HONOLULU, JUNE 15, 1894.

NEW CONSTITUTION

First Act of the Farce Ended.

In twelve days the 39 wisemen who elected themselves to frame a constitution, have finished the first reading of the instrument presented to them by Dole, Smith and Carter. That is indeed good work and it proves the great superiority which the thirty-nine possess over their fellowmen in other lands. To frame a satisfactory constitution which shall prove just and acceptable to all classes has heretofore been considered a work which commanded brains, education, intelligence and experience and even in assemblies possessed of such qualities a mature and careful consideration has been considered necessary. Not so in Hawaii. Thirty nine men of whom not nine know enough to be admitted to a preliminary class of any university have in twelve days decided on a constitution which is supposed to promote and secure the prosperity of all classes and which cannot be amended for four years to come. Verily the gigantic brains of Hawaiian statesmen should excite the unbounded admiration of all the nations of the world—even the New York Nation—and yet they don't.

The instrument as now passed is extremely crude. It is hinted and stated in the p. g. organs that it will be materially altered at the second reading. We doubt it. Although the original draft has been somewhat improved on, during the first reading it has become evident that the family compact control the convention, and propose to hang onto the power and boodle now vested in them. The most characteristic feature of the debate hitherto carried on in the convention is the frankness with which a number of members have admitted that the dominant party as they modestly call themselves is in a sad minority, and that it is necessary to fence in its "dominant" position by such clauses in the constitution which will prevent the majority of the people from being heard. The president has attempted—and partly succeeded—in concentrating the whole power of the government in himself. Never in any constitutional monarchy or republic did the chief of the government exercise the power which Mr. Dole proposes to exercise. What rights he hasn't secured for the president he has vested in his four ministers who simply are his tools. What the ministers cannot do, the Council of State can do and a more abortive attempt of a republican institution than the Council of State, has never been invented anywhere in the world. Anything that can't be done by the president, the ministers and the Council of State—and that is very little—can be done by them with the help of the Senate which simply represents the same classes, the same interests, yes, perhaps the same men as the other bodies mentioned. The only body that can do nothing is that constituted of the representatives of the people. Imagine a system of government in which the masses are granted fifteen representatives and the classes fifteen. Where in the world has anything similar ever been heard of or seen? Several provisions tend to bring the judges of the Supreme Court into the vortex of politics. They have been there before we admit, but for the sake of decency they had to do their wire-pullings on the sly. Mr. Dole's constitution makes the sly business unnecessary. The judges in the future will exercise more political power than ever, and be more unfit for their positions and for a fair and impartial exercise of justice even than they now are.

We could continue for columns in demonstrating the infamous scheme concocted by the missionary family compact, and our voice should be heard all over the land in denouncing the oligarchy which intends to mask itself under the name of the Hawaiian Republic. But we all know that the proposed constitution and proposed republic will be still-born. If a republic is to be formed in Hawaii, well and good. But it will be a true republic with a government of the people, for the people, and by the people. Now, they can amuse themselves with the second reading and the curtain will drop for the farce.

The Kawaihau Seminary.

The prospects of the Kawaihau Seminary being obliged to close its doors for lack of funds is little short of a national calamity. The school has for years done most excellent work and been instrumental in preserving and building up the Hawaiian race. There is a tendency in the constitutional convention to deprive private schools of government support. In the first place, we should consider such question purely legislative, and not a subject at all to be dealt with by a constitutional convention. But the principle underlying the sentiment is absolutely wrong. The members who favored the proposition held that the government schools should be the best and furnish better means of education than private schools. The members forget that private schools like Kawaihau Seminary are more than schools, they are homes. They furnish more than the superficial education received in over-crowded day schools on the American system, they endeavor to train their pupils to become house-keepers and workers, to become useful—in fact, to become wives and mothers. It is a great pity if the government cannot see its way to assist the Kawaihau Seminary. If the school is forced to close the seventy or more girls now there will be thrown on their own resources and brought under the often pernicious influence of their homes. It appears that it is feared that the Kamehameha girls school now under construction will interfere with the work of the Kawaihau Seminary. In the first place the Kamehameha school will not be ready before next year, and secondly there is ample room for two or even more schools of the nature of those mentioned. We print below some statistics published by Dr. Hyde, which prove the good results of the work done by the Seminary. It may be an unpleasant fact, but it is true that it was under the Monarchy and special under the patronage of Queen Liliuokalani that the Seminary flourished; it is under the republican government that this school for the daughters of the People is threatened with ruin. Dr. Hyde gives the following figures:

The Kawaihau Seminary for Hawaiian girls was opened in 1867. During the first twenty-five years, up to December, 1892, there had been connected with the school a total of 483 girls, 72 of these still in the school at that time. Of the 412, who had left school, 239 were pure Hawaiians, 123 half white, 17 half Chinese, 8 Gilbert Islanders. Of these 57 had died; of the 355 now living, 141 were resident in Honolulu. Of the same number, 161 had married, 7 of these had died, and 14 had been divorced, and 32, or one-fourteenth of the whole were known to be living immoral lives. I would call particular attention to the last item, as the ratio has been greatly exaggerated in some inaccurate statements recently made. Of the 161 married, two-fifths, 65, had married Hawaiian husbands; one-fifth, 34, white; one-fifth, 34, half white; one-eighth, 22, Chinese. Similar proportions characterize similar statistics of pupils that have gone out from Mikawao Seminary in its twenty years of existence, 409 in all.

To-night Mr. Thurston will open his slides of eloquence and stammer through a lengthy address for the benefit of the American League and those who care to go there.

THE "COMPACT" FOREVER.

The Great "I Am" and the do. "We Are" nearly come to Blows.

In the Convention this morning, C. L. Carter flopped suddenly into his chair with a thud that shook the foundation of the floor, if not the sandy bottom of the Dole republic. Article 17 was before the committee of the whole, and the question upon the time allowed for those who might claim citizenship under the "special rights" clause. Mr. Emmeluth urged that the six months limit prescribed by the Committee report be extended. Upon this, Carter jumped up and leering his port eye in the direction of Senator Emmeluth insinuated that such a motion could only come from one whose fidelity to the "cause" might be open to question. At this juncture, the stentorian voice of Senator Emmeluth rung out with a call to order, defying Delegate Carter or anyone present to insinuate that he was not by every act, faithful to the cause of annexation, and anyone daring to question his honor and honesty in the cause of annexation would be met with other arguments. Mr. Carter subsided.

Wrong as Usually.

In the last May number of the "Paradise of the Pacific," under the head of "From Picturesque Hawaii," are some untruths that ought not to go unanswered.

The third paragraph under the foregoing title is as follows:

"Lunalilo was the last who claimed descent from the Kamehamehas to rule on Hawaii. He was called the 'Well Beloved' by his people, and at his death, in 1874, after a short reign of only one year, the old feudal veneration for their royal rulers seems to have died away. The Hawaiians have given comparatively little love to the occupants of the throne since that time."

Lunalilo was not the last who claimed descent from the Kamehamehas, for the "missionaries" claimed after Mrs. Bishop died that she was the last, and now the immaculate p. g.'s claim that Kuniakake is the last one now living. On our behalf, we will not say who is the last, but that there are many living descendants of the Kamehamehas, which on native Hawaiian can be got to disprove.

The other untruth is that "the Hawaiians have given comparatively little love to the occupants of the throne since that time," (the death of King Lunalilo). Hawaiians have always shown their love and fealty to the late King Kalakaua, in the latter years of his reign, as evidenced by the universal mourning at his demise. And since the overthrow of her Majesty Liliuokalani, their love for her is unbounded and nothing can swerve it from her.

The foregoing bodes ill for the "too fresh" editor of the Paradise, who has been only a resident here for about three years.

Heavy Damages.

Miss Alice Ayers of Lahaina brought some time ago a suit against W. Mahaka for breach of promise to marry. The case has been tried four times and was finally settled this week at the term of the second Circuit Court held in Wailuku. The fair plaintiff won the suit, and the jury awarded her $2,500 damages which the gay Lothario will have to pungle up.

Baseball.

The Kams and the Hawaiians will play a good game tomorrow, so they say. The Kamehameha band under the leadership of Prof. Burger will encourage their schoolmates during the game by select music. The Crescents ought to get a brass band of their own. They need encouragement.

The band will play tomorrow night at the Hotel in honor of Captain Houdletta.

THE SABBATH.

N. F. Burgess vs. Bishop Willis.

(Concluded.)

Are we justified in keeping Sunday, in preference to God's ancient and time-honored memorial of creation, the seventh day (Saturday)? There is only one source to which the constant Protestant can go for a reply, and that is, God's word.

Dr. Dowling has truly said:—"The Bible, and the Bible only, is the religion of Protestants. Nor is it of any account in the estimation of the genuine Protestant, how early a doctrine originated, if it is not found in the Bible."

Hence if a doctrine be propounded for his acceptance, he asks, Is it found in the inspired word? Was it taught by the Lord Jesus Christ or His apostles? If they knew nothing of it, no matter to him whether it be discovered in the dusty folio of some ancient visionary of the third or fourth century, or whether it springs from the fertile brain of some modern visionary of the nineteenth. If it is not found in the Sacred Scriptures, it presents no valid claim to be received as an article of religious creed.

It is true, as Bishop Willis says: The cause of dispute over controverted questions arise because men are not satisfied to accept the Bible as it is written, but read into it, their own interpretation. Where does the shoe pinch, when we examine the subject under consideration. Let the reader decide.

I am not surprised that Bishop Willis believes that the Church has regarded the first day of the week, as the Lord's day, from the time of the apostles. As it is the prevailing idea that Christ or His apostles changed the day. But we find the Bible is silent on this point. We find that Christ Himself kept the seventh day Sabbath: Luke 4: 16, 31. The early Christians kept it after the crucifixion: Luke 23: 56. Paul preached to Jews and Gentiles on the Sabbath day, (Saturday) Acts 18: 4, 13: 42. We search in vain for one passage in the scriptures of truth which sanctions Sunday as first day of the week observance.

The greatest obstacle in the way of the Sunday institution is the law of ten commandments. Sunday cannot be supported by that law, the fourth precept of which says "the seventh day is the Sabbath" and to abolish the law would be to abolish the very foundation of the government of God. Bishop Willis, like many of the leading Protestant denominations agree that the ten Commandments are still in force.

The Baptist Church Manual, Art. 12, says: "We believe that the law of God is the eternal and unchangeable rule of His moral government."

The Methodist Discipline, Art. 6, says: "No Christian whatever is free from the obedience of the commandments which are called moral."

Dwight's Theology, a Presbyterian work, Vol. 4, page 120, says: The law of God is and must of necessity be unchangeable and eternal."

Thus we find three of the great Protestant denominations agreeing with Bishop Willis, that the law of ten Commandments is unchangeable, and yet by their practice of keeping Sunday, they virtually assert that it has been changed; for surely a change of the Sabbath would involve a change of the law.

Having found that the Bible sustains no change of the Sabbath, we turn in vain to history and the leading authorities of these great denominations for Sunday sacredness.

Back's Theological Dictionary, a Methodist work, says: "Sabbath in the Hebrew language signifies rest, and is the seventh day of the week, and it must be confessed that there is no law in the New Testament concerning the first day."

The Watchman, a Baptist paper says in reply to a correspondent: "The Scriptures nowhere call the first day of the week the Sabbath. 'There is no scriptural authority for so doing, nor, of course, any scriptural obligation.'"

Dwight's Theology, Vol. 4, page 401, says: "The Christian Sabbath (Sunday) is not in the scripture, and was not by the primitive church called the Sabbath."

Rev. G. Hodges, who preaches in one of the largest churches in Pittsburgh, Pa., writing for the Pittsburgh Dispatch says: "The seventh day, the commandment says, is the Sabbath of the Lord thy God. No kind of arithmetic, no kind of almanac, can make seven days equal to one, or the seventh mean the first, nor Saturday mean Sunday. 'The fact is we are all Sabbath-breakers.'"

It is evident that Sunday cannot in any manner be identified with God's holy and sanctified rest day of the fourth commandment, and therefore is only a man made institution. Now to history.

Neander, who is admitted by all to be one of the greatest and most reliable church historians, says:

"The festival of Sunday, like all other festivals, was always only a human ordinance, and it was far from the intention of the apostles to establish a divine command in this respect, far from them and from the early apostolic church to transfer the laws of the Sabbath to Sunday."—Rose's Neander, p. 186.

But the question is asked: Who changed the Sabbath? In Dan. 7:25, we read of a power, which all Protestant commentators agree is the Papacy, or Roman Catholic power. We read in the verse named; "He shall think to change times and laws," meaning of course, the times and laws of God, and it was this power which has been tempering with God's holy Sabbath, the only times in his law, and because they have acknowledged the truth in the matter. Bishop Willis reproves them by saying they ought to be ashamed.

Rev. John Snyder, in an article in the St. Louis Globe Democrat of April 3, 1887, said:

"Every instructed man knows that there is no New Testament authority for the change of the day of rest from the seventh to first day of the week. Every instructed man knows that the Catholic Church gave to the Christian world the Sunday, and defamed the manner in which it should be used. And when Protestantism threw off the authority of the Catholic Church, it abandoned the only ecclesiastical foundation upon which Sunday can logically rest."

The above testimony comes from a man who is himself a Sunday keeper.

Now, we appeal to every honest Protestant to choose whom he will serve. Paul says, in Rom. 6:15, "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey?"

Are you obeying God and keeping His day? or are you obeying the Catholic Church and keeping Sunday? We cannot serve two masters. N. F. BURGESS.

The Advertiser who catches a persons eye usually wins a customer. Many different styles of advertising have been adopted and with more or less success, by the believers in the use of printers ink. The manufacturers of Pears Soap, for instance, occasionally buy paintings that have been on exhibition in the Paris Salon and have lithographs made from them for the purpose of bringing their product before the people. In addition to such side issues, Pears spends hundreds of thousands of dollars annually among the newspapers and magazines. Some years ago the Agents of certain article on sale in New York made a hit in advertising by having on Broadway during business hours two fatuously dressed Negroes wearing very high collars, on the backs of which was printed "Use Smiths Pills." The idea was novel and the public caught on. Rising Sun Stove Polish has been kept before the public for years through persistent, and sometimes expensive advertising. Twenty odd years ago the manufacturers of this polish started half a dozen men across the continent to paint signs on rocks and fences. The Aeromotor Co., of Chicago have increased its sales more than five hundred per cent in two years by the use of printers ink. We believe we have been instrumental in increasing the sales of the Aeromotor by keeping everlastingly at it in Hawaii.

We do not wish to say that advertising will sell any manufactured article; there is no use spending money in advertising "cheap and nasty" goods because the people will not be hoodwinked. If Haviland China was not the superior article it is, all our advertising of it would not have sold the thousands of pieces that we have. We simply call the attention of the people to it and its superior quality is apparent to the customer directly a piece of it is examined.

Printers ink has helped the sale of the James Locked Fence but it would not have done so if it had been as dim as the old dim wire fence. First, the economy there is in building it recommends it to the plantation manager and then its durability clinches the sale. If the stays and washers cost as much as an ordinary redwood post our sales of the material would not have reached such enormous proportions.

Our average sale of the Pansy Iron Stove is about two a day the year round. If was not the best iron stove on the market we would not sell that many in six months. Advertising is the tip to the public the good points in the article sells it just as the good qualities of the Fischer Steel Range make it a desirable article for people who wish to economize in the use of fuel.

We buy only what has proven good after people in the United States or Europe have given it a trial; we profit by their experience if the articles are good we buy and sell them; if they are poor we steer clear of them. When we advertise an article it is to attract attention to it; the newspaper is the button we push, the salesman does the rest.

Persistent advertising coupled with the article being a superior one has sold thousands of the Frank Walcott Emory File. If it had been no better than an ordinary scyfa stone we probably would not have sold twenty. When a man finds out that his table knives may be kept sharp at all times at an expense of fifty cents and a very little elbow grease he is quite willing to try the experiment.

POUND MASTER'S NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all persons, that there is at the Government Pound at Makiki, one black mare, white spot on the forehead, brand indelible on the left hind leg, right ear have been cut off. Any person or persons owning this mare are requested to come and take the same on or before 12 o'clock noon SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1894. JAMES KUKONA, Pound Master, June 12-14 city

LOCAL NOTES.

Pimer Wood is in town.

The convention is in session to-day.

The W. G. Hall arrived this afternoon.

The Australia will be in early to-morrow.

James Keola is now a clerk in the Post Office.

Hon. Paul Neumann is expected back on the Australia.

There will be no concert in Emma Square tomorrow.

John Maguire arrived from Hawaii this afternoon.

Next week the Punahou schools will close for the long vacation.

Deputy Marshal Brown is going to Waialua to-night on business.

The officials from the second circuit court did not return today.

Mokuleia horses went home yesterday. They will return next year.

The Waimanalo case is taking a rest. It will be re-assumed next week.

It is said that the Cuckoo-Dove of the Star has to submit his "Copy" aloft, via the back stairs of the p. g.

The letters p. g. need not be changed, as under the bogus republic there will be no pettycoat government.

Seaborn Luce has a beautiful lot of white mice in his store on Merchant street. They are rather "gamey."

Dan Vida is improving since his serious injury, but is not expected to be around for some months yet.

The will of the late E. C. Damon has been filed in the probate court. The property is valued at $22,000.

Tomorrow night the Hotel will serve its usual extra Saturday dinner. Freeman is preparing an excellent menu.

The Thistle Club has moved into new Quarters. The Club is now located on the corner of Hotel and Fort Streets over Tracy's stores.

At the opening of the Constitutional Convention this morning, the audience numbered eight natives including the $3 a day "chaplain."

The Hawaiian Jockey Club will meet tonight at the Hotel. Some very important business will be transacted, and a full attendance is requested.

The secret of the womens-rights movements is that they might have Prohibition and thereby bring the Kanakas back to the family fold. See "Bice Laws."

Some of the "winners" presented Mr. Ballentine with a handsome locket yesterday in appreciation of the exploits of Amorino and Lolokalani.

The Councils didn't meet last night on account of pressing business of the president and executive. They were dined by Admiral Walker.

A number of young society ladies will leave to-night for a horse back ride around Oahu. They will probably stay away three or four days.

An elegant dinner was given by the Japanese Diplomatic Agent Mr. Fujii for officers from the Japanese war-vessels now in port. The dinner took place at the Hotel.

There will be a royalist uprising tonight, according to statements of those who know best. The royalists haven't been informed yet about the amusing event.

A GOOD PURPOSE.

A Benefit for "Jerry" Connor.

A benefit performance has been arranged for "Jerry" Connor a well-known horse-man who has lived for years in Honolulu, and who has been a very sick man for some times past. "Jerry" has been advised by his physician that he must take a trip to the hot springs in Arkansas, and his friends propose to send him there if a sufficient sum can be raised from the performance which it is intended to give. The Philadelphia blue jackets have been permitted by Captain Barker to give one of their popular entertainments on next Thursday at the Opera House and there is no doubt that the affair will be a great success and "Jerry" receive a tangible testimony of the large number of friends he has in this town. The programme for the performance will be published at a future date.

The Honolulu Amateur Athletic Club will meet to-morrow evening at 7:30 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. Hall and decide what part the Club shall take in the 4th of July sports.

It is said in the club that a thoroughly competent man Barney Ordenstein, is to be fired to make room for a political tramp who has a pull—but has not registered.

There is a move on foot to "do something" for Captain Houdlette of the Australia when he arrives tomorrow. It will be his 100th round trip between San Francisco and Honolulu.

The City Carriage Company has its hacks stationed on the corner of King and Bethel Street, opposite the store of Castle and Cook. Joe Andrade is the manager and has under him a number of obliging and safe drivers. Telephone 113.

TRUTH FOR ONCE.

Some P. G. Lies Nailed.

To the Editor of the Tribune.

Sir: On public questions as well as on matters of private conduct it is to be expected that met will differ, that each party will follow its chosen leader, or each individual be governed by his own interest or his conscience. But those who are not biased by relations to the points at issue have a right at least to know the truth, or that statement of apparent truth which any sincere person would make with knowledge of the matters in contest.

Now, for over a year the American people have been purposely and wilfully kept from any knowledge of things as they are in the island kingdom of Hawaii. I do not propose to ask space to discuss those matters: I simply ask consideration to this brief statement of facts: About the 17th of January, 1893, five men started for Washington with avowed purpose of ceding the Hawaiian nation to the United States. It was published throughout the land that the former people desired union with the latter. As a fact, the voters of Hawaii—14,000 by registry—had expressed no opinion at all for or against annexation, and even had the American element commissioned those five individuals, it would have been a trifle less than 5 per cent. of the above number—653, to be exact. Within a month your own columns have alluded to this embassy as "whether we would accede to the wish of the Hawaiian people." If they have such wish it has ever been expressed.

Theodore H. Davies, a British citizen, passed through the United States recently, returning to his home at Liverpool. His trip had absolutely no political significance, yet his presence here was made the text for conspicuous articles on the influence of England on our politics, and dispatches ingeniously prepared to foster such a view were sent from Honolulu to be reprinted in every newspaper in the country. As a fact, Great Britain has shown more than her usual conservatism in dealing with Hawaiian questions, and all that has been said on that subject proceeds, not from her, but from the nineteenth self-appointed men who now hold the reins of government. I have it directly from their own mouths that they propose to do this—i. e., excite the fears of the present Administration that an alliance will be made by them with Great Britain; that thus, to avoid the stigma of having played into the hands of a rival power, President Cleveland will be forced to send to Congress a special message recommending United States supremacy of some sort at Hawaii. In the first place, by the treaty of 1843, Great Britain cannot even accept a protectorate over any portion of the Hawaiian islands; in the second place, if she should desire it, she will take it through the only sovereign she has acknowledged—namely, Queen Liliuokalani.

Yet, show me one American citizen who knows that the British Minister addresses Sanford B. Dole as "Minister of Foreign Affairs," that no Power save Russia has ever acknowledged the Provisional Government, that the French Minister arriving within three months at Honolulu is accredited to the Queen's Court, that no national vessel save that of the United States has ever accorded Mr. Dole a Presidential salute, and that at his official reception even American naval officers were ordered not to appear in uniform.

Again, it is sedulously circulated by the party in power that America has vast interests to protect in the Hawaiian Islands. Either we have millions there or not a cent. Which is it? If the former, let us hasten and collect our taxes, not only for the present year, but for, say, twenty years past. Surely we cannot allow such a large amount to escape taxation; it is a fraud on those of us who pay for the support of our armies and navies, those who pension our veterans.

I have fixed the limit of reticgrade taxation at twenty years, because prior to that date, or 1876, these sugar barons, now so rich and saucy, were bankrupts. And why has their condition changed? Because, under the leases of land from the Kalakaua dynasty, under the contract labor imported for them by Kalakaua and his sister (the present deposed Queen), under the reciprocity treaty negotiated for them by this family of monarchs, they have most abundantly prospered. They have forgotten from year to year to send home to us their annual statement of taxable property, but now that they have quarrelled with their rulers they seek protection of property and of life by sending circulars to this country, in which, without the least reason or even semblance of argument, this property gained under the laws of a foreign Power, on a foreign soil, is assumed to be American capital, and they, while under oaths of allegiance to foreign governments, Americans!

Lastly, who informs the readers of our newspapers as to current events in the Hawaiian Islands? All dispatches sent for general publication are penned by two individuals. One of these is about as ardent a fanatic in opposition to the natives of Hawaii and in desire to annex that land to the Union as could be found in the world; the other, agent for a rival organization, was for twelve months an editor of the most prominent provisionalist journal. Even then their dispatches are under official supervision. Would any enterprising publisher base statements of fact on such prejudiced authority? The latest instance of such prejudiced statements is to be found in those dispatches which represent the natives as being overawed, so that they have failed to register. Instead of this, it is their intense love for their Queen and their nation. In 1889 the Hon. A. F. Judd now holding the office of Chief Justice, under commission issued by the present Government, wrote as follows:

"The Hawaiian kingdom still stands prosperous and respected, making and executing its own laws; it presents today the only instance of a nation lifted from the darkness of heathenism to the light of Christian civilization without the destruction of the native government. It would be difficult to find a country where the sentiment of nationality is stronger than among the aboriginal Hawaiians."
