Asks Islands Raise Money For Big Ship

Dillingham Would Have People Take Stock In Mat- son Co. To Provide Fast Passenger Liner--Civics Body May Endorse Plan--Interesting Program Under Way

Hawaii may be called upon to show her good faith in the future of the tourist business of the islands by raising from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 to enable the Matson Navigation Company to build a fast passenger ship for the Coast-Islands service.

The suggestion was made at the opening session of the civic convention yesterday morning by Walter F. Dillingham, president of the Honolulu chamber of commerce.

"When we urge better provision for the tourist business, the shipping men come back with the question—'How much money are you willing to invest in such an enterprise?'" said Mr. Dillingham. "Let us unite to answer this question in a definite and unmistakable way."

The speaker suggested that the Matson company be asked to enlarge its capital to the extent needed for putting the kind of ship on the run that is required, and to permit the people of Hawaii generally to subscribe for it. His idea was to make it a popular affair and to distribute the stock as widely as possible.

May Be Endorsed

The proposition followed the reading of papers by George B. Angus, Fred L. Waldron, Ed. Towse and L. W. de Vis Norton on promotion and transportation problems. Mr. Towse and Mr. Waldron were unable to be present but had prepared carefully thought out addresses which were presented by others.

Mr. Dillingham's address was impromptu, in which he reviewed the whole steamship proposition. He declared that it is Hawaii's duty to prepare for the tourist business ahead of the demand, and that the only way he sees is for her to do this herself and not wait for others.

The matter was submitted to the committee on resolutions and will doubtless be acted upon later by the convention as a body.

Interesting Session

The first session was an interesting one, although a good many members apparently found the activities of the fair a bigger attraction and were not present.

The opening address of welcome was

Lahaina Gets Blue Ribbon For Schools

In a close contest for honors among the school for school exhibits, Kamehameha III school (Lahaina) carried off the first prize yesterday at the fair.

The judges were Mrs. C. E. S. Burns, Mrs. D. T. Carey, and Mrs. J. T. Fantom.

Puunene school won second award; Wailuku school, third; Paia school, fourth; Hamakua (public) school, fifth.

In all there were about 25 represented in the contest, but the full list of awards is not yet available.

St. Anthony's school took first award for grammar school equipment. Wailuku public school got a blue ribbon for grammar grade pupils' work.

Supervising Principal H. M. Wells states that the greatest enthusiasm prevails among the schools and that most of them will begin immediately working on their exhibits for next year's fair.

Army Aviators Seek Landing Place Here

Major John B. Brooks, Capt. W. E. Lewis, and 1st Lieut. Don Duke, of the aviation corps of the U. S. army, returned to Wailuku yesterday from a three-day trip through Haleakala crater and return over the Ditch Trail. The trip was an official one, being made for the purpose of investigating possible landing places for land and sea planes on this island.

The officers came here from a similar investigation trip on Hawaii. From here they will go to Molokai and later to Kauai on the same mission.

While the trip on Maui was a hard one the party thoroughly enjoyed it, particularly the part through the ditch country. They were unfortunate to be caught in the heavy rain storm on Sunday night on top of Haleakala in consequence of which they were unable to see much from the summit.

Equipment For New Cannery Is Ordered

Charles Mel Expected Next Week To Remain As Manager—Name Of New Enterprise Is Pauwela Pine- apple Co.

The Pauwela Pineapple Company, is the name of the new fruit packing company which is about to start operations in the Haiku district. It is incorporated under the laws of California, and the capitalization as stated in last week's Maui News is $250,000.

Charles Mel, of San Francisco, who promoted the company, and who was here some months ago, is on his way back to the Islands on the steamer Enterprise, due in Hilo next Sunday. He is accompanied by his wife, and will probably arrive here on Monday night.

It is understood that Mr. Mel comes here to remain permanently as manager of the new enterprise. He has written that he has made full arrangements for the new factory, which is to be a steel frame structure, as well as for most of the machinery. J. A. Templeton, who is representing the company at Haiku at present, states that work will begin next week on some temporary buildings.

MacCaughy Stands Up For Supervisors

Says Boards Of All Islands Have Shown Fine Spirit Of Co-operation When Schools Have Done Their Part—Visits Many Schools

"The supervisors of Maui are not to blame for the poor condition of some of Maui's school buildings and for inadequate sanitary appliances. In fact I may say the same for the supervisors of all of the counties. My experience has been that these men are anxious to further the interests of the schools, but have been unable to do so because of the unbusinesslike methods of the school authorities. In practically every request that I have had to make for school betterment I have been met more than half way. No sir! I take off my hat to the supervisors!"

This is the way Superintendent Vaughan MacCaughy, of the department of public instruction, talked this week in discussing various school problems on Maui. He has been here all week attending the civic convention and fair, but he has also taken the opportunity of visiting quite a large number of the more important schools in central Maui and in the Lahaina district. He is accompanied by his wife, and they have been the guests of Principal and Mrs. Paul MacCaughy, of the Hamakua high school.

Prof. MacCaughy stated that he found that most of the trouble the schools have had in the past in getting things done by the county, has been the fault of the schools themselves. Repairs, improvements, etc., vitally needed in many instances, have either not been reported outside of school circles, or have been handled in a way that the supervisors could not properly appreciate or understand.

He cited as an example the matter of antiquated and inadequate toilet facilities at the Wailuku school, over which quite a flurry arose some months ago. That work has since been attended to. But Mr. MacCaughy maintains that no one in particular was to blame that it had not been attended to long ago—certainly not the supervisors.

Prof. MacCaughy states that he found sanitary arrangements at Kamehameha III school, Lahaina, in poor shape, and that many other schools have grown so fast that these facilities are far from suitable or adequate. He expects to have these matters carefully checked up in consultation with the county engineer, so that they may be presented to the board in intelligible shape. And he expresses entire confidence that recommendations made will be approved as fast as the board can manage it.

Reds Are Champions

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The great world series ended today when the Cincinnati Reds won its fifth game of the series, and with it the championship. The game was won by a score of 10 to 5. The Reds got 16 hits of the Sox's 10, indicating that it was an off day for the pitchers of both teams.

The batteries were—Cincinnati: Eiler and Rariden; Chicago: Williams, James, Wilkison and Schalk.

Today's game was the fifth of the series won by the Reds; the Sox having captured 3.

CAPITAL PRESENTS ITS CASE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—Opposition to collective bargaining and the closed shop, are among the 12 fundamental principles outlined by the capital group presented to the industrial conference today. Sympathetic strikes, black-lists, and boycotts are declared "undefensible, anti-social and immoral."

While deploring strikes and lock-out on principle, it was stated the right of strikes and lock-outs should not be denied as an ultimate result. This right should apply, however, only to private industries.

BIG SECOND COUNTY FAIR IS A SUCCESS

Great Crowd Of Visitors Enthusiastic---Honolulu And Hilo Have Record Delegations---Hotels Over- flowing And Many In Private Homes---Fine Results In All Departments

Maui's second county fair is in full blast.

It is a big success—in fact it is a far bigger success than even the most optimistic had dared hope.

While solely a Maui undertaking, it rivals in many of its branches the big territorial fairs held in Honolulu. This is particularly true in the livestock section, which is probably as fine a show of the kind as has ever been held in the Islands.

The attendance promises to fulfill all expectations. In fact the visitors from the other Islands are here in almost double the number that had been anticipated. By last Monday night's Kilauea 104 Big Island visitors arrived including band members and the All-Star baseball team of Hilo. Wednesday night's Kilauea brought some 200 visitors from Honolulu, and yesterday morning another 160 arrived by the Claudine's special trip. Besides these many arrived last week. It is reported that many persons who planned to come from Honolulu were unable to do so on account of lack of space on the steamers.

Ad Club In Force

The Honolulu Ad Club and the Hilo Ad Club are here in force. Both, it is understood, have a program of stunts to put on during the big show. The Honolulu boosters will stage a "convention vaudeville" this evening at the fair grounds which is declared to be "some show."

Fair Well Handled

In spite of the tremendous amount of work involved in constructing a fair grounds, even to building up the land itself, the situation was very well in hand when the gates were thrown open to the crowds at noon yesterday.

Tug-Of-War Teams Are Very Evenly Matched

Tug-of-War Tournament

Last Night's Results

Saturday's Pull

Winners of tonight's tournament (championship) at 7:15 p. m.

The opening of the tug-of-war tournament between Paia and Wailuku in the first pull and Lahaina and Puunene in the final tug each resulted in a draw.

A matter of half an inch deprived Wailuku of the victory. The affair was a 20-minute pull for 2 feet. The Wailukus were the aggressors from the beginning to the end.

The Lahaina and Puunene teams were about evenly matched, the latter making but 4 inches.

yesterday. While the buildings are not completed, they answer the purpose, and surprising results have been effected in way of decorations of both the grounds and buildings.

The horticultural hall, the machinery hall, and the art and home economics sections have aroused the enthusiasm of everybody in what has been accomplished; while the livestock committee has covered itself with glory both in the completeness of its exhibits and in the arrangement of its part of the big show.

Races Tomorrow

The horse racing card, which is considered one of the best ever prepared on Maui, will be put on tomorrow afternoon. The race track is in fine shape and horsemen expect to see some fast time made.

Other amusement features are more elaborate than anything ever before attempted, and are being patronized. These consist of various concession shows of one kind or another, a merry-go-round, and other features.

The zoo exhibits from Honolulu, consisting of bears, monkeys, leopards, raccoons, etc., are proving a great drawing card for the children—and for their elders also. Daisy, the elephant, which was expected, did not come, on account of the inability of the steamship company to furnish the necessary deck space to carry her.

Accommodations Taxed

All the hotels are crowded to capacity and a large number of visitors are being entertained in private homes. The work of the housing committee, however, has been very efficient, and there has been practically no confusion or unpleasantness in getting everybody comfortably settled.

Airplane Falls At Fair---Aviator Hurt

Lt. Lanfall Has Narrow Escape In First Flight Yesterday—Machine Crashes From 100 Feet Is Total Wreck

Through the crashing of his airplane from a height of about 100 feet at the fair grounds, yesterday afternoon, 1st Lieut. John Lanfall, U. S. A., was badly but probably not fatally hurt. He sustained serious bruises and a terrible shaking up, but no bones were broken. He was taken to the Puunene hospital. The machine is a total wreck.

Lieut. Lanfall, who is one of the experienced fliers of the army stationed at Luke Field, Pearl Harbor, came up last Tuesday morning for the purpose of making some exhibition flights during the fair. His plane, of the lighter pursuit type, also came up by steamer, and had been assembled and tuned up during Wednesday and Thursday for the flights. It was in his first attempt to rise that the accident occurred, just after the machine had cleared the fence on the east side of the fair grounds.

Officers of the aviation section who are on Maui are at a loss to account for the accident except on the theory of a bad air current or hole. The machine was seen to take a sudden side slip within a few seconds of the time it left the ground, and the operator had no opportunity to right it before it crashed.

Two Seaplanes To Come

It is expected that two seaplanes will arrive sometime today as a fair feature, but these heavier machines will not be able to do the spectacular flying of the light type planes.

Lava Flow Still Pouring Into Sea

Outbreak Of Mauna Loa Promises To Be Greatest Of Modern Times Marvelous Spectacle Being Visited By Hundreds.

The big lava flow from the southwestern flank of Mauna Loa, which began two weeks ago, is still apparently as active as ever. From all reports it is unquestionably the most spectacular of all outbreaks of the big volcano in modern times.

Thousands of persons from Hilo and also many from Honolulu and other parts of the territory are visiting the wonderful display. A number of steamer excursions have already been run affording a view of the flow from the ocean.

Tremendous Volume Of Lava

The river of lava which originates some 20 miles up the mountain slope from the sea, has been flowing steadily at a speed estimated at from 15 to 20 miles per hour. It is from 30 to 90 feet in width, and carries huge boulders and trees which have burned off and fallen into fiery flood.

This river of fire has completely blockaded the belt road in Kona. Where it runs into the ocean it forms a great fiery cascade over the sea cliffs, and has already built a cape of lava some third to half a mile from the shore.

Source Hard To See

Owing to the difficult country to travel over, comparatively few persons have visited the source of the flow, which is at an elevation of between 8000 and 9000 feet. The lava is described by Prof. Jaeger, the volcanologist, as gushing out from a great fissure some two miles in length under tremendous gas pressure, which causes a column several hundred feet in diameter to fountain 200 feet or more in height. This lava is rapidly building up a typical volcanic cone on the mountain side.

Aside from the loss of some ohia firewood and some logging apparatus, and the damage to the road, no other great damage has been caused, although a number of houses and other property were narrowly missed by the molten stream, and the danger is not yet past.

NEW ARRIVAL IN RICE FAMILY

The arrival of a fine new daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Rice, in San Francisco, on October 2, was the glad news received here by cable the latter part of last week. The young lady has been named Maud. Mr. and Mrs. Rice have been on the coast for several months and are not expected home for some weeks yet.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The shipping board has partially lifted the embargo on shipping board vessels to Great Britain as a result of the ending of the English traffic strike.

Wailuku Boy Killed By Motorcycle Fall

John Keehu, Recently Home From Navy, Victim Of Sad Accident At Lahaina—Was One Of Maui's Clever Ball Players.

His skull fractured by a fall from a motorcycle near the Lahaina armory last Sunday morning, John Keehu, a well known Wailuku boy, died at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday morning in the Lahaina hospital. The funeral took place last Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home of his step-father John Kekuni, in Wailuku.

The deceased, who was only about 20 years of age, had only been home a few weeks after serving in the navy for more than two years. He enlisted on the Alert together with quite a large number of other Maui boys, and saw service all through the war in the Atlantic and other waters. He received his discharge a few months ago and had come home for a visit, having stated his intention to again enlist.

Before joining the navy he was known as one of the star base ball pitchers of the Wailuku team.

At the time of the accident which caused his death, he was with Tom Clark, Jr., and was attempting to turn around in the road when he lost control of his wheel and fell.

It will be a small home wedding with only old family friends present. The bride will be attended by her sister, Miss Aileen McCarthy and Miss Violet Lucas. The best man will be Mr. Oswald Lightfoot. ### GIFTS TO WILSONS PUBLISHED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Acting upon the express direction of President and Mrs. Wilson, Secretary Tumulty has published a full list of the presents which they received while in Europe.

EXTRA SESSION LEGISLATURE POSSIBLE NEXT SPRING

HONOLULU, Oct. 4.—Governor McCarthy said today that he may call a special session of the legislature, but not before next April.

The calling of such special session depends largely upon the result of a special commission's visit to Washington. If congress passes a measure requiring subsequent action by the legislature, and such action should be taken immediately, then an extra session will be quite likely.

The governor said he would not call an extra session unless same should be actually necessary.

Grand Hotel Case Is Finally Settled

Sale Under Circuit Court Order Confirmed By Opinion Of Supreme Court—Plans Being Made To Enlarge Property.

The ownership of the Grand Hotel, of Wailuku, which for more than two years has been in dispute in the courts has finally been settled by an opinion of the supreme court handed down last Saturday. The opinion upholds the decision of Judge Burr confirming the sale of the property to satisfy a first mortgage, and denies the right of the referee in bankruptcy to intervene.

As the matter now stands the hotel property belongs in toto to the Bank of Maui, Ltd., and H. Streubeck, who, to protect themselves as mortgagors, bought it at public auction for $25,000 a year ago last August. Each of the parties own an equal interest, having each loaned half of the original $20,000 represented by the mortgage.

There is a rumor that the case may still be appealed to the U. S. district court of appeals, but it seems doubtful whether such step can or will be taken.

To Improve Property

C. D. Lufkin, speaking for the bank and Mr. Streubeck states that steps have already been taken to make a number of improvements to the hotel, including the installation of a private lighting and refrigerating plant, putting the building upon solid concrete foundations, adding some 25 additional rooms, and generally renovating and repairing the property.

What steps will taken for the management of the hotel has not yet been determined. It is understood that several offers are under consideration for leasing it as well as an offer to purchase it outright. Mr. Lufkin stated that even during the past year, with practically no tourist business to help out, that the hotel has been practical full all of the time. With the resumption of more adequate steamship facilities on the Pacific he believes the business will justify all the additions and improvements that are now being planned for.

MAY GET NEW ZEALAND FRUIT

Acting upon the petition of A. Moritzson, a business man from New Zealand, that apples and pears from his country be admitted to the territory, the board of agriculture and forestry may make such recommendation to the department of agriculture with view to having the quarantine against such shipments lifted. It is not believed there is any danger of introducing new pests to Hawaii through this means, and Hawaii would be given a supply of fruit at a season when mainland apples are scarce.

THEATERS

"The Homebreaker"

Dorothy Dalton's latest Ince-Paramount photoplay, "The Homebreaker" will be seen at the Maui Theaters next week.

This is from a story by John Lynch, and affords the star a most attractive part—one that is quite a departure from the Western character she has so ably interpreted in the past. She appears as a traveling saleswoman who has no trouble in disposing of Abbott & Son's goods but her selling ability is not sufficient to convince the junior member of the firm that she thinks a great deal of him and that he should stay away from the bright lights and pay attention to business.

The elder Abbot would like to have her as a daughter-in-law but the son is too busy in chasing Broadway butterflies to appreciate what a fine little wife she would make. So the dashing drummer concocts a scheme with her senior employer to arouse the young man's jealousy and make him embarrassed in the bargain. How it works out successfully, how the girl routs a party of grafters and saves the daughter of the house from a disastrous elopement, how her romance is developed according to her wish, are events which spell a most fascinating picture.

"On The Jump"

George Walsh certainly is always on the jump. The smiling Fox Star is never still. If we invited him to our office we would expect him to go over the top of the desk flying. And George, is in "On the Jump," the feature which will be seen here next week.

"On the Jump" was directed by R. A. Walsh, George's older—we were just going to say bigger but on second thought R. A. is the smaller—older brother. R. A. is responsible for such fine pictures as "The Honor System" and "The Prussian Cur" and he is just the right man to direct the screen destinies of George. Sort of family team work makes "On the Jump" the fine comedy-drama it is.

And this comedy drama has a peppery dash of patriotism that makes it all the more welcome. The world is changing every day. Instead of the old adage, "All the world loves a lover," it is now "All the world loves a patriot"—that is, all the world except Germany. Over there they don't know what one looks like—yet. However, and be that as it may, we digress. "On the Jump" shows George as a newspaper reporter and what does he do but help the Fourth Liberty Loan over the top to the little tin of $100,000,000, track a German spy to his lair, blow up an enemy submarine, rescue a precious formulae (all formulae are precious, you know) and besides winning for himself a pretty girl.

"Auction Block"

The story of Rex Beach's greatest picture, "The Auction Block," is the life history of a beautiful girl who is raised by her parents for the specific purpose of being placed for sale to the highest bidder in the matrimonial market.

These elements conspire to compromise Lorelei and bring her to an awakening about the slough of despond into which she has fallen.

With the awakening comes the desire to help her young husband, who now is also at the lowest depths of despair.

At last Lorelei can stand it no longer, and she leaves him. This is the one thing needed to bring him to his senses, and he sets himself to work for but one thing, to win her love. From this situation develops an ending that is as thrilling as it is eminently satisfactory, bringing the young couple together with a full understanding and appreciation of the path of rectitude.

"Eyes Of The Soul"

Miss Ferguson, in "Eyes of the Soul," has reached a much higher level than she has yet attained. Were you, the exhibitor, to be guided by the reading of the synopsis only, you would undoubtedly be deceived; you could not be impressed very much with it, because the plot is very simple—she is a chorus girl and has many wealthy admirers; one of them has succeeded in extracting a promise from her to marry him; but she meets a blind soldier who fought in the war; her heart first melts with pity and compassion for him, but that compassion eventually turns, into love and she marries him—but its emotional appeal is so powerful that I doubt if you could find a dry eye among your patrons while playing it. It simply wrings the heart and brings out the tears, not the kind that leave a bitter taste, but the sort that bring happiness, creating within the spectator a more intense picture hunger.—Adv.

CHARITY VERSUS PUBLIC DUTY

Honolulu is about to inaugurate a "drive" to raise $250,000 for charity. It is a good deal of money for a city the size of Honolulu to spend in a year in relieving distress. That it will be wisely administered is scarcely open to doubt. Nor is it likely that the amount is a cent more than will be needed.

The point for reflection however, is that such an amount should be needed. Much of the distress in Honolulu, as in other places, is due to conditions that should not be permitted to exist. Tenement districts; inadequate and inefficient education; poor sanitary and health administration; and insufficient public hospitals, sanitariums and reformatory institutions, are some of the reasons why charity must come to the rescue.

In England, before the war, a very large percentage of the entire population was either wholly or in part dependent for its very existence upon charity. This was due primarily and perhaps largely, to the monopoly in land by a comparatively small class. The war has very materially changed this condition by furnishing employment at living wage to all who can work. The point in this is simply that poverty for the most part is due to causes that can and should be removed.

Moreover, much relief work is at present left to the charitable impulses of the community that should be as much a legal charge on the county or territory as are the public schools.

Our own Kula Sanitarium is a striking example. Only a few weeks ago more than $80,000 was raised through the generosity of the people of Maui, of high and low degree, for vitally needed enlargement of that most necessary institution.

Now, there is no question whatever that this money was needed. In fact several times the amount raised should be available right here on Maui to combat and stamp out tuberculosis. In the light of our present knowledge it is little short of a crime that we continue with half-way measures in dealing with the greatest scourge in the Islands today.

But it should not be a matter of private charity. Instead it should be one of the first matters of public duty.

And so with a large number of our other so-called charities. If the people who are giving so generously of their time and thought and money to these various charitable activities would as enthusiastically combine to secure constructive legislation along these same lines, there isn't a doubt that the need of their present efforts would soon be greatly reduced. Charity is good, but the removing the need for charity is far better.

WHY HIGH COST OF LIVING WILL CONTINUE

The cost of living isn't going to go down, and the rate of taxation is not going to be materially lessened.

Those who have been hugging a contrary theory are doomed to disappointment—that is, if they expect these things to happen within the next five or ten years, at least.

The United States will be busy for that length of time in catching up in production with the time lost in the war, and at the same time in supplying the demands of Europe and the rest of the world that before the war depended upon Europe for commodities.

We are short handed for labor on account of the total cessation of immigration and because of the hundreds of thousands of foreign workers who have returned and still are returning to their native countries. And besides, the tremendous development of industries since the war has brought about a shortage of labor that is felt in every section of the country and by every class of our population. The result is that the supply of almost every kind of production is away behind the demand.

No small part of this demand comes from the higher plane of living for working classes generally, which is one of the phenomena arising out of the war. People who a few years ago would have deemed a telephone or an automobile an impossible luxury, now consider them necessities of life; with result that the agencies supplying these things are handicapped to meet the demand. A class of people are traveling over the country who never traveled before; and are swamping the facilities of travel—hotels, sleeping and dining cars, etc.

These are but examples of an almost universal condition brought about by a higher standard of living for the masses of the population. It does not seem probable that this new standard will ever be abandoned, except that part which is extravagance, pure and simple.

That taxes will not, in the aggregate, be less is indicated by the fact that the ordinary cost of government is, in common with other lines of business, fully double what it was before the war, or about 2 billion dollars a year against 1 billion in ante-bellum days for the federal government. Also from the fact that interest and sinking fund on the several liberty loan issues will require another 2 billion; and that plans for the new navy call for about a billion dollars more than on the old basis. This is a total of 5 billion dollars, which is about what the government used last year.

It was 10 years or more, following the Civil War, before price got back to something approaching normal, and then the United States only was involved. That it can happen in less time, with the whole world torn to pieces as it has been, is not according to sound reason.

POT-HUNTERS, NOT SPORTSMEN

They have queer ideas of sport on Kauai if the following, taken from the Star-Bulletin's special correspondence from that island is a criterion. Listen:

"Doves there fly in flocks by the scores and in the case of Mana, on the rice fields of Pak On Leong, the birds light on the fields by the hundreds. A poor shot need not waste his shells on wing shooting if he wants to be sure of a good bag for his meal. All he needs is to select a cool place under a bush and wait for them to light on the open field. During July and the first part of August hunters were seen at Kapaa and Mana who never did any wing shooting. By shooting the birds on the ground they had a better chance of getting from one to six doves with one shot, whereas if they tried wing shooting the best shot cannot get two birds with one shell unless in rare cases the shot captured more."

This isn't sportsmanship. It is just plain slaughter. In most places the man who is found guilty of shooting a game bird on the ground is ostracized by self-respecting sportsmen.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT

The appointment of Dr. F. E. Trotter as president of the board of health, has been greeted with practically unanimous approbation. Dr. Trotter's work in the Islands as head of the U. S. public health service during the past half dozen years, has won for him the confidence of the people of the territory generally. There is a general feeling that he will "make good." Governor McCarthy should be congratulated in being able to secure his services.

CAN WE TURN DOWN THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS?

"We are indeed blind if we do not realize that the fate and future of China, that great continental nation, are inextricably bound up with our own," declared Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, until recently United States minister to China, in an address before the Honolulu Ad Club last week. Dr. Reinsch might well have gone further and stated that we are blind if we do not realize that we are just as indissolubly linked with all the rest of the world as we are with China.

Opponents of the league of nations base their objections very largely on the ground that it will compel this nation to play an active part in the affairs of the world. They say that the quarrels and dissensions of other nations are none of our business. And they draw frightful pictures of the cost in lives and treasure we must sustain if we attempt to do our part in preserving the peace world.

It is argued that because the league covenant is not all that could be desired we should have none of it—that we should get back into our shell as quickly as possible and let the rest of humanity go hang, if it will.

We can keep out of the league of nations, it is true. But if we do the league must fail and the nations in self protection will again immediately begin the formation of defensive alliances, to the end that the situation will be the same as before the war, except in worse degree. The world will again become a group of armed camps ready to spring at each others' throats when something disturbs the delicately adjusted balance of power.

And in the meanwhile the United States will be smugly minding its own business until the fat is in the fire and it is too late.

It is proposed that the United States shall assume the mandatory under the league of nations, of Turkey, Armenia, the disputed Grecian islands, and other portions of the Near East. The plan is meeting with fierce ridicule and condemnation by the anti-league element at home.

But if we do not take this responsibility, what then?

It is certain that none of the great powers of Europe can assume the role. Not one would be acceptable to the rest, on account of the influence and power that would go with such control. Nor would the domination of any European nation be acceptable to the smaller nations involved; whereas American rule would be joyfully welcomed.

The years of horror in Armenia under Turkish rule were possible only for the reason that no European power could interfere without treading on some of its jealous neighbors' toes; and it is hard to see how the old condition is to be avoided if we adopt the hands-off policy.

The question therefore is whether or not we are willing to play a man's part in the future. Are we willing to turn our backs and to close our eyes and ears to the misery of the weak nations of the world? Or are we willing to use the power and influence of a great people to the end that justice may prevail for all men?

The first part is that of a coward or a slacker. To take it would cause brave men to hang their heads in shame for their country. Far better were it that we suffered in loss of men and money, if with knowledge that we were preventing suffering to others and doing our full share in lifting humanity to a higher level.

Impractical? Visionary? Perhaps. But there is more in this world than material success. And some of the greatest, most epoch-making movements in history were inspired by visions.

It is gratifying to note that at least a part of the Japanese community in the Islands is far-sighted enough to see the need for real effort toward the real Americanizing of the Japanese population here. Unless this can be accomplished it is almost a foregone conclusion that the territory will lose its autonomy and be governed by either a civil or military commission appointed by Washington.

It is estimated that within another 14 or 15 years the Island born Japanese will hold the balance of power politically. If they are to benefit from this they must measure up 100 percent American. One of the first steps towards this end must be the abandonment of the Japanese language schools. It is unfair to any child to handicap it at the start with a foreign culture which is radically opposed to the one it must live under.

Governor McCarthy has announced his intention of appointing Sumner S. Paxson a member of the health board upon the latter's return from a trip to the coast. Undoubtedly the Governor has his own reasons for this decision, but in light of Mr. Paxson's record as president of the board, they are not apparent to most persons. The Governor's high sense of personal loyalty is possibly leading him astray.

Dr. Frederick E. Trotter, new president of the board of health, announced that he favors full publicity in connection with the work of his department. Well, why not? Whose business is he referring to, anyway?

GET BEHIND THE SCHOOLS

The best, and indeed to many students of the problem the chief hope for the future of Hawaii, is in its schools. If the Islands are not to be completely submerged in Orientalism it must be through effective education along American lines and the elimination of all conflicting systems.

And the English language is chief medium to this end. It is therefore unfortunate that short-sighted persons in Honolulu have raised the cry of discrimination in connection with the administration of the Honolulu high school. But is good that the disgruntled ones have taken the matter up with the grand jury, for there is every reason to believe that this body will quickly set at rest any suspicions that may have been raised in the public mind.

Superintendent MacCaughy explains that in the Honolulu high school, and in the Hilo high school as well, the instructors have subdivided their classes according to proficiency in spoken English. This is solely for the purpose of getting results. It has nothing to do with nationalities whatever.

The school department is rightly concentrating its strongest efforts to teaching English; because a thorough grounding in this language is essential in making good Americans.

The school department today is standing as the chief bulwark of Americanism on which Hawaii must depend. And it is facing the situation bravely and intelligently. But it must be backed by an unbroken support of every American citizen in the Islands. Upon our efforts in the next few years probably depends the entire future of the territory.

Some idea of the rate of increase of the Japanese population in Hawaii may be gained from figures compiled by the Japanese consul in Honolulu covering the month of September. According to these statistics, the number of births to Japanese parents during the month was 397. During the same time there were 83 deaths, the births being nearly 5 times greater than the deaths.

"Kauai, whose splendid roads show it to be the most progressive county of the territory, is now having brought to its attention by the Garden Island the necessity of developing sources to give all communities of the island pure water, safeguarded against contamination. Kauai is showing Oahu the way."—Star-Bulletin.

The mahini status of the writer of the above excuses him for such a break as the above. When he gets time to visit Maui he will revise his opinions both as to leader in good roads and pure water.

Hinokasu the alleged murderer, surrendered himself to the police last Monday morning and according to officers, confessed his guilt. Hunger is said to have caused the fugitive to surrender himself.

Mrs. Samuel K. Pua, wife of Sheriff Pua, of Hawaii island, died September 28 at her Waialae home, near Hilo, following an illness of a year and a half. Mrs. Pua was born at Mana, Hawaii, November 27, 1860. She was the daughter of Samuel C. Wilts, who came to the Islands in 1858, and assisted in surveying the entire island later with C. J. Lyons. She was educated at Lahaina.

New Superintendent on Way

It was decided that the association would back the movement and a committee to solicit support of other organizations among the Japanese laborers throughout the Islands was appointed.

(SPECIAL TO MAUI NEWS.)

PUKOO, Oct. 2.—E. K. Devauchelle has been appointed postmaster of Pukoo and also fire-warden for East Molokai.

The Mikahala did not land freight at Pukoo this morning although it was not rough. The mail was brought overland. This is getting monotonous for residents of Pukoo who have ice on the boat and get about half of it when the steamer returns on Thursday.

R. W. Shingle and wife, Fred Beckley and wife, and Mrs. McAdam of Honolulu are spending a vacation at Kaunakakai. They have been very successful hunting deer and quail and are favorably impressed with Molokai so far. Mr. McAdam, postmaster of Honolulu, will join them shortly.

Miss Dorothy Goodhue returned to her Molokai home after a few week's visit with her mother in Honolulu. The latter will remain in town till her son arrives from France.

Copies of "You Bet" are out and will be on sale at the Fair and Convention October 8 and 9. It's all about Molokai—a booster sure enough. The following persons were callers at "The Stockade," Ulupue today: R. W. Shingle and wife, Fred Beckley and wife, Mr. MacAdam and wife. They took in Halawa and the East Molokai sights.

PUKOO, Oct. 3.—The Nihi which started from Honolulu on her way to Hawaii with 8 passengers to see the lava flow, was obliged to enter Kaunakakai harbor today for repairs, as something got the matter with her engine. The engineer of the Ida May which is at Kamalo, is kokua-ing. Another boat, the Kamoi also came in at Kamalo today.

The following delegates from Molokai are attending the Civic Convention at Kahului—E. K. Devauchelle, Pukoo; Olaf Tollefsen, Moanui; James Crane, Kaluaaha; Jos. Kamano, Halawa; Dr. E. S. Goodhue, Ulupue; J. N. Uahinu, Kaunakakai; Edw. McCortison, Kamalo.

The party will charter a sampan and reach Wailuku, Wednesday, Oct. 8 with the Molokai association colors red, green and blue. Keep your ears open for the Molokai yell:

"M-o-l-o-k-a-i! IS ON THE MAP TO STAY YOU BET! TO STAY YOU BET! M-o-l-o-k-a-i! IS ON THE MAP TO STAY!"

A Maui Japanese is on this side with a view to sending over two automobiles for passenger service here. These are to be large touring cars.

Owing to press of business and unexpected work neither Geo. P. Cooke, J. D. McVeigh nor James Munro will be able to attend the Civic Convention as they wished to do. It was hoped that they would be delegates from the Molokai association.

Mr. Olaf Tollefsen, who made quite a haul of fish at Moanui on Friday left on Saturday to deliver the fish at Lahaina. Some of the uluas weighed over 30 pounds. One which escaped it is said would weigh over 100 pounds. Kaleikoa, who was badly hurt by being thrown from his horse at Kualapuu last week, is rapidly recovering. He had a severe scalp wound, sprained shoulder and back.

Members of the Association who will attend the Convention unofficially are—Mrs. E. K. Devauchelle, Keli Devauchelle and Miss Dorothy Goodhue.

Maui vs. Hawaii, Gym. 7:30 p. m.
Fair week athletics were ushered in last Tuesday evening at the Gymnasium when Maui took the measure of the Hawaii basketball quintet, 30 to 8.

Never in the history of the game on Maui has such a great number of spectators turned out to see basket shooters in action.

Among the Hiloites on hand were: Judge Tristian Osorio, County Attorney Beers and Supervisor Cabrinha, and F. C. Cody.

Play began in pell mell fashion and the excitement in the earlier part of the game arose to a high pitch, the din caused by the rosters of the rival quintets being heard blocks away.

Maui won easily. Whether she can repeat this evening remains to be seen. Hawaii was playing on a strange floor, with the walls for lines. One can never judge on first performances. Tonight's game will give a good line on the caliber of the visiting team.

Banks In Poland Do Good Business Since End Of War

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 20—The military operations on Polish territory and the economic policy of the Austrians and Germans while in occupation of Poland have caused the ruin of numerous industries and a general economic stagnation. The banks in what was Russian Poland have suffered heavily. In Galicia and Posnania the banks profited from the economic policy of the Central Powers during the war.

The year 1918 was particularly profitable for the banks—a fact which manifested itself in increased dividends. There are five different currencies circulating in Poland, so the chaotic condition of the money market can be imagined.

At present, having freed themselves from Russian, German and Austrian influence, the Polish banks are preparing for increased activity. The National Foreign Trade Council is informed that new branches are being opened in all parts of the country, particularly in the border provinces, and that the capital of the banks is being increased.

The most pronounced activity of the banks is in the direction of in-

Good Rain Comes At Time Most Needed

The drought on Maui which was beginning to be serious in many districts was broken by the heavy rain storm which began last Friday and continued off and on until Monday afternoon. The heaviest part of the storm occurred Sunday night, accompanied by one of the biggest lightning and thunder displays in many months. Throughout east Maui from 5 to 6 inches of rain fell, while from 1 to 3 inches were recorded in Central Maui.

The rain was general, not only on Maui but throughout the territory as well, Honolulu being especially hard hit, though no great amount of damage was done.

In spite of some inconvenience to workers at the county fair, the rain was most welcome and has greatly benefited cane and other crops everywhere which were beginning to suffer.

Mauna Loa Outbreak Makes Things Hazy

The thick haze which has shrouded all Maui for the past week is undoubtedly smoke from the eruption of Mauna Loa. Visitors in Maui from Honolulu state that the haze there is heavier than it is here. Lack of the usual trade winds is supposed to account for the vapors from the volcano spreading in this direction.

The same phenomenon has been noted in the islands during previous eruptions.

Wednesday afternoon, in front of the court house, Wailuku, the band gave an open air concert which was fully appreciated by a large crowd.

The Oahu Braves won the opening game of the Inter-Island baseball series yesterday afternoon by taking the Maui aggregation into camp 3 to 1.

Frank Baldwin, president of the Maui County Fair and Racing Association, started proceedings by pitching the first ball over. D. C. Lindsay, chairman of the executive committee of the fair, was behind the plate, and Governor McCarthy was the wielder of the bludgeon. Thus were the new grounds officially christened.

Despite the fact that the field was dead both sides put up a great exhibition. Oahus had the better of the breaks. Both twirlers were rather stingy with their offerings.

Fair Committee Puts Lively Boxing Events

One of the sporting events last night at the fair grounds of much interest to the hundreds that packed the grandstand was the boxing contests, staged after the tug-of-war tournament.

A 4-round go between Lawrence Do Rego and James Patterson, lightweights, and a 3-round scrap between Alfred Do Rego and Young Duro, heavies, were peppery mixups from start to finish.

Charles A. Puck, who refereed the matches did fine work and his decisions of draw in both cases met with public opinion.

Navy To Establish Wailuku Radio Soon

Office To Be In Maui Hotel—Will Be Wire Connected With Lahaina But May Received Direct—Welcome Improvement

The plan of the navy for improving the radio service on Maui, as reported in the Maui News several weeks ago, are about to be fulfilled.

As stated, these plans consist in establishing a main office in Wailuku instead of in Lahaina, as at present. This office will be in the "round room" in the Maui Hotel, which has already been leased for the purpose. The lease goes into effect October 15.

It is understood that for the present messages from central Maui will be telegraphed by wire line to the Lahaina station for transmission. Incoming messages it is possible may be taken direct from the "air" at the Wailuku office, tests made several weeks ago demonstrating that this is feasible. Later it is possible the navy may erect a sending station also in Wailuku.

The Wailuku office is to be in charge of George B. Dewing, now chief operator at Lahaina.

There is no doubt that the new plan will be gladly welcomed as it will obviate in considerable degree the use of telephone for transmission of messages.

G. Fugimoto Winner Of Marathon—Brother 2nd

G. Fugimoto was first and his brother M. Fugimoto second in the marathon race pulled off yesterday afternoon, covering the 4 1/2 miles from the Wailuku court house to the fair grounds and once around the track in 25:56, a fraction over 6 minutes to the mile. These two were the only ones to finish out of the 9 started off by Deputy Sheriff Cummings. All of the runners were Maui boys.

Antone Gonsalves stood a chance of winning the run but a severe attack of cramps compelled him to drop out when but a quarter mile from the track. At that time he was leading.

By winning the marathon G. Fugimoto becomes the possessor of the silver cup offered for this event by the Maui County Fair and Racing Association.
