to be considered by members of the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu, Wednesday, March 3, at 2 p. m. This is a workmen's compensation bill of the direct, exclusive and compulsory type. It is practically a copy of the draft recommended for adoption by the Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws.

Scope of Act. Under this bill employers are obliged to make compensation for all injuries received by their employees in the course of the employment according to a definite schedule. All public employments and all private employments carried on for pecuniary gain are covered except where the employment is casual and where the remuneration exceeds $..... a year. Domestic service and employment by charitable organizations are also excluded.

Defenses Abolished. The common law defenses of assumption of risk, contributory negligence and the fellow servant rule are abolished, the only cases where compensation is not allowed being for injuries caused (1) by an employee's wilful intention to injure himself or another or (2) by his intoxication.

Remedies Exclusive. The remedies given are exclusive of all existing remedies under the present law.

Liability of Third Person. If a third person is legally liable for the injury, the employee may claim the benefit of the act or may proceed against the third party, but he cannot do both. If the employer makes compensation, he becomes subrogated to the right of action against the third party, but any damages recovered in excess of the compensation paid is to be paid over to the employee less expenses and costs.

Contracting Out Forbidden. No contract or device will relieve the employer from the liability created by the Act.

Compensation and Dependents. Both the amounts and periods of compensation are left blank in the bill.

Compensation is to be made as follows:

Cases of Death. When death occurs within years after the injury, the following percentages of the average weekly wages are to be paid for the following periods:

1. Dependent widow, if there are no dependent children,% until death, or remarriage, but not to exceed weeks; if there are one or two dependent children%; and if there are three or more dependent children%.

2. Dependent widow, if there are no dependent children% until remarriage, or during disability, but not to exceed weeks; if there are one or two dependent children%; and if there are three or more dependent children%.

3. If there is no dependent widow or widow, but dependent children, then to such child or children% increasing by an additional% for each such child in excess of two with a maximum of% until the child becomes years of age, or if incapable of self support and unmarried while incapable but in no case to exceed weeks after said age of years.

4. If there are none of the foregoing dependents, then to the parent or parents% if wholly dependent and% if partially dependent, to be divided, if both parents are dependent, and for a period of not to exceed weeks.

5. If there are no dependent parents, then a like amount to dependent grandparents in the same manner.

6. If there are none of the foregoing dependents then to a dependent grandchild, brother or sister, or two or more of them,% for one such dependent increasing by% for each such additional dependent with a maximum of%.

These "dependents" as the term is used are to be so considered under the pable of self support and unmarried, whether actually dependent or not.

If a child under years, or if incapable of self support and unmarried, whether actually dependent or not.

A widow only if living with the deceased, or actually dependent in whole or in part upon him.

A widower only if incapable of self support and actually dependent in whole or in part.

A parent or grandparent only if actually dependent in whole or in part.

A grandchild, brother or sister only if under years of age, or incapable of self support, and wholly dependent.

The relation of dependency must exist at the time of injury.

A section explicitly defining each of the words child, brother, sister, parent, grandparent and grandchild appears.

In computing death benefits the average weekly wages are not to be considered as exceeding $..... nor less than $....., but in no case shall they exceed the average as determined in the manner best calculated to give the average weekly earnings during the twelve months preceding the injury, or where, because the term of employment has been too short or for any other cause cannot practically be done then the average weekly earnings of a person similarly employed during the twelve months preceding the injury.

If death occurs after a period of total or partial disability the amounts paid by way of compensation for such disability are to be deducted from the death benefits.

Medical Attendance. During the first days of a disability the employee must furnish Notice of private insurance must be given the Territorial Insurance Manager with a copy of the policy.

Notice must be posted by each employer in his place of business stating the fact that he has furnished proper security.

A failure to comply with the provisions as to security is penalized in the amount of $1.00 per day per employee to be paid into the Territorial Insurance Fund, and if a default continues for more than thirty days an injunction against continuing business may be issued.

Every insurance policy shall contain a provision permitting an employee to recover directly from the insurance carrier, a provision that notice to or knowledge of the employer shall be deemed notice to or knowledge of the carrier, and a provision that bankruptcy of the employer shall not relieve the carrier.

No policy can be cancelled until at least ten days' notice has been given the Territorial Insurance Manager and the employer.

The Territory or any political subdivision may insure either with the Territorial Insurance Manager or with private companies.

No agreement by employees to contribute to the cost of insurance shall be valid.

Territorial Insurance Fund.

A Territorial Insurance Fund is created, consisting of premiums and penalties paid under the Act. Such fund is to be managed by the Territorial Treasurer as Insurance Manager and used to pay losses.

The Territorial Insurance Manager is authorized to do everything necessary to properly handle the fund; to sue and to sued; to fix rates; make insurance contracts; employ assistants, actuaries, etc. He shall not be held personally liable for any official acts. He may delegate his powers to deputies, including the power to make insurance contracts, etc. He shall give such additional bond as the governor may fix; and may deposit the fund in the same manner that other public money may be deposited.

Ten per cent of the premiums shall be set aside to create a surplus fund until such surplus shall amount to $....., and thereafter five per cent shall be set aside until such surplus is sufficient in the opinion of the Territorial Insurance Manager. A reserve fund is also to be created. These funds may be invested in the same securities authorized by savings banks. Securities so held may be sold with the consent of the Territorial Auditor and the proceeds returned to the fund.

The administration expenses shall at first be paid out of moneys appropriated for the purposes, to be later reimbursed out of the funds collected.

Employments are to be classified, hazards determined and rates fixed, the latter to be based on the total payroll and number of employees in each class of employment and to be made as low as possible.

Proper accounts are required by classes of employments, etc.

At the end of every year and often if deemed wise, rates may be re-adjusted, and any balance at any time remaining to the credit of any class may, in the discretion of the Insurance Manager, be credited to the individual members of such class.

If premiums are found to have been too small, assessments may be levied and when based on estimated payroll the amounts may be adjusted to conform to the fact.

Policies are to be issued in the form approved by the Insurance Manager; premiums are to be paid semi-annually. Defaults in payments may be made the basis of civil actions, and if continued for ten days shall subject the employer to a penalty of $1.00 per day per employee during the period of default.

An employer not in arrears may withdraw from the fund on thirty days' written notice, but will remain liable for assessments for liabilities for compensation accruing prior to withdrawal unless he commutes this liability by a cash payment satisfactory to the Insurance Manager.

Reinsurance may be obtained if the Insurance Manager desires.

The pay rolls of employers insuring in the Territorial Fund shall be subject to audit, and any falsification renders the employer liable to a penalty of ten times the amount of the difference between what was paid and what should have been paid.

Any false statement or wilful misrepresentation made in order to obtain insurance is made a misdemeanor and subject to fine.

The plants and establishments of employers insuring with the Territory are subject to inspection, but no information so obtained or in anywise obtained under the act is to be made public.

Disbursements for losses are to be made with the approval of the Territorial Auditor.

Records of Injuries.

A record must be kept of all injuries and reports made within forty-eight hours after injury of all injuries causing absence from work for one day or more to the Accident Board. When disability terminates that fact is to be reported. If disability continues for sixty days that fact also is to be reported. Failure to so report is punishable by fine of not more than $.....

Interstate Commerce.

The act is to apply to employers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce only as far as permissible under the Federal Laws.

Reports of Boards.

Annual reports are to be made by each Board to the Legislature.

Constitutionality.

Provision is made that if any part of the Act is held unconstitutional or invalid, this shall not affect the validity of the act as a whole or of any part which can be given effect.

HAWAII MUSICIANS AT EXPOSITION ARE BUSY

The following letter was received from Olohehewa's Joseph Kumaleo on today's mail:

Hawaii Building, Exposition Grounds, Honolulu, San Francisco, Feb. 22, 1915.

"Mr. John Edinger,

"Aloha Nui. We arrived safely and well. It is quite cold here, but we like it, except that this place is very hot for us. It rains almost every day. Everything is expensive here. My musicians are entertaining the visitors in the Hawaii building, as you mentioned are not here yet. I understand that they will be here tomorrow. This exhibition is very much enjoyed by every visitor. There are a few more things yet to be gotten ready before the building is quite complete. My club is making a big here. This morning we played at the Massachusetts building. Only invited guests were allowed in this building, but with limited privileges, while we were allowed everywhere. We had lunch there. We will play there again in a few days."

Hawaii's Building at the Exposition: Center of Much Interest

Hawaii's building at the Panama-Pacific exposition is both dignified and handsome and visitors say that it is worthy of the territory. Three exterior views and one view of the spacious reception hall are shown herewith, together with a picture of H. P. Wood, chairman of the Hawaii Fair Commission. The building is located in a desirable position on one of the main avenues of exposition travel and Hawaii's display at the big fair is expected to be an effective advertising medium for the attractions of the islands to tourists.

Fort Shafter Notes

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

FORT SHAFTER, March 2. — Lieut. and Mrs. Frederick F. Black, Signal Corps, have received notification by a wireless message of the death of Lieut. Black's father, Mr. J. W. Black, that occurred at the former's late home at Searport, Maine, on February 20. No details of the illness that seized Mr. Black were contained in the Marconigram that bore the distressing news.

The loss to the post of Fort Shafter by transfers to the mainland by reason of the approaching expiration of terms of enlistment of men of the 2nd Infantry will total a number nearly one-third of the recruit detachment that arrived by the last transport. Thirty-five men will be sent to Fort McDowell under the orders issued yesterday and this home-bound detachment includes many of the senior grades of non-coms of the 2nd Infantry rolls. The list is as follows: Company A, Pts. Harry Austin, William J. Bell and Lester F. Turley; Company B, Corp. Robert H. Berklite; Company C, Sgt. Robert C. Stevens, Cook Lester Clark and Pts. Charlie Breedlove and Mart Simmons; Company D, Sgt. Jesse H. Denham and Pts. Louis Rand, Denham Daniels and Bert J. Dupont; Company E, Sgt. Joseph Pawelec and Pvt. Arthur S. Gowan; Company F, Sgts. Walter S. Monroe and Albert C. Morris and Pts. Roscoe A. Harp; Company G, Sgt. Ira McDougle, Corp. Carl H. McManus and John Harmon and Pvt. Harry McClellan; Company H, Sgts. Clifford I. Hunn and Paul Lehn and Pvt. Manuel Kuchda; Company K, Corp. James E. McVay and Arthur Woolbright and Pts. Herbert Abbott and Harry A. Peters; Company L, Sgt. Edward Dore and Pts. John F. Bogert, Carl Hanson, Charley Brock and John E. Kelley; machine gun company, Sgt. John E. Schneider and Corp. Frank Honrighouse.

King & King, the firm of Washington attorneys that conducted the case before the supreme court of the officers and men formerly stationed in Hawaii for the payment of foreign service pay from June, 1908, until August, 1912, have notified their clients that the funds for the payment of the allowed claims were recently appropriated by Congress and that the amounts due the various claimants would be sent out during the present month. The case was decided in favor of the individuals concerned nearly two years ago but the amount of funds available for payment has been insufficient until the recent action of Congress. The enlisted men who are included in the list of claimants will receive 20 per cent of their pay and additional thereto for the time served in Hawaii in the specified period while the commissioned officers will receive but 10 per cent.

Captain Carl A. Martin, lately assigned to the 2nd Infantry, vice Captain Archie J. Harris, transferred to the 14th Infantry, has arrived at the post from his late station with the 1st Infantry at Schofield Barracks and will be assigned to Company F of the 2nd Infantry. Captain Martin has chosen quarters in the cantonment section of the garrison and this will leave the quarters occupied at present by Captain Harris vacant after the departure of that officer to the mainland by the transport expected to arrive here from Manila on March 5. It is not thought that the officers at present in the garrison will select Captain Harris' quarters for occupancy since two captains are shortly to arrive at Fort Shafter that will have considerable relative rank and these two must be accommodated before selections will be in order.

Lieuts. Laurence O. Mathews and Clement H. Wright of the 2nd Infantry have received advance notice of the war department's orders relieving them in June from further duty in Hawaii and directing them to proceed to the mainland for duty. The orders in question were contained in the Washington despatches to the coast papers of the 19th inst. No intimation as to assignment of regiments or stations was contained in the despatches and the general rule that obtains in their cases which is that they will report to the commanding general of the western department at San Francisco for further orders.

The general court martial was in session yesterday afternoon engaged in the trial of Pvt. Thomas Gardner of Company G, who was charged with Having deserted the service on January 5 and with having remained absent in desertion until February 16 when he was apprehended in Honolulu by Harbor Officer Carter of the local police. Pvt. Gardner pleaded not guilty to desertion as charged but acknowledged that he had been absent without leave for the period named. Officer Carter testified that he had found the accused in the vicinity of the yacht Gladys on the date of apprehension and that Gardner was dressed in civilian clothing. At the close of the defense Gardner stated to the court martial that he had gone away from his company to have a general good time and that drink had done the rest.

The baseball series of the post league that was interrupted by the Carnival week will be resumed at once and run through to completion by the end of March in order to clear the way for the target practice of the 1st battalion that is scheduled to begin on the 1st of April. D Company's nine with their string of 19 victories and no defeats has the call of prospects of winning the double series with F Company, a strong second and a possible winner. The F Company team is but one game behind D in the totals and still retains the full strength of the nine for the concluding games since none of its players leaves by the next boat for discharge.

Captain Paul B. Malone, who was operated on for appendicitis last Thursday is progressing finely towards recovery and he will, it is expected, be able to return to his home by the end of next week and will be on duty with his company very soon thereafter. Captain Malone will be greatly missed at the regimental dinner that takes place at the Young Hotel next Wednesday evening. His ability as a speaker is well known and his services in that line are always in demand at functions of the nature of reunions of military men.

The quarters of Ord. Sergt. Schaffer at the post have been quarantined by the authorities on account of a case of measles having made its appearance. The case is probably one communicated to the child from the nearby detention camp of the recruits where several cases have appeared among the new men of the command.

WOMAN'S BEAUTY

NO SECRET

It all lies in the care she bestows upon herself and in keeping at bay those dread ills peculiar to her sex. The flashing eye, the elastic step and the clear complexion never accompany organic troubles. The distressed expression, lassitude, headaches and mental depression are only the tell-tale symptoms. Women so troubled should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that simple remedy made from roots and herbs and restore their health to a normal condition.—Adv.

HOUSE MEMBERS AT FUNERAL OF MRS. KAWEWEHI

With nearly every member of the house of representatives present, funeral services for Mrs. Mary Kennah Kawewehi, wife of Representative Henry L. Kawewehi of Kona, were held at Silva's parlors this morning. To enable the representatives to attend the services, the house adjourned at 9:30 this morning and did not reconvene until after 2 o'clock. Mrs. Kawewehi died at the temporary residence on Alapai lane, Palama, Sunday night. She was 41 years old and had been married to the representative for 21 years. The remains were taken back on the Mauna Loa today to Kona. Representatives Mahekau, W. H. Crawford and Leta were detailed by Speaker Holstein to accompany the remains to the steamer. The services were conducted by Senator Sells, pastor of Halli church at Hilo, and by Rev. H. K. Pospoe of Kaimakapili church.

LEAGUE MAPS OUT NEW ANTI-SALOON CAMPAIGN

A more aggressive campaign against the saloon was mapped out at the Anti-Saloon league luncheon held in Cooke hall in the Y. M. C. A. today. Dr. P. A. Baker suggested many measures which have proved successful on the mainland, to be applied to local conditions in Hawaii. About 40 members of the executive and other committees were present.

Dr. Baker calls for Hilo tomorrow, where he will hold a mass meeting Thursday night. After seeing the volcano he will proceed to Maui to hold another meeting on Sunday, returning to Honolulu in time to sail for the mainland on the Matsonia March 10.

The Prairie Oil & Gas Company announced a reduction of ten cents a barrel in the price of crude oil, making the price 45 cents.

HALEY GREETED BY COTTRILL IN OFFICIAL CALL

John F. Haley, whose appointment as collector of internal revenue for Hawaii, was confirmed by the United States senate yesterday, probably will accede to office a month or six weeks hence, if the usual lengthy red tape formalities of such procedures is adhered to. It is understood it required about that length of time in the case of the incumbent, C. A. Cottrill, and in the case of his predecessor, Walter P. Drake.

Haley called on Cottrill this morning and was cordially received by the latter, who heartily congratulated him and volunteered to give him all the assistance necessary in familiarizing himself with the departmental rules and routine affairs.

"I don't know what I'm going to do after I step out," said Cottrill. "I have two or three plans in mind. Certainly I want to make my home permanently

TO CURE STOMACH TROUBLE WITHOUT DRUGS

A Specialist's Prescription.

A leading specialist in the treatment of stomach trouble states that "a teaspoonful of pure bisulphated magnesia taken in a little water after meals will usually be found a safer and more effective remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia than any known combination of drugs. He ascribes this to the fact that bisulphated magnesia possesses remarkable antacid properties—it corrects excessive acidity, prevents fermentation of the food, soothes the inflamed stomach, and thus enables even chronic dyspeptics to eat hearty meals without fear of pain or discomfort to follow. Bisulphated magnesia, as readers probably know, is a pure tasteless powder, which can be obtained very cheaply from any druggist.—Adv.

In Hawaii, but there is a strong pull on my heartstrings for my old home, Toledo, Ohio. But after all it is the complex question of earning my bread and butter. Where I can earn that, I will live, of course."

It is understood there will be few, if any changes made in the departmental staff by the new collector, at least for the present.

TRAVELING CHINESE TO LEAVE TODAY

Fast Aggregation of Ball Talent
Off For a Six-Months' Trip

The Traveling Chinese baseball team will leave this afternoon in the Manoa for its fourth invasion of mainland diamonds. This year 12 instead of 14 players will be carried, and many of the vets of the team will be among the missing. Sam Hop, who has been the big noise as manager of the three previous trips, is one of those who will not answer to roll call. Apun Kau, about the best of the Chinese have in the pitching line, will act as manager, and Lai Tin will captain the team on the field. Denny Markham will do most of the catching. C. Moriyama will play second and "Shorty" Ayau will be his teammate at short. This, with Lai Tin at third, is a particularly fast infield combination. Hoon Cheung was to have played the first corner, but decided at the last moment to go to the Orient with the other Chinese combination instead. The outfielders will be Jimmy Aylett, Alfred Yap and Kuali. The other pitchers who will make the trip are Luck Yee, Kekoa and T. Moriyama. All of them can work well in the outfield and T. Moriyama can hold down third in good style, while Yap can also play an infield position, so the team appears to be well rounded out.

The first game will be against the University of California, and the team will then work its way south and east. Nat C. Strong, the New York booking agent, has been looking after the dates and has a good tour arranged, including a side trip to Cuba, which the players are looking forward to with great interest. The Travelers are figuring on returning here in about six months.

NO ASSEMBLY TONIGHT FOR CHINESE COMPANY; SUNDAY AT KAPIOLANI

Owing to the fact that the armory is to be used for the basketball match this evening the regular drill of Company H has been called off.

The entire 1st Infantry, N. G. H., will assemble at the armory next Sunday morning at 7:30 for drill and regimental parade at Kapiolani park. The men will be taken to and from the park in special cars and will put in a good day's work there.

The following Sunday, March 14, companies and detachments of the 1st Infantry, stationed on Oahu, will be inspected by Maj. M. J. Lenihan, 2nd Infantry, who has been designated to make the annual inspection for the war department.

BASEBALL CUP GOES TO THE MAUI TEAM

The All-Chinese, which team tied with Maui for first place in the Carnival baseball series just closed, have waived their claim to the cup in favor of the Valley Islanders. Captain Lai Tin of the Chinese team yesterday notified M. H. Henshaw, chairman of the baseball committee, that his team would step aside and that the trophy could go to the visiting players.

The action of the Chinese in this matter is considered very sportsmanlike. It is explained that the players have split into two separate teams to tour the mainland and the Orient respectively, and that the cup had better stay nearer home.

CATCHER HENRY BOOSTS BASEBALL AS PLAYED IN HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

Tells of His Experiences Here and Predicts Great Future for Game in the Territory—Has Many Compliments for Honolulu and the Reception Given to the Visiting Stars

John Henry, the Washington catcher who was with the All-Americans last December, took more than the average interest in local baseball conditions, and when he returned to the mainland he was in a position to write and tell a lot about the game in Hawaii.

The following notes on island baseball appear in Boston Herald of recent date:
By JOHN HENRY.
Catcher Washington Baseball Club.
Since returning from the exhibition tour of the All-American and the All-National league teams I have been asked many times by those interested in baseball regarding the interest that is taken in the game in the Hawaiian Islands which we visited during the trip. The games we played upon the island were the first between major league teams ever seen by the natives, for, although there had previously been two even more pretentious exhibition tours of major league teams, carrying the gospel of baseball far beyond our own shores, neither had played in Honolulu or elsewhere upon the island.

In the tour of 1888 under Spalding and Anson, the teams stopped at Honolulu, but it was upon a Sunday, and the government not then allowing Sunday play, the teams were unable to exhibit. The White Sox and the Giants, in their world's tour of 1913-1914, did not include Honolulu upon their schedule, hence it was that it remained for our party to give the residents of Honolulu their first taste of baseball as played in the major leagues.

The interest shown by the people of Honolulu in baseball was brought home to me very strongly by the manner in which they welcomed, received and entertained the tourists. Honolulu is very cosmopolitan, not only in the makeup of its population, but in the interest that its people show in nearly all lines of sport. To me it seemed that baseball had the top rung of the ladder.

Met by Reception Committee.
The all-star teams of the American and National leagues, after an extended tour through the Hawaiian Islands, met at Honolulu for the Pacific coast, set sail for our mid-Pacific possessions on Tuesday, Nov. 24, 1914, and after a long, tedious, rough trip at times, lasting seven days, first came in sight of land very early the following Tuesday morning, December 1.

It was a very welcome sight which greeted the eyes of most of our party when we were slowly drifting into the harbor of Honolulu. The first impression of Honolulu is beautiful, with the high mountains immediately in the background and Diamond Head, a fortified crater on the end of the island of Oahu, looming up in front of us, and then Waikiki beach, where surf-board riding is the feature, extending up to the main harbor and docks of the city itself. As soon as our inspection was completed a reception committee came on board with a native Hawaiian orchestra, which kept our spirits light, while the committee covered us with leis or wreaths of flowers. At the dock we were met by about 1000 people of all descriptions and nationalities, and the Hawaiian band, as is the custom with every incoming and outgoing vessel, played the many popular airs of the islands. Our party was then ushered to a line of waiting automobiles and we were paraded through the narrow foreign-looking streets to the Alexander Young hotel, headed by the band. Needless to say, everything was in a stir over our arrival and baseball was the topic uppermost in everyone's mind, and on Thursday, Dec. 3, Honolulu was to be introduced to its first game of major league baseball.

Crowd Likes Action.
The cosmopolitan crowd on the street, and as a general thing the crowd attending the games, was of a mixed variety to be sure. Some half dozen different nationalities, including Americans, Hawaiians, Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos, Portuguese and the many mixed combinations, for the most part comprised the makeup of Honolulu's population.

Some 3000 people attended our first game, played Thursday at Moiliili field on the outskirts of the city, and all the different combinations and nationalities were there, the bleachers presenting the best example of the various mixed crowd. The crowd gave us ample applause as each man was introduced at the bat, and it was easy to see how well the people had followed the careers of the different players by the manner of their applause, and it is safe to say right here that baseball as a sport is followed and played with the keenest of interest in the islands.

Like nearly every baseball crowd of this country, these people like a keen, sharp contest, but one which is full of action, such as free hitting, daring base running, close decisions, plays at the plate, and as a great feature a home run. Taken along the line of action one of the most pleasing stunts and one which received greatest applause was a shadow bunting practice indulged in by Corby Dolan and four other Nationals. As a whole, the comedy displayed by Dolan was a big asset, and always brought the "house down," particularly during the shadow infield practice. During the real ball game it became very apparent to me these people were well posted on the game, from some of the criticisms they would make about certain plays, and they were unable to see why errors should be made, when the playing field to them looked so well groomed, but to the players was anything but a field they were used to.

Home Teams Real Teams.
Enthusiasm was at its height in the games played against the native team, the All-Hulu, or Hawaiian club, and the All-Chinese team, for it was in these games that the people were enabled to form comparisons and see how far advanced their local talent had gone. The All-Hawaiian team in its camp with the Nationals was beaten 4 to 1 in a very good game, while the All-Chinese team, perhaps the best in the island, and the team that toured the United States last year, was beaten by the Americans 5 to 2 in a game full of sensational plays and fast fielding by both teams. These players, though very small in size, are very active, fast on the bases and have the real inside of the game very well in hand. It was of these games more than at those played by the major league teams that the crowd was of a more varied mixture and the natives in their native costumes were there, men, women and children, rooting hard for the home boys.

Owing to the climatic conditions existing in Honolulu, where it is summer and baseball weather the year around, the game is rapidly growing and was given a big boom by the visiting stars, for it enabled the interested people, such as the players and those directly connected with the development of the sport there, to get a line on the plays and methods used by those highest in the sport. Honolulu has many different small baseball teams playing a sort of round robin among themselves, and among the public and private schools there are small leagues made up of all nationalities. It is only natural that the different army posts should have a great deal of baseball, among their different companies, and there is the keenest of rivalry among them, which condition stimulates great interest among all the soldier people. In Honolulu itself there are the two teams I have mentioned above, who clash quite frequently, and then the smaller clubs of the schools, which just about covers the organized teams of the island.

DOESN'T THINK LAJOIE WILL BE WEAK WITH BAT

BY CHRISTY MATHEWSON.

Many followers of baseball have expressed wonder to me that Connie Mack should have brought Lajoie back to Philadelphia to play second base in the place left empty by Eddie Collins. It is my prediction that Lajoie will hit as hard as usual next season, even better than he did last, for Mack will nurse him along, while the big second baseman did not hit with Birmingham in Cleveland. When a big leaguer begins to fade he loses his speed first, but his eye dims last. Some even hit better after they have started to slow up, as if concentrating on this one thing, which is still left to them to hold their berths in the big league. It is the one asset that stands between them and retirement of the bushes, according to their financial condition.

I doubt much if Connie will use Lajoie at second base regularly next year, because Mack probably has some young infielder up his sleeve that he wants to break into the game. However, Lajoie is insurance if he is needed and if the youngster falls down and he can belt that ball in a pinch as an emergency hitter. Arthur Devlin, for instance, hit harder after he began to lose his speed than he did when he was in his prime.

Lajoie Kept Muddy.
The first day I faced Lajoie I still fresh in my memory. He was on the old Philadelphia club with Deleahanty and some more of those fence breakers. Some one had given me, a kid, a bad steer, and told me not to pitch curves to Lajoie or Deleahanty. What these two, with most of the rest of the batting order, did to me was plenty. I had my outfielders coming in to the box and asking me to pass a couple of hitters so that they could have time to catch their wind.

And I want to say that I believe had information slipped to young pitchers about batters, some sincerely given and some given with the intention of misleading, has done as much to keep recruit twirlers from making good as any other one factor. The boys hand the nosebag news out behind their hands and the ambitious youngster falls for it. It is my notion that every pitcher must find out about the weakness of any particular batter for himself. I have never believed much in information given with the best intent before a world's series. It is usually wrong, except in a general sense.

There is an old story around that Reulbach, when he first came to me, made a careful study of each batter he faced and put down in a pocket notebook his weakness. When he faced Hans Wagner one day his memory failed to recall what the Dutchman's weakness was. He went to the bench and opened his book at the "w." For Wagner he found:

"A base on balls."

Hurst Advises Recruit.
This should have been my conclusion on Lajoie the first day I pitched to him. He is the most natural hitter I have ever faced. He does not lose any motion. There is no waste energy. And he certainly can pickle the ball. I believe that he will show up so strong with the Athletics in hitting that the team average will not be reduced below that of last season, in spite of the loss of Collins.

A young pitcher faced Lajoie for the first time years ago with Tim Lush upmiring the game alone from behind the box. The recruit turned to Tim and said:

"What's this guy's weakness?"
"I tell you what you do," replied Hurst. "You lay the ball right over the middle of the plate there just as straight as you can, and then duck if you don't want to be killed. Yes, I'm going to duck, too."

Our party out surf riding in outrigger canoes and some of the party tried the surf-board riding by the help of the natives. This was a fine afternoon's sport after which we sat down to the native feast, consisting of pigs roasted in the ground, Hawaiian style, sweet potatoes and poi, the native food, with many other native dishes. The evening before we sailed our party was most royally dined by a Mr. Al Castle, who had charge of the baseball visit, and it was here that many of the people expressed the hope that Honolulu could be visited by baseball clubs representing the major leagues.

Party Is Sorry to Leave.
These incidents only go to show how intensely interested the people of the island are in baseball, for it was their every desire to do all in their power to create a favorable impression and make our visit one which would long be remembered.

On Wednesday, Dec. 16, it was a very unhappy crowd that boarded the steamer at 10 o'clock homeward bound. A crowd of 1200 people were on the docks to witness the sailing of the Matsonia, and promptly at 10, amid strains of music from the Hawaiian band, streamers of confetti thrown to the many new friends and acquaintances, and the shouting of aloha, or good-by and God-speed, we slowly began to creep out of the harbor, leaving behind a beautiful country and a good crowd of real fans.

BROTHERS MEET AFTER 20 YEARS AT THE CARNIVAL

At least one distinct triumph is the result of the 1915 Mid-Pacific Carnival. When, a few weeks ago, William L. McFadden, a follower of carnivals, decided to come to Honolulu as a concessionaire in the local festival, little did he realize that his visit to the islands would result in meeting a long-lost brother, whom he hadn't seen for 20 years.

McFadden adopted the "hoop-la" concession on King street and was busy shouting his "spiel" last Thursday night. His brother, J. G. McFadden, was wandering about the showgrounds when something in the "spiel" sounded familiar. He walked over to the concession stand and asked the "spieler's" name.

J. G. has a mustache and under the left corner of the mustache is a scar he got when a horse bit him 25 years ago. The minute he asked his brother's name, William reached out with his hand and jerked up the corner of his brother's mustache. Then followed a fond greeting.

Meanwhile a large crowd of curious spectators gathered about and someone, thinking there was a fight, called the police. As soon as the affair was explained, William closed up shop and was escorted to J. G. McFadden's home at Pearl Harbor, where the latter has been employed for several months on government work.

NAME JUDGES TO AWARD PRIZES IN PHOTO CONTEST

The committee of judges, who will award the prize of $25 offered by W. H. Willson, who directed the fireworks displays at the Carnival, for the best picture taken of any of the displays, will consist of D. Howard Hitchcock, chairman; A. R. Curry, Jr., and A. H. Jones. The photographs are to be turned in at Thrum's bookstore before noon Friday.

The photographs will be exhibited after the prize-winner has been announced. If Mr. Willson desires any of them he will buy them.

No marks of any kind are to be put on the pictures, Mr. Willson announced. A card bearing name and address of the exhibitor is to be placed in the envelope with each photograph.

Mr. Willson today also denied that the dynamite which a small boy exploded Saturday morning had been left from the Punchbowl eruption of the night previous. He said it must have been stolen as a squad of men had gone over the ground to make sure no dynamite was left.

A FLEET OF OIL TANKERS?

Can you imagine 60 large oil tank steamers coming into Honolulu harbor, each tanker loaded with 40,000 barrels of oil? This amount represents the yearly contract just closed with the Associated and Standard Oil Companies of California—two and one-half million barrels.

Four years ago, after making a careful and extensive investigation of the Lakeview No. 2 Oil Company's prospects to deliver the goods, I decided to sell their stock in Hawaii. It was at that time simply a hole in the ground, but with every prospect of success. My friends and others bought stock in the company solely through confidence in my statement. The company, later on, brought in the largest oil well ever discovered in the United States. They have on hand over 3,000,000 barrels of oil in surface reservoirs and an unlimited supply under ground.

My satisfaction, after many months of anxiety, is that the stockholders' confidence was not misplaced.

The company has two large oil wells capped and closed down with a production of about TEN MILLION BARRELS, EQUIVALENT TO ABOUT FOUR MILLION DOLLARS YEARLY available for export as soon as business condition in Europe justify oil shipments. The company is incorporated for one million dollars—have sold 700,000 shares, leaving 300,000 shares as treasury stock. THE COMPANY HAS NO STOCK FOR SALE.

Four hundred shares former selling price $100, are now worth TWELVE HUNDRED DOLLARS, this big profit only being possible in the oil business, and explains John D. Rockefeller's great accumulation of wealth. OUR FIRST DIVIDEND IS PAYABLE MARCH 15. I look for this stock to go to $10 per share within twelve months.

Men or women, if you wish to better your condition in life and be somebody, now is your opportunity. I predict that if you buy some of this stock, it will help you to buy your own automobile and live on easy street.

Having only a limited amount of stock I will not guarantee delivery of any order to exceed 107 shares. PRICE $300 PER SHARE. Drop me a letter at once or come and see me.

THINK OF CRISCO

For Frying—For Shortening
For Cake Making

All Through This Month

First of all, pie properly made with Crisco looks tempting. The crust has a rich, flaky appearance that puts a new edge on the appetite no matter what dainties have gone before.

Then, it is so tender that it breaks at a touch of the fork. Even the under crust which becomes tough so easily, cuts as readily as the upper crust.

Finally, it tastes rich, yet delicate; fresh, palatable, delicious in every sense.

Here is the recipe for plain pastry that we have found best:

1½ cupfuls flour
½ cupful Crisco
½ teaspoonful salt
Cold water

(Level measurements)

Sift flour and salt twice and cut through dry ingredients. Form lightly and quickly with hand into dough. Divide. Finger tips may be used to finish blending materials. Add gradually sufficient water to make stiff paste. Water should be added sparingly and mixed with knife.

Form lightly and quickly with hand into dough. Roll out on slightly floured board, about one-quarter inch thick. Use light motion in handling rolling-pin, and roll from center outward. Stuff for one pie.

After testing Crisco in pastry you will want to see what Crisco can do in other dishes. Try it for frying and you will notice how delicious are your potatoes, doughnuts and fritters. Try it for cake and you will have as satisfactory results as if you used the best butter.

SOLDIER PREFERS JAIL DIET TO ARMY'S, SO HE TURNS THIEF

S. H. Rollins, enlisted man at Fort Shafter, told District Magistrate Monsarrat yesterday that he courted arrest and conviction upon a charge of stealing two bicycles, hoping to better his condition by a term of imprisonment at the city and county jail.
"I am not satisfied with the food served the soldiers at Fort Shafter," he said. "It is not adapted to the climate."

Rollins added that he preferred a diet of pol to that which the average enlisted man gets while in the United States army. Rollins took a new bicycle belonging to a Hawaiian and sold it.
Later he found another and was riding away with it when arrested by the police. He was given nine months' trial at Mine Host Fern's hostelry.

Philadelphia will have a large squad of detectives to stand guard at all railroad stations to keep crooks from the city.

took over the business of A. Cohn & Company.

NO SMOKING IN MEETINGS HELD IN SCHOOLS, ORDER

The public school commissioners at their session yesterday decided that hereafter all persons using the school buildings after school hours will be asked to have them cleaned up in order that this work will not have to be done by the department. A ban will be placed against the use of tobacco at such meetings.

The commission set September 13
as the date of the opening of the public schools for the fall term. Several teachers have applied for leave of absence to begin before the close of the present term. In accordance with the regulations, none of these will be granted. The commission went on record as not favoring teachers acting as election inspectors when these duties will interfere with their school work.

Present at the meeting yesterday were H. W. Kinney, superintendent of public instruction; George Raymond, school inspector and Commissioners
Mrs. Theodore Richards, Honolulu;
Mrs. E. B. Bond, Hawaii; W. H. Smith,
Hilo; D. C. Lindsay, Maui, and L. C.
Blackman, Honolulu.

It was decided not to press the bill asking a territorial pension for teachers until the next session.

CONFEREES DROP FEW SUBMARINES FROM NAVY BILL

Gunboat and Hospital Ship are Also Lost, But Battleships are Retained

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—The house and senate conferees on the naval appropriation bill have reached an agreement which omits much contained in the measure as amended in the senate. The bill as finally agreed upon provides for the building of only two sea-going submarines and 16 for coast defense, while the hospital ship provided for in the senate bill and the gunboat appropriated for have been eliminated.

The provision for the building of two battleships remains unaltered. The report of the conference committee has been accepted and the bill is now before the president. In their amended form, the bills total provided in the measure now awaiting the president's signature appropriation $214,417,328.

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] NEW YORK, N. Y., March 2.—Stenger and two others who were placed under arrest by special agents of the government, in connection with the charges made respecting the use of American passports obtained by fraud, were yesterday indicted by a federal grand jury, the charge being conspiracy against the government of the United States.

FILIBUSTER THREAT DRIVES SHIP PURCHASE BILL FROM DOCKET

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—The ship purchase bill, which came before the senate yesterday, in the report of the conference committee on the week's naval auxiliary bill to which the shipping measure had been attached as a rider in the house, resulted in a recommendation of the filibuster. In the face of this, the consideration of the report was taken from the calendar for the day. The Republican leaders promise to recommence their filibuster at each appearance of the measure until Congress expires by lapse of time.

Proclamation by American Peace Centenary Committee on the Celebration of a Century of Peace Between English-Speaking Peoples

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED STATES: One hundred years ago there was signed at Ghent, in Flanders, the treaty of peace between Great Britain and the United States, which marked the close of what has happily proved to be the last war between English-speaking peoples of the earth. Today the city of Ghent is at the very center of the terrible conflict that rages in Europe. The American Peace Centenary Committee cannot permit this anniversary to pass without inviting the thoughtful attention of their fellow citizens to the contrast presented by the century-long period of peace which English-speaking peoples have enjoyed among themselves on the one hand, and the appalling destruction of life, property and great monuments of civilization which the European war involves on the other. It had been our confident hope that the example which the English-speaking peoples have set in their relations with each other would be followed by the other great nations of the earth in their several international relations. It had been our earnest desire that the spirit of peaceful and friendly cooperation which each of these peoples manifests toward the people of the United States would also mark their dealings with one another. Unfortunately this was not to be, and we are sorrowfully called upon to mark our centenary celebration in the midst of the most terrible and destructive war that history records.

Even at such a time, we must avow once more our emphatic faith in the supremacy of justice, over force, of law over might. We rejoice in the peaceful relations of a hundred years among all English-speaking peoples, and particularly in the undefended and unfortified line, nearly four thousand miles in length, which divides the territories of the United States from that of the Dominion of Canada. The mutual trust, forbearance and helpfulness which make that undefended boundary a link and not a barrier between two peoples, we offer as an example to our warring brothers across the sea.

It had been our purpose, when our committee was organized in 1910, to plan for a great celebration of the centenary anniversary by various methods which have now, because of the terrible war which is still convulsing Europe and disturbing the whole world, become impracticable until the close of the conflict.

But we appeal to the people in all the states and to all civic bodies to mark this notable anniversary by suitable exercises in the churches of all denominations on the 13th of February, the date agreed upon for that purpose with our associate, the Canadian committee, by formal addresses at the capitals of the respective states on the 17th and 18th of February, the dates of the ratification and proclamation of the treaty, and also by appropriate exercises in all the schools on the 22nd day of February, or on such later date or dates in the spring of 1915 as may be locally deemed preferable, by which all the children of America should be instructed on the significance of this great event, and of the happy prospect which is assured to us, in spite of this horrible war, of another century of continued peace between all the English-speaking peoples of the world.
