BISHOP HARRIS OF JAPAN SPEAKS IN HONOLULU

Believes the Japanese Will Win in the Present War—Enthusiastically Received By Local Japanese Residents—A Pretty Present.

Going to a field but recently swept by the shot and shell of contending armies and one that now resounds with the tramp of armed men and that patriotic spirit that only the days of national crisis can bring forth, Merriam Colbert Harris, Missionary Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church for Korea and Japan, is a "war bishop" in the truest sense of the word. For a few hours yesterday while the Korea was in port the distinguished clergyman was the guest of friends in Honolulu and there were many who have known the bishop during the time that he has been in charge of the Japanese work in Hawaii and on the Pacific Coast who took the opportunity to call on him before he left for his field of work.

Bishop Harris is a tall man, rather slight but straight as an arrow and of a commanding presence. At the first glance he reminds one of the pictures of Bishop Potter of New York. His gray hair and sideburns tell of long years of faithful service but there is a youthful smile on his face and a twinkle in his eye that tells of the humor of the man. For over thirty years he has been in the service of the church and fourteen years of that time were spent among the Japanese people. Since Bishop Harris left Japan he has been in charge of the Japanese work on the Pacific Coast and in Hawaii. At the last General Conference of the church he was elected bishop and assigned to the missionary district of Japan and Korea.

Yesterday afternoon the Bishop addressed a meeting held in the Methodist church. Owing to the shortness of the notice many people did not know of the arrival of Dr. Harris but a good sized audience, more than half Japanese, gathered in the church at three o'clock. Rev. G. Motokawa of the Japanese M. E. church presided. The services opened with the singing of "Sunshine in My Soul" in Japanese and

Mr. T. Suzuki led in prayer. Following the prayer Mr. G. Kumada spoke a few words of welcome in behalf of the Japanese Methodist church. Then Dr. Mori in a few well chosen words extended a welcome on the part of all the Japanese friends of the Bishop. He referred to the fact that he became acquainted with Dr. Harris when he was about fifteen years old and was a student in America. At that time Dr. Harris was a father to all the Japanese boys who were in America. He also spoke of the general feeling of rejoicing among all classes and creeds in America at the selection of Dr. Harris as the representative of the Methodist church in Japan and Korea and told of a foreign baron who spoke on Japan in New York and said that this coming of Bishop Harris to that country meant much for the land of the Rising Sun. Mr. T. Kawasaki was then introduced and in an eloquent address presented Bishop Harris with an elegant gold-headed cane and a beautiful gold lacquered box tied with white ribbons and containing a hundred dollars in gold all being the gifts of the Japanese friends of the Bishop. After the singing of "In the Cross of Christ I Glory" in Japanese Bishop Harris rose to reply.

THE BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

Bishop Harris was evidently taken very much by surprise at the tokens of the love and esteem of his Japanese friends that had just been presented to him and his voice was full of emotion as he began his reply. He spoke in substance as follows: "I have nothing to say but thanks, a litany of thanks. After seventeen years of work among the Japanese here and on the Pacific Coast I find it very hard to go away from you. I have been very deeply touched by the farewells that have been accorded me here and in the States on the eve of my departure. Not only the Christians but all the Japanese joined in wishing me Godspeed. In San Francisco a representative of the Young Men's Buddhist Association and other prominent Buddhists were present at the farewell reception and joined in expressions of love and good-will and wished me success in my work."

MAY SAVE INTEREST ON THE NEW BOND ISSUE

Secretary Atkinson Cables Gov. Carter That He Can Probably Sell Four Per Cents In New York.

Yesterday Governor Carter received a cablegram from Secretary Atkinson, in Washington, saying that Mr. Atkinson had reason to think that he could sell the proposed new issue of Territorial bonds with interest at four per cent per annum instead of at four and a half per cent, as had been originally proposed.

This was a matter of some moment, as the saving to the Territory would be material in the event that the bonds sold at the same price bearing the lower rate of interest, and the Governor at once called Territorial Treasurer Campbell for a conference.

It was agreed, as Secretary Atkinson had asked for advice, to cable him that his action in the matter should depend upon the price obtained for the bonds. A sale of bonds bearing four per cent interest at par would be better for the Territory in a monetary way than a sale of four and one-half per cent bonds at a premium of, say, five per cent. Accordingly, word was cabled to the Secretary to this effect, and the matter is up to him. It is probable, however, that there will be some further cable conference.

Of course, if Secretary Atkinson finds that he can dispose of four per cent bonds to advantage equal to four and a half per cents, it will be necessary for him to have new bonds printed, but that is a minor matter. The cost of a new issue would be about $2000, but if the Territory can make $50,000 or even $25,000 by the expenditure of $2000, it would be money well spent.

The whole matter, however, as the Governor and the Treasurer agreed, is a matter of the price to be obtained for the bonds, and that must be figured up by men accustomed to the operations of large finance. If the bonds were to be sold at par regardless of the rate of interest, the four per cent proposition would be very attractive. The interest on $1,000,000 at that rate for fifteen years, the life of the bond issue, would foot up $600,000, and the total the Territory would be called upon finally to pay would be $1,600,000. On bonds drawing four and a half per cent, under the same conditions, the interest footings would be $675,000 at the end of the life period, and the total payment by the Territory would be that sum added to one million dollars. If the four and a half per cents were to sell for five per cent premium, the four per cent bonds would still be better for the Territory, on the face of the facts as they stand, notwithstanding the premium.

Another feature of the bond business demanding consideration is as to whether the entire million authorized by the president shall be disposed of at this time, or only half the issue. There is small economy in borrowing money to be put away for several months unused in the Territorial treasury, while on the other hand the condition of the money market may be such that it would be better to secure the whole amount at once than to run the chance by waiting of losing a favorable offer. However, that also is a problem whose solution is in a sense up to Secretary Atkinson. He is close to the money market than the official here.

BISHOP HARRIS OF JAPAN.

KAUAI JAPS CARRY GUNS

Chance for International Complication On Garden Isle.

Word has come down from Kauai that the idle Japanese on the island, of whom it was said that there are several hundred, have been latterly gathering for drill purposes near Lihue in a manner that raises the question of the preservation of the neutrality of the islands.

These Japanese, who are, as it appears, reservists of the Japanese army, who have presumably been or who are about to be ordered to their colors, have been drilling on the plain near Lihue for several weeks past. They have regular drill, with officers and men in uniform and colors flying, but up to a few weeks ago their maneuvers were performed with wooden guns. These facts were reported by the police officers on Kauai.

Latterly, however, the sounds of firing have been heard to come from the drill ground of the Japanese, indicating that the soldiers have obtained guns from some quarter and that their preparations to go to the front have therefore assumed a much more warlike manner. Whether the men have obtained guns enough to arm them completely, or whether they have got only a few rifles, with which to indulge in target practice is not stated.

The incident has sufficed to raise the question of the preservation of the neutrality of the islands and it is probable that there will be a looking up of the law upon the point. President Roosevelt, at the beginning of the present war between Japan and Russia, issued a proclamation defining neutrality, setting forth somewhat in detail those things which it was forbidden to residents in a neutral state to do so long as a state of war subsisted between powers toward both of whom the United States was friendly. This proclamation relates largely, naturally enough, to ships and shipping, but it contains this provision among things forbidden: "Beginning or setting on foot or providing or preparing the means for any military expedition or enterprise to be carried on from the territory or jurisdiction of the United States against the territories or domains of either of the said belligerents."

This, in effect, is a reading of the revised statutes of the United States with reference to the preservation of neutrality. The revised statutes, section 5282, says: "Every person who, within the territory or jurisdiction of the United States enlists or enters himself, or hires, or retains another person to enlist, or enter himself, or goes beyond the limits or jurisdiction of the United States with intent to be enlisted or entered in the service of any foreign prince, state, colony, district or people as a soldier, (Continued on Page 2)

KOREANS TO BREAK STRIKE

End of Troubles at Waialua Not Yet In Sight.

Two hundred and fifty Koreans were taken down to Waialua plantation yesterday in an endeavor to break the strike of the Japanese there, out of which grew the riot call for the police on Thursday night.

There are nine hundred men on strike now, their grievances being various. Among other things the Japanese claim that they should have higher pay because sugar is worth more now than it was when they went to work. The fact that they are not working on a sliding scale cuts no ice whatever with them. They argue that the boss is getting more money and so they should. Then, they do not like the way in which trash is dumped upon the cane fields, they demand that a couple of lunks who are personally objectionable to them shall be fired, and lastly they do not like their interpreter, a Japanese preacher of the name of Seki, and demand that the job be given to one Morikama. This man was taken down to the plantation yesterday and so the demand that he be employed will probably be granted.

As to the rest, the demands of the men are now under consideration, but there is small likelihood of a settlement for some days to come. There is a hard lot of Japanese hanging about Waialua, many of them discharged plantation hands, and the trouble of Thursday night was caused directly by the efforts of two of these. These men went to the pumping station at Kawaihoa and tried to get the men working the pumps to leave their posts, but were driven away by the white employees. Then they went down to the Japanese camp and stirred up their fellows to trouble that culminated in the plantation management sending for the police.

Oku Bombards for Three Days and Compels Evacuation of An Island.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLEGRAMS.)

LONDON, Dec. 10.—Gen. Oku, after three days' artillery fire, drove the Russians from the island of Gushan, ten miles below Liaoyang. The Russians abandoned a large quantity of supplies and several guns and retired eight miles. During the bombardment the Japanese fired kerosene depots, causing a great conflagration. The Japanese loss was 5000.

AFTERNOON REPORT.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Most of Russia's Black Sea fleet has been dismantled and the ships laid up.

TOKIO, Dec. 9.—The gunboat Giliak has been damaged, the transport Amur sunk, and the Port Arthur arsenals badly damaged. The vessels are apparently deserted and do not reply to the fire centered on them. It is believed the Japanese can now cease the assaults and starve the garrison out.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.

To Japanese Consul, Honolulu:

The naval staff with the Port Arthur besieging army reports on the evening of Thursday that the Poltava taking fire heeled to port side with her stern down; eleven shots also told greatly on the Gilyak; the Bayan taking fire at 11:30 p. m. is still ablaze at 4:15 p. m.

Commander of the naval artillery at Port Arthur reports that on Thursday the Amur was hit by fourteen shells and her stern sank; many shots greatly damaged the godowns and other buildings near Pehyushan and the arsenal.

HIGH SHERIFF TO PROTECT PRISONERS IN HIS CHARGE

Nobody Will Be Permitted to Solicit Business For Attorneys Among Unfortunates Confined In City Jail.

High Sheriff Henry has determined to put a stop to the business of soliciting clients by lawyers and in behalf of lawyers in the City Prison. This is one of the gravest abuses of the prison system, and perhaps the one that is in most need of reform.

"I propose to have cards printed and posted about the prison," said the High Sheriff last night, "containing the name of every attorney in the city. The prisoners can consult these cards, and if any prisoner wants to see a lawyer he can have the attorney of his choice. No more soliciting of clients by lawyers, or in behalf of lawyers, will be permitted."

It seems that a certain class of practitioners have been in the habit of hanging about the jail looking for business, and it is intimated moreover that members of the police force have been in the habit of seeking business for certain attorneys, working presumably on commission. This kind of thing has all got to stop. The High Sheriff does not propose to deprive any prisoner today of his right to see the lawyer of his choice, but no lawyer will be permitted to—make himself the prisoner's choice by discreditable means, and any policeman found soliciting business for an attorney had better begin looking for another job. The High Sheriff, in this move, is taking steps to reform an evil that has grown to some magnitude, here and elsewhere, and an evil whose development will be rapid if it is not stopped. A man locked up is very apt to take the first attorney who offers himself—and the attorney who offers himself is not, as a rule, the kind of man who will be over scrupulous in his methods. The result is that the prisoner loses what little money he has, and is not as a rule greatly benefited. As to policemen soliciting for lawyers, that is a thing that may work ill in various ways, not the least of these being the tendency to make frivolous arrests to increase business of the policeman's legal patron. The more clients the bigger the percentage.

Another reform the High Sheriff has in view is the taking of money and valuables taken from prisoners' arrest and searched directly into the cash all got to stop. This will reform the right to see the lawyer of his choice, but no lawyer will be permitted to—

JAPANESE MURDERER WILL HANG ON THURSDAY NEXT

Governor Carter Signs the Death Warrant of the Man Who Blew Albion Glennan to Pieces With Giant Powder.

MATSUMOTO MORITARO, SENTENCED TO BE HANGED FOR THE GLENNAN MURDER DEC. 15—CHESTER DOYLE, WHO MADE OUT THE CASE AGAINST HIM.

Yesterday Governor Carter signed the death warrant of Matsumoto Moritaro, the Japanese convicted of the murder of Albion H. Glennan, and the man will be hanged in Oahu Prison on Thursday, December 15th.

The murder of Albion Glennan was one of the most atrocious crimes that was ever committed in the islands. The man who was slain was the superintendent of work on the Makaweli ditch, on the island of Kauai, and in that capacity hired and discharged many Japanese laborers while the work was in progress. Among these men hired and discharged was the man who is to die next week for the murder of Glennan. Matsumoto proved to be an ugly customer from the first day of his employment on the ditch, and besides being of bad disposition he was lazy and neglected his work.

It is in the testimony taken at his trial that Glennan and Glennan's assistants had spoken to the Japanese more than once, striving to get him to pay more heed to work, but it was of no use. The man would not work, and turned ugly when he was spoken to. As a last resort he was discharged, but not by Glennan. He was given his discharge by one of the assistants.

From the man's confession, obtained subsequently by Chester A. Doyle, who worked up the case against him for the Attorney General's office, it appeared that Matsumoto blamed Glennan for his discharge, nevertheless, and took measures to get revenge upon the superintendent.

Glennan slept in a small tent at the ditch camp, the tent being known as the "Ditch Office." On the night of January 8, 1904, Glennan went to his tent fatigued with his day's work and was soon sleeping the sleep of a tired man. The whole camp was quiet. Then there was a terrific explosion and the excited Japanese, and the white assistants of Glennan on the work, rushing from their tents, found the Superintendent bleeding on the ground where his shelter had been, and the tent itself and the bed upon which he had been asleep blown to atoms.

The first thought, of course, was medical help for the injured man, but the fiend who planned his death had meant that he should not have even a chance for life. The telephone wire had been cut a short distance from the tent in which the wounded man had been sleeping.

Glennan lived but a few hours following the tragedy, and suspicion hit at once upon Moritaro, who had been heard to utter threats against the superintendent. He was arrested, and on April 9th was convicted in the Fifth Circuit Court of the murder of Glennan. A great legal battle has been waged in his behalf, his case being carried to the highest court in the Territory, but without avail. He must pay the last penalty.

Japanese drilling on Kauai if any law of the United States does, but of course in the application of these laws the courts have repeatedly taken a wide latitude in ruling upon the applications of the principles of the law to individual cases. In the first place the Japanese who have been drilling are reserve soldiers of Japan who have been on leave and who have now been called back to their colors. They are not, in the widest sense, preparing a military expedition against Russia on American soil. At any rate they are not initiating a military expedition against Russia on American soil. They are probably drilling to perfect themselves in the manual at arms, in which, through lack of practice, they have become somewhat rusty. The most serious feature of the case, and the new feature, consists in their actual possession of arms on American soil.

Again, under the law, it is a violation of neutrality to prepare an expedition against the territory of any foreign prince with whom the United States is not at war. There is no proof that the Japanese reservists called home from Honolulu are called for any other purpose than garrison duty in their own country—but, if they should be sent to the front in Manchuria they would not then be taking part in military operations within the territory of any power that would object to their presence on the ground of a violation of the neutrality laws on the part of the United States. Manchuria belongs to China, although a part of it is held by Russian troops, and there is abundant reason to believe that the Japanese effort to drive out the Russians has the entire sympathy of the actual owners of the country.

THE FUNDAMENTAL LAW OF HAWAII: A NEW LAW BOOK

The Hawaiian Gazette Company, Ltd., announce the publication of a book, edited and indexed by Lorrin A. Thurston, containing the several constitutions and other fundamental laws of earlier days, the annexation treaty, resolutions and procedure and the Organic Act.

The book contains 298 pages of text and 138 pages of index. It is printed in regulation law book type and style and is substantially bound in calf skin.

The price is $5.

The scope and character of the book and the reasons for its publication are given in the preface, which is as follows:

PREFACE TO THE FUNDAMENTAL LAW OF HAWAII.

Congress has expressly enacted a law organizing Hawaii into a Territory, and extended the provisions of the United States Constitution to the Territory.

In a restricted sense, therefore, the United States Constitution and the Organic Act constitute Hawaii's fundamental law; but the Organic Act specifically re-enacts the great body of pre-existing Hawaiian statute law, which was based upon the several Hawaiian Constitutions and organic laws.

A large proportion of the law governing real estate, property and personal rights in Hawaii being based upon these early constitutions and laws, and precedents, decisions and court practice having grown out of them, it is necessary to consult them in order to have a comprehensive understanding of existing Hawaiian law. They are nearly all published, however, in books now out of print, and in scattered volumes, inaccessible to many, and inconveniently located for all. In fact, not even practicing lawyers in Hawaii can, except at considerable loss of time, place their hands on the laws and constitutions necessary for the study and decision of practical questions continually being presented to them.

Under these circumstances it is believed that the public interest requires the re-publication in convenient reference form of what may be called "the fundamental law of Hawaii." To meet this requirement the following constitutions, laws and documents have been compiled under the common title of "The Fundamental Law of Hawaii," viz.:

1. The first Constitution of Kamehameha III, 1840, including the previously issued Bill of Rights.
2. The first laws of Hawaii, enacted under Kamehameha III, (1833-1842), published together in 1842.
3. The law creating and principles guiding the Land Commission.
4. The second Constitution of Kamehameha III, 1852.
5. The Constitution of Kamehameha V, 1864.
6. The Constitution of Kalakaua, 1887.
7. The Proclamation and orders incident to the establishment of the Provisional Government, 1893.
8. The Constitution of the Republic of Hawaii, 1894.
9. The treaty annexing Hawaii to the United States, 1897.
10. The Resolution of the Hawaiian Senate ratifying the annexation treaty, 1897.
11. The Joint Resolution of Congress annexing Hawaii, 1898.
12. The documents and procedure incident to the transfer of the sovereignty and possession of Hawaii to the United States, 1898; and the executive orders of President McKinley, relating to the government of Hawaii, issued during the transition period between the date of annexation and the passage of the Organic Act, 1898-1900.
13. The Act of Congress organizing Hawaii into a Territory, 1900.

The laws of 1842 are not "fundamental" in the sense that the constitutions and other laws and documents are; but they have been included herein for the reason that they were not only the first written laws of Hawaii, but embodied many of the pre-existing laws and customs of the country and therefore throw a strong light upon the origin and development of much of the present law.

Only a few of the laws, constitutions and documents re-published, have ever been indexed. A full index of all of them is included herein. Instead of one general index, each is indexed separately. The reason for such treatment is that reference will usually be desired to a given subject in some one law or constitution. The subject sought will be much easier found in the short index of the particular law, than it would have been in a necessarily long index of the whole.

The table of contents gives the page of each constitution and law and of its index.

Captain and Mrs. Bash are through passengers on the transport Logan en route to the Philippines. Before her marriage to Captain Bash in San Francisco a couple of months since, the bride was Miss Bertha Runkel, author of "The Helmet of Navarre." The book deals with the romantic period of French history during mediaeval times and it is said the volume was written without the author ever having seen any of the places she so graphically describes.

Princess Kalaniana'ole accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. G. Smithies, Dr. and Mrs. Hobdy, Miss Mary Low, and Mr. Clarence Waterman, enjoyed a very pleasant three days' outing at Captain Parker's home over the Fall at Waiolu, Koolau. The captain entertained his guests in two large canoes with the best fishing to be had on the island. Seventy devil fishes were caught by the natives, also thirty-two lobsters. The genial doctor caught nineteen large deep sea fishes including ulua, kumu, uhu and others unnamed. The Princess and ladies were not backward in their fishing, while Waterman, a gallant diver reached surface with some of the prize lobsters. On the return trip the Princess and party were entertained by Mr. C. Boite.

The At-Home of Princess Kawana-nakoa held yesterday afternoon at the Campbell residence was largely attended. The Princess was assisted in receiving by Mrs. William Purdy. Miss Cunha poured tea.

Mrs. James Harvey Raymond has issued cards for an At-Home to be given Friday, December 16, from 3 to 5.

Mrs. C. O. Berger (nee Widemann) arrived yesterday on the Korea and is the guest of Senator and Mrs. Dowsett. Both her son and daughter have recently married in California.

Mr. Barbour Lathrop of cotillion fame, was again in Honolulu, this time, however, as a through passenger on the Korea, en route to Hongkong. Mr. Lathrop gave a cotillion to the smart set of Honolulu about three years ago in Progress Hall, and those who were bidden felt themselves the envy of the less fortunate members of the same set. The cotillion figures were new and unique and the favors something to be proud of. Mr. Lathrop, in fact, was for a time the Ward McAllister of Honolulu.

It is rumored that a cotillion will be given the latter part of the month. Princess Kawana-nakoa may be at the head of the function.

Mrs. George Herbert and family, Mrs. Helen Noonan, the Tenney children, Mrs. Clarence Macfarlane, and the C. B. Makee's will go to Kauai for the Christmas holiday as the guests of Col. and Mrs. Spalding.

Miss Olive Donnellan, daughter of a Salt Lake City banker and sister-in-law of Lieut. Falls, Eighteenth Infantry, is a passenger on the transport Logan, en route to the Philippines.

Dancing in honor of the army officers and ladies aboard the transport Logan and passengers on the Mongolia was given last evening at the Hawaiian and beach hotels. The lanais of the Hawaiian were bright with uniforms and ladies in dainty evening toilettes.

Watch for Them in the Shriners' Parade Today.

The big Shriner "doings" of Aloha Temple take place this afternoon and evening. The wearers of the fez will own the town and a score or more novices will be lucky at the end if they own the clothes they started in with. At 1:30 the Shriners will gather at Progress Hall and don their magnificent Oriental regalia. At 2 p. m. the parade starts and will march through the principal streets of the city, headed by the Hawaiian Government band. Camels, etc., will be in line, also some men, who will ride them.

Then comes the fearful "ceremonial session," or in other words the seance with the goat. The torture chamber has been rigged up with every device known to Shrinerdom and the big rope is there for everybody to hang on to.

At 9:30 the Shriners and the initiated novices will sit down to a banquet at the Alexander Young Hotel. Manager Lake, himself a Shriner, intends to make this banquet one which will be long remembered. First of all the entrance to the hotel will be brilliantly illuminated with the Shriner tokens. The dining-room will be furnished with Shriner regalia. Camels and goats in miniature will be seen everywhere. Potentate M. E. Grossman will be master of ceremonies.

PLENTY OF BUSINESS FOR THE POLICE

The police have been having a rather strenuous time of it for the last month or so. There were 518 arrests during the month of November, 263 of which were for gambling. For this month up to yesterday, 221 arrests had been made, gambling and drunkenness heading the list by a large majority. During last evening eight Porto Ricans and a Kanaka were arrested on the charge of vagrancy. Three other Porto Ricans are in the Police station pending investigation. Bene Paul has to go to the reef to work out a $30 fine. He struck a woman, breaking a rib, and must now break rocks to atone for it.

BISHOP HARRIS.

"I was greatly surprised when I received your beautiful gift. I do not use a cane yet but I assure you that I shall put the cane up in my house where I can see it and remember you and when I get to be a hundred years old I shall use it (laughter). The money which you have given me I will with your permission give to the fund for aiding the widows and orphans of Japanese soldiers. There are 600,000 brave men bearing arms in the service of Japan who have given all they have and are receiving no remuneration. When the steamer came in this morning I got a copy of the morning paper and saw that General Nogi has lost his second son. Before he went to the front General Nogi said 'Before this war ends there will be three funerals in my family.' One son died at Nanshan Hill, another fell fighting gallantly on the 203 Meter Hill and now the brave old general expects to give his life for his country. Can there be any nobler sacrifice?"

"The reserves whom Japan called upon are experienced men and they are nearly all married men. The American people are willing to shout 'Banzai' for Japan and wish her all success but they do not realize the suffering that the families of those who are away at war are undergoing but when they have learned of the true condition of affairs they have been quick to respond. After one of my meetings a lady pressed some money into my hand. I asked her name but she replied, 'Never mind my name. I want you to use this money to help that brave people.' In St. Louis a laboring man gave me fifteen dollars and with a voice shaking with emotion begged that I give it to those that are suffering while the brave soldiers of Japan are away fighting for their country. 'Let us hope that peace will come

WALTER G. SMITH, EDITOR.

SATURDAY : : : DECEMBER 10

HIS OWN REVIEWER.

A few weeks ago Mr. Andrew Lang wrote a piece for the Independent magazine, in which he claimed that authors were the best reviewers of their own works. It was palpably a joke on the part of Mr. Lang, but it gave the editors of the Independent an idea and the result is a series of book reviews written by the authors themselves.

These reviews, as the Kansas City Journal remarks, are not of much worth as criticism, though none of the writers spares himself—some tearing their pets to pieces with almost malevolent hand. But they are strongly interesting as showing the state of mind in which the books were written, the secret impulse which caused the writing and the sources of material.

Of a number of these author reviews in the last number of the magazine we are attracted by Mr. Thomas Dixon's criticism of his story "The One Woman." He says he took the characters from life. That has never been doubted in the West, where the hero, or villain, was personally known to a good many people. The preacher socialist with whom the story deals held a professorship in a Kansas college during the Populist-Socialist period. Mr. Dixon has drawn him true to life and has departed not at all from the facts in his shameless abandonment of a good family. He says of the novel:

"The One Woman" was written in thirty days at white heat under a single overpowering impulse, hence its strength and weakness. Had I laid it aside for six months I would have corrected many of its faults. It is overcrowded with incident, its emotional development is too swift and intense. The contrast between the flesh and the spirit as embodied in Kate and Ruth is too strong for the very young. I would have cut the closing chapters and ended the book with Gordon knocking at Ruth's door the night he fled from his new wife's home. All this and more I would surely have done had I held the book out six months and carefully revised it and in doing so I would just as surely have made it in every way weaker and more ineffective for every purpose I had in view. As it stands the book is an authentic record of human life in America today. I wish it had been better written. It was the best I could do at the time. I hope to do better in the next."

The supreme thought which possessed Mr. Dixon was to show that socialism is sapping the moral fiber of the American people and destroying the family. "In reply to the brilliant and specious pleas for free love made by our modern socialist reformers," says Mr. Dixon, "I presented in this parable the fact that monogamic marriage is not merely a dogma of the church, or a convention of society, but that it is eternally fixed in nature and that he who departs from it will come back at last by the way of blood and tears."

Dixon leaves no doubt of the source of his material. He says that a few years ago the Rev. Frank Gordon was a brilliant minister preaching the word of God. "Today," he declares, "he is a socialist bushwhacker in Chicago, preaching socialism with his new 'wife.' That the leaders of radical socialism are the enemies of our family life is plainly shown by their divorce court records. Their savage personal letters to me and their hysterical reviews of my book indicate that 'The One Woman' hit the mark."

It will be remembered that the Rev. Frank Gordon killed the man who seduced his "new" wife away. Then he went back to his divorced wife who stood by him through the trial and finally overcame every obstacle in the way of his liberty. Many people thought this strained and unnatural. Mr. Dixon says: "I will risk my hope of immortality on the assertion that she is the normal woman. She could have done nothing else than what she did. The world is full of such women." But interesting beyond any mere assertion is the following statement of facts not unfamiliar to the readers of newspapers:

"The very tragedy she played was being enacted in Washington before President Roosevelt while I was writing the story, although I did not know it until after the manuscript was finished. A man in New Orleans deserted his wife and children and went to the Klondike with his new love. On the way, in the freedom of the wild North, his new wife smiled on another man, and he killed the interloper. She testified against him, and he was convicted of murder. The deserted wife took her place by his side, and through every trial fought with desperation for his life. On the final appeal to the president she sat down on the steps of the White House, and for weeks made

The ruling of Judge Whitney in the hack drivers' case is that liverymen "cannot go upon the streets and openly solicit trade in the same manner as is now done by the hackmen without first procuring for its vehicle and its driver the same license required of a hackman." This ought to satisfy the hack interest, which has for years complained of livery incursions into its special field.

There is more talk of extending the wireless from the Farallones to Honolulu. If the scheme ever works, no ship running between these two points and supplied with the proper apparatus, need ever be out of touch with the land.

Jap laborers want more pay because sugar has gone up. They also wanted more when sugar was going down. It would serve these fellows right if 30,000 Chinese could be got to compete with them.

If the Baltic fleet does not happen upon an archipelago of floating mines, it will be sheer luck.

It is pretty nearly time for Japanese torpedo boats to give an exhibition in Vladivostok harbor.

Status of Burton Case.

The Journal is in receipt of an inquiry from a Kansas reader as to the precise condition of the Senator Burton case soon to be decided by the supreme court at Washington. The hearing to be had before the court this month is to determine whether or not it will take jurisdiction. It may decide to take jurisdiction and set some future date for the final hearing. It may take jurisdiction and decide at once that Burton is innocent or guilty. It may decide that the case was not properly brought in St. Louis and that the jurisdiction lay in Washington, which would overthrow the decision at St. Louis, leaving the senator, as we understand it, to be tried again in Washington if the government is so disposed. And it may simply refuse to take jurisdiction, thus throwing the case back to the circuit court of appeals. It is not, however, the general opinion among Kansas lawyers that the case will reach a final decision at the supreme court hearing now coming on, or that the Burton seat will be declared vacant during the present winter.—Kansas City Journal.

The Newest Embroidery Designs

The style of work, familiarly known to our mothers and grandmothers as English embroidery or stiletto work, is now revived and there is nothing more exclusive or up-to-date at the present time.

The designs are simply rich, attractive and fascinating.

Another newly revived embroidery, now very popular, derives its name Mountmellick from a town in Ireland, where the work originated in a convent and has reached high perfection. It is durable, rich and effective.

Hardanger is another effective and fascinating form of embroidery. It originated in the Norse town of Hardanger and is especially rich and quaint.

A splendid assortment of all three of the above mentioned embroideries now on display in the middle aisle upstairs.

Pain in Stomach

It has been said that a healthy person doesn't know he has a stomach.

How unhealthy the dyspeptic must be!

He feels as if he were all stomach, and one thing that makes him feel so is the pain at the pit of the stomach—sometimes an "all-gone feeling"; sometimes a "burning sensation."

"I suffered from pains in my stomach and could not eat. An old gentleman told me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and after the use of four bottles I gained my appetite, and I was soon completely cured, so that now I feel like a new man. On no account would I be without Hood's Sarsaparilla in my house." HENRY CALLAN, 71 Commercial St., Portland, Me.

PIGSKIN CHASERS ARE TO MEET TODAY

HOW THE PLAYERS WILL FACE EACH OTHER THIS AFTERNOON.

Everything is now in shape for the great football battle that is to take place at the new baseball park at 3 p. m. today. The grounds are in perfect condition and the soft green turf affords a fast "grid" for the giants to struggle on. Chairs have been placed along the side lines for those wishing reserved seats and everything possible will be done to place the crowd where they can get a good view of the game and at the same time be comfortable. This game of football is attracting more interest than any game that has been played here in years. The rivalry of the two teams is "great" and the players will never leave the field unless they are carried off. It will be a struggle of giants with each and every man in fine fettle. From the first kickoff to the call of time at the end of the second half there will be "things doing."

MAILES CHANCES BRIGHT.
"We should win this game," said Coach Benson to a bunch of football fans. "Our team is in fine shape and there is not a sore spot on a single man. No, we are not looking for an easy thing. We shall be prepared to meet what comes." Although the Maile supporters feel confident of victory they will not bet odds on their chances. In comparing scores it will be seen that the green and gold team have by far the better chances. They defeated the Punahou team by a score of 11 to 0 and the Punahou in turn defeated the H. A. C.'s 16 to 5. All the teams have had the experience of one game.

H. A. C.'S HAVE STRONGER TEAM.
The H. A. C.'s have a much stronger team than the one they had in the field last Saturday. They have some new men and the old ones are in better condition and working faster. Wallace Blaisdell will be on the field and captain the team. He said: "Last Saturday the team could not work together, they seemed to always be waiting for the other man. We will play in better form this game and should stand a good chance to come out on top."

BOTH TEAMS HAVE HEAVY LINES.
Both the contesting teams have very heavy lines with a slight advantage in favor of the H. A. C.'s. It will be a battle royal to see these giants who average 200 pounds to the man trying to block and tackle. When these two lines clash something must give and it is a question as to which team gets the start. If the Mailes win this game they will be in line for the championship as they will then have two games to the best of the race. On the other hand if the H. A. C.'s are defeated they will be out of the race.

LARGE ADVANCE SALE.
There is a large advance sale of seats—the largest that the league has had this season and if the weather is good there will be a large crowd on hand to witness the struggle.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION.—This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by all Dealers. Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Agents for Hawaii.

An Enjoyable Outing.
The most attractive day's outing is that afforded by the excursion down the railroad line. The HALEIWA LIMITED, a first-class train, leaves Honolulu every Sunday morning at 8:22 o'clock making the run in two hours, the rate for round trip being only $2.00. From 10:22 a. m. until 5:10 p. m. is spent at the beautiful HOTEL HALEIWA, with fresh and salt water bathing, tennis, golf drives and walks, shooting or fishing and you are back in town at 10:10 o'clock in the evening.

HAWAII AS A FIELD FOR INVESTMENT OF CAPITAL

Present Value and Future Importance to the Nation—Sugar Securities—Industrial and Agricultural Development—Opportunities for Settlement.

The city enjoys all the latest municipal improvements: a thoroughly up-to-date electric light plant, ample water facilities, twenty miles of excellent electric railway and suburban streets and boulevards that could well challenge comparison. With beautiful homes, energetic, far-seeing business citizens, a superb climate and an unrivaled location, Honolulu may well rest in confidence on what the future holds out to her. The bank transactions are enormous for a city of her size, as already mentioned, in excess of $150,000,000 yearly. The bank deposits are about $6,000,000, and where, we repeat, can a like showing be made under similar conditions? Honolulu suffered the effects of a boom in 1899, and realty values were then inflated, but today prices of real estate are low, and mortgages made or bought on 50 per cent of the present valuation are as safe as anywhere in the States, and investors that find it difficult to place their funds on real estate security in our older sections, may well and profitably turn their attention to the opportunities offered in Honolulu. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1903, 551 vessels of all kinds entered and cleared from the different ports of Hawaii, representing a total tonnage of nearly 2,000,000, and of this Honolulu received more than 1,500,000 tons. As a place for business, and as a place for residence either for the entire year or merely during the winter, Honolulu stands unrivaled, and the best wish we can give a reader is that he may visit this charming city for himself. The territorial government is in able and energetic hands, and the economies of government now inaugurated are placing territorial finances on a sound and stable basis. The total bonded debt of Hawaii on the 17th of last month was $2,181,000, being less than the annual receipts by about $300,000, and less than 2 per cent of the assessed taxable property of the islands; $870,000 of these bonds, dating from June 13, 1896, are payable in twenty years and bear 5 per cent interest; $1,000,000 4 1/2 per cent bonds payable in fifteen years from April, 1903, were sold en bloc in New York. These, together with a small issue of $311,000 fire claim bonds, issued last year to cover claims resulting from an incendiary fire started in 1900, to check the ravages of the bubonic plague which was at that time raging, constitute all the bonded indebtedness of the territory. The territorial government has experienced some embarrassment this year in the prompt payment of outstanding warrants, and this fact has been unduly magnified in certain reports sent to the States, and which have found their way into print. This embarrassment was only temporary, and was caused by the uneven collection of taxes and other revenue, to remedy which the auditor in his last report has suggested some changes which, when acted upon by the next Legislature, will effectually obviate a similar occurrence in the future. The taxes in Hawaii are moderate, being but 1 per cent, and there is very little difficulty in making collections, the taxpayers of the islands realizing the necessity of adequate revenue, and each being desirous of doing his share to the required end.

Inter-island communication is frequent and efficient, although, as the distances are considerable, but one round trip can be made in a week, allowing for brief stops at the different islands. By the most direct route from Honolulu to Hilo it is 102 miles, and to visit Hilo, going from there to the volcano, and thence to the western part of the island. One purpose of this article is to treat Hawaii as a resort for the tourist purely on pleasure bent. There has been much attractive literature issued for the information of tourists, but we may add that the truth about the beauty of these islands has been only half told. No pen picture can do it justice, and like most scenic portions of the world, it must be seen in its native grandeur. A visit to Hawaii on the palatial steamers of the Oceanic Steamship Company, plying between San Francisco and Honolulu, will be a long holiday of pure enjoyment, and whenever possible should be taken as a side trip by California visitors from the East.

An article on Hawaii would be incomplete without a specific mention of the splendid ocean passenger service afforded the traveling public by the Oceanic Steamship Company, running between San Francisco and Sydney, Australia. It equals the best Atlantic service, and is superior to most of that furnished on the Pacific. Every comfort and convenience is given passengers, and to journey by this line is unalloyed pleasure. When the first steamers ran from Sydney to San Francisco it required from twenty-nine to thirty-six days to make the voyage, while now the new fine vessels of the Oceanic company have reduced the time to twenty days. It is interesting to observe the opening up of this great ocean highway between two neighbor continents, and note the large part which the owners of the Oceanic company (the Messrs. Spreckels) have played in its development, in insuring its continuity, in increasing its trade, and in providing such high-class passenger steam vessels as the Ventura, Sonoma and Sierra, which now run with fixed regularity from port to port, and have become already such favorites with tourists and the traveling public in general.

At an earlier period, it will be remembered that the steamers Alameda, Mariposa, Australia and Zealandia successively carried on the service for a number of years, but developments soon made it apparent that a vastly accelerated service was required to meet the demands of the mail, passenger and freight traffic, which had been growing to larger proportions year by year. Hence it came about that these steamers had in turn to give way to vessels of larger tonnage, and the steamers maintaining the present service were placed in commission to Sydney while the fast steamer Alameda is run between San Francisco and Honolulu only.

Mr. J. D. Spreckels has given a substantial guarantee for the future in the steamships he has placed on the route, and by substituting the existing three-weekly for the former monthly service. These high-class liners are over 6,000 tons each, nearly double the tonnage of the ships which did their work up to the end of 1900. They have a guaranteed speed of seventeen knots. They perform their portion of the journey from Sydney to London, by way of America, in such time that travelers may find themselves in London in about thirty-one days after leaving Circular Quay. They are entirely new ships, having been built expressly for this line at a cost of over half a million sterling.

The Sonoma began her career by making the record voyage from Philadelphia to San Francisco, a distance of 14,000 miles, at an average speed of fifteen knots an hour. Already the ships have made a favorable impression in this trade, passengers speaking highly of their sea-going qualities, the comfort experienced during their voyages, and the efforts of the staff in each case, from the commander down, to make the trip interesting and enjoyable. Special attention has been paid to the provision of upper deck staterooms, so much appreciated on these pleasant Pacific voyages. The main saloon is on the spacious upper deck, and like the social hall, ladies' retiring rooms, and the three bridal apartments, is appropriately fitted and furnished with all modern improvements. As an additional convenience to patrons the Oceanic Steamship Company, in conjunction with its associated railway lines, has established a traveling passenger agent service between Honolulu and San Francisco. It is the duty of these agents to meet steamers and during the voyage to confer with passengers, and to afford information with regard to handling of baggage, hotels, train service, sleeping car accommodations, and in every way to render any other service likely to be conducive to the comfort of patrons of the line. As Mr. Spreckels puts it, the company is determined to make the service fit for its opportunities, and "we have got the desired steamers." They have necessitated a large expenditure, but the directors do not begrudge it.

Hawaii is enjoying at present the well-organized efforts of the Hawaii Promotion Committee to bring the natural and practical advantages of the islands to the attention of the world at large. This committee is a subsidiary company, organized by and directly representing the Territory of Hawaii, the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants' Association, and its destinies are therefore controlled by the leading citizens of the city. Its purpose is to furnish tourists, investors and settlers with the unvarnished truth about the Hawaiian Islands. The committee is thoroughly alive to the kind of information required as well as to the present needs of the islands, and has had prepared a series of attractive booklets for free distribution upon request. The Promotion Committee is doing yeoman service in the island propaganda, and very much of the newly awakened interest in Hawaii and her resources is due to this valuable work. The writer of this short and incomplete article desires to express his most grateful appreciation of the kind and generous treatment he has received from the gentlemen connected with the Promotion Committee, as well as with the Territorial Government, for the courteous readiness with which they have opened to him all avenues that lead to reliable and trustworthy information.

MEN, WAKE UP!

IS YOUR BACK WEAK?
HAVE YOU DRAGGING
PAINS?
ARE YOU EASILY TIRED?

Have you lost the fire and strength of youth? Have you "come and go" pains in your back and shoulders? Are you growing old too soon? If you have these symptoms or any other sign of breaking down of your nerves and vitality, you will find new life in Electricity as applied while you sleep.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

Is made for you. It is the best way to use Electricity. It pours a gentle stream of life into the weak parts continually for hours every night. It refreshes the nerves, expands the vital powers, enriches the circulation and makes you feel bright, active and vigorous in one night's use. You get stronger each day, and in a few weeks you are a new man, stronger and younger in the fire of youth. It is grand, this method of mine, and every man who has ever used it is praising it.

WORTH TEN TIMES WHAT HE PAID FOR IT.

Marshall, Cal., Dec. 26, 1903.

DR. McLAUGHLIN—Dear Sir: I have used your Belt for about two months, and must say that it has cured me entirely. I feel like a new man now and can do a hard day's work easily. There are no more pains in my back and arms, and that tired feeling has gone. I am sure that the Belt has been worth ten times more to me than I paid for it, and if you wish you may use my name, for I will be glad to recommend the Belt. Gratefully yours, ARNOLD F. BERRI.

Don't delay trying it. Your future happiness depends on your checking this drain upon your vitality, so stop it now and you can be sure of a long and vigorous life, full of the joys of a healthy vigor.

Don't drug. Drugs can't cure you, as you know, if you have tried them. My Belt cures because it increases your nerve power and vitality. Electricity renews the youthful strength; that cures. Send for my beautiful illustrated book, telling about my method. I send it, sealed, free. I have 50,000 cures. Write today. Send this ad.

WORKS HARM TO HAWAII

Some Knocking Newspaper Faker Fools the New York Herald.

For some little time past the New York Herald has been gullied systematically by some weird fakir in Honolulu, who has been piling up a pretty big space bill by making a monkey of the great American newspaper. So long, however, as this was confined to silly rot like the red shrimp rain story from Hilo or the tale of the shark that towed the steamer, or even that romance of the flying fishes that soared up from the vasty deep and milked the cows along the Kona coast there was no particular harm done.

Of course, nobody cared how much of a pale gray ass the news editor of the New York Herald was—and certainly here was no objection to a needy newspaper faker eking out his salary by ingenious lying. There have been men who have even gained a kind of fame that way, their lies acquiring a savor of respectability from their improbability. A pretty lie may be a work of art and admirable because of that. So long, of course, as everybody recognizes that it is a lie.

When this newspaper faker becomes malicious, however, and lies to the hurt of the community that helps the Herald to give him board and clothes then it comes time to call a halt. It is such publications as the following in the New York Herald, allowed to go without contradiction, that hurt not only those people at whom they are clearly aimed but likewise those people whom the wretch who writes this kind of drivel pretends to be desirous of helping. How much is the respect in which the native Hawaiian is held on the mainland elevated by means of such publication as this? Here, that the measure of the offending may be judged, is the malicious effusion of the Honolulu correspondent of the Herald:

HONOLULU, T. H., Nov. 15.—The election in the Hawaiian Islands last week was attended by precisely the same result that marked the election on the mainland. A complete landslide swept the republican party into control, and made that organization absolute master of these islands for the next two years.

The victory was the most complete, as it was the most surprising, that has ever been known since the islands became American territory. In its general aspects the local campaign was analogous to the larger battle on the mainland, but there were details of the local fight that differed materially from the causes that led to the national republican victory.

Three tickets—the republican, democratic and home rule—were in the field. The republicans were in complete control of the government machinery, and had, in consequence, a strong organization. The democratic party, for the first time in four years had a ticket in the field, and the fight was clearly between those parties. In the opinion of many well informed politicians, and, in fact, the community generally, the home rule party had been induced by republicans to enter as a stalking horse in the hopes that it would keep votes from the democratic party.

The issues of the campaign were upon the methods pursued by George R. Carter as Governor. The issue was keenly appreciated by the natives and white people as well. The chances of democratic success grew stronger as the election approached. The few who did not concede probable democratic victory were some republican leaders. The work of winning the election began the night before November 8, although the democrats did not learn of the danger until the following day.

On Monday night word was passed out that it would be useless for any native to scratch the republican ticket, as the republican managers had arranged a scheme whereby they would know exactly how every man had voted. Such knowledge was precisely what the natives did not care to have divulged, and the fear that it would be caused the utmost consternation among them. The precise manner in which this information was to be gained and the supposed secrecy of the Australian ballot system in vogue in this Territory to be violated were not explained, but the method became apparent the minute the polls opened on the following day.

For months, largely in anticipation of the approaching election, the republican managers and administration had been employing voters on various public works. Times have been very hard with the natives, and the prospect of gaining republican disfavor by voting another ticket, and in consequence losing employment, caused hundreds of natives to think twice and finally submit to the threatened coercion. They realized that discovery meant dismissal.

When the ballots were opened for the voting on Tuesday morning the explanation for the confidence on the part of some leaders of the republican party became apparent. The stubs to which the ballots were originally attached were numbered consecutively, and in addition to this number, on the upper right hand corner of every ballot was a corresponding number. Naturally, as the ballots were handed out to the various persons in the booths, records in rotation were kept. The voters noticed the unusual numbers on the ballots, and when it was seen in many precincts that these numbers were not being torn off, but the ballots, numbers and all, were being deposited in the boxes, the scheme be-

To one who has visited both places there are certain striking similarities in climate and soil between Hawaii and Cuba. The altitudes vary, of course, Hawaii having mountain peaks that tower 14,000 feet above the sea, while Cuba possesses nothing so lofty. Hawaii is of volcanic origin, Cuba is not; but the warm trade winds of the Pacific islands recall the balmy breezes of the gulf stream, and the juxtaposition of the red, black and chocolate colored soils of Cuba is reproduced in Hawaii. The latitude of Honolulu is almost the same as that of Havana, while Hilo is but a little south of Santiago. The predominance of the sugar industry also suggests a further analogy, and all things considered, there seems to be no reason why articles of value grown in Cuba should not also be produced in Hawaii. The facts outlined in the foregoing brief analysis of the investment features of these islands are deserving of the careful consideration of investors, and one potent fact should not be overlooked, and that is that in Hawaii the United States Government stands in its right to protect its citizens against any infringement of their rights, which should have great weight with investors seeking to place their capital in a place of safety.

RELIEF AFTER SIX YEARS.—Mrs. M. A. Clark, of Timberrange, N. S. W., Australia, writes: "I wish to inform you of the wonderful benefit I have received from your valuable medicine. I suffered from a severe cough for six years and obtained no relief until I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. One bottle cured me and I am thankful to say that I have never had the cough since. Make any use of this letter that you like for the good of any other poor sufferers." For sale by all Dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., Ltd., Agents for Hawaii.

TRANSPORT IN FROM THE COAST

The U. S. transport Logan arrived off port yesterday noon but did not dock until about half after five. The Korea was docked at the Naval wharf and the Logan had to await her departure. As the Logan has to discharge some freight and take on 600 tons of coal, the officers consider it improbable that she will be able to resume her voyage to Manila, by way of Guam, by five o'clock this afternoon. Consequently the Logan will probably sail tomorrow forenoon. She brought a few passengers for this port and has a fair sized through list. Among the soldiers on board are the Filipinos belonging to the Constabulary who passed through here some months ago to the World's Fair. Several sailors are to be left at Guam.

Per U. S. A. T. Logan, Dec. 9, for Honolulu—Mrs. F. H. Sherman, Miss Sherman, family Lt. Commander U. S. Navy; Miss Helen Pendleton, family naval officer; Mrs. C. C. Fewel and son, family Lieut. U. S. Navy; James F. Scally, Post Quartermaster Sergeant U. S. Army, O. K. George, L. G. Melville, Ralph Morton.

For Guam—Mrs. Daniel Coath, Miss Coath, family Supt. C. P. Cable Co.; Paul Vandoit, Master-at-Arms U. S. Navy; B. C. Temant, H. A. Heitz, M. F. Houston, A. C. McDermott, A. F. Pfennig, G. Varini, W. J. Westphal.

SEGREGATION IS ATTACKED

Ashford's Tongue Given Free Play—Andrews Makes Reply.

C. W. Ashford occupied two hours in two speeches in the Federal Court yesterday endeavoring to show that the leper segregation laws of the Hawaiian Islands for the past forty years, continuing under the Territory of Hawaii, are contrary to the bill of rights of the Constitution of the United States.

Attorney-General L. Andrews came in between the two efforts of Mr. Ashford with an address of half an hour.

Judge Dole asked counsel to file their authorities and continued the case—that of a writ of habeas corpus for Mrs. Kaipu—until 10 o'clock Monday morning.

When the case was called Mr. Ashford read a demurrer to the return presented by the Attorney-General on behalf of President L. E. Pinkham of the Board of Health.

Miss Kaipu, petitioner for the writ on behalf of her mother, was in court. Witnesses for the respondent who attended but were not called were Drs. McDonald, Cooper, Mays and Sinclair.

The gist of the demurrer was that the return was made up of conclusions of law rather than statements of fact. Mr. Ashford, in speaking to his demurrer, quoted the famous jurist, Marshall, as warning the constitution makers against "a government of discretion." Cooley was cited on principles of liberty. Mr. Ashford's authorities related chiefly to commitments for insanity, and for the rest, his argument, if detached from the cool precincts of a court of justice, might fairly be described as an inflammatory attack upon the system of segregation of lepers in vogue here since 1894. The word "hell" was used often enough to impart a distinctly volcanic odor to the argument. Mr. Ashford made the assertion that persons sent to the settlement were subjected to involuntary servitude, modified only by the discretion of the resident physician.

Mr. Andrews, in his address, flatly denounced the statement regarding involuntary servitude as untrue. The inmates of the settlement were paid for their labor and only required to perform work consistent with a proper regimen of healthful exercise. Mr. Andrews also contradicted the attorney for the writ in a statement that the practice was to have the youngest and most inexperienced physicians on the examining board at the receiving station.

Mr. Ashford admitted, in his main remarks, that he had in times past had something to do with the legislation relative to segregation, but said he had never examined the system carefully until taking up the present case. As a result of this examination he declared these laws to be full of "wounds and bruises and putrefying sores." He contended that even if Mrs. Kaipu was not in the situation represented in the petition the laws referred to were utterly repugnant to the Constitution. His argument and authorities went to the propositions that a medical board was untrustworthy without opportunity of

A FAIR EXCHANGE.

Large sums of money are no doubt realized from simple speculation, but the great fortunes are derived from legitimate and honest business—where the goods furnished are worth the price they bring. Certain famous business men have accumulated their millions wholly in this way. Prompt and faithful in every contract or engagement they enjoy the confidence of the public and command a class of trade that is refused to unstable or tricky competitors. In the long run it does not pay to cheat or deceive others. A humbug may be advertised with a noise like the blowing of a thousand trumpets, but it is soon detected and exposed. The manufacturers of WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION have always acted on very different principles. Before offering it to the public they first made sure of its merits. Then, and then only, did its name appear in print. People were assured of what it would do, and found the statement truthful. To-day they believe in it as we all believe in the word of a tried and trusted friend. It is palatable as honey and contains all the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It aids digestion, drives impurities from the blood, and cures Anemia, Scrofula, Debility, Influenza, Throat and Lung Troubles, and Wasting Complaints. Dr. Louis W. Bishop says: "I take pleasure in saying I have found it a most efficient preparation, embodying all of the medicinal properties of a pure cod liver oil in a most palatable form." It is a scientific remedy and a food with a delicious taste and flavour. One bottle convinces. "You cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by chemists here and everywhere.

THIN PEOPLE

want to get fat and fat people want to get thin—human nature. If you are fat don't take Scott's Emulsion. It will make you gain flesh. If you are thin Scott's Emulsion is just what you need.

It is one of the greatest flesh producers known. Not temporary gains but healthy, solid flesh that will fill out the body where it is needed.

There's nothing better than Scott's Emulsion for weakness and wasting.

Scott's Emulsion is a food-medicine; not a stimulant; not a mere "extract" or so-called "wine" of cod liver oil. It contains the whole oil perfectly emulsified, which is the only way of preserving its valuable properties.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

VERY ANNOYING

This Hardly Expresses What Honolulu People Say of It.

Good natured people are often irritated.

If you knew the reason, you would not be surprised.

Ever have itching piles?

Not sick enough to go to bed; not well enough to be content.

The constant itching sensation.

Hard to bear; harder to get relief.

Spoils your temper, nearly drives you crazy.

Isn't relief and cure a long-felt want?

You can have relief if you will follow the advice of this gentleman.

Mr. Frank Leibly of 326 S. Main st., Wilkesbarre, Pa., U. S., who says: "It is with much pleasure that I testify to the merits of Doan's Ointment in cases of itching piles. I suffered from that tormenting affliction for the past year. I tried nearly everything that was recommended to me and what I saw advertised, but I could get no relief. Finally I procured Doan's Ointment. After a few applications I was much relieved, and, continuing the treatment, I was soon completely cured. I have felt no signs of that intolerable itching since, and it is four months ago since I used Doan's Ointment. To say that I was delighted is only half expressing my enthusiasm. I recommend this remedy whenever the opportunity is presented. You may publish my statement at any time and I can always be found at 326 S. Main street, and will vouch for the same."

Doan's Ointment Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents. Mailed by The Hollister Drug Co., agents for the Hawaiian Islands.

Remember the name, DOAN'S, and take no substitute

SOCIAL HONOR WON BY TWO BOYS OF OAHU

At the senior class election held a few days ago at Yale University, George P. Cooke, son of Mr. Charles M. Cooke, was elected chairman of the Cap and Gown Committee, and Charles S. Judd, son of Mrs. A. F. Judd, was elected first member of the same committee.

This is one of the four important committees which have charge of the entire arrangement of the commencement exercises for the graduating class, and an election to membership on any one of these committees is considered a great social honor. The fact that both Cooke and Judd polled more votes than any other member of their committee, or any member of any other committee, attests their popularity among their classmates.

Both boys were prepared for Yale at Oahu College.

placing expert against expert and having witnesses cross-examined and that the enforcement of the policy of segregation should be in the jurisdiction of some judicial tribunal.

Attorney-General Andrews was at no loss for authorities relating to the protection of the public against contagious disease of any kind. He drew a picture of the situation that would result if the power of the constituted health authorities, exercised in all civilized countries from time immemorial, to quarantine cases of contagious disease was taken away. A man suspected of plague or smallpox might, if the proposition of opposite counsel was right, demand to be taken into court for examination before he was sent to a hospital.

Referring to the epithets applied to the settlement Mr. Andrews stated that the United States medical authorities had criticised the administration of the place on account of its very leniency. The people were not deprived of their civil rights. Wisely or unwisely the Organic Act gave them the electoral franchise.

Mr. Andrews contended that the United States would never interfere with the police powers of States or Territories. He submitted it could never be held that the proper segregation of persons afflicted with contagious or infectious disease was a breach of the Constitution.

ONE JURY REMAINING

Quick Verdict Returned. Pleas Are Mostly Reserved.

The only trial jury panel for the September term of the First Circuit Court now on duty is that of Judge Gear, and it is transferred with the presidency of the term to Judge Robinson for further orders. It will appear on Monday for the trial of Emmet May under indictment for embezzlement.

Judge De Bolt discharged his jury for the remainder of the term, thanking those present and absent for their faithful work. This was immediately after a verdict had been rendered for the defendants in the ejectment suit, with $3,000 damages claimed, of Ching Man Sing against Mary A. Richards and others. The jury was out only ten minutes. Adverse possession together with title by descent constituted the defense. D. L. Withington and Frank Andrade conducted the case for the defendants. L. J. Warren was counsel for the plaintiff and noted exceptions to the verdict.

ARRAIGNMENTS.

Arraignments under the latest batch of indictments were in order before Judge Robinson yesterday morning.

It is a Japanese woman, pleaded not guilty to selling liquor without a license.

All the other defendants had their pleas reserved, until 9 o'clock Monday morning, viz: James Kupieha, two indictments for violating the election law; M. J. Silva, M. S. Freitas and Kaalua, each selling liquor without a license.

Kupieha is charged with marching a band of men—the "red shirt brigade" of the 7th precinct, 5th district—to the polls, and with having intimidated a voter to vote the Republican ticket.

HOLT ESTATE RECEIPTS.

Receipts passed yesterday from Carlos A. Long to Henry Smith, respectively the incoming and the outgoing administrator with the will annexed of the estate of Robert William Holt. One is for securities consisting of mortgages, notes and bonds amounting to $13,240. For an original note and mortgage for $1000, said by his predecessor to have been lost. Mr. Long notes that he assumes no responsibility. The other receipt is upon a statement of cash, showing a balance of $689.37 paid the new administrator.

COURT NOTES.

Liliuokalani vs. Inter-Island Telegraph Co. was argued and submitted before the Supreme Court yesterday. A. A. Wilder for plaintiff; D. L. Withington for defendant. Plaintiff seeks to collect a judgment against defendant by garnishing its monthly subsidy of $1000 from the Territory.

A decree by Judge Robinson was filed yesterday, as of December 3, ordering the sale under foreclosure of the property of Hana Plantation Co., M. T. Simonton being appointed commissioner of sale and filing his bond in $1000 with Harry Amittage as security.

Antone de Costa and Joe de Costa have brought a suit in ejectment against John Vierra for real estate at Kamaikai, Kalihi Valley, Honolulu, containing 6.3 acres. They claim under a lease from Liliuokalani and ask for restitution of the property with costs.

Judgment by default was given for plaintiff, on motion of C. A. Long, in the suit of First National Bank vs. H. A. Heen and Oriental Life Insurance Co.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY, THERAPION.

This successful and popular remedy, used in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.

THERAPION NO. 1 maintains its world-renowned and well-merited reputation for derangements of the kidneys, pains in the back, and kindred ailments, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION NO. 2 for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, peels and swellings of joints, gout, rheumatism, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, etc., to the destruction of sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates all poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION NO. 3 for exhaustion, sleeplessness, and all distressing consequences of dissipation, worry, overwork, etc. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigor to those suffering from the enervating influences of long residence in hot, unhealthy climates.

THERAPION is sold by the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Price in England, 2s. 6d. and 4s. 6d. In ordering, state which number is required, and observe that the word "Therapion" appears on the British Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package by order of His Majesty's Hon. Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

Bad Blood

Have confidence in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It has been curing people in all parts of the world for over 50 years. It is the greatest family medicine in the world. It purifies, strengthens, enriches, builds up.

Mr. George Fountain, of Mt. Torrens, So. Australia, sends his photograph and this interesting letter:
"I had a very bad case of eczema. Medical men had told me nothing more could be done. I tried several blood remedies, but without relief. The eruption was over the whole of my body and arms. My friends told me I must try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. To please them, I did so. To tell the truth, I did not have much confidence in it, I had tried so many medicines. To my great surprise, I found that after only one bottle the scales were beginning to disappear. It took just five bottles to make a complete cure. My skin is now perfectly smooth, and not a trace do I have of my former trouble."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitation Sarsaparillas. Be sure you get "Ayer's."
