COMMITTEE REPORTS SERIOUS CHARGE

Is Steamer Richmond Carrying Explosives Vladivostok Bound?

Unexpected and unheralded the British tramp steamer Richmond arrived in port this morning and docked at the Channel wharf. Out of London and supposedly bound to Manila, she came in to Honolulu harbor to replenish her bunkers with coal. The Richmond left the metropolis of the British Empire on December 26 and did not hear of the fall of Port Arthur until she arrived at Bahia, Brazil, on January 29. Captain Nicolla reports an uneventful voyage with remarkably fine weather all the way through. The crew's mascot, an eccentric English terrier, caused a temporary excitement by deliberately jumping overboard. The crew claim it was a case of suicide and a silent protest against the everlasting daily hash. The Richmond will take about 220 tons of coal here and expects to steam away during the evening.

The officers of the Richmond claim to have a cargo of general merchandise for Manila, but this statement finds little credence along the waterfront. The red flag flying at her foremast if it means anything, means that there are explosives on board, and the presence of Japanese officials in the vicinity of the Channel wharf would seem to indicate that the brown sons of old Nippon take the statements of Captain Nicolla with a large dose of salt and intend to know all that transpires while the Richmond is in port. A prominent Japanese official propounded the following propositions to a number of sympathizers on the Healei Club landing this morning: "Do you suppose that the citizens of Manila would order goods from London whence it takes over three months to receive them when they can get the same goods from San Francisco cheaper and in twenty days? And do you imagine that anyone in Manila would buy powder and other explosives in England? Further, the Richmond was at Bahia, Brazil, on January 29. Does it take all the time that has expired since then for her to come to Honolulu?"

The Japanese claim that the British vessel is bound to Vladivostok and is a blockade runner. They seem to think that the presence of a powerful Japanese fleet in the Japan seas seizing blockade runners by the dozen is the only cause of the presence of the Richmond at Honolulu. On the other hand, there are those who insist that the visitor is bound to some Japanese port and came here to get instructions from the Japanese Consul. Which is the correct view? Time alone will tell.

WHO WILL SECURE THE BULLETIN AUTOMOBILE

NO ONE CAN KNOW TILL THE OFFICIAL COUNT IS MADE THE NIGHT OF THE 27TH INSTANT.

Everyone is asking the Bulletin who got the automobile.

Really, the Bulletin doesn't know possibly from unexpected friends. And will not know in advance of the Up to the night of the official count public, who will be duly informed as the above figures are the only record soon as the committee make the off of the standing in existence, and the official count on the night of March 27th, prizes will undoubtedly be distributed. The last count of ballots made by the among six of those whose names appear in the Bulletin was Wednesday morning, the prizes in the list given. This is as 15th, and the standing of the leaders close as anyone can get to the situation at that time was as follows:

MAY CUT TAX OFFICERS OUT OF COUNTIES

Second reading of the County bill proceeded in the Senate at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

McCandless moved to make salary of the Sheriff of Oahu $1,800 instead of $2,400. Dickey seconded in order to reduce expenses, he said, otherwise there would be no money to run the system. Anyhow there would be the High Sheriff of the Territory with headquarters on this island. Then he moved to strike out the Sheriff of Oahu altogether.

McCandless talked for general reduction of County salaries, going into statistics. The Territory would have no money to give to the Counties until November. The Territory would be in a sad condition financially unless County expenses were cut to the bone. All along the line salaries should be cut at least twenty-five per cent. If County government was to be at all successful. Motion for reduction of Oahu's County Sheriff passed.

Pay of Board of Supervisors was moved for reconsideration by Randall. Lost. He then moved to reconsider the salary of the Sheriff of Oahu. Lost, 7 to 4.

Sheriff Hawaii: Achi moved "not more than $1,500 per year."

"He should have as much as the Oahu Sheriff," said Dickey.

"Hawaii has not as much money," said Achi.

McCandless moved for $1,800. Carried.

Mauli Sheriff: Hayselden moved that the salary remain at $1,800 as in the bill. Carried, 8 to 5.

Kauai Sheriff ($2100 in bill): Bishop moved $1600. Finally fixed at $1,500.

County Clerk, Oahu ($2,400): Dickey moved $1800; McCandless moved $1,500. Carried at $1,500.

County Clerk, Hawaii: $1,500, lost; carried at $1,200.

Paris said only incompetent men would be secured at such low salaries. County Clerk, Maui: Carried at $1,200; Kauai, $1,200.

Auditor, Oahu ($2,400): Carried at $1,800; Hawaii, $1,800; Maui, $1,800; Kauai, $1,800.

Dickey was in favor of the general government collecting all the taxes, turning over to the Counties their due. Assessors should be cut out of the County system altogether. No collectors were needed.

Paris moved to refer the matter of assessors and collectors to the Judiciary Committee. This motion was carried.

AFTERNOON HOUSE

The House came to order at 2 p. m. H. B. No. 98, introduced by Rep. Sheldon, came up for third reading. This act amends Section 1703 of the Revised Laws, and provides for a license to practice in judicial courts and in circuit courts on appeal, jury being waived, said license to be valid for four years, the fee being five dollars for first issuance and two dollars thereafter. Bill passed third reading.

H. B. No. 62, introduced by Rep. Andrade, "An Act relating to costs of court," came up for third reading. The bill fixes costs of court in the Supreme Court or before justices at $25.00 for each case; and further providing that in habeas corpus cases the petitioner or appellant shall deposit $25.00 with the clerk of the court as a condition precedent to placing the case on the calendar or being heard. Bill passed, 19 to 11.

School Funds Paid Says House Committee Grossly In Excess

The Committee on Public Expenditures of the House of Representatives brought in a strong report on the investigation of the expenditures of the Department of Public Instruction this morning. The sentiment of the House was well shown when the report was adopted without a protest, the members voting for it with emphatic voices.

The report says: "Your Committee on Public Expenditures, acting under Resolution No. 102 and Rule No. 27 of this House, proceeded upon the investigation of certain vouchers and warrants pertaining to expenditures of the Department of Public Instruction of the Territory of Hawaii.

As a result of the examination by an expert of the vouchers and accounts of the Department of Public Instruction, witnesses were called before your committee and by their testimony irregularities are apparent in the expenditure of public funds by that Department. Persons have been paid in cash, for work and labor performance for and on behalf of this department sums grossly in excess of their value, endorsing the voucher for the same to the Assistant Secretary and School Agent. In one case, a person performed labor and furnished material for said department and testified to having received but one-half of the sum of money charged for the work, and for which the endorsed voucher was cashed by the Assistant Secretary and School Agent.

The circumstances of the investigation and the general results obtained are not herein included to the end that justice be subserved. From our examination we believe the condition of affairs to be far from satisfactory. Just where the responsibility lies is still a question. We recommend that the matter be referred to the Governor, with a transcript of the evidence, as it would appear to seriously discredit the Administration."

Signed by Reps. Waterhouse, Harris, Lewis, Pali and Broad, all the committee members.

SECRET DOINGS OF INQUISITION ON EDUCATION

ATKINSON'S ATTORNEY OBJECTED TO

The Legislative Joint Education Department Investigation Committee met in the Bungalow at 8:45 o'clock this morning. Before the session opened there were present: Superintendent of Public Instruction A. T. Atkinson, School Agent Miss Rose Davison, Col. J. W. Jones (stenographer), Attorney J. J. Dunne (representing A. T. Atkinson), the Commissioners of Public Instruction, Messrs. Eagan and Coffey of the December, 1904, Grand Jury, the members of the Investigation Committee, House and Senate representatives and representatives of the Honolulu daily newspapers.

Members of the Investigation Committee withdrew to the latticed veranda on the makai side and held a consultation.

"We don't want Attorney Dunne butting in," said one of the committee, "whenever we ask a witness a question. We don't want to be interfered with in our investigation."

Then a discussion was had as to admitting various people to the hearing.

When the committee was seated, ready for business, it was announced that every person except members of the committee, Mr. Atkinson, Stenographer Jones and Atkinson's attorney would be obliged to leave the room.

This order, issued by the committee, included the Press and newspaper men were forthwith asked to retire. The Commissioners of Public Instruction looked anything but pleased when they heard the order. All of them were present.

Yesterday afternoon the Committee

NAKUINA SCORES EDUCATION COMMITTEE'S SECRET SESSIONS

Rep. Nakuina stated this afternoon, as a member of the House-Senate Committee investigating the Education Department's administration, that he was most emphatically opposed to the holding of secret sessions.

"This is no grand jury," he declared; "the meetings should be as open as the sessions of the House of Representatives. I did all in my power to urge publicity but the majority of the members of the Committee were strongly opposed to having public hearings. I think all such investigations should be had in the light of the greatest publicity."

askers addressed the following to the committee:

The undersigned Commissioners of Public Instruction have learned through the public newspapers that certain complaints and charges made against the administration of this department by a recent Grand Jury have been referred for investigation to your Committee and a like Committee from the House of Representatives acting jointly.

The Commissioners of Public Instruction are charged by law with the administration of a very important trust and they feel that any charges against the manner in which that trust is administered reflect upon either their intelligence or their good faith, or upon both.

The Commissioners desire the fullest publicity and an opportunity to meet any and all assertions concerning their official conduct in the full light of day. The Commissioners ask of the following, not as favors, but as of right:

1. That they be furnished with a copy of so much of the report of the grand jury as refers to their department.

POLICE WATCH STEAMER TOURIST KILLS SHARK

The British steamer Richmond may certainly be said to be carefully watched. Not only by those United States officials whose business it is to be watchful when a foreign vessel is in port but she is watched also by the Territorial police. This forenoon Deputy High Sheriff Rawlins boarded the Richmond and after an interview with Captain Nicolas, he placed two officers on her deck with orders to see that no member of the crew leaves the vessel. Much speculation is being indulged in along the waterfront over the probable reason for this action by the Honolulu police.

When asked for an explanation of his action, Rawlins stated that the officers were simply put on board to prevent any member of her crew from leaving as they are all foreigners; it was then pointed out to him that he was doing the work the U. S. Immigration authorities are paid for doing, but to this he only replied that he was merely obeying orders.

With a dead horse as bait, Mr. Gilman, a tourist, who is a guest at the Young Hotel, accompanied by the Young Brothers went on a shark hunting expedition this morning. One launch carried the hunters while the second one towed the dead horse. In the space of very few minutes, six sharks appeared upon the scene and with a rush made for the horse. Mr. Graham succeeded in harpooning a splendid specimen of his family. He brought it to port and is now proudly telling the thrilling details of his adventure.

Very little business was done in the District Court this forenoon, one drunk fined $3 and costs being the only defendant whose case was disposed of. All other cases were postponed to a later date.

GOVERNOR CARTER IS
GUEST OF HONOR

PATRIOTIC SPEECHES MADE BY ELOQUENT ORATORS—MANY PROMINENT CITIZENS
PRESENT.

"And when some traveller from New Zealand shall, in the midst of a vast solitude, take his stand on a broken arch of London Bridge to sketch the ruins of St. Paul, the flag of Erin with its harp of gold shall float proudly from the flagstaff of the Parliament House at Dublin—the capital of a Free Ireland!"

These modified lines of Lord Macaulay, adapted for the occasion by John Hughes, aptly expressed the feelings of those who had gathered around the banquet tables at Waverley hall last evening to do honor to St. Patrick's Day, the National festival of the emerald isle.

Honored by the presence of Governor George R. Carter and Secretary of the Territory "Jack" Atkinson, the Irish Americans of Honolulu celebrated the national day of the land of their birth in a banquet under the presidency of Colonel C. J. McCarthy. A number of prominent citizens joined with their fellow Irish citizens to commemorate the day, Senator Palmer P. Woods representing the Senate, Representative Quinn the House, Governor Carter and Secretary Atkinson the Territorial government, and W. R. Farrington, Chas. Rhodes and Sol Sheridan the press of the Territory.

The banquet began at 8 o'clock sharp and the menu provided by the banquet committee was discussed promptly, appreciatively and enthusiastically. The hall had been prettily decorated with the Irish and American colors, the portraits of Daniel O'Donnell and President Roosevelt emphasizing the dual but cordial character of the celebration. After a Shamrock punch had been served, Chairman McCarthy called the assemblage to order with the following words:

"Mr. Governor, fellow Irishmen and invited guests:—All over God's green earth, wherever one or more Irishmen happen to live, St. Patrick's Day is sure to be observed. It is the day when a man of Celtic birth and descent loves to talk of the little green isle, delights in recalling long forgotten memories of home, friends and friends. It is for such a purpose we have gathered here this evening; not to boast and bluster but to hope and pray. Gentlemen, here's to the land I love the most; here is to the land of my childhood and of the dreams of my manhood: to Ireland, and may God bless her!"

The audience arose and while Solomon's Kawaihau Glee Club played the "Wearing of the Green," drank the toast to Ireland in a very impressive silence. R. W. Breckons, U. S. District Attorney, made an eloquent response to the toast to the President of the United States, in the course of which he assured his hearers that although not born an Irishman he had acquired rapidly the principal characteristics of the Irish race. In three years he had attended three St. Patrick's day celebrations holding office all the while. Surely that is a good definition of a sterling Irishman.

Chairman McCarthy proposed a toast to Governor Carter who responded, in part, as follows:

"Gentlemen, I appreciate very much the toast which has just been proposed and the cordiality with which it has been received. I am very glad indeed to be with you this evening; these occasions really make life worth living. Each in his own sphere has his own work to do; we all have our grudges and our worries, but when we go back among our fellow men we quickly realize that we are all human, that we are all brothers. Your chairman has said that Irishmen are generally 'against the government.' But let me tell you that the government is thankful for such an opposition. It compels the government to attend to business and keep faith with the people. Once upon a time I had some beautiful dreams as to how a government should be conducted; but they were only dreams. When I got there to the Capitol building, planning to be both liberal and just, I found myself so hemmed in with the law that I could not enforce any without hurting the toes of some individual. No law was ever made but works an injustice to some one. It was a surprise to me to find that if I would live up to my oath, it was my duty to be unfair. Another thing: When I assumed the responsibilities of office I found that the Territory expended more money than it received; and a government is like an individual, when it pursues such a course for any length of time bankruptcy is not far ahead. Thanks to our Legislature, however, that danger has been averted and I think that the Territory is to be congratulated for having such a Legislature. Two years ago the government was investigating the Legislature, inquiring for lost vouchers, etc. Now it's the other way. The Legislature is investigating us. And it is as it should be. Eternal vigilance is the price of our liberties and it is due to the minority, to those against the government, to you gentlemen, to see that your representatives are vigilant in the discharge of their duties towards the government and the people."

At the close of the Governor's speech the orchestra played "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," every one joining with the singing of the words.

S. F. Chillingworth was then introduced and he spoke eloquently on "The Day We Celebrate." W. R. Farrington aroused enthusiasm by his apotheosis of "The Land We Live In." "Come Back to Erin," was played by the orchestra and the toast, "Our Native Land," was proposed. John Hughes responded in a voice choked with emotion and aroused the pent up feelings of his hearers when he took them with him through the great cities of Ireland, its seats of learning, abbeys, schools, farms, etc., "the fairest land upon God's green earth," turned into desolation by a persecuting and arbitrary power. His references to the work of Irishmen in foreign countries and his prophecy that Ireland one day will be free evoked the intensest enthusiasm of the audience.

E. A. Douthitt spoke to the toast "Ireland as a Nation," Sol Sheridan responded to "The Irish Press," and Jack Lucas to "The Ladies."

The celebration closed with a few remarks by Secretary Atkinson and the playing of the Star Spangled Banner.

SENATE WON'T BE THE HOUSE'S GUEST

On second reading the Senate yesterday afternoon passed Quinn's Sunday bill with a few amendments, making the measure more liberal in points.

Chapter 2 of the County bill, relating to the County of Kalawao, passed as left by the House. In Chapter 3 Dickey wanted to leave districts as they are now. Kanai men wanted Niihau included in Waimea district. This chapter was referred to a committee of five, representing all islands: Hayselden, Paris, Achi, Wilcox and Lane. Chapter on general powers, etc., passed with only grammar amendments. Chapter on County seats passed. Chapter on officers and their duties was given to the committee named above to be amended with reference to the election of Supervisors by districts. Chapter on salaries was amended, giving Supervisors $200 per year instead of $100 (McCandless). A motion for mileage of ten cents a mile (Paris) was lost. Achi did not believe that the Legislature should fix salaries; Supervisors in the several counties should do this. Paris and Dowsett said this would leave the way open to graft. The County bill was then deferred until this afternoon.

The Health Committee reported an adjustment of the Molokai trip arrangements, the Senate to pay $200, the House the balance of the cost ($550) of the trip. The Senate objected to going as the guests of the House; thus was a little ruffle in the smoothness of the legislative waters nicely removed.

"ERIN GO BRAH!"

To the music of the great pipe organ playing an old Irish melody, the members of Division 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, and the Ladies' Auxiliary preceded by the green flag with the golden harp, marched into the Catholic Cathedral at 7 o'clock this morning to begin their celebration of Ireland's natal day. The procession was a picturesque one. The ladies were all dressed in white with a wide belt of green material and green neckwear, while the men were in conventional black with green badges and green neckties.

They occupied pews in front of the altar and at the proper time marched in a body to the communion table. Right Reverend Bishop Libert officiated at the altar in honor of the occasion and Father Valentin presided at the organ. At the conclusion of the mass, the procession was formed once more and, headed by the flag, the sons and daughters of Erin marched up Fort street to Progress Hall where, bareheaded, they witnessed the hoisting of the flag above the building. A large congregation of Irishmen and Irish citizens was present at the church and the ceremony was an impressive one. As a recessional the organ played "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "Come Back to Erin."

FRIDAY,MARCH 17, 1905.

Kuropatkin will be the next fellow to write a letter urging peace. He has had experience enough to know that war is hell.

It would be interesting to know whose fertile brain evolved the scheme for the Legislative Committee investigating the Bureau of Education to investigate in secret. If this individual could be discovered, he might at least attempt an explanation. Anything he could offer, however, could not wipe out the force of a public board being "investigated" by a secret conclave. Everyone connected with the Bureau of Education might well protest against a vindication secured from an "investigation" of this character.

"This said that prohibition is a failure. In the face of this broad statement the House of Representatives of the Maine Legislature a few weeks ago, by a vote of 101 to 28, declared against a resubmission of the prohibition problem to the people. Which means that 101 legislators were convinced that their constituents are quite satisfied with prohibition. The only difference between Maine and the United States is that in the former you can get a drink if you have the price and look long and ardently for it; in the latter it is put before you on request.

Any wise man who thinks Tantalus Heights is too far away for a public park reserve should take a pleasant Sunday off and from some comfortable seat along the trail take note of the proportion of Tantalus visitors who walk up the heights for picnics. It is not unusual to see parties of from ten to twenty men, women and children tramping up the trail and picnicking at the top. Tantalus is the greatest outing place the so-called common people of this city have. Are these people to be brushed aside to make way for the advance of private grounds and "keep off the grass" signs?

The time seems appropriate for the members of the Research Club to be strutting themselves. They are responsible for the bill providing lands for a Tantalus park, that was killed in the Senate this morning. Each year the Tantalus Heights become more popular for a day's outing by a class of people who can't afford a Tantalus home nor a carriage. Is the public to be gradually forced out of Tantalus as it has been from Waikiki beach? It is up to members of the Senate to explain to the voters of Honolulu why they killed the Tantalus park reservation.

Kona always has something new and interesting, and the latest wonder regarding the curious sounds does not fall below standard. The solution of the mystery might become as difficult as to Stanford affair. In view of the general conditions in Kona and the undebated influence of the population on any district, there is little doubt that this new phenomenon is nothing more or less than the Kona nightingales practicing their song in Japanese. Naturally the sound would be rather weird at the outset, and the hours of darkness preferable for the experiment. If progress keeps up at the present rate, however, success must crown the effort.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

The time was in the history of the United States when some of its good citizens looked upon the celebration of St. Patrick's day with great apprehension. Not because of fear that the police would have to be called in to quell the flowing enthusiasm, but rather that the Irishman represented the immigrant horde that would some day upset the country and deliver it into the hands of its enemies.

The apprehension has not been realized. Far from upsetting the country the Irishmen have played a strong part in making it what it is. As the flood of immigrants is studied, discussed and cursed, the almost universal cry is for the good old days when the newcomers were of the Irish race and, therefore, safe material for nation-builders.

Irishmen began early with their interest in the American nation. History records that twenty-seven members of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick contributed $517,500 to General Washington when the American army lay at Valley Forge. Irishmen at the present day are very much in evidence. Should plans not miscarry 150,000 Irish-Americans will parade in

TEXTS FOR THE LEGISLATORS

Members of the Legislature, now assembled, made definite promises to the people of these islands in their platform and on the stump. On the basis of these promises the members were elected. Chief among these promises were pledges to pass laws for Local Self-Government, Schools, Homesteads, which represent foundation principles of American government.

Members of the Legislature cannot do better than take for their text the following statement made by President Roosevelt in one of his public speeches:

"It is absolutely essential, if we are to have the proper standard of public life, that promises shall be square with performance. A lie is no more to be excused in politics than out of politics. A promise is as binding on the stump as off the stump, and these are two facets of that crystal. In the first place the man who makes a promise which he does not intend to keep and does not try to keep should rightly be adjudged to have forfeited in some degree what should be every man's most precious possession—his honor."

Should Roosevelt's teachings not seem sufficient let them turn to a few words of wisdom from Tom Watson when he said:

"We unto leaders who trick the people and then boast of it! We unto leaders who forget that the American people have heart and conscience, convictions and a sense of honor! Such men may triumph for a day, but only for the day. Not for them are the greater victories which ennoble the human race."

New York city today and in the evening President Roosevelt will be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given by the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, his escort being the famous Sixty-ninth Regiment.

America has ceased to fear the Irish invasion. St. Patrick's day, while serving the Irishman as an opportunity to recall the love for the old country, marks one of the occasions when Americans can contemplate the good work Ireland's sons have done in the country of their adoption.

QUALIFIED.

Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, the author, tells of the tribulations of a friend in New York, who is the mother of a particularly mischievous boy of some seven years.

"One evening recently," says Mrs. Atherton, "when the mother was getting the boy ready for bed after what she termed 'a day of unmitigated outrageousness' on the part of her hopeful, she said to him:

"Now when you say your prayers to-night, Richard, remember to ask God to make you a better boy. You have certainly been bad today."

Accordingly the youngster began his petitions to the Almighty in the usual form. Before closing with the customary "Amen," he added:

"And please, God, make me a better boy."

Then he paused a moment, and, to the utter consternation of the long-suffering mother, he concluded his prayer with unabated gravity:

"Nevertheless, not my will, oh Lord, but Thine be done."—Harper's Weekly.

TANTALUS PARK KILLED ON McCANDLESS MOTION

BISHOP FIGHTS FOR PEOPLE'S PLAYGROUND — JUDICIARY COMMITTEE MAKES REPORTS.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.
The Senate this morning went into Committee of the Whole on Senate Bill No. 6, an act to set apart certain lands for public parks.

McCandless moved to strike out the paragraph providing for a Tantalus park. Carried, 7 to 6.

Dickey moved to lay the bill on the table. "Now that Tantalus is out of it," he said, "there is no good left in the bill."

Dickey's motion, as to its being in order in the Committee of the Whole, was discussed. The argument was settled by Kalama moving that the Committee rise, report progress and recommend that the bill be tabled. Motion carried and the Senate acted favorably upon the recommendation of the committee.

Bishop Favors Tantalus.
Senator Bishop wanted the place open to the general public. Those who did not own $3,000 automobile (he looked at Isenberg) could walk with their own good legs up there; there was a good road. This beautiful area should be set aside for the good of the people. The land should not be sold by the government.

The sentiment of the Senate, however, seemed to be that Tantalus was too out of the way for a park.

Sunday Law Passes.
House Bill 92, Quinn's Sunday law, came up for third reading and was passed, Dickey and Paris alone voting against the measure.

Woods wanted "zoological gardens," inserted in the paragraph providing for Sunday amusements. Carried.

Dowsett wanted "fresh fruit" stricken from a sentence which limited the time of its sale, when a preceding section provided that it be sold all day.

Dickey offered an amendment to entitle men working on Sunday to double pay. Lost.

Judiciary Committee.
The Senate Judiciary Committee reported on Senate Bill No. 51, "An Act to Regulate the Admission of Attorneys and Counsellors at Law and to Repeal Sections 1197 to 1205 of Chapter 84 of the Civil Laws of 1897," saying:

That present law gives the power to the Supreme Court only to grant license to practice in courts of record, which is the custom in nearly, if not all the States.

In some States examining boards are established, but we know of no instance when the several kinds of courts of record can admit attorneys to practice before their special class of courts only. We think that the admission of attorneys in this Territory is sufficiently guarded with the Supreme Court, having the power to admit to practice in all the courts of the Territory, but we would be willing to have the examinations made by a board of examiners. The bill apparently would not allow Supreme Court lawyers to practice in Circuit Courts nor vice versa which we think would be a great inconvenience.

In regard to dismissal we find that nearly all the States, either under the common law or statute provide for disbarment of the Supreme Court alone as is the practice here.

In Indiana and Louisiana the issues of fact are allowed to be tried by the jury, but we apprehend that our Supreme Court would be able to get at the facts without the intervention of a jury. Being three in number the court has some of the attributes of a jury and should have no difficulty in getting at the facts. Whether the facts when found are sufficient to warrant disbarment is of course matter of law, and in any case is in the province of the court.

Would Allow Appeal.
Your Committee would be glad to see an appeal allowed from the Supreme Court of the Territory to the Supreme Court of the United States in such cases, but this could only be accomplished by an Act of Congress.

There is no objection to an increase of admission fee from $10.00 to $25.00. There seems to be no good reason to prescribe new forms of oath and license.

Sections 1197 to 1205 which the bill seeks to repeal, Sections 1793 to 1801, inclusive, covering above matters which is not advisable. There are so many objections to the bill that we recommend that it be laid on the table.

As to Punishment.
The Judiciary Committee reported on Senate Bill No. 43. The object of the bill is to make the commutation of punishment in Territorial convictions coincide with those of the Federal Government, and also to provide for the parole of prisoners confined for small offenses after they have served the minimum time prescribed for the offense for which they were convicted upon the recommendation of the board of prison inspectors.

"We think both of these matters are proper subjects of legislation and that the intent of the bill is good. We think, however, that the bill is open to the objection that it contains two subjects and that it repeals a number of the sections of the present law as contained in the Revised Laws merely to re-enact them."

Committee recommends the bill with certain amendments.

Judiciary Committee recommends H. B. 38, to amend a part of Section 1864 of the Revised Laws relating to bill of exceptions, with minor amendments.

Judiciary Committee also recommends House Bill No. 81, to limit the time in which criminal cases may be prosecuted.

What Atkinson Says.
Mr. Atkinson was asked this morning if he sought secrecy in this hearing. He emphatically denied that he wanted privacy and referred to the letter of the Commissioners appearing above. He would say nothing of what had transpired in the meeting except that he intimated that some of the members objected to his having an attorney to represent him.

The Superintendent stated that the Commissioners had asked the committee for copies of the grand jury charges. Following is a letter written the committee by the Superintendent, similar to that sent by the Commissioners:

Superintendent Writes.
Hon. A. N. Hayselden, Chairman Committee on Education, Senate.

Sir:—I learn from the public newspapers that certain complaints and charges against the conduct of this Department made by a recent Grand Jury have been referred for investigation to your Committee and a similar Committee of the House of Representatives, acting jointly.

As this is a matter vitally affecting my personal and official reputation, and as I have nothing to conceal, but desire rather the fullest investigation, I think I have a right to ask that the sittings of the Committee be public, that I have the right to be present either personally or by counsel, or both, that I have the opportunity to confront and cross-examine witnesses, and also to make or cause to be made full notes of all the proceedings, including testimony.

Very respectfully,
(Signed) ALATAU T. ATKINSON,
Superintendent Public Instruction.

The Grand Jury charges were this morning sent to the Public Instruction Commissioners by the Investigation Committee, in the following form:

Grand Jury Charges.
To the Joint Committee of Investigation on Education Matters.

Gentlemen:—Your Special Committee to which was referred the matter of classifying and segregating the different matters contained in the report of the Grand Jury, concerning the Department of Education, and to extract therefrom the specific charges made, or as nearly conforming thereto as possible, beg leave to report that we have carefully digested the several matters therein contained and touched upon, and we find that the Grand Jury has made certain direct charges in some instances and in others have implied charges by making recommendations to remedy the alleged improper condition of affairs. We therefore classify them under two heads: charges and recommendations.

CHARGES.

- The Superintendent of Public Instruction has long manifested a personal indifference as to the proper or improper performance, by teachers, of their duties, and takes little, if any, personal interest in their responsibilities and advancement. His personal presence is an unknown factor in the school.
- The course of study has not been properly provided for the schools. The one now in vogue has not been revised for many years past. There are no printed rules or regulations to control the 400 teachers under the department.
- Teachers have been discharged from the department without cause.

4. The agricultural department in the schools is useless.

5. Commissioners of Education have rarely, if ever, for many years visited any of the schools, or made a personal inquiry as to the conditions prevailing in the schools or among the teachers. The public schools being almost entirely under the control of school agents.

6. No provision has been made for lavatories and facilities for the procurement of drinking water in the schools. No care exercised in this regard even in new buildings. The new Royal School has water facilities for neither drinking nor fire purposes.

7. Architectural extravagance has been indulged in, in building the Royal School.

8. No care has been exercised in placing school buildings. The Normal School is built in a most peculiar position relative to the rest of the lot and the adjoining properties.

9. The existing sanitary conditions at Kaakopua School are bad, and the school building is absolutely unfit for school purposes.

We ask leave to submit the balance of the report by tomorrow morning. Respectfully submitted,
(Signed) J. A. K. HAYSELDEN,
GEO. C. HEWITT.

I do concur.

BILL TO REDUCE APPEALS DEFEAT.D

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY.

The House convened at 10 o'clock. A communication was received from Secretary Atkinson, enclosing thirty copies of the Session Laws of 1904. President of the Board of Health Pinkham sent a communication to the House stating that the year stipulated for by Dr. Milton Rice having expired, the committee in charge, the bacteriologist and a member of the Board of Health have examined Dr. Rice's four leprosy patients, but awaited the doctor's statement before coming to a conclusion.

The Senate report on the invitation of the House for the Senate to accompany it on the Molokai trip was read and approved. The report provides that the Senate pay $200 of the $550 expenses of the trip, and that the Senate receive not more than 100 passes for the trip.

A petition was received from the leader and members of the Hilo band, captain and members of Company D, National Guard, and a large number of citizens of Hilo, asking a suitable appropriation for the maintenance of the Hilo band. The petition had the hearty endorsement of George W. Smith, president of the Honolulu Merchants' Association. Referred to the Military Committee.

A petition was received from citizens of the First Representative District, asking that the County Bill provide for two counties in Hawaii, including the present Third and Fourth Judicial Circuits.

Senate Bills Nos. 26, 63 and 74 were received and placed on file.

A resolution introduced by Rep. Holstein, asking that the Superintendent of Public Works be requested to state why a cross Rapid Transit track was necessary in the middle of King street near Liliha, and if not necessary that it be torn up as having damaged fire-trucks, was adopted.

The Printing Committee reported the following bills ready for distribution: Nos. 127, 141, 122, 115, 126, 128, 130, 131, 135, 134, 132 and 129.

Rep. Harris introduced the following bills, which passed first reading by title: An Act to amend Section 733, Chapter 53, of the Revised Laws, pertaining to the construction of sidewalks.

An Act to amend Section 734 of the above laws.

Rep. Smith's bill, No. 74, third reading, providing that in cases of appeal from judgments in District Courts the appellant shall file a bond covering the amount of the judgment provoked a long dispute. Reps. Smith and Andrade led the fight of the bill while Reps. Long, Kallio and Cox fought the measure vigorously. Andrade explained that the purpose of the bill was to keep a great many frivolous cases, appealed merely to kill time, out of the courts. He said that now the calendars were so crowded with appeals made with no reason to expect a reversal of decision that justice to clear cases was often defeated.

At this long and Kallio retorted that this law would militate against the poor man who often could not file a bond of sufficient amount. Kallio said that now it was next to impossible for a poor man in the Territory to sue a rich man with success, and that the proposed law would make it harder. Rep. Cox seconded his efforts. On a vote the bill was indefinitely postponed; 18 to 9.

The following bills passed second reading and were referred to various committees: Nos. 115, 134, 135, 128, 126, 122, 129, 132, 131, 130, 141, 127.

Rep. Coelho's bill, No. 118, defining the crime of usury and providing for the punishment thereof, passed third reading unanimously. The bill reads as follows:

Section 1. Any person who directly receives any interest, discount or consideration upon the loan or forbearance of money, goods or things in action, greater than the rate of interest prescribed by law, shall be guilty of usury, and punishable by imprisonment at hard labor for a term of not exceeding five (5) years, or a fine not exceeding One Thousand ($1000) Dollars, or both.

The House then took a recess until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

ENGINEERS TO DISCUSS PIPES AND THINGS

The Honolulu Engineering Association holds its annual smoker in Elks' Hall on the evening of March 20th. The invitations issued read as follows: Dear Sir:—The semi-annual gathering of this Association for the election of officers, etc., will convene at our regular place of meeting, corner Hotel and Richards streets, Honolulu, on Monday, March 20th, at 8 p. m. sharp.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, if you are "wise" you will go right home. If "otherwise" then the "Smoker" Committee will take charge of you, and as we have to maintain an established precedent for "doing things to the likes of yes," be warned in time. At any rate don't come round late the next day with the wall that a small but fierce volcano vexeth you sore inside, and seek to blame us for the eruption;—we will probably at that time be having troubles of our own.

In the hope of a possible increase in our membership and with the solicitous thought that a little assistance on your way home (after) might not come amiss to you, it has been decreed that you may, if you see fit, extend an invitation to one male friend (of good moral character, if any such you can catch,) to join us at the "Elks' Hall" on Beretania street at 9 o'clock of the above-mentioned evening, and help us to "get busy."

By order of the Committee:
MARSTON CAMPBELL,
Secretary.

Smoker Committee—F. W. Beardslee, J. H. Howland, R. J. Pratt, E. Kopke, Esq., Alexander Pratt, A. G. Hawes, Jr., Geo. Russell.

LANDS FOR PLANTATION

J. F. Colburn stated today that the negotiations for the leasing of the Holt lands to the Waiwala Agricultural Company have been completed and the execution of the lease is now in progress. Some of the parties in interest have already signed the lease and as soon as all have signed it, it will be filed for record.

U. S. Shipping Commissioner B. Griggs Holt stated this noon that he has not as yet resigned his office. He has resumed his duties, relieving Norman Watkins who has been in charge of the office while Holt was on the mainland, and will resign only after he has closed up all the business now pending. It is understood that the nomination of his successor will be made according to Civil Service Rules.

It is understood that the British ship Senator has received orders to proceed to Royal Roads, Puget Sound, on ballast for further orders.

The Ke Au Hou came in early this morning from Kauai ports and docked at the Oceanic wharf at 4:45 o'clock, bringing four cabin passengers. She brought the following cargo: 2019 bags sugar, 816 bags rice, 80 sacks bran and 28 packages of sundries.

The report in an afternoon paper that the Rithet arrived at San Francisco after a voyage of eight days is discredited by all shipping men along the waterfront. It is explained that a bark was probably sighted off the Farrallones and mistaken for the Rithet. Those who are supposed to know say that the vessel is probably the Annie Johnson.

A large number of sailors and marines of the British cruiser Bonaventura were given shore leave this afternoon and their blue and scarlet uniforms render them conspicuous about town. At 2 o'clock this afternoon a number of them crowded a Punahou bound-car at the corner of Fort and King streets, and took complete possession of it. There was not even standing room for a Honolulu land lubber.

ARENA FOR MARCH.

In the March "Arena" there are several notable papers which persons desiring to keep in touch with world questions of the day should read. Especially interesting and instructive is David Graham Phillips' pen-picture of the present status of Socialism in Continental Europe and his keen intelligent analysis of the remarkable power of the great French Liberal leader, M. Jaures. "Cooperation in Great Britain," by J. C. Gray, Secretary of the Cooperative Union of Great Britain, gives an authoritative account of the rise and phenomenal success of the greatest movement in voluntary cooperation in the history of the world. The affiliated co-operators of Great Britain are to-day dividing more than $45,000,000 annually among their numbers. Rudolph Blankenburg's powerful exposure of the rise and domination of corruption in Pennsylvania gains in strength and interest with each succeeding issue. In the present number Mr. Blankenburg deals, among other things, with the criminal acts of Senator Quay which brought the great Pennsylvania boss to the shadow of the penitentiary. The interest of this paper is enhanced by the publication of telegrams and autograph letters relating to the questionable dealings described. There are also a number of portraits of leading actors in the most notorious political drama of modern times. Another paper dealing with corruption in public life is Mr. Flower's story of "The Rise, Domination and Downfall of the Tweed Ring," based on that part of Albert Bigelow Paine's life of Nast which deals with the great cartoonist's effective work against the Ring. The paper is entitled "How Four Men Rescued a City from Entrenched Corruption" and is illustrated with reproductions of a great number of Nast's best drawings. Another feature of this number which will prove of general interest and will be especially enjoyed by friends of the modern drama, is Professor Archibald Henderson's critical study of Gerhart Hauptmann's dramatic work and social ideas. This paper is probably the most thoughtful and luminous brief criticism of the great German dramatist's work that has appeared in America. There are several other papers of general interest, besides the Editorial, Mirror of the Present and Book Review departments which have become such popular features of "The Arena." The full-page portraits, all of which are printed in deep sepia ink on India-tint paper, includes Mr. Jaures, David Graham Phillips, J. C. Gray, and a fine full-page half-tone reproduction of William Ordway Partridge's "Madonna," which forms the second of the "Arena's" series of reproductions of famous works by American artists.

HONOLULU PHYSICIANS MAKE THEIR STANFORD DECLARATION

The official statement of David Starr Jordan and Timothy Hopkins published in the Honolulu evening papers of March 15, and the morning paper of March 16, 1905, makes it incumbent upon the undersigned to issue the following statement and give it the same publicity.

It is our opinion that Mrs. Jane L. Stanford died of strychnine poisoning. Our reasons for coming to this conclusion are the following:

1. She died after a brief illness of half an hour, following the ingestion of a dose of bicarbonate of soda, containing an unknown quantity of strychnine, in a convulsion having the characteristics of the strychnine convulsion and which was seen by Drs. F. H. Humphris and H. V. Murray.
2. The post-mortem rigidity was identical with that found in known cases of strychnine poisoning.
3. The post-mortem examination revealed no other cause of death. The vital organs of the body, the brain, heart, lungs, kidneys, liver and spleen being normal for a woman of her age and habits of life.
4. There was no undigested food in the stomach or intestines which presented a healthy normal appearance.
5. The post-mortem appearances conformed in every respect with the post-mortem appearances in authenticated cases of strychnine poisoning.

Add to these facts, of which we have personal knowledge, the sworn statements to the coroner's jury, of two authorized chemists that they found strychnine in the contents of the intestines, and in the contents of the bottle marked "bicarbonate of soda" from which the dose that Mrs. Stanford took was prepared and there is a chain of evidence that will hold fast under the fiercest assault.

We affirm that she did not die of acute indigestion because the contents of the stomach and bowels were perfectly digested, and death was too sudden to be caused by that complaint.

We affirm that she did not die of ptomaine poisoning because that disease is not so rapidly fatal.

She did not die of angina pectoris because neither the symptoms of the attack nor the condition of the heart confirms that diagnosis.

It is imbecile to think that a woman of Mrs. Stanford's age and known mental characteristics might have died of an hysterical seizure in half an hour.

"Her advanced age, the unaccustomed exertion, surfeit of unsuitable food and the unusual exposure," either separately or combined, could not cause death as Mrs. Stanford died.

No Board of Health in existence could allow a certificate based on such a cause of death to go unchallenged.

Until the report of the chemist in San Francisco who found a fatal amount of strychnine in the bottle of Poland water, and the presence of the strychnine in the bicarbonate of soda is explained away and until convincing proof has been offered to an unprejudiced medical profession that she did not die of strychnine poisoning, our diagnosis must stand.

Now, as to the astonishing statement signed by David Starr Jordan and Timothy Hopkins. It begins as follows:

"In our judgment after careful consideration of all the facts brought to our knowledge, we are fully convinced that Mrs. Stanford's death was not due to strychnine poisoning nor to intentional wrong doing on the part of any

INTERESTING LETTER

WRITTEN BY A NOTABLE WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah Kellogg of Denver, Colorado, Bearer of the Woman's Relief Corps, Sends Thanks to Mrs. Pinkham.

The following letter was written by Mrs. Kellogg, of 1628 Lincoln Ave., Denver, Colo., to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:
"For five years I was troubled with a tumor, which kept growing, causing me intense agony and great mental depression. I was unable to attend to my house work, and life became a burden to me. I was confined for days to my bed, lost my appetite, my courage and all hope. I could not bear to think of an operation, and in my distress I tried every remedy which I thought would be of any use to me, and reading of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to sick women decided to give it a trial. I felt so discouraged that I had little hope of recovery, and when I began to feel better, after the second week, thought it only meant temporary relief; but to my great surprise I found that I kept gaining, while the tumor lessened in size."
"The Compound continued to build up my general health and the tumor seemed to be absorbed, until, in seven months, the tumor was entirely gone and I a well woman. I am so thankful for my recovery that I ask you to publish my letter in newspapers, so other women may know of the wonderful curative powers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

When women are troubled with irregular or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, flatulence, general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such trouble.

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Health is too valuable to risk in experiments with unknown and untried medicines or methods of treatment. Remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

after death in his testimony says: "I was impressed with one conspicuous feature, and that was the rigidity, and position of the feet, the ankle was in extreme extension, that is to say, the toes were thrown down, so that the arch of the foot was very much exaggerated, and drawn inward towards the median line, a condition I do not recall having seen before on any body."

The Coroner—"Was this indicative of any cause of death, that is did it suggest to you—what?"
Dr. Day—"It suggested, of course, that the patient in all probability died in a spasm."

The Coroner—"In a spasm?"
Answer—"That is a strong contraction of the muscles."

So much for the sworn statements of the only persons who were with Mrs. Stanford in her last moments. And now we will see how they bear out the characteristics of strychnine poisoning.

In the Reference Handbook of Medical Science, 1904 Edition, Vol. 7, page 543, in the article headed "Poisoning by Strychnine and nuxvomica" the following statements are made: "During the spasms, there is, in the majority of cases, marked opisthotonos, the head is thrown sharply back, the body bent backwards, the abdominal and thoracic muscles firmly contracted, the lower extremities rigid, the soles of the feet bent inward and strongly arched, the lower jaw is fixed, the eyeballs are protruding, the pupils dilated, the expression of the countenance distorted, the lips cyanotic, the mouth marked with froth. The spasm gradually passes off, the muscles relax, the patient speaks, usually calls for air, desires to be held and is in dread of impending death."

In Dr. Potter's book, "Materia Medica, Pharmacy and Therapeutics," 1901 Edition, page 390, in an article on strychnine the following passages appear: "After a full dose (one-twelfth of a grain) the pupils become dilated, the limbs take on jerking movements, the respiration becomes spasmodic and the lower jaw stiff. . . . a toxic dose (half to two grains) produces powerful and characteristic convulsions of a tetanic character after the paroxysm has lasted a minute or two it usually relaxes for a time. . . . the convulsions rapidly increase in severity, a breath of wind, the slightest noise, or even a bright light being sufficient to bring them on and in one, the patient may jerk himself out of the bed, at last the respiration stops in the middle of a fit and the heart soon ceases to beat."

Therefore we cannot agree with the opinion of Dr. Jordan and Mr. Hopkins wherein they say, "We find in the statements of those who were with her in her last moments, no evidence that any of the characteristic symptoms of strychnine poisoning were present."

OPEN LETTER ON EXPENSES OF COUNTY

Honolulu, March 17th, 1905.

Hon. W. C. Ault.

Dear Senator:—In addressing you in this way, I do not aim to bring on a newspaper controversy between us; but I desire to express to you publicly my surprise at your remarks in the Senate yesterday to the effect, that you see no money to run counties.

You have taken an interest in the work I have done on our County Act; and you took special interest in conforming your "Act Relating to Taxation" to the Commission's County Act. At the time we were at work on this last named proposition, and prior thereto, you said to me that there is enough revenue to run County Government.

A week ago, in the presence of Vice-Speaker Cox and Commissioner N. Fernandez, you said, that if the House pass the Commission's County Act with the amendment you suggested in the duties of Tax Assessor, and then pass your "Act Relating to Taxation," or the Broad Tax Act, which is the same thing, that there would be no trouble starting County government on July 1st next.

Two weeks, or more, ago I gave out through the Evening Bulletin some figures showing that County government, under the Commission's Act, would not cost materially more than to conduct the same work under the Territorial government. The soundness of my reasoning and the general correctness of my estimates have not been disputed.

Before giving out those figures, knowing you to be a student of government finance, I left them with you over two days, and when you handed them back to me, you said substantially: "I think some of your estimates a little too low; but no pikika about money for county government."

The mistake into which most laymen fall in this matter is to assume that, with county government, our Territorial government will need as much money. You know that to be untrue.

In the Governor's Message, page 15, the amount asked for the Treasury Department is $648,250. Now with counties taking the tax department (assessors, etc.), the bulk of that item drops out. The amount asked for the Police Department is $724,050. Now the counties will take all of that burden of expense from the Territorial government, and in those two items alone, we have over a million dollars, which will not be needed for the Territorial government. There are other departments and other items; but I do not desire to make this a lengthy communication.

As matters now stand, it takes over two million dollars annually to run the Territorial government; but, if the Legislature redeems its pledges and gives the people county government, the Territory will not need half that amount; and you know it, and have repeatedly said so.

Hence my surprise at your remarks yesterday.

Money will be needed to pay salaries on the first of July next. If there should not be sufficient funds in the treasury, and if the Territorial government can get it from the banks, then under your Tax Act, the counties will be able to get it as easily.

The only difference will be, that the treasurers elected by the people will raise and spend the money instead of the treasurer appointed by the Governor.

Yours truly,

T. MCANTS STEWART.

GREEN SEA TURTLE IS RECAPTURED

Frank Harvey wore an immense green ribbon in his buttonhole and a large smile upon his face this morning. The former was in honor of St. Patrick's day but the smile was due to the fact that the tables have been turned on that self-constituted Pake Committee for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, that dumped a large turtle overboard the other day, thereby causing pangs of regret in the breast of Frank who dearly loves a toothsome steak and a plate of delicious turtle soup. The very identical turtle that was captured at Pearl Harbor 3 weeks ago and which was bought by a hui of Chinese who gave it back to the freedom of the sea was recaptured by two natives last night and placed under a close watch. The marks which had been made upon its back were the cause of its identification and Harvey called upon Captain Larsen to furnish him with a corporal's guard of Union sailors to keep the would be Chink rescuers at a distance. The turtle, tell it not in Gath, has been turned over to Major Camara, himself an expert on culinary mysteries, and Harvey emphatically protests that he will not be cheated out of his steaks this time, even if a hui including the entire Chinese population of Honolulu should organize and incorporate to protect the life of the crustacean.

MAUNA LOA BRINGS

NEWS THAT FIRES

ARE STILL BURNING

The Mauna Loa arrived this morning at 5 o'clock from Kona and Kau ports and docked at the Inter-Island wharf. The outward trip was reported as unusually rough, with fairly good weather coming in. Twelve cabin and eight-six deck passengers were on board. Among the former were W. Austin and Geo. B. Frazier, heavy stockholders in the Hawaiian Agricultural Company, who have been inspection the company's plantation. Judge Mathewman came down from Kona. There were six passengers from the Volcano, which is reported as quiet and apparently "dead."

The Mauna Loa ran into a school of whales in the channel between Oahu and Molokai, and Molokai and Lanai. Fully fifty of the monsters were seen playing in the waters.

The forest fires did not seem to have abated their fury, but rather gained, according to reports. As the Mauna Loa came by Kona on Wednesday night a great expanse of district estimated as three miles in frontage was seen burning. The flames broke out Saturday night, fanned by a southerly breeze. No koa forest seems in danger as yet.

The Mauna Loa brought the following cargo: 7395 bags sugar, 62 bags coffee, 76 bunches bananas, 56 bales hides, 45 bags taro, 30 head beef cattle, and 23 pigs.

About 500 feet of fine koa lumber was also brought, consigned to Lewers & Cooke.
