Insurance.
WHY THE
Equitable Life
Assurance Society
of the United States is the Best company with which to Assure.
I.—Because of its Safety.
Its surplus is larger than that of any other assurance company.
II.—Because of its Promptness.
Of 1,043 death claims paid in 1885, nearly one-half were paid the very day proofs were received; while of the remainder, the majority were paid within the following three days. No other company can show such a record.
III.—Because of its Liberality and Reforms.
All policies are INCONTESTABLE after three years. All incontestable policies are payable immediately upon receipt of proofs of death. The Society's policy contract is clear and simple, and liberal in its conditions. Its Non-forfeiting Tontine (or Semi-Tontine) policy affords all the ultimate benefits of the full Tontine, and has during its earlier years the surrender value and other material advantages of ordinary life policies.
IV.—Profit.
No other company is paying on its policies, as large profits as are shown under the Equitable's assured Tontine policies with fifteen-year periods. Persons desiring assurance may obtain estimates of the probable results of similar policies, and of policies with twenty-year terms, which are expected to show even larger profits.
V.—Prospective Advantages.
The unexampled progress of the Equitable in the past is the best guarantee of the increasing future value of assurance with the Equitable.
Assets, $86,553,387.50

FRIDAY, AUGUST 13, 1886.

WHOSE CABINET IS IT?

The genesis of the present Hawaiian Cabinet is a matter about which there has been considerable debate in the community. The political parentage of a Ministry is, among intelligent citizens, considered to be a legitimate subject of inquiry. Opinion is, at the same time, not altogether so diverse on the subject referred to, among the knowing ones of the capital, as among scientists respecting the creation of the world. In neither case probably, will it ever be possible to lay down a theory which will be accepted by everyone. And in neither case will it likely prove of much public utility whether this or that theory is fully established. As regards the mundane sphere, probably the most satisfactory conclusion that can be reached is to accept the "good the gods provide," and to make the best of it. This is precisely the course we have taken with the Cabinet which opened its eyes on the sunny side of the royal prerogative on the 1st of July. We have endeavored to identify the parental connection of the new-born offspring of political intrigue at head quarters, merely from those motives of enlightened curiosity which are characteristic of progressive and enterprising journalism. If the Ministers honor their portfolios, the BULLETIN is always willing to support them to the last drop of ink and the last m of its type.

The position of a Minister is admitted to be beset with many difficulties, and although the honors and emoluments are not to be despised, it still remains a puzzle to many people why the position is so much coveted and why every third adult in the Kingdom is, in his own estimation, more competent to run a department than the person in it. There being so many competent aspirants for office among the public men best acquainted with the country may have been the reason why one-half of the members of the present administration were selected from very recent arrivals. If they never performed any public service to merit sudden promotion from alienage to chairs of state, they have the negative recommendation that for the few days of their denization, they had an untarnished record. This is a valuable qualification for a Minister entering on his duties. It further gives the new ministers considerable advantage over their colleague and leader, the Minister of the Interior. The necessity for exercising a good memory and acting consistently with previous professions is obviated in the cases of the new incumbents. They are saved the trouble of keeping read up in their own political biographies, these volumes not having, as yet, reached the proof-sheets. The Minister of Interior is in a more perilous position. On him devolves the duty of guiding the new campaign and also answering for all blunders perpetrated by his staff officers in the past.

One of the most difficult tasks which His Excellency has had to face since the 30th of last June, was to prove to the satisfaction of inquiring minds both in and out of the house, the constitutional legitimacy of his new-born colleagues. On the first of July, his excellency introduced them in these terms: "Yesterday afternoon the late Ministers tendered their resignation as a body to His Majesty the King, and I had the honor to receive the commands of His Majesty to form a new Ministry, and my colleagues have the honor to take their seats this morning." Six weeks later, on the 12th of August, His Excellency, defending himself from some of the flying arrows of the Opposition bowmen, announced that the new Cabinet was of His Majesty's appointment, and that his share in the business was to concur in the choice made. The two explanations are almost as conflicting as the testimony of the Chinamen in the recent opium trial. It will be extremely difficult for the unsophisticated public to understand how the Minister was commanded to form a new Cabinet, which had already, or thereafter been formed by His Majesty, and in the composition of which nothing was left him to "form" except his own concurrence! That the Cabinet was of His Majesty's final and formal appointment can be understood. As in England, the appointments are publicly proclaimed as the act of the sovereign, but, previous to this, the nominations are presented to the sovereign by the minister. This, according to the statement of July 1st, seems to have been the course taken here; but according to the statement of August 12th, His Majesty completed the minister's work and his own as well. What and if His Excellency had declined to "concur"? Would the new Cabinet created by His Majesty, have been dissolved by the Minister? Suppose Lord Salisbury had received the commands of Her Majesty Queen Victoria to form a new ministry, and six weeks afterward announced to the House of Commons the discovery that he had been permitted only to "concur" in his own and their appointment. It would probably be the last announcement ever he would make from the Premier's place in the Parliament of Great Britain.

The grand difficulty with His Excellency the Hawaiian Minister of Interior is that the true genesis of the present Cabinet will not bear discussing officially, although it is pretty well understood by the public without any formal ministerial explanation. Whether the Minister meant what he said on the 1st of July and said what he did not mean on the 12th of August, or conversely, the moral is the same: namely, that the best footing for ministerial explanations of public events is the bed rock of solid truth. With regard to the two conflicting statements, the public do not trouble themselves with the question which is correct, as they do not accept either. The impassable stumbling-block in the way of an answer to "Whose cabinet is it?" really is that the Ministers are well aware that the public know too much about the matter to be bamboozled by fictitious explanations. The public will accept silence on the matter and be content with the Ministry if it proves worthy of confidence, but will accept no official self-contradictory disquisitions on its genesis. Further than a justifiable curiosity concerning the appointment of these gentlemen, whether they were selected by the ruling King, or the commercial king, or both, the people will accept the situation with perfect satisfaction, and are ready "to concur" with the Minister's policy, provided it commands itself to their judgment as that of able and honorable men. But the inquiry as to how the heterogeneous elements of which the Cabinet is composed were thrown together, stands a very slim chance of being "indefinitely postponed," at least until there comes another upset of the political cauldron.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SEVENTY-FOURTH DAY—CONTINUED.

THURSDAY, Aug. 11th.
AFTERNOON SESSION.

The committee resumed at 1:45. Rep. Dole replied to Minister Dare's argument. The system advocated by the Attorney-General might work in other countries, but could not be operated by native Hawaiian assessors, especially when these were changed so frequently that they could not become accustomed to the work. Noble Judd opposed the section, instancing cases where assessors made unjust assessments under the present law, and holding that the amendment would confuse matters worse. Natives did not understand currency nor taxation. When he was tax assessor, which he was for eleven years, under the former law, when mortgages were taxed separately from the land, there were many cases of double taxation. The present law changed that and he considered it worked well. Rep. Hayseiden said the statement of the hon. Noble that the present law increased the assessments of property was not borne out by the facts. Noble Judd begged the speaker's pardon, but he could produce the facts. Rep. Hayseiden cited figures to show that valuations in Honolulu had increased over a million since 1882, but there was a corresponding decrease in the country, where most of the leases were.

Noble Judd explained that his reference was to property in the city. Rep. Dole gave figures of the total valuations of property since 1881, to show that they had not decreased under the present law. In 1881 it was $31,109,000; 1882, $33,501,000; 1883, $34,251,000; 1884, $34,206,000; and 1885, when there was a heavy decline in the price of sugar, $33,871,000.

Rep. Hayseiden objected to the former speaker citing totals of real and personal property, when the discussion was on real estate. Against the decline of sugar he placed the double output of sugar, which proved that much more land must have been under cultivation, so that the valuation of real estate ought to show an increase rather than decrease.

Rep. Pachao opposed the section, on grounds similar to those given by previous speakers.

Rep. Aholo thought there should be something to guide assessors in valuing cane lands, and he had hoped the Finance Minister would have issued instructions to them during the past period. He had observed much disparity in the valuations of contiguous lands containing growing cane. Perhaps it might be well to try this amendment for the ensuing period.

Rep. Palohau considered the members for Lihue and Molokai were supporting the Government in the policy of increasing taxation, because they had proved that there had been an increase under the present law. The member for Honolulu had evidently changed places with them and was opposing the Government, for his proposal would tend to reduce taxation. Therefore, as the people were opposed to increase taxation, and he wanted to please his constituents in view of next election, he should vote for the section as in the bill.

Rep. Keau was in favor of the section, as under the existing law real estate valuations had only increased $300,000.

The section passed. Sec. 10, amending sec. 27 to make it read as follows, was read: "The interest of any person as tenant, lessee, or occupier of any real estate that is exempt from taxation, shall be assessed to such person who shall be liable to taxation in respect of the value of such interest."

Rep. Hayseiden moved the section pass.

Rep. Dole moved to strike it out as an unnecessary change from the present law.

The section passed. Sec. 11 was read, amending sec. 28 to read: "The full cash value of the interest of any person in real or personal property shall be estimated at a sum which such interest might reasonably be expected to bring at a sale by public auction for cash."

Rep. Hayseiden moved the section pass, which carried.

Sec. 12, amending section 29 to read as follows, was read: "The King in Cabinet Council shall appoint annually, on or before the first day of July, an assessor for each taxation district of the Kingdom, whose duty it shall be in accordance with the provisions of this act, to make on or before the fifteenth day of September a faithful assessment of all taxes imposed by law within their respective districts, and to furnish an accurate list of the same according to blank forms to be furnished by the said Minister of Finance, which shall exhibit the names of all persons assessed and the different items of taxation charged against them. In case of non-residents the list shall state their residence, if known; otherwise such residence must be described as 'unknown.'"

Rep. Dickey moved to insert after the word "kingdom," the words, "from the residents of such districts," and spoke of the inconvenience of non-resident assessors.

Rep. Brown was against the whole section, but if must pass he would support the amendment. The section gave too much power to the Ministry as a whole, and it was better leave the appointments to the Minister of Finance with the approval of the King.

Rep. Hayseiden said the change was dictated by complaints that the Finance Minister had too much power in the matter, and that the responsibility should be borne by the whole Ministry.

Rep. Brown further remarked, in support of Rep. Dickey's amendment, that resident assessors were likely to be acquainted with the property in the district. There was always a mysterious diminution in the number of dogs just before the visit of the assessor.

Rep. Thurston characterized this section as another attempt to promote the process of centralization. It sought to take the responsibility from the Minister of Finance, over whom this Assembly had control, to the King in Cabinet Council, over whom they had no control. He supposed this section was bound to pass, as he was told that some members had wires in their noses, by which they were pulled any desired way by the supreme power. This was another step in the steady advance toward centralization, which had been witnessed during the past few years.

Minister Gibson could not see much difference between this section and the old law. He could not understand the strong invective of the hon. member for Molokai, about taking power from responsible persons and placing it in irresponsible hands. The old law said "the Minister of Finance with the approval of the King," and the Minister could not issue a commission without His Majesty's consent. Under the new section the appointment would doubtless be recommended by the same Minister, and no Minister would submit any appointment not in harmony with the opinion of his colleagues. The old law held only one Minister responsible, while this held the whole four responsible. He could not assent to Rep. Thurston's view that it was towards centralization. That gentleman had referred to the native members as having holes in their noses. It was a most unworthy remark, and in accord with his usual line of speech. For a native-born Hawaiian to say such things of Hawaiian members, that they came here without any mind of their own, prepared to be led about with a ring in their noses, was an insult and an outrage upon them he could not understand coming from that quarter.

Rep. Richardson moved to amend by inserting in place of the words "the King in Cabinet Council," the following words: "The Minister of Finance with the approval of His Majesty the King in Cabinet Council."

Rep. Thurston said he could not see any difference between the responsibility of one and four Ministers. What was everybody's business was nobody's business. His objection to the section had been removed by Rep. Richardson's amendment.

Rep. Dole did not consider that Rep. Thurston's argument was at all out of place. A precedent had been established in putting a Hawaiian to fill the office of Minister of Finance. These men had been treated in the most humiliating manner. One was sent out of the country which was against the law, and they all knew that these men had been snubbed while in office. They had been made laughing-stocks before the whole nation. But they had a man in office now who was not likely to stand so much of that sort of treatment. The passage of this section would reduce him to a clerk and distribute his authority among the King and Cabinet Council. If they went to the Ministers and asked who was responsible, each would say another was responsible, and all would say it was the King. Let them not degrade the office. If a kanaka or holo was not good enough, then put in a Chinaman. With such samples of white men for Ministers, as had been seen for some time past, it would be better to put in Hawaiians. He would support a Cabinet all Hawaiian, provided it was controlled by the Legislature. A man should be held responsible for the acts of his own office. The present Minister of Finance was prepared to stand by his responsibility.

Minister Gibson complimented the member for Lihue as a painstaking legislator, whose legal training made the speaker often glad to follow his lead. But sometimes he got into a scolding vein and indulged in ad captandem statements, thinking it would catch the ear of the Hawaiian representatives. The hon. member had drawn a picture of an insulted Minister of Finance. He did not know whom he referred to unless it was the Hawaiian gentleman who occupied the office a little time ago, and whose character was denounced and vilified by him and his twin scold the hon. member for Molokai. The member for Lihue did not bear in mind that in his remarks upon this very bill he referred in contemptuous terms to the ignorance and want of intelligence of Hawaiian Assessors. Then Hawaiian members were represented as having no minds of their own; as being like sheep, one jumping after the other; as having rings in their noses, and being otherwise unfit to discharge their duties. All this the hon. member smoothed over by a compliment to the national pride of the native Hawaiians. He would not accord a monopoly of this sentiment to the hon. member. He had always sympathized with this view and had formed his views soon after he came to this country upon the policy of a former Minister of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Wylie. That gentleman, as well as Mr. Ricard held that the Cabinet offices should only be held by foreigners, until they fully prepared the way for Hawaiians.

Rep. Thurston remarked that this was being done by taking two Ministers from California this year. Minister Gibson was pleased to say that now several important public offices were filled by Hawaiians, and he hoped to see them occupying not only seats in the Executive, but also on the Bench of the Supreme Court.

Rep. Dickey said that he would answer the remarks of His Excellency, by an interrogation: Why, if you have such love for the native Hawaiians, did you, having been called upon by His Majesty to form two cabinets, in forming the first one import a lawyer from California as Attorney-General, and in the second not only did you import another California lawyer to fill that position, but selected as Minister of Foreign Affairs a white man who had not been two years in the country, when you could have filled all those places with competent native Hawaiians?

Minister Gibson begged to say that, although nominally called to form a Cabinet, His Majesty the King had selected the members of the Cabinet, and not Mr. Gibson. They were the choice of His Majesty, and Mr. Gibson heartily concurred in His Majesty's choice.

Rep. Thurston asked if the Minister meant His Majesty Kalakaua or His Majesty Spreckels. Minister Gibson said that such a scandalous remark was an insult, and unworthy of the Assembly. Mr. Spreckels was an honorable and worthy gentleman, and he (the speaker) could say most positively that that gentleman did not have one word to say in the selection of His Majesty's Ministers.

The Chairman said the house had wandered away from the tax bill.

Minister Dare said he made it a rule in his life that if missiles were thrown he would get out of range. But when they were thrown intentionally at him he gave them back. In the first place, he was aware he was not going to talk upon the subject before the Chair, but he asked as a right to reply to the attacks upon him as a personal privilege.

Rep. Brown rose to a point of order. The question before the house was section 12. He objected to the personalities that had been indulged in on both sides. It was not right. The committee was here to attend to business.

Minister Dare said he agreed with the gentleman, but why did he not raise this objection when his friends of the Opposition were making personal attacks? It was singular that the objection was reserved for the time when a reply was to be made to these attacks.

Rep. Brown denied that he was allied with any party. He was sent there by his constituents, to serve them and the country as best he could, and acted in the house according to his own judgment.

Minister Dare acknowledged that Mr. Brown was mostly independent, but he claimed the right of reply as a matter of personal privilege. He was in the Hawaiian Kingdom on the invitation of His Hawaiian Majesty the King. Could the member for Lihue say as much.

Rep. Dole—I am here by right of birth. Mr. Spreckels put you here.

Minister Dare said the hon. member was there by the accident of birth. He was not a consenting party and had no voice in the matter. Mr. Dole and Mr. Thurston were the children of missionaries who came to this country to be part of it, and he (the speaker) and his parents had contributed the ten cents towards the fund raised by contributions to support them. Their parents had come to Hawaii to do good and become part of the people, but these gentlemen were not satisfied in being a part, they wanted to own the country. That was what was wrong with the Opposition now, as it had been in the past—they were not willing to participate in the management of affairs, but they must have absolute control—and because they could not get it they abused every man who stood in their way. Any foreigner who was here and who was not in sympathy with the native Hawaiians should go hence. For his part, if he held views similar to those entertained by Messrs. Dole and Thurston regarding the natives of this country, he would get up and leave it.

Rep. Dole rose to a point of order. He would like to have the views of the Attorney-General, but some other time would do. He could not connect his remarks with section 12.

Minister Dare said he had departed from the subject in the same way as the hon. member had done. Allusion had been made to Colonel Spreckels in a most unwarrantable manner. He had known that gentleman intimately for many years, perhaps better than any man in the kingdom, and if His Majesty the King had subjects as loyal and devoted to the best interests of the country, and as sincere and earnest in their desire for its happiness and well being, he should bless God for such supporters. He had never heard Colonel Spreckels speak of this country in any other terms than an earnest desire for its advancement and the entire benefit of the Hawaiian race. For himself he (the speaker) came here, having arrived at the years of discretion. There was no act of his either here or elsewhere that was not explainable upon reason and judgment. He came here of his own accord, with full knowledge of what he was doing and the responsibilities he was undertaking, and he was personally responsible for every act of his life, either in this Assembly or out of it. He had nothing to conceal, and he was as proud of every act of his life as any man who breathes the pure air of heaven. The speaker then referred to the section of the bill under discussion, and argued that its principal was that of a distribution of power instead of centralization, as the member for Molokai had contended.

Rep. Dickey's amendment was lost. Rep. Richardson's amendment carried, and the section passed as amended.

Sec. 13 was read amending sec. 30 as follows: "Each assessor on his appointment to office and before entering upon his duties, shall execute, and deliver to be filed, a bond to the Minister of Finance in such penal sum not less than $2,000 as may be fixed by said Minister of Finance, with two or more sufficient to said Minister all take and sub-Police or District or other officer authorized oaths, an oath of office all be immediately for- said Minister of Finance. shall be substantially in following form: I, having appointed assessor of taxes for the district of — on the Island of —, do solemnly swear, or affirm, that I will make a fair assessment of taxes in said district, according to the best of my judgment and ability, and discharge all the duties of the said office, according to law. So help me God."

Rep. Hayselden moved the section pass, which carried. Sec. 14, amending sec. 31, was passed as follows: "No assessor shall be entitled to receive any compensation for his services, unless his oath of office and bond shall have been filed with the Minister of Finance."

Sec. 15, amending sec. 33, being dependent upon previous sections that were rejected, was, on motion of Rep. Hayselden, struck out. Sec. 16, amending sec. 37, was, on motion of Rep. Hayselden, passed as follows: "It shall be the duty of each assessor, on or before the fifth day of September in each year, to make and complete two copies of his tax list as hereinbefore prescribed."

Sec. 17, amending sec. 38, was read as follows: "It shall be the duty of each assessor to attend on all days except Sundays, between the 15th day of September and the 1st day of October, at some convenient place or places in his district, between the hours of 9 o'clock in the forenoon, and 4 o'clock in the afternoon with his tax list, which tax list shall, during such times, be open for the inspection of all persons liable to taxation in the district, without fee or reward."

Rep. Wight moved to strike out the section, saying he proposed to make a similar motion with regard to the next section, and move an amendment, that he read, to the 19th section. He argued at length in favor of the change.

Rep. Richardson moved to amend sec. 17 by substituting the 20th for the 15th of September.

Rep. Thurston moved to refer secs. 17, 18, 19 and 20 to a committee.

Rep. Hayselden saw no necessity for reference to a committee, as the bill had been fully considered already by a committee. He moved the section pass.

Rep. Dickey, on the chairman ruling Rep. Thurston's motion out of order, moved that the committee of the whole recommend the house to refer the sections in question to a select committee, to report on Tuesday next.

Rep. Castle approved of the section, and thought it should pass unchanged. When they came to sec. 19, he should support the theory, if not the words, of Rep. Wight's amendment.

Rep. Richardson's amendment was carried, and the section passed as amended.

The committee rose, reported progress and asked leave to sit again. The report was adopted.

The house adjourned at 4:30 till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

SEVENTY-FIFTH DAY.

FRIDAY, August 13th. The Assembly was opened with prayer by the Chaplain at 10 A. M., the President in the chair. Minutes were read and confirmed.

PRIVILEGE.

Noble Wilder rose to a question of privilege. He had seen his name in a published list of free water privileges, as receiving such to the amount of $50. This was not correct, as he received no such privileges. The water for his residence at Maema was paid for by water rights conveyed to the Government, and he explained the transaction in detail, by which he had water for 24 hours, and the Government had ten times as much water as before. There was also an error in having the Marine Railway put down for free water, compensation for its water being included in the annual rent paid the Government according to agreement.

Minister Gibson said the statement was obtained from the Superintendent of Water Works, and probably included all water privileges for which there was no cash compensation received in the bureau. The statement of the hon. Noble was doubtless correct.

REPORTS.

Minister Gibson presented printed copies of the report of the Cabinet Relief Committee, which he moved be laid on the table for consideration with the Appropriation Bill. In the proper place he would move to insert an item of $6,336.09 to meet the expenditure.

Minister Gibson also presented, on behalf of the Minister of Finance, a reply to the question of the Hon. L. A. Thurston, in respect to payment of subsidy to the Oceanic Steamship Company. Of the amount appropriated, $63,000, the sum of $61,500 was paid leaving an unexpended balance of $1,500. The payments from, July 22, 1884, to Dec. 1, 1885, are all to the steamships Alameda and Mariposa. Those since the latter date are given by the month, $3,000 each for Dec.,

1885, and Jan., Feb. and March, 1886, no names of vessels being returned.

Rep. Hayselden presented the following report from the select committee on postal items:—

HON. J. S. WALKER, President Legislative Assembly. Sir:—Your special committee to whom was referred sundry items in the Appropriation Bill, under the head of the Postal Bureau, respectfully beg to report that they have carefully examined into the matter and recommend that the item of $32,640 in the Appropriation Bill for pay of clerks of Post Office be reduced to $24,800. That the item of $17,000, pay of postmasters, is not too much and will be required. It is true that only $12,782 was spent during the last biennial period, but your committee found upon inquiry that in addition to this amount the postmasters had received about $8,000 as commissions on the sale of stamps during the same time. This practice has been discontinued and slight increases have been made to the salaries paid to postmasters while additional offices have been opened.

The item of $28,000 for pay of mail carriers will be required on account of slight increases to pay of present mail carriers, and on account of the opening of new mail routes. The expenditure during the last period was $25,119.34. The amount asked for now is but a slight increase and in the opinion of your committee quite necessary.

The item for incidentals $14,000 as in the Appropriation Bill is in excess of the amount spent for the same purpose last period which was $10,182.49. Your committee found, however, upon inquiry and examination that there were old accounts owing under this head amounting to nearly $8,000, and we recommend that the sum of $14,000 for incidentals be passed as in the bill. Your committee also recommend that an item of $8,000 be placed in the Appropriation Bill, for the purpose of paying off the old accounts incurred and not paid during the past and previous periods.

J. K. KAUNAMANO, FRED. H. HAYSDELLEN, CECIL BROWN, WALTER M. GIBSON.

Rep. Aholo presented a report from the Finance Committee on the petition of Haalilio, for an amount claimed due as tax assessor's commission. They find a balance of $132.68 due petitioner, and recommend an appropriation of that amount. Laid on the table for consideration with the Appropriation Bill.

Rep. Kaunamano presented a report of the select committee on petitions and resolutions for aid to roads and bridges.

A discussion ensued as to the disposal of the report in the course of which Minister Gibson again announced his disinclination, and he believed that of his colleagues, to borrow money. They were not afraid, however, of using the country's credit, if it was deemed necessary to do so, for such purposes, for instance, as refunding the debt, deepening the Honolulu channel, or other great national object. The report was tabled.

RESOLUTIONS.

Rep. Brown presented the following resolution: Resolved, that His Excellency the Minister of Interior be requested to notify the Superintendent of Waterworks that hereafter no free water rights will be allowed any persons, except where the same is by agreement, and for and under a deed for a valuable consideration.

Rep. Castle favored the resolution, suggesting, however, to amend by inserting after the word "persons," the words, "or Government officers." He contended that it would be better for Government establishments to pay for their water, and have it charged against their appropriations. In no other way could an accurate knowledge be obtained of the income and expenditure of each bureau.

Rep. Brown accepted the amendment.

Rep. Keau moved to strike out the clauses referring to agreement, deed, etc.

Rep. Kaunamano thought the King should be excepted.

Rep. Palohau remarked that the King had plenty money, and could pay for his water.

Rep. Thurston moved to strike off all after the words "no free water rates."

Rep. Richardson suggested that if the object was to have no free water rates, the resolution should simply say so.

Rep. Brown thereupon withdrew the resolution, substituting the following, which was put and carried:— Resolved, that the Minister of the Interior notify the Superintendent of Waterworks that hereafter no free water rights be granted.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

The house went into committee of the whole, Noble Cleghorn in the chair, for the consideration of the Appropriation Bill. Items in the bureau of the Post Office were taken up, with the recommendations of the select committee.

Rep. Keau spoke at length against the proposal to reduce the pay of clerks to $24,800, remarking on the extra clerk hire on the arrival of foreign steamers. He moved $28,000.

Rep. Hayselden said he had got the figures from the Deputy Postmaster, and the committee's recommendation was sufficient.

Passed at $24,800. Pay of Postmasters passed at $17,000.

Pay of Mail Carriers passed at $28,000.

Rep. Aholo thought the house should consider whether $14,000 was sufficient for incidentals, when the Postal Savings Bank had to be supported out of that item until it became self-supporting.

After discussion by Minister Gibson and Reps. Hayselden and Brown, the item passed as recommended.

Minister Gibson moved to insert, Outstanding Claims against Post Office..... $8,000

Rep. Dole wanted to know if the committee had investigated these large claims that had been left sleeping for several years. On being told the committee had asked the Deputy and the head clerk about the claims and been assured they were proper, he moved the item be referred back to the committee for investigation.

The amendment was lost and the item carried.

Rep. Brown thought an appropriation should be made to authorize the withdrawal of deposits from the Savings Bank.

Rep. Dole thought it would be advisable to put in a large lump sum, and would move $100,000.

Rep. Thurston advised caution, as they might bungle things. Nobody was a greater stickler than he for having every expenditure provided for in the Appropriation Bill. Yet $100,000 might be much too small, if the bank flourished as similar institutions did in other countries.

Rep. Richardson moved the item be referred to the select committee, which carried.

At 12:05 the committee took recess till 1:30.

WORKMEN have been for sometime engaged in excavating earth and coral, for a cellar, over the entire surface of Mr. Kellert's lot on Hotel street, where a brick building is to be erected, as previously stated. The excavation has been completed, and the mason work was commenced yesterday, under the supervision of Mr. Lucas, who has the contract.

IT has been proposed that Captain Nelson prepare the schooner Gen. Siegel for a sharking expedition to the south: that Nelson be allowed 3 of the profits, furnish the crew and provisions for a three months cruise, and command the vessel. Capt. Nelson says it is a good offer and he thinks he could make it pay, but he has not the means of fitting up the schooner. One hundred dollars advance and some provisions have been offered him, and the proposition may come to a head.

LAST evening a birthday party was given to master Henry Hart, at the residence of his father. Both the exterior and interior of the house were decorated with lanterns, flags, and flowers. Refreshments were served through the evening. Wine, wit and humor were abundant. A native string band furnished the music. Singing and dancing were among the principal features of the evening. The party broke up at 1 o'clock this morning, and everyone there was so pleased that Mr. Hart was overwhelmed with thanks and congratulations.

PERSONAL NOTES.

JUDGE Farnander, who has been spending a few days in town, took his departure by the W. G. Hall this morning.

MR. G. J. WALLER, while returning from town to his home at Kalihi, Wednesday night, was thrown from his horse, and his shoulder injured.

A MUTILATED MAN.

At 11:30 last night police officer Kamakau, No. 5, picked up a man on the corner of Punchbowl and Beretania streets. The man who was apparently under the influence of liquor, was taken to the Station House. When he was examined this morning it was found that he had been maltreated. He was unable to speak, on account of his mouth having been smashed. But by questions to which he gave written answers, it was ascertained that his name is Michael Garlone, had been a luna at Spreckelsville for several months, and came to Honolulu a few days ago. He is stoutly built, wore a small reddish moustache, and roomed on King street, behind the Polynesian Restaurant. It appears that Garlone was beaten in a faro den by several roughs. He was taken to the Hospital this morning, where he will be treated. He claims that he could recognize any of his assailants, and tells of having lost $50.

BATTALION DRILL.

The battalion drill last evening, under command of His Majesty the King, was admirable for its brevity. The companies were prompt in forming line at the armory. They marched to Palace Square, headed by the drum corps. Just before reaching the parade grounds His Majesty gave the command "right onto the line." This evolution was performed, but not satisfactorily, and the battalion was marched back to opposite the house of Engine Co. No. 1. Then the commands "column left," "right onto the line" and "companies right wheel" were given, which brought the battalion in order for parade. Colonel Boyd, who acted as Adjutant, formed the parade and handed it over to His Majesty. Colonel Boyd did well, except when he gave the command of "rear open order," while the battalion was at order arms. Shortly after the parade was dismissed, the battalion returned to the armory. To-night there will be another battalion drill, under command of His Majesty, who, through Acting-Adjutant Boyd, expressed his wish to see a large turnout.

THE HONOLULU FIRE-OUTCH AID PROFFERED.

By the last mail His Excellency the Minister of Foreign Affairs received a letter from D. H. Schmall Esq., His Majesty's Charge d'Affaires and Consul General for the Netherlands at Amsterdam, announcing that upon the receipt of the news of the disastrous fire in Honolulu last April, he had at once opened a subscription for the relief of the sufferers. The committee consisted of Vice Admiral Ikh. M. W. Van Rensselaer Bowier, Colonel-Commandant J. Van Someren Brand, F. C. Tromp, R. W. J. C. Van Dell Wall Bake, J. D. Van Der Made, Hawaiian Consul Agent, and D. H. Schmall, Hawaiian Charge d'Affaires. This generous action on the part of His Majesty's Consul General, is most praiseworthy and commendable, and although happily our citizens do not need the kindly proffered assistance they will entertain most grateful feelings to him and the distinguished gentlemen associated with him in the Honolulu Fire Relief Fund.—(P. MR. H. J. HART, Proprietor of the Elite Ice Cream Parlors 85 Hotel Street, Honolulu.

DEAR SIR:—In answer to your request concerning the merit of the 3 Wedding and Bridal Cakes, the quality of Ice Cream and general supply to our Wedding Dinner of which you had the catering; we wish to express our perfect satisfaction with everything.—The Cakes were handsomely decorated and looked most temptingly. Everybody praised the rich quality and fine flavor of those cakes. The Ice Cream was delicious. The meats, salads, etc. were abundant and eaten by all present with great relish.

We shall not fail to recommend your services on all occasions and remain, Yours truly, GEO. MARKHAM, H. F. BEITELMANN.

We should Blot Out Disease in Its Early Stages.

The disease commences with a slight derangement of the stomach, but, if neglected, it in time involves the whole frame, embracing the kidneys, liver, pancreas, and in fact the entire glandular system; and the afflicted drags out a miserable existence until death gives relief from suffering. The disease is often mistaken for other complaints, but if the reader will ask himself the following questions he will be able to determine whether he himself is one of the afflicted—Have I distress, pain, or difficulty in breathing after eating? Is there a dull, heavy feeling, attended by drowsiness? Have the eyes a yellow tinge? Does a thick, sticky mucous gather about the gums and teeth in the mornings, accompanied by a disagreeable taste? Is the tongue coated? Is there pain in the sides and back? Is there a fullness about the right side as if the liver were enlarging? Is there vertigo or dizziness when rising suddenly from an horizontal position? Are the secretions from the kidneys highly coloured, with a deposit after standing? Does food ferment soon after eating, accompanied by flatulence or belching of gas from the stomach? Is there frequent palpitation of the heart? These various symptoms may not be present at one time, but they torment the sufferer in turn as the dreadful disease progresses. If the case be one of long standing, there will be a dry, hacking cough, attended after a time by expectoration. In very advanced stages the skin assumes a dirty brownish appearance, and the hands and feet are covered by a cold sticky perspiration. As the liver and kidneys become more and more diseased, rheumatic pains appear, and the usual treatment proves entirely unavailing against the latter agonising disorder. The final stage of the disease is indigestion or dyspepsia, and a small quantity of the proper medicine will remove the disease if taken in its incipient stage. It is most important that the disease should be promptly and properly treated in its first stages, and a little medicine will effect a cure, and even when it has obtained a strong hold the correct remedy should be persevered in until every vestige of the disease is eradicated, until the appetite has returned, and the digestive organs restored to a healthy condition. The surest and most effectual remedy for this distressing complaint is "Seigel's Curative Syrup," a vegetable preparation sold by all chemists and medicine vendors throughout the world, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, London, E. C. This Syrup strikes at the very foundation of the disease, and drives root and branch out of the system. Ask your chemist for Seigel's Curative Syrup.

"East-street Mills, Cambridge-Heath, London, E. C., July 24th, 1882.
"Sir—It gives me great pleasure to be able to add my testimony in favour of your valuable Syrup as a curative agent. I had suffered for some length of time from a severe form of indigestion, and the long train of distressing symptoms following that disease. I had tried all possible means to get relief, by seeking the best medical advice. I had swallowed sufficient of their stuff to float a man-of-war, so to speak, but all to no avail. A friend of mine, coming on the scene in the midst of my sufferings, brought with him a bottle of your Seigel Syrup; he advised me to try it, stating he felt confident it would benefit me. Being weary of trying so many drugs, I commenced it before trial, thinking it could not possibly do me any good, but ultimately determined to take the Syrup. After doing so for a short time it worked such a change in me that I continued taking it for nearly two months, and I then felt thoroughly cured, for I have discontinued its use for five weeks, and feel in the best of health, and can partake any kind of food with ease and comfort. I am therefore thankful to you that, through the instrumentality of your valuable medicine, I am restored to the state of health I now enjoy.—Yours truly,
"W. S. FORSTER."
"To Mr. A. J. White."
Those who are in the "Asthma Furace" should lose no time in obtaining relief by the use of "The Rosinweed Tar Mixture," but do not use the medicine unless you will follow all the directions "to the letter."
Poor Asthma sufferers, who are strangers to "tired Nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep," should make use of "The Rosinweed Tar Mixture." Quiet refreshing sleep will follow its use.
"Waterloo House, London Stile, Chiswick."
"February 17th, 1882."
"Messrs. White and Co., London."
"Gentlemen,—It is with great pleasure that I add my testimony to the wonderful effects of Seigel's Syrup. For years I had been suffering from bilious attacks, which began with giddiness; then a mist would come before my eyes, so that I should not be able to recognise any one or anything at the distance of a yard or two from my face. This would be followed by excessive trembling of my knees, so that I could not stand without support; after which a severe headache would occur, lasting often two or three days. I have tried various remedies for these distressing symptoms, but until I tried Seigel's Syrup I had no relief. Since then I have had excellent health in every respect, and if ever I feel a headache coming on I take one dose of the Syrup, which arrests it. Hoping that this testimonial may be the means of inducing others (who suffer as I used) to try the Syrup, as I feel sure they will receive speedy benefit and ultimately be cured. I beg to remain, yours faithfully,
"A. H. HORTON."
Seigel's Operating Pills prevent all effects from excess in eating or drinking. A good dose at bed-time renders a person fit for business in the morning. If you have Asthma use "The Rosinweed Tar Mixture."

THE GRAND OLD MAN.

Who killed Gladstone?
I, said Chamberlain,
And I feel like Cain(e)—
I killed Gladstone.

Who saw him die?
I, said Goschen,
Without any emotion—
I saw him die.

Who'll make his shroud?
I, said Argyll,
In superior style—
I'll make his shroud.

Who'll dig his grave?
I, said Lord Ransby,
For I've got the tools handy—
I'll dig his grave.

Who'll carry the link?
I, said John Bright,
For I miss him sorely—
I'll carry the link.

Who'll be chief mourner?
I, said John Morley,
For I miss him sorely—
I'll be chief mourner.

OUR BABY.

A very small man in a great many clothes.
With skin just as red as was ever a rose;
And hands full of dimples, that are clutching the air,
And eyes of deep blue, with an un-meaning stare.

But that very small man, how large in his realm,
And how balmy the breeze when he stands at the helm;
While how quickly o'ercrest becomes the home skies
When the little man's voice is uplifted in cries.

In his dress only mothers can imagine how rich
In hopes and fond prayers was taken each stitch,
While the motherly love breathed into that dress
Hovers over our boy like an angel's caress.

And a rose not a flower "by the calm Bendemeer"
Was ever of our very small man the peer;
And no perfume of Araby ever beguiles
The little man like one of our little man's smiles.

His hands though so feeble can sweep o'er our hearts
A "Song without words" whose rhyme
ne'er departs;
Whose melody surges and never abates
"Till it breaks into hymns at the great pearly gates.

In the blue of his eye is an ocean of love
That reaches from us to our Father above;
Whereon argosies sail, only freighted with joy
And prayers for the welfare of our little boy.

THE INDEPENDENT FARMER.

WINTER OCCUPATION.

It is a frequent saying that the farmer has nothing to do but enjoy himself; that when the blizzards send in their cards he can draw his chair up to the stove, put his feet in the oven and spend the day in reading the Globe and Church He-rad and other moral works. According to tradition this occupation is only disturbed when he adjourns to the table and banquets on mince pie and divers meats. This is all a mistake. A close observer will see the industrious farmer crawl out of bed four hours before daylight, softening his boots with a hammer, and commence his day's work with a lantern in one hand and a bucket of frozen slops in the other. He has from one to a thousand hogs, which shove their noses in his face,
and tip the contents of his bucket on him, where it freezes until he looks like a skating rink. When he has escaped from the hog-pen he hunts up six or seven buckets and crawls through a wire fence to milk twenty-seven cows. These animals wait until he has the bucket nearly filled, when they kick it over, aiming so that the contents will calcuminate such parts of clothing as the hogs spared. Now and then they vary the monotony by kicking him instead of the bucket, which makes him feel tired and homesick. When the cows have been milked and he goes to feed the horses he finds the gorge mare doubled up in the manger with colic. He then has to mix up a lot of acornite and water, which he attempts to pour down the animal's mouth, when it hits him on the teeth with its front foot and makes him wish he had never been born.
He works around all morning with the old mare and then proceeds to curry the dun mules, which try to see which can kick the hardest, and by the time he is through he feels as though he had passed through corn-sheller. When he has fed the hens and watered cattle and hunted three hours for a twenty-cent pig, and chopped half a cord of elm for the house, and carried forty buckets of water for the horses, and shelled three bushels of corn by hand, and shoveled a road through ten feet of snow, and milked the cows and curried the mules, and doctored the old mare again in the evening, he goes to bed, and gets up again in the morning four hours before daylight and commences the whole thing over again. —[Atchinson Globe.]

Speaking of drinking it may be observed that a man who "can take it or leave it alone generally takes."

Great Excitement in Wales about a Marvellous Cure.

Living Six Years Without Going to Bed.

Mr. EDITOR.—While spending a few days at the pleasant seaside town of Aberystwith, Cardiganshire, Wales, I heard related what seemed to me either a fabulous story or a marvellous cure.

The story was that a poor sufferer who had not been able to lie down in bed for six long years, given up to die by all the Doctors, had been speedily cured by some Patent Medicine. It was related with the more implicit confidence from the circumstance, as was said, that the Vicar of Llanyrtyd was familiar with the facts, and could vouch for the truth of the report.

Having a little curiosity to know how such stories grow in travelling, I took the liberty while at the village of Llanyrtyd to call upon the Vicar, the Rev. T. Evans, and to enquire about this wonderful cure. Though a total stranger to him, both he and his wife most graciously entertained me in a half hour's conversation, principally touching the case of Mr. Pugh, in which they seemed to take a deep and sympathetic interest, having been familiar with his sufferings, and now rejoiced in what seemed to them a most remarkable cure.

The Vicar remarked that he presumed his name had been connected with the report from his having mentioned the case to Mr. John Thomas, a chemist of Llanow. He said Mr. Pugh was formerly a resident of their parish, but was now living in the parish of Llandudno.

He strongly vouched Mr. Wm. Pugh's character as a respectable farmer and worthy of credit. I left the venerable Vicar with a livelier sense of the happy relation of a pastor and people, feeling that he was one who truly sympathized with all who are afflicted in mind, body, or estate.

On my return to Aberystwith, I was impressed with a desire to see Mr. Pugh, whose reputation stood so high. His farm is called Pannom-Mawr, signifying "above the dingle," situated near the summit of a smooth round hill, overlooking a beautiful valley in which is situated the lovely town of Llandudno.

I found Mr. Pugh, apparently about 40 years old, of medium height, rather slight, with a pleasant and intelligent face. I told him I had heard of his great affliction and of his remarkable and almost miraculous relief, and that I had come to learn from his own lips, what there was of truth in the reports.

Mr. Pugh remarked that his neighbors had taken a kindly and sympathetic interest in his case for many years, but of late their interest had been greatly awakened by a happy change in his condition. What you report as having heard abroad, said he, is substantially true, with one exception. I never understood that my case was ever given up as hopeless by any Physician. I have been treated by several Doctors hereabouts, as good as any in Wales, but unfortunately no prescription of theirs ever brought the desired relief.

Fifteen years ago, he said, I first became conscious of a sour and deranged stomach, and loss of appetite, which the Doctors told me was Dyspepsia. What food I could hold in my stomach seemed to do me no good and was often thrown up with painful retchings. This was followed after a time with a hoarseness and a raw soreness of the throat, which the Doctors called bronchitis, and I was treated for that, but with little success. Then came shortness of breath and a sense of suffocation, especially at night, with clammy sweats. I would have to get out of bed and sometimes open a door or window in winter weather to fill my lungs with the cold air.

About six years ago I became so bad that I could not sleep in bed, but had to take my uneasy rest and dreamy sleep sitting in an armchair. My affliction seemed to be working downward into my bowels as well as upwards into my lungs and throat. In the violent coughing spasms which grew more frequent, my abdomen would expand and collapse and at times it would seem that I should suffocate. All this time I was reduced in strength so that I could perform no hard labor, and my spirits were consequently much depressed.

Early in this last spring I had a still more severe spasmodic attack, and my family and neighbors became alarmed, believing that certainly I would not survive, when a neighbor, who had some knowledge, or had heard of the medicine, sent to Aberystwith by the driver of the Omnibus Post, some seven miles distant, and fetched a bottle of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup.

This medicine they administered to me according to the directions, when to my surprise and delight no less than my own, the spasm ceased. I became at ease, and my stomach was calmed. My bowels were moved as by a gentle cathartic, and I felt a sense of quiet comfort all through such as I had not before realized in many years. I could walk around the house and breathe comfortably in a few hours after I had taken the medicine. I have continued to take the medicine daily now for something over two months, and I can lie down and sleep sweetly at night, and have not since had a recurrence of those terrible spasms and sweatings. I have been so long broken down and reduced in my whole system that I have not tried to perform any very hard out-door labor, deeming it best to be prudent lest by over-exertion I may do myself injury before my strength is fully restored. I feel that my stomach and bowels have been and are being thoroughly renovated and renewed by the medicine. In fact I feel like a new man.

I have been much congratulated by my neighbors, especially by the good Vicar of Llanyrtyd, who has come three miles to shed tears of joy on my recovery.

I bade Mr. Pugh good-bye, happy that even one at least among thousands had found a remedy for an aggravating disease.

Believing this remarkable case of Dyspeptic Asthma should be known to the public, I beg to submit the above facts as they are related to me.
