MISSIONARY CLIQUE IS ASSERTION OF O'DAY

Declares Physicians Are Determined To Ruin Him

PRACTICALLY CONFIRMS THE PORTLAND INTERVIEW

Says All Local Hospitals Have Been Closed to Him Because of His Stand on the Molokai Question.

In the course of a statement made this morning by Dr. J. C. O'Day, which he intended to be a practical denial of the assertions attributed to him while in Portland, Dr. J. C. O'Day practically confirmed the truth of the general terms of the interview in which he denounced the administration of the Molokai settlement and the people of the Territory.

"I told the interviewer," said the physician, "that this country was in the grip of a clique—a missionary element—that had things all their own way. I also told them that there were a number of physicians here who work after my scalp and would not be content until they had secured it."

O'Day continued with a lengthy account of his visit to Portland and what he termed the deliberate misrepresentation of his attitude and statements made there in regard to the people of Hawaii. He apparently failed to observe that his statement above quoted amounted to a practical confirmation of the bitter terms of the Portland interview which he denied with emphasis and indignation upon his return to the Territory.

According to Dr. O'Day's further assertion this morning, the animus that is held against him by the physicians of the Territory is so great that he has been shut out from the hospitals and a deliberate and conspired attempt is being made to ruin his practice.

In declaring that the local hospitals have been closed to him because of his attitude and the feeling that has been engendered against him among the local members of the profession, Dr. O'Day said that he told the Portland interviewer that he confidently expected that another hospital would be built as an outcome of the campaign that was being waged against him, and that it would give him an opportunity to resume and continue the practice of his profession without suffering under the handicaps that have been imposed on him by the opposition of the hostile physicians.

Dr. O'Day insists that the true (Continued on Page 5)

GRAND JURY REPORTS

The Territorial Grand Jury this afternoon absolutely vindicated Joe Leal, former chief of detectives, of all the charges that have been made against him. In addition to finding the accusation without the slightest foundation, in fact, the report of the Grand Jury embodies an emphatic recommendation that he be reinstated as

This morning the Grand Jury met in the city hall at 9 o'clock and renewed the investigation into the alleged graft of ex-Chief of Detectives Leal.

The first witness called was Apaliona, who is reported as having confirmed the statements made by McHenry, the self-confessed gambler, and added a little to the former's statement. Apaliona, or Napoleon, as McHenry referred to him, said that Willie Vida made overtures to him to start a game, and that he was afraid that there would be trouble. Vida then said that he had seen Leal and that everything was all right.

The two then started and ran a game for three nights on Beretania avenue and Kink, near the railroad depot. They lost money in a game called Klondike and closed on the third night. Two or three weeks after that they opened up on Beretania near the Ah Kwa building and played there for about three weeks until the Japanese took the game to King street, near Kalakaua avenue.

In the last place they only ran for five days and then returned to the Ah Kwa block.

According to Apaliona's statement Leal was to get one share of all the winnings. Apaliona stated that Vida was stationed at the Royal Annex to watch the police station and give notice when the officers showed signs of activity. The first time the game started Leal was to get a quarter share, but the Japanese then came in and demanded a share, and McHenry dropped out. Apaliona said that he personally paid money to Leal at the latter's house. Willie Vida sometimes accompanied him to Leal's house, but always remained in another room when the money changed hands.

McHenry had brought "phony" dice into the game and they had been taken by Vida, and turned over to Leal. When the crooked dice had been turned over to Leal, Vida had tried to make out that McHenry was not straight, and that his reputation in China and Manila was a bad one.

McHenry was then called up before Leal and warned to get out of the country as soon as possible as men of his sort were not wanted in Honolulu. The second witness called this morning was Sheriff Jarrett and he told of how he had secured the evidence and of the trouble he had had in keeping his witnesses to the story.

Matsu, the yardboy of the ex-chief of detectives, was also called and told what he knew of the visits of Vida and Apaliona to the Leal home. James Dodd and Mike Paton were also called, but at noon the jury adjourned till 1:30 o'clock. Considerable surprise is evinced over the attitude assumed by the prosecutors of former Chief of Detectives Leal in the acceptance of evidence coming from J. H. McHenry, who, according to the statements appearing in the Advertiser this morning, has set himself down as a self-confessed gambler. It is strongly intimated that ill-feeling has existed between McHenry, who at the present time is a bartender at a Bethel street resort, and the now deposed chief of detectives. McHenry has admitted to the police officials that he is a gambler and has indulged in the profitable but nefarious pastime almost since the time he was able to handle a bit of pastboard or spin the top of a roulette wheel.

The contention is raised by those who believe in the policy of the square deal in the Leal or any other matter, that statements emanating from a man of McHenry's stamp should not be used as final when it comes to determining the fitness or unfitness of a public official. By his own declaration to Sheriff Jarrett, McHenry admits having arrived at Honolulu on last May. Prior to that time he was a resident of Shanghai. McHenry has engaged in various gambling enterprises at the Paris of the Far East, and at a time when the now Deputy Attorney General Andrews and several Honolulu (Continued on Page 3)

MARKET IS STRONG STILL ADVANCES

Large Sale of Ewa At High Figures And All Are Active

A mighty strong market epitomizes the situation in stocks today. The sales reported today were the largest and the prices were higher than at any time in the recent season of high prices and large transactions.

Olaa is being cleaned up and all the available stock offered at 6.25 is said to have been taken up. Over a thousand shares of Ewa have been bought from the Coast at 31.75, a good share of the deal having been reported today. Nearly a thousand shares of McEryde has changed hands at 6.50 and very little is to be had at that figure as the people generally believe that the agency of that plantation will be (Continued on Page 5)

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The final articles in the championship prize fight between Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson were signed in this city today.

The articles call for a fight of forty-five or more rounds to be held on the Fourth of July, either in Utah or California.

It is agreed that the referee shall be named sixty days before the fight takes place. The talk of the men interested indicates that they are in favor of the fight being held either at Colma in California or in Salt Lake City.

AGREE ON PLANS FOR WATER SUPPLY

Officials of Territory Confer On The Situation

TO HURRY PLACING OF HIGH LIFT PUMP

Difficult Question of Water Department Finances Is Theme of Lengthy Consultation—Auditor Fisher's Attitude.

A conference was held this morning between Acting Governor Mott Smith, Attorney General Lorrin Andrews, Superintendent Marston Campbell and Auditor Fisher, at which a general agreement was reached in connection with the perplexing problems of Territorial finances that have arisen in connection with Superintendent Campbell's efforts to relieve the threatening condition of the city's water supply. The contract that has been let for the placing of the new high lift pump on Beretania street will be carried out and the provisions for the building, for which no funds seemed available, will be left to the administrative discretion of the Superintendent of Public Works.

The most difficult question involved in the problem that has been temporarily disposed of by the conference of the executive officers of the Territorial government was whether Campbell possessed the legal right to let contracts for work the funds for which would not actually be in the Treasury of the Territory until some future date when the revenues of the water department will have been collected. It was on this basis that Auditor Fisher assumed the attitude that was misrepresented to show, apparently, that the Territorial Auditor was standing in the way of progress toward a relief of the city's water system. The legal doubt as to the status of the water department revenues caused Acting Attorney General Lorrin Andrews to be called into consultation and it is now believed that Campbell possesses the necessary authority to proceed with such measures of an emergency nature as will be justified by the results.

The work on the placing of the high lift pump, which has been lying idle for several years, will be rushed with all the speed possible. While the local water situation has been relieved in a degree by the heavy rain of last night, coupled with the promise of increased precipitation, Acting Governor Mott Smith and Campbell believe that the time has come when a determined effort should be made toward providing immediate insurance against the future.

JARRETT'S POSITION

Sheriff Jarrett, apparently occupies a rather unenviable position in the present Advertiser frame-up to remove an official whose place is wanted for one of its employees.

The most important material brought before the Grand Jury now investigating the charges preferred against former Chief of Detectives Leal is a series of statements which have been submitted by Sheriff Jarrett.

Jarrett declared this morning that he had no statement to offer the evening papers. He was asked why this recent discrimination was exercised in favor of the morning paper, which published the Jarrett statements prior to their presentation before County Attorney Cathcart and the members of the Grand Jury. Jarrett stated that the Advertiser had done much to assist him in obtaining Leal from office and for this reason he considered himself under great obligation to that newspaper. He does not now state whether that obligation extends to naming a "Tiser" employee for the detective force.

DISCUSS FLORAL PARADE PLANS

THREE MONTHS TO PREPARE FOR EVENT

Acting Secretary of the Promotion Committee, Makes Reply to the Statement of Treasurer Conkling.

At the meeting of the Promotion Committee yesterday there was a general discussion of Harold Dillingham's plans for the floral parade. While the floral parade is yet three months away there will be no time lost in making a beginning, the greatest amount of effort toward arousing enthusiasm being centered upon the last month.

In the course of his report for the week Acting Secretary Cooper of the Promotion Committee makes reference to a statement by Treasurer Conkling that he did not see much Hawaiian Promotion Literature during his trip East. The report is as follows:

In a newspaper interview published several days ago, Hon. D. Lloyd Conkling, Territorial Treasurer, is reported to have commented at some length on the general ignorance throughout the east on matters Hawaiian, and to have stated that, during his recent entire trip he did not see a folder or other bit of Hawaiian Promotion Literature during his trip East. The report is as follows:

I could have told Mr. Conkling before he started East that he would not be able to find our printed matter in the locations he mentions, excepting that he should have been able to discover some in the Pacific coast cities. We are not making a general distribution elsewhere, not that it might not prove valuable to do so, but because we have not the financial means to do it.

Every few days someone calls at our office with an idea on the dissemination of facts concerning Hawaii. Almost all, however, are plans for a wider distribution of our printed matter, and while some of them are new to us, and I am only too glad to have this evidence that our citizens are giving some thought to the work of advertising Hawaii, the point I want to make is that the field to be covered is not the obscure feature, but the getting of material to distribute and the expense incident to this distribution.

As an instance in question, an enthusiastic fraternity man came to me the other day with a proposition like this. The order which he has in mind claims over half a million members. It should not be difficult to secure through the secretaries of the various branch lodges an approximately complete list of all their names, with addresses. Now in this particular order there is an unusually large number of persons of means who are in the habit of traveling, and a circular letter to every member of the order, accompanied by some of our folders, would no doubt reach a very large number of persons who would be interested. Now, all this looks very good, but this is what I had to show my enthusiastic friend. He had never counted on the expense, and was somewhat startled at such figures as these:

Postage (2 cents) on 500,000 pieces	$10,000
500,000 folders at 2 cents each (our latest folders cost over this amount)	10,000
Envelopes at $3.00 per M.	1,500
	$21,000

This total does not include anything for circular letters, which were suggested, nor for clerical work in addressing and stamping—a very considerable job.

It would be very easy to have our folders displayed in practically every railway station, and every hotel in the United States, provided we had the means to pay for the material and the distribution. Well organized companies control the racks in these places all over the country, and are thoroughly reliable and conscientious in their work. We however, only patronize one, and that one handles our folders very well in the larger cities of the Pacific Coast. We get some very good free service, however, from some of the big tourist agencies, which find it to their advantage to make use of our matter in encouraging travel. Thus I am quite sure that had Mr. Conkling visited the office of Thos. Cook & Son, in any of the Eastern cities, he could have secured very complete data on Hawaii. The same would have been true of the numerous offices of the Raymond & Whitecomb passenger agents.

How a Great Resort Advertises.

Atlantic City is without doubt the greatest tourist resort in the world. Its natural attractions are not greater than half a dozen other places in the country, and no one claims that its tremendous success, and ever increasing popularity is due to anything else than persistent and skillful advertising. The only industry of Atlantic City is the hotel business and it doesn't want any other. The place has several commercial organizations, similar to those in Honolulu. These have joined in creating and supporting a "Publicity Bureau," the work of which is similar in scope to that of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. It can advertise Atlantic City in practically any way within its means, except through newspapers and periodicals. These mediums are reserved by the hotel men as is stated that the Atlantic City hotel men spend not less than $500,000 per year in advertising along these lines, and they have discovered that by this means they can hold crowds during the winter, as well as in the summer, and they have now an all the year round resort. In an article on Atlantic City in the winter, the Travelers' Railway Guide, published in New York City, says:

"One reason for the continued success of Atlantic City is the enterprise of its hotel men, who have dared to build great and expensive hotels, and who know how to advertise and do not hesitate to do it without interruption. The same enterprise might have made other seaside places of similar situation quite as famous, but it would be impossible now to rival Atlantic City, which is known and talked of the world over."

Hawaii Becoming Known.

I do not think that anyone who takes the trouble to look over the details of the work which our organization has been doing for the past three or four years will be able to suggest any very radical changes in methods with the means available. There is every evidence that our Territory is becoming very much more widely known than it was a few years ago. Here is a bit of evidence along this line clipped from the Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal of Nov. 3. It says editorially:

"Why does Hawaii still cry out for immigrants? How can anyone who is footloose resist the blandishments of a bulletin prepared by the Honolulu promotion committee to make paradise look pale gray beside the islands?"

SALVATION ARMY FREE DINNER

Preparations are at present under way for the annual free Christmas dinner for the poor of Honolulu to be given by the Salvation Army. The plan this year is to send out one hundred baskets, each containing sufficient for a family of five persons, in this way supplying Christmas dinners to five hundred poor people. The baskets will be delivered the day before Christmas by the workers of the Army at the homes of the recipients. Major Willis, who has charge of the arrangements, has several officers at present engaged in looking up worthy cases, for in order to avoid being imposed upon, the Army people each year look into all cases, visiting the homes and finding out the condition of the families.

On Christmas Day also, a Christmas table is to be spread for twenty-five homeless men at the Army reading room on Nuuanu street.

Another feature of the Christmas program is planned especially for the children. Two big Christmas trees are to be erected at the hall on Nuuanu street, one for the street children and one for the members of the various Army Sunday schools.

Small contribution boxes are being placed in some of the stores to help meet the expenses, and Santa Claus will soon appear on the street with his familiar "kettle," to receive the contributions of the passers-by.

OAHU AUTO RIDES FOR TUBERCULOSIS FUND

The following circular is being sent out to automobile owners by A. Lewis, Jr., William Brown and P. L. Horne:

An automobile trip around the island has been planned as part of the Men's League campaign to raise the tuberculosis fund of $2500. Owners are requested to donate the use of their cars and chauffeurs.

The day set is December 18th, 1909, leaving the Young Hotel at 8:15 a. m. Lunch at Haliwa.

Fare $8 per passenger, from which lunch will be furnished and balance paid into the fund.

No fare asked of owners driving cars.

Render it possible for others to make gifts of motor rides.

JOAN OF ARC.

The vast amount of publicity given the canonization of Joan of Arc causes a desire on the part of the masses to learn something of her history. The motion picture makers have provided a series of pictures with bits of her life shown in colors which will be presented at the Park tonight. There are some exciting scenes depicted and the colorist has done his work well. That it is a Pathe film is sufficient recommendation for it as to quality of the photographic features, the combination giving something that sets one to thinking of the marvels of the century. There will be plenty of other subjects shown and enough of the comedy element to satisfy the most exacting. There will be good music and the Melrotte sisters will sing in their usual captivating manner. Do not let the sign of rain keep you away from the Park tonight; the covered section will keep away the moisture and you will have plenty of fresh air to breathe.

Bishop W. T. Sabine of the reformed episcopal church rescued a domestic from an upper floor of his home at New York in a fire. The girl was unconscious.

FORT SHAFTER HAS PAY DAY

PARADE LATE THIS AFTERNOON
SEVERAL OLD TIMERS WILL GO TO COAST — COOK RE-TURNS TO DUTY.

Yesterday, the 2nd inst., being Parade day, there was no parade but it will be held today at the usual time. First call 4:50 p. m., assembly 5 o'clock. Several people visited Fort Shafter last Thursday to see the parade but were disappointed as there was none. It is assured that there will be a parade this afternoon at 5 o'clock. All are welcome.

Go To Coast.

Private William McKenzie, Company G, Engineer Corps; Private Felix Marks, Company E, 20th Infantry, and Private Grove Moore, Company F, 20th Infantry, will be sent on the next transport to the General Hospital, Presidio, of San Francisco, for further treatment.

Private Simpson, Company F, 20th Infantry, and Private Gardner, Company H, 20th Infantry, are relieved from special duty on the target range and will report to their respective company commanders for duty.

Private Everett, Company A, Engineers Corps, now casually at Fort Shafter, will proceed on the next transport for San Francisco, reporting on arrival for transportation to his proper station, which is Washington Barracks, D. C.

Pay Day.

The troops here were paid Thursday, 2nd inst., by Paymaster Major Ray. There is from three thousand five hundred to four thousand dollars paid to the soldiers at Fort Shafter monthly. Pay day was earlier than usual this month as it has been not earlier than the 4th or 5th for several months. The Battalion was paid in the following order: Post non-commissioned staff, non-commissioned staff, 2nd Battalion, 20th Infantry, detachment Signal Corps, detachment Hospital Corps, Co. E, Co. F, Co. G, Co. H.

Cook Returns.

Private Morse, Co. E, 20th Infantry, has been relieved from special duty as cook in Co. E and Cook Gliboy, whose place Pvt. Morse has been filling, has taken up his former duties as cook, being released from the hospital a few days ago.

For Discharge.

First Class Private William Sinclair and first class Private Robert Aldrich of the Hospital Corps will proceed on the first available transport to San Francisco, reporting on arrival to the depot of recruits and casuals, Angel Island, for discharge. These men have many friends at Fort Shafter who are all sorry to see them leave the post.

New Duties.

Tom Tarter, formerly employed as motorman for the H. R. T. & L. Co., began his duties as quartermaster transfer at Fort Shafter Wednesday.

LAUNDRYMEN PAY COURT COSTS

Judge Andrade assessed the cost of prosecution upon seven Chinese who had been arraigned upon a charge of conducting a laundry business without having taken out a license. These cases have been pending in the court for some weeks, awaiting a decision from the Supreme Court. Three defendants who have not thus far complied with the law were notified to do so at once and appear before the magistrate within one week.

In an address at Lawrence, Kas., Prof. E. A. Ross of the University of Wisconsin, said children should attend school twelve months in the year.

MAIN WITNESS AGAINST LEAL IS GAMBLER

Lawyers were carrying on their fight against the campaign instituted by L. R. Willey, the late United States Judge for China.

McHenry is well known to the police of Manila as well as along the China coast from Hongkong to Tientsin. From what can be learned here he left Shanghai for Honolulu after the police had raided a shanghai hotel conducted by McHenry and another gambler named Noble. Both of these men had operated in the Philippines during the stirring "Days of the Empire." At the height of the famous regime of the now deceased American Consul General Goodnow, at Shanghai, McHenry, as well as a host of other men and women, held sway in Shanghai, where gambling and most every form of vice reigned supreme. Willey's purge was not confined solely to lawyers but he also made it exceedingly hot for vagrants, gamblers and harlots who claimed allegiance to the United States.

Leal's friends contend that the tacit acknowledgment coming from McHenry as to his gambling propensities renders his testimony in the matter of the removal of the officer unworthy of consideration whether by the Sheriff or the members of the Grand Jury.

Leal, on being interviewed this morning, said that as far as McHenry was concerned he had only spoken to the man once. "I called him to my office and told him he had better get out of the country as we did not want men of his type here," said the ex-chief.

Many people are enquiring why Vida should have been stationed at the Royal Annex to watch the police station if, as stated by McHenry, Leal had been bribed to allow the game to run.

FRIDAY DECEMBER 3, 1909

Be brief, for it is with words as with sunbeams, the more they are condensed the deeper they burn.—Sonthey.

Some men couldn't hear opportunity knocking if she used a sledge and anvil to announce her presence.

Only the speller will have a very merry Christmas in England. Elections don't promote Christmas trading.

Perhaps Deputy Attorney General Andrews is more than willing to forget all about everybody and everything in Shanghai.

If Lent's record is as rotten as the method that has been followed in working up the case against him, it would be as bad as it is painted.

One of the duties of the Grand Jury is to protect citizens against promoters of malicious attack, as well as to see that no guilty man shall escape.

Of course there will be no Holiday ball in any line of Honolulu business. This town is growing, and balls don't fit into the growing scheme of any city.

Don't you think that your accrued interest in the $150,000 worth of good that last night's rain did for this island will offset a spot or so of mud on your shoes today?

Rain ought to help Nuanu dam, though the people have nearly given up hope of there ever being any water behind that very expensive monument to the taxpayers' money.

Talk about "telling it to the marines" all you please, but it is worth while noticing that when there is trouble on foot, the marines are first on the scene to clear the way for whatever serious business there may be on hand.

Waving the flag is good exercise, but it can not be forever regarded as an excuse for lack of logic.—Advertiser.

How nicely this tallies with the foreign steamship lobby's agent who writes, "The Daily Punk don't like the Flag now; we're agin this merchant marine graft."

Judge De Bolt may find in the second unanimous endorsement by the Bar Association a very pleasant reminder of the confidence that the members of the Bar have in his ability and integrity. Doubtless the fear of this endorsement was what caused the Governor to keep so quiet about the resignation of Wilder, but not even the unanimous Bar Association expects that De Bolt will be named for the Supreme Bench.

Is there any reason why the people of Honolulu should desert the main support of the American navy—the American merchant marine—just because the Pacific Mail Steamship Company does not play an ordinarily fair game with Honolulu? Instead of flaying the Pacific Mail by attempting to give Japan the supremacy of this ocean, the people of Honolulu should unite to build their own ships and thus become absolutely independent of the Pacific Mail or any other through line.

THE WEATHER.

Tourists may be told that this is unusual weather for Honolulu. It is unusual for a dry winter, but the usual weather of the years in which we have celebrated with a wet Christmas.

Incidentally, the rain of last night that appears to have been general throughout the group is mighty welcome to the people of these islands. It is worth millions of dollars to the sugar crop, though it may for a day or two interfere with the plans of some of our excellent tourist crop.

The weather for the last month has been like that of former years when Christmas week has been marked by a series of southerly winds of good luck, dispense a little downpours.

It will be well, therefore, for the tourists to provide themselves with their Christmas purchases early in the month. If the weather is clear for Christmas, the people will then be in a position to declare a dividend on good luck, dispense a little more good cheer, and do some afterthought buying on Christmas eve.

Stranger things might happen than the steady expansion of the Panama Republic to include all that territory between the canal zone and Mexico. This would be cheaper for the United States than to be forever asserting the Monroe Doctrine after one of the Central American Republics has started out to destroy life and property in the most needless and savage style, and call it civil war.

NICARAGUA AND KNOX.

It is hard to believe that Secretary Knox is assuming a strong position toward Nicaragua as the result of a new idea that has suddenly developed in the State Department.

Nicaragua furnishes the only field for the construction of an inter-oceanic canal that might come in competition with the Panama canal. Many will recall how Senator Morgan maintained to his dying day that the United States should have put its canal through by the Nicaraguan route.

The proximity of Nicaragua to the Panama canal, whether the northern canal route be utilized or not, makes the government of that little country a matter of profound interest to America. The United States cannot afford to have Nicaragua in the hands of a government antagonistic to American interests, nor can it allow a reckless administration of affairs to bring Nicaragua into complications with European powers.

Consequently we are inclined to look upon the rushing of warships and marines to the Nicaraguan coast as the working out of a settled policy that only awaited a favorable opportunity to develop.

With the Panama Canal as our great artery of trade between the Pacific and the Atlantic, the nations of the adjoining countries must behave themselves. If they conduct themselves with ordinary propriety, well and good. If they do not, they must be disciplined, even to the point of setting up a government for them that shall at least prevent the execution of American citizens without trial and give the protection of a civilized nation to residents of other nationalities.

Events of the last ten years have tended more and more to convert the Caribbean sea into an American lake. This domination of course carries with it great responsibilities. Nations bordering on that lake must so comport themselves that they will not jeopardize our control by bringing about complications with European powers. And so far as Nicaragua is concerned, it is a better policy to interfere before the foolish President of that country has called forth a hostile demonstration from some European power, than to allow him to do his worst and then be forced to step in and inform the world that the United States will take care of its neighbors, Europeans must keep their hands off, the Monroe doctrine must be recognized, and so forth.

Sooner or later the Central American countries must be straightened out, and it is difficult to believe that any better occasion offers than the present to attend to Nicaragua.

From present indications we should say that the next few days will witness the landing of our forces in Nicaragua. We doubt that there will be any opposition on the part of Zelaya or the rebel Estrada. Our troops will be landed to preserve peace and protect the life and property.

When peace has been restored and a government established that agrees to behave itself, the United States will withdraw its men and ships and keep a very close watch to be certain that the promise shall be fulfilled.

We may depend upon it that the Panama Canal and all its approaches will be well protected. With Nicaragua disciplined, it is not likely that Costa Rica, next adjoining the Panama Republic and the Canal Zone, will become obstreperous.

USES OF MOTION PICTURES.

Upon the white screen is shown a stalk pushing its way up from the ground; leaves developing; balls swelling, then bursting to reveal the white substance within; and in a few moments the whole life of a cotton-plant has been in review of a hall full of people who never saw one growing.

Next may come a factory wherein some industry of national importance is carried on; every process appears in exact detail. Then a film taken by Chinese photographers, imported by way of New York, showing how tea is grown, harvested and prepared. A Russian or Australian film may follow. Then a mountain-climbing scene, with rope and ice-axe in use; a battle, Wright's aeroplane in flight, a camel caravan.

The whole world is not only seeing but making motion-pictures. The phonograph and the vitagraph have penetrated every continent and are pleasing or instructing all manner of man from the Zulu to the Berlin doctor of philosophy. Purely on the theatrical side the industry has become so great as to require subdivision says the New York World. A distinct specialty has thus grown up in the making of "chasers," as those series are called wherein policemen, nurse girls, grocers and other characters go through obstacle races at great speed.

Most recent and most marvellous are some of the scientific uses of motion-pictures. Thus, the Merchants' Association of New York, convinced of the ravages the housefly is doing, has arranged for educational motion-films showing the enormous loss the nation incurs by it. More wonderful still, the most delicate and dangerous surgical operations are studied by camera and film. The operation itself, if serious, can have no spectators, or few at the most. The surgeons rehearse with a dummy to get "in the picture"; the operation is performed before the camera, quickly, deftly; later the film may be explained to a thousand students. The pictures can be run slowly so that the exact manner of using the implements may be seen. They can be repeated a thousand times and made in duplicate for many schools.

The formation of a voluntary commission for censoring motion-pictures in the interest of public morality has received much attention. Quite as important as this praiseworthy effort of the manufacturers to prune entertainment of any objectionable features is the daily discovery of some new educational or business use to which pictures can be put, and educators the country over are actively aiding in suggesting new films. Trade, advertisement, surgery, commerce, the training of soldiers—what work will not the motion-pictures yet be set to do?

And since the motion-picture is used so successfully in other parts of the country, the question arises why Honolulu should not be able to use the moving picture in its tuberculosis campaign, its mosquito campaign and the many lines of endeavor that are started by big minded citizens but need the cooperation of the people for full success.

AMERICA'S DIVORCE RECORD.

Japan leads the world in divorces. And that may be the reason why the divorce mill grinds so freely in the courts of Hawaii. The major portion of our population is Japanese though our civilization is of the boasted Christian nation variety.

But among all the nations of the earth the United States stands third in the divorce record. Japan taking first place, followed by Algeria second for the highest number of divorces.

These facts have been brought to public notice by Walter F. Wilcox, professor of statistics and sociology at Cornell University. Prof. Wilcox gathered valuable statistics for the International Statistics Institute that met in Paris recently and has given his report to the public.

"There is probably no country," the professor writes, "to which the problem of divorce and separation is of greater importance than the United States. For that reason more attention has been given to divorce by the Government of the United States than by that of any other country."

An international table accompanying the report shows that Japan leads the list of divorces, with 215 per 100,000 population. If Algeria is to be counted her records even exceed Japan's, being 288, on the same ratio. Next to these two is the United States, with a ratio of divorces to population of one-fourth that of Algeria, one-third that of Japan and more than twice that of Switzerland or Saxony.

France has 23, and at the other extreme, Mr. Wilcox's figures show, is Ireland, with an annual average of about one divorce to the 100,000 population.

In another table Prof. Wilcox compares the divorces and separations to the number of marriages, per thousand, as follows: Algeria, 318; Japan, 257; United States, 82; France, 31, with Paris itself, 59; Switzerland, 42; Austria, but 8, but its capital, Vienna, 49; German Empire, 20; England and Wales, 2.

In determining the probability of marriages ending in divorce in the United States, Prof. Wilcox says: "It seems fair to conclude that between 65 and 80 out of every 1,000 marriages celebrated have ended in a divorce."

WAR MOVE CONSIDERED HASTY BY MEXICO

CITY OF MEXICO, Dec. 2.—The most intense interest is being taken here in the preparations being made by the United States to make war upon Nicaragua.

Throughout the comment there is an undertone of belittlement against the United States, the feeling being that the action taken has been too hasty.

MEXICO WILL BE NEUTRAL

Senor Don Ignacio Mariscal, the secretary of foreign affairs, today made an official announcement of the plans of the Mexican government to preserve a neutral attitude in the impending hostilities.

FLOODS IN NORTHWEST

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Dec. 2.—The country around this city is inundated by floods and fifty miles of railroads have been washed out. The damage throughout this section is reported to have been heavy, the total being estimated at no less than $2,000,000. A thousand cattle are known to have been drowned, and 400,000 sacks of grain, stored ready for shipment to the elevators and mills have been destroyed.

EASTERN ROADS FACING TIE-UP

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Representatives of the trainmen on all the eastern railroads, comprising railroad unions with a combined membership of 300,000 men, have issued a statement that they are preparing to demand soon a ten per cent increase in their pay.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Capt. Lucien Young, captain of the Mare Island Navy Yard, has been detached from duty in the yard and will probably be given a command aboard ship.

IN CHARGE ON ATLANTIC

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—Rear Admiral W. W. Kimball has been placed in command of the naval forces being despatched to Nicaraguan waters on the Atlantic side.

STRIKE BREAKERS ENGAGED

ST. PAUL, Dec. 2.—The railroads entering here have hired a thousand strikebreakers to take the places of the switchmen who are out.

POLICE COURT NO COLLECTION AGENCY

District Magistrate Andrade doesn't propose to have the police court utilized for the rounding up of delinquent debtors to the territorial or city and county coffers, and he plainly signified his determination to hereafter prevent a recurrence of such proceedings as of late have been brought before his court.

The matter was brought up this morning at the instance of a Japanese named Takahashi, who had been placed under arrest upon a charge of conducting a lodging house on Beretania street without having gone to the trouble of taking out a license.

The house has been catering to the Japanese public since the first of July, under the present management. The proprietor was discovered in his lair the other day by a collector of licenses and he was promptly brought to the police station.

The prosecution recommended that Takahashi be discharged and it was at this recommendation that Judge Andrade smiled and announced from the bench that in his opinion that an example should be made of some of the alleged offenders that are continually being brought before the magistrate.

It developed however in the case of Takahashi that since he had taken over the place of business last July, he had not been visited by the distressfully active tax collectors. He, at least was one victim who had escaped the fine toothed gathering for revenues.

Hereafter it will be up to the tax gatherers to get busier than ever and desist in bringing their delinquents before police court with a view of securing the payment of licenses.

Seagulls are so numerous in and about the English coast that they are causing a scarcity of fish.

GOVERNMENT SUPPLIES READING

SPORTS GIVEN EVERY ATTENTION WITH VIEW TO BEATING ALL COMERS—SURVEY WORK STILL GOING ON.

Visitors at Fort De Russy will notice many improvements in the recreation hall at that post, which is being used by both the Engineers and the Hospital Corps. This building, which is one of the many erected since the present troops arrived at that camp, is located on the beach and contains the billiard and pool table and library of the Engineers. New tables and gym chairs have been purchased while bookcases have been placed about in order that the men may enjoy themselves as well in camp as elsewhere. The library, which contains many hundred books, including most of the latest novels, is one of the finest that any army post can boast of. Forty-five monthly magazines, sixteen weekly periodicals and fifteen newspapers are received there and every evening the porches and reading room can be seen filled by the members of the post enjoying the new papers from home and amusing themselves with cards and other games. It is here that the entertainments, which many of the soldier's friends in Honolulu have enjoyed, are planned and it is here also that the championship games of pool and billiards, which are now being played, are held.

Athletic Notes.

The rain, which began early last evening, made it possible to play only one of the handball games that were scheduled for the evening. Sergeants Behl and Spencer continued in their winning form and won from Vogelback and Preeke by a score of twenty-one to eighteen. The postponed games of last night will be played this evening and it is sure that some fast work will be seen. Many of the best handball players of the camp are out with the survey parties in the island and as they are all expected in camp for Christmas holidays the men now at Fort De Russy are doing all possible to get themselves in shape to win the holiday games. This series of games will begin the first of the holidays and will continue until after New Years.

Championship.

Billiards had the attention of all last evening in recreation hall and as the series is fast nearing completion some clever playing was seen. Williamson, who has been playing a good game, won from Hartman. This was the first game of the evening and was one of the best. Both men played an even game, Williamson drawing away only in the last twenty points. The score, one hundred to eighty-nine. Vogelback won from Benoit in the second game and as these two men have each an equal percentage now they will be seen again before the close of the tournament. Fox won from Ruether in the first pool game and Farrell from Lane in the second. Both of the winners showed good form and will be well up at the finish. The games are being rushed along in order that they may be completed before the twenty-fifth of the month.

News About Camp.

Private Diddle, who has been at work on the large map of the island, left Fort De Russy today for a trip to the various engineer camps where he will obtain further information in connection with the survey work. Private Brooke returned from Kahana yesterday and will remain in this camp for a much needed rest before he returns to his detachment. Arrangements are under way for an entertainment at Christmas which will rival any given by the Engineers since they arrived at Fort De Russy. Visiting talent, as well as local, will aid the members of the camp in this performance, the program of which will be given out within a short time.

BY V. L. STEVENSON.

Walking Race Prizes Are Good

Now that the merchants of the city have come forward with a fine lot of prizes for the Kalakaua avenue walking race, it is assured that the event will be a good one. And it is pleasing to see the business men of the town taking such a great interest in amateur athletics.

This walking race will be very different to a professional event, and all the men who enter will do so with no thought of gate money to urge them on and only for the sport and fun of the thing.

Over thirty prizes have been donated and they range from beautiful cups to useful articles which anyone would be pleased to get for a Christmas present. The Honolulu merchants and business men can always be relied upon to come to the front with trophies for amateur events.

The only thing now is for more men to enter for the race and provide good fields that will work the spectators up to a pitch of excitement during the race.

Service men are wanted in the race, and it is hoped by the committee that a number of them will enter right away for the event. There are quite a number of good walkers in the different camps around Honolulu, and the boys in uniform are a fine lot of sports who are always out for the love of the game.

So far there are not very many entries for the race, but the ones that have already entered are a like-ly looking bunch, and range from all legs to no legs to speak of. C. K. Charlie, the game little Chinese lad, who put up so many good runs in Marathon races, is in the walking race, and he will once more go up against his old opponent, Antone Kaoo, who is also trying his powers in an event very different to a Marathon.

When the men face the starter it will be a funny sight, for all sizes and sorts of men will be on the starting line, and when the pistol goes there probably will be a wild dash for the leading place.

So far the following men have entered for the race: W. Timson, L. O. Rosa, Sam Hop, S. H. Webb, Antone Kaoo, Daniel Kahana, M. G. Jordan, H. M. Ayres, John Deunham, C. K. Charlie, Wilson Feagler, W. McTigue, E. M. Cheatham, Arthur McDuffie, A. F. Mullen. Entries will close for the main event at Wall Nichols' store on Fort street tomorrow night at 9 o'clock.

The entry list of the other two events, viz., fat men's and veterans' races, will close tomorrow night week at the same place. The elimination race will take place on Sunday, Dec. 12, and the final go on the following Sunday.

Three prizes will be given for the fat men's race, three for the veterans' and six for the elimination race, the balance to go to the winners of the final contest.

The names of the business men who have donated prizes are as follows, and the thanks of the committee is due to them for their generous gifts:

Jack Scully, silver cup and six small

Big Fight Time Place and Coin

After all McCarey did not get the privilege of pulling off the big fight between Johnson and Jeffries, and as announced in yesterday's special cable to the Bulletin, Tex Rickard of Nevada and Jack Gleason of San Francisco, have in partnership, grabbed the plum.

No less a sum than $101,000 was offered and, in addition the fighters are to get two-thirds of the receipts from the moving pictures of the contest. The latter item will probably amount to a very large sum before interest in the great fight dies down in the future, with the advent of some new champion.

And talking about moving pictures makes one think of how lucky people in the future will be when they can sit down comfortably and look at all the men who are famous now, and who will be dead then, come out on the canvass and fight their battles over again for the edification of sports who are not born at present.

What a treat it would be for a lot of us if we could see some of the old-time fighters like Sayers, Keenan, Mace, and a dozen other lesser lights once more battling with the "bare knuckle" through fifty rounds or so. Those men did not know anything about "the point," or "the solar plexus," although at times they used to accidentally land a blow on one of those vulnerable portions of a boxer's anatomy.

Still, in all the history of prize fighting there is not another match that has created such intense feeling all over the world, as the J. J. J. contest.

There have of course been many matches that stirred people up a lot, but they were, more or less, local affairs. This scrap on July Fourth next will be of world-wide interest and it is safe to say that if we were at present in wireless communication with Mars, that there would be a wad of money sent from that planet to the Earth, to be wagered either on the white man or colored wonder, according to how complexions run on the star of the war god.

The contest will probably be pulled off in San Francisco, although Rickard will, of course, try and get the men down to his home state. No matter where the great go down eventually, there is no doubt that the biggest crowd that ever swarmed around a ring will be present. And that Honolulu will be well represented at the argument is a dead sure thing.

Tournament At Ewa Plantation

On Sunday down at Ewa there will be some fine tennis played when the double handicap tournament will be continued. The play so far has been very interesting and, as usual, has attracted a lot of lovers of the game to the big mill.

McKeever and Greenfield are still in the play although they are giving away big handicaps. These two men would show a lot of the city men the way to capture sets if they could only get enough practice. Plantation life is not like town, and it is only on Sundays that the men can really have a good practice game.

Ewa is always doing something in the athletic line, and some good men have come from there to compete in town sports. Cordero, the long distance runner, Clarke the crack pitcher, and several others besides the tennis pair, can be called to mind just now.

Manager George Benton goes in for sailing a lot and handles his beautiful little craft in expert fashion. In fact Ewa men are a good bunch all around, whether at work or play, and it is a treat to see the management so interested in the recreations of the employees.

The soccer players are practicing hard for the opening of their season, which takes place on December 11. The recent rain has interfered a lot with the practice, still the men get exercise in other ways. The first game will be between the Males and the Iron Works, the Punahou and Hahaione will play the second, and both games promise to be close ones.

Jack Scully has presented a beautiful cup as first prize for the Kalakaua avenue walking race. The genial sport is always there with the goods when any decent event is being pulled off. The cup is a fine specimen of the jeweler's art in the form of a goblet made of silver. A Chinese dragon encircles the cup and six small cups stand around the larger one.

THE BLUE LEGEND.

"Enough is as good as a feast," so think Messrs. Bailey & L. W. of the Art and for this reason have once more returned to the "arraig" moving picture show, the Hon. Wise troupe playing their last performance last Monday night. The star film for Friday and Saturday today and tomorrow, is entitled "The Blue Legend," and is a crackerjack in every way. Being one of the Pathe films and in color it is a very beautiful display from beginning to end. The wife of a peasant is murdered on the highway for her purse, and the husband loses his reason as a consequence. Being an excellent violinist he wanders about looking for his helpmeet so cruelly taken from him. As he plays she visits him from time to time but whenever he turns to embrace her, she is gone. The scene throughout are beautiful and pathetic and the coloring of the view tends to greatly enhance the charm the subject has for the spectator. Recent decorations, interior painting, etc., have greatly added to the comfort and pleasure one gets at the Art. Come and see for yourself. Prices as usual.

GRAND FIREWORKS TONIGHT.

There will be a big fireworks display at the Athletic Park tonight. The man who has charge of the show states that he is going to have the very finest thing in set pieces that was ever seen. All the fuses and leads will be protected from the weather and a most marvelous consequence of set-pieces is promised.

An elaborate system of set-piece framework has been arranged on the diamond at the park and, if the weather be only fine, there will be one of the most brilliant fireworks displays seen anywhere.

LILUOKALANI DEEDS MUCH PROPERTY

WILL INCORPORATED IN TRUST DEED

Orphan Children Are Well Remembered — Retains Washington Place for Life — Beneficiaries Named.

An instrument filed yesterday in the bureau of conveyances contains the fact that ex-Queen Liliuokalani has disposed of a very large portion of her property. The deed of trust names A. S. Cleghorn, Curtis P. Lauken and W. O. Smith as trustees of what might be called her will. The heir to the bulk of the estate is John Dominis Alimoku, while ex-Sheriff Lauken is remembered in a most substantial manner. Joseph Kaimukia Aea is enriched by the gift of the Waikiki place and $1,800 a year. Alimoku is more highly favored by gift of the ex-Queen's city residence, Washington Place, and an annuity of $6,000. This arrangement seems a trifle strange, as it has always been understood that Aea was the favorite with the ex-Queen. The ex-Queen does not devise any real property in fee to those to whom she leaves it with the exception of a grant to C. P. Lauken. In every case the property is left to the persons named to be held during their lifetime, and by their children afterwards, reverting ultimately to the trustees.

Liliuokalani gives no reasons for this distribution of her estate. She reserves for her personal use and residence for the rest of her life the home on Beretania avenue, and also "Keolohilani" at Waikiki, all heirlooms, decorations, crests, and bric-a-brac.

The deed devises that the trustees named shall pay all taxes, premiums, repair expenses and maintenance of property from the income of the estate in trust.

The income is also to be applied to the reduction and final payment of the principal of the mortgage indebtedness. And last, the income is to be devoted to the cause of orphans, as is provided further on in the document.

Liliuokalani has provided against the destruction or in any manner changing her will by incorporating it in the deed of trust.

She provides that after her death the trustees shall execute and deliver to Curtis P. Lauken a deed conveying to him absolutely and forever all the land and improvements known as the Lele of Hamohamo, at Waikiki, adjoining his wife's land at Kalanole, and containing about eight acres. This is the only grant which does not contain a reversionary clause.

To Nakaneoloha and J. Mana, her husband, of Pauoa, Honolulu, and the survivors of them, is to go the premises on Ohua lane, Waikiki, and the sum of $180 per annum.

Anaole and her daughter, Kellakahi, of Honolulu, are to get Lot 5 on Ohua lane, Waikiki, and the sum of $180 a year.

Other bequests are made as follows:

For John Kialuna and his wife Keoki of Kamohi, lot 6 on Ohua lane, and $180 a year.

Robert von Gehoffen and his wife of Lahaina, lot 4 on the same lane, and $180 a year.

Nahanaa Pahi of Honolulu, lot 7 on Ohua lane and $180 a year.

Mahinululu and his wife Nahanae of Honolulu, lot 8 on Ohua lane and $180 a year.

Loe of Honolulu, the house and premises now occupied by her at Muohulani, Kapalama, Honolulu, and $180 a year.

Hakaul and his wife Kialulu of Honolulu, the lot of land now enclosed and occupied by them at Muohulani and $180 a year.

Mary K. Kahalepuna of Waikiki, lot 3 on Ohua lane and $180 a year.

S. K. Mahoe and his wife Emma of Waialua, the premises known as Punamoenu and Punamoeki, at Waialua, and $180 a year.

The taxes and expenses of maintenance of the above-mentioned premises are to be borne by the trustees as part of the general expenses of the trust administration.

Absolute payments of $100 each are to be made on the death of the Queen to Mahi Robinson, Aki, his sister; Mrs. Mary Auld, Mary Pahu and Mrs. Kahae Kalehua.

Liberality personified for orphan children is manifest in the gifts, but preference for Hawaiian full blood or part Hawaiian is expressed.

The trust deed provides that in case any of the trustees shall die, go abroad to reside or desire to retire, the vacancy so created shall be filled by a judge of competent jurisdiction, the appointment, however, to be only on the written nomination of the remaining trustees, unless they shall fail to make a nomination, in which case the appointment shall be made upon application of any trustee or beneficiary under the trust deed.

The only way in which the provisions of the trust deed may be in any way altered is by the consent of a majority of the trustees.

The trust deed was drawn up by Judge A. S. Humphreys, who represented the Queen in the matter.

Supreme Court Decision

TERRITORY v. TOYOTA. APPEAL FROM DISTRICT MAGISTRATE, HONOLULU.

Argued November 8, 1909. Decided December 1, 1909.

HARTWELL, C. J., WILDER AND PERRY, JJ.

Constitutional law—auction license fees.

Section 1343, R. L., is not unconstitutional in its requirement for an auction license of a fee of $600 for the district of Honolulu and $15 for each other taxation district.

Auctions and auctioneers—public auctions.

Upon the agreed facts the defendant conducted a public auction within the meaning of the statute.

Opinion of the Court by Perry, J. Wilder, J., dissenting.

Defendant appeals on points of law from a conviction before the district magistrate of Honolulu of the offense of "selling goods, wares and merchandise at auction in the district of Honolulu without first obtaining a license as auctioneer." Section 1343 of the Revised Laws requires an annual fee for a license to sell goods, wares and merchandise or other property "at auction," naming a fee of $600 for the district of Honolulu and $15 for each other taxation district. The defendant's points are that under that section licenses are required only for sales at public auction, that the facts proved constitute no offense and that the statute improperly discriminates between residents and citizens of the district of Honolulu and those of the other districts and is contrary for that reason to the 14th amendment of the constitution. The only other portion of the statute which can be invoked as throwing any light on the meaning of the words "at auction" in section 1343 is the requirement in Sec. 1345 that the bond given by each auctioneer "upon receiving an auction license" shall contain a provision "that he will not sell goods, wares, merchandise or other property except at public auction." It is not clear that there is any difference in meaning between the words "at auction" and the words "at public auction." Whatever difference, if any, there may be, it may be assumed for the purposes of this appeal that, as contended for the defendant, it is a public auction which is contemplated by the statute and the question, then, is whether on the evidence the defendant conducted a public auction.

The evidence consisted merely of an agreed statement of facts, that statement being as follows:

"That the Hawaiian Fisheries, Limited, is a domestic corporation, organized under the laws of Hawaii, and doing business at Honolulu.

"That said corporation handles and sells for a large number of fishermen, on commission, fish caught by such fishermen, and does so daily, in the following manner:

"The catch, as soon as it comes in by boat is loaded into wagons and carried to the Fish Market, in Honolulu, and there an agent of said Hawaiian Fisheries, offers it in basket lots, each basket containing about from 70 to 100 pounds, to the retail dealers of fish only, and the one bidding the highest price for same, there and then becomes the purchaser. That at such sales no bid is received except from such retail dealers, or the persons conducting fish tables on the said market. That fish is highly perishable and must be quickly disposed of after being brought to market, and that the above plan is followed to facilitate the sale of fish when brought to market. The said corporation, if it cannot sell the fish brought to market in the manner above indicated, then must, under contract with the fishermen who are its patrons, sell such fish at retail. That the defendant, was at the time and place stated in the complaint against him, as agent for the said corporation, selling and offering for sale, fish in basket lots, in the manner above indicated, and not otherwise. That there are about thirty-three proprietors of fish tables on said market, who with their assistants, buy fish from said corporation, in manner as above stated.

"Neither the defendant, nor the said Hawaiian Fisheries Company, Limited, has obtained a license as Auctioneer, in and for the City and County of Honolulu, for the fiscal year commencing July first, 1909, or any part of said year. That the said Hawaiian Fisheries Company, Limited, has obtained and been operating under a Merchandise Brokers' license, and now has such license."

That the defendant conducted an auction sale is beyond doubt. It was a sale by competitive bids where the seller invited and excited competition and disposed of the property to the person who made the highest bid. The practice of conducting such sales "is said to have originated with the Romans who gave it the descriptive name of auction, an increase, because the offered property was sold to him who would offer the most for it." Crandall v. State, 28 Oh. St. 479, 481. "The essential part is the selection of a purchaser from a number of bidders," says Bouvier after defining an auction as being "a public sale of property to the highest bidder." Whether the sale be "by the inch of candle" or at Dutch auction or in the method ordinarily pursued at the present time, competition is a necessary element (Crandall v. State, supra, 482) and it is that which distinguishes a sale at auction from other sales where the attempt to sell and to agree on a price is made with but one prospective purchaser at a time.

Does the fact that bids were accepted from retail dealers of fish, and from no others, place the transactions without the class of sales at public auction within the meaning of the statute? We think not. In the word "auction" itself there is nothing to lead to the opposite conclusion. In so far as the word "public" imports publicity, a sale free from concealment, open to the knowledge or view of all, as opposed to one in private or unknown to the community at large, that element clearly existed in the transactions under consideration. There was no attempt at concealment or secrecy. Aside from this element the word "public" is susceptible of various shades of meaning. It may be so used as to have reference to all of the members of a community, state or nation, or as referring to the community in general or a considerable portion of it. It is in the latter sense, we think, that it is used in the statute in question. The sale was none the less public because of the exclusion from bidding of the class which was excluded. The sale was of lots of fish varying from 70 to 100 pounds each. The class admitted to bid, the retail dealers of fish, included practically all who would be likely to offer bids. The main purpose of auction sales is to obtain the best financial returns for the owners of the property sold. Some measure of discretion is vested in auctioneers as to the precise methods to be pursued in attaining that object, for example, bids need not be accepted from minors or from persons irresponsible either financially or mentally or from drunken persons or from one offering in bad faith or even from one making but a slight raise in his bid over the bid last announced. See Taylor v. Harnett, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 988, 990, 991.

It may well be conceived that an auctioneer may in good faith and in the exercise of a proper discretion deem it to be to the best interests of his principals, in a series of sales such as described in the agreed statement, to refuse to sell to the consumers who in rare instances might possibly appear and bid to the financial detriment of the retail dealers who in large numbers, and regularly, attend such sales and purchase the greater bulk of the fish. If the construction contended for by the defendant is correct an auction sale of miso and soy, Japanese sauces, excluding all but Japanese, a sale of books excluding all illiterates, a sale of carriage lamps excluding all who have no carriages, a sale of automobile parts excluding all who do not own or operate automobiles; and a sale of fat steers in lots of twenty-five to ranchers and butchers only, would not be sales at public auction. It seems incredible that such was the intention of the legislature. The statute should be given a reasonable construction, not permitting of easy evasions with no practical lessening of financial results to the auctioneer.

As to the question of unconstitutionality, it is well settled in this jurisdiction that "the legislature in a matter of this kind may classify or discriminate if the classification or discrimination is based on some reasonable ground which is furnished by population in some instances." Trust Company v. Treasurer, 19 Haw. 262, 263. See also Territory v. Potte, 1b. 99, 104. "Where natural distinctions require discrimination not to discriminate works injustice." Robertson v. Pratt, 13 Haw. 609.

"Absolute equality is all that can reasonably be expected." 1b. 602. In Trust Company v. Treasurer, supra, referring to a contention that a statute was unconstitutional which required a license fee of $750 for a banking business in Honolulu, of $500 for Hilo and of $250 for all other parts of the Territory, said: "There is a natural distinction between the different places in this Territory where banking may be carried on. This, of course, allows the legislature to reasonably and fairly classify the amount of the license fee required for banking. Even if the judgment exercised by the legislature in a matter of this kind is in our opinion unwise or perhaps oppressive, still that is not of itself sufficient to declare that a statute passed pursuant to such judgment violates the equal protection provisions of the constitution." The same may be said with reference to the business of auctioneering. The same distinctions exist. The great bulk of the business of the Territory is done in Honolulu. It is not for us to say whether we would make any difference in the amount of license fees in this case as large as the legislature has made it. It is sufficient that we cannot say that the difference is unreasonable or that the statute is unequal or arbitrary in its operation. Our conclusion is that as this objection is concerned the statute is valid.

The judgment appealed from is affirmed.

Dissenting Opinion of Wilder, J.

It appears from the agreed facts that defendant as an agent of the Hawaiian Fisheries Co., Ltd., a domestic corporation engaged in handling and selling on commission for a large number of fishermen caught by such fishermen, offered for sale fish in basket lots, each basket containing from seventy to one hundred pounds, to the highest bidder among thirty-three retail dealers of fish or owners of fish tables at the fish market, no bids being received from any other persons. It is well settled that the highest bona fide bidder of those who care to bid at an auction sale is entitled to receive the goods offered for sale. As stated in Bowler's law dictionary, "A public sale is one made at auction to the highest bidder," and that "an auction is a public sale of property to the highest bidder." In this case it appears that the bidding was limited to about thirty-three persons and that bids from other persons even if higher than any made by any one of the thirty-three, would not have been received or accepted. It follows, therefore, that this was not a sale to the highest bidder from among those who might choose to bid and consequently there was no sale at auction for which a license is necessary under the statute. The statement in Black's law dictionary applies, namely, that "if there can be such a thing as a private auction it must be one when the property is sold to the highest bidder but only certain persons or a certain class of persons are permitted to be present or to offer bids." The point to determine is not what the legislature actually intended but what its intention was as disclosed by the statute.

The argument made on behalf of plaintiff that the contention of defendant if upheld would only invite evasions of the law as, for instance, an auction sale where bids are received from all persons except hackmen, is without merit, as it does not necessarily follow that in case of the instance cited, which would be simply a scheme to evade the law, the same result would be reached. In this case, notwithstanding the intimation of the majority to the contrary, there is nothing to suggest, and the agreed facts do not permit the inference, that the method pursued in selling the fish was devised simply to evade the statute relating to the licensing of auctioneers, as it appears that defendant's principal is at present operating under a merchandise broker's license.

For the foregoing reasons I therefore dissent from the majority.
