Reports on Fish and Beef-Fluke. Kaual Physician-Hong Kong and Yokohama

At a meeting of the Board of Health yesterday two Mormon (Salt Lake) missionaries, were granted leave 40 visit "their people" at Molokai.

Theo. Richards and H. Bingham, Jr., were voted permission to visit Molokai in the interest of the Hawaiian Board and the Y. M. C. A.

A native man present at the meeting wished the privilege of visiting his wife at the Settlement to consult or care and disposition of family property. The man comes from Hilo. Fav orable action.

Fish market reports for one month were presented by Kellipio. In four weeks there have been inspected at the ceal market 160,610 fish.

Usual returns were received from the Kapiolani Maternity Home, Majulau, Koloa, Hilo and other hospitals. All filed and the usual money allowances voted. There are some heavy bills from Hilo, on account of the treatment of New York First soldiers. It is expected payment will be made by the United States Government, the money to go into Government realizations here and likely finally to reach the Board of Health.

A license to practice medicine and surgery was voted Dr. John S. Grace, a native of New Zealand, graduated from medical institutions of England. Recommendations in this case included the endorsement of Dr. F. Howard Humphris, of this city.

To fill a vacancy at the Hilo hospital Miss Fitzgerald, of Agnews, Calif., a member of the Methodist nursing sisterhood, has been employed.

Dr. Rokaku writes from Japan that general health in the country is good, that there are no epidemics at any of the ports and that there is very little sickness in the interior.

"A healthy winter season" is the re port from the Hawalian medical inspector at Hongkong-remarked as a cause for congratulation.

The agents now wish T. French to be appointed Government physician at Kilauea plantation, Kauai. Dr. Parker, heretofore nominated for this place, has changed his mind and will not now come down from the States. Dr. French has formerly been in the employ of the Board of Health and will likely again be commissioned. There will be correspondence with Dr. Hugus on the subject of division of the present medical district.

From Dr. Monsarrat came reports showing that fluke liver was most prevalent amongst beeves from Kauai-100 per cent. Next comes Oahu, next Hawaii, then Maul, with fluke rare on Molokai. During a month but one beef has been condemned on account of tuberculosis.

The appointment of C. Charlock as sanitary inspector, vice Mr. Rose, resigned, was confirmed.

Those who attended the meeting were President Smith, Secretary Wilcox, Dr. Emerson, Dr. Wood, Geo. W. Smith, Executive Officer Reynolds, D. Kellipio.

The Proper Way.

Standing on the Merchant street side of the Judd building day before yesterday, Geo. R. Carter saw a Portuguese hackman across the way beating a horse over the nose with the butt of a whip. Mr. Carter walked over, stepped to go to the police station. A fare was asked for and given. At the station Mr. Carter had the driver placed under arrest and the charge of cruelty to an ed in a fine of $6. There were other in Numbers - Returns Various Departments. Mission Work.

The annual business meeting of the Central Union Church was held last evening in the church parlors. The time was devoted to the reading of reports from the various departments of the church, which showed the or ganization to be growing in numbers The British Army Tests in reaching out in its work and to be in sound financial condition.

The report of W. W. Hall, church clerk, shows that on January 1, 1898. there was a membership of 543, while on January 1, 1899, there were ,574 members, a net gain of 31. The at tendance at communion services during the year has been larger than during any previous year.

The report of Wm. Atwater, treasurer of the church, was of interest, in that it showed a good financial foot ing. The receipts for the year ending bucsements were $5,062,63, leaving a bulance on hand of $151.06.

The report of J. B. Atherton, in a count with the trustees of Central Union Church, shows cash on hand for the new year, $1023.68. The estimate of expenses for 1899 is $8,303.

The attendance at Sunday school has been large, the average number present being 358. After meeting heavy expenses there is still a balance on hand in the treasury of $185.89.

The total membership of the Y. P. S. C. E. is 88. Assets from collections for the year are $133.85. There has been paid out for Chinese work $76 for Hawaiian Mission Work $25, and for Society expenses $15.50, leaving a balance of $17.35. This organization has during the past year done great work for thousands of soldiers, having visited, fed and cared for men going brough to Manila, for the soldiers in camp and for the sick in the hospitals.

The Ladies Society reported a successful and active year, having worked cook book, the receipts from which were to form a fund for church furnishings, have been met, and a balance is left of $28.85.

Mrs. C. M. Hyde, President of the Woman's Board of Missions, submitted an extensive report of the work done be limited to tea, oatmeal water or in that field during the year. Much lime juice and Nile water. Today it is good is being accomplished among in that field during the year. Much Chinese women by Miss Mabel Sunter who has been engaged by the Board and devotes her entire time to work among those women.

LICHTHING CHANGES ARE MADE

Arbuckles and Doechers-Clever Maneuvering-Beet Sugar Now Figures.

Chicago has become the chief battheground in the contest between the Maryland Company. sugar trust and the Arbuckles and the Doeschers, its powerful rivals.

Recently the price of "outside sugar" was cut 16 of a cent below trust price, reaching almost the lowest quotation on record. The drop was accompanied by developments that showed the existence of a little trust among wholesale grocers to support the big trust, and also that a new Richmond was in the field in the shape of a beet sugar supply. The trust was not ready to to do so.

The circumstances leading up to the cut are these: Arbuckle Bros. and the Doeschers own sugar refiners on the Atlantic seabord that have a dally capacity of 5000 and 3500 barrels respectively. Both plants were started less than six months ago and both invaded Chicago with their goods early in the full.

The trust was ready for them. In September, seeing that rival goods were to be offered, its representatives visited the jobbing trade and suggested that a contract be signed by which any amount of sugar, up to a stated quantity, might be purchased by the jobber at a given price, and that a low one. This was to cut the ground from under the trust's rivals, but it was made only to its factors.

The latter are all the wholesale grocers except two or three, whose arrangement with the trust provides for a rebate of from ½ to 1-16 from the flat price, to be made periodically. The Arbuckles and Doeschers, when they entered the Chicago market, made a cut in prices. It did not bring the expected increase in sales, as the job ters were able under their contracts to draw on the trust for sugar at the same prices. The contracts began ex piring a short time ago. Before the date was reached the trust's repre-sentatives visited the factors and ex-tended the agreement. When the Ar-buckles and Doeschers found this out they announced a cut to 5.20 cents and coupled with it the notice that they would do business direct with the retail trade. They followed it up with a further cut to 5.15 cents-a full 16 of a cent below the trust price.

The local houses of the Arbuckles and Doeschers were bombarded with business. Salesmen for the jobbers and wholesalers came into report that the market was taken away from the trust; that all the retailers in Chicago were dealing with the opposition. No at tempt was made to meet the price, but there was possibly a reason for this. A that many persons could simultaneousmeeting of the sugar committee was called in the Commercial Exchange.

Within the last month fifteen carloads of beet sugar have arrived in Chicago, the first to reach the market. This sugar was sold below the trust price, and it is said arrangements are making to handle an output of half a dozen factories built and building in near-by States. All these features crete a situation which well-informed men in the trade say point to the conclusion that the war will be fought out to the bitter end.

Dispute Over an Appraisment

DIFFERENCE ON VALUATION

Appeal From a Tax Board of Hawall-Dr. N. Russel a Party. A Test Matter.

A defendant's brief was filed yesterday in the appeal from assessment of coffee lands of Dr. N. Russell, et al., va H. C. Austin, tax assessor.

The plaintiffs are cultivators of coffee upon lands owned by them at Olaa, island of Hawaii, and made their several returns to the assessor on the value of such lands.

The assessor, deeming that the val-ues had been placed below the unimproved market value thereof, raised them to a higher figure than set forth

The plaintiffs appealed to the board of tax appeals and evidence of the market value of the several parcels of land was presented by both parties. The Tax Appeal Board rendered its de-cision, and in each case made a reduction from the value assessed by the Assessor, but decided upon higher val-uations than those returned by the respective taxpayers.

It appears from the evidence that the Assesor assessed the several parcels of land at a valuation which deemed to be the fair, unimproved market value of the same. The plaintiffs claimed that the enhanced value of the land, if any, was due to the crops and coffee cultivation, together with the buildings and improvements placed upon the land by them in their prosecution of the coffee industry, and, as by statute, Chapter 58, Laws 1892 "all coffee trees and ramie plants, and all coffee and ramie produced in this country; and all mills, machinery, etc., used exclusively in the care, cultivation or preparation of coffee or ramie for market shall be and are exempt from all taxes and import duties," and as the enhanced market value of the land was due to the coffee cultivation and incidental improvements, and that the additional assessment was, practically a tax upon the coffee trees, mills, etc. and was illegal.

It is contended on behalf of the defendant that the market value of unim-proved land, (of a similar quality), would afford a measure of value and that this land having become of higher value because of the cultivation of coffee in the locality, does not exempt the owners of such land from paying taxes upon such higher value.

The evidence shows that the assess ments made by the Assessor in these cases were even lower than the marke value of similar lands in that neighborhood which had no improvement

The brief is signed by Wm. O. Smith Attorney General, for defendant

The burial caves in Waimen gulch are white duck and cannot be worn till the Rowell, Superintendent of Public still of great interest and have been middle of next summer. Works. For the Railway there were diligently searched. in the party Mr. B. F. Dillingham, General Manager, Mr. Mark P. Robinson, of the Board of Directors, Mr. C. H. Kluegel, chief engineer in the construction department of the company Mr. Russell, an electrical expert who is doing work for some of the big plantations, was a guest. The trip from Porto Rico and Hawaii town to the terminus at Kahuku and ceturn was made in the beautiful special or private car Pearl. Luncheon was carried along and served at the proper time.

The purpose of this inspection by the Government representatives, with railway men present is to pass upon the claim for subsidy. The subsidy, per mile, has been voted by the legislature. It was provided early in the history of the railway as encouragement to the enterprise. Payment of the amount earned is conditioned upon provision of satisfactory transit facilities over a properly equipped line with good, modern road bed. It may be stated at this stage that the judgment of all concerned that the subsidy provided under the act has been earned 4th, the President and his advisers in the making of the extension from Waialua to Kahuku, a distance of fifed well, doing even better in each instance than the specifications require.

A trip in a private car over any raliway line is bound to be a delight to a greater or less degree. The ride United States and the Philippine Isof yesterday was a treat in its way. Particular interest attached to the run the Philippine tariff schedule will refrom Walalua to the terminus. This quire this country to pay its share of was made fast one way and slow the other for the purpose of inspection in the latter instance and test of track the Filipinos under its care; to teach and rolling stock in the second, them the principles of republican in Everything was entirely satisfactory, stitutions, and to teach them love for on the extension is the splendid bridge that spans the treacherous Waimea guich. It is a fact in engineering litary rule must be maintained until creditable to the men who desired it and is a strong showing of willingness on the part of the Company to expend money when safety is in question. The road at this place makes a curve inland or mauks that amounts practically to a detour. At the beach there are quicksands that forbid the use of piles, so the foundations are placed above and are solid seemingly for all time. The lower works of the bridge are so built that it would appear they must withstand the most violent attack of flood. It is about half a year ago that floods carried away the wagon bridge that spanned the gulch and stream a considerable distance from the quicksands. That bridge had been planned to resist a stream but the heavy debris coming down carried the structure out to sea and little if any of it was recovered. Some of the pieces floated over to the Island of Kauai.

The scenic beauties of the Oahu railway to Walanae and even to Walahua, are well known. It was only during last year that the extension was ande from Waianae to Waialua. Dur- has been removed. The fence is down ing the final quarter of 1898 and a few days of the new year the road was completed to the present ending. From Waialua to Kahuku plantation the line skirts quite closely to the sea until well into the Kahuku cane lands. The view all the time is most inviting and the breeze from the sea pleasant and invigorating. The sweep for the eye on the lee side of the Island is a grand of its beauty and the general plan of one. There is local interest along the extension. For instance it was at Waimea, in 1792 that Lieut. Hergest and Mr. Gooch, an astronomer, were killed by natives. In 1818 James Hunnewell, who came to Honolulu from Boston in 1818 as master of the brig attorney before the Supreme Court of Mr. Decker is very well known in Borgeaux Packet, made two or three the United States.

On Monday of this week Mr. Decker, feeling that he was in deep water in a business way, called a meeting of his creditors. The session was held at the law offices of Humphreys & Gear. A full statement was made and there was an examination of accounts. On consultation of the creditors a committee consisting of Messrs. He says his present place is very much out of the way since the soldiers departed. How-ever, the suit was instituted for $860, the balance due Hyman Bros., and the matter acted upon at once. Soon there was a policeman in charge and the place will be in the custody of Marshal Brown till a settlement is effected to the satisfaction of all claimants so far as the assets are capable of giving satisfaction. # ROWARD ATKINSON AGAIN.

Certain of Mr. Edward Atkinson nts at the late New England given in Springfield, Moss were republished in these yesterday also involve the ion of historical accuracy. Mr. ason said, alluding to the landing of the missionaries in Hawaii, "we mand there a large number of happy ontented people. They enjoyed their ands and lives."

This is the statement made by at scated writer, a man who unquestionably prides himself on his accuracy in the research for facts. He is clearly nder some strange spell that prevents the use of the ordinary intuitions of a edent. Excluding the relations of the ionaries with the people of these lalands in the early part of the Century, as an affair involving bitter differences of opinion, the actual social and political condition of the natives has a scientific interest, as the couditions of other nationalities have.

The early voyagers, the traders, the wholemen, have generally agreed upon the social condition of these "happy and contented people" as Mr. Atkinson calls them. Not a native owned a square foot of land. Not even a chief owned land. The population had greatly diminished through wars. Cook's and Vancouver's men had spread loath some ciseases among the people. The cure of sickness was in the hands of cothsayers. Ignorance and superstition were universal.

Whether the people were "contented and happy" depends upon the definition of these words. In one sense the naked savages, with a good digestion, with sure to back in the sun, or to induige in the sweet pleasure of burning their enemies alive, are quite as happy, and indeed may be more happy than a modern millionaire who takes no enjoyment in books and art and nature, besides being confronted day and night, if he is a Christian, with the distress ing apparition of the camel trying to plunge through the eye of a needle. There is a school of radical philoso phers who believe that the true savage has nothing to envy in the lot of his civilized brother, But Mr. Atkinson has not, heretofore professed this creed. A fair inference from all his interesting writings is that the institutions and customs and social arrangements of the old Bay State, are on the whole preferable to the state of the "untutored" savage.

Perhaps Mr. Atkinson's knowledge of are derived from such works as aration for better living and thinking "Typee," by Herman Melville, although we strongly suspect that he is the munity. guileless victim of Capt. Julius A. Palmer's "Romances from the forecastle or among the 400 on a coconnut tion of religion to life. A hungry man. inland."

As it was the custom among the na tives, before the advent of the misconaries to neglect the aged and fre quently to bury them alive, when they gress in the religious life. came useless, and infanticide was openly practised, Mr. Atkinson may have seen in these usages the sources of true social contentment, and mourns their absence in the country within sight of Bunker's hill.

Mr. Atkinson's statement, if correct is certainly a powerful argument against the need of any evolution or improvement in man.

THE CULTIVATION OF GINGER

in the American Journal of Pharm cy is an elaborate article on the cultivation of ginger as a commercial product in the island of Jamaica.

It is an important article of com merce. In the judgment of the writer, from 25,000 to 50,000 of the people are more or less dependent upon it for ready money. In 1896 the amount exported was 1,906,609 lbs. The estimates are that only 250 acres of land are under the cultivation of this sort in large farms. It is mainly grown in small patches near the homes of the poorer people, so that they can, at odd moments, tend them. In the cultivation of this plant the labor of the women and children is important. The average yield is from 1990 to 1500 pounds per acre, and the price is about 12 cents per pound. The plants are set out in March and April and are harvested in December and January. There is also a rattoon crop. It is said that the crop is an exhaustive one, but there do not appear to be any serious attempts to provide an adequate fertilizer. Much land upon which coffee and ginger have been cultivated has been abandoned. This is largely due to a failure to preserve the fertility of the soil. Here apparently, then, is a simple industry which, if properly introduced in these islands would bring a comfortable income to native, Portuguese and Asiatic families, without interfering with the regular oscupations of the men. If it is successful in Jamaica, it surely can be made successful here. The introduction of this industry, as well as that of the cultivation of the vanilla bean, and the perfume flowers, has a philanthropic side to it.

Every new industry needs a Moses, a man with intelligence, energy and plack to work out the problem, simple as it is, and convert the unbelievers. Here is an agricultural resource, but there is no brain to grasp it and make it useful.

Several of our young men are devoting themselves to certain phases of missionary work. But this highly important missionary work of teaching men and women and children how to the joys and sorrows of the savage life feed and clothe themselves, as a prepis not understood or urged by the com-

KITCHENER'S TEETOTALERS.

The advocates of total abstinence should be delighted over the regulaon the matter of the use of alcohol. A brief account of them appears in another column. Lord Kitchener's superb victories in the Soudan were wor by an army of teetotalers.

The advocates of total abstinence must not, however, forget that the reason why it was possible to conduct a "dry" military campaign is that Lord Kitchener had the sense and the ability to create the proper conditon for enforcing this rule. The army was amply supplied with all the material that human ingenuity could devise to keep every soldier in the best physical condition. Men supplied with proper food and clothing, and properly cared for do not require stimulants. Instead of preaching the prosaic arguments of the evils of intemperance, the British war office acted upon the injury arising from the greater evil of bad by genic conditions. To avoid these bad conditions, it did not issue a million of pamphlets on the subject, but removed these conditions or prevented their existence. It was doing and not talk-

When the action of the British war department is followed by the socia! reformers, and the conditions of society are gradually changed, so that wretchedness and poverty and despair is not the lot of a large portion of the population, especially in the cities, the saloon question will be easily disposed

It is said that the proposition to give industrious and sober workingmen an old age pension upon reaching their sixtieth year of age, will do more fo the cause of total abstinence than all of the preaching, and lecturing, and the publication of harrowing literature on the evils of drink. Secure for every man a home, and you create a condition which will create to a large extent, a barrier against the aggressions of the rum bottle. If the temperance reformers will so fix it that every man who deserves it shall have land enough for a home, and will prevent such a holding of God's earth by a few persons, they will make the distillation of whiskey rather unprofit able.

It is indeed humiliating that one of the best illustrations of the proper method of advancing the cause of temperance should come from the detest able art of war, while an army of philanthropists continue to move in the dark.

GEN. WASHINGTON'S NEUTRALITY.

President Dole, after he has read American history of the year 1793, will hardly expect to escape violent attacks from the professional politicians who want his office.

Curiously enough the matter of neu trality in the war between England and France was the occasion of the theree attacks upon Gen. Washington by the political ancestors of the Only Candidate

A large number of the American people advocated in 1793 an alliance beween France and the United States in he pending war. President Washingion issued a proclamation of neutrality. This act called out the vituperative power of those who were opposed tions of the British war department to it. Sparks, in his Life of Washington, says:

"Washington, for a time, was allowed to keep aloof from the contest. His haracter, revered by the people, shielded by their affection, and equally above reproach and suspicion, was too eleevolence. But a crisis had now arrived when the sacredness of virtue, and the services of a life spent in promoting him from the assaults of party animosity. The organs, at that time, of the type known here as the Sewallaniacs, called Washington a "coward," and a "traitor." Henry Lee, in a letter to Washington, written in 1793, said:

"There are in all societies, at times, a set of men anxious for change in the political machine, and fond confusion. This class of men receivhe aid of the wicked and abandons of every description, and therefore in free countries are considered more numerous than they really are, because prudent.

If Washington was subjected to such attacks, Mr. Dole, who does not claim to be his peer in virtues, and deeds, need not for a moment feel that he has any privilege of exemption from similar attacks.

As this is a government by the peoelect a person to serve as Senator in the place of Mr. Schmidt, resigned. It is to be assumed that the people know what kind of a person will properly represent them, and will designate the right man. It is the theory or practise of a class of politicians to instruct the people, and treat them as if they are quite incapable of having any minds of their own, and of designating persons who should repesent them. The "masheen" was introduced for this purpose, and is very effective in supplying the sovereign people with ideas. The theory of our government is, however, that of selfrule. Will the people not meet and agree upon, and elect some person who will fill the vacant Senatorial office?

A Traveled Christian Late Hawaii Nei Reports.

Made Extensive Explorations-List of Key Words-In Samos-Had a Letter to Gen. Blanco.

The London Times tells of the re turn to England from the Caroline Islands of Frederick W. Christian, who has a very interesting account to give of his investigations there, as well as in other island groups of the Pacific Mr. Ohristian was educated at Eton and Oxford; some nine years ago be left England for Australia and found himself in a position to realize his ambition of exploring the area of the so-called Malayo-Polynesian tribes. He stayed nearly three years in Samoa studying the language and customs of the peoples, especially those who are furthest removed from the settlements of the white man. He bought some land in the valley of the Vaisingano River, near R. L. Stevenson's plantation at Vallma. Stevenson proved himself the very best of neighbors. the kindliest of entertainers. Of his society and sympathy and hospitality Mr. Christian entertains the most pleasing recollections. On his departure for Tahiti and the Marquesas, Stevenson took over his little plantation and experimental pursery of economical plants at a most generous figure. The Forest Department of New South Wales, in exchange for some packets of Samoan seeds, had forwarded Mr. Christian quantities of the seed of valuable Australian economic treesof the black butt, stringy bark, golden wattle and various kinds of eucalyptus which throve excellently in the rich soil under the care of his right hand man, a carefully trained Tongan Islander, Tupon of Vavau.

In Tahiti and the Marquesas Mr. Christian spent two years carefully and minutely studying and noting down the language, the genealogies folklore and traditions of a kindly, hospitable and singularly interesting folk. Soon after his return to Sydney Mr. Christian met that remarkable Ulysees of Pacific waters, Louis Becke. On his advice be determined single all season.

By the kind offices of Sir Stewart Lockhart, Colonial Secretary, and Sir William Robinson, the Governor of Hongkong, Mr. Christian received letters of introduction to General Blanco, the then Spanish Governor of the Philippines, who in turn furnished him with introductions to the two deputy Governors on Yan and Ponape—the respective seats of ern Carolines. The results of Mr. Chris tian's explorations were as follows:

A Pampanga native, since executed by the Spanish for joining the late Philippine rebellion, took some 150 photographs in the districts of Kiti U, Metalanim, Not and Chokacl (wrongly styled Jekoits and Jokoits in the present charts). The walled islets of Nan-Matal, the mysterious Venice of Micronesia, were explored and mapped out fairly accurately. The phonesis of very many native names and their spelling were changed from a meaningless jargon to their correct native renderings and accompanying significations. He also made excavations in the central vault of the sanctuary of Nan-Tanach, bringing to light a considerable number of curious tools, implements and shell ornaments of an ancient date. Many of the old native legends and fairy tales were rescued from oblivion; this slowly and with difficulty, for there is much of a cross grained reticence in the Ponapean character to be overcome only by mingled patience and perseverance. The former presence of an early Negrito race, conquered and absorbed or overlapped by later waves of Polyne sian immigrants, was fairly established. Also evidence was collected as to the obtrusion of many Japanese words upon the Micronesian area. This was elaborately demonstrated by an exhaustive list of 450 English key words -nouns, verbs and adjectives-in the various Micronesian dialects. In this Mr. Christian followed the example of Codrington. Turner and Wallace, who published lists of keywords on a similar plan, grouping and comparing side

Figures That Tell of Good Play Practice-Thanks to the Ladies. The New Series.

Below will be seen the batting and bowling averages of the Honolulu Cricket Club extending from January '98 to January '99.

The season has been a most success ful one and in spite of the want of competition in playing "outside" matches, the enthusiasm has been kept up almost to fever point, and with a short cessation of six weeks, has lasted twenty mouths.

The general improvement in the av erages is, of course, largely owing to the increased facilities for practice for which there has to be thanked Commissioner Kenney, who has thrown open his grounds at all times.

Amongst the beginners W. S. Stan-ley leads with the very good average of over six runs per inning. Chris Willis and Digby Sioggett, also show great promise in both batting and fielding. A St. Mackintosh's bowling average is almost phenomenal, 84 wickets bowled for only 4½ runs apiece, and out of 209 overs, 61 were maidens. Among the new comers the Rev. T. I Lane has been a great acquisition in both batting and bowling, and alos T. W. Harvey in bowling and fielding.

Donald Ross made the highest indi-vidual score of the season, 46 runs, for which the club presented him with a bat. He has played first rate cricket

Hawaii and a Revolution. Mary H. Krout, 1898. Published by Dodd. Mead & Co., of New York. For sale by Wall, Nichols Co., Honolulu, at $2 net.

There are 330 pages of this book. It s beautifully bound, clearly printed on good paper and has a number of excellent illustrations. The name of the author will be recognized by a good many people of this town, and there are numbers who will purchase the book without any further inquiry. Miss Krout was here in 1893 and in 1894. She is a cultivated woman, and one with a strong grasp of affairs. She is an observer and a thinker. While here Miss Krout enjoyed to the highest degree the confidence of all with whom she came in contact. She was sent to study the situation and she had the rare faculty of getting facts that stood out and then presenting them effectively. Miss Krout's personal sympathies went out to the revolutionists, though she had a great aloha for the natives and during her stay here was granted audiences by Liliuokalani and Kapio-lani. Miss Krout is a cousin of Admiral Brown, who endeared himself to the whole of the Hawaiian race.

The writer of "Hawati and a Revo-iution" was afforded, by her letters and her personal efforts, opportunity to see about all there was to be noted connection with the overthrow and the political relations and conditions She took full advantage of this chance and the result is a volume worth having in a library. It is utterly unlike a number of the flimsy "chapter books" that have been floated and that are be ing offered. Before coming to the Islands and while on the scene, and afterwards while preparing her manu-script, Miss Krout was a student of Fornander, Jarves and Alexander and her pages are singularly free from error. One funny little mistake is made in reporting a trifling affair. Miss Krout says a performance at the opera house was announced unexpectedly one evening on the arrival of a boat from the Colonies and that the ladies dressed so hurriedly for the occasion that they left their hats at home. Miss Krout must know now that Honolulu is the only city in the world where the ladies go to the theater without hats all the

The second term of the educational being department, Y. M. C. A. began work under the most favorable auspices. The classes are quite large and are doing excellent work under an able faculty Some of the leading young men of the city are devoting their evenings to study in the Y. M. C. A. In the bookkeeping recitation room, Secretary Coleman has placed some neat desks and cabinets.

Secretary Coleman recently received for the Y. M. C. A. as a token of remembrance from W. F. Allen, now in the States, a copy of the well known work, "In His Steps, or What Would Jesus Do?" by C. M. Sheldon.

The Messenger, a publication brought out by the Central International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. has in its last issue considerable space devoted to the Honolulu association, telling of the great work done in entertaining thousands of soldiers on their way to Mantia. The article is under the head ing, "Oceania," but Mr. Coleman says that in the future contributions will be sent from Honolulu, U. S. A. # IS A GRAND WORK

Moral Painting by Prancis Lathrop. Born in Hawaii.

THE LICHT OF THE WORLD

Great Surface Area-Design and Inscription-Most Important Decoration-Figures

The sons of the late Dr. Lathrop. George Parsons, and Francis, were an honorary appointment conferred born on these islands. Dr. Lathrop. after acquiring a fortune here, settled in the city of New York. He was not fortunate in his business investment

Mrs. Lathrop possessed remarkable social gifts, and under favorable circumetances became a social leader George Parsons Lathrop married Rose Hawthorne. He has an excellent reputation in the literary world. Francis Kindergarten Lathrop has obtained some distinction as an artist.

A private view was given in St Bartholomew's Church, New York, to cently of a mural painting. "The Light of the World," by Francis Lathrop, which has been executed on an order from the brother, children, and wife of the late George Kemp. Since the order was given Mrs. Kemp has died The painting, which has occupied all Mr. Lathrop's time and attention for nearly two years,, was completed last summer. It fills the entire wall space of the chancel above the aitar and reredos, and has a surface area of nearly 800 square feet, with a semi-circular border around the top. It measures 30 feet in height and 28 feet in width. been cemented and rolled on to the wall, a process now extensively used Boston Public Library, and the Astoria Hotel. The picture has a massive frame of Arabesque design, with the subject text from Mark xiii., 26, 27 letters. This frame was designed and modeled by the artist and was cast under his supervision.

The picture is not only the most imdecorative work, has produced, but will take high place among the more important mural paintings of the country. The artist did the interior decoration of St. Bartholomew's several years ago. and he has made this last painting to complement the church decoration. There are 78 figures or heads in the heroic size.

The scheme of color of the picture is position is one of triumphant rejoicing. garments failing in fine folds, advances in a cloud of light, with arms extended in a gesture of protection and welcome. while numerous figures of the elect angels holding palms, one on the right and one on the left are the marshuls of some of whom are praying. Others, again, stand or kneel with downcast eyes and bowed heads, but all show awe and wonder in the attitudes and expressions. Above this host two angels, Paith and Hope, are depicted as about to place a crown on the head of Christ, and on either side are groups of trumpeters. On the very top and completing the circle around the cetre figure another group of angels looks upon the scene below. Two seated angels are below the figure of Christ on either side, and on the right and left are still two angels, one bearing a harp and another a lyre.

The treatment of light in the picture is both masterly and effective. The figure of Christ itself, which is the central point of the light mass, is modeled out of the light, the rays converging and forming the lines of drapery. In looking closely at this central point, it is seen that the figure of Christ, with the lights above and below, forms the upright of a great cross, the angels holding the crown forming the arms. The outlines of the draperies melt imperceptibly into the surrounding cloud 1 ke setting. It is impossible to describe in cold type the beautiful color and light effect and the strength and power of Mr. Lathrop's painting. It should be seen and studied by all lovers of art and decoration.

WERS ARE MANY IN M

Bald to be Four Hundred Varities In Valleys and On the Mountains. Natives Love of Flowers.

This paper. The Indigenous Flowers of Hawaii, was read by Miss Mary Rice, of Kanal, upon her graduation from the Honolulu High School.)

In the past fifty years, the Hawalian Islands have undergone a great change and but few people remember the time when the Kukui trees grew on the lowlands near the sea coast.

It is said by naturalists that the flowering plants of the Islands exceed four hundred varieties. Formerly the natives would go in great numbers into the mountains annually, for various purposes such as canoe making, bird catching, gathering medicinal herbs and also for many other pursuits, both of pleasure and profit.

There is no race more fond of the beauties of nature than are the Hawallans, and many are the myths that have been handed down from generation to generation, seemingly from very ancient times. Perhaps there is no flower more noted than the Ohia Lehua. The Lehua tree grows to all sizes, from the handshrub of sixteen feet high, to the forest tree of a hundred. The bright red blossoms are loaded with honey, which is the favorite food of the Olocele, a small bird with brilliant scarlet those which were most commonly seen on the lowlands were the Hau, Nehe, Wiliwili, Puakala, Pohuehue, Pilikai, Koali-awahia, Hilo and Kou. Perhaps of these the Kou, Wiliwili, Nehe and Hau are the most important.

The Kou tree is now scarce, but it was once a favorite shade tree, not only because it grew easily, but it was the tree from which the Hawaiians made st of their handsome and useful The Hawaiian Islands have been noted for the beauty of their flora and to the stranger the land seems de titute of indigenous flowers. But when one comes to search in the valleys and on the mountains, it is astonishing the number of varieties there

In spring many clusters of flowers of a bright orange color appear, gracefully set amid the light green leaves.

The flowers of the Willwill tree vary in color from pale yellow to orange scarlet. The wood when dry is as light as cork and is used a great deal by the natives for out-riggers and surf
