

BISHOP WILLIS DEFIED

Determined Will of Majority Church.

THE CONSPIRACY CHECKMATED

What the Second Congregation Will Do to Defend Its Rector.

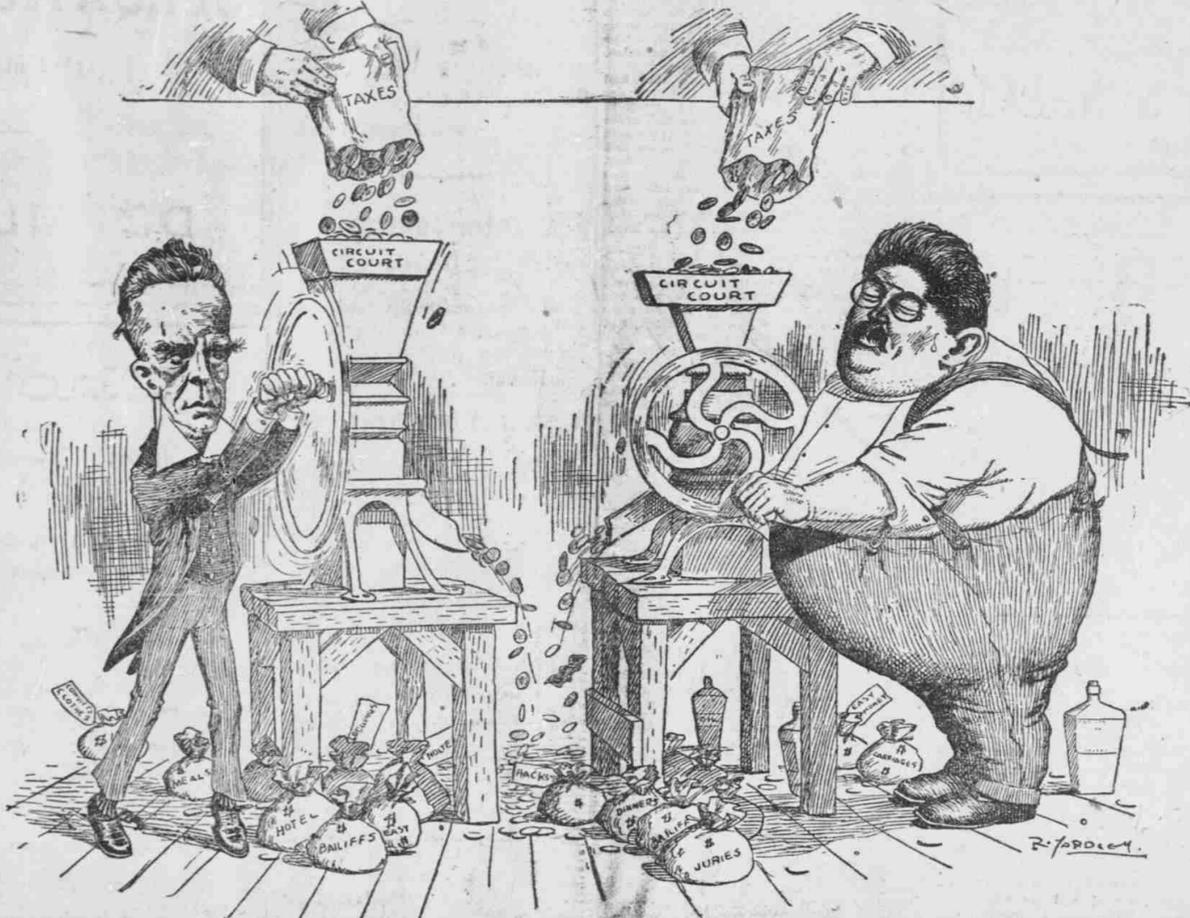

The second congregation will not comply with the demand of Bishop Willis that its members join with him in one church of which he shall be the head until such time as it may be turned over to the jurisdiction of the Protestant Episcopal church of the United States.

This action is taken rather than to jeopardize the position of Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, the Bishop having threatened to withhold his license to preach. There is but little doubt that the threat would be carried into execution by the Bishop who clearly intimates that while he is willing to give to the rector of the second congregation license to perform his duties at the Royal school, he will not extend the same courtesy to him as a minister.

The position of the second congregation is peculiar. If the Bishop persists in his present attitude and refuses to allow the second congregation further time to hear from the presiding Bishop he will gain control of the Anglican church organization in Hawaii, at the meeting to be held January 10th.

Honolulu, Dec. 28, 1901. My Dear Mr. Mackintosh:—In accordance with this notice a copy of which I

DEATH IN HONOLULU STREETS

Wires Threaten the Lives of the People.

CORONER'S JURY IN AH FAI CASE

Some Startling Evidence About Loose Methods of Electric Light Company.

At 10 o'clock last night the Coroner's Jury empaneled to determine the cause of the death of Charles Ah Fai, who was killed in McInerney's store on Saturday afternoon while handling a lever switch connecting with the electric lights in the store, found a verdict in which the Hawaiian Electric Company, Limited, was censured for not taking proper precautions in the arranging of its wires and exercising proper surveillance over the system, believing that from some negligence on the part of the company the boy had come to his death.

After listening to the testimony of electrical experts for several hours yesterday, to which was added the eyewitnesses' account of the manner in which the young Chinese met death from the electric current, and probing the matter to the bottom, the jury was of the opinion that although no direct testimony had been offered to indicate that any one was directly to blame in this particular case, yet from the condition of the electric wires in this city, other lives would be sacrificed unless some attention was given to rectifying the imperfections. Following is the verdict:

This jury finds that one Charles Ah Fai came to his death at Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, on the 28th day of December, A. D. 1901, from an electric shock received from a switch in the store of E. A. McInerney, in said Honolulu, connecting the wires in said store with the wires of the Hawaiian Electric Light Company, which said Charles Ah Fai was in the act of turning on the current.

And if the necessary precautions had been used by the Hawaiian Electric Light Company it is the belief of the jury that the said Charles Ah Fai would not have so met his death.

And in view of the expert testimony of electricians adduced in the case, this jury believes that the wires of the Hawaiian Electric Light Company are in a condition dangerous to property and life, owing to imperfect wiring and lack of necessary attention.

Therefore, this jury recommends that the Superintendent of Public Works appoint a competent inspector to inspect all electric wires in the city of Honolulu, with the power to condemn and to perform all other such acts as in the premises may seem meet.

CHAS. F. CHILLINGWORTH, Coroner.
CHAS. B. WILSON, WM. BERLOWITZ, JOHN H. WISE, R. C. GEER, R. KELLETT, A. P. TAYLOR, Jurors.
An afternoon meeting was held which was principally occupied by listening to electricians expound on the theories and mysteries of the profession. An adjournment was taken until 7:30 last evening, at which time Wm. Carey, a lineman for the Hawaiian Electric Light Company, and T. Leslie De Cew, electrical inspector for the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Territory of Hawaii, and Superintendent Frazer of the Territorial Electric Light system, testified. Both the latter gentlemen stated that the wires of the Hawaiian Electric Company were in a dangerous condition in many parts of the city and on Fort street there was one wire which was bare of insulation.

making it especially dangerous to life and property.

The jury wished to find from Wm. Carey just what had been done by Electric Company with reference to the wires and transformers on the electric wire pole on Fort street opposite McInerney's store since Saturday evening. The young fellow answered the questions promptly and did not seem evasive. He said that after the tragedy he went to the scene and immediately climbed the pole and made an inspection. He found everything in position, and there was nothing to indicate that anything had happened there to cause trouble in McInerney's store. He came down again, and met Manager Gartin, who told him to go up again. At that time he shifted an insulated wire from a close proximity to a nut which holds an arm on a pole and then came down again. He found nothing whatever that would in his opinion have caused any trouble in the wires leading from the transformer. The wires were not sagging enough to cause them to brush against one other.

Superintendent Frazee said he had taken notice of the manner in which the electric wires are strung at present. Some needed pulling up. Pins and cross arms in many places were in a position to give way, thus letting the wires fall to the street. They needed overhauling. He said the tightening of of these wires would reduce the danger to life and property. He was of the opinion that more than 110 volts had killed Ah Fai. He thought it was the fault of the Electric Company.

Mr. De Cew was a splendid witness. He said he was an inspector of new wiring but not the old. He was of the opinion that more than 110 volts had caused the boy's death. One hundred and ten volts might kill a man with a weak heart, but not one in a normal condition.

"How would you pronounce the condition of the wiring of the Electric Company in this city?" asked a juror. "I would say it is not good. The wires are slack. If you strike them with an umbrella they would brush against each other. Of course, the rapid growth of trees here interfere with the wires."

"Do you know anything about the insulation of wires overhead in this city?"

"No."
"Do you know of any not insulated?"
"I believe there is a bare wire on Fort street carrying 110 volts."

"Do you think life and property are in danger?"
"I do."
"Is there anyone in town to condemn wires?"

"There is no government inspector."
"Would the inspector have the power vested in him to order unsafe wires removed?"

"I believe the Superintendent of Public Works has the power to appoint a man with such authority."
Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth stated he had asked time and time again to have such an officer appointed.

Mr. De Cew pronounced the switch used in McInerney's store unsafe, unless people were educated to its use and made acquainted with the danger of touching the metal parts.

Expert electricians also testified at the afternoon session. The purpose of the evidence of H. A. Allen, electrical engineer, representing the Frase-Chalmers Company in Honolulu; Col. "Jack" Coffey, of the Gamewell Fire Alarm System Company; F. J. Cross, of the Wire-Insulation Company; and Superintendent Hutton, of the Hawaiian Electric Company, was to the effect that the switch used in the McInerney store was such as are in general use all over the United States; that the metal parts, when closed against the poles of the current, are alive with electricity and give off a shock to any touching it; that conditions were favorable for Ah Fai receiving a shock from the position in which he was standing, and that it was electric current and not volts that killed the young man.

Yesterday afternoon's proceedings were conducted by Deputy Sheriff Chillingworth. Dr. Charles B. Cooper was on the stand and testified as to the results of the postmortem examination. He said the cause of death was due to an electric shock. The postmortem revealed that the young man was in poor health; he was underweight for his size, somewhat emaciated; the lungs were found to be fairly normal, except some congestion in the right apex; the heart was pale, small, contracted, and was weak; kidneys were normal, liver slightly enlarged. Some of the glands were tuberculous. Dr. Cooper thought a small voltage sufficient in this case to have caused the boy's death. The physical condition of Ah Fai had much to do with the shock being fatal. It was evident that a severe shock had been produced. The burn spoke of as being on the tip of the boy's finger was evidently where a wart had been burned off.

Messrs. Cross, Allen, Coffey, McInerney and T. Quon Yee also testified.

A Timely Warning.

Editor Advertiser:—May I avail myself of this means of warning those responsible for the unsafe condition of the Honolulu Stockyards ruin, that if they have any regard for the lives and limbs of others, they had better have the wreck overhauled at once. This evening I noticed a very large portion of the charred framework on the South street side swaying bodily backwards and forwards with the wind in a manner of imminent peril to the unconscious passerby. Is it not about time that this hideous eyesore were removed, anyhow?

A CAMPAIGN OF REVENGE.

The action of Judge Humphreys in again attacking the McBryde bonds shows the depth of the animus which he feels towards Mr. Kinney. Beyond that it proves nothing, nor does it assert anything save the Judge's biased and wholly unsupported opinion about the value of the McBryde estate and the security of its bonded debt.

HARMONY WITH A HAMMER.

The Bishop's idea of harmonizing things in his warring church seems to take about this form: He would, if possible, fuse the large second congregation with the diminutive first congregation and then, by refusing to give a license to the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh, leave the united body without a pastor.

The shape of the New Year Advertiser will be nearly that chosen by Alfred Harmsworth, when he took charge of the New York World for a day, to show his ideas of the daily journal of the future.

The social experiences at Washington of Mrs. Wilcox will be followed with pleasure by the readers of our New Year number. Those who recall this Journal's interview with Mrs. Wilcox, on her return after a stay winter at the national capital, are eager to hear more about that memorable season.

Y. M. C. A. New Year.

Preparations for the Y. M. C. A. luncheon to be given at noon tomorrow in the hall of the Association, promise to be the biggest social affair of the New Year. Invitations have been issued to more than four hundred persons, and the recipients of these are expected to each bring a young man.

Football Tomorrow.

There will be a game of association football at Makiki tomorrow, commencing at 10:30 a. m. The Scottish Amateur Athletic Association team will oppose an eleven made up of members of the four league clubs.

Rheumatism

Is a rack on which you need not suffer long.

It depends on an acid condition of the blood, which affects the muscles and joints, causes inflammation and pain, and results from defective digestion and a torpid action of the liver, kidneys and skin.

Sciatica, lumbago and stiff neck are forms of it.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of rheumatism. I was so I could not lift anything and my knees were so stiff I could hardly get up or down stairs. Since taking three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I have never felt a symptom of rheumatism, and I gladly recommend Hood's for this disease." Mrs. HARRIS TRINER, Bolivar, Mo.

Prominent Business Men

Have much to say in favor of the new enclosed Arc Lamps now being installed by the Hawaiian Electric Company.
MR. W. W. DIMOND says: "I cannot say too much in praise of these lamps; they give a soft, penetrating light, evenly distributed, and without fluttering or noise. THEY ARE THE BEST LAMPS I HAVE EVER SEEN."
MR. W. H. SMITH, Manager of Manufacturers Shoe Co., says: "They are the best lights we have ever used, and I take great pleasure in recommending them."
We have many other such recommendations from prominent business men. We will install these Lamps at a small cost, and they will give you five times the amount of light of the incandescent at the same cost. All other lights are yellow in comparison. No trouble. No danger. Burn eighty hours with one trimming. Many other points in favor of these Lamps which we will be glad to tell you.
Send us a postal, or ring up Main 390, and we will be pleased to call at your office.

enclose, the license given to the signers of a certain memorial dated August, 1885, under which the Second Congregation December 21st, 1901, will expire on...

With the dissolution of the congregation your license also expires, but as I have pointed out to your wardens, it will be open to you to receive a new license under new conditions for the performance of such ministerial duties as a servant of the government holding an important and onerous post, is free at all times to discharge.

ALFRED WILLIS, Bishop of Honolulu.

Honolulu, Dec. 28, 1901.

W. R. Castle, Jr., Esq., Geo. F. Davies, Church Wardens, Second Congregation.

Dear Sirs:—I beg to enclose a copy of a notice which will be affixed to the church door tomorrow. Under the constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church, the license given in 1885 to the signers of a certain memorial, under which the Second Congregation continued to exist, necessarily becomes void.

With a view of bringing the members of the Second Congregation into union with the cathedral, there will also be another notice inviting all male communicants in the city to register so as to be qualified to vote for the cathedral wardens, et cetera, under the new order for 1902.

The license of the minister of the Second Congregation naturally expires with the license of the congregation, but as I have already stated to you, a new license can be given him under the new order, to perform such ministerial duty as a servant of the government holding an important and onerous post, is free at all times to discharge.

Yours very faithfully,

ALFRED WILLIS, Bishop of Honolulu.

P. S.—Fifteen days' grace being allowed, the new order will not actually begin until after the 15th of January, 1902, Sunday, the 15th.

"You have heard the reading of these documents," said Mr. Castle, "and of course they require some reply, and we would like to hear any suggestions as to what the reply shall be. No doubt the Bishop thinks his plan is for the interests of the church, and under certain conditions the offer would have been accepted, but these ill-considered methods he seeks to have us adopt can hardly be considered. We have been a separate congregation for sixteen years and have grown up in that idea, and while by the offering of sympathy and like methods the union could have been effected, yet a step which would inevitably consider cannot be compelled to take. The conditions which made necessary a separate congregation sixteen years ago still exist, nor have the present difficulties passed away, nor can they until the new Bishop arrives."

Mr. George Davies stated that, as had been suggested, if a different way was offered the two congregations may have joined. "We are left in the same condition as were our fathers sixteen years ago," he said. "It is the same principle our fathers fought for. In this case we are dealing with the office, not with Bishop Willis. It is not a personal matter, and there is no need of reflection or prejudice, but we cannot acquiesce in the statement of the Bishop that the license of this congregation expires or that of the Rev. Mr. Mackintosh becomes void."

Mr. Clive Davies then stated the facts leading up to the ultimatum delivered by the Bishop Sunday. He said that Mr. Castle and himself had received an intimation of the prospective action of the Bishop some time since in an official way, and had paid the Bishop a visit to discuss the policy of the step. He stated that they had advised the Bishop to take the chance, if his people wished, but simply to withdraw. This plan was adopted, Mr. Castle stating that the congregation did not wish Mr. Mackintosh to get into trouble for preaching without a license, though the latter stated that he was perfectly willing to take the chance, if his people wished him to. He stated that the best plan was simply to keep quiet and do nothing until they heard from the presiding bishop, but to be ready to assemble when word came from him. The following resolution was then adopted:

would be if the second congregation agreed to the Bishop's demands? "Simply that for the next three months everything would be under control of Bishop Willis, and he would have charge of funds and church property. And if you include myself in it, that's the end of yours truly," said Mr. Mackintosh.

The reply was greeted with general laughter. He stated further that if no change of heart had been experienced among his people, no one would go near the church at all. He said that he was afraid of disintegration, and that it would be hard work to keep up the spiritual entity of the church, and it would go down and cease to be the factor for good it now is. Then there would likely be another revolution from the church as before, though he said that the second congregation had not succeeded, but had always followed its existence. Bishop Willis afterwards responded for the names, "First and second congregation," and the English-speaking church was really the first congregation.

Mr. Davies thought that probably the Bishop would be willing to extend the time for a few months, as at first he had said it could not under any circumstances be extended beyond the first of January, and as it is now they were given until the 19th; a few weeks longer would make little difference. The draft of a letter in reply from the church wardens to the effect that the matter would be appealed to the presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church and requesting Bishop Willis to defer action until a reply should be received to that appeal, was submitted by the congregation, and the resolution proposed by T. Clive Davies and seconded by E. I. Keen, was unanimously carried:

"That the wardens reply to the bishop by letter in the form presented to the meeting by Mr. Castle."

The reply also questioned the right of the bishop to declare a license void, and asked that the portion of the constitution which gave him such authority. The offer is also made to abide by the decision of the presiding bishop whatever it might be, and the letter will declare that the minister had done nothing to forfeit his right to a license.

Mr. Davies explained that the only license the bishop would grant to the Rev. Mr. Mackintosh was to remain at the head of the Royal School. Mr. Mackintosh thought that the appeal to the American Church must result favorably, but they were not despondent, and had only been defending their rights; that they were brought up in the English Church, and from what he knew of the men at the head of the American Church, they were broad and noble enough to pardon any mistake made through ignorance.

The following resolution, introduced by Mr. Castle and seconded by Mr. Catton, was unanimously adopted:

"That the vestry be authorized and instructed to prepare an appeal to the presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the proposed action of the Bishop of Honolulu in withdrawing the license of the Rev. Mr. Mackintosh as a separate congregation, worshipping in the cathedral, and the license of the Rev. Alexander Mackintosh as our minister, with full power to the vestry to act on behalf of this congregation."

The next question was the action to be taken in the event that the bishop refused to accede to the compromise suggested by the Second Congregation. It was suggested that the members of the congregation simply withdraw and not sign the register, or else stay away from church altogether until the American bishop is installed. The Rev. Mr. Mackintosh favored this latter plan, of quietly withdrawing to worship at home, or elsewhere, nothing except that of meeting together in the cathedral. He thought that the meetings in the cathedral could not be held except by the use of force, and he counseled against this. It was his plan to attend church, as Bishop Willis wished, but simply to withdraw. This plan was adopted, Mr. Castle stating that the congregation did not wish Mr. Mackintosh to get into trouble for preaching without a license, though the latter stated that he was perfectly willing to take the chance, if his people wished him to. He stated that the best plan was simply to keep quiet and do nothing until they heard from the presiding bishop, but to be ready to assemble when word came from him. The following resolution was then adopted:

"In the event of the bishop refusing to postpone his action pending a reply to our appeal from the presiding bishop, it is the sense of the congregation that they should with dignity protest against this infringement of their rights as illegal; but if prevented from continuing to worship in the cathedral, they should withdraw from the cathedral until such time as the reply from the presiding bishop shall be received."

The Rev. Mr. Mackintosh stated that the bishop will now be compelled to keep up the expense of the church for the next three months from his own resources, and by the end of the year the members of the Second Congregation would be willing and able to pay taxes toward the improvement needed under the American bishop. After a short expression of hope in the future of a closer prayer, the meeting adjourned.

THE NEW CHARTER

The English version of the constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, as amended by the General Convention of 1893, was taken up in the vestry, for a new charter of incorporation. It was stated that the English version of the constitution was adopted by the General Convention of 1893, and that the American version was adopted by the General Convention of 1895. The resolution for which this application for an amended charter is made is as follows:

"In consequence of the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands by the United States of America, and the consequent union of the Hawaiian Church in Hawaii and the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, the Hawaiian Church in Hawaii, and the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, are hereby united in a single congregation, and the constitution of the Hawaiian Church in Hawaii, as amended by the General Convention of 1895, is hereby adopted as the constitution of the Hawaiian Church in Hawaii, and the constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, as amended by the General Convention of 1893, is hereby adopted as the constitution of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America."

of the church might at any time require. "The circumstances in which the Anglican Church in Hawaii is placed in consequence of the annexation of the islands by the United States require the adoption by the said church of the same changes in the Formularies of the Church of England as were made by the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America when American colonies became independent of Great Britain.

"That the changes made in these Formularies by the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States did not affect doctrine or worship of the Church of England, it is said: 'In which it was also apparent that this church is far from intending to depart from the Church of England in any essential point of doctrine, discipline or worship, or further than local circumstances require,' and secondly, by the same circumstances which has always been maintained between the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States and the Church of England.

The circumstances of the Anglican Church in Hawaii further require that the property of this church should henceforth be administered in accordance with the constitution, canons, rules, regulations and discipline of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States of America, the Anglican Church in Hawaii having through its Diocesan Synod, promised allegiance to the said constitution."

The amended articles filed with the petition were the same as published in full in the Advertiser three weeks ago.

Orators Are Shy.

At a recent Home Rule caucus, John Emmelhut reported that invitations have been sent to prominent men of this and all the other Islands, to speak at the mass meeting, and that so far he had received only one response. This letter was from Federal Judge Estee. The letter of Judge Estee was read. The judge said that as he was an official of the United States government, he did not consider that it would be right for him to accept the invitation, as he must refuse to take any part in local politics. None of the others to whom the letters had been addressed had replied at the time the meeting was held.

GOV'T WANTS

Bishop Street Plans Change and Thoroughfare May be But Two Blocks Long.

Unless the Young and Bishop estate interests surrender their rights to the new Bishop street, between Hotel and King streets, the government will refuse to take steps to open the street, as proposed, through to Queen. Superintendent of Public Works Boyd is of opinion that the owners of that block should not receive the benefits which would accrue from a street which extends on to the waterfront, without bearing part of the expense of the opening of the thoroughfare.

With this condition of affairs there is a probability that the promoters of the second block of the street, Messrs. Engelth and Pearson will take the same steps which have been taken by the other interests, and make their block of street a private one and that there will not be an extension through to the Esplanade, as projected. The negotiations are not off, but there seems little hope of any other determination of them. The point which is now being considered is a combination of all interests, and if this is accomplished there will be a two-block street at most.

There appeared to the men who have the second block some cogent reasons why there should be government action, although they had originally planned the private ownership scheme. Superintendent Boyd was approached and asked to institute proceedings to condemn the holdings which lie between King street and Queen street. This he declined to do after consideration, and the result was that the people in the deal are now going on with their plans, privately. Superintendent Boyd says he has excellent reasons for his action. As the government now has an agreement with the estate which owns the lands below Queen street, which will be used to straighten out the new street if the extension is made to Queen, he cannot proceed above that point unless all the property may be considered by any jury or commission which is formed for the purpose of taking the matter under consideration. He said:

"In my official duty I am compelled to take cognizance of the fact that the property above King street will be greatly benefited by the opening of this street through to the waterfront. In consequence of this benefit I believe there should be an assessment, for the purpose of paying the expenses, against the buildings. The keeping of the street a private one will relieve the buildings there from assessments for betterments, and this is not, in my opinion, a plan which the government should step in and at great expense give acre for acre and foot for foot for the property needed, and then receive only a part of the revenues which should come from the expenditures. I am not of opinion that the government is justified in taking these steps, and giving all the benefits to private parties. With this view I have refused to take the steps desired for the condemnation of the property between King street and Queen for this road."

The Hawaiian Hotel corridors and office are undergoing an extensive renovation, fresh paint, beautifying them to a large extent.

Albert H. Nawali has made application to Treasurer Wright for a license to sell beer at Kapaena, District of Puna, on Hawaii.

Mr. A. B. Wood, of Henry Waterhouse & Co., will leave for a six weeks trip to San Francisco, in the Ventura, which sails today.

The weekly prayer meeting of Central Union Church will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening. The business meeting of the society will occur at 8:30.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Rodman, who have been stopping at the Hawaiian Hotel since their arrival, have taken quarters on the Iroquois, of which ship the officer is in command.

Messrs. Beardslee and Page, the architects who are preparing the plans for the new memorial building for the Kapiolani estate, are not connected with its proposed construction in any way other than as the architects, and will build it only in the sense of exercising supervision over the work.

A large quantity of plants and seed were received for the United States experimental station, from Japan, by the City of Peking. The consignment comprised a large number of seedlings of curious Japanese plants, as well as plums, grapes, pears and figs from the Orient. The seeds are to be planted on the Tantalus station soon.

The Healan Yacht and Boat Club will keep open house tomorrow afternoon to their friends. Invitations have been sent out, and it is only those holding them that will have the privilege of the popular clubhouse. There will be dancing in the afternoon interspersed with the serving of refreshments by Manager Wyn of the Pacific Club.

E. M. Griffith, the expert from the Bureau of Forestry, spent yesterday morning on Tantalus with Wray Taylor and Forester Haughton. He was highly delighted with the forests shown him, and expressed himself as much gratified at the success attending the planting of such a large area. He left in the evening with David Haughton on the Claudine for Maui, and will go from there to Hawaii for a month's stay.

While a Liliha street Rapid Transit car was coming down the grade last evening about 6 o'clock, one of the male passengers lost his hat overboard. Instead of waiting for the car to be slowed down, the owner of the headgear made a flying leap to the ground. The rest of the passengers expected to find nothing but a dead body, but luckily the man, after rolling over and over for several feet, jumped up, ran back and rescued his hat, but lost the car.

DESIRABLE GIFTS

We would again call to your attention our line of TOILET SETS, BRUSHES, COMBS, MIRRORS of every description.

FOR GENTLEMEN.

MILITARY BRUSHES IN CASES by themselves or in combination with a clothes brush, exactly the thing for the bachelor's dressing table, or for the benedict's. Other varieties for gentlemen who prefer the ordinary shape. In EBONOID, with solid backs from THREE DOLLARS. Also with sterling silver name and crest plates.

FOR THE LADIES.

Toilet sets of plentiful variety and artistic workmanship.

MIRRORS to complete a set or in combination with COMBS and BRUSHES. In EBONOID, with or without sterling silver mounts. In the new metal COSMEON, LIGHT, DURABLE and IMPOSSIBLE TO TARNISH. These sets are most satisfactory. The metal is either oxidized to resemble gun metal, while elaborate designs are engraved upon the back showing the bright metal in relief, or the metal is frosted, with artistic repousse or engraved designs to enhance their beauty.

We have through timely and judicious buying been enabled to offer these goods at TWENTY TO THIRTY PER CENT BELOW USUAL PRICES, and yet retain a fair margin of profit. The goods are in no sense cheap and would grace any toilet table. PRICES FROM $3.00 THE SET.

UTILITY IS AN ESSENTIAL.

To the up-to-date Christmas gift. The time of giving expensive and useless trifles is past. Here is a suggestion that has probably not occurred to you.

WHY NOT SPARKLETS?

Our supply of these outfits comprises many varieties made in designs to suit the furniture of the most elaborate dinner table. The gift would be thoroughly appreciated, and the donor remembered every time the compressed carbonic acid in the little capsules turned a glass of water, milk, lemonade or claret from a flat drink into a nectar fit for the gods, a sparkling, bubbling liquid charged with inspiration and health: AN IDEAL DRAUGHT FOR THE TROPICS—HEALTHFUL AND INVIGORATING.

We have a dual reason in urging these and a selfish one. Buy one for your friend, and you will infallibly buy one later for yourself. They are not expensive—FROM TWO AND A HALF DOLLARS UP.

PLAN A PARK FOR MEMORIAL

McKinley Square Will Be the Result.

UNANIMOUS VOTE IN COMMITTEE

Local Bodies Will Get Together for Final Discussion of Site and Expense.

A playground, park or square, which will combine all the features of the recreation grounds of the best cities of the world, promises to be the memorial which is to be offered by Hawaii to the memory of William McKinley. The executive committee decided at its meeting yesterday that this would be given as its expression of opinion as to the end to which the funds collected should be put, and without a dissenting vote the conclusion was reached.

When the executive committee met in the office of C. M. Cooke yesterday afternoon there were present Governor Dole, Mr. Cooke, Mr. F. A. Schaefer, Mr. Imanishi and the Rev. W. D. Westervelt. The meeting was opened with the request of the Oahu committee that there be expressed some distinct idea as to the form of memorial, so that the work of collection of funds might proceed. There was some little discussion, but it was very early developed that there was only one general idea in the minds of the committeemen, that the universal demand for a playground should be met and the funds collected for the memorial spent in this way.

Governor Dole said that he had been in conversation with Andrew Brown on this subject, and had been told that there seemed no reason why at least $15,000 should not be collected for this purpose in the city. The governor gave it as his opinion that success would follow a plan for the establishment of a ground where there could be encouragement of all athletic sports as well as a place for the playing of the smaller children. There should be thus united in the work of preparing the ground all the interests of the young people and the ultimate success of the plan would be assured. There could be found a site which would be accessible and this would do much for the interesting of the general public in the getting in shape of the fund and the grounds in the future.

Speaking further on the subject, he said that he did not think there was any other place in the islands which would seriously expect that there should be a memorial placed there by the citizens of the Territory. In his opinion it would be exceedingly unwise to consider the raising of a fund and then cutting it up and placing a small memorial, such as a tablet in a large number of points about the group. What he had heard from Hilo was that there existed an objection to the construction of a memorial of utility here, but that in his opinion there would be no objection to the erection of any other kind of a memorial. He did not consider that there would be the slightest objection from that city to the placing here of a memorial purely of beauty and art. He thought if Hilo could be told that it was the intention of Honolulu to construct a park or recreation ground here, and that there would be placed in it by popular subscription a monument to the late President, there would be no hesitation there as to the taking up of the work. The point which appealed to him at this time, he said, was whether or not there should be action by this small representation or a waiting for a larger body of the committee or a body of citizens with other committees, to decide such a point.

Mr. Westervelt said one point was whether or not there was under consideration a proposed site for the playground, and Governor Dole answered that he had heard of several sites. He said Mr. Brown had mentioned that there was a plot, 600 by 600 feet at the end of King street, the property of the Bishop estate, which could be purchased cheaply and which was accessible by the cars that it would be an ideal site for a ground such as is proposed. This plot, he said, was large enough for all purposes. The land, he said, was so rocky that there was no use for it as a garden spot. This plot, he said, would be much more accessible for the people than Kapiolani park or Moanalua. Dr. Wood had also mentioned a site in Nuuanu valley, where the air was always cool, and Mr. Cooke mentioned a block in the college subdivision.

Mr. Cooke also made the point that there must be considered a plan for the keeping up of the park once it is constructed, and went into the matter of cost at some length. Mr. Dole mentioned that there was a place in the fat belt between the city and old Waikiki which, if it is unsuitable for homes, would be good for a playground, and that it would cost very little to have it filled in.

Mr. Dole said he thought the plan should be to decide not upon any particular site or plan, but to settle the question as to whether or not there should be a park or a monument. Mr. Schaefer suggested that there be some plan followed for the taking note of public sentiment upon the subject.

Mr. Westervelt then moved that it be expressed as the sentiment of the committee that the members were in favor of a square and playground as a memorial to the late President McKinley. In discussing the matter he said that he sympathized with Mr. Schaefer's plan for securing the ideas of the people, but that there seemed to be only one sentiment. Mr. Schaefer said that there was a consideration which must not be overlooked, that the building of a playground would be a matter which would be dependent upon the amount which could be collected. In the matter of a monument, which was to be a credit to the community, there must be spent upon it such a sum as would permit the erection of an art production. Should a square be decided upon at times there could be added to it many features which would beautify it, and as Thomas Square now commemorates a great event in Hawaiian history, so in the future McKinley Park would come to be a memorial of the great change which had taken place in the Territory and the people of it.

Mr. Imanishi said there had been little discussion among the Japanese people, and that there would be little until there had been some more definite proposal placed before the public. He thought there could be added to the park at any time such features as monuments and statues, tablets and arches, as would give it a thoroughly memorial aspect. There was a vote then taken, which showed every member in favor of expressing the opinion which was urged by Mr. Westervelt.

C. M. Cooke then moved that a committee of two be appointed to consider the sites which might be offered for the use of the committee, and to give some estimates as to the cost of fitting up these sites for the uses to which they are to be put. When this had passed unanimously, there was a demand that Messrs. McCandless and Cooke serve upon this committee, and the Governor was persuaded to act as the chairman ex officio.

There was a decision reached that at

A HANDSOME WASHINGTON BRIDE OF WINTER SEASON

The marriage of Miss Ethel L. Sigbee, a niece of Captain Sigbee, who was commander of the ill-fated Maine, with Robert Tombs Small, a son of the Rev. Sam Small, the evangelist, will be a brilliant event in Washington this winter. Miss Sigbee is exceptionally talented in music and elocution. She is a blonde, with delicate coloring and refined features, qualities that are reflected in her manner and speech. She is a worthy type of the well-bred American girl.

the next meeting the members of the Oahu committee should be called into the meeting with the executive committee, and a general discussion of the future work had at that time.

Treasurer C. M. Cooke reported that he now had in his hands the sum of $573.70, which had been contributed to the fund. The new contributions included $125.50 from Ekele, Kaula, from committeeman J. I. Silva, who had asked for more subscription blanks. This with $30.55 received from Mr. Imanishi, and $42.50 from the Ieper settlement, had made the additions.

OAHU COMMITTEE MEETS.

There was only a fair meeting of the Oahu committee of the McKinley Memorial body. Chairman Henry Waterhouse was out of town, and Vice Chairman Roy Chamberlain was detained by business. Secretary Farrington presided, and there was little discussion. The chair suggested that there should be some plans made for the canvassing of the city, but it was objected that until there had been a definite decision and communication of the executive committee as to what money is needed, there could be no progress made. As the two committees are to meet together, this will not mean any great delay. The tenor of the discussion was that there is now such a point reached as to insure the success of the work, if there is no further delay.

Mrs. Frasher said that she would suggest as to the schools that there be a presentation of the plans to each room and also that there be perhaps entertainments by the pupils, so as to bring the parents into closer contact with the plans. Miss Felker said she thought there should be a presentation of the object of the work to each school and each room, so that the children might be awakened, and she said that if there was some good work done, there would be no difficulty in securing more money from the schools than anyone seemed to think possible.

A letter was read from R. Law in which he said that in the event of the failure of the committee to erect a monument that there should be a school house which would accommodate 1,000 children, as this would be a memorial which would have appealed to the man whose memory is to be honored.

The committee adjourned without any action. Those present were W. R. Farrington, Miss Felker, Mrs. Frasher, President C. B. Dyke, Andrew Brown and John C. Lane.

The Island steamers had things pretty well to themselves yesterday on account of the two big companies having forwarded their sailing schedules a full day owing to New Year's Day coming on a Wednesday. The Kinau went out at noon with an excursion crowd bound for Hilo races. With her went the band, which considerably enlivened things at the wharf previous to her departure. The Claudine sailed at 5 p. m. for Maui ports, taking with her a goodly complement of passengers. The W. G. Hall departed about 2 p. m. for Lahaina, Maalaea, Kona and Kau. At 5 p. m. the Mikahala got away for Kaula; the Lehua for Molokai; the Ke Au Hou for Koloa and the James Makee for Anahola, Kilauea and Hanamaulu. The only foreign arrival during the day was the bark C. D. Bryant from San Francisco. The ship Benjamin Sewall came in from outside, where she had been anchored overnight. No foreign vessels went out, but the bark Kailani and the barkentine W. H. Dimond are expected to sail for San Francisco today.

A Curious Cargo.
The ship George Curtis brought with her a sperm whale which was ordered by the Bishop Museum over two years ago. The big mammal is being discharged at the Irmgard wharf. It came in parts, which fill twenty-two crates. It measures 100 cubic tons, but its actual weight is about twenty tons. The whale cost $2,500, and the freight bill will be about as much more.

The specimen was supplied by Ward, of Rochester, N. Y. The animal will be mounted and suspended from the ceiling of the Museum's new annex. One-half of the skeleton will be left bare, but the other half will be covered with some substance to represent the skin of a whale. The sperm whale is an inhabitant of these waters.

Shipping Notes.
The new bulkheads at the Inter-Island wharf has been completed.
The steamer Maui sails for Hawaii ports on Thursday at 5 p. m.
Captain Emerson will remain here while the Mauna Loa is on the way.
The bark Kailani and barkentine W. H. Dimond will sail for San Francisco today.
Erica Cupid's new yacht, the Princess, is expected from the Colonies on the Ventura today.
The bark C. D. Bryant, which arrived yesterday, made the trip from San Francisco in thirteen days.
The schooner Rob Roy returned from Pearl river yesterday with a cargo of sand. She sailed on Saturday.
The steamer Ventura, due to arrive here from the Colonies today, will be dispatched as quickly as possible.

The porser of the Mauna Loa and his assistants went out in the Hall yesterday in place of the regular force.
The steamers Kinau and W. G. Hall each took large parties of Japanese laborers to the other Islands from quarantine yesterday.
The ship Lucille, seventeen days out from Puget Sound for Kihel, H. L. put into San Francisco on the 13th, partially dismantled and in a leaky condition.
The four-masted barkentine Lahaina at Port Townsend, Wash., on the 8th, made the trip across the Pacific from Shanghai in thirty-two days, thereby making a record passage for sailing vessels.
Just before the Kinau sailed yesterday, a lady dropped her purse into the water. A native who was "rubbering" fell overboard, also. While in the water he secured the purse, which had floated, and returned it to its owner.

TO WEIGH CANE JUICE

Machines Made by Honolulu Iron Works.

On the last steamer to Australia the Honolulu Iron Works shipped the first consignment of a new cane-juice weighing machine, the patent for which is held by C. Hedemann, manager of the Iron Works.

Three of these machines were shipped to the Colonial Sugar Refining Company of Sydney, New South Wales, practically the only sugar refinery in Australia of any importance.

The machines are intended to weigh the density of the juice of the cane as it comes from the rollers and they work automatically. Those who have tested the machines in the Hawaiian Islands pronounce them a great assistance to them in bringing about the best results.

REV. L. M. HARTLEY IN HIGH ESTEEM

Anti-Saloon League Thanks Him for His Labors in Honolulu.

Rev. L. M. Hartley, the retiring superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, who is about to leave Honolulu for the coast to engage there in the same fight against the liquor traffic that he has undertaken in the Hawaiian Islands, departs with the best wishes of his co-workers in the cause.

Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, December 28th, 1901.

Dear Brother Hartley:—We wish to express to you, on behalf of the Anti-Saloon League of this city, its high appreciation of your services in our midst, and its sincere regret at the necessity of your separation from us.

Not only have you organized the various departments of work of the League, but you have, in presenting its great aim before the people in the different churches and elsewhere, established a hope and confidence that there may be a solid accomplishment along the lines indicated.

In addition to this, you have personally endeavored yourself to all with whom you have come into close contact. Your happy and tactful manner in the meeting of men, and your careful presentation and handling of subjects, have won for yourself high consideration and esteem everywhere.

While we might add much expressive of our regret at your departure from us, we believe it will be sufficient to remind you of the feeling spontaneously expressed on the part of the members of the Executive Council of the League at the time of your resignation.

Please be assured that, as you leave us, you carry with you our warmest esteem, and our prayer for your most efficient service in the Lord's work, the same as it has been here.

In closing we cannot help expressing our hope for the speedy recovery of the wife's health, which has necessitated this step on your part.

On behalf of the Anti-Saloon League of Hawaii, we are,

Yours very fraternally,

THEODORE RICHARDS,

REV. G. L. PEARSON,

W. A. BOWEN.

AGE NO BAR.

It Does Not Enter Into the Question you may have it and not know it. You may be young; you may be old. Symptoms the same in both.

A babe with weak kidneys has backache. A man of 60 or 80 with weak kidneys has backache.

That's the way it talks with all ages. Doan's Backache Kidney Pills cure the babe and the man.

That's the way they do in all ages. No wonder, though, they're made for it. They couldn't cure a simple case of colic.

But they cure bad cases of kidney trouble. If your back aches, try them.

Writing under date January 10th, 1899, Jurgen Walter of this city tells us as follows: "My age is 79—well past the ordinary span of life, and I am the parent of eight children. Being so far advanced in years, I regard the relief obtained from Doan's Backache Kidney Pills.

I suffered from a lame back for years, but after taking some of the pills (procured at Hollister's drug store) was greatly benefited, and I am satisfied the pills did me much good."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are becoming popular in Honolulu because they are always endorsed by Honolulu people.

Our kidneys filter our blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily; when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disordered eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all chemists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box, or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

SOME ADVICE CONCERNING JULIA'S GARDEN.

Julia has a garden fair At the edge of town— Marigolds and roses rare, Sweet to bind in Julia's hair And upon her gown.

Four-o'clocks and touch-me-not, Pride o' prince's feather, Daisies and forget-me-not, Wistful little bergamot— Growing all together.

Sunday Julia walked with me When the sun was down; Very sweet and fair was she— Heaven must have envied me At the edge o' town.

What saw I of flowers fair— Or cared that I should see? No flower in all the world so rare As that sweet one beside me there. When Julia walked with me.

Julia has a garden fair At the edge o' town— Would you see the flowers rare? Walk not, then, with Julia there, When the sun is down. —Charles Edward Thomas in Harper's Bazar.

STUDIED THE SOIL

Jury Learns About Pearl Harbor Mud.

MULES STUCK IN THE MIRE

Jurymen and Attorneys Had to Help Get Wagon and Animals Out.

The jury in the case of the United States vs. the Honolulu Plantation Co. formed an intimate acquaintance yesterday with the nature of the soils which comprise the 617 acres of Pearl Harbor land wanted by the government for a naval station. They ascertained not only its depth but its consistency and general nature, not only for valuation, but also for practical purposes.

The jury in charge of Marshal Hendry and a bailiff left on the nine o'clock train yesterday morning. In the party also were Clerk Maling, United States Attorney Dunne, Captain Pond, Lieutenant Rodman and Manager Low.

At the Pearl Harbor station they were met by Judge Estee and Captain Merry and Judge Silliman, who had made the trip overland in buggies. Two big lumbering wagons (without springs) and half a dozen saddle horses were placed at the disposal of the marshal, and the jury immediately began its trip of inspection. The wagons were not comfortable at the best, and an unexpected incident at the start came near wrecking the party and sent those who had remained in the wagons to the more certain footing of the earth.

The damage to the roads by the rains of the past few days was still noticeable, especially upon the Bishop Estate land, which had no road to speak of, in the first place. The mud became softer and softer as the party progressed and the six mules attached to the wagon containing the heavy weights on the jury began to show plainly the effects of the struggle through the wheel-deep earth. The United States attorney would have been glad to admit that the soil was of greater depth than a few inches in some places, while the Honolulu Plantation Co. counsel were but wishing that the evidence had referred to the particular spot where they now found themselves. The wheels sunk to the hub into the mud and finally the mules, wallowing about in the mucky depths up to their bodies, gave up the task in disgust, and one by one calmly settled to rest, leaving the wagon and its occupants to shift for themselves. Four of the animals lay on their side and made no effort to extricate themselves from the predicament, though driver, attorneys, marshal and jurymen yelled themselves hoarse.

There was no other recourse but to get out and push, and with one last appeal to the unhearing brutes, they were un hitched from the traces and by hard work on the part of the tired jurymen were helped from the bed of mud they had so gladly chosen. Then by the united efforts of the remaining mules and members of the party the wagon was also removed, but the jurymen were loath to trust to the treacherous rig again, and the greater part of the trip was made on foot or by horseback. Captain Merry and Manager Low pointed out the boundaries of the land to the jurymen and they also visited the well, which is the source of water supply now on the plantation.

The inspection tour was concluded shortly before noon and the jury was given lunch at the Honolulu Plantation. This lunch was brought down from the city by Marshal Hendry, as the Honolulu Plantation Co. could not furnish meals to the jury, being the defendant in this case, though the jurymen that visited the land previously were guests of Manager Low.

It was expected that there would be some contention on the part of the defendant to allow the jury to visit the mill and pumps of the Honolulu Plantation Co., but if Judge Silliman had any such intentions they were not disclosed, and the inspection was confined to the property, the lease of which is now in dispute.

The return was made upon the early afternoon train. Captain Merry and Judge Estee made the return by carriage overland, as did Judge Silliman and Mr. Dunne.

The jurymen and the court officials were all tired and worn out on their return, for besides their long walk through the mud they had a fierce wind to contend with the entire day. For that reason they were not compelled to return to the courtroom, but were dismissed at the railroad station.

Court will be convened at ten o'clock this morning. Allan Herbert will be the first witness to be called today, on behalf of the government.

HERPICIDE TO HAVE THICK, LUXURIANT HAIR

Is the most longed-for desire of every woman, she knows what a powerful aid to beauty it is, and endeavors to make her own as soft, glossy and thick as possible. Comparatively few of them are aware as yet that Newbro's Herpicide, a recent scientific discovery, will enable them to possess hair as thick and luxuriant as anyone could desire.

It works on a new theory of destroying the germ that feeds upon the hair root, and thus making dandruff and falling hair impossible. It then proceeds to produce a growth of thick, glossy hair that soon becomes the pride of its owner.

One trial will convince you of its virtues.

WHITEHEAD TORPEDO.

History of Missiles That is Dreaded by Navies.

Engineering recounts the history of the Whitehead torpedo. In the year 1860, Captain Luppis, of the Austrian Navy, conceived the idea of a boat for coast defense, dirigible from a distance, and carrying an explosive charge to be fired by a contact device. In 1864 Captain Luppis associated himself with Mr. Whitehead, so as to bring practical mechanical ability to work on his invention. Mr. Whitehead quickly decided that the idea of a boat steered from the shore was impracticable, and that the only possibility of success was offered by an underwater projectile independent from the moment it was launched. The first torpedo, as we now understand the word, was finished in October, 1866. It had a diameter of 14 inches, and a length of 12 feet. It had a speed of 6 to 7 knots at 700 yards. Further trials were made from the Austrian gunboat Gemse in 1867 and 1868. Up to that time the depth of the torpedo had been controlled by a hydrostatic plate only. The trials made in 1868 showed that something else was necessary; that is to say, although the hydrostatic plate gave the torpedo a good depth, the variations from these depths might be as much as 8 (torpedo on the surface) to 6 or 8 metres. Here Mr. Whitehead brought out the invention known for so many years as the "secret" of the torpedo, the one thing necessary to turn it into a weapon of precision as far as its depth-keeping properties were concerned. This invention consisted in the addition of a pendulum, controlled by a second pair of horizontal rudders, so that the hydrostatic plate now governed the absolute depth, and the pendulum prevented the depth line varying appreciably from the horizontal. In July, 1870, Mr. Whitehead made a series of experiments in presence of the representatives of the British admiralty at Sheerness, with such satisfactory results that the British government acquired the use of the invention in 1871, as Austria had already done in 1868. This example was followed by France, and in 1873 by Italy and Germany, with the proviso, however, from the latter power that the speed of the torpedo must be brought up to at least 16 knots for a run of 600 yards. In the course of a year this task was easily accomplished, and the torpedo made for the German government ran 17 knots for a distance of 700 metres; this was a 14-inch torpedo, 29 feet long. In 1875 Norway, Sweden and Denmark acquired the right to the use of the invention, and in 1876 Turkey and Russia. For the last-mentioned government torpedoes were constructed, not only for use from ships, but also for coast defense; they had a length of 22 feet, and made 17 to 18 knots at 1,000 metres. Portugal adopted the weapon in 1877, followed shortly afterwards by Argentina, Belgium, Chili and Greece. In 1885 by Holland, in 1891 by the United States, and in 1895 by Japan, which up to then had been supplied by the German torpedo works of Schwarzkopf & Co. China, hitherto supplied by the same firm, was the latest addition to the list.

OVERRIDES MASTER'S REPORT

Humphreys' Kick on McBryde Bonds.

IGNORES EXPERT TESTIMONY

Form of Trust Deed Criticised Same as in Nearly All Sugar Bonds.

In the face of an exceedingly favorable report, which he himself had ordered, Judge Humphreys yesterday ordered Alfred W. Carter, as guardian of the property of Annie T. K. Parker, to dispose of the bonds of the McBryde and Waiwala Plantations held by him for his ward.

The report of the master, F. J. Russell, stated that the Waiwala bonds of $1,000,000 were secured by property worth $3,500,000, while the McBryde bond of $750,000 was secured by property valued at $2,000,000. He said it was "good security." Humphreys decided that it was not, and based his ruling upon a clause in the trust deed which makes necessary the consent of a majority of the bondholders before the mortgage can be foreclosed. The reason given by the court, in the minds of most people, is not believed to be the real cause for his attempt to discredit McBryde's bonds, after the examination ordered by him had had an opposite result than expected. His enmity to W. A. Kinney is believed to be at the bottom of the order, for the attorney is largely interested in that plantation.

If the reason given by Judge Humphreys in his ruling yesterday is the real cause of the disapproval of the bonds, he will continue and order an examination into every trust fund now in circuit court, for nearly every plantation bond is subject to the same criticism as the trust deeds in each are practically the same. Humphreys' order of yesterday will compel the guardian, Alfred W. Carter, to himself assume the bonds purchased by him for the ward, Annie T. K. Parker and pay to her interest on the amount, $31,000, invested in these bonds at 6 per cent. Aside from this, the decision will be of no effect, as it is not anticipated that it will affect the market value of such securities, when the report of the master is taken into consideration.

The report of the master, F. J. Russell, was read yesterday morning upon the opening of court as follows:

"The master's report filed herein on the 12th day of December, 1901, was referred back by the Court for further investigation as to the quality of the security of the bonds of the Waiwala Agricultural Company, Ltd., in which the guardian has invested $400, and those of the McBryde Sugar Company, Ltd., in which the guardian has invested $27,000. In conformity with the instructions of the Court, the master has made inquiry and taken evidence, according to the custom and practice of this Court in such matters, from the officers and employees of both companies and of others. The evidence taken at the hearings in connection herewith has been transcribed and the transcript is herewith annexed and hereby made a part hereof.

"The master finds: "As to the Waiwala bonds.—The capital stock of the corporation is $1,000,000, all outstanding and all paid up. The stock is quoted in the market at Honolulu at 55 per cent of its par value. The total assessed value of the corporation's property last January was $3,500,000, and a large amount of money has been expended upon permanent improvements during the present year. The trust deed which was given by the company on April 1st of this year to secure its bonded indebtedness authorizes the sale of bonds in the amount of $1,000,000, of which $500,000 have been sold and the balance of $500,000 worth are still in the treasury of the company. Said trust deed contains the following clause: 'In case of default in payment of interest on any of the bonds hereby secured, the coupons therefor having been presented and payment demanded, should such default and payment continue for the period of three months after such demand, then and thereupon the principal of all said bonds, outstanding and unpaid shall, at the option of the holders of a majority of said bonds, signified in writing, become immediately due and payable, provided that non-payment of any said bond holders in case of any default shall not extend and shall not effect any subsequent default or any rights arising therefrom.' Said trust deed conveys all of the property of the corporation. Though the property is new, it is well developed, and is expected to pay dividends in a few years.

"As to the McBryde bonds.—The capital stock of the corporation is $2,500,000, of which $1,212,880 is outstanding and paid up, and $1,287,120 is in the treasury of the company. The stock is now quoted on the Honolulu market at about 55 per cent of its par value. The assessed value of the entire property of the corporation last January is said to be $1,212,880 and about $700,000 has been expended since said assessment on permanent improvements to the property of the company. The trust deed given by the company conveys its entire property, authorizes an issue of $500,000 in bonds and contains practically the same clause as to the right to foreclose upon non-payment of coupons as is quoted above. The entire issue of bonds has been sold. The company was organized in 1888, is being rapidly developed and is expected to pay its first dividends in a few years.

"3. The property of the Waiwala plantation appears to be worth about $3,500,000, and to be good security for a loan of $1,000,000.

"4. The property of the McBryde plantation appears to be worth not less than $2,000,000, and to be good security for a loan of $750,000.

"The bonds in both cases are secured by first mortgage deeds of trust. "Respectfully submitted,
"F. J. RUSSELL,
"Master."

"It doesn't seem to me that there is sufficient protection for the minority bondholders under this trust deed," remarked the Court. "Don't the agents hold a majority of these bonds, and could not they prevent a foreclosure if they used red?"

Mr. Robertson replied that the agents did not hold a majority of the bonds. "Anyone holding $51,000 of these bonds is amply secured, but the minority bondholders, those that have only three or four thousand dollars of the bonds, are without security. By buying up the majority of the bonds they could prevent the foreclosure of the mortgage for ten years, even though the interest was not paid."

"I think not, your Honor," replied Mr. Robertson. "This claim in the trust is more for protection to the minority bondholder, by not allowing any bondholder to take hasty or radical action which would work injury to all. He has a further right to suit in assumption if the bond or interest is not paid."

"But a judgment in such case would not be of any value under the laws of the Territory. The bonds are the same as a good promissory note, but a guardian is not supposed to invest in such securities. It does not appear that the guardian has any security except that which can be given by the majority of the bondholders. The investment in McBryde and Waiwala bonds will be disapproved and the guardian is charged with this amount with interest at six per cent."

COURT NOTES.

F. J. Russell, as master of the Bishop Museum accounts, was allowed a fee of $25. The accounts were approved, excepting the disallowance of a bill of $17.70 by Lewers & Cooke and a charge of $166.42 by the trustees as commissions.

An inventory of the estate of Henry Congdon has been filed showing property valued at $8,883.86.

GOOD WORK

Ever heard of the man who sold his horse because it was growing thin? After awhile he saw a fine looking horse he wanted to buy. It was his own old horse grown fat. The new owner had found the right medicine.

Scott's Emulsion does that kind of work with sickly children. Sometimes it changes a child's whole nature so much one would scarcely know the child. Scott's Emulsion starts the small ones to growing like weeds. The scrawny ones get hearty and fat. Color begins to show in the pale face.

Scott's Emulsion does this good work without hurting the little stomachs. No extra burden. All help.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like. SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl Street, New York.
