BY AUTHORITY.

To the Inspectors of Election in the several Districts of the Kingdom:—

Inquiries having been made whether persons who are exempt from the payment of personal taxes by reason of being clergymen, teachers, pupils in High Schools, firemen, &c., or by reason of being over the age of sixty years or whose taxes have been excused by the Assessor on account of infirmity or poverty, are allowed by law to vote at the Election for Representatives.

It is my opinion that all such persons are entitled to vote. The Tax Collector should issue to each such person a tax receipt with the words "Qualified to Vote" upon it, which he must sign and in place of the amount of taxes he must write "exempt" or "excused." On the presentation of this Tax Receipt to the Inspectors of Election at their sessions previous to the election, the name of the voter must be put on the list of voters and the Receipt returned to the voter.

At the general Election to be held on the 3rd February, 1886, the votes of such persons must be received, unless challenged for other reasons.

FRIDAY, JAN. 15, 1886.

ISSUES OF THE HOUR.

Order, method and precision in public affairs are great wants of this kingdom. It did not require any very keen perception to observe, at the last session of the Legislature, that the Assembly was in an undisciplined and confused state from first to last. There was a manifest absence of the controlling guidance of master minds. Upon the side of the Ministry there was a definite and settled policy upon scarcely any important matter of state. No higher motive than the exigencies of the hour seemed to influence Ministerial conduct. Any sudden danger to the tenure of the Cabinet was made sufficient occasion for a shifting of ground. Outside breezes—in some cases fortunately for the country—frequently produced a speedy tacking of ship. As a consequence vacillation marked the course of legislative action so far as it was controlled by the Government, and often, also, by the Opposition. It should be the aim of every patriotic citizen, at this opportunity of a general election, to secure a Legislative Assembly marked by intelligence and wisdom, while possessing a harmonious majority pledged to both functional and organic reforms, so far as such may be practicable to accomplish or promote, in accordance with the dictates of experience.

A DASTARDLY SCHEME.

The Government party's scheme of utilizing the military establishment of the kingdom for partisan service is a deliberate attempt to subvert the freedom of the people. It must be opposed, inch by inch, and defeated, or Hawaiian citizenship will be a thing to be cast off with loathing by every man having a spark of independence in his spirit. If the scheme be not thwarted before the elections, then the nation as one man should protest against being governed by the ballots, any more than by the bayonets, of a soldiery capable of being driven to the polls, like slaves, to support a Ministry that cannot stand upon their merits as administrators of affairs. What other constitutional system in the world can furnish the spectacle of soldiers being paraded to receive orders how they shall discharge civil duties and privileges? Those responsible for this state of affairs are working to wreck the independence of the country, which was recognized by the United States, England and France in consideration of the kingdom's internal affairs being conducted according to modernly accepted principles of popular freedom. This intimation implies no idle threat, but is made with the knowledge that the present trend of Hawaiian government is not wholly escaping the official cognizance of the great Powers named.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In reference to the matter upon which Mr. Carter and the Attorney-General have come to issue, we have received a statement of the matter, prepared by the late Mr. Oakley's attorney, which will probably be published in this paper to-morrow.

THE ADVERTISER CONTRADICTED.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In the Pacific Commercial Advertiser of this morning, I was charged with abusing the King. The charge is wholly untrue. There was nothing said by me at the meeting that could by any fair-minded person be construed into abuse of His Majesty.

And whoever wrote the report in the P. C. A. told a deliberate and uncalculated falsehood.

W. C. ACHIL.
Honolulu, Jan. 15, 1886.

JOHN YOUNG.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Your local in last evening's paper says that "John Young landed on these islands 96 years ago." Can you, or any one, state where he was born, when and how he left his native place, when and how he landed here? This information, if authentic, will settle many historical disputes, and oblige
A KAMAIAHA.

[Our item should have said 97 years. Perhaps some of our readers can throw more light upon this interesting personage's career.—Ed.]

LETTER FROM MR. J. O. CARTER.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—The writer for the Advertiser is to the fore again this morning and treats me less fairly than before. The main points in his article are based upon an error which I made, and corrected at the earliest moment possible. Let me ask your readers as men what is the quality of honor or sense of fair play that a writer possesses who can take advantage of a slip of the pen which I made and corrected? Surely this is not the kind of a man who shall draw lines for my conduct. Upon the matter of bonds unpaid at maturity the Advertiser writer says:—

"Touching the allegation that 'a considerable sum of the 9 percent bonds have been illegally extended' we have a word to say. As already shown the issue of 9 percent bonds was limited to $300,000 by the law of September 27, 1874. These bonds are payable at the date expressed on their face, or at a period not exceeding twenty years from the passage of the Act. Of these bonds, $50,000 became payable September 1, 1881. They were part of the assets of the James Robinson estate, and by a mutual arrangement between the trustees of that estate and the Government they were continued. This is the transaction which Mr. J. O. Carter characterized as an 'illegal continuation,' and from which he draws the injurious and unjustifiable conclusion that the Government cannot be trusted to meet its engagements to the public creditors as they mature. We are not prepared to argue the point of law involved in this continuance, but we are fully satisfied that the facts do not warrant the inference which Mr. Carter draws from it."

Now, Mr. Editor, to any person who has read or will read the Loan Act under which the bonds talked of now issued it must appear that the above quotation is the veriest quibbling. But the writer naively remarks that he is "not prepared to argue the point of law involved in this continuance." Certainly not, for there is no room for argument. This breach of law was the main point in my letter. The writer thinks it would pay the country to make me a handsome annual allowance to maintain me in a private station where I could not do any possible harm. Barring the allowance, which my modesty forces me to decline, I may say that this plan is quite to my fancy. If I consulted my own wishes entirely I should not stand in a position where I must take the Advertiser's word. The Advertiser writer should understand that any reputation I may have as a financier came to me unsought. I make no pretence in that direction. I am constrained to believe that this reputation was earned largely by my habit of paying what I owed when it was due, and this simple rule has kept my credit sound, and for that reason I have recommended the Government to do the same. So far as the danger exists of my ever managing the finances of this Kingdom is concerned, I simply have to say that the day has passed when I had such an ambition and the fears of the Advertiser are quite groundless. Now, in regard to the reply of Mr. Neumann, I can say that if he is correct I was certainly at fault, and if so it is my duty to apologize to any person concerned.
J. O. CARTER.
Honolulu, Jan. 15, 1886.

LIGHT SUPPLIED.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—"Can't See" wishes light on the question of how the Church of England of the 9th century, lawfully constituted as such, must necessarily be the Church of the Apostolic age. It is not my wish to dwell frivolously on such a subject and I trust that "Can't See" is not merely bandying words. "Can't See" has no right to assume that the words quoted from the Advertiser sustain him in his blindness about the Church in the 9th century. I believe that I would not be risking much in taking it for granted that the writer of that criticism in the Advertiser will agree with me that the rub in any controversy about the present status of the Church of England must fall upon the question of the Reformation, upon the question of the Church's right by statute law, and the decisions arrived at by Convocation of her Bishops and Clergy, to reform herself and to declare the jurisdiction of the Bishops of Rome or any foreign Bishop illegal and from thenceforth null and void. I think this because I insist upon it that my point about the Church in the 9th century is universally conceded as a natural historical consequence. Previous to the outflow of sects from the English Church since the era of the Reformation, with the exception of the Lutheran movement in Germany there were no other religions in the British Isles except the intruding Roman Church initiated by Augustine A. D. 600, and the old British Church whose Bishops Augustine found on his arrival. These both claimed succession from the Apostles and they both undoubtedly had equally a true and manifest succession. You dispose of the Roman intrusion when you admit that the present Church of England is the Church of the 9th century. There is nothing left then but to give the line of Apostolic succession from the 9th century to the Apostles, and this given, "Can't See" ought to be satisfied that the light he wants has been furnished, unless he wishes some of the early writers of the Primitive Church, called the early Pattern to be quoted and a reference in Scripture to this Ministry of three orders.

Philegmond was the last Archbishop of Canterbury in the 9th century who presided over the Church of England in succession to Augustine. But we want more than a succession from Augustine, however true and indelible his episcopate may have been, because his mission was an intrusion and was resisted by the old British Church. But since you question the Apostolicity of this old church I now give its line commencing with the last in the 9th century:—

James Alpheus, one of the Apostles. The chief Bishops only are given in this list, the Patriarchs or Archbishops. From Jerome, Justus, Martyr 147, Irenaeus 180 and Tertullian, early Christian writers, we know surely of the fact that the church was established in Britain before the end of the 2nd century, whether by St. James, St. Philip or St. Paul in person is and must be open to conjecture and without much matter. We do know that during the persecution under Maximianus Hercules, Aaron and Julius and Alban among others suffered martyrdom. At the council of Arles, A. D. 314, three British Bishops, Eborius of York, Restitutus of London, and Adelphius of Colonia Londinensis were present. From Gildas, a British historian who wrote 50 years before Augustine arrived, we learn that the British had its struggle with the other branches of the church over Arianism and Pelagianism, and he speaks also of the orthodoxy of the British Church and of the fact that she was governed by numerous Bishops. We can learn also from Gibbon and Turner that in the middle of the 5th century after the departure of the Romans 33 cities were distinguished above the rest and governed chiefly by the Bishops and Nobles. When the Romans left, the Saxons poured in, took possession of the country and the old British Church, not as such but as Britons, was driven into Wales.

Augustine who came on a mission to these heathen Saxons A. D. 596 was resisted by the British Bishops. Gregory Bishop of Rome had sent him in ignorance of the existence of the English church. His fault was in establishing the Papal Supremacy in that country instead of aiding and sustaining the old church already there. Bede, a British historian of the year 673 tells us that he held two conferences with the British Bishops to endeavor to persuade them to conform. In an old Welsh M. S. the "Dean of Bangor declares in the name of the British Bishops that they owed the subjection of brotherly kindness and charity to the church of God, to the Pope of Rome and to all Christians. But other obedience than this they did not know to be due to him who was called Pope, for they were under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Caerleon upon Usk who was under God their spiritual overseer and director." (Stillington, Bingham, Lappenberg.) It matters not that the Saxons called their newly acquired country "Angle-land," or England. The name signifies not. The Ancient Church with her Bishops Priests and Deacons were driven out and maintained their own as vory as they could against the Bishop of Rome. And because of this and because she was at that time the Church of Christ derived from Apostolic times the people and clergy of England in the 16th century restored her to her rights and possessions originally or ultimately derived by her. To prove that Augustine could not lawfully subject the Ancient Church to a foreign Bishop I quote, "When the Patriarch of Constantinople assumed the title of Oecumenical Bishop in 585-595, Gregory the great pronounced it to be the beginning of Anti Christ. 'Who is the man who in opposition to the decrees of the canons ventures to assure this novel designation? Far from the hearts of Christians be this name of blasphemy, whereby the honor of all Priests is taken away, whilst one man madly arrogates it all to himself.' (St. Gregory Ep. vii.) And upon what Canon did he base such words as these? Canon viii. of the Council of Ephesus A. D. 431 says: 'We declare that they who preside over the holy churches which are in Cyprus, shall preserve without gain-saying or opposition this right of performing by themselves the ordinations of the most religious Bishops according to the Canons of the holy fathers, and the ancient custom. The same rule shall be observed in all the other Dioceses and in the Provinces everywhere, so that none of the most religious Bishops shall invade any other Province which has not hitherto from the beginning been under the hand of himself or his predecessors. But if anyone has so invaded a Province and brought it by force under himself he shall restore it, that the canons of the Fathers may not be transgressed, nor we lose by little the freedom which our Lord Jesus Christ has given us by His blood.' Surely it is clear that the British Church has lived from Apostolic times until our day and generation. I hope that "Can't See" will now see plainly, and say, enough! enough!

evening, almost all to themselves, the Poepoe and J. T. Baker.

The steamship St. Paul left the O.
S. S. wharf at 12 o'clock noon to-day, for San Francisco. She took 9,152 bags of sugar, shipped by Irwin & Co., but had only one passenger. The gathering to see the vessel off was slim.

THE Queen's Own military company,

AN attempt was made on Monday evening to burn the St. Andrew's Priory

over a portion of the wall and then kindling a fire close to it. Mr. W. R.
Lawrence noticed the rising flames and put them out with a bucket of water.

A PLEASANT programme and tooth-

THE majority of the crew of the bark Victoria Cross deserted last night. The vessel was to sail to-day for San Francisco, but now she has not enough sailors to handle the ship. The captain expressed his fears of the remaining few, who might follow their shipmates.
Mr. H. Hart was busy all morning trying to drum up a crew for the bark, so that she might sail to-morrow.

IMPROVING STOCK.

Two bulls, under two years old,
have been imported from Syracuse,
N. Y., for the Woodlawn Dairy and Stock Company, and also one heifer, Beatrix, for Mr. J. H. Paty. These are all thoroughbred Holsteins from the best dairy stock in the world.
The animals were brought to San Francisco by rail, and thence to this port by the barkentine Discovery, arriving in splendid order, and are much admired by all who have seen them. The Woodlawn Dairy and Stock Company are agents for this class of stock, which may be had from Messrs. Smiths, Powell and Lamb, Lakeside Farm, Syracuse, N. Y., direct, or through their Honolulu agents.

PAKE PILIKIA.

Between eight and nine o'clock
this morning two Chinamen were to be seen navigating a wagon across the creek, close by the bridge on the road leading from King street to the Oahu jail. From a dozen to a score of live ducks were in the wagon, and a sorry-looking nag was standing, half-divested of fackling, on the road,
looking the picture of equine misery and penitence. The navigators were up to their waists in the water, and had no small difficulty in getting the wheels of the vehicle over the snags at the bottom of the creek. On the shore lay three or four casks of poi, their contents being lapped up by the tide. Off the whole lately proud equipage, only the ducks were seat-
less of disaster—indeed the situation
seemed a delightful one to them.
There was a laughing crowd of natives of all ages and sexes on the bridge, greatly enjoying the pake's pilikia, and a man told a reporter
what was the matter: "Chinese fool! His horse begin to back in the water, and he not get out to catch it by the head, although there were two of them in the wagon. He!
he! he! Yes, another Chinaman's wagon went over on the other side the other day, and fell higher than this one."

SUPREME COURT.

rupt estate of S. J. Levey & Co.,

M. Hatch for defendant.

continuation of report in yesterday's issue). M. Louison, of M. S.

admittance to probate of the will of Aluma, rice planter, and the issuance of temporary letters of administration to Fat Ngee, brother of deceased, and S. Selig. The Court granted the prayers of the petition, ordering that letters issue upon the filing of an approved bond in $5,000,
and appointing Tuesday, Feb. 16th, as the time for hearing proof of the will and the granting of letters testamentary.

Is there anything more overrated than the power of legislation to accomplish reforms? What is a law, a penal law, if you please? It is simply an ordinance which, having received a legislative majority and the executive assent, is placed upon the statute-book, where it remains theoretically active until repealed. But, notoriously, unless it can command approval of the public, it will not, cannot be enforced. Take, for example, our "Sunday laws," so-called. They are practically a dead letter. Public opinion justifies their enforcement so far as to prevent noisy demonstrations on the Sabbath; but hardly beyond this. There are many reformers whose energy and zeal are expended utterly in securing the passage of laws or constitutional provisions, forgetting that these are but preliminary steps—that they are powerless for good, unless they represent an irresistible pressure of conviction which will stop at nothing short of absolute enforcement.—Corr. National Baptist.

STATEMENT.

THE undersigned, a Committee of Directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, appointed to formulate the views of the Board on the advantages offered by the Society to the public, report:—

1st—The Society issues all the approved forms of assurance, including Ordinary Life, Endowment and Tontine policies. It is immaterial to the Directors which form of policy is taken by intending assurers.

2d—The Life and Endowment forms of policy provide for annual cash dividends and a surrender value; are indispensible after three years and payable immediately after proof of death.

3d—The premiums on a Tontine policy are the same as on the Ordinary Life, but, while the latter is only payable in the event of death, the holder of the Tontine policy has the right to draw the whole of the reserve and the accumulated profits in cash at the end of a stated period; thus, during his own lifetime, after his producing years are past, he can, without any larger premium than on an ordinary policy, secure these greater advantages.

4th—Experience shows that the return paid in cash on maturing Tontine policies approximates to or exceeds the amount of premiums paid by policyholders, so that the average cost of the assurance will be only about the interest on the premiums.

5th—Tontine policies, like others, are paid in full in the event of death at any time during the term of the policy, and are incontestable after three years, and payable immediately after due proof of death.

6th—Experience shows that the mortality is lower among Tontine policyholders, as the better lives seek this kind of assurance, which is a considerable source of profit.

7th—Tontine policies will be made non-forfeitable under the laws of the State, if so desired at the time the assurance is effected.

8th—The Tontine system is fair and just; its accounts are accurately kept, separate from all other business, the funds judiciously invested and improved, and the accumulated profits faithfully guarded and properly apportioned.

9th—The Society has since its organization transacted a larger amount of new business than any other company, while its new business for the first half of the present year is $1,750,000 larger than that of the first half of 1884. It has Assets of $60,000,000; over $14,000,000 of Surplus, and its ratio of Surplus to Liability is greater than that of any other company.
