HARMONY ONCE MORE PREVAILS IN THE BOARD

The Minority Protest Spread on the Minutes—A Midnight Session.

The Board of License Commissioners held a harmony meeting yesterday afternoon, and as a result no one would have guessed from the proceedings at the public meeting in the evening, no one would have imagined that there had ever been the bolt of the minority of the evening before.

At the harmony meeting it was agreed that the protest of Commissioners Lucas and Long, which Chairman Ballentyne had refused Lucas the privilege of reading Tuesday night, be spread upon the minutes and made a part of the record.

Attorney General Peters was called in to give official advice. He urged that under the law this Commission must act by the vote of the majority. "The majority must rule, right or wrong," said Peters. To this Lucas strongly objected. But on the whole there was a restoration of harmony which, as far as appearances in the evening went, was of the twenty-four carat kind.

There was an air of expectancy when the Commission met last evening. There was a considerably larger gathering than there was the evening before, the reports of the excitement of that meeting evidently proving a magnet. During the evening a large delegation of both men and women from the Christian church came in. Their presence was due, no doubt, to the fact that the church has made a protest against the issuance to P. F. Ryan of a saloon license for the "Occidental Bar," on Alakea street, and this protest was set for hearing at 9 o'clock.

The case set for hearing was that of the application of the proprietors of the Wigwam saloon, South and Queen streets, seventy-five feet from the Kakaako Mission, against which P. W. Ryder, the superintendent of the Mission, has filed a protest. The case was taken up without any ceremony.

Judge Perry representing Rosa and his partners in the Wigwam saloon filed a written protest in substance that he had said orally the night before. He did not ask that time be taken in which to read it.

The protest is as follows: "The applicants herein hereby protest against the ruling made by the Board June 25, 1907, and reiterated June 26, 1907, in this matter, prescribing the order of procedure to be followed in this case and denying to these applicants the right to cross examine such witnesses as may be produced against them by those opposing the granting of their application, on the ground that such ruling constitutes a denial of the legal right of these applicants to a hearing herein, and on the further ground that such procedure so prescribed will constitute an unreasonable and unauthorized obstacle to the ascertainment and presentation of the truth on the questions of fact at issue herein.

And under such protest these applicants will now proceed to present their case to the best of their ability under the restrictions so imposed by the Board.

A. O. ROSA,
J. G. PEREGLIO,
J. C. CORREIA.

Judge Perry then asked for a ruling as to whether the rule of procedure as to the order of evidence announced by the Board applied to this case or not. Chairman Ballentyne replied that it did, that it applied to all cases, Judge Perry accepted to this. Then he asked, merely to preserve his right, he said, that Mr. Ryder be required to produce his evidence in support of his protest, first, Judge Perry maintaining that this was the proper procedure. This was overruled and Judge Perry accepted.

"If you waive your opening Mr. Ryder will present his testimony first," said Chairman Ballentyne.

"We waive no rights," replied Perry. "We simply point out what we believe is the proper procedure."

Joe Quintal was the first witness called. He said he had worked for the Honolulu Iron Works for seven years. In the past several months he had visited the saloon on an average three or four times a week for several months. He had never seen liquor sold to minors, women refused drinks and told to go out. Drunken men had on several occasions to his knowledge been refused drinks and told to go out. He never saw women or girls about the place.

The same kind of testimony was given by George H. Green, James Pakela, a Hawaiian carpenter, Joe Machado, who had on occasion acted as bartender, George Broadley, who had himself been refused a drink because drunk, Joe Brito, foreman for E. J. Lord, John Reposa, Frank Ornellas, and John Andrews.

The three partners, John G. Correia, J. G. Pereglia and A. O. Rosa all testified to the perfect observance of the law.

Representing the protestant Lyle Dickey said that it had not been contradicted that directly opposite the saloon is the Kakaako Mission where religious services are held every evening. Every day kindergarten exercises are held there. It is a center of instruction. There are Sunday schools, and temperance meetings there. And especially on Saturday evenings, when according to the testimony of the applicants themselves it is a "tough night," and drunken men come there to raise a disturbance, and are put out. When they are put out where are they? In the street right in front of the mission.

"If this is a church, chapel or school within the meaning of the law, then it may be taken into consideration and not otherwise," said Judge Perry.

"We do not claim that," replied Dickey. "But it is an existing institution and the relation of this saloon to it is something that the Board in its discretion may take into consideration."

"While disputing that," said Judge Perry, "perhaps it would be better to leave the argument until later."

This was agreed to. Then the first witness for the protestant was produced. It was a little native boy known as Hale. His age was given variously as six and as ten years old. Chairman Ballentyne began questions to determine whether the boy knew the nature of an oath and the difference between right and wrong sufficiently to be allowed to testify. The child seemed partly stupid and very much frightened and abashed. Very little could be got out of him, though efforts were made both in English and Hawaiian. Finally Chairman Ballentyne decided that he might be sworn and his testimony taken. Judge Perry objected to this.

Then the same kind of effort was made to get his testimony. It was sought to get him to testify that he had frequently bought beer there for his mother. The boy's answers were incoherent and in so low a voice that few could hear it.

W. C. Peacock insisted that the testimony should be loud enough so that it could be heard. A few minutes later he declared that any body of men who would seek to get testimony from a child like that "ought to be scarified, crucified and flayed."

Chairman Ballentyne called for order and insisted that the Board was seeking to secure facts and hoped that there would be no disorder.

After a little further of what was clearly a futile effort to get testimony from a boy frightened beyond measure, Frank Thompson arose saying:

"In the name of humanity I protest against this."

"There is no inhumanity being practiced," replied Chairman Ballentyne somewhat hotly.

At this juncture Commissioner Lucas expressed the belief that nothing could be accomplished by further efforts with the witness, and after consulting other Commissioners, Chairman Ballentyne said they would excuse the witness.

Edward Lillikalani said he had seen the small boy, Hale, near the Wigwam saloon with an empty can and a $5 gold piece and saw him go into the saloon. Then he saw him come out with the can full of beer. He took the beer away from the boy and took it to Mr. Ryder.

Gilman asked if the boy had any money when he came out. Lillikalani said he didn't know, as the boy ran away when he took the beer away from him, crying that he would tell his father.

Lillikalani said the boy got the beer at the back door and he identified Pereglia as the one who had given the child the beer.

On cross-examination he said he lived with his adopted father, Hon. E. K. Lillikalani; that his mother was deaf, or a deaf-mute, and that he had instructions from his mother to remain with her all the time and that he only left her when his father was at home.

P. W. Ryder, superintendent, under questions from Lyle A. Dickey, said he had seen drunken men about the saloon, going in and out, boys in their teens. On June 11 there were about

MEETING WAS A DULL ONE

Supervisors Quietly Pass Estimates and Do Routine.

The meeting of the Board of Supervisors last night was deadly dull. There was just one little ripple following the reading of the minutes, when Supervisor Harvey objected to the record of the turning down of the $206 bill for the Koolau road work. Chairman Hustace called for a vote on this and again declared that the minutes would stand as read. Harvey and Fern demanded that their "noes" be recorded, which was done.

Throughout the meeting Hustace preached economy, warning the members that the county would have less revenue from now on until March next unless the suit brought against the Territory for a one-half share of the license money and fines was won. Then there would be funds to burn, but in the meanwhile everyone must go easy.

FINANCIAL REPORT.

Chairman Archer, of the finance committee, presented his report for the month. He showed that a balance unexpended of $6612.21 was on hand, while from the Territory the sum of $35,000 was due, making a total for the general fund for June of $41,612.21. The balance due on road taxes was: Honolulu, $13,482.40; Ewa and Waianae, $3278.90; Waiialua, $2647.66; Koolauloa, $956.93 and Koolauapoko, $252.70. The June estimate amounted to $32,085, leaving a balance on July 1 of $29,527.21.

Hustace explained that this balance would have to be spread out over the next nine months, it being inadvisable to spend much of it right away and leave nothing for the end of the year.

JUNE APPROPRIATIONS VOTED.

The appropriations for the month were then voted, as follows:

Fixed salaries	$ 1670 00
County Clerk	305 32
County Attorney	800 00
County Treasurer	125 00
Poundmaster	30 00

COMMUNICATIONS.

A letter from the Park Commissioners respecting the immediate necessity for some improvements to the sanitary arrangements at the beach park was read, as well as an enclosure from the chief sanitary inspector. The matter was laid over until the passing of the estimates came up.

The Sachs L. Y. Goods Company wrote asking that the road at the corner of Beretania avenue and Fort street be oiled to keep down the dust.

"I have explained before," said Hustace, "that I would like to oil every

JULY 4 PARADE PRIZES OFFERED

Delivery Wagon Contest to Be Very Hotly Contested.

The committee which has charge of the parade to be held on the Fourth of July has issued its list of prizes, and the clubs and business houses which will compete are getting ready for the event. There is a good deal of rivalry among some of the local concerns over the prize which is to be awarded for the best decorated delivery wagon and there should be some fine turnouts.

The list of prizes is as follows:

Most Original Character—Two prizes. First prize, $10; second, $7.50. Best Sustained Character—Two prizes. First, $10; second, $5. Most Comical Character—Two prizes. First, $10; second, $5. Prizes for Floats—First, $20; second, $10.

Decorated Delivery Wagons—First prize, $15; second, $7.50.

The parade will form on Miller street, near the drillshed, and from there will march to Hotel street, to Fort street, to King street, to Bethel street, to Merchant street, to Fort street, to King street, to Union square and through Executive grounds to the drillshed, where it will be dismissed.

The same line of march will be followed by the military parade, which will follow the antics and horrors.

HARTWELL FOR CHIEF JUSTICE SEEMS CERTAIN

Matthewman, Lindsay or Ballou for the Associate Justice—Jack's Job.

Chief Justice and Governor-to-be W. F. Frear received many congratulations yesterday. Many lawyers and others took the occasion of business at the Judiciary building to call on him in his chambers, or pilgrimaged there specially to offer their good wishes.

Throughout the city there were general expressions of satisfaction at the appointment. Delegate Kuhio's fulmination against it seems to have found little responsive sentiment.

The slate-makers got to work early with appointments to heads of departments and other vacancies they created by the same authority they filled them.

"I am very much obliged to these slate-makers," said Chief Justice Frear, "for some names have been suggested which I hadn't thought of."

The announcement of the new Chief Justice will probably come from Washington or Oyster Bay, for there is little or no doubt that the filling of that vacancy was fully considered and determined on at the time the governorship was decided. There is almost every reason to believe that Associate Justice Hartwell will be the man. The place he has held at the bar and in the public service of Hawaii, and his legal erudition and his record on the bench appeal, apparently to everyone in the community, as pointing him out as the man whose appointment would be most fitting.

But in any event there will be one vacancy on the Supreme Court bench to be filled. As to who will be appointed, speculation takes a wide range. Sidney M. Ballou's name is in the mouths of a great many. The question of whether he would take it or not, however, was raised almost as often as his name was suggested. The only reason why he might not take it, if it were offered to him, is that it would involve too much sacrifice of income. That he is fitted for the position and that it is one that would be congenial to his tastes and temperament is admitted.

Judge Matthewman of the West Hawaii Circuit is another man mentioned with considerable show of enthusiasm. It is said of him that he is fitted for the position by ability and attainments; that he has the enthusiastic good will of the bar which practices before him; and finally that the political affinities which secured him his present appointment are propitious for promotion.

If any Circuit Judge is to be promoted the choice is limited to Judge Matthewman or Judge Lindsay, in the estimation of those who think they are adept in nicely balancing political possibilities. In the first place it is premised that when it comes to getting at the Presidential ear and guiding the Presidential choice, Governor Carter at this moment has both propinquity and pull. Age and environment debar Judge Hardy of Kauai, unless the appointment should come as a tribute of courtesy, and in recognition of long and valuable services. Still, that would be rather a justification for such an appointment than a political reason for making it, and is rather too refined and delicate to be an active stimulant to a political pull. Judge Parsons of Hilo and Judge Kepoikal of Maui are not thought likely to be the beneficiaries of Carter's political largess, especially at the moment when the power to distribute such largess is about to pass into apellion—for it is not unnatural to suppose that the President will hereafter look more and more to the new Governor for information and guidance in Hawaiian affairs.

Judge Robinson can hardly expect Governor Carter's active exertions to procure his promotion, nor can Judge De Bolt, though not for the same reasons. Thus by the process of elimination the only Circuit Court probabilities or possibilities for the Supreme Court promotion are Lindsay and Matthewman.

If either of these should be promoted, the slate makers and the dispensers of Bernicde appointments have candidates for the vacancies. Among them are Judge Philip Weaver of the Court of Land Registration, and Judge Whitney and Judge C. R. Hemenway, First and Second District Magistrates, respectively, of Honolulu. Hemenway has been mentioned for Attorney General and also for Secretary of the Territory. But there may not be a vacancy in the Attorney Generalship, and the Secretaryship is a Presidential appointment, and no vacancy until next December, unless there is a resignation.

A. F. Judd has also been spoken of for a Circuit Judgeship. If Hemenway and Judd should both be offered appointments, E. A. Mott-Smith, the other member of the law firm of Judd, Mott-Smith & Hemenway, says he would have something to say in the matter.

As to heads of departments, Chief Justice Frear is entirely opportunist and non-committal in his utterances. He said he was very ready to receive suggestions in case of new appointments being required by resignation or expiration of term of office. The attitude of mind of the public seems to be that there will be considerable changes in heads of departments, and also no regret at the prospect. At the same time, nobody can assign a reason why changes are expected.

The Presidential appointments possible under the new state of affairs are: A Chief Justice of the Supreme Court;

An Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, should one of the present Associate Justices be appointed Chief Justice;

A Circuit Judge, should one of the present Circuit Judges be appointed to the Supreme Court;

A Secretary of the Territory in December next, or sooner should Secretary Atkinson resign or be appointed to some other position.

The appointment of Secretary Atkinson to some other position is said not to be improbable. The position of Secretary, while it involves many obligations of a social and public character, is not a well-paid office. Heads of departments are much better paid. Besides, there are appointments in the Federal public service, outside the classified service, to which, under the accepted political rules of appointment, Hawaii is entitled to her quota as a Territory, but in which she has not so far figured.

On the matter of the Secretaryship, Chief Justice Frear said yesterday that he had not given the matter consideration, adding that it was a Presidential appointment and that there was no vacancy. No doubt, however, the suggestion of the Governor, whoever he is, at the time the vacancy occurs, will have much weight in the selection. (Continued on Page Three.)

HAWAIIAN HONEY IS WELL FIXED

Van Dine Gains Points—Official
Expert Apiarist Coming Here.

Prof. D. L. Van Dine, of the U. S. Agricultural Experiment Station, returned in the transport Crook from his mission to Washington and other places as the representative of the Hawaiian Beekeepers' Association. His efforts on behalf of the Hawaiian honey industry were quite successful, besides the special object of his trip as stated below he having secured other benefits for the beekeepers. Asked for an account of his travels and work Prof. Van Dine said to an Advertiser reporter:

"It was a long trip. I found I had to spend more time on things I went on to do with than I had anticipated.

"The principal object of the trip was generally understood to be the settlement of the question of marketing Hawaiian honey, and I am very glad to be able to say that there will be no difficulty in placing the product on the mainland market. Hawaiian honey in comparison with the bulk of the mainland product is abnormal but is nevertheless a natural honey, and I was successful in convincing the authorities at Washington that the honey should not only be allowed to come within the standard, but that for the purposes for which it is used it is superior to the mainland product.

"We have a type of honey here which is comparatively new and the results of the work that we have done at the Hawaii Experiment Station on this type of honey are the most that is known about it.

"The Commission of Food and Drug Inspection hesitated to deviate in any way from the standard, fearing it would give mainland concerns engaged in honey adulteration a chance to resume their operations. However, the whole subject has been thoroughly discussed and, as I have said, provisions have been made whereby no adulterations can occur and at the same time our product will be placed upon the market.

"There is one thing that must be realized in American agriculture and that is that tropical conditions will have to be considered in the future in any general survey of a particular subject. Heretofore American agriculture has been confined to temperate zone conditions, but with the addition of our tropical possessions these conditions require modification of standards.

"In so far as manipulation of apiaries is concerned, together with races of bees, the Hawaiian beekeepers do not need to take second place with those of any locality that I visited on the mainland, and I believe I saw all the leading beekeeping sections and the various races of bees at present established there.

"One important subject that I took up was that of the introduction of desirable bee-feeding plants, to increase the bee pasturage in the islands, and I obtained a number of very valuable plants, some of them being of dual benefit since they are, to a greater or less extent, valuable as forage plants. When established in the islands these plants will not only greatly increase the amount of our honey but its quality as well.

"There were many points in connection with our industry here of especial interest to the authorities at Washington, so much so that Dr. Phillips, in charge of beekeeping investigations in the entomological bureau, will plan to spend February of the coming year in the Hawaiian Islands. "Besides the beekeeping work, I conferred with Dr. Howard in regard to various species of flies affecting the live stock in Hawaii and arrangements for cooperation on the part of the bureau of entomology in connection with investigations along this line were effected. On the same proposition I visited the cattle country in the Southern States.

"I also represented the Territorial Board of Health at a conference in New York City of the active workers in mosquito control in the United States. Our conditions here proved to be of a great deal of interest to the meeting and it was conceded that Hawaii, a tropical country free from yellow fever and malaria, held a singularly favorable reputation.

"During the trip I had a sample of about every climate in the world and was mighty glad to get back to Honolulu."

BUSINESS BEFORE ESTHETIC IDEALS

A big billboard for Land Office notices has been placed in the main corridor of the Judiciary building, upon the wall adjacent to the office entrance. Billboards have become a feature at the front entrance of the building. U. S. Marshal Hendry has one for Federal notices on the inner side of the veranda and the Judiciary department of the Territory has its board on the outer side opposite. Kamehameha statue is utilized as a flag station for official auction sales. It all looks "business," whatever may be said from the esthetic viewpoint.

IN CONVOCAIONMany Interesting Reports of Episcopal Church Work
in Hawaii.

The meetings in connection with convocation continued on Tuesday and yesterday. On Tuesday at St. Clement's church the annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary occurred. There was a celebration of the holy communion at 10:30, the Rev. Dr. Alsop preaching the sermon.

At the close of the service nearly a hundred people sat down to luncheon in the parish house. The meeting at 1:30 was largely attended and the addresses and papers were listened to with deep interest.

The bishop appointed Miss H. M. von Holt, president of the Woman's Auxiliary; Mrs. O. A. Steven, vice president; Mrs. B. L. Marx, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Elsa Schaefer, assistant secretary.

Mrs. Marx read the annual report, which showed a large amount of work. The Rev. Mr. Fenton-Smith told of the growth of Hilo and that only $1500 was needed to complete the payment for the lot, church and guild hall.

Miss von Holt made a report of the work done by the Junior Auxiliary. The progress of the Japanese Mission was related by Mr. P. T. Fukao who told of the three centers at which work is carried on by him, Deaconess Wile and Miss Sakaragawa.

One of the most interesting papers was that read by Mrs. L. F. Folsom on the work of St. Mary's, Moiliili. The mission has recently moved into new and more commodious quarters and the night school and other branches of the work are flourishing.

The Rev. Shin Yin Chin of Kula, Maui, and the Rev. Woo Ya Bur of Kohala made interesting addresses. Mr. Shin thanked the ladies for the aid given to them in the building of the new church.

After Deaconess Sands had told of the large work among women at St. Elizabeth's, brief reports were made of the work of eight guilds.

The delegates to the triennial meetings at Richmond were elected. They were the Princess Kalaniana'ole, Miss von Holt and Miss Greenwell of Kona.

An interesting part of the proceedings was a brief address of greeting from Mrs. Garland representing the Hawaiian Board, which body had sent a deputation at the time Mrs. Restarick addressed the annual meeting of the Hawaiian Board.

Yesterday at 2:30 p. m. in the Sunday school room of the cathedral a conference was held on Christian education. The following was the program:

Mission Sunday schools among Mixed Races.....Rev. J. W. Gunn Night Schools as a Means of Spreading the Gospel.....
.....Rev. W. E. Potwine, Kong Yin Tet and Mrs. Folsom.

The Training of Girls in Hawaii.....
.....Miss Abby S. Marsh
Ideas on the Conduct of a Sunday school.....Deaconess Wile, Miss Willis

Training of Boys in Hawaii.....
.....J. B. Morgan, Canon A. Mackintosh
The Boy in Sunday school and After.....
.....Revs. E. T. Simpson, W. H. Bliss

Each paper elicited an animated discussion. The papers themselves were excellent, notably those by Miss Marsh, Miss Willis and J. B. Morgan. The meeting passed a resolution requesting the publication of these.

THREW SAND IN HIS ICE CREAM

Kobiyashi, an employee of the ice cream parlor on the corner of Kukui and Fort street, the driver of a cornucopia wagon, got mixed up in some pilikia near the Makiki pumping station on Monday. When passing that point he was held up by a number of boys, some of whom parleyed with him while others threw handfuls of sand in his ice cream supply. Discovering this he gave chase to whom he considered the ringleaders, driving them before him into a nearby house. He followed the boys into the yard and demanded payment for the spoiled cream from the mistress of the house.

GOOD TIME AT SOCIAL
SESSION OF EAGLES

The social session of the Eagles, held last night in the Knights of Pythias Hall, was well attended and was one of the most successful functions of its kind ever held in Honolulu. The real features of the occasion were the efforts made by those present to light the pipes which were supplied for the occasion and which varied from twenty-four to forty-eight inches in length. The man with the shortest reach invariably tried to light the longest pipe, and his attempts were in some cases amusing. In fact, he generally was forced to call in outside assistance to obtain the desired light.

The evening was made pleasant by songs, stories and musical selections which were rendered by the different members of the lodge and by the various penalties which were dealt out by Chairman A. V. Gear to those who were unable to go through the stunts which the fertile minds of the committee in charge suggested.

The officers of the Eagles who had general charge of the entertainment were L. E. Twomey, president; W. L. Frazee, vice president; W. W. Carlisle, treasurer; H. T. Moore, secretary. The gathering broke up at a late hour, when all were perfectly satisfied that they had enjoyed the occasion to the utmost.

HARTWELL FOR

Atkinson is attending strictly to his present double role of Acting Governor and Secretary of the Territory, and saying nothing, except that he has not made up his mind. In an evening paper he denies the report that Governor Carter has been knocking him, or that he ever did. "Mr. Carter and I understand each other perfectly," he is reported as saying.

A good deal of the talk in regard to the Secretaryship seems to be predicated on the belief that the Secretary is in line for the Governorship, a belief that does not seem to have been dispelled by the fact that it never has proved so in this Territory, and rarely, if ever, in any other. Among names suggested for it on this theory is that of J. P. Cooke, and it seems very probable that Mr. Cooke can have it if he wants it.

E. R. Adams, who was a member of the Board of Supervisors last year, is another man mentioned for the Secretaryship. There seems no probability, however, that he would consider it. Another name bandied is that of J. Q. Wood, and probably with as little basis of either desire or knowledge of the suggestion on his part.

The Associated Press afternoon cable dispatch seems to indicate that Chief Justice Frear has actually been commissioned as Governor, in which case it is to be supposed that the President desires him to take office soon after July 1, instead of about the middle of August, as the Chief Justice suggested in his cable of acceptance. It may be, however, that the cable has stated the matter in a generic instead of a specific way, and that the announcement is of the appointment to take effect, without any statement as to when it is to take effect.

"The fact that the President has announced my appointment," said the Chief Justice yesterday afternoon, "would indicate that he had received my cable of acceptance. Whether he wants me to take the office earlier than I indicated, I do not know, but if he does, I think very likely he will let me know by cable. I have not yet heard from him on that point. It may be that his announcement of my appointment may be merely a statement of intention and that the appointment will come in due time, to take effect at the time I indicated. As to when I shall cease to be Chief Justice, I suppose it will be simultaneously with my taking the oath of office as Governor. I hope that this will not be at once, as I should like a vacation, as I have planned for one."

She denied any responsibility for the sand and was joined, during the discussion, by her husband. The latter, losing his temper with the Japanese, turned loose and administered a thrashing, from the effects of which Kobiyashi has spent the past two days in the Japanese hospital.

THE GOSPEL OF PURE MILK.

The effort which the Palama Settlement is making to supply the poor of its vicinity with pure milk is a phase of very practical charity. If the truth were known it would probably appear that the milk supplied to the less discriminating classes of buyers, in Honolulu, is one of the special causes of disease among them. Milk, under far better circumstances of production, delivery and household care than obtain in Honolulu's poorer sections, easily gathers and spreads bacteria. "Almost countless varieties of bacteria," say the scientists, "including most of the pathogenic kinds, readily thrive in milk;" and one may imagine what some of the milk is which itinerant vendors procure in a dirty stable and peddle in hot, filthy cans to people who expose it in a soiled container in some box which also contains left-over meat and vegetables. And as a rule, children are the chief sufferers from such unwholesome food.

No intelligent care is wasted on milk, a fluid which, more than bread, is the staff of life. As Dr. A. N. Sinclair, in his very able paper read at the fifteenth annual meeting of the Hawaiian Territorial Medical Society pointed out, these rules for securing pure milk are important to follow:

- (1) The cows must be healthy and free from any such diseases as tuberculosis or mastitis.
- (2) They must be fed proper food and have clean water.
- (3) The stable must be sanitary; plenty of light and air, and free from dust. The floor should be built for drainage and cleanliness—the best material is concrete.
- (4) The cows should be groomed, especially about the flanks and udders; and before milking the udders should be moistened.
- (5) The milkers should be free from any contagious disease or the possibility of carrying such disease; and should be in clean clothes.
- (6) They should wash their hands before milking each cow.
- (7) The milking should be done with dry hands; the common practice of wetting the hands with the milk is pernicious, as thereby a great deal of dirt from the hands and udders is sure to drop into the milk pail.
- (8) The fore milk should be rejected, as it is worthless and full of bacteria.

(9) The opening into the pail should be small; a good arrangement is a cover to the pail in which is an opening about four inches in diameter. Over this opening there should be strainer consisting of wire gauze, over which is several layers of clean cloth, or a pad of cotton. The common practice of milking into an open pail and afterwards straining through wire gauze is not nearly as cleanly. It is evidently much better to keep out the dirt in the first place than to try to get it out after it has once fallen into the pail and gone into solution or become finely divided. According to Joseph Roby (11), the cheese-cloth strainer cuts the bacterial count exactly in half. The use of the covered pail, according to Conn. (12), keeps 66 per cent or more of the dirt out of the milk. A method of cleaning milk, which is quite popular in Europe, is that of filtration—generally with sand. This is quite effective in removing the dirt, but it does not lessen the bacterial count. Another method is that of centrifugalizing the milk, and afterwards mixing together the cream and skim milk that have been separated in the process. The dirt by this method goes off in the "centrifuge slime," and this also is a very effective method in cleaning the milk, but has the same objections as the former, namely:

- (a) It does not lessen the bacterial count (24);
- (b) The milk sours as rapidly as when untreated;
- (c) It gives a false sense of security to the milkster, who then naturally supposes he can be as dirty in his milking as he pleases.

This latter objection is also one of the chief objections to pasteurization of milk on a large scale, which is quite popular in the United States.

There is no really satisfactory method of making milk clean after it has once become dirty.

(10) Directly after milking, the milk should be rapidly cooled to about 50 deg. F., and kept at this temperature until delivered. As to the problem of keeping milk fresh, the influence of low temperature is the most important point of all. Milk kept at 50 deg. F., should keep sweet for four or five days (13). The New York City Board of Health requires that milk shall be cooled to 45 deg. F. immediately after milking, and should be transported to the city in refrigerated cars. This makes it possible to bring milk to New York from a distance of over 350 miles. However, milk kept several days at 50 deg. F., even though apparently fresh, should be looked upon with suspicion, for the reason that lactic acid bacteria do not develop as rapidly at low temperatures as other more harmful bacteria. We are accustomed to think of milk as being good if it tastes sweet; but if kept at a low temperature for many days, the comparatively harmless lactic acid bacteria are inhibited in their growth, whereas harmful, or even violently poisonous bacteria may gradually develop. This effect probably explains many cases of ice cream poisoning. (14). However, this is no argument against the use of ice, but merely argues against the use of old milk, even though it be sweet to the taste.

(11) After cooling, milk should be bottled for those who can pay the extra expense. Bottled milk eliminates the probability of dust falling in during transportation and its cleanliness can be more readily detected.

(12) All milking utensils should be cleaned not merely with hot water, but with boiling water, or, much better still, by steam sterilization, which latter is the only entirely satisfactory method.

It is milk of this wholesome character which the Palama Settlement proposes to put within reach of the poor—and which a great many people who are not poor would be glad of an opportunity to get.

PRICE ADVANCE IN IMPORTS.

Hawaii should profit as well as lose by the general advance, reported by the Department of Commerce and Labor, in the prices of imported articles. What we have to buy from abroad will cost more, but on the other hand certain articles we have to sell will bring more.

A comparison of the April monthly average import prices of certain of these articles with those of April, 1906, and April, 1907, shows, in many cases, a material advance over the corresponding month of one year ago, and in nearly all cases a marked advance over the corresponding month ten years ago. In raw material for manufactures, like hides, goat skins, rubber, sisal grass, etc., the uplift has been marked; and in food-stuffs several articles have risen, among them rice, which had an average import price per pound in April, 1906, of 2.7 cents per pound but reached 3.1 cents per pound in April of this year. Sugar, quoted at an average import price of 2.06 cents per pound in April, 1906, was 2.08 cents in the corresponding month of April, 1907.

How much this advance in prices of the articles imported is responsible for the great increase in the total value of our imports—an increase of more than 100 per cent in 1907, as compared with 1899—can not be accurately determined; but the fact that prices per unit of quantity have in nearly all cases advanced, and in some cases increased from 50 to 100 per cent, suggests that at least an appreciable part of the growth in the figures of our imports is due to advance in prices, a condition which doubtless applies also in a greater or less degree to the increase in total value of our exports.

The attempt to make it appear that Mr. Atkinson wanted the Governorship and was refused it by the President, does not accord with certain facts which have, for weeks, been known to this paper. Political office and its obligations cost Mr. Atkinson a profitable business opening; and in view of the probable return of such an opportunity, he did not care to commit himself to the President as one seeking another four years' official contract. True, in the event of his not making a hoped for business deal, he might come to regret that he did not meet the President half way; but he felt it impossible to commit himself when inquiry was made as to his position. It is, of course, absurd to think that the President would have rejected him because his attempts to carry out the Federal policy here had made him objectionable to the enemies of that policy.

Commissioner Lucas like Supervisor Lucas is one of the most entertaining men in public life. He would enliven a committee on resolutions of respect for the dead and might, perhaps, revive the remains and make them get up and fight. It is no more possible for Mr. Lucas to sit through a dozen consecutive sessions of any public body without causing an earthquake than it is for a lightning-charged cloud to omit its customary flashes and thunder-claps. Because of this seismic characteristic Mr. Lucas deserves and receives the thanks of the press and of the reading public. Many an otherwise dull column in the newspapers has been made exciting by the Lucas temblors.

Every time the Bulletin butts its head against Hawaiian politics it comes back looking like a veal loaf.

On what possible grounds of public policy could Joe Clark be granted a license to sell liquor?

Has Pinkham made up his mind to have flowers at the obsequies or just go quietly?

Justice Hartwell seems to have gone East at the psychological moment.

BOARD OF HEALTH AWARD CONTRACTS

A number of additional contracts for the supplying of material for the Board of Health were awarded at the meeting of that body held yesterday, this being the only business of importance transacted.

The contract for supplying palai for the wards at the Molokai settlement was awarded to the Kalihai poi factory, the bid being 63 cents per twenty-one pounds. This is one of the important contracts for the settlement.

To Benson, Smith & Co. went the contract for supplying all the drugs, medicines and hospital supplies needed generally by the Board of Health for their dispensary, settlement, hospitals and insane asylum.

The petition of the Molokai Japanese for permission to establish a cemetery in that portion of the town was refused on the report of Chief Sanitary Inspector Tracy. He reported that the location was wholly unsuited for a burial ground, the soil having a depth of only a foot, underlying which was lava.

CHILLINGWORTH'S PHILANTHROPY

In an interview, published yesterday in the Japanese Chronicle, Attorney Charles Chillingworth is quoted as saying that his reasons for assisting in the emigration of Hawaiian Japanese to Canada were not selfish ones, being only to impress upon the Hawaiian planters the folly of discriminating between the Spanish and Portuguese laborers and the Japanese in favor of the former. The planters, he said, were paying $22.50 a month to the European laborers and only $18 a month to the Japanese, thus showing a great discrimination.

To father the interests of the Japanese was, he said, his object and to give the planters reason for reflection. He will try to encourage the emigration to Vancouver up to a certain point in order that the planters will see the necessity of treating their Japanese here in a fairer way.

NUUANU DAM WORK MAY BE HELD UP

Contractor Whitehouse said yesterday that a fair amount of water was available for sluicing in the Nuuanu dam construction. Four men are employed loosening up material and a fifth man is clearing the debris of roots and other clogging material. Mr. Whitehouse had no information regarding the sluicing pump for which Superintendent Holloway gave the contract to a Coast firm. Even if it were delivered soon, not much work could be done before the old appropriation lapsed.

There was only $16,000 left, Mr. Whitehouse said, and although Governor Frear, on taking office, might lose no time in authorizing an issue of new bonds to complete the work, it was hardly likely that the proceeds would be available until some time in October.

OAHU PREPARATORY SCHOOL GRADUATES

The closing exercises of the Punahou Preparatory school will be held this morning in Chas. R. Bishop Hall, Oahu College, at 9:30 o'clock. A class of forty-five students will be graduated. The program will consist of essays by members of the graduating class as well as of numbers presented by the lower grades of the school and of music. The College does not issue special invitations to its commencement exercises but extends a hearty invitation to all parents and friends of the school.

BREWER'S WHARF BLASTING JOB

Only one bid was received by the Superintendent of Public Works for blasting out the snag in one of the slips of the Brewer wharf. The contract has not yet been awarded.

It is said that contractors shied at the condition imposed that the one who got the job would be responsible for any damage to the wharf or adjacent property. The same kind of work at the Fort street wharf did much havoc among the piles.

In the meantime the Inter-Island Steam Navigation Co. refuses to accept the berth at Brewer's wharf on account of the rock in question being in the way of any steamer trying to dock there.

THE "REDS," ONE OF THE PRACTISE TEAMS OF THE OAHU POLO CLUB.

TO PLAY THREE GAMES WITH MAUI*Oahu Polo Club Will Be Busy in Second Week of August.

The date of the inter-island polo games has been decided on, and the Maui team is expected to give the Honolulu people a treat in the line of polo which has never before been seen in these islands. Instead of the single game for the championship, which has been customary, a series of three games will be played, and it is expected that there will be a great deal of enthusiasm aroused.

A letter was received from the Maui Polo Club last Tuesday, suggesting that a series of three games be played instead of one game, and at a meeting of the Oahu Polo Club held last night the suggestion was talked over and accepted. The Maui suggestion that the games take place early in August was also agreeable to the local players and the following dates were set for the three games: Saturday, August 10;
Wednesday, August 14, and Saturday,
August 17.

The Oahu Polo Club held its regular practise last night and the Blues defeated the Reds by a score of 3-2 after one of the best games seen on the field this year. The improvement in the team work which has been made in the last two weeks has been very noticeable and the prospect for a fast game on the Fourth of July is very good. All the regular players were present yesterday with the exception of Bob Shingle, who scorched his hand a few days ago and could not take part.
His place was taken by Alec Clough.

The grass on the field has been cut since the last practise and the ball traveled faster than before, with the result that the play was cleaner and better.

The lineup of the two teams was:
Blues—W. D. Baldwin, No. 1; C. H.
Cooke, No. 2; J. L. Fleming, No. 3; A.
Clough, No. 4. Reds—G. P. Denison,
No. 1; Walter Macfarlane, No. 2; W.
F. Dillingham, No. 3; E. H. Lewis,
No. 4.

five, the Diamond Heads, four, the Y.

In the event of Chillingworth's being unable to make the trip, Lo On or Dixon will probably play goal, Mon

There is not room on the team for all the players now practising, but places may yet be found for Oss (Y. M.

some of whom play soccer, Fernandez

Hotel Baths on the night of July 3.
This club will furnish the burlesque feature and it will be a winner. The people who see these boys go through

There are about twenty-five swimmers in training for the different events that will be pulled off and they are working harder than ever before.
There are certain to be some exciting races when such men as Cunha, Cooper and some of the other sprinters meet.
The water polo match is creating much interest, as is the relay race.

For the benefit of those who have not the price the Myrtles and Healanu are going to give a free display of fireworks and also a band concert. The fireworks will usher in the Fourth of July and will be as fine as can be purchased. The front of the baths will be illuminated and one great big time will be had.

SOLDIERS VS.
CHINESE ALOHAS

The baseball team of the Twentieth Infantry has challenged the Chinese Alohas to play against the soldiers' team on the Fourth of July and in all likelihood a game will be arranged.
It is quite likely that the game may be taken up by the committee which has charge of the sporting program for the Fourth and will be played at Kapiolani Park. The committee has asked the Riverside League to furnish two teams for a game to be played at Kapiolani Park on the Fourth, and it is quite possible that the game between the soldiers and the Chinese Alohas may substitute this. The contest would certainly attract a great deal of attention and it is doubtful to say which team would be the favorite.

HONOLULU MEN
IN ATHLETICS*Good Records of Hawaiians
Commented on in Coast Paper.

Four Honolulu athletes, who have been making a name for themselves on the mainland, are mentioned in flattering terms in the San Francisco Call of June 18. Their pictures are given and short accounts of their athletic prowess.
These are Gerrit P. Judd, Dan Rinear,
Al. Castle and Paul Withington.

The articles in connection with the local men are as follows:

"Old Dan Rinear," another Hawai-lian, is a term this splendid all around athlete receives everywhere because of his happy disposition, a chronic thing with these Americans who are natives of "the paradise of the Pacific." Rinear is a recorded athlete in the sprints, weights, rowing, swimming, diving and football, but his best performances are in diving and swimming, which he indulged in during his early days in Honolulu. Last summer he was a close second to Bornemann, the Chicago athletic club diver, in the amateur championship in the fancy diving event, and this last winter turned the tables on this noted athlete by winning the event from him in a dual meet between Pennsylvania and the Chicago athletic club.
In 1907 while in this country he won the national championship in the 100 yard swimming races, and it is his desire to win the diving event, for as yet no one has been born who could win championships in these two things. It seems as though Rinear could do this, for in addition to his victory over Bornemann
he has defeated Kinoko, the native Hawaiian champion, in the fancy diving, by no means an ill performance when it is remembered that these natives have practised water sports for centuries.

Rinear rowed on the Hawaiian club cruisers which won the championships of these islands in 1899, still holds the record for the 50 yard straightaway swim of 25 seconds, played halfback on the Honolulu athletic club football team, won the 12-pound hammer throw, and 100 and 220-yard sprint races in his preparatory days, and is now making good in the hammer throw at Pennsylvania. He is undoubtedly one of the best developed and most perfectly formed athletes living today.

The most prominent of her foreign athletes is Gerrit P. Judd, captain of this year's baseball team, who comes from Hawaii, where he was born of American parentage, his father having been chief justice of the islands since the days of the Imperial family. Judd was a baseball, football and polo player before coming to the United States, having been a member of the Oahu island team, which several times won the championship of the Hawaiian Islands.
Judd's election to the captaincy of the Pennsylvania team last spring was a remarkable occurrence. The nine had a season full of ups and downs, but in the last contest with Princeton Judd won his election, though but a freshman at the time, by making a home run with one man on base, which decided the game, 3 to 2, for Pennsylvania. He has not tried football at college because of the pressure of his work. Judd is a member of the Pi Kappa Psi fraternity.

At Harvard there have been but few foreign athletes, though one would imagine this institution would exceed the two preceding ones in this class.
Last year, in Al. Castle of Hawaii, born of American parentage, whose father is one of the leading members of the Honolulu bar, they possessed a pitcher of wonderful ability. Castle is still at Harvard, but as he is in the law school is now ineligible to represent his university and is acting as an assistant to Coach Pieper of the baseball nine.

Paul Withington of Honolulu, Hawaiian islands, is of American parentage, and is one of the fastest short distance swimmers Harvard ever possessed. He is captain of next year's

How Long Have You Worn Those Glasses?

Here is an important question for you. Many people continue the use of glasses that are no longer of benefit. A glass worn too long becomes a detriment rather than a help. It's a good plan to have an accurate examination of your eyes once every two years.

LEAVE FOR HOME ON SIERRA TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Perkins Return to California Well Pleased.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Perkins, who have been in Honolulu for the past two months visiting their son, Roscoe W. Perkins, leave on the Sierra today. In conversation with an Advertiser reporter at the Hawaiian Hotel last evening, Mr. Perkins expressed himself as being well pleased with Honolulu and the islands generally. He said: "We have been royally treated by a royal people, and your delightful climate ought to attract tourists from all parts of the world. Where can you see such mountains as are around about Honolulu? This city is certainly unique in its location, lying at the foot of hills which form a glorious background. The valleys are natural pictures and the foliage is unsurpassed in any part of the world."

"It seems to me the educational advantages of Honolulu are remarkable for an island in the middle of the Pacific Ocean. Everybody seems interested in education. The closing exercises of a school here are more attractive than a theatrical performance. This indicates a high standard of citizenship and a great future for your city and the islands."

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins are both deeply interested in church and missionary work. Mrs. Perkins represents the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church and while here has made extensive improvements at the Susana Wesley Home for Japanese and Korean women and children. Mr. Perkins is one of the most active laymen in the Methodist church in California, and has been twice elected lay delegate from the California Conference to the General Conference, the great lawmaking body of the church. He has been the Chief Deputy Treasurer of San Francisco for four terms, but when Mayor Schmitz secured control of every department of the city government he was not the man the boodle Mayor wanted in charge of the city's millions. He has the satisfaction of always having voted and worked against Schmitz' election. He is loyal to San Francisco, where he has resided for the past thirty-two years, and prophesies great prosperity for the Queen City of the Pacific now that the surgical operation has been performed upon the body politic.

Why pay a high price for poor fuel when you can get Gas for $1.50 per thousand feet.

CHILDREN TO TAKE PART IN THE FOURTH

The committee on literary exercises and music for the Fourth of July celebration have requested the schools to assist by singing patriotic songs and the giving of the "flag salute." Children from the Kaulani school, the Kaahumanu school and Royal school have consented to assist. It is desired that a rehearsal be held on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the Executive building grounds, and children from the eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth rooms of the Kaulani school, from the eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth rooms of the Kaahumanu school, and from the higher grades of the Royal school are requested to be present promptly at this rehearsal.

Mrs. Tucker, assisted by Miss Frazier and Miss Felker, will have charge of these exercises. On the morning of the Fourth the children of the Kaulani school and Kaahumanu school are requested to meet at their respective schools at 9:30 a. m., where the committee in charge will provide cars to take them to and from the Executive grounds where the exercises will be held.

Home Endorsement

HUNDREDS OF HONOLULU CITIZENS CAN TELL YOU ALL ABOUT IT.

Home endorsement, the public expression of Honolulu people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Honolulu reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Mr. Cyrus S. Edison of Kapiolani Park, Honolulu, Hawaii, says: "I am at present a teamster and came to the Islands fifteen years ago. Previous to that I drove a stage coach in the United States. These occupations necessitating my being out at all seasons were no doubt the cause of my kidney disorder. I had the ordinary symptoms of this complaint, and resorted to a host of things to cure it. All of them failed to do so, however, and when I had almost given up hope, I heard about Doan's Backache Kidney Pills and got some at the Hollister Drug Co.'s store. They did indeed relieve me and I am quite satisfied with the benefit they have been to me."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50). Mailed by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

The commercial bodies of San Francisco are proposing amalgamation.

NOT GUILTY FOR THUMPING AYRES

Colonel Johnson Discharged by Magistrate in Referee Assault Case.

Colonel Sam Johnson was formally declared not guilty of having committed assault and battery on Herbert M. Ayres, the editor and proprietor of The Referee, the cause celebre having an airing before Judge Whitney yesterday afternoon. Ayres was the star witness for himself and Johnson was the sole witness for the defense. He had three lawyers to defend him, however, against one for the prosecution. None of the witnesses denied that there had been a fight, although Ayres claimed that it was a massacre in the night and Johnson described it as a running engagement with The Referee editor in front. There was a large crowd in court to hear the particulars and some of the evidence seemed to tickle a lot of the spectators.

Ayres described the battle. He said that he was asleep in a chair in The Referee office when Johnson came in, the first knowledge he had of the presence of any invader being a summons to wake up and then an invitation to take that. "That" proved to be a right on the jaw, which was followed by a right and left, one on the temple and the other on the cheek. As a result of the blows he was stunned and felled to the floor.

"What did you say to Mr. Johnson?" asked Prosecuting Attorney Thompson. "I didn't say anything, I didn't have time," answered Ayres. "After I was down he kicked me a couple of times."

"What do you mean by a couple of times?" "Oh, he gave me a couple of parting kicks before he left, one here and one here," and The Referee editor gently indicated a couple of spots, one back of the shoulder and the other on the leg.

On cross-examination Ayres admitted that he was 34 years old, weighed 180 pounds, although not much of an athlete. He said that he had been a principal in a couple of prize fights, one at Camp McKinley and the other at Shanghai.

Frank Thompson, who led the trio of lawyers for the defense, explained that he wanted to show the court how "a weak, puny, little fellow, about that high," and he held his hand some thirty inches off the floor, "could knock an athlete senseless with one blow."

Ayres stated that he had been sick all week and was unable to defend himself. He denied having any conversation with Johnson prior to the assault.

Stuart Dunbar, the proprietor of "It," was called but knew nothing of the affray. Examining him gave Attorney Thompson an opportunity of roasting Ayres. The first Dunbar had seen of Ayres after the assault was at half past four, two hours after the occurrence.

"Other persons who have been scandalized by The Referee may have been in and given him the licking that he so richly deserved," said Thompson in moving to have all the evidence stricken out. There was no need of evidence to show the condition of Ayres' beaten face, as Ayres had given that evidence himself. "He has offered his jaw in evidence, which has been in evidence for some time. He has put his forehead in evidence and his mouth in evidence."

Colonel Johnson gave his side of the affair from the start, explaining that he had been first aggrieved at certain articles appearing in The Referee in which his name was mentioned. These articles connected him in a scurrilous way with a certain young lady, whose name he refused to bring into the case and with whom he was not personally acquainted. The article made reference to the Edmunds' Act also.

On request Ayres had retracted these remarks but had later retracted the retraction, which led to him going to The Referee office on Saturday last. Ayres was wide awake when he entered and spoke to him. In explanation of the latest article in his paper he told Johnson that he could take it any way he wanted to.

"He reached over to pick up a weight off his desk," continued Johnson. "Thinking that he was going to strike me with it I hit him. I don't know how often I hit him before we clinched. Then he went down and refused to get up. He was perfectly conscious for he answered when I spoke to him and when I turned he got up and picked up a chair. Then I went at him again and he went to the corner of the room and stood with his face to the wall and held his hands over his face. I went down the stairs quietly and slowly."

An objection was made to a copy of The Referee going in evidence with a black ring around "the Palolo story," which Andrade confessed entire ignorance of but which he viewed as improper evidence nevertheless. He asked Johnson what particular objection he had to The Referee article, which had been dubbed scurrilous, but the only answer the defendant gave was that he "could see an awful lot in that article." At different stages of the trial there were clashes between Andrade on the one side and Thompson, Rawlins and Douthitt on the other.

In summing up Thompson handled Ayres without gloves, calling him a "one hundred and eighty pound hobo," and stating that the difference between Ayres sleeping and Ayres awake was the difference between Ayres lying and Ayres telling the truth.

"Not guilty," was all the remark Judge Whitney made after the argument had concluded.

The American-Hawaiian steamer Texan, Capt. Hall, arrived yesterday from the Sound, two days ahead of her schedule time. She was rushed through at Seattle on account of the fact that she was needed here to get away the sugar which has been collecting here. Capt. Hall is making his first trip in command of the Texan, of which he was formerly the chief officer.

Capt. Lyons, who was in command of the Texan, has been taken off the ship to be placed in command of the Missouri when she reaches San Francisco on her present trip. The Texan is lying outside the harbor and will be fumigated before docking. She will come into the harbor early this morning. The Texan has rather a small cargo on board, as she was not advertised by the company, as they wished to hurry the vessel through. She will load sugar for Salina Cruz.

the Canadian-Australian boats have filled the Sierra's list to the limit. Many of the passengers are school teachers from this Territory who will spend their vacation on the Coast.

The Sierra will carry a good cargo of freight on this trip, which will probably be her last to this city for some time. As usual, sugar will be the main article to be taken up, about 1050 tons being on board. Fifty tons of rice will also go up on the Oceanic boat, as well as 2000 cases of canned pineapples and 700 cases of fresh fruit. Four thousand bunches of bananas have been shipped, as well as a generous assortment of the other island products. The officers of the Sierra do not know at present whether they will be discharged on reaching San Francisco or not.

CROOK SAILS FRIDAY.

The transport Crook, which will take away the troops of the Tenth Infantry to their posts in Alaska, will sail Friday morning at 11 o'clock, according to a statement by Quartermaster Captain Humphrey made last night. By that time all the "plunder" of the regiment will be on board and the battalion under the command of Major Van Vleet, will leave for the north. She will go direct to Valdez, from there to Nome, then returning to St. Michaels, from which point she will sail directly for San Francisco.

The Valdez people will probably receive a great treat when the Crook reaches that port, in the way of Hawaiian fruits which have never before been taken to Alaska. They could not stand the long trip which would be necessary if they were shipped by way of Seattle or San Francisco. A number of the transport officers will take pineapples and alligator pears with them and the Wahluwa Consolidated Fruit Co., through its president L. G. Kellogg, is going to send down some green fruit which will keep in the Crook's cold storage room till Alaska is reached.

COULD TAKE NO PASSENGERS.

A number of people in this city, who wanted to get away on the Moana last night for Vancouver and Victoria, were disappointed. Some had been booked since last December, knowing that there might be difficulty in obtaining transportation at this season, but they were just as badly off as if they had only booked a few days ago. The Moana, according to the English laws, may carry more passengers than under the laws of the United States and, though a number of the Australian-Canadian steamer's passengers left the vessel here still others could not go on board to take their places.

A cablegram was sent to Capt. Birmingham, the inspector of hulls and boilers, in San Francisco, asking that permission be given that extra passengers might be taken. The cable message was not sent till nearly two o'clock and probably was received in San Francisco after the inspector's office hours, as no answer was received. Among the passengers on the Moana were Sir Broderick Hartwell and family, on a tour of the world, and Lord Powlett and family, who are returning to England on a trip. The Moana left 134 sacks of mail here to be forwarded to San Francisco on the Sierra this morning. She took 20 cases of honey and 150 bags of coffee from this port.

MIKAHALA ARRIVES.

The Mikahala, from Kauai, arrived yesterday morning early, bringing 4800 bags of sugar, 140 bags of taro and 176 bundles of hides. Her passenger list was rather small in regard to first-class passengers, but large in the deck passengers. There were 62 of the latter, mostly Japanese. She sails for Kauai ports tonight at 5 o'clock on her regular run.

METHA NELSON HERE.

The schooner Metha Nelson arrived yesterday morning from San Francisco via Eureka. She brought redwood from the latter port and consignments of miscellaneous merchandise valued at $264 from San Francisco. She made a fast trip down, coming here from the northern California port in 15 days.

CELEBRATED THE FALL OF BABYLON

Garden Island—Makanui, an old jailbird, originally hailing from Waimea but making himself obnoxious in Lihue for the last two or three years, is in jug again.

The cause of the trouble is Makanui's thirst. A neighbor of his of Japanese descent bought a five-gallon demijohn of wine last Saturday where-with to celebrate the anniversary of the fall of Babylon. When the time for the celebration arrived, at dusk the same day, he found the joy-giving fluid gone. The irate son of the Rising Sun went on a hunt for the abstractor. He failed to discover any trace of his property Sunday and Monday but Tuesday night he ran across Makanui with a suspicious odor attached and also visible marks on his person of indulgence in strong drink.

The police was notified, and search of Makanui's premises instituted with the result that the demijohn was found but the contents were out of sight; at least ninety per cent of them were.

Judge Kaiwi gave Makanui three months in jail, in which he will have plenty of leisure to study the fate of the transgressor.

JOE CLARK IS UP AGAIN

Joe Clark was arrested yesterday afternoon on a bench warrant from the grand jury, charging him with having violated the liquor law by selling beer on Sunday without providing a meal with it. This does not seem to be the end of Clark's troubles, for in case of a conviction he will doubtless be refused his license to continue longer in the saloon business.

There were three other bench warrants served yesterday, two on Mago, one charging him with an unnatural offense and the other with using a dangerous weapon in an assault, and one on Manuel Robello, who is also charged with an unnatural offense.

HARMONY ONCE MORE.

A dozen drunken men there and a hack was tied up in front of the place from about 3 o'clock in the afternoon till 7 at night.

Judge Perry objected that there was nothing objectionable in a hack being tied there.

Mr. Ryder then told that the mission was on several occasions disturbed by singing and by a quintet.

Ryder provoked some laughter by declaring he had not testified in this case in the District Court, when Judge Perry produced the record to show that he did.

W. A. Perry lived over the Wigwam saloon for four or five months. He drank often in the Wigwam saloon but he did most of his drinking at the brewery. He had been refused a drink when he owed a bill. He had never got any liquor there on Sunday. Nor had he ever heard any fighting or disorder.

On cross-examination by Lucas he said he had got to drinking so hard and for the first time in his life he had found he couldn't quit. So he had asked a friend to enter a complaint and he had taken thirty days at the jail.

H. T. Lake and John Martin were called but their testimony was unimportant.

Judge Perry put only one witness on in rebuttal. On the whole the testimony made a much more favorable showing for the saloon than was expected. Argument was very brief on both sides and the case was closed after 11 o'clock. A decision will be rendered later.

Late as it was the Board took up the protest of the Christian Church against P. F. Ryan's saloon. A number of witnesses were called on each side of the most interesting being William McCandless who tried to tell the Board he didn't know what he was signing when he signed Ryan's application for a license, although he admitted he had just signed Lewis & Co's application and was told that the second paper presented for his signature was "for the man across the way" whom he understood was Ryan.

It was long after midnight when this case was unished.

T. R.—"Deliberate and unqualified, etc?"
Loeb—"I think not, sir."
T. R.—"Well, why didn't you tell me it was Taft? Show him in."

Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, head of the Christian Scientists, in an interview with a Boston newspaper, declares that her rights are abridged by no living person and that only a desire to devote her whole time to religious work induced her to turn her business affairs over to her trustees.

It is reported that the news venders in London now find that announcements of news regarding Roosevelt are prolific of more sales than similar announcements regarding the German Emperor used to be.

Three hundred persons, including three professors, the radical leaders and several families, including children, were arrested in St. Petersburg up to the 17th, following the dissolution of the Duma.

LEE LOOK CASE

TO JURY TODAY

More Fees Asked From Campbell Estate—Ten New Indictments.

Evidence in the trial of Lee Look for assault with intent to kill was concluded at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Judge De Bolt wanted to have the trial resumed at 6 o'clock and pushed to a finish last night, but Attorney General Peters objected so strongly to such pressure in the warm period that the proceedings were continued until 9:30 this morning. The trial began last Monday.

MOVES FOR MORE FEES.

C. F. Peterson, of counsel for Abigail W. Kawanakoa, has filed two motions for counsel fees to be presented before Judge Lindsay at 9:30 this morning. One is for services in the matter of the petition for rehearing in the Supreme Court relative to construction of the will of James Campbell. The other is for services in the matter of the petition of Alice K. Macfarlane for modification of order relative to the Campbell estate in the Circuit Court. The movant was granted a fee of $350 by Judge Robinson on Monday in connection with the same estate.

CONTINUANCES.

Judge Robinson yesterday partly heard and continued until July 2 the suit of David Kahalena against Louis Pearson.

Judge Lindsay continued to the September term the case of F. K. Archer v. Punohu Muir.

Commissioner Simonton has filed his return and account of sale in the foreclosure suit of Henry Smith, trustee, v. Raymond Reyes and Mary Reyes. The net proceeds were $773.50 and the deficiency, exclusive of commissioner's fee, is $953.22.

Defendant in the damage suit of W. C. Peacock v. J. G. Rothwell has filed a bill of exceptions, with notice that it will be presented to Judge De Bolt for allowance on July 6.

Hattie Kekaula Kekino has brought a suit against Y. Ah In for $225 as rent claimed due under a lease of land.

Judge Lindsay signed an order of default against defendants in the suit of M. Phillips & Co. v. Hop Hing & Co. Carl Baddaky demurs to the complaint of F. Strauch.

Judge Lindsay gave judgment for plaintiff in the suit of H. E. McIntyre v. Jessie K. Kaee on a district court judgment for $230.92 rendered April 3, 1901.

Ten indictments were returned before Judge De Bolt yesterday and placed on the secret file.

COURT NOTES.

ASSAULTERS GET

SOME HEAVY FINES

Judge Whitney administered some stiff fine sentences in the District Court yesterday morning, three assault cases aggregating in penalties imposed, outside of costs, some forty dollars.

Nakamoto, who made what one witness termed "A Japanese noise" while on his way to Kakaako on Tuesday night, was assessed $10 for the fun he had. Henry L. Kelly, who knocked down Joe Lucas, a hack driver from the Bethel street stand, the night before, came up with $20 and costs. Two drunks, John Sniffen and James Hodson, contributed their little three spots, and Wong Lung, who was caught getting away with half a bag of choice mangoes from S. M. Damon's place and pleaded guilty to larceny in the second degree, was fined $10.

Kimona, who slapped Mele Hula, acknowledged doing it. His plea earned for him a ten-dollar penalty. A verdict of not proven was entered against the charge of malicious injury registered to the credit of Antone Pereira of Kalihi. Antone had pulled down Manuel Ferreira's gate and kicked some pickets off his fence along Kamehameha IV. road, but in return he had been knocked down twice and kicked once. This was supposed to even the account and the case was not pressed.

RUNAWAY WIFE

REFUSED PASSPORT

The necessity of securing passports before any Japanese from the islands may land on the mainland has played the dickens with the plans of Harada and with Onoya, who loves him not wisely but too well. The pair are living at present at the Nishimura Hotel, on Kekaulike street, and seem likely to remain as residents in the islands for some time. Onoya is the wife of a Japanese merchant of San Jose and arrived in Honolulu a couple of months ago. She was booked as a through passenger for Japan, having left her husband ostensibly to pay a visit to her relatives there. She had arranged with Harada to slip off the boat here and return with him to the United States. Harada arrived, according to program, on May 12, but has been unable since to get passports to go away on. In some way his story had become known at the Japanese Consulate and his request for the papers for himself and "wife" was promptly refused.

ELEVEN TO ONE

YET A MISTRIAL

Ending of Six Days' Trial of Goo Shee $50,000 Damage Suit.

After the jury in the $50,000 damage suit had stood five hours at eleven to one in favor of a verdict for plaintiffs, they reported inability to agree and being called into court so declared. Judge Lindsay at once ordered Clerk Marcellino to enter a mistrial and the jury were discharged.

The jury were out altogether six hours and a half, including an hour and a half for dinner at the Union Grill. How the jury had stood was not stated to the court, but it was immediately divulged on the outside after the court adjourned at 11:10 last night. Barry hung the jury.

The trial started on Wednesday of last week and, until the jury retired, lasted six full court days. E. S. Barry, F. Waldron, W. G. Walker, Bruce Cartwright Jr., R. W. Podmore, I. Spalding, M. R. Houghtaling, O. Schilling, John G. Clement, George Cavanaugh, R. W. Atkinson and Charles Phillips were the jurors.

Closing addresses to the jury were made by all four of the attorneys in the case—Messrs. Thayer and Dunne for plaintiffs, and Messrs. Robertson and Withington for defendants.

Great stress was laid by counsel for plaintiffs on evidence showing that the only wires on the side of King street where the man was killed were those of the Rapid Transit Co. and the Mutual Telephone Co., and the only power in operation at the time the current in the former company's feed wire. They heaped ridicule on the "theories" of experts called for the defense in the light of these "facts." Mr. Thayer, in this connection, told a story of Agassiz, the great naturalist. When jolled in the corridor later with the remark that he could not be expecting any plums from President Roosevelt in the coming local shakedown, since he had ventured publicly to tell a "nature" story, the attorney replied: "There's nothing for me anyway; I'm a Dimymocrat."

Counsel for the defendant corporations, besides making a fight on the negligence theory, called in question the right of the widow, Goo Shee, and the administrator, C. K. Ai, to make such a tremendous or any claim for damages. They bore on the fact that the suit was not begun until two years after the death of the man. Chang Yee Tong, according to the evidence, had been in these islands nineteen years, paying a visit to China at the end of nine years, yet, as counsel emphasized, all the support he had remitted to his wife—who has never been in this country—consisted of two sums of $4.60 each, making a total of $9.20, and this inside of a single period of about three months. Yet he was in a position to have done better, for more than $200 was on his person when he was found dead. Doubt was indeed cast upon the matrimonial relation subsisting between the victim of the accident and the plaintiff Goo Shee. There was evidence commented on which indicated surplus progeny in a family roundup at Tong's home when he visited China in 1896.

Judge Lindsay's instructions took from 4 o'clock to 4:35 to deliver and were followed by the usual exceptions thereto noted on either side, as well as to two of the four blank forms of verdict furnished to the jury. The first form was to fill if a verdict was found for the defendants. Second, if it was to be a verdict against both the defendants, the amount of damages to be stated therein. Third, for a verdict finding against the Mutual Telephone Co. and not against the Rapid Transit Co. Fourth, for one mulcting the Rapid Transit Co. and letting the Mutual Telephone Co. off. Mr. Robertson expected to the third, and Mr. Withington to the fourth form.

THE SALVATION ARMY.

Colonel French is expected to arrive tomorrow morning, also Staff Captain and Mrs. Bradley, who are going to succeed Adj. and Mrs. Bamberg in the work of the Army in this Territory. There will be welcome meeting Sunday evening, at which the Colonel will speak and also install Staff Captain and Mrs. Bradley.

Tuesday evening, July 2, there will be a special children's demonstration, and also other special meetings in connection with the 13th anniversary of the Army in the Hawaiian Islands.

Colonel French and Staff Captain Bradley will go to Kani on July 5, and will return to Honolulu July 14.

Adjutant and Mrs. Bamberg will not sail for the Coast today, on the Sierra, as the Colonel has asked them to remain here until he comes, and assist him in his campaign on the islands. They may get away on the Hilonian, sailing about July 11.

There will be a farewell dance given at the Seaside tonight for Major Van Vleet and the officers and ladies of the Tenth Infantry, as well as for Major Taggart and the officers and ladies of the transport Crook. A cordial invitation to the public is extended.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A four-year-old Japanese boy, the son of Oichi, of Lihue, was killed on Tuesday by falling out of a mango tree and striking his head on a stone. Death was instantaneous.

An order received in Honolulu yesterday from Lihue for a big bunch of Japanese fireworks is evidence that the Fourth will be fittingly observed in the Kaula capital.

Arthur Fitzsimmons and Frank Enos, who were tried before Judge Whitney yesterday on a charge of supplying grain powder to be used illegally for fishing, were declared not guilty. A. V. Gear defended the men.

True Farmer, a recent arrival from Maui, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of gross cheat, the arrest being made on the request of a wireless message from the Sheriff of Maui. Farmer was easily located and in the absence of the warrant from Maui he is being held for investigation.
