Swinburne's Verses for His Mother.

The place of honor in the Nineteenth Century for September is given to a poem by Algernon Charles Swinburne, written for the birthday of the author's mother. It is entitled "The High Oaks —Barking Hall, July 19th, 1826," and the opening stanzas are as follows:

"Fourscore years and seven Light and dew from heaven Have fallen with dawn on these glad woods each day Since here was born, even here, A birth more bright and dear Than ever a younger year Hath seen or shall till all these pass away, Even all the imperious pride of these,
The woodland ways majestic now with towers of trees.
"Love itself hath naught Touched of tenderness thought With holiest hallowing of memorial grace
For memory, blind with bliss,
To love, to clasp, to kiss, So sweetly strange as this,
The sense that here the sun first hailed her face,
A babe at Her glad mother's breast,
And here again beholds it more beloved and blest."

Kohala's Seamy Side.

A private letter from North Kohala says: "There are dreadful wrongs being done to the natives here, and even officers are in it, and white men. Native children are taught to drink. It has taken me some time to quietly fathom affairs here, but I comprehend fairly well now and am taking my notes. I doubt if there is half the wickedness and devilry in Honolulu of Kohala. We need not to cite the wickedness of any other country. God help Hawaii with the opium, awa, potato, rice and every other satanic ingenuity to ruin and wreck and impoverish the native. No God, no country, no poi, no anything! Bitter fuel and demonstrated on every side of these precincts. And I will except no nation—all taking a hand.
Where are the officers? Yes!
Echo answers, Where!"

A Mutual Disappointment.—"I was so disappointed I was out the other day when you called, Miss Percival." "So was I. I felt sure I'd find you, because as I turned the corner, I saw you go in."

FOR ANNEXATION SIMPLY

RESOLUTIONS OF MEETING OF AN ANNEXATION CLUB OFFICERS.

Campaign of Agitation Projected—Want Annexation Without Any Conditions Attached.

At the called meeting of Annexation Club officers held at the drill shed last night there were present: A. S. Hartwell, L. A.
Thurston, J. B. Atherton, B. F.
Dillingham, W. W. Hall, T. B.
Murray, Geo. C. Stratemeyer, F.
B. McStocker, J. N. Wright, Dr.
Wood, Jonathan Shaw, Geo. Mc-Leod, W. H. Hoogs, J. S. Martin, Geo. W. Smith, L. C. Ables, J. W.
Pratt, C. B. Ripley, J. H. Fisher, W. R. Sims, J. L. McLean, C. W.
Day, J. F. Clay, E. Towse and R.
C. L. Peterson, with a few spectators.

Judge Hartwell took the chair and, in his opening remarks, gave as one strong reason for annexation to the United States the large immigration of Japanese. Unless there be a material change the five Japanese immigration companies now organized here will run the country.

F. B. McStocker disclaimed on behalf of the club any intent to usurp the functions of the Government regarding the question. He explained that at organization the Annexation Club was purely for enrollment of supporters. He spoke of some of these having changed their minds.

Judge Hartwell had not met any who had changed their minds. He named about half a dozen wealthy firms and individuals who were strong for annexation.

Col. Fisher did not like to hear excuses for calling a meeting.
The change to a Republican administration at Washington called for action here to take advantage of it. He moved that a committee of five be appointed to draft by-laws and call a general meeting afterward. This carried and later the committee was named as follows: Thurston, McStocker, Fisher, Dillingham and Hartwell.

Mr. Thurston made a speech, urging the change in the States as reason for action. It was their duty to reclaim backsliders. He deplored the quarrel between the editors of two annexation papers.

Mr. Dillingham spoke in a similar strain on the same points.
They should work for annexation if they believed it would be a good thing for the country.

Mr. Hartwell moved the following resolution, which was passed with loud applause:

RESOLUTION OF THE ANNEXATION CLUB.

At a meeting of the officers of the Annexation Club of Honolulu, held on the evening of the 27th day of November, 1896, it was: Resolved, This Club was formed in the month of February, in 1893, under the Provisional Government of Hawaii, for the purpose of giving definite expression to the desire for the annexation of Hawaii to the United States, and of encouraging and promoting such desirable object.

The Provisional Government having accomplished the object for which it was established, both in conserving the cause of law and order, and of constitutional government, and in endeavoring to establish a political union with the United States, has been merged in the constitutional government of the Republic of Hawaii, the end and aim of which is to accomplish political union with the United States, this Club hereby declares that it is still the earnest desire of its members that the Republic of Hawaii be annexed to the United States, and become an integral portion of that great Republic, subject to the existing laws of the United States, and to such further laws as Congress shall enact, and that it is the firm belief of the members of this Club that such result will best promote the interests of all classes and nationalities of people within the Hawaiian Islands.

This Club respectfully assures the Government of the Republic of Hawaii of the desire of its members that as soon as shall be practicable annexation to the United States be accomplished, leaving to the United States to enact such laws as Congress shall deem to be proper.

Several speeches were made on the organization of the islands now going on rapidly.

Mr. Atherton spoke in favor of unconditional annexation. He had no faith in the proposal for a protectorate. Those who had failed to register at last election should not claim the right to vote on annexation now. He was willing to take plain annexation because he believed he would gain more money in the next ten years with than without it.

Mr. Dillingham marked on the coincidence that those who opposed the reciprocity treaty were now against annexation. He believed that annexation would do more for the country than the treaty had done.

HOW TO TREAT FLOWERS.

Preserve Them According to the Nature of the Plant.

Those who wish to enjoy the whole of the short life of their cut flowers instead of only a small portion of it will not settle down upon any one undeviating method of preserving them, but will rather vary it, according to the different causes which lead to their decay.

Take, for instance, the flowers of a succulent nature, like the iris. The stems, when put into water, slough away and soon give forth an unpleasant odor. There are two remedies which may be applied in this case. Either one should put a mild disinfectant in the water and frequently change it or cut off the ends of the stalks at short intervals.

Another flower whose stem most rapidly decays and corrupts the water is mignonette, and it is often best, therefore, to sacrifice it while its head is still freshly green. Heliotrope, like mignonette, should always be put in water by itself, for it not only fades and turns brown rapidly, but it will kill almost any flower put with it.

The cause of decay in hard wooded plants like the azalea and camelia is that they do not take up enough water, not that they have any tendency to pollute it, so that to cut their stalks frequently would be of little avail. But if when putting such flowers in a vase or bowl you make sure that the lowest leaves attached to the blossoms are under water the effect is magical.

Ferns, and especially maidenhair, are very short lived when they have to look to the stem alone for nourishment, and the most effectual way to preserve them is to see that the lower part of every frond is well under water. Cut flowers require as a rule a far greater quantity of water than is given them.

Flowers should always be placed in water as soon as possible after being picked. When received by post in a somewhat wilted condition, an immediate plunge into hot water with a little sal volatile will accomplish wonders in the way of reviving them.

And if you wish to wear flowers in your hair or on your corsage, they may be made to retain their freshness for an entire evening by putting a bit of sealing wax over the ends.

How Long the Heart May Stop Beating.

When the heart stops death ensues, as a matter of fact, through asphyxiation. The circulation ceases, the capillaries of the lungs become gorged with stagnant blood, while the blood in the brain no longer carries away the waste products and brings the oxygenated fluid to restore the tissues.
As the blood takes about half a minute to circulate through the whole system, it may be taken that at the end of this period after the stoppage of the heart the arteries would be filled by the last effort of the left ventricle, while the veins would be pouring their contents into the right auricle. In a few seconds more the nervous centers would cease to act, and probably by the end of the minute the subject would be practically dead from suffocation, although reflex muscular action would probably keep up the appearance of life for some seconds longer.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

More Discussion on the Practical School—The Pringle Matter.

At the meeting of the Board of Education yesterday the Practice School was again the subject of discussion. From reports made it would appear as if there would be difficulty in providing the requisite number of pupils for it.
The matter was laid to rest for a time by the adoption of Deputy Inspector Scott's report, which was to the effect that if the matter was left alone it would regulate itself. He was of the opinion that the school could not be filled now except by force.

Prof. Alexander reported for the School Committee recommending increase in salary in the cases of Misses Kekela, Kate Howland, Ferreira, Rhoda Green and Maroni to take effect December 1.

The matter of holding teachers' examinations in the Christmas holidays was laid over.

It was voted as the sense of the board that Inspector General Townsend should remain on Hawaii until he had finished inspecting all the schools on that island.

Miss Mary Atkins was given permission to open a private school at North Kohala.

Piianai, a teacher of the Pa-hoehoe school, refused to take the oath of allegiance and sent in his resignation instead, which was promptly accepted.

J. McKee was transferred to the Wainiha school and Miss Hattie Coan was given the position in the Hilo school made vacant by the resignation of Miss Grace Porter.

Professor Alexander was empowered to acquire by exchange the lot at Pearl City recently selected for school purposes.

Before adjourning W. A. Bowen gave notice that he would bring up the Pringle matter again at the next meeting.

FOR THE CHINA PAINTERS.

The Popular Variegated and Clouded Grounds seen on English Ware.

The means of producing the variegated and clouded grounds seen on some of the English ware is a matter of interest to the china painters who are taking up the work afresh this autumn.

Clouded grounds present very artistic effects, giving relief to the ornamental designs associated with them. To produce the most pleasing effects The Art Interchange says the following colors should be used: Bronze green, deep blue green, old blue, deep blue (bleu riche), deep ultramarine blue, deep purple, deep violet of gold, light-violet of gold, salmon red, carnation No. 2, deep carnation and rose pompadour used singly.

These colors should be mixed in the same manner as for solid grounds, although it may be sometimes advisable to add a larger proportion of oil of cloves to assist the blending. A single stippler should be used, well charged with color, and the color applied in dabs at distances to be determined by the degree of light and shade desired in the clouding. A dry stippler must then be taken to spread the dabs into each other at their edges and soften the color so as to produce the clouded effect aimed at. A few trials will enable the amateur to secure satisfactory results. The process must be quickly done, and no thick patches left where the original dabs were deposited, otherwise the colors may become rough or blister in the firing. If properly manipulated, the grounds, when they come from the kiln, will present a perfectly smooth and glossy surface.

For variegated grounds a solid ground that has first to be laid and fired, preferably of some medium toned color. On this ground dark lines of some analogous or contrasting color may be drawn with a fine tracer, producing the effect of irregular mosaic, and then each space between the lines lightly shaded with color somewhat darker than the ground. If this is tastefully done, a most artistic effect is the result. Variegated grounds may be produced by minute dotting in one or many colors upon a solid ground tint. Such a treatment is suggested by the markings of certain birds' eggs and flowers.

New Design In Pianos.

A recent development in the shape of the upright piano forte comes from a celebrated English maker, who has manufactured an elaborately decorated upright grand of hazy shape design.

Internally the pianoforte is made on the straight or parallel system of string-ing, and the tone, when the instrument was completed, proved to be unusually good. The lines of the design are very vigorous, but the carving being in low relief, and the wood being toned down to a mellow tint, the general effect is peculiarly harmonious. The character of the decoration in Regence, and the casework is of solid and well figured oak. In the upper panels of the really beautiful instrument the meshwork is very slightly gilt, and a piece of old French brocade of the Regence period, the background of which is of a soft green shade, constitutes the lining of the panels.

HARP-SHAPED UPRIGHT PIANO.

Grape Jelly and Marmalade.

Select grapes which are ripe and juicy. Pick them from the stems and put them in an earthen or wooden bowl and mash thoroughly. Put them in a porcelain kettle without water. Cover closely and heat to a boil. Boil 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from the fire, strain through a cloth, and to each pint of juice allow a pound of granulated sugar. Mix the juice and sugar together well, place upon the fire and boil fast for 20 minutes, skimming well all the time. Pour into tumblers and set away until cold, when they should be sealed.

Grape marmalade may be made from unripe grapes, prepared as in the foregoing recipe from Good Housekeeping, except that they should be boiled to a pulp before straining, then passed through a sieve or fruit press. To each pint of this pulp or juice, after straining, allow a pint of sugar. Mix well, then boil very fast for 20 minutes or until it coagulates upon being dropped upon a cold plate. This marmalade is particularly nice spread upon hot cakes or waffles for breakfast.

THE RESOLUTION.

Nothing else could have been expected from an organization whose sole object of existence was to procure the annexation, pure and simple, of Hawaii to the United States, than that at a meeting of its executive to resuscitate it from a dormancy of two years a resolution should be passed reaffirming the same object. At this meeting there was, however, a distinct acknowledgment, by leaders who ought to know what they were talking about, that an educational campaign was needed, not merely to bring over to the cause original opponents, but to reclaim original supporters who had changed their minds on the question. The general tone of the meeting was in striking response to the views lately held by this paper. One gentleman argued against the reasonableness of the proposition that there would be any reference of the question to the people of Hawaii in general. But in the BULLETIN'S discussion of this point, it was not a theory of local expediency which was propounded, but a principle of American policy as old as the Declaration of Independence, which has been uttered by many notable American visitors to these islands, and constantly held by no inconsiderable portion of the American press. The fact ought to be recognized instead of antagonized, for it gives a cue to the line of campaign that, unless American principle and precedent be thrown to the winds, must be followed to reach the goal. There is one way other than that line, which it has been in the mind of the BULLETIN to indicate, whereby complete union with the great Republic might be securely anchored at the end of the vista of Hawaii's prospects. It is exceedingly simple, besides probably more feasible than Judge Hartwell's suggestion of an Act of Congress saying merely, "Hawaii is hereby annexed to the United States." There is a conviction in the minds of many thoughtful people that the day is not far distant when the interests of civilization and humanity may make it the moral duty of the United States to raise her flag over other insular countries in both the Atlantic and the Pacific. In other words, that the march of events will compel the United States to become a colonizing power. Why cannot she make a beginning with the remarkably clear opportunity now presented by the relations subsisting between Hawaii and herself? This could be done by an Act of Congress permitting the Hawaiian Islands to declare their territory as a dependency of the United States, and the American flag as their supreme national ensign, with all the protection that such conditions would imply, while the Republic of Hawaii should continue its career under its own laws until it should attain to the conditions necessary for admission as a State in the Union. Exceptions to such a condition of Hawaiian local independence could be enacted without any difficulty, under which the treaty-making power, as well as a degree of control over the customs tariff, would be surrendered by Hawaii to the United States. Such an arrangement would carry the United States little if anything further in domination of Hawaiian interests than the position she has maintained for the past four years. It would fit the declared policy of the party that has elected the next President like a glove.

You Are in Need of a Time Piece . .

You cannot make up your mind what kind to get; it bothers you, because every one has an opinion of his own as to the best make. Let us suggest something to you.

When a watch is backed by a responsible house, money backed, so guaranteed that if the slightest defect is found, your money is returned, or another watch is given in place, should you worry as to the kind to get?

A watch is made to keep time, the one coming the nearest to being correct is the one of most worth. It matters not if it cost Ten Dollars or a Hundred.

The matter of expensive cases is left entirely to your taste and the length of your purse.

As Agents for the high grade "Elgin" and the medium priced "Waterbury" both makes of which there is an endless variety, we are enabled to offer an unusually large assortment of complete watches, and at prices far below former rates.

TELESCOPE COFFEE POTS, TEA STRAINERS AND OTHER USEFUL
THINGS.

THE TELESCOPE COFFEE POT is constructed with an inner chamber extending one-sixteenth of an inch from the bottom of the Pot, thus preventing any possible escape of the steam and aroma.

DIRECTIONS

The coffee used should be ground very fine and placed in the inner chamber. Pour boiling water over the coffee, cover and allow to remain on the stove six or seven minutes. When the coffee is made, raise the inner chamber and fasten with the set screw to strain. The clear amber coffee remains in the Coffee Pot ready to serve.

The inner chamber may be lifted out if desired.

POINTS OF EXCELLENCE

1. ECONOMY—It is a coffee saver. In a short time it pays for itself.

2. By using finely ground coffee you are enabled to obtain every particle of strength contained in the coffee.

3. The cloth being stretched tightly across the bottom of the inner chamber to strain the coffee, making a large flat surface, the coffee is strained very readily.

4. The cloth used on the inner chamber being adjustable, it is easy to remove.

5. There is no place in the inner chamber, Coffee Pot or strainer to collect the sediment that may make the coffee muddy.

6. There is no reason why you should not make coffee exactly alike 365 mornings in the year, without the slightest variation.

7. The coffee will keep hot longer, because the Coffee Pot consists of two thicknesses instead of one.

8. You can make one cup of coffee as well and as satisfactorily as a pot full.

9. The inner chamber may be removed and washed, and the clear strained coffee may be saved for lunch.

10. By not subjecting the Coffee Pot to extreme heat it should last a lifetime.

We have these new coffee pots in one, two, three and four quart sizes and sell them at the San Francisco retail price. We have also a fine line of the old fashioned earthenware tea-pots and something new in the shape of improved tea strainers, which are both ornamental and cheap.

We have a full line of kitchen ware in tin and agate.

Santa Claus is extremely fond of receiving letters from the little ones. He generally offers a valuable prize of some kind to well behaved children and this year he has notified Wall, Nichols Co., who are to act as his agents here, to offer in his name a beautiful French doll to the Honolulu girl or boy who writes him the most original letter. Any little one under ten years of age may compete for the doll which is sure to be highly prized by the lucky recipient. Now, girls, this is your opportunity. Brush the cobwebs and dust of puzzling questions out of your minds and write the old gentleman a nice letter; something different from anything you have ever written before. You may ask your papas and mammas how to spell the words but the thoughts and good wishes should be all your own.

On honor, now! Letters may be mailed in the letter box at Wall, Nichols Co's store between 9 o'clock next Saturday morning, Nov. 28th, and 12 o'clock noon of December 24th, the day before Christmas.

The doll will be on exhibition in one of their large show windows during the above period. The judges of the merits of the letters received will be decided upon by representatives of the press of Honolulu.

Christmas is coming on apace and the people with elegant for-sight are looking around for suitable gifts for the season. In our stock we have hundreds of articles which are of the ornamental variety and suitable for Christmas gifts. This year we have been careful to select a variety of goods, showy and substantial articles for all classes of society. We have no more for the rich than the poor, we cater to the taste of all, and the result has been very satisfactory to us in a business way.

We have a number of statuettes in Parian marble, one of which will be an acquisition to any home. The list comprises: Lady Godiva, Early Struggles, Europa, Robinette, Comus, Ophelia, Apollo as Shepherd Boy, The Sisters, Maidenhood, Venus de Medici, The French Model, Diana Abandoned. These are of good size for the table or center piece on a mantel.

Another neat gift is a cup and saucer in Crown Derby. These are entirely new here and of beautiful design and quality. We have also some rich and elegant articles in Royal Worcester and Solid Silver ware, a glance at our windows will give you an idea of the excellence of the assortment.

A number of articles in bric-a-brac and glass vases, crockery and glassware are selected for general use, and will make acceptable presents.

A ship load of Agateware would be a big lot for one store even in the United States; it's a big lot for Honolulu and more than we received, but what we did get on two sailing vessels would astonish the people if they saw all the articles in one pile. Our stock of Agateware is selected from "First" not "Seconds," the quality is the best that can be made and we sell it at the piece you used to pay for the second quality. This means a saving of 33 1/3 per cent, because the life of a first-class piece of Agateware is a third longer than one of the second class.

When buying for the holiday season there is more pleasure in receiving a useful present than in a bauble. Every housewife loves good China and there is nothing more beautiful than a set of Haviland. We have a complete stock of this ware and sell it in full sets or single pieces so that if you want to fill up a set that has been broken or purchase a dozen plates or a course set you can be accommodated.

A BICYCLE CABINET.

A Handsome Piece of Furniture Designed by a Woman.

Nowadays, when bicycles have become a part and parcel of our household belongings, the difficulty of disposing of them in town houses becomes quite a serious matter. In the country and the suburbs they can easily be kept in some convenient shed or stable. But when the accommodation is limited, as in flats, the question of housing them gives more trouble. They are not a tidy addition to a lobby, and yet they must stand somewhere; so, many people are reduced to leaving them at one of the wheeling clubs for want of a proper place at home.

It is rather surprising that our inventors have not before this devised an arrangement of some sort for their convenient disposal and protection. Moreover, a greater necessity for their concealment has arisen since the advent of the bicycle thief. The pretended vender of all kinds of wares, who used to attempt to gain entrance to our reception rooms, with an eye to silver and curios, now contents himself with the entrance hall and the chance of slipping away with the valued and valuable bike; so it behooves all worthy knights of the wheel—and dames as well—to guard their beloved steed from eyes profane.

And now an ingenious English woman has designed a cabinet for the bicycle in the form of a hall table and hatstand. This cabinet can be made of any wood and finished to suit any style or color. The spoken panels are filled in with Japanese leather paper, both in the doors and on each side of the mirror back. All the ordinary requirements of the entrance hall are supplied, but naturally the interior required a good deal of skillful arrangement to afford the greatest amount of accommodation with the least possible space. A bicycle, unfortunately, cannot be got into anything short of six feet in length and requires delicate maneuvering as regards height.

The flap in the cabinet above the opening doors is hinged, to throw back, so that the bicycle can go in without any alteration of the handle bars, which will be doubtless a great recommendation to many. Then the floor is fitted with grooves and draws out altogether, to be used as a "home trainer," while in its proper place in the cabinet it serves to keep the bicycle in position. There is plenty of room inside for all the bicycle belongings, as well as the cleaning apparatus. If a professional cleaner is employed, everything is ready to his hand, while he need not come into the house beyond the entrance hall. The style of the cabinet can be altered to agree with other furniture, if strict accordance be insisted upon.

"It is best not to flood one's home with pictures. If the house can boast of many rooms, let the mistress use a moderate amount of paintings or etchings in the rooms reserved or most frequented by her guests and allow the individual members of the family freedom to adorn their private rooms as suits best their various tastes. Where the house is smaller and all rooms alike frequented, be careful of the display. You do not want an art gallery, nor do you want a shop effect; therefore confine your display to your library and hall. We cannot in a more cheerful way open our door of welcome to our friends than on a well pictured as well as well arranged hall." So thinks a writer in The Decorator and Furnisher.

Information for Tourists.

A passenger by the last Colonial steamer was met on the dock by a Milesian American friend, who resides in Honolulu. As the pair waited to have the newcomer's gripack examined over with chalk marks by the Customs Inspector at the gate the stranger remarked to his friend "Do you have much rain here?" "RAINER me boy, gallons of it, just come up to the Anchor Saloon where they keep it always, clear and cool. We'll just be in time for lunch too and that's the only place in town where they serve it up in proper style with a glass of RAINIER BEER to equilibrate the solids—They went!

Fruit Creams of Former Days.

To those old enough to remember the fruit creams of former days there always seems to be something lacking in the modern creams, delicate though these may be. The reason of this is that the gelatin, with which these latter are almost always mixed to save the prolonged whipping, destroys both the fresh flavor and the velvety crispness obtained by the simpler, if more fatiguing, process of whipping together the sweetened fruit juice and the cream. The right way is to obtain the fruit juice and sweeten it well. If this is omitted, the cream will pretty certainly curdle. Next stir it into sufficient cream for the juice to color and flavor nicely, and then whip the whole together till of the proper consistency.

Desirable Oblong Cushion.

The removable band is the especial feature that recommends this oblong cushion. It is in cream linen, on which are outlined conventional flowers and foliage in washing silks, with a scalloped edge of washing lace. The case may be of satin linen or tapestry, filled with down, and the band is fastened to it with large ribbon bows.

Damsen Plum Jam.

Wash ten pounds of damsons, put them into a porcelain lined kettle, add one cupful of water, cover the kettle and stand for 20 minutes, stirring three or four times; press the damsons through the colander to move the stones. Return the pulp to the kettle after weighing it. To each pound allow three-fourths of a pound of granulated sugar, spread the sugar out into baking pans, put it into the oven to dry and heat. Boil the pulp 15 minutes, then add the sugar, stir until the sugar is dissolved and boil about ten minutes. Turn this into jars or tumblers, and when cool cut paper layers for the tops of the jars or tumblers, brush them over with the white of egg and paste them down so as to make them air-proof.

The Ant's Mouth.

The ant's mouth consists of a pair of powerful mandibles. In the case of warrior ants, which do the fighting of an ant community, the mandibles are the most prominent feature of the insect. They are so strong that when fixed in the flesh of an enemy the ant's head may be pulled off before the mandibles will lose their hold.

Believed Him.

She (complacently)—I can easily believe that, for no one would take it.—Washington Times.

"Put Me Off At Buffalo."

The title of this wellknown song as well as the song itself emanated from the brain of an employe of the Buffalo Brewing Company. That enterprising firm, believing that a man who could compose so catchy an air must have a large and well balanced brain, straightway raised his salary. This has proven to be a good move on their part as is testified by the excellent qualities of their beer, which is dispensed over the bars of the Cosmopolitan, Pacific and Royal saloons at the rate of two glasses for 25c; half and half is also served at the same price. It is always fresh and cold and life-sustaining. Or you can get one glass of Buffalo and one of Pabst beer, the fine product of the Milwaukee brewery. Exchangeable checks good at all the above-mentioned resorts are given in change if you only want one drink. "Best beer ever in Honolulu" is the verdict of many of our prominent citizens.
