

PLANTATION LABORERS ARE GATHERING HERE

Just what the plantation laborers are doing who keep on coming to town is a matter of mystery. For some time past the arrivals at Oahu have exceeded the departures and yet the Oahu plantations report a shortage of labor which shows conclusively that laborers are not coming from the other islands in order to go to work on Oahu.

Neither are the Japanese leaving this island in any quantity, as is evidenced by a glance at the statistics of arrivals and departures which show that the former has for some time past exceeded the latter.

Some of the Japanese are probably staying with their friends or opening candy and ice-cream stores. Others are probably doing garden, house and stone work.

The incoming Russians, Portuguese, Spaniards and Filipinos are most likely squatting in the tenements of the city, many of them waiting for a chance to slip away unobserved to the Coast, where they have heard that wages in advance of those paid by the plantations are obtainable.

Dr. Victor Clark said this morning, in this connection, that the number of unemployed in San Francisco has considerably increased of late, this state of affairs being caused by laborers flocking to that city with a view to obtaining exposition work. This state of affairs filled the vacant jobs and it looks as if the seeker after work on the Coast from Hawaii would for some time to come find that he has had landed worse off than he started.

Technical Battling In Sea Bathing Case

Dr. Clegg testified this afternoon that a person might catch cholera from bathing in the Honolulu harbor waters under the conditions stated in Lightfoot's hypothetical question.

Bacteriologist, Moses T. Clegg, whose leprosy investigations in the Philippines and Hawaii are world-famed, occupied the witness stand in the sea bathing quarantine case this morning. His direct examination by Deputy County Attorney Milverton went into the habits of the cholera spirillum, its hold on life ashore and afloat and its mode of attacking man. Witness had not found it in samples of harbor water analyzed but said the experiments were limited. There would be a greater chance of finding the infection in a five thousand than in a thousand samples. As it needed oxygen to live the spirillum could exist only at the surface of water.

Toward the close of the direct examination objections to a series of questions were sustained, Judge Cooper eventually intimating the court's irritation at what seemed to be attempts of the prosecution to get around its rulings by putting disallowed questions again in disguised form. Mr. Milverton disclaimed any such intention and on showing that he was merely trying to bring out the witness said he thought, where the witness revealed that in reality he was testifying of ascertained facts and recognized authorities, the ruling was relaxed.

In one instance Mr. Lightfoot remarked that, while witness was recognized as one of the most eminent of bacteriologists, the question put to him was one that could only be answered by the Almighty, as it called for omniscience.

At a few minutes of eleven o'clock Mr. Lightfoot started on cross-examination. After preliminary queries he put a hypothetical interrogation a yard long relative to the probability of finding cholera bacteria in the harbor waters.

Mr. Milverton objected on the grounds of improper mixture of facts, wrongly stated facts and omissions of facts. He contradicted the statements of Captain Macaulay's testimony in the hypothesis.

Judge Cooper would not entertain an objection to the question as a whole, saying the right course of the objection would be to offer amendments to the question.

It was eventually ruled that Captain Macaulay's testimony on the harbor currents should be read, a proceeding that would keep the pending question in the air for at least an hour. The court itself had questioned the accuracy of the prosecution's interpretation of Captain Macaulay's testimony in some particulars.

LOCAL BATTERIES OFFICIALLY NAMED

The War Department has notified Governor Frear of the names for three new batteries in or near Honolulu. They are as follows:

Battery Hasbrouck, named after Brigadier-General H. C. Hasbrouck, who died December 17, 1910.

Battery Dudley, named after Brigadier-General E. S. Dudley, who died January 9, 1910.

Battery Tiernoon, named after Brigadier-General J. L. Tiernoon, who died March 30, 1910.

The names are allotted as follows: Fort Kamehameha: Battery Hasbrouck.

Fort de Russey: Battery Dudley.

Fort Armstrong: Battery Tiernoon.

SEASICK LAWYER LOST HIS CHANCE

J. M. Poepoe for plaintiff moves to reinstate the assumed case of Kapohuli by James Palkal, her attorney in fact, against P. E. R. Strauch and W. Paokalani, alias W. P. Kalani, which was dismissed for lack of prosecution. He makes affidavit that he was assigned to defend a case of burglary at Kalina, Hawaii, was detained there and arrived at Honolulu "hampered down by a severe attack of la grippe and seasickness," which prevented his appearing in court to ask for a continuance.

CAMPBELL HEARD FROM. Joshua Tucker, acting superintendent of public works, has received a letter from Marston Campbell stating that he is in good health and spirits and

ILLEGAL SUMMONS ORDERED QUASHED

Judge Robinson this morning granted the motion of defendants in the suit of Jose Dos Passos Rodrigues against Fortunato Correia, Victorino de Vasconcellos and the Santo Antonio Benevolent Society, to quash summons, on the ground that it was not legally issued. The suit was upon a claim of a portion of sick benefits hypothesized by Correia to Rodrigues, an order to pay the proportion claimed to him, together with an injunction to restrain the society from paying any of the benefits to Vasconcellos, being asked by plaintiff.

enjoying himself, and that he expects to be back to resume his work by the end of this month.

NINE TEACHERS COMPLAIN OF CONDITIONS IN KALIHIWAENA SCHOOL AND ASK TO BE TRANSFERRED

Honolulu is likely to have a Compton-Richmond case of its own in the near future, with the exception that there promises to be no less than eight Comptons to one Richmond.

Superintendent Pope of the department of education has recently received requests for transference from nine out of the ten teachers at Kalihiwaena school.

The reason for asking for a change of school given in the majority of cases is that irregular promotion and lack of discipline prevail at the school to such an extent that the teachers feel that they can do better work elsewhere.

The principal of Kalihiwaena school is I. M. Cox, who has filled the position for a year. Previous to that time he was for several years principal at Kilauea, Kauai.

The teachers requesting transference are Mrs. Mary A. Lee, Miss B. Scheffler, Robert Law, Miss Christine Gertz, Mrs. E. H. Coulter, Miss Olive Horner, Miss Elizabeth Heen, Mrs. E. J. Hall and Mrs. Mann.

Of these nine Mrs. Coulter, Miss Horner and Miss Heen, all advance the "irregular promotion and lack of discipline" reasons for making a change. All three have taught in local schools for a long time and all enjoy excellent reputations.

Investigation Started.

Superintendent Pope sent Inspector Gibson to the school today with orders to make a thorough investigation of the methods and work of Principal Cox. His report should make interesting reading.

Mrs. E. J. Hall, in her letter to Superintendent Pope, states that children at the school are promoted indiscriminately and often when such promotion is quite unmerited. She also states that she dreads hall duty in the school on account of the insubordination of the children who play at will in the lavatories and who are insolent and given to the use of foul language.

She further states that the children are tardy and that their tardiness is suffered to go unpunished, and that little or no effort is made to trace absentees. She concludes by saying that she has nothing personal against Mr. Cox but that she can't work harmoniously with him.

Other rumors as to the discipline of the school are flying around. There is talk of the circulation of indecent pictures and literature and of unchecked indulgence in gambling and smoking on the school premises.

The class of Mr. Law is said to be the worst in point of discipline and that gentleman is pictured as sitting during school hours with his feet on a desk interestedly watching the class-hour sports and pastimes of his many little charges.

Only recently a boy was reported to Principal Cox for some breach of discipline. He was sent for by the principal and shortly after emerged with a happy grin on his face, exclaiming "He no hu-hu."

THE $66,610 CLAIM OF ALLEGED OLD SWEETHEART AGAINST THE ESTATE OF LATE COLONEL NORRIS

Sixty-six thousand six hundred and ten dollars is the amount claimed by Emilie L. D'Herblay of New York against the estate of the late Col. Samuel Norris, owner of Kahuku ranch for many years before his death on July 14 last. More than half of this amount represents interest on the original claim, based on two promissory notes for $16,000 each made by Norris to the plaintiff September 23, 1892, payable after the death of the maker with interest at six per cent per annum.

Col. Norris gave the notes in settlement of a judgment upon a claim arising before the war of the rebellion, and breach of promise of marriage figured in the case that Norris fought to the bitter end through the Hawaiian courts. Letters yellow with age, which Norris wrote to Miss D'Herblay, were interesting exhibits in the case. They were just affectionate enough to show the relation of lovers between the two, but the damages were mainly claimed on account of moneys advanced by Emilie to Sam. If recollection is true she in fact grubstaked him as a fortune seeker in California. Norris went to Mexico and when he turned up in Hawaii about thirty or forty years ago was a rich man as wealth was then rated. His defense to Madam D'Herblay's suit, that fell like a bolt from the blue, was that the plaintiff was an impostor and not his sweet Emilie of yore.

Return of summons in the present case has been filed, showing service made on George C. Hewitt, administrator of the estate of Samuel Norris. The claim is equal to about two-thirds of the generally accepted valuation of the Kahuku ranch.

COULDN'T KNOW THEY WERE BAD

Under the regulations of the health department, Ah Leong was this morning fined $10 for having sold decomposed sardines, but Judge Humphreys would have liked to have had an opportunity of testing the constitutionality of the ordinance. Ah Leong, however, is a busy man and did not care to waste his time fighting the case for a mere principle, choosing to plead guilty and pay a fine.

Ah Leong purchased several cases of sardines at the usual market price. Some of these sardines were sold to a Hawaiian who returned next day with the complaint that the fish were bad. Ah Leong refunded the Hawaiian his money, but the Hawaiian walked off with the bad fish and reported the matter to Food Commissioner Blanchard.

Ah Leong was arrested and charged. Judge Humphreys appeared on his behalf and pointed out that Ah Leong could have no means of ascertaining whether the sardines were decomposed or not, relying solely on the maker's reputation. He could not open the tin without reducing the marketable value of the sardines. He asked for the minimum sentence, and to this request Deputy City and County Attorney Brown joined.

FRANK AKI AGAIN FACES CONTEMPT

Another order to show cause is prayed for by Mary Aki against Frank Aki, she alleging that he has not complied with the order of court, made on March 7, to pay her $30 a month alimony in a suit of separation. She says he has neglected and refused to pay the sum mentioned since April 26, and asks that he be summoned to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt.

Hana Iaea sues Henry Iaea for divorce on account of utter desertion. They have four children ranging from nine to three years old.

The annual meeting of the Bar Association will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Judd building, room 200.

WICKERSHAM WAS ONCE STEEL TRUST LAWYER

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Attorney-General Wickersham appeared today before the Committee on Expenditures of the Department of Justice and testified that he had formerly advised the United States Steel Corporation and also received fees for his services to the American Sugar Company. The Attorney-General declared that, following the decisions of the Supreme Court, the trusts would be prosecuted.

MORNING CABLE ABSTRACT.

MELBOURNE, Aus., May 31.—Hon. W. M. Hughes, the acting Prime Minister said, in a speech for White Australia, that Great Britain is to leave the Empire altogether if such the movement of Japanese to and from British territory had previously been declared ultra vires by the British colonial secretary, but that Australia was now ready to the jurisdiction of Downing street over the internal affairs of any portion of the Empire possessing autonomous powers and was also prepared to ally of Japan and that laws restricting thing had to be. Australia would not consent to the entry of Japanese, be the cost what it might.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—A cabinet official announced to the Associated Press yesterday that the administration policy for the future regarding trust-curbing legislation and actions directed against corporations would be based on the decisions of the Supreme Court in the recently concluded Standard Oil and Tobacco Trust cases.

LAREDO, Texas, May 31.—Rioting broke out in San Luis Potosi which caused the police to charge the rioters, killing thirty and wounding many.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—There is friction between W. J. Bryan and Representative Underwood, Democratic chairman of the House committee on ways and means, over the retention of the wool schedule.

THE BIRTHDAY OF KING GEORGE

British Consul Ralph G. E. Forster has informed Governor Frear that June 3 will be the forty-sixth anniversary of the birthday of King George V. He states that the Union Jack will be raised at the consulate and invites the Governor to participate in the celebration of the happy event. In view of the coronation day festivities on June 22, there will be no official reception at the British consulate on Saturday next.

FREAR'S PLAN IN SECOND TERM

"What I meant by stating that I do not at present feel like serving through another full term," said Governor Frear, this morning, "was that I feel that another two years will be sufficient to mature the work and policies which have engaged me during the last two years."

This was in reply to a question as to whether the governor sought another term with a view to resigning when it was only half finished.

WOULD TRY TARO IN WISCONSIN

A Wisconsin man has written to Governor Dole asking him to be good enough to send along a bushel or so of "dasheen" seeds, by which the governor declares he means taro.

The writer states that he believes that upland taro could be grown to advantage as a substitute for potatoes in some of the states, and particularly in Wisconsin.

The governor will point out to the gentleman from Wisconsin that the taro isn't propagated by seed and will suggest that he will get better results if he obtains his "hull" from Georgia or some southern state.

Two drunken soldiers are supposed to have broken the show case at Henry's Photo Gallery last night, but their identity is yet unknown. Another show case, next to Ayau shoe store, was also broken, presumably by the same offenders.

A cash register and a safe are offered for sale at a very low figure. Particulars at Star office.

THE JUSTICES AS SUBSTITUTES

Governor Frear is in receipt of a letter from the attorney general asking his view as to the desirability of a bill authorizing members of the supreme court to sit in the federal court on occasions when no federal judge is available, as in the case of the federal site case, which is held up through the absence of Judge Dole and the disqualification of Judge Clemons.

"I have not thought over the matter fully," said Governor Frear this morning, "but it might be a good thing."

George McK. McLellan has written Governor Frear that the attorney general is not disposed to grant an extended leave of absence to Judge Dole, as has been suggested. It is desired that Judge Dole return here as soon as possible in order to try the federal site case.

A notice to creditors of the estate of J. M. Oat is published in this issue.

SIERRA LATE IN LEAVING; CAPT HOUDLETTE IS STILL SICK

With Chief Officer Trask on the bridge, and Captain Houdlette confined to his bed, the Sierra pulled out exactly thirty minutes late this morning. The reason for the belated departure was owing to the inadequate arrangements for the dock laborers to put the goods into the ship.

People's friends off got in the way of the men with the trucks, and the last bunch of bananas was not thrown on board until just on half-past ten, and then with her side doors open, and men closing them; the Sierra pulled out from the wharf.

As usual, there was a large crowd on the dock to see her off, for she is a popular ship, and there were 11 passengers in the cabin and sixty-five in the steerage. Besides the popular officers had friends down on the dock to say au revoir. Berger and his musical aggregation were on the wharf, and they competed with the vocal music from a number of Hawaiian singers, who were saying goodbye to some of their friends. Needless to say the band completely drowned the singing.

The Sierra had a fairly large cargo on board, which included thirty crates of alligator pears, 2000 bunches of bananas, pineapples, and 1500 bags of sugar, altogether about 2500 tons of general cargo.

The next trip of the Sierra will have a little more interest in it than usual, for she will leave on the same day as the Wilhelmina. The arrangements for loading and the housing of friends on the wharf will be a little different next time, in order to facilitate the work all round.

Tenyo Maru Tomorrow Morning.

The T. K. K. S. S. Tenyo Maru is due off port tomorrow morning at ten o'clock from the Orient. She will leave again in all probability the following morning for the Coast.

Alice Cooke Here With Lumber.

The schooner Alice Cooke arrived yesterday afternoon from Port Townsend with 985,000 feet of lumber consigned to Lewers & Cooke. She had a slow trip down of thirty days, and contrary, light winds were the cause. Only one vessel was sighted throughout the long journey, but this was not close enough to be made out.

Claudine Has Mixture.

The Claudine brought a small but representative cargo from Hawaii and Maui this morning, viz., twenty cords of wood, eleven crates of chickens, twelve barrels of wine, two horses, 32 hogs and 130 packages of sundries.

W. G. Hall With Foodstuff.

The W. G. Hall arrived this morning from Kauai with 5,500 bags of sugar, twenty barrels of honey, 100 bags of rice, twenty bags of taro, one bag of coin, and twenty-seven packages of sundries.

THE AUSTRALIAN SENSATION.

There seems to be nothing in the politics of Australia to warrant the acting Prime Minister of the Commonwealth, Hon. Wm. M. Hughes, in making a Japanese issue between Australia and the mother country, especially one that shows a latent spirit of disunion. So far as we have news on the subject, Great Britain does not threaten Australia for its prohibitive attitude towards the entrance of Japanese labor any more than it does Canada for its hostility to the coming of Japanese and Hindoo labor. Years ago when the "white Australia" policy was declared, Great Britain accepted it and has used its diplomacy for oiling the wheels. Otherwise Australia has been left to deal with this whole question in her own way, and why the acting Prime Minister should leap to his feet now, as Patrick Henry did in the Virginia House of Burgesses, and talk about secession from the empire, is something that Australians in Hawaii cannot understand. Certainly England is not seeking trouble with her colonies in overzeal to serve Japan, a country which has declared, over and over again, that she has so much use for her labor in Korea, Manchuria and Formosa that she cannot spare any of it for a foreign market.

Prime Minister Hughes stands for a mere faction of Australia, Irish Catholics and Labor Socialists, chiefly, when he speaks of separation. He, himself, is a Henry George man, conscious of the fact that George was a separatist. Those who would "cut the painter," as the phrase goes, are mostly the followers of George and Cardinal Moran. But Australians of English blood, the great majority, are as staunch for the empire as they are for white supremacy. Having all the autonomy they want, they do not seek the responsibilities of separation, and if there is ever to be a hostile Japan, they cannot see how a country of so exposed a coastline and so small a population as their own could defend itself from Japan as well without the help of Great Britain as with it. Australia wants peace and development; she does not care to be a feeble nation, compelled to arm at vast expense to hold her own in the midst of great and predatory powers.

On the whole it looks as if the acting Prime Minister had simply taken his little fling at home politics and that nothing more will come of it but excited brogue.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

Sir William Gray, who spoke at a recent American dinner in London, said that British policy "is in full accord with the Monroe doctrine." Sir William, by the way, is the British Foreign Secretary.

The statement need not surprise anyone. The Monroe doctrine was invented by a British statesman, Lord Canning, to help preserve the balance of power among European nations. It has not only done that but it has worked well for British commerce and trade.

With the United States acting as a great, unpaid policeman for Latin America, keeping interlopers out and getting busy to prevent civil wars or to stop them, thus promoting and conserving trade, the Monroe doctrine has proved to be a dependable aid to all our commercial rivals, particularly to Great Britain.

If this policy should be dropped, a scramble would sooner or later come for territory, and the United States might get the most of the spoils and add them to the home market. Germany also might acquire all Brazil; and Great Britain, even if she enlarged her own empire at Latin America's expense, could hardly hope to make so much money from it as she is doing now from trade with the whole continent.

No wonder Great Britain is "in accord with the Monroe doctrine," which is equivalent to saying that she favors her own commercial interests.

FUTURE OF THE G. A. R.

It would seem to be the right thing for the Grand Army of the Republic to amend its charter to admit the veterans of all wars of the nation, thus perpetuating the organization, which will otherwise expire with the aging Union survivors of the Civil War.

The grand army of any nation goes on from year to year and age to age, and that of England is in lineal succession to that of Cromwell and of Wellington. It does not expire with any given war. What more appropriate to adapt our veteran G. A. R. to the same circumstances and let it move on through the centuries, binding together men no longer in active service, who have borne arms at any time in war for the United States.

There is a chance to pour new blood into the veins of the G. A. R. by admitting the Spanish War Veterans and the veterans of wars to follow. Nothing could be lost by it to compare with the loss of the G. A. R. itself which, for more than a generation, has embodied the memories and taught the patriotism of an earlier day.

SAMPLE POLITICS.

The English journal of the House was handed over to an illiterate Kanaka politician to arrange for publication and the result is what any taxpayer might expect.

The Hawaiian journal was well done, because the compilers knew the language and their business, but the English journal is a costly botch.

Having been issued, the faults could not be cured in the text, so a postscript has had to be devised to contain errata. But so many blunders were found that the postscript is becoming a book of itself, and the cost to the Territory will be about doubled.

Speaker Holstein finally discharged the original compiler and put an intelligent white man in his place. But this does not excuse the earlier choice, which certainly reflected upon the Speaker's sense of public duty and added to the waste originally caused by the insistence of the House on the dual language procedure which was a violation of the terms of the organic act.

Things like these account for the growing impression that some other form of government in Hawaii would best serve the people who pay the bills.

The Star is not disposed to carry the cable news controversy further. If this journal has made the point clear that it prints all the news that comes in the Associated Press afternoon service, keeping to the original text closely, neither adding to nor taking from, and that it gives a fair epitome of the morning report, it has done all its case requires. Other papers that prefer other methods will please accept the assurance of the Star's continued pleasure in setting a better example.

Mr. Craig, who has been a pleasant if not a pleased guest of Hawaii for sometime back, is a changed man. He wouldn't even pick a labor privilege off the malihini Christmas tree.

Probably the refusal of the Federal troops to march on Washington's birthday made the G. A. R. committee think there would be no use in asking them to parade on Memorial day.

No matter who invented the carbonic acid snow treatment for leprosy, Dr. Wayson seems to have got the most noteworthy results from it.

A policeman at the cemetery yesterday to keep children, especially Japanese, from playing on the graves, would have helped things out.

Mr. Cottrill's speech averaged with the best of the long series that has marked the public observance of Memorial day in this city.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

The old man sits in his figtree's shade, and fills himself with pink lemonade, and he smokes his pipe as he glances o'er the thrilling facts of the baseball score. He has no grief and he has no care, and he just leans back in his rocking chair, and views the world with a cheerful smile, for his larder's full, and he has his pile. The plan he followed you will indorse! He used to work like a bald-faced horse; he swung the ax and he plied the spade, and he knuckled down at the blacksmith's trade; wherever he worked, in the field or town, a part of his roubles he salted down. He saw the folly of spendthrift men, and took to the bank a large brass yen; they burned their money as though with fire; he took to the bank a big tin lire. And now he sits in his figtree's shade and eats ice cream with a wooden spade, and people smile as they look at him; he's fat and sassy and full of vim. And where are the fellows who drew their wage and blew it in, in that bygone age? Do they lean back in their rocking chairs, serene and happy and free from cares? Have they their figtrees and stuff to eat? Oh, ask the copper who walks your beat.

WALT MASON.

Honolulu is growing fast. The man who makes two houses appear where one showed up before, will find the growth profitable.

For a pre-coronation day message that of the Australian Prime Minister must have almost made the British lion moult.

It's a relief to know of a Mexican riot that looked like a battle. Generally the thing goes the other way.

The new Democratic leaders seem to have a new set of pigeonholes in which to tuck away Bryan's advice.

Evidently Attorney General Wickersham thinks that the Federal building site isn't going to be changed.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

LABOR AGENT CRAIG—The Planters' Association was sorry to see me go, but they sent me a lot of leis. HUNDREDS of your young men were wandering aimlessly about the streets yesterday, evidently at an utter loss as to how to spend the time.

FRANK B. CRAIG—I am glad to leave Honolulu, but I have never said that I will not return again. I hope to see Hawaii again some day.

A. Q. MARCALLINO—The Stars have started upward now and will beat the Portuguese next Sunday. I think Bushnell is to be blamed for the Portuguese defeat.

DR. RAMUS—We can get as much gasoline as we want for our new launch. What we are waiting for is the equipment, as already enumerated in The Star.

P. W. F. VINCENT—Honolulu's streets are very badly kept. When sanitary matters are being discussed it should be borne in mind that dust is a most dangerous disease-carrier.

DR. VICTOR CLARK—Until the arrival of Agent A. J. Campbell this month nothing definite can be said about the arrival of the next batch of immigrants.

A. H. FORD—The Trail and Mountain Club, when it chartered steamers for excursions, will dispose of tickets only at private sale, if there is no other way to prevent professional gamblers from making the trip.

H. RAPHAEL—A man can still be an amateur and play ball against professionals in California, and the same should apply here. There will be no need for Rice to give up ball, for none of the Native Sons are professionals.

PURSER SMITH, S. S. Sierra—Harbor Officer Carter ought to take a roll-call along the waterfront of all his friends. He would soon find that they swamped his enemies easily. I think that everyone connected with shipping would be with Carter.

JOHN F. WHITE—You Honolulu

people don't seem to know what to do with yourselves when you have a holiday. Hundreds of your young men were wandering aimlessly about the streets yesterday, evidently at an utter loss as to how to spend the time.

A VETERAN—I think that a blunder was made in not sending a specific instead of a general invitation to the regulars to participate in the Decoration Day exercises. Had this been done detachments of marines and the infantry from Fort Shafter would have been in the procession.

PURSER SMITH, of the Sierra—Dr. Wayson is a passenger with us today. I think he needs a vacation before tackling the city and county physician job. A common remark among steamer officers and tourists for some years has been, "Why don't they clean up Honolulu?"

DR. W. J. S. LOCKYER, British astronomer—Acting Prime Minister Hughes of Australia must have been crazy if he made those remarks attributed to him by the paper this morning. Anyone who has been there knows that the majority of people in Australia are fully aware of the fact that the commonwealth could not get along without England.

JAMES WILDER—My remark regarding the Boy Scouts and Sunday schools might be misunderstood, as it was given in The Star. The Boy Scout movement is in no sense competitive with or opposed to Sunday schools. On the contrary, it supplements and strengthens the Sunday school work. The best scout material is in the Sunday schools.

E. A. BERNDT—I am glad that the gambling on the Maui excursion was exposed. That is the best way to give complete assurance that it will not be repeated. We want a lot more excursions, and the question will be settled now once for all. The Trail and Mountain Club members had nothing to do with the gambling.

GEORGE W. SMITH—There will be no difficulty in getting bona fide signatures to a petition in favor of the Mahuka site. The name of George W. Smith appears on the other petition, but it was not signed by Smith of Benson, Smith & Co., but by Mr. George Washington Smith. I will gladly sign a Mahuka petition if given a chance.

LINK McCANDLESS—The Sanitary Commission doesn't need to go to the suburbs for nuisances. Did it see the rubbish that came out of a store cellar on Merchant street a while ago? And has it looked down the grating of the store that Fred Harrison built opposite the Grill, and seen the pool of water there? A fine place to breed mosquitoes. How about cellars generally in the business section?

FRED TURRILL—There was a valid reason why the cavalry at Leluhua didn't take part in the procession yesterday. It would have necessitated a two days' trip for them to have done so. The infantry at Fort Shafter wouldn't come unless their car fare was paid, and as it would have cost $30 for two street cars to convey them, we couldn't afford to bring them to town to take part in the exercises.

J. PRITCHARD, Honokaa—Mr. Editor: I have just read your editorial on the Governorship and it certainly expressed my sentiments. I would like to shake hands with Governor Frear and give my views of his appointment of road commissioners on Hawaii. In my estimation there could not be a better choice than A. W. Carter, A. Horner and Mr. Hind. No politics with them, no monkey business; full value for what we receive.

ASSISTANT FIRE CHIEF DEERING—It's a good thing to be criticized, that is if the person so doing knows what he is talking about. The horses never gallop back from a fire. Charlie Wilson must have seen those spirited grays after they had shied at an obstruction. However, I do not think we need any suggestions from any sidewalk chiefs. I consider the knock a great big boost. The matter of motor fire engines will come up next month, but I can't say anything about that.

WILLIAM M. MADDEN—One of the weak points of Honolulu is the unscreened fish market, which is a disgrace to the city. There is a board of health regulation in San Francisco compelling the screening of markets and it is strictly enforced. Honolulu, with its cosmopolitan population and attendant careless sanitary habits, cannot pay enough attention to health matters if the city is to remain a clean one. I hear that none of the supervisors dares tackle a screening ordinance lest the natives knife him politically for meddling with their famous rendezvous.

TO TAKE STAND AS AN AMATEUR

An interesting point regarding the standing of amateur athletes who play baseball has been raised by reason of the assertion that from tomorrow Bill Rice, the champion sprinter in the Territory, will come out as an amateur pure and simple. This is taken to mean in many quarters that Rice must necessarily abstain from playing in the Oahu League, but the impression, to an extent, is erroneous.

The Native Sons claim to be amateurs, at least that is what H. Raphael, who is a registered amateur himself, says, and in this case Rice will be able to continue playing ball in the Oahu League.

In the Official Athletic Rules Handbook it is stated that a team which is composed entirely of amateurs may compete in baseball or football against professionals and still retain its amateur status. If the Native Sons are to retain the services of Raphael and Rice they must join the local branch of the A. A. U., says G. H. Tuttle, the local president, and this step has not yet been taken. As amateurs they may compete in the Oahu League, as long as no member of the team is a professional. In order to protect those players who are amateurs and who desire to hold their amateur status it is up to the remainder of the team to get into the fold.

KILAUEA WORLD'S GREATEST SIGHT, SAYS ASTRONOMER FROM ENGLAND

Dr. William J. S. Lockyer of the Solar Physics Observatory, left for England this morning by the Sierra. He will take in all the big observatories on the mainland on his way home to the smoky city.

He is looking forward to his visit to these observatories with interest, and said this morning that he knew that he would get much pleasure as well as valuable information from the inspections.

Dr. Lockyer was a member of the expedition sent by the British government to Vavau, Friendly Islands, to observe the total eclipse of the sun last month. Dr. Lockyer in conversation this morning said that the expedition was a failure. "Yes," he added, "I can not say anything else. At first there was a heavy bank of clouds, which gave us no chance at all to make any observations. Towards the end, however, the clouds moved away, and they were not so dense. I consider that we only got ten per cent of results. The trip, therefore, was a failure.

"I have just got back from Kilauea and Haleakala. They were wonderful sights. Kilauea, I think, must be the most wonderful sight in the world. I have only seen Vesuvius, but Kilauea is far better to look at. Still, I would have liked to see Kilauea working a bit better. It was not very active when I was there. I was in hopes that it would have come up to the top. Still, it is a glorious sight, and I do not think that it can be equalled in the world."

URGES DRAINING THE SWAMP LANDS

Honolulu, April 21, 1911.
Editor Star: I am glad to see that at last the people of Honolulu have awakened to the fact that something must be done about the swamp lands of this city.

For years past I have been calling attention to these pest, and pestilence-producing stagnant pools, and swamp lands, and the stench-laden atmosphere that arises from them, without doing much good, or getting the people to see the danger that menaces them.

But at last this fact is forced upon them with no uncertain hand, and can not be disregarded.

And I beg to say, that this cholera, bad as it is, will have been a good thing if it awakens us to a proper realization of our danger, and forces us to meet, and overcome it.

But I will say, the filling in of these swamp lands is not nearly so important, at least on the upper lands and valleys, as is the draining of these lands, and which can be done at no great amount of cost.

To do this it would be necessary to cut out the marsh farming, and to drain and do away with much of the swamp lands.

And all that it is necessary to do to accomplish this is to keep the Manoa, and other streams within their banks, and not allow the water to overflow them. To do this, these streams would probably have to be deepened and widened in places, which could be done at no great cost, and what is more important, can be done at once, or without much loss of time. It has been suggested that swamp agriculture within municipal limits be declared a nuisance, and be forbidden, and that bonds be issued to meet the expenses of acquiring title to this condemned land.

It is also estimated that the increased value of the reclaimed land would more than pay for the cost of the bonds.

But be this as it may, one thing is certain, and that is the fact that it is useless to spend one thousand dollars a month in trying to exterminate the mosquito, or to spend two thousand five hundred dollars per month, to improve the sanitary conditions of the city, while there remains hundreds of acres of foul pest and pestilence producing swamps, all around this city, and which will sooner or later bring a great calamity upon us.

It is therefore important, indeed imperative that something be done without delay, and it is the consensus of opinion that if the legislators would follow this plan, and condemn these swamp lands, they would not only bring credit upon themselves, but would confer a blessing upon this and all succeeding generations. Of course, it will take money to do this, and while I am not much in favor of increasing the taxes, I think it were even better to do that, if there were no other way, than to leave the city in the unsanitary condition it is at the present time.

It is also the consensus of opinion, that if we were to buy, and drain the swamp lands, that can be drained, the Federal government could be looked to for buying and reclaiming and filling in that greater part of the swamp lands that are too low for drainage, and which would be by far the greatest part of the undertaking. One advantage of the draining system, is the fact, that it can be done in a comparatively small space of time, and would at the same time do an immense amount of good. Very truly
GEO. OSBORNE.

STOCK MARKET IS WAKING UP

Both between boards and at today's session of the Honolulu Stock Exchange, following a holiday, an increase of transactions is shown which indicates a noteworthy revival of business. Oahu is the most active on the list, although at an eighth point decline from last previous report, an aggregate of 285 shares at $30.25 being reported.

Waiatua retains its position in sales of 65 shares in four lots at $113.50. McBryde is unchanged with a sale of 20 shares at $6.50. Olua holds at $4.50 represented in a sale of forty shares.

Hawaiian Sugar has gained a quarter point, fifty and twenty-five shares at $41.50 changing hands at the board. Ewa has eased down a quarter as appears in a sale of fifteen shares at $31.75.

A sale of forty-five shares Pahang Rubber at $22.75 is reported. On the Hawaiian exchange ten shares of Pahang Rubber at $23 and thirty Honolulu Consolidated Oil at $1.85 are reported.

BEETS IMPROVING

COURTMARTIALED FOR TAKING FRUIT ON LOGAN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—Lieutenant Harry L. Morse, coast artillery corps, appeared for trial before a general court-martial at the Presidio yesterday afternoon on charges preferred by Captain J. C. Abbott, quarter master of the transport Logan. Morse is accused of violating quarantine regulations by having taken on board the Logan pineapples and other tropical fruit on sailing from Honolulu May 4th. Captain Jacob C. Johnson, counsel for defendant, contended that his client had committed no breach of regulation by taking the fruit aboard while Judge Advocate Captain John B. Murphy pointed out that when Captain E. A. Stuart, officer of the day on the Logan, remonstrated with Morse, the latter took too much time to dispose of the fruit. The case will be continued on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

FIRST AID.

During the warm weather, attacks of diarrhoea are very frequent and often are so swift in their results that life is in danger before a physician can be summoned. Every man who has the interest of his family at heart should keep a reliable remedy in his home for immediate use in cases of this kind. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is, without doubt the best remedy prepared for diarrhoea. It should be given if possible, at the first unusual looseness of the bowels. SPORTS

Honolulu Boy Winner In Athletic Sports In London

Edmond Parker, son of Captain Parker, is doing good promotion work for Honolulu in London, for at the Public Schools sports at Stamford Bridge, Parker won the hurdle race from the pick of the scholars attending the public schools in England. Edmond Parker is attending the Hitchin Grammar School in Hertfordshire, and as the result of his work in various sports at the school he was elected to compete in the big meeting. Last year at the school sports Edmond won seven first places, but could only take five first prizes, the conditions under which the sports were managed preventing him from taking the other prizes. In addition to the field events he won all the swimming races, and the tennis championship, afterwards winning the tennis championship of the district. For the hurdle race at Stamford Bridge he received a gold medal about the size of a twenty-dollar gold piece and for a year he holds the challenge shield which is valued at $150. Edmond also participated in the 100 yards championship but was unplaced. He is a sportsman Edmond won seven first places, but could only take five first prizes, the conditions under which the sports

Japs And Portuguese Play Mediocre Ball

Would that the curtain had been rung down at the end of the first game, yesterday afternoon, for then the fans would have gone away and told the absentees how the Stars had fairly blazoned forth in all their glory; how they had shut out the Native Sons; how Hayes had brought off those two spectacular catches in the central garden, the one retiring the Native Sons in the eighth fairly bringing down the house; how Joy had handed out a hit each time he was up; how Apau held the Native Sons down to three scattered hits; how he had slackened off in the sixth but was aroused by that double play in the seventh; how—but what's the use?

Errors Disgust Fans.

The curtain was not rung down, and for nine innings the fans fairly groveled in their seats. Awful isn't the word to adequately describe the game between the Japanese and Portuguese. Errors? Why, the game was full of them, ten figuring on the official scorecard and, in addition to them, at least two of the fielders were let off lightly by Scorer Raposo. Both teams contributed their quota of errors, with Bushnell the star performer. It was sure Bushnell's day out, for half the balls which went his way were muffed. But it was not Bushnell alone, however. Filizer and Joseph of the Portuguese, and Walker, Chillingworth, Franco, Louis and Asam of the Japanese, thoroughly deserved the unfavorable criticism they brought upon themselves.

How the Portuguese Scored.

Franco brought off a star play in the fifth inning, but the echoes of the applause which it merited had hardly died away before he broke down, throwing wildly to first and permitting Deponte to get to second. Walker, in the same spasm, helped Deponte along to third by dropping Filizer's fly to center. Then Joy bunted and pitcher Medeiros calmly surveyed the fleeing trio on the bases before deciding to throw to first. Of course, when he did decide, it was too late to retire Joy. Then Deponte scored on Freitas' sacrifice.

Trouble in the First.

That is a sample only. The Japs were first up and the errors began forthwith. Bushnell fumbling Walker's grounder. The latter reached Akana, but it was one of the very second on Joseph's error, advancing few bright spots. Seven-two was on Chillingworth's sacrifice and score.

STARS AND NATIVE SONS FIGHT THEIR BATTLE GRIMLY

The first game of the afternoon ninth Kuaili, W. Desha and Raphael were great ball, the sort of ball that made first but that was all. The fans like to see, for play through game sparkled with brilliancy, but it out was characterized by keenness was the hitting of Barney Joy, Ah and skill. There were, of course, slack moments, but only two errors were made in the game, though on at least two occasions opportunities were missed which might well have been taken.

A Pitcher's Battle.

It was a pitcher's battle and Apau, the Chinese twirler, emerged from the game successful. He struck out six, walked one and had three assists. But then Apau had great support in the field. Still it was one, two, three, for the Native Sons every inning except the fourth and fifth, when four men got up to bat. Kuaili got to third in the sixth but no further; Raphael walked in the seventh but was cut off at second, and in the run. After Miller had suicided, Ah Tin bunted. The ball rolled safe, then outside the foul line and back safe again and Ah Tin made the sack. Ahana struck out, but Raphael threw to second to keep Ah Tin on first instead of taking a chance to make a double of it. Joy connected and the ball soared to center, Ah Tin getting home by reason of D. Desha's mad throw to catcher, and Joy went to third. However, Hooplil flew to center and closed the inning. Though Kan Yen reached first on Kuaili's fumble and second on Miller's sacrifice he was caught at third and put out in the sixth.

The Second Tally.

The final run came in the seventh. Joy binged to center and got to third on Hooplil's hit to right field, the latter being caught at second. Then Apau grounded to left field and scored Joy. Hayes' infield fly was dropped by Kuaili but Apau was forced out at second and Ah Toon fanned. Hayes brought off two wonderfully fine catches in the eighth, retiring Markham and Lota. In each case he had to run yards, and in putting out Lota he took the ball a inch or so from the ground, falling with it but holding the ball safe.

Somehow or other, there was but little enthusiasm over the Stars' win, though they thoroughly deserved it.

Teams and scores:

Stars—Ah Toon, 1st; Kan Yen, ss.; Miller, 2d; Ah Tin, 3d; Ahana, 1f.; Joy, c.; Hooplil, rf.; Apau, p. and Hayes, cf.

SPORT NOTES

Umpire's Resplendent Garb.

Bill Hampton and Sam Chillingworth were resplendent yesterday in their new blue coats, faced with red trimmings. They looked swell and bore their honors with becoming modesty. No! They were not quite shy. The Stars were also out in their new uniforms, grey with a red star on the left breast. It was a treat to see Barney Joy garbed in keeping with his team mates.

Rooters Scrap on Stand.

During the progress of the second game yesterday a couple of rooters on the Walkiki-mauka stand were so carried so far away by the game that they had a bang at each other. The game was held up for a couple of minutes but discretion soon ruled the roost and the fans grew comparatively quiet. Medeiros, the "Japanese," as a wag facetiously named him, came in for a good deal of venomous banter, but he stood it well.

Horse Races at Kapiolani Park.

Mary Winkelfield settled the pretensions of Steel Dust in a decisive manner at Kapiolani Park yesterday afternoon when the two horses, together with Clara C. met in a half-mile race. Steel Dust was favorite and made the running until the home turn was reached, but thence to the finish there was but one in it, Mary Winkelfield winning easily in 51 3-5 seconds. The rider of Clara C. was thrown early in the race and stunned, but he soon recovered. In the second race between Red and Kalih Boy, the former was favorite and won by a length in 28 2-5 seconds. Kalih Boy ran badly, getting out of the jockey's control, and swinging wide at the turn. Phillips, a young Australian, rode both winners and pleased the spectators by his style.

Polo Club Elects New Secretary.

A meeting of the Oahu Polo Club was held at Moanalua yesterday afternoon after the practise games. G. Porter was elected secretary for the season. The prospects for the year are very bright and Oahu hopes to make a much better showing than has been the case during the past few years.

Poloists Out in Large Force.

Two practise polo games were played at Moanalua yesterday afternoon, when fourteen players turned out. In the first game Lieutenant Rogers, S. Lucas, Arthur Jones and B. M. Sumner beat Lieutenant Andrews, R. McCorriston, W. Rycroft and U. Lemon, 2-1, and in the second game, Walter Dillingham, George Atkinson, R. Atkinson and H. Damon defeated Sam Baldwin, G. Porter, R. Shingle and W. Rycroft, 3-1. The practise attracted a number of spectators, and it is expected that there will be a greater turn-out on Thursday, when another practise will be held.

Barron Will Return Saturday.
 Charles Barron, the soapbox orator, will be back on the Mauna Kea on Saturday. He reports a longing to be in among the fans again and will "explode an extra large bunch of noise" on Sunday next. Barron will have something to say regarding the pedestrian races he is promoting.

Evans Equals British Record.

Charles Evans Jr., the young Chicago golfer and western open champion, played twice around the Hoylake course in England in 76 on his arrival there while practicing for the British amateur championship. Evans writes that it was his first play over an English course and that he equaled the best score ever made for the Hoylake links by a man named Walker, a plus player, who was his opponent. Evans will play for the British amateur championship.

Collegian Goes To Join Athletics.

J. D. Peters of Stanford university and for many years a player on the Santa Clara varsity left on May 22nd for Philadelphia to join Connie Mack's Athletics. Peters is one of the most promising players that has ever been turned out on the Pacific coast.

Boy Beats World's Record.

A new world's interscholastic record for the one mile run was established at the Harvard interscholastic track meet on May 20th, by J. D. McKenzie of 4:26 4-5. The former world's record was 4:28 3-5.

Baseball Record Equaled.

A baseball record was equaled in the New England league game between Haverhill and Worcester at Haverhill, Mass., on May 20th, when McGallwell, the Haverhill first baseman, went through a full nine innings game without a single putout and with only one assist. This record equals that made by "Jiggs" Donohue of the Chicago Americans, May 23, 1906, in a game with New York.

Californian Tennis Championship.

Maurice McLoughlin once more demonstrated that he is the best tennis player in San Francisco when he successfully defended his title on May 21st in the challenge match against Charles Foley, the winner of the annual San Francisco championship tournament. McLoughlin has held the title for the last five years.

The challenge match was rather a disappointment to the followers of the game who gathered at the California club expecting to see some tennis out of the ordinary. McLoughlin won in straight sets, but at that the match was very close, as a great majority of the games were won by a narrow margin and most of them went to deuce and vantage.

McLoughlin's play showed a great lack of practice, and he did not perform anywhere near his usual game. His ground strokes were exceptionally poor, and on these he either netted the ball or drove it out. His overhead work was the best part of his game, but even this was not up to standard. He missed several shots at the net that should have been sure kills. His serving, which is exceptionally hard, saved him the match, even though he made a number of double faults.

Foley's game was not all it should have been either, and had he been at his best, he might have been the champion today, as he was in the lead in two of the sets and had several opportunities to win them, but fell down in his game at critical times.

The Great Events By Famous Historians

A comprehensive and readable account of the World's history, emphasizing the more important events and presenting these as complete stories in the master words of the most celebrated historians.

NON-SECTARIAN. NON-PARTISAN. NON-SECTIONAL. ROSSITER JOHNSON, LL. D., EDITOR IN CHIEF.

The Great Events by Famous Historians, published by the National Alumni under the editorial supervision of Rossiter Johnson, LL. D., and a corps of distinguished scholars, complete in twenty handsome volumes, is the FIRST and ONLY history ever printed in the English language having an irrefutable claim to the epithet "Universal." It is the story of ALL human history, not a mere fragment of it. Superseding all other histories in giving first hand information, it gives a continuous narrative covering all topics, from ancient Egypt to modern Japan.

and it was evident that the Japanese knew the exact distance and expected to blow the ship to smithereens. The steamer Koshin was lying close under the forts, and McDougal ordered the man at the wheel to steer direct for her, as he intended to rake her. The pilots then got frightened and told him he would run his ship on shore as there was not enough water, and they were doing all they could to keep their vessel on the southern shore; it being very evident that they were not accustomed to fighting.

As soon as the Wyoming was seen to be steering for the northern shore the steamer and another battery up the side of the hill began to fire. Then another battery was also opened and upon this it was shown McDougal's wisdom in steering out of the staked channel, as the shot began to pass above the hull and up in the rigging. Even by this time, thanks to the eighteen guns carried by the Japanese men-of-war, the Wyoming had three killed and several wounded. As she neared the Japanese vessels her flag was run up with cheers by the crew and it was at once saluted by the shore battery of four guns. Soon the American ship was in front of the town, and dashing in between the steamer and the two brigs was soon abreast of the Kosei which immediately fired a broadside. The Koshin was not able to do much damage her guns being pointed up the channel, but so near were the two vessels that their guns nearly touched. As the Wyoming went between the two vessels she fired both broadsides and every shot found its billet. Now the inevitable happened. The Wyoming cleared the steamer and steered over toward the southern shore and all the shore batteries getting their range again, concentrated their firing upon her and she grounded—but, despite that fact and the holes torn in her sides by shells, she still kept up a vigorous firing. But McDougal was not content to fight with his ship in the mud, so he set the propeller to work her off, and this being fortunately a most powerful one, she soon floated again.

Ignoring one of the brigs, which was sinking, the Wyoming paid all her attention to the Koshin, which had slipped her cable and was making toward the shore. The American's bow gun now got in its good work and the second shot pierced the Koshin's side, passed through the vessel, came out at the other side and exploded in the town, half a mile away. The disabled ship was now a scene of terror and confusion. Her officers left in the small boats leaving the crew to jump overboard just as the steamer sank from sight, at least 40 of these men losing their lives. By this time the Wyoming was well past the town itself and was straining every nerve to make way against the very powerful tide. The bark was still firing as were also the batteries, but McDougal decided to settle the bark first and then give all his attention to the shore guns. The bark was soon disabled and worthless, and alive with victory, the Wyoming on her way back soon made short work of the batteries, one of which was completely demolished.

Half an hour after noon, the firing ceased, the Wyoming having fired from fifty to sixty shot in all against over 130 of the enemy's. The Wyoming lost five men killed and seven wounded. She was hulled ten times and pretty badly cut up but the Japs had lost two vessels and had another disabled. One battery was destroyed and many were killed and wounded, although the exact number was never ascertained.

Summing up the whole engagement, the American vessel stands out as something remarkable in the manner of victory. Under fire from three ships and at one time or another from eight batteries and either one or two redoubts, before she got through, she sank two of the ships, made a lam duck of the third, went aground and worked off again, disabled one of the batteries and silenced several others. She carried only six guns herself but had opposed to her no less than ninety-two. For this little episode the United States collected $12,000, part of which went to the owners of the Pembroke.

On entering the harbor of Yokohama the following day, the brave Wyoming was greeted with cheers from the Conqueror and other British vessels, as well as those of other nations then at anchor and Admiral Kuper made haste to congratulate Commander McDougal. Very soon afterward, having made good her damages, she sailed for home waters followed by the hearty good wishes of all who remained behind.

INVESTIGATE FRIAR LAND SALES

BY J. A. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.) WASHINGTON, May 17.—That the House committee on Insular Affairs intends to make another probe of the Philippine friar land sales was announced in connection with a demand in that body for an investigation of the official conduct of D. C. Worcester, Philippine commissioner. A petition demanding an investigation of Worcester's official conduct, declaring him to be antagonistic to the inhabitants of the islands, has been filed in the house by Representative Slayden of Texas.

The petition, which is addressed to President Taft, the senate and house, recites that:

"D. C. Worcester, a member of the commission appointed for the government of the Philippine Islands and acting as Secretary of the Interior of said commission, has become notoriously unpopular among the natives of the islands, the final and culminating evidence of which was given by a resolution unanimously passed by the General Assembly of the Philippine Islands as the closing act of its last session."

Calling attention to the fact that President McKinley had promised that all American officials appointed during this country's control of the islands "must be acceptable to the people governed as a condition precedent to successful administration," the petition continues:

"Whereas D. C. Worcester has endeavored to bring to bear repressive measures in the United States upon the press favorable to Philippine independence similar to those exerted by him over Manila newspapers, and said Worcester has antagonized and publicly vilified the friends of the Filipinos in the United States, the officers of the Anti-Imperialist League and their counsel, and has provisionally threatened a member of the House of Representatives in execution of his duty with a suit for libel similar to those with which he secured the imprisonment of a member of the Assembly in the Philippines; therefore,

"Resolved, That you are respectfully requested to institute at once a special inquiry into the manner in which the said D. C. Worcester has discharged the duties of his office as Commissioner in the Philippine Islands."

The name of Commissioner Worcester figured extensively in the recent friar lands investigation conducted by the House Insular committee, and it is largely on the strength of testimony adduced at the time that the Worcester investigation is to be made. The former investigation of friar land sales resulted in a unanimous finding by the committee that no actual fraud had been practiced as charged by the democrats.

Those signing the Worcester petition are:

McKelvie, of the Boston Scientific Society; Frederick Starr, of the University of Chicago; L. F. C. THE NEW DREADNAUGHT WYOMING AND THE OLD WARSHIP WYOMING

BY J. A. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of the Star.) WASHINGTON, May 25.—In connection with the launching of the new battleship "Wyoming," unsurpassed by any other warship in the world, which took place today, an interesting story is recalled in the life history of the old Wyoming, wherein that famous old war ship distinguished herself in no ungallant manner and was the indirect means whereby a war with United States and Japan was summarily nipped in the bud.

It happened in 1853. Peace had reigned between United States and the Flowery Kingdom but now, according to the decree of the Shogun, the "halcyon barbarian" was to be expelled from Japan. To bring this to pass, the Mori, the powerful daimio of the Choshin attempted to bar the passage of foreign vessels through the Straits of Shimonoseki by firing on them. June 25 was the date set for the carrying out of the decree, and on that day Mori was given just the opportunity he sought for carrying out his part of the program, for during the afternoon, the American merchant vessel Pembroke entered the Strait on her way to China, having on board a pilot supplied by the Yeddo government. At once she was fired on by the land batteries, also by the guns of the armed brig Kosei, but escaped unhurt. But the fatal blow had been struck and by that one incident, the peace of two and a half centuries was broken.

Now it happened that at this time, the Wyoming was most opportunely at hand, for in April of the same year, Commander McDougal of the United States Navy, in command of the Wyoming was in Hongkong looking for trouble in the shape of a Confederate privateer. He received orders at once from the United States Minister in Yokohama to bring his ship to that port with the guns ready for service, as the Japanese were beginning to make trouble for foreigners. Close upon the heels of this order came the news of the firing upon the Pembroke, and nothing daunted by the fact that he was unacquainted with the passage of the Straits, and could not obtain any chart of the place, the doughty commander ordered coal on board and procuring two pilots from the government lost no time in sailing out to Shimonoseki.

The Wyoming was a sloop of war of 700 tons equipped with four thirty-two pounder side guns and two eleven inch Dahlgren pivot guns. She carried a crew of 160 officers and men, all of whom seemed "fit," and they composed a really fine crew.

The Straits of Shimonoseki form the western gateway of the Inland Sea, the actual straits being about three miles long and from one and a half to two miles wide, but the navigable channel is only from 300 to 700 feet wide. The town consists principally of one long street running along the foot of some bold bluffs, and there is a ravine in which the houses cluster pretty thickly. The population was at that period about fifteen or sixteen thousand persons. The batteries, or more correctly speaking the redoubts or platforms, where the 74 guns were mounted, extended from a point at the extreme east of the Straits right up to the town itself, the village of Chofu, where the heaviest guns were mounted, being nearly in the middle of that line. There was also a ten-gun fort on the opposite shore but in such a position that it could not come into action against any ship that was attacking the town of Shimonoseki. In addition to the shore batteries, the Japanese had three armed vessels.

The Wyoming entered the narrow straits at 6 o'clock on the morning of July 16. Signal guns were fired from the first redoubt and the warning was passed along as far as the town. Before the ship was within sight of the town the first shot struck her above the engine room. No reply was made, however, until the Wyoming rounded the Monshi promontory on the southern shore, when the three ships and the whole town burst into view. Stakes had been driven into the mud on the edge of the navigable channel

OFFICER WOO HAS HOT TIME

John Woo, Korean officer attached to the detective force, was beaten up yesterday afternoon by two Chinese and a Korean, though he escaped serious injury. According to Woo's story, he had been despatched to make some enquiries regarding Chon Tai Koon, regarding whom complaints had been made to the police, and located Chon Tai Koon in a house at the corner of Smith and Panahi streets and entered to talk with him. Two other Chinese were in the room at the time, and while Woo and Chon were talking the door was suddenly closed and Woo says the three men set on him. Woo was punched about the head and body but fought his way to the door and succeeded in wrenching it open. Immediately he gained the veranda, however, he fell and was kicked in the stomach. Woo again managed to get up and ran into the kitchen, being followed by three assailants, one of whom had picked up a large screw-driver. With this implement he made several lunges at Woo, striking him once on the hip and ripping Woo's shirt. Eventually Woo made his escape and later returned with reinforcements and effected the arrest of the three men. They were charged this morning before Judge J. M. Monsarrat but the case went over until Monday at their request.

PURE MILK TEST.

Dr. Victor A. Norgaard, Territorial veterinarian, today completed a test of milk sterilized by the electrical process at the Dairymen's Association depot.

After forty-eight hours not a single bacterium is found in the treated milk. Also the milk is proved to have sustained not the slightest injury in quality or taste.

Under the old process of pasteurization it was necessary to keep the milk at a temperature of 212 degrees for three consecutive days, whereby the cream was destroyed and the casein hardened so that it was indigestible.

FIREWORKS AT BALL PARK.

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL

Paragraphs That Give Condensed News of the Day.

For American and Hawaiian flags go to Wall, Nichols Co., Ltd., they have received a big stock.

Watches promptly and properly repaired by Redhouse, Masonic building, Alakea and Hotel streets.

While under the influence of liquor a Japanese, who had been given money by his wife to purchase some furniture stole two chairs and a dress suit case, and spent the money in drink. He was run to earth by Detective McDuffie and then declared he had bought the goods at the store from which he is alleged to have stolen them. He has since admitted the theft.

Beginning June 1st The T. M. S. Parcel Delivery, phone 1862, leaves town at 10:30 a. m., daily for Kaimuki, also calls for laundry for the Young Hotel Laundry.

The fruit season is at hand and housewives who are busy making preserves should take advantage of the special sale of jelly tumblers now on at W. W. Dimond & Co. The sale will only be for a few days as tumblers at 35c a dozen can't last long.

Friends of the Mid-Pacific Institute are invited to a musicale at Kawaiahao Seminary next Friday evening at eight o'clock. The numbers on the program will be rendered by the glee clubs and choruses of both the girls' and boys' schools.

FLAG DAY COMING.

The Flag Association of American has written to Governor Frear reminding him that June 14 is Flag Day and asking him to assist in the celebration of the day in Hawaii by having the flag saluted in every school in the Territory on that day. The excellent association is evidently unaware that the flag is not only saluted throughout the Territory on flag day, but on every day of the school year as well. The coming celebration will mark the 134th year of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the national emblem.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The members of the Territorial Board of Health are holding a meeting this afternoon. The matter of cholera restrictions will come up again for discussion and a lot of routine work and reports will be disposed of.

THE THEATERS

Jansen Company Opens

At Orpheum Tonight.
The Great Jansen is here and will commence his engagement at the Orpheum Theater tonight. Jansen will present tonight a very fine program, introducing the most daring and bewildering illusions, and difficult achievements. The entertainment is absolutely new in principle, surpassing the fabled feats of the ancient Egyptian Conjurers, being a resemblance to the miraculous tales of levitation that arise from the dead long ago. Jansen's Original Creation, Azra, is a feat that stupefies the scenes, leaving the audience to wonder whether their eyes

Miss Daisy Thorne Prima Donna
With Jansen Company.

have all the time deceived them, or whether the forces of creation may be overcome by skill of the Magician. A beautiful girl is placed under a spell, laid upon a couch in plain sight of the audience, covered with a sheet, the form with its shroud slowly rises in the air without support, the outlines of the sleeper being visible. Suddenly Jansen grasps the sheet and the girl is gone, has disappeared as completely as though she had been the central figure of a lovely dream. Jansen has with him Miss Daisy Thorne the Prima Donna, who will be heard in operatic selections, De Hollis and Valora, Novelty Jugglers and "Musical Story the Instrumentalist." There are still some choice seats to be had for tonight's performance.

National Game at Savoy.

The national game—baseball—is on in full swing at the Savoy, and today will be at its best. One of the films shown is a crackerjack, showing a game of national leagues at the bat, with the Detroit working like beavers. The game is shown clearly and there are plays which are thrillers. Another other catchy film is "Pigs Is Pigs," based on the story which had a wide circulation a few years ago—a film full of rich comedy. An Indian photo-play has some thrilling situations, and shows a remarkable rescue of an American girl from a mountain stream. Only moving pictures are being shown at the Savoy this week, and the innovation is already quite popular.

New People At Empire.

Gilson and Polan a new team of dancers and singers will make their first appearance at the Empire tonight, replacing George and Gott. The new team arrived last Friday on the Sierra. They are a team composed of a man and a woman, whose entertainment consists in comedy mixed with dancing while they have an up-to-date line of dialogue. Alfrida van Ness is becoming the most popular songstress in the local vaudeville, particularly with her operatic selections, her voice being admirably suited to that class of music. The films at the Empire are interesting, one being a typical western cowboy photo-play.

Skating Dancers at Bijou.

The Skatells, the clog dancers who use rollers skates in all their work, are the rage of the Bijou. They are a remarkable team of entertainers and their clog dancing is about the best in vaudeville. They dance clog steps with eleven-pound skates and do it as trippingly as other dancers in shoes. "Bobby" Pulliam, the singer of negro melodies and popular songs is an attraction on the Bijou program. There is a splendid line of motion pictures on this week. New changes tomorrow evening.

THE AUWAIOLIMU IMPROVEMENT CLUB

A meeting of the executive board of this club was held last evening, when the following committees were appointed, viz:

Legislative—W. F. Wilson, A. H. K. Vieira and A. Q. Marcellino. Roads, lights and bridges—V. Fernandez Jr. John K. Clark and A. Y. Peters. Water and sewage—J. A. R. Vieira M. M. Pereira and Ed. Woodward. Health and sanitation—John Marcellino, A. G. Cunha and A. I. Silva. Membership—George E. Jurgensen, Frank C. Oliveira, J. K. Woodward, J. P. Rego and J. G. Faria. Press—W. F. Wilson.

With a view towards affiliating with the Oahu Central Improvement league, the secretary was requested to write to that body for a copy of the league's by-laws. The executive board will meet on June 26 to receive reports of committees.

DENIES OWING MONEY.

In the suit for accounting of Pilonema Ukuula vs. Sam Kamalopili, Malle Kamana and Helen Kamalopili, Malle Kamana answers to the effect that plaintiff has received all the rentals coming to her from certain lands mentioned at Kailua and Manoa. This defendant says she has on several occasions accounted to petitioner, also at various times paid her various sums of which she (Malle) has kept no account. Sam Kamalopili is mentioned as having collected some of the rentals.

CANADIAN PREMIER SUPPORTS THE MONROE DOCTRINE, ARBITRATION AND ALLIANCE OF ALL ENGLISH LANDS

LONDON, May 23.—The dinner of the Pilgrims Society tonight in honor of the colonial premiers, was historic because of the unexpected and noteworthy plain speaking by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Premier of Canada. Sir Wilfrid, addressing an audience composed of many of the great men of England, handled the annexation question without gloves.

He began by expressing amazement that during his three days' stay in England he had heard so many people of standing voicing doubts concerning the designs of the United States regarding Canada. He scoffed at the idea of annexation being seriously considered on either side of the border. He expressed in warm terms his admiration for the people of the United States, but said that much as he loved the American people, he loved Great Britain better.

Strong for Arbitration.

Canada, in sharing the Continent with the United States, he said, had a double interest in the treaty of arbitration between the United States and the United Kingdom, and exclaimed dramatically:

"I thank God that the relations between the two peoples never were so good as they are today!"

The Premier aroused enthusiasm when he said that Canada and the United States proposed to continue to show the world two nations with the longest boundary, extending from ocean to ocean, living in peace and mutual respect, without a fortress, a soldier or a gun on either side of that boundary.

The dinner was in contrast to the one held at a former imperialistic conference, because that was of purely British imperialistic tone, while Anglo-American relations were almost the sole topic tonight.

Lord Roberts presided and welcomed the Premiers. Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, proposed "Anglo-American arbitration," without adding anything significant to his former utterances on this subject. He expressed pleasure at the arrival of the draft of the treaty from Washington. The negotiations, he said, would enter the domain of practical politics, and he sincerely hoped the treaty would be concluded.

Supports Monroe Doctrine.

Defining the Monroe doctrine, as meaning that no European nation should acquire more territory on the American continent, he added: "Our policy is in full accord with that doctrine."

The American Consul-General, John L. Griffiths, responded. He said it was a matter of gratification to the American people when President Taft struck the highest moral note of the generation, and he recalled with what sense of exaltation they received Sir Edward Grey's reply.

"The imagination is profoundly stirred as we try to anticipate the beneficent results which would follow if England and America enter into a covenant of peace," he continued, "which would govern the mutual relations of more than 500,000,000 people. In the long interval since the close of arms was heard on the islands, England has had the opportunity to develop her conceptions of law, order and power. So she has been able to impress her lofty ideals of government on a larger aggregate of people than any one empire in the history of the world."

A message was sent to the King by the diners, and the secretary of the society, Harris Britain, read this reply: "The King thanks the Pilgrims for their kind congratulations on his approaching coronation. He earnestly hopes that the high ideals which the society have in view may be completely realized. KNOLLYS."

Americans in Canada.

Of the speakers the Canadian Premier was the most impressive, because his subject had aroused interest here. Sir Wilfrid Laurier spoke at length on the immigration of Americans to Canada and the apprehensions expressed that they might threaten the integrity of the Dominion. He said that the majority of them took the oath of allegiance to George V.

They had found in Canada the same opportunity and the same freedom under the laws which they had on the other side of the border. Moreover, they had found that democracy under British monarchy was not less than under a republic.

He would not say that some Americans did not covet the fair acres of Canada, they would not be human if they did not. If the United States attempted to annex Canada, continued the premier, it would not be by force of arms, but by sedition. In that event Canada would reply as Diogenes did to Alexander, "Stand out of my sun." There was sun enough for both. The last words of the Canadian premier were almost drowned in applause. "We believe," he said, "that the day will come of an alliance of all lands springing from England's loins, ensuring the peace of the world forever."

EDNA GOODRICH.

NEW YORK, May 23.—According to the signs of the zodiac, there is no way for Edna Goodrich to escape the matrimonial noose during the coming month of June. It is furthermore affirmed that she will be compelled by the stars that exercise a guiding control over her to take a London banker as her lord and master.

It is a fact just come out that Edna Goodrich and her mother are in London, where they are stopping at the Ritz Carlton. When the Goodrich-Goodwin divorce proceedings were in court here this London banker was much in the company of Edna Goodrich. He returned to London six weeks ago.

HAWAII INVITED TO MAKE EXHIBIT

Governor Frear has received the following invitation for Hawaii to take part in a "see America first" exposition:

Baltimore, Md., May 8, 1911.

MY DEAR GOVERNOR:—

The business men of Maryland and particularly of Baltimore City, with the assistance of the newspapers and various local trade bodies, are arranging to hold in Baltimore from January 22d, to January 27th, 1912, a "See Europe if you will, but see America first" Convention; and as Governor of Maryland, I take the liberty of inviting the active co-operation of your State.

As you know, it is estimated that some hundred of millions of dollars are spent annually by Americans in foreign travel, and tens of thousands of our people go constantly who really know very little about the interesting features of their own wonderful country. This is especially true of people in the East. Those who go abroad, as well as those who stay at home, do not realize the attractions and educational values which the different states have to offer in the way of travel and sight seeing, nor do they appreciate the great commercial and social advantages which spring from a wider intermingling with their fellow countrymen.

This "See America First" Convention, which the people of my State will hold, appeals to me as a project which should have the support of every other state. To one who does not know Hawaii, the natural question would be "what was there in Hawaii that would interest me as a sightseer or tourist? Or if I go there, what ought I to see? Or what has it of interest, that we do not have in Maryland?" The object of this Convention is to enlighten our own people and such visitors as we may have on such general points. In this way a wider community of interest can be cultivated and inter-state travel stimulated.

If you are in sympathy with the movement, I would like to suggest that you appoint a committee of twenty-five of your representative citizens as delegates to take up with our committee the question of having your state properly represented in this Convention. The expense to your State would be very nominal, as your display features would be largely a matter of photographs, slides, etc. paintings which could be loaned, literature for distribution, etc., with some addresses by such of your delegates as might care to attend or other special speakers they might select. Of course, you might be able to arrange for more substantial exhibits, though as to all such matters of detail our convention committee can enlighten your delegates. If you see fit to give your support, I should note that there will be no expense at this end for placing and caring of exhibits, so that the outlays necessary for your committee to make will almost be nominal.

I may say that all the large transportation companies, the U. S. Government, the Pan American representatives, etc., have promised help and very interesting material. Many thousands of people will see this display and hear the proceedings, and much good is bound to result. It is sure to arouse wide interest and should result in diverting considerable tourist and sight seeing travel, which now goes abroad or elsewhere, towards your State to the financial benefit of your citizens. We are anxious to have every state in the Union properly represented in such way as it may seem most to its advantage.

I hope this will appeal to you and that your State will have the place it deserves to have in this convention and that you will give this convention and its plans as wide publicity as possible in your state.

Trusting I may hear from you soon and favorably, I am, Sir,

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) AUSTIN L. CROTHERS.

DR. SUN YET SEN AND THE BOW WONG WUI ORGANIZERS OF THE REVOLT IN CHINESE EMPIRE

Chronicle: While the insurgents of Mexico are claiming the world's attention by a campaign involving a few thousand men in a comparatively new and comparatively small territory, it must not be forgotten that the largest and most populous nation in the world has at last begun a serious endeavor to overthrow a tyranny three centuries old and so primitive in its oppressions as to seem almost unbelievable.

Just at present Francisco I. Madero Jr. is in the traditional spotlight, but ten, twenty or perhaps fifty years hence the name of Dr. Sun Yet Sen, China's Madero, will be a much greater figure in the world's history. And, incidentally, it will be recorded that San Francisco's Chinatown was the starting point for one of the greatest political movements, ancient or modern.

Three hundred years ago the Manchurian Tartar tribesmen climbed over the Great Wall of China and subdued the Scholar Nation within. They unseated the hereditary rulers of Asia's leading kingdom and established the Manchu dynasty, very much as two swineherds raised a mongrel royalty in Serbia with the fall of the last Doushan Czar. Hardy and virile men were these Tartars, effete with overcivilization were the Chinese. And thus for 300 years they have held undisputed sway, forced their unwilling subjects to wear queues as badges of servitude and plundered the national coffers.

All this is more or less historically familiar to the layman, Caucasian or Mongol, but what is not generally known today, even to the majority of Chinese, is that every man in China of Tartar birth enjoys unusual and illegal privileges. The hereditary owners of China have to earn their living in the sweat of their brows, and are so heavily taxed as to make it well nigh impossible. But every man of Manchurian birth is entitled to a "pension" from the government. He is eligible for high office in the empire, while the real Chinese is not. In other words, he is set apart and politically favored in a multitude of ways for no other reason than that his forefathers invaded a foreign country centuries before he was born and made its people practical serfs.

Strange, almost unbelievable as it may seem, the Chinese themselves did not realize the extent of Manchu oppression under which they had suffered for many generations until Dr. Sun Yet Sen told them so. They knew in a general way that taxes were high and that they were a conquered and despotically ruled race, but they were so busy making a scanty living that they failed to realize how outrageously they were being treated.

Almost simultaneously three great reformers sprang up in China. They were Kang Yu Wei, Leong Chi Chew and Dr. Sun Yet Sen. The former two were political and social reformers, but their propaganda dealt with theories and hypotheses rather than with that actual and belligerent enthusiasm which inspired active support. Of the latter type was Dr. Sun Yet Sen, perhaps the bravest and most strenuous Chinese liberator yet to come before the public notice.

Converted the Emperor.

Kang Yu Wei and Leong Chi Chew converted the boyish Emperor, Kwang Hsu, to their beliefs, and with his endorsement planned great and radical political reforms. But even they did not go so far as to attack the sacred institution of taking away the special privileges of the Manchus. Their scheme was to educate the people by the adoption of modern methods. They wanted to turn the priests out of the temples and make public schools of them; to order the cutting off of queues, beginning with the army and navy; to abolish the Confucian classics in reading and writing for simpler forms, and to establish at some vaguely distant time a constitutional form of government.

But they overstimulated the young Emperor with their ideas. He became overenthused, and the ever-watchful Empress Dowager nipped his little reform plan in the bud by taking away the seal of state and putting Kwang Hsu in prison for the rest of his life. Kwang Yu Wei and Leong Chi Chew were warned in time to escape with their lives. Since then, until a recent proclamation of amnesty, they have been careful to stay away from the jurisdiction of the Peking government.

There is no doubt that they have done a great deal toward arousing the public intelligence of China. But Dr. Sun Yet Sen was made of sterner stuff. Time and time again he took his life in his hands, and, with a large price on his head, he worked under the very noses of Manchu officials, spreading his doctrines, exposing the selfishness of Manchu misrule and organizing revolutionary societies. Whatever the others may have done, Dr. Sun Yet Sen is the man behind the present revolution in China.

It is doubtful whether any series

INTER-ISLAND HAPPENINGS

(Correspondence of The Star.)

HILO, May 26.—The preparations for one of the best celebrations which Hilo has ever had for the Fourth of July are coming ahead fast, the particular feature being the fact that there will be no charge made for anything, unless outside parties should take up the race proposition. A big parade in the morning, with sport and baseball games during the afternoon, a Japanese lantern parade during the evening and winding up with a magnificent display of fireworks to be set off from a scow which will be anchored in the bay, are to be the special features of the local celebration, to consider the details of which the executive committee met last Friday. Those present were Messrs. Easton, Vickers, Pomeroy, Austin, Wise, Richards, Cool, Cabrinha, Filler, Kinney and Maguire.

The committee on finances made a satisfactory report, in which was announced that the funds were coming in satisfactorily and that slightly over a thousand dollars had been collected, while not a single subscription had come from the various sugar plantations of this vicinity, which were expected to donate fifty dollars apiece. Chairman Austin, of the committee, stated that he expected to raise a total of about $1,400, which should be enough for all purposes.

Chairman Pomeroy, of the parade

committee, announced that his plans were going ahead well and that he hoped to have a turnout which would rival the floral parades in Honolulu. People were going into the proposition in the right spirit. His only complaint was that he had not been allowed enough money, as he wanted to give good prizes and also needed funds to help out the Sunday schools which were to take part, in the line of furnishing horses. He was allowed $100 more.

Chairman Filler, of the fireworks committee, announced that he had ordered a fine assortment which, with freight and other like expenses, would cost about $300. Then followed appeals from the various committees for more money. The aquatic sports committee was given a raise from $75 to $125. The $50 for children's sports was raised to $75, the regular sports program boosted to $200 from $125, and the expenditure of $75 for advertising and printing was authorized.

Considerable dispute came up over the band. Austin stated that if the county did not pay the band a salary for the Fourth of July that the committee should do something for them. He stated that they would be needed in the morning for the parade, again in the afternoon for a short time, and in the evening for

ARMY AND NAVY

The military Order of the Carabaos, which was first organized by officers of the United States Service, embracing all branches of the army, navy and marine corps, stationed during the "Days of the Empire," in the Philippines Division, has grown and cemented its organization to such an extent that the Order of the Carabao is known and exists all over the military domain and sea of Uncle Sam.

That this ugly, but useful beast of burden of the Philippine Islands should supply the name of a large social banding together of officers of the service, immediately suggests the wit and fun that is possible to be enjoyed by its members at their regular Carabao wallows held annually.

These Carabao wallows occur each year wherever a Chapter of "Corral" of the Order exists. In Manila, the wallows occur more frequently, probably on account of the isolation of its members who are far removed from the crowds of their native villages. The "round-trip" of the herd in Manila is effected at the Army and Navy Club in the Walled City, where the attending Carabaos or those who have been most willingly driven within this delightful pen, find refreshments that are necessary to their health in the tropics. While wit and fun are the order of the membership, cemented with service comradeship.

Many Paymaster Changes.

Major Beecher B. Ray, pay department of the army, who was in charge of the office of the army here, as paymaster of this military district, is now stationed at Headquarters Department of the Gulf, at Atlanta Georgia.

Major Ray asked for change of station on account of the health of his wife about a year ago. Friends will be gratified to learn that Mrs. Ray is gradually being restored to her usual good health. Major Ray has recently been granted a brief leave of absence from his Atlanta post of duty. From the departure of Major Ray, until the arrival of Captain Eleutheros H. Cook, paymaster, there were three different army officers of the pay corps sent here in succession to look after the accounts and cash of the governmental army of this district.

Major John P. Hains, detailed from the Coast Artillery Corps to the pay department, relieved Major Ray as paymaster at Honolulu.

Major Hains' services were in demand at Seattle, Washington, so he was relieved by Lieutenant Colonel Francis L. Payson. On account of failing health, Lieutenant Colonel Payson's stay here was only from October to early February.

Major Ernest V. Smith of the pay corps came down from San Francisco to the temporary charge of the army pay office on the sudden departure of Lieutenant Colonel Payson for the homeland. Major Smith served this district well, but was needed at his

Want to Succeed Willfong.

HILO, May 29.—The fight for the local tax office job has simmered down to a few candidates at present, one of the most likely winners, Henry J. Lyman, having announced that he would not accept the position if it should be offered to him. Lyman states that while Mr. Willfong said that he would be glad to recommend him for the office, that he could not take the position, as he could not leave the management of his interests in Puna to handle the Territorial job. R. T. Moses, whose name was prominently mentioned, has also refused to allow his friends to advance his candidacy, not caring to leave his present position with the Volcano Stables.

The most likely candidates from this island are Robert Forrest, from Naalehu, who appears to have strong backing; R. T. Guard, of the Hilo Market, who is also very strong, and George Williams, of the local land office who, it is stated, is not an applicant, but whose name has been brought up by his friends and who would take the position if it should be offered him. Guard and Williams appear to be the strongest of the three, though Forrest is a dark horse who may show up strong in the stretch. C. E. King, it is understood, is after the position, but is hardly likely to be considered seriously by Governor Frear.

To Fly Over Hilo.

HILO, May 29.—There will be an exhibition of aeroplanes flying in this city on June 10 and 11, Saturday and Sunday, as the result of arrangements which were completed yesterday by wireless by Felix Brughehl. The full details have not been decided on as yet, but will be announced later on. Two aviators are coming to Honolulu about that time and Mr. Brughehl has made arrangements for them to pay a visit to this city to give the people of Hawaii their first opportunity to see the birdmen in action.

Panama Fair Exhibit.

HILO, May 29.—The matter of a proper representation of Hawaii at the Panama Canal Exposition, to be held in San Francisco in 1915, is something which is already taken up here and which is of a good deal of interest to Hawaii. The bill providing for the appointment of a commission to make preliminary arrangements was introduced by Towse of Oahu, in the Legislature and was amended by Alfonso of this island, to provide that, of the five commissioners, one each should come from Hawaii, Maui and Kauai, leaving two for Oahu. Mr. C. E. Wright was appointed by Governor Frear to represent this island.

In speaking of the matter the other day Mr. Wright stated that he did not care to say much in regard to what his views were, as he had not yet had a chance to meet with the other commissioners and find out what their views were. He made the following short statement, however:

"Personally I feel that the object of the exhibit to be sent by Hawaii is to bring tourists here and that we should work along those lines. The climate, the beauty of the scenery and the various natural wonders of Hawaii should be set forward in the most attractive possible manner, according to my views, though the other commissioners may differ from me in this or in the way in which such a plan should be carried out."

"One suggestion has been made that seems to be a rather good one, that one of the features of the Hawaii exhibition should consist of native palms, ferns and other foliage plants. This would appear to be a good suggestion and might be carried out well, though the shipping of these to San Francisco and their care in the colder climate might be a matter of some difficulty. I shall be glad to hear all suggestions that local people have, that I may think them over myself, and offer them to the commissioners when we meet."

NEARING THE END.

The work-a-day period is nearing the end and vacation time will soon begin. The selection of a suitable place is a serious one and the suggestion is made "Try Haleiwa." Certain it is that there is no more pleasant place for a rest and vacation. The attractions are many for aside from good fishing and boating, not counting the bathing without board of health restrictions, there is a good tennis court and unexcelled golf links. The trains go to the lawn and there is a telegraph and telephone service in the house.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

All Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramped and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as an ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."

—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.
The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is more widely and successfully used than any other remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed. Why don't you try it?

1911 MODELS

The 1911 Indians embody a feature that revolutionizes the construction of motorcycles, and which effectually solves the long studied problem of the transmission of the power of the motor to the driving wheel.

This feature is a new positively acting free engine clutch, that not only fulfills every function heretofore performed by the well known Indian compensating sprocket, but also makes the starting of the machine easy under every condition, and gives the rider as absolute, simple and positive control over his machine as is possible in the most perfect automobile. The rider can with ease and certainty run his machine at a walking pace in a crowded street, stop and start again without stopping his motor; and the machine can be started on a rough road where there is no possibility of starting by the usual methods.

The operation of this clutch is described in another place, but it may be stated here that this feature is a part of the regular equipment of all 1911 models, without extra charge.

In other directions the 1911 Indians have been improved as usual in many minor details where new methods of construction and new ways of manipulating and applying special steels and other materials afford opportunities for making the several parts better and stronger, stronger.

The 1911 Indians will all be of the handsome and convenient drop loop frame model that has proved so successful and popular, and which has been so widely copied in other machines; and the line will comprise the same sizes as were offered during the past year. These are the 2 3-4 and 4 h. p. single cylinder models and the 5 and 7 h. p. twin cylinder machines, of which descriptions follow:

The two speed gear, announced last year, has proved most efficient and perfect, and it has been modified and improved by the substitution of the new Indian clutch for the one used previously. This gear will be supplied to riders this season on the 4 and 7 h. p. chain drive models only.

In presenting this line of motorcycles the public is afforded a variety of choice not offered by any other maker in the world; and in perfection, design and quality, nothing approaching them has ever been produced.

We have just been appointed Agents for the INDIAN and by the Lurline we received 9 of the 1911 models. Most of these are already spoken for but we have another shipment following, which we hope to receive by the Sierra this week. Call and leave your orders for the most up to date motorcycle made.

of recorded biographical facts or even
the wildest vagaries of melodramatic fiction can eclipse the sensational career of Dr. Sun Yet Sen during the past fifteen years. And here it may be pertinent to remark that it was just fifteen years ago when Dr. Sun came from Honolulu and established in the local Chinatown what was known as Chung Hing Woei. Freely
translated this means Chinese Popular Society. Under this ambiguous and equivocal title more than 200 patriotic young Chinese pledged their lives to the cause of freeing China from Manchurian rule. Each, moreover, subscribed the sum of $15, and this $3000
was the first revolutionary fund that is known to have been created for the founding of a Chinese republic.

From San Francisco Dr. Sun proceeded eastward, making converts as he went, and finally arrived in New York, where he aroused much enthusiasm among his countrymen. They decided to send him to London and thence around the world to spread his gospel of Chinese freedom.

Empress Became Alarmed.

In the meantime his work had attracted the attention of the Empress Dowager, who became alarmed at his success and placed upon his head a reward of several million taels. She also instructed the Chinese Minister at London to suppress this troublesome
agitator by any means at his command,
and the minister, being both resource-
ful and loyal, responded by kidnapping
Dr. Sun as soon as he set foot on English soil.

The reformer was held a prisoner in the Chinese Embassy at London, it being the minister's intention to ship him
to China in some manner—thereby gaining the royal favor as well as a considerable fortune. But Dr. Sun Yet
Sen was not thus easily suppressed.
Well versed in international law, he smuggled a letter to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, setting forth the fact that he, a British subject, born in Hongkong, was being illegally restrained of his liberty by the minister of a foreign nation.

Curious as was this complaint upon the part of Dr. Sun, it proved, nevertheless, quite effective. Technically, it was found upon investigation, to be correct. There was nothing left but for the English official to make a protest against the overt action of the Chinese minister. And the latter, cursing, doubtless, volitionally under his breath, delivered Dr. Sun with smiling apologies to the English Minister's representative.

Nothing daunted by his adventure in London, Dr. Sun crossed the channel and began the organization of revolutionary societies in France. Here he met with great success and established a newspaper devoted to revolutionary doctrines, which has since gained an international circulation.
After visiting other leading cities of Europe and continuing his labors with unabated success, Dr. Sun returned to Hongkong, and after a time went back into the interior of China, disguised as a laborer. He became so bold in his labors as to attract the attention of the vice-regal secret police, and though he was warned and attempted to escape, he was captured, brought before the Viceroy of Kwang Tung and sentenced to be boiled in oil, the most terrible punishment in the decalogue
and meted out only to the most deperate offenders.

Too Wily For His Foes.

But Dr. Sun Yet Sen was too wily for his foes even in their own country.
Immediately upon being sentenced he dispatched a message to the English Minister at Hongkong, claiming protection of the British Government as a loyal subject of the Queen. Again
the ponderous machinery of English political law was set in motion to save a Chinese revolutionist, and again the Chinese authorities were compelled to open their cage and release, with apologies, the bird they had snared.

After this Dr. Sun did not return to China for some time. He made his headquarters in the Straits Settlements and directed the action of the many revolutionary forces he had set in motion all over the world. Later he again entered China and continued his propaganda. Whether the Chinese ordinals were afraid to touch him, or whether, warned by his previous narrow escape, he was so cautious as really to escape detection, is not known. Be that as it may, Dr. Sun aroused the people of twelve provinces
to revolutionary ardor and started a great fund for the financing of what may prove a long struggle for freedom
in the Flowery Kingdom.

Not long ago he passed through San Francisco and is now in New York.

But concerning the initial revolutionary society established here and its growth into an international order,
called Young China, the Chung Hing Woei, lacking Dr. Sun's guidance, became inactive and might have disbanded but for the Chinese Free

Mason Society, which took it under its wing, and in February, 1910, the members of the original Dr. Sun organization established the Young China Society here.

Some years ago Dr. Sun called a meeting of the revolutionist societies
from all over the world at Tokio, Japan. Representatives from every Chinese province and from Chinese colonies in Europe, America, Australia
and the Malay states and Honolulu attended this congress. The name Young China was chosen to represent the revolutionist cause. Dr. Sun Yet Sen was unanimously chosen president, and General Wong Hing was elected vice-president.

The local branch of Young China is one of the most prosperous and progressive that exists. It claims, and no doubt has, about 5000 members
throughout the Coast, including a thousand in this city.

Local "Young China."

The local Young China operates a daily newspaper of the same name
and a school in which a young woman
member teaches Chinese children
that China must be freed, as well as other branches of modern knowledge.
The society has a hall at the corner of Stockton and Clay streets, where frequent lectures and mass meetings take place. Among the lecturers are two young women, Miss Bork Mun Low,
who is a sort of a Chinese Joan of Arc
and Mrs. Pankhurst combined, and Mrs. J. Jung, a militant suffragist and revolutionist orator as well. Both are great attractions and always fill the hall when they are billed to speak.

Loyal women members of the San Francisco Young China Society have made two flags for the order. One of these is the flag of the Chinese "republic" and the other is the army battle flag of the revolution. The flag of the republic is quite attractive,
though not so ornate as the yellow dragon banner of the Manchus. It is red, with a blue field containing a twelve-pointed star. This represents the rising sun of Chinese liberation
and the twelve provinces of China
upon which the revolutionist cause depends. The battle flag is a blue rectangle with a similar but a larger white star in the center. On festive occasions these may be seen flying proudly from the front windows of the Young China Society, along with the Star-Spangled Banner.

Some time ago an enterprising editor of the Young China newspaper

named Lee See Nom wrote a Chinese play which was produced at the Liberty and Washington-square theaters in San Francisco. It was produced by members of the Young China Society,
amateurs with one exception, and all its lines were in Chinese. Nevertheless,
or, perhaps, because of this very fact,
it attracted great attention and a large number of white people witnessed the play, a synopsis of which was printed on the programme in English.

The play was an allegorical arraignment
of the Manchus, China being portrayed as an opium victim who recovers and overthrows the evil forces
under whose dominion he has suffered so long. Incidentally his recovery is materially aided by his wife, who has acquired a Western education, indicating very plainly that, under revolu-
tionist ethics, equality of the sexes
will be practiced. In fact, this is one of the leading planks in the Young China platform.

Chinese in San Francisco regard the revolt in Canton as merely a preliminary symptom. Outbreaks all over the twelve revolutionary provinces are expected almost daily. General Wong Hing, who led the anti-Government forces in Canton, is recovering from his wound and will probably be made commander in chief of the revolutionists. He is a brilliant military strategist, a graduate of the Japanese Imperial Military Academy and a former general in the army of Northern China.

THE LOWEST CHAMBER OF THE SOUL.

In the course of a long practice
with neurotic patients, that brilliant pathologist and psychiatrist, Professor Freud of Vienna, has arrived
gradually at theories of the mechanism of the unconscious, which, if they are substantiated, declares Professor William Chase in the Popular Science Monthly, will go far to revolutionize all present psychological conceptions. Freud's theory is unique, declares this competent critic
of it, in that he supposes the region
of the unconscious to be built up of two distinct layers and that he would explain all the facts of unconscious action as due to the interaction of these two layers. The upper layer is a sort of vestibule to consciousness.
When, for example, we try in vain to recall a name, and later find it coming of itself into consciousness, Freud would explain the case very simply. The train of conscious activity set up by the effort has, as soon

as attention was directed away from
it, sunk below the threshold of consciousness. But it does not at once die away. The activity rather goes exactly on as though it were on consciousness, new associative connections are made and by and by the associative train succeeds in reaching the name of which we were in search. This now appears in consciousness seemingly out of all associative connection, and yet a train of association has led to its discovery.
only it was a train of unconscious association. So during the day we break off scores of trains of thought without carrying them to a conclusion, because they are too trivial,
too complex, too unwelcome, to occupy the mind further. Such trains of thought drop below the threshold
and there may form new associative connections. If these are strong enough they may again appear above
the threshold, apparently without cause. If such connections are not formed readily the activity may die
out, without effect. Or such a train of thought may form still other associations and sink to the lower depths of the soul. This upper layer of the unconscious, then, which we find in Freud's theory, is very like the usual
sense in which the word unconscious
is used, especially by those who would see something mental in its activities.—Current Literature.

FIRST AID.

During the warm weather, attacks
of diarrhoea are very frequent and often are so swift in their results
that life is in danger before a physician can be summoned. Every man who has the interest of his family at heart should keep a reliable remedy
in his home for immediate use in cases
of this kind. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is,
without doubt the best remedy prepared for diarrhoea. It should be given
if possible, at the first unusual looseness of the bowels. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co.,

cisco and so he went away.The fourth paymaster to be in charge of the office here almost within a year, is Captain Eleutheros H. Cook, who has received the regular assignment for this military section and is practically chief paymaster on the staff of the Commanding General of the District of Hawaii.Captain Cook is the son of Governor Henry D. Cook, who was the first Governor of the district of Columbia,
when the capital city of the United States was under civil rule. The former homestead of Governor Cook and his family at Washington is still pointed out to sightseers as an historical place, although the surrounding ground
of the Cook home and the residence
has been converted into what is now known as Hammond Court.The present Paymaster assumed charge of this office coming here from San Francisco where he served a tour
of two years at Headquarters in the Chronicle Building. Captain Cook also has to his credit two separate tours of duty in the Philippines Division and a tour of two years service in Cuba. This paymaster's station has always called for a Major or Lieutenant Colonel to be in command, and the very fact of the department selecting Capt. Cook
to fill the duties here speaks for itself
as to his efficiency and capabilities.

LONDON PROMISED

RUBBER STREETS

LONDON, May 20.—Sir Henry A.
Blake, speaking at an entertainment in connection with the last rubber exhibition in September, 1908, said he looked forward to the time when rubber will compete with the quarry. He had the authority of a well-known manufacturer for saying that at 50 cents per pound rubber could be economically used for street pavements.Much has happened in the rubber world since then, and the price of 50
cents per pound, which thirty months
ago did not seem preposterous expectation, seems to have become more and more remote. Yet the contrary is really the case. Last year's rubber boom has meant the planting of many millions of rubber trees in various parts of the world. The supply of plantation rubber is likely to be immensely increased during the next fewyears, while the opening up of South America may lead to an additional output from that source. There are good judges who prophesy that by 1915 the price of crude rubber will have dropped to 50 cents per pound.
Then will be the opportunity of those who for years past have been experimenting with a rubber composition
which will supply the perfect pavement for London and other cities.Rubber pavement, is, of course, no new thing. Such places as the roadway under the Midland Hotel at St.
Paneras and the courtyard of the Savoy Hotel have been paved in this way in order to prevent guests being disturbed by the heavy traffic. The process has been a costly one, because practically pure rubber has been employed. It has been laid down in sheets, and its endurance is said to be wonderful.

The pavement of the future will not be pure rubber, it will be a compound, in appearance probably very much the same as asphalt, but possessing all the resilient qualities of pure rubber. Within ten years there is a very good chance that all our streets

will be covered with the new pavement, and that London instead of being one of the noisiest cities in the world, will be the most silent.
