Storm Damages Nuuanu Dam And Alewa Bunkers Collapse

ROADS STOOD DOWNPOUR VERY WELL

For an heavy a rainfall as the one that has occurred in the past three days there has been very little damage done in the city. According to Sam Johnson the damage done to the road system will be repaired within the next day or two and will cost under $400. The bunkers at the Alewa quarry were undermined by water and collapsed and will cost about $300 to replace. The only other damage of any importance was on the Nuuanu dam, where a section of flume was washed away which will cost about $300 to replace.

Pikoi street, which has always suffered very severely when a heavy rain fell, is hardly injured at all on account of the drains which have been recently installed and which did their work as well or better than they were expected. Out Kalia way there was more or less damage done, but Liliha street stood up finely and proved that good roads are cheap ones when hard rains come.

There were no bridges washed away and the majority of damage was caused by the blocking of the drains by dried leaves with which the ground was covered in many places. That there was not more damage done was due to the work done by the road men, who started out on special work as soon as the downpour commenced at about 4 p. m. Wednesday and worked through till 1 o'clock in the morning, then getting back long before daylight and working again.

On the Nuuanu dam the center section of the flume was washed out Wednesday night. The water came rushing down in such a torrent that it rose to a height of two feet over the top of the incoming flume and this was increased by the surface drainage, which poured down from the sides of the ravine. The posts supporting the flume near the center basin and above the koa wall were undermined, and gave way, with the result that that section of the flume collapsed.

There were from twenty to thirty yards of material swept into the basin and the loss of this with the work necessary for reconstruction will cost about $300. There was no other damage of any importance which had been located by the Department of Public Works.

were undermined by the water and collapsed last night about 8 o'clock. They contained about ten loads of stone at the time. The news of the trouble was telephoned to Road Supervisor Johnson at once and he had a gang of men at work repairing the damage this morning at 4 o'clock. There will be a slight delay in obtaining crushed stone for the next few days, but the bunkers will be rebuilt at once.

Steffens and Wyman were both found guilty after a jury trial of ballot-box stuffing in San Francisco two years ago and were given long terms in San Quentin.

GOVERNOR BACKING FRED MACFARLANE

Said To Have Asked Him
To Succeed Alec
Robertson

Members of the Republican Central Committee, as well as others prominent in political circles, were this noon busy discussing whether or not Fred Macfarlane was being backed by the Governor for the seats as chairman of the committee, to which A. G. M. Robertson, who for several years past has held that honor, tendered his resignation, or at least a tentative one, on his departure for the mainland some weeks ago.

The report had it that the Governor had asked Macfarlane to run for the chairmanship. Macfarlane had not been very anxious to listen to the song of the siren, whereupon the Governor had assured him that he would have the support of the Central Committee. The report was more than a mere rumor, as it was corroborated on every hand by good authority, with the exception of Macfarlane, who denied it.

John C. Lane, who as vice-chairman, is at present acting in Robertson's place, stated today that he thought that the discussion of a new chairman was rather premature.

"Robertson in his letter to me, when he left, said he would like to remain on the committee, and he offered his resignation to continue his duty for the purpose of putting no stone in the way should the committee wish to select a successor," said Lane.

"The regular meeting of the committee will be held on Monday, at which, I expect, the matter will be taken up. I do not think that Robertson's resignation will be accepted; it would seem due to him that we did not act on the matter at all, unless we should find out that he intends to remain away for a great length of time."

Fred W. Macfarlane said, when seen about the matter, that instead of the Governor some of the prominent members of the Central Committee had requested him to be chairman of the Central Committee. He had first told them that he could not accept the position as he had no political aspirations. While he sympathized with the works of the Republican party, he was not a politician himself, and could not spare time to go into politics and neglect his own private business. The committee, however, had told him not to say "No," but to take the matter under advisement, which he was doing. In the meantime Macfarlane has told the committee to look around for a better man than himself.

BAND MAY SUE COHEN AND CO.

The plan of getting the fund which was subscribed for the return of the band turned over to the band boys has been given up by Captain Berger. Berger says that he and the boys will probably sue Cohen and the "angels" for the money due them for wages. "We will sue them as Cohen Co. eh?" said the Captain.

KNUST GETS 30 DAYS SENTENCE

Used Mail For Purpose
Of Defrauding
Public

Edward Knust, the man who sold a recipe for making five gallons of "white key" for 30 cents and did business through the mails, was sentenced to pay a fine of $1 and to spend thirty days in jail by Judge Dole this morning. He was charged with using the U. S. mails with intent to defraud.

Judge Dole when he sentenced Knust said: "This is the first case of the kind which has occurred in this court. It hardly seems likely to me that a man of your intelligence and business training could fail to know that in selling a receipt such as you did you were committing a fraud and that the liquor which was a base imitation which could not be sold for anything like the value of the real thing."

"The jury has recommended leniency; you have already spent three months in jail and as this is the first case of using the mails for fraudulent purposes I do not believe that a heavy sentence is necessary. This case will call the attention of others here to the law, without severity and I therefore sentence you to be fined $1, to thirty days in jail and to pay the costs of the court."

BULLETIN WILL RETURN MONEY

MRS. DUNBAR DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO

Death Due To Result Of Exposure During
Fire

Mrs. Stewart Dunbar, nee Miss Genevieve Dowsett, is dead. The news was received today in a cablegram by relatives in this city. Her death took place, it is believed, at San Francisco. Heart failure was given as the cause.

Mrs. Dunbar underwent an operation at San Francisco the day before the earthquake. The next day she had to be removed to one of the parks, together with the unfortunates who were rendered homeless by the disaster. The exposure just at this inopportune moment had serious results. Blood poisoning set in and Mrs. Dunbar was very ill.

She recovered, however, to some extent, and came back to the islands. During her stay here she was under medical treatment and under the constant care of a trained nurse whom she brought with her. About two or three months ago she returned to the Coast. As it was thought that she was improving in health the news of her death comes as a rude shock.

Mrs. Dunbar was exceedingly well known here, where she lived during the greater part of her life, and where her relatives and most of her friends were located. Nothing has yet been heard about the funeral arrangements.

LONG ISLAND CITY, Nov. 30.—Ten desperate prisoners have escaped from jail.

Decision Of Court Is To Continue Recount

GEAR AGAIN WINS POINT FOR BROWN

After considerable argument, in which Judge Gear wished to proceed with the count, while Kinney was against it, the Court decided to continue and at 3:15 started on the count of the Pauoa Precinct.

The recount of the ballots cast in the recent election for Sheriff in the Vineyard street precinct, the Twelfth of the Fifth, was completed this morning in the Supreme Court and neither side gained. There were four Brown ballots rejected by the court and the same number for his opponent, leaving the total vote: Brown 189, Laukea 194. The official vote, as recorded by the County Clerk showed: Brown 193, Laukea 198.

The readiness which is shown by the Democrats to cry fraud when there is a chance of any kind, no matter whether they have the slightest proof of there being anything wrong or not, was clearly shown this morning as the result of a mistake made in the count. It was decided early in the morning that Judge Hartwell should count part of the votes in his chambers while the rest were being counted in the court room before Chief Justice Frear.

When Judge Gear and Attorney Kinney returned from counting with Judge Hartwell they announced the result as Brown 79, Laukea 65. When this was added to the total votes counted before Judge Frear it showed a gain for Brown of 15 and a loss for Laukea of 14, a total difference of 29 votes. Immediately the court room was in a ferment and charges of all kinds were being made by the Democratic adherents. The election inspectors were evoked; the ballots had been tampered with; in fact, anything which would give a chance to claim fraud was the order of the day. The charges were not made in open court but were whispered in the court room.

Then Judge Hartwell created the sensation by calling the attention of the court to the fact that he had suggested that the larger number in the two totals which were found in his chambers had been for the Democratic candidate. He said that he had thought so, but when the two attorneys had agreed that he was wrong, he had felt himself that he must be and had dropped the matter. "On coming to look into the matter, however, he felt that he was right and the court at once instructed that the ballots be recounted. This was done immediately but there was another mistake found which took a vote away from Brown, leaving him in precisely the same relative position as he occupied Wednesday night when the counting finished.

While Brown is now only one vote behind his opponent, the Fifth Precinct having brought him up to that point, the Supreme Court has not yet decided whether it will call for a full recount or not. The statement was made from the Bench this noon that the court would reconvene at 1:30 this afternoon and would, if it decided to go ahead, take up the Pauoa precinct.

There has been a great deal of talk about fraudulent counting in the Fifth of the Fourth during the day and the general view seems to be that there was something "rotten in Denmark" in that section. The Republicans who were there on duty are said to have been anti-Brown men and the finding of so many Brown votes which were not counted looks like a collusion between them and the Democrats to do some tall counting out, which has now been defeated by the Supreme Court. The chairman of the Board of Inspectors has acknowledged to the attorneys for both sides that he allowed votes to be counted which he knew would never be allowed by the Supreme Court, and he has been subjected to considerable criticism for his action.

PETE GOES FISHING AND CATCHES A COW

Bossy Was Headed For Kauai When Baron Landed Her

Is a cow a bird or a fish?

That is the question that the men along the waterfront are endeavoring to solve today. Pete Baron inclines to the belief that she belongs to the Pisces, for he went fishing this morning and caught one. She was a black and white bossy but she could swim like an uku. Pete doesn't say how long he had to play her before he landed her, but he did land her.

When he first caught sight of her she was breaking the long distance record in the direction of Kauai—this is no pun—and creating a wake that looked like that of the Alameda.

Pete stared at her a minute and a palor overspread his face, a milky white pallor. "By George, I didn't know I'd been hitting it up so hard," he groaned. "Where's John Martin? I'm going to swear off right now. Me for the sprinkler and the dry and dusty road of sober rectitude. A has the cocktail route. I'm going to join the W. C. T. U. or the Band of Hope. A little white ribbon for mine."

Then Pete got mad. "Blamed if I'm going to be bluffed by any black and white cow with fins. I don't care if it has pink eyes and a tail like a boa constrictor. I'm going to catch the critter and add it to my menagerie."

And Pete went back to the wharf and got a six inch hawser and a hoisting hook that weighed about a hundred pounds and went fishing. He baited the hook with a sack of bran and bossy bit like a sucker.

It was a fierce struggle but Pete landed her.

He hasn't joined the Band of Hope yet, for he found she was a real cow, one of the kind that gives real milk such as you don't find on the restaurant table.

How the beast ever came to be swimming around in the channel is a mystery, but she was there, and this is no fish story.

GREAT CONVENTION OF ELKS IN JULY

Elks are rapidly maturing for the annual convention and reunion of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, which is to be held in Philadelphia during the week of July 15, 1907, and already several features have been decided upon which members of the local lodge think will prove of interest and attractiveness to the visitors.

Basing their estimates upon a conservative canvass of the entire country, the committee is preparing to entertain no less than one hundred and fifty thousand visitors, and the task of finding accommodations for them has been systematized so that little difficulty will be experienced by any one in finding proper hotel quarters.

At the recent meeting of the Executive Committee and the chairmen of the various sub-committees, who have charge of the arrangements for the reunion, it was decided that no less than $15,000 should be distributed in prizes to the visiting Elks.

This amount will be divided so as to afford every lodge of Elks in this country an opportunity of competing for some of the prize money.

Perhaps the most interesting contest for one of these prizes from a public point of view will be the band contest, for which $2,000 has been set apart. It has not yet been decided where this contest is to be held, the committee holding under advisement Belmont, Fairmount, and several other resorts.

The band contest will be limited exclusively to bands participating in the big parade, and in order to be fair to all visiting musical organizations the committee has decided to eliminate from the contest all Pennsylvania bands and bands coming from within a radius of 100 miles of this city. For these bands several other contests will be held and several prizes will be offered, so that no one will be slighted.

The committee is now at work on other prize contests, a full list of which will be announced very shortly.

HILO PROTESTING AGAINST LANAI EXCHANGE

[Special Wireless to the Bulletin] HILO, Hawaii, Nov. 30.—A protest has been sent from this city to Governor Carter against the Lanai exchange. It was signed by a number of citizens and gave as its grounds that it would be detrimental to the public interests if private parties were given the possession of such large tracts. It argued that Congress should assume the burden of saving the island.

Petition For Recount To Be Filed Monday

BY CORNWELL

Wm. H. Cornwell, the Home Rule candidate for Supervisor of Maui, who was defeated by only five votes by his Republican rival, stated this morning that his attorney, E. M. Watson, would today begin to prepare his petition for a recount. The petition would be filed next Monday, and Cornwell will remain in town until the matter is settled.

Cornwell considers that if his petition is granted, he will have a cinch, as in his opponent's stronghold, Punene, many of the rival's votes were counted although the ballots were wrongly marked for other officers. In Cornwell's best precincts, on the other hand, Wailuku and Waihele, many ballots for Cornwell were thrown out because they were wrongly marked in regard to other officers. Therefore Cornwell expects to gain a majority of votes, no matter which way the Supreme Court decides on the ballot question.

SAY UCHIDA IS RIGHT

The Japanese friends of Dr. Uchida, who has gotten himself into more or less trouble through trying to shield a fellowcountryman who was suspected of leprosy, claim that the entire matter has been settled to their satisfaction. There has been no formal action taken in the matter by the Board of Health though Uchida has been removed from his position in charge of the Japanese hospital by a vote of the directors of the institution.

President Pinkham of the Board of Health refuses to make any public statement on the matter other than that he has correspondence regarding it which he will submit at the next meeting of the Board.

The task of a European doctor at the Court of Abdul Hamid is always a difficult one. It is the fate of the heir-apparent to be kept in complete ignorance of the doings of the world—that is the penalty of his position. When, therefore, a doctor is to see him he must submit to be searched like a pick-pocket, so that he may not surreptitiously carry to the prisoner aught which would enlighten him.

Jackie Townley is an exceedingly cautious man, don't you think?

Johns: Cautious! Why, he wouldn't pay a compliment without getting a receipt for it.—T. H. Bts.

BONDSMEN WILL BE HELD RESPONSIBLE

Kawaihapai School To Be Put In Good Condition

Immediate action is being taken by the Department of Public Works in the matter of the Kawaihapai school near Waiakua. This building is a one-room school which has been built by Contractor J. M. Mansfield and when the Public Works inspector looked over the completed structure he immediately refused to accept it. The contractor was notified but did nothing whatever towards remedying the defects which he had allowed to be made in the construction.

The contract with Mansfield called for the completion of the building on or before October 20, but the Board of Public Works, which has entire control over the work till the building has been accepted, has not taken over the work nor has any money been paid on the contract. In the meantime Mansfield has gone over to Huelo, Maui, where he is putting up another school, but, as Assistant Superintendent Howland said, "that building is being inspected very carefully."

Being unable to get any satisfaction from the contractor, Howland has taken the next step and has notified Wilder & Co., who are Mansfield's bondsmen, that unless they wish to take some steps in the matter themselves, he will collect the money on the bond and have the work put in proper condition by the men of his department, charging the cost to the bondsmen.

Wilder & Co. are, of course, not responsible for the bad work done by Mansfield. Except on account of the fact that they furnished the bond, they had nothing whatever to do with the work which was done so badly and naturally feel that they have not been well treated in the matter by the contractor.

PUGET SOUND DRYDOCK

Washington, Nov. 10.—Preliminary plans for a big dry dock at Puget sound, the only structure of that sort authorized at the last session of Congress, have been completed and approved. The dock will have the largest and deepest entrance of any of the naval docks, being 700 feet in length with 134 feet beam at the top and thirty-seven feet of draft over the sill. A cross section will be similar to that of the more recent docks built for the Navy. These dimensions are such as will admit the largest ships built or building, and will take in a 20,000 ton battleship that is disabled to the extent of possessing abnormal draft.

TO SUCCEED HUMPHREY

Washington, Nov. 15.—The next important change at the War Department will probably be the voluntary retirement of Brigadier General C. F. Humphrey, Quartermaster General, and the detailing of Major Carroll A. Devoil to succeed him in the highest office in the quartermaster department.

Major Devoil is now on his way to this city, ostensibly for duty in the office of the chief of staff. He stands sixth in the list of Majors in the quartermaster's department, and is junior to twenty-two officers in the corps. He will not reach retiring age until 1923.

MRS. EDDY'S FRIENDS DENY ALL CHARGES

Her Money Her Own and Her Health Is Normal

Boston Post, November 2, 1935:

SCIENTISTS ANSWER ATTACKS.
A sweeping, categorical denial of the allegation made by the New York World that a committee of Christian Scientists is in legal consultation with a view to ascertaining the direction of the $15,000,000 which the World is possessed by Mrs. Eddy, was issued last night by Alfred Farlow, who states that Mrs. Eddy never had such a sum, is not the custodian of the church funds, and that her own personal estate is modest and is her own affair.

OFFICIAL DENIAL

The full text of the statement follows:

"The New York World of today, Thursday, Nov. 1, publishes the following statement: 'The World is in a position to say positively that Boston lawyers were today consulted by fair-minded Christian Scientists, who were convinced of Mrs. Eddy's collapse, and will force Calvin A. Frye and others in actual control of Mrs. Eddy, to tell what has become of her big fortune, estimated by those who should know at nearly $15,000,000.'"

"I have just returned from Mrs. Eddy's home, and am pleased to inform the World that she is well and happy, and is at her desk, giving instructions to her secretary, Mr. Frye, and conducting her own affairs."

"Christian Scientists have no fear about their leader. They are well aware that the numerous statements which have been given out by her friends, some who are Scientists and some who are not Scientists, concerning her normal bodily and mental condition, are true."

"HER FORTUNE IS HER OWN."
"The church has nothing whatever to do with Mrs. Eddy's fortune, whether it be large or small. It is her own property and consists of a legitimate wage for her services as a teacher of Christian Science and the legitimate profits on her books."

"Mrs. Eddy is not a trustee for any church funds, and therefore has no accounting to render to Christian Scientists."

"The church has no jurisdiction over her private holdings, and therefore no more right to know what disposition she makes of them than they have to inquire about the private affairs of any other citizen."

"Even a casual observer, with a slight knowledge of arithmetic, can readily estimate that it is impossible for Mrs. Eddy to be even a millionaire."

"I hold in my possession an affidavit made by Mr. Edward L. Pride, the auditor of the books of the Christian Science Church, which states that Mrs. Eddy has never received any money from the Christian Science Church with the exception of $5000 which was tendered her by the directors of the church for services rendered during the creation of the extension of the mother church in Boston."

"Mr. Pride is a well known business man and is not a Christian Scientist."

"No Boston lawyers or any other lawyers have been consulted by Christian Scientists with reference to interfering with the duties and accomplishments of Mrs. Eddy's faithful seretary, nor has there been any talk of such an action, nor any occasion for talk on the subject."

"The doors of Pleasant View stand open, as they have in the past; Mrs. Eddy will receive her friends as usual, and will go as usual on her daily drives. She was out yesterday and was recognized by many of her fellow townsmen."

"No conferences have been held by Christian Scientists; no consternation, excitement or perturbation exists."

"As, in times past, when silly rumors dealing with Mrs. Eddy's health have been published this one has spent its force and returned to its native nothingness, so far as Christian Scientists are concerned, and we think so far as concerns the general public."

"These rumors do not injure the Christian Science cause."

"Like a mist that passes over the earth it may temporarily hide the facts from the general public, but as the mist passes away, without even marring the edge of a leaf or a blade of grass, so these visions of misguided journalists fade away, and the great cause of truth continues steadily on in its course."

"Each successive experience of this sort tends to sharpen the incredulity of the public and prepare them against believing such reports, when the next instalment appears."

IGNORANT OF STORIES.
"Mrs. Eddy knew not what the World had published concerning her, nor did she know anything about the questions which were to be propounded to her."

"She knew, however, that she was being paraded because of most unreasonable demands to prove her very existence, and all fair-minded persons who witnessed this event speak in glowing terms of the manner in which she bore up through the terrible ordeal. Those who had never seen Mrs. Eddy were not so well prepared to make due allowance for the occasion as were those who had seen her."

"ALFRED FARLOW."

MRS. EDDY SEEN AGAIN.

Press Representatives Watch Her Walk Down Stairs Unaided and Start on Her Drive.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 1.—Harlan C. Pearson, local representative of the Associated Press, and the editor of the Patriot, at the invitation of Mr. Frye, one of Mrs. Eddy's secretaries, stood in the hallway while Mrs. Eddy came down the stairs.

They could not be seen by her and she was totally unaware of their presence.

With her hand sliding along the banister and the other barely touching the wall she descended without apparent hesitation.

As she reached the foot of the stairs, Mr. Frye, who was standing there, removed a pair of mittens which she had worn to protect her gloves, and then leaning slightly on Mr. Strang's arm, she walked to her carriage which was in waiting.

Just prior to the closing of the door one of the women members of the household approached and adjusted a cushion, and as she withdrew, Mrs. Eddy said to her and to Mrs. Strang, in a voice sufficiently loud to be heard through the closed door of the house by us, who stood inside: "It is a little colder than yesterday, but still pleasant," and then by a smile indicated her desire to drive on.

The Associated Press correspondent remarked to the editor of the Patriot: "Mrs. Eddy looks 25 per cent. better than she did when all the reporters were out here," and Mr. Strang replied that that was doubtless due to the excitement under which she labored at the time, and that she was usually more or less embarrassed by strangers.

FRIDAY . . . . . NOV. 30, 1906

The old fish market might easily be converted into a convention hall for Hawaii's commercial congress.

So far Sheriff Brown has undoubtedly made good his claims and the people will not be satisfied till there is a recount.

Apparently the Louisiana sugar planters are tired of their enforced allegiance to the Trust, and intend to build their own refinery.

If anybody enjoyed Thanksgiving Day they were the Bulletin boys, who think the Palm dinners about as good as they make them, and say that Host Ludwigson is all right.

There seems to be a superabundance
of storms, earthquakes, floods, train wrecks, shipwrecks, fires and other fatalities the world over. But Hawaii has escaped with a few rain showers.

With some seven hundred millions of people buying goods all around the Pacific Ocean, it should not take working for a Consular and Commercial Congress to be held here. If they go at it with a will they can pull it through; if not, then one of the Pacific Coast ports will take the plum.

The first Honolulu business man to foresee the future commercial growth of this port was E. F. Dillingham. This was very many years ago, when he predicted enormous values for every inch of our waterfront, and he has never swerved from the views then expressed. Witness the extension of the Oahu railroad right into the center of our shipping. Mr. Dillingham should occupy a foremost place on any committee working for a Commercial Congress.

When Commissioner Sargent has digested the news, relative to the importation of Filipino laborers for our plantations, that has been going the rounds of the Eastern press for at least six months, he may be able to formulate an opinion as to the advisability of such a policy. Being well informed as to the quality and value of labor in all parts of the world, he should also be able to give us an idea as to the possibility of their success as workers in the cane fields.

People are beginning to think it would be just as well to allow the courts to decide the matter of the sheriff's recount upon the evidence that is brought before them, after a recount has been actually ordered by the Supreme Court. At present there seems to be a growing tendency on the part of the morning paper to manufacture evidence that is calculated to influence the Supreme Court, and to prejudice the public mind. Without taking into consideration whatever may be discovered from an examination of the ballots today, it is certain that the High Sheriff has made good his claim, and the public has every confidence that, if a recount be ordered, the final result will be a just one, based upon the best of evidence, which is the evidence of the ballots. There is a decided disposition against insinuations and innuendoes manufactured for party purposes, or for the benefit of either one of the contestants.

CARTER AND A SECOND TERM

Governor Carter is coquetting with a second term. Like a shy and bashful maiden, to whom the all-important question has not yet been popped, the Governor blushing intimates "I might".

When a young lady has not been asked by her swain if she is willing to accept a glittering diamond circlet, in anticipation of the golden band to follow later, and acknowledges to inquiring friends that she "might" do so, there is abundant ground for the belief that the gallant has been paying her marked attention in public, and no doubt in private life also, and that she has given earnest and serious consideration as to the framing of her reply when the all-important, but very necessary, proposal is formally made for her acceptance or refusal.

But in Governor Carter's case, as far as the public is aware, the Presidential gallant has shown no marked attention to His Excellency; there has been nothing to lead us to suspect that he has been indulging suggestive epistles on perfumed paper to far away Hawaii; or, indeed, that a second diamond circlet is sparkling in the rays
of the eastern sun, or that another band of gold is being moulded at the jeweler's furnace. If such has been the case then the Governor has been very backward in coming forward to take his people into his confidence, and he has been very remiss in not using the press as proper circulating medium for the distribution of such an important piece of news, that so directly touches the hearts of his children in Hawaii.

It may be, however, that the Governor has no desire to don a widow's weeds when next year's winter's chill
may be expected to come upon us;
that he would prefer to renew the bridal robe and maintain the matron's mannerism; and that there has been no real reason for him to ponder over the possibilities of a second term.
That he has done so is conclusive, or the reply to the second term query
would have been a prompt and decided "I have never thought of such a thing". Instead of the coy and bashful response "I might".

Here the Bulletin may be permitted to suggest a reason, or two reasons,
as among the "certain conditions"
under which Mr. Carter "might" take a second term. One of these reasons, and a very safe one to assume as a fact, would be to prevent the appointment of Mr. Henry E. Cooper. If the Governor felt that such a condition would arise, we have no doubt whatever of his stepping into the breach and offering himself up, a martyr to duty, as a sacrifice for a second term.
The other reason might be to prevent the elevation to the higher position of the Secretary, Mr. Atkinson, who seems just now to be in better standing in Washington than his superior in office, and who was but recently advised to "stand pat". In some respects Mr. Atkinson has acquired a popularity that Mr. Carter has lost in Hawaii, a fact that might jar upon some nervous tissues, especially such as pertain to a "sensitive plant".

At any rate, there are some men to whom the wish is father to the thought, just as there are some hens that count their chickens before they are hatched.

THE VOTE OF HAWAII

The most approximate idea of the number of votes cast in the Territory of Hawaii is gained from the count in the contest for the Delegate to Congress during the last three contests.
This shows a steady increase. In 1902, the total vote cast for Kuhl and Wilcox was 11,326. In the following year, 1904, the total votes cast for Kuhio, Iauka and Noley was 11,990, an increase of 664 votes over 1902. This year the total vote cast for Kuhl, Mc-Clanahan and Noley was 12,431, a gain of 441 votes over 1904, and of 1105 votes over 1902. Allowing for votes rejected, and not counted in the election for Delegate, it may be said that the total number of votes for that office, cast in the recent election, amounted to at least 12,700, possibly a few more. The results for the three elections are given as follows:

Delegate, 1906.
Kuhl	7366
McClanahan	2884
Noley	2181
Delegate, 1904.
Kuhio	6833
Iauka	2868
Noley	2289
Delegate, 1902.
Kuhio	6628
Wilcox	4698

From the returns of the three elections it would appear that Mr. Kuhl, as President Roosevelt calls him, has a cinch upon the office of Delegate. In 1902 he polled 6,628 votes. In 1904 he polled 6,833, an increase of 205 over the previous election. This year, however, his total ran up to 7,366, a gain of 533 over 1904, and of 738 over his vote in the election of 1902. Should he keep on growing in popularity at the same rate, it would seem useless
for any competitor to be nominated against him. Two years ago, he beat the combined Iauka and Noley votes by 1676. This year he beat the combined Noley and McClanahan votes by 2391. McClanahan polled only 18 votes more than Iauka in 1904, while Noley counted this year 108 votes more than he did in 1902. The total increase of the votes of the Territory this year, as compared with 1904, was 533. Of this total the whole of the new registration this year must have been thrown to Kuhl.

M. LEON ARRESTED
BY OFFICER LEAL
FOR VAGRANCY

Monsieur Leon Renault, the King of Iwilei, together with four of his friends and henchmen, by name Argian Vensae, Paul Dummuis, Victor Cavols, and L. Leonse, were arrested this afternoon by Officer Joe Leal and brought to the police station where a charge of vagrancy was entered against them.

The "vagrants" did not ride to the station in the patrol wagon—not they.
Nothing so common for them. They rode in hacks—and when they got there four of them put up ball money to the amount of $100 each. The clerk's desk looked like a bank cashier's window when they got through. Only Paul Dummuis didn't have the required hundred. His assets amounted to only about $7. Business has apparently been bad so far as he was concerned
and poor Paul languishes in jail.

Officer Leal says that many arrests for vagrancy are made because of the fact that it is almost impossible to convict anyone of the graver offense of living off the money made by the women of Iwilei, and conditions are getting so bad down there that it is essential that they be arrested on some charge.

meet the Kawaiahoku Seminary girls
at a game of basketball at 3:30 p. m.
Saturday. This game will be followed

High School teams.

The officials will be:
Referee—Miss C. Crewes.
Scorer—Miss M. Crewes.
Timekeepers—Carlotta Stewart and Mr. Fitts.
Umpire—Miss Hilda Robertson and
C. Crewes.

MISTAKE CAUSES

When the recount commenced this morning Abe Lewis, chairman of the Vineyard street precinct, the Twelfth of the Fifth, stated that the bag containing the ballots was in the same condition as when he turned it over to the County Clerk.

Judge Gear stated that he had been told by Mr. Brock in relation to the mistakes made in the Fifth of the Fourth, on last Wednesday morning, that there had been mistakes made and votes counted that would never be counted by the Supreme Court. He stated that these mistakes had been made in four or five cases.

Mr. Kinney stated that the same statement had been made to him and that the mistakes had been made as the result of instructions from Governor Carter to follow what was evidently the intention of the voter.
Judge Frear here stated that if that was done there would be no ballots whatever.

The court was asked by Mr. Kinney that he be allowed to look over the ballots in order that he might count
over the votes for the other candidates in order that some explanations might be found for the extra ballots.

It was agreed that this should be done with a representative from each side and one of the Justices present.

The counting of the ballots was then commenced. The total number of ballots cast in the precinct was 437. The vote according to the official returns,
stood Brown 193, Iauka 198.

Judge Gear had a new ground for protest shortly after the count started.
On one ballot the crosses after each name voted for were composed of one straight and one spiral line. Gear claimed that this was a distinguishing mark and that he had an affidavit that a certain person had stated that he had marked his ballot in that manner.

Judge Hartwell suggested that he take part of the ballots into his chambers with watchers from both sides and count them there. He suggested this in order to hurry the count along.
Kinney protested strongly against this. He said that the opposition "had stumbled on enough votes to overcome Iauka's lead" but that even then he did not think that it had taken these votes on the information.

R. H. Trent and Charlie Clark started looking over the ballots of the Fifth of the Fourth while Judge Gear and Attorney Kinney accompanied Judge Hartwell, leaving Judge Edings and J. M. Mossman and Sheriff Brown and J. J. Dunne with Chief Justice Frear.

In Judge Lindsay's court this morning motions to quash the indictments,
and the demurrers in the case of Mamura and Maeda, two Japanese charged with murder, were overruled and pleas of not guilty were entered.

Afghan royal marriages are dynastic
nowadays. The Amer's son, Mayat Ullah, and his sister are to marry their cousins, the daughter and son of Nasr-Ullah, the Amer's brother. Nasr-Ullah was, not so long ago, the lion of a London season, and, surprisingly housed where the Ambassador of the United States is housed now, at Dorchester House, Park lane.

HOT RACE BETWEEN
THE TUGS
ELEU AND INTREPID

Early this morning there was a pretly race out of the harbor and around Diamond Head between the Eleu and the Intrepid. The Eleu, which has entered the towing business in competition with the Intrepid, learned about 6 o'clock that there was a vessel sighted outside, and she started for it.

The Intrepid didn't know, it is stated, what the smaller tug was after, but she knew there must be something outside, so she followed at top speed.
She overtook her rival outside the harbor, and both vessels headed for the open sea, puffing and snorting and straining ever bolt and plate in them to win. Bow to bow they churned up the water off Waikiki. But the Intrepid proved the speedier and before Diamond Head was reached had drawn away from the Eleu and had the race
all to herself. The Eleu gave it up after passing Diamond Head, and came back, but the Intrepid kept on.

And after all there was nothing to tow in. The vessel proved to be the barkentine Echo, bound to Elele from Newcastle with coal.
The competition between the two tugs promised to be a lively one. Chief Engineer Boyer of the Eleu admits that the Intrepid is the faster boat. She is fitted to burn both coal and oil, and so has a reserve of about 75 pounds of steam. "But we'll give her a run for her money," said Boyer today. She won't beat us all the time. And we are better fitted for towing than she is.
We have about 500 horse power to her 400, and I guess we'll get our share of the business. We'll give her a race when there's anything sighted, anyway."

The Eleu is to tow the Fiery Cross
out this afternoon.

SUVERIC MAY ARRIVE,
SAYS TENNEY,

AT ANY MINUTE NOW

"I should consider that the Suveric was due now," said E. D. Tenney of the Board of Immigration this morning. "She may, I consider it, be expected to arrive at any minute now."

Tenney explained that the Suveric was a new vessel, this being her first voyage, and as a consequence it was difficult to estimate the length of her passage. She had arrived at Montevideo three days previous to the date on which she was expected by her owners to arrive there. The owners had expected the steamship to arrive at Honolulu on Dec. 6th or 8th, but if the vessel exceeded their expectations on the run from Montevideo to this port as much as she had on the run from the Azores to the South American port, she might arrive here
at any time now.

In the meantime arrangements for the landing of the Portuguese immigrants on board the vessel have been perfected by Commissioner Sargent, J. A. Gilman and the Immigration officials, and no trouble of any kind is anticipated.

[The Daily Commonwealth] Fond du Lac, Wisconsin]

The Southern California Editorial Association has recently made what is probably the most extensive trip ever undertaken by a similar association, a visit to Honolulu, with two weeks spent in that city as guests of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. And it seems that even the lavish hospitality, which is characteristic of California, found itself entirely eclipsed by the elaborate round of entertainments provided by the Hawaiian hosts. For two weeks there was a continued
round of pleasure and then, at the end of that time, the Honolulu Bulletin was turned over to the visiting editors
for a day and they were given an opportunity to express a portion of their appreciation in print, without waiting to journey several thousand miles to their own homes. The result is one of the most unique pieces of newspaper work ever produced. The edition, which was issued Sept. 20, portrays the beauties and attractions of Honolulu, as seen by the eyes of strangers and, as the edition is being given wide circulation, it will do much toward bringing about a fuller realization of the wealth of resources that abound
in the Hawaiian Islands.

Dintzulu, the ancient and enormous dinosaur "King of the Zulus," excuses himself from taking part in the outbreak of his people because, as colonial troops only are on active service, they are unworthy of his appeal! Thus says the aged one: "If the King of the Whites—I, e., Edward Rex—is neutral, then will I, the King of the Blacks, be neutral likewise."

Fridtjof Nansen has already become a persona gratissima at the English court, as the representative of the few Norwegian realm. The intrepid seeker for the North Pole has earned the personal esteem of the Prince of Wales, with whom he came into intimate contact during the Tronheim festivities, and King Edward has also shown him many marks of his favor.

THANKSGIVING SOCKER

The heavy downpour of rain caused the Baseball Park to be anything but an ideal football field, but nevertheless two very good games of soccer were seen, and, in fact, the first game, between the Diamond Heads and Y. M. C. A., was as exciting if not more so than any game that has been played this season. In this game first one side would have the lead and then the other and the result was in doubt up to the very last moment.

The D. H. boys played a very fast game and their rushes down the field with the ball was a feature of the game. For fifteen minutes the Diamonds played with one hand short. A. Williams was the tardy member. Fiddle, better known as "Fiddle," the father of soccer, broke into the game and played a star part. It was old man Fiddle who scored the last and winning goal for his team.

The Diamonds won the toss and Captain Grune chose the Waikiki goal. When the teams lined up it was seen that the Y. M. C. A. lads had strengthened with L. G. Blackman and Stanley Beardmore and both of these players did good work for their teams.

Both teams played very evenly for some time but at last the Y. M. C. A. forwards rushed through the Diamonds and got the ball within striking distance when by a peculiar accident Pat Gleason, one of the Diamond Head players, slipped and struck the ball and sent it between his own goal posts, scoring a goal for the other team. Try as they would, the Diamonds could not even up matters in this half.

After ten minutes' play in the second half the Diamonds drove the ball between the opponents' goal and evened up matters. By some fast combinations and passes, Geo. Desha passed to Ed. Fernandez, who took the sphere between the posts and made it 2-1.

Both teams played as hard as the slippery field would permit and each were repaid by a goal in the last ten minutes of play.

This made the final score read 3-2 in favor of the Diamonds and the crowd was satisfied with the game. The teams lined up as follows: Diamond Heads — Chilton, goal; Grune, Gleason, backs; Ed. Desha, J. Clarke, J. Anderson, half backs; Sheldon, George Desha, Woo, Fernandez, Williams, forwards.

Y. M. C. A. — B. F. Beardmore, goal; Turner, Stanley Beardmore, backs; Spaulding, Ziegler, Gill, half backs; Oas, Waterhouse, Churton, Blackman, Macaulay, forwards. Super, Rollins, reserves.

MAILES TRIM PUNAHOU

Rain fell so hard in this game that the play resembled water polo more than it did soccer. The boys stuck to their work, however, and played as fast as the field would permit. At the end of the second half, although many thought they had been outplayed, the Mailes won by 2-0.

The Puns went right after the Green and Gold from the kick off and had a beautiful chance to win, but the kickers' sights were out of joint and many good chances were missed.

In the second half Goalkeeper Lo On was kept busy diving after the ball but he did great defensive work and kept the Mailes from scoring many times.

Mailes: 2, Puns, 0. The line-up: Punahou — Lo On, goal; R. R. Catton, MacConnell, backs; McDougall, Mon Yin, Prangwell, half-backs; Buckley, Dodge, Macaulay, J. H. Catton, Croil, forwards. Withington, Davis, reserves.

Mailes — R. Chillingworth, goal; McGill, Anderson, backs; Jamieson, Center, E. Kelleit, half backs; J. Kea, F. Bailey, Catterall, Gray, Freeth, forwards.

WET BASEBALL GAME

The great downpour could not keep the ball jugglers representing the Judiciary and Capitol buildings apart, and they had a game of baseball in the mud that was a somewhat one-sided affair, but still gave the bunch a chance to see who was the better man. Well, the Judiciary won in a walk and Bill Chillingworth's benders had much to do with the outcome. O'Sullivan, who pitched for the other team, got a good pounding, and was relieved by Bill Vannatta.

Well, the boys had good fun, anyway, and got acquainted on the ball field. The nines were made up as follows: Judiciary — Kopa, c; W. Chillingworth, p; J. Clark, 1b; J. Thompson, 2b; V. Fernandez, 3b; H. Williams, ss; D. Sherwood, cf; H. Chillingworth, lf; J. Nott, rf.

Capitol — H. Hapai, rf; J. Cockett, ss; J. Kane, 1b; Wm. Vannatta, 2b; H. Webb, lf; S. Chillingworth, c; H. O'Sullivan, p; H. Ale, cf; T. Treadway, 3b; W. Jordan, ss.

Umpire — A. Williams.

The score by innings was:

NEXT SEASON

Around the old base burner sat a crowd engaged in friendly chat. They threshed one subject o'er and o'er. A subject often threshed before— Next season.

Said one of these loud, gabby men: "I batted last year one-ten; But you guys keep your lamps on me, I'll bat around three-thirty-three— Next season."

"My batting eye is clear all right, I'll knock the horsehide out of sight; You betcher life I'm still the goods, I'll chase the pitchers to the woods— Next season."

"Well, as for me," another said, "My arm is far from being dead; Last year I lost my curve and speed, But I'll have all of both I need— Next season."

"I'll have some curves that shoot around. The batter's neck and hit the ground; I'll put the whiskers on the sphere, I'll knock my catchers out, I fear— Next season."

And still another said, "I know my fielding game last year was slow; You fellows think I've lost my skill, But say! You want to wait until— Next season."

Then, with the session at its close, The bunch of faded stars arose And shouted, "We don't like to brag, But watch our team cop out the flag— Next season."

—Exchange.

A COMING CHAMPION

William Coates, a schoolboy of Thrapston, England, is heralded by his English friends as the coming long-distance runner of the world. At the recent sports of the South London Harriers he entered in the three-mile handicap and was placed on the sixty-yard line, with Gay Holdaway to keep him company. There were eighty-four starters in the race, and when the gun went off Coates and Holdaway were virtually scratch men.

Many wondered why the youth had been placed on such a short mark as sixty yards, but the handicapper had "hoped" him right. Never since Shrub's performance had such a fine distance running been seen in England.

Holdaway dashed off at the start, but Coates soon got on even terms, and quickly disposing of his co-marker, began to draw away. There was no gallery play, Coates simply ran right through his field, and, taking the lead in the last half mile, won, easing up in the hollowest fashion. His time was 14:47. Allowing for the sixty yards, but considering the big field, Coates had to get outside of, he is easily inside of 15, which for a schoolboy is race-going. A couple of years ago Fred Coates, an older brother of the youngster, was a prominent runner of the Alpine Harriers, so the distance work is a family trait.

The average English gentleman, and many of other nationalities, will not be content without shaving every morning. Objections have been made to the annoyances which follow such frequent attention to the face. ## THANKSGIVING DAY UNION SERVICES

The customary Thanksgiving Day services were held at the Central Union church yesterday. All the evangelical churches united and the church was well filled with worshippers. The sermon was preached by the new pastor, Rev. J. Walter Sylvester, who took his text from John xii, 29.

"The people, therefore, that stood by and heard it, said that it thundered; others said, an aged spake to him."

Mrs. Myers had superintended the decorating of the church and had produced a very pretty effect. A basket of island fruits was set in the center of a space surrounded by branches of tropical foliage with here and there ripe oranges and groups of coconuts on banana leaves and fruit.

Back of the desk with the pastor were Governor Carter, Rev. J. D. Wadman of the Methodist church, Rev. Geo. D. Edwards and Mr. Perley Horne of the Kanehameha schools.

The program of the service was as follows:

Organ Prelude—"Melody"—J. A. West

Miss Lillian Byington.

Anthem—"A Hymn of the Home-land"—Arthur Sullivan

Kanehameha Choir.

Reading of President's Proclamation, Governor Carter.

Doxology—

Responsive Reading—Section 1 in Hymnal

Mr. Perley Horne.

Prayer—

Rev. G. D. Edwards.

Response—"The Lord's Prayer in Hawaiian"

Offertory Solo—"Face to Face"—Herbert Johnson

Mr. Chester G. Livingston.

Hymn 7—"Oh, Worship the King" (Omit 2nd Stanza)

Sermon—

J. Walter Sylvester, D.D.

Hymn—"America"

Benediction—

Rev. J. W. Wadman.

Organ Postlude—March

Miss Lillian Byington.

N. G. H. PARADE

The parade of the National Guard yesterday would have been a complete success had the weather been more pleasant, but as it was, an unusually large crowd turned out and watched the boys march from the drill shed to Union Square, where they were reviewed by Governor Carter, Secretary Atkinson and two representatives. The drill was extremely creditable and the Governor expressed himself as being very much pleased at the way in which the Guard carried itself under unpleasant conditions.

The band was also present and was the center of attraction, playing several tunes before the militia left the drill shed, which were very much enjoyed by the crowd, who cheered heartily the first public concert since the band's return.

TREMENDOUS PROPHECY

Washington, Oct. 2.—All the disaster and desolation due humanity during a period of fourteen years will descend upon the earth in seven days, according to the prophecy of Edmund Scribner Stevens, formerly of Lebanon, Penn., but now of this city. The whole aspect of the world, he predicts, is to be changed. Old geographical lines will disappear, dyasties will crumble, new states will arise, established religions, excepting Christianity, will fade away and mental forms will be revolutionized, all before next Sunday rolls around.

Across the face of the earth, he asserts, a broad track will sweep—an unseen and unknown but devastating force. Societies will be laid in ruins, mountains torn asunder, parts of continents will vanish as if they had been swallowed up and a grand division of land will arise from out of the sea.

Among the political events of deepest import which will crowd one upon the other will be, he declares, the death of the Czar of Russia, followed by freedom of the Jews from oppression; the passing away of the Sultan of Turkey, with the restoration of Palestine to the Hebrews; the death of Francis Joseph of Austria, breaking the peace of Europe; the demise of the Dowager Empress of China, bringing in a new dynasty.

Although Stevens declares that he is neither a prophet nor the son of a prophet, he claims to have received his information by telepathy.

A NEW "CURE"

Signor Carboni, a chemist, living near Florence, is a brainy man. The fact that he has not been ill for 75 years he attributes to his having abstained from washing for that period. He has, in fact, invented the "dirt cure." Obviously, he ought to give up selling drugs and devote himself to telling dirt.—Pall Mall Gazette.

HAWAII PONOI SOCIETY

The Hawaii Ponoi Society gave another entertainment at the Opera House Saturday evening which proved very enjoyable to those who attended. The program included tableaux of ancient Hawaiian life, Hawaiian songs and orchestral numbers, the latter rendered by the Kawaihau Glee club. The tableaux were unusually good. They represented scenes in the life of King Kamehameha and his queen, and the ponoi was remarkable for its excellence.

There was also a surf-riding tableau, showing Keleka, the surf-riding of Maui. Mr. Kane took the part of Keleka, standing on a surf board projecting from a canvas backdrop, and balancing himself on one foot.

Several of the ancient hulas were given also. H. C. Uukou was stage manager and Samuel Nalmon musical director.

Christmas Fair

Old Santa will be on hand with the Goods

And it Commences Tomorrow, Dec. 1

This is the largest store in Honolulu and it is filled from street floor to the roof with the grandest display of goods for the Christmas season. There is no other store where the young folks and the older ones can get such buying satisfaction as at KERR'S.

We have left nothing undone to make this season better than all previous ones. Our buyers in the East have been active since the first arrivals from Germany, the home of the toy-maker, and they were active up to the day of shipment. Special attention has been paid to the wants of the children; not a single item has been omitted; their desires have had first attention from all sides and will continue to have until SANTA CLAUS COMES DOWN THE CHIMNEY WITH THE GOODS.

TOYS

We are advised that the rush for Christmas goods will begin early and for that reason we give you the word that it will be to your interest to come before your neighbor and get the choice of the toys that have a place in a department that has been created expressly for their display. They will be opened to sunlight on Saturday and if you have the happiness of your children or your grandchildren at heart you will come to headquarters, where the prices are less than you will find anywhere this side of Chicago for the same grade of goods, and buy what is needed for Christmas.

There will be mechanical toys of every description, American, English and Hawaiian DOLLS IN ENDLESS VARIETY.—MUSICAL TOYS, AUTOMOBILES and WAGONS.—LOCOMOTIVES and CARS making whole trains with the tracks.—TIN DRUMS, ELECTRIC NOVELTIES OF ALL SORTS.
