CURED BY USING

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Mr. T. J. CLUNE,

of Walkerville, S. Australia, writes:

"Six years ago, I had an attack of indigestion and liver complaint that lasted for weeks. I was unable to do any hard work, had no appetite, and was very nervous. I suffered much from indigestion. My skin was Bongo was on foot, and he carried a keen, heavy sword, with which he proposed to dispatch the great beast. How he was to accomplish this was something I could not understand, but he directed me to take a position where I could witness every movement.

Bongo then hid himself behind some rocks, having first made a signal to Zinj, who was mounted on a fine steed, and who was to follow him. Bongo was quite unarmed, but he did not hesitate to ride directly toward the waiting elephant, and the huge animal instantly faced him, prepared for a rush.

The mare was admirably trained, and she slowly moved toward the elephant, apparently understanding just what was required of her and just how perilous her situation was. She advanced until within 10 yards of the waiting monster, and then, all of a sudden, a wild cry came from Zinj's throat. At that instant, the elephant charged.

I thought horse and rider would be crushed, but the little mare leaped away like a flash, and Zinj, clinging like a cat to her back, uttered loud cries, the elephant pursued. The trunk was suspended in the air almost over Zinj's head, and his jaws were wide open. A light that was perfectly fiendish shone in his small black eyes.

Zinj's horsemanship was superb, as he managed to keep just out of the elephant's reach, thus luring the doomed monster on. Straight past the rocks where Bongo lay concealed flashed the horse, and I saw the black, muscular figure of the hunter gathered for the leap, the edge of the heavy sword grasped in both hands.

As the elephant passed, Bongo sprang out, his weapon shining through the air, its keen edge striking the monster's leg about a foot from the ground, sinking through flesh and tendon to the bone.

In a moment, the charge of the elephant was checked, for one foot was quite useless. It wobbled to get at Bongo, but the man with the sword had vanished amid the rocks. Thus Zinj sent the mare almost under the elephant's nose, attracting the monster's attention long enough for Bongo to dart out and deliver a blow at the other leg.

It was a death stroke, for the main artery was severed and the blood spouted forth. As a mighty tree, a monarch of the forest, falls crashing to earth, so fell the elephant and lay helpless. Within 30 minutes, the creature had died to death, his end seeming to come painlessly.

Miss Julia Grant.

Miss Julia Grant is a sweet, winsome, gentle girl. The greatest care was taken in her training to keep her soft, lovable and trusting. She had a home and an English gentleman from the time she left off bits until she went to Vienna, and then she had private lessons from teachers of noble birth. She never studied arithmetic, grammar, geography or any other branch calculated to make her feeling minded. She got the languages by the natural method and geography from traveling. She studied literature, history, music, painting and the art of pleasing. And she is pleasing and pretty and captivating without her beautiful and distinguished mamma appears, and then the mother puts the daughter into full eclipse. Young U. S. Grant is spoken of as strikingly like his maternal grandmother, while his sister favors the paternal grandmother—New York World.

SYSTEM SUGGESTED.

One of the mounted patrolmen has lost his horse and will pay a suitable reward for the return of the animal—Local Item.

What does a mounted patrolman without a mount become? To avoid debate and perhaps strive over this question some system which would insure against the loss of steeds by cavalrymen should be adopted. The men might be given tickets calling for horses or the horses might be provided with tickets calling for riders. Yet both those plans seem imperfect. They might tie the officers on their horses. Again there is the danger of losing both rider and beast. Perhaps it would be best to train the horses so that they would know better than to loose themselves. Or, it might be a good scheme to place a Government brand on the horses. To have the animals all one distinctive color or to fasten red lights on them might help. We assure our readers that at the outset we had a very clear conception of a certain remedy for this stupendous difficulty. Somehow the idea escaped. The thought of a mounted patrolman without a mount is rather confusing, anyhow.

NO MORE TRIALS.

The fact that the Military Commission has practically finished its labors will be welcome news to all. A tension which has been trying indeed is relieved. But this revolution is a history-making affair and there are many chapters yet to pass. We shall not hear the last of it for a long, long time.

The greatest credit is due the Military Commission as a body and its individual membership. Their task was not a pleasing one. They faced it as worthy men take up any duty and their course throughout has been clear, consistent and fair. They had no theories to handle and had no fear of facts. The proceedings of that tribunal will be subjected to the very closest and most crucial inspection. They will probably stand the test, for the Commission has been sensible, just and conscientious from first to last.

THERE will be presented to the Legislature an anti-cigarette bill. A law placing this class of smoking in the list with opium consumption would have many advocates.

DESPITE the unsettled condition of affairs several transactions in coffee lands have been closed lately. On Hawaii this business is making strides that can scarcely be appreciated in Honolulu.

ALL THE people of these islands must get on common ground before a united movement insuring success and satisfaction can be made. That common ground is within the fold of the Republic of Hawaii.

IN THE case of John A. Cummins there was reached one of the most generally satisfactory results growing out of Commission proceedings. Everybody was wishing for Mr. Cummins to be given his liberty.

FROM almost every plantation on the Islands comes news that extensive improvements in mills and culture methods are being made. The one great industry of the country never had a brighter outlook.

WITH its account of the proposition of some young ladies to adopt dresses of prison cloth, THE STAR has had a peculiar experience. Three young men have called to ask if the paper would bear them out in the statement that they "did not give the thing away." Others are genuinely aggrieved over the article, say that there is nothing whatever in it and that certain young ladies feel offended and hurt over the publication. THE STAR is certainly not in the business of studiously offending people and the idea of the article was simply to note what appeared to be worth attention.

Timely Topics.

February 25, 1895.

It is evident to people who go through the coffee district in Kona that the industry is destined to become a large one and an important item in the commerce of Hawaii. Thus far the blight has been nothing that the growers cannot handle successfully so that loss to crop through that source is infinitesimal. The acreage is being constantly increased and will do so with greater rapidity as soon as the Government can see its way clear to improve the old roads and build new ones. You cannot expect building to go ahead boom-like until the facilities for getting lumber on the land are better. Just now, owing to the fact that in some parts of the district there are but trails from the boat landings to the upland, it costs $10 per thousand to haul the lumber a distance of three miles. It may be worth that price now but when better roads are provided the price will have to be reduced. It seems, to "Veritas" "Old Subscriber" and "A Taxpayer" that it is to the interest of the transportation companies to push the building of roads in Kona to the utmost of their influence because they are directly effected. With a sort of epidemic in building on any of the other islands they would profit by the increased amount of lumber shipped.

Our stock of fence wire includes nearly all sizes of both black and galvanized. The quality is superior plain and barbed in every respect to that sold in most stores here and will stand the wear and tear of this climate a great deal better than the average imported to these Islands. In quantity we have far, and away the largest stock on the Islands and we will be pleased to receive orders and will fill them at very low prices.

Some very handsome hanging lamps in black wrought iron and polished metals should have your attention this week. These are entirely new patterns and are decidedly the handsomest we have ever offered. They have the celebrated "B & H" burners with all the latest improvements. No bother about taking off the chimney when you go to light the wick, the patent arrangement obviates the difficulty.

We have a good stock of the celebrated Bath Tub Enamel Paint made expressly for transforming old zinc lined tubs into something that looks just like a high priced porcelain lined one. If you buy this paint and use it according to the directions on the container you will have a very clean nice bath tub at an expense of a dollar and a half.

By way of a delicacy why don't you try a hot waffle and a bit of fried chicken for breakfast or tea. The waffles are no more trouble to bake than hot cakes if you have one of our waffle irons. We sell them at a price that won't interfere with your having one if you like waffles. We can't supply you with chickens but we can sell you a Pansy stove that will cook just a little better than any stove you ever saw. We have them in three sizes, 6, 7, 8, and we sell them at $15, $20 and $25. We've never seen a better stove for the money anywhere and we doubt very much if you have.

Hendry's Ready Mixed Paints are growing in favor every day; people who try them recommend them to their friends so that the demand is growing larger at all times. We have all shades necessary for either inside or outside work and we furnish you cards with colors lithographed on them and with figures and measurements that will enable you to ascertain just what a job will cost you before you begin work. If you contemplate doing any painting it will pay you to use these paints.

A few more fruit pickers left for you if you have fruit trees in your yard and want to save the product. There is nothing better in the market for mangoes than this little article and all it costs you is a half a dollar—Try one of them.

FOREIGN OFFICE NOTICE.

Honolulu, H. I., March 1, 1895.

Following is a copy of an autograph letter received at the Foreign Office:

FRANCIS JOSEPH, THE FIRST Emperor of Austria, King of Bohemia, Apostolic King of Hungary, to MR. SANFORD DOLE, President of the Republic of Hawaii,

Most honored and beloved friend, we accept the letters by which you wish to assure us that after the Republic has been founded and solemnly proclaimed in the Hawaiian Islands on the fourth day of July of last year, the brightest office of the Republic was assigned to you. For the most friendly disposition expressed in those letters we wish to tender hearty thanks, and that you may be assured that nothing of our Government will ever be omitted which will be able, not only to preserve but to promote the good relations existing between Austria-Hungary and the Hawaiian Republic which remains we gladly take this occasion to express to you our distinguished consideration, given at Buda Pest this first day of January, 1895.

(Signed) FRANCIS JOSEPH.

How a Country Gentleman Made Miserable a New Year's Eve About Town.

When an adaptive young man from the far corner of some New England or western state lives for a time in New York and absorbs enough of its atmosphere to gain the prestige of a regular boulevardier, it's pretty hard now and again to have old times thrust upon him in the person of a primitive cousin or brother-in-law, whom he is bound in conscience to entertain. A case of this kind occurred recently, in which the artless relative saw nothing but a screwingly funny lapse of memory, while the man about town found a mortification therein which was pretty hard to live through.

A complete deliverance of the bumpkin into the hands of the outlander made him presentable, and then there was the little bachelor dinner at a Fifth Avenue hotel given by the swell to all the smart men, who wanted "to meet your cousin, don't you know?"

All went merry until the wine list came forth. To be sure, the bumpkin talked too loud and refused to understand any monetary wink, but then he said nothing too badly out of place. "What wine will you have?" said the cousin, addressing him.

"Haw! Haw! I don't know, Cousin Dick, anything about the wine. You'll have to settle that yourself."

"Shall we begin on a bottle of Sauterne?"

"Lorcy, how can I tell! Anything you like!" shouted the red checked, bull-headed youth, who couldn't make head or tail of the winks and looks of deadly warning emanating from the swell's eye.

People at adjoining tables pricked up their ears in amused curiosity, while the guests at the table looked a trifle disconcerted at the bumpkin's noise.

"What," said the swell, firmly planting his index finger on the word "Merlot" and glancing at the youth menacingly, so that he might understand and repeat it, "do you generally take?"

"Usually!" shouted the youth. "Haw, haw! Isn't that great? Usually nothing! Of course! Never see wine. How could I? You know that, Cousin Dick, as well as I do. You never saw wine at home, and now New York makes you forget all about it. Usually! Haw, haw!" and the terrible youth stroked out at full length and roared satisfactorily for about five minutes, while a sense of frozenness stole over his cousin, and the swells looked on in amused pity.

That frozen cousin is dead henceforth to family ties in so far as dining social recreations is concerned, at least.—New York Herald.

THE FIRST HANSOM CAB.

Its First Customers Were Brokers, Who Caused It to Become Popular.

The first hansom cab in America had an interesting history. A reindeer, visible, red faced cabby told it late the other night up by the Thirty-third street stand. It was brought over in 1870 or 1871 by John Carter of the Pacific hotel, in Greenwich street, just above Cortlandt, and it cost $70. Its driver was old John Carter of Liverpool, since deceased, who came to New York in 1861. The original cab that John Carter drove was a handsome one, made very much like those now in use, but it had a clear body and red running gear. An interesting feature of it was that it was bolstered with a pair of patent axles, which were so complicated that Carter was the only man who could grease them.

For some reason the cab was not put into running immediately after it was imported, but was laid up in the stable for 1½ years. Then John Carter ran it from the Pacific hotel, but there was not business enough there, and he went down to the corner of Broad street and Exchange place, where trade flourished, and he used to get fares from the big brokers. Morosini was said to have been a good customer of his, and Jay Gould, if reports are accurate, rode in it once or twice. It was a familiar feature about the Stock Exchange for four years, and then it broke down, ending the career of the first hansom cab in America.—New York World.

He Knew the Hopes.

Of one subject even Mr. Freeman would have been forced to admit that Mr. Frode, the historian of the reformation, was a master. Frode was a born sailor and could manage a yacht or yawl in the ugliest sea as if he had been bred to the business. So he was quick to detect any ship that his friends, who were less expert, might make.

The workmanship of "Crookit Mog," he was pleased to say, was as good as could be, with one exception. "If you mean to take us to sea in this questionable little vessel, you must have your cable lashed over. The main sheet is a rope, not a sail. The job is 'loosed' when you get under way and is the first sail taken in when you are coming to your moorings."—Blackwood's Magazine.

Quintessence.

"I can't say," remarked the sword swallower as he dispatched a Damascus blade, "that I especially like the taste of foreign foods."

"Their dishes," rejoined the glass eater, who was partaking of a Venetian soup tureen, "are, as a rule, far from pleasing."

The human salamander tossed off three fingers of imported red fire, with a gasconade, but said nothing.—Detroit Tribune.

NATIONAL CANE SHREDDER.

Patented under the laws of the Hawaiian Republic.

One of these Shredders has recently been installed at the mill of the Paahau Plantation Company, Hamakua, Hawaii, and Mr. Andrew Moore, the manager, writes concerning it

PAHAU PLANTATION CO.,
HAMAKUA, JUNE 10, 1895.

WM. G. IRWIN & CO., LTD., HONOLULU: Gentlemen—The mill has been running during the past two weeks, with the National Cane Shredder lately installed, giving the most satisfactory results.

Our mill consists of three sets of two rollers, 32 in. dia. by 72 in. long, the shredder being 3 ft. 7 in. long, driven by an automatic engine 11 in. dia. cylinder by 14 in. stroke.

The Ratoon cane being milled is as hard as it is possible for cane to be, having been subjected to a severe drought during the whole period of its growth, and growing on land with a trade wind exposure. Our experience with the shredder, particularly with above cane, proves it to be just what our mills required, the shredder cane being better prepared to have its juice extracted than formerly after passing through the first mill.

The first mill is now allowed to open 9-16 in. instead of 1/2 in. as formerly, so that the trash now leaves the first mill—ground, than it formerly did the second, and this without the old timed grinding, choking, and straining of the machinery.

Behind the first and second mills we apply hot water, the quantity for the past 12 days, as per statement attached, has averaged 35 per cent. on the total juice from the cane.

The trash from the last mill is cut up much finer than before the shredder was applied, much of it resembling saw dust, it contains as per statement 35 per cent. of moisture and makes good fuel, the juice from the last mill stands 5 degrees Brix, so that the moisture in the trash is of 5 per cent. sugar solution.

The boiler makes steam much easier than before, now cane has to be taken to keep them from blowing off, whereas before great care was necessary to keep the steam from going too low when the fuel was on.

By the use of the shredder we have dispensed with six men, formerly necessary to distribute the cane on the carrier, feed the first mill, and three back the long pieces.

The Shredder Machinery is a good substantial job, and should cause little or no trouble as it is subjected to but light strains.

You will see that by applying the Shredder, our work in all departments has been very materially improved—obtaining a better extraction at less expense than formerly. The great improvement in our steam, causes much satisfaction to those engaged in the mill.

Yours Respectfully,
A. MOORE.

ARE NO MORE CASES.

THE MILITARY COMMISSION IS PAID WITH ALL TRIALS.

Case of Alex. Smith the Last-In a Few Days the Officers Will Be Relieved.

The Military Commission resumed work in final session at 10 a. m. today. Alex. Smith, half-caste, a carpenter by trade, was at the bar. Accused desired no counsel. The charge, misprision of treason, and specifications were read. The prisoner pleaded guilty to specifications and charge. He did not wish to make a statement. In lieu of this the Judge Advocate stated that the accused knew of the work of Sam Nowlen several days prior to the uprising. On Thursday night of the Kakaako affair the fish market squad, which was to take charge of the arms landed at that place, assembled at his house. The men remained there until accused was notified by Sam Nowlen that the thing was off. He was with Wilcox in the '89 revolution.

At the conclusion of these remarks the Judge Advocate notified the Commission that the community had no more cases to bring before it. "We are at the end of our row," said Captain Robertson. The Court then adjourned to 10 a. m. Monday when unfinished business will be taken up.

This was the thirty-fifth day. All the officers on the Commission are greatly pleased to know that they will soon be relieved. Col. Whiting and Lieut. Jones will return to civil court business. Col. Fisher will have his labors lessened and Capt. Wilder goes back to the offices of the Wilder company. Captains Pratt, Zeigler and Camara resume their ordinary duties at the garrison. The Court hall will be used again by the Advisory Council.

HEWITT'S CREDIBILITY.

Late Thursday afternoon the prosecution attacked the credibility of the accused, A. M. Hewitt. When witnesses were asked what Hewitt's reputation for truth and veracity was the following responses were elicited:

F. B. McStocker: It is not good. W. H. Hoogs: It is very bad. Captain C. J. Campbell: Not good.

Frank McIntyre: Very bad. Frank Hustace: Is known as a yarn spinner.

A. Gillilan: Might believe him under oath by giving him the benefit of the doubt.

W. S. Luce: Should doubt him even under oath.

With this Neumann submitted the case without argument. Capt. Robertson made a few remarks, after which adjournment was taken to 9 a. m. today.

KAAE GOES TO HAWAII.

LILUOKALANI'S SECRETARY GOES TO THE BIG ISLAND FOR SAFETY.

Afraid of the "Gang" in Town-Sentence of Kaae, Clarke and Others Suspended.

William Kaae, secretary of the ex-Queen, late political prisoner and witness for the community left by the Kinau this afternoon for Hawaii where he will remain. Kaae was sentenced to five years imprisonment and to pay a fine of $5000. The President remitted the fine and the imprisonment sentence has been suspended for the present. Kaae goes to Hawaii for protection, believing the crowd in Honolulu with whom he used to affiliate will make it unpleasant for him. His testimony against C. T. Gulick and the ex-queen was considered very valuable.

Charles Clarke, John Kaimi and John Kahoea have been sentenced to five years imprisonment and to pay fines of $5,000 each. The latter has been remitted by the President. Sentence as to imprisonment in each case is suspended. Clarke will probably remain in Honolulu. He seems to feel himself quite a hero, and willing to brave any obstacles his friends may cast in his way. Kaimi and Kahoea will probably go to the other side of this island for a time. All of these men were used as witnesses.

PERSONAL.

Fred Horner returned to Lahaina by the Kinau.

F. M. Swany left this afternoon for a business trip in Hamakua.

L. S. Aungst, the telephone man, left by the Kinau for Mahukona.

M. A. Gonsalves, merchant, has gone to Laupahoehoe on business.

W. Stoddart, engineer at Spreckelsville, returned home this afternoon.

H. W. Severance of the labor commission, left for Hilo this afternoon. He will return on the next Kinau.

"SAY, YOU GOT PASS, EH?"

NO MORE OF THAT NOW FOR PEOPLE OUT AT NIGHT.

The System Is Abolished-No Crowds Allowed-Martial Law as Now in Force.

A change in an unnumbered order from headquarters will be noticed in the "By Authority" column this evening. There are no tabu hours now. The pass system is abolished. People may go and come at the hours suiting them. The gathering of crowds is prohibited and disturbers of the peace are subject to arrest without warrant. The right of writ of habeas corpus is still withheld. On the subject of martial law a prominent member of the Government said this morning:

"Martial law may continue in force for quite a time yet. There is no one particular reason for this. It is simply deemed a wise precaution in view of what we have passed through and in view of what may possibly happen. The regulations will become more lax as time goes on and nothing except the absence of the habeas corpus right and the liability to arrest without warrant will be noticed. We have talked about the soldiers and the hardships imposed on their owners. The hours of their business will be lengthened soon. 'No, we are not waiting for certain people to leave the country. The Government is not nervous about any man or set of men. Nothing that will not stand the inspection of ordinary courts has been done. We expect test cases and will be prepared to meet them.'"

BUSH AND NAWAHI.

They Furnished The Bond And Are at Liberty.

John E. Bush and Joseph Nawahi, conspiracy prisoners, are out on bonds. H. McIntyre, Lau Chong, C. B. Maile and J. W. Kakaiahaole, in their order, are sureties. The bonds are for $10,000 each. The conditions are that the men are to appear in circuit court next term for trial. Bush and Nawahi secured bail in a couple of hours late yesterday afternoon.

PUNAHOU PLUMBING.

Contract Awarded For Finishing up the Paohali Hall Structure.

The contract for plumbing and copper roofing for the new college building, Punahou, has been awarded to John Emmelhuth & Company for the sum of $6,420. Arthur Harrison, the contractor, is pushing the building operations. The contract calls for the completed job in October next, and it will be no fault of the contractor if it is not turned over then. The first floor is now practically finished. Built of native stone, the structure will be handsome and substantial.

Waiwae Warriors.

"Billy" Sheldon, the Sheriff at Waiwae, is paying his first visit to town since the war. Mr. Sheldon headed several volunteers who were ready for action from the first and who made a couple of trips into the mountains on orders from the Marshal. A regular squad of guards will now be organized at Waiwae.

HE IS CONVERTED.

Editor of "Ka Leo" Will Be For Annexation Now.

John E. Bush at last admits the jig is up. He said today that henceforward his influence will be thrown with the Government in its policy for annexation. He believes, so he says, that annexation was of great and continuous benefit to his race and now that there is no more queen he will do all in his power to encourage the natives to support it. Ka Leo will again be published, but the vituperation which formerly oozed from Printer's Lane will now be replaced, Mr. Bush declares, by doctrines of progress and kind and intelligent teachings.

Better Service.

It is due to the Mutual Telephone Company and to Manager Cassidy to say that the service has been improved very much within the past fortnight. It is now nearly, if not quite as good as before the consolidation.

A Narrow Escape.

The horse driven by Mrs. J. A. McCandless bolted in the yard of the Beretania street home. Mrs. McCandless had just stepped into the buggy. The horse ran around the place at top speed, overturned the rig and freed himself from it. That the lady escaped injury was little short of a miracle.

Abraham Fernandez, George Lycurgus, W. Mossman, H. West, F. J. Testa, J. Mitchell, Henry Deifies, I. B. Grant, C. Duuwell, J. R. Pendergast and Edmund Norrie were released from prison last night.

Nothing Strange.

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

A BURGLAR GETS $80.

SUCCESSFUL RAID MADE LAST NIGHT BY A PROWLER.

Hawaiian Express Company's Office-Visitor Evidently Acquainted With The Place.

The office of the Hawaiian Express Company, Hotel street, was entered by a burglar last night and robbed of about $80. The money was in the drawer in the desk and was reached from the back, by withdrawing another drawer on that side. Mr. L. M. Johnson, manager of that company, said this morning that the street door to the premises and the door leading into the office were both left unlocked last night. In fact, it was not customary to lock these doors. About $40 of the amount stolen was American League money. Twenty cents was left in the drawer.

The express Company people believe the burglar to be a person thoroughly familiar with the office and premises. The money was found by the thief without trouble, and the unique way of taking it out through the desk seems to show that the fellow knew just where it was and how to get at it.

CITIZENS' GUARD.

An Important Meeting of Officers-Variety Matters Considered.

A meeting of all officers of the Citizens' Guard, except Lieutenant of Division Four, not yet elected, met at the American League hall Thursday evening. Squad books were distributed to all of the Sergeants. These books contain blanks for keeping complete records of each squad. The Committee on Rules and Regulations reported a set of rules for the Government of the organization which was accepted. The committee sent to the convention on war records made its report. The same was received and approved. Members of the Advisory Council in the meeting were requested to introduce an act making it unlawful for persons not entitled to same to wear badges. The committee on memorial was allowed until March 9th to report.

Frank Andrade is a football player and a lot of people were expecting to see him in the recent game. The young farmer had a couple of bruises on his face Thursday, the result of a collision with a mule.

CIRCUIT COURT.

A Couple of Civil Cases-Matters Handled Today.

In the case of J. K. Sumner by his next friend Maria S. Daves vs. M. F. Crandall, bill for injunction, etc., the defendant has filed a motion for costs based upon a revised affidavit. F. A. Schaefer has filed his annual account in the matter of the guardianship of the minor children of Charles A. Long. The account shows receipts, $10,338.68; expenditures, $8,391.26. Balance, $1,907.42.

In the matter of the estate of John H. Ward, Antonio Perry has filed his bond as trustee.

NORRIE'S IDEA.

Will Make a Fresh Start on New Lines With His Paper.

Edmund Norrie, editor of the Holoman, political prisoner released last night, said today that he will not resume publication until after the martial law is suspended. "First of all I am looking for a policy," said Mr. Norrie. "The old lines will hardly suit present times. One thing fairly certain: I will endorse the platform of the new Hawaiian Annexation League. Annexation was always my 'secondary consideration.'" Mr. Norrie will change the name of his paper with his new policy. A fresh start will be made. "I shall urge my friends to take the oath, as a starter," said he. "My policy will fall in behind that."

John A. Hassinger, who has been ill at Pearl City over two weeks, is almost recovered and will be on duty at the Interior office Monday.

EARNING A REPUTATION TO BE SHOWN AT A BAD TIME.

One of His Pet Stories-The Finesse With Which It is Rendered-But He is a Good Fellow.

It cannot prejudice the pending case of A. M. Hewitt or injure him personally to tell of his habit of drawing the long bow. Hewitt, until faced with a serious charge, has rather prided himself on his reputation of being the "big cat" on the beach. His stories are always interesting and he is always telling them. Several of his most familiar yarns are gems of the first order. He has told these so often that he believes them to be true.

Hewitt is said to be the most expert supercargo in the port and he gives some tall accounts of his work as a tally clerk. In one of these tales the place is Liverpool. Tally clerks were scarce and it became necessary for Hewitt, then a mere boy, to discharge from four batches of a big steamer 2,500 tons of miscellaneous cargo. This he accomplished between 10 in the morning and 5 in the afternoon, without a pause or an error. The next forenoon Hewitt tallied 2,000 tons of coal into the steamer and she sailed about twenty-six hours after arrival.

Hewitt generally tells this story in the evening. Next morning he approaches the people who heard it and very soberly says: "By looking up my notes I find I made a mistake about the cargo of that steamer. She received only 1,900 tons of coal instead of 2,000."

Whenever an improbable rumor comes to the waterfront some one says at once: "I'll bet Hewitt started that story." He has the habit and everybody knows it. No conspirator that knew Hewitt would let him in on the ground floor unless he was looking for an advertising agent.

Hewitt is a hard and capable worker, good natured and obliging and everybody likes him and sympathizes with him. Paul Neumann was cruel to his client in one instance in the case. Hewitt had called W. S. Luce to give him a character. Mr. Luce said he would doubt the defendant even under oath. Then Neumann turned to Hewitt and blandly inquired: "Have you any more witnesses like that?"

A Novel Reader.

Captain John Ross spent most of his time at the police station reading. He would throw off his coat, loosen his shoes, light his cigar, lie down on his back and the novel was as much of a treasure there as anywhere else.

ALL ALONG THE DOCKS.

CAPTAIN WARREN WHO ESCAPED FROM THE GRAVE'S BRINK.

Was in a Disastrous Wreck-His Hair Was Turned White-Notes of the Waterfront.

The Harry Morse is overdue at this port. The bark Albert will take ten or twelve passengers from this port.

The J. A. Cummins arrived last night with Waimanalo sugar for the William Bowden.

The Waimanalo arrived last night from the west side. She will sail on Monday for Waiwae and Waiwae.

The C. F. Crocker sailed from Hilo on the 18th with 22,825 bags of sugar. The Santiago is still at that port.

The W. H. Dimond should bring about seven days later news. The Bryant and the Allen will have no later dates.

The bark Albert will probably leave for San Francisco Saturday. Captain Griffiths expects to return again in April.

Captain William Davies is figuring to leave on one of the numerous merchantmen sailing next week. He will go the Sound country.

The Hawaii from Hawaii and the Pele from Kauai will likely arrive this evening. The Pele will bring sugar for Irwin & Co.

The Kinau sailed this afternoon for Maui and Hawaii. She took several passengers, none of whom, however were for the Volcano.

Policeman George Green at the boat landing has parted with his flowing beard. The merciless tars have already dubbed him "Prince Bismark."

The Newsboy, Mollstad, arrived late Thursday, 68 days from Newcastle. Experienced heavy weather most of the way up. The Newsboy it in naval row waiting her turn to discharge.

The James Makke arrived this morning from Kapaa with 2600 bags Makke sugar, to be shipped by Brewer & Company. It will go on the Ceylon. The Makke sailed again at noon for Waiwae.

Captain Warren is boat-header on the steam whaler Belvedere, now off port. All will remember him as master of the Atlantic which was wrecked opposite the Cliff House in San Francisco Bay four or five years ago. At that time thirty-two lives were lost and Captain Warren was saved by mere accident. It will be remembered also that his hair turned from dark to white in a single night, while viewing the horrors of the
