LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

Lewis J. Levey holds his regular cash sale to-morrow, at 10 A. M.

Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Sachs are expected here by the S. S. Alameda.

Nearly all the seats for the show to-night were taken at noon to-day.

The schools have re-opened on Kauai with renewed vigor and interest.

Mrs. Joran and the Misses Joran are expected here by the steamship Mariposa to-morrow.

The alalauwa (small red fish) now abound in the waters about Kauai, as well as about this island.

PHILADELPHIA Beer just received at the Criterion Hotel. Call and get a glass of that cool and refreshing beverage.

The steamer Waimanalo left here last evening, to get about 2,000 bags of paddy at Waianae, and 400 sheep at Waimea.

Dr. John Brodie, after several weeks' rest and recreation, has resumed the practice of his profession in Honolulu.

Mr. W. E. Rowell, ably assisted by Mr. Titcomb, has made an excellent road, cut in the side of the gravel bluffs, between Waimea and Kilauea, Kauai.

The natives living out in Kalihi and Manoa valleys and other country places watched the movements of the Conquest's electric search light, at night, with great interest.

The Vandalia baseball team, will play against a picked team from the Adams and Junata next Saturday afternoon, at Makiki.

Dr. Brodie, V. S. intends taking a vacation, and Dr. Rowatt who will arrive by the Alameda will take his practice while he is away.

THE Harbor Master's office had a window put in on the seaward side yesterday, so that Captain Fuller could command a view of the harbor entrance without leaving his desk.

THE five men-of-war, the Custom House boat and tug boat Elen had their flags at half-mast to-day, out of respect to the memory of the late Prince Edward Keliahonui.

THE Geo. W. DeLong Post, G. A. R., hold a camp-fire to celebrate the 5th anniversary of its organization tomorrow night, in the old armory. A large number of invitations are out and a good time is anticipated.

TWENTY-one soldiers of the Household Troops were discharged on September 15th. This brings the number at present in the force down to the customary allowance of eighty, the increase having been enlisted only during the past six months.

WHEN it was reported that the U.
S. S. Adams had been ordered to provision for sea with all possible haste, many Honolulu people felt sad, but when they were assured that the Adams was only going for a little drill there was great rejoicing.

THE Conquest held target practice, with small guns, this morning.
A flag nailed to a spar in the passage, was the target. After half an hour's shooting without making a hit the practice was suspended for a while on account of the schooner Halekalea arriving off the harbor.

MRS. M. E. Parker has given up her proposed visit to the Sandwich Islands in the interests of the W. C.
T. U., because of the political situation. She is planning now to return to England, and organize a society to bring women to Canada for housework, only total abstainers to be assisted to emigrate.

A SOCIETY BUILDING.

THE Portuguese Mutual Benevolent Society some time ago, secured a piece of land from the Government on Alapai street, on the slopes of Punchbowl, for the purpose of erecting a building for society uses.
The building is in course of construction, and nearing completion. In addition to a meeting hall, will be a library and reading room. A gathering place of the character above referred to has been much needed by the Portuguese residents, and they are pleased at the near prospect of realizing the fulfillment of their need in this respect.

Is now issued and will be found to be an interesting and comprehensive number, containing 60 columns of reading matter on local topics, and a complete resume of Honolulu and island news. There is no better paper published in the Kingdom to send to friends abroad. Subscription $2.50 per annum, including postage to foreign countries. To be had from J. H. Soper, Merchant street, A. M. Hewett, Merchant street, and BULLETIN Office.

DEATH OF PRINCE KELIAHONUI.

His Highness Prince Edward Abel Keliahonui died at the Palace at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, from typhoid fever. The young Prince arrived here on Tuesday last from San Mateo, California, where he had been to school. The resident physician of the school deemed it advisable to send the Prince home, as he had been very sick. On the passage down on the steamer, he was very sick, and so weak and exhausted when he arrived that he had to be carried from the vessel to a carriage.

Mrs. Trousseau and McKibbin were immediately summoned to attend the sufferer, and upon consultation pronounced the case hopeless.
The Prince's health was never very robust, but through careful and tender nursing he lived to reach the age of 18 years. At school, he was a bright and energetic youth, and there was a very promising future before him. His funeral will take place from Iolani Palace on Sunday, Sept. 25th, at 2 o'clock P.
M. The Court will go in mourning from this date until Oct 1st.

THIRD WARD BANQUET.

Mr. James I. Dowsett, Jr., one of the legislature representatives for the district of Honolulu, gave a banquet to the committee men of his Ward—the Third Ward—and other friends, at the Club House, last evening. A pretty and inviting display of the highest quality of dietary articles covered the tables. Informal speeches were made and the best of feeling prevailed throughout. Mr.
Kinney advanced some statesmanlike views upon the position of affairs in Hawaii and what he deemed to be sound policy under the circumstances. The statement was made during the evening that the Third Ward had three members in the Legislature—J. I. Dowsett, Jr., J. I. Dowsett, Jr., and W. Kinney.
The company dispersed a little before 11 o'clock, each one well pleased that he had been there.

SCARED.

By the steamer Jas. Makee, which arrived this morning from Kauai, it is learned that the S. S. City of Sydney, which arrived here the other day from Hongkong, passed so close to the Island of Kauai that the people on shore could plainly discern the passengers on deck.
Some of the natives fled inland, because, it is said, they thought the steamer a war vessel come to bombard the island.

HAMAKUA NOTES.

Rain in abundance. Honokaa mill has shut down for the season, and are putting in their new maceration mill. They will start grinding again in December. Kukuli-ae will continue grinding for about five weeks longer, before shutting down for the season. Steamer Kilauea Hou was to leave Hamakua for Honolulu to-morrow.

A NEW MONTHLY.

Mr. Jas. Williams will come out next month with an eight-page monthly paper, entitled "The Paradise of the Pacific." This paper will contain articles upon island scenery, etc., and will be devoted exclusively to the encouragement of tourists from abroad. Several thousands of the papers will be sent to San Francisco, where they will be distributed. A gentleman of experience has been engaged to conduct the editorial department, and a society reporter will be employed to write up all social events. Prominent individuals who have lived here for years have agreed to contribute matter about the islands, and it is expected that the paper will produce the desired effect. No person will make any money out of the venture, as all the money received from the supporters of the paper will be used in producing the sheet.

OUR PARIS LETTER.

PARIS, August 17th.

The Balloon Society of Paris will not be soon pardoned for the heavy sell they practised on journalists last Saturday morning, by compelling them to rise early—save those up all night who are naturally early risers, to witness the departure of their balloon, the Horla, for the life or death zone attitude, over 23,000 feet. It was something then like going to view an execution for the select few, some 300, who put in an appearance at five o'clock in the morning at the La Villette gas works, to see the Horla rise from the same grass plot where the Zenith ascended in April, 1875, to descend in the department of Indre, with the corpses of two of its voyagers—Croce-Spinelli and Sivel. The Horla was commanded by Captain Jovis, a wiry, middle-aged, salt, bronzed and blackened by travelling over land and sea; and up in the air also, as the ascent in question was his 24th; the aeronaut Green made 1400 ascensions in his lifetime.

The Horla sailed up at seven in the morning, and alighted in Belgium at eleven; a circuit distance of 500 kilometers; or at the rate of 78 miles an hour. At the height of 23,000 feet, the balloon remained stationary, having no more ballast to throw out, and thus unable to enter the anti-life regions of space.
Captain Jovis decided to come down, and so scientifically resolved no problem. But Captain Jovis, and the Paris Aeronaut Society under whose patronage he started, remain not the less under a cloud; they demonstrated their inability to gauge a balloon of a sufficient volume, to carry the necessary weight and the requisite ballast, to ascend higher than 23,000 feet. The champion ascent is still the prize of Glaisher in 1862, he reached an altitude of 37,000 feet, some seven miles, without using any bladed oxygen—the Paul Bert revival for sky fainting. Tissandier, the co-voyager of Spinelli and Sivel, has scored the highest rising for France, 26,400 feet. The scientists are being twitted on account of the Horla fiasco; they laid in a store of delicate instruments to record temperature, pressure, watery vapor, magnetic movements, sound, sighs, pulsations, etc., but were unable to trim the aerial ship to sail 27,000 feet—some two miles less than Glaisher even—towards the North Star.

Henceforth we must be on our guard, not to put our faith in balloonists, no more than in princes.
There then is the promise of the brothers Renard unfulfilled; last autumn they undertook to steer their military balloon from Mendon to Paris, and back, but did not, to the intense disap- of half a million of disappointed star-gazing citizens.
The public is thus compelled to view balloons as only toys, an adjunct to fire works at public rejoicings.

During the season Paris has balloon races every Sunday; four were entered by rising a few days ago; the starting was false; two balloons collided, and one, in the endeavor to over-top its rival by throwing out ballast-dust in the eyes, ripped the underneath balloon with its grapple; collapse ensued, and the aeronaut came down in a whirl just as a shooting star—this is the season for such—and landed on his feet like a cat, in the court yard of the St. Louis hospital. That was giving people the worth of their money. So is a trip in a captive balloon, plus the sensation of the chance of being killed; or like boating—a prison with the risk of being drowned. In Nadais celebrated balloon voyage in 1863, he claimed to illustrate the "Right to Fly;" he built the car of his celebrated Geant, on the lines of Noah's ark; it was not in gopher wood, but wicker work; was two stories high, and fitted with a printing press, a photographic room, a saloon, and a lavatory. After a voyage of 17 hours, the nine voyagers alighted in Hanover, and undergoing a thumping against the ground, over a distance of seven miles. It was only then Nadar discovered he had omitted a surgery. During one of Gay Lussac's ascensions, the eminent chemist desiring to ascend higher, threw the chair he was sitting on out of the car; it fell in a field close to where a woman was working.
She fled home in terror, and the neighbors arrived to view the miracle. In the absence of a satisfactory explanation, they all agreed it was but a sorry specimen of celestial upholstery.

Since 1879, the Workmen have held their annual congress; it has not had unqualified success; it was undermined by utopias, communism, and socialism, accompanied by violent diatribes which alienated practical sympathy. The congress which has just closed, presents some noteworthy features. It did not seem to interest the working classes markedly; their own journals devoted but little space to the proceedings, they gave ten times as much to running, trashy novels.
In the Congress Hall, the red was the only flag displayed; even the bust of the republic was covered with the same bunting, as a veil.
Some municipal councillors presided in turn: the only distinguished lady present, was Madame de Val-sayre; she is the advocate of teaching her sex fencing; it may be remembered she sent a challenge to Miss Booth, of the Salvation Army, to fight a duel for calling her a sinner. A Madame Bonneville was delegated by her group of women to declare, the role of woman ought to be strictly limited to the fireside.
(To be continued.)

Preparations are being made for a monster demonstration at Mitchel-town, Ireland, to-morrow, to protest against the prosecution of O'Brien.
Paris, Sept. 12.—The "Figaro" publishes a letter written by Prince Ferdinand, expressing delight at his enthusiastic reception in Bulgaria.
The Prince says he believes the people of "the country are thoroughly attached to him. He complains of the opposition of the three great Powers, and regards their war against him as unjust. He hopes to rescue Bulgaria from the crisis in which she is placed, and is resolved to do his duty, whatever happens.

London, Sept. 12.—The Michels-town tragedy has practically rovolutionized the situation, and the debate to-night, instead of being formal and colorless, will unite the Liberal and Irish parties in a fierce denunciation of the Government, which has needlessly and wantonly identified itself, with the act of its police. General Buller has refused to keep his resignation any longer in suspense, and his withdrawal today will, no doubt, be practical testimony to his disgust. The newspaper correspondence to-day proves the allegation of the Irish members that nothing less than murder is in the question, and that when the police fired only a small knot of persons were around the barracks.
It is also shown that they fired not on the middle of the square where the excitement centered, but on the corner where a few on-lookers were gathered. This disposes of Balfour's suggestion that they fired in self-defense.

A dispatch to the "Journal des Debats" from Bucharest says that ex-Premier Radoslavoff and several officers have been arrested in Bulgaria for connection with an alleged military plot. It is reported at Sofia that the police invented the plot in order to further the ends of M.
Stambouloff, the present Prime Minister of Bulgaria.

New York, September 8.—The "World's" Winnipeg special of September 7th says: It has leaked out that Sir John A. Macdonald has written to prominent Conservatives in this province threatening that if the province continues its opposition to the Federal Government he will certainly go to the extreme limit and send in troops to quell those whom he is pleased to call rebels.

Boston, Sept. 7.—The Maverick Oil Works at East Boston were burned this morning. Five men lost their lives in the fire.

The "Alaskan" says: R. J.
Sawyer has assayed some twenty samples of quartz taken out of the different claims located in the neighborhood of Sitka. The ore yields per ton from $1 to $100 in gold, and also shows a small percentage of silver. A discovery has been made at Annette islands, between Cape Fox and Prince of Wales islands, of some remarkably rich ore, assaying as high as $800 per ton. Several hundred weight of quartz has already been taken out and put on board the British steamer Hope for transportation to Victoria and thence to San Francisco, where it will be melted.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—In official circles it is believed that Prince Bismarck has finally decided to present a bill in the Reichstag increasing the duties on corn. Party demands, supported by numberless petitions from all parts of the country, will force the Government to introduce the bill, though it is certain to hamper negotiations for a treaty of commerce with Austria and lead to further protective measures in favor of other than agrarian interests.

EUROPEAN.

In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Matthews, Home Secretary, said the clamor at Exter showed the necessity of legislation in the matter, and the Government intended to deal with the subject.

The inquest over the victims was begun to-day. It was impossible to identify many of the bodies. The jury simply viewed the remains. A public funeral will be held to-morrow.

The row renewed, however, and reinforcements of police, who had been driven up from the barracks, fired into the crowd. One man was killed and several others wounded.
One of the wounded has since died.
The police next charged and dispersed the crowd. Labouchere was a witness to the whole scene from a carriage. He asked Magistrate Seagrave if the meeting might be held elsewhere without molestation. Seagrave replied that the meeting might be held anywhere outside the town.
Then a Constable came up and spoke to Seagrave. The latter immediately corrected himself, declining to allow a meeting anywhere.

Seagrave went into the hotel, when the police fired. It is not known who ordered them to fire. Dillon, Father O'Callaghan and Father O'Connell followed the police, and entered the barracks with them.
The priests were put out.
Dillon, who was inside during the firing, says much confusion prevailed, nobody seeming in command.
Labouchere arrived later and asked the inspector to ascertain who fired.
The inspector refused to make any such inquiry. A youth has been found who says he can identify the Constable who killed Riordan. Dr.
Fenton expressed the opinion that Riordan had not been killed by a bullet, but by a blow on the head with the muzzle of a carbine. Fifty-four Constables have been treated for slight injuries.

Preparations are being made for
against the prosecution of O'Brien.

Portland, Sept. 8.—The latest reports from Walla Walla valley are to the effect that the recent heavy rains in that region have done much more damage to exposed crops than at first supposed. Grain in stacks has been wet to a depth of one or two feet and has sprouted, necessitating great trouble in turning over the stacks. Sacked grain, piled in the fields, has in many instances commenced to rot. Farmers did not expect such continuous rains, or they would have sheltered their grain. Thrashers are, of course, doing poor work in consequence of the dampness, and much waste is unavoidably entailed.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—The "Times" Montreal special of September 7th says: The Government organ in Canada has the following to-day and it is official: It is understood on excellent authority that although the exact working of the Fisheries Commission is not known here, still sufficient of its nature has been ascertained to warrant the assumption that it will not be strictly confined to consideration of the fisheries question proper, and that the scope of the commission will be sufficiently large to enable the commissioners to exercise discretionary powers to consider and report upon commercial questions. Thus the whole matter relating to the fisheries, including any measure in the reciprocal arrangements for the interchange of commodities, mutual rearrangement of certain trade relations between the United States and Canada may, it is believed, become subjects for consideration by the commission. This will be a cause for congratulation, as it leads to the hope that through the instrumentality of the commission an amicable and satisfactory settlement on a permanent basis of this long pending question may be arrived at.

THE DAILY BULLETIN—The most popular paper published.

A PAUPER'S DYING REQUEST.

An amusing and yet pathetic incident in what the poet Gray called "the short and simple annals of the poor," is told by Mr. John J. R. Mickeljohn, one of the Inspectors of the Poor, at Sherwick, Shetland Islands. He says that some time ago an old woman, named Barbara Smith, came under the notice of the Inspector. She was extremely ill, and it did not look likely that she would long need care of any kind. She did not reside on the main land, but on a small island a few miles distant, and there being no parochial institutions in that place, Barbara necessarily occupied the position of a pauper living out. The trouble from which she suffered dated back many years. In better and more prosperous days she had in some way laid the foundation for Chronic Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and out of this had sprung other complaints as age and bodily infirmities crept upon her.

Barbara was not ignorant, albeit she had fallen into poverty. In earlier life she somehow obtained the advantage of a fair education, and this, added to native shrewdness, enabled her to use good judgment in respect to her own situation and state of health. Although she had long suffered from asthma and a bronchial affection, Barbara was wise enough to see that these ailments arose from the disordered stomach and digestion, and that if the main trouble could be cured the others would soon leave her. It is probable that her disease began as others do, with the usual symptoms: headaches, bad breath, the rising of sour fluids in the throat, oppression and faintness at the pit of the stomach, loss of sleep, coated tongue, dull eyes, bad taste in the mouth, &c., and finally became chronic and hopeless through her not being able to find any remedy. The Inspector states that she had been under medical treatment for years, but to no effect. In this strait she one day made the following touching appeal to the Inspector: "I have been swallowing medicines for months. They do me no good. I am going on from worse to worse. I can endure it no longer. I feel that in a week or two I shall be dead. There is one last request I would make of you: give me a bottle of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup; it is my only hope. If it proves a failure and does me no good I will die in peace, and make no more expense to the parish."

It seems she had got hold of one of Mother Seigel's Almanacs and read of the great cures wrought by the Syrup in cases like hers. The Board pitied the poor lone woman and granted her petition, believing, however, the syrup would prove as useless as the other medicines she had already taken. What was their astonishment to find, in the course of a few days, that she had not only been able to get out of bed, but to move about outside the house, and had taken journeys to a considerable distance, and was actually enjoying better health than since she was first taken ill. The asthma and bronchitis, which were no more than symptoms of her true disease (indigestion and dyspepsia), rapidly abated, and it now seems that Barbara will soon be as hale and hearty as the Inspector himself, and be one of the hosts of living witnesses to the power of Mother Seigel's Syrup to save the thousands who were just ready to perish.

Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup is for sale by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, 35 Farringdon Road, London, E. C.

HOW RHODUS PLAYED POKER.

Hardly a day passes that does not bring to light a new incident in the adventurous career of Alfred Rhodus, the confidence operator who recently took French leave of the Golden State after having, it is said, vainly endeavored to possess himself by foul means of some of Edward Delger's coin. The very latest is the story related by John Q. Peabody of Oakland, who knew the wily Alfred several years ago at New Orleans, where the "downey cove" posed as a Southern fire eater and demanded more if the slightest insult was offered. Rhodus at that time owned a small plantation near New Orleans, but made the major portion of his money by trading in horses. He was also to be seen at every race meeting held in Louisiana, where, being a splendid judge of horseflesh, he managed to gain large sums, which he would systematically lose at the various gambling devices with which the race tracks were flooded, roulette being his favorite game.

Rhodus was young handsome, dashing and a bachelor. He spent his money freely and consequently had a legion of friends.

He frequently took trips up the river to St. Louis, and on those occasions, while on board the steamer, he was always the first man to propose a game of poker, which, having been once organized, he would not leave until he was flat broke or his opponents declined to play any more. He always played a fair game and not infrequently won large sums. One day while returning from one of these trips up the river Rhodus was a member of a quiet little game of draw with two other Southern fire-eaters and a cold-blooded Northerner, whose first name Mr. Peabody does not remember, the surname being Middleton, and who happened to be far ahead of the game. All four men were reckless players and it was a common thing to see from $7,000 to $10,000 in the pot. After several hours steadily playing the two Southerners dropped out, leaving Rhodus and Middleton to do battle against each other. The game ran along quite evenly until finally both men got large hands and the betting waxed high. Rhodus became excited, but the Northerner kept cool, and every time his opponent made a bet Middleton would calmly see and raise it.

At last Rhodus threw down some bills making the stakes something like $15,000, and with the remark, "I call you," showed down his hand. The man from the North held the higher hand, but he never got the money, for Rhodus, with a quick movement, swept all the greenbacks into his hat and, making a rush, managed to gain the deck of the steamer, from whence he leaped into the water, followed by several leaden pellets from a revolver in the hand of the despoiled Middleton, who, losing all his calmness, jumped about the deck like a lunatic. The Captain of the steamer refusing to lower a boat, Rhodus swam to land and made good his escape with the plunder.

The two men met again in Memphis a couple of years later and Middleton had Rhodus arrested, but the latter compromised by restoring $5,000 and so escaped punishment.

New York, September 5.—The "World's" Newport special of September 4th says: Private and authoritative information, wired today from Washington, announces that the court of inquiry in the case of Captain Thomas O. Selfridge, United States Navy, has unanimously acquitted him of all charges. The charges which followed the suspension in Japan of Captain Selfridge were that he ordered target practice against the shore of a Japanese village, contrary to international law, and without taking precaution to see that no one would be injured. Several natives were killed, and he was suspended by Admiral Chandler. Naval officers say the suspension was the result of a bitter feud between Chandler and Selfridge.

Washington, Sept. 6.—Information received at the Department of State from Mexico is to the effect that the United States representative at Padras Negras has made a thorough investigation into the recent murder of J. H. Duval, an American citizen at Santa Rosa. It is stated the Mexican authorities have arrested seven men implicated in the murder, and sentenced all to ten years' imprisonment. Pending a decision upon an appeal from the sentence, the prisoners have been sent to Monte Clara.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The following telegram has been received at the War Department from Major General Terry: "General Crook telegraphs from Rawlins, Wyo., T., on the 3d inst., acknowledging the receipt of a telegram from these headquarters which conveyed to him instructions of the acting Secretary of War regarding the removal of unauthorized persons on the Uintah and Ute Reservations. He reports the necessary action taken. The Utes are all on the reservation and everything is quiet for the present.

Charleston, Sept. 5.—The "News and Courier's" review of the work of improvement necessitated by the earthquake will show that in the past year over 6,000 buildings have been rebuilt or repaired, and that 271 absolutely new buildings have been erected. The whole cost is $4,800,000, of which $4,000,000 was expended in Charleston.

Los Angeles, Sept. 5.—General J. M. Baldwin has received a dispatch from Mexico, announcing that his brother Leon has been killed by banditti. The victim was the Superintendent of several mines, and was waylaid while passing from one to another. He was well known here and on the Comstock.

Madrid, Sept. 7.—An extensive anarchist plot has been discovered and several of the plotters arrested in Madrid, Salamanca and Cadiz.

London, Sept. 7.—The Liberal leaders have decided to challenge the legality of the proclamation forbidding the Eton and other meetings. Sir William Vernon Harcourt will move a vote of censure against the Government on Monday.

Let me have a mild CIGAR

THE ABOVE REQUEST IS HEARD daily in cigar stores, saloons and other places where cigars are sold, for it is an undisputed fact that most smokers prefer a mild cigar and that those who have for a long time smoked strong cigars, gradually importuned by the will, after having thoroughly injured the stomach and impaired the nervous system, only want a mild cigar, if they could find the right kind.

To many thousands of smokers who suffer from loss of appetite, headache, nervous irritability, asthma, etc., and who have tried all possible remedies without success, might be cured if they knew that their sufferings were caused by the impetuous use of strong cigars, and that they should only smoke in his mild and healthy preparation.

It is a fact that all mild cigars agree with smokers, for in most cases the lack of care in the selection of the tobacco, and often the necessary experience for it is wanting, and there is one brand which satisfies the most discerning smoker, and that is

"Sampler" Health Cigar

Which is made from mild, aromatic and particularly selected and prepared tobacco, combines all the qualities which may be expected from a health cigar. It comes to be of effect of any kind, is agreeable to the taste, but is only to the end and possesses a fine aroma. No smoker should fail to give

Engelbrecht's "Sampler" Cigars

A fair trial, and benefit himself at the same time.
