THE GOVERNMENT SUSTAINED.

The elections have given the Government a majority of eight votes in the House of Representatives, which, with even or almost even sides in the House of Nobles, and the votes of the Ministers themselves, will make them strong enough in the next Legislative Assembly for any purpose. As the Government supporters returned are about all office-holders, there can be no doubt of their capacity for swallowing any measure prescribed to them by the Ministry. There is, however, some hope for the country in the consideration that the Ministry may not be obliged to support every hobby and injurious measure that their dependent, irrational and reactionary followers may drag to the front. For it would be uncandid not to admit that the votes of the Ministers last session saved the country from some very retrograde legislation, such as the bill to have the sale of opium legalized. They would have been entitled to the benefit of this admission in the late campaign had they not failed to suppress, or at least protest against, the utterances of their recognized spokesmen in favor of a licensed opium traffic. Now that the Ministry has been given ample power in the Legislature, it only remains for the friends and advocates of good government to appeal to their reason and their patriotism, upon the matter just mentioned and everything else that may become a subject of legislation. The verdict of the people—leaving out of sight how it may have been obtained—makes the Government's past record a closed volume, except with regard to the Ministers' stewardship for the closing biennial period, which will properly come up for adjudication before the Legislature and the public at next session. During the past campaign we have supported the Independent candidates, because the performances and the promises of the Ministry and their supporters presented themselves to us as inimical to the different interests of the Kingdom; because we believed that an independent Legislature would be the strongest bulwark of national independence and the surest guarantee of progress and prosperity, and because the men put forward as candidates by the Government party were all but universally unfit representatives of the society, the commerce, the industry and the wealth that give Hawaii a respectable position in the family of nations. Events, however, show that the electorate have regarded matters in a different light. While, therefore, we bow to their decision and shall henceforth address ourselves, in discussing the administration, mainly to the policy of the Ministry as it may be unrolled, we must say that the new House of Representatives is a great disappointment to our estimate of the intelligence and independence of the electors of this kingdom. Let us hope that there is a lingering instinct of self-preservation in the breasts of the ruling majority, which, together with the power of a very able minority, and the influence of an enlightened public opinion and an independent press, will save the country from at least some of the retrograde and ruinous measures that the Government campaign has given reason to apprehend would be the outcome of that party's triumph. Although, however, accepting the defeat of the cause of independence, we cannot acknowledge that the fight has been a fair one. Not only did the Government party exhaust every means of a position unparalleled in constitutional systems for giving advantage to those in power, but it availed itself of the most dishonest, corrupt and demoralizing methods of forcing a decision in its favor. It will be many decades, if ever, before the Hawaiian race will recover from the damage inflicted upon it, through the influences exerted upon the native electors in the late contest, to secure their votes for the maintenance of the present administration.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

In to-day's paper a correspondent gives his actual experience in support of our recent plea for a currency "that will pay our debts abroad." A little fact will outweigh a good many tons of theory.

"Now that the smoke of battle has cleared away," to use a hackneyed post-election phrase, a correspondent proposes to have the hatchet buried. We agree with him there, provided it is not George Washington's famous "little hatchet."

We are not posted in the objects of the Russian Metallurgical Congress, but judging by one of its actions it seems to hold that the chief end of the Empire is maritime aggrandizement at the expense of everything else. It has proposed the absolute prohibition of the import on foreign iron steamers, and an increase in the duty on agricultural machinery of 140 percent. Perhaps this amounts to forging men-of-war hulls out of moving machines. If so, it bodes anything but early millennial peace.

THE ELECTIONS.

TRIUMPH OF THE GOVERNMENT PARTY.
Since Saturday's issue further election news has been received, which enables the result for the whole kingdom to be given:—

MAJORITIES.

Mr. Thurston was 67 ahead of the highest Government candidate in Molokai and Lanai.
Mr. Castle was seven ahead of his Opposition colleague, Kanealii, and 109 ahead of the unsuccessful Government candidate.
Mr. Aholo was only nine ahead of Mr. James Campbell. Mr. Kahua was 13 over Aholo and 40 over Nahalelua, the other Government candidate.
Mr. Hitchcock, one of the best members of the late House, lost his election in Hilo by seven votes.
Mr. Kinney failed by 26 votes in Hamakua.

COMMENTS BY CORRESPONDENTS.

HONOLULU, Feb. 5th.

The long talk of election in Hamakua has at last come off, and the results are what was generally anticipated: the Government candidate was re-elected with a majority of 26 votes. It was a hotly contested election. The successful candidate has not much to boast of. Had the election been conducted fairly and honestly, Kinney would have gone in. Every foreigner in the district, with the exception of one, was refused the right to vote. Men who have lived in the country and voted from 20 to 30 years, married native wives and raised families on the Islands, were coolly told by Judge Mian (who by the way seems to be an autocrat in his way) that they had no right to vote. Our late Deputy Sheriff, Mr. Sanford, who has held office under this Government for years, was refused a vote. So in many cases with natives who were known to be on the wrong side; their tax receipts in some instances were refused them or some paltry excuse made to debar them from voting. Purity of elections was not a prominent feature of the day. Ministerial gin played an important part. However, it has made one thing very apparent to the minds of all sensible men, that is, that foreigners have no more rights in this country; with one exception—there is still one right accorded them, the right to pay taxes and support a government which ignores them. Fellow-countrymen who have come from beneath the protecting wing of the American eagle, you have a right to be proud of the country of your adoption.

A CREDULOUS VOTER.

LIHUE, KAUAI, Feb. 6th.

The election at Lihue and Kolou was contested about as hotly as it is possible for one to be with the same candidates and parties. Those conducting the campaign for the Government candidate left no stone unturned, but their cause was not popular. The Independent candidate and his friends took frequent occasion to address the people on the issues of the campaign.

On election day all was reasonably quiet, being but little drunkenness, notwithstanding the shameless and very disgraceful use of gin as a political argument for two or three weeks previous. The inspectors did their duties in a manner satisfactory to both parties. Some amusing deceptions were practised in the way of changing tickets inside of the limits where electioneering was not allowed. Perhaps the most laughable was one at the expense of the Government candidate. A voter went up to the candidate (who is tax collector) and presenting him one of his own tickets asked for his tax receipt. The candidate smilingly produced the receipt, whereupon the voter deliberately threw the ticket away and voted for Dole.

It is said that the kahunas failed signally, though their instructions were followed out accurately.

The cartoonist was abroad.
The Government candidate is thought to have made himself "unavailable" for 1888 through an indiscreet and unjust charge of deception, made against a man who had done all that he could in his behalf.

Native Independents made capital out of a pun on the name of the Government candidate—Ka-lae-one. They call Dole—Ka-lae-pohaku.

On the announcement of the results of the election, the Independent leaders were so well pleased that they invited all voters, and their families and friends, of whatever party, to join in a grand feast on Saturday, an invitation which was heartily accepted by most of the people. The leaders of the Government party were conspicuous by their absence, though some of them promised to attend. Intellect and bodily cheer were alike ministered to. An enjoyable time was had. Good feeling prevailed.

Woodlawn Dairy & Stock Co.

1 Thorough-bred Holstein Bull, "Dutchman," 3 years old, will weigh about 1,800 lbs.

1 Holstein Bull, 12 months old, "Hercules Second," sired by Judge McCully's imported Holstein "Hercules," dam, a large fine graded Holstein cow imported from California. Dam has given 44 lbs. of milk in a day in this country.

1 Holstein Bull, 9 months old, "Ajax." This fine thorough-bred Holstein was sired by "Hercules," dam "Elma."

We also have several graded Holstein Bulls from 2 to 8 mos. old.

This is a rare opportunity offered to stock raisers to secure a superior breed of cattle. Stock men in America claim that for beef, milk, and butter they are superior to any other class of stock.

We have recently imported 2 thorough-bred Holstein Bulls from Syracuse, N. Y. These animals are related to the finest dairy stock in the world, viz: the Aaggle Family.

The best cow in this family at 6 years of age made the following milk record: 84 lbs. in one day; 2,362 lbs. in one month; 18,001 lbs. in one year ending March 25, 1885.

Applications made for bull calves from these superior animals will receive our attention. We are agents for Smiths, Powell & Lamb, and are prepared to take orders for stock to be imported from them. We have open catalogues of their stock, which we shall be pleased to furnish upon application.

We have also been appointed agents to take orders and sell cattle and horses from the well known ranch of Gov. Leland Stanford, Vina, Cal. Governor Stanford has been importing from Smiths, Powell & Lamb thorough-bred Holsteins by the car-load, paying as high as $1,500 each for cows.

Syracuse and Little Wonder had not been fattened for beef, and Signet we had fed for some time, but she was not what beef men would regard fat.

Taking everything into consideration, we think this shows decidedly to the advantage of Holsteins as beef animals. The butchers that purchased and cut up the carcasses of Signet and Little Wonder send us the following strong testimonial as to the quality of these two cows:

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Feb. 11, 1885.
MESSRS. SMITHS & POWELL:
Gentlemen:—We were much pleased with the two Holstein heifers purchased of you last month. We have been in the meat business for the last twenty-five years, and have killed all grades of cattle, the best we could find in this country, but never have we had any that would equal in quality those purchased of you. We have had a great many compliments from the leading families in the city in regard to the Holstein beef.
Respectfully,
W. & J. FAGE,

LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

CORRESPONDENCE ON fourth page.

The S. S. St. Paul is expected from the Coast to-morrow.

A REPORT of the sermon at the tent last night is crowded out.

BOOK-KEEPING class at seven this evening, in Y. M. C. A. rooms.

ELDER Healey will, at the tent to-night, examine the different laws of the Bible.

JUDGING from the fast decreasing lumber piles at the foot of Fort street, house building is being done on a large scale.

A FIRE started in the grass on the side of Punchbowl yesterday, and was put out by a detachment of the King's Guard.

TENDERS are asked for, till March 13th, by the Minister of the Interior, for lighting the streets of Honolulu for three years.

The Baird, Whitney & Von Holt smack was sailing about the bay yesterday for the first time. She behaved very well and is said to be a clipper.

A SORRY party of ladies and gentlemen dressed in white were seen descending Mount Tantalus the other day while the rain came down in torrents.

It is said by a person who was on the wrecked Planter that if Mr. Williams would photograph the steamer as she now lies the pictures would sell rapidly.

THE crew of the schooner Waimalu hooked three tremendous sharks that were swimming about the Domitila and the Kauikaeouli's crew caught two equally as large.

CHINESE New Year's will be eclipsed, to-night, by the illumination at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, which will be covered with lights "from turret to foundation stone." The Band will also play on the grounds.

THE skating rinks Saturday night were well attended. At the Yosemite Mullen beat McWayne in the one mile skating race, the latter giving out before the finish. At Central Park the races and other sports were very interesting.

THERE was no further development of Germany's proposed protectorate when the Ke Au Hou, that arrived yesterday, left the Marshal Islands about three weeks ago. The German Commissioner, who was expected to come on a war vessel, had not arrived.

THE Anglican Church Chronicle for January has been received. It contains, among other interesting matter, a "Continuation of Travels in Old England," by Rev. A. Mackintosh. No. II. of Rev. C. E. Grosier's articles on "The Church of England" also appears.

DR. Enders' remains, disinterred at Wailuku, Maui, for burial here, were deposited in the Nuuanu cemetery, with Masonic rites, yesterday, the brethren mustering in goodly numbers in the procession from the hall of Lodge Le Progres de l'Oceanie to the place of sepulture.

MR. Silva, a young Portuguese who started a skating rink at Wailuku, Maui, several months ago, and made a financial success of it, has purchased the merry-go-round of Capt. Cluney for $1,500. The machine was taken to Wailuku last week and is now running successfully.

THE steamer Ivy Holmes, after being thoroughly repaired at the cost of about $2,000, steamed to sea this morning for Hilo, in charge of Mr. Holmes, the owner. He said he expected to reach Hilo inside of 24 hours from the time of starting, but since his departure it has been learned that the Ivy Holmes will cruise for the Domitila for salvage.

THE Sacrament of Confirmation was administered by His Lordship the Rt. Rd. Bishop of Oha at the chapel of the Branch Hospital to 45 persons, both children and adults, on Friday last, Feb. 5th, at 2 p. m. His Lordship addressed the congregation in a few pathetic words; and the ceremony of Confirmation was followed and closed by the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Mrs. J. D. Arnold died of consumption last evening, at the house of Mr. Angus, Punchbowl street. Her funeral takes place this afternoon. The husband of the deceased went to Australia some months ago to engage in his business of well-boring. He left his wife in apparently good health, and, although he has been apprised of her dangerous condition since, the news of her death must be a severe blow to him. Mrs. Arnold was highly esteemed for her amiable qualities by a large circle of friends.

THE Hawaiian three-masted schooner Ke Au Hou, Captain Lovell, arrived yesterday 23 days from Jaluit, via Wajaro and Legiep Islands. She brought 10,000 coconuts and 25 cases of coral, but came principally to be repaired. Captain Theet, of the wrecked British schooner Mazepa, and Captain Bushell, of the lost Auckland brigantine Ransom, came to Honolulu by the Ke Au Hou. Captain Lovell reports strong westerly squalls during the passage. The missionary vessel Morning Star, Capt. Bray, arrived at Jaluit Dec. 15th, 14 days from this port, and on the following day sailed for Caroline Islands, all hands well. The Hawaiian schooner Gen. Seigel is still trading among the islands and doing well. Messrs. Macy, A. Turner, H. Emerson and others from Honolulu are still at the islands.

FATE OF THE DOMITILA.

FOUND BOTTOM UP IN HAWAII CHANNEL.

The steamer Kinan, that arrived here yesterday morning from Windward, brought the news of the lost schooner Domitila having been seen in Hawaii channel bottom up. The schooner Waimalu on her way from this port to Hilo fell in with the Domitila about ten miles off Kohala point, Hawaii. One of the Waimalu's boats was lowered and manned, and the wreck, after being securely fastened, was taken in tow, but owing to the light airs and strong currents the prize was relinquished. The Waimalu proceeding to Hilo, where she reported the discovery of the Domitila. Meantime the latter vessel drifted to the northward. The captain of the Waimalu took the main-boom of the capsized schooner to Hilo to verify his report. When the Kinan arrived at Hilo on her return trip, news of the Domitila was received, and although Capt. King kept a sharp look-out nothing of the lost schooner was seen. Last Friday morning the schooner Kauikaeouli sighted the wreck and towed it for two days and one night, until within a few miles of Honolulu, when, the wind dying away, the burden was let go for the safety of the Kauikaeouli, which was, with the wreck, drifting shoreward. The captain of the Kauikaeouli says there were many sharks about the Domitila, some huge man-eaters, and notwithstanding the presence of the voracious fish, the captain fastened a line around his waist, and then dived and swam underneath the wreck, having told the sailors beforehand if he was attacked by a large shark to haul up the line quickly. He did not stay down long, however, but saw that both masts were broken off near the deck and fore and main sails gone, but the jib sail was there. The anchors were fast to the vessel, but the anchor chains had all run out and were dragging. After towing the hull, as above stated, about twenty sheets of copper were taken off the bottom to be brought here as a proof of the find. The whaler Lydia saw the Kauikaeouli towing the wreck, and supposing it a whale, sent a boat off for particulars of the catch. The Domitila cost exactly $6,500 when she left the stocks, and was insured for $4,000. Her crew consisted of six: Capt. Sanford, an American; one Portuguese, two Italians, one Chinaman and one kanaka. She also had a young Englishman on board as a passenger. No steps have as yet been taken to recover the hull of the ill-fated vessel.

MacNEALE & URBAN SAFES,

206 California Street, San Francisco, Cal.

GENTLEMEN: In reply to your inquiry concerning the opening of the Burglar proof Chest in the safe in the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court—now so well known as THE MCCARTHY SAFE—I will say that I took charge of the office on Wednesday, the 6th inst. For some days previous unsuccessful attempts had been made by various experts to pick the lock. On Thursday, further, similar efforts were made, with the same result, by Mr. Ensign and other noted experts, ALL OF WHOM FINALLY DECLARED THAT THE LOCK COULD NOT BE PICKED, and that the safe must be opened by force.

On Friday I employed the expert of one of your competitors, who did faithful and honest work for that purpose.

On Saturday morning work was begun, and this morning (Wednesday) FOUR DAYS AFTER, the expert succeeded in drilling through the door and opening the safe.

I consider it was an extraordinarily severe test, much beyond what a burglar could possibly employ under any circumstances, and can assure it has inspired me with the highest confidence in the security of your Burglar-Proof Safes, and that YOUR LOCKS ARE PICK-PROOF AGAINST THE BEST EXPERTS.

After working for some hours on the lock, one expert said he had found that V was one letter and another that C was one. On examination, neither of these letters appeared in the combination. Yours truly, J. D. SPENCER, Clerk of Supreme Court.

The above was a No. 8 MacNEALE & URBAN Fire and Burglar Safe.

MONDAY, FEB. 8, 1886.

A PROPOSAL TO BURY THE HATCHET.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Now that the election contest is over and the result known, I, who in common with others have looked on from the outside, desire a little space to say a word or two regarding what I believe would be the wise and common-sense course now to adopt. The Government party has won the day; the Opposition is in a minority. The successful side is naturally jubilant and the other as naturally disappointed. The Government made a vigorous fight to maintain its position and power, and the Opposition entered into the struggle in the interests of reform and retrenchment. The former is sustained by the popular vote and the latter rejected. During the campaign the air resounded with extravagant and exaggerated statements from the press, the platform, and the stump. Any one credulous enough to believe one-half of what was uttered by either party could not have escaped the impression that the other was the concentration of badness. The success of either party was said by the other to be synonymous with the irredeemable ruin of the country. Now the struggle is over it is to be hoped the victorious party will be satisfied with its victory, and cease its unworthy abuse of its opponent, and that the vanquished party will take its defeat with magnanimity and make the best of failure. I cannot believe that the Government supporters and sympathisers are so corrupt, so unprincipled and unscrupulous, as represented. Neither can I believe that Oppositionists are all place-hunters, selfish and unpatriotic, striving to "rule or ruin." If there were not some in each party whose motives and aims are questionable, it would be remarkable indeed; but to place all, or even a majority, in the same category, is a reflection on the national character too monstrous for an unbiased mind to accept. Believing, then, that the good of the country and its people is the desire and aim of the two parties, although they may differ in opinion as to how this object should be effected, all bitterness of feeling and hardness of language should now cease, and the vanquished lend all assistance in their power, consistent with principle, for the accomplishment of the common purpose.

OUTSIDER.

KNOWLEDGE THAT IS PAID FOR.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—You are, no doubt, the best exponent of what you mean by "a currency that will not pay our debts abroad;" but there are many others in this community who have a full experimental realization of the expression in the sense that any ordinary reader would take it. I, for one, have paid for the knowledge that we have not a currency that will pay my debts abroad, and that if we had had a currency that would have paid my debts abroad I should have been in a less impecunious condition to-day than I now am. Probably many others possess the same knowledge, and have purchased it at the same price and in the same way. Concerning the theories of finance and financiers I know but little and care still less; but of the actual operation of giving coin in exchange for other commodities, including the necessities of life, I have been compelled to learn something, and this small something embraces the fact that my purchases abroad cannot be paid for in the currency of this realm. The Advertiser's ideas may look pretty; learned political economists may pronounce them sound; the editor may be earnest and conscientious in advocating them; but all this does not alter the fact just now stated. A man may argue most energetically and conclusively that black is white, but unless he can produce a transformation in my eye, to me black is still black. To say that our exports exceed our imports, and therefore the cost of exchange for abroad must be trifling, does not lessen its cost to me. I wish it did. Perhaps it is reasonable to suppose that it should be so; it looks as if it ought to be so; but as a matter of fact it is not so. I have nothing to do with what should be, or what ought to be, but what is. When the incarcerated sailor was assured that he could not be locked up, Jack said, "I am locked up." He was conscious of the fact, and no amount of talk could convert it into a falsehood. So I am conscious of the fact that I have had and have to pay my liabilities abroad in other than the currency of this kingdom, and, as I receive nothing in my business but Hawaiian currency, the cost of conversion is a serious diminution of my small profits. I also know that if my creditors abroad would receive payment in Hawaiian currency, I could send forward the coin for very much less than I am now compelled to pay for exchange. To tell me that I can obtain exchange for my silver at a low rate, by applying to the proper source, affords me no consolation; because I have applied to the indicated source time after time without success. Others may have been more fortunate, but I certainly have failed. I don't care one straw about the currency of Canada or any other country. I simply want a currency for Hawaii by which I can meet my liabilities here and elsewhere. Gold coin is the currency for me. It is acceptable to creditors abroad and not rejected by those at home. This in place of the depreciated silver tokens would render me independent of bankers, produce-exporters, and the whole caboodle of soulless money grubbers that suck the blood out of a man's heart to feed their own obesity. PRACTICAL.

SHIPBUILDING ON THE CLYDE.

The shipbuilding trade on the Clyde has been much depressed during the past year. Two hundred and forty-one vessels, of an aggregate tonnage of 193,458 tons have been launched, which shows a falling of 103,400 tons as compared with last year, and it is by far the lowest return since 1879. The best year ever known on the Clyde was 1883, when the tonnage was 420,000 tons. The prospects for next year are fairly good and there are signs of a revival in trade, as a large number of orders, have been booked in the principal yards, including an unprotected cruiser for the Spanish Government, which is to attain the amazing speed of twenty-two knots per hour.

THE CONGO RAILWAY.

The agreement between the Government of the Independent Congo State and H. M. Stanley and James F. Hutton, M. P., acting on behalf of the Congo Railway Syndicate, which was concluded on Thursday last, marks a very important step towards the effective opening up of trade with a most populous part of the Congo basin. The list of eminent and practical men who have interested themselves in the scheme of the syndicate ought to be taken as an assurance that serious work is meant. The scheme is to unite the Lower with the Upper Congo by what is described as a State railway, to be built under the auspices of the Congo Government, and under a Royal Charter, the company, however, being registered under British law, and to have its seat of administration in London. The capital is to be £1,000,000 to £2,000,000 sterling, and subscriptions are to be opened in the capitals of all the fourteen Powers who took part in the Berlin Conference. It may be presumed that in all this connection with the State there is implied a State guarantee. What this may be worth in the long run will probably depend upon what may prove to be the need and success of the railway itself. The enterprise is one of undoubted boldness. It is a most desirable one in the interests of both commerce and civilization. [Leeds Mercury, Dec. 26.]

STATEMENT.

THE undersigned, a Committee of Directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, appointed to formulate the views of the Board on the advantages offered by the Society to the public, report—
1st—The Society issues all the approved forms of assurance, including Ordinary Life, Endowment and Tontine policies. It is immaterial to the Directors which form of policy is taken by intending assurers.

2d—The Life and Endowment forms of policy provide for annual cash dividends and a surrender value; are indisputable after three years and payable immediately after proof of death.
3d—The premiums on a Tontine policy are the same as on the Ordinary Life, but, while the latter is only payable in the event of death, the holder of the Tontine policy has the right to draw the whole of the reserve and the accumulated profits in cash at the end of a stated period; thus, during his own lifetime, after his producing years are past, he can, without any larger premium than on an ordinary policy, secure these greater advantages.
4th—Experience shows that the return paid in cash on maturing Tontine policies approximates to or exceeds the amount of premiums paid by policyholders, so that the average cost of the assurance will be only about the interest on the premiums.

5th—Tontine policies, like others, are paid in full in the event of death at any time during the term of the policy, and are incontestable after three years, and payable immediately after due proof of death.

6th—Experience shows that the mortality is lower among Tontine policyholders, as the better lives seek this kind of assurance, which is a considerable source of profit.

7th—Tontine policies will be made non-forfeitable under the laws of the State, if so desired at the time the assurance is effected.

8th—The Tontine system is fair and just; its accounts are accurately kept, separate from all other business; the funds judiciously invested and improved, and the accumulated profits faithfully guarded and properly apportioned.

9th—The Society has since its organization transacted a larger amount of new business than any other company, while its new business for the first half of the present year is $1,750,000 larger than that of the first half of 1884. It has Assets of $60,000,000; over $14,000,000 of Surplus, and its ratio of Surplus to Liability is greater than that of any other company.
