TWO VETERAN JOURNALISTS.

One Dies at Victoria and the Other at San Francisco.

Thirteen years ago next May Henry Lawson, then chief editorial writer on the Montreal Herald, gave a very kindly sendoff in that paper to the writer of these lines, on the occasion of his resigning from the editorial staff of the Montreal Witness to take the editorship of the BULLETIN. Victoria papers by the Miowera announce the death of Mr. Lawson, who for the past eight years had been editor of the Colonist of that city. He was sixty-seven years of age, the son of a noted lawyer of Charlottetown, P.E.I., and had been prominent as a journalist for thirty-five years. Mr. Bengough, the famous cartoonist, immortalized him as "Lawson the Sinner," in humorous opposition to "Lawson the Saint," a clerical namesake with whom he was at editorial swordpoint. John Lawson, the eldest son of the dead veteran, is a newspaper proprietor in Minnesota.

San Francisco, Jan. 4.—Newspapermen, judges, bankers and merchants crowded the rooms of the Press Club Saturday afternoon when the funeral services were held over the remains of J. Ross Jackson, for twenty years probably the most popular journalist in San Francisco. In accordance with a wish of the deceased, there was no crape but the rooms were filled with flowers, and the bier was covered with violets. Judge John Hunt delivered the funeral oration, and brief addresses were made by Mr. Jackson's former fellow workers, Wells Drury, W.
W. Naughton and Arthur Barendt.

Queen Victoria is said to be worth more than $100,000,000, which she has made by saving and interest out of her annual net revenue of $600,000.

LATEST FOREIGN NEWS

VICTORIAN ANNIVERSARY TO BE THE DIAMOND JUBILEE.

Name of Gladstone a Force in Europe—Royal Courtesy to American Ambassador.

By the steamer Miowera has been received world's news to the 9th inst., some of the leading items of which are given below:

UNIFORM TIME AT SEA.

Sanford Fleming has a long letter in the Times this morning in advocacy of the government taking steps to secure a unification of time for use at sea.

STRICKEN BOMBAY.

Bombay, Jan. 8.—The Times of India says owing to the exodus on account of the plague the population of Bombay has been reduced one half. The weekly mortality is 200 per 1000. More shops are closed than open in the native quarters.

ANOTHER UPRISING.

Capetown, Jan. 8.—The news received from Buchananland is of the most serious description. The magistrate and settlers at Kurman have gone into the laager, and 700 natives in that vicinity are raiding the farms, lifting the cattle and committing other depredations.

INVITED TO SANDRINGHAM.

The Daily News says it has heard that the Prince of Wales has indicated to the United States ambassador, Mr. Bayard, and Mrs.
Bayard, that, when convenient, he and the Princess of Wales will be glad to entertain them at Sandringham. The date of the visit has not yet been fixed.

ZULUS PUNISHED.

London, Jan. 4.—Advises received here from Blantyre, a mission town in British South Africa, announce that the British force sent last month against the Agonis Zulus under Chief Chikusi, who invaded South West Nyassaland and burned a British mission station besides massacring the inhabitants of a number of villages, routed the Agonis with very heavy loss after some short fighting. Five men of the British force were wounded.

LADY SCOTT SENTENCED.

London, Jan. 8.—Lady Selina Scott, mother-in-law of Earl Russell, who through counsel pleaded guilty yesterday to criminally libelling his lordship in conjunction with John Cockerton and William Aylott, was sentenced this morning to eight months' imprisonment without hard labor.
Cockerton and Aylott received similar sentences. Lady Scott, accompanied by Countess Russell, entered the court room. They walked up and down the corridors, the daughter having her arm around her mother's waist. Both ladies were painfully nervous.
Lady Scott was heard to remark:
"I do not dread going to prison, but I feel the injustice of the way I have been treated."

GROSS INTERRUPTION.

During the enthronement of the Rt. Hon. and Most Rev. Frederick Temple, D. D., as Archbishop of Canterbury, at the Canterbury cathedral on Jan. 8, as the Archbishop was traversing the nave at the end of the procession a voice shouted loudly: "The whole proceedings are a fraud." The interruption came from an elderly gentleman of clerical appearance. He was forcibly ejected amid considerable excitement. The spectators at first thought the disturbance was caused by Rev. Brown John, the clergyman who protested against the confirmation of the Archbishop in the church of St.
Mary Le Bon in London on Dec.
22, claiming that the Archbishop should not be confirmed as he was a believer in Darwin's theory of evolution, but it is developed to-

THE NEW JAPANESE LINE

ONLY FIRST-CLASS VESSELS TO BE USED IN THE SERVICE.

More Information About the San Francisco and Yokohama Transportation Company.

By the late mails further information has been received concerning the San Francisco and Yokohama Transportation Company, concerning which and the appointment of George E. Boardman as Honolulu agent exclusive mention was made in the BULLE-TIN a few days since.

The organizers of the company are Messrs. Ito, D. Inoye, S. Ma-chida and M. Miyata. They started with a subscribed capital stock of 100,000 yen, but it is not known how large the subscriptions for stock have been since.
The principal stockholders in the organization are wealthy Japanese merchants and shipowners and the new company proposes to operate two regular lines of trans-pacific steamers, carrying both freight and passengers.

While the Peru was in Yokohama the company presented a petition to the Japanese Government asking for a charter. The vessels that the new company proposes to operate will be run in direct opposition to the established lines of American and English steamers. One line will run direct between Hongkong and San Francisco and the other between Yokohama and San Francisco, calling at Honolulu and Vancouver on alternate trips.

The promoters of the company give assurances that only first class vessels will be used in the service, and that they will be equal in passenger accommodation and carrying capacity to the vessels now in the transpacific trade.
They expect to have both lines in operation before the end of the new year.

According to Mr. Boardman, the initial steamer of the Yokohama line will leave that port for Honolulu and San Francisco early next month.

REGIMENTAL OFFICERS.

No Truth in the Reports of Threatened Resignations.

Various rumors affecting some of the higher officers of the regiment and their possible resignations have been afloat for some days, or rather they have been renewed, for this is about the fourth time in the past year they have come to the surface.

Colonel Fisher interviewed on the subject this morning and in reply to a direct question said:
"There is no truth in it. I am not going to resign, at least not at present. I did think about it some months ago but changed my mind. I have no present intention of resigning, but should I do so it will have been done before the public gets any intimation of it. I do not believe in all this gossiping."

Major McLeod said he had not resigned nor had he any present intention of doing so. He did not know of any other officer who contemplated resigning nor any reason why they should do so at present. He had heard the rumors concerning Colonel Fisher, Major Jones and himself but took no stock in them. He was not prepared to say that in case Colonel Fisher resigned other officers would follow him. It would be time enough to talk about that when it happened.

Magazine of the Planters.

The Planters' Monthly for January is to hand. It contains valuable sugar statistics. H. Morrison, manager of Makaweli, discusses Dr. Maxwell's reports, which he regards as "the most complete and instructive so far presented to the Planters' Association."

SEVEN WRITERS COMBINE

TO PRODUCE A NOVEL IN AS MANY CHAPTERS.

Delightful Literary Entertainment by the Literary Circle of the Kilo-haha Art League.

An entertainment unique at least for Honolulu was given by the Art Circle of the Kilo-haha Art League at the rooms of the organization last night. It was no less than the production of an original novel in seven chapters by as many authors, who, with two exceptions, read their own contributions.

The plot of the story was a voyage of the phantom steamship "Polynesia" of the mythical
"Pelagic Steamship Company," with a typical list of passengers, from the real port of San Francisco, sailing on the impossible date of "February 29, 1897," for the actual metropolis—to wit, Honolulu—of the poetical land known as the "Paradise of the Pacific," alias, in historical verity, these Hawaiian Islands. A program to enable the auditors to follow the narrators satisfactorily was gotten up in the shape of a regular passenger list, embellished with the picture of a steamship at sea, the division being only interferred with by the imprint of the League on the front page and a list of the contributors on the back.

It would be impossible, in the space at command, to review the separate productions. Enough to say, they were all exceedingly clever and what was additionally pleasing, the reading of them was unexceptionably excellent. Perhaps, it may be allowable to add, even in this brief notice, a summing up of the contents of the story as they appear to one hearer.

Mrs. Frear's chapter, the opening one, was neatly analytic and naively facetious. Mr. W. R.
Castle was slightly philosophic and deftly satirical.

Mrs. Hall's portrayal of an unfortunate character was truly pathetic, and her reading of it so true that eyes were made moist. The literary execution was of a high order.

Mr. Ballou was broadly humorous upon an evident basis of personal realism, his Irish interpreter of Japanese in the Hawaiian courts being richly depicted. Prof.
Scott did its reading with all due effect.

Mrs. F. R. Day produced a detective story with material enough condensed into it for entralling elaboration into a whole volume, and whose ludicrous culmination on the wharf at Honolulu was fit to make a professional novelist consume away with envy.

Mrs. Mabel Wing Castle had a difficult role, calling for psychical insight. It was the framing of a shorthand diary for a lady member of a numerous family party on board. Many laughable situations and harassing reflections were skilfully brought out.

Mr. J. F. Brown kept the audience convulsed with laughter at every sentence of the closing chapter. He sized up the idiosyncrasies of various travelers with remorseless humor, and revealed in a masterly way the weakness of the returning Kamaaina for exhibiting points of local interest on shore, after doubling Diamond Head, to the strangers. In this latter connection he let off a poem, understood to have been held in reserve for some time, entitled, "Marius Scotins' Defense of the Bridge," of which the scene is laid in the campaign against the rebels of 1895 and the hero is the principal of the High School.

This closed the narrative of the Polynesia's voyage, and it was well, for excessive exercise of the visibles is not wholesome.

MEETING OF OFFICERS

THE SHARPSHOOTERS MUST TOE THE MARK THIS MONTH.

Matters at Military Headquarters—Monthly Inspection by Minister Cooper Tomorrow.

The postponed meeting of the officers of the regiment took place at headquarters last evening. Col.
Fisher presented his report on the international shooting match and a general discussion on the merits of the scores made took place. It was thought that Hawaii ought to win. "However," as Colonel Mc-Lenn said this morning, "we shall know more about it on Friday night."

Colonel Fisher also brought up the matter of the coming match with the Sharpshooters. He had allowed them in his arrangements with Captain Wall everything they asked for, such as globe or telescope sights, three pound trigger pulls and any kind of sporting rifle they wished, but in the selection of a day for the match he had been unable to come to an agreement with Captain Wall, who wanted the time set for the end of February or later. He himself wanted the match this month, the sooner the better, and hence referred the question to the board for decision. The board voted that the match be shot not later than January 30th, and Colonel Fisher so notified Captain Wall.

Discussing the forthcoming match with a reporter this morning, both Colonel McLean and Captain Schaefer said the military were anxious for a match, so anxious that everything the Sharpshooters asked for had been conceded except the time. It was thought it was hardly fair for the Sharpshooters to accept a challenge and then ask for time to practice for the event. The military would shoot at 24 hours notice and there appeared no good reason why the Sharpshooters, who were constantly practising, should not.

"The high scores published by the Sharpshooters do not scare us a bit," added the Colonel. "Thirty four men out of one of our companies, Company D, made 1387 points in their best score in December. That is an average of 40-9-10 per man. I doubt if the Sharpshooters can equal the score of the first thirty of D's men, which was 1258 or an average of 41-14-15ths."

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock Minister Cooper will hold the regular monthly inspection of the troops at the barracks and the band, to be followed by a visit and inspection of the men's quarters. These inspections under Minister Cooper have been very thorough, arms, accoutrements, bedding, sanitary arrangements, etc., being personally looked after by him; consequently they have been productive of much good.

Perfect harmony exists in the relations of Companies E and F, both among officers and privates.
In fact, they are just like one company, which was not the case until Captain Good left.

The troubles of Company B, now becoming historical, will be up for discussion at the meeting tonight. Captain White desires that all the members will be on hand and help him in getting a fresh start.

Horse Eating Paris.

The people of Paris are hippophagous to a remarkable degree, consuming on an average over 20,000 horses and donkeys annually. Last year, according to the returns, the Parisians ate 23,- 396 horses, 439 donkeys and 86 mules. This horse, donkey and mule flesh dressed ready for the butcher's block weighed 5879 tons, and was sold at prices varying from 3 sous to 1 franc per pound, the latter being the price paid for the best horse steaks.

JOHN D. PARIS JUSTIFIED

CENSUS OF WEALTH NOT AU- THORIZED BY LAW.

Other Supreme Court Decisions—Two Circuit Judges Hearing Cases.

A list of twenty or thirty books missing from the Law Library is posted, with a request from the Chief Justice to attorneys to return any found about their homes.

The Deputy Marshal makes return on an execution issued out of the District Court against Bevin Montague, manager of the Montague-Faust show combination, on judgment for $50 recovered by Sidney Turner, guardian of Kachiel Mann, the little Javanese circus rider. It is endorsed with a statement that, due and diligent search having been made, no property of the defendant can be found.

A unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court has been rendered in the case of H. Cannon vs. H.
F. Poor. It is written by Justice Whiting and in effect decides that the assignee in bankruptcy has a right to appear on an appeal of plaintiff from a decree dismissing a bill to foreclose a mortgage on real estate. The defendant had been adjudicated a bankrupt and the perfection of the appeal. It is ordered that the parties appear on January 21 for further proceedings. Magoon & Edings for plaintiff; C. Brown for assignee.

A unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court has been filed, written by Chief Justice Judd, quashing the conviction of John D. Paris for violation of the census law. It is on an appeal from the District Magistrate of South Kona, Hawaii. The Court decides thus:

"The statute which directs that the Board of Education shall make a complete census of the inhabitants, showing the number of inhabitants in each district, the number of each sex, such other particulars as the Board may direct, and the increase and decrease of the population, does not authorize the Board to make a census of the wealth of the inhabitants."

Attorney General W. O. Smith for prosecution; Thurston & Stanley for defendant.

In the case of V. Knudsen vs.
Palea and others, ejectment, exceptions from Fifth Circuit Court, Chief Justice Judd writes the unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court, setting aside the verdict for the defendant and ordering a new trial. The syllabus is as follows:

"A verdict which found the date of the death of a certain person upon indefinite testimony, considering a record of such death in a book required by law to be kept, the authenticity of such book and the regularity of its entries not being questioned, is against the weight of evidence and should be set aside as rendered through improper or mistaken motives or through sympathy."

Magoon & Edings for plaintiff; Rosa for defendants.

Judge Carter is still hearing the debt suit of J. A. Magoon, administrator, vs. Ah Mi, on which the opium license matter of 1886 has a bearing.

Judge Perry is still on the Lurline salvage libel, and expert evidence is being taken.

The Military and Annexation.

After the meeting of the board of officers last night a project was brought up to hold a mass meeting of those members of the military who favored annexation.
The project found favor and it was decided to hold the meeting on the evening of January 28. A committee composed of three members of each company and three of the officers will have charge of the arrangements.

AYER'S ARGUMENT.

If there is any reason why you should use any sarsaparilla, there is every reason why you should use Ayer's. When you take sarsaparilla you take it to cure disease; you want to be cured as quickly as possible and as cheaply as possible. That is why you should use Ayer's: it cures quickly and cheaply—and it cures to stay. Many people write us: "I would sooner have one bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla than three of any other kind." A druggist writes that "one bottle of Ayer's will give more benefit than six of any other kind." If one bottle of Ayer's will do the work of three it must have the strength of three at the cost of one. There's the point in a nutshell. It pays every way to use

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

1895 Rambler, $75.00

Trusting that you may be interested in cycling, we take the liberty of stating to you a few facts about our wheels:

We need not trouble you with needless description of the World Famed "RAMBLER" Bicycle, which by its easy running, appearance, strength and lasting qualities has won for the makers a name world renowned.

The "RAMBLERS" are equipped with the great G. & I. Detachable Tire, which since its introduction to Honolulu has proved, by the numbers in use, the most successful and necessary adjustment to a bicycle.

We take great pleasure in recommending to our friends the "RAMBLER" and trust that in furnishing one to any person they will never have occasion to regret. Our terms are such that a bicycle is no longer a luxury but a necessity in actual saving of time and money. We would ask you to but call and get our figures.

1896 Rambler, $95.00

As is customary nearing the close of each year, the makers in order to get ready for the ensuing year, offer the present 1896 wheels at reduced prices. We are now prepared to give our customers the benefit of these reductions as long as our stock holds out. For those wishing an up to date wheel of the highest grade, one which we can guarantee to the fullest extent, we would offer the "RAMBLER." As to improvements for the coming season we would say we anticipate none. Such changes which may be made will, as has been the past two years, be changes immaterial to the improvement of the wheel in general.

Kindly give this some thought or call your friends' attention to it and oblige.

Yours truly,

ARTISTIC FRAMES.

FOR THE PROTECTION AND EXHIBITION OF PHOTOGRAPHS.

The Popular Styles of Frames Described. Directions For Making and Decorating Frames—Some Special Designs Which Amateurs May Reproduce.

The most popular styles of photograph frames are heart shaped, round and oval, but any shape and size may be made to order in stout cardboard. Some, too, are double, and others still have openings for several pictures. Most of these foundations are fitted with glass for the protection of the photographs. In many of the shops the frames are sold with a stamped linen cover to be unbroiled and applied to the frame when worked in colored silks and pressed. Some frames are covered with brocade and others with silk. The Japanese variety of cotton crepe, with a splashed gold pattern of sunbursts, also gives a pretty effect.

To begin with the foundation, first select the material, and if the frame is to be of embroidered linen cut a piece a trifle larger than the frame. In covering this foundation it is well to cover first with a layer of sheet wadding. Glue the wadding in place, and then the cover proper must be put on, care being taken that the embroidered design is in the right place and that none of the glue gets on the face of the frame. Draw the cover over the foundation as tightly as possible, gluing the edges to the back of the frame with good glue. Set it away until the glue is dry. Then cut out the opening for the picture, leaving enough of the goods to hold firmly, but not enough to be clumsy in turning over the edge of the opening. Glue these edges down inside the frame, place the glass in position and fasten with pasted paper.

Another style of frame is made which while being pretty is without the protective qualities of those just described, but it is made much more easily by any one who can paint. Buy heavy water color cards with rough, irregular edges—ragged edges—and also a sheer heavy enough to be used for the backs of the frames and also for the supports. In the center of each card draw accurately a form large enough to show the photograph to good advantage; then cut out with a sharp knife. A number of these cards decorated with the same flowers and fastened together with a harmonizing ribbon are a pretty addition to the walls of a chamber, or a single one mounted and backed with cardboard and having a supporting strip to keep it standing looks pretty on either bookcase or mantel. In gluing on the backs to these frames leave the top open, so that the photograph may be slipped in to place.

In addition to the foregoing general directions The Ladies' Home Journal illustrates some special designs, among which is the wattle fan frame. This is especially intended for making in cardboard on account of the serrated edges. The bow-ties and flowers are in colors, the scrolls and the shade lines in gold. This frame can either hang or be furnished with a support for standing.

Another frame illustrated by the authority quoted represents a novel application of the plain glass frame. It is composed entirely of glass, cabinet size, bound all around with ribbon. Each flap is formed of two pieces of glass, secured on three sides by sewing the ribbon bindings together. Any number of flaps can be made. They, in turn, are joined by butterfly bows at the top and a few stitches at the bottom, being reversible. The two photographs are slipped into each flap, back to back. A few painted flower sprays and butterflies add greatly to the beauty of these really charming, dainty and most useful receptacles.

NO PLACE FOR ARMENIANS.

The Canadian Government Discourage a Colonization Scheme.

New York, N. Y., Dec 30.—A Sun special from Ottawa says: A proposal was recently submitted to the Dominion Government to bring out Armenians to settle on land in the Canadian Northwest. The British Government last week cabled the Governor-General here to know what the Canadian Government had decided to do in the matter, and a meeting of the Cabinet was held to deal with it.

Yesterday a dispatch was sent to Joseph Chamberlain that the scheme could not be entertained, as the Canadian Government had no funds from which the Armenians might be assisted, and that it was considered impossible to grant lands in a block for settlement. It was also held that in view of the climatic differences it would not be in the interests of the Armenians to bring them to the Canadian Northwest.

The Efficiency of a Countersign.

While Colonel Giliam, with the Middle Tennessee Regiment, was occupying Nashville during the late war, he stationed sentries and patrols in all the principal streets of the city.

One day an Irishman who had not been long enlisted was put on duty at a prominent crossing, and he kept a sharp and faithful watch. Presently a citizen came along.

"Halt! Who goes there?"

"A citizen," was the response.

"Advance and give the countersign."

"I have not the countersign," replied the indignant citizen, "and the demand for it at this time and place is unusual."

"Well, begorrah! ye don't pass this way until ye say Banker Hill."

The citizen, appreciating the situation, smiled and advanced to the sentry, and cautiously whispered the magic words.

"Right! Pass on!" and the wide awake sentry resumed his beat.

The Evening Bulletin,

DANIEL LOGAN, Editor.

TUESDAY, JAN. 19, 1897.

Elsewhere will be found a summary of an impressive appeal to the commercial public spirit of San Francisco, made by the American Minister to Siam regarding the trade of the Pacific. This appeal will have been made in vain unless American statesmen in a majority rise above the policy of exclusion now dominating the nation. To obtain the trade of other countries, the United States will have to give them trade concessions. Beginning at the point nearest home, if San Francisco is to be made the premier entrepot for Pacific commerce, the footing American commerce has at this central station, Hawaii, must be jealously preserved. It must also be developed as an American commercial station, and that permanently under the American flag, or it will be liable to be lost to the United States for all commercial advantages.

Iconoclastic fakers who lately represented that the island of Juan Fernandez, or Robinson Crusoe's island, had disappeared have been confounded. A Chilean cruiser lately visited the island and in its report mentions a lobster packing establishment thereon. The Chilean government, moreover, is sending thirty families to Juan Fernandez as colonists and fishermen. Confiding youth has had the beautiful stories of William Tell's archery and George Washington's little hatchet spoiled cruelly, but the peerless charm of Crusoe's adventures can never be successfully assailed so long as their actual theater is left intact.

Sir Edward Clarke, an eminent Conservative statesman, advocates the granting to Ireland of £1,000,000 from the Imperial exchequer, as some compensation for the discovered over taxation of that country. A statement of the discovery was published in this paper a few days ago. Sir Edward is quoted in a speech at Plymouth as saying that, though the commission was politically a packed one in favor of Home Rule, it was a strong commission on questions relating to finance, and he thought its conclusions of fact entitled to acceptance.

Sanford Fleming, who is personally known here in connection with cable matters, is advocating the adoption of a universal time for navigators. As he was one of the prime movers in bringing about "standard" time for railways across the American continent, his advocacy of the unification of time on the seas will be highly influential. Mariners at Honolulu have for long had the benefit of daily Greenwich time given by the about halfpast one post meridian whistle.

British residents of these islands ought to be counted on for joining in the world around celebration of Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee. It is nearly time, however, that they were planning something for the occasion.

THE ORIENTAL TRADE.

Advice of a Farseeing American Diplomat to San Francisco.

The following appears as editorial in the San Francisco Call: San Francisco's opportunity to become the metropolis of the vast trade of the coasts that circle the Pacific Ocean, as well as the methods by which to lay hold of it, are pointed out in a long, urgent letter recently received by the Chamber of Commerce from John Barret, United States Minister to Siam. Mr. Barret writes not from a superficial investigation, but after mature study of the situation. He has been over the ground several times and has collected and re-collected statistics and all kinds of data bearing on the subject.

The opinion is emphatically expressed that San Francisco should be the controlling port of the entire Pacific seas, second to none in Asia, Australia or South America. The circle of trade comprehended in this vast field represents a population of 500,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 of annual business. Immense as this commerce is now it is but in its infancy and is certain to have an immense expansion.

Mr. Barret calls attention to the dimensions of the traffic already carried on; to hundreds of coasting steamers, to the dozen or more great steamship companies running steamers from Europe to the East, to the organization of British and German business in the form of great exporting and importing houses in every important city in the Orient, and to the commercial commissions sent out by European chambers of commerce to investigate every detail of demand and supply in the trade.

He singles out Shanghai as the foremost of all the great marts across the Pacific, and advises the establishment of the closest possible commercial relations with that city. He recommends that San Francisco should use its influence to establish an American chamber of commerce at Shanghai, which could act as a potent factor in assisting trade exchange. In connection with this chamber he points out there could be arranged a permanent exhibition of American products to make the Chinese familiar with American export goods, as well as to furnish American exporters all kinds of information about the needs of the Chinese markets.

It is further recommended that a San Francisco bank, with agencies in London and New York, should establish a leading branch in Shanghai, with lesser ones at other places. Capable agents should be sent to the far East to thoroughly study it, and an American steamship company, or a strongly capitalized American house acting as agent there, should have vessels of lighter draught than those crossing the Pacific, which connecting with trans-Pacific lines would carry the trade of the smaller Oriental ports. The establishment of something in this City which might be called an Oriental Exchange is suggested, where could be exhibited samples of all kinds of merchandise imported from Eastern Asia, with data as to prices and consumption.

In regard to what the Nation should do in this connection, Mr. Barret testifies, as the result of his study of the commerce of the world, to the necessity of Government subsidies to foster the building up of a proper merchant marine to make sure our commercial prosperity; just as the great commercial nations of England, France and Germany are doing.

This communication from Mr. Barret should set the merchants of the City to work to carry out that part of the programme assigned to them, and the whole coast should unite in the effort to influence National legislation to foster the creation of a great merchant marine that would make Old Glory a familiar sight in all the world's great ports. These things united with the needed reforms in lessening the excessive charges incurred in landing cargoes here would bring and send through the Golden Gate cargoes so frequent and so richly freighted as to start San Francisco upon that career of prosperity which will secure to her the proud position of the metropolis of the Pacific Ocean.

In London 158,000 people are born every twelve months.

BRITISH FOREIGN POLICY.

Characterized as a Sort of Happy-Go-Lucky Optimism.

London, January 2.—Most of the newspapers in reviewing the events of 1896, criticize the happy-go-lucky optimism of Great Britain's foreign policy, as evidenced by the little effect it produced during the numerous menacing storms which have marked the year. They cite that the Venezuela trouble was immediately followed by the Transvaal dispute, and then came the insult of Emperor William in his dispatch to President Krueger and the isolation of Great Britain in the eastern question.

The newspapers, therefore, insist that the foreign policy of Great Britain is behind the times and requires to take existing facts considerably more into account, or it may expect indefinite repetitions of loss of prestige, brought about by taking up a stand which, later, it is compelled to abandon owing to miscalculations of Great Britain's means of asserting her resistance to the opposition of other powers.

The St. James Gazette makes special reference to Venezuela, and says: "If it is right now to arbitrate on the terms arranged by the United States, it was right to do so a year and a half ago, when Lord Salisbury emphatically refused Secretary Olney's demand."

Continuing, the St. James Gazette asks why the marquis of Salisbury created "an impasse from which we could not escape without war or surrender. We took surrender."

In conclusion, the St. James Gazette remarks: "With no aggression or ambitious designs upon our part, we have been within a measurable distance in a single year of war with Russia, Germany, America and the Transvaal. With a few additional warships and cruisers, some thousands more trained seamen and stokers and an army capable of sending three corps with artillery and transport, say to Canada, or Constantinople, we could face such a combination with much better confidence."

SEVEN WAITERS COMBINE.

The readers took position in turn upon the stage, which had been fitted and decorated as a drawing room by Miss McGrew. With tapestry on its rear wall, festoons of maize vine for cornices, and potted palms and ferns well disposed, the effect was delightful.

Among those present were President and Mrs. Dole, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hall, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Parke, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. E. Found!

A BULLETIN representative returning home from a social event last night was halted by a guttural salutation from a Chinaman in the rear. Upon turning round he was confronted by the Chinaman, who extended what appeared to be a large and glittering deadly weapon. "Yis b'long you?" was asked instead of "You'll money [I] or you'll life!" The peaceful scribe handled the proffered weapon and found it to be a rotary eggbeater. It was brand new, but not having the ticket of any dealer attached, was not adaptable for a free puff to any of our advertisers. The Chinaman was sent on his way rejoicing with the assurance that he had found something "good allee same cookee custard." As the finder had often cussed hard, doubtless, while doing it with a spoon, he had taken on a smile that was childlike and bland when shown how easy it was to turn the crank—no reference is allowed here to turning the scribe round from the strait and rugged side path of Lunalilo street.

Ah Kai pleaded guilty of opium in possession and had his sentence suspended until February 19, in order that he may get ready to leave the country by that time.

Five Chinese gamblers, out of about a dozen arrested, were fined $10 each and the rest went free.

Maile was sent to the Reform school for ten days for disobeying his parents about going to school. Louisa Claessens pleaded guilty of ignoring the law but promised to comply with its provisions in future. Sentence suspended.

Ah Sing was fined $150 on a plea of guilty of having opium unlawfully in his possession and was fined $150 and costs.

Mia is on trial for larceny in the second degree. Pekelo got drunk on Saturday evening and claims that while in that condition Mia "rolled" him, taking from his person about $10. The trial was not concluded when the reporter left.

The East Concurring.

The Victoria Times says: "Before long British Columbians are likely to receive some assistance from the eastern provinces in their agitation for a higher tax on Chinese. The Toronto laundries have found that the Chinese have made a big cut in their business and they, as well as the employees who are losing their positions, now think that we in the west had good cause to complain about Chinese competition. At least they have asked the city council to put a heavy tax on Chinese laundries and no doubt they would support legislation for an increase in the head tax."

Death of Chris. Gertz.

Christian Gertz, one of the old time residents of this city, died early yesterday morning of general debility. His funeral took place at 4:30 p. m., the remains being buried in the family plot. Rev. Alex. Mackintosh officiated at the funeral, at which only the immediate relatives and friends were present. Mr. Gertz had been engaged in the boot and shoe business in this city for many years and at one time was well off. He was 67 years old at the time of his death. He leaves a widow, one son and several married daughters.

Honored Modesty.

The Victoria Times has this to say about the Dominion Premier: "Hon. Mr. Laurier has done well to follow the lead of W. E. Gladstone and John Bright in England, and of George Brown, Alex. Mackenzie and Edward Blake in this country, in declining the offer of knighthood. The honors he now wears, the gift of the people, are the highest that can be borne by one ambitious only to serve his country."

W. W. DIMOND'S

If you have passed our store at night during the past week, you have noticed lights burning and the force of clerks at work opening boxes and cases and marking up goods. The customers took all of the time the clerks had during the day, and the only opportunity we have had to get on with the work, was at night.

Lots of novelties have been brought by recent vessels from the Coast and we are now ready for our spring campaign. The beauty of our novelties lies in their usefulness; there's no wear out to them and each one fills a want. The Primus oil stove is the latest good thing to reach here, and it is destined to revolutionize the cooking industry. It burns nothing but kerosene oil and on the principle of gasoline but without the danger. The Primus will boil water in three minutes.

Mann's green-bone cutter is not of much use anywhere but in the poultry house, and there it is a necessity. No other store in Honolulu handles this article. Soap is wasted in the kitchen, unless a soap saver is used. We have them made of wire that are economic gems.

The Crown self-basting roasting pans are so well known as not to require mention, beyond saying that we sell them. The same thing goes with our ice picks—nothing like them have ever been sold here for the money or convenience. Extension toast forks belong in every house where toast is eaten.

HONOLULU, April 21, 1896.

Mr. C. W. MACFARLANE:—It affords me pleasure to recommend, to any one whose hair is falling out, the use of DR. POTTIE'S HAIR OIL. My hair was coming out at such a rate as led me to believe that I would soon become bald. After using the oil for five weeks this ceased entirely; none whatever is now falling out. I consider it the best and only worthy remedy for this trouble and I also recommend it as a stimulant to new growth. Yours truly, R. DANIELS.

A great deal of the cargo of the J. C. Glade was for us and the vessel should have been here before Christmas. We expected the goods for the holidays and they failed to arrive. What's the result? A big lot of goods which should have been sold. We lose the profit rather than carry them over another season.

WHITE SEMI-PORCELAIN WARE, in new shapes. DINNER WARE, in sets or otherwise.

CUPS and SAUCERS, Latest decorations.

Go to you at a third off what you would pay if the sale was regular. The head winds which kept the vessel from reaching Honolulu weeks before she did, were ill winds to us and favorable ones to you.

TOILET SETS.

CHEAP JAPAN WARE, TUMBLERS and GLASS-WARE.

Are yours for the asking and a minimum of coin to bind the bargain. This is not a clearance sale but one to enable us to make room for the goods yet to arrive.

Families will find it to their interest to buy canned goods or bottled delicacies by the case. They keep as well in the pantry as on our shelves and the purchaser gets the benefit of the wholesale rate. The saving is considerable and our prices are as low, if not lower than any place in Honolulu. There's no question about the quality. Think it over and let this be one of your 1897 resolutions.

Among the many relishes for use on the table every day and for hot or cold meats Chutney ranks first. It is essentially East Indian and the flavor of the spices gives zest to the appetite. Some of the brands are from formulas evolved in the brains of English army officers who have campaigned in India. The aptitude of the English to cotton on to good things for the table is proverbial and the "designing" of Chutney has not weakened their reputation in this respect.

We have seven different brands of Cocoa: Gheradelli's; Phillips Digestible; Van Houtens; Epps Homeopathic; Walter Bakers Breakfast; Cracked in bulk and Cocoa Shell in bulk. Persons finding Chocolate too heavy for them experience only pleasant results from the use of cocoa. We are certain of the quality of the goods and do not hesitate to recommend them.

We believe we carry the largest stock of groceries in Honolulu and our facilities for supplying customers is unsurpassed.

HE TELLS THE SERGEANT ABOUT A LUMP OF GOLD.

The fat police sergeant stood in the door of the station house watching a goat which was hungrily devouring an old Harrison hat which some one had kicked into the street, when Mr. Dunder came around the corner and cheerily called out:

"Hello, sergeant! I shust happened to come around dis vay, and I guess I shtop a minute to see if you vhas all right."

"I thought you had gone back to Germany," said the sergeant as he continued to watch the goat.

"Back to Sherman! I doan' see why I should go back to Sherman. Nottings vhas two times alike in dis country, but I got used to dot. It vhas a nice day, sergeant."

"Y-e-s. Have you had a guardian appointed yet?"

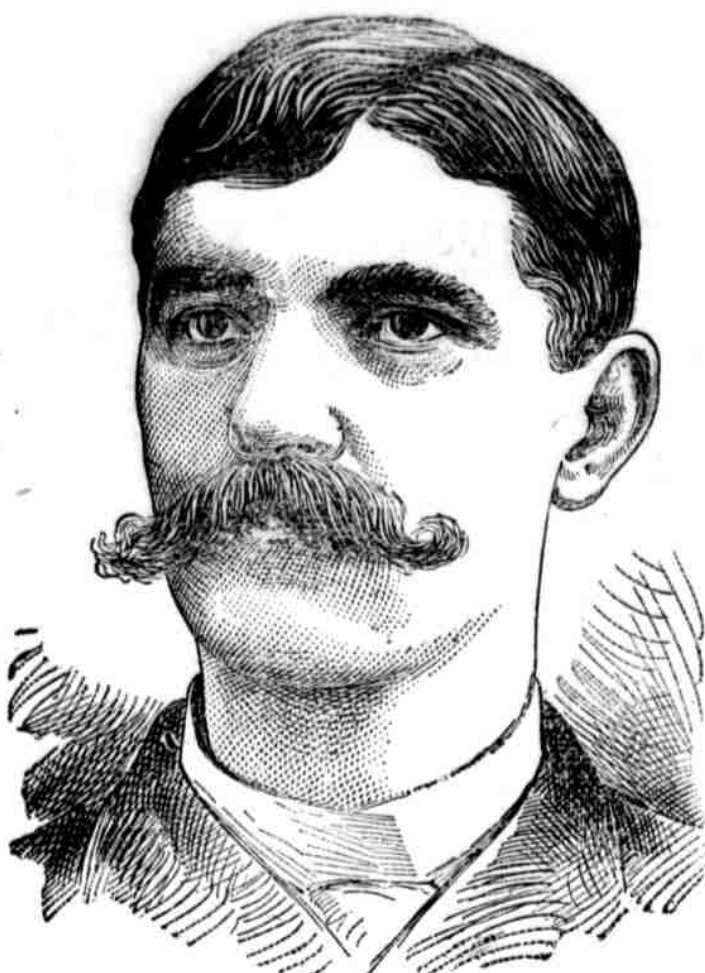

"Vhy should I haf some guardians?" replied Mr. Dunder with considerable spirit. "If you belief I doan' know how to take care of myself you vhas mistaken. A good while ago, when I vhas greenhorns, somebody can shwindle me, but I like to see 'em try it on now. If you vhas my friend you doan' speak like dot to me."

"Then nothing has happened?" queried the sergeant as the goat worried down his third piece of hat.

"Nottings has happened. Dot is, nobody has tried some gumgames on me. If he did, he vhas a dead man in two minutes. Shust one man come along."

"Oh, a man came along, did he?" "I said a man came along. Vhas dot somethings to make you shmile? Sergeant, I doan' like dot vhay you speak to me. Vhas I a boy? Doan' I know some beans?"

"Mr. Dunder," said the sergeant as the goat got away with the last remnant of hat and looked hopefully around

Inter-Island Steam Fleet Leaves Today—Items of Interest, & thereafter on the Front.

The barkentine Irmgard moved into the stream yesterday.

The schooner Transit is unloading at Brewers' wharf.

The steamer Kaala will leave on a circuit of Oahu tomorrow.

The S S Coptic will be due from San Francisco on Saturday, Jan. 23.

The Kaala came in this morning with a cargo of paddy for J. A. Hopper.

The German bark Ardgowan will sail for Port Townsend on Friday in ballast.

The S S Miowera is on the boards to leave at 5 p.m. for the Colonies, via Fiji.

The schooner General McPherson moved over to Sorenson's wharf this morning.

The barkentine S N Castle leaves this afternoon with a full cargo of sugar and rice for San Francisco.

Tomorrow, high tide large 4:45 a.m.; high tide small 5:20 p.m.; low tide large 10:30 p.m.; low tide small 11:55 a.m.

The general freight brought by the Miowera will be delivered tomorrow. Ice house goods are being delivered today.

Owing to the large amount of freight offered, the time of sailing and the destinations of some of the Inter-Island steamers were changed today.

The C A S S Miowera brought 370 tons of freight for this port, and the balance of her cargo space is filled with flour and general merchandise for the Colonies. She took in a quantity of bagged coal today, which was left here on the up trip.

Captain Gates of the S P Hitchcock is not likely to have trouble with his crew, which is invariably had by the masters of other deep water ships. While stowing sugar in the hold of the big vessel, the jolly Jack Tars are refreshed two or three times a day with cold bottled beer.

Port Townsend, Jan. 8.—The British steamship Agapanthos, chartered by the Great Northern Railroad Company, has arrived here, four days late, from Yokohama, with her decks and port side badly sprung. Injury to the ship and the delay was caused by fearfully stormy weather, which lasted during the entire voyage. The cargo consists of thirteen hundred tons, principally of tea and silk.

There is at present, in France, a tendency to work very large sailing vessels; a shipping firm, which already owns a considerable number, has given an order for another group, and it is said that other firms intend to follow their example. These vessels pay well for many reasons, mainly because, as soon as they are launched from French dockyards, the shipping bounty is enough to defray the greater part of their cost.—Kuhlow's.

Messrs. Welch, Rithet & Co. of San Francisco have purchased the four-masted clipper ship Fort George. She has been registered at the port of Victoria through R P Rithet & Co. The Fort George will be used in the sugar trade and will probably ply between San Francisco and Honolulu. She is an iron ship of 1760 tons register and was built in 1884 by Workman, Clark & Co. of Belfast. Until purchased by Welch, Rithet & Co. the Fort George was registered from the port of Glasgow.—Victoria Times.

The R M S Miowera, Chas W Hay commander, arrived off port about 9 o'clock last night, and entered the harbor about 10:30. She left Vancouver on Jan 9 at 10:30 a.m. and had to go to Comox to coal, the coal lighters being unable to get to Vancouver on account of the bad weather. Victoria was left at 5:50 a.m. on Jan 11. A clear run was had down the Straits of Juan de Fuca, which were cleared at 10:20 a.m. the same day. Fine weather was the rule during the voyage, the N E trades being picked up at noon on the 17th.

PASSENGERS ARRIVED.

From Vancouver and Victoria, per C A S S Miowera, Jan 18—Mr McCarter, wife and child, Bishop Burton, wife and child, Mrs Chamberlain and son, Messrs Kelsey, Armstrong, Pearson, Rowell, Waddoups, Bush and Ahlstrom.

DEATH OF JOHN McDONALD.

List of Ships Constructed by the Famous Builder.

The San Francisco Commercial News of Jan. 7 has the following: John McDonald, a shipbuilder, whose reputation for good work never was questioned, a man who built some of the best wooden ships ever constructed and never built any but the best, died at his home in Bath, Me., yesterday, at the advanced age of 71 years. He was a native of Pictou, N. S., and born among shipbuilding folk. He worked with Donald McKay and assisted in turning out many of the fine clippers built by that famous constructor. In 1852 he started a shipyard of his own in Thomaston, Me., which in 1865 he removed to Bath. The list of vessels built by John McDonald and their net tonnage is annexed, and contains the name of many a favorite vessel now, or in the past, employed in the California trade: Ships Oracle, 1196 tons; I. F. Chapman, 1804; St. James, 1174; Frank Flint, 1195; St. Mark, 1448; second Oracle, 1133; Pactolus, 1204; St. Charles, 1166; St. Louis, 1318; St. Nicholas, 1798; St. John, 1885; schooner C. R. Flint, 255; ships W. R. Grace, 1993; St. Paul, 1894; M. P. Grace, 1928; St. Stephen, 1396; M. Liangmo, 1733; Santa Clara, 1535; St. David, 1535; A. J. Fuller, 1782; St. Frances, 1810; John McDonald, 2172; bark St. James, 1487; ship Henry B. Hyde, 2462; bark W. B. Flint, 793; schooner Alice McDonald, 623; schooner Kate S. Flint, 555; barks St. Katherine, 1193; second Pactolus, 1585.

Information for Tourists.

A passenger by the last Colonial steamer was met on the dock by a Milesian American friend, who resides in Honolulu. As the pair waited to have the newcomer's gripsack scrawled over with chalk marks by the Customs Inspector at the gate the stranger remarked to his friend "Do you 'ave much rain 'ere?" RAINIER me boy, gallons of it, just come up to the Anchor Saloon where they keep it always, clear and cool. We'll just be in time for lunch too and that's the only place in town where they serve it up in proper style with a glass of RAINIER BEER to equilibrate the solids.—They want!

day that the name of the interrupter was Greenwood and that he is not a clergyman.

THE DIAMOND JUBILEE.

London, Jan. 9.—It seems to be settled that the longest reign celebration will be known as the diamond jubilee, for the Prince of Wales has set the seal of royal approval upon it by the use of this description in a speech. Preparations will soon begin and the celebration is rapidly assuming a magnitude unforeseen when it was first broached. The Prince of Wales, Duke of Connaught and the Duke of York will have to bear the brunt of the labor of the entertaining in order to save the Queen as much fatigue as possible. It is reported that representatives of Her Majesty are negotiating to secure a large new hotel for the accommodation of the many members of the royal family who are expected. The Chronicle says Emperor William attaches great importance to his visit to England upon this occasion and he hopes to meet the Czar under his grandmother's roof and improve the occasion to dissipate the misunderstanding between Russia and Great Britain.

THE GRAND OLD MAN.

For a person "politically dead" Mr. Gladstone is still attracting the greatest attention of Europe. His Armenian memorial speech at Hawarden on January 6 upon the occasion of the celebration of the birthday of Mrs. Gladstone, has been cabled verbatim to the Sultan by the Turkish ambassador. Upon that occasion Mr. Gladstone said among other things: "While up to the present time the career of the Sultan, who is the greatest assassin in the world, has been triumphant, all those triumphs of wickedness and iniquity are doomed. I have a strong idea, however, that the iniquities have not yet reached a close. Nevertheless a better day is in prospect for the Armenians, as the weight of disgrace now upon the shoulders of the six powers is so great as to force them to action." On the other hand, the remarkable evidence of Mr. Gladstone's mental activity is shown by General Booth's account of the latter's recent interview. Booth's account fills columns of the newspapers and gives a pleasant picture of the "Grand Old Man's" home, and pays a tribute to his extraordinary veracity for information on every subject. Mr. Gladstone is much interested in Gen. Booth's arrangement for a successor as the head of the Salvation Army, who has been nominated by General Booth by secret deeds in the hands of his solicitors, Mr. Gladstone declaring that it was necessary to get back to the sixteenth century order to find an example of a system of personal nomination of a successor by the existing head of a religious order. In conclusion Mr. Gladstone remarked that he thought the people instead of condemning righteousness in any form, should encourage its cultivation.

An Appropriate Emblem.

The American buffalo exemplifies to the fullest extent the elements of hearty rugged strength in animal life, and the Buffalo Brewery Co. have made a peculiarly appropriate selection of a trademark in choosing this animal to represent its productions, in that the tonic and refreshing properties of the Buffalo Beer promote health and invigorate the system, producing a similar condition of hardy strength in the human frame. The Royal, Cosmopolitan and Pacific saloons are the media of distribution for this famous brew to an appreciative public, and the interchangeable check is the passport at any of these favorite resorts. Drink "Buffalo" only.

A Panic Prevented.

What the consequences might have been if the Palama Grocery had not received another large invoice of the justly celebrated Salvation Army Tea, is something awful to contemplate. When we first advertised it, we expected quite a run on it, but the demand lately has far exceeded our expectations. However, in time to prevent a panic we are in receipt of another large invoice. H. Cannon, sole agent for the Islands. Palama Grocery, Tel. 755.
