Camacho files suit for $10M

Former Governor Carlos S. Camacho yesterday filed a countersuit against Governor Pedro P. Tenorio seeking over $10 million in damages for libel and slander.

Camacho in a press conference distributed copies of his answer and counterclaim against Tenorio's earlier libel and slander suit against the former governor.

Camacho cited Tenorio's alleged "false, slanderous and libelous" statements made during the October 7 debate as follows:

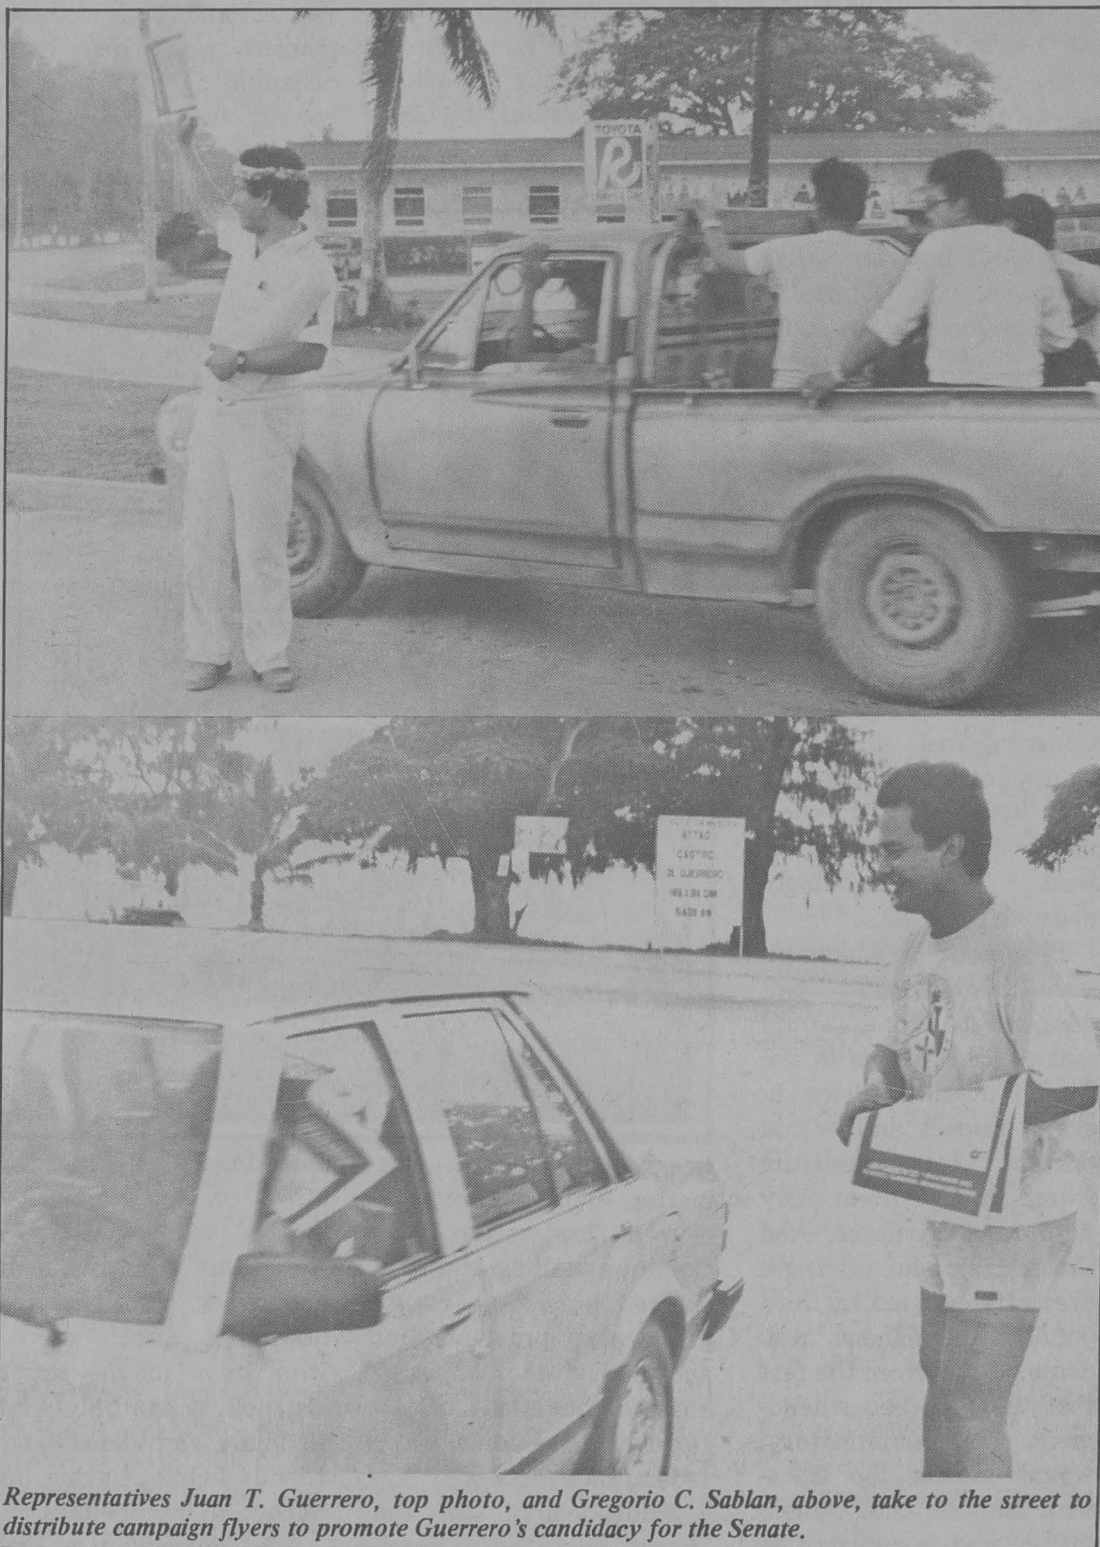

1. "And also for the information of the general public, just before Governor Camacho left his office, I am sure the record will show that he has taken I don't know how many pigs. No wonder why he has so many pigs right now on his ranch. It was taken from the Department of Agriculture and that's what he is doing now. Is this fair?

"There are a lot of people who need some pigs for their farming and for their animals. However, Dr. Camacho went ahead and picked all the good ones, the good breeders so that he could have a good piggery here on the island."

2. "And the Commonwealth Bank, ladies and gentlemen, for your information he is a part owner of the Commonwealth Bank. His brother is a director of the Commonwealth Bank. He, (Dr. Camacho) is the one who damaged the Commonwealth Bank."

Camacho claimed that as a result of these state-

Former Governor Carlos S. Camacho has announced that his group would conduct its own investigation on the alleged Loma Linda bank account of Governor Pedro P. Tenorio.

In response, Tenorio said Tuesday Camacho could look into all his (Tenorio's) bank accounts since the "invasion" in 1944.

Tenorio also said he would pursue the case up to the end and would not accept any apology from Camacho.

Camacho last week issued a press statement following the release of the Attorney General's report on its investigation on the alleged Bank of America account in Loma Linda under Tenorio's name.

The AG office secured an affidavit from the bank manager who said the bank had no account in the past year under Tenorio's name nor even under the name Pangelinan (Tenorio's middle name). Camacho claimed during the October 7 gubernatorial debate that the account was under Tenorio's name.

In his statement, Camacho said "we do not believe that the AG's report is comprehensive, complete and non-partisan."

He raised the following questions on the AG report:

— The Attorney General concluded that the Governor had no account in Loma Linda but the banker's affidavit only says that there has been no account in the last year. How did the Attorney General arrive at his conclusion that he has never had an account in Loma Linda?

— The Attorney General makes reference to a specific account and that the account did not have $4,000 transferred to it each month for the last year. Why did the Attorney General not have the entire account analyzed since it was opened, we presume, in 1982.

Camacho, during the debate, asked the Attorney General to investigate specifically an account under Governor Tenorio's name and to which $4,000 was being deposited every month for the past 12 months.

Tenorio last Friday filed a civil suit for slander and libel against Camacho for the latter's statements on the alleged Loma Linda account and other alleged anomalies of the Tenorio administration.

Tenorio, through his lawyer, James H. Grizzard, is seeking $1 million in punitive damages and additional amounts as compensatory relief.

Grizzard said Tenorio had wanted the suit filed not later than the day following the debate. "Within minutes of leaving the Convention Center after the debate on October the 7th, the Governor arrived at his home and called me on the telephone, and in very strong terms using expletives that would be deleted the Governor directed me to file suit against Carlos S. Camacho immediately if not sooner, in essence he told me he wanted the suit filed before the sunset the next day," Grizzard said.

VIEWS

Reasons for a No vote on Proposal 44

To the Editor:

In a letter in your September 13, 1985 issue, Mr. John S. Pangelinan spoke of the dilemma he faces in deciding how to vote on proposed constitutional amendment No. 44, amending the definition of interim U.S. citizen in our Constitution, and asked for some thoughts and advice.

The undersigned fully understand the quandary in which Mr. Pangelinan finds himself and would like to take this opportunity to tell Mr. Pangelinan, and all the other voters in the Commonwealth, why they should vote "NO" on proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 44, in spite of the little bit of good mixed in with an otherwise overwhelmingly negative proposal.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 44, at its core, would make U.S. citizens in the Commonwealth aliens in every respect and would prevent the legislature from giving them any rights and privileges, even those rights and privileges presently enjoyed by third country permanent residents. Aside from the fact that the proposed amendment is discriminatory, would violate the Covenant and the U.S. Constitution, and is contrary to the friendly and open nature of our people, it is misdirected and serves no useful purpose.

The proposed amendment was conceived in response to a perceived failure by the United States to treat Commonwealth citizens in the same manner as full-fledged U.S. citizens. And it is true that our people have sometimes had problems with certain ignorant and stubborn government officials.

But in all fairness, we must note that for the most part our people are given full rights in the United States, including voting and owning land. Further, the U.S. has been very responsive the target. While we sympathize with the desire to strike back at those person who have on occasion refused to recognize the rights of our people, the proposed to concern about this matter expressed by the elected leaders of the Commonwealth, and has enacted legislation, issued presidential proclamation, and taken other steps to enforce the intent of the Covenant and educate the federal bureaucracy.

Additionally, to the extent that the message does not get through to the bureaucracy, it is the responsibility of the Governor and the administration to make direct contact and actively educate the pertinent officials, such as immigration, at all levels, before any drastic, punitive action such as Proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 44 is even considered.

The worst aspect of Proposed Amendment No. 44 is that it misses amendment will have no effect on the responsible parties. It penalizes those Americans who live here and work with us, but does not affect anyone who stays in the states. As such, it can only serve to injure and alienate our friends while having no impact on our enemies.

Mr. Pangelinan is right that the existing Interim Definition of Citizenship in the Constitution excludes persons born after March 6, 1977. It is unfortunate that the Constitutional Convention incorporated the needed revision to include these people with the very undesirable exclusion of U.S. citizens. But even this change is carelessly drafted. As drafted, the proposed amendment would give citizenship rights to some people (children of aliens) who will not become U.S. citizens upon termination of the trusteeship. This could create numerous legal problems for the Commonwealth government.

Fortunately, there is a solution to this problem. As public officials, there is something we can do. We urge all the people to vote

This weekend, the Republic of Palau will be inaugurating President-Elect Lazarus Salii, as head of state of that emerging island nation. Having known the President-Elect, I have every confidence in his strength to lead the troubled republic from the temporary turbulence that soared over Palau when its first President was assassinated.

President-Elect Salii is a giant among giants in Micronesia in terms of leadership. He's led the Micronesian negotiations for several years until 1975 when the geographical area we know of as Micronesia became the FSM, Republics of Palau and the Marshalls and the CNMI.

If there's any one person throughout Micronesia who's had the widest experience in Micronesian Diplomacy, it is President-Elect Salii, a sharp and shrewd negotiator who's given his best shot to ascertain that Micronesian integrity remains intact.

With his political acuity, President-Elect Salii is more than capable of leading the new republic out of its problems; problems that are common in the total efforts of any group of people throughout the democratic world in the actual work of nation building.

Well, we have confidence in his leadership. We in the Marianas Variety offer our congratulations to President-Elect Salii upon his inauguration as head of state of the Republic of Palau. We know that with your leadership, the new republic will endure every hardship that comes into play in the total efforts of all Palauans to forge a stable political setting and a promising and prosperous economic foundation for its posterity. Our congratulations! And we wish you much luck as you buckle down to guide the charted course of the Republic Palau.

Each political camp has worked hard at securing votes for the upcoming general elections. Each group too has its own dedicated few who work day-in and day-out to keep the so-called momentum going. Each group also has its own group of cheerleaders or those whose specialty is what we call in local politics as "target". This the group that hits you below the belt.

Having taken that lonely walk into the actual workings of that thick forest we call politics, you begin to see what it really takes to be a candidate other than passing out brochures of your qualifications. That road to victory is nowhere in sight. It isn't so near yet so far! It is in fact so far and still so very far. One will never know how far he's come to victory or defeat until every single vote is counted by the tabulating committee.

Interestingly, each candidate is definitely confident of winning. It's a strange aura in that in every election only the selected few turn out to be victors. The other half are given the verdict of defeat which can in fact be troubling for those who never made it. But what has taken me aback is the aura of confidence that each candidate (both Democrats and Republicans) who walk around with heads up high.

We're on the final count down to election day. The GOP claims to have gained momentum. The same is also the exact claim of the Democrats. But with a whole amalgam of intra-party conspiracy, I say anything can happen. I am sure each of us has a good working knowledge of which camp has taken or has in fact picked-up momentum. And I am sure too that each of us knows which way has the wind of victory turned to. Whatever the case may be, victory and defeat can only be known AFTER EVERY BALLOT IS COUNTED!

A faithful went hunting one day. By accident, he slipped off a cliff but managed to hold on to a single branch of what we call "LIFE". He held firmly to that branch saying to himself: "I believe in God Almighty, maker of heaven and earth. . . Oh God please help me. I'll never sin again." As he was improvising his last ditch prayer for life, another hunter who came close to the cliff surveying the area overheard the poor guy's prayer. He hid behind bushes and murmured: "If you believe in God, then let go off that branch for you shall be saved by the Almighty." Said he: "Hell, no way. I ain't lettin' this sucker go!" So much for being a faithful.

Guam debate off; Tenorio withdraws

The proposed debate in Guam between Governor Pedro P. Tenorio and former Gov. Carlos S. Camacho has been cancelled following Tenorio's withdrawal from the oral contest.

Both Tenorio and Camacho earlier accepted an invitation from the CNMI Student Association in Guam for a debate on Oct. 26. The debate would have been the second meeting between the two, who first engaged each other in a public debate at the CNMI Convention Center on Oct. 7.

Tenorio informed Ms. Frances Chong, president of the student group, that Lt. Gov. Pedro P. Tenorio would attend the inauguration of Palau President Lazarus Sali today. He said the governor and the lt. governor could not be off-island at the same time.

The student body is reportedly proceeding with an open forum type of discussion with Camacho on the same date.

AWAITING JENKINS BILL FATE

8 garment firms plan NMI plants

Eight garment companies from the United States and Asia are planning to put up plants in the Northern Marianas, Attorney General Rexford Kosack said yesterday.

At the same time, Kosack said his office is preparing a plan to impose a moratorium on the growth of the garment industry in the Commonwealth to ensure that it does not threaten domestic producers in the US mainland and to ensure the quality of these investments.

He said in an interview that majority of the prospective investors represent US interests. The three companies currently engaged in cut-and-sew operations here are 60 percent owned by Americans, Kosack said.

With these three firms and two other knitting plants, the arrival of the eight firms would increase local garment operations to 13 companies.

Kosack said the prospective investors are still awaiting the final legislative and executive actions on the Jenkins bill which imposes severe cutbacks on US textile imports.

The names of the new companies were not all available yesterday but it was learned that a certain firm named Yangtze has started putting up a $1-million manufacturing plant in Chalan Piao.

Ben Fejeran, a local partner and a director of the newly organized United International Corp., said his company will initially invest between $500,000 to $1 million to manufacture shirts, shorts and pants.

The company's parent, Kuohwa Garment and Enamel Industry Ltd. of Taiwan, has its own buying office in the US known as Tee Top of California. United plans to export to the US between $400,000 to $500,000 worth of garment products a month.

The firm is leasing a 10,000-square-foot building in San Antonio which will be renovated starting next month to house the production facilities.

Fejeran said the company is currently recruiting 120 workers from Saipan. If local workers are not enough the company will import workers from Bangkok and Taipei, he said.

Actual production is expected to start early January next year.

Fejeran said he is also representing COMITEX Knitters of Hong Kong. He said representatives of the Hong Kong-based company are coming in December to finalize preparations for the establishment of their plant here.

The company is also awaiting the fate of the Jenkins bill, which will impose severe cutbacks on textile imports from Hong Kong and other Asian producers.

If the project pushes through, COMITEX will invest about $1 million here, according to Fejeran. He said the company has a commitment to export 1.5 million pieces of shirts to the US next year.

The company, which has 14 outlets in Hong Kong, is also looking into the possibility of developing a European market for sweaters to be manufactured in the Northern Marianas.

Larger sweater export quota seen

The Northern Marianas may be allowed to export to the United States within the next 12 months a total of 81,585 dozens or more of sweaters, Attorney General Rexford Kosack said yesterday.

This represents a 16.5-percent increase from the 70,000 dozens of sweater exports allowed to be exported into the US in the past 12 months under a special waiver. The waiver exempts the specified volume of sweaters from the restrictions under the new US customs rules.

The rules, adopted in August last year, restricts the entry of CNMI-made sweaters in the US unless a large part of the manufacturing process is done in the CNMI. Operations of the three sweater companies in Saipan are generally limited to assembly of parts imported from Hong Kong or China.

In an interview, Kosack said negotiations on the new waiver between the CNMI and the US Trade Representative office is expected to be finalized in December.

He said this would be better for the CNMI because the current protectionist trend in the US is expected to cool down by that time. The Jenkins bill, now awaiting passage by the Senate, leads the protectionist measures in the US and classifies the CNMI as a foreign country as far as the textile trade is concerned.

The bill passed the House with a lesser number of supporters than when it was first introduced, and is expected to suffer the same fate in the Senate. The Reagan administration has already announced its opposition to the bill.

US Vice-President George Bush, according to Kosack, has also expressed support in the move to exempt the Northern Marianas from coverage of the Jenkins bill should it become law. A recent amendment to the bill exempted China from its coverage.

Pending completion of the negotiations on the waiver volume, Kosack said the US Trade Representative has agreed that the CNMI will be allowed to continue sweater exports up to at least 70,000 dozens.

He said this will allow local factories to continue operating while awaiting the final decision on next year's waiver.

Kosack, who represents the CNMI in the waiver negotiations, said he originally proposed a total waiver volume of 144,000 dozens. The three sweater companies which were established under General Headnote 3(a) — American International Knitters Corp., Saipan Manufacturers, Inc., and Commonwealth Garment Manufacturing—are capable of producing about 200,000 dozens of sweaters a year.

International hotels coming here

Big International hotels are coming to Saipan and Governor Pedro P. Tenorio expects that by 1987 the total rooms available for tourists would reach 2,000, more than current total capacity of 800 rooms.

If all the hotel groups are able to realize their plans here, even the 2,000-mark could be exceeded within the next few years.

At present, the Diamond Hotel group and Hotel Nikko International, a subsidiary of Japan Air Lines, are building 10-storey hotels. The Diamond project is targeted for completion next year, while that of Nikko is slated to be opened in 1987.

Sheraton Hotels is reportedly negotiating for a joint venture with other investors for a 600-room hotel in Laulau as part of a golf course and recreation complex.

Tenorio said in an interview Tuesday that a big Japanese group has also bought some private land north of the Nikko site in Marpi for another multi-storey hotel.

The Marianas Public Land Corp. is currently considering four applications to lease the present US Army Reserve site in San Antonio. Assistant MPLC planner Frank Guerrero identified the proponents as Top Enterprises of Guam representing Hilton International, New Osaka Hotel of Japan, Surf Hotel and Pacific Development Corp.

Hilton is proposing to build an eight-storey hotel with 322 rooms; New Osaka wants a seven-storey hotel with 220 rooms; Pacific Development Corp. plans a seven-storey, 450-room facility with a revolving restaurant; and Surf Hotel wants to expand its existing facility with an additional 100 rooms.

Guerrero said in an interview Tuesday Surf Hotel has proposed to lease three hectares out of the available area of over eight hectares to accommodate the hotel's expansion plan.

If Surf Hotel gets its proposed lease, one of the three other proponents may be accommodated in the remaining 5.4 hectares. Guerrero said MPLC has asked the proponents to submit additional information based on criteria established by MPLC to help the agency in determining the best proposal.

Guerrero said that MPLC has also asked its lawyers to look into the possibility of getting back 39 hectares of land north of Pau Pau which has been leased by a Japanese group since the pre-Commonwealth period.

He said the area, which is also suitable for hotel development, could be offered as an alternative site to accommodate any of the proponents which are not chosen for the San Antonio project.

Suwaso golf project hits snag

Development by Suwaso Corporation of a golf course at Unai Dankulo appears to have hit a snag in the Senate. Senate approval of Suwaso's request for 59 hectares of public land is required before the project can proceed.

But Senate President Ponciano C. Rasa has said he does not believe "that golf will bring a substantial revenue to the CNMI," and warned that "a mistake in allocating land by responsible officials" that would be "final and irreversible" could occur.

Rasa's statements were made in a memo to Jose P. Mafnas, Chairman of the Senate's Committee on Resources, Economic Development and Programs. In the memo, Rasa asked Mafnas and his Committee to "take a thorough review" of House Joint Resolution 41, which would authorize the leasing of the land to Suwaso.

Rasa, who has extensive education and experience in land management, said in an interview with the Variety, that NMI's public land belongs to all 17,000 of the people, and therefore should be used in a way that would benefit all of them, not just a few. In the memo to Mafnas, he points out that if a "project limits the usefulness of the surrounding environment, no social benefit could be achieved. This fact is important in areas being developed without the benefit of zoning and planning regulations."

Rasa stated that the Physical Development Master Plan, which has never been officially adopted by the NMI, "is about 10 years old," "has never been updated," and "could be obsolete." Use of Unai Dankulo as a golf course is included in the Master Plan. The Plan should be re-evaluated, Rasa said, together with comprehensive zoning and setting of priorities. "We should know by experience that land uses are not static; land values, land uses and land requirements are undergoing constant changes," he noted.

Rasa's memo emphasizes that "Land is scarce and very precious to us. We should not jump the gun and give it away without studying its real purpose and full benefits to the people of the Commonwealth." The two existing golf courses "have not been able to attract enough golfers, tourists or local players to even reach a break-even point in their operation," according to the memo.

RECEIVER COLLECTS $.46M

Depositors to get partial refund

The 500 depositors of the defunct Commonwealth Bank will each receive a little Christmas present this year: about 15 to 20 cents for every dollar deposit they have with the bank.

This means that a depositor with $100 in the bank will get a partial refund of $15 to $20. "This will be the first payment to depositors and other creditors," Randall Fennell, the court-appointed receiver for the bank, said last Friday. "As more is collected on outstanding loans, further disbursement will be made."

Fennell said about $461,687 has been collected from the bank's borrowers since the inception of the receivership in the middle of 1984.

The amount will be distributed to depositors equally, based on the amount of deposits they have with the bank, he said.

According to Fennell, the most current figures indicate the bank has about $1.75 million in deposits. Outstanding loans, however, amount to only $1.37 million, or about $380,000 short of deposits.

The loans are also not due to be paid within the same period of time. If a loan is payable in 10 years the borrower could not be compelled to pay the full amount within a shorter period.

Fennell said the amount of loans would still go up considering that interests must be added on the principal.

He said court action was also being sought to compel the bank's former officers and directors and other shareholders to pay their unpaid subscription in the bank.

CNMI loses suit on deposit bond

Micronesian Insurance Underwriters, Inc. (MIU) does not have to pay off on the surety bond it issued to cover the NMI Government's $600,000 deposit in the Commonwealth Bank. Judge Robert A. Hefner, in a decision issued on October 18, ruled against the NMI's claim that MIU should make up the loss.

According to court records, the NMI Government "was requested" to deposit money in the Commonwealth Bank in November of 1983. Knowing that the Commonwealth Bank was not covered by federal deposit insurance, the Government required Commonwealth Bank to obtain security to cover the deposit before it would do so.

The Bank then contacted MIU, and asked to issue a bond to cover the $600,000 the government intended to deposit. MIU's Board approved the bond action, and it was signed by the late Mr. Milne, then vice-president and general manager of MIU, on December 12, 1983.

In May of 1984, the Commonwealth Bank failed, and went into receivership. "To this date," Hefner's ruling recounts, "the Government has not received any of its deposit back. Hence it filed this action against MIU on its guaranty bond."

Ruling in favor of MIU, Judge Hefner agreed with the arguments made by William Fitzgerald, attorney representing MIU, that the Government knew the Commonwealth Bank had not met CNMI bank licensing requirements, and that the Bank was therefore under-capitalized; that it did not share this information with MIU; and that if MIU had had this information, it would not have issued its surety bond in the first place.

Under what is known as Restatement of the Law, these arguments meet the provisions of Section 124 of Restatement of Security, and the CNMI Government can not, therefore, collect on the MIU bond, Hefner ruled.

Foreign investments bill nixed

Governor Pedro P. Tenorio has rejected a proposed law designed to boost foreign investments into the Northern Marianas through the sale of stocks in projects certified as approved by the CNMI government.

In his veto message on House Bill 214, Tenorio said that the Attorney General and the Department of Commerce and Labor "are concerned that any sale of stock based on a 'letter of approval' could subject the government to liability, as it would be extremely difficult to monitor the activities associated with the sale of stock in a foreign jurisdiction once a letter of approval is issued."

Tenorio noted that many off-island, non-US investors are not versed in complex laws and regulations concerning the sale of stock and may rely on a "letter of approval" to their detriment.

"Such an unfortunate result could seriously damage the excellent reputation that the Commonwealth now enjoys with reputable off-island investors," Tenorio said.

He added that existing laws are adequate and have been effective in inducing the flow of large capital investments into the Northern Marianas.

Rios sues Lizama, MPLC for $5M

Mayor Jose S. Rios filed a cross-complaint against Juan T. Lizama and MPLC last week, alleging that Lizama conspired with MPLC, where he is a staff attorney, to obtain valuable land near the Hyatt Hotel in exchange for his less valuable Tinian land. According to the news release issued by Bob O'Connor, Rios' attorney, "The suit claims that the exchange was so unequal that it amounted to a 'gift of public funds' and that the land must be returned to MPLC. . . . The suit claims that MPLC's conduct in exchanging lands is unconstitutionally arbitrary and capricious because MPLC fails to have the exchange lands appraised, it has no standards or criteria adopted for exchange and no public hearings are conducted on the exchanges which take place 'in secret'."

Additionally, the complaint alleges "that defendants Lizama and MPLC conspired to defraud taxpayers by accepting land exchanges of unequal value and that this conduct amounted to a breach of trust by MPLC against all people of Northern Marianas descent."

Rios' suit asks for $5,000,000 in damages and an order from the court restoring the Hyatt lot to the land trust. The suit also asks the court to require MPLC to promulgate standards and criteria for exchanges, including appraisals, before any future exchanges are consummated.

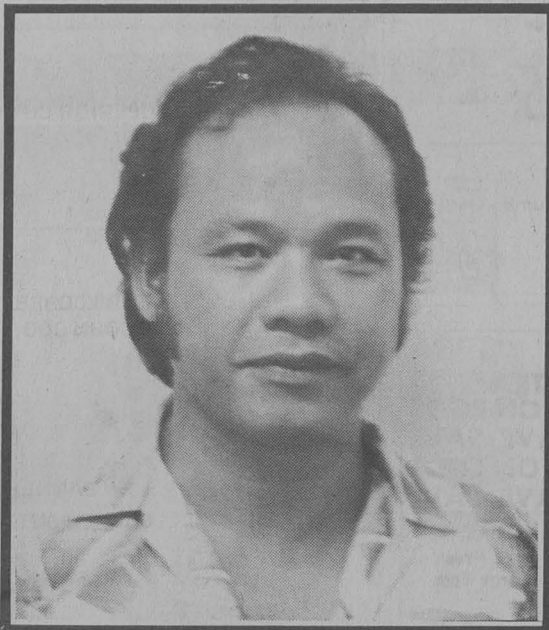

In August of this year, Lizama had filed suit against Rios, because Rios would not vacate land Lizama claimed had been deeded to himself by MPLC. This constitutes taking property without due process of law, the suit claimed. Lizama's suit, which was filed in District Court, asked for compensatory and punitive damages of $100,000.

Lizama filed a second suit against Rios in Trial Court on October 9, after Rios' complaint to the Northern Marianas Bar Association about Lizama's purported "unethical conduct" in acquiring the lot in question was reported in the local press. Lizama claimed the adverse publicity was defamatory, had injured his professional reputation, and had caused him to lose clients and income.

5 DPS officers probed; 1 resigns

Five police officers are facing prosecution or disciplinary action for various offenses such as misconduct in public office or bribery.

Capt. Jose M. Castro, investigation chief, identified three of the officers as Pat. Joey Tudela and Tomas Camacho of Saipan and Sgt. Paterno Hocog of Rota.

Castro said he personally investigated a complaint against Tudela at the request of Mrs. Connie P. Park.

Investigation showed that at 1:46 a.m. on Oct. 17, Dae Young Park was arrested by Officer Delbert Sablan and was taken by Tudela to the sub-station in Garapan for breathalyzer test.

Park alleged that Tudela kicked him while he was at the sub-station.

Castro said there were two other officers in the room when the incident happened. Their names were included in the report forwarded to the Attorney General's office.

During the course of investigation, Castro found out that Camacho on that night was supposed to be on duty with Tudela but had told his dispatcher that he was sick.

Castro said Tudela, who was considered one of the best DUI officers in the test. The man allegedly refused to blow into the machine, which measures alcohol intake.

Tudela and the arrestee left the sub-station to go to the central station in Susupe. On their way they stopped by the Club 19-Hole in Garapan from where Officer Camacho, in civilian clothes, joined them.

The trio proceeded to the fishing base across the Garapan church, where they stopped and where Tudela allegedly punched the arrestee several times.

Castro said he found out that Camacho on that night was supposed to be on duty with Tudela but had told his dispatcher that he was sick.

Castro said Tudela, who was considered one of the best DUI officers in the force, has resigned from the department.

Camacho, who has been suspended for 15 days because of his failure to appear in court when subpoenaed, has returned all his official equipment to the department, according to Castro.

Castro said that Sgt. Hocog was investigated by Rota Police Major Andres Ramos and Lt. Juan Ayuyu on his alleged involvement in an illegal hunting and bribery case.

The files of the five police officers are now with the AG for further action, according to Castro.

He said the investigation is in accordance with the tight disciplinary control exercised by the Dept. of Public Safety on the police force.

Fire razes school

Two classrooms at Tanapag School were totally destroyed by fire early Thursday morning this week.

The fire was discovered at approximately four a.m. by a passing motorist who stopped a police car on the road to report seeing smoke coming from the school. Tanapag school staff and personnel did not learn of the fire until they arrived at the school for work. All classes at the school were immediately cancelled.

The entire building housing grades three and four was destroyed. Gonzales Q. Santos, principal of the school, told the Variety that nothing in the building was salvageable.

The classrooms were of "temporary" construction, with corrugated tin walls and roof, and interior partitions of wood. The building was approximately 10 years old.

By the time he arrived at the school, Santos said, the firemen had already finished putting out the fire and had left. Only the Fire Chief was still on the scene.

The Reading Center, housed in a separate building right next to the burned-down classroom, was also damaged, the roof and wall showing damage from the fire, and the floor partially flooded by water from the fire hoses. The Reading Center building is a permanent structure, with concrete walls and a single roof.

Public Works crews were on the scene early in the day, and by 10 a.m. had almost completed clearing the still-smoking wreckage from the building's concrete foundation.

School Superintendent Henry Sablan later told the Variety that the Governor had agreed to use the contingency funds for replacing the classrooms. They will be semi-permanent, he said, with concrete walls and tin roofing. "We are in the process of procuring materials and furniture" right now, he added.

Total cost figures for the loss have not been completed. Sablan's first estimate was that it would come to $30,000 or more. Others told the Variety it could go as high as $50,000.

CAMACHO TO FILE $10 MILLION LAWSUIT AGAINST GOVERNOR TENORIO; DARES TENORIOS TO MAKE PUBLIC THEIR PERSONAL FINANCES AND BUSINESS INTERESTS.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Four years ago, Governor Tenorio and Lt. Governor Tenorio promised to run a clean and honest government. As you know, there are all sorts of reports and allegations of fraud, bribery, and kickbacks involving not only the Governor himself, but also the Lt. Governor and members of his administration.

The Loma Linda account is only one of those allegations of corruption in the Tenorio Administration. The Attorney General's report on this matter is neither complete nor final. It raises more questions than answers. Because the Attorney General has never investigated nor prosecuted any of these allegations of corruption in the Tenorio Administration, it comes as no surprise that his report, of course, clears the Governor of wrongdoing. This report was hastily put together to help in the re-election of the Governor, who is, of course, his employer. In short, the report is a whitewash.

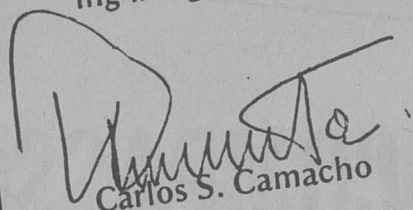

In connection with the Governor's lawsuit against me, I am also serving public notice that I will file a $10.0 million dollar suit against the Governor for libel and slander for his false and reckless accusation against me.

In the public interest, and to clear the record once and for all, Vice Speaker Tudela and myself now ask both candidates for the Republican Party to make public their personal finances and business interests, including the following:

- all personal bank accounts in and outside the Northern Marianas including those of spouses and dependents;
- all credit card accounts;
- all business interests in their names; and
- all business interests in the names of spouses, dependents, relatives, in-laws, trustees, and business associates.

Allegations of corruptions in the Tenorio Administration are not only popular subjects of conversations among our people but are also regularly brought up by overseas business visitors to our islands.

If the Governor and Lt. Governor are clean and honest, they should be more than happy to make public their personal finances and business interests. Of course, Vice Speaker Tudela and myself are ready to do the same once the Governor and his Lt. Governor have agreed to this request. We dare the Governor and Lt. Governor to disclose their financial records before November 3, 1985 in the interest of maintaining integrity and honesty in government. Thank you.

GUY GABALDON
PRESIDENT

INTER-ISLAND TRANSPORT CO.
P.O. BOX 1223, SAIPAN, MARIANA ISLANDS (U.S.A.) 96950

Mr. George Bush
Vice President of the United States
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Bush:

You have been made a Patsy and have been used by an ex-convict to further his hold on the Commonwealth Administration. Governor Pedro P. Tenorio is nothing more than a figurehead for the ex-convict, Ramon Guerrero, who is the "SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GOVERNOR."

Those who control the Governor's Office are his in-laws, RAMON GUERRERO and the Commonwealth Personnel Officer, Jesus Mafnas. These two run the whole show here. The unlimited power to hire and fire, especially in a small community as this, will keep the votes in line.

Although you disclaimed any political motivation for your stopover on Saipan, you, in effect, endorsed your fellow Republican, Pedro P. Tenorio. Incidentally, I am a Republican, but first and foremost I am a Conservative American who disapproves of the importation of RED CHINESE SLAVE LABOR TO BUILD OUR FEDERALLY FUNDED SAIPAN HOSPITAL. It was under Governor Tenorio's Administration that our sworn enemy, Red China, was allowed to send FIFTY DOLLAR PER MONTH LABORERS to work in a United States Territory. I am sure that you will realize that it is impossible for a legitimate American contractor to underbid SLAVE LABOR.

You and I both fought here during World War II. Your record as a Pilot is well known. I, as a young Marine, set a record in Marine Corps History by capturing more than one thousand of the enemy and killing thirty three brave Japanese soldiers. Now, what you and I fought for, and what 4,000 young Marines died on these beaches for, has been taken over by an ex-convict who did time in a penitentiary for fraud and embezzlement. Right where the Governor's office is presently located is where we dug in on D-Day. Now the Governor, the Lt. Governor and RAMON GUERRERO daily piss on the graves of those who died to set them free.

Governor Tenorio has become Richard Montoya's "FAIR HAired BOY" and Montoya is doing everything he can to keep Tenorio in office. You were suckered in by Montoya, Ramon Guerrero, Jesus Mafnas and others who are mentioned in the attached report I had made while I was the Chief of Commonwealth Police Intelligence.

If Tenorio is re-elected I will continue to live here even though the gangster element will try to make it hot for me. I owe it to the 4,000 who died taking this island to continue fighting the Mafia. Incidentally, it was Governor Tenorio who first brought to Saipan the Mafia controlled slot machines.

Very truly yours,

Guy Gabaldon

The Honorable Carlos S. Camacho
Former Governor
Saipan, CM 96950

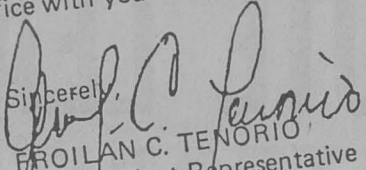

Dear Governor Camacho:

I wish to congratulate you on your nomination by the members of our great Democratic Party to be the candidate for governor in November. As the first governor of our young commonwealth, I can't think of anybody else more qualified for this office than you. And at a time when our government is desperately in need of leadership, I look forward to your election and that leadership in your second administration.

The next four years are critical. Unless we have a governor who is not afraid to make tough and unpopular decisions, I'm afraid that we will see the end of self-government as we had so courageously negotiated with the United States in the covenant and have so enjoyed since the birth of the commonwealth. During your first term as governor, you proved that you could make those decisions; I have every confidence that you can do it again.

I just hope that our people feel that I have ably represented them and our government in the United States in the last two years, and will vote to give me the opportunity to continue that representation. With you as the governor, I could finally fulfill the mandate which the voters conferred upon me in the 1983 election. As you know, that mandate has been denied this office by the present administration. After the Third Legislature and the governor so hastily stripped my office of certain representative functions with the eleventh-hour enactment of Public Law 3-92, the ability of this office to perform its constitutional duties has been greatly diminished. Only you can restore the dignity that this office so rightfully deserves.

You have my full unconditional support for the good of our people and our young commonwealth. I pledge the cooperation of my office with your next administration if the people see fit to re-elect me in November.

Sincerely,

FROILAN C. TENORIO

October 25, 1985

Dear Commonwealth Bank Depositors:

I am writing to you about a matter of grave concern to both of us -- the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars by depositors like yourself, including the government and, consequently, every taxpayer in the Commonwealth, in the collapse of the Commonwealth Bank.

I am concerned as a former public servant who firmly committed to the belief that the government has a responsibility to protect the financial interests of all the people, not just the few. You, of course, are concerned as a direct victim of the Governor's disinterest and gross negligence in the Commonwealth Bank affair, by which you lost your savings.

You have probably read or heard on the news already how the government lost its effort in court to get an insurance company to pay for its deposits (not yours) in the Commonwealth bank. The government lost that case because it had failed to tell the surety company that it knew that the Commonwealth bank was undercapitalized and could have its license revoked. This is the kind of mismanagement and carelessness by the Governor that cost you your savings.

The Governor had all the necessary tools to protect your deposits, including tough new Banking laws, but he failed to act. Indeed, under the Banking Act, he was required to step in, but he did nothing.

Because I am so disturbed about this matter, I wish to make a commitment to you personally. If I am elected November 3, 1985 to be your Governor again, my very first action as Governor will be to appoint a special investigator or a commission to investigate the collapse of the Commonwealth Bank and take every step possible to recover every penny of your deposits. It is essential that our people be able to have confidence in local banks. As your Governor, I pledge to return sound management and concern for the people to the administration of our government.

Thank you for the opportunity to share with you my feelings on this matter of such great importance to us all.

Sincerely,

(Dr.) Carlos S. Camacho

ments he "suffered and continues to suffer the indignities of being held up to ridicule, his honesty demeaned, his standing as a citizen impugned and belittled, and his reputation both as private person, a public official, and as a candidate has been severely damaged."

Camacho is asking for punitive damages of $10 million and special and general damages of not less than $50,000 plus costs.

He also asked the court not to grant Tenorio's petition for $1 million in damages for alleged libelous and slanderous statements attributed to Camacho.

Asked for comment yesterday, Tenorio denied that he accused Camacho of damaging Commonwealth Bank. He said he was referring to Camacho's brother who was an officer of the bank before it collapsed.

On the statements regarding Camacho's acquisition of pigs from the Department of Agriculture before he left office, Tenorio said the allegation was still being investigated by the Attorney General.

Attorney General Rexford Kosack said in a press release that his office has found the fiscal 1982 and 1983 receipts on the pig dispersal program. He said 16 persons have been interviewed and 24 others are being sought.

According to Kosack, the investigation would determine whether Camacho obtained pigs during his term, whether his name was on the waiting list, whether he obtained the best breeders, and whether his government office was used to obtain them.

On Camacho's charge that he spent more time and money in investigating Tenorio's alleged Loma Linda bank account than the pig issue, Kosack said investigations on both allegations were started at the same time. He said the more thorough the investigation on the pigs is the better for establishing the truth.

Kosack denied that he is seeking another term in his office. He said he informed Tenorio several months ago that he would not seek re-appointment. On the charge that he might be eyeing a seat in the judiciary, Kosack said "nobody has talked to me about that."

In yesterday's press conference, Camacho challenged Tenorio to a second debate before the election.

He also asked Tenorio and the Lt. governor to disclose in public all their financial records including bank accounts and investments here and abroad.

In response, Tenorio said: "I don't want to be part of this type of a debate where you criticize or try to smear an individual."

"All along I thought the debate (October 7) would be based on issues, not on personal, vindictive attacks," he added.

On the disclosure of financial records, Tenorio said all his records are open to the public.

Business directory out

A new version of a local business directory is now available on the markets.

Saipan Secretarial Service has just released its 117-page "Northern Marianas 1986 Business Directory."

The Directory is in four major parts: an alphabetic listing of "advertising businesses" by name; an alphabetic list of products and services of the "advertisers;" a list of government (CNMI and U.S.) office phone numbers; and an alphabetic list — by type of business — of business license holders as provided by the NMI Department of Commerce and Labor. The Directory also contains an alphabetic index of product/services categories. Approximately 225 "advertisers" are included, with their location as well as address and phone numbers, and name of the proprietor.

There are some oddities in the Directory. The Commerce and Labor Department listing under "Motels," for example, contains six names, three of which would appear to be "advertisers." Yet under the same heading of "Motels" in the list of "advertiser" products and services, only one name appears.

Some well-known businesses, such as First Floral, or Saipan Farmer's Market, do not appear anywhere in the Directory, not even under the Commerce and Labor Department listings.

Among the government agencies not listed are the U.S. State Department, Headstart and the State Occupational Information Coordinating Committee.

Stacy Pounds, president of Saipan Secretarial Services, told the Variety the Directory is planned as an annual publication, with the next one due out in September of 1986. She said she would welcome suggestions on improvements for the next edition.

Pounds said the work this year was done in partnership with Joyce Short, under the auspices of Saipan Secretarial Services.

The Directory is available at selected stores on Saipan. It can also be obtained directly from Saipan Secretarial Services.

Rota cheers Tenorio

Over 400 cheering Rotanese crowded into the Rota Airport to give Governor Pedro P. Tenorio and Lt. Governor Pedro A. Tenorio an enthusiastic welcome when they arrived in separate planes Saturday, Oct. 19.

Many of the people had been waiting at the airport hours before the arrival of the dignitaries. According to members of the gathering, it was the largest group of people ever to assemble at the small airport to greet incoming guests.

The Governor, Lt. Governor and their wives were escorted through the village of Sinapolo then on to Songsong Village led by a half dozen motorcycles, some with waiving Commonwealth flags, and followed by 138 cars and trucks filled with people.

They spoke at a rally later in the evening with supporters Thomas Mendiola, Democratic candidate for Mayor, Fermin Atalig, Republican candidate for Senate, Joaquin Atalig, Democratic candidate for Senate, and Melchor Mendiola, Republican candidate for Representative. (Wnedy L. Lusa)

Top mentors cited

Romeo Pagapular, Max Pangelinan and Albert De Los Reyes have been selected as teachers of the month by Mt. Carmel High School.

Pagapular was picked as teacher of the month for August. His work in preparation for the upcoming school year has resulted in a vastly improved book room service, an accurate inventory of books available and an improved system for the tracking of textbooks. His work in the audio-visual center has resulted in a greatly improved A/V room, with repaired and improved equipment available.

Pagapular has also worked hard to improve the Freshman mathematics curriculum by writing a placement exam for all incoming ninth graders and then designing a curriculum to better meet the needs of the ninth grade students. His work has resulted in the establishment of a new basic mathematics class and the math lab during Activities Period.

Pagapular also handles all the school's textbook ordering, audio/visual needs, and other equipment orders. His continued dedication to Mt. Carmel has made our school a better place—not only this year—but for the many years he has served here.

Pangelinan and Delos Reyes were selected as the teachers of the month for September. Both teachers have worked beyond the call of duty to provide new equipment and other improvements for the use of students.

Pangelinan started out the year by cutting down his own trees in order to construct gymnastics equipment for P.E. students.

Con-Con proposals' fate doubtful

This past summer 24 people worked for 30 days straight — and most of them worked another five days beyond that — to update and improve the seven-year-old NMI Constitution. These 24 people — and countless others who worked behind the scenes — gave up time with their families and children, gave up their evenings, Saturdays and Sundays, left their jobs behind, interrupted their regular schedules, for a full month and more. They did this in order to fulfill the responsibility placed upon them by the voters — the responsibility to re-examine the basic document governing the Commonwealth, and to determine what, if any, changes might be needed to keep it strong, effective, and in tune with the times.

Thousands of dollars were spent, as well, to pay the ConCon delegates, to rent their meeting space, to provide the many reams of paper the Convention consumed, to meet the cost of needed goods and services that could not be borrowed, bartered, or gotten as outright gifts.

With all this work, all that money — and the dollars and effort still being expended by the Post Convention Committee to educate the voters on the amendments, by the Board of Elections to print up the lengthy ballots and to staff the polls, turn out to have been a total waste?

Right now, it looks that way. It looks like most, if not all of the amendments, will be ignored on election day. Not many people appear to be interested in, or to have formed an opinion on, more than one or two of the 44 proposed amendments. There has been virtually no discussion of them in the media. Only a handful of voters has been showing up at the village meetings. And there are only 10 days left before people are to go to the polls to vote on the proposed amendments.

What happens if all of the amendments die? If not one of them, or even if only 2 or 3, get enough votes to pass? Will the rest be lost forever?

The NMI Constitution makes no mention of amendments that fail. Therefore, there would seem to be no reason why the "failed" amendments could not be brought back to the voters again. The simplest way might be to ask the Legislature to propose them as "legislative initiatives." According to the NMI Constitution, the Legislature may propose amendments by "the affirmative vote of three-fourths of the members of each house present and voting."

The Legislature could, then, "save" the work, and the investment, that the 44 amendments represent. It could do this, it would seem, in one of two ways. It could give a blanket endorsement to the work of the ConCon, and vote approval on all of the amendments that "failed" in the vote, leaving the decision of acceptance or rejection to the voters. Or it could debate each of them on its own, and "re-issue" only those the Legislature approved and agreed to. There may well be a few amendments that the Legislature would not approve. But at least they would have gotten fuller consideration, some public debate, a second hearing.

Should this be done with each and every one of the amendments that "failed"? Not necessarily. If enough "no" votes are cast for any of the amendments to clearly show that a majority of the voters are opposed to that particular amendment, it should probably be allowed to die. On the other hand, if the total number of votes cast on an amendment is very small, then regardless of whether most of the votes were for or against the amendment, it should probably be reconsidered.

And then there will be time and opportunity for more people to become more informed on the proposed amendments. There will not be the distraction, and total pre-occupation, with a gubernatorial election when the amendments come up for a vote the second time.

Not all of the amendments have an equal significance, of course. Some make relatively minor changes to the Constitution — adding five years to a minimum age requirement for public office here and there, defining the size of the vote required for certain actions, etc. If they failed, and were not reconsidered, it would not matter that much. But others propose significant and substantial changes to the Constitution.

And, based on what is happening now, with the election so totally overshadowing the proposed constitutional amendments, the Legislature might well want to consider initiating a constitutional amendment of its own — one that would permit voting on amendments to the Constitution to be done independently of voting in general elections.

The point is that if, as now appears likely, the majority of the voters just do not vote on most of the 44 proposed constitutional amendments, and nothing more is done, the entire ConCon process will have been a colossal waste.

Such waste is not inevitable. There are ways to avoid and prevent it. It would seem only reasonable and prudent that some effort be made to do so — to obtain fair value and return from the considerable investment made by the people of the CNMI in the Constitutional Convention — regardless of who takes the initiative.

World meet to discuss CNMI pepper

Information on what peppers grow well in each of the islands of the NMI, and how much it costs to produce them, will be presented to the XXII (22nd) International Horticultural Congress as a part of its official program in August of 1986. The Congress will be meeting at the University of California at Davis.

Charles B. Frear, horticulture specialist and a member of the faculty of Northern Marianas College, received notice in September that his paper on "Varietal Selection and Cost of Production of Bell Pepper in the Western Pacific" has been accepted for presentation at the Congress. Frear will make a "poster presentation," which includes setting up for three days during the week-long conference, a display of pictures, graphs, or other illustrations on the topic to be presented.

Frear is conducting research on the growing of bell peppers on Rota, Tinian and Saipan under a U.S. Department of Agriculture Cooperative State Research Service program. Funding for this program first became available to the NMI in September of 1983. Northern Marianas College is co-operating with the NMI Department of Natural Resources in the research project.

Harvesting of the third crop of peppers will begin shortly, Frear said. Two crops are being grown in the dry season and two during the rainy season to test the bell pepper varieties. Preliminary data for each island on the first two crops should be ready in November, Frear said. Among the data being collected are resistance to bacteria (especially in the rainy season), keeping quality (how long they last in storage) and suitability for shipping (in part, a matter of the thickness of the walls of the peppers). Seeds being used in each of the four plantings have all come from the same original batch of seeds acquired for the research. "We'll be able to tell how much it costs per pound to produce each variety of pepper," Frear said. With that, he noted, it will be easier to determine a fair price for selling the peppers.

The proposed amendments

ARTICLE XI — PUBLIC LANDS

Amendment No. 32 — amends Marianas Public Land Corporation, Section 4, and Fundamental Policies, Section 5, of Article XI — Public Lands

TEXT: Marianas Public Land Corporation. There is hereby established the Marianas Public Land Corporation.

a) The corporation shall have five directors, appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate, who shall direct the affairs of the corporation for the benefit of the people of the Commonwealth who are of Northern Marianas descent.

b) One director shall be a resident of the first senatorial district, one shall be a resident of the second senatorial district, and three shall be residents of the third senatorial district; provided that of the five directors, at least one shall be a woman and at least one shall be a person of Carolinian descent. Each director shall be a citizen or national of the United States, a resident of the Commonwealth for at least five years immediately preceding the date on which the director takes office, a person with at least two years management experience, a person who has not been convicted of a crime carrying a maximum sentence of imprisonment of more than six months, a person who is able to speak Chamorro or Carolinian and a person of Northern Marianas descent.

c) The directors shall serve a term of four years except that two of the first five directors appointed shall serve a term of two years and three shall serve a term of four years. A director may not hold a paid position in the corporation. The directors shall be held to strict standards of fiduciary care.

d) The corporation shall have the powers available to a corporation under Commonwealth law and shall act only by the affirmative vote of a majority of the five directors.

e) The directors shall make an annual written report to the people of the Commonwealth describing the management of public lands and the nature and effect of transfers of interests in public land made during the preceding year and disclosing the interests of the directors in Commonwealth land.

f) After this Constitution has been in effect for at least twelve years, the Corporation shall be dissolved and its functions shall be transferred to the executive branch of government."

Section 5: Fundamental Policies. The Marianas Public Land Corporation shall follow certain fundamental policies in the performance of its responsibilities.

a) The corporation shall make available some portion of the public lands for a homestead program. A person is not eligible for more than one agricultural and one village homestead. A person may not receive a freehold interest in a homestead for three years after the grant of a homestead and may not transfer a freehold interest in a homestead for ten years after receipt except that these requirements are waived for persons who have established a continuous use of public lands for at least fifteen years as of the effective date of this Constitution. At any time after receiving the freehold interest, the grantee may mortgage the land provided that all funds received from the mortgages be devoted to the improvement of the land. Other requirements relating to the homestead program shall be provided by law.

b) The corporation may not transfer a freehold interest in public lands for twenty years after the effective date of this Constitution, except for homesteads as provided under Section 5(a), or for use for a public purpose by another agency of government, or for land exchanges to accomplish a public purpose as authorized by law.

c) The corporation may not transfer a leasehold interest in public lands that exceeds twenty-five years including renewal rights. An extension of not more than fifteen years may be given upon approval by three-fourths of the members of the legislature.

d) The corporation may not transfer an interest in more than five hectares of public land for use for commercial purposes without the approval of the legislature in a joint session.

e) The corporation may not transfer an interest, and may prohibit the erection of any permanent structure, in public lands located within one hundred fifty feet of the high water mark of a sandy beach, except that the corporation may authorize construction of facilities for public purposes.

f) The corporation shall adopt a comprehensive land use plan with respect to public lands including priority of uses and may amend the plan as appropriate.

g) The corporation shall receive all moneys from the public lands except those from lands in which freehold interest has been transferred to another agency of government pursuant to section 5(b), and shall transfer these moneys after the end of the fiscal year to the Marianas Public Land Trust except that the corporation shall retain the amount necessary to meet reasonable expenses of administration and management, land surveying, homestead development, and any other expenses reasonably necessary for the accomplishment of its functions. The annual budget of the corporation shall be submitted to the legislature for information purposes only."

EFFECT: This amendment would reduce the MPLC Board of Directors from 9 members to 5, require that the members be held to "strict standards of fiduciary care," and would prohibit any Board member from holding a full time paid position in MPLC.

In addition, it would require that MPLC be dissolved, after the Constitution has been in effect at least 12 years.

It would also require MPLC to submit its budget to the Legislature, but for "information purposes only."

Amendment No. 33 — amends two parts (a) and (f) of Marianas Public Land Trust, Section 6, of Article XI, Public Lands

TEXT: "a) The trust shall have three trustees appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. After this Constitution has been in effect for ten years, the number of trustees appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate shall be increased to five. Three shall be from Saipan, one from Rota, and one from Tinian. At least one trustee shall be a woman and at least one trustee shall be of Carolinian descent. The trustees shall serve for a term of six years except that the term of office shall be staggered, accomplished as follows: three trustees shall serve for four years and two trustees shall serve for six years as determined by drawing of lots."

f) The trustees shall be held to strict standards of fiduciary care. Each trustee shall annually submit to the governor and the presiding officers of the legislature a report disclosing their financial affairs, as provided by law."

EFFECT: This amendment would increase the number of members of the MPLT from three to five, after the Constitution has been in effect for ten years. It also calls for their terms to be staggered, and would specify the makeup of the trustees.

The amendment would also require the Trustees to disclose their "financial affairs" each year they are a trustee.

BACKGROUND/COMMENT: The Committee Recommendation Report explains that ten years after the Constitution has been in effect, the MPLT will no longer be required to limit its investments to U.S. government obligations. At that time, when other investments would be allowable, it was felt that a "a broader viewpoint and larger group of directors, "would be needed as "the Trust starts considering more risky investments." To provide this, it is being proposed that the Constitution be amended to provide for five, instead of only three, trustees.

NMI rich in cobalt

Ocean bottom crusts bearing strategic metals vital to the U.S. economy and national security have been located in the Exclusive Economic Zone (EEZ) of the U.S. Territories in the Pacific and the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands according to a report from the Interior Department's Minerals Management Service.

"The crusts are found on the slopes of submarine ridges and seamounts at water depths between 800 and 2,400 meters," said William D. Bettenberg, Director of the Mineral's Management Service (MMS). "They are rich in strategic metals which are important to the U.S. economy and national defense. The crusts include cobalt, manganese, and platinum."

The EEZ extends for 200 nautical miles seaward from the coasts of the United States, its territories and possessions. President Reagan's 1983 proclamation creating the more than 3-billion-acre zone gave the United States jurisdiction over the living and non-living resources of the EEZ. MMS is currently studying crust resources in the Hawaii EEZ and the Johnston Island EEZ in the Pacific. The latter area is covered by the report.

The 21-page report discusses the geological and physical properties which control the crust distribution and quality. Six plates enclosed with the report show the distribution of ridges and seamounts within the EEZ of the Territories, the geologic ages of these features, and the prospective metal content of the crust samples that have been recovered in each area.

The authors have rated the cobalt-rich manganese crust potential for the areas based on their available technical information. The highest potential is determined to exist in the Marshall Islands, followed by Kingman-Palmyra, Johnston Island, and Wake Island. Lesser potential is found at the Federated States of Micronesia, Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Jarvis Island, Palau, Guam, Howland-Baker, and American Samoa.

Threats to endangered species

Recently, some species of birds and mammals have come to public attention as endangered species. Perhaps the best known example is our national symbol, the Bald Eagle, which is endangered in many states. But what is an endangered species? What makes a species "endangered," and what laws protect endangered species?

An endangered species is one whose numbers are very small or declining, such that the species could die out altogether, in other words become extinct. The causes threatening endangered species are many, and each endangered species has its own problems. The sorts of places where a species lives, its habitat, may be destroyed by man's activities. For example, when farmers drain a swamp they are eliminating the habitat of ducks and other water birds.

Another cause is introduction of a new disease.

Predators like rats and snakes pose another threat to birds. Man can be the most dangerous predator of all. The killing of too many nesting sea turtles and the taking of their eggs is a good example.

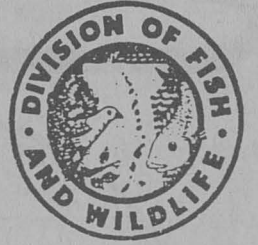

Although laws regulate the exploitation of all birds and animals, endangered species are specially protected by the federal Endangered Species Act of 1973 as amended. When Congress introduced the Act, it recognized that endangered species of fish and wildlife are of value to the public for purposes of enjoyment, recreation, education, and sometimes, commerce. These species are part of our natural heritage. When a species is determined to be in danger of extinction throughout most or all of its geographical range, it is officially listed as an endangered species. Anyone may petition the government to list a species as endangered. The decision for listing species comes about after a long review process involving government agencies and public hearings. Once a species is listed, it then cannot be hunted, transported, or traded in commerce without special permission.

The penalties for violations are stiff. Since the main aim of the Act is to help the species recover in numbers, the Act also provides for the listing of critical habitat, those places needed for the species to survive. By listing critical habitat, an area is "flagged" as needing special consideration, and federal agencies must consult with the Fish and Wildlife Service to ensure that their actions do not adversely affect an endangered species or its habitats.

The listings of a species as endangered also means that the species may be subject to further management by state and federal agencies. Actually, few species in the Northern Marianas are listed as endangered species. The Federal List includes two species of whales, several sea turtles, and seven species of birds. Of the birds, the Micronesian Megapode and Marianas Mallard, a kind of duck, are the most seriously threatened.

Solution sought on power problem

In a recently adopted resolution, House Floor Leader Pedro Nakatsukasa requested Governor Pedro P. Tenorio to recommend a plan of action to upgrade the fluctuating power distribution to the villages of San Antonio and Koblerville.

A press release from Nakatsukasa's office states, "This is a problem which has been with us for some time. "Nakatsukasa said," and is getting worse as our urban sprawl accelerates-Koblerville for instance and demand on the power distribution system increase numerous complaints and requests for action to improve the system have been made by elected representatives and by individual citizens to no avail. If the immediate resources and capabilities of Department of Public

P. Nakatsukasa

Works are unequal to the task, then give us a reasonable plan of action and the Legislature will assist, is the thrust of the resolution. We need a comprehensive plan and to allocate resources to carry it out. Band-aid solutions such as occasionally adding a transformer here or there and advising consumers to have fewer appliances on line in the long run only aggravates the situation and do not boost the supply/distribution capability of the system to any significant degree.

There has been a great deal of talk lately about privatization of some government services in order to improve services and cut costs all around. Power generation/distribution in private hands is impressively successful elsewhere — why not here?

It has become something of an axiom that Government cannot match the effectiveness of private enterprise in the operation of utilities, so let us get out of it as quickly as possible. If that be the "Plan", I will be in support of it. I recall that a year or so we were offered a very attractive power generation/distribution take-over package by a French company. What happened to it? Also, in 1984 the Legislature adopted as a CNMI planning document, the Commonwealth Energy Plan of 1983, a plan of great significance to the Commonwealth and which earned use national recognition for its innovations and recommendations. What are we doing to implement it?

It seems to me that although our apparent resources — money — are meager, we do have a few positives in our kitbag. It is high time we put these pieces together and get a constructive more on. It is no longer excusable to deny our citizens needed services on and to impose hardship grounds of lack of money, transformers, wires, power poles, generator failures and what not, there are tools at our disposal, if top management will charter a new course.

If would of course be unrealistic to expect a sudden change for the better, but if determined efforts are made, perhaps by next X'mas more lights will shine brighter, "Nakatsukasa speculated.

Nakatsukasa also commented on House Bill 281 which he introduced to help the disabled.

He said: "The bill, codifies parking procedures and privileges for disabled persons in the Commonwealth.

As we all know, "Nakatsukasa points out," to be disabled has some very limiting effects on a person's mobility and when travelling by automobile needs to be able to park as close as is physically possible to his objective and to be assured that such parking space is available and unencumbered.

The bill defines "disability" and creates a "Certificate of Disability" in order that such a person may be able to prove his condition and claim and enjoy parking privileges not available to others.

Hofschneider to receive national award

Hofschneider, the Coordinator of the Child & Family Services of the Division of Youth Services, to receive the Administration for Children, Youth & Families' Commissioner's Award for outstanding contributions in the prevention of child abuse and neglect in the Commonwealth Northern Marianas.

Ms. Olopai-Taitano, the over-all Head of the Division of Youth Services, who highly recommended Ms. Hofschneider for the outstanding award and was involved in the selection process of the award, was most impressed of her staff member's outstanding contributions in the prevention of child abuse and neglect. Not passive

Dear Editor:

Please allow me the use of your column to provide the people of Chalan Kanoa and Susupe villages with facts which will correct certain misleading statements and unfair criticisms aimed at Speaker Ben Sablan and myself.

While we all realize that "campaign season" is once again upon us in the Commonwealth, and political supporters and candidates have a tendency to engage in wild accusations, they will earn the respect (and perhaps the votes) of their constituents if those statements have some basis in fact, not fiction.

One such misleading and clearly erroneous statement is that Speaker Sablan and I have been passive members of the Fourth Commonwealth Legislature. While these purveyors of untruth have no specific facts to substantiate this accusation, I submit the following:

1) Those who are familiar with the legislative process will attest to the fact that being the presiding officer of the House is a very demanding job. Many will share my observation that Speaker Sablan has handled the job intelligently, compassionately, fairly and efficiently.

2) Sepaker Sablan and I have introduced onto the floor of the House of Representatives 56 bills, of which 11 have been enacted into public laws while others are pending Senate or Committee action.

3) During the entire term of the Fourth Commonwealth Legislature the Speaker has never missed a single session and I have 7 excused absences due to my participation at U.S. Congressional Hearings and participation in the Covenant Funding Renegotiation meetings. Incidentally, my participation in those matters has contributed to the decision of the U.S. Congress to amend certain statutes which will increase the possibility that the remaining unpaid Title I war claims may be paid by late 1986 or early 1987. In addition, the work in which I participated as one of the Covenant financial negotiators, has led to a minimum of $228 million for the Commonwealth in the next seven years.

4) I also introduced House Bill 175, which became P.L. 4-22, and which appropriated $2.8 million for salary increases of all executive branch government employees.

Another such erroneous and misleading statement is that Speaker Sablan and I have done nothing which has brought any tangible benefits directly to the communities of Chalan Kanoa and Susupe. To refute that I offer the following additional concrete evidence:

1) P.L. 4-19, passed during our current term, expedited the receipt of $4 million from the U.S. Department of Agriculture by the CNMI Government. Of this amount, approximately $2 million is earmarked for the improvement of the Chalan Kanoa and Susupe village water systems. This will finally make available sufficient money to completely restore the water lines to all households of Chalan Kanoa and Susupe.

2) $100,000 was appropriated, this term, for a new headstart building to be built on the grounds of the William S. Reyes School.

3) $50,000 was also appropriated, this term, for an eighth classroom in addition to the seven currently under construction at the William S. Reyes School.

4) $26,000 was also made available to fence the school and another $10,000 to purchase playground equipment.

5) $50,000 was made available to restore houses of historical significance in Chalan Kanoa Dist. 3 and 4.

6) Four pala-palas have been constructed at the beaches of Dist. 4 at a cost of $10,000.

7) Congressman Ike Demapan has fenced in the Susupe basketball court and Speaker Sablan and I have had the Dist. 1 fenced in at a cost of $5,000 each.

In addition, I have failed to list the numerous times that constituents have come to the Speaker's or my office for assistance with some personal problem.

Let me reemphasize that all of these projects and the necessary funding became available during the Fourth Legislature. Through our efforts approximately $2.246 million have been expended for the direct benefit of the Community and people of Chalan Kanoa and Susupe.

As anyone can see, Mr. Editor, the public record speaks louder and truer than any empty and misleading campaign promises. That public record proves that Kilili and Ben Pacho delivered and continue to deliver leadership and service to the People.

Sincerely yours,

s/Gregorio C. Sablan

UN celebrates 40th anniversary

UN remains sole forum for peace

(Following is a message from United Nations Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar to on the observance of the 40th anniversary of the UN).

The observance of the fortieth anniversary of the coming into force of the United Nations charter has attracted the largest congregation of heads of state or government that has ever taken place. Their participation signifies a clear affirmation of the central place of the United Nations in the international system and of its indispensability for maintaining peace and promoting human advancement.

The affirmation should not be regarded as merely ritualistic. When leaders of nations engage themselves earnestly in examining the outcome of international effort over four decades and formulating its requirements for the future, it is a sign at least of a strong current of internationalism running through all societies. It implies a recognition of the interdependence of nations and the fundamental necessity of a multilateral approach to the solution of global problems. Perceptions, of course, differ. Given the divisions based on ideologies and the disparities of economic levels, it would be unrealistic to expect uniformity in evaluations of the organizations' endeavors. The United Nations was not constituted to erase all differences of outlook among its members its purpose is to ensure that these differences do not impede concerted actions in the attainment of their common ends. Tension are endemic in international affairs it is beyond human ingenuity to avert them altogether but the United Nations was established to prevent their escalating into conflicts and the widening of these conflicts.

In these respects, it has failed in some cases and succeeded in others. The failures must be frankly admitted but, when analyzed, they prove what hardly needs a proof: that nothing can be achieved when member states do not co-operate. On the other hand, the successes are a testimony to a capacity to contain or resolve conflicts, with the co-operation of member states, which no other human institution can claim to possess and which the world community cannot afford to do without. The elements of danger in the present international situation argue not for dispensing with the instrument but for improving its functioning. The acceptance of this truth, even if it does not bring immediate results, may yet herald an end to that erosion of confidence which has caused grave apprehensions and indeed much questioning and criticism in recent years.

The United Nations remains the only forum for a comprehensive dialogue among governments on all matters of international concern. Considering the fact that the world of today is a theatre of rapid change, the dialogue by itself serves as a corrective to the isolationist and parochial responses that could lead to greater disarray. All states acknowledge that the massive transition witnessed by the contemporary age has not diminished the relevance nor impaired the validity of the principles of our charter. This acknowledgement should fortify our faith in the value of our work.

Tenorios join Rota children's festival

By Wendy L. Lusa

A United Nations Children's Day and International Year of the Youth event was observed Sunday, October 20 at the Senior Citizen's Park in Rota. The event was attended by a diverse assembly of Rotanese ranging from babies to senior citizens.

The occasion sponsored by the Local Spiritual Assembly of the Baha'is of Rota featured speakers, island food, music, a puppet show, and games and activities for the children. Lt. Governor Pedro A. Tenorio addressed the gathering stating his view of the importance of such an event to honor the youth and children. He said, "Everyday should be children's day."

To many the highlight of the day was a musical performance by musician John "Duke" Kaainoa accompanied by the Lt. Governor. Kaainoa was also accompanied later in the day by Tommy Mendiola who played the guitar and sang Chamorro songs.

Rota Elementary School Principal Rita Inos, one of Rota's most respected and admired educators also addressed the gathering in English and Chamorro. She stated that the event symbolizes the ideal expressed in the Mission Statement adopted recently by the educators of the Rota Elementary School which expresses the desire to assist the students by providing the highest quality of education and developing individual potentials in order to become excellent citizens.

Jerry Luciani, a member of the Rota Baha'i Community of Rota explained that Universal Children's Day was established in 1953 by the United Nations and is now observed in hundreds of countries and localities throughout the world. This is the second year that the event has been commemorated on Rota.

Luciani spoke on the theme, "Children and Youth Together: Looking Forward to World Peace." He said the event was held "to honor our young people, to share with them our love, and to rededicate ourselves to educating them to be true world citizens so that they can take the peace and friendship which we have here and offer it as a gift to the world."

Baha'i sends world peace message

Heads of state around the world have received a letter from the Baha'is of the world which states that world peace is not only possible, but inevitable at this state of mankind's ever-maturing existence.

The letter was presented to all world leaders simultaneously on October 24th, the anniversary of the United Nations, the first institution created in the history of mankind to promote world peace.

Governor Pedro P. Tenorio, Representative Froilan C. Tenorio, Governor Ricardo J. Bordallo and Congressman Ben Blaz are among those leaders receiving this letter. Other world leaders receiving the letter include U.S. President Reagan, Japanese Prime Minister Nakasone, Soviet Premier Gorbachev, French President Mitterrand, Philippines President Marcos and British Prime Minister Thatcher.

Titled "The Promise of World Peace", this letter is a statement and an appeal to logic by the Universal House of Justice, the international governing body of the Baha'i Faith whose seat is in Haifa, Israel. The letter is addressed "To The Peoples of the World."

This letter defines the steps the Baha'is of the world believe the leaders and peoples of the planet must not take to achieve the goal of world peace today. . . a peace that the Baha'is believe is not at long last within the reach of all nations and peoples of the world.

The importance placed in this letter by the Baha'i world is evident in the world wide simultaneous presentations.

NMSA sets direction for amateur sports

The development of sports in the Northern Marianas will be directed towards a more effective and productive course with the establishment of the Northern Marianas Sports Association, according to Bill Sakovich and Rick Duenas.

"We will have more control over the use of sports facilities and the conduct of fund-raising activities," the two officials of the Saipan Amateur Sports Association said in a press conference Monday.

Under the newly signed Public Law 4-66, SASA officials will exercise the functions of the NMSA pending the election of the officers of the new organization.

During the conference the two officials said the establishment of the NMSA will enable the Northern Marianas to avail itself of sports development funds from international sports groups such as the Olympics.

The NMSA will also coordinate fund-raising activities by the different sports organization in the Northern Marianas. Duenas and Sakovich said this will prevent duplication of fund-raising efforts and will ensure that each group is able to get a fair share of private sector donations for their projects.

Under the new law, all activities by local athletic groups must be cleared through the MNSA.

Participation in regional and international events will also be regulated by the NMSA. Duenas and Sakovich said NMSA will not dictate on the sports clubs as far as participation in off-island events are concerned but will try to allocate such participation to the different local teams.

The establishment of NMSA is also expected to increase the flow of funds for local sports development. PL 4-66 allows NMSA to request appropriation through the annual appropriations act. In the meantime, funds for the sports division of the Department of Culture and Community Affairs will be transferred to the NMSA.

SASA officials will start preparing for the organization of the NMSA in its meeting on Nov. 7 at the governor's conference room. At least nine active sports groups are represented in SASA.
