THURSDAY, SEPT. 8, 1887.

TALK OF TROUBLE IS ABSURD.

It makes us tired and sick to hear some people talk about trouble on the day of election. When asked for a reason for their fears or prognostications they are unable to give one. All such talk is nonsensical. Where is the trouble to come from? Not from the foreigners. Surely they know how to conduct an election in a fair and square way, without fuss or fighting. Will the natives cause trouble? Not a bit of it. A more peaceable or a more good-natured people on election days can no where be found, and no people can endure defeat with greater magnanimity, either at the ballot box or the gambling table. Who, then, or what is to cause trouble? We pause for an answer. The community—with the exception perhaps of a few hot-headed zealots who have nothing at stake—yearns for peace and a return to a settled and stable condition of things. We have had enough of turmoil, unrest, and uncertainty within the past few months. Every man who desires the welfare of the country desires peace. A perpetual harping on the past and acrimoniously heaping calumny on the heads of vanquished opponents certainly do not contribute to this end. We firmly believe a vast majority of the voters will go to the polls next Monday to vote for the candidates of their choice, quietly and orderly, as in previous years, prepared to accept the result of the ballot box as final. All talk of trouble is absurd.

THE SIDE TO SUPPORT.

There are at present two sets of men in the district of Honolulu seeking seats in the Legislature of the country—one set representing what is known as the Reform party, and the other representing the Opposition, or, as they denominate themselves, the Independent party. It is rumored that before the day of election other candidates, who do not belong strictly to either party, may come forward and solicit the support of the electors. At present, however, we have nothing to do with this unknown quantity. The two regular parties who have their nominees in the field, have also published their platform, or, in other words, an outline of their policy. The Independents, so called, have copied largely from the Reformers, the latter having first published their intentions and aims. With regard to the two sets of candidates, taken as a whole, most intelligent and thoughtful men who desire the good of the country, support that of the Reform party. We do not feel called upon to abuse the gentlemen on the Opposition tickets. Some of them, at least, we credit with conscientious convictions and honesty of purpose, and believe that among their adherents and backers are men of similar character. But they are not, in our opinion, the men to be entrusted with the legislative functions of the nation at this juncture. One specially strong objection to their election, is their retrogressive policy—a tendency to go back to the dead and undesirable past, from which we have happily escaped. The Reform party is the party of progress and improvement, and its representatives are therefore entitled to popular support. The two tickets—Representative and Noble—nominated by the Reform Convention on the 18th of last month, are pledged to certain general principles, and those principles are sound and intelligent. Moreover, we have confidence that those gentlemen, if elected, will be true to their pledges and will at all hazards support the principles they represent. Therefore, we advocate the Reform tickets, and hope to see on the day of election that the majority of electors have taken the same view as ourselves. We conscientiously support the Reform nomination, believing it the best for the country and the people. This is our position, and has been from the beginning—conscientiously and consistently held. It does not, to be sure, preclude our criticism of public acts that we may disapprove, nor exclude from our columns criticisms from others that we may not approve. We have not gushed over the party like some people, nor have we been entirely blind to apparent defects. This our scrupulous friend, the "Gazette," is pleased to call "hypocritical opposition." We have another name for the same thing, but the old injunction about "casting pearls, etc.," induces us to withhold it.

CLOSING FOR THE DAY.

Messrs. Wilder & Co. announce their intention of closing their places of business in Honolulu on Monday next, election day, so as to give their employees freedom throughout the day, to work for the Reform ticket, as well as to vote it. This act will be appreciated by the employees and by the party. Messrs. Wilder & Co. are the first to declare their purpose in this regard, but it is hoped they will not be the last. Other firms will undoubtedly follow. It is desirable that the head of every industrial institution should adopt the same course, and probably most of them will.

MAKIKI CEMETERY.

A representative from this office went out to the Makiki cemetery this morning, for the purpose of a personal inspection, with the view of learning the truth relative to various conflicting statements current the past few days. It is a fact that the grounds have become overgrown with vegetable growths, which are neither pretty nor serviceable, but make it extremely inconvenient for getting about. The main reason of neglect to keep down the noxious vegetation, has been lack of available funds for that purpose. The grounds are, however, now being cleared and put in better condition. Five or six persons have been engaged in this work for several days past, and have made good progress. With regard to the pasturing of horses in the cemetery, enquiry elicited the information that horses had been pastured in a plot fenced off at one end, and in which there are no graves as yet. But even pasturing horses here was contrary to order, and was done without the knowledge of the gentleman in responsible charge of the cemetery. The work now in progress will, when completed, put this "home of the dead" in a condition more in harmony with the civilized idea of what is proper and becoming for such a place. Perhaps it would be additional improvement to plant more trees.

THE "GAZETTE."

Our morning contemporary, the "Daily Gazette," has become very energetic of late. It seems to think that the day for liberty of thought and speech in Honolulu is gone by. It is to be hoped that our animated friend is mistaken in this particular. Any man who dares express an opinion contrary to the "Gazette" is sat upon so very heavily, that survival is problematical. No man who differs from this narrow-souled organ can possibly be honest and honorable! No doubt, part of its loud talk is due to an attempt to show its extraordinary devotion to its party by abusing moderation. Perhaps it would be well for our friend to say over once more, aloud, a few of his recent rabid utterances, and listen to the sound of his own voice. If he does not then begin to feel that he has made himself ridiculous, his sense of decency is less than we have supposed.

HE WAS SWINDLED.

Mr. Moneybags, who has recently acquired a fortune—"It's a shame and disgrace the way everybody conspires to rob a rich man." Friend—"What is the matter now?" "Well, you see, I had a little party at my mansion last night." "So I saw in the papers." "And to amuse my guests I ordered some music." "Yes, I heard you ordered a quartet." "Just so, and darn my buttons if four singers didn't crowd into the room and sing and I had to pay all four of them, and, mind you, I only ordered one solitary quartet. That's the way I'm swindled every day of my life, and I'm tired of it." [Texas Siftings.]

ARBITRATION.

The following are copies of the documents in the matter of Arbitration between the Government and Col. V. V. Ashford:—

To ARBITRATE between the Government and V. V. Ashford, the following question:

Whereas, Mr. Ashford, on or about June 28, 1887, received His Majesty's Commission as a special commissioner to proceed to Canada and negotiate on behalf of this Government for certain privileges of trade, and on or about June 30, 1887, received $4,000 advance of a sum of $5,000, which the late government had promised to advance to Mr. Ashford before he should be expected to start upon said mission, (in addition to travelling expenses.) And the present Ministry having concluded not to send Mr. Ashford upon said mission, or to carry out the contract of the late Government in this behalf.

What portion of said sum of $4,000, if any, shall Mr. Ashford return to the Government?

For the purpose of deciding this matter, the commission in question, and the correspondence between the Minister of Foreign Affairs and Mr. Ashford in this behalf may be introduced as evidence upon any point involved herein.

The following arbitrators are hereby nominated and appointed herein, namely: On behalf of Mr. Ashford, Jonathan Austin, Esq.; on behalf of the Government Chas. R. Bishop, Esq., which said arbitrators shall mutually agree upon a third arbitrator, and the decision of any two of such three arbitrators shall be binding and conclusive upon the respective parties hereto.

The above is agreed to this 30th day of August 1887.
W. L. GREEN,
Minister of Finance.
On behalf of the Government.
ALEX. YOUNG,
On behalf of Col. V. V. Ashford.

DECISION OF ARBITRATORS BETWEEN GOVERNMENT AND V. V. ASHFORD.

HONOLULU, Sept. 3, 1887.
To His Excellency W. L. Green, Minister of Finance, and Alexander Young, Esq.

GENTLEMEN:—The undersigned arbitrators between His Majesty's Cabinet and Col. V. V. Ashford, have the honor to report that they have considered the question submitted to them and find as follows: We cannot attach any blame to Col. Ashford for holding the money, as he is under the impression that he is legally and morally entitled to retain it by reason of a breach of contract. And feeling that he is reasonably entitled to compensation in the premises there can only remain a question of the amount.

Therefore a majority of the arbitrators agree that the amount in this case shall be one half of the contract price of $5,000, and that the surplus received shall be paid over to the Government.

JOSIA. AUSTIN,
CHAS. R. BISHOP,
H. W. SCHMIDT,

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE.
Honolulu, Sept. 6, 1887.
Received from Col. V. V. Ashford the sum of Fifteen Hundred Dollars, being the sum which the arbitrators decided should be returned by him from the sum of Four Thousand Dollars, which he had received on account of $5,000, which he was to be paid to go on a mission to Canada, but which mission the present Cabinet have decided to abandon.

W. L. GREEN,
Minister of Finance.

UNION OF CHURCHES.

The Bethel and Fort Street Church congregations met, respectively, in the parlors of Fort Street Church, last night.

Mr. J. O. Carter presided at the meeting of the Bethel, and the Rev. Professor Merritt, at the meeting of the Fort Street Church congregation.

Minutes and recommendations of the joint executive committee of both churches were submitted to each congregation and adopted. The recommendations were:

1. That the ten charter members appointed by the Fort Street and Bethel churches be constituted a Board of Trustees to receive and hold the property of both churches—the deed of trust to define the objects of the conveyance and provide for the transfer of the property to the new corporation as soon as the charter is obtained, the said charter members being: Hon. Chas.

R. Bishop, Warren Chamberlain, Hon. A. F. Judd, Chas. M. Cooke, J. M. Whitney, Henry Dimond, S. M. Damon, William Babcock, J. O. Carter and B. F. Dillingham.

2. That the action of the churches adopting the name, "Congregational Church of Honolulu" for the new organization, be reconsidered and the matter re-opened and referred to the new organization for further action.

ARRIVAL OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

The S. S. City of New York, Searle, commander, arrived this afternoon 7 days from San Francisco, with 16 bags of mail, and 28 Chinese steerage passengers for Honolulu, and over 200 passengers in transit for Hongkong. She dropped anchor just off the passage at 1 o'clock, and was boarded by the agents and newsmen. She will sail for Hongkong this evening.

MEETING AT MANOA.

A political meeting was held in the church at Manoa Valley last night. The building was filled with attentive and interested listeners. Addresses were delivered by Messrs. H. Waterhouse, W. R. Castle, W. O. Smith, D. Naone, and A. P. Kalaokoa. Several gentlemen residing in the neighborhood also spoke. Two or three persons in the audience expressed their objection to some things which they had been told were intended by the Reform party. Denials and explanations being made, the objectors declared themselves perfectly satisfied. The meeting, at its close, was apparently unitedly in favor of the Reform party.

Late Foreign News.

The mail by the City of New York came to hand too late for an extended notice of foreign events. The following is a summary of the most important items:

Petersburg, Va. is having a race conflict (black and white) bloodshed is anticipated, and troops have been ordered under arms.

The streets of Dublin have seen, for the first time in many years, English members of Parliament, who came to the aid of Ireland and challenge the Government to dare arrest them for speaking what if spoken in England or Scotland would not be regarded as seditious.

Dublin, August 30.—The evictions on the O'Grady estates began to-day. The bailiffs were reinforced by 100 soldiers and 300 policemen. They first moved on the house of Mrs. Crimmins, a widow. The widow and friends were all armed with paving stones and boiling water and the bailiffs were repulsed four times.

The Sheriff's officers attempted to crowd their way through the walls and roof. Mrs. Crimmins had the scalding water poured over their heads, and after the fourth repulse the police attempted to storm the house, but were driven back. Finally the house was broken into and the inmates captured and taken to prison.

Dublin, Aug. 30.—The fortnightly meeting of the National League was largely attended. William O'Brien presided. He said the first branch of the league the Government should issue a proclamation against would hold its meetings with closed doors and refuse to open them for the police.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The "Novosti" says the Porte has accepted Russia's proposal to send Elnoth as provisional Governor of Bulgaria and Eastern Roumania until the new Sobranje legally elects a Prince.

The Sultan has guaranteed that Turkey will assist General Elnoth to carry out his mission and supply him with a Turkish army if necessary.

Sofia, Aug. 30.—The people are strongly opposed to the proposal of Russia to send General Elnoth and a commission to Bulgaria.

Havana, August 29.—Great excitement prevails here on account of the recent acts of the Captain-General, in taking possession of the Custom-house and placing the officials in charge of the regular troops. The situation is becoming more dangerous, recalling the events attending the massacre of the medical students in 1871. A reign of terror prevails, and it is expected that Havana will be declared in a state of siege.

A general uprising is imminent. Chicago, August 30.—The London "Times" protests against the treatment to which British seafarers in Behring sea are subjected by the American authorities in Alaska, and suggests that the Government send a cruiser to Alaskan waters to secure strictly legal treatment for British vessels.

Betting on the Thistle and Volunteer is about even.

Alexander Percy went through the Niagara rapids in a lifeboat constructed by himself.

Two secretaries of General Ferran, French Minister of War, have been arrested for high treason.

Evictions have commenced in Ireland and forces of cavalry and infantry have left Limerick for the O'Grady estates.

Judge Potter has granted a stay of proceeding in the Jacob Sharp case.

The "Tribunes" Atlanta special says: The "Evening Capitol" urges that Jeff Davis should be invited to meet President Cleveland during the Piedmont Exposition in October.

A disastrous fire occurred in Montreal August 27th destroying the "Herald" building and their complete plant.

Negotiation will shortly be opened between France and Germany regarding expulsions. France agrees to negotiate, reserving the right to retaliate for repulsion from Alsace-Lorraine.

Prince Ferdinand is depressed in consequence of the isolation in which he finds himself at home and abroad.

It is reported that a fresh attempt was made to kill the Czar of Russia on the 20th inst. A nihilist disguised as an Officer fired two shots at the Czar; one missed him and the other went through his coat.

A fight with the Ute Indians resulted in the killing of eight Indians and the wounding of five white men.

Governor Bartlett of California is in a critical condition, a relapse having rendered him so.

WHY AM I A HEATHEN?

WONG CHIN FOO'S IDEAS ABOUT CHRISTIANITY.

The main element of all religion, writes Wong Chin Foo in the North American Review, is the moral code controlling and regulating the relations and acts of individuals toward "God, neighbor and self"; and this intelligent "heathenism" was taught thousands of years before Christianity existed or Jewry borrowed it. Heathenism has not lost or lessened it since.

Born and raised a heathen, I learned and practised its moral and religious code; and thereunder, I was useful to myself and many others. My conscience was clear, and my hopes as to future life were undimmed by distracting doubt. But when about 17 I was transferred to the midst of our showy Christian civilization, and at this impressive period of life, Christianity presented itself to me at first under its most alluring aspects; kind Christian friends became particularly solicitous for my material and religious welfare, and I was only too willing to know the truth. I had to take a good deal for granted as to the inspiration of the Bible—as is necessary to do—to Christianize a non-Christian mind; and I even advanced so far under the spell of my would-be soul-savers, that I seriously contemplated becoming the bearer of heavenly tidings to my "benighted" heathen people.

But before qualifying for this high mission, the Christian doctrine I would teach had to be learned, and here on the threshold I was bewildered by the multiplicity of Christian sects, each one claiming a monopoly of the only and narrow road to heaven. I looked into Presbyterianism only to retreat shudderingly from a belief in a merciless God who had foreordained most of the helpless human race to an eternal hell. To preach such a doctrine to intelligent heathen would only raise in their minds doubts of my sanity, if they did not believe I was lying.

Then I dropped into Baptist doctrines, but found so many sects therein, of different "shells," warring over the merits of cold-water initiation and the method and time of using it, that I became disgusted with such trivialities; and the question of close communion or not, only impressed me that some were very stingy and exclusive with their bit of bread and wine, and others a little less so.

Methodism struck me as a thunder-and-lightning religion—all profession and noise. You struck it, or it struck you, like a spasm—and so you "experienced" religion. The Congregationalists deterred me with their starchiness and self-conscious true goodness, and their desire only for high-toned affiliates.

A number of other Protestant sects based on some novelties or eccentricity—like Quakerism—I found not worth a serious study by the non-Christian. But on one point this mass of Protestant dissension cordially agreed, and that was in a united hatred of Catholicism—the older form of Christianity. And Catholicism returned with interest this animosity. It haughtily declared itself the only true church, outside of which there was no salvation—for Protestants especially; that its chief prelate was the personal representative of God on earth, and that he was infallible. Here was religious unity, power and authority with a vengeance. But in chorus my solicitous Protestant friends beseeched me not to touch Catholicism, declaring it was worse than heathenism—in which I agreed; but the same line of argument also convinced me that Protestantism stood in the same category.

In fact, the more I studied Christianity in its various phases, and listened to the animadversions of one sect upon another, the more it all seemed to me "sounding brass and tinkling cymbals."

Disgusted with sectarianism, I turned to a simple study of the "inspired Bible" for enlightenment. The creation fable did not disturb me, nor the Eden incident; but some vague doubts did arise with the deluge and Noah's ark; it seemed a reflection on a just and merciful divinity. And I was not at all satisfied of the honesty and goodness of Jacob or his family, or their descendants, or that there was any particular merit or reason for their being the "chosen" of God, to the detriment of the rest of mankind; for they so appreciated God's special patronage that on every occasion they ran after other gods, and had a special idolatry for the "Golden Calf," to which some Christians allege they are still devoted. That God, failing to make something out of this stiff-necked race, concluded to send his Son to redeem a few of them, and a son of the long neglected Gentiles, is not strikingly impressive to the heathen.

It may be flattering to the Christian to know it required the crucifixion of God to save him, and that nothing less would do; but it opened up a series of inferences that makes the idea more and more incomprehensible, and more and more inconsistent with a will, purpose, wisdom and justice thoroughly divine.

But when I got to the new dispensation, with its sin-forgiving business, I figuratively "went to pieces" on Christianity. The idea that, however wicked the sinner, he had the same chance of salvation "through the blood of the lamb," as the most God-fearing—in fact that the eleventh-hour man was entitled to the same heavenly compensation as the one who had labored in the Lord's vineyard from the first hour—all this was absolutely preposterous. It was not just, and God is justice.—(Boston Herald, Aug. 5th.)

BUTLER'S SHORTEST AND BEST SPEECH.

"I was talking with Congressman Calkins in Indianapolis on Sunday last," said Will V. Rooker in the lobby of the Paxton, "and he gave me what I thought was a new one about Ben Butler. The way our conversation started, Calkins asked me about Crazy-horse Van Wyck, and remarked that he made a very picturesque picture in the Senate. 'I never saw but one other man with such a wild and woolly gesture as Van Wyck had, and that was an Ohio Congressman, whom I will not name. He represented one of the interior districts of his State at the time Ben Butler was having no end of trouble with Sam Cox and a good many other people in the House and doing them all up more or less in his own peculiar way. The Ohio man had been loaded for Benjamin for some time and at last one day he got his chance.

"His speech was simply a torrent of vulgar abuse and would have attracted unmitigated disgust had it not been for his peculiar gesture, which tempered the disgust with mirth. He had a fashion of raising his arms just as high above his head as possible and then wringing his hands as though he were making a delicious attempt to wring them off. Well, old Ben sat through the speech, with his one good eye half shut, not moving a muscle. When the Ohio man had finished and taken his seat, Ben rose—calm, dignified and impressive—and stood in the aisle. For a half minute he said nothing. Then he began: 'Mr. Speaker,' Another pause, long and ponderous. Everybody waited with hushed breath, for him to continue. Raising his arm, Ben reproduced exactly the awful gesture of the Ohio Congressman. Then he permitted his arms to fall again and for another half minute stood still and silent. 'That is all, Mr. Speaker,' said the shrewd and sarcastic son of Massachusetts, 'I just wanted to answer the gentleman from Ohio.' Judging from the wild laughter and applause which followed, old Ben's speech was at once the shortest and the best ever delivered in the Lower House.—[Omaha World,

A ROMANCE AT LONG BRANCH.

Many persons have frequently noticed in a landau drawn by a team of magnificent bays, with coachman and footman, a beautiful, middle-aged quadron, accompanied by a well-dressed, fine-looking white man of less than forty years. Thereby hangs a tale. Until about six weeks ago the colored woman was known in San Francisco as Mrs. Massey, and she figured as an important witness in the Sharon divorce case. At that time the woman lived quietly in an unpretentious little house, and from her mode of life it was apparent that her means were small. She was addicted to buying lottery tickets, but the day she foreswore that exciting but expensive luxury she drew the greatest prize of her life in the shape of a husband both white and wealthy. Years and years ago, when yellow fever was epidemic in New Orleans, Mrs. Massey faithfully nursed an aged wealthy merchant through an attack of the fearful scourge. This man had a son, who was very grateful to Mrs. Massey. About three months ago this son, now a man, sought and found the quadron in San Francisco. He was ardent in his thanks to the woman for her care of his deceased father years ago, and after informing her that he had been left a large fortune by that parent proposed marriage. After much hesitation she accepted and the two were secretly married. They at once left for New York and now are quietly quartered in a farmhouse near Deal. There they will tarry until the end of the season, when they go to New Orleans to make their permanent residence. The couple do not seek particularly to avoid attention, but, on the contrary, the groom seems to glory in his dark-hued bride.—[Long Branch letter.

CHINESE NATURAL GAS TRADITIONS.

Two hundred years ago in China there was just such a craze about natural gas as we have in this country to-day, says the Cincinnati Commercial. Gas wells were sunk with as much vim and vigor as the Celestials were capable of, but, owing to a gas explosion that killed several millions of people and tore up and destroyed a large district of country, leaving a large inland sea known on the maps as Lake Foo Chang, the boring of any more gas wells was then and there prohibited by law. It seems, according to the Chinese history, that many large and heavy-pressure gas wells were struck, and in some districts wells were sunk quite near to each other. Gas was lighted as soon as struck, as is done in this country. It is stated that one well with its usual pressure, by induction or back draught pulled down into the earth the burning gas of a smaller well, resulting in a dreadful explosion of a large district, destroying the inhabitants thereof. Lake Foo Chang rests on this district. The same catastrophe is imminent in this country unless the laws restrict further developments in boring so many wells. Should a similar explosion occur there will be such an upheaval as will dwarf the most terrible earthquakes ever known. The country along the gas belt from Toledo, through Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky will be ripped up to the depth of 1,200 to 1,500 feet, and dapped over like a pancake, leaving a chasm through which the waters of Lake Erie will come howling down, filling the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys, and blotting them out forever.—Washington Star.

Let me have a mild CIGAR

THE ABOVE REQUEST IS HEARD daily in cigar stores, saloons and other places where cigars are sold, for it is an undisputed fact that most smokers prefer a mild cigar and that those who have for a long time smoked strong cigars, principally imported from Manila, will, after having thoroughly injured the stomach and impaired the nervous system, surely want a mild cigar, if they could find the right kind.

How many thousands of smokers who suffer from loss of appetite, headache, nervous irritability, asthma, etc., and who have tried all possible remedies without success, might be cured if they knew that their sufferings were caused by the immoderate use of strong cigars, and that they should only smoke mild and properly prepared ones.

It is a fact that all mild cigars agree well with smokers, for in most cases there is a lack of care in the selection of the tobacco, and often the necessary experience for it is wanting, yet there is one brand which suits the most fastidious smoker, and that is

ENGELBRECHT'S "Sampler" Health Cigar

Which is made from mild, aromatic and particularly selected and prepared tobacco, and combines all the qualities which may be expected from a health cigar. It causes no bad effect of any kind, is agreeable to the taste, burns evenly to the end and possesses a fine aroma. No smoker should fail to give Engelbrecht's "Sampler" Cigars a fair trial, and benefit himself at the same time.

WHO IS MOTHER SEIGEL?

She is a lady who, by the merest accident, has made a most valuable discovery, and she is creating the wildest enthusiasm all over the country, and everybody is talking about her and asking and she tells them to read the thousands of letters, something like the following from Mr. Perkins:

A WONDERFUL TESTIMONIAL.
"Grove Pharmacy, Ealing, W., Jan. 2, 1885.

"Your medicine must be the most wonderful for during my experience of more than twenty years, I never knew any proprietary or patent medicine in such universal favor and demand. It is simply extraordinary, and if I were to send you an account of every statement made to me in its favor, you would have a volume as large as the Bible. I am a sufferer from a separate book to contain my testimonial alone.

(Signed) "THOMAS J. PERKINS"
And then people ask—

WHAT DOES MOTHER SEIGEL DO?

GIVES RELIEF TO A CURE.
"39, Bloomfield-road, Plumstead, Jan. 7, 1885.

"I find the sale of your medicine increases every year, and everyone speaks well of them that try them. I know a lady that attended the Female Hospital in London for some months, with pains in back and side and bilious, and could take no food, but got no benefit from any of the medicines they gave her. Before she had taken all the contents of one bottle of your Syrup she felt relief and is now quite well.

(Signed) "W. K. BAKER."

THE EFFECT WAS MARVELOUS.
"Medical Hall, Bangor, Jan. 5, 1885.

"I hear people constantly speaking very highly of Siegel's Syrup. There is a case of a young married lady in Anglesey who had been suffering from stomach trouble for a long period, who had consulted some of the best physicians of the day, but without deriving any benefit. She was daily getting worse, but at last a friend persuaded her to try Siegel's Syrup. She procured a bottle, and the effect was marvelous; she rapidly improved, and now she is as strong and healthy as ever she has been.

(Signed) "H. LLOYD-JONES."

WHAT IS MOTHER SEIGEL GOOD FOR?

DOES NOT RESTORE THE DEAD, BUT SAVES THE LIVING.

Mr. J. W. SAVILL, of Durham, Essex, writes—September 1884:—"I introduced your medicines into Durham almost as soon as they were brought out in London. I sold in a short time eight hundred boxes worth, I have known many good cases of permanent cures; and, as yet, no case of failure. Notwithstanding many competitors, Mother Siegel's Syrup holds its own ground. I believe it is a good medicine—it will restore the dead to life, but appears to save the living from dying."

A CASE OF GRAVEL CURED.
"Feltham, Jan. 6, 1885.

"It has always given me pleasure to recommend your medicines to my customers, and the results of their use have invariably been most satisfactory. I could furnish you many testimonials. One case just now occurs to my mind. A constable of the police force of Tooting, S. W., where I for many years had a shop, was a patient of mine, suffering from a severe attack of gravel. He was persuaded to try Mother Siegel's Syrup. He purchased a bottle at my shop, and by the time he had taken half of it he reported himself to me as quite cured. The effect was simply miraculous.

(Signed) "J. D. FLORENCE."

IS MOTHER SEIGEL RELIABLE?

Would respectable chemists write like the following if not?

A SURGICAL OPERATION AVOIDED.
"Titchhurst, Dec. 1, 1884.

Mr. EDWARD CORRIE, Chemist, writes: "Your medicine maintains a steady sale in this district, and is well established in general favor. I know an old man, over seventy, who some three or four years ago was advised to submit to the operation for stone. He certainly was suffering from some distressing symptoms, and could scarcely walk. Instead of taking that advice he tried Siegel's Syrup, with the result that after one bottle, he could walk about fairly well, and, having taken three or four 2s. 6d. bottles, he was completely cured. He is still about, hale and hearty for his years. If any of the symptoms of the old trouble come on, he takes a few doses of the Syrup, and all is well again."

(Signed) "THOMAS H. BAKER."

WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT MOTHER SEIGEL.

AN EXPERIENCE OF FORTY YEARS.

"Cosham, Hants, Jan. 2, 1885.
"My customers, over a wide country district, are not very demonstrative, and I have no written testimonials to send; but my personal admiration of your medicine is in the ascendant, and my experience of forty years assures me that no preparation has so rapidly acquired a popularity, and so firmly maintained its reputation as Mother Siegel's Syrup.

OUR PARIS LETTER.

PARIS, August 3rd.

It is surprising that the guild of "paper makers" in this country, so proverbially enterprising as to bring out on an average, one new journal per day, do not supply two "long felt wants." Organs for the Dwellers and Statues running up interests.

Backed by prizes of oranges and oysters the bait with which Villemessant, the mercies shop assistant of Blois started the now paying Figaro; or with premiums of foils and hair-trigger pistols, the proposed Montreurs would not fail to be supported. The immortal Watts says: it is a shameful sight, when children of one family, fall out, and chide, and fight. That appears to be the most prominent event here; 'tis true, it is an old failing, and that price of War Correspondents—Julius Caesar—comments upon the blemish in his Gallic campaigns.

It is because other peoples have cast out the duel vice, that they are peculiarly fitted to beg the French to consider their ways, as regards the fashion of duelling, and be wise. It seems eulogical, that the best way of convincing an adversary of his error is by blowing out his brains or running him through the body—for these accidents may sometimes occur. When an antagonist is being cornered by facts and reasons, he explodes into Billingsgate; provokes a challenge, and the meet ends a troublesome discussion. Messrs. Clemenceau and de Cassagnac have recently amended that eccentric Code of Honor, by first calling on their would-be foemen, the Baron de Hickey of California, for the United States have so many citizens with handles to their names as to justify the appointments of an Ulster King of Arms, and the Israeli Deputy Lord, respectively, to first prove their valour.

Public opinion is devoting extraordinary interest to the Boulanger-Ferry duel; many would wish its model to be that between Tom Moore and Jeffrey, when the pistols were leadless. The ex-War Minister may be viewed as politically dead; Deputy Laur's provincial letters, inspired by Boulanger himself, have finished him. As usual the people who pinned their faith in the General, are now wrath at the unheroic revelations of his self-dissection. He is clearly down among the dead public men; he himself has largely contributed to wing the shafts that now quiver in his reputation. The tide in quitting Boulanger, is in full flood for his antagonist; after three years of resting in the shade, the public is inclined to chant "C'est Jules Ferry qu'il nous faut." He is an able man, the first on the list of practical ministers, despite his advocating too great a glory-programme for Tonkin, and for one point in which he has paid the penalty—it failed. He has now taken his stand, without any qualification, against extreme and violent politician; a few years ago at Havre, he broke a first lance against them. He now steps to the front, and heads the reaction which unquestionably has set in against extreme doctrines, and that blind and naked ignorance which

"Delivers bawling judgments, unabashed, On all things all day long."

Henri Martin, has been honored with a statue in his native town of Saint-Quentin, and which has just been inaugurated by that indefatigable orator and every one's friend, Minister Spuller—the Fides Achates of Gambetta. Martin is only four years dead, and has merited a statue better than many whom mania or fashion, has so honored. He deserves to be signalled from the crowd, not exactly as a litterateur, but as a model of blameless, harmless and fraternal public life. For the republican party, he was a counselor rather than a combatant, a second Grevy in a word. It is now known that five years ago when M. Grevy was seriously ill, and Gambetta upbraided with ambition dead men's shoes, the ex-dictator had quietly made the necessary arrangements for preparing Martin to the expected vacancy—a circumstance Martin never knew.

H. Martin had for his country, an idolatry. As he loved much, so much to him to be forgiven. He maintained, that France was charged with the role of leading progressive humanity by the hand, &c. He was an indefatigable Dryasdust; for half a century he worked like a lay Benedictine at his "History of France"—commenced originally as an order from a publisher, after dabbling in general literature. He had a hobby to demonstrate, the Messiah Mission of the Gauls; but the two volumes of his history on this subject have collapsed, in presence of the discoveries of modern science. Martin was not a historian of the first rank; he had neither the philosophical depth of Guizot, the diplomatic elegance of Mignet, the military dash and raucousness of Thiers, the imagination of Thierry, nor the penetrating and creating power of Michelet. He was a most intelligent compiler; aimed to be the historian of the people who work, and of the humble strata of middle classes. He was the friend of the people who made the Revolution, and the Revolution, and he was anxious to unite the conquests of the latter, to the glories of royal France. He gives a good description of the War of One Hundred years, and of the policy of Richelieu, Mazarin and Colbert; he popularizes Joan of Arc, but Michelet paints the Patroness of the Invades like an artist. It was on a report of Henry Martin's, that the 14th of July was selected as the national holiday. Like Napoleon III he went in for the doctrine, of nationalities; result, united Germany; a united Italy; pan-Slavism, and last not least—pan-Anglo-Saxonism and pan-Celestialism.

When the French "boom" for Russia shall have passed away, people here will perceive, what a few well-known already, that the Muscovite was the slenderest reeds on which to lean. The settlement of the Afghan boundary has done much to open eyes, and so is the fact, that the Czar is hard up for money. Now comes the death of Michael Katkoff, the Peter the Hermit of "Russia for Russians and no European friendships." His countrymen will deeply deplore him, and so will France, but other powers viewed the once liberal as a firebrand. No permanent alliance can ever exist between autocracy and liberalism. "The hind that would be mated by the lion, must die for love." Perhaps M. de Giers may, as deeply deplore him as Bismarck, and the dead journalist would certainly never put a black border round the "Moscow Gazette," if both statesmen had been gathered to their fathers. The Poles never liked Katkoff since he advocated the wiping out of their nationality, and became the apologist of Mourawiew. Indeed, all conquerors resemble each other in one respect—keeping their seize; hence, why the Bismarck litany is so popular with Tritons—Beati possident, while thinking, they are not as other Tritons are, extortioners and unjust.

Public meetings in Paris, at least, have been killed, by the liberty even to hold them—though always under cover, for despite 1789, an open air meeting would be viewed at the end of the world. A meeting was called to protest against the Deputies thinning out the Metropolitan railway bill. Ex-Minister Lockroy was to preside, and did his best to do so. But he reckoned without the combined forces of Anarchists and Communists. Not a speech could be made; the platform was besieged and re-besieged; one speaker fainted, and his body was passed out over men's head, but sent back on reaching the door. Clovis Hughes endeavored to put in a few words in poetry—prose, with the faint orator on his arm; no use. At last Lockroy put on his hat, asked a hush for the Republic, which ex-General Eudes replied, by inviting several for the Commune. The happiest mortals were there in the gallery, who chorused the Boulanger Marseillaise. The police then cleared the hall and the doors were closed. The Municipal Council of Paris, holding the strings of the purse for the endowment of the city primary schools, still keep a materialistic eye on the contents of the classrooms. That body is terribly afraid, lest any religious allusion should creep into them. Thus grammars and reading books have undergone another anti-religious examination, and horror of horrors, the following lines have been discovered: "I fear God, and have no other fear." "If you good toward your mother, God will reward you." M. Lavy trembles for the rising generation to be imbued with such aphorisms. In the case of adults the matter is not very grave, they can know the difference, but to impart such religious instruction to helpless children in their fourth summer, is to ruin them for life!

Why am I so Miserable?

So weak and languid? Why such heartburn and pains in the stomach, such acidity, and such an unpleasant taste in the mouth? Why at times such a gnawing appetite, and then again such distaste for food? Why is the mind so frequently irritable, desponding, melancholy, and dejected? Why does one often feel under the apprehension of some imaginary danger, and start at any unexpected noise, becoming agitated as though some great calamity was impending? What is the meaning of these dull, sick headaches; these violent palpitations of the heart, this feverish restlessness, these night sweats; this disturbed and dreamy sleep, which brings no refreshing rest, but only moanings and mutterings, and the horrors of the nightmare?

The answer is: These are the symptoms of Indigestion or Dyspepsia—the beginning and the forerunner of almost every other human disease. Indigestion is a weakness or want of power of the digestive fluids of the stomach to convert the food into healthy matter for the proper nourishment of the body. It is caused most frequently by the irregularity of diet, or improper food, want of healthy exercise and pure outdoor air. It may be induced by mental distress—the shock of some great calamity. It may be, and often is, aggravated and intensified, if not originally brought on, by exhaustion from intense mental application, of physical overwork, domestic troubles, anxiety in business, or financial embarrassment. If the stomach could always be kept in order, death would no longer be a subject of fearful anxiety to the young and middle-aged, but what would be contemplated by all as a visit of an expected friend at the close of a peaceful and happy old age. However, the first hostile invader upon the domain of health and happiness is Indigestion.

Is there any relief, any remedy, any cure? That is the question of the sufferer. The question of the sufferer is: Is there any medicine that will thoroughly renovate the stomach, bowels, liver, and kidneys, and afford speedy and effectual assistance to the digestive organs, and restore to the person, as Siegel's Syrup, their original energy?

Such a medicine is happily at hand. Never in the history of medical discoveries, evidenced by a dozen years' thorough test, has there been found a remedy for Indigestion so specific, so sure, and so surprising in its results, as Siegel's Curative Syrup, but to-day it is a standard remedy for that almost universal affliction in every civilized country in Europe, Asia, Africa and America. Public testimonials and private letters from military officers, bankers, merchants, ship captains, mechanics, farmers, and their wives and daughters, alike confirm its curative power.

Nearly Raised him from the Grave.

Swiss Cottage, Walton-on-the-Naze, August 27th, 1886.

A. J. White, Limited.

Dear Sir:—If a testimonial is of any use to you respecting the remarkable cure I have derived by taking your "Siegel's Syrup," you are at liberty to make any use of this you may deem best. For upwards of twelve years I have suffered from extreme Nervous Debility and Chronic Catarrh, which reduced me so that I was totally unable to do any business, and caused great prostration and weakness. About three years ago I had the advice of several members of the medical faculty, and under their treatment derived little or no good. Being in town some ten months ago, I was advised to try your Curative Syrup, and purchased a bottle. I had not taken many doses before I began to feel a fresh man. I could walk with ease, with before I had been unable to carry one leg before the other. My strength gradually increased, and my eyesight got better, which before I frequently lost, owing to the malady arising from a sluggish liver, often I had for several days with pain, and could hardly move. I am thankful to you and to God for nearly raising me from the grave, for it was nothing but your Siegel's Syrup that has restored me to robust health. Yours faithfully,

A. RICHOLS.

Revesby, near Boston, December 31st, 1886.

A. J. White, Limited.

Dear Sir:—Your Siegel's Syrup I find has been a great blessing in this neighborhood, and shall always do my best to further the sale of an article that every one that purchases speaks highly in its favor. I have derived great satisfaction in saying that I quite believe my wife was permanently cured of Indigestion and Wind on the stomach, from which she had suffered intensely some time previous to taking it. Faithfully yours,

A. BURN.

Attanagh, Abbeyfeix, Queen's County, Ireland, December 24th, 1886.

A. J. White, Limited.

Dear Sir:—I hope that your Siegel's Syrup and Pills may get the sale they so well deserve. I had a very delicate child, a boy now over nine years, but being averse to eating any kind of vegetable or food from his birth, began giving him Mother Siegel's Curative Syrup, and after a few weeks he recovered so as to be able to consume as much food as other boys of his age, and to the great astonishment of his neighbors, he is lively, getting into flesh, and thriving as well as boys of his age do. We give all the credit of his recovery to Siegel's Syrup. Yours faithfully,

1607 1 S. MAXWELL.
