Dr. M'Conkey Endorsed By Medical Men

Arraignment By Judge Stuart Stirs
Up Maui Doctor's Friends—Say
Can Disprove Charges of Malpractice.

HONOLULU, April 12. — Circuit Judge Stuart has the Medical Society of Hawaii on his trail, scalp in hand, and the anesthetics have been left at home. The physicians of the Territory claim that the third judge of the first circuit has injured Dr. W. F. McConkey of Maui and done an injustice to the Paia hospital of Maui, and they propose seeing that justice is done the doctor and the institution.

At the regular meeting of the association, held on Friday evening, the charges made against Doctor McConkey from the bench by Judge Stuart were brought up and the general indignation felt by the physicians was voiced.

Resolution Is Adopted.
The matter ended in the passage of the following resolution:

"WHEREAS, On March 23, 1915, the Hon. Thomas B. Stuart, Third Judge of the Circuit Court of the First Circuit, rendered a decision granting a new trial to the plaintiff in the case of M. A. Martin versus A. A. Wilson, and in this decision which was published in the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, on March 29, 1915, the said Judge Stuart made a serious and deliberate attack upon the professional character and standing of Dr. W. F. McConkey, a member of this society, charging him with negligence, ignorance, wrongful practice, and other professional misconduct, and stating in conclusion that in his personal opinion 'if tried upon the merits, Doctor McConkey would be found guilty of malpractice as to his conduct of this case; and,

"WHEREAS, The said Judge Stuart, in the same decision made charges of a similar nature against the Paia Hospital, its management and its staff of nurses; and Charges Reflect Discredit.

"WHEREAS, The said charges clearly tend to bring discredit upon and to injure the standing of Doctor McConkey and the Paia Hospital in the community; and

"WHEREAS, The society believes that such charges upon the part of the said Judge Stuart are not sustained or warranted by the evidence in the trial of the case; now, be it therefore Resolved, That the Medical Society of Hawaii, through its executive committee, take steps as are necessary to secure to Doctor McConkey and the Paia Hospital, reparation for the injury and injustice which have been done to them by the said published decision and charges of said Judge Stuart."

The executive committee of the medical association, acting under the resolution, is now laying the foundation for further action.

Other Friends Also.
Dr. McConkey has no lacking of indignant backers also among his friends outside the medical profession and in fact, the whole matter has aroused much interest all over the territory. The Hawaii Herald prints editorially the following defense of the Maui doctor and the hospital of which he is the head:

A Bitter Attack.
Dr. Wilbur McConkey, of the Paia plantation hospital, is a man who, for almost thirty years has practised his profession in these islands. He is known as the guardian angel of all who are sick or in distress. He has the confidence of all those who have been under his care at any time. The attack on his character as a doctor is deplored by those who know the physician, and who have been treated by him. A more painstaking doctor does not exist anywhere on this globe.

Dr. McConkey is in charge of the Maui Agricultural Company's plantation hospital. That institution is kept up at great expense by the management of the plantation. The institution is a splendid one and is run on up-to-date lines. The head nurse is a splendid woman who is looked upon as being almost a doctor. The hospital is not a government one and Dr. McConkey, in addition to his duties at the institution, has to care for every plantation laborer on the big sugar estate. He daily visits the camps, and it is upon his shoulders that lies the responsibility of the sanitary condition of the whole plantation.

The many friends of Dr. McConkey feel that, in the attack upon the doctor's medical character, a grave injustice has been done. The people of Maui, especially, must feel hurt over the matter. The hardworking doctor is dear to them all and the attack, coming from a man who is a stranger in the group, is the worst cut of all.

ISLAND ELECTRIC WANTS NEW FRANCHISE.

By a bill introduced last week by Senator Baldwin it would amend the franchise held by the Island Electric Company to include Makawao district as well as Wailuku district as at present.

Mixup In Election is Big Puzzle

Clerk Declines to Put Names on Ballot of Candidates Elected at Primary—General Conflict of Statutes and Opinions.

Clerk Kaee declines to put D. T. Fleming's name on the ballot for the county election next month. The County Attorney backs up the Clerk in this stand, on the ground that Fleming was elected a supervisor at the primaries. On the other hand the proclamation issued by the supervisors for the election calls for a full set of officers to be elected on May 4, and takes no account whatever of the primary elections. Also Attorney General Stainback, in an opinion to the County Executive Committee, expresses the view that a member of the board of supervisors cannot be elected under the primary law, even though he receive a majority of all the votes cast. He holds, however, that the primary election is valid for all other officials who may have thus received majority votes.

In the meantime Dave Fleming is hoping for a decision from the supreme court, in a similar case from Hawaii county, which may clear up the matter. In case it does not, he will possibly bring mandamus action against the Clerk to get his name on the ballot.

County Auditor Wilcox, and Sheriff Crowell were refused by the Clerk when they demanded to have their names placed on the ballot, on the ground that they are already elected; and they were presented with a certificate of election instead. Kaee also presented himself with a like certificate, for the same reason. Of course these officials, having no competitors, and being already in office will not be affected in their positions, since under the law they must serve until their successors are elected regularly.

Kaee states that the ballot for the election will not provide for positions filled at the primary election, and that in the matter of the supervisors, the instructions will read: "Vote For Three Only," Fleming being already elected.

Anonymous Writer Makes Nasty Charges

Efforts are being made to locate the writer of a lengthy anonymous letter to the board of supervisors, in which serious charges are made against various persons connected with the county jail. The board of prison inspectors has been looking into the matter, but do not believe there is much in the story. The writer is not believed to be at present in the prison, and most of his allegations relate to things supposed to have taken place upwards of a year ago. Most of the prisoners he mentions as having been badly treated are not in the prison at present. A letter written in Hawaiian, but apparently by the same hand, though signed by other initials, has been received by Deputy Sheriff Ferreira. It alleges similar irregularities in the management of the jail.

Correa Wins Kuleana Suit

Jos. Freitas Phillips lost his suit against Frank Correa through a decision of Judge Edings last Saturday. The case was one to determine the title to a 13-acre kuleana in the Correa ranch which Phillips claimed. Correa won on point of adverse possession, it being shown that he had been in possession of the land for over ten years. E. R. Bevins represented the plaintiff with Case and Vincent for the defendant.

BAILEY-GILMORE.

A number of cablegrams of congratulation will go forward today from Maui friends of Miss Grace Gilmore and Charles T. Bailey, who are to be wed today in San Francisco. Both of the young people have a host of friends here. Miss Gilmore was teacher in the local schools for some time and Mr. Bailey is connected with the hydrographic survey work in the islands. The wedding will be attended by Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lufkin, who are in San Francisco at present. The young couple will go east for their honeymoon, and will not return to the islands till fall, and will then make their home in Honolulu.

WHY FREELAND IS PROUD.

George Freeland, of the Pioneer Hotel, Lahaina, was on this side of the island on Tuesday to receive a new automobile brought over by the Claudine. The car is one of the few made-to-order machines on Maui, and it is reported that George refuses any more to associate with owners of common stock autos.

Cubs Win First Of Season's Series

New Series Commences Tomorrow—
Cubs Must Win This Also to Hold
Cup.—Fine Game Last Sunday.

The Cubs were the winners of last Sunday's championship game defeating their opponents, the Waikapus, by the score of 5 to 0.

This game was very exciting and the losers were held down by the reliable John Keehu to only one hit and striking out fifteen men.

Opposing Keehu was his rival De Mello, who also pitched a good game but his team mates lacked in supporting him by making a few errors.

This ends the first series, and tomorrow will be the opening of the second series. This series will be short but it will be more interesting than the first as the respective teams will fight much harder to keep the cup for the next season.

The Cubs have the best chance so far and should they win again, then it will be in their possession permanently.

With the ending of the first series the teams stood as follows:

	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Cubs	10	7	3	.790
Waikapus	10	6	4	.600
Chinese	9	4	5	.444
Haikus	9	2	7	.222

Electric Power House Levied Upon By Sheriff

To satisfy a judgment of $282.71 in favor of K. Honda against the Island Investment Company, execution was levied on Tuesday by the sheriff on the power house of the Island Electric Company. Date for the sale of the property is set for May 13. The writ of execution was issued by Judge Stuart, of the First Circuit Court.

Honda's claim against the Investment Company is based on construction work done at the plant of the electric company, the stock of which is largely held by the defendant corporation. It is understood that the levy does not include the machinery of the power plant, and that no attempt will be made under the execution to stop the electric company's operation of its property.

Filipino Gambler Tries to Shoot Another

Faradio Gulan, Filipino, is in jail and held for the next grand jury, to answer a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He was arrested at Puukoli, Lahaina, last week when 19 other Filipinos were rounded up for gambling. Gulan, in a dispute over the game, with one of the other players, hustled out and got a revolver with which he took a shot at his antagonist, but failed to connect—except with the police. The other members of the party paid $5 each to the county for their part in the game.

COURT TERM ENDS.

The Second Circuit Court finished its work of the term last Monday and adjourned sine die. The last three cases on the calendar—B. Hotta vs Theo. H. Davies & Company, assumption; Manuel S. Novite vs. Ham Pong et al, summary possession; and Frank G. Correa vs. D. K. Kapileho et al, illegal impounding, by mutual agreement go over to be heard in vacation.

HUSBAND INSTEAD OF WIFE GETS DIVORCE.

Violet Ah Sam Fung, by a decision of Judge Edings this week, lost her action for divorce from Yep Sam Fung. On the other hand, however, the husband was granted a divorce on his cross bill filed, which charged the wife with adultery.

SALE CONFIRMED.

Judge Edings this week confirmed the sale of real property in the matter of the F. C. Wittrock estate, to pay debts.

In the matter of the estate of K. Ishihara, deceased, K. Sameshima was appointed administrator under $200 bond.

Fresh Pineapples From Maui to Coast

Homesteaders Make Initial Shipment and Hope for Big Business—Railroad and Steamship Cooperate.

The steamer Lurline last Saturday carried from Maui one ton of fresh pineapples from the Kuiaha homesteaders for the Coast markets. This is the initial shipment from here, and if the results are satisfactory it is the hope of the homesteaders that a large and profitable business may be built up. Much interest is taken in the experiment by both the Kahului Railroad management and the steamship company, and no pains have been spared to insure the arrival of the fruit in good condition. Prof. F. G. Krauss, in charge of the extension work of the Experiment Station, has directed the gathering and packing of the pines, and will have general supervision of future experiments in this connection. The fruit was consigned through the Territorial Marketing Division.

The Marketing Division has been shipping a large amount of fresh pineapples from Oahu, to the coast, which have been netting the growers about $25 per ton, and has difficulty in filling orders at the present time. The division expects in the near future to begin shipping in carload lots Hawaiian pineapples as far east as Chicago.

Fancy Ball Was Great Success

Racing Association Affair Pleases
Big Crowd of Merry Dancers—a Pretty Scene—Hard Work by Willing Workers Brought Results.

The Maui Racing Association's fancy dress ball, held at the Kahului Lyceum last Saturday evening, exceeded in beauty and pleasure the hopes of even its most ardent promoters. That Maui talent and enterprise could produce such an affair was a surprise to some, and a cause of gratification to all. This was the second year that the fancy dress feature of the dance was attempted. It will by no means be the last.

The ball was well attended, and a very large percentage of the dancers were in costume. More than this the costumes were of especially high character, and the scene while the dancing was in progress was of much beauty.

The musical feature of the evening, arranged under direction of Harry Washburn Baldwin, was one of the particularly pleasing parts of the whole affair. Mr. Baldwin had woven a bit of operatic setting for the songs and choruses, depicting the arrival of a bunch of jolly bluejackets to some enchanted land where they were greeted by a large gathering of maidens in Spanish costume. The setting was clever, and the whole performance went through with almost professional smoothness. Besides Mr. Baldwin, Mrs. L. Chisholm Jones, and A. C. Rattray had songs that were especially good. They were ably backed by the chorus. Following the program the dancing was resumed and continued until midnight.

No small amount of credit for the success of the ball belongs to L. von Tempky, chairman of the executive committee, whose enthusiasm was the mainspring for the whole event. R. A. Wadsworth and A. McPhee are the other members of the committee. The decorating committee also did its work past criticism. It was composed of Miss Woodhouse, Mrs. Kopeikal, the Misses von Tempky, and Mrs. Fantom. W. S. Chillingworth was musical director.

The members of the chorus were: Misses Gladys Vanderhoof, N. Elliot, Edna Edings, Edith Baldwin, Ingersol, Alice Bond, Olive Villiers, Winnifred Weddick, G. von Tempky, Irene Aiken, Mary Cooper, Mrs. C. C. Campbell, Mrs. J. P. Foster, Mrs. J. C. Fitzgerald.

Messrs. F. A. Lufkin, H. D. Sloggett, C. C. Campbell, W. O. Aiken, D. C. Lindsay, L. B. Duke, R. Lillico, Geo. S. Aiken, A. C. Rattray, D. Brown.

CHANGES AT POWER PLANT.

Frank W. Peacock, who for the past several years has been engineer of the Island Electric Company, has resigned his position, the resignation taking effect on last Thursday. He has gone to Honolulu where he expects to accept a position. His place at the power station has been taken by W. S. Palmer, who arrived from Honolulu on Tuesday.

The many friends of Mr. Peacock and his wife in Maui will regret to see them leave, and will wish them all success in their new life. Mrs. Peacock is still in Wailuku, but expects to follow her husband to Honolulu shortly.

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF HAWAII.

President Waldron, of the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, was one of those who opposed the plan to combine the old chamber with the Merchants' Association. Now that the combination has been effected, he is one of the most enthusiastic converts. He makes no bones about it, but frankly says he was mistaken. Moreover Mr. Waldron appears to believe that the last word has been said in the matter—that the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce is the Greater Chamber of Commerce in fact if not in name. But is it?

Primarily the interests of this big, virile organization is to foster the interests of the people of Honolulu. But the interests of Honolulu people are not bounded by the limits of the coastline of Oahu. They embrace the whole Territory. Moreover these interests are daily becoming more complex and strong. The welfare of every island is becoming more a matter of real concern to the business interests of Honolulu, just as is the prosperity of Honolulu of intimate concern to the rest of the Territory. Then why not a commercial organization that will be a real greater chamber of commerce—THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OF HAWAII?

This idea is suggested by the obvious need of a broader outlook for the men who are shaping affairs in the capital city. One of the first things they did with their new Chamber was to get a strong committee busy in getting a passable road around the Island of Oahu in the interests of the tourist traffic. But they do not see that it is any of their concern whether or not Maui, and Kauai and Hawaii have proper roads and proper wharves and other things that are first essentials in handling the tourist business. They do not see the short-sightedness of advertising through their promotion committee the grandeur of Haleakala, the marvel of Kilauea, the surpassing beauty of Waimea Canyon, and then having to apologize to their visitors for the difficulties that make some of these advertised attractions practically inaccessible. They virtually say to Maui and Hawaii and Kauai—"If you want any of this good tourist pickin's, get busy and build the roads and the wharves, and the hotels that the tourist demands." They do not see that they are the greater losers for every tourist who leaves, with a feeling that he has been cheated of something he had been led to expect, but finds is out of his reach.

These myopic business men of Honolulu have never tumbled to the fact that even Kilauea would still be almost as inaccessible to a large part of the tourists who now visit it, as is Haleakala, had not a Honolulu man with imagination, when the opportunity came to him, started the building of the Volcano road with convict labor more than eight years ago. Hilo would doubtless still be talking about the project, just as Maui now talks about a Haleakala auto road, but for Jack Atkinson's fool notion.

All this isn't implying that Maui and Kauai and Hawaii wouldn't do their full share in any such undertakings, but they are going to be slow to take the initiative. And they do not like to be "talked down to" or patronized, or given the privilege of contributing to the promotion committee in which they have no direct interest. President Waldron sees now the splendid working efficiency of the little units which his great organization has brought together. He did not always see it. That he does not yet see any corollary between this get-together idea and one territory wide in scope, is therefore no sign that it doesn't exist.

THE POWER OF AN ARMY.

It is in no better-than-thou spirit that we say we are sorry for Honolulu. Circumstances over which we have no control has sheltered us, and we may only therefore note in sorrow and humility the reproach that has come upon our big sister. The power of an army is not alone in its guns and bayonets. And to this more subtle force Honolulu has capitulated with scarce a struggle.

The evidence is unmistakable. Someone suggests that an automobile owned by an officer is just as destructive to roads as one owned by a civilian, and should therefore pay the same tax as the civilian's. But does this logic work out? Not so the ordinary taxpayer can notice it. An indignant threat from Schofield to "boycott" the Honolulu merchants, and Honolulu cringes and kisses the hand that holds the whip.

Was it the Honolulu chamber of commerce that adopted resolutions opposed to the proposed compulsory military service bill? If it was, the Honolulu press forgot to mention the fact.

The people of the islands outside of Honolulu, have made their opposition to the conscription bill unmistakable, and but for this fact it would probably now be a law. We are already beginning to hear the excuses of the Maui representatives who, with the exception of Goodness and Tavares, who were absent, voted for the measure in the face of the request from the Maui Chamber of Commerce that they oppose it. The tenor of the excuses are that their hope of other usefulness for Maui during this session depended on their "staying in line." "The pressure," as one member expressed it, "was something fierce. They just had to do it." Perhaps they were right—if one believes in the Machiavellian doctrine that the end justifies the means. But as we said at first, it is not meet that we should be puffed up with pride over our superior virtues.

HOMESTEADERS AND THE CONGRESSIONAL PARTY.

J. M. Westgate, director of the Hawaii Experiment Station, and but recently arrived from Washington, has repeatedly declared that the homesteading experiments in the Islands is one of the things of particular concern to the national government. If this is so some special effort should be made to give the visiting congressional party a chance to see what is being done in this line. The distinguished visitors will arrive on Maui on May 6, and will be here two days. It is all right to show them the scenic wonders of Maui, but they are coming to study our problems, and the future of the small farmer in Hawaii is not one of the least of these problems.

■ ■ ■ ■ ■

A prominent professional man of Honolulu (whose son, by the way is a naval officer) made the remark the other day that in case the submarine F-4 is raised the public will never be allowed to know the real reason of the disaster. We do not believe this will be the case, but mention it simply as an illustration of the very general sentiment among the American people that they are not supposed to count with the army and navy except to pay the bills.

■ ■ ■ ■ ■

Did you see Hilo wink at Maui just after Acting Secretary Taylor had finished his last vehement denial that the promotion committee ever did any knocking? And right on top of what they've been doing to their absent secretary, too!

■ ■ ■ ■ ■

The Inter-Island doesn't like Kihei as a landing place. But for some obscure reason nobody seems to care very much.

Oil As a Spray for Poultry Houses

Much Unrecognized Loss to Fanciers Due to Insect Pests—Mosquitoes as Bad as Lice and Mites.

The loss in dollars and cents to poultry raisers through parasite insects is a leak that is a very real one, though probably realized by but few. Most amateurs have learned by painful experience that lice and mites will kill chicks, but apparently do not stop to consider that a pest that can kill a young bird must also be injurious to a grown one, even if not fatal. The voracious red mite, which attacks the fowls on the roost, will however, come pretty near killing even grown chickens, when sufficiently numerous.

Mosquitoes are another pest in most parts of Hawaii that poultrymen should protect their birds from. There is good reason to believe that "sore-head" is most generally spread by the bite of the night mosquito. There is no question that mosquitoes are frequently the direct cause of the death of young chicks. But everyone who has ever noted the all night long restlessness of grown chickens on a still night, when the roosting coop is swarming with the little winged blood-suckers, will have no doubts that mosquitoes may be detrimental to all poultry.

Nor is it reasonable to believe that hens can do their best in egg yield when their rest is disturbed as well as a considerable amount of their blood taken by insects.

It is not difficult to prevent all this trouble, but like everything else in successful poultry culture, it does take care and constant watching. Roosting houses should be mosquito proof, but in making them so do not economize in wire screen at the expense of plenty of ventilation. Lard, or most any kind of grease, applied to the ends of the roosts and in all crevices in the roosts themselves is an antidote for mites. A little kerosene oil with the grease may possibly make it better. And kerosene, by the way, is probably the most effective insecticide known. Mixed with lard and applied sparingly to the head and under the wings, it is held by many poultrymen to excel any other remedy for lice. It is very effective as a spray for ridding the inside of poultry houses, nest boxes, etc., of vermin. But for this purpose it evaporates too rapidly to be of lasting value. The writer for several years has used almost exclusively for spraying, a mixture of equal parts of ordinary California crude oil and kerosene. It is probably not excelled by any of the many preparations used for the same purpose, and it is very cheap. The crude oil also lasts much better than the kerosene alone. The only objection to it is that it soils the plumage of the birds, if they come in contact with the sides or nests where it has been applied.

This oil spray also tends to keep off mosquitoes, where houses are not screened. A piece of burlap saturated with the oil and hung in the roosting house, is especially effective for this purpose.

Eggs Advancing.

The Marketing Division advises that island eggs have advanced to 33 cents, and that the likelihood of their going below 30 cents wholesale again this season is slight.

Onions Slow.

Due to the good condition and low price of mainland onions, island onions are very hard to sell at a profit to the growers, either at home or on the mainland. The Southern California Bermuda onions are exceptionally early this year and are, on the mainland, marketed at a low figure. The army contract for April was let for $1.49 a hundred pounds, against $3.25 last year. It is estimated that there will be about 600 bags of island onions to be put on the market during the next two months. The price is likely to drop instead of rise, so producers should make arrangements to get their onions to market as soon as mature and well dried. Sending onions to market before they are well cured caused large losses last year. This year the curing is much improved.

Cabbage in Demand.

Cabbage is a good seller and probably will be for several months. Most of the cabbage received at the division during the past week has been badly bug-eaten. When this cannot be prevented in the field, the outer leaves should be cut off before sending it to market. By doing this the producer would save the freight on the unsalable portion, as well as save the leaves for feeding to livestock, to say nothing of the trouble to the division in stripping it upon arrival.

When the Saloon Closes

(Communicated.)

Few persons realize the wonderful record that Kansas shows at the end of her 30 years' prohibition of the sale of alcoholic liquors. A careful investigator, writing in "The Outlook" recently, stated that:

In 37 of her 105 counties Kansas has now no insane.

In 54 of these counties there are no feeble minded.

Ninety-six of her counties have no inebriates.

Thirty-eight of her county poor-houses are empty.

Fifty-three of her jails were recently empty, and 65 counties had no prisoners in the state penitentiary.

The entire number of paupers in the state falls short of 600.

Some of the counties have not called a grand jury to try a criminal case in 10 years.

Not long ago Kansas had 200 millions of dollars in her banks; her farmers owned live stock valued at 225 millions of dollars, and in one year the people have added 45 millions of dollars to their taxable property.

Only two per cent. of the entire population is illiterate.

The mortality rate has dropped from 17 per 100 to 7 per 100.

Does no-license and prohibition pay the people of a town or of a state? Kansas certainly answers the question with wonderful figures that don't lie.

No Reason Why.

Benjamin String, Jr., governor of New York's federal reserve bank, said at a recent luncheon:

"Those who object to the new system of federal banks must be of an incipient disposition. They must misunderstand purposely the logic of the system. Like the girl you know."

"One girl said to another: 'I always feel safe when there is a man in the house.'"

"The second girl with a nasty laugh, replied: 'I don't see—ha, ha, ha!—I don't see any reason why you shouldn't.'"

Still a Nomad.

"Why did your wife leave you?"
"Force of habit, I guess. She was a cook before I married her."

A Good Idea.

There is a proposition in the air that a bill be enacted by the legislature making it compulsory for all those electors who do not vote at an election, to register again, or else be barred from voting at future elections. The idea is to impress upon the minds of the careless ones that the franchise is a valuable matter and that if a man, who is in the district at the time of an election, does not take the trouble to vote, his name is to be removed. He will not be able to vote again until he registers anew. The proposition is a novel one, but it seems to have good behind it. There were many voters who did not vote at the last couple of elections. Maybe it would be as well to wipe these "born tired" individuals off the register. That might wake them up a little, especially if a list of the names of those who did not take the trouble to vote were published in the local newspapers.—Hawaii Herald.

Pull Together.

If you or any of your friends have ideas which, if successfully worked out, may benefit Honolulu and the territory and its people, won't you please jot them down and then tell the secretary about them so they can be brought before the chamber. You know the Chamber of Commerce is a clearing house for the exchange of ideas. It is possible some of the members may not think as you think, but then a thorough discussion of your theories may bring them about to your way of thinking. No one can stand out against right. Let's pull together. The world continues to move and the best way to move with it is to work in concert with one purpose and with one aim.—Chamber of Commerce Monthly.

Mr. H. P. Wood has unquestionably been a hard worker for the cause of tourist promotion, and his departure from direction of the executive business of the committee will be regretted. However, faithful his work may have been in the past, it must be admitted that the effectiveness of the endeavors of the committee has been steadily on the decline; and there are those who have felt (and feel) that younger blood at the helm might result in a considerable improvement.—Garden Island.

The Bill introduced in the Legislature providing for the appointment of an expert to devise primers and readers suitable for the public schools of Hawaii is a good measure. The primers and readers available, and at present in use, were designed for cold countries and are inapplicable to the needs of school rooms in the Tropics. The creation of special sets of primers and readers will involve considerable expense, but we regard the object as worth the price.—Garden Island.

Chairman Gary, of the Steel Trust, is coming to Hawaii. The Honolulu Iron Works would better "dig in." Kauai must hanker for a $20,000 probe, judging from the charges against her Sheriff and County Attorney, in the Garden Island.

Hawaii County is doing a clever stunt of jujitsu in the legislature—asking to be excused for running up a debt of $25,000 in flat violation of the law, on the ground that she had to pay $20,000 probe expenses, not a cent of which has been paid.

Metzger's bill to reorganize Hawaii County into seven districts is meeting strong opposition from Hawaii's politicians. It doesn't matter a goat's egg what way Hawaii County is reorganized, so long as the same bunch of officeholders, backed by the same taro-patch constituency, rule, it will be in a chronic state of bankruptcy; and the only salvation from the brand erment/fivity shrdlu nun unun un of voters who like that sort of thing is commission, or federal government. Kohala Midget.

Any charity that has to expend $7,484 in order to distribute $5,100 certainly deserves the support of the entire community. Such an association is a decided promotion asset and searchers after the quaint and curious would be certain to visit these shores in numbers, were its existence well advertised. The Associated Charities, as conducted at present, ranks with the Barking Sands and the Honorable David M. Kupieha as one of the wonders of these sun-kissed islands.—Tropic Topics.

Good Gas Supply.

Kihel wharf needs a gas buoy to make it a safe landing at night. Connections might be made with the members who introduced the 250 bills in the legislature.—Kohala Midget.

Mr. Richard Ivers, of Brewer & Co., thinks the small farmers have no complaint, and that the present administration has stirred up 'sheol' with its investigations. What we strongly suspect is that Gamaliel, Curtis, et al., are concealing in Paris large hoards of gold which they have salted down, "off" the poor sugar agents like Brewer and Co., for whose benefit the hat should be passed.—Kohala Midget.

Prompted doubtless by the aggressive work of the late grand jury, we understand that a bill is being introduced into the legislature making ministers ineligible for service on the grand jury. We would suggest that they go farther and specify that none but criminals, lunatics and escaped jail-birds be eligible.—Garden Island.

No one can blame Secretary Wood for resigning in the face of the internal attacks upon him by members of the Hawaii Promotion Committee. If the committee gives its apparent sanction to these attacks, Mr. Wood's position becomes intolerable.—Star-Bulletin.

There doesn't seem to be much hope that the mainland newspaper correspondents will be brought here with the congressional party. The Star killed the house bill making a special appropriation and there has been such a long delay in the naming of the senate entertainment committee that little chance remains for making an arrangement to defray the expenses of the newspapermen out of the general fund for the entertainment of the party. It's too bad—but such is the result of needless delay.—Star-Bulletin.

Cost of Mule Feeding Reduced Over Half

Interesting and Important Results Obtained by Prof. Krauss Through Scientific Methods.

Editor "Maui News"

In a recent issue of the Maui News under the caption "Will study the cost of mule feed", are given some interesting figures relative to the cost of feeding mules on Molokai and Maui. In one case it cost at the rate of $11.80 per head per month to feed six head, and in the other it cost $26.00 per head per month to feed three head, or more than double the cost to feed those in one lot than in the other.

Your article does not state whether these costs represent cost of feed alone, or whether cost of attendance is also included. Nor does it state whether both lots of mules were doing like service, or whether they were of about equal size and age. Of course each of these items are influencing factors in the amount of feed consumed, and are independent of the initial cost of the feed. The most influencing factor in the wide difference in costs, is however, probably to be found in the kinds and costs of the feed fed.

Under local conditions, work mules weighing 1100 to 1200 pounds, when in active service, will consume approximately 16 pounds of wheat hay and 16 pounds barley per day. At prices ruling in Honolulu in January, i.e. $25.00 per ton for wheat hay and $38.00 for rolled barley, plus $5.80 per ton for freight from Honolulu, brings the cost of feeding at Haiku as follows:

16lb wheat hay @ $30.50 per ton	2464
16lb rolled barley @ $43.80 per ton	3504

Total cost of feed per day $.5968
This is equivalent to $18.50 per month of 31 days.

Contractors generally roughly estimate the cost of feeding and caring for heavy work mules at approximately $1.00 per day. Thus it will be seen that the higher figure quoted in your article approximates a cost about midway between the theoretical cost of the feed alone and that estimated by extensive feeders for care and feed. It would be interesting to know under just what conditions the two lots of mules were fed. The cost of $11.80 per head per month as credited to Molokai would certainly be a low cost of feeding for good sized mules in active work, and it is hoped that the methods pursued may be made available to horse and mule owners in the Territory generally.

The writer has been feeding four to six head of work horses and mules, weighing 1150 to 1350 pounds each, at his homestead near Haiku since July, 1912. During the first year and a half all feed was bought. The average cost per head for feed alone was $24.50 per month, while the animals were at heavy hauling and plowing. During the past year the cost for feed has been reduced to just one-half of the cost during the first year and a half. The work stock is thriving fully as well now as then, if not better. The cost of feeds is fully as high now, if not higher, than during the earlier period.

In the hope that our present methods of feeding might prove suggestive to others, we give below the feeding formula as fed at the present time, together with the former ration with cost at present prices for comparison.

Daily Feeding Ration as fed at New Era Homestead Farm, Haiku, Maui. For horses weighing 1250 to 1350 pounds, and mules weighing 1100 to 1200 pounds at hard field labor.

40 to 50 pounds Para grass (Panicum molle), cane tops, sorghum or Hilo grass, run through feed cutter, @ $5.00 per ton	1125
Grain Mixture
5lb Algaroba Meal @ 35.80	.885
5lb Alfalfa Meal @ 30.00	.750
5lb Rolled Barley @ 40.00	1.000
1lb Molasses @ 15.00	.0075
16lb.	$0.3755

This is equivalent to $11.64 per month or practically the same as the costs of feeding accredited to Molokai in your recent article. The above ration can be modified unlimitedly depending upon the feeds available and their relative costs. When corn is plentiful we grind it into a meal including the cobs, as a substitute for the barley and as a considerable saving; when cull beans, or cow peas and bean straw are available we grind these and substitute for the alfalfa meal at a further reduction of cost. The substitution of what middlings when not too high in price, for part of the above ration may considerably improve the feeding value of the mixture.

The objectional dustiness which characterizes the ration in the dry state, is overcome by diluting the molasses with six times its volume of water and moistening each of the three daily feeds with a quart of the diluted molasses. This is the way in which the pound of molasses is incorporated with the feed, and greatly to the advantage of the two.

A total of two or even three pounds of molasses might be substituted for an equal amount of the grain where the molasses is readily available. Recently we have been feeding honey at $30.00 a ton as a substitute for the molasses with excellent results. The honey at 1½¢ per pound, is considerably cheaper than barley at 2 cents, up to, say 2½ pounds in a daily ration.

As the barley (or corn), algaroba meal and grasses are rich in the carbohydrates, it is important that the ration be balanced with a highly nitrogenous (protein) feed, such as alfalfa meal, or as if often done by us, the addition of some farm grown legume, such as cow peas, pigeon peas, or velvet bean meal. After feeding al-

Famous Collection of Side Show Freaks Find Paia Rubes Easy Money—Hamakua Notes.

(Special Correspondence.)

HAMAKUAPOKO, April 15.—Pete Barnum's museum of freaks was exhibited at the Community House, Paia, Friday, April 9, 1915. Mr. E. J. Walker acted as the local representative of Mr. Barnum and gave an interesting account of each freak and according to him they were all "affable and kind".

The freaks included the sword swallower, whose throat was too sore to permit of an exhibition, the Chinese Giant who accidentally lost his wooden leg, the Wild Man of Borneo and others too numerous to mention. Each freak had photos for sale which in some cases resembled the original.

The show was for the benefit of the Maui Cadets, an organization in process of formation, and about $75.00 was realized.

Last Sunday there was a meeting of the community at the Community House to discuss the definite organization of the Cadets but final action was postponed for two weeks as it was decided to have the opinion of all interested. Mr. E. J. Walker is to be drill master, assisted by Mr. F. B. Cameron. All parents and others interested may obtain full information from either of the above.

Colonel Blanche Cox of the Salvation Army occupied the pulpit of the Makawao Union Church last Sunday.

Miss Kathleen Kerr and Miss Estelle Roe returned on Saturday night from Honolulu, where they spent the Easter vacation.

The County has graded the short stretch of road from the Hamakua-poko Station to the Maui High School building, preparatory to putting in a macadam road. The stone is arriving and the work will probably be completed within a few days. This is a greatly needed improvement for in rainy weather the mud through which the children have to wade to school is almost knee deep.

The M. A. Co. has made a wonderful improvement on the appearance of Hamakua-poko corner by tearing down the former unsightly building and building a neat little office at a sufficient distance back from the road so as to allow for a good sized grass plot. Hedges have also been started there which in time will further beautify the place.

E. B. Blanchard, of Haiku, a former teacher of the McKinley High school of Honolulu, is substituting in the Maui High school for Mrs. W. S. Beaman, who accidentally cut her wrist last week.

Maui News Ads Pay.

Some people think advertisements aren't read.

C. M. Symonds, of San Francisco, lost a small note book a few days ago. A 4-line ad in the Maui News Daily Wireless brought the book to our office two days later. It had been picked up by Police Officer Thomas Holstein.

This week also a brooch pin was advertised. Within six hours after the sheet was on the street no less than 11 persons who have lost pins recently called in person or by phone, and they are still coming. We haven't found the right owner yet, but we have demonstrated two things. First, that Maui News ads are read; and second, that a surprising number of Maui ladies have lost brooch-pins lately. A word to the wise is sufficient.

WOUNDED WHILE AIDING A COMRADE.

Later word received by F. W. Peacock relative to the wounding of his brother, who is with the British troops in France, is that he was shot in the shoulder while attempting to carry a wounded comrade to safety. Although information is vague on this point, Mr. Peacock infers that his brother is seriously hurt.

VALUABLE HORSE DROPS DEAD.

F. G. Krauss, of Kulaha, lost a valuable work horse recently—the third high grade horse he has lost by accident in the past two years. He had loaned the animal to a Portuguese employe, and it dropped dead while passing through Makawao.

In the case of Werner, a petition for his reinstatement was presented to the sheriff, signed by 125 voters of the Hanalei precinct—Garden Island.

Volcanologist Warns Hilo.

Prof. T. A. Jaggar of the Hawaii volcano observatory has issued a warning to the residents of Hilo that it would be advisable to make all provisions possible for safety in the event of a lava flow from the slopes of Mauna Loa.

Professor Jaggar does not prophesy when there will be a flow; he simply expresses the opinion that it would be well for the residents of Hilo to prepare for such a contingency. It is well known that Mauna Loa is overdue for a lava flow, the last outbreak having subsided before there was a flow.

Robbed Planters Two Years Ago.

Caesar F. Arcinas, in custody of a detective of the Philippine government, passed through Honolulu this week, enroute for Manila where he will be tried for stealing an aggregate of $10,000 from the Hawaii Sugar Planters' Association about a year and a half ago. The man was a confidential clerk in the planters' labor recruiting office. He was finally located in Italy, where a long legal battle ensued over the matter of his extradition.

Japanese Tribute to F4 Dead.

Besides presenting a purse of $100 to the fund being raised in Honolulu for the benefit of the families of the ill-fated crew of the submarine F-4, the crew of the Japanese cruiser Idzumo paid a unique tribute to the American dead heroes, last Monday evening. As the vessel left the harbor, after a short visit from a cruise in South American waters, she was seen to alter her course so as to pass to the left of the spot where the sunken submarine is supposed to be, and as she passed abreast of the dredge anchored there, every man and officer of the cruiser saluted and bowed, while the cruiser's flag was dipped.
