WILL ESTABLISH HONOLULU OFFICE

HAWAIIAN COMMERCIAL AND SUGAR COMPANY TO FACILITATE LOCAL DEALINGS.

The Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company has decided to open a Honolulu office for stock transfers. There has been quite a little business here lately in this stock, and buyers and sellers have been inconvenienced by having to send to the San Francisco office to make the transfers. There is an office in that city and in New York, Hawaiian Commercial being regularly listed on the New York Stock Exchange, but Honolulu has been without an office.

The local office will be opened between the first and fifteenth of next month. It will be a great convenience to brokers and dealers in stocks generally, and will save some money, as under the existing plan money used in purchases is idle money during the time it takes to have the transfers made at San Francisco.

PRINCE ADMIRES JEWELRY.

Prince Fushimi was the host at the luncheon today at the Young Hotel. The party went to the dining room a few minutes before 1 o'clock and were over an hour at the table. Governor Carter proposed the health of Japan to which Prince Fushimi responded briefly.

The Prince admired very much the Hawaiian coat of arms worn by Secretary Atkinson and expressed a desire to secure several. After luncheon, Prince Fushimi, Secretary Atkinson, Consul General Miki Saito and His Excellency A. Sato were taken in an automobile to the store of H. F. Wichman to make the purchases. After making some purchases, the Prince and escort were taken through Japanese town and later will go to Waikiki this afternoon.

INDICTMENT NOT INTERPRETED

ANOTHER EFFORT TO HAVE ARROYO ARRAIGNED FOR MURDER ENDS IN FAILURE.

Another abortive attempt to have the indictment accusing Eugenio Arroyo of murder in the first degree read over to the prisoner was made in Judge Gear's court today. This was the third failure and if things go on in similar fashion, Arroyo may die of old age before he hears his indictment at all that is unless he learns to read English himself in the meantime which would be a foolish thing for him to do under the circumstances.

The first attempts to read the indictment were made by Gomes who translated in the Miranda case. He was present at Miranda's execution however and his nerve has all gone since that gruesome ceremony. He broke down and almost wept, being quite unable to go on. At the next appearance of Arroyo in court Gomes wisely failed to put in an appearance. This morning Frank J. Dutra, who was in court as a juror, was asked by Judge Gear to tackle the translation. Attorney Strauss for the defense objected because in the first place Dutra was one of the jury panel and secondly because Dutra admitted that though he understood Spanish he did not know the dialect spoken in Porto Rico, whence the prisoner comes.

Judge Gear overruled the objections and Dutra started in to translate. He did not get far when Strauss claimed to have caught him tripping. He failed to translate the word "feloniously" into Porto Rican and Strauss noted it. Several other omissions being made Judge Gear had to relieve Dutra and the case went over for another day. In the meantime a Porto Rican who can speak good English may find a job upon applying at the Attorney General's office.

JURY WANTS INTERPRETERS

REPORT TO JUDGE GEAR THIS MORNING CALLING FOR THE REGULAR EMPLOYMENT OF INTERPRETERS—COSTLY DELAYS AND PARTIAL FAILURE OF JUSTICE OWING TO THE LACK OF PROPER INTERPRETERS OF CHINESE, JAPANESE AND PORTUGUESE.

The Territorial Grand Jury made a report to Judge Gear this morning, as follows:

"The Grand Jury is at this time desirous of calling to the attention of the court the necessity of having thoroughly competent Chinese and Japanese interpreters in order to have the many cases dependent on Chinese and Japanese witnesses properly presented to the Grand Jury. We feel that the interests of justice, as well for the government as the defendant, require that the interpretation shall be full and accurate, so that the Grand Jury may be advised of the actual facts of each case. In the cases which have been heretofore brought before the Grand Jury, we have done the best we could with the interpreters provided; but we feel that it is due to ourselves, to the Territory and to persons charged with crime that we protest, in the interests of justice, against the submission of cases to us by means of incompetent interpreters. So far as the Japanese witnesses are concerned the difficulty in many instances has been obviated by the consent of Mr. Doyle to act as interpreter gratuitously, and we wish at this time to thank him for his services.

"The Japanese and Chinese population of this island is large, and the criminal cases in which Chinese and Japanese witnesses appear are very numerous as the calendar of each term of court shows. It is apparent that the interests of justice, and, we think, those of economy as well, will be best subserved by the regular employment of a Chinese and Japanese interpreter. "The question of economy is, of course, important and while it may appear cheaper to employ such interpreters as are named at the rate of $5 per day, yet an examination of the work and expenses of this term of court will conclusively show that because of the inability to procure competent interpreters on such terms, the disposition of such cases has been so delayed and obstructed as to cause great loss to the Territory. The actual cost per day of the court, sitting with a jury, is approximately $81, figuring twenty-six working days, as will be seen from the following figures:

"Judge $250; clerk $100; stenographer $150; bailiff $75; Hawaiian interpreter $125; jurors $1404, making a total of $2104, which gives, as above stated, about $81 per day as the actual cost. But in this total is not included the expense of the interpreters necessarily employed, which would bring the average to over $86; nor does it include the expenses of the witnesses, salaries of the prosecuting officer and police officers necessarily in attendance each day. It will readily be seen that whatever delays or obstructs the trial or disposition of cases and prolongs the sitting of the court and attendance of the jurors, increases the expense and cost to the Territory. "That there has been such obstruction and delay will appear from the memoranda taken from the minutes of the court during this term, and that it has arisen from the incompetency of interpreters, and the impossibility of procuring competent interpreters, will also appear from the memoranda, which we submit." (Here follows a list of a dozen cases in which the lack of an interpreter caused delay.)

"After completion of Miranda murder trial the court commented upon alleged erroneous Japanese interpretation of witness, said witness interviewing the court privately subsequently and protesting against same.

"Many pleas and arraignments go over to irregular service of interpreters. During trials, interpretations are continually challenged, causing delay and clouding the issues.

"We therefore urge upon the executive and legislature the necessity of changing the present law as soon as possible, and recommend that the next legislature create the offices of Chinese and Japanese interpreters and appropriate salaries therefor. Respectfully submitted,

"J. D. TUCKER,
"Foreman."

Big Crowd Receives Prince Fushimi

ROYAL VISITOR FROM JAPAN LANDS AMID A GREAT THRONG OF JAPANESE AND OTHERS—IS DRIVEN TO THE ALEXANDER YOUNG HOTEL WITH A MILITARY ESCORT, SURROUNDED BY MANY OF HIS COUNTRYMEN.

His Imperial Highness Prince Sadanaru Fushimi arrived this morning from Yokohama and will be the guest of honor of the Territory during his stay in this city. The arrival of the Prince could not have been timed, for a more auspicious or beautiful day, and practically the entire community turned out to welcome the distinguished visitor. The S. S. Manchuria, on which the Prince was a passenger, was sighted about 5 o'clock this morning from the Orient and by 6 o'clock was off port. The three blasts that announced the arrival of the vessel were the signal for the Japanese populace to bestir themselves and prepare to receive the representative of their Emperor.

The quarantine launch "Oahu" was the first craft to start from the harbor with many of the local committee aboard. On the launch were Territorial Secretary A. L. C. Atkinson, his aide Major T. Wall, Japanese Consul General Miki Saito, Dr. L. E. Cofer and members of the marine hospital corps. Following the launch came the tug Fearless with the Territorial band and members of the reception committee of Japanese and other visitors. Aboard the tug was a cannon from which were discharged fireworks as the tug neared the vicinity of the big steamer. Captain Sam Johnson,

ROTTEN FISH DIET FOR NEARLY A MONTH

CAPTAIN MALMAN, FORMERLY OF THE MARTHA DAVIS, RETURNING WITH THE WRECKED CREW OF THE MINNEOLA—MET DISASTER AND SUBSEQUENT HARDSHIP OFF THE COAST OF KAMCHATKA—RESCUED BY BRITISH WAR VESSEL.

Among the passengers bound for San Francisco on the Manchuria is one seafaring man well known in Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands generally, Captain McAlman, formerly of the bark Martha Davis. Captain McAlman decided to leave wind jamming and go a-staming and he was one of the officers of the ill fated steamer Minneola owned by the Pacific Improvement Co. of San Francisco, which was wrecked off the coast of Kamchatka on August 5 last and proved a total loss though all of the crew were saved. After spending twenty-four days in a native Kamchatkan village, living on rotten fish, the ship's company was rescued by the British war ship Algerine and taken to Hakodate. They went thence to Yokohama and are now on their way home.

"If ever there was a wreck for which no one could be blamed it was that of the Minneola," said Captain McAlman this morning. "Captain Clerkwood was in command of the ship. We were engaged in distributing stores along the coast of Kamchatka to the different stations of the Kamchatka Fur Company. Several of the posts had been visited and at 7:30 on the morning of August 5 we pulled out from a place called Tegeale. It was just about thirty-five minutes after that we struck on a reef where the charts showed fifteen fathoms of water. It was a clear enough day but there was no sign of any danger until we struck. We were then ten miles from shore. The ship lay apparently right across the reef and we had no great trouble in launching the steam launch and the cargo boats which we had along for the purpose of making landings.

"There were thirty of the officers and crew and twenty workers. All were got safely away as the ship was soon in such bad shape that it could be seen that there was no hope for her. Three days afterwards she broke in two.

"Meanwhile we made our way back to Tegeale and there we lived for twenty-four days until the British man of war Algerine put in and took us away to Hakodate. We were all mighty glad to see a white man again for while we suffered no particular hardships we were all ravenously hungry. All that there was to eat was rotten fish. The native Kamchatkans live on

CONEY ALSO WIELDS THE AXE

JOHN HALEMANU IS DISMISSED FROM THE POLICE FORCE OF KAUAI.

LIHUE, October 31.—John Halemanu has been retired from the police force for insubordination, by Sheriff Coney. The Sheriff says Halemanu deserted his post while guarding a prisoner accused of murder in the first degree. John Halemanu was stationed to guard the Lihue Jail, containing a prisoner charged with murder, and was to be relieved by Enoch Lovell, the jailer, at four o'clock. Lovell arrived at the jail about half past three and found the jail deserted by the guard and without watch of any kind. Investigation was made as to the whereabouts of guard Halemanu and it was found that he had deserted his post in the interests of Sunday recreation. He was found playing croquet at a neighboring croquet grounds, unmindful of the jail and its prisoners and also of the orders given him, not to leave the jail unguarded on any account.

SUGAR PRICES AND THE SUPPLY

HOLDERS OF THE REFINED PRODUCT ASKING HIGHER THAN MARKET RATE.

As a rule refiners are supplied with sufficient raw material to keep their plants occupied for almost all this year, which makes them somewhat independent of importers who are offering Demerara sugar to arrive next month at $21 for centrifugal 96 degrees. This is above the current market, and there is a similar disposition to hold new Cuban sugar higher than bid quotations. Firm beet sugar markets abroad have tended to strengthen the domestic price for raw sugar. Very different conditions prevail as to refined sugar, for the competitive struggle continues, leaving prices very low and suggesting that there can be little profit for producers at the present margin between centrifugal and granulated.

New Orleans.—The market for plantation sugar has been very strong, with receipts quite moderate. All offerings met with a ready sale at unchanged figures. Refined sugars are quiet and unchanged. Molasses is nominal.—Dun's Review.

Democrats Use Mohonk

The Democrats are using the Mohonk conference utterances in the present campaign, especially on the other islands, in their efforts to secure the votes of the more ignorant among the natives. The statements made by the speakers in this annual conference are being quoted as Republican and it is declared that such statements show the Republican intention to disfranchise the Hawaiians.

The Mohonk conference has nothing to do with the Republican party, any more than with the Democratic party. Its object is simply the discussion, more or less academic, of the affairs of the people of America's new insular possessions, and of the Indians of North America. Its speakers disagree on many questions with the Republican party. As for the statements being quoted by the Democrats, they do not even represent the conference itself. They are the remarks made by one or two speakers addressing that conference. They are a direct result of the doings of our first and second Territorial legislatures, especially the first. The speakers assume that an electorate which could make legislators out of such men as composed the Lady Dog legislature must be unfit for suffrage. They were simply individuals expressing their views. The political unfairness of trying to convince voters here that such expressions represent Republican intentions to disfranchise them is very evident.

It was the Republican party which passed the Organic Act giving the Hawaiians the widest suffrage they have ever had. The only thing that could make any important number of men of any party in America think of taking away that suffrage would be to find a considerable proportion of the Hawaiian voters allowing themselves to be misled by such campaign schemes as quoting Mohonk conference addresses as Republican doctrine.

The Horrors Of The Congo

One of the last things the Peace Congress at Boston considered was the state of affairs in the Congo Free State, asking the powers to take up discussion of the Congo, with a view to finding out where the responsibility lies for the incredible atrocities constantly reported from that part of the world. While the Congo is under the rule of King Leopold of Belgium it is assumed, on account of the agreement by which it reached its status among the nations, that there is more or less responsibility among the powers for its proper administration. The United States took part in establishing the Congo Free State under Belgian rule, as well as the powers of Europe.

As to the conditions which the Peace Congress wants to ameliorate they are almost unbelievable, yet have been described by reliable visitors so many times that it is impossible to ignore stories of most barbarous cruelties in which practically all the descriptive writers agree. A recent number of The Outlook contains an article by Booker T. Washington, giving the latest story of horror. Washington quotes a former fellow student of Hampton as giving the following account of his investigation of what is termed a "rubber raid," the leader who made the raid being the man interviewed:

"How many did you kill?" I asked.
"We killed plenty; will you see some of them?"
"Oh, I don't mind," I said, reluctantly; but that was just what I wanted.
He said, "I think we have killed between 80 and 90, and those in the other villages I don't know. I did not go, but sent my people."
The chief and I walked out on the plain just near the camp. There were three people with the flesh carved off from the waist down.
"Why are the people carved so, leaving only the bones?" I asked.
"My people eat them," he promptly answered. He then explained. "The men who have young children do not eat people, but all the rest eat them." On the left was a great big man shot in the back and without a head. (All these people were nude.)

"Where is the man's head?" I asked.
"Oh, they made a bowl of the forehead to rub up tobacco and diamba in."
We continued to walk and examine until late in the afternoon, and counted 41 bodies. The rest were eaten up by the people.

On returning to the camp we crossed a young woman, shot in the back of the head; one hand was cut away. I asked why, and Mulumba N'Gusa explained that they always cut off the right hand to give to the state on their return.

"Can you not show me some of the hands?" I asked? So he conducted me to a framework of sticks, under which was burning a slow fire, and there they were, the right hands—I counted them, 81 in all.

There are not less than 500 guns all told, and 60 women (Bena Pianga) prisoners. I saw them. Some of his followers or principal men are Luafala, Kabunga, Kasenda and Zapo Kingonda.

The sort of raid in which these crimes are committed are undertaken simply for the punishment of villages whose inhabitants do not bring in what is regarded as their share of the supply of rubber to the traders. Even the whites who live in the Congo become hardened, says Washington, and are using the blacks in these raids knowingly and actually taking part in the slaughter. An officer of the government was recently sentenced to 15 years imprisonment "after he had been convicted of killing 122 persons."

Interesting Possibilities

If the London Times insurance report to the effect that Russian arrangements for the Baltic fleet are for the larger vessels to round Cape Horn and cross the Pacific proves true, Honolulu may be an interesting center of war events. It is possible that the fleet may call here, or that some of the coaling and provisioning arrangements have been made with a view to using the facilities here of getting news at least. The islands are not far out of the way of a natural course across to the scene of war from the possible last calling places on the coast of South America. Perhaps Guam may be regarded as a more valuable calling place, but a stop at some cable landing point would seem likely.

Assuming that the coaling and provisioning arrangements do not include any necessity for coming here, or using Hawaii as a calling place at which to arrange a rendezvous with coal and supply vessels, it would seem to be of high value to the Russians as a place at which to call "for orders." Much may happen in the course of a long cruise across the Pacific. The North Sea incident has shown how Russia might find herself with another enemy during the time that would elapse between leaving South America and reaching any Far Eastern port, and plans for approaching the scene of battle which were safe at the time of leaving might become utterly unsafe by the time the journey was ended. On the other hand, a call here would reveal the whereabouts of the fleet to Japanese strategists and thus aid them in their plans to meet the enemy. Which view of the question the Russian naval authorities have taken will probably not be known until time develops it, but it is at least an interesting possibility that Honolulu will receive calls from some of the vessels engaged in the war. It follows from the possibility of Russian calls that the Japanese might send vessels this way to meet the Russians, in which case we might see some stirring events. The coaling and provisioning arrangements, at least, cannot be kept wholly secret. The quantities of coal and other supplies needed for a big squadron are so large that the movements of coal and provisions can hardly be kept

Now it is said that if Parker is elected the Filipinos will expect him to remove Governor Wright at once and give them freedom. Of course he cannot "make good" in any such way, and the most probable effect would be another rebellion, in which the rebels, ignorant as most of them are, would expect Parker's aid. This would simply mean that Parker would have to send a lot more troops to the Philippines, at great expense in life and money, and that the Filipinos would accuse him of breaking his pledges to them.

who was one of the aides to His Imperial Highness, had missed the quarantine launch and was aboard the tug. Lieutenant Thomas Cummins, the other aide, remaining on shore to attend the Prince on debarking from the Manchuria. Captain Johnson was picked up from the tug by the Oahu.

Drs. Sinclair and James of the Hospital service were the first to board the vessel from the launch. Captain Macauley was the pilot who went out to bring the vessel into the harbor. Numbers of small gasoline launches and Japanese sampans all flying the Japanese colors went up to welcome the Prince. As soon as the vessels got near the Manchuria the band played the national anthem of Japan, bombs were discharged and there were cries of "banzai, banzai, banzai." Although recently from one of the bloodiest battles of modern times, Nanshan Hill, where he commanded one of the divisions of the Japanese army, Prince Fushimi was not in military uniform. He appeared in civilian clothes and wore a small cap. He was on the upper deck of the vessel and as the welcoming crowds came alongside, he raised his cap and bowed to the people below.

As soon as the examination of the vessel had been concluded and she had passed quarantine inspection, Secretary Atkinson, Dr. Cofer, Consul General Saito, Major Wall, Captain Johnson went aboard and were presented to His Highness. Prince Fushimi was attended by his suite consisting of his aide-de-camp, Major S. Mihara, His Excellency Aimaro Sato, grand master of the household of His Highness Prince Fushimi, Count S. Terashima, N. Watanabe and Dr. K. Rokkaku. Some of the suite could speak the English language, Mr. Sato being quite fluent in the language, but Prince Fushimi could not talk English, speaking besides his own native tongue only a little French.

Prince Fushimi is a man about 55 years of age and is built short. His face is strongly a type of Japanese. There is a dignified, courtly bearing about him. He wears a long mustache and a tiny imperial, tinged with grey. He has the quick, abrupt gestures characteristic to the Japanese race.

The Manchuria started into the harbor shortly before 8 o'clock, accompanied by the fleet of various craft, the band playing during the trip into the harbor. The tug took the lead and ran into the Hackfeld slip ahead of the steamer where the band and reception committee debarked. Just before the tug entered the slip she began to salute the oncoming steamer to which the Manchuria replied with blasts from her siren and then the other craft at the Inter-Island and Hackfeld wharves saluted.

Outside the Hackfeld wharf shed and on all the approaches to the wharf were thousands of people. Naturally the Japanese predominated in numbers. Inside the wharf shed were three companies of militia, two companies of the Camp McKinley regulars, several hundred of the Japanese army reserves who are now waiting to return to Japan to enter the army, the Japanese Young Men Buddhist Club, members of the Japanese reception committee and consulate, various civilians and the carriages for the Prince and party.

There was an eager scanning of the steamer as the big vessel came into the view of those along the water front, but not a glimpse of the Prince was to be seen. Secretary Atkinson and other people from shore were on the upper deck, but His Imperial Highness was not among them. Nor was the Prince on the bridge. Nobody but Captain Saunders, the master of the vessel and Pilot Macauley were there. The Prince was absent, as he had excused himself and retired to his suite to eat breakfast and don his military uniform of a general in the Japanese army preparatory to debarking from the vessel. Captain Macauley brought the vessel into the slip in perfect style. It was about the prettiest piece of docking ever seen in this harbor as the vessel was dropped alongside the wharf before half-past eight o'clock.

There was a rush of the crowd to the foot of the gangway, but the militia, under orders of Lieutenant Colonel Ziegler, had the Waikiki end of the wharf cleared in order that the Prince would have an open space over which to be escorted to the carriage of the Governor. As soon as the gangway was in place, members of the local Japanese consulate and a few others having business aboard were permitted to go on the vessel.

Considerable time elapsed before the Prince left the vessel. The visitors from shore were presented to the members of the Prince's suite. Mr. Sato announced that His Highness declined to be interviewed by representatives of the press. "You see," explained the Grand Master of the Household, "it is very different with a person of his station as he can not express himself so freely upon public matters as could a private person." Speaking for His Highness will return to Japan on the S. S. Mongolia leaving San Francisco at Honolulu. This is the first time that His Highness has been in the Hawaiian Islands. He attended the coronation of the present Czar. His Highness is going to America as the representative of the Emperor. His Highness will first go to Washington to present the respects of the Emperor to President Roosevelt and then will go to St. Louis. It is of more consequence to go to Washington and see the President than it is to indulge in any sight-seeing. Japan thoroughly appreciates the kind attitude of the United States during the present trouble and we are very grateful for it. His Highness will return to Japan on the S. S. Mongolia leaving San Francisco December 28. At present he is not traveling in his official capacity and will not assume that until he reaches the Mainland. He is going as the special representative of the Emperor to present the respects of the Emperor to the President of the United States.

"His Highness commanded a brigade during the Japanese-Chinese war and after that was promoted to be a full general. He commanded the first division in the fight at Nanshan Hill and his division had the hardest fighting to do. In regard to Port Arthur we have been expecting to hear at any time of the fall of that place. There is great confidence felt by our people that Japan will win in the present war."

On the trip over from Yokohama the Prince was frequently present in the saloon during the meals, sitting at the right of Captain Saunders, the master of the vessel. He showed himself to be quite affable and conversed with other passengers on the vessel. He and the members of his suit participated in dancing and other entertainments that were given aboard the vessel during the trip. The Japanese passengers in the steerage got up a special exhibition of wrestling and various Japanese games and sports in honor of the Prince. He attended the entertainment and was much pleased with it. He presented the Japanese participants with $100 to drink his health, but the crowd unanimously passed resolutions to donate the money to the military service for the benefit of injured soldiers. The Prince kept to his suite which was on the port side of the vessel during the heavy weather. He was not especially ill but preferred the seclusion of his cabin during the rough weather, although the members of his suite spoke of the steadiness of the Manchuria during such weather.

It was nearly 9 o'clock when Prince Fushimi appeared on deck. Only he and his aide wore uniform. The Prince's uniform was black, fatigue, with the regulation military black cap bound with gold braid. On his left breast the Prince wore a Star of Imperial decoration and above this emblem was a row of service medals. He carried a sword. As soon as the Prince appeared the party immediately left the vessel. Captain Saunders led the way down the gangway, followed by the Prince, Secretary Atkinson and the remainder of the party. As soon as the Prince started down the gangway the reception committee of Japanese which was congregated at the foot of the gangway waved a welcome and shouted "banzai, banzai, banzai," and the band played the Japanese national anthem. The soldiers stood at present arms, as the Prince was shown by F. W. Klebahn, Captain Saunders, Secretary Atkinson and party to the Governor's carriage.

In the Governor's carriage rode Prince Fushimi and Secretary Atkinson and on black horses at either side of the carriage rode Captain Sam Johnson and Lieutenant Cummins, the honorary aides to the Prince. In the second carriage rode His Excellency Aimaro Sato and Major Mihara; in the next carriage was Japanese Consul General Miki Saito and Major Wall, and then followed in carriages the remaining members of the Prince's suite, the consulate party and reception committee, to ride to the Alexander Young Hotel.

Outside of the wharf shed the column was formed in different order. A platoon of mounted police and then a force of foot police headed the column under command of Captain of Police Robert Parker. Then marched Lieutenant Colonel Ziegler and Captains Rose and Berndt of the 1st National Guard, and then came the Territorial Band. After the band were the regulars under command of Captain Nichols, Lieutenant Hamilton being his aide, and then marched three companies of the National Guard under command of Lieutenant Costa. The carriage in which rode Prince Fushimi and the Secretary followed, and then came a dozen carriages containing the other members of the party. The Japanese reserves and Young Japanese Men's Club on foot followed.

The distinguished visitor entertained a number of guests at luncheon at the Young today. The following were in the party: Prince Fushimi, Governor Carter, Consul General Miki Saito, Secretary Atkinson, Captain Nichols, Lieutenant Hamilton, Captain Johnson, Lieutenant Cummins, and members of the Prince's suite and sixteen members of the Japanese reception committee.

After Governor Carter called upon Prince Fushimi the Prince drove to the gubernatorial residence to return the call. There were present to receive the Prince Governor and Mrs. Carter and Miss Coleman. From the Governor's residence the Prince and party returned to the Young Hotel and at 12:45 o'clock repaired to the dining room for luncheon as the guests of the Prince. Twenty-seven sat down at luncheon, among them being Captain Saunders, the master of the Manchuria.

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the Prince and party started on a drive. They will go through the Japanese part of the city including Chinatown, and after this part of the ride will go to Waikiki. Dinner will be served at the Japanese consulate on Nuuanu avenue at 7 o'clock this evening. A reception will follow to men only from 8 to 9:30 p. m. at the consulate. No definite plans for entertaining the Prince tomorrow morning before the departure of the steamer have been announced. The Banzai Club will assemble at the Young Hotel this evening at 7 o'clock and march from the hotel to Hotel street to Nuuanu and up to the consulate.

BEET SUGAR MAKES A JUMP

The price of beet sugar stock has taken a sudden jump in the reports of the past two days. Yesterday afternoon's cable report gave the London quotation as 12 shillings, 1 1/2 pence. As the price has been hovering about 11 shillings, now a fraction above and now a fraction below, for some time, the big increase has attracted a lot of attention among those interested in sugar. On October 26 the quotation was 11 shillings even, after a long list of daily quotations near to that figure. On the 28th it was 11 shillings and 3/4 of a penny. Then there was a jump to 11 1/4 on the 29th and to 11 shillings 9 pence on the 31st, marking the highest figure reached for a very long time. It was followed yesterday by the big jump again, to 12 1/2.

A number of theories are discussed to account for the quick rise in beets. One is that speculators have got hold of the market and are sending prices upwards. Another is that the beet crop in being harvested in Europe, is being found to be less even than was expected, while a third theory is that the crop, if up to expectations in volume, is discovered to be affected unexpectedly in percentage of sugar, as a result of the drouths. Whatever theory is adopted, the rise in beets is regarded as another sign that raw sugar is to maintain its high price.

TOM FITCH'S FEE OF $1250

THE STORY OF THE CHECK WHICH MAGOON POST-DATED AND LATER STOPPED.

An interesting report was filed this morning in the Circuit Court by E. A. Doughtitt as Master, in the matter of the final account of J. Alfred Magoon in the estate and guardianship of Rebecca Panee Humeku, a spendthrift. The report is confined to the last and final account of the guardian. In this the Master finds one item which he states is "deserving of considerable mention." It is the item which runs thus: "Thomas Fitch, counsel fee allowed: $1250."

Commenting on this the report says that it appears that on the 22 of October, 1902, Thomas Fitch, as counsel for Rebecca Panee Humeku, the ward herein, was allowed $1250 as counsel fees. Magoon gave a check to Fitch for $1250 which was dated October 29, 1902, and post dated by the guardian December 5, 1902. Fitch went to the office of Magoon and had the book-keeper change the check.

Fitch then negotiated a loan from Bishop & Co. for $1245.25 giving as security his promissory note and the post dated check as collateral security. On the 19th of November application was made to set aside the order allowing Fitch the fee, upon which Magoon stopped payment of the check.

On December 8th, the check was protested and later Fitch's note was redeemed and the check returned to him. After this Fitch transferred it to one Harvey Carpenter and Carpenter brought suit against Magoon for the amount of the check.

Doughtitt as Master holds that as the order allowing Fitch $1250 was set aside by the court, there was never any order as far as Fitch's compensation is concerned. The master holds that the ward should not be the one to suffer by the singular transaction but that it is chargeable against the guardian.

A little vanity is a good thing. Every woman should try, at all times, to look her very best. But it certainly must be discouraging to have your mirror tell you that your hair is gray when you are only thirty or fifty! Gray hair adds twenty years to the age. Why not look as young as you are, or even younger?

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Always restores color to gray hair, always. Brings back all the deep, rich, beautiful color of early youth. Perhaps the color of your hair suits, but you are losing the hair itself. You are threatened with thin hair, rough hair, scraggly hair. Your hair seems weak, not well nourished. Then give it Ayer's Hair Vigor, a true hair-food. It stops falling hair, makes the hair grow, and keeps it soft and silky.

GROCER'S NOTICE.

In accordance with our desire to give our customers the best possible service at the lowest prices, we have decided to discontinue the practice of allowing a discount of 5 per cent on retail monthly bills, and therefore give notice that on and after the 1st of November, 1904, no discount whatsoever will be allowed on any groceries sold in our stores. All groceries will be sold at net prices, on a basis of spot cash or thirty days' settlement, and there will be no exception made to this rule. Purchasers made in our retail department up to the 1st of November will, of course, be subject to the 5 per cent discount as heretofore.

The discount question has frequently been the cause of disputes and dissatisfaction and we believe this arrangement will improve our relations with our patrons, while it will at the same time enable us to more adequately meet the keen competition prevailing in our line of business, and to give our customers the benefit of the lowest prices.

A JAP WHO THINKS JAPAN WILL BE BEATEN

MERCHANT OF KORE, INTERVIEWED IN SEATTLE, PREDICTS ULTIMATE RUSSIAN SUCCESS.

SEATTLE, October 22.—H. Koshida, a Japanese merchant of Kobe, thinks that Russia is going to defeat his own country in the present conflict. Mr. Koshida feels that the tremendous resources of the Russian empire will eventually overcome even the stubborn and courageous resistance of the little brown men. Mr. Koshida said last night at the Hotel Cecil:

"Russia's resources are unlimited, but Japan must depend for her fighting men on the population of her own little empire. Personally I do not like to anticipate the end of the struggle, for I can state without any lapse of patriotism that the odds are all against us. While I would give everything I own to contemplate different results, it is not in our power to change the course of events.

"If Russia wins she will do so through her unlimited resources. Japan has the spirit of victory, but the material is lacking. With even numbers, yes, with two to one against her, Japan could more than hold her own, but what can she do when she has odds of ten to one against her? She will be able to hold out six months more perhaps and maybe longer, but that will be the end. Many people are saying that she will not hold out for three months; that the winter will witness the evacuation of her position around Port Arthur. I am not a military man, and they may be right. I do not wish to be considered a renegade to my country, but in all justice to those concerned I feel that the end is near, and it is my opinion that others think so also."

Mr. Koshida is making a business trip through the United States and is now en route East. He is well educated and speaks English accurately. It is his intention to remain in this country for several weeks, taking advantage of the opportunity while here to study business conditions.

WOMAN'S BOARD WAS IN SESSION

A DISCUSSION ON CHINESE AFFAIRS, IN THEIR RELATION TO MISSIONARY WORK, WAS HELD.

There was an attendance of fifty at the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions which was held yesterday afternoon at the Central Union church. Mrs. Gulick presided. A message was received from the president Miss Chamberlain who asked that the members pray for her.

Mrs. Dillingham submitted her report as treasurer showing a balance on hand of $134.70.

The subject of the meeting took up for the afternoon's study was a continuation of the discussion on China and the Chinese. Miss Clark read a paper on "Chinese Civilization" and Miss French followed with one on "Race Characteristics of the Chinese."

Miss Margaret Hopper presented an essay on "Puzzling Problems" which had been written by Mrs. Walker and which dealt with the problems that missionaries have to face in China.

Miss Green's subject was "Chinese Conservatism from the Standpoint of a Chinese Scholar."

Mrs. Frank Damon spoke on Chinese Mission work in Hawaii.

Miss Coan gave an account of her recent visit to the East after which the meeting adjourned.

KAUAI'S LATEST MURDER CASE

A GAMBLING GAME AT MAKAWELL WHICH LED TO A FATAL STABBING.

LIHUE, October 31.—Last Tuesday night, the 25th, Camp 5, Makawell, was the scene of a little game among the Japanese. and in the course of their pastime a dispute arose between two of the players over the spoils of the game, so it is reported.

Eisuka Shoda, so the story goes, accused Nakamoto Kikaku of cheating, and a vehement quarrel was at once the result, during which Eisuka Shoda was stabbed, from the effects of which he died the next day, Wednesday the 26th.

The accused is still at large, but the police are on his trail, and he no doubt will soon be caught. Nakamoto Kikaku came to Kauai in contract labor days and worked for a time under contract at Makawell, then left for Kilauea, and after working at Kilauea a few months, began work at Hanalei. He left Hanalei to live at Koloa, and has recently been working at Makawell again. He is said to have a sister living at Koloa, near the landing.

MUCH WORSE THEN.

The British Museum has a love letter addressed to an Egyptian princess and inscribed on a brick. It must have been even worse in those days for a married man to have his love letters thrown up at him.

TEN DOLLAR CLUBS ON THE PACIFIC COAST

COMMISSIONER SARGENT BREAKING UP GANGS LIKE THOSE PROSECUTED HERE.

WASHINGTON, October 21.—Commissioner General Sargent of the Immigration Bureau has returned from his visit to Seattle and other points on the Pacific Coast with sensational information in regard to the traffic in Japanese women. Six Japanese girls who were brought to Seattle for immoral purposes have been ordered deported, and this is said to be merely the beginning of a movement to break up a corrupt system in Seattle and other Coast cities.

Mr. Sargent says the conditions in Seattle were found to be deplorable, and in at least one case recently brought to his attention the man who imported the girl will be criminally prosecuted. It is declared that cases have been found in which supposedly respectable Japanese merchants in Seattle are living with Japanese women as their wives and at the same time sharing the proceeds of an illicit traffic.

In the future the most vigilant watch will be kept on all arrivals of Japanese women at the Coast ports, for the immigration bureau is determined to break up the system. The case of the sixteen so-called Geisha girls at the St. Louis fair who are resisting efforts that have been made to return them to their native country is attracting much attention in the immigration bureau. A hearing is now in progress in St. Louis.

The girls claim to be artists and declare that it is their intention to make a theatrical tour after the fair closes. Unless new evidence is presented, however, the girls will be compelled to return to Japan. Commissioner General Sargent is preparing a full report of the recent disclosures at Seattle for the information of the secretary of commerce and labor.

DEBATE ON LANGUAGE BILL

HOME RULE SPEAKER WHO THINKS IT IS A BILL TO DIS-FRANCHISE VOTERS.

WAIMEA, October 25.—The Home Rulers lectured here last night to a small audience. One Kala from Puna was the first speaker. He dwelt mostly on personalities and finally shifted to the act introduced by the Prince in Congress allowing the Hawaiian language as an official one in the legislature for ten years only.

His interpretation of that act is the Hawaiians would be disfranchised forever at that. He said that there are Home Rulers in the United States, at this remarks M. J. Pereira who is a republican interrogated who was right, laukia who says there are none, or you?

The speaker answered that George Washington was a Home Ruler. Then he reiterated his remarks on the Prince about the language act on which W. O. Crowell challenged him for misleading his fellow Hawaiians, and at this charge the participants agreed to debate on the act tomorrow in front of the Court house. Just then the crowd began to melt away only to leave a few behind to listen to the Democrats who had arrived.

On the following morning news flashed about that the notorious Home Rule agitator Kala stood in the open court yard ready to snow under his opponents. By 8 a. m. there gathered about forty people. The few Democrats by this time had become conspicuous on account of their edging up to a small margin.

Kala by his quite fluent command of his mother tongue made quite an impression but it seemed that the crowd wanted the merits of the case or act analyzed, and when W. O. Crowell commenced to come out with the true meaning of the act, the hearers went wild with accusations that the public was being misled or deceived.

There were other Republicans to corroborate Crowell.

MR BRYAN "SAVING INDIANA."

Mr. Bryan, having declared that "a Roosevelt victory in Nebraska is certain this fall," is to be sent into Indiana by the democratic national committee to aid Judge Parker's candidacy in that state.

If Mr. Bryan has not sufficient influence with the voters of his own state, which he carried in 1896, to give the democratic ticket a fighting chance there, it is not easy to see how he can greatly benefit Judge Parker's cause in Indiana, which he lost both in 1896 and in 1900.

Does the national committee think the election of a democratic President next month will be greatly promoted by the speeches of a man who confesses his lack of sympathy with the democratic ticket by declaring that "when the election is over I want to renew the fight for economic reform"—meaning "for populism"?—New York World.

HONOLULU WAS BADLY FOOLED

THE COMMUNITY TURNED OUT BY MISTAKE YESTERDAY TO GREET PRINCE.

Honolulu was the victim of a very amusing mistake yesterday afternoon. The S. S. Manchuria with Prince Fushimi aboard, was reported arriving, being telephoned in the usual way and "whistled" like other arrivals. The result was that the entire community turned out to receive the distinguished visitor, but he failed to appear. The report that the Manchuria was arriving was an error and, in consequence, fully 10,000 people had their trouble for nothing. The mistake was due to the enterprise of an officer who had been stationed in the Waianae hills to notify Secretary Atkinson of the approach of the steamer. The watchman was told by some natives who had come from a higher ridge that the steamer was coming. They had seen smoke. The watchman at once notified the Secretary, the latter at once notified the electric light concern which immediately blew three blasts from its whistle and the town at once was informed of the coming of the Manchuria.

Japanese, Chinese, officials of all kinds and the community generally turned out at once and started for the water front. The Japanese consul and Japanese committee, Secretary Atkinson, the band and all the rest to board the tug Fearless or the quarantine launch to go outside of the harbor and meet the vessel. But the vessel came not and none of the craft in the harbor went out to meet the vessel, although they started.

It appears that the smoke of the S. S. China going to the Orient had been mistaken for that of the Manchuria coming from the Orient. The Camp McKinley regulars, two companies of militia and Japanese organizations were on hand by the Hackfeld wharf where it had been expected that the Prince would land, but after waiting for about three hours, all retired after learning that the reported coming of the vessel had been a mistake. The Manchuria was reported by wireless as off Kaula at 5:30 p. m. yesterday. She arrived off the port about 6 o'clock this morning.

KUMALAE MAKES SPEECH

SAYS HE VOTED AGAINST GOOD LAWS WHEN HE WAS A REPUBLICAN.

KOLOA, October 31.—The Democrats and Home Rulers held a mass meeting in Koloa last Friday night attended by a small crowd, principally Democrats. Basil Luces presided at the meeting and introduced the following speakers: S. Kanewai, George Mookini, William Charman, Fanny Sebo, J. K. Apolo Kaneali, Jonah Kumalae and Charles Notley.

The loyal Republicans Luka Nakapahu, and Robert Puuki were also with the campaigners but did not make any speech.

Mrs. Fanny Sebo made a long speech dwelling principally on the work of the Home Rulers when Robert Wilcox was their leader. She advocated the election of either Laukea or Notley and spoke bitterly against the prince.

J. K. Apolo delivered a short oration. He attacked the Carter Administration on account of removing the High and Deputy High Sheriff and other officials, and the use of undated resignations. He asked the people to vote for men like Apolo so that they will be benefited by good laws.

Kumalae, as he always does, delivered a long speech. He said that in 1901 the Home Rulers made a County act, but it was voted by the Governor because the Republicans did not want it. He claimed that the Home Rulers introduced many good laws but was voted out by himself (then a Republican) and his colleagues. He also produced the 1901 and 1903 House Journals and read the good laws made by the Home Rulers, and the bad laws made by the Republicans as he claimed them to be. He asked the people to vote for Senator Nakapahu, and Robert Puuki, J. K. Apolo Kaneali and Mooki.

Charles Notley spoke chiefly of the Wilcox Bills which are in the hands of the Committee on Territories, and said that he will push them ahead if he is elected.

WOULD CARRY NEW ENGLAND.

Four years ago the issue was the full dinner pail. This year the issue at the south is the Booker Washington luncheon. In the course of time we may develop a pie-for-breakfast party.—Chicago Chronicle.

Speaking of doubtful states, both parties seem to be in one just now.—Washington Post.

A Sure Cure for Croup.—The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—over thirty years' constant use without a failure. For sale by all dealers, Benson, Smith & Co., agents for Hawaii.

These magnificent views are well worthy of permanent possession and study. They are of value for all time. There is no need to wait until the whole series is issued, for as a rule some of them are so suited and worn as to render them unfit for binding, but you can begin now and keep each part in good condition.

The beautiful binder which we offer is made of the best English silk cloth, lined in gold, the design being artistic and attractive, making it a handsome ornament for the center table. As there will be a tremendous demand for the binders, they have been manufactured in large quantities, thus bringing the price within easy reach.

threw Prosser off his feet. He struck the ground heavily on his right shoulder and for a time it was feared that some bones were broken. It was found that the injury amounted to severe contusions. Prosser suffered considerable pain and his arm will be out of commission for some days.

CRIMINAL CASES SET.

Judge Gear this morning announced that he would continue the case of Philip Naone, under indictment for murder until Friday when he would give his decision on the demurrer en-

ROUGH WEATHER DELAYED MANCHURIA

DIG VESSEL ARRIVED THIS MORN-ING FROM ORIENT AFTER BAD TRIP.

The S. S. Manchuria arrived this morning from the Orient after a very disagreeable passage. The vessel was late arriving here. Four days of dirty weather with strong head seas and winds delayed her. She left Yokohama October 23 and experienced very fair weather up to four days ago when the rough weather was met. The vessel has 193 tons of cargo for Honolulu and 16,000 tons for San Francisco. She brought five cabin passengers for this place and has 105 through cabin passengers. She came into the harbor this morning.

The principal interest to the vessel is naturally H. L. H. Prince Fushimi who accompanied by his suite, is going to the Mainland as the special emissary of the Emperor of Japan.

There are a number of well known people aboard as through passengers.
R. A. Chubbey is a prominent broker of Hong Kong, who is on a tour of the United States and Europe.

Troyer Perry is the publisher of the American and Asiatic Journal of Commerce at San Francisco. He is returning to the mainland after a six months trip to the Orient.

Julius Brett is the Mexican consul at Yokohama. He is going to the City of Mexico on official business, accompanied by his wife.

Mrs. J. S. McConnell has been visiting her brother, U. S. Minister Conger, at Peking. She is returning with her family.

Major J. S. Garwood is an American army officer returning from service in the Philippines.

Captain A. Scandella was the military attaché of Spain, with the Japanese forces. He is returning to Madrid.

Allen P. Nichols is an attorney of Pasadena California, who has been visiting Manila.

E. P. Stone is the president of the publishing house of Bancroft, Whitney and Company of San Francisco and is returning to that city, from a five months tour of Japan and China. He is accompanied by his wife.

Captain A. Kirkwood was the commander of the S. S. Minnesota which was lost September 5 in Tegu Bay off the coast of Siberia. He is returning to mainland accompanied by 29 members of the crew.

P. A. McKenzie was the war correspondent for the London Mail. He was the first man to reach the front in Korea after the outbreak of the hostilities last February. He is returning to London accompanied by his wife.
While in Korea he met with a painful accident both of his legs being broken by a fall from a horse.

A fair sized crowd of people will depart from Honolulu on the Manchuria for San Francisco. She will sail at noon tomorrow from the Hackfield wharf.

THE STORY OF FEE ASAKA PAID

SPECIAL OFFICER MIKI IS CALL-ED UPON TO EXPLAIN ABOUT A COSTLY APPEAL.

Special Officer Miki who does the Japanese translations in the District Court, was "on the carpet" before Judge Gear this morning that he might be given an opportunity to explain certain alleged dealings of his in the matter of Asaka, another Japanese who had been charged with assault.
The charge against Asaka was heard by Judge Lindsay some time ago, a fine of $10 being imposed. He was defended by C. C. Bittling. After this trial, according to the defendant himself, he was perfectly satisfied to pay the fine but the counsel of some of his friends was that he should appeal and this he did. He therefore put up $25, so he says, with a friend name Fujii, who in turn, so once more he says, turned the money over to Officer Miki and that is the last that has been seen of it.

This morning Asaka asked permission to withdraw his appeal and this being granted the charge of assault was nolle prossed. Asaka was told that he had to do now was to pay the fine imposed by the lower court and Asaka naturally wanted to know as to the whereabouts of his $25. Two witnesses were present to testify that Fujii had turned the $25 over to Miki so Judge Gear sent an order for Miki to come and explain.

Miki came in answer to the summons and blandly denied that he had ever received a cent from Fujii or Asaka in the case. He had, he said recommended Attorney Bittling to the defendant Asaka and had gone to get the fee agreed upon, one of $15. He had been given a deposit book showing that $10 was in the Post Office but he had returned this.

Judge Gear asked how Miki as a police officer came to be acting as an agent for the defence and for the attorney for the defence, but Miki merely offered polite denials while Attorney Bittling said that he had merely received his fee as agreed on.

Assistant Attorney General Prosser,
in response to a question by the judge, case and would make further enquiry said that he had been watching the into its merits.

ROTTEN FISH DIET

fish and what meat they can get by hunting but they do not consider fish fit to eat until it is almost putrid. As we got there about the end of their it was like to us. The only cooking utensils we had was a coal oil tin in which we did not only our cooking but also our laundry work.

"Yes," admitted the captain "It might have been a good deal worse, but it seems to me that that twenty-four days has somehow spoiled my taste for fish."

"The British officers and men treated us with the greatest kindness and we were landed in Hakodate in good shape but from there to Yokohama we were sent by the United States consul on a on rice which we ate with chop sticks like coolies. At Yokohama we were boarded at the Salvation Army's place until the Manchuria came in and here we are."
