MERCHANTS ENDORSE IT

The Merchants' Association convened at 3 o'clock this afternoon and after a statement of the purposes of the meeting by President Smith, heard a report from the committee to which was referred the detailed statement of the work done by the Promotion Committee. The committee reported as follows:

Honolulu, Oct. 14, 1904.
To Geo. W. Smith, President Merchants' Association, Honolulu.

Mr. President:—Pursuant to a resolution passed by the directors of this Association September 26, last, by the terms of which resolution your Committee on Publicity and Promotion were requested to ask for a comprehensive report on the operations of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, beg leave to submit same, together with comments by your committee which will show in a condensed form the salient features of the report.

The Hawaii Promotion Committee came into existence August 1, 1902, composed of two members from each of the Merchants' Association and the Chamber of Commerce, who selected another member, making the committee membership five, of which the presidents of the above institutions are members ex-officio.

Receipts.—From August 1, 1903 to June 30, 1904, the receipts amounted to $18,700.45, out of which has been expended in the prosecution of the committee work the sum of $15,090.64, leaving a balance on hand as of June 30, of $3,609.81.

In addition to these receipts $15,000 was appropriated by the Legislature. Of this sum, $11,684.34 was expended for advertising under the supervision of the Treasurer, and paid out by warrants issued by the Auditor on the Treasurer.

The unexpended balance of this appropriation was held up by the Governor in the interests of economy. These funds not passing through the hands of the Treasurer of the Promotion Committee naturally do not appear in his report. Taking these funds, derived from government sources, together with the amounts from the committee report, we find that there has been expended for promotion work from August 1, 1903, to June 30, 1904, the sum of $26,774.98.

Expenditures.—These have all been gone over in detail AND WE FIND NOTHING TO CRITICISE. The various sums spent seem to have been judiciously and economically expended. Over half a million circulars of several sorts have been paid for and distributed.

Results.—Your committee regrets that this large sum of money expended in the interest of tourist travel has not been productive of better results, but we do believe that the bulk of those tourists who have come, were induced to do so by the efforts of the Promotion Committee.

We are satisfied that this first year of the existence of this Promotion Committee has been an unusually unfortunate one in which to interest tourist travel to Hawaii. The statement of all the California resorts as to the falling off of travel this year bear us out in this, and what with the war in the Orient, the St. Louis Fair and a pending Presidential election, it is a wonder we got any tourists at all.

The Work of the Committee.—We find this to be of a most exhaustive and thorough nature, well planned and well executed. The Hawaiian Promotion Committee is in close touch with every bureau of tourist information in the United States; every railroad and steamship line of any consequence and their literature is to be found in every place possible, where it can do the most good.

Offices Maintained.—Three main offices or information bureaus are maintained, one each at Honolulu, Los Angeles and Boston. The average cost to maintain the Honolulu office approximates $440 monthly; the Boston office $25 monthly; the Los Angeles office $200 monthly.

Prospects.—The prospects of activity for the coming winter seems to be good for tourist travel. Five of the leading tourist agencies of the mainland are planning tours to Hawaii, and now, that other and more patent attractions on the mainland will soon be over, we can reasonably expect to see a fair share of tourist patronage coming this way.

The work of this committee in paying the way for a visit from such men as Walter H. Page of World's Work; George Horner Lorimer of Saturday Evening Post; Dr. Albert Shaw, of the Review of Reviews; Dr. Lyman Abbott, of the Outlook; and Mr. Frank Collier, of Collier's publications, and others, cannot be too highly commended. No method that we know of to advertise the islands can be more potent or far-reaching for good, and at a cost which will entail no more expense other than what will be required to make their stay among us pleasant.

How the Promotion Committee Subsidizes.—Only sixteen firms and individuals (and we are ashamed to have to record this) help out this committee with subscriptions. These payments are as follows: Three at $50 each; one at $12.50; two at $10 each; four at $5 each; one at $2.50; two at $2; five at $1; one at $1.50.

For the period to June 30, 1904, just $3,700.45 was collected from this source. It is a matter of regret that our business men are not far-sighted enough to see the advantages to the country of increased tourist travel. From the tonnage tax $15,000 has been received and should this support in the future be withdrawn, and government aid be unavailable, the promotion business will have to be abandoned.

The Future.—It is the belief of your committee that to abandon this work at this time would be almost criminal, and every effort should be made to keep it going. Every man experienced in advertising knows full well that it takes time to secure results from advertising any business and now that the beginning has been well made, it

SURE FOR ROOSEVELT IS THE SENTIMENT STEWART FINDS IN HIS TRAVELS

[Special Correspondence.]

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 2.—Chicago! Wonderful Chicago! I never saw any thing just like it in my life!—although I have seen New York and Philadelphia and Boston and St. Louis, and London and Paris. But Chicago is "a thing of itself"—large, bustling, restless, sleepless! I don't like it. I don't like this "bigness of life" any more. I sigh for the quiet and peace of my island home.

Here I am at the Auditorium Hotel, a monster palace, which is beyond every conception I had formed of this great city. Last night sleep was fitful, because without was an everlasting roar of travel and traffic by horse power, by steam power, by electricity. And it never stops. Have the American people in their rush for gold gone mad?

I left San Francisco on September 28. That afternoon, I learned from Mr. Smith of the Manufacturers Shoe Company of the awful death of young Mr. Damon. My heart bowed down with sympathy unutterable for his good father. God have mercy on us! What an uncertain life—what a sad world this is! The wonder of it is that we clutch so much at one another's throats, when we are all constantly in "the graveyard of the sea of life." Death is always sad; but the brutal murder of a young man, the joy and comfort of his mother, the pride and hope of his father, the earthly all in all of wife and children, in whom the community has confidence and from whom it expects public as well as private service—the murder of such a man is past understanding. Happy is he who can uncover and be consoled of God.

The first thing I did on washing up and breakfasting was to hear the celebrated pulpit orator, Dr. Cunsaulus, who preaches every Sunday morning in the Auditorium. It was a treat. A great hall, holding thousands, filled with men and women, who sang "Abide With Me," as it seemed to me, I never heard it sung before. Perhaps because I heard it four thousand miles from home. The sermon bore out the preacher's reputation for eloquence, and it was at the same time deeply spiritual. His text was, "A man's life doth not consist in the abundance of the things he hath." Well, he was good. Truly, a man should be less selfish, less "grasping after the almighty dollar," and should scatter seeds of kindness, and work more to make the world better than to make himself richer.

I wish I should send you some political news of special interest; but I have none. That Roosevelt is sure to be elected is seen in the fact that "the business interests," now satisfied to let well enough alone, have succeeded in securing a short campaign. It is practically just opening. When I left Frisco, they were waiting for Fairbanks to open their campaign on tomorrow, October 3rd. I find that not a State or national meeting is being held in this great city yet, and the meetings will not be started until next week. I tell you, the Democrats are beaten. I have talked with business men and farmers all along the way from Frisco to Chicago, as I met them on the train, and at "the long stop stations," and the universal testimony is that Roosevelt will be elected. I have talked with manufacturers, retailers, commercial travelers, men of all grades and it is the same thing. One man put it to me this way: "I have a good manager and our factory is running day and night, and we are making money. Now, if some fellow were to come in and suggest that we make a change of management and of methods, we would take him by the neck, and show him the door."

Denied the opportunity of making a speech at home, it affords me much pleasure in saying to our party and to our gallant leaders, who are now charging the foe, that there is no doubt here of Roosevelt's election. He

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14, 1904.

(Received 11:45 a. m.)

To JAPANESE CONSUL, Honolulu: Marshal Oyama reports about the engagements on Wednesday and Thursday as follows:

"In the direction of Penhiho the enemy's repeated counter attacks, on Wednesday, were all repulsed and the enemy, having shown signs of retreat in the same evening, our force there turned to the offensive and since the daybreak of Thursday the flanking movement of our strong cavalry force under the command of Prince Kannin, largely contributed to the favorable development of the situation in that quarter.

The central and left columns of our right army both occupied important eminences and are continuing attacks on the enemy. The operation of the central army is progressing favorably, dislodging enemy from several strategic positions.

The left army attacking Shahupu and neighboring places occupied some important points. Our reinforcements are continually arriving at Ventai.

DOLE WILL SENTENCE SAMOA MONDAY—MORAL CASES UNDER INVESTIGATION—A CIVIL MATTER.

Recent Territorial Grand Juries have had their experiences with "leaks" and have from time to time called before them various persons with a view to ascertaining, if possible, the whereabouts of the leakage of alleged secrets, secrets concerning their deliberations, but without success. It happens that the present Territorial Grand Jury is working so fast that it has no time for leaks, hence the inquisition has not found it necessary to hold sessions for caulkings purposes. The Federal Grand Jury had its turn at a "leak scare" this morning.

Judge Dole opened court for the disposition of certain cases and the Federal Grand Jury.

Receiver Piotenhauer ADVISES Early Sale Of Puna

William Piotenhauer, receiver of the Puna Sugar Co., files report this afternoon. He shows cultivated area to be: 1122 acres at Kapoho, 78 at Kamale and 800 at Pahoa; 135 acres in fee simple land; the balance is leasehold; the plantation is equipped to accommodate 500 men; there is stable room for 160 head of stock.

Amount expended by the company on real estate, for 1903, is $752,623.52. Receiver found equipments in good condition.

Receiver found (1903 crop) 25.36 acres of Lahaina plant cane, badly in need of first stripping; if cared for now, he says, it will produce 30 tons per acre; he found 83.22 acres first long rattoons (Lahaina) also needing stripping.

Receiver decided to spend the limited amount of money allowed him in caring for the fields of cane above mentioned; he deemed the expenditure of funds on the 1906 crop justifiable in order to supply seed cane for prospective purchasers of the plantation without which the cane proposition as a whole might prove less attractive.

Receiver found about 200 acres abandoned; he is now cultivating 822 acres. "The intention of the company has always been to erect its own mill," says the report. "The site selected is located on the south side of the Green Lake Hill near Puna station. It is convenient; water supply for the mill could be easily obtained from Green lake." The receiver has reduced the insurance on the premises from $58,605 to $7,850, saving a premium of $998.

Receiver recommends that the property be sold at an early date as a whole if possible, and if not, then in lots and parcels.

BARRY DIDN'T COME

Dave Barry did not come in the Alameda this morning but remained in San Francisco in order to arrange a match with Joe Millet. PAUOA SHOOTING AFFAIR

Manuel Souza, a young Portuguese, came to the police station Thursday to complain of an attack which he said one M. F. Mendonca made on him with a revolver on Pauoa road the previous night. Souza lives on the Pauoa road. He says in the evening he had just returned from a political meeting when Mendonca called to him from the road and told him to come outside and fight. Souza answered the invitation and went out on the road, when Mendonca greeted him by firing two revolver shots at him. Souza tore loose a fence rail and started for Mendonca, who retired, firing two more shots. Souza became alarmed and hid behind a stone fence. While he was there Mendonca fired still another shot at him. Souza says that the bullet whizzed right past his head. After the shooting Mendonca retired to his house which is close to Souza's.

BOYD FOUND GUILTY

Jury in Judge Robinson's court yesterday afternoon, after being out about ten minutes, returned a verdict of guilty as charged on all three counts in the matter of the Territory against Edward S. The three counts respectively alleged the embezzlement of $675, $2500 and $1552.50, the case referring only to the time when Boyd was secretary and sub-agent in the land office. Total shortage of department funds, as revealed by careful investigation, amounts to nearly $30,000.

S. F. Chillingworth, representing Boyd, made exceptions to the verdict and gave notice of motion for a new trial. Judge Robinson fixed bail bond on appeal at $7,000. Boyd obtained bond last evening with Geo. H. Robertson as surety.

MARSHAL OYAMA'S REPORT.

Washington, Oct. 13th, 1904.

To Japanese Consul, Honolulu.

Marshal Oyama's report runs as follows:

Near Pensiho the enemy's counter attacks from all sides were entirely repulsed. On Wednesday our right army sent one detachment to Shikiatotze, eight miles north of Pensiho, to cut the enemy's retreat. The central and left columns of our right army occupied on Wednesday several eminences in the northeast of Yental mines, and are now vigorously pursuing the enemy. Our central army commenced operations on Tuesday night and gained on Wednesday morning the heights a few miles east of Yental, capturing two field guns and eight ammunition wagons, and while pursuing the enemy captured also field guns with ammunition wagons numbering eleven at Sanhuashishin besides 150 prisoners. Pursuit by our right and central armies is progressing successfully, and on Wednesday the enemy's detachment with artillery being enveloped, they were panic stricken at a place twelve miles east of Yental, while the rest were retreating northward in disorder. Our left army, since Tuesday night, was continuously attacking the enemy posted near the railway within ten miles north of Yental. The central column of our left army, after repulsing the enemy's strong force, occupied Lantziehs, five miles northwest of Yental on Wednesday afternoon, capturing sixteen guns. Thereupon we immediately pursued, the enemy retreating in disorder. We captured four more guns. During the pursuit, the enemy twice made a desperate counter attack, but was each time repulsed with heavy losses. The right column of our left army, while pursuing the enemy near Shilihs, captured five guns and five ammunition wagons.

MARSHAL OYAMA'S REPORT.

Washington, Oct. 13th, 1904.

To Japanese Consul, Honolulu.

Marshal Oyama's report runs as follows:

Near Pensiho the enemy's counter attacks from all sides were entirely repulsed. On Wednesday our right army sent one detachment to Shikiatotze, eight miles north of Pensiho, to cut the enemy's retreat. The central and left columns of our right army occupied on Wednesday several eminences in the northeast of Yental mines, and are now vigorously pursuing the enemy. Our central army commenced operations on Tuesday night and gained on Wednesday morning the heights a few miles east of Yental, capturing two field guns and eight ammunition wagons, and while pursuing the enemy captured also field guns with ammunition wagons numbering eleven at Sanhuashishin besides 150 prisoners. Pursuit by our right and central armies is progressing successfully, and on Wednesday the enemy's detachment with artillery being enveloped, they were panic stricken at a place twelve miles east of Yental, while the rest were retreating northward in disorder. Our left army, since Tuesday night, was continuously attacking the enemy posted near the railway within ten miles north of Yental. The central column of our left army, after repulsing the enemy's strong force, occupied Lantziehs, five miles northwest of Yental on Wednesday afternoon, capturing sixteen guns. Thereupon we immediately pursued, the enemy retreating in disorder. We captured four more guns. During the pursuit, the enemy twice made a desperate counter attack, but was each time repulsed with heavy losses. The right column of our left army, while pursuing the enemy near Shilihs, captured five guns and five ammunition wagons.

RAW SUGAR MARKET MEETING AT MOANALUA

WILLET & GRAY'S REPORT ON GENERAL SITUATION

COMPARISON OF WORLD'S PRODUCTION WITH ESTIMATES. MARKET STILL VERY FIRM.

Willet & Gray's sugar circular for September 29 says:

RAWS.—The markets for the week under review, have still been under the influence of the latest estimates for the European beet crops. This is especially true of the European markets, which not only have advanced above our parity for beet sugar, but also for cane Java sugars, making it practicable to sell the latter for Greenock delivery in preference to the highest obtainable price here. Our refiners do not yet appear to realize at its value the meaning of the deficient beet crops, and while having present large arrivals remain unconcerned as to their future supplies. Under these circumstances, business in Java for arrival has been restricted to such offerings as could be obtained on basis of 4 1/2c, duty paid for 96° test, while sellers at the current spot quotations of 4 1/2-16c, have to wait a market, which will come later on. The strength of the market is indicated by the sales at 4 1/2c of sugars not due to arrive until late November or December.

European markets closed last week at 10s. 11 1/2d. for beet, 88° analysis rose to 11s. 1 1/2d., declined to 10s. 11 1/2d., and closed this week at 11s. 2 1/2d., a gain for the week of 3d. Cane sugars in European markets also made an advance of 4 1/2d. for the week. With but slight offerings from Cuba at 2 1/2-16c, c. and f., basis 95° test, equal to 4 1/2-16c, landed, for 96° test, interest centered in Java sugars, of which sales were effected, including one small steamer cargo at breakwater to the Federal refinery at 11s. 10 1/2d., c. i. f., equal to 4 1/2-16c, landed, for 96° test, also two cargoes, afloat, due to arrive within a fortnight at 11s. 9d., c. i. f. (4 1/2c.), and two cargoes for September-October shipment at 11s. 7 1/2d., c. and f. (4 1/2c.). At the close the Federal accepted a sail cargo, due to arrive about November 1st, at 11s. 9d., c. i. f. (4 1/2c.).

The cargo of 6,500 tons Javass, now on the way, which was diverted to Greenock, was sold on a parity of 11s. 10 1/2d., c. i. f., to New York.

The quantity of unsold Javass afloat, is now very limited, and the lowest price asked by holders is 11s. 10 1/2d. for September shipment, while for sugars nearer by, sellers demand 12s. c. i. f.

New crop Louisiana, Cuba and Demerara sugars were not offering this week, but all of these crops will begin early, and will soon be on the market. The Cuba crop is ended for the season, grinding having ceased, and remaining supplies from that source will be very small.

Receipts for the week were again heavy, amounting to 64,902 tons, while requirements for meltings were 46,000 tons, and stocks increased to 167,361 tons, against 145,462 tons last week.

Stocks in the United States and Cuba together are 179,464 tons, against 328,665 tons last year.

Receipts from this time, for some weeks, will probably average less than the requirements for meltings, and stock will gradually decrease.

STATISTICS BY SPECIAL CABLE. Cuba—The six principal ports: Receipts, none; exports, 12,800 tons, 12,000 tons, against 130,000 tons last year.

Grinding has ceased.

This week's summary of the statistical position shows stock in the United States and Cuba, together of 179,364 tons, against 163,462 tons last week and 328,665 tons last year, a decrease of 149,301 tons from last year.

Europe—Stock in Europe, 1,022,000 tons, against 1,386,183 tons last year. Total stock of Europe and America, 1,201,364 tons, against 1,714,645 tons last year at the same uneven date and 3,722,480 tons at the even date of Jan. 1st, 1904. The decrease of stock is 513,484 tons, against a decrease of 514,484 tons last week, and an increase of 299,885 tons January 1st, 1904.

Hamburg reports no shipments of raw sugar to the United States this week.

WORLD'S PRODUCTION AND CONSUMPTION.—We call attention to the figures published by us in our "Weekly Journal" of August 11th, based on estimated stock of 1,400,000 tons in principal countries, September 1st, 1904, and estimate of 5,120,000 tons as output of the new European beet crop, showing a probable reduction in world's stock to 605,000 tons at the end of the next campaign, September 1st, 1905, and after allowing for a decrease, instead of usual increase, in world's consumption.

The actual stock in principal countries, September 1st, 1904, is now ascertained to be 1,207,600 tons, and Mr. F. O. Licht, a week ago, estimated the new European beet crop at 5,100,000 tons, showing that our figures last month were very conservative.

On the basis of the new data, therefore, the prospects are that the stock in the world on September 1st, 1905, will be reduced to 400,000 tons, unless prices advance so high that consumption will be restricted, even more than we have provided for.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKERS
MAKE GOOD POINTS

HAWAIIAN FISHERMEN ATTEND REPUBLICAN MEETING IN A BODY AND CHEER SPEECHES.

The Republican meeting in the Fifth District last night was held at Moanalua lawn, mauka of the road beyond Moanalua stream. The meeting was notable from the fact that it was the first time in the history of Honolulu politics that the native fishermen attended a political meeting in a body. A number of boat loads of fishermen came across the water a mile and a half to hear the speeches. The meeting was also attended by a large number of Hawaiian women.

Dan Kamakauha made an excellent presiding officer.

John C. Lane, candidate for the Senate made the first speech of the evening. He told the people of his efforts as a member of the Board of Health to secure action in behalf of the Hawaiian fishermen and showed what progress he had made. He pointed out that it was necessary to elect a Republican House and Senate to properly carry out the plans for the benefit of those Hawaiians. He hoped every Hawaiian in the Fifth District would lend his vote to aid in carrying out the policy.

Solomon Kalelepo assailed the Democratic policy of increasing the taxes and showed that the Republicans favored lowering the taxes instead of increasing them.

Oscar Cox made a strong speech in review of the administration of Governor Carter and made it clear that the duty of every Hawaiian is to vote in favor of a House and Senate that will work in harmony with the progressive executive.

Mahelona made a good speech in favor of a Legislature that could work in conjunction with Governor Carter in carrying on policies already outlined. Chas. Broad addressed himself to the longshoremen, demonstrating that their interests and the general interests of the people demanded that they vote the straight Republican ticket.

F. T. P. Waterhouse said that the administration at Washington and the people of the mainland were watching the Hawaiians with the hope that in the early days of annexation they would amply demonstrate themselves fitted for self-government. The administration at Washington is friendly to the Hawaiian and desires to see the people here prove themselves worthy of the privileges bestowed. He compared Hawaii with the other insular possessions of the United States, showing this to be the most privileged Territory in America.

As the Republican party is in power at Washington the people here should do their best to work with that party and win its cooperation in plans for the betterment of conditions here. Mr. Waterhouse wound up his excellent speech with a fish story in Hawaiian.

Balky Team Meets

Gentle Waterloo

A team of horses hitched to a big dray balked on Queen street yesterday and in a few minutes the wagon was surrounded by the usual crowd that rushes to join the driver in bailing the horse with an opinion of its own. After the horses had been duly grilled and the crowd had exhausted its stock of advice and plain home remedies, ranging from starting a fire under the horses' bellies to pouring hot lead in their ears, the whole fracas was settled by the simple wave of the hand of a man who knows a horse.

Frank McStocker was passing. He stepped into the crowd, told the driver to quit swearing and think of his ancestral home in the Madeira Islands. McStocker then took the whip, whistled in the equine ears as he used to talk to stubborn mules and Japs at Olau. The traces stiffened and the balky horses became model beasts.

"How did you do it," asked a bystander.

"Simply made them forget they were balking," said McStocker. "You must always treat a horse with the deference due to common sense."

Bullet Proof Breast
Plate For Warriors

Rome, Italy, Oct. 2.—Some time ago the Russian Government ordered 100,000 bullet-proof breast plates of the type invented by Signor Benedetti. The latter recently started for St. Petersburg to supervise the manufacture of the breast plates, but was stopped at Munich, Bavaria, by the Italian firm to which he had sold the rights to manufacture and which objected to Benedetti's intention in the matter, and he returned to Italy.

The firm had also undertaken to supply the Japanese Government with 200,000 breast plates. Now that the Russian contract has been broken, it seems that Japan wishes to back out of its engagement, proposing to pay the losses sustained by the firm through the abrogation of the contract.

A split ticket in the present campaign is primarily a vote for prejudice. Don't be a Home Ruler!

Earthquakes visit Hawaii with no greater frequency than to give each generation a taste of what on earth tremors is.

Kuropatka is a great general. His chief trouble appears to be a lack of future Kuropatkins in the regiments he is sending against the Japanese.

Don't be a knocker.—Bulletin.
Don't be a sucker.—Advertiser.

And be fooled into the idea that by voting a split ticket you can elect the best man.

The detailed report of the Promotion Committee on which the business bodies are deliberating is a very proper document to be spread on the public files, that the people who pay the tax may have an opportunity to draw their own conclusions.

The Hawaiian-American looks at it this way. If he votes for your representative why shouldn't you vote for his. Representative government is the true spirit of American institutions, not government by prejudice. The men who stand for cooperation of all classes and progress of the Territory will vote the straight Republican ticket.

Splitting the ticket doesn't elect the favorite. It knocks the "best man's" chances of election.

If you want a Legislature that will work, a Legislature that will do something, a Legislature that will add to the progress of Hawaii, you will vote the straight Republican ticket.

Don't be a knocker.

A New York Magistrate has solved the sanity issue to his own satisfaction. This is the story as told in the dispatches:

New York, Oct. 6.—Sane or Insane? This was the question occupying the attention of Magistrate Pool in the Jefferson Market Court today. Lawrence Cronin, seventy years old, residence anywhere, was the prisoner.

"Are you insane?" asked the court.

"No, sir."

"Do you know what an insane man is?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, what is an insane man?"

"An insane man is one who does not mind his own business."

"Good; you are discharged."

BEST MAN TICKET.

It is said that nobody ever hurt his country, his party, or himself by voting for the best man.

This is true enough when the voter refuses to jeopardize the success of his favorite "best man" by voting a split ticket. Opinions on who is the "best man" are as varied as humanity itself. There is a solid voting phalanx to be reckoned with that hasn't a "best man" on its whole list. While the opinionated voter is splitting his ballot, the opinionated voter on the other side is playing the same trick. The "best man" of one opinionated voter is sacrificed for the "best man" of another opinionated voter. Result—Two "best men," probably more, are defeated and the opposition phalanx without a "best man" on the ticket goes sailing into office to brew a "hell broth" for the Territory.

The Republican party on this and every other island of the Territory offers a legislative ticket that is thoroughly representative—a body of men who will work with unity and with strict loyalty to the principles of the Republican party. No party in the field has put forward a ticket more deserving the confidence of the people; nor were the prospects ever better for a complete sweep of the Territory by the Republican ticket. The only danger presented to the Territory is what may be accomplished by the so-called "best-man" voter who figures out his ballot on the basis that he is the only man voting and consequently his ideas must carry. He forgets that his scheme inspires a scheme in the mind of another who disproves his selection and will slaughter his favorite. The "best-man" vote when three party organizations are in the field is a medium of defeat—for the "best man."

The Republican party furnishes a "best-man" ticket that the opinionated voter cannot improve upon. It is representative. The man who splits his ticket is like the spendthrift who wastes his substance in opinionated follies.

Don't be a spendthrift.

C. D. Galvin, formerly of Redding, Cal., and now of Boston, has arisen and announced in an open letter that Thomas W. Lawson is doing, in the Trinity Copper Company, the same thing for which he in his articles on "Frenzied Finance" so roundly condemns the Rockefellers. When Lawson started out to write for "Everybody's Magazine," he confessed to have done some things he ought not and left other things undone. If he is playing the Rockefeller game in Trinity Copper, then Lawson comes in for full share of self-criticism. And if the Trinity Copper story be true, it does not lessen the truths of what Lawson is telling in "Frenzied Finance," or break down his claim that something should be done to protect the public from such sharks.

LABOR'S DISSIPATED POWER.

The tremendous political power of labor and how it is dissipated by dissension is very clearly set forth in an article published by the New York Sun. The figures of the census and of labor organization membership are taken as the basis of practical conclusions what might be, but is not owing to the wide difference of opinion on politics among the organizations and members of organizations as well.

The census of 1900 reports that 29,000,000 of the people of the United States are "engaged in gainful occupations." Upon that basis the number so engaged today is probably about 32,000,000. This includes proprietors and professional men as well as employees of all kinds. One-third of the number is represented by farmers and agricultural laborers, owners, renters and farm hands. Women and girls constitute about 20 per cent. of the total number.

It is impossible to draw any absolute line of demarcation between wage earners and wage payers, between those whose position would bring them within those groups to which labor unionism may look for recruits and adherents, and those whose position would either leave them outside of or opposed to such organization. But a general, although somewhat rough estimate, based upon submitted figures, would place the utmost possibility of all trade, labor, and wage or salary earning organization at not far from 18,000,000.

This would include all having a distinct trade, such as carpenters, machinists, printers, &c.; all mill hands and operators, telegraph and telephone operators; skilled and unskilled labor in all its forms; artisans, workmen, clerks, and salesmen, errand boys and cash girls, railway employees, engineers and firemen, waiters and domestic servants. It would leave out farmers and farm hands, virtually impossible of definite organization; professional men; bankers, merchants, and other proprietors; the military and naval forces, and the marines; policemen, firemen, and others whose duty to city, State, or nation prohibit the rendering of a higher allegiance to any organization of wage or salary earners.

Unionism itself is by no means harmonious. It is represented by different organizations whose general purposes are not notably divergent, but whose ideas of the way in which those purposes should be carried out are widely at variance. The American Federation of Labor claims an affiliated membership of about 2,000,000. This is by far the largest and most coherent association. The numerical strength of organizations which are not affiliated with this body is variously estimated at from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000. They include the railroad brotherhoods of engineers, conductors, firemen, trainmen, and switchmen; the bricklayers and masons; the Brotherhood of Operative Plasterers; the Stone Cutters' Association and the Stone Masons' International Union; the Western Federation of Miners; the remnants of the Knights of Labor; sundry groups of so-called Socialists, of which the once distinguished Mr. Debs is now the leader and exponent, and various other associations.

Assuming that all forms of organized trade and labor now represent a total membership of some 3,500,000 as a maximum, there would appear to remain some 14,000,000 or 15,000,000 potential members of such associations. If these could all be brought into harmonious cooperation upon distinct issues, their power to fix wages, to prescribe hours of labor, or to adjust any other condition affecting wage earners, is not open to doubt. But any such unification is out of the question. Even in its present state, unionism is divided against itself, and millions of wage earners are opposed to any form of association whatever.

The actual number of potential members of a central body who would obey the mandates of an individual leader or of a central governing committee it is impossible to estimate. The view of possible members is largely individual upon many of the points involved. It is even certain that an order from the officials of the Federation of Labor for a strike of all its 2,000,000 affiliated members throughout the country would encounter refusal from a large percentage and lead to the destruction of the organization. A great movement participated in by millions of wage and salary earners is one of the least probable of human possibilities.

Though the army of labor is frequently charged with being like sheep, the facts of the situation point to the decided independence of its members. When the day arrives that labor votes as a unit there will be surprising results in American politics.

SEVERAL WELL KNOWN LOCAL PEOPLE RETURN FROM MAINLAND—STEAMER BRINGS A LARGE MAIL.

The Oceanic steamship Alameda from San Francisco was sighted early this morning and was docked at the Oceanic wharf at about 8:15 o'clock. The Alameda as a rule docks regularly at 7:30 o'clock and so greatly has the Honolulu public become accustomed to the punctuality of the reliable old ferry boat that the difference of half an hour makes people call the boat "late."

The Alameda left San Francisco October 8 at 11 a. m. During the first four days out she encountered some very disagreeable weather, strong southwest winds and a very heavy sea. During the rest of the voyage fine weather was experienced. The passage was made in five days, eighteen hours and fifty-two minutes. During the voyage the following vessels were sighted:

October 8th, 4:34 p. m., Lat. 37.25 N., Long. 123.51 W., passed a barkentine bound S. W.; October 9th, 1:20 p. m., Lat. 35.41 N., Long. 129.35 W., met a French bark bound N. E.; October 9th, 2:18 p. m., Lat. 35.33 N., Long. 129.54 W., met company's S. S. Ventura bound N. E.; October 10th, 5:10 p. m., Lat. 32.44 N., Long. 126.51 W., met a full rigged ship, bound N. E.; October 11th, 12:19 a. m., Lat. 31.52 N., Long. 128.24 W., met S. S. China bound N. E.

The Alameda had on board twenty-three cabin passengers, among them being several well known local people. Among these is G. J. Waller, the manager of the Metropolitan Meat Co., who returns from a business trip to the Coast. He is accompanied by Miss Waller.

Miss Terry is the daughter of Admiral Terry, the commandant of the Naval Station. She returns after a stay of several months on the coast.

F. W. Swanton is the owner of the Beach Hotel of Santa Cruz, who comes to spend a vacation in Hawaii met. He is accompanied by Mrs. Swanton, Miss P. Swanton and Miss Lucille Smith.

H. A. Wideman, who is well known in Honolulu, pays a visit from Wailuku, where he has a fruit ranch.

A. H. Moffit is the passenger agent of the Southern Pacific railroad.

G. Kunst, the well known capitalist, who owns large interests in Samoa, Vladivostok, as well as in the Islands, returns to Honolulu for a visit. He is accompanied by his secretary, R. Engel.

F. H. House is connected with a newspaper in New Zealand.

J. M. Fuller represents a large wallpaper firm. He is on a business trip around the world.

Rev. Father J. Grace and Rev. Father Bridge are Roman Catholic clergymen from Australia who are returning to that country after a trip to Europe. They will remain in Honolulu until the next boat leaves here for the Colonies.

Dr. F. E. Clark is the well known local dentist.

Mrs. G. Fred Bush is the wife of the manager of the sales department of the Honolulu Iron Works.

Miss L. Ahceng is a teacher in one of the local schools returning from a vacation trip to the mainland.

J. J. Williams, the well known photographer, is back from a short visit on the Coast.

In spite of the fact that she sailed less than twenty-four hours after the Siberia the Alameda brought 65 bags of mail. She had a cargo of 1650 tons of general merchandise.

More Trouble Over CHALLENGED Court Interpreters

Joe Caspino and Kamila are still on trial before Judge Geat for robbery in the second degree. They are alleged to have held up a Chinese in Kalihl in August last and robbed him of twelve dollars more or less. J. W. Cathcart is defending the alleged outlaw. The case has been somewhat delayed by the old trouble over interpretations.

Farm Corn is acting as interpreter in the matter and the prosecution has already challenged his interpretations on several occasions. Corn's work is sincere enough and he does his best, according to the prosecution, but he makes mistakes if the alert ears of Wong Fat, an interpreter who sits alongside Deputy Attorney General M. F. Prosser, to keep tab on the court interpreter, can be depended on.

For example: A Chinese witness was asked as to the kind of trousers worn by one of the defendants.

Farm Corn interpreted the answer of the witness as being: "He had on black denim pants."

There are no such things as black denim pants.

The prosecution's interpreter stated to Prosser that the correct interpretation should have been: "He had on dark blue pants."

A misunderstanding as to the color of a man's pants might make all the difference in the world to a man under a grave charge. He might even prove an alibi if it was stated by witnesses or witnesses were made to appear to state that he had on pants of a certain color when as a matter of fact he wore trousers of an entirely different shade.

Since the regular court interpreters were abolished for economy's sake, the courts have had a continuous string of trouble.

ELKS FORFEIT GAM. Hired a Theatre To Make His Campaign

Tomorrow is the last day of the 1904 schedule for League baseball. The teams scheduled to play are the Elks vs. the Kams and the Mailes vs. the H. A. C's.

Manager Richardson of the Elks has decided to forfeit to the Kams, hence there will be but one game. The Elk team is rather busted up and Manager Richardson says he would prefer to forfeit the game than to go out and make a poor showing.

Although the baseball season is over the public will be favored by a game at the park next Saturday between the Maile team and the Maui team. A special excursion rate has been arranged with the Inter-Island people. The round trip from Maui has been reduced to $6 for the ball players and any who wish to come along. The ball players will arrive in Honolulu Friday, October 21 and return in the Mauna Loa the following Tuesday.

The Maui team plays a fine game of ball. On one occasion the Kams of the Honolulu League beat them by a score of 3 to 2 and last Fourth of July the Maui boys defeated the Punahou at Wailuku. The Maui line-up at the game a week from tomorrow will be as follows: Tom Kruger, c.; Ned Kruger, p.; K. Smith, 1b.; J. Garcia, 2b.; Geo. Cummins, 3b.; A. Garcia, ss.; W. Morris, cf.; W. Crowell, rf.; Kaial, lf.; A. Jackson, Kua and W. Bailey, substitutes.

This Inter-Island game has been promoted and worked up by S. A. Crook, manager for the Maile team. It is a step in the direction of Inter-Island baseball and the game on October 22 will doubtless be well patronized by the Honolulu ball-loving public.

ANTI-PARKER LEAGUE.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—The Anti-Parker Democratic National League, with the object of enlisting every Democrat opposed to the Democratic Presidential nominee, has just been organized in Chicago. It was announced that the league will have branches in every county in the Northern States and in a good many of those in the South. The officers of the league are:

President—A. W. Maxwell, former chairman of the Iowa Democratic State Committee.

Vice president—Thomas N. Higgins, former member of the Illinois State Committee.

Secretary—George P. Locke, former chairman of the Kansas State Executive Committee.

Treasurer—Michael D. Callahan of the Chicago & Western Indiana Railroad.

The objects of the league as outlined by Locke are as follows: To get in touch with every Democrat who is opposed to the election of Parker, to work against the un-democratic element that controlled the St. Louis convention, and to reorganize the Democratic party so that it will be in a position to elect a Democratic candidate when one of Democratic principles is nominated four years hence.

It was said that the names of 10,000 disaffected Democrats already had been secured.

SENATOR NEWLAND'S GRIP.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 29.—United States Senator Francis G. Newlands is traveling toward San Francisco tonight, and his only personal effects, consisting of a pair of pajamas, a change of linen and a few cards, are in possession of a young lady in Reno, a stranger who arrived early in the evening from the southern portion of the State. The young lady, Miss Adele Worthington, is in possession of the Senator's grip while he, speeding onward toward the bay, has her grip, containing the only wearing apparel she brought with her, her trunk is stranded somewhere between here and Hawthorne.

It was all due to Senator Newland's haste. He arrived at the depot a minute before the local started. Rushing to the window, he secured his berth, then, hastily grabbing up what he thought was his grip, he caught the train just as it started. Miss Worthington was in the depot at the time, her satchel was an exact counterpart of Mr. Newland's, and in his haste he mistook it for his own. Half an hour later Miss Worthington met friends and was taken to her hotel. While in her room she discovered that a mistake had been made. It is probable that Mr. Newlands made a like discovery about the same time.

SHORT STORY FOR EVENING HOURS

THE METAMORPHOSIS OF HARTINGTON

(Concluded from Yesterday.)

"Molly," he cried, and put forth his arms. But she drew back. Some one had entered the conservatory.

"Come and see me tomorrow," she murmured, and slipping her hand through his arm, she compelled him to lead her back to the bedroom.

When he reviewed the scene in the sober light of the succeeding day, Colin was not a little surprised at himself. He had made a mistake, and to avoid offending her he had covered up his tracks by lying like a gentleman and asking her to marry him—that which nothing could have been further from his desires. Pursuing his reflections, however, he realized that he might do very much worse than become her husband, and that the business with which he now felt himself in honor bound to go through need not really daunt him. He came to the conclusion—among others—that it was just by such accidents of a momentary concession to the emotions that half the world's matches were made.

In the afternoon he called upon her. She received him as if there had been no such scene as that of the night before, and, seating him in a wicker chair, she gave him tea under the shade of the beeches on the lawn.

He realized that he had never felt so nervous and so ill at ease in the whole of his checkered young life. He dissembled it as best he could, sipped his tea and talked small talk in his best manner. Her admirable self-control thawed him, and at length, as he set down his cup, he opened fire.

"Molly, I have come for my answer," "Answer?" Her eyebrows went up, and her eyes looked at him in child-like surprise.

"To my last night's—er—question," he enlightened her.

Her glance fell, and became absorbed in the white shapely hands folded in her lap.

"You were in earnest then?" "He mumbled some triteness touching the earnestness of a subject that entailed a lifetime of devotion. He attempted to tell her how much she was to him; failed in a masterly manner, and broke down with a touching suggestion that no words could give adequate expression to his feelings.

"You do me a great honor, Colin. I—I never thought that you felt that way."

"How could you mistake me?" he cried, reproachfully.

"Before I answer you, Colin," she said, disregarding his outcry, "there is something that I must say to you. You see I am not a foolish, young girl, ignorant of life and its ways. Marriage has taught me a certain worldly wisdom which prompts me—cold and cold—did I think that you would be so ready to give up your reputation for a girl who has just been discovered to be a mistake."

"My reputation?" he cried, aghast. She nodded.

"But what can any one say about it? I have only been a week or so in England, and during the time I can assure you that my circumsppection has been in every sense above reproach."

"Yes, yes, I know all that. We are at cross purposes, perhaps. I refer to your debts."

"Oh!" said Colin, and his jaw fell. She had struck the weak spot in his armor.

"You don't deny them?" "Not much use denying them," he answered, sorrowfully. "Besides, it might drive my creditors to extremes," he added, whimsically.

"You speak with a levity that hurts me, Colin."

"Good Lord, Molly, we are not discussing religion."

"I am not so sure. We are discussing what appears to be your religion—that of leaving your just debts unpaid."

"But, my dear child," he protested, "this is absurd. Where is the man that is without them?"

"In moderation, perhaps."

"Moderation? And does any one dare to suggest that mine are immoderate?"

"I do."

"Oh, I say; come now. A few thousands would clear them all up."

"Why not clear them up then?"

"Because—oh well, because I haven't got thousands enough."

"But you might pay at least the most important ones. You have singly the means of doing that. Really, Colin, it hurts me to discuss such a subject with you, but I do so because, knowing you as I do, I feel that you do not realize the dishonesty of your behavior."

"Gosh, who'd 'a' thought so many people knew me!"

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Miss Nettie Blackmore, Minneapolis, tells how any young woman may be permanently cured of monthly pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"YOUNG WOMEN:—I had frequent headaches of a severe nature, dark spots before my eyes, and at my menstrual periods I suffered untold agony. A member of the lodge advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I only scorned good advice and felt that my case was hopeless, but she kept at me until I bought a bottle and started taking it. I soon had the best reason in the world to change my opinion of the medicine, as each day my health improved, and finally I was entirely without pain at my menstruation periods. I am most grateful."—NETTIE BLACKMORE, 28 Central Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Painful Periods

are quickly and permanently overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The above letter is only one of hundreds of thousands which prove this statement to be a fact. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality, if it is painful something is wrong. Don't take narcotics to deaden the pain, but remove the cause—perhaps it is caused by irregularity or womb displacements, or the development of a tumor. Whatever it is, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is guaranteed to cure it.

If there is anything about your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. She can surely help you, for no person in America can speak from a wider experience in treating female ills. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

Details of Another Case.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and carelessness is the cause of most of the sufferings of women. I believe that if we properly understood the laws of health we would all be well, but if the sick women only knew the truth about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they would be saved much suffering and would soon be cured."

"I used it for five months for a local difficulty which had troubled me for years, and for which I had spent hundreds of dollars in the vain endeavor to rectify. My life forces were being sapped, and I was daily losing my vitality."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me completely, and I am now enjoying the best of health, and am most grateful, and only too pleased to endorse such a great remedy."—MISS JENNIE L. EDWARDS, 604 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women.

are we talking about? I am sure I did not come here to discuss my debts."

"I am quite sure you didn't. It's a subject you avoid discussing, or even thinking about, I know. But it seemed to me that after what you said last night I had a right to go into it. People are talking about it, Colin, and, even if they were not, I could never consent to listen to the advances of a man who deliberately refuses to pay what he owes."

"But I don't deliberately refuse. On the contrary, I intend to pay."

"You intend? If you intended anything of the sort, you would make a beginning. But there, Colin, you know my feelings now, and until you make an attempt to mend your ways you need not come near me."

Colin stood looking at her a moment rather sheepishly. Then he dropped back into his chair.

"My debts," said he, deliberately, "are very much overrated, no doubt, by those people who do me the honor to discuss my affairs. I have really only one formidable debt. The others amount to, perhaps a thousand or so in all. I'll settle those tomorrow, and clear up the other one—the big one—as soon as I can comfortably manage it. Will that convince you of my good intentions?"

"How much does the big one amount to?" she asked implacably.

"About £6,000."

"Heavens, Colin, how did you contrive it?"

"Well, you see, they were my father's solicitors, and they advanced me money

—about £10,000—on stock that I inherited, and which I was holding for a rise. I was unlucky, and, instead of the expected rise, there was a most awful slump, which left me a debtor to the tune of about £6,000 to Wilfrid & Langdale. Sheer ill luck, Molly."

"And you wish to leave such a debt—a debt of honor, practically—to be paid when you can comfortably manage it? Colin, I am ashamed of you."

"But what am I to do? If I were to scrape together all the ready money I can lay hands on I might just manage to pay it."

"Then I think you should do so without a moment's hesitation. It is a sacred duty."

Colin hung his head, realizing that she was quite right. It was a sad reflection. He raised his eyes, and they met hers. She smiled, and he told himself that, after all, she was very beautiful. To win her—even the effort, the sacrifice, she demanded would not be too much.

"Molly," he cried, "for your sake, I will do it, however it may inconvenience me. But when it is done—"

"We will talk about that afterward," said she.

In this manner was the metamorphosis of Colin effected, and thus was he prevailed upon to liquidate the heaviest portion of his liabilities, and abandon the careless ways he had trodden.

He posted a check to Wilfrid & Langdale, and two days later he called upon Mary Escott with the receipt in his pocket, and a fever of anticipation in his soul—which he mistook for the

She received him with metaphoric ally—and, alas, only metaphorically—open arms.

"My dear Colin, you have behaved nobly," she cried, "and I shall always dwell with pride upon the thought that I was instrumental in recalling you to a sense of your duty."

The article on dysentery is particularly valuable in its therapeutic suggestions and recommendations, and there are some good notes on snake poison, the latter being only of theoretical interest to doctors in Hawaii.

"Bubonic Plague." By Jose Verdes Montenegro, M.D. Translated by Dr. W. Munro. Cloth, 5 1/2 x 9 in., 82pp. Wm. Wood, New York.

The following subtitle to the book explains its scope: "Plague: Its Cause and Symptoms and Means of Prevention and Treatment, According to the Latest Scientific Discoveries; Including Notes on Cases in Oporto."

Dr. Montenegro is a distinguished physician in Madrid, and Dr. Munro is the author of a book on "Leprosy"; both are well qualified by education and experience to discuss the subject of this volume, and have done so admirably.

"Motherhood." By Chas. J. Glasson, M.D. Cloth 4 x 6 1/2 in., 91 pp. John Bale, Sons & Danielsson, 83-89 St. Titchfield St., London W. Price 1s. 6d. net.

A little book written, as the author modestly states in his preface, for "those young girls who are just about to get married, or have entered upon that state as young wives."

The treatment of the various subjects entitled "The Menstrual Function," "Pregnancy," "Diet, Clothing, and Exercise During Pregnancy," "Ordinary Afflictions of Pregnancy," "Choice of a Doctor and Nurse," "Articles Required by Mother and Child," "Labor," "Washing and Dressing of the Baby," "After Treatment of the Mother," "Natural and Artificial Feeding of Infants," and "On the Training of Young Girls," is entirely untechnical, and Dr. Glasson combines plain speaking with rare delicacy in discuss-sing matters which often bring a blush to the cheek of those who should have no shame about them. The chapter on the training of young girls is particularly sensible, and I recommend it to mothers, teachers and to girls who are young women.

The London Review has a poem entitled "Making a Man" which will apply very well to many of our American households:

"Hurry the baby as fast as you can, Hurry him, worry him, make him a man;

Off with his baby clothes, get him in pants, Feed him on brain food and make him advance;

Hustle him, soon as he's able to walk, Into a grammar school, cram him with talk;

Fill his poor head full of figures and facts, Keep on jamming them in till it cracks."

This may not be poetry, but it is very considerable sense. We saw a little boy of six in Boston who passed a stiff law examination and was "admitted" to practice in the courts of Massachusetts, so far as his technical qualifications went.

I would as lief have a boy with a club foot or a cleft palate as with such precocity; yet this boy's parents were proud of him. And, of course, they had crammed his active little brain with this specific knowledge.

In Margaret Horton Potter's "The Flame-Gatherers" is told a richly poetical tale adorned by Oriental imagery, imbued by Eastern ethical philosophy, and alive with the glow of passion. It would be unfair to judge such a book by the standards applied to the average current fiction of the day; it stands or falls, as would a dramatic poem by Stephen Phillips, on its merits as pure literature. The subject is an unusual one in conception, and required delicacy and sincerity of treatment to save it from absurdity or vulgarity. It is due to the author to say that she has shown both art and reserve power. The lover of the merely sensational or amusing in fiction may care little for this book, but it has both fascination and imaginative grasp.—The Outlook.

LOU DILLON'S MILE.

Cleveland, O., September 29.—Lou Dillon, the noble little trotting horse, has won fresh laurels. Driven by Millard Sanders in work, she has trotted the fastest two consecutive miles ever placed to the credit of any horse that ever lived, when she stepped the first mile in 2:02. After a rest of twenty-five minutes she came out again and repeated the trick in 2:03. The work out was to get the mare in shape for her race with Major Delmar at Memphis in October. The record was all the more remarkable from the fact that the track next to the pole was soft from recent rains, and the trotting queen was forced to take the third position from the rail, making the miles long ones. Sanders declares that the mare is faster now than ever before and shows no signs of having been affected by her recent sickness. The time by quarters for the first heat was: 0:30 1:01, 1:32 and 2:02. Second heat: 0:31, 1:02½, 1:33 and 2:03.

WILL BACK TERRY.

Philadelphia, Sept. 29.—Following the fight last night at the National Athletic Club between Tommy Murphy and Hughie McGovern, brother of the once "Terrible Terry," which was for the privilege of meeting Frankie Neil of California for the world's bantam-weight championship, and which was the fastest six-round bout ever pulled off here and probably the fastest ever pulled off in the history of the ring. Terry McGovern announced today that he stands ready to bet $10,000 that his brother can defeat either Murphy or Neil in a twenty-round fight. At the end of the six rounds last night the scoring was so even that many expert judges were at a loss which boy to acclaim the winner. The majority seemed to favor the New York boy, and on their decision Murphy today prepared to put up a large forfeit to cover his appearance in the ring with Neil in a twenty-round battle for the championship. It was this move that prompted Terry to make objection, and to announce that he stood ready to back his brother for the amount named.

"I've got the money, too, and my friends know I am not 'four-flushing,'" he said.

AFRICANDER'S GREAT RACE.

Brighton Beach, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Africander, Sim Deimel's Star-Buck colt, showed an amazing return to life in the cup preliminary of a mile and a half today, beating McChesney by a head in a heart-breaking drive to the wire. Eugenia Burch was laid.

Africander was at 25 to 1 in the betting. His startling reversal of form was not expected, for he went to the post unbacked, except for a few odd dollars, which were scattered over the ring.

McChesney was played heavily. Wise plungers and the public sent thousands into the ring on him.

The race resulted in one of the closest and most desperately fought out finishes ever seen upon an American race course. Eugenia Burch drew third, just half a length away. A blanket would have covered the first four horses. McChesney was 8 to 5 in the betting.

POLYTECHNIC WON.

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—By a score of 17 to 5 Polytechnic High School defeated Mission High School on the Presidio Athletic ground yesterday afternoon. From first appearances Mission seemed the more likely team, but Polytechnic made up for an assortment of little men by having one giant punting guard of the overall type. When the eleven got into action, after Polytechnic's opening kick-off, Mission scrambled along up the field and made first down three times in rapid succession, and then surrendered on a poor kick in touch.

DELMAR EQUALED RECORD.

Cincinnati, Sept. 30.—Major Delmar equaled his world's record of 2:02½ at Oakley Park today. He went the first quarter in 0:30½, the half in 1:01, the three-quarters in 1:30½, and the mile in 2:02½. A. P. Macdonald handled his white reins, while Scott Hudson drove the runner.

Sunny Slope won the 2:14 class pace after six heats, Edwin C. taking two and Funston one.

In the 2:06 class trot, Sweet Marie won two heats and the race, after being a close second in the first heat.

KEENE'S HUNTERS SOLD.

New York, September 30.—The entire hunting establishment of Foxhall P. Keene has been sold at public auction. The consignment consisted of nineteen qualified hunters, including thoroughbreds, bred by James R. Keene at Castleton stud, Ky., and the Irish hunters which the younger Keene collected and brought to this country two years ago. In addition to these, two packs of hounds, bought in England, were sold. The sale brought representatives not only from all the hunting colonies of this country, but from England and Ireland as well.

While all the hunters offered brought high prices generally, the American blood horse commanded a higher figure in almost every instance. The five-year-old brown gelding Prophet, by Horoscope-Royal Nun, was sold to the agent of Captain Mathews of the Royal Leicestershire Regiment for $4000. The famous mare Becky Sharpe was bought by Roger Winthrop for the same figure. The hounds were sold to James Hyde for $8150. The highest price paid for an Irish hunter was $2000.

STANFORD TRACK PLANS.

Stanford University, Sept. 18.—The Stanford track men are to have some earnest fall training this year. Captain Bell has issued a call to all candidates, new and old, and tomorrow they will appear on the cinder path for preliminary work. Three times on the track a week will be the program, and the work will not be heavy, nor will strict training rules be enforced. The men will be put into shape for a handicap field day to occur soon after the intercollegiate field day, so that Captain Bell and Trainer Moulton can get a good line on the capabilities of the new men, many of whom come with good records. Owing to the fact that Stanford has lost many of the point winners of last year by graduation, it will be necessary to develop a great deal of new material, and to do this plenty of time is required.

$8,000. FOR DOGS.

Newport, R. I., Sept. 13.—The annual Newport dog show opened yesterday, nearly 600 animals being on exhibition. The greatest interest centered in the classes for collies. J. P. Morgan had many entries, but the prizes were awarded to W. E. Mason, an Englishman.

After the classes for collies had been judged it was announced that Morgan had purchased of Mason four dogs, including Annadale Piccolo and Parbold Purity, two blue-ribbon winners, the former having taken four first prizes and the latter three. The price paid by Morgan for the four dogs is said to be $8,000.

SAGE'S VALUE OF LIFE.

New York, Sept. 29.—Sept. 29.—Russel Sage, having for $750 opened an action brought against him by Mrs. Bridget Kane, the widow and administratrix of Jeremiah Kane, to recover $50,000 damages for the death of her husband, her counsel today applied to Justice Gildersleeve in the Supreme Court to make an order discontinuing the action. Justice Gildersleeve, on the motion of Reed & Reed, made the order sought.

Mrs. Kane explained that Mr. Sage was the owner of a house on Park avenue, where she resided and where her husband was the janitor. She stated that she lived there with him in the basement. While descending the stairway from the street to the basement her husband fell into the arcaway, from the results of which he died. The top step of the stairway was broken in half, which caused the man to fall. Mr. Sage's answer was a general denial of the facts. Finally Mr. Sage consented to pay $750 in settlement.

DARWIN THEORY OPPOSED.

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—Great interest has been aroused in the International Congress of Arts and Science by the theory advanced by Professor Hugo de Vries, professor of botany in the University of Amsterdam, who, combating in the open Darwin's theory of the origin of species, advanced a theory of his own in diametrical opposition to all ideas of former and present biologists and phylogenists.

Professor de Vries asserts that no two of the same species of animal, from the lowest stages to man, are alike in any important particular. He claims that the distinguishing feature or element of an individual is not transmitted to the offspring of that individual. The theory of Darwin, on the other hand, is that by heredity the peculiarities of the progenitor finally result in a new species.

Professor de Vries offered proof before the scientists that an entirely new species may be developed within one or two generations.

CENTRAL UNION SOCIAL.

The social at Central Union church last evening was well attended and all present passed as very pleasant evening. The first part of the program consisted of a piano solo by Mrs. J. J. A great deal of amusement was derived from the guessing contests which followed. The exercises by the Kawai-ahao girls were original and interesting.

TO REFORM TAX LAWS

ASSESSOR HAS WORK FOR NEXT LEGISLATURE

DECISIONS OF APPEAL COURT MADE BUT NOT FILED—WAITING FOR STENOGRAPHER TO TRANSCRIBE.

There has been much delay in the filing of decisions in tax appeal cases, only nine opinions out of a large number to be rendered having been recorded.

Perhaps the individual mostly concerned in the speedy delivery of verdicts in these matters is Tax Assessor Holt. At first it was supposed that the Tax Appeal Court was unnecessarily slow in coming to conclusions as to the merits of the varying claims of the Territory and persons and corporations taxed, but investigation reveals the fact that the Tax Appeal Court has actually determined many cases in which decisions have not been made public, but that the written opinions are depending on the completion of the mechanical work attached thereto. Decisions of the court have been made in numerous matters other than those already published as decided; now it is up to the stenographer who took the rulings of the court to transcribe his notes and get the findings of the court in presentable shape for filing.

Tax Assessor Holt is naturally anxious to ascertain in what cases his assessments are supported by the Tax Appeal Court. He wants to know where the tax department stands and to what extent the figures of the Assessor are upheld, for it is the determination of the tax authorities, should the present tax laws prove inadequate, to rush the matter to the attention of the next Legislature for reform; to introduce before the law-makers in February next a bill which will so regulate the assessment of properties that there will in the future be no such difference of opinion between assessor and persons assessed, or, rather, if there is a difference of opinion, the Assessor will be so clothed with the law's authority that appeals will be less numerous than they are at present. Uniform rates need to be established in many matters and the process of arriving at assessments needs to be made more definite, thus rendering objections impossible in cases where it would appear that objections are now made merely for the sake of avoiding payment. The new law will benefit both the Territory and the taxpayer and save a great deal of expense.

SIBERIAN ROAD PERFECT.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 8.—Prince Hilff, Minister of Railroads, has arrived here after spending three months in personally superintending the construction of the Circum-Baikal Railroad. He says the whole Siberian line is working perfectly. The Circum-Baikal branch is open for freight traffic, but passengers are still crossing the lake in the ferry boats, that being the shortest route, the ferry boats taking two hours to steam across about thirty miles, whereas the trains take four hours to cover the railroad route around the lake, about 73 miles. Work is still proceeding day and night on the Circum-Baikal road, electric lights being used at night, so as to have the line in complete order before the lake freezes over.

If music comes from the soul, there are some souls that will need a large sized boost to get by.

"And what happened," asked the teacher, "after the Pilgrims had landed?" "A good many people got to lying about their ancestors."—Chicago Record-Herald.

eral investigators were therefore deprived of a place of meeting for awhile. As their work was important and some scores of witnesses were waiting to be called, they did not feel like taking a recess until the United States Court had finished for the day, so Chief Deputy United States Marshal Frank L. Winter was approached and asked for the temporary use of the Marshal's office. Winter granted the desired permission and the investigation fled into that spacious chamber and closed the door. A large table was requisitioned for the space without the counter ramparts and additional chairs secured from the hallways. J. O. Carter, Jr., opening the meeting with the calling of one of many Japanese "moral" cases. Now the rear windows of the Marshal's office look out upon the veranda of the Judiciary building and it happened that on this veranda, about half an hour after the Grand Jury has convened, Superintendent of Public Instruction A. T. Atkinson and a couple of scribblers were earnestly discussing the superiority of the Territory's educational system over such systems of other parts of the world. They were utterly innocent of any knowledge of the presence of the Federal Grand Jury in the Marshal's office. They stood very near one of the open windows, however.

Presently Federal Grand Jury Bailiff John Kellett approached the group, and, conveying the compliments of Foreman of the Grand Jury Carter, gently but firmly insisted that the three men of letters remove themselves from the neighborhood. The three thereupon got, standing not upon the order of their going nor on the veranda very long. Superintendent of Instruction Atkinson is now wondering whether or not he will be summoned to appear to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt or for an alleged endeavor to tap a rack of the Grand Jury.

U. S. District Attorney Breckons was occupied all the forenoon with the presentation of Japanese "moral" cases. Some fifteen Japanese ladies were seated on the benches in the lobby, accompanied by their male friends. Some of them have been waiting to be called for the last four days and consume quantities of cigarettes and a great deal of patience in the waiting.

As soon as Judge Dole was through in the court room the Grand Jury returned to their accustomed haunts.

John Samoa, indicted for violation of the liquor special tax law, was arraigned before his Honor this morning. He pleaded guilty and Judge Dole set Monday morning next for the passing of sentence.

The habeas corpus matter of Pang Kun was called and J. J. Dunne argued on demurrer filed by himself. The court took the matter under advisement.

McClennan (treasury agent) against Yee Chung et al, set for today, was ordered continued and was placed at the head of the civil calendar.

"Hup! there she goes!" exclaimed the new cook, as the dish fell and broke. "Oh, well," said the nurse girl, consolingly, "it's only cheap chinaware they use here." "Is it so?" replied the cook. "Shure, there's no pleasure at all, thin, in breakin' that kind."—Philadelphia Press.

Merchants To Consider

THIS AFTERNOON

Important Business

The Merchants' Association meets at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Association rooms in the Young Building.

The meeting is for the purpose of considering resolutions to be submitted by the directors relating to the boundaries of the area in this city in which it is desired that the Federal building be located. There will also be a resolution relating to the needs of a Revenue cutter in Island waters.

Another important matter which will be submitted to the merchants of the city is the report of the committee on the work of the Promotion Committee for the past year. The Merchants' Committee has had under consideration for some time the detailed statement of the promotion work and the report will include recommendations and comments concerning this work.

The importance of the matters to be submitted makes it desirable that a full attendance of members be on hand.

300 MORE GUNS.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 8.—The meagerness of the news from the front is increasing the uncertainty regarding the developments. There is good warrant for the belief that General Kuropatkin is strengthening his left flank to meet the Japanese turning movement, his troops occupying a triangle from Fushun to Mukden and Tie Pass. Over 300 guns have arrived at the front and the activity of the Russian skirmishers below the Nun river creates the impression that Kuropatkin may contemplate assuming the offensive. The War Office, however, gives no encouragement of this idea, though naturally if such a move is contemplated the War Office could not be expected to admit it.
