THE DEPTHS OF DEPRAVITY

DISCLOSED IN JUDGE WILCOX'S COURT.

Two Men Charged With Offenses Arising Out of an Almost Unbelievable State of Moral Oblivion.

Judge Wilcox is today trying a series of cases in which the testimony brings to light a species of human depravity scarcely believable. The cases appear on the calendar as August Isabel charged with assault and battery, and with vagrancy, Isador Isabel charged with obstructing justice and with abetting prostitution.

The testimony this morning brought out that the two men, who are brothers, came here about three weeks ago from France bringing with them two women for immoral purposes. They secured registry for the two women under the "Act to Mitigate," and quarters for them in the Fouahi street district. One of the women, Marie Weisberger, objected to the designs of the two men and it was two weeks before they could coerce her into this mode of life. Finally she undertook it last Sunday night. Monday afternoon August Isabel, the younger brother, came to her place about 5:30 o'clock and demanded all the money she had made. She gave him $2, the entire earnings of her shame for that day. Immediately he began a trade of abuse against her because the amount was not larger and finally beat and kicked her. Then he went out for a hack and returning with it compelled her to get in with him to go to Palama for supper where all were living. As they drove along the woman saw the brother, Isador Isabel, and jumped out seeking his protection. Isador Isabel sent the two back to where the first beating had occurred and there the assault was renewed. The woman's outcries brought a policeman who captured August Isabel who tried to escape. While he was in the policeman's hands waiting for the woman to get ready to go to the police station, Isador again attempted to assault the woman.

The two Isabells are as contemptible and low-lived looking as the testimony shows they are. The Weisberger woman is young and not uncommonly desirous to escape from the life into which she has been forced. She has been taken care of at Oahu prison since her arrest. A number of attempts have been made by the Isabells to intimidate her so that she would not testify against them. The French consul has taken an interest in the case and when the matter is decided in the court will see what can be done for the woman.

Deputy Marshal Chillingworth is prosecuting the cases.

Judge Wilcox found August Isabel guilty of assault and battery and sentenced him to two months' imprisonment at hard labor.

Isador Isabel was sentenced to one month's imprisonment for abetting.

HAMILTON HILL'S FAREWELL.

A Concert on the Oceanic Dock at Mid-night.

There was a midnight concert last night on the Oceanic wharf, before the departure of the S. S. Alameda for San Francisco. Nearly all the theatrical people in town were there to bid farewell to Hamilton Hill, the singer, who left on the vessel to fill an engagement in San Francisco. A large crowd was present to see the popular singer and the musical people present gave a number of selections, Hill rendering several solos. They were heard with fine effect on the wharf.

Hill was given a very enthusiastic send-off at the Cricket club smoker before leaving for the steamer. He has made himself very popular during his stay in Honolulu. Mr. Hill stated that it was his intention to return in about three months.

NEW POLICE RULES.

In future policemen will be escorted to their respective beats in regular military style. Heretofore they have been assigned to certain streets and sent out from the station to such places. Now a lieutenant accompanies the entire watch, turns over the guards in regular way and gives each proper orders.

DAY OF PRAYER MEETING.

Wm. Wadhams, who has been connected with the Portland Y. M. C. A. for many years as one of its officers, will sing at the special meeting Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. Secretary Coleman will present the International Association work and Physical Director Coats will assist in the service.

CRICKET CLUB SMOKER.

The Honolulu Cricket Club gave a very successful smoker last night in the Waverley club rooms. There was a large attendance and a most entertaining program was given, including vocal and instrumental selections by members of the Boston Lyric Opera company. The members and guests of the club were entertained until a late hour and all spent a very enjoyable evening.

TOUCHED FOR HIS DIAMOND

GOOD SAMARITAN WITH AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

Archie Gillilan Recovers a Valuable Ring for the First Officer of the Nippon Maru.

The first officer of the steamship Nippon Maru was taken suddenly ill yesterday afternoon on the wharf and fell in a fit while looking after the discharge of cargo. Three natives who were close by volunteered to assist him and he was laid down on some sacks. They were all busy with "Lomi-lomi" when the ship's doctor arrived and at first, not knowing him, they declined to turn the patient over.

The officer soon recovered under the physician's care. His first discovery was that a diamond ring was missing from one of his fingers. One of the natives had concluded that the Good Samaritan business might as well be profitable as not, and had deftly taken the ring while giving treatment. The officer made known his loss and started on the wharf to find the men who had so kindly assisted him. In spite of the condition he had been in he was able to recognize the three who had taken hold of his case. They were at work loading the vessel.

To Archie Gillilan belongs the honor of recovering the lost diamond. "Give up that ring," he said sternly to a native whom he thought had a guilty air. The native produced it at once. "I put it in my pocket," he said. "I thought the man might lose it."

"Yes, he did lose it," said Archie. The ring was returned to its owner, who left on the vessel having quite recovered from his illness.

DIED FROM WOUNDS

While blasting for a water pool on Cecil Brown's premises at Kaalawai yesterday afternoon Kilonia, native, aged 65, both of whose hands were amputated by a corps of surgeons. The poor man died this morning.

Kilonia was lighting a short fuse. The charge went off while he was still over it. All of the right hand, except the wrist joint, and of the left hand, except the thumb, were blown off. There was a bad wound in the left eye, which was already blind, and ugly powder marks on the face.

The patrol wagon people when sent out infected morphine into the miserable man and took him to the Queen's hospital. Amputation followed as soon as the surgeons had examined the case. Kilonia was employed by Kauai, the well known fish man. He had been engaged by Mr. Brown temporarily to assist in the blasting work.

WORSHIPS THE STATUE.

A Crazy Portuguese at the Judiciary Building.

People living in the vicinity of the Kamehameha statue at the Judiciary building were startled this morning by the wild yells of a crazy Portuguese who has made it his occupation to do special honor to the likeness of the dead king. For some time he has been observed making a series of profound bows every morning to the statue, always backing away from it to avoid turning his back upon the revered figure. He is known as "Crazy Joe."

The crazy Portuguese has now reached a condition in which he is a disturbance to the neighborhood, and residents desire to have him looked after. He approached the statue till within a few feet and then throws himself flat upon the ground with a yell. This proceeding is repeated over and over again. The unfortunate man has been known around the statue for many years and now that he is giving nearly his whole time to worshipping it residents of the locality would like to have him put in an asylum.

DEATH FROM KAHUNAISM

MAUI WROUGHT UP OVER SUCH REPORTS.

Ben Mahial, a Well Known Mail Carrier, Dies Under Peculiar Circumstances.

PAIA (Maui), November 9.—Maui is wrought up over what is believed to be a death from kahunaism.

Ben Mahial, the popular young mail carrier between Makawao and Paia, died at his home at Kokomo on Friday last, November 3, under very peculiar circumstances. About a week previously, on the day of the heavy rain, while crossing Maiko gulch at Aiea near his home, the stream which had risen to an unusual height, swept his horse off its feet, and left him struggling in the water. Some friends near threw him a rope, and rescued him from what seemed immediate death. But as a result of his adventure he was taken down soon after with a severe fever. Dr. McConkey of Paia was sent for, and prescribed for the boy, who began to improve immediately.

Every day thereafter the report was brought to the doctor that the boy was steadily improving, so he saw no necessity of going to see him again, especially as his illness was nothing serious. This went on right up to Friday, when the boy suddenly died.

A coroner's inquest was held on Monday, and the native jury decided that the boy died from natural causes. But in spite of this there are many things that point to kahunaism. The boy himself told Dr. McConkey that a kahuna was trying to doctor him. A hook driver of Paia says he took a kahuna up to see the boy, and it is known that several reputed kahunas were with him constantly, and that one of them, a woman, killed pigs and went through other rites, but as there is no positive evidence that they gave him anything. But the fact of the boy's sudden death from such a slight illness coupled with the above circumstances, places a strong suspicion about the matter, and one that the authorities will doubtless investigate.

The young fellow was an exceptional Hawaiian youth, very popular with everybody. For over a year past he had carried the mails between Paia, Makawao and Ulupalakua, and was by far the best carrier that has ever been on the route, and his loss will be very great to the people of the above places.

"PIRATES OF PENZANCE."

Comic Opera by the Lyrics Afternoon and Evening.

The "Pirates of Penzance" is the attraction for the matinee performance of the Boston Lyric Opera Company this afternoon.

Mr. Henderson assists by the chorus girls will give the version of "Lola," and Mr. Kunkel will tell in a parody song "What it is to be a woman." There will be a number of other pleasing interpolations, for it will be comic opera in the strict sense.

The repertoire for next week will be: Tuesday, "Mikado," Thursday, "The Travellers," Saturday matinee, "The Musketeers," Saturday night, "La Belle Helene."

The matinee today begins at 2:25 o'clock, evening performance at 8.

THAT MONKEY-POD TREE.

A bicycle rider coming down Nuuanu street yesterday afternoon and turning up Vineyard street toward Fort met near the turn on Vineyard a hack, which on account of the monkey-pod tree in the middle of the street was obliged to be on the wrong side of the street. The bicycle rider in keeping out of the way of the hack ran into the stone wall there and was thrown over it into the stream a distance of nearly twenty feet. Luckily he was little hurt.

PAIA GALICIANS STRIKE

HAVE NO COMPLAINT OF WAGES TO MAKE.

Are Satisfied with Their Treatment But Insist on Having Their Contracts Cancelled—Are now in Jail.

PAIA, Maui, November 9.—On Friday last seven of the Galicians employed on Paia plantation struck work, with the intention of moving off, and are now in jail. They were tried before District Magistrate Kahokuuluna in Makawao on Tuesday last, and ordered either back to work or to jail. They chose the latter.

They seem to have no complaint against the plantation, but merely struck because they had been advised that their contracts were null and void.

They offered to go back to work on exactly the same conditions as before, if their contracts were cancelled. They were offered their contracts at $25 a piece but have not yet accepted the same. Three of the Galicians have been freed themselves on these terms, and the balance have decided to keep at work. It is thought that the Paia strikers will come back to work before long. The plantation here have treated them well, which they acknowledge.

LIGHT WINDS EAST.

Sailing vessels arriving Thursday and Friday report very light winds and slow passages. Captain Christiansen of the J. D. Spreckels says that his vessel only drifted down and the same report is made by the Captain of the Okanogan, from the Sound. Neither vessel spoke any of the fleet that is expected here.

THE LOST SHIP DOMINION

The arrival of the British bark Dominion, Captain Rodd, has revived speculation as to the fate of her namesake, the ship Dominion, which left here at the same time as Captain Rodd's vessel nearly a year ago, both being headed for the Sound, and has never been heard of since. Both the Dominions were in port here together months ago. The ship and the bark left at the same time. Captain Rodd's vessel arrived in due time at the Sound, took a cargo to Newcastle and has now reached here again with a cargo of coal, but the other ship has not even been spoken, and no hopes are entertained by the owners that she will ever reach any port.

The Dominion has probably gone to the bottom long ago. She is an 1111 vessel. It is thought possible that she is still afloat, having lost her mast, being at the mercy of the waves.

Cases are cited in which vessels have made some port or other long after they had been so disabled, and there is just a possibility that her captain and men are still trying to head her for some harbor and looking out for a passing vessel that can render assistance. According to regulations she would have provisions for a year on board and no difficulty would yet have been experienced on that score.

The favorite theory is that the Dominion's ballast shifted in rough weather and caused a break in her iron sides and that she filled with water and sank to the bottom of the Pacific leaving no one to tell the story.

A HORSE'S FATAL KICK

GEORGE RANDOLPH'S SKULL IS FRACTURED.

Vicious Animal Causes the Death of a Spreckelsville Luna—Coroner's Inquest Held—Funeral at Wailuku.

PAIA (Maui), November 9.—On Saturday night last a little after 9 o'clock, George Randolph one of Spreckelsville's chief lunas, was thrown from his horse at Kahuku, and kicked to death by the animal. Members of the K. of P. Lodge coming from their meeting found him in the road by the Kahuku jail, just back of the custom house, in an unconscious and apparently dying condition. He was immediately taken home at Kahuku, and kicked to death by the animal. Members of the K. of P. He was immediately taken home at Kahuku, and kicked to death by the animal. Members of the K. of P. Lodge coming from their meeting found him in the road by the Kahuku jail, just back of the custom house, in an unconscious and apparently dying condition. He was immediately taken home at Kahuku, and kicked to death by the animal.

The report here was that he fell from his horse while in a state of intoxication, but this was disproved as the coroner's inquest held Monday. The horse he was riding was a wild half broken animal, that had thrown him on several former occasions, and the stable man had refused to let him ride it. This Saturday the stableman had gone to Honolulu, so Randolph immediately took the horse out for his fatal ride. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict that the deceased was kicked to death by his horse. The funeral occurred in Wailuku, Sunday afternoon, the body being interred in the Iao Cemetery.

George Randolph had been on Spreckelsville plantation for many years, and was a good luna. His right name is not Randolph but Joe Ryan, though he has been known as George Randolph since he has been here. Why he changed it is not known. He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, and was thirty-eight years old. In about a month he was to have been married to a young lady of Spreckelsville. He has no relatives in the Islands.

The Kash

Is in full swing, and we are prepared to outfit you in anything you may require in the way of Full Dress Goods.
Here you have a partial list of the many things you will want for the opening night: A full dress suit, either Tuxedo or shirt coat, a full dress vest, white or black, a full dress shirt, a full dress tie, a full dress pair of gloves, set of full dress studs and cuff buttons, and a crash hat.

All these things may be had at either of our two stores, and at prices that will astonish you. Our dress suits are from the BEST manufacturer in the states, and require no altering; they fit when you put them on and that is more than a tailor-made suit will do.

With the coming of the S. S. Australia also came our delayed stock of Straw and Felt Hats, which we will have on show today; also a magnificent line of Neckwear, the largest single importation of neckwear ever made in this town for a retail store.

We can't begin to mention the styles; you can have anything in the way of scarfs that are worn, in a variety of designs, and silks that will astonish you.

We make SHIRTS to Order.

A HEART PAIN.

Piercing the left side like a keen edged knife, palpitation, choking in the throat, usually accompanied by retarded circulation, are sure signs of heart disease. If neglected death is the result, and if taken in time they may be cured and the long line of diseases which follow in the wake of imperfect heart action may be avoided.
Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the only safe and reliable medicine for diseased hearts. It never fails to benefit when taken in time.
"I had spells when I would get ice cold and my heart would stop beating;
then I would feel a piercing pain which seemed to go right through me, which would be followed by palpitation and I would clutch at my left breast in agony. From the time I began taking Dr.
Miles' New Heart Cure these spells grew less severe and finally disappeared altogether. I am well and strong now and can do all my own work with ease."

MRS. M. C. KRIEGER,
Scipio, I. T.

All druggists are authorized to sell

MAFEKING, BESEIGED CITY

TOWN NOW BEING DEFENDED BY BRITISH.

Interesting Description of Stronghold
of Colonel Baden-Powell—Trading Station on Frontier.

From the London Mail.

It is not perhaps altogether fair to call Mafeking defenseless, for during the past few weeks of tension we have heard that the place has been more or less protected by sandbags and hastily thrown-up earthworks. But Mafeking lies entirely in the open, bare on the veldt, which is as flat as a pancake. It is in that part of Cape Colony formerly known as British Bechuanaland. A few isolated kopjes, an ant heap every here and there, a clump of bushes under three feet high—these are the only things that break the monotony of the landscape. The veldt runs right away to the far distant sky line, and only a few scattered tin shanties mark the line of railway.

If the traveler were adventurous enough to travel by the through express from Cape Town to Bulawayo, away up in far Rhodesia, he would find Mafeking practically halfway between the two. To be exact, it is 350 miles from the former and 362 miles from the latter. Kimberly is 144 miles south. This railway, by the way, is the main Cape to Cairo route, and will one day carry the unavailing globe trotter right through Africa from end to end.

There is nothing palatial about Mafeking. Normally, it is a simple little township of a few hundred souls. Primarily it is a trading station with the far north, and there are many stores of greater or less importance. Grain stores, forage stores, tinne goods, saddles, rifles, ammunition, even furniture, can, or could, be bought there. In the center of the main street is the market place, surrounded by galvanized iron houses and stores, each with its little raised veranda before it, painted green and white, and many of the more miscellaneous shops bearing weird indian names. For the enterprising Mohammedan trader has found his way throughout South Africa, and competes very keenly and successfully with the white men.

The main street of Mafeking is a long, wide and straggling thoroughfare, with plane trees, eucalyptus and diminutive oaks at intervals. The houses all stand in little plots of ground, and there are attempts at cultivation—here and there a few sunflowers, or a potato patch, or a hanging trail of the grenadilla or passionflower fruit. There is a church—in fact there are three, of different denominations—there is a club, there is a prison,
and, highest point of all civilization,
there is the Salvation Army.

A good deal of horse buying and selling takes place at Mafeking. It is rather a center and a market for the surrounding farmers, who bring in their ugly looking but very useful and un-tractable nags to the weekly auctions on the market place. A good horse may often be picked up (in times of peace, of course) for $5 to $8, and though he may be an ugly beggar to look at, he can do almost anything that is asked of him, and will outlast many a handsomer-looking animal.

INGERSOLL MONUMENT.
Old friends and admirers of Ingersoll in Peoria have organized an Ingersoll Monument Association, with fifteen trustees selected from the prominent citizens of that place, and they ask for contributions from Colonel Ingersoll's friends throughout the country towards the erection of a monument.
Rudolf Pfiffer is treasurer of the association.

Residence lots on Pacific Heights are now offered for sale.
No residence property having similar advantages and attractions, as far as healthfulness of location, having an elevation of from 170 to 800 feet, and affording the grandest marine and scenic views, as also its proximity to the business part of the city being less than a mile from the Progress Block, has ever before been presented to the people of Honolulu.

One of the main features of this property, and procured at great expense, is the abundant supply of pure spring water, drinking water obtainable in the Island, which is now being conducted into storage reservoirs upon the property by an independent pipe line, and will be supplied to residents at Government rates.

OUR GUARANTEE.—We guarantee to all purchasers of lots on SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1899.

The Galicians on Maui seem to have got into trouble. They have no complaint to make, but they evidently don't see why they should pay their passages out to the Islands, if their brethren here got off paying. The walking delegate and agitator has been getting in his work even in the quiet island.

The Kahuna seems to have dropped up again in Maui. A dispatch from that island shows that there is a case for searching investigation, at least. The Board of Health and Police Department might work together upon the matter. If it proves that the bright young Hawaiian letter carrier lost his life through malpractice, just punishment should be awarded.

Evidently Tonga is going to pass through a transition period between native monarchy and absorption by some greater power. The King of Tonga is about the last of the Polynesian monarchs, and he is evidently going the way of his brother monarchs. The effort to bolster up native monarchies has, after a hundred years or so, ended in complete failure.

The appointment of John Ouderkirk as road supervisor for the Honolulu district will be quite satisfactory to the citizens. Mr. Ouderkirk is an active man, thoroughly practical, and is likely to push his work in a fashion which probably will be a surprise to our rather easy-going road system of the past. Energy on the roads is certainly needed.

It is pleasing to see that Dr. Monsarrat has received honor at the hands of the Veterinary Association of the United States. Since annexation our people begin to find out that they have entered upon a wider field. Success in former times meant simply insular success. Now when a man does something worth notice, he gets the credit for it on the Mainland, as well as here, and can build up a reputation which is very much more worth having.

PROGRESS.

The establishment of a steamer line direct to New York from San Francisco via Honolulu is a revolution in the carrying trade between the Pacific and the Atlantic. According to a telegram published in The Star yesterday, the first of the new fleet of steamers will leave New York within six months, and the remainder will be hurried forward as fast as possible, so that in less than a year there will be regular dispatch every sixty days, and in course of time every thirty days.

This is another of the developments which have resulted from annexation. Without annexation there never would have been the increased area under cane which now obtains in the Islands. Instead of developing it is more than likely that some of the old plantations would have gone under. Instead of increasing the area of our cultivated land, its area would, in all probability, have been contracted, and a few lean cattle be wandering over what were once fertile fields.

Annexation has given stability and with stability has come the desire to expand. Like the sun, annexation is making the bud of promise blossom into the full blown flower of prosperity. As our area of cultivation has increased, so has our consuming capacity increased and it will pay to bring goods from the Eastern Seaboard to these Western Isles. With freight both ways the new steamer line is bound to pay from its inception. In bringing freight out, there will be the Hawaiian and the California market to supply. In carrying freight back there will be full cargoes of sugar from Hawaii, and California has raw material and foodstuff which will go to make up cargo when sugar is not in season.

The expansion policy of the United States is doing wonders for her commerce. It has given a boom to the ship building trade such as has not been known for years. Portions of the Pacific, the surface of whose quiet waters has been untroubled by any keel, are now ploughed by numerous steamers and sailing vessels. And this is after all only the beginning of the future volume of trade. The future is big with prospects and prosperity, and the Territory of Hawaii is going to benefit largely by the increasing commerce. The day will come when Honolulu will be the Singapore of the Pacific and one of the most progressive of cities.

When one looks back thirty years and remembers that a single steamer, the Idaho, sailed outward into the ocean from the harbor of San Francisco, the change is truly marvelous. Outside of the Idaho, all the steamers were engaged in running up and down the coast from Panama and Mexican ports such as Acapulco and Manzanillo. Certainly events move rapidly on this side of the world.

If so much progress has been made in thirty years, what will be the progress within the early years of the coming century. It is pleasanter to live in an era of progress rather than in an era of stagnation, and we certainly are living on the very crest of the progressive wave.

SOLVING PROBLEMS.

In commenting upon compulsory arbitration, which was discussed in these columns yesterday a Boston Journal says:

"This system has been in operation for four years in New Zealand and during that time there has been no strike or lockout. The people have come to regard the law as a protection against hasty or arbitrary action by either employer or employee, and they give it their warmest support. The merchants and shopkeepers, the owners of buildings and tenements, and indeed all classes in the community hail it as the remedy for the industrial ills that usually afflict populous manufacturing cities. The working classes are content because they are assured of permanence in their employment. The employers of labor rest secure under it because they know that it is impossible for them to be assailed by the walking delegate or the reckless agitator, and crippled and harrassed at a time when they are under obligation to deliver goods contracted for. And the shopkeepers and artisans realize that it protects them from the disastrous results of sudden labor disturbances, and a shortage of money through cessation of work in the factories and shops."

INCENDIARISM IN TONGA Just Received

NATIVES DISSATISFIED WITH THE KING'S MARRIAGE.

The Government contemplates proclaiming Martial Law in Nukualofa. Eight Houses Burned Recently.

NUKUALOFA (Tonga), October 22.—There is great discontent at present in Tonga, in fact the whole land is in a state of unrest. The natives still show their ill will towards the King, on account of his late marriage, and the tabu on the cocoanuts has not improved their tempers. The whites, of course, have reason to be discontented owing to the restrictions to trade, and obstacles placed in the way of commerce. The Europeans will doubtless before long find vent for their feelings and grievances in their usual panacea for all such ills, a public meeting; but as the natives are not allowed any such safety valve for their discontent, they have commenced to paint the town red—or at all events paint the night red by burning down each others houses. Eight houses have been burned down during the last few weeks, all the acts of incendiaries, and the Government became so alarmed, that it contemplated proclaiming martial law in Nukualofa, and the type was already set up for the Gazette which was to have been published on the 15th inst—but happily at the eleventh hour better counsels prevailed, and when it was pointed out to the Premier that for him to proclaim martial-law, was possibly the first step taken towards "annexation," he refrained and contented himself with offering a free pardon and a reward of £20 to any accomplice who would turn King's evidence.

"Every Dog has his day," said the angry husband. "Yes, and the cats have the nights," demurely replied his wife. The "to-measure" tailors have had their day. STEIN-BLOCH CO., the make-to-fit tailors, have demonstrated conclusively that stylish, perfect-fitting clothes have cost too much. They take the most stylish and serviceable fabrics, cut, trim, tailor them every-thing as good as the best merchant tailor can, but on account of their enormous outfit and scientific tailoring facilities these garments are produced by them at one-half merchant tailors' cost. There's who we can sell suits and p. coats having this fab!
