FIRING HEARD OFF CORONEL; EXPECTED GERMAN SQUADRON HAS MET HOSTILE WARSHIPS

ENTIRE PACIFIC AND INDIAN OCEANS NOW CLEARED OF GERMAN CRUISERS EXCEPT FOR SQUADRON OFF CHILE, WHERE ENGAGEMENT OF SOME KIND IS IN PROGRESS—SYDNEY'S VICTORY ACCOMPLISHED WITH SLIGHT LOSS—EMDEN'S CAREER OF DARING MOST SENSATIONAL SINCE "CIVIL WAR"—LAND BATTLES PROCEED WITH GREAT FURY BUT LITTLE MATERIAL CHANGES YET APPARENT—TURKEY THREATENS WHOLESOME EXECUTIONS IF PORTS ARE BOMBARDED BY BRITISH AND FRENCH SHIPS

[Associated Press by Commercial Pacific Cable.]

LIMA, PERU, NOV. 10.—DESPATCHES FROM CHILE REPORT THAT HEAVY CANNONADING IS BEING HEARD OFF CORONEL.

This part of the South Pacific was the scene of the battle last week in which the German cruiser Emden (below) and escaped with but slight loss and injury; the Emden has been the terror of the commerce of the Allies in the Indian Ocean for many weeks past.

EMDEN BEACHED AFTER FIGHT

[Associated Press by Commercial Pacific Cable.]

LONDON, England, Nov. 10.—The Australian cruiser Sydney, in a running fight in the Indian Ocean on Monday morning, overhauled and riddled the German cruiser Emden. The Emden was beached on Cocos islands and is burning. The Sydney's losses were slight, the Emden's heavy.

There are two Cocos Island groups in the Indian ocean. One is in the Bay of Bengal, north of Andaman Islands. The other is off the west coast of Sumatra, at about the latitude of Singapore. The former is the best known group.

Sydney Losses Are Slight

LONDON, England, Nov. 10.—The Sydney lost three men killed and 15 wounded. The entire Pacific and Indian oceans are now cleared of German warships except for the squadron off the Chile coast.

Winston Churchill, first lord of the British admiralty, has sent his warmest congratulations to Captain John Glossop of the Sydney.

[Associated Press service by Federal Wireless.]

LONDON, England, Nov. 10.—Captain Glossop accomplished the defeat of the Emden, losing only three men killed and 15 wounded.

For sheer dash and success, the career of the cruiser Emden has not been rivalled in naval annals since the Confederate warship Alabama sank 22 American merchantmen valued at $4,000,000.

The Emden is classed as a small cruiser, having a normal displacement of 2,600 tons. She carries a complement of 321. Her speed is rated at about 25 knots. The Emden mounted ten 4.1-inch guns, eight 5-pounders, four machine guns and was fitted with two submerged torpedo tubes.

The Sydney is a projected cruiser commissioned within the last two years, of 5,400 tons. She carries a complement of 375. Her battery consists of eight 6-inch guns and four 3-pounders, and she has two submerged torpedo tubes. Her speed is rated at about 25 knots.

Emden Did Immense Damage

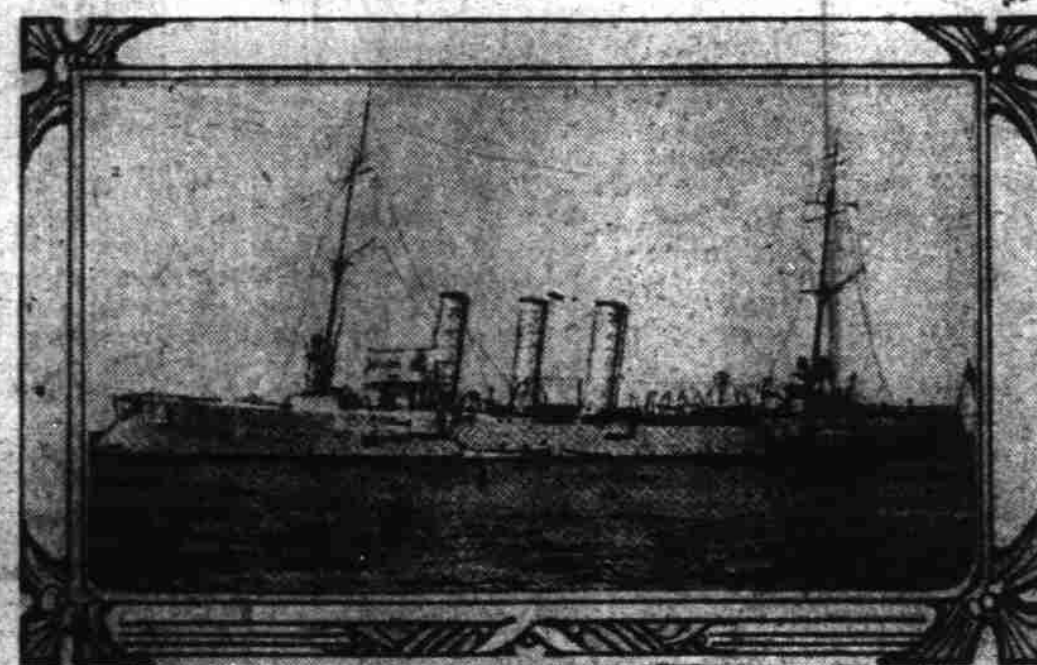

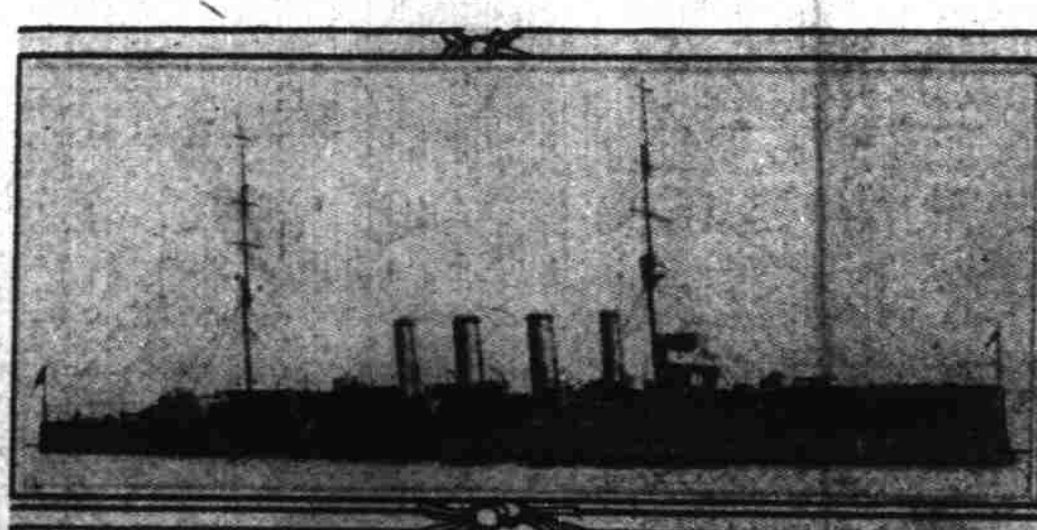

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Some estimates are that the depredations of the Emden resulted in a loss of $21,000,000 in ships and cargoes destroyed.

Insurance Rates Drop Now

LONDON, England, Nov. 10.—Insurance rates east of the Suez have dropped 50 per cent.

Thousands of German Wounded Seen

THIELT, Belgium, Nov. 10.—Ninety-two trains, each containing 300 German wounded, traversed Brussels on Sunday bound for Germany.

Australian cruiser Sydney (above) which, it is announced, has defeated the German cruiser Emden (below) and escaped with but slight loss and injury; the Emden has been the terror of the commerce of the Allies in the Indian Ocean for many weeks past.

Paris Official Statement Says Heavy German Attack is Blocked

PARIS, France, Nov. 10.—Official.—Particularly violent encounters are taking place between the Allies and the Germans along the line between Armentieres and the sea. The opposing forces for some time have been alternately taking the offensive.

The long German attack south of Ypres has been repulsed. The progress of the Allies is perceptible between Ypres and Armentieres and near Bixchoate.

The British have energetically repulsed all attacks on their front.

Along the major part of the line from the Canal La Bassée to the river Woivre the Allies have made secure their gains of the last few days.

Berlin Says Attempted Invasion of Russians Checked; Thrown Back

BERLIN, Germany, Nov. 10.—Simultaneously with the operations of the Russians against Gen. von Hindenburg, Russian forces have attempted to invade East Prussia south of Wirballen.

Gen. von Morgen won a stubbornly-contested victory and repulsed the Russian invasion. He captured 4000 men in the battle.

Flooded Country Hampers Operations of Allies and Germans; Can't Advance

THIELT, Belgium, Nov. 10.—The inundation of many parts of the country by the cutting of dykes is hampering the operations of the Allies equally with those of the Germans. The latter have been obliged to evacuate Middelkerke, between Nieuport and Ostend. The Allies are unable to occupy this point on account of the high waters.

Congressman Says War Will Cause U. S. to Build More War-Vessels

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—Representative Ernest W. Roberts of Massachusetts, of the house committee on naval affairs, predicted today that an increased naval building program for the United States will be one result of the "lessons of the European war."

RELIEF WORK IN BELGIUM ENDANGERED

Germans Say Inhabitants Must Return to Employment, But None Is to Be Had

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 10.—A German proclamation threatens to stop the distribution of American relief funds and supplies among the Belgians unless the inhabitants return to work. The inhabitants are willing to work for a quarter-pay but the employers cannot supply the materials for them.

All mines are closed, horses and automobiles and railways have been commandeered by the military, and factories are unable to open. The situation is growing worse.

FEDERAL BILL IS SLATED FOR EARLY ACTION

Robert W. Shingle Expects It to Be Taken Up Next Session and Disposed Of

That the Honolulu federal building bill will be taken up and disposed of early in the recess session of Congress is the emphatic opinion of Robert W. Shingle, president of the Waterhouse Trust Company. Mr. Shingle arrived on the Matsushita this morning from a business trip, an important part of which was a visit to Washington to hasten, if possible, action on the long-delayed federal building.

Of this matter he says: "The federal building bill has passed the senate and is now on the 'unanimous consent calendar' of the house."

"The filibuster carried on by the southern congressmen during the closing days of Congress in the interests of cotton prevented any bills going through. Everything remains in status quo now until the December session. 'I am sure one of the first bills to be taken up and disposed of at the beginning of Congress will be the Honolulu federal building bill.'"

Until the bill passes Congress there will be no settlement of the site where the building is to be erected. That is all within the discretion of the secretary of the treasury, according to the terms of the bill.

That the political sentiment of the country is growing more and more strongly Republican is his conclusion.

Denjro Yokada has filed in the office of the clerk of the federal court a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Hearing of an order to show cause will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. In the petition Yokada alleges that after being admitted to the territory he was arrested by the local federal immigration officials, who commenced actions toward deportation on the ground that Yokada came to Hawaii as a contract laborer.

MANUEL PERRY IS CHARGED WITH MANY DIFFERENT CRIMES

Manuel Perry, alleged by Captain of Detectives Arthur McDuffie, who accomplished his arrest, to have uttered a number of fraudulent checks, is at the central police station awaiting a hearing upon several charges of forgery and one of embezzlement.

Perry is stated to have forged the names of several young ladies to commercial papers ranging in amounts from $15 to $25.

The checks were placed in the hands of McDuffie yesterday afternoon and that officer laid in wait for a steamer from the island of Kauai. Perry reached the city last night to find himself under arrest and facing serious trouble.

The young man is alleged to have defrauded a Japanese chauffeur who supplied a vehicle employed in a joy ride about the city.

PERSONALITIES

RICHARD L. HALSEY, inspector in charge of the local federal immigration station, who for the past week has been on Hawaii on business, will return to Honolulu tomorrow morning.

SOUND BUSINESS
FILLS HOLD IN HILONIAN

Had the Matson steamer Hilonian been a vessel of twice or thrice her tonnage a cargo equal to the enlarged capacity would have been found waiting at Puget Sound ports for the Hawaiian Islands, according to report brought by officers in the vessel which reached Honolulu today.

Captain Al. Soule brought a well-filled ship to a berth at Pier No. 10 before 8 o'clock this morning, following a voyage from the North Pacific which was declared to have been pleasant from beginning to end.

The Hilonian will call at several island ports. After discharging 2050 tons at Honolulu the vessel is expected to leave cargo as follows: Port Allen, 261 tons; Hilo, 190 tons; Kahului, 510 tons, and Kaunapali 37 tons.

No sugar awaits this vessel in returning to the coast, the last of the 1914 crop having been despatched for the east and west coast some weeks ago. The Hilonian will, however, be supplied with a considerable shipment of pineapples.

GENERAL CARTER
SUCCESSFUL IN
FIGHT FOR MEAT

By C. S. ALBERT.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 29.—Through the efforts of the war and state departments in this city the British government has lifted the embargo from Australia on shipments of beef and mutton to Honolulu. The supplies of this kind for the thousands of American troops in Honolulu have been coming from Australia for the past three years under special contract, and if the embargo had not been raised the contractors would have been thrown into bankruptcy. While the United States government would have been forced to pay an exorbitant price for meat.

The matter was taken up with the war department by Maj.-gen. William H. Carter, commanding the U. S. troops in Hawaii, and through his efforts the state department had the embargo on meats raised by Great Britain, but only in reference to meat shipped from Australia to Honolulu. The supply needed for the United States troops in Hawaii amounts to 100,000 pounds monthly. At the same time the embargo on coal, for use by the quartermaster's department in Honolulu, was raised by the British authorities.

STRANDED DESTROYER
PAULING IS FLOATED

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.] WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 10.—The U. S. torpedo destroyer Pauling, which went ashore near Norfolk, has been floated.

The Promotion Committee today received from several large railway and steamship companies and tourist bureaus on the mainland acknowledgment of the receipt of the 1915 Mid-Pacific Carnival posters, which now are being distributed by the committee throughout the United States, Canada and Australia.

The flags of Germany and Japan are still unfurled to the breeze at Hilo, the steamer O. J. D. Ahlers and the Kiyo Maru being anchored within the breakwater, the German vessel awaiting the close of the war while the Kiyo Maru, now completing her ninth week of detention, may soon be despatched for Mexican and South American coasts. Pursuer Phillips of the steamer Mauna Kea, an arrival from Hilo this morning, reported no sugar awaiting shipment at Big Island ports. The Mauna Kea met with light winds and smooth seas. The cargo consisted mainly of native lumber and 128 packages of sundries. The schooner Andy Mahoney with 11,500 ties for San Diego is reported to have sailed for Southern California on Sunday morning.

A report from the police station published yesterday that W. C. Hodges had sworn to a warrant for the arrest of J. D. Prosser to recover a ring said to be the property of Mrs. Hodges, was incorrect. At the police station today it was stated that the warrant was not issued for service though application was made for it. It is stated that the district magistrate declined to order the warrant issued on the grounds as presented. Prosser declared this morning that he had evidence to prove the ring is his and that the attempt to get the warrant was an effort to injure him.

DUKE JUMPS
OVERBOARD
IN MID OCEAN

Hawaiian Swimming Champion Measures Speed With Matsonia

Duke Kahanamoku, Hawaii's famous swimmer, possessor of many a valuable and hard-earned trophy, more than met his match when on last Saturday the sturdy Hawaiian was pitted in a spirited contest with a trans-Pacific liner.

Duke and the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina entered into a race in mid-ocean, the honors falling easily to steam and steel rather than to brain and brawn.

Five hundred spectators lined the rail of the Matsonia and Wilhelmina while during the transfer of a stow-away Duke leaped from the Matsonia and attempted to swim the distance of several hundred yards separating the Matson passenger steamers.

All went well as far as the Hawaiian swimmer was concerned until the propeller of the Wilhelmina and Matsonia began to revolve at moderate rate for the purpose of keeping stow-away way to avoid a chance rolling in the trough of a rather rough sea.

Duke failed to take into consideration that the vessels were traveling at about 10 knots an hour while the small boat was employed in the movement of the stow-away from the Wilhelmina to the Matsonia. This was the reason, so Duke admitted upon his arrival at Honolulu this morning, why he was left far astern and was finally brought back to the vessel by a boat which had been despatched for the swimmer by Captain Charles Peterson.

The mid-Pacific in the opinion of Kahanamoku offers no such advantages for fast swimming as does the protected harbor at Honolulu or the interior of a coast natatorium.

Passengers and crews from both vessels found much diversion in the exhibition offered by the swimmer. It was one of the bright spots connected with a voyage that would have otherwise proved uneventful.

Among the 150 cabin passengers brought to Honolulu this morning in the Matsonia about one-third may be set down as tourists, so state the officers. In the steerage were 28 additional travelers. The vessel brought more than 6000 tons of cargo, of which 800 tons will be transhipped to a transport for Manila. It is the intention to despatch the vessel for Hilo on Thursday evening, where 1500 tons of freight will be discharged.

Captain Peterson reports fine weather with favorable seas throughout the trip. The first meeting with warlike craft, so state the officers, was when the Matsonia rounded Diamond Head this morning and the Japanese battleship Hizen and cruiser Asama were found some miles off the harbor.

The vessel brought 40 automobiles for Honolulu and Hilo.

A mail from the mainland amounting to 414 sacks arrived in this vessel.

Judge William J. Robinson of the third division of the first circuit court has received a 45-day leave of absence from the department of justice at Washington, D. C., to become effective December 2. Judge Robinson expects to leave on the army transport sailing for the Coast about that date, to spend the Christmas holidays with his three children, who are attending school in Alameda county, California. He will return in time to resume court business at the beginning of the 1915 term early in January.

'BILLY' SUNDAY
PLANS WILL BE CARRIED THROUGH

In spite of the refusal of the local Episcopal churches to cooperate and protests voiced by many private individuals "Billy" Sunday, the noted evangelist, will be brought to Honolulu. The money will be raised according to original plans, and there is little doubt but that Mr. Sunday will accept the invitation which already has been forwarded him.

This is the statement made today by Rev. A. A. Ebersole, associate pastor of Central Union church, and a member of the Inter-Church Federation, which organization started the movement to bring the evangelist to Honolulu.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

There will be a meeting of the board of health this afternoon at 3:30.

The jury in Judge Ashford's division of the circuit court has been excused until Thursday morning.

Dr. Carl Keller of this city will leave today for Europe to the war fields where he will serve as surgeon for the Red Cross society with the intention of returning to Honolulu after the war.

A meeting of the public utilities commission, scheduled for 2 o'clock this afternoon, was postponed until Tuesday of next week, owing to the absence of Acting Chairman J. N. S. Williams, who now is on Hawaii.

Charles N. Arnold, supervisor-elect and John W. Cathcart, reelected city and county attorney, are the latest to file accounts of their campaign expenses. Arnold expended a total of $78.50, and Cathcart a total of $86.

Clerk M. T. Simonton, of Circuit Judge Robinson's court, who was stricken by a severe attack of heart trouble several days ago, is recovering and expects to undertake his duties in court again tomorrow morning.

Acting on a wireless from Superintendent C. R. Forbes from Kauai yesterday afternoon the harbor commission postponed its meeting, scheduled for this morning, and will meet at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow. Superintendent Forbes is due to reach the city tomorrow morning.

Dr. George H. Luddy, reelected Republican representative from East Hawaii, spent $70 on his personal campaign, according to the sworn statement of his expenses received at the territorial treasurer's office this morning. Senator R. M. Makekau, also reelected on Hawaii, spent $135, and Eli J. Crawford, Republican representative elected from the fifth district, Oahu, spent $37.

According to a letter received this morning from the office of the attorney-general at Washington, D. C., the local United States marshal's office is to be equipped with new filing cabinets and other necessary furniture. Upon the arrival of the fixtures, the office will discontinue its practice of press-copying its official correspondence. The fixtures are being forwarded at the request of Marshal Jerome J. Smiddy.

The business men's Bible class at the Y. M. C. A. will have for the subject of its discussion tonight the question of why there are four different gospel histories of the life of Jesus. Mr. Ebersole will show by diagram

BONUS FOR PLANTATION LABORERS

A bonus of five per cent of their entire earnings for the year from November 1, 1913, to October 31, 1914, will be paid to the plantation laborers of Hawaii.

This bonus, which has been an annual fixture for the last three years, is paid to all laborers receiving a monthly sum of $24 or under. In addition, on many plantations, the men receiving higher wages are also paid bonuses.

The regular bonus is paid by all the plantations. It is based on the price of sugar. An average price for the year is struck and the bonus is paid accordingly. Last year the bonus was but one per cent on account of the low average price of sugar. This year the prospects were doubtful for any bonus at all until the European war sent prices soaring. The high prices in August and September pulled up the average until the five per cent bonus was assured.

For the grand total of 365 days, the grand total of prices was $364,647.11, with an average price of 3.7387 cents per pound, $74.77 average price per ton, giving the five per cent bonus.

CHAMBER FUND FOR
BELGIAN SUFFERERS
NOW NEAR $20,000

The fund for the relief of widows and orphans in Belgium which now is being raised by the Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu, reached $18,000 at noon today, and it is expected that by tomorrow at least $20,000 more will be added to this amount.

As may be seen from the amount now on hand the response to the chamber's call for funds has been generous. The majority of the contributors thus far have been the leading local firms and business houses. Individual subscriptions, however, have been numerous. The local chamber is raising the fund in response to a request recently sent out by the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco, in which city a like campaign now is being conducted.

POLICE CALLED UPON IN "GUN PLAY" BUT
SHERIFF NOT POSTED

In an altercation over a business proposition yesterday in which Harry H. Hott, former deputy marshal, and W. H. Barnard were involved the latter is accused of drawing a revolver when an effort was made to remove the furniture that had been purchased by him and Hott upon which it is alleged no payment had been made.

Barnard claims that his action was taken when the local furniture house attempted to remove the furniture in order that he could protect himself in a business deal and with the idea of having the furniture taken through legal process.

It is stated, and admitted by Barnard, that members of the police department were called upon and secured the furniture; however, Sheriff Rose professed ignorance of the matter today.

It is intimated that court proceedings may ensue before the deal is straightened out.

Just the relation of each of the four gospels to the others and discuss the question of which was written first. This is a question that most men have thought about but have never had opportunity to get the facts about it.

The tour of duty for army officers in Hawaii remains at four years, and there is no immediate prospect of a reduction to three years. This information was received at army headquarters this morning in a letter from the adjutant general.

HIZEN LEAVES LOCAL WATERS INSIDE LIMIT

Japanese Battleship Once More
Becomes Watchdog a Short Distance Off Port

Capt. Kawanami bade good-bye to Honolulu today when stepping into a waiting launch and boarding the big Japanese battleship Hizen, he issued orders that sent that vessel from its anchorage within the three-mile limit to the open sea at 11 o'clock this morning.

Remaining within the jurisdiction of Collector of Customs M. A. Franklin for a trifle less than 24 hours, Capt. Kawanami declared that he had no intention of bringing the Hizen to a berth at a government wharf. A small party of Japanese officers from the Hizen spent a portion of yesterday afternoon and evening on shore. They visited the Toyo Kisen Kaisha liner Chiyo Maru then in port and en route to San Francisco and from the battleship to the merchantman was transferred a large amount of mail.

A series of conferences was held in which the local Japanese consular staff and officers in the Hizen participated. Capt. Kawanami is also stated to have satisfied himself that the necessary steps to insure the internment of the German cruiser Geier had been taken before he took his departure from Honolulu.

While the Hizen has left the three-mile limit of neutrality, the big fighting ship has not quit Hawaiian waters by any means. The vessel was seen to take up a position about nine miles off the port this afternoon and was not far from the course followed by the Asama in maintaining its patrol.

That one of these vessels will serve as a convoy to the Toyo Kisen Kaisha passenger and freighters Kiyo and Seyo Maru when these vessels are eventually despatched from Hilo for South America now appears certain.

The Asama being a smaller vessel and capable of making better speed, is expected to be selected to cover the long voyage. The coaling of the Hizen and the Asama from a collier flying the Nippon Yusen Kaisha flag was completed at an early hour this morning.

A small amount of provisions was taken to the Hizen before that vessel left for the open sea.

E. D. TENNEY IS CONSERVATIVE AS TO SUGAR

Says War Conditions Have Demoralized Oil Business—
Market Much Reduced

"You know I have been on a vacation, and therefore out of touch with business matters," replied E. D. Tenney, president and manager of Castle & Cooke, Ltd., when asked by the Star-Bulletin for his impressions on mainland commercial affairs formed during his visit to the Coast, from which he returned in the Matsonia this morning.

"Nobody can tell anything about sugar," he continued, when asked for specific views on that vital topic, "but there is a conservative review of sugar conditions in Willett & Gray's Journal of October 25, which you should reprint. Anything I might say would be merely guesswork."

"As to the oil situation there is nothing new since I left here. There is no immediate prospect of the resumption of dividends by Honolulu Consolidated. Production is away beyond consumption for the present. War conditions have demoralized the oil business with many other things. The vice-president of Alexander Scater & Co., one of the big oil concerns, told me that the business with Chile, for instance, had fallen enormously. Where they used to ship 280,000 barrels a month to Chile, the amount was only 40,000 barrels last month. The principal customers there are the nitrate people, and that business is still prostrated by the war."

Discussing the elections Mr. Tenney spoke regretfully of the election of "free-sugar" senators from California and Colorado, two of the largest beet sugar states in the Union.

Following are the portions of Willett & Gray's review to which Mr. Tenney particularly referred, "a look backward" and "a look forward."

STUBBORN FIGHT BEING MADE FOR YOUNG CHILD

Replying to the writ of habeas corpus obtained by James Ah Yap, who alleges his four-year-old child is illegally held by them, David Nakae and Anna Nakae filed their answer in circuit court this morning, declaring the mother, after attempting to kill the boy at birth and desisting only because they promised to take the child and raise it as their own, deserted it two days after it was born.

The mother, Helen Chong, was at her home when the baby was born, aver the Nakae couple. When they promised to take the youngster and adopt it the mother desisted in her efforts to slay it, say the Nakae. Two days after its birth Helen Chong left the Nakae home and has not returned there nor made any claim for the baby, they assert, and Nakae and his wife have raised it as their own. They ask that they be given papers of adoption.

after a survey of conditions both East and West. He says:

"From all I could gather while on the mainland the one thing that would bring about an immediate restoration of confidence and a resumption of business activity would be a change in the complexion of the United States senate and the house of representatives."

"Judging from the returns from the election, it is evidently the intention of the people of the United States to return the Republicans to full control in 1916. I believe that what remains of the Progressive party will now return to the Republican party and that only two great parties will contest the election in 1916 with the tariff as the cardinal issue."

Commenting on the result of the elections in Hawaii he said:

"No more pleasing news greeted me on my arrival here than the clean sweep made by the Republicans in Hawaii. It will be a decided pleasure to communicate to the people whom I met on the mainland the fact that Hawaii was in 'on the land' side."

In Washington Mr. Shingle met many former Honoluluans. "And they'd all like to be back in Honolulu," he remarked.

While in Washington he was in touch with the negotiations for the amendment of the Pearl Harbor contract. Commenting on the news from Walter F. Dillingham published in the Star-Bulletin yesterday that the status of the contract is now "favorable," he says that undoubtedly there will be an early resumption of work by the Hawaiian Dredging Company.

Mrs. Shingle returned on the Matsonia with Mr. Shingle. She joined him on the mainland.

ARMSTRONG BACK AND IS QUICKLY RELEASED ON BAIL

William F. Armstrong, charged with the embezzlement of three bonds valued at $1000 each, said to be the property of the local lodge of Moose, was today released on bail fixed by Circuit Judge Ashford at $2000, C. H. Brown scheduling a surety.

Armstrong returned to this city from San Francisco in custody of Deputy Sheriff Julius Asch. They were passengers in the Matsonia liner Matsonia, reaching port early this morning. Following an encounter with quantities of legal red tape, Deputy Sheriff Asch has emerged from the conflict victorious after weeks spent in traveling between San Francisco and Sacramento, where, following a stiff fight put up by Armstrong against extradition, the man was turned over to the Honolulu authorities by the San Francisco police.

Armstrong traveled in the Matsonia as a cabin passenger. His position was known to but a few fellow passengers. He was given entire freedom about the vessel and mingled with the throng in the rounds of social activities. Deputy Sheriff Asch had a number of officers waiting at the wharf who accompanied Armstrong in an automobile to the police station. Within less than an hour he was again at liberty after the fixing of his bond.

In a full statement written to the Star-Bulletin from San Francisco several months ago, Armstrong strongly maintained his complete innocence of any wrongdoing. His friends say it is a mix-up in which he is not criminally to blame.

HAWAIIAN HULA MORE LIKE A "COON DANCE," SAYS ALBERT P. TAYLOR

That some of the "Hawaiian quintets" which are now playing on the mainland are very poor, and hardly of a nature which would give an audience an impression as to the sweetness of Hawaii's music, is the gist of a report which A. P. Taylor, San Francisco representative of the Promotion Committee, has forwarded to the committee.

"I saw a Hawaiian act at one of the theaters in San Francisco this week," he says, "and the act is very poor. The beautiful Hawaiian songs—Aloha Oe, particularly—is butchered in order to interpolate variations. Hawaiian music is at its best when sung and played as originally composed, and these travelling bands cannot improve them by cheap vaudeville variations. The hula was merely an alleged hula and appears to be largely a 'coon' dance. Instead of really helping to give audiences a real, pleasing impression of Hawaii, vaudeville methods spoil the opportunities in the majority of cases."

MATSONIA BRINGS MUCH SWEETS TO THIS CITY

The Matsonia liner Matsonia brought a fresh shipment of the famous and popular Orange Blossom candies to the Honolulu Drug Co. upon its arrival this morning. These delicious confections have won an enviable reputation and should be remembered all through the holiday season, as this same in rich and wholesome candies.

R. W. SHINGLE CONTRIBUTES TO PARTY'S CAUSE

Local Man Credited With Donation of $500 to Congressional Campaign Fund

By C. S. ALBERT

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 28.—The cause of the Republican party through-out the United States was given quite a substantial boost by Robert W. Shingle. Just at the time when funds were running a trifle low, and campaign thunder was piling up in readiness for effective utilization, he threw $500 into the hopper and the grinding power of the machine thereby was materially increased.

The contribution of Mr. Shingle was made to the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee. It will be expended, along with other donations, in striving to elect a Republican house of representatives, overcoming the present large Democratic majority.

The name of Mr. Shingle, along with those of other prominent men, was printed in all the newspapers as furnishing sinews of war to the under dog in the big political fight.

George M. Yamada of Honolulu will have a chance to rake in a few dollars from the government. He has been awarded the contract for painting the Quarantine Station. The total sum for the work is $1200.

MRS. KATE WELSH NOW ON TRIAL FOR PERJURY

Mrs. Kate Welsh, divorced wife of William L. Welsh, went to trial before a jury in Circuit Judge Ashford's court this morning on a charge of perjury, which has been pending almost a year. The indictment against her grew out of her testimony in the local district court late in October, 1913, when she was summoned as garnishee in a civil suit brought by J. P. Dias against Joseph J. Medeiros, to recover a considerable quantity of money.

It will be remembered by many that about the same time or shortly afterward criminal proceedings were instituted against Medeiros, who fled to the coast, leaving a wife and seven children in destitute circumstances, and died there before he could be brought back by the officer who was sent to San Francisco armed with extradition papers.

In the case in the lower court a number of personal notes were introduced in evidence. These purported to have been signed by Mrs. Welsh and were held by Medeiros, and were for sums aggregating approximately $1700.

Mrs. Welsh on the witness stand denied having any property or money belonging to Medeiros, or receiving any from him. On the ground that evidence introduced at that time showed she had received and did hold a large sum of money given or loaned her by Medeiros the indictment charging perjury was returned.

Dan Kato, second clerk of the district court, and J. H. McChesney, Medeiros' employer were the prosecution's witnesses this morning, the former testifying concerning Mrs. Welsh's statements on the witness stand and the introduction of the Medeiros notes as evidence in the case in district court. McChesney told of the discovery of the notes and of Medeiros' confession to him, that Mrs. Welsh had written them and given them to him for money Medeiros had loaned her.

The hearing was not finished today.

HAWAIIAN BUILDING AT EXPOSITION NOW PROGRESSING RAPIDLY

That the construction of the Hawaiian building for the Panama-Pacific exposition is progressing rapidly is the information received by the Hawaii Fair Commission this morning from C. W. Dickey, the commission's architect in San Francisco. "The tropical garden is going to be a grand success and everything else is turning out well," writes Mr. Dickey. "I have taken up the matter of exterior color decorations with the color department of the exposition and determined the color scheme. The Hawaiian building will be similar to the other exhibition buildings and I think it will be very successful."

Manager of New York theaters refused to rent to Christabel Pankhurst, the English suffragette, any of their theaters despite her assertions that militancy is dead.

THE WAR BILL.

The war bill which Europe is meeting daily is now figured up as follows:

Russia	$14,000,000
Germany	7,225,000
France	7,000,000
England	5,000,000
Austria	4,000,000
Various	3,000,000

$40,225,000

The French appropriation is from official figures as announced by M. Ribot, minister of finance; the English estimate by the London Statist; the German total from "an authoritative source" in a Geneva paper; and the other sums from various conservative estimates which have appeared in one place or another. The item "various" represents the probable expense to which Serbia, Belgium, and the neutral countries of Switzerland, Italy, Rumania, Turkey, Greece, Holland and Denmark have been put.

The vast total does not include the destruction of property where fighting is taking place, nor the well-nigh incalculable losses to Europe of 20,000,000 men under arms being taken from production. There are no indications in France that exhaustion has set in, but it is evident that the accumulated treasure of even the richest country on the continent is being poured out at the rate of $200,000,000 a month to the National Debt.

SUGAR OUTLOOK GOOD.

There is substantial foundation for belief in much improved sugar prices for 1915, a belief of course considerably heightened yesterday when the New York market showed a jump from 3.51 to 4.01 cents after a period of growing depression.

Advices published in these columns several weeks ago pointed to a strengthening of the market sometime before the first of January. While yesterday's advance may be temporary, there is still no reason to expect anything but a strong market early next year and probably continuing for many months.

The European war is giving every indication of running well into next year. The utterances of Earl Kitchener, Lord Churchill and other British leaders, quoted this morning, indicate that an early victory is not expected. From their point of view, Germany has first to be driven back into her own territory and there attacked, a program which means a protracted, bitter and exhausting struggle.

Even if the European demand for sugar is not such as to cause large exportations from the United States, the situation will be a satisfactory one for the U. S. producers. The normal American demand will keep prices up, in the absence of the inroads of foreign sugars threatened by the lowering of the tariff and its ultimate removal.

The industrial outlook for Hawaii is much brighter than could have been expected six months ago. While there is no reason for a scrambling, reckless speculation stimulated by the prospects of higher prices, there is good foundation for optimism generally.

THE GROWTH OF THE U. S. BATTLESHIP.

One hundred and thirty-three years ago last Thursday the 74-gun line-of-battleship America was launched at Portsmouth, N. H. If the word had been in use, this battleship would have been known as America's first "dreadnought." It was built under the direction of Paul Jones, the famous naval hero of the Revolution. When Jones returned from Europe in 1781 after his battle on the Bonhomme Richard with the Serapis, Congress tendered him a vote of thanks, and authorized him to go ahead and build the America to drive the British from our waters. But it took time then, as well as now, to build a battleship, and before the America was finished the war had ended. Congress presented the ship to France to offset the loss of the 74-gun French ship Magnifique, which had been destroyed in Boston harbor. So the first line-of-battleship the United States ever built never had a chance to show its fighting strength under the American flag.

Today the superdreadnought Pennsylvania is the battleship Connecticut as the gunship America was to the converted East Indiaman, the Bonhomme Richard, in which Paul Jones first made the American navy a power on the sea. When the Bonhomme Richard defeated the Serapis the American nation numbered less than 3,000,000; today it has more than thirty times that number, but it has a navy ten thousand times as strong as its little collection of warships in Revolutionary days. One of the smallest gunboats today could sink the whole fleet of brigs and schooners of 1776, and possibly whip the whole British navy of that day. A battleship like the Pennsylvania could annihilate all the navies of the world in the days of the Revolution. The Pennsylvania cost over $14,000,000, or enough to build all the modern warships of the world in 1776. An hour's broadside from this superdreadnought would cost more than it did to build the first American battleship.

BLUE BLOOD SHED.

The casualty returns from the scene of the war reveal the fact that the blood of the nobility of Europe is mingling freely with that of the peasants on the battlefields, points out the Vancouver Sun. Proportionately the aristocracy is contributing the largest number to the toll of death. The bullets and shells that mow down the rank and file do not spare the officers. There is no discrimination of birth or position with these death-dealing missiles. Nearly every able-bodied man of the so-called upper classes is engaged in the war either with the land or sea forces. Most of them are officers and the percentages of deaths among them has been remarkably high. In the European countries military service is compulsory, which accounts for so many of the nobility being in action. Although not a conscript nation, the best families in Britain are strongly represented at the front. Austria, the haughtiest of all nations, has suffered the most, for her losses have fallen upon the crack regiments. Germany, France and Russia are not much behind and Britain has contributed her full quota.

Should the war be prolonged the result can scarcely be imagined. The death of a young man may end a direct line of princes. Titles will pass to younger brothers or distant relatives. Direct heirs to estates will fall. The French revolution worked marvelous changes among the aristocracy. Great estates were confiscated and sold as small holdings.

A similar breaking up may result from the present war, with a curtailment of class privilege and a corresponding increase in opportunities for the tillers of the soil.

Cuba has just gone through a peaceful election. Until the United States established stable government in the island, there was generally a revolution or two before and after the day of balloting. If the Mexicans can't settle their internal troubles peaceably, sooner or later the United States will have to intervene and establish and maintain a government long enough to show the voters they don't need to kill each other to lend emphasis to their political opinions.

France has extended the ban on alcoholic spirits. Russia has gone out of the vodka business. Booze of any sort is prohibited in most of the armies. In the Scandinavian countries the governments are discouraging the sale of liquor. In the United States, every election sees more states going "dry." The signs of the times are plain.

William Kent was elected to Congress from the first district of California, according to the incomplete returns so far received. The race was close but "Billy," who was running as an independent, had a clear lead over Edward Hart, Republican. Kent's brand of independence seems to be liked by the California folks.

After conducting a strategical retirement, the price of sugar maintained an entrenched position for a short time and now has begun a vigorous advance.

The exploits of the German cruiser Emden before her defeat will rank as among the most brilliant in naval annals of the last four centuries.

Among the recently-discovered causes of gray hair is puzzling over delicate questions of neutrality.

Przemysl was bad enough, but Wyszytyer—quick, officer, the strait-jacket!

Mexico is in line for another slap on the wrist.

Letters of TIMELY TOPICS

BRINGING BILLY SUNDAY.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir: Let's look at this Billy Sunday matter from the standpoint of promotion for the territory as a whole. Suppose they do bring that energetic ex-ballplayer here for the purpose of energizing the evangelistic field and promoting the spread of religion by acquiring new converts under the spell of Billy Sunday's magnetic personality—what will be the ultimate result? It doesn't require much effort to see that, while congregations may be enlarged during his visit the moment he leaves the "spell" leaves with him—and in a short time the churches will again resume work with the same old original number of standpatters. That $10,000 looms large as a payment for mere vaudeville entertainment—and that's what Billy Sunday furnishes when you analyze the proposition.

Here's a counter proposition—and one that will redound to the credit and aid of the entire territory, and for years instead of the few weeks that B. S. would stimulate. Elbert Hubbard, indubitably the most-read writer of the United States, will come here without charge to the territory; he'll make an eyes-open trip throughout the islands and then write "A Little Journey to Hawaii" in his inimitable style. This will be printed in the regular 80,000 edition of The Free Magazine, a magazine whose subscribers have money or a good education, or both. The only obligation the territory incurs is to purchase 25,000 copies of that magazine to be sent out to a selected list of people. This will cost $5000—and 105,000 people are told, all in one month, about the beauties of this group of islands.

Hubbard's story can then be taken as a text for a booklet well illustrated with local pictures, and this sent out instead of, or in addition to, the regular mailing matter of the Promotion Committee.

Here's a proposition that actually helps the whole of Hawaii, yet costs only half as much as the B. S. proposition that can help only a few. Doesn't it seem better to spread abroad the Gospel of Hawaii instead of merely rehearsing the Gospel of the Church for local hearing?

We've had too much religion here already, Mr. Editor—it is trying to nullify the work of bringing tourists and settlers to this territory. It has been behind the outrageous, back-number Sunday law; it stands behind Prohibition—and yet, actual prohibition will cause Hawaii to have mighty few visitors; it stands behind Billy Sunday now with a purse of $10,000—yet the Lombardi Opera Company would come back for a longer engagement, probably, for less than half that much as a guarantee.

Let's forget church a little while and do a little bit for the country. If the Elbert Hubbard proposition doesn't look good, and that $10,000 must be spent, send it to Belgium, or build a mile of road with it. Any of these counter propositions will be of more service to all than the B. S. scheme.

Very truly yours,

EDW. W. F. ST. GEORGE.

AFFECTED BY THE BAND'S MUSIC

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir:—Kindly allow me a space in one of your valuable columns in order that my appreciation for the most wonderful and sweet, heart-touching music ever was known in the history of the Hawaiian Band, in Emma square last night. It was a treat to one and all who heard it and I am positively convinced to say for a fact that who had not heard the Hawaiian Band last night have really missed something that they now regret.

The Hawaiian Band, under the leadership of Capt. Henri Berger, has shown some novelty in music that he and the good boys of the band are worthy of my statements by which the music lovers of this town should also boost for the Hawaiian Band.

When the band struck up a piece named "Circus Gavotte," which was composed by Pledge, there and then I noticed the novelty for the clarinet solo, the cornet solo and baritone solo which was written to be prominent in said piece, was produced in such a manner that I cannot help but mention it in this issue. The music was soft and sweet and it was really being elevated by the boys to the highest standpoint.

Therefore I presume that this notice shall be one that all the music lovers in this town should advocate the truth.

Respectfully yours,
MUSIC LOVER.

J. S. McCANDLESS SAYS ELECTIONS HELP BUSINESS

Republicans Grow in Strength With Voters All Over Country—Shriner Matters

Achieving one of the highest honors in Shrinerdom—election to the Imperial Divan—on his latest trip to the mainland, James S. McCandless, known to all Hawaii as "Sunny Jim," is back in Honolulu again. He arrived this morning on the Matsushima, accompanied by Mrs. McCandless.

Mr. McCandless, commenting on the results of the elections, believes that it will be a stimulus to business, particularly Hawaiian business, because of the indications that the Republican party is steadily gaining in strength throughout the states.

Speaking of his trip he said: "We have been away from our sunny isles a long time, ever since last March. I have been in California most of the time looking after my interests in that state.

"I am interested in 35,000 acres of land, river bottom land, along the Sacramento river. We are subdividing this and selling it out to farmers on the installment plan, one-fourth cash, balance in one and five years."

"I have spent a great part of this summer in the mountains of the California-Hawaiian Development Company. We have not found our expected Eldorado yet, but we have just as much faith as ever in this prospect and we are going right ahead with this work.

"You have already told the people through your paper all about my election on the Imperial Divan, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, as Imperial Marshal; this was two boosts up the line, placing me another year closer to the top, where we hope to land. And if the day comes when Aloha Temple has an Imperial Potentate, we will show them that Hawaii is on the map. We have won a great honor for Aloha Temple but we hope to win greater honors by being advanced up the line until I am elected the Imperial Potentate, the highest office within the gift of the Imperial Council.

"When we sailed from San Francisco we had only received meager returns from the election, but the business people of San Francisco were very much elated over the news from the East that the Republicans had been so successful. While the Republicans were not able to elect their governor in California, on the whole they are very hopeful, for they have made a good showing and are very sanguine that they will win out in 1916, and this seems to be the general opinion all along the line. The people will never forgive the Democrats for passing a war revenue tax in times of peace. The war was only a subterfuge. They were in a hole; their cutting of the tariff lost them millions of dollars in revenue and they had to have money to run the government. They have been very extravagant and the handwriting is on the wall, put there by this last election.

"I think the result of this election will help business. The banks and the people that have money have been holding on to it. Lack of confidence in the Democratic Congress has made the hard times we have been passing through and I am glad to hear Hawaii has stayed by the G. O. P.

"This terrible war has helped California as she has been able to supply a great deal of the foodstuffs that the world needs, and it is going out of that state by the shipload.

"The weather in San Francisco was fine when we left. The Panama exposition buildings are almost completed and the fair will be opened on time, February 20th, 1915. The Hawaiian building is a credit to the territory and is in a good location and will soon be ready for occupancy."

Start your Christmas shopping now. Help the good prosperity along. Long evenings and pretty materials make pretty Christmas gifts.

Charged with having detained certain mail matter, John P. Mendolia, formerly an employee of the local post-office, will appear in the federal court at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning for trial.

HOW UNCLE SAM INTERNED THREE OF RUSSIA'S WARSHIPS AT MANILA

Precedents Established Then of Interest Now in Cruiser Geier Case

The Star-Bulletin yesterday told the story of the internment of the Russian cruiser Lena at San Francisco. Below is given the circumstances under which three Russian warships sought refuge at Manila and the action in their case. This discussion, which is from Dr. John Bassett Moore's "International Law Digest," is of peculiar local interest on account of the internment of the German cruiser Geier.

June 3, 1905, three Russian men-of-war, the Aurora, the Oleg and the Zemchug, after an engagement with the Japanese, sought asylum at Manila. The commander of the squadron Admiral Enquist, stated that the Aurora and the Oleg were seriously damaged, and that the Zemchug was in bad condition; and he requested permission to make repairs and to fill up with provisions and coal. On board the ships there were 130 wounded men. Permission was at once granted by the local authorities for the landing of a number of these, and an examination was made by a United States naval board of the condition of the ships. It was found that the Aurora and the Oleg, which were seriously injured near the water line, would require, respectively, 30 to 50 days to repair, while the Zemchug would require seven; and that none of them had coal enough to steam. Admiral Enquist desired 3000 tons of coal. The facts were immediately reported by the authorities in the Philippines to the war department and the navy department by which they were in turn communicated to the department of state.

Damage by Sea and by War.

In a memorandum of June 6, 1905, Mr. W. L. Penfield, then solicitor of the department of state, after referring (1) to Art. VI of the treaty of Washington of May 8, 1871, by which it is declared that a neutral government is bound not to permit either belligerent to make use of its ports or waters as the base of naval operations against the other or for the purpose of renewal or augmentation of supplies of arms and munitions of war or the recruitment of men; (2) to the clause in the president's neutrality proclamation of February 11, 1904, limiting the stay of belligerent men-of-war to 24 hours, except in certain cases; (3) to the similar clause in the British neutrality proclamation issued during the Spanish-American war; and (4) to the clause in the neutrality rules promulgated by the Italian government in 1864, and again in 1898, forbidding the increase, under pretext of repairs, of warlike force by belligerent ships, or the execution under such pretext, of any work that could in any way add to their fighting strength, expressed the opinion that the president's proclamation of February 11, 1904, in what it said concerning repairs of belligerent ships, referred only to damage caused by the sea and not to damage caused by war, and that, if the Russian ships were permitted to renew their fighting strength, either by the restoration of their guns or of their armor plate, or to repair any other damage caused by the guns of the Japanese fleet the neutral port in which such things were allowed would become a naval arsenal for the belligerent and a base of his hostile operations. He adverted to the internment of the Russian cruiser Lena at San Francisco, in the summer of 1904, on the ground that the repairs which she required were so extensive as to amount to a renovation of the ship, although in that case there was no war damage to be repaired.

Could Not Repair War Damages.

"In conformity with the view taken in this memorandum, the secretary of the navy on the same day telegraphed to Admiral Train, commanding the United States Asiatic fleet, then at Cavite, that the Russian vessels could not be allowed to repair war damages unless interned, it being the policy of the United States to restrict all belligerent operations in its ports. Admiral Train was instructed to confer with Mr. Wright, governor-general of the Philippines, and if he approved to take charge of the vessels.

"On the next day, June 6, the war department instructed Gov. Wright to advise Admiral Enquist that as his ships were suffering from damage due to battle and as it was the policy of the United States to restrict all operations of belligerents in neutral ports, the president could not consent to any repairs unless the ships were interned at Manila till the close of hostilities. Governor Wright was further directed, after notifying Admiral Enquist of this conclusion, to turn over to execution of the order to Admiral Train.

"In reporting on June 6 the execution of these orders, Governor Wright stated that Admiral Enquist, on being advised of the ruling as to repairs, had expressed a wish to cable his government on the subject, and had asked whether he would be required to put to sea within 24 hours or would be allowed to obtain coal and provisions sufficient to take him to his nearest port. The ships, said Governor Wright, had been allowed to take only 150 tons of coal for use in the harbor, and enough food supplies to last from day to day. Governor Wright also stated that he had just received a communication from the Japanese consul at Manila calling attention to the fact that three Russian warships had been in the harbor since the night of June 3, and asking whether the 24-hour limit would be enforced. He had replied that, in view of the condition of the ships and of their request for coal and repairs, he was awaiting instructions.

Twenty-four-Hour Limit Enforced.
"With reference to this report the war department, on the same day, instructed Governor Wright that the president directed that the 24-hour limit must be strictly enforced, and that the necessary supplies and coal must be taken within that time.

"On June 9 Admiral Train reported that, as the Russian ships had not left the harbor within the required 24 hours, he had notified Admiral Enquist that the force under his command must be considered as interned after June 8 at noon. Admiral Train stated that disarmament was going on by removing the breech plugs, and that the engines were put in such condition that they were practically disabled for the purpose of internment by limiting the coal supply. He added that Admiral Enquist, in accordance with instructions of his government, had expressed his willingness to give his parole and the paroles of his officers and men not to take any further part in the war.

"June 13, 1905, the Russian ambassador at Washington inquired whether the hospital ship Kostroma, which had been ordered from Shanghai to Manila, would be allowed to take wounded or sick officers and sailors from Admiral Enquist's vessels back to Russia on their giving their paroles to take no further part in the war. A similar inquiry was received from Admiral Train. The matter was on June 20 brought to the attention of the Japanese legation, but on the next day, before its answer was received, the Kostroma arrived at Manila, and the president deemed it proper and humane to direct a compliance with the Russian request, upon the officers and men giving their parole, in accordance with the assurance given in the Russian ambassador's note. Meanwhile, the Japanese government instructed its legation to state that it would not object to any disposition which the United States might see fit to make of the subject.

"June 20 Admiral Enquist, through the French consul, asked permission to bring from Shanghai material and other munitions of war for repairing his vessel, such as cordage, sail cloth, waste, and oil for machinery, and other articles. Permission was granted by the war department, with the understanding that the vessels were still to remain in internment.

Might Fly Flag.

"June 24 Admiral Train inquired whether the hauling down of the flag of the Russian ships was regarded as a necessary condition of internment. The department of state, on being consulted, advised, June 28, that the internment of the ships did not take from them their nationality, and that, although the hospitality which the Russian ships enjoyed at Manila was limited by the exigencies of war and the duties of the United States as a neutral, yet the internment would not seem to deprive them of the mere privilege of flying their national colors. Admiral Train was accordingly instructed that the hauling down of the flag was not considered a necessary condition of internment.

Parole of Sick Men.

"July 26, 1905, the Russian ambassador at Washington asked that Sub-Lieut. Bertenson of the Aurora be allowed to return to Russia, on his parole not to take further part in the war. The request, which appeared to be made as for a favor, was, with the concurrence of the Japanese government, granted. It soon appeared, however, by a cable from Manila, that Sub-Lieut. Bertenson was ill, and that Admiral Enquist had asked permission not only for him, but for certain other officers, who also were ill, to return to Russia, their physical condition requiring that they leave the climate of Manila. Permission was given with the concurrence of the Japanese government, granted for their return to Russia on parole, it appearing by the examination and report of the United States naval authorities at Manila that they were ill. The permission embraced two lieutenants and two sublieutenants.

"Toward the end of July, 1905, the Russian government announced that it would detail Commander Bartch to take command of the Aurora, in place of Capt. Jegorieff, deceased. The naval authorities at Manila were instructed to permit him, on his arrival, to take command of the ship and to obtain his parole under the same conditions as were required of the officers of the other interned vessels.

Shipbuilder Paroled.

"October 7, 1905, the commander of the United States naval forces in the Philippines cabled that Admiral Enquist had asked permission for Shipbuilder Levitzky to return to Russia, in parole for urgent and satisfactory personal reasons. Under the conditions then existing, it being assumed that a shipbuilder was not an active combatant, permission was granted without obtaining the consent of the Japanese government.

"October 18, 1905, Mr. Root, secretary of state, referring to his letter of the 14th of the month to the secretary of the navy advising the latter that the government of the United States had been officially notified of the ratification of the treaty of peace between Russia and Japan by both governments and that the Lena and her complement at San Francisco might be released, wrote to the secretary of the navy that the same treatment might be accorded to the Russian war vessels and their complements at Manila or in Philippine waters. Instructions were accordingly given to the United States naval authorities in the Philippines, and within a few days the vessels departed."

M'BRYDE COURSE ON FINANCES TO BE PASSED UPON

Special Meeting of Stockholders Tomorrow of Much Importance to Plantation

One of the most important plantation special meetings of the year, will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce—a special meeting of the stockholders of McBryde Sugar Company, Ltd. Questions of plantation finances are to come up on which depend much of the future of McBryde, and the officers and directors hope that the attendance will be large.

The objects of the meeting, as set forth in the notice to the stockholders, are as follows:

1. The question of reducing the capital stock of the company by such amount as will wipe out the debit balances on the profit and loss and installation accounts in order to make it possible legally to declare and pay dividends whenever the company is otherwise in a position to do so.
2. To consider whether or not McBryde Sugar Company, Limited should purchase the stock in the Kauai Fruit and Land Company, Limited, covered by options in favor of said McBryde Sugar Company, Limited, expiring December 31, 1914.
3. To consider whether or not McBryde Sugar Company, Limited, should take up and pay the promissory note of $142,972.96 made to Alexander & Baldwin, Limited, under date of January 2, 1914, and payable three years after date, the privilege having been, however, reserved for liquidating the same on any interest paying date.
4. All such other business as may be incidental to the matters aforesaid or which may properly be brought before the meeting.

To be discharged of 1200 tons of Oriental cargo, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamer Sefyo Maru departed last evening for Hilo. The Japanese cruiser Asama is believed to have conveyed the merchantman to the Big Island and may continue in that capacity when the vessel steams for Mexico, Central and South American ports.

Special Assistant Thomas Leaves Many Friends in Honolulu

M. A. Thomas of San Francisco who departs for the Coast this afternoon, having been relieved of his duties as special assistant to the United States attorney-general.

Having turned over the local district attorney's office to Jeff McCarn in response to instructions from the attorney-general at Washington, D. C., M. A. Thomas, who has been in position of the local office in the capacity of special assistant to the attorney-general since the commencement of the McCarn trials, will leave for San Francisco on the steamer Manoa this afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Thomas.

Upon his arrival in San Francisco Mr. Thomas will assume the duties of chief assistant to J. W. Preston, United States attorney in the coast city.

Mr. Thomas came to Honolulu August 24 at the instance of the attorney-general to take Mr. McCarn's place while the latter was engaged in the trial of the case of his alleged assault upon Attorney Claudius H. McBride. His orders were to remain here "until further notice." Further notice came to Mr. Thomas Thursday, and on the afternoon of that day he turned the office over to District Attorney McCarn.

In the departure of Mr. Thomas Honolulu will lose a sincere booster, but, as Mr. Thomas said this morning, his returning to San Francisco will not mean that he will lose any of the aloha which he has gained for Hawaii during his brief residence here. He has made a host of friends in Honolulu and was slated as a highly favored candidate for the position of district attorney for Hawaii when a report recently made the rounds that a resignation, tendered to Washington by Mr. McCarn, had been accepted, and that Mr. McCarn was to retire from office November 15.

During his residence in Honolulu Mr. Thomas has gained an excellent reputation in local legal and other business circles. As an attorney he has proved himself to be of the class who do not resort to that phase of tactics known as "fireworks," and his addresses to juries in the federal court have been forceful and convincing.

Mr. Thomas' departure probably will be most keenly felt and regretted in federal circles.

"My opinion of Mr. Thomas is that which is being expressed by all who know him," said Mr. McCarn today. "I have found him to be thoroughly competent and a gentleman in every respect."

United States Marshal Jerome J. Smiddy and the members of his office sincerely regret Mr. Thomas' departure.

"He is a competent efficient and a perfect gentleman," said the marshal. "He is a man who delivers the goods, and one who can swing a jury with a heart to heart, gentlemanly talk."

Mr. Thomas says that he has grown to like Honolulu and is very adverse to leaving.

"One who has received the courteous treatment that I have during my stay here could not help but like Honolulu. Mrs. Thomas joins with me in this expression of aloha," he added.

Bringing a cargo from the Orient, the Pacific Mail liner China is reported to have sailed from the Japanese ports on last Saturday and is due to arrive at Honolulu on November 17.

A grain cargo is reported to await the arrival of the British bark Kinross-shire at the Sound. The vessel is about discharged of a large shipment of phosphates and is expected to sail for the north Pacific within one week.

Belgian King Appeals to America
Asks Aid For Starving Subjects

LONDON, Oct. 31, 5:30 p. m.—Albert, King of the Belgians, has asked the American people, through the American commission for relief in Belgium, to help feed his starving people during the coming winter. The king's message, written under fire in the battle before Dunkirk, follows:

I am informed that officials and citizens in Belgium and England are working to save my people from the horrors of the famine which now threatens them. It is a great comfort to me in this hour of sorrow and misfortune to feel that a great-hearted, disinterested people is directing its efforts to relieving the distress of the unoffending civilian population of my country.

Despite all that can be done, the suffering in the coming winter will be terrible, but the burden we must bear will be lightened if my people can be spared the pangs of hunger with its frightful consequences of disease and violence.

I confidently hope that the appeal of the American commission will meet with a generous response. The whole-hearted friendship of America shown my people at this time always will be a precious memory.

ARMY LADIES WILL AID IN SALE
OF LITTLE MESSENGERS OF HEALTHRed Cross Seal Campaign Will Be Taken Over The Island of
Oahu and Through Group

Army ladies have enlisted in the campaign for the sale of red cross seals and Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham and Secretary Rath of the Anti-Tuberculosis League are preparing to extend the line of battle into the country districts. Mrs. Carter, wife of Maj. Gen. Carter, commander of the Hawaiian department, will lead this branch of the work. Mrs. Edwards, wife of General Edwards, is to conduct the sale at Schofield Barracks, assisted by other ladies. Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Coe and other ladies prominent in the local military colony, are lending their aid to the cause, and the little red seals are marching by packages of ten thousand into every nook of the island.

Mr. Rath announced this morning that Mrs. Bloomfield Brown is to take charge of the sale in Wahiawa while E. K. Bull and James Gibb will lead the anti-tuberculosis forces in Waipahu and Aiea, respectively.

Mr. Rath received the following letter from the Chamber of Commerce this morning:

Your letter of October 30, addressed to Mr. George P. Denison, wherein you ask endorsement of the Charities and Social Welfare Committee of this chamber to a plan of selling Christmas Red Cross seals, 90 per cent of the proceeds from such sale remaining in the Territory for anti-tuberculosis work and 10 per cent to be sent to the American Red Cross in return for seals, advertising matter, etc., has been received.

Replying thereto, I have to inform you that at a meeting of the Charities and Social Welfare Committee the matter was considered and your plan has the approval of the committee.

(Signed) RAYMOND C. BROWN.

The first meeting of the local forces, headed by Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham, was held at her home in Punahou yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and the date for the first day of the seals was set for next Monday, to continue until all of the four hundred thousand seals are traveling through the mails on Christmas letters.

The ladies were assigned to different districts, the city being divided into thirty "precincts" for that purpose. Talks were given by Dr. Sinclair and Mr. Rath and after the maps, seals and literature had been distributed, dainty refreshments were served.

The ladies are now working hard to complete their organization in their own districts and seeking volunteers to assist in the sale.

ROLLER SKATING
BECOMING HABIT
IN HONOLULUManagement Proposes to Give Dance But Postpones First
Until Next Week

Roller skating has "caught on" in Honolulu and gives ample promise of becoming "a habit." Since the opening night, last Friday, the management has been unable to supply the demand for skates, notwithstanding the fact that 500 pairs of the latest Chicago make were in the skate room when the ring was opened.

Keen pleasure and good, healthful exercise is the result of an hour spent on the new maple floor, which is in excellent condition and which is "surfaced" each morning following its use the night before.

It had been the intention of the management to give a dance tomorrow evening but the demand for skating has proved too insistent and the dance will be postponed for at least one week.

Commenting on the dances that the company proposes to give, Manager Le Claire said: "We propose to run dances on the same high plane that we have insisted on for roller skating. No unruly element will be tolerated and any evidence of any ungentlemanly conduct will lead to someone leaving the house. It is our purpose to give Honolulu something new and different in the amusement line. We believe there is a large field here and that we have something that the people want. We are here to stay and wish to establish a reputation for running an orderly place.

"In our aim we hope for the cooperation of the public and feel that we are entitled to it and will get it."

Taxes—last day is Nov. 15. Bring your tax bills with you.—Adv.

BAN ON VODKA
HAS BEEN BOON
TO ALL RUSSIA

The Searchlight, official organ of the Anti-Saloon league of California, says in the issue of November:

"The minister of finance, P. Bark, at Petrograd last week received an order that the prohibition of the sale of vodka shall be continued indefinitely after the end of the war. This order is based principally on the tremendously improved condition of the country since the emperor issued the edict prohibiting traffic in this liquor.

"Visitors arriving from southern Russia say there is such a change in that region that the country is hardly recognizable. Peasants who before the war had fallen into hopeless indolence and depravity already have emerged into self-respecting citizens. The effect on character is already visible in neatly brushed clothes instead of the former ragged and slovenly attire. Butts which were formerly dilapidated and allowed to go without repairs are now kept in first-class condition.

"The towns have become more orderly and the peasants indulge in wholesome amusements. These people now save 55 per cent of their earnings which formerly was spent for drink and they have increased their earning capacity through sobriety. This extra money is now devoted to the necessities and comforts of life.

"This startling regeneration of the peasantry is, in the opinion of the Russian authorities, likely to have an important effect on the social and economic conditions of all Russia. A change in the large cities also is noticeable. Liquor is still sold in first-class cafes, but these are virtually empty. The Nevsky Prospect, once famous for its gay midnight life, is now quiet without a sign of revelry.—The Springfield Republican, October 8, 1914.

WORK OF GUARD
IN THE FIELD
IS COMMENDEDReport By Army Officers on
Field Inspection of N. G. H.
Is Favorable

That the National Guard of Hawaii made a good showing during the joint encampment with the 2d Infantry held at Red Hill last July, is shown by extracts from the report of the regular army inspector, Lieut. W. C. Whitener, on duty with the guardsmen. This summary of the inspector's report on the field inspection has just been received by the adjutant-general, Col. J. W. Jones, from the chief of the Division of Militia Affairs.

Following are some of the points touched on:

Present in camp 38 officers, 612 enlisted men.

Absent from camp, 8 officers, 220 enlisted men.

Company L below minimum strength, and regiment has no band.

Company drills in extended order, combat and camping rated as "very good."

Battalion close order good, in view of the fact that but little drill had been held previous to the encampment. Battalion combat good, and regimental combat good, but lacking team work.

Discipline and arms, uniforms and equipment is classed as "satisfactory."

"Lieut.-col. William R. Riley, 1st Infantry, was very earnest and conscientious in the performance of his duties," says the report. "He devoted much attention to the sanitation of the camp and to discipline. He allowed no absenteeism except when specially excused by himself and noted on the rolls. He was in harmony with the officers detailed as inspector-instructors."

Capt. Geo. B. Schrader, quartermaster; Capt. R. W. Warham, commissary; Capt. A. W. Neely, L. S. A. P., and Chaplain Valentin Franck are all commended on their work.

The general efficiency of the regiment is rated as "fair."

MAUI NEWS

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence) WAILUKU, Maui, Nov. 7.—W. A. Anderson has been a Wailuku visitor this week and attended a meeting of the Nahu Rubber Company directors Thursday at the Baldwin Bank in Kahului. Mr. Anderson leaves this evening for Honolulu for a few days' trip on business.

Letters have been received by several Wailuku people within the last two weeks from Judge and Mrs. Selden B. Kingsbury, who have been visiting friends and relatives in California. Lately they have been with his daughter and her husband in Los Angeles, and the Judge has opened an office only recently with his son Fred, whom also he has been visiting.

At the suggestion of Father Francis of the Maui Boy Scouts, a reception and dance will be given at the Alexander house gymnasium in Wailuku the last Saturday of this month. The object of the dance is to raise funds for the Boy Scouts of Maui and put the movement on a solid foundation.

At Kahului on November 11th a benefit moving picture exhibition followed by a dance will take place. The proceeds go to the Kahului kindergarten, which needs funds to help carry on the work of the flourishing school under Miss Marie Holt.

Last Friday evening a delightful Halloween party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Leslie West of Wailuku. The guests were the members of the dancing class that has been meeting at the West home, except Miss Aloha Whisler, who was the invited guest of the evening. Dancing was enjoyed until late and refreshments were served.

A great time is expected tomorrow evening at the Makawao Community house, when the new building will be formally opened. Elaborate preparations for the booths have been made, and a very attractive program for the first part of the evening has been prepared.

A boys' and girls' book shelf together with Winston's Cumulative Encyclopedia have just been added to the Maui Library Association's collection of books. The order was placed today through the library committee with F. J. Kelly.

"WHERE YOU ALWAYS SEE THE BEST"

Messrs. Blair and Bredhoff beg to announce the engagement extraordinary of Miss Marta Golden at the Popular theater, beginning Wednesday evening, November the 11th.

Miss Golden has for the past two years been a member of H. W. Bishop's Ye Liberty playhouse stock company in Oakland, California. When 'Miss Marie Dressler severed her connection with the Gaiety theater in San Francisco, the management considered Miss Golden the most capable comedienne to fill Miss Dressler's place, which she did and was enormously successful with both press and public.

Miss Golden has just arrived in Honolulu for a vacation, after two seasons of diligent work but the Messrs. Blair and Bredhoff have induced her to play a limited engagement at the Popular theater. Miss Golden has an extensive repertoire and among the character studies she will present are: "When the Minister Comes to Tea," (at the piano); "The Wreck of the Julie Plant," by Sir William Henry Drummond; "Travesty Waltz Song," the nine-show-a-day attraction; "The Boarding House girl, playing Rubenstein's melody in F, as she was taught to play it and as she played it after visiting the cabarets," (at the piano); "How Margaret Played the Charminade," "Air de Ballet Number 1," (travesty, at the piano); "The Old Place Doesn't Look the Same," written by Miss Golden; "The Return Home of the Stranded Actress"; "Well, I Swan"; "I Want to Be Just Your Little Rag Doll," by Miss Golden.

Miss Golden will be featured as an addition to the regular program, namely: Mr. Cyril Scott in the splendid photoplay "THE DAY OF DAYS," third edition of the "Perils of Pauline" and the up-to-the-minute Pathe Weekly.

Note—Only one performance an evening will be given, starting promptly at 7:30. Matinee Wednesday and Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

WEEK OF PRAYER

Y. W. C. A.

In observation of the world's week of prayer which now is being observed by associations all over the world, the members of the local Young Women's Christian Association gathered in the Boston building this noon for a special service led by Miss Gould, matron of the Castle Home. These meetings are to be held each day at noon during the remainder of the present week, and all women of the city are invited to be in attendance.

The topic of the services this noon was "The Exigencies of the Way," the text taken being "These things have I spoken unto you, that in me ye may have peace. In the world ye may have tribulation; but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."—John 16:33. The discussion dealt with the work of the association in Canada, the United States, South America and the West Indies being outlined as follows:

"The Canadian association, just beyond our northern border, is similar to that in the United States. The past year a summer conference, school girls' camps, and campers' clubs have had splendid spiritual results and the students in western Canada have had opportunity to attend a summer conference. The first training course for secretaries has been encouraging. Prayer is asked for the development of high school work; for the formation of a western student department; and for an awakened sense of spiritual responsibility for workers and for individual members.

"The United States is grateful for a general awakening of religious consciousness among students and among women in the cities; for the helpfulness of the National Training School in preparing secretaries for service everywhere; for the first national conference of negro students held in the United States; for the great development in girls' work; for a notable conference of social workers and student leaders. Prayer is asked that the membership may feel a personal responsibility for the whole association and that they may rise to their responsibility in prayer and giving for the entire work, especially in these days of financial stringency, for volunteer workers with a special sense of social responsibility for girls in the country, for girls of cities, and for women students; for the guidance of God in all arrangements for the next biennial convention at Los Angeles in May, 1915; and for the building and activities of the Young Women's Christian Association at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco, 1915; for the nation-wide campaign for foreign finance and education concerning foreign association work.

"South America. The work in South America is organized in Rio de Janeiro, in Buenos Aires. The latter city has at present two secretaries sent from the United States. The cosmopolitan nature of the work in South America is evidenced by the following countries who were represented in the Buenos Aires boarding home last year—England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, America, France, Germany, Hungary, Holland, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Italy, Spain and the Argentine. Prayer is

Y. M. C. A.

The local Y. M. C. A. is this week uniting with other organizations of the world in observing the week of prayer. There are more than 8900 different associations in 42 different countries. These organizations are uniting in prayer this week especially for the young men of European countries which are at war. John R. Mott has recently received word that there are more than 200,000 members of the association at the front. The international committee has asked that all members of the associations unite in praying for these men and for all men who are in the armies.

The following is the special subject for prayer today:

For Those Who are Fighting.
That the soldiers and sailors engaged in the present conflict may be kept from yielding to lust, vainglory, revenge, or other unholy passion, and that in the midst of peril they may be held through life or death to put their trust in God.

That the wounded and sick may be given succor and relief and be endowed with grace, each according to his need, and that by the very discipline of suffering they may be taught a fuller obedience to the loving will of their Heavenly Father.

That those who are dying may be prepared in heart for higher service in the life eternal and be given unfaltering faith in Him who can lead them safely through the valley of the shadow of death; and that they may be able in quiet confidence to entrust all their loved ones to the tender care of the Good Shepherd, the Divine Comforter, the Heavenly King.

That those who minister to the physical or spiritual needs of the sick and wounded may manifest more and more of the sympathy, skill, and faithfulness of Christ Himself.

GOVERNOR'S REPORT NOW MADE PUBLIC

Annual Statement to Secretary of Interior Discusses Sugar and Tariff Briefly

NEEDED LEGISLATION SEEN BY EXECUTIVE

Industrial and Other Conditions Summed Up in Outline of Situation

The report of Governor L. E. Pinkham to the secretary of the interior for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1914, has been made public, copies of the report reaching Honolulu this morning from Washington.

The governor discusses industrial conditions and problems and needed legislation. In discussing sugar and tariff legislation he says in part:

Under the protective tariff of the United States sugar production in Hawaii was stimulated to a great development. Nearly all sugar enterprises established previous to the year 1898 had normal beginnings and gradual and healthy growth, physically and financially. In just so far as these same methods have been adhered to, these estates are sound today. In 1898 modern methods of physical optimism, valuations, capitalization, haste, and anticipation of profits obtained. The failure of these methods of business has placed a burden on investors, the responsibility for which it is attempted to shift on to legislation. The territory has felt the depression in the prices of sugar and such depression strikes a practically two-crop country severely. Privately it is admitted that the responsibility lies in the marked overproduction in the world's sugar supply, in which Hawaii has had its full part.

The main recommendations are contained in an introductory summary of conditions, which is as follows: General Conditions. The territory of Hawaii is practically a two-crop country and can not be called a self-contained country. It produces a varying per cent of perishable articles for local consumption, always endeavoring to add varieties and nonperishable products and thus become more and more self-sustaining. It is primarily a country of exports with resulting imports for the maintenance of its inhabitants and enlargement of its enterprises.

Under the protective tariff of the United States sugar production in Hawaii was stimulated to a great development. Nearly all sugar enterprises established previous to the year 1898 had normal beginnings and gradual and healthy growth, physically and financially. In just so far as these same methods have been adhered to, these estates are sound today. In 1898 modern methods of physical optimism, valuations, capitalization, haste, and anticipation of profits obtained. The failure of these methods of business has placed a burden on investors, the responsibility for which it is attempted to shift on to legislation. The territory has felt the depression in the prices of sugar and such depression strikes a practically two-crop country severely. Privately it is admitted that the responsibility lies in the marked overproduction in the world's sugar supply, in which Hawaii has had its full part.

While Hawaii has some moderate relief in coffee, rice, etc., its secondary product is canned pineapples, which industry has had such a sudden and abnormal growth that it has this season, 1914, outstripped the means of caring for the field product, and where unprotected by contract the grower is helpless as to price and market. The hold-over stocks of 1913 and immense increase of the 1914 pack raise the question whether the market is not so oversupplied that considerable time for adjustment will be required.

The fundamental law of supply and demand seems to have struck the Territory of Hawaii forcibly enough to cause its bankers and directors of business and public opinion to place more value on conservatism, especially where a small community is directly amenable to their influence.

At this writing the European war has caused a recent violent reaction in prices of sugar, and on the New York base Hawaii has experienced this year a range from a minimum delivered in New York of $58.40 per short ton to $130.80 maximum.

The fact remains that sugar comprising 79.81 per cent of Hawaii's exports and canned pineapples 11.98 per cent, a total of 91.79 per cent, are in an uncertain condition, hence there is corresponding unrest and concern.

The situation is not without some compensations. There is apparent greater voluntary efficiency on the part of labor and greater economic prudence in the management of our agricultural enterprises. The time allowed between the reduction in the tariff and the date of free sugar is too short to test possible reductions in costs of sugar in Hawaii, for cane is not here an annual crop, but plant and ratoon combined, may be considered a 20 to 26 months' crop. The prospect of being able to compete with free Cuban sugar is not flattering, particularly as Hawaii is transportation handicapped $5 to $6 per ton in reaching markets. This subject had best be presented at a later date, although of vital importance to the Hawaiian Islands.

Beginning in February some distress appeared from lack of employment, actual and self-imposed, but through private and government efforts this has largely disappeared. It is fortunate that the government can almost daily reach the labor market. No government assisted immigration has taken place during the past year, except a small trial shipment of Poles. Quite a large number of permanently incapacitated assisted European immigrants and their dependents have, at their own request, been repatriated at government expense. Privately assisted Filipino immigration has continued in moderate numbers, the net increase being 1815 persons.

Skilled and unskilled labor lacked employment in some degree, but to what extent was hardly ascertainable, for the operations of the United States army and navy in their construction work now largely affect that class of labor.

Acute distress is probably less, and less noticeable here than in mainland communities, for the Territory is relatively small, climate favorable, and means of relief more easily ascertainable and quickly brought into action.

Both cities, Honolulu and Hilo, are anticipating much business and prosperity as ports of call and supply for trans-Pacific commerce passing the Panama canal. The harbor of the former requires enlarging, particularly for anchorage; the latter needs the completion of its breakwater.

The climate and scenery of Hawaii and the appreciation shown by large numbers of visitors encourage the expectation that a larger number of mainlanders, independent in their means, will make the islands their home for at least a part of the year and thus add to the charm and prosperity of the community. Hawaii is enlarging her accommodations for tourists and providing means of entertainment.

The operations of the United States army and navy through their establishments in Hawaii and the large number of men, military, naval, and civil, connected therewith, have become a most important factor in the various phases of social life and business in the Territory. The Territorial government is particularly anxious to be of all possible service to the United States and their military and naval representatives.

Needed Legislation. Objections to a literacy test for European immigrants to Hawaii rests as in the annual report of 1913, except the prospects of such immigration have diminished very materially. The land laws need revising, but such revision should be initiated by the territorial legislature.

Before any United States reclamation act should be extended to the territory of Hawaii, an investigation of reclaimable lands should be made. The governor does not know of extensive areas.

The cities of Honolulu and Hilo need some reclamation within their borders. The territory will be able to care for Hilo. The project at Honolulu is too great for both territorial and county funds.

The failure of Congress to approve the bill amending and extending the franchise of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company in deferring desired extensions of the street railway system.

The next legislature will be requested to take steps to increase the importance of the port of Nawiliwili, island of Kauai, that it may present stronger claims for a breakwater.

The Kilian national park, as the best and greatest example of active volcanic action, deserves the attention of Congress.

Problems of Population. The territory of Hawaii from its mixed population of races from all over the world, living, studying, engaged in business, professions and labor in close juxtaposition, presents problems and examples that may well be studied by statesmen and legislators, as well as the social student.

For the present, at least, it would be rather presumptuous for the governor of these associated peoples to assume to analyze the situation and draw conclusions, but it is his duty to present the facts in the most concise, striking and understandable form. Hence there are presented further in this report diagrams showing the following: Population of the territory of Hawaii by nationalities; school pupils of the territory of Hawaii by nationalities; contributions to the public income by nationalities; control of business by nationalities; public land.

Problems of Education. The territory of Hawaii has been distinctly and generously a supporter of education in practical forms and also of what may be termed advanced theories of pedagogical and ethical types, and the tendency has been to magnify these latter. A point has been reached where there must be a reaction in favor of sound, rational education. If the territory of Hawaii is to find support in the vocations it has to offer its children after such preparation. The department of public instruction has been directed to use all its wisdom and effort to bring about sound, not theoretical, education, and it is making the effort.

MRS. H. G. SMART IS VERY CRITICALLY ILL IN SAN FRANCISCO NOW

That Mrs. Galliard Smart (Thelma Parker) is very critically ill in San Francisco is the statement of the San Francisco Chronicle of November 2, which says:

"Mrs. Henry Galliard Smart, formerly the beautiful Miss Thelma Parker, Hawaiian heiress and well known in local society circles where she made her debut three years ago, is in a critical condition at the home of her mother, Mrs. Fred Knight, at 2739 Valjejo street. Physicians attending her have practically given up any hope for her recovery.

"The illness of Mrs. Smart comes as the culmination of a series of trying experiences through which she passed in leaving Paris shortly after the outbreak of the European war and is directly attributed to the shock incident to the loss of her three months' old daughter upon her arrival in New York some weeks ago.

Mrs. Knight met her daughter upon her arrival in the eastern city and accompanied her home immediately placing her under a physician's care, but she has failed to rally."
