House Bill No. 1 Passed With a Rush. Then the Senate Takes a Recess to Wait.

The Senate opened this morning with a good, stiff breeze and for a time things were quite lively. All was on account of House Bill 1, making an appropriation for expenses of the Legislature. It seems that since yesterday the House members had decided that the original bill should be passed, and that the resolution adopted two days ago should be thrown aside. The bill opened with the following report from the committee:

Your committee met with the Governor and discussed the resolution and, as a result of this discussion, your committee decided, with the consent of this house, to return the resolution to the house with the report that nothing has been done.

Half of the Senate took the floor almost at once. For a few seconds matters were in confusion. Member after member was recognized. The question was the adoption of the report of the committee. Mr. White moved the previous question, the intent of which was to shut off debate and bring the matter to a vote.

"That is wrong; it is unfair," declared Mr. Crabbe, turning upon Mr. White.

Mr. Achi, arose on a point of order, but was overruled and the motion carried on a strict party vote. Independent hands going up mechanically together.

Mr. White moved that the bill be referred to the engrossing committee. Argument started again. Again Senator White moved the previous question. Mr. Carter was on the floor at the time, and presented the interference. He turned on White with evident heat and ordered him to take his seat. Mr. White replied that he would sit down only when ordered so to do by the chair. Russell ruled in favor of Carter and White sat down. Mr. Carter simply had to say that the proceedings were "gag rule," pure and simple. It was evident that the majority was united on what it would do, and that the chair was in confusion with the majority. The minority had no say; so far as today's proceedings were concerned they would amount to nothing.

Mr. White insisted on the previous question. He was requested by Mr. Carter to put his motion in writing, but dramatically refused, saying that every time he moved anything, Carter or the chair called out "In writing, in writing, in writing."

Mr. Crabbe moved to adjourn. Lost. Mr. White, who had left the chamber for a few minutes, returned and moved to reconsider Bill 1.

This led to another long red-hot debate. "It seems to me that we are between the deep sea and the other man," observed White in a debate.

"Yes, and you are that 'other man'!" was Carter's rejoinder.

Mr. White said there was no hope of doing any work. He thereupon moved to kill everything that had been done during the morning. This peculiar motion obtained. White then moved to approve the House bill. This proved more discussion and more confusion.

"I have business down town, and have no time to waste in such tomfoolery as this," said Cecil Brown.

Mr. Achi arose on several points of order. He tried to read sections from Cushing's Manual, showing the entire proceeding wrong. Cecil Brown made suggestions and cautioned the Senate. Nothing was of avail. It was plain that the House members wanted that $45,000, carried by the bill, and wanted it at once. This is Saturday and tomorrow is Sunday and the bill probably had something to do with it.

Mr. White's motion carried, on a strict party vote. He then moved that the clerks of the two houses go at once to the governor with the bill and get it signed. This passed. White then moved for a recess of a half hour.

"What for?" was asked. "Because we want our money," answered White. "Let the clerks go over and get it, and we'll wait on the veranda until they get back."

This motion carried.

QUESTION IS STILL OPEN

STATUS OF THE TERRITORIAL COURTS.

United States Supreme Court Asked to Provide for Appeals to Circuit Court From Hawaiian Supreme Court.

The question of whether appeal may be taken from the Supreme Court of the Territory of Hawaii to the Circuit court of appeals at San Francisco has been submitted to the Supreme Court at Washington and to the Circuit court at San Francisco. By Kinney, Ballou and McClanahan, attorneys for the Wilder Steamship Company in the case of the damaged suit brought by the owners of the wrecked barkentine William Carson. Attorney McClanahan, who returned this morning from San Francisco on the Mariposa went there for the purpose of looking after the case. Application has been made at Washington to have the Territorial courts of Hawaii brought under the court of appeal of the Ninth Circuit, which sits at San Francisco. The points raised involve important and interesting questions concerning the courts of Hawaii.

Section 86 of the organic act, was designed to give the Supreme Court of Hawaii the same powers as a state Supreme Court. Its provision was intended to give the territorial court powers of final decision, except in cases of appeals to the United States Supreme Court. This gives Hawaii's courts higher standing than other territorial courts, from which appeals go to the United States circuit courts of appeal, before to Washington. The Supreme court of Hawaii decided that no appeal was allowable to the circuit court in the Carson case, but the attorneys took the matter to the circuit court with a petition to that court to hear the case. The matter was argued and submitted in San Francisco by Paul Neumann and E. B. McClanahan on February 21, but no decision has been given yet. It is thought that the circuit court is waiting for a decision from Washington on the petition to have Hawaii's courts brought under the Ninth Circuit court of appeals. Such an order would settle the question in favor of the appellants and reverse the decision of the Supreme Court of Hawaii on the appeal question.

The attorneys for the Wilder Steamship Company base their contentions on section 13 of the Ewart act, creating the circuit court of appeals and upon the wording of section 86 of the territorial act of Hawaii. The Ewart law says that there shall be appeals from the territorial Supreme courts to the circuit courts of appeal, and that for this purpose the United States Supreme court shall assign the several territorial courts to their respective circuits. This is what the Supreme court has now been asked to do in the case of Hawaii.

The chief justice, who concurred in the decision that there is no appeal from the Supreme court of Hawaii except to the highest court in the land, was one of the commission that framed the organic act. There seems to be a chance that the Supreme court of the United States and the circuit court of appeals of the Ninth Circuit will disagree with the framers of the act as to its effect.

Three cases are already affected by the appeals taken. They are the suit of the owners of the lost barkentine, in which damages of $55,000 were awarded and two other suits amounting to $15,000 for freight and personal effects of Captain Plitz, lost at the time of the wreck. The expected decision will settle the matter of appeals for all future cases that come before the Supreme court of the Territory of Hawaii.

THEY DID NOT GET MONEY

"Much Ado About Nothing" changed in a brief thirty minutes to Love's Labor Lost. Senator White's love of a little pile of yellow gold, to which he is not entitled, has been availed naught. Someone had blundered. The committee sent over to straighten out the matter ran up against an unexpected snag. It was the House, standing in the way like the two lions before Christian in Pilgrim's Progress. The House could not recognize the latest action of the Senate because it had not been officially informed of such action. Therefore the committee came sadly back and made this report. The clerk was instructed to notify the House in a formal manner of the action taken. This means that the Senate will get no money today, and will have to live on taro tops and eels until Monday.

AGREEMENT REACHED

DOLE AND THE HOUSE ARE AT PEACE.

House Committee and the Governor Meet and Rub Noses and All Papers Wanted Can Be Had.

In the House early this morning, Makinal reported the Governor was ready to receive the committee on resolutions 14 and 34, relative to some questions propounded to the Governor and would receive them at 10 o'clock. Makineau got on his dignity and said as the Governor had refused to see the committee before, he thought no more attention should be shown him, and instead of Makineau going to the mountain the mountain should come to Makineau. The cooler element prevailed and the House took a recess until the return of the committee. Makineau moved the stenographer go with the committee, which was adopted.

The committee returned at 10:45 and when Makinal the chairman of the committee reported that a full report of what took place would be presented Monday, there was an air of disappointment prevalent about the House, but somewhat cheered by the fact that the Governor had acceded to the request of the House and gave a full explanation in regard to the information wanted.

Reports from committees was the first business transacted at the opening of the morning session. Makinal said he had a communication from the Secretary of the Territory and would make it public as soon as he made his report from the Committee on Accounts. Beckley reported his chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Education, House Bill No. 51, relative to the sending of Hawaiian youths to the mainland for education and same was tabled, and also recommended House Bill No. 40, relative to the employment of minors in saloons, be passed and made the order for next Monday.

The Committee on Public Health reported strongly in favor of House Bill No. 44, relating to school libraries be passed, and also recommended the bill be referred to the Finance Committee, as the purpose of the bill will carry a large appropriation.

The Committee on Public Health to whom House Bill No. 51 was referred referring to the segregation of lepers recommend that consideration on the bill be indefinitely postponed as the bill would repeal laws now in force and considered it an imposition on the time and patience of the house. The report was tabled.

The majority report on House Bill 15, relating to a dog tax, found the bill unjust and it was tabled.

The sergeant-at-arms at this juncture announced a message from the Governor, and consideration on same was withheld until some petitions and resolutions had been read.

The Governor's message was in regard to making a new compilation of the Territorial laws and recommending Judge Frear as one to revise the same.

ORDERED TO LEAVE CHINA

THE UNITED STATES WITHDRAWS HER CHINA TROOPS.

Only a Company of Infantry to Act as a Legation Guard to Remain—Chinese Question Closed.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—An order was sent to General Chaffee today for the evacuation of China by American troops, leaving only a legation guard of 150 men. The troops will be removed from China the last of April. The dispatches received at the War Department in reply to a telegram the Secretary of War directs you to complete arrangements and sail for Manila with your command and staff officers by the end of April, leaving as legation guard a company of 150 men, composed of 100 men, having at least one year to serve, or those intending to re-enlist, with full complement of officers, medical officer, sufficient hospital corps men, and, if you think best, field officers especially qualified to command the guard. Re-enlist and instruct the members of the Quartermaster's department to proceed to erect necessary buildings for the guard according to plans and estimates you may approve. Colonel Charles Humphrey on arrival, will make an inspection of the Quartermaster's department, Philippine Islands, July 1st, when he will be assigned to duty as chief Quartermaster at Manila, and Miller ordered to the United States. All stores and supplies not required for the legation guard are to be disposed of in your best judgment. Of course, serviceable supplies needed in the Philippine Islands will be sent to Manila. Division of the Quartermaster will furnish supplies for the legation guard. MacArthur notified. CORBIN.

It was said at the War Department that this closes the Chinese question so far as the War Department is concerned, as the protection of the legation can in no sense be taken as occupation of Chinese territory, and the guard cannot be used for any other purpose. The transports Sumner and Indiana will be sent to Taku to take the troops to Manila. These troops consist of the Ninth Infantry, four troops of the Sixth Cavalry and the light battery formerly commanded by Captain Reilly. Two transports will bring away the 1100 animals which have been used by the Army in China. General Chaffee has advised the department that the best place of embarkation is Taku, which no doubt will be clear of ice on the date fixed for departure.

The War Department has just made out the check payable to Admiral Sampson's order in the sum of $8,335 for bounty for the destruction of Cervera's fleet.

Three other checks will be paid to him. The first one is for the sum of $1,970 for his engagement at Manila, June 30, 1898; another in the sum of $1,475 for the second engagement at that place, July 18th, and a third $750 in amount, for the engagement at Niepa bay on July 21st.

TROOPS FOR MACARTHUR

TWENTY THOUSAND FRESH REGULARS BEING SENT.

There Are Now Forty Thousand Fighting Men in the Far East Counting Those in the Chinese Empire.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The officers of the Adjutant-General's and Quartermaster's Departments are devoting their attention to the sending of regular troops to the Philippines to replace the volunteers brought home. The main object of the officials is to prevent any material decrease in General MacArthur's army of 60,000 men. There are about 40,000 regular troops in the Orient, including those in China. In order to keep the strength up to 60,000 it will be necessary to provide about 20,000 fresh troops from the United States before July 1.

The transports Meade and Pennsylvania will leave San Francisco in a day or two with battalions of the Tenth Infantry, Fifth Cavalry and also battalions of five new regiments. Arrangements also have been made for the departure of other vessels as follows:

The Buford, with a capacity of 61 officers and 1,000 men, on the 25th inst.; the Hancock, capacity 54 officers and 1,000 men on the 1st of April; the Kilpatrick, capacity 61 officers and 1,000 men on the 4th of April; the Warren, capacity 42 officers and 1,242 men on April 12; and the Logan, capacity 56 officers and 1,048 men, on April 15. These vessels will be laden with regular troops, consisting of newly organized regiments or of home battalions or regiments serving in the West Indies or the Philippines.

Satisfactory progress is reported in the transportation of the volunteer troops from the Philippines to San Francisco.

Several transports are now at different stages of their voyage across the Pacific, including the Logan, with the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Volunteer Infantry, and the Garonne with the Twenty-sixth Volunteer Infantry. According to the schedule of the War Department the vessels will leave Manila for home as follows: The Thomas on the 16th inst., with the Twenty-eighth and Thirty-fifth Volunteer Infantry; the Rosecrans on the 16th inst., with the Thirty-ninth Infantry, and the O'Brien on the 25th inst., with the Twenty-ninth and Thirty-second Infantry.

The transportation arrangements at both ends of the line have not yet been finally completed beyond the dates mentioned. The officers of the War Department are confident of their ability to execute the plan of discharging the entire volunteer army in the United States before the first of July next, without materially reducing the number and effectiveness of the military forces in the Philippines.

RIVAL OF CANE SUGAR

GREAT PROSPERITY IN THE BEET INDUSTRY.

Colonel Macfarlane on the Beet Business in California—Europe is Hawaii's Competitor.

Colonel George W. Macfarlane returned this morning on the Mariposa from London in company with H. H. Fowler head of the firm of John Fowler and company, makers and inventors of the Fowler steam plow— which are largely used in the islands, and George Turner, a director in the same firm. During the past month the three gentlemen have been making some investigation into the sugar beet industry in California, and Colonel Macfarlane says he is convinced that it is going to be a very large industry. Mr. Turner has been in Germany a beet sugar district for thirty years and is an acknowledged sugar beet expert.

Mr. Fowler visited Hawaii twenty years ago, when he introduced the first steam plow and demonstrated its great worth for cane cultivation, on the Spreckelsville plantation on Maui. He now returns, says Colonel Macfarlane, to see the wonderful development and perfection to which cane growing has been brought in the islands. Fowler remembers when the lava and Honolulu plantations were barren wastes and is much interested in seeing them now. Turner and Fowler will remain two weeks in Honolulu, after which they will return to San Francisco to complete a visit with Mr. Hithot to the Hawaiian refinery and beet factory of Crockett and other beet farms in California, Colorado and Nebraska. In June Mr. and Mrs. Fowler and their daughter will return to England, where he will report to his partners results of his observations in Hawaii and California.

"A year and a half ago," said Colonel Macfarlane, in answer to an inquiry, "my attention was directed to the beet sugar industry in California, by the fact that Claus Spreckels gave an order for the purchase of a steam plow for his Salinas beet sugar estate. I began investigating California as a possible field for investments for some English friends and also as a possible market for the plows, the agency for which I had been in the islands for twenty years, during which period 60 odd sets of the aggregate value of about a million and a half dollars, have been imported.

The steam plows had been a great success in the cane sugar business and I could not see why they should not be applied equally with good results to the cultivation of the sugar beets, especially as in Germany and Austria use of the Fowler plows made beet sugar a competitor of cane sugar, increasing the acreage yield of the beet from 7 or 8 per cent to 14 and 15 per cent and the tonnage of beet roots per acre from 6 or 7 to 14 and 15. Beet crops only take from four to five months to mature, as against 12 to 20 months for cane, so that it will be readily understood that beet sugar has advantages not hitherto appreciated by island people. Two crops of beets can be grown and harvested while one cane crop is maturing, and with less than a third of the cost of cane production in labor, such as hoeing, stripping, irrigation, etc., as well as in cost of water for irrigation.

"I became something of an enthusiast about beets after a visit to some of the California factories in company with Joseph Marsden, formerly of Honolulu, an old friend who was probably one of the most practical men connected with the cane industry in the islands. We saw returns from some of the best factories that astonished us, and we at once made a joint investment in one of the best factories. During the past two years of almost unprecedented drought the worst California has passed through in fifty years, returns from the factory we invested in were ten per cent, and now that the State has returned to condition of normal rainfall I look for from 25 to 30 per cent dividend on my family I went to the best sugar factory returned 35 per cent three years ago. I found other factories that did as well—the saccharine yield in the beets of California exceeded that in the German beets by 1 and 2 per cent.

After visiting the Paris exposition with my family I went to London and laid the matter of California beet sugar investment before some English friends and induced Messrs. Fowler and Turner to change their intended vacation trip on the continent to a trip to California and to incidentally look into the beet business with me. We have paid visits to the Oxnard, Spreckels, Clark, Burr, Santa Maria and Alameda factories, situated in Ventura, Salinas, Las Alamedas, Betteravia, Chino and Alvarado respectively, and my friends are very much impressed and decided to make investments. The factories are modern ones, in every respect quite as good as the best in Germany, while the tracts of land they possess and control are very extensive and fertile. There have been bountiful rains this year and crops will be large. During the next few years I shall devote a large part of my time to working up opportunities for investments in California.

"I feel that at present there is not much encouragement for my London or New York friends to start development of any large cane sugar estates in our islands—not that the limit of production in the islands has been reached, but all the available tracts of land have been taken up. Outside of investments in shares of the present Hawaiian estates, I fear there is no hope today for the large operator to get into sugar on the islands, unless on an inflated basis, while California offers a field in which capitalists may get in on sugar investments and beet lands at something like bedrock prices. The small buyer can find good investments in sugar estates that can be purchased in Hawaii today but for the large operator there is no field in Hawaii at present.

"I do not consider that California is likely to be a competitor of Hawaii for many years to come and then only in quantity produced and not in price. The combined cane and beet sugar production of both California and Hawaii is about 700,000 tons a year, while the consumption of sugar in the United States alone reaches 2,200,000 tons and is constantly increasing. California and Hawaii together will never be able to keep up with the consumption. If Cuba

COULD HAVE MADE PORT BY YESTERDAY MORNING.

Brings Down Seamen Who Will Try to Secure Positions as Mate on the Island Vessels.

The steamship Mariposa, Captain Rennie, from San Francisco, arrived within sight of Diamond Head lights at about 2 o'clock this morning, after a splendid trip down. The weather all the way was nearly perfect and the vessel could easily have made port yesterday morning. Captain Rennie has proved a very popular master and passengers said their farewells to him this morning with many expressions of hope that they would travel with him again.

The Mariposa brought a good sized passenger list. Among them is A. R. Fowler, wife and maid. He is interested in an extensive plow manufacturing establishment at London. He is visiting the islands on a pleasure trip. S. Brown who is accompanied by his wife and child is a member of a well known Newcastle coal shipping firm of San Francisco.

Among the other passengers on the vessel were a number of ship's officers who came down to try and secure employment on the island steamers. The Federal inspectors of hulls and boilers, drew a number of the men on the various inter-island boats out of employment. The Inter-Island Company has been advertising for mates and other officers for their vessels. It is hoped that the arrival of the men today will relieve the congested condition of the local port.

TURN OVER CUSTOM HOUSE

GOVERNOR TO DO THAT EARLY NEXT WEEK.

Will Issue Proclamation Transferring Property to United States—No Other Transfers Just Now.

Governor Dole will early next week issue a proclamation, taking all the property connected with the customs house from the Territorial government and transferring it to the United States government.

By the mail this morning a communication was received from the Treasury Department approving of this move, and requesting a copy of the proclamation when issued. For the present at least no other Territorial property will be condemned and turned over by the Governor. The matter of turning over the postoffice is still one of negotiation. It seems that after the application of the Organic Act on June 14 last the local government, at the request of the Federal Inspector and with the approval of the postoffice department, spent about $13,000 on the office. It is Mr. Dole's idea that this should be paid back before the transfer is made.

The authority to transfer Territorial property to the central government is vested in the President and the Hawaiian governor. It is under that authority that the latter is acting at this time.

DIVORCED ON HIGH SEAS

HOW LUNA MADURA HANDLES PORTO RICANS.

Told Husband to Stay on One Side of Ship and Woman at Other, as They Were Divorced.

Although no judge is included among the crew of the Zealandia nevertheless there was a decree of divorce issued on the recent trip of the vessel from Port Los Angeles with the Porto Ricans aboard. This decree may not be regarded as some quarters as legal but it is certainly practical in its effect. To F. J. Madura belongs the distinction of granting the divorce. He is in charge of the Porto Ricans. He has had years of experience with these people and his knowledge stands him in good stead now that he has to manage them by the hundred when aboard ship. He has a sharp decisive manner that breaks opposition and manages the Porto Ricans when other methods would fail.

Several days after the vessel was out from Port Los Angeles the mate discovered one of the Porto Rican men beating a Porto Rican woman. The officer immediately took the fellow into custody and demanded of him the cause of the trouble. The fellow replied that the woman was his wife but for some reason she had felt a repugnance for him. So far had this feeling gone that she would call him bad names all day. He asked if it was the strap. The woman declared that while the man was her husband she did not like him. The officers of the ship could not unravel the mystery but they fortunately let Madura attend to the matter who did very effectively. "You say, Madura asked of the woman, 'that this man is your husband and you don't want to live with him any more?' 'Yes,' she replied. The husband was equally as desirous of getting rid of the woman.

"Well, then you two are not married any more, I divorce you," said Madura with a majestic wave of his hand. "Juan you go over to that port side of the boat and stay there the rest of the voyage. Juanita you go to the starboard side and stay there until we get to Honolulu."

The ruling of the Second Daniel came to judgment was satisfactory and both of the "divorced" couple separated as directed and neither was ever seen to venture on the forbidden side of the vessel.

FOUND A STOWAWAY.

Devotion of a Wife Makes a Most Romantic Story.

The transport Indiana, Morie, sailed from San Francisco March 15 for Manila via Honolulu. She took away a battalion of the Twenty-eighth Infantry and Company D of the Tenth Infantry. Major Yeatman went out in command and with him were Lieutenants Halstead, Dabney and Peck. Bugler W. P. Hayes of Company D, Tenth Infantry had stowed away his wife and with the assistance of his wife and with the assistance of his comrades hoped to get her to Manila without discovery. Had the transport gone direct to sea all would have been well, but instead she went to the upper bay, where two hours were spent in adjusting the compasses.

As the hours crept on Mrs. Hayes made sure the Indiana was at sea and put her head out of her hiding place. As ill-luck would have it, a quartermaster was standing within a few feet of her and he at once took her before the captain. As soon as the boys in blue saw the little woman on the bridge they knew what was the matter. A subscription was taken and more than twice the amount of the passage money was offered for her berth. It was against the rules of the transport service, however, and Mrs. Hayes was sent ashore on the tug Slocum. When bidding her husband good-bye the tears rained down her cheeks and she did not a man aboard but had to turn away and pretend to see something of interest on the Oakland shore.

The devotion of Mrs. Hayes to her soldier husband makes a most romantic story. Hayes went to Cuba with the Tenth Infantry and while there fell in love with a pretty little Cuban girl. She was and is an expert seamstress and a first-class dressmaker. The end of the courtship was a marriage, and soon thereafter the Tenth was ordered home. Hayes and his friends in Company D decided to take Mrs. Hayes home with them on the transport without Uncle Sam being any the wiser. All the little woman's household effects including her sewing machine, went aboard the transport with the company's baggage and after a stormy voyage everything was safely landed in New York.

Ever since Mrs. Hayes has followed the regiment, beating her way on trains and with the assistance of the boys of Company D bringing her belongings with her.

SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1901.

It is probable that the school exhibit of the Territory of Hawaii will be given space at the coming Pan-American Exhibition at Buffalo among the general educational exhibits. The Territory, as a whole, will not exhibit but, as an educational exhibit can be got up inexpensively and the cost of transmission to Buffalo is merely nominal, there is every hope that one branch of work here, and an important one, will be represented.

When men are mentioned as examples, of either good or bad traits it does not mean they are the only ones. One might write of great poets like Byron and Longfellow. That does not mean that the writer considers them the only great poets, but he simply uses the names to mark a class. Or he might say great generals like Napoleon and Grant, and he would by no means be shutting out Caesar, Alexander, Wellington or Sheridan. Similes are used to mark a class and not to make an invidious distinction.

Porto Rican labor is apt to show a diminution according to the statement of R. A. Macfie, once of Kauai, and now of Porto Rico. Other places, nearer at hand are seeking Porto Rican labor, and the result of this competition together with the improved conditions under American rule, have very materially changed the prospects of the Islanders. Still Mr. Macfie thinks that there will remain a field. As far as can be learned the Porto Ricans have proved, on the whole very satisfactory. As more of them come here and they find their own countrymen scattered over the group and doing well, the Territory of Hawaii is apt to become more and more popular.

The question of landing on the Mainland, Chinese who are Hawaiian citizens has come to an issue in the port of San Francisco. It was the only way in which to settle the vexed question. The matter has been in the air for six months or more, and the only way in which it could be settled was by practical experiment. If the Chinese who went over on the America Maru, have their proper papers, it will be a hard nut for the Federal authorities to crack on the face of a recent ruling. There are possibilities of their being turned down, it is true, but they have a very strong case in their favor. All depends upon their papers and possibility of identification.

The tramways cinch measure for fifty years of spavined mules was summarily shelved yesterday morning. Who drew the bill The Star does not know, but it certainly was one of the most impudent that has ever been put before any Legislature that has ever come together on the Hawaiian Islands. Manager Pain is even reported to have stated that he had no fears upon the matter, the bill would surely be passed, and it is well known that a considerable amount of lobbying was done and promises freely given. But promises butter no parsnips, as the old saying is and very fortunately posterity is spared a half century of Pain's "electricity, compressed air, steam or any other motive power" the any other being surely the raw boned animals, now used, which are only fit for the knackers.

The bill for making Lahainaluna a territorial school or seminary will probably pass in its amended shape, or rather in its substitute shape. It is the first step towards preparing for the county bill. An institution, like Lahainaluna, could not be supported by county funds since pupils from all parts of the Islands would seek the advantages it might offer. The counties will of course pay for their own school systems, and the schools will be well or ill supplied according to the county wealth. This is so on the mainland, where poor counties can only keep their schools going for a limited number of months. When the school fund of the county is exhausted, the school closes. This is not likely to happen in Hawaii, because the counties will be able to afford a generous school tax which will suffice to run the schools the year round, as they are now. Lahainaluna by being made a territorial institution, however, will escape all possible chance of financial vicissitudes. That there is need for a free school of this kind is self evident. If money enough be supplied Lahainaluna can be made a great institution.

HAND IN HAND.

The advance in the production of the Western nations and particularly in the United States has found its mightiest ally in the means of transportation. Without railroads and steamships, the production of cereals in North America and Australia would not have been so widely developed, as the products could not have been utilized, except by immigration from over populated countries which led to the breaking up and preparing of so much virgin land, and its preparation for the enormous agricultural and dairy products which are now carried to every distant market of the world. Nor would the gigantic metal, textile and other manufactures have aimed their present growth.

A recent report shows how freights have gone down during the last quarter of the nineteenth century from 1874 to 1900. The table given in the Consular report is a long one and The Star only quotes one familiar one. Wheat from San Francisco to England in 1874 was carried at $13.99 per ton, in 1900 the price was $5.41 per ton. There may have been local rises in freight, as was the case with the lumber vessels plying between the Sound and Hawaii. But this was caused by a sudden great demand for lumber and lack of tonnage to carry it. So many vessels were needed for the rush to the Klondyke and Cape Nome.

These lower rates are mainly due to improvements in shipbuilding. The tonnage is now considerably greater without a proportionate increase in cost. It was only a couple of days ago that attention was called towards two gigantic sailing vessels, one of 8,500 tons in Germany, and one of 6,000 tons on the mainland. All these vessels are fitted with automatic means of raising and lowering their sails. There is no longer the necessity for a crowd of seamen to climb the masts, and lay out on the yards. We have ourselves seen enormous deep sea ships in our own harbor.

If sailing vessels have been able to reduce the cost of working while carrying enormously larger cargoes, the steamers have been able to do similar things. They now use triple and quadruple expansion engines, thereby decreasing the length of the voyage. These improved furnaces save much fuel for the trips, while the less amount of coal required gives more storage for freight. The freight capacity of modern steamers has increased fully one third, while the expense has been reduced. Of course this deals with the freight steamers, pure and simple. The floating palaces upon the Atlantic, have become more and more expensive, and it is doubtful whether they are more remunerative.

The growth of the merchant steam marine is thus set forth in decades:

Year.	No. of Registered vessels.	tons.
1874	5,865	5,236,000
1884	8,433	10,209,000
1894	10,744	15,657,000
1896	11,155	17,089,000
1898	11,576	18,837,000
1899	11,756	19,711,000
1900	12,289	21,787,000

The steam fleet, in numbers, has a little more than doubled in twenty-six years; in tonnage, it has quadrupled.

On the other hand the sailing marine has decreased in numbers and in tonnage, and the decrease has been steady, but there are those who believe that the lowest point has been reached, and that the reversion has commenced, as has been alluded to above. The following is the history of sailing vessels by decades:

Year.	vessels.	tons.
1874	56,289	14,523,000
1884	44,734	13,000,000
1894	29,333	9,547,000
1896	29,248	9,136,000
1898	28,885	8,693,000
1899	27,867	8,547,000
1900	27,982	8,205,000

The relative position of the principal flags in the fall of 1900 was:

Country	Steamers	Sailing vessels	Total Tons.
England	11,859,000	2,513,000	14,372,000
Germany	2,169,000	551,000	2,720,000
United States	1,183,000	1,360,000	2,543,000
Norway	769,000	808,000	1,577,000
France	1,060,000	341,000	1,401,000

Great Britain, in spite of the rapid growth of the export trade of the United States, owns considerably more than half the steam fleet of the world. In ship building she makes a better showing, but it must be remembered that many British shipyards work largely for foreign markets. At the end of the third quarter of 1900, there were being contracted:-

Country.	Steamers Tons.
Great Britain	1,192,000
United States	142,000
Germany	147,000
Italy	103,000
France	63,000
Holland	28,000

In 1898 and 1899, Germany held second place in ship building, but, for various reasons ship building in the United States received, during 1900, such an impetus has come up to second if we add the sailing vessels that are being built, though she still maintains third rank in steam tonnage. But what will be the increase in the next twenty-five years. If the world's tonnage increased 250 per cent in the last twenty-five years of the nineteenth century, why should not the carrying tonnage of the United States increase in like measure in the first quarter of the twentieth century. In fact it will need to increase enormously to meet the mercantile and manufacturing expansion.

The census figures of the various Indian nations occupying Indian Territory are just to hand. They show a considerable increase during the last ten years. There are five nations and seven reservations in Indian Territory, all of which have increased in population during the decade, many of them by large percentages. Over ninety-seven per cent of the entire population is, however, found in the 4 principal nations, and the rates of increase for these are as follows: Chickasaw nation, 142.9 per cent; Choctaw nation, 127.5 per cent; Creek nation, 127.1 per cent; and Cherokee nation, 80.7 per cent. The total number of people in the Territory is 391,960. The Cherokees number 191,754. The Chickasaws 139,260, the Choctaws 99,674, and the Creeks 40,674. There are only 140 Modoc Indians, and the Seminole Indians only number 3,786.

Twenty-six Were Transferred to the America Maru Yesterday. But the Others Were Overlooked.

Stowaways are beginning to be the bane of the officers of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha line. Yesterday the America Maru was detained an hour and a half over the landing of a Japanese who was on the ship's papers as a stowaway and today there was more or less plitika at the Pacific Mail Dock when the Hong Kong Maru was ready to sail for San Francisco. Matters were finally straightened out however, and the vessel allowed to depart almost on time the slight delay being caused by the failure of the mail to arrive promptly. As the result of detaining the America Maru yesterday that vessel met the Hong Kong Maru coming from the Orient just outside of the harbor. The vessels stopped and Captain Flimer of the Hong Kong Maru transferred to the America Maru no less than 26 stowaways who had smuggled themselves aboard at various Japanese ports. The Hong Kong Maru had an unusually rich cargo and it was an easy matter for the Japanese coolies to get aboard her during the rush of loading the ship. It was expected that the crowd would have to be carried to San Francisco but when the America Maru was encountered the transfer was made.

It appears however that all but two were discovered. The pair who remained were the cause of the trouble today. Last night they left the ship and swam ashore. They were caught by the police officers and taken into custody. Today the pair were taken to the ship and questioned. It was finally decided that they were not entitled to land so they were turned over to the ship's people. The Japanese were ordered locked up. This makes the second time within two days when there has been trouble over Japanese stowaways. The fault does not lie with the steamship people for it is practically impossible to prevent people from stowing away on vessels. There seems to be a greater desire on the part of the Japanese to leave their own country and come to America. Evidently the practical cessation of hostilities in China has left many of the Little Brown men without employment in the army, in one capacity of another, so they desire to go to new countries.

and the Philippines should be annexed they might become competitors, but I think that is in the far future.

"Hawaii's competitor is not the beet sugar of California but the beet sugar of Europe. The beet crops of Europe now regulate the world's prices of sugar, and not the cane crops of the world."

Colonel Macfarlane, who started on his trip at a few hours' notice will return on the China in ten days. He has business here connected with his financial interests.

T. R. WALKER AND T. MAY ON THE BISHOP'S LETTER.

No "New Sect" Contemplated in the Erection or Maintenance of St. Clement's—The Bishop in Error.

In speaking of the letter, published in the Star of March 22d, which the Bishop has written with reference to the Rev. Mr. Osborne, T. May and T. R. Walker, two of the trustees of St. Clement's chapel, expressed themselves as feeling deep regret and much indignation concerning the imputations conveyed by the bishop's utterance, and statement by the bishop that Mr. Osborne has separated himself from the communion of the Anglican Church in Hawaii and made himself the founder of a new sect they consider absolutely incorrect, and they are very sorry that the Bishop is so mistaken in his apprehension of the circumstances as to make the injurious announcement to which he has committed himself. Simply, they say, because for the purpose of identification the term of "the Episcopal Church at Large" has been used in the conveyance to their of certain property, the Bishop's letter has caused it to appear that an attempt was thereby made for the establishment of a "new sect." The annexation of this country to the United States which seemed possible, and not taken place at the time of the conveyance, and they thought that the term used would cover existing and possible future conditions. As to the Rev. Mr. Osborne's participation in acceptance of a trust of the property, they know that they may absolutely deny the existence of any intention that a "new sect" should be implied, and unless the Bishop's interpretation of the tenor of the deed is the result of lamentable ignorance regarding the purpose of the trustees, they cannot but regard it as being of a malicious and persecuting intent. The purpose was, they say, that the chapel should be a mission offshoot from the Cathedral, and the particular trust was employed as the readiest means by which funds necessary for this much desired object could be obtained. There was no intention to conduct the work as separate from that of the rest of the Church in Hawaii, or in a manner contrary to usual regulation, and they greatly regret that the Bishop has not enabled them to avoid another of the painful controversies which have unfortunately been so frequent in the history of the diocese.

PILOT FREEMAN DEPARTS.

Although Pilot Freeman likes Honolulu and thinks that there is a fine lot of people here, he could not afford to remain any longer in this delightful place so he took passage for San Francisco today on the Hong Kong Maru. The pilot expects to have to pay a fine of $200 to the United States government for causing the vessel to violate the laws which prohibits a foreign bottom carrying passengers between American ports. He thinks however that inasmuch as his case is a peculiar one and that he did not come here as a passenger the fine may be remitted. The friends of the Captain decorated him with leis, the most striking being a flimsy hula skirt. It fitted the rotund waist of Captain Freeman very neatly and but for the gray beard of the pilot he might have consented to do a hula dance or two for the edification of his friends. The next time Captain Freeman returns to Honolulu it will not be when he is carried away on any of the outgoing steamships but as an eager tourist who expects to have as good a time as he had during the recent visit here.

BRITISH CRUISER TO SAIL.

The British cruiser Warspite which has been here for several weeks will leave for Acapulco, Mexico this evening at 11 o'clock. The officers of the vessel have been entertained by Honolulu society people and are pronounced charming gentlemen.

HER MOTHER'S GIRL.

A bright, handsome girl on the borderland between childhood and womanhood, is at once a source of pride and anxiety to her mother. Being intelligent and dutiful she is her mother's pride. But she has grown fast and is still growing. Nature makes stern demands upon the slender body. The skin is dull, the eyes lustreless, the cheeks and neck are sunken, the appetite is capricious, and the movements languid. The trouble is impurity and sluggishness of the blood. It needs the life-giving elements from which alone the body derives all its vigor and health.

WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION of the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry, has saved many such girls. It contains all the flesh-forming and strengthening qualities of the oil without its loathsome taste. The most sensitive and feeble can take it as they take syrup, and digest it perfectly. Taken before meals it creates an appetite, stops the emaciating process, puts flesh on the thin and bony body, and ruddy cheeks soon tell the story of pure blood, good digestion and recovered health. It is a scientific modern combination of the best of curatives made palatable as honey. Taken in time it prevents consumption; taken in time it cures. Dr. J. L. Carrick says: "I have had remarkable success with it in the treatment of Consumption, Chronic Bronchitis, Catarrh and Scrophulous Affections, and consider it a marvelous success in medicine." To give it a trial is to believe in it always thereafter. Effective from the first dose. "You cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by chemists here.

For the Aged Health for All: Young and Old.

We are glad that our blood-purifying and blood-forming remedy is good for all ages. It brings health to pale and feeble children and it relieves the debility and weakness that naturally come to old age.

Mr. Levi Sargeant, of Grenfell, New South Wales, sends us this letter, with his photograph:

"I have been a terrible sufferer from rheumatism and sciatica. I have spent a great deal of money in trying to get rid of the pain, but without avail, and I have been confined to the bed for months at a time. I then tried and began to improve at once. After taking only six bottles I felt quite well, and now am able to go about my work again. I might add I am seventy-five years of age."

You cannot enjoy good health unless you have a daily movement of the bowels. Ayer's Pills cure constipation.

RUSSIA SEIZES TERRITORY

LION AND BEAR FACE EACH OTHER.

The Czar's Troops Intrenched—Have Taken Possession of Railway Siding and Armed Troops Guard It.

LONDON, March 15.—A dispatch received here from Tien-tsin by Reuters Telegram Company, dated from that city today at 3:20 p. m., says: "The Russians are now intrenching in the disputed territory. A company of the Hongkong regiment, with fixed bayonets, is in front, while two companies of the Madras Pioneers, under the command of Major Johnson, are held in reserve. Both the Russians and British are awaiting instructions from their governments."

PEKING, March 15.—The Russians at Tien-tsin took possession of the railway siding and armed sentries are now guarding it. General Barrow, second in command of the British forces, is hesitating to act, apparently, in the absence of General Gaselee, feeling sure that bloodshed would ensue. He had a long consultation today with Sir Ernest Satow, the British Minister. The Russians are jubilant. They object to the British laying the railway siding, saying that it will interfere with the road they mean to make.

LONDON, March 15.—A question in the House of Commons today relative to the Tien-tsin dispatch announcing friction between the Russians and British there elicited a confirmation from Lord George Hamilton, the Secretary of State for India, who said Russia had claimed the land in dispute by virtue of a concession alleged to have been granted by China since the disturbances commenced. The authorities on the spot were dealing with the matter. The Government had issued special instructions, as throughout the Chinese operations the British officers had shown a spirit of excessive conciliation.

GREAT GIFT TO NEW YORK. NEW YORK, March 15.—Andrew Carnegie, who since retiring as an active figure in the steel world has been able to devote his time exclusively to his other passion, the founding of libraries, has made his departure for Europe this spring memorable by the largest offer of that kind ever advanced. If New York will provide the sites and the maintenance, he has promised to give $2,500,000 to establish sixty-five branch libraries in this city. The offer was made in a letter to Dr. John S. Billings, director of the New York Public Library, last Thursday.

MAY BE ATTORNEY-GENERAL. PHILADELPHIA, March 15.—A report is in circulation in this city that John G. Johnson, a leading member of the Philadelphia bar and one of the most prominent lawyers in the country, has been offered the portfolio of Attorney-General in President McKinley's Cabinet, to succeed Attorney-General Griggs. When asked today if he had been offered the Attorney-Generalship Johnson said, "I refuse to either confirm or deny the reports."

SUGAR MONOPOLY IN FRANCE. PARIS, March 15.—The Chamber of Deputies today appointed a commission to examine whether it should grant the authorization requested by the public prosecutor to prosecute M. Jaurès, the Nationalist Deputy for creating a monopoly in sugar. A majority of the commission is favorable to the prosecution.

The committee recommended that it be indefinitely postponed. After some argument, this was done.

SOLICITORS HAVE PILIKIA.

That there was not some one seriously injured at the Mariposa this morning while she was entering the harbor was due more to good fortune than good management. James H. Love of the Pacific Transfer Company had John Mahuka rowed out to the Mariposa for the purpose of boarding the vessel to solicit orders for the transfer company. The representatives of the Union Transfer Company were there in one of "young Brothers' launches. According to the statement of Mr. Love the launch people crowded his boat out of one position and when he changed and took hold of a rope toward the aft part of the ship they worked back and repeated their attempt to make him let loose. Mahuka's boat was jammed between the steamship and the launch and the seams strained so the row boat began to leak. It looked as if both the launch and the row boat would be upset when the steamer started to come inside but the launch cut loose and escaped. The row boat jumped clear over the launch.

ALBERT EDWARD'S OATS.

WHITNEY & MARSH, LTD"Straight Fronts"

The last and most perfect achievement of the "SONNETTE" Corset makers is the

Straight Front
Corset Militant

It is so simple in design and construction that it needs but a word of description. The secret of it all is in substituting for gores, transverse seams in graceful curves, which adapt themselves to ALL FIGURES, thus securing the most comfortable and perfect fit. It is made in three or four pieces, which being cut on correct geometrical principles, with transverse seams running around the body, instead of up and down, evade all strain; thus avoiding the objections urged against every other corset. The fit is perfect, for it is automatic, or self-adjusting, yielding so easily to every movement that the wearer is unconscious of any feeling of constraint; an important feature in this climate.

It, as the name implies, produces the fashionable effect upon the figure. The wearer at once, and of necessity, assumes the "MILITARY POSITION." The bust is allowed to fall, all pressure is removed from the diaphragm and applied to the abdomen, and the new position is far more graceful and conducive to health than the old one.

These Corsets may be seen in our store in several qualities. We shall be glad to show them, and no one need feel obliged to buy them because we have had the privilege of showing them.
