RUSSIA AGAIN MOVES ON AUSTRIA FALL OF CONSTANTINOPLE REPORTED NEAR; CAMPAIGNS CLOUDED

CZAR'S FORCES NOW MOVE THROUGH CARPATHIANS INTO HUNGARY; TEUTONS CHECKED

SUCH IS GIST OF OFFICIAL STATEMENTS.—BERLIN TELLS DIFFERENT STORY, DECLARING BETTER WEATHER IS PERMITTING PROGRESS NOW—FIGHTING IN WEST IS AGAIN STORY OF SLOW PROGRESS BY TRENCH-FIGHTING AND ARTILLERY EXCHANGES—STANDARD OIL TANKER BRINDILLA AGAIN SEIZED—GERMANS ENTIRELY CONFIDENT, SAYS BRITISH EYE-WITNESS

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.]

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 2.—The Russian army which is taking the offensive again on the left, after its withdrawal from Przemyśl and its subsequent victory over the Austrians, is now reported passing through the Carpathian mountains and down into Hungary.

Turkish Campaign Cloudy. Report Sultan Gets Ready To Leave Porte

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.]

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 2.—Though the campaign between the Russian army of the Caucasus and the Turks is exceedingly cloudy as to details, it is reported in an Athens despatch that the fall of Constantinople is near. The despatch says that the Sultan and his court are preparing to leave Constantinople in anticipation of the fall.

The attack of the Turkish forces against Egypt has apparently been postponed indefinitely.

Petrograd Declares Russians Win Again In Austro-Galician Battle

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.]

PETROGRAD, Russia, Jan. 2.—The Austrian forces in Galicia have again been defeated. The fortified position of Gorlice has been destroyed. Three thousand prisoners have been taken by the Russians and in Poland the German attack has shifted southward.

The fiercest drives are now being made against the Russian positions at Rawa and have all been repulsed.

Germans Have Plenty Of Material Says British Official Witness

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.]

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 2.—A British official eye-witness of the German situation has made a report which is given out with the sanction of the war office. This report says that the Germans lack neither men nor material, and have no consciousness that they are defeated. They believe, the report continues, that Russia has been decisively beaten, that England is decadent and failing, that France is exhausted and ready to make peace. They realize, however, that the war will last much longer than was at first expected.

American Oilship Again Seized But Likely to Be Released Promptly

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—The American oil-tanker steamer, belonging to the Standard Oil Company, has been seized for the second time during the war by British war-vessels under suspicion of carrying contraband. This time she was taken off the coast of Scotland and conveyed to Brest. Unofficial assurances have reached Washington that the steamer will be promptly released.

Paris Bulletin Asserts Progress

PARIS, France, Jan. 2.—Official—"The enemy has delivered a series of attacks against almost the entire Allies' front but has everywhere been easily repulsed. Artillery duels are the only noteworthy activity at Nieuport, Zonnebeke, Arras, Albert, Rheims and Roye. The Germans have destroyed two of our caissons between Beaumont and Achicourt. In revenge we demolished the German trenches at Parvillers and Loboissele.

"On the Aisne our artillery has silenced the enemy's and dispersed several concentrations of infantry. Northwest of Mesnil and Hurlus we have captured and retained a forest. In the forest of Lagrurie we have reoccupied most of the territory ceded Thursday.

"In Steinbach, Alsace, we have occupied three new lines of houses. In the fighting here the enemy has lost heavily."

Berlin Says Progress Made On East

BERLIN, Germany, Jan. 2.—Official—"The enemy's attacks at Nieuport have been repulsed. In Argonne we have progressed along the entire front and despite the French assertions we have not lost a single house in Steinbach. All attacks there have been repulsed. "East of the River Bzura, in the Poland war arena, and at Rawa, better weather has permitted our attacks to progress."

DUKE WINS SWIMMING
RACE IN AUSTRALIA;
SETS NEW WORLD-MARK

Duke P. Kahanamoku, who set a new world's record in Sydney today and showed he has not "gone back."

George Cunha is Second, While the Australasian Crack, Barry, is Third

"SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 2.—Results of hundred: Duke, Cunha, Barry. Time, 53.45 seconds. "EVANS."

The above, brief cable, received this morning by W. T. Rawlins, chronicles a great victory for Duke Kahanamoku and George Cunha in their initial appearance in Australian waters. The time sets a new world's record, cutting a full second off Duke's own mark made here last February, and the fact that George Cunha finished ahead of Barry, Australia's crack sprint swimmer, makes it probable that the Healan swimmer also covered the distance in faster time than ever before. The conditions of the race were 100 yards straightaway.

Duke Kahanamoku set the mark of 54.45 seconds here February 21 last, at the carnival swimming meet. On June 11 last he equaled this mark, and was closely pressed by Cunha in the race.

Kahanamoku and Cunha will swim in another Australian meet January 4, and with both men in rare form it seems likely that all the Australian records that they go against are in imminent danger of being fractured.

Carranza and Arrieta Try to Make Pacific Mail Steamer Carry Their Soldiers

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 2.—The Pacific Mail steamer San Juan has been held for two days at Salina Cruz by the Mexican military authorities in control there and threatened with destruction by dynamite because the vessel's commander, Captain Stewart, refused the demand of Generals Carranza and Arrieta that he transport eighty soldiers with their horses and arms to Mazatlan. The captain finally transported the soldiers as passengers, without carrying their arms.

In the possession of McDuffie are a pair of Japanese shoes believed to have been worn by the girl. The articles will be brought to the parents for identification.

CONKLING ANNOUNCES DAN WOODWARD WILL BE HIS CHIEF DEPUTY

Treasurer-elect Conkling announced today that when he takes office next Monday it will be with Dan Woodward as his right-hand man. The new chief deputy in the county treasurer's office has worked with Conkling before. For a long while he has been a bookkeeper in the waterworks and sewers office, when Conkling was territorial treasurer, and his appointment now is in the nature of a promotion. He is a brother of Ed Woodward, who is to be secretary to Mayor Lane.

District Judge W. A. McKay of Wailuku, Maui, has been reappointed by Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson for another two-year term from December 31, 1914.

ISSUE PROGRAM OF EVENTS FOR BIG CARNIVAL

Officials of Mid-Pacific Celebration Complete Plans for Seven Days' Festivities

SWIMMING RACES TO BE FEATURE OF FIRST DAY

Citizens of Honolulu Asked By Committee to Make Suggestions of Other Attractions

The first complete program for the Mid-Pacific Carnival was adopted and given out by the officials of the festival today and with the exception of music, everything is complete down to detail and time of the various events.

In the program announced, blank spaces are left to be filled in later with the names of military bands and their conductors. The first day's program will feature Miss Dorothy Becker, California's girl swimmer, and grand championship swimming events in which service men from the United States Navy ships in the local harbor will compete.

The officials of the Carnival have issued an invitation asking for further suggestions as to the 1915 festival program. These are to be addressed to Will Wayne, secretary, or to James D. Dougherty, director-general, with offices in the Young building. The program is as follows:

First Day, Saturday, Feb. 20.
10:00 a. m.—Bishop Museum.
10:00 a. m.—Band concert, Palace grounds.
10:00 a. m.—Band, conductor.
10:00 a. m.—Aquarium, Kapiolani park, Hawaii's wondrous fish exhibit.
2:00 p. m.—Championship swimming events, U. S. naval ships, Honolulu harbor.
7:30 p. m.—Carnival of Nations, Palace grounds.
Second Day, Sunday, Feb. 21.
11:00 a. m.—Church services. Special (Continued on page three)

MISSING WOMAN TOOK OWN LIFE, POLICE THEORY

The body of Chit Niino, a 19-year-old Japanese girl lately employed as attendant at the offices of Dr. T. Mori, is believed to lie at the bottom of the harbor, following an investigation made today by Captain of Detectives McDuffie. Detectives have traced the last movements of the missing girl from her home to the waterfront and she is believed to have ended her life there.

The disappearance of the girl, well known in Japanese circles, after leaving several letters and papers in which she disposed of her personal property and effects, is a complete mystery. She was last seen to leave the office of Dr. Mori about 10 o'clock on Wednesday night.

Captain McDuffie today questioned several watchmen stationed along the waterfront. From enlisted men detailed to patrol the harbor in the vicinity of Pier 6 it was learned that a woman answering to the description of the missing girl was seen, apparently in great distress, walking back and forth near the entrance to the pier about midnight Wednesday.

In the possession of McDuffie are a pair of Japanese shoes believed to have been worn by the girl. The articles will be brought to the parents for identification.

In the letters received by intimate friends of the girl it is stated that she had become tired of life and had decided to dispose of her belongings. She expressed the hope that each recipient would retain a favorable opinion of her.

ROCKHILL'S ASHES ARE BURIED AT OLD HOME

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless.] LITCHFIELD, Conn., Jan. 2.—The ashes of W. W. Rockhill, the noted American diplomat who died in Honolulu while on a journey to take the post of foreign advisor to the Chinese republic, were buried here today. The Chinese ambassador represented President Yuan Shih-Kai and Third Assistant Secretary of State William Phillips represented the United States.

COKE URGES CONGRESS GIVE MORE POWER TO
UTILITIES COMMISSION

Senator James L. Coke, who is urging Congress to give more power to the Utilities Commission.

Well-Known Democrat Says He is Not Candidate for District Attorney

Senator James L. Coke's recent trip to the mainland, giving rise to several political rumors, had nothing to do with a possible change in the office of United States district attorney here.

The editor of the Star-Bulletin has received a personal letter from Senator Coke declaring that the reports of his mission were entirely incorrect. "My trip East is in no way connected with any federal or territorial office," he declares in his letter, "and I have no aspirations at the present time to be appointed United States attorney for the territory of Hawaii, or for that matter, to any other office. My trip is purely a business matter."

That Senator Coke is taking an active interest in seeing if an important Hawaiian measure can be hurried through Congress is indicated by the following statement in his letter: "I am going to stop off at the national capital long enough to ascertain what is preventing consideration of the bill now before Congress granting additional power to our utilities commission, which was passed by our last legislature, and to do what I can to hasten the passage of this bill."

TAFT DECLARES FILIPINOS WOULD REPEAT MEXICO

Says Not Ready for Independence; Japan Does Not Want Islands, He Asserts

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—That immediate independence for the Philippines would be disastrous in the extreme was the declaration today of ex-President Taft, who was called before the house committee on insular affairs to testify concerning his estimate of the Jones bill.

If the Philippines are given immediate independence, Taft told the committee, "your steamer will not be around Corregidor before the throat-cutting will begin. That's the sort of condition we find in Mexico today. Political looting pay with their heads."

President Taft declares that he does not believe Japan desires the Philippines. He says his experience in trying to colonize in Formosa is sufficient to deter them from undertaking the acquisition and colonization of the Philippines.

FINISH INVESTIGATION OF RAPID TRANSIT BOOKS

The investigation of the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company's books and system, instituted two weeks ago by Superintendent C. R. Forbes and H. Gooding Field at the request of the governor, is practically finished. Their report is in preparation now and is expected to be ready for presentation to the governor a week hence. Accompanying the report a number of extremely interesting recommendations are anticipated.

The supreme and circuit courts transacted no business today.

A. P. Taylor failed to leave San Francisco on the Matsonia because of illness, but expects to start home on the Sierra, due here January 11. Mrs. Taylor will accompany him.

"INSIDE STORY" OF FALL OF TSINGTAU WRITTEN HERE BY GERMAN TORPEDOER OFFICER

PERSONAL NARRATIVE BY NAVIGATOR OF THE S-90 TELLS OF TORPEDOING OF JAPANESE CRUISER TAKACHIO—DEFENSE OF GERMAN BASE IN CHINA—BATTLE WITH THE BRITISH AT SEA—NARRATOR NOW HELD AT NANKING

Here is a notable story from the war arena in the Orient. It is a letter from E. Hauser, first officer of the German torpedo boat S-90, which participated in the Tsingtau fighting, to George Uellner, chief officer of the German steamer Longmoon, now one of the "refugee ships" at the port of Honolulu. There are important facts in this story of the siege and fall of Tsingtau that have never before been made public.

As a narrative from an officer in war-time, the letter below takes rank with the story written by Commander Otto Weddigen, of the famous German submarine U-9, which torpedoed the Hogue, Cressy and Aboukir.

Nanking, Dec. 2, 1914.

Dear Friend:—As I saw in the newspapers that the Longmoon is laid up in Honolulu and as mail closes tomorrow, I will take this opportunity to let you know briefly how I fared since we last met in Tsingtau.

First of all, I am very glad that the Longmoon, Jaeschke and Kraetke have not been captured by the English; and I think Honolulu should prove a much better port than Stonecutter's Island.

At the outbreak of the war I was detailed to the old S. 90 (torpedo boat) as first officer and at the same time T. O. (torpedo officer) and N. O. (navigation officer). We cruised outside of Kiaochow bay and waited for vessels of the enemy to appear but they kept us waiting a good long while.

One tramp steamer after another, loaded with coal, managed to get out of Tsingtau and several came in, amongst which was our friend Cornelsen with a big motor boat, built

REPORT LANE'S COMMITTEES MAY LEAD TO SPLIT

Hollinger and Horner Said to Feel Unfairly Treated—Rumor of "Solid Five" Action

An unconfirmed rumor circulated in political circles this morning to the effect that five members of the new board of supervisors had formed a "solid five" for the purpose of smashing through Mayor-elect Lane's appointments to the various boards and committees.

The report went further to state that when Lane's list of appointments which are unsatisfactory to five of the supervisors, is read off at the first meeting Monday, the "solid five" will vote the proposition down. In that event Mayor Lane will have to continue making appointments until the "solid five" has been entirely satisfied.

Supervisor-elect Hollinger was approached by the Star-Bulletin this morning in regard to the rumor. He refused either to affirm or deny the report. Hollinger and Robert Horner, also supervisor-elect, have indicated their desires to head the road committee.

Despite the fact that it was alleged that Lane had promised both appointments to the road committee, neither was assigned although Hollinger and Horner made special trips to the mainland to study highway construction and other municipal improvements. In the interview this morning, Hollinger also confirmed the report that he would oppose the road plans of Supervisor-elect Quinn, Lane's choice for head of the road bureau.

"I am going to vote against all road improvements where the war is not to be done under the frontage tax law," Hollinger declared, "as I do not believe it is just for any supervisor to have certain roads out of the general fund and then force owners of frontage property on other roads to pay a frontage tax. I want all frontage owners to help to pay for improvements in front of their property."

It will be disclosed Monday whether the mayor's committee appointments are to stand without challenge. The old board retired and the new board takes office at noon. The mayor will at that time read his message and make public the committee list, which latter, however, has been generally known for some time unless he has made late changes.

The "solid five," it was reported, is composed of Larsen, Logan, Hollinger, Horner and Arnold. All the supervisors-elect are to caucus this afternoon.

by Capt. Matzenliet, formerly superintendent of the Hamburg-American line and who is now on the cruiser Gneisenau.

Only the S. S. Friesland and Senegambia were captured outside of Tsingtau, as well as the S. S. Paklat, which was loaded down with women and children, refugees from Tsingtau on the way to Tientsin. I have seen some of these poor people since and the way they were treated by the drunken soldiery on board must have been awful.

On October 22, we at last saw some smoke on the horizon which approached rapidly. Far ahead was a destroyer, going at full speed, evidently trying to cut us off from Tsingtau. She started firing at 4000 yards. We stood 16 miles southeast from Tsingtau and started firing at 3800 and were finally shooting at 2800 yards. At first it was a little uncomfortable to see the shells come closer and closer. But as soon as the first dozen went over our heads, nobody seemed to be thinking of the danger.

stood on the compass and my boys were in great shape and humor; we shot at B. B. aft with the B. D. forward and aft guns, 5 cm. cal. with out range finders, the most ancient model of the navy.

The enemy it turned out to be the English destroyer Kennet—had 4.7, 6 cm., of which he used 3 in the engagement. The fight lasted 30 minutes, and ceased 7 miles outside of Tsingtau. We had fired as fast as we could as our position was very favorable; we shot 262 shells, the enemy at least 300.

All the damage done to us was a broken stay on our mast otherwise nothing and best of all nobody hurt. As we found out later, the captain of the Kennet lost a leg during the engagement and he died soon after. Besides they had 5 killed and 8 wounded. The boat was very badly damaged also; several hits in the attack, the bridge, on deck, etc. You can see that the engagement ended splendidly for us, even if Kennet was the stronger of the two.

As afterwards the Japanese blockaded the port, we had to shift our activity to the Taungko Deep. We assisted Captain Schaumburg of the mines to annoy the advance of the Japanese troops in the vicinity of the Spitzberg. We also bombarded the castle of Nukoku, which was occupied by the enemy. It was really a nice target practice. As the Jaguar and the Austrian cruiser Kaiserin Elisabeth had come up from the inner harbor, the three of us combined in the attack of the advance movement of the Japanese army and believe me, we bothered them a little.

But as soon as the Japanese got their artillery to the front, they laid up 3 or 4 batteries to keep us away from the coast. The little gunboat Jaguar put up a wonderful fight one day; steaming up and down the coast, she discharged broadside after broadside until she finally had to withdraw.

Every now and then they took a crack at us, which made it very uncomfortable for us as we could not return the compliment with our "Dumplings" (Flitzknodel). But they did not do any damage. The Jaguar was in commission until the very end.

LAST OF GERMAN WARBOUND CARGO ON NIPPON MARU

From Honolulu today was shipped the last of the German warbound freight brought here months ago, when a number of steamers flying the Teutonic colors sought a haven. The Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamer Nippon Maru, a Japanese bottom, representative of a rival and hostile power, was given machinery, railway material and general merchandise destined for Japan, which during the early part of the summer was shipped from Europe in the German freighter Holsatia.

The Nippon Maru arrived at the port from San Francisco last evening with one cabin passenger for Honolulu.

Proceeding to the Far East in the liner which took its departure at 10 o'clock this morning, were 21 cabin, 17 second class and 44 Asiatic steerage passengers.

Captain Togo reported fine weather, the vessel meeting with favorable seas and winds.

The Nippon was supplied with a full cargo in leaving San Francisco. Much of the freight consists of cotton for the Japanese mills. A few missionaries are numbered among the through passengers. Mail amounting to 350 sacks was landed at the port.

Arrangements have been completed for the quick despatch of the United States army transport, Thomas, due to arrive from Manila on Monday morning. A small number of military passengers will leave for San Francisco in the troopship.

GALVESTON SENT TO CHINA FOR WINTER

Familiar to Honolulu shipping, the United States cruiser Galveston, that called at the port a number of months ago when proceeding to Philippine waters, is today reported to have been ordered to China for station. The Galveston has just completed a general overhauling at Olongapo drydock.

The vessel will relieve the cruiser Cincinnati, which will then proceed to Olongapo for her annual overhauling. The Saratoga, flagship of the Asiatic squadron, also in drydock at Olongapo, has received orders to rush work on repairs and will soon leave for the China coast.

The custom of the Asiatic fleet spending the winter months in Philippine waters will not be observed this year. It is believed that the unsettled conditions in China, brought about by the European war, is responsible for the order directing all the ships of the Asiatic fleet to winter along the China coast.

Annie Johnson in Fast Trip.
Another fast trip is credited to the long score of voyages made by the schooner Annie Johnson, for years identified with shipping between the California coast and the Hawaiian Islands. The Annie Johnson, with a full cargo of general merchandise and plantation supplies, completed the trip from San Francisco to Mahukona, Hawaii, in 21 days, the windjammer reaching destination on last Monday afternoon, according to a report brought to Honolulu by Purser Phillips of the steamer Mauna Kea. The Annie Johnson may be given a shipment of sugar in returning to the Coast. Favorable wind and a moderate sea assisted the vessel in cutting down the sailing time.

Matsonia Is Not Crowded.
The Matson liner Matsonia is not crowded with passengers from San Francisco to Honolulu, according to a wireless message received by Castle & Cooke from Capt. Charles Peterson. Eighty-one cabin and 30 steerage passengers are reported to have left the Coast for the islands in the vessel that is due to arrive here at an early hour on Tuesday morning. About one-half of the travelers are island people, state Coast advices.

In addition to 2333 tons of cargo for discharge at Honolulu the Matsonia will bring 2365 tons of merchandise and supplies for Hilo. The vessel has been supplied with 371 sacks of mail. Thirteen automobiles have been forwarded to Hilo in this vessel.

Mauna Kea in Port.
With cabins well filled with passengers and bringing several hundred head of sheep and other livestock, the inter-island steamer Mauna Kea made port at an early hour this morning. Purser Phillips reported fine weather throughout the trip. Activity on two volcanoes on the island of Hawaii keeps well up to the mark, according to the officers, who declare that the reflection cast upon the sky from the Mokuaweewe and Kilauea volcanoes was plainly visible for many miles.

The Mauna Kea will be despatched for the Big Island at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

U. S. A. T. THOMAS—Arrives from Manila Tuesday daylight and proceeds to San Francisco same afternoon.

HARBOR NOTES

The inter-island steamer Nihau, with sugar from a Hawaii port for Hilo, was passed by the Mauna Kea yesterday afternoon.

The Matsonia, due from the coast next Tuesday morning, will bring the next mainland mail. More than 100 passengers are expected to arrive in this vessel.

A quantity of sugar is awaiting shipment to the Pacific coast in the Matson steamer Manoa, now at Kahului, Maui, and expected to return to Honolulu tomorrow morning.

Taking a full shipment of sugar, the American Hawaiian freighter Mexican, leaving the port on Dec. 12, is reported to have arrived at Balboa, Panama, last Wednesday.

Included in the cargo of fuel brought to the islands in the Associated Oil Company tanker J. A. Chanslor were 300 drums of distillate. The Chanslor will be given prompt despatch to the coast.

Activity displayed at Hawaii's volcanoes has proved an incentive for an increase of travel from Honolulu. The steamer Mauna Kea, to steam for Hilo at 3 o'clock this afternoon, will carry a fair-sized list of cabin passengers.

A big mail will be forwarded from the islands to the coast in the Oceanic liner Ventura, now scheduled to leave port at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. At the agency of C. Brewer & Co. two score of passengers have been booked for San Francisco in the Oceanic steamer Ventura. A small quantity of sugar, pine, coffee and sundries will be placed on board the vessel before its departure tomorrow morning.

The following wireless message has been received by the agents of the S. S. Matsonia, bound for Honolulu: For Honolulu—81 cabin, 30 steerage passengers, 371 bags mail, 104 W. F. X. matter, 3363 tons cargo. For Hilo—2365 tons cargo, 13 automobiles. Ship arrives Tuesday morning and will dock at Pier 15.

Manoa Returns Tomorrow.
To complete a cargo of sugar and miscellaneous products, the Matson steamer Manoa is expected to return from Kahului tomorrow morning. When it leaves for San Francisco next Tuesday evening the Manoa, through the agency of Castle & Cooke, will be given 2500 tons of sugar, 500 tons of molasses, 4000 bunches of bananas and shipments of coffee and sundries. About 35 cabin passengers have been booked for the coast in the vessel, which is scheduled to depart from Pier 19 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

HIS BIRTHDAY ON SAME DAY AS THE PRESIDENT'S

Roy Jacobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Jacobson of Honolulu, celebrated his twelfth birthday on the twentieth of December, which by the way is President Wilson's birthday. The Jacobson home on Waiakae road was decorated for the occasion in red and green, carrying out the scheme with poinsettias and greens. Games were provided for the younger children, while the older ones participated in the latest dances. Among the guests present were Roy's four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Jacobson. Among those present were Miss Jessie Bowen, Miss Esther Armstrong, Miss Miriam Wright, Miss Vera King, Miss Dorothy Ormiston, Miss Helen King, Miss Frances Clark, Miss Roberta Clark, Miss Thelma Hartman, Miss Ethel Hartman, Miss Alice Hartman, Miss Ella Moltau, Miss Lilla Moltau, Miss Marjorie Moore, Miss Zell Rowat, Miss Margaret Rowat, Miss Mary Hemminger, Douglas Ormiston, Olando Schoenfeld, Marshall Wright, Richard Simonson, Walter Sampson, Alfred Giles, Bill Bowen, Jack Fisher, Ralph Metters, Walter Steiner, Jack McKenzie, Benjamin Lee, Nevin Brickwater, Theodore Corbaley and Wilson Jacobson.

SUPERVISORS IN QUICK MEETING; HARDESTY DOES HIS VOTING ON THE RUN

Reports of several committees and several small claims were disposed of by the retiring board of supervisors in a delayed meeting that lasted four and one-half minutes this afternoon.

The meeting was scheduled to commence at 12:15 noon, but owing to the absence of all but Supervisors Markham, McCallan and Hardesty and Mayor Fern, the meeting did not start until Mayor Fern had despatched an automobile after Supervisor Wolter. At 1:26 p. m. Wolter rushed into the supervisors' room and announced that he had to make an attachment at 1:30 and would lose if he did not meet the appointment at that hour.

As rapidly as the secretary could read the reports and the supervisors could assent on voting, the routine of the meeting was despatched and when a motion was made to adjourn until 9:30 a. m. Monday, Hardesty grabbed his hat and darted out of the room. When the vote was put, a faint "Aye" echoed from Wolter, who was running down the stairs.

KUPIHEA NOT KILLED; HEAD SOMEWHAT DAMAGED

Former Representative D. M. Kupihea was the center of a very interesting rumor last night and today, the rumor being that he had been banged over the head with a rock held in the strong hands of his wife and killed almost instantly. The rumor was considerably exaggerated, it was discovered today, when Kupihea appeared around his home with a somewhat damaged head but very far from a corpulent aspect. According to the police, who had heard various stories, a celebration of New Year's day in Kupihea's neighborhood found himself and his wife in an argument in the course of which he was struck over the cranium. His wife, it is stated, informed the neighborhood hysterically that her husband had been killed, but it was not so.

OPEN BIDS FOR MATERIAL FOR OAHU PRISON WALL

Bids on materials for the walls of the new Oahu prison were opened at noon today in the office of Superintendent of Public Works Forbes. Seven concerns submitted figures.

The lowest figure for lumber was that of the City Mill company. This was $82.95.

The lowest bid for 1050 yards of rock and 300 yards of sand, submitted by J. H. Wilson, was $2689.50.

H. Hackfeld's bid, $4080, was the lowest made on 1000 barrels of cement.

Other concerns that submitted figures were Davies & Co., Lewers & Cooke, Ltd., Allen & Robertson, Ltd., and the Honolulu Construction and Draying Company.

CALL MANY WITNESSES FOR DROWNING INQUEST

Several witnesses will be called upon to describe the drowning of Isaac Ithili and his wife, whose death marked a family picnic planned for Waikiki beach on New Year's day, at the inquest held today.

Deputy Sheriff Asch, serving in the capacity of coroner, will conduct the inquest. In addition to Drs. Matson, Walters, Herbert, Morong and Wayson, who participated in the attempt at rescue, Edward Miller and Harold Castle will be called to testify concerning the bringing of the bodies from the reef to the shore. The drowning took place toward the reef from Sans Souci.

INDIAN TROOPS PARRY BAYONETS WITH HANDS

[Associated Press]
SOUTHAMPTON, Eng.—A Canadian soldier who has visited several hospitals in the south of England recently saw 40 or 50 East Indians all of whom had their left hands bandaged. He asked one of the Red Cross attendants how they all receive the same sort of injuries.

"All of them have bayonet wounds in the left hand, because of their style of fighting," was reply. "When they get close enough for a hand-to-hand fight they throw down their guns, parry the bayonets of the enemy with their left hand and use their knives with the right hand. Of course they get a bad wound in their left hand, but they don't mind that and they almost always get their m.m."

GALE ON WATERFRONT TEARS ROOF OFF PIER

Thirty-five feet of galvanized iron roofing, covering the Ewa side of pier 15, was torn away by the high wind that visited the waterfront early today.

The gale, which reached the velocity of a hurricane, also carried away a small portion of the covering to Pier 16.

Masters of vessels berthed in the stream were obliged to strengthen all moorings.

Fire destroyed a paper factory at Columbus, Ohio, at a loss of $189,000.

HOLD CLEW TO ROBBER WHO LOOTED BENN STORE

Officers directed by Captain McDuffie have hope of soon placing under arrest the person who several evenings ago entered the store of M. R. Benn, on Hotel near Union street, and stole goods valued by the proprietor at several hundred dollars.

Entrance to the premises was gained through a basement that adjoins an automobile garage. The wooden cover had been demolished, affording easy access to the upper floor.

According to Mr. Benn the visitors took gold plated pendants, lockets, bracelets, several dozen men's and women's watches, rings and buttons and a suit case.

NEW COMMISSION MEETS.

The newly-appointed police and fire civil service commission, with Loren Andrews as chairman, will meet at 4 p. m. today to reorganize and arrange for changes which may be made in the near future in the civil service bodies.

The meeting will be a special gathering called by Mr. Andrews. All of the new members were appointed Thursday by retiring Mayor Fern.

THURSTON OUTLINES NEEDS FOR A BETTER FIRE DEPARTMENT

Gasoline Pumping Station and Motor Vehicles to be Asked of New Supervisors

Honolulu's fire department will increase 50 per cent in efficiency, ranking on a par with the best mainland departments, during the coming year if the needs of the bureau as outlined by Fire Chief Thurston this morning are filled by the new board of supervisors.

That was the statement made by Thurston to the Star-Bulletin in reviewing the department's needs today. These necessities for a better fire bureau can be purchased and installed and kept in running order at all times without any increase in upkeep or cost beyond the initial expense required in purchasing, he said.

Most important of the department's needs is a combination gasoline pumping engine, chemical and hose apparatus, good for a speed of 20 to 30 miles and hour. This auto-apparatus, Thurston says, would be a saving in upkeep cost over the horse-drawn apparatus the bureau now has. In addition, the gasoline combination wagon takes the place of three vehicles and carries the firemen to the scene of the fire. It is equipped with 1000 feet of hose besides chemicals and the pump. The same engine that is used to propel the apparatus to the scene of the blaze is used on arrival to pump water.

"I am trying to convert this department into a motor-apparatus bureau," said the chief, "and if I can get rid of the fire horse-drawn vehicles we are using and get motor-machines instead, I can at once increase the efficiency of the department 50 per cent. The cost of the apparatus is not too great, while the gasoline apparatus costs only when it is running. It has always given satisfaction where used."

The fire chief spoke enthusiastically of Supervisor-elect Hollinger's scheme to install fire bells at the various downtown street crossings to warn pedestrians of approaching fire vehicles.

"That is the finest plan yet," Thurston declared, "because it is needed more here in Honolulu than anywhere else. We often have difficulty with Orientals unaccustomed to advanced fire fighting ideas because of their unbelief when a fire engine is coming down the street. Sometimes the apparatus has to come to a stop. A fire bell ringing several blocks in advance ought to assist wonderfully in clearing the streets."

Supervisor-elect Hollinger, who is a member of the police and fire bureau, was informed of Thurston's informal report of the department's needs.

"Thurston is right," Hollinger declared, "and if he believes the department's efficiency will increase sufficiently to justify the expenditure, I will vote for the purchase of the combination pumping engine if the matter is brought before the supervisors."

'INSIDE STORY' OF TSINGTAU IS TOLD IN LETTER

when the captain blew her up so the Japanese should not get anything which could be of further use to them. The Austrian cruiser was blown up a few days previous, as she was all out of ammunition. Her crew went in the trenches and rendered valuable assistance there. Of all the gunboats in Tsingtau the Jaguar was the only one which was in commission during the whole siege. The crews and guns of all the others were on the auxiliary cruisers, which joined Admiral von Spee's squadron before the blockade of Tsingtau. The boats were blown up in the first days of the siege.

We commenced to feel awful superfluous and decided to pull off some stunt; so we sneaked out of the harbor some nights and took a look around, but without result. The next night we went out again and dropped a few mines, which afterwards one of the Japanese ships tried to play football with and got the worst of it. A few days later on the 17th of October we got past three destroyers unnoticed and gained the open sea, to attack one of the battleships preferably the Triumph. We had almost given up hope of sighting any of them when at last we spied the Japanese cruiser Takachio. We got within 300 yards unnoticed shot 3 torpedoes, every one hitting its mark and in 40 seconds the Takachio was torn to shreds. It was wonderful but takes some nerve. One of the torpedoes hit the ammunition room; 2 pieces of iron weighing about 8 pounds each flew over our boat and hundreds of smaller pieces besides, so you can imagine how close we must have been. The Japanese had absolutely no time to do anything at all. Of a crew of 325 only 12 were saved.

After that, there was only one thing for us to do, that was to try and reach the coast somewhere under cover of the darkness before they captured us; there was no chance for us to get back to Tsingtau, and Shanghai was too far and unsafe. We landed in Gefion Bay, threw overboard all we could, blew up the boat and marched away in the dark night. None of us was hurt. We marched for ten days including two rest-days over Ichaonsien, Ichoufou to Sautschan to the railroad. We rode on the train to Nanking where we were interned by the Chinese government. But we can go and do where and what we want. I have been in Shanghai twice and go there again tomorrow. The Chinese government treats us the very best, only they seem to be a little scared of complications.

During the first days of the bombardment of Tsingtau from the sea-side most of the shooting was done by the Japanese battleships "Suwo" and "Tango," which shot with their 30, 5 cm. guns and the British battleship "Triumph" with the 25, 4 cm. guns. The otherwise so proud Britons! I wonder if they regarded it as a Triumph, that one of their admirals stood under the command of a Japanese admiral? And that their flagship trailed as the last ship behind the Japanese? Britannia rules the waves? What about it!

We left Tsingtau on the 17th of October and on November 6 our only aviator flew away from there taking the war journal with him. He landed in Haltschou, destroyed his aeroplane and is now in Shanghai. The surrender of Tsingtau occurred on November 7. It was a bad day for us, but thank God it is over. The boys held out wonderfully.

Of the officers fell: von Riedesel, from the legation in Peking; von Fries, Shanghai; Captain Count von Herzberg; Interpreter Charier (Eng.), and our good old friend "Little" Charles Gerold. He was operating the searchlights in the night from the 6th to 7th of November, was wounded but refused to leave his post, somebody put an emergency bandage on; he stayed until the very end and was brained in the final storm-attack.

The official lost lists are not out yet, but from what I understand our losses must have been very small, only about 150 dead. The Japanese lost between 10,000 and 12,000 men. The prisoners were all brought to Japan in spite of the request of the English to let them take some to Weihaiwei or Hongkong. Our doctors and hospital attendants were discharged. The English play an awful sorry part in Tsingtau. They are not allowed to leave the artillery depot, which is outside of the town. They are forbidden by the Japanese to enter the town. Everywhere the Japanese is the "master," the English the

ARMY MEN IN AUTO THAT HIT MAN, IS CLAIM

Testimony of the soldiers who found the mangled body of Kauhokalani, a Hawaiian, run down by a joy-riding auto early yesterday is expected to help to clear up the mystery that yet hovers over the death of the third victim of joy-riders within a week.

Captain of Detectives McDuffie, who began an investigation yesterday, has gathered the story of several persons who say they witnessed the flight of a big automobile proceeding in the direction of Ewa at a speed of from 30 to 40 miles an hour the night of the tragedy. The police have been told that immediately after the machine collided with the aged man all lights were extinguished, making it impossible to read the number on the rear and the front of the car.

Several army men and women are believed to have been passengers on a ride which brought death to Kauhokalani.

The deceased had resided on this island for 56 years. He leaves a wife and two children in destitute circumstances. The wife learned for the first time this morning of the death of her husband.

Enlisted men returning to their posts at Fort Shafter after a New Year's celebration found Kauhokalani lying in the road. He was then dying and could make no statement.

MISS CATHERINE HICKEY TO WED MR. H. C. BRUNS

Announcement was made today of the engagement of Miss Catherine Elizabeth Hickey to Mr. Harry C. Bruns. Both of the young people are well known here. Miss Hickey has been a resident of Honolulu for some two years. Mr. Bruns is known all over the islands. He is treasurer of the Coyne Furniture Company. It is understood that the date of the marriage has not yet been set.

"servant."

I hope that we shall be able to retake our beautiful Tsingtau soon. Here even the Japanese seem to think so. That is about all I have to say today. Hoping that you are well and happy and that we meet soon after the deciding victory. I remain with regards to all the boys tied up in Honolulu.

Your true friend,
E. HAUSSER,

GOVERNOR'S NAMESAKE ONE YEAR OLD TODAY

Here is a picture of Pinkham Laysan Schlemmer, one year old today. He is the promising son of Capt. and Mrs. Max Schlemmer of this city. He was born just after Governor Pinkham took office last year. That accounts for the "Pinkham" part of his name. Capt. Schlemmer used to be the "King of Laysan," Laysan being the guano island of that name. This accounts for the "Laysan" part.

18 LOTS AT KAUOEHE TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION BY TUCKER MARCH 3

Land Commissioner Joshua D. Tucker is advertising an auction sale of eighteen lots at Kaneohe, on windward Oahu, to be held March 3. The commissioner says the tracts, which will be sold either for cash or on time payments, are especially desirable as summer or weekend homes.

They are situated on the belt road around Oahu and thus easily accessible, while electric light and power in unlimited quantity will be available. The view and climate is unsurpassed, says Tucker, and altogether the lots are among the best of their kind ever offered the public. The land commissioner is a good land salesman and the tracts probably will command top-notch prices.

MAY START SUIT TO FIX BLAME FOR AUTO CRASH

A civil suit may be filed to determine the responsibility for damage done an automobile formerly belonging to Bert Bower and driven on New Year's morning by John T. Scully, which was run down by another car near Fort De Russy. The names of the occupants of the latter car are in the possession of the police, but were not available today, say the police.

In the party driven by Scully were Mr. and Mrs. McGrath. They had left Waikiki Inn and in returning to town met the machine coming in the opposite direction. Scully insists that he kept to the right of the road. Captain of Detectives McDuffie and officers were called upon to investigate the accident.

GET MORE PULMOTORS.

Blessed is he who expects nothing, for he shall never be disappointed.—Pope.

THE AUTO-FIENDS REVELLING AGAIN.

It is surely time for a determined crusade by the police against the auto-fiends who are driving the joy-route over dead and dying victims.

The dragnet ought to go out for every speeding car, and every driver should answer for breaking the law. The police say that after the speeders are arrested and the evidence laid before Judge Monsarrat, the police magistrate is too lenient, that he lets notorious offenses go unpunished. Judge Monsarrat says—or he has said when on previous occasions this complaint was made—that the police evidence is insufficient.

It is time to thrash out the facts of this controversy and to end it—time to begin a real and effective crusade against the red and reckless fiends of the road.

THEY SHOULD OFFER THEIR RESIGNATIONS.

Mayor Fern's action in appointing a new city civil service commission upon the eve of a change in administrations may not be intended to put Mayor-elect Lane "in a hole" but it certainly has that aspect.

Whether such was or was not the mayor's intention now makes little difference. The fact at any rate is that the incoming mayor is placed at a distinct disadvantage. Under ordinary and logical procedure, he himself should have the naming of the new commission. For Mayor Fern to say that he had to make the appointments on or before January 1 is idle; if he had made no appointments, the present commissioners would have held office until Mayor Lane, coming into the executive chair on January 4, made his own selections.

As the commission stands, it will hold office during the term of a mayor who has had nothing to say regarding the appointments. The commission may or may not be acceptable to Mayor Lane. The point is that the outgoing mayor did not appoint the incoming mayor's selections. And Lane is placed in a position where he cannot object to this situation without being accused of personal dislike for the commissioners. As two of them are active Republicans, an objection from Lane would probably mean a factional fight.

It was a pretty political play for Fern to make and he made it well. He is not to be blamed for it. His calibre as a mayor has been measured by just that sort of politics.

But the two Republican commissioners need not give their assent to this political play. In fact, they should not.

Both of them are active members of the Republican territorial committee. Mr. Andrews is its chairman. As loyal Republicans, anxious to promote harmony and through harmony efficiency in the Republican party's administration of city affairs, they should place their resignations at the disposal of the incoming mayor.

The legislative act which provides for the appointment of the police and fire civil service commission clearly recognizes that the mayor has the appointment of the commissioners, that the personnel of the commission is subject to his wishes. Mayor Lane has not yet acceded to office. Unless and until his official acts prove otherwise, he is to be regarded as a competent mayor. It is no more than common justice that his hands should be left free unless it is definitely shown that his discretion in appointments is not to be trusted.

Members of the Republican committees should be the last to embarrass the mayor at the outset of his term of office. It is, of course, not incumbent upon the Democratic member of the commission to tender his resignation, but certainly the Republicans, Messrs. Andrews and Baron, should do so.

The prompt response of physicians and the availability of a pulmotor at Waikiki beach saved two lives yesterday.

To say that the pulmotor is a very necessary apparatus to have at the beach bathing-resorts is now to repeat a truism. Its usefulness has repeatedly been demonstrated.

Steps should be taken by the city if necessary to see that more pulmotors are installed at the beach and there should be one at the police station so that it could be carried out by the police ambulance on such cases as those unfortunate ones of New Year's Day. As a starter, the city should get a pulmotor for the police station and one for the public baths and at both places should instruct attendants in their use.

BRIGHTER PROSPECTS FOR RAILROADS.

A marked effect on business sentiment is reported as having followed the recent ruling of the interstate commerce commission on railroad freight rates. In his latest letter on financial conditions, Banker Henry Clews says:

"The Interstate Commerce Commission decision granting the 5 per cent increase in rates on Eastern roads, with the exceptions specified, will have a far-reaching moral effect. The exceptions include rail-lake-and-rail and rail-and-lake rates; also the rates on bituminous coal and coke. Anthracite coal and iron ore and rates held by unexpired orders of the Commission are likewise excepted. Confidence will receive a new stimulus. It marks a change of attitude of the commission toward the railroads that cannot but be beneficial. Railroad credit will be strengthened, and the roads will be able to make more definite plans for their future. It is said the earnings of the roads will be increased about 40 to 50 millions. This is not a large sum, relatively considered; but the action of the commission is quite sufficient to check distrust and inspire confidence. One effect of the decision will be to create a more hopeful feeling in the steel industry, of which the railroads are the best customers; and it may be hoped that their action will avert the proposed reduction of wages in that industry. The effect upon the stock market was naturally encouraging, although some caution was observed until the results could be more definitely measured. The decision will also have a stimulating effect upon business in general, and will aid to counteract the depressing influences of the war."

Governor Pinkham's official garb of white worn at a reception yesterday morning may start a much-needed wave of sartorial reform in this balmy clime. Why not the Mark Twain style—white evening clothes and all? A bas the sober black!

Seattle wants a steamship line to Honolulu, says a Seattle steamship man. Honolulu also wants a Seattle line. This mutual desire ought to work out somehow into freight and passenger business sufficient to transform the wish into the deed.

Part of the necessary equipment of any well-conducted European army nowadays is a battery of 11-inch adding machines to count the prisoners.

President Poincare says there will be peace by next January 1. The taking of Alsace and Lorraine hasn't progressed very far, either.

President Yuan Shih-Kai has revived sun-worship in China, but it's not the worship of Dr. Sun.

1915's greeting in Honolulu could not be mistaken for anything but a hearty welcome.

The Kaiser's confidence in divine aid for the German cause is not shared by the Allies.

CONGRESS AS SEEN FROM HAWAII

The Congressional Record has been dubbed the "greatest bore on earth," and the "greatest newspaper on earth," with a variety of titles ranging between these two extremes. The Star-Bulletin will from time to time during the short session of the present Congress endeavor to cull from the columns of the publication in question items of general interest to its readers. While perhaps the selections made by this paper may not corroborate the claim that the Congressional Record is the greatest newspaper published, we shall endeavor to demonstrate that it is by no means the greatest bore.

PUBLICITY OF ENDORSEMENTS FOR JUDICIAL POSITIONS.

The Congressional Record of December 9th, in so far as the debate as to an additional judge for the southern district of Georgia is concerned, is an interesting illustration of the political aspect of certain questions which arise in Congress. The Democratic party had declared in the platform which has become honored by breach rather than observance, that the president should make public all endorsements made in behalf of any person appointed as a federal judge. On a bill pending in Congress for the appointment of an additional federal judge in Georgia, the minority leader, Mr. Mann, kindly offered an amendment in the words: "That the president shall make public all endorsements made on behalf of the person appointed as such district judge." The distinguished leader, while professing his own disbelief in the soundness of the amendment, quoted from a speech of Secretary of State Bryan, showing that the proposed amendment was in line with Democratic ideas. Mr. Mann then said: "So in order that we know more, I ask the opportunity that gentlemen may vote on the amendment once more." On being asked whether he had voted for a similar amendment on a previous occasion, Mr. Mann replied: "No, and I shall not vote for this one. I hope no one requires me to make an announcement that I am not in favor of most of the provisions of the Democratic platform; that is one provision I do not favor. Will gentlemen on the other side repudiate it? It was no dishonor to me to repudiate."

And here comes in the politics as disclosed by the Record. The discussion was in the committee of the whole, where no provision is made for record of votes. There were 77 members present in the committee of the whole, and 47 voted in favor of the amendment and 30 against it. When the amendment itself reached the house there were but 36 who favored it and 37 were opposed to it. On the point of no quorum being made, there was a call of the house, and finally Mann had placed the house on record. There were 160 in favor of the amendment and 103 against it. Its fate in the senate was still problematical.

The proposed amendment is of peculiar interest to the people of Hawaii. It would be interesting, indeed, were the president compelled, in line with the Democratic platform, to make public the endorsements received by him for appointments to judgeships in Hawaii.

MILEAGE.

With a regularity equaling changes of the moon, or defeats of McCandless for the delegateship, Congress at each session has before it the question of mileage for its members. Each year the charge is made that the present rate of 20 cents per mile in traveling and from Washington is a graft. Each session amendments are offered and temporarily carried. Each session closes with the mileage untouched.

The present short session in no exception. The matter arose as per schedule on December 15, in a discussion on the legislative, executive and judiciary appropriation bill. Amendments to cut the rate to 10 cents and to 5 cents per mile were beaten, and finally the same old amendment, which was first adopted and then rejected at the last session was carried. It reads: "That in lieu of all mileage each senator, representative, delegate or resident commissioner shall be allowed his actual traveling expenses for himself and the dependent members of his family in coming from and returning to his home at each session of the Congress."

There is little doubt but that the amendment will finally be disposed of as heretofore. Mr. Good, of Iowa, remarked as follows:

Mr. Chairman, there are some honest differences of opinion between members of the subcommittee that reported this bill on the question of mileage. There is absolutely no difference of opinion on what this legislative bill will contain when it is signed by the president, so far as the mileage proposition is concerned. We all know that this is mere boys' play. At this point Mr. Barnhart, a Democratic war horse from Indiana, interjected the words "every year," and Mr. Good proceeded as follows:

It was only a few months ago that for days and weeks the house conferees were engaged with the senate conferees in attempting to settle this question. Irrespective of what this house does, every member of the house who knows anything about the subject knows that the senate will write the provision with regard to mileage; and it caught, to the day arrives when we are brave enough and honest enough with the country and ourselves to bring before this house a bill from a committee that has thoroughly investigated the subject and thoroughly digested it, fixing the mileage of members. Why, we all know that when this bill is enacted into law the mileage will be 20 cents a mile, irrespective of what this house does today, and it seems to me that it is folly for which the members of the house ought to be condemned, when session after session they bring up this question in this way, especially at a short session of Congress. Everybody, at least on this side of the house, wants to aid in expediting legislation through Congress in order that there may be no special session. To take up the time of the house with propositions of this kind is, it seems to me, inexcusable. I do not care, therefore, to take any more time of the committee discussing the subject. I yield the remainder of the time to the gentleman from Illinois.

Then followed the same old discussion, in the stereotyped words, and when the bill finally comes from conference, as intimated by Mr. Good, the law will remain unchanged.

THE WAR IN CONGRESS.

Anent the very interesting discussion going on in Congress at the present time on a bill seeking to forbid all shipments to belligerents, the speech of Dr. Bartholdt, well known in Hawaii, made on December 16, 1914, is interesting. Bartholdt, Lobeck and Vollmer, all members of the house, had been accused by an article in the New York Sun of acting in reality as agents of the German government in Congress. Dr. Bartholdt in no uncertain terms flayed the author of the rumor. His speech was quite a long one, delivered under the question of personal privilege. We quote but one paragraph of it, merely for the purpose of showing that there is more or less feeling in Congress over the war:

Mr. Speaker, during my long service in this house I have heard read from the clerk's desk many an accusation against members of this body, but none more serious than the one just reported. The gentleman from Iowa (Mr. Vollmer) the gentleman from Nebraska (Mr. Lobeck) and myself are practically charged with high treason against the government of the United States by the unequivocal assertion that "we are acting as agents of the German government in Congress." My colleagues will no doubt speak for themselves, though we all could probably well afford to leave the whole matter, without saying another word, to the judgment of the house and the country, considering the fact that the charge emanates from the New York spokesman of a foreign belligerent government which, according to reports, would be at its rope's end but for the contraband supplies it received from the United States. Certainly I shall not distinguish the libel with an affirmation of loyalty to my country in a body of which I have had the honor of being a member for 22 years, and which knows my record, no matter how humble, to be an open book. It is true I am an American citizen of German birth, but this means, if I do not differ from all American Germans, that I am a man who is loyal to the Stars and Stripes, and who is for America against England, for America against Germany, for America against the world. Indeed, if the Star-Spangled Banner is not my flag, then I have no flag. But true to my bride, I shall not be faithless to my mother, and you would have a right to despise me if I were. Therefore, as the United States is not an English dependency, I can reconcile it with my Americanism to give my sympathy to the fatherland just as well as so many newspaper editors evidently reconcile their Americanism with the open espousal of the cause of the allies. But this sympathy has no more to do with the government of Germany than with the government of Siam. Lord Shaftesbury once said that the human heart cannot possibly be neutral, that it constantly takes part one way or the other. However that may be, it is a man's private affair. In my capacity as a representative I have never yet given utterance to an unneutral word, nor have I done an unneutral act.

Trial of criminal cases in federal court will be renewed Monday morning, beginning at 8:30 o'clock, at which hour the trial jurors are expected to be present for duty. The grand jury for the April term will not be drawn until next month.

OPEN HOUSE AT 'Y' IS ENJOYED BY 600 GUESTS

Six hundred members and friends attended the New Year's open house at the Y. M. C. A. last evening and voted it a great success. Eighteen athletes, 16 musicians and 15 committeemen cooperated to make the occasion one of the finest social affairs ever given by the Honolulu Y. M. C. A.

The evening opened with a cafeteria dinner, during which the Y. M. C. A. orchestra, under the leadership of Prof. L. A. de Gracia, made a favorable impression with a concert of 15 numbers.

At 8 o'clock the basketball game between the All-Americans and All-Nationals attracted a great crowd in the Games hall. Between halves an exhibition of tumbling and "gym" stunts under the leadership of Samuel W. Robley was given. An unfortunate accident occurred when Robley broke his ankle after a difficult stunt. He showed great gameness, however, by completing his act with a broken ankle, none of the spectators knowing of his accident until the close of the evening.

The gymnasium concert at 9 o'clock again pleased the large audience present. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra won the appreciation of the crowd in its four varied numbers.

Frank C. Atherton gave an exhibition of club swinging which was heartily applauded.

The solos by Prof. de Gracia, Miss Edith C. Gattfield and L. G. French were well received and enjoyed. A banjo trio by G. P. Japson, Waldo H. Heinrichs and L. A. de Gracia proved an entertaining feature.

Bowling, billiards and refreshments in the lobby followed the concert and closed an enjoyable evening.

QUEEN TO ATTEND HAWAIIAN MUSIC CONCERT TONIGHT

The Young People's League will repeat the Hawaiian music concert at the Opera House tonight. The first concert, given last Tuesday night, drew a large crowd and was well received. The program includes ancient melees played to the accompaniment of primitive instruments and several modern songs.

A feature for tonight will be the attendance of Queen Liliuokalani as an honored guest. The queen is represented on the program by several of her own compositions and because of this and her general interest in Hawaiian native music has been induced to come.

CALLS ON 'PHONE HANDLED IN YEAR TOTAL 15,000,000

Fifteen million calls were handled on the wires of the Mutual Telephone Company, Ltd., in 1914. On the day before Christmas alone there were 26,600 connections. These facts show a fine achievement for the year by the automatic system.

In spite of the heavy business, especially on rush days like that before Christmas, there was little delay or confusion on the lines and the managers of the company say that the load could be doubled without testing the system's capacity.

Comparison is made with the old days, when heavy service forced a strain on telephone girls from which they did not recover for days. The fact that on rush days calls are concentrated in a few hours of the morning and afternoon caused an even more severe test of operators' nerves.

Notwithstanding its good record for 1914 the company is going ahead with plans for improvement of the system. To aid in this it asks the co-operation of telephone users. Patrons are requested in the case of any difficulty of any kind to call 96 and report their trouble.

ANGUS TO GO TO HILO TO INSTALL K. OF P. OFFICERS

J. H. Brayton, past chancellor commander of Malle lodge No. 4, Knights of Pythias, who has been in the city during 1914 week, has arranged with A. B. Angus, district deputy supreme chancellor, to personally install the K. of P. officers for the year 1915 on Hawaii. Mr. Angus, accompanied by his family, will arrive in Hilo January 17 and will remain in the locality long enough to install the officers of the Hilo and Honokaa lodges and get acquainted with the personnel of the order on Hawaii. From Hawaii Mr. Angus will go to Maui, where he will arrive in time to meet the Knights of Pythias excursionists from Honolulu.

CHILDREN'S CIRCUS OF FIRST M. E. CHURCH PROVES BIG SUCCESS

Commencing with a real parade, headed by a squad of mounted police and a Chinese band, and concluding with a "regular" one-ring circus entertainment, a miniature "big-top" circus was staged at the R. H. Trent place on Alewa Heights yesterday by the children of the First Methodist Church Sunday school.

With several hundred children and adults in line, the parade started up Wyllie street for the circus grounds. In the procession were real cages enclosing good imitations of lions, bears, monkeys and other jungle animals.

In the side shows were snake eaters, snake charmers, sword swallowers, the fat girl, the bearded lady, the human skeleton and other good imitations. John Martin acted as ringmaster to perfection. Yee Yap, a local merchant, donated a five-piece Chinese band and sailors of the U. S. S. Alert gave their services in putting up the tents and otherwise assisting the children.

Junior lieutenants of the class of 1915 cannot hope to reach the grade of lieutenant in less than forty years under the present distribution of grades of line officers of the navy, in the opinion of Rear Admiral Blue, chief of the bureau of navigation.

50,600 TELEPHONE CALLS IN ONE DAY---WITH NO CONFUSION, NO TROUBLE, NO DELAYS

A RECORD ACHIEVEMENT OF THE MUTUAL TELEPHONE COMPANY'S
AUTOMATIC SYSTEM

Feeling that perhaps the telephone-using public is not fully aware of the immense advantages it enjoys from the use of the Automatic Telephone System, as operated by the Mutual Telephone Co., Ltd., we call your attention to a few statistics that graphically illustrate the value of this mechanical wonder, even when subjected to such an excessive load as was carried during the week preceding the holiday season.

On the day before Christmas, the Mutual Telephone Co.'s Automatic System handled Fifty Thousand and Six Hundred Calls—the majority of these messages being concentrated between Ten and Twelve in the morning, and between Four and Six in the afternoon. And there was practically no confusion, no trouble, no delays.

A CONTRAST

The day before Christmas is a day long to be remembered in any Telephone Exchange where the Operators are girls. Remembered because of the hardships that cause nervous effects which the girls do not recover from for many days. On a day like this, all that the Manager of such an Exchange can hope for is fair weather—a rainstorm at such a time increases the load enormously, and generally to such an extent that the system is incapable of doing its work with any high degree of success.

The day before Christmas in the Mutual Telephone Co.'s Exchange, with the Automatic System in operation, showed a very quiet scene—a few skilled employes going about their supervisory duties as if nothing out of the ordinary were happening; the Automatic System responding smoothly and quietly and without a protest to the various loads at the different periods; everything as perfect as the company could hope for. Yet there were 50,600 calls handled that day—and a careful observation proved that the Automatic System as operated by us, could easily have carried twice the load recorded.

SUCCESSFUL IN EVERY WAY

About Fifteen Million (15,000,000) calls were handled by the Mutual Telephone Co.'s Automatic System during the past year, with a degree of success unsurpassed in any city in the world. That there is always room for improvement in any service must be understood. The Company is doing everything in its power to attain perfection, but a certain measure of responsibility lies with its patrons, who should report promptly—to number 96—any telephone troubles, no matter how slight.

We thank you for your patronage and extend the compliments of the season.

FT. SHAFTER SOCIETY

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

PORT SHAFTER, Jan. 2.—The New Year was heartily welcomed at the post and its arrival signified by a delightful reception at the quarters of Col. and Mrs. Francis H. French, where in accordance with the best of social tradition of the service all the officers and ladies of the garrison were received by the post commander and Mrs. French. Sharp on the hour of noon the whole garrison was to be found at the commandant's quarters where all were received with great hospitality and the heartiest of good wishes. Col. and Mrs. French were assisted in their welcome of the guests by Lieut.-col. and Mrs. B. W. Atkinson. Passing on into the main portion of the quarters the guests found a buffet luncheon of most attractive arrangement and served at small tables through the library and reception room. In the service of this luncheon Mrs. Chas. S. Lincoln presided with Maj. Lenihan at the opposite end of the long table where he did valiant duty with the carvers. A punch bowl at the end of the long hall was under the dispensation of Mrs. Orho W. Rosenbaum, and many the cup of good cheer was there ladeled out and disposed of. During the hour of the reception the 2nd Infantry band played continuously from its station on the lawn in front of the quarters. Mrs. French had called to her aid in the service of her luncheon a number of the younger ladies of the garrison. These included the Misses Lenihan, Misses Scott, Miss Rosenbaum and Miss Halloran. In their train as assistants were the younger officers of the 2nd and right valiantly did they labor.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Charles S. Lincoln entertained at cards with auction as the play in honor of Mrs. J. B. de Ford and Mrs. Hobby. Six tables made up the number engaged in the lively play of the evening and Lieut. F. F. Black proved to be the high score of the contest with Mrs. de Ford as highest among the ladies. Lieut. Black carried off with much pride the handsome serving tray of Japanese stencil provided by Mrs. Lincoln while Mrs. de Ford was awarded a photographic panel of a Hawaiian net caster that was very much admired. Mrs. Hobby and Mrs. de Ford were each awarded charming corsage bouquets of violets and baby roses as guest prizes. After play was concluded a supper was served that by its attractiveness of menu quite finished the evening's pleasure. In the service Mrs. Gibbs and Mrs. Lenihan assisted, with Capt. Lincoln in general charge of the liquid part of the arrangements. Mrs. Lincoln's guests were Col. and Mrs. Atkinson, Maj. and Mrs. Lenihan, Maj. and Mrs. Smith, Capt. and Mrs. Knowles, Capt. and Mrs. Gibbs, Capt. and Mrs. Massee, Lieut. and Mrs. Booth, Lieut. and Mrs. Black, Capt. and Mrs. McCleave, Lieut. and Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. de Ford, Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. Hobby, Mrs. Roe and Capt. Jamerson and Mr. Randolph.

New Year's eve a lively party embarked from the garrison for the festivities of the city. The party had engaged the big motor truck of the exchange and right well filled that vehicle was. Going first to Governor Pinkham's splendid reception and ball, where more than an hour of dancing was enjoyed, the party added Capt. Redington to its number and went thence to the Country Club for supper and the passing of the Old Year. With a big table in the main dining room at the club the twenty merry-makers made things lively in their vicinity. Well after the New Year had arrived the party made its way to other scenes of festivity and reached Shafter at one of the larger of the "sma" hours. The perfect night and good fellowship made the occasion one of great enjoyment. Those included in the party were Col. and Mrs. Atkinson, Maj. and Mrs. Smith, Maj. and Mrs. Lenihan, Capt. and Mrs. Jackson from Schofield Barracks, Capt. and Mrs. Gibbs, Mrs. J. B. de Ford, Lieut. and Mrs. Richardson, Capt. and Mrs. Lincoln, Miss Lenihan, Miss Catherine Lenihan, Capt. Creighton from Schofield, Capt. Chamberlain, Lieut. Greene and Capt. Redington of Honolulu.

Owing to the demands on the time of the garrison for other forms of amusement the regular fortnightly hop of the post was postponed this week and the next affair of that nature will likewise probably be postponed as the date will be so near to that set for the big masquerade ball to be given by the Fort Shafter branch of the Army Relief Society which will take place on the night of January 12. Referring to that event the ladies of the garrison are well along in their plans and from the assurance received and the sale of admission tickets there will be a large attendance. The artillery garrisons are coming to the front in support of the ball in handsome style and from Schofield Barracks comes the news that a number of fancy dress dinners are planned for that evening and that the parties will then motor in to Shafter in time for the fun at the hop room.

Ladies' Night at the regimental mess of the 2nd Infantry was especially enjoyable Monday of the past week. Mrs. F. H. French and Mrs. Roe were the hostesses and the handsome teapot of Canton was provided by the hostesses was awarded to Mrs. Ernest V. Smith for the high score amassed by that lady. Among the players were Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. W. B. Atkinson, Col. and Mrs. French, Capt. and Mrs. Parker, Capt. and Mrs. Kay, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Maj. and Mrs. Smith, Capt. and Mrs. Knowles, Lieut. and Mrs. Richardson, Miss Lenihan, and Mrs. Lenihan, Mrs. Gibbs, Lieut. and Mrs. Greene, Mrs. McCleave and Capt. and Mrs. Lincoln. The hostesses for next week will be Mrs. A. C. Knowles and Mrs. J. B. Richardson.

Capt. and Mrs. Franklin P. Jackson of the 1st Infantry have been the house-guests of Maj. and Mrs. Ernest V. Smith for over New Year's eve and the week-end following. On Thursday evening Mrs. Smith entertained at dinner for Capt. and Mrs. Jackson, Mrs.

'MARTIN EDEN' ANOTHER STRONG LONDON OFFERING AT POPULAR

Story Portrayed is True to Life With Intimate Glimpses of Author's Experiences

"Martin Eden," another of Jack London's red-blooded stories of life as he saw it in the South Seas, has been filmed by Bosworth and will be the Famous Players offering at the Popular theater for three days, beginning with today's matinee and concluding with next Tuesday evening's performance.

Heralded by mainland critics as the equal of the Sea Wolf, Martin Eden is expected to prove a popular Honolulu attraction, the former having been declared locally to be one of the greatest films ever shown here.

Jack London's own life story is interwoven in "Martin Eden," as it is in all of the works from his pen. The story tells of how from the hard-won leadership of a hoodlum gang in Oakland, from a beach-comber's life in the South Seas and from the inferno of the stoker's hole, Martin Eden, an unlearned sailor, wins his way to fame and fortune. But it is not until great odds have been conquered and much has been sacrificed that the goal is reached. And then it is too late.

The odds faced by Martin Eden are ridicule, poverty and lack of education. The great sacrifice is of love.

A chance meeting in his hoodlum days with Arthur, Morse, a college man, proves the turning point of Martin's life, for through Morse he meets the opening of a new world and in the reels of film following this meeting are clearly shown Eden's indomitable spirit and the development of his career. He makes two picturesque friends, with whom the audience soon feels well acquainted. One is Russ Brissinden, a poet who encourages him when he needs encouragement.

J. B. de Ford and Capt. Chamberlain. The dinner party afterwards went to the governor's reception.

Practically every officer and most of the ladies of the garrison were present yesterday at the New Year's reception of Gen. and Mrs. William H. Carter. The band of the 2nd Infantry was in attendance and played a delightful concert program on the lawn of the general's residence on Nuuanu avenue during the hours of the reception.

Mrs. Ernest V. Smith has sent out her cards for an afternoon at auction in honor of her sister, Mrs. J. Buchanan de Ford, to take place on January 7, at her quarters at Fort Shafter. Mrs. Smith will have ten tables of guests with a number of additional guests for tea at the conclusion of the games.

Mrs. B. Walker Atkinson is entertaining this evening at auction in honor of Mrs. J. B. de Ford, Mrs. Smith's sister and guest. Four tables will make up the playing list of guests with others coming in for a place at supper and following card games.

Capt. E. H. Cooke, Lieut. Silvester and Lieut. Campanole are among those of the garrison who have been absent from Fort Shafter over New Year's, engaged in participation in the big pedestrian tour that Honolulu people have organized.

Lieut. J. D. Reardon, aide to Gen. Carter, has been asked to take over a number of tickets for the masquerade ball of the 12th and applications for the same made by mail or telephone to that officer will receive consideration.

Lieut. and Mrs. C. C. Gee are receiving the sympathy of their friends on account of the serious illness of their small daughter who has been under the surgeon's care for the past few days.

DEATHS.

Funeral announcement later; remains will be shipped to Lahaina for burial.

The roof of an empty house at Queen and Kamehameha streets was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Later, a fire at Kawaiahae was extinguished by occupants of the house before the fire department arrived. A false alarm was turned in late yesterday at Queen and Fort streets.

the most. The other is Maria, his warm-hearted Italian landlady, whose wildest dream of prosperity, "shoe all da roun' for da kids," Martin is eventually able to gratify. A third figure later enters Eden's life, beautiful, wistful Lizzie Connolly, who loves him madly and whom he pities but cannot love.

As in so many lives along the rugged road traveled in this world, matters are at their lowest ebb before the tide of fortune turns. Martin is penniless and without warmth or food. He has had only one sale of manuscript in many months of increasing endeavor. Brissinden is dead. Ruth, losing all faith, has broken their engagement and refuses to see him. Then comes the sudden sweep of success, with publishers clamoring for his work and fame and wealth in his hand. But the tension that sustained him during his days of poverty and struggle breaks; even love, in the person of the repentant Ruth, knocks at his door in vain and he sails for the South seas, to find again if he may the old time zest for life.

"Martin Eden" is introduced and closed, as in all the Bosworth productions of London's works, with an autographed medallion of the author, also by a 20-foot view of London in his home in Glen Ellen, Cal.

A further episode in "The Perils of Pauline" promises to produce a number of thrilling scenes, the last installment having left the audience fearing greatly for the beautiful and headstrong young girl, who has just been presented with a handsome basket of flowers in which is concealed a poisonous snake.

THE DEEP PURPLE PLAYED TONIGHT FOR LAST TIME

All who have seen "The Deep Purple" at the Bijou Theater as played by the Players All-Star Company pronounce it one of the best, if not the best crook play which has ever been seen in Honolulu. The setting is in a nest of thieves and crooks in New York City and the unfolding of the story gives a splendid picture of Gotham's underworld.

In the production of the play the Webb company is seen at its very best and the number of characters permits every member of the organization to be in the cast. Practically every part is also a big one.

Florence Oakley as Kate Fallon, a woman with a past who has reformed, has a role splendidly suited to her and she makes the most of it. Olga Gray is a bit as a Swedish servant. Helen Carew has a difficult part in the character of the daughter of rich parents who has been ensnared in a love affair with one of the worst crooks in the play.

George Webb plays the part of a western gunman and his clashes with New York gunmen and crooks who turn him over to the police to secure the price which is on his head because he has killed his man in the west and then turned train robber, furnish the main theme of the play.

Robert McKenzie, Cliff Thompson, Jack Fraser, Harold Castle, Bert Chapman, Pat Pryor, Blanche Burns and Marie Vio Tassel are all splendid. All in all, it is one of the best things the Players All-Stars have ever given to Honoluluans. "The Deep Purple" will be presented tonight for the last time.

The offering for next week, beginning Monday night, will be "Pierre of the Plains," an adaptation from Sir Gilbert Parker's famous novel, "Pierre and His People."

JOY PITCHES A FINE GAME AND HIS TEAM BATS

Combination is Too Much for the Reorganized Chinese Club

Big league pitching by Joy, backed up by sharp fielding and opportune hitting of his team mates, resulted in a win for the All-Oahu yesterday over the newly organized Chinese Baseball club. Manager Chack's combination didn't seem to pull as well together as did either of the old Chinese teams, but as yesterday's game was the first for the club, rough edges were to be expected. Apau was hit hard in the first and eighth frames, three and two runs coming in respectively.

The Picks went to bat first, Chilly opening with a clean two bagger to left center. Bushnell made a pretty sacrifice and Argabrite sent the runner across with a single. The latter was safe at second when Ayau dropped a throw of Lang Akana's ground-er. Then Joy came across with a double to center, both runners scoring. The next two men were retired on outfield flies.

The Chinese came right back in their half with a brace of runs. En Sue waited Barney out and took second on a passed ball that came near being a wild pitch. Ayau struck out. Cheong hit and stole second. Then Lai Tin sent a fast hopper towards short. Chillingworth came in on the play and pegged the ball to the plate in plenty of time to catch En Sue, but Henshaw couldn't hang onto the ball. He returned it to second to catch Lai Tin, but the put out wasn't made until Cheong had touched the rubber.

In the sixth the Chinese tied things up. En Sue, first up, laid a bunt along the first base line and streaked it for the bag, while Joy made desperate efforts to get down to the leather. He finally made a side firing wide of Filzer, giving the runner an extra base. Ayau was hit, and then he and En Sue pulled off a double steal. The latter would have been out if Sousa had held the ball, but he let it fall and did the same thing a moment later on a peg from Henshaw that caught En Sue too far away from the base. He should have been out twice. Lai Tin sent one toward first which Cheong fielded to the plate, but En Sue managed to squirm under the tag and was safe. Kai Luke fanned and Ayau was caught at the plate.

Yamashiro opened the seventh with a grounder to third which Lai Tin bunted. Then Filzer getting the ball to short left, Kai Luke getting to the spot in time but letting the ball fall through his hands. A few feet shorter and it would have gone for a hit instead of an error. Henshaw sacrificed, Cheong running to get the bunt, and just missing the runner for a fly- ing tag. Yap had run over to cover the bag, however, and the out resulted after all. Sousa fled to Tin and Chillingworth delivered the goods with a hit to right which scored two.

In the eighth, with one gone, Argabrite lifted the ball over the right center fence for four bases. Lang walked and Joy hit, but the former was out at third on the fielders' choice that gave Yamashiro life. Filzer hit a slow grounder towards third and although it would have gone for a hit, being too slow to handle, Lai Tin had to leave it a mile wide of first, letting in the run.

Not a Chinaman got to first in the seventh, eighth and ninth.

BASEBALL TOMORROW. The Chinese and All-Oahu will have another diamond battle tomorrow afternoon at Athletic park at 2 o'clock. Probably Kyn Yin will do the catching for the Chinese, while Luck Yee will be used in the box. For the Picks, Alex Desha is the likely choice for pitcher, although Sloan may be used.

GOLFING HINTS.

By "Straight Drive." PRACTISE SWINGS — A few years ago the practice of taking a practise swing or two before hitting the ball on nearly every stroke became so prevalent here that the British authorities rigidly enforcing a radical interpretation of rule 13, prevented its spread abroad.

On this side golfers are permitted to take practise swings on the tee and on all other strokes, "net" within a club's length of the ball." The U. S. G. A. thus asserted their right to interpret the rules just the same as in the case of the Schenectady putter.

Practise swinging is a mighty useful expedient for the man temporarily off on a stroke, but it is a bad regular habit to acquire. When off it helps give a confidence that you will hit the ball but for regular use it is a tiresome and laborious process for yourself and those who play with you.

KAULUWELAS TIE FOR FIRST WITH STAR-BULLETINS

The expected happened yesterday when the fast indoor baseball team of the Kauluvelas club downed the Koreans and jumped into a tie for first place with the Star-Bulletins. Kauluvelas still has one game to play, and it returned a winner will make it a three-cornered knot at the top of the percentage table.

Yesterday's game, which was played at Kakaako hall, was not as snappy as some of the former contests, the support on both sides being ragged. Sam Kahoe had a world of speed and struck out 19 men, retiring the first 12 to face his delivery on strikes. Kim, for the Koreans, fanned five.

The score by innings and lineups:
Koreans. 0 0 0 7 0 4 2 1 3
Kauluvelas. 5 0 4 9 2 3 5 1 2 3

Korean—Y. O. Kim, catcher; C. S. Kim, pitcher; K. C. Han, first base; K. C. Park, second base; H. S. Kim, third base; S. M. Ha, shortstop; S. W. Chun, right field; M. S. Chung, left field; C. W. Cho, center field.

Umpires—S. W. Robley and C. J. Kim.

NOVEL RACE AT SKATING RINK TONIGHT

There will be another specialty tonight at the Fort street skating rink, a bicycle pursuit race being on the cards as well as a freck race between "Soldier" King and "Speedy" Gonzola.

William Ivy of the 25th Infantry and L. B. Miles of Honolulu are down for the pursuit race. They will start on opposite sides of the track and will ride until one overtakes the other.

In the second race King is to run 14 laps, which is two miles, while Gonzola's 54 laps. These handicaps are arranged on the showing made in a previous race between these two men, when King finished his two miles as Gonzola who was supposed to skate three, was finishing his 54th lap.

The big doings will start promptly at 8:30 tonight.

TENNIS GROWING RAPIDLY IN THE UNITED STATES

(By Latest Mail) NEW YORK.—Despite the fact that there has been a wonderful growth in the number of contestants and the quality of their playing during the past few years, those who are in close touch with United States Lawn Tennis Association affairs confidently predict that the next 10 years will see this sport making even more rapid gains in this country.

Since its formation, some 30 years ago, there has been a steady growth in the number of clubs and players who have become affiliated with this organization until it has now developed into one of the leading athletic organizations of the country. Since last March the increase in club members has been the most remarkable since the start and, according to E. F. Torrey, the secretary, no less than 80 new clubs have enrolled. These new clubs have a playing membership of about 15,000 persons and they have over 1000 courts. This is an increase of over 50 per cent. It takes in clubs situated in all parts of the country.

The largest of the new clubs to come into the National Association is the Seattle Athletic club of Seattle, Wash., which has a membership of about 1000 players and a large number of dirt courts. Another big club to join is the Country Club of Birmingham, Ala.

With the exception of the East most of the tennis playing has been done on dirt courts. Owing to the fact that the National all comers and Davis cup international championships have always been played in turf courts, there has been a marked tendency throughout the West and South to build some turf courts for their own players. One of the clubs that has taken up the work is the Country Club at Birmingham, which has recently completed six of these surfaces at a cost of about $9000.

Another departure which is expected to improve the standard of play is the securing of professional coaches by the various clubs. While there are only a few clubs which now have such instructors, there is an ever increasing demand for them and it is expected that the professional will soon play as important a part in the tennis club's affairs as he does now in golf circles.

ALL-NATIONALS WIN FROM THE ALL-AMERICANS

Before a crowd of over 500 people packed into the James Hall the All-Nationals defeated the All-Americans 25 to 16 at basketball. The occasion was the open house at the Y. M. C. A. last night, and ten of the association's best players had been picked to play on these two teams.

The fact that the men were gathered from the ten teams and had therefore never played together before did not seem to detract from their effectiveness. However, the Nationals found that they could work together in better order and the first half ended 18 to 15 in their favor. Nottage and Cannon were largely responsible for their victory—Nottage caging four and Cannon three. Roach and Gomes each put one through and Gomes threw one foul.

For the Americans Nickolsen, probably the fastest center in the territory, put through four shots with a man always hanging on to him, and he threw two of the fouls. Haneberg caged two beauties and Barboza added one. Morgan and Soares played hard guarding games, while Gilliland, who went in the second half, showed his usual versatile game at guarding.

The crowd seemed to thoroughly enjoy the game, which to many was a new one. Basketball is thought by many to be a girl's game, but last night's demonstration brought forth the remark from one lady, "good as a football game."

Tonight sees the completion of the basketball schedule for the Internationals when, in a double-header, the XX Club meets the Olympics and the Hawaii try to wrest victory from the hitherto undefeated P. B. C. Club. These games are called at 8 o'clock.

The lineup in last night's game:
All-Am. Pos. All-Nat.
Nottage. R. F. Barboza
Cannon. L. F. Haneberg
Roach. C. G. Nickolsen
Gomes. R. G. Gilliland
H. Melin. L. G. Morgan
Score—Americans, 16; Nationals, 25. Referee—G. Jackson. Scorer—Lemke. Timekeeper—Lambert.

Baskets: Four, Nottage, Nickolsen; three, Cannon; two, Haneberg; one, Roach, Gomes, Barboza. Fouls: By Gomes, one; by Nickolsen, two.

The Carnegie Steel Company started one additional furnace at Sharon, Pa., making five out of twelve in operation.

JAWED OFF SHORT

NOW that the voters have banished pugilism from the state of California, where for years past the boxing game had enjoyed a lively and profitable existence, promoters of athletic contests, particularly those of championship caliber, must turn south to Louisiana as the only state in the Union where ring titles, in any class, may be lost or won. Great ring battles have been brought to successful as well as surprising issues in the Pelican state and ring history is featured with many interesting chapters of star bouts which were decided in the vicinity of New Orleans. Once more the Crescent City bids fair to blaze in the limelight as a center of stirring sporting events, and there may be a revival of the famous gatherings of sport lovers which crowded the hostleries in that city a quarter of a century ago.

Two noted ring battles in each of which a champion was dethroned and a new one crowned were fought at New Orleans in the very early nineties, but after a lapse of so many years no follower of pugilism has to be reminded as to the names of the men who lost and won at that time. In the first of these, on January 14, 1891, New York's idol, Jack Dempsey, the "Nonpareil," lost the middle-weight championship in 13 rounds, being knocked out by Bob Fitzsimmons, who afterwards became the world's heavyweight champion. A year later, September 7, 1892, James J. Corbett, fresh from the Pacific coast, where he had been a bank clerk in San Francisco, electrified the world of listiana by dethroning Boston's pride, and until then, America's idolized heavyweight champion, John L. Sullivan, in a 21-round battle. These two contests stand out clearly above all others; and there were many important battles fought before and since that time in Louisiana, whenever New Orleans is mentioned among followers of pugilistic sport.

Limited round contests are permissible in many states but most of them are limited to 10 or 12 rounds and scarcely long enough for the thorough test of endurance and dexterity necessary to decide the merits of many of the latter day boxers. Championships might be decided in some of these bouts, if referees were permitted to render decisions, but in New York state this is impossible and only a knockout could make a champion under these conditions. Bouts of 10, 12 or 15 rounds do not appeal to the patrons of the ring sport. Naturally, promoters, principals and the army of sport fans who will go any distance to see a decisive bout, are pretty well satisfied that the nearest approach to the old-time championship battles will be found in Louisiana under the laws governing boxing as they exist there today.

A comparison of the averages for 1914 and 1913 show that most of the major league players who jumped to the Federal League last winter or spring improved their hitting in the independent league over the figures earned while with the O. B. leagues. This is not true of all the players, several of whom entered a slump soon after joining the Federals. The following averages for 1914 as compared with the same player's hitting in the big leagues in 1913 tell the tale:

In a forecast of Yale football possibilities next autumn, Walter Camp in a recent article wrote:

"As for the future, Yale has freshman line material that will build up well. The Yale tackling and power of striking and charging can be improved upon and must be, to win in the modern game. The hands that reach and the arms that hold must stick to the runner, and that Yale's hands and arms failed to do in the critical contest. The play that was most effective by all teams against Yale was the run from kick formation. That furnishes food for further reflection."

A REAL GOAL KICKER.

Lloyd Bletzer, right end of the Mount Union College football team, kicked 27 successive goals from touch-down during the past season, making 10 of them in one game. He did not fall on one attempt throughout the season.

LOOKS LIKE A BANNER YEAR FOR ALL SPORT

International Competitions are Off the Cards—U. S. Will Have Sport Monopoly

At the very beginning of the new year all indications point to another season of great athletic activity throughout the United States during 1915. All possibility of international contests such as featured the past two years appear to have been eliminated as a result of the European war, but national, sectional and inter-sectional sports and competition will undoubtedly continue to increase in the next twelve months. Because of the size and population of the country these events will arouse almost as much interest as would be the case were foreign nations represented on track, turf and water.

Schedule makers in scores of sports are busy compiling the lists of dates and events to be held during the spring, summer and autumn of 1915, and in almost every instance there is but one reply to the question regarding the outlook: "Greater than previous year." It is the keynote. Apparently sport in all its amateur and professional angles has taken a commanding hold upon America. Although only isolated dates in baseball, rowing, track and athletics, automobile racing, football, tennis and golf have been announced, the trend of sport is clearly defined. The boom, which is carrying the American of all ages and sexes into the open, is still far from its maximum development.

National events and championships will also take an added importance in 1915 since they will not suffer by comparison with international contests and foreign fixtures of greater traditional merit. In fact America will have almost a monopoly on sport since few if any of the European nations, or their colonies, will have either time or inclination for competition or pastimes next year. The action of the various English sport governing bodies clearly forecasts the temporary abandoning of all the famous European classics. The Henley regatta and the Oxford-Cambridge boat races have been set over for a year at least. Polo is out of the question and the Wimbledon tennis championships most unlikely. Challenges from this country for matches for the polo trophy or the Davis cup will not be even suggested. The Shamrock IV, challenger for the America's cup and the prospective defending yachts, Defiance, Resolute and Vanitie are all housed for the winter and it is doubtful if any of the quartet wet a keel next summer. This will be a great year for American sport, but it will be intermural sport.

UMPIRE HILDEBRAND BLOWS SERIES' MONEY BY BUYING AUTO

[By Latest Mail] SAN FRANCISCO, Cal. — Umpire George Hildebrand of the American League staff has gone and squandered the money he received for officiating as one of the four diamond arbiters in the recent world's series. He has invested in a motorcar and is now riding around the streets of San Francisco, as proud as he can be. Hildy debated on the question and decided he could afford the luxury of an automobile, which constitutes the record of the first umpire in these parts who owns an automobile. Hildebrand says he will not take the car East, but in the off-season expects to do some stepping.

"I figure it will be good training for an umpire," says George. "Driving an automobile has a tendency to quicken the eye, and watching the traffic policeman will give me some pointers in giving decisions."

"The Fame of Bill-the-Tippler"

A TEMPERANCE SERMON

By Dr. John W. Wadman

"For ten years or more I was known by the epithet of 'Bill-the-Tippler.'" replied a new acquaintance of mine to a question I had asked regarding his past life. "Not that that was the name with which I started life. My father's name was Henry and I was christened William. In childhood I was called 'Willie'; in the school room
'William'; later, on the street, 'Bill';
at baseball, 'Bill-the-batter', for I scored well; still later, 'Bill-the-tippler.' Not that I drank so much more than the others with whom I daily associated, but in some way my friends got to calling me by this name and it stuck.

"My father was a hard, brutal-minded man, but not a drunkard. I do not know that he drank at all. My mother, however, was addicted to her cups. She was a big woman, as I remember, with huge arms, muscular hands and a fierce harsh voice. In her sober moments, however, she was a kind, indulgent mother and a good housekeeper, but my earliest recollections of home are for the most part unpleasant, for the drink was a disturbing factor and frequent explosions of anger and quarreling took place.

"At 15 I left home and soon began to drink through evil companionship and because I was told it was a sign of manliness. At 20 I hit the drink trail still harder and at 25 or thereabouts I became known as 'Bill-the-tippler.' This lasted 10 years, when I climbed upon the water-wagon and now for another 10 years I have never darkened a grog shop nor tasted a drop of the fiery liquid."

"This is interesting," I remarked.
"What was it, then, which led you to mount the wagon?"

"No secret at all, sir. Only a little straight thinking. It was one Sunday afternoon as I sat with my wife and three children in a public park. We had just had a fairly good dinner for a working man. I was making $20 or $25 a day. Our house rent was $10 per month. Wife was a good housekeeper and we were just struggling along, but not saving a cent, nor making any headway at all. Suddenly I found myself gazing at a billboard across the street gaily painted and I read the words written in flaming letters, 'The beer which made Milwaukee famous. Above the words two workingmen sat at a table drinking, and one of these fellows looked so much like myself that I wondered if it were possible that I had been caught in a camera in order to appear on the billboard and to advertise the beer which made Milwaukee famous. 'Good God,' I exclaimed, 'that is surely Bill-the-Tippler,' and it occured to me that the crowds began to see the resemblance as in passing they gazed at me with grinning faces and then at the billboard. So I slunk away from the place, but the picture followed me. All day it never left me. Next day it was still with me in the foundry where I worked, and the words 'the beer which made Milwaukee famous and Bill-the-Tippler' rang in my ears. Yes, I had helped, in drinking the beer, to make Milwaukee famous, and had won for myself the name which I was coming more and more to despise.

"It was then, I say, that I began to think, to think hard and to do a little calculating. For ten years I had frequented the corner saloon a kept, by Gus Murphy, an old schoolmate. In the morning on the way to the foundry, I usually had two drinks; at noon two more and from two to three or more in the evening. You see, I was thinking, putting two and two together. This had been my drinking custom for ten years and the average amount spent could not have been less than 40 cents a day. I then took a piece of paper and set the figures down with a lead pencil and began a little multiplication and addition. Forty cents a day meant $2.80 per week.
I then began to figure what such a sum as that would amount to if it had been put into a savings and loan association each week for 10 years. I knew that most associations allow at least 5 per cent semi-annually and was amazed to find that $2.80 invested at 5 per cent with the interest added to the principal and reinvested every six months would in ten years amount to $1859.22. Hence, I had handed over the bar into the pockets of Murphy during the last 10 years $1859.22 and had received practically nothing of value in return, all for the sake of helping to make Milwaukee famous and 'Bill-the-Tippler' a fool."

"The next day at noon I sauntered into Murphy's place. There he sat near his cash register, as usual, well groomed and smiling, while his fat white-aproned bartender was serving the thirsty customers. Gus nodded slightly, looked me over with inward contempt, no doubt. Having no money to spend, I dropped into a chair in the corner and watched Gus register the nickels and dimes which help to make Milwaukee famous and line his own pockets with treasure.
Shortly he pulled out a diamond-studded watch, a Christmas gift from his wife, costing, so I had heard, $275, whereupon it occurred to me that in 10 years I had spent enough in Murphy's emporium to buy more than a half-dozen such diamond-studded watches.

"That evening on my way home I saw Murphy and his wife riding in an elegant car. She was dressed like a princess and again it occurred to me that I had squandered for booze in 10 years quite enough to buy all the tog-gery and jewelry with which she was so richly arrayed, with a margin to spare, while my own wife wore nothing but an old calico gown and the children were too ragged to be decent.

"Later in the evening I strolled into the residential district and saw Murphy's mansion with its well-kept garden and lawn and once again my little arithmetical calculation came back to me with increasing emphasis.

Here was Murphy, having started in life with no better powers and prospects than myself with a home, and family and comforts galore, while I had made no headway, still living in a small rented house with but few of the comforts of life and often in need of the real necessities. That very night, Sir, I entered for the last time Murphy's grocery, sat at one of the wooden tables, gazed at the array of bottles, heard the clinking glasses and saw the boozing gang of customers helping to make Gus rich and Milwaukee famous, losing manhood and all that a sane and sensible life involves, then raising my hand to Heaven, I swore with God's help eternal enmity to the drink, bringing my fist to the table with such a thud that made every bottle and glass jingle and the noisy guzzling crowd to stop and stare with amazement. No wonder, for 'Bill-the-Tippler' was on the water-wagon and there he stays to this day."

"What has been the result, Mr.
Walsh?" I inquired.

"Thank you. People do really call me now 'Mr. Walsh,' or 'William.' Results? Why, bless you. Can't you call around and see me at home? Yes, at home. We now have a home, a real home of our own, almost paid for, while wife no longer wears an old calico gown and the children have grown into respectable manhood and womanhood. Why? All because 'Bill-the-Tippler' did a little hard thinking."

Brevities From The Anti-Saloon League

Large packages of literature have recently been received from the national headquarters, Westerville, Ohio, in order to assist us in carrying out the new plans for 1915 along educational and publicity lines. We learn that two big modern presses at headquarters are run day and night in order to supply the demand for literature all over the country and most of this is freely donated to state organizations.

The local league rejoices in the victory for national prohibition gained by the recent vote taken in the house of representatives at Washington, D. C.
True, the measure lacked the necessary two-thirds majority in order to make it effective. Yet when 192 voted in favor with 139 opposing, we again declare it a victory as well as a sure prophecy. We need only wait a little while before the proposed Hobson-Sheppard amendment to the constitution will become a law.

December 31 witnessed all the retail saloons removed from the public market zone, and it is now fondly hoped that no such pitiable and disgraceful sights will again be witnessed such as have characterized the usual features around certain street corners in the near vicinity of the market, particularly Saturday afternoons.

Query. If we find that this measure of prohibition enacted by the board of license commissioners in regard to the market vicinity works well and meets with the approval of the public, why not let the clean dry area grow wider and wider still, till our whole city and county will become decent and prosperous. The people of the city and county of Honolulu can do it if they wish.

The petition for a saloon license in the Pleasanton hotel was denied at a recent meeting of the board of license commissioners upon the report of the liquor inspector. Through his attorney, Clarence Olsen, "a hearing" was granted Mr. Olsenberg to take place at the January session of the board, due notice of the time and place of which will be given.

At least six prominent lawyers were present on official duty at the December meeting of the board, an evidence of the fact that the liquor traffic creates more or less of a lucrative practice for the legal profession.

DR. DOREMUS SCUDDER IS EXPECTED TO RETURN ON MATSONIA NEXT TUESDAY

Dr. Doremus Scudder, pastor of Central Union church, is expected to arrive in Honolulu Tuesday morning on the Matsonia, and will speak at the mid-week meeting the following evening at 7:30 o'clock. It is hoped that a large number will be present to welcome him home. The general topic of the evening is phrased as "Some things we ought to try to do this year" and members of the church and congregation are urged to bring suggestions for the work of 1915.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS MANY BIBLE STUDY CLASSES DURING COMING YEAR

The Y. M. C. A. News Letter, the official organ of the local Young Men's Christian Association, has the following to say regarding the organization of Bible classes during January 1:
"Several new Bible study classes will be organized during the month.
The plan of forming the classes into clubs for social and athletic features has become very popular. There is still room in some of the clubs for new men. Ask the man at the desk about the plans for the new year."

Cuban authorities reprimanded Captain Pauret of the French steamer Caroline from Nantes, for not complying with the decree compelling all vessels entering port to take down their wireless.

HEAD HITS BEDPOST. HIS SIGHT RETURNS

[By Latest Mail]
BOSTON, Mass.—Stone blind for nine years and practically sightless for nine years before that, Frank H.
Haynes of No. 34 Summer street,
Hyde park, once a famous horse racer,
now can see.
Arising from his bed and groping about with his hands, his head struck the bedpost. A few minutes later he could see as well as ever. Mr. Haynes considers it a miracle.
"When I awoke," he said, "I sat up in bed, then stooped over to grope for my shoes. In doing so I struck the post of the bed. I continued dressing as best I could.
"Soon I noticed what appeared to be a shadow of my hand. Then I saw a towel I was holding. Then I saw the whole room.
"I went to the mirror to see myself for the first time in nine years. I could hardly believe what I saw was myself. I was surprised to find my hair had changed from black to gray.
"My first thought was to see the picture of my dead wife. I took it in my hands and it seemed good to see her features again."

COMMERCIAL NOTES

Nearly two hundred lots have been sold in the McInerney addition since it was opened, according to C. S.
Desky, agent for the addition. Work was begun on three new houses by lot owners in the tract in the last week.

Eighteen residence lots situated on the government road in Halekou-Waikaluakai, near Kaneohe, windward
Oahu, will be sold at auction by Land Commissioner Joshua D. Tucker at noon March 31 at the capital. The lots run in value from $450 to $2775.

Only one lot will be sold to each purchaser.

The cornerstone of the new church to be erected by the Epiphany Guild at Kaimuki will be laid next Wednesday. The chapel, which will stand at the corner of Tenth avenue and Pa-hou street, will cost $5,500. Plans for the chapel have been drawn by Ripley & Davis. It will be Gothic in design and will be constructed of stone and concrete, with a shingled roof.

MUCH WORK DONE AT SESSIONS OF FEDERAL COUNCIL

Conference Approves the Work Done by Doctors Scudder and Gulick

Residents of Honolulu who are interested in church work will be interested in the following actions taken by the executive committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, at a meeting in Richmond, Va., December 9 to 11, 1914:

Approved the work of the commission on relations with Japan and its representative, Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, assisted by the Rev. Doremus Scudder of Honolulu.

Appointed the president, Prof. Shailer Mathews and Dr. Sidney L. Gulick, as ambassadors to the churches of Japan, to sail January 9, 1915.

Listened to an address by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in which he expressed gratification at the conferences being held between Doctor Gulick and representatives of labor relative to measures which would conserve the interests of labor and not offend the people of Japan.

Passed a resolution expressing sympathy and prayers for the churches of Europe, authorizing the administrative committee to convey the message in such ways as may be found appropriate and effective.

Received a report from the 39 delegates who attended the Church Peace Conference at Constance, Germany.

Instructed the administrative committee to communicate with the various ecumenical organizations and the constituent bodies of the council relative to a World Congress on matters of general interest to the Christian churches of the world.

Adopted resolutions of the commission on evangelism calling for united prayer for a world-wide revival.

Adopted measures for the organization of the churches in local communities in the interest of international peace and approved the preparation and publication of a book by Sidney L. Gulick to be placed in the hands of all the pastors of the nation in this interest.

Authorized the committee on Peace Centenary to proceed with the celebration of "One Hundred Years of Peace" by the churches and Sunday schools in February, 1915.

Created a new commission entitled "Commission on the Church and Country Life," with Gifford Pinchot as chairman and Rev. Charles O. Gill as field investigator, its first work to be a state-wide survey of Ohio with headquarters at Columbus, Ohio.

Authorized the commission on church and social service to make a study of the treatment of government employees by the government.

Having secured, during the year, an increase in navy chaplains from 26 to 32, instructed the commission on church and social service to cooperate with the Association of Army and Navy Chaplains for the general improvement and efficiency of their work.

Created a commission to have special consideration of the needs and interests of the colored race and for helpful measures of cooperation between the colored denominations and the other constituent bodies of the Federal Council.

Approved the plans of the committee of one hundred for religious work at the Panama exposition, urged the churches to respond with financial help and ordered the continuance of negotiations with the exposition authorities relative to the moral tone of the exposition and its surroundings.

Adopted recommendation of the commission on temperance following the suggestion in the address of Hon. William J. Bryan to the committee, on a campaign for pledge signing and approved measures for the elimination of liquor advertising through the newspapers.

Approved plans and work of the commission on Christian education for introducing lessons on international peace into the Sunday schools and churches; for the use of a part of the public school hours for religious instruction under the supervision of the pastors in their respective churches, and the correlation of all the church educational agencies through the commission.

Received a ringing report from the commission on family life on the unfortunate division between the home and religious institutions, and arranged for social surveys in various cities, relative to the moral and religious environment and instruction of children.

Approved the plans of the committee on Sunday observance for cooperation with the organizations devoted to this interest.

Arranged for a nation-wide celebration of the 500th anniversary of the martyrdom of John Huss, July 6th, 1915, and for the 400th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation, October 31, 1917.

Created the new office of general secretary and ordered continuance of the Washington office with the associate secretary in charge of it, and, in response to the report of the commission on state and local federations reporting rapid increase of these bodies now numbering 155, authorized the employment of a field secretary for this work.

Approved measures for creating a department of religious publicity.

The Man of the Hour

By WM. BRADFORD DICKSON

Lines Inspired by a Newspaper Description of Belgium.

I.
What is the Measure of a Man—
The Man—God-imaged, Crowned with Love,
The Man who like the lowly Nazarene
Forever walks with outstretched hand,
His heart aflame with pity's fire,
His ear forever open to The cry of Earth's oppressed.

II.
Man is no larger in God's eyes
Than his compassion for his kind.
God measures man each day by man's Capacity for Brotherhood.
Forgive as ye would be forgiven—
The measures that ye daily mete
Shall be remeasured unto you.
This is the Law.

III.
Where'er the children cry for bread,
Where'er the suckling's wail cries out
For mother-love and mother-milk;
Where'er the orphaned child bows down
With broken heart and longings for home—
This man of God will walk supreme
And manifest with lowly mien
The Fatherhood of God.

New Term Will Open January 4 With Large Enrolment—Tuition Fee Small

Resolved—That I will start the new year with a determination to get an education, and that I will at once start to carry out this resolution.

This is a new year's resolution which the Y. M. C. A. educational department is urging young men to make.

For young men and boys who have left school before they obtained sufficient education in the "common branches," and for young men who want to prepare for advancement in commercial and industrial positions the Y. M. C. A. offers a large opportunity. There are now 50 boys, who work in offices and stores during the daytime, and who are studying the "three R's" at the Y. M. C. A. at night.

These classes point the way out of "blind alleys" jobs. The boys study under young men who keep them interested and enthusiastic in study which is generally considered by boys to be tiresome.

Then, for young men and older boys, there are the commercial classes, such as bookkeeping, typewriting, shorthand, business English and commercial law. No young man who is employed in an office or a commercial house can afford to neglect to get the training which will bring him advancement later. Drafting, higher mathematics, shop apprentice course and arithmetic are courses designed for young men in trades and shops. All of the teachers are practical men who are on the Y. M. C. A. faculty because they are interested in helping young men. The work is all thorough and high grade. Tuition charges are small.

There were more than 400 students enrolled at the Y. M. C. A. night school last year. It is expected that there will be a large increase in the present enrolment with the opening of the new term on January 4.

SPECIAL MUSIC PROGRAMS ARRANGED FOR CENTRAL UNION CHURCH TOMORROW

The musical program at Central Union church tomorrow will be as follows:

Morning music:
Organ prelude, Slavonic Cradle Song (Neruda).

Solo, O Rest in the Lord (Mendelssohn), Mrs. C. S. Weight.

Organ postlude, March Romaine (Gounod).

Evening music:
Organ prelude, March of the Nuns (Wey).

Anthem, The Sun Shall Be No More Thy Light by Day (Woodward).

Offertory, organ solo, Salut D'Amour (Elgar).

Organ postlude, Cantilena (Salome).

BIBLE SCHOOL OF CENTRAL UNION CHURCH ADOPTS NEW ATTENDANCE RECORD PLAN

At a meeting of the teachers and officers of Central Union Bible school Tuesday, December 29, officers for 1915 were elected, with the exception of the superintendent, who is regarded as an official of the church and must accordingly be elected by that body.

Another vital item of business taken up at this gathering was the matter of a new system of attendance records. Secretary Jay A. Urice presented his plans and displayed models of the proposed cards. Those present discussed the proposition thoroughly and voted to install the new system, which provides for the record of each pupil on a separate card, giving the record for a full year. By means of this flexible system names may be taken from or added to a class without defacing the class record.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS TO INSTALL NEW OFFICERS AT MEETING SUNDAY P. M.

The retiring officers of the Christian Endeavor Society of Central Union church will present their reports of the work for 1914 at a meeting at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening in the parish house and the newly elected officers will be installed. Rev. A. A. Ebersole will induct the new heads of the society into their duties. A most interesting meeting is sure to result.

The retiring officers are: Chester B. Gage, president; Mrs. C. B. Gage, 1st vice-president (meetings); Miss Louise M. Larrabee, 2nd vice-president (socials); Miss Julia H. Haley, 4th vice-president (membership); Miss Marion E. Brown, secretary; Sven Larsen, treasurer, and George W. Paty, corresponding secretary.

The officials for 1915 are: Glenn E. Jackson, president; Miss Leonora Anderson, 1st vice-president (meetings); Richard E. Lambert, 2nd vice-president (philanthropic activities); Ira D. Canfield, 3rd vice-president (socials); Miss Signa Wikander, 4th vice-president (membership); Miss Hazel J. Kellogg, secretary; E. Allen Creevey, treasurer, and George W. Paty, corresponding secretary.

SO-CALLED

THERE have been many brilliant functions in 1914, but the last one of the year's entertainment, the New Year's ball at the National Guard armory, at which Governor Lucius E. Pinkham was host, was the most brilliant. Shortly after the governor, members of his cabinet and heads of the army and navy in Hawaii received the thousand or more guests who called, all air of formality deserted and the dancers devoted themselves to having a rollicking good time.

The armory itself was transformed into a beautiful bower. The national flag and the emblem of the former kingdom of Hawaii played a part in the decorations with a pleasing effect. Quantities of ferns and vines were bunched around the walls, making a pretty background for the guests as they rested between the dances. Beneath a white satin canopy, over which rested an immense Hawaiian, coat of arms, Queen Liliuokalani, Governor Pinkham and Col. and Mrs. Curtis P. Laukae watched the dancing during the evening. The supports of the canopy were wound with leis of mahu and ilima, Hawaii's national flower. Contrary to her usual custom, the Queen remained at the affair until nearly midnight, and seemed very much amused at the new dances, many of which she had not seen before.

Early in the evening Governor Pinkham sent his New Year's gift, a bouquet of roses, to the Queen, with a little note conveying to her his wishes for her happiness through the coming years.

While the affair was one of the most brilliant of the year's society functions, it was essentially a democratic one and people from all walks of life took this opportunity of meeting the governor of the territory. And every one expressed delight that the governor should choose as the night of the first large public function at which he was host the night in which the old year met the new.

There were many wonderful creations in the costumes worn by the ladies present at the function, made for this special occasion by Honolulu's exclusive modistes. This was particularly noticeable in the gowns worn by Queen Liliuokalani and the ladies who assisted the governor as he received his guests. Following a custom she originated many years ago, the Queen wore lavender. Her robe was of delicate lavender satin embellished with real lace and brilliant stiches.

Those in the receiving line were Governor Lucius E. Pinkham and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Gen. and Mrs. William H. Carter, Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, Col. and Mrs. J. Walter Jones, Lieut.-col. C. B. Cooper and Mrs. James D. Dougherty, Secretary and Mrs. Wade Warren Thayer, Attorney-General and Mrs. Ingram M. Stainback, Treasurer and Mrs. Charles J. McCarthy, Superintendent and Mrs. Charles R. Forbes, Auditor and Mrs. J. H. Fisher, Surveyor and Mrs. Walter E. Wall, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. B. Pratt, Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. H. Kinney, Land Commissioner Joshua D. Tucker, High Sheriff and Mrs. W. P. Jarrett, Mayor and Mrs. Joseph Fern, Mayor-elect and Mrs. John C. Lane.

The introductions were made by Maj. M. M. Johnson, assisted by James D. Dougherty, Lieut. Perry M. Smoot, assisted by Charles Herbert.

Mrs. C. B. Cooper wore a handsome costume of apricot satin ornamented with real lace.

Mrs. J. Walter Jones was attractive in black crape de chine with black jet ornaments.

Mrs. Wade Warren Thayer wore a stunning costume of black satin with a bodice of white lace.

Mrs. C. B. T. Moore was simply and effectively gowned in white satin and lace.

Mrs. I. M. Stainback was charming in a costume of pale blue satin trimmed in white lace.

Mrs. John C. Lane wore a gown of heavy black satin with a silk net over dress. Her only ornament was a rope of pearls.

Mrs. C. J. McCarthy wore an exquisite combination of black charmeuse and flesh-colored chiffon with chantilly lace.

Mrs. Walter E. Wall's gown was of pink with delicate touches of blue.

Mrs. Charles R. Forbes was handsome in pink.

Mrs. J. H. Fisher was gowned in white charmeuse. She carried American Beauty roses.

Mrs. W. P. Jarrett wore blue with touches of black.

Mrs. J. S. B. Pratt was attractive in pink with spangled trimming.

Mrs. James D. Dougherty wore a handsome creation of pink chiffon over white satin with silver passementerie trimming.

Mrs. Arthur F. Wall wore a handsome gown of cream lace over blue charmeuse.

Mrs. Ranney Scott was attractive in a costume of white satin.

Mrs. F. E. Trotter was in apricot satin made in the new basque arrangement.

Mrs. Robert McElowney emphasized her dark beauty by wearing a dainty frock of silver pink.

Mrs. John Dornin was attractive in a yellow satin gown.

Mrs. Frank D. Applin, wife of Lieut. Applin of the Coast Defense. Mrs. Applin took an active part in the entertainment for the Army and Navy relief this week.

Mrs. Jerome Pillow was lovely in a white lace costume over pink satin. One of the most stunning costumes was that of Mrs. Bessie Abbott Howland. It was a combination of heliotrope chiffon over turquoise satin.

Mrs. Charles S. Bromwell looked charming in a gown of white chiffon trimmed with brown fur over a draped gown of white satin.

Mrs. S. D. Barnes wore a lively gown of yellow satin with trimmings of gold lace.

Miss Thelma Murphy wore soft satin with touches of black, which was very becoming.

Mrs. Gerrit Wilder was charming in a gown of soft white satin trimmed with pearl beads.

Mrs. Charles F. Chillingworth was stunning in a costume of black satin trimmed with white lace.

Mrs. Charles R. Frazier was handsome in white satin gown with the basque effect in the bodice and dainty white ruffles on the skirt.

Mrs. E. Watson was striking in an all-white gown of lace and satin fashioned with the basque.

Mrs. Reynold McGrew was attractive in a gown of green satin with a garle of American Beauty satin.

Miss Helen Spalding wore a girlish frock of white satin made in the new basque fashion.

Miss Violet Makee was attractively costumed in a combination of soft blue and white materials.

Mrs. Edward D. Tenney wore a handsome gown of soft white material.

Miss Marion Chapin was very pretty in a black silk net with an overskirt of Alice blue taffeta.

Among those noticed at the reception and ball were:

Governor Lucius E. Pinkham, Queen Liliuokalani, Former Governor and Mrs. Walter F. Frenz, Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Maj.-Gen. and Mrs. W. H. Carter, Rear-Admiral and Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, Col. and Mrs. J. Pretty Birthday Party.

Miss Liliwa Liliyan Thompson entertained some of her friends Tuesday afternoon in honor of the tenth anniversary of her birth.

The Thompson residence in Kalihi was beautifully decorated with potted palms and sprays of holly berries and red roses; red and green, the Christmas colors, predominating.

Among those present were the Misses Kuulei Waldron, Marion Jaeger, Thelma Olds, Ethel Waldron, Ruth Wright, Bertha Durant, Aulani Macy, Pauline Burns, Dorothy Waldron, Mildred Mesick and the hostess.

Mrs. Bruce L. Canaga, wife of Capt. Canaga of the U. S. S. Alert, who has already won prominence.

Mrs. Geo. D. McIntyre conducted the children's games and helped them pass a pleasant afternoon.

Dinner at Schofield Barracks.

One of the informal dinners at Schofield Barracks this week was that at which Colonel Samuel D. Sturgis entertained on Wednesday evening. The table was prettily decorated with baby pink roses and lacy maiden hair ferns. Covers were laid for Mrs. Harrison Hall, Mrs. Charles Bromwell, Major William Guignard, Captain Harry C. Williams, Mr. Howard and the host.

A New Year's Eve Party.

Celebrating the parting of the old year and coming of the new a number of society folk made up a party and attended the governor's ball. Later in the evening they motored to the Country Club and took part in the festivities there.

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S

Oriental Cream

OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

An Indispensable and Delightful

Toilet Requisite

for Fashionable Women.

A daily necessity for the ladies' toilet whether at home or while traveling. It protects the skin from injurious effects of the elements, gives a wonderfully effective beauty to the complexion. It is a perfect non-greasy Toilet Cream and positively will not cause or encourage the growth of hair which all ladies should guard against when selecting a toilet preparation. When dancing, bowling or other exertions heat the skin, it prevents a greasy appearance.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream has been highly recommended by physicians, actresses, singers and women of fashion for over half a century and cannot be surpassed when preparing for daily or evening attire.

Gouraud's Oriental Cream cures Skin Diseases and relieves Sunburn. Removes Tan, Pimples, Blackheads, Moth Patches, Rash, Freckles and Vulgar Redness. Yellow and Muddy Skin, giving delicately clear and refined complexion which every woman desires.

FOOTIE

OLD FATHER TIME, head bent and shoulders drooping, stood on the threshold of the Door of the World. With his flowing beard he hid the quiver of his lips but his eyes betrayed his sadness. He turned reluctantly and looked back into the World, then, stepping slowly, dragged his great scythe behind him. Before the Door closed, though, a little, curly-headed boy came bounding in, bringing with him a new and glorious year. He called it 1915.

There were no tears shed for the Old Man but a great noise rose, all over the World, for its people proclaimed proudly "A King is born; long live the King." And so 1915 is here to stay twelve months, and from the expression on the face of the curly-headed, smiling little youth those months will bring Prosperity, Happiness and Peace to the World.

But before he gave them this new and shining year the little lad raised his hand and said: "Waste no time on small resolutions that you will break as soon as you have made them, but resolve to cast away from your thoughts Hate and its child, War; and where this monster was make room for Love, and the little things will follow. Then I will give you a New Year which each day will unfold great blessings."

The World acquiesced and the year in the silver and pink of its dawn was given to its people.

Mr. and Mrs. Tenney Entertain.

An elaborate affair of Thursday evening was the dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney entertained at the Country Club. After the dinner the guests took part in the ball at the club and merrily danced the New Year in and the Old Year out.

The flowers in the table decorations were African daisies, blended from the palest of pinks to the deepest shades of the blossoms, and mingled with the daisies were fluffy bows and butterflies of tulle of harmonizing shades. Hand-painted place cards marked the seat of each guest, including Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. George Collins, Miss Violet MacKee, Miss Mary Lucas, Miss Harriet Lucas, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Miss Ruth Soper, Miss Thelma Murphy, Miss Wilhelmina Tenney, Mrs. Helen Noonan, Miss Rose Herbert, Mr. Charles Herbert, Mr. Robert Evers, Mr. Arthur Hough, Mr. Theodore Lansing, Mr. "Kelly" Henshaw, Mr. Hamilton, Mr. Argabrite, Mr. Hobie Walker, Mr. Fred Wichman and the host and hostess.

A Skating Party.

One of the informal affairs of the week, in which the members of the Punahou Academy set participated, was the skating party at the rink on Wednesday afternoon. The young folks were chaperoned by Mrs. Charles B. Bromwell, among those present were Mrs. Charles Bromwell, Miss Mildred Bromwell, Miss Ilma Woods, Miss Margaret Young, Miss Rachel Woods, Miss Clemence Gifford, Miss Louise Girvin, Miss Mildred Chapin, Miss Inez Gibson, Miss Margaret Hawk, Miss Dorothy Hawk, George Bromley, George Lindley, Ernest Mott-Smith, Stanley Mott-Smith, John Gifford, Donald Ferguson, Frank Winter, Gere Smith, Arthur Brown and Lorin Thurston.

Lieut. and Mrs. C. E. Smith Entertained.

Lieut. and Mrs. C. E. Smith entertained informally at dinner on Thursday evening at the Naval Station for a number of the service set.

Following the supper the guests motored to the armory where they paid their respects to the governor and later to the Country Club where they watched the old year out and the new year in. The party included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Furer, Lieut. and Mrs. Jerome Pillow, Miss Betty Case, Lieut. Ellis Lando, Ensign B. O. Willis, Lieut. Cochran and the host and hostess.

Miss Marjorie Freeth, a popular Honolulu girl whose engagement to Mr. Ralph E. Clark was announced last week.

Captain and Mrs. Waller Entertain.

Captain and Mrs. Carr W. Waller entertained at one of the informal theater parties at the Bijou Theater on Monday evening during the first performance of the Army Relief benefit. Their guests included Captain and Mrs. Norris Stayton, Lieut. and Mrs. E. J. O'Hara, Miss Della Holmes, Lieut. and Mrs. Rollin Tilton, Major and Mrs. M. M. Kimmel, Captain L. C. Mudd, Lieut. Coleman Jenkins, Lieut. George Van Deusen. Following the theater party Lieut. and Mrs. Waller entertained at supper at their home at Fort De Russy.

At the Country Club.

After spending many delightful evenings at the gatherings of one of the dancing clubs receiving instruction from Mr. Robert Couvain the members have decided to disband, and this evening will give a dance at the Country Club. Many of them are inviting guests and it is expected that the affair will be one of the largest of the week.

TALES OUT OF SCHOOL

Honolulu, January 1, 1914.

Dear Polly:—The New Year has been here but a few minutes and the spirit moves me to write. I have just watched the Old Year step down from its golden throne and in its place is now seated a pink and white little child and the wide sash around his waist is inscribed "1915." Of course all this is in my mind's fancy, but it truly is a new year. I can hear the horns and whistles shrieking all over the town. The New Year is being hailed with glee.

I felt just a little throb in my throat when the clock struck twelve. The past year has been filled with happiness for me and its face when turned to me was filled only with gladness. On the other side of the world, though, it will always be remembered with horror for the greatest war in the history of the civilized nations opened in 1914.

It really is a relief to feel that the Christmas holidays are over, for as usual they were a strain on everyone. I shared in the bounties of the season, though, for my room is fairly filled with beautiful gifts.

Christmas makes me think. One of the girls who just returned from the mainland related an amusing episode of Christmas week in San Francisco. As in Honolulu they have the Salvation Army charity box and Santa Claus in San Francisco, and during Christmas week many of the unemployed men secure temporary positions as old Santa. At the Ferry building one man stopped at this post on a cold wintry day and evidently it hurt his feelings to see so many coins devoted to charity. At any rate he became cold and "borrowed" ten cents and visiting a nearby saloon satisfied his thirst with whisky. Again and again he did this and the fact that the charity box did not fill quickly did not bother him in the least. But his career as Santa Claus came to an abrupt end. In the afternoon he was seen walking up Market street waving his beard in one hand and his tripod and basket dangling over his shoulder. It is needless to say where he was sheltered that evening.

I received a letter the other day from a Honolulu woman who is residing in Switzerland. She says that the war has had dreadful effects upon the people there, particularly in a financial way. Every day landlords turn people out into the streets because they have not enough money to pay their rent and as a result there are hundreds of people of all nationalities camped on the sidewalks, many of them freezing in the extreme cold. This is particularly so with the young students who have relied entirely upon their monthly stipend. She mentioned particularly the young men whose circumstances have been greatly reduced since Turkey has taken a part in the European conflict. They are Americans whose relatives are in Turkey. The Turkish government is so unjust that only the property of the Ottoman is safe and these young men like all other Americans in Turkey have to pretend that they are Turks or all their property will be seized.

I met Albert Carpy the other day and he told me how the "nature man" story originated. Just because he enjoyed spending his summers in the mountains a newspaper friend of his on a San Francisco paper called him the millionaire nature man, and wherever he goes he finds that the cognomen has preceded him. The other day Mr. Carpy received a call from William Pester, the real nature man, and one of the boys who saw the host greet his visitor says that there was a decided contrast in their appearances. Mr. Pester in his costume fashioned from a sugar bag looked quite different from the immaculate Carpy, whose clothes have the appearance of having come out of an exclusive tailor's shop. Mr. Carpy wouldn't tell just what prompted his visitor to call on him and I have wondered if he offered to teach him the secrets of living close to nature, receiving as a reward for his kindness a share of the young millionaire's fortune.

It looks as though Marco and Fanchon Wolff are here to stay for some time yet. They are teaching dancing aside from their exhibitions. Do you know, nothing would give me more pleasure than to gather together all the young society men here, and give them a few lessons in politeness. I won't say etiquette. I noticed at the army relief entertainments at the Bijou this week there was a large preponderance of men at each of the performances, and all over the theater there were groups of four and five young men. They gladly except the invitations of the maids and matrons to attend all the social functions, but when it comes to a place where they must pay the expenses for two he usually renigs, and stays at home or goes stag.

Gracious, Polly, the roosters are crowing already, and if I don't get a few winks of sleep I shan't be up in time for breakfast.

Best love,
PEGGY.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Taylor to Return to Honolulu.

After spending a little more than a year on the mainland Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Taylor will return to Honolulu in the Matsushita next week. For the past year Mr. Taylor has been in charge of the Hawaii Promotion Committee's rooms in San Francisco and has been the resident fair commissioner representing Hawaii.

Revelry at Country Club.

There was merry revelry at the Country Club on Thursday evening when the "four hundred," the grown-ups and young folks, danced 1914 into the past and made 1915 the present.

Thousands of brightly colored serpentines were suspended from the ceiling to the pillars on the club laval and while red flowers and green ferns and vines were much in evidence. As the night faded into morning some one produced confetti and as the chimes and whistles were heard from the heart of the city confetti streamers were loosed, while horns echoed the celebration, at the Country Club. There were many catchy songs sung and witty toasts made appropriate to the occasion.

Early in the evening the club presented an attractive scene as many of the tables were seated with merry diners. Later on the guests amused themselves motoring from the Country Club to the armory and had what they called a progressive dance.

Refreshments were served throughout the evening and at 11 o'clock many of the guests ordered a buffet supper.

There were many beautiful gowns noticed at the affair.

Mrs. Faxen Bishop wore a stunning costume of purple chiffon over crimson satin.

Mrs. Thomas E. Wall was lovely in apricot satin trimmed with cream lace.

Mrs. A. Hocking wore lavender chiffon brocaded in lavender over an under dress of white satin.

A dainty gown was that worn by Miss Sara Lucas. It was a combination of filmy chiffon and shadow lace.

Miss Florence Hoffman was daintily attired in one of the new ruffled creations. The bodice was a basque of pink satin fashioned with the lace cape and the short skirt was of fluffy dresden tulle ruffles.

Miss Betty Case was in yellow satin with a broad sash of green.

Mrs. Frank Halstead wore a handsome creation in gray and white. The gray chiffon over dress was ornamented with cut steel beads.

Miss Ruth McChesney wore a girlish costume of soft white material and a wide pink girdle.

Mrs. E. E. Dodge was in a yellow gown trimmed with white lace.

Mrs. William Love was lovely in white satin.

Exceptionally beautiful was the gown worn by Miss Jessie Kennedy, who recently returned from the mainland. It was of deep blue material ornamented with silver beads and touches of red.

Miss Catherine Lenihan was attractive in a blue frock fashioned with the accordion pleats which are so popular this winter.

Miss Lila McDonald wore an effective costume of white chiffon with a white satin basque.

Mrs. Frank Thompson was stunning in a costume of sulphur yellow with old rose trimmings.

Mrs. William Lymer wore cerise with trimmings of black.

Miss Peggy Center was pretty in a combination of soft white and blue material with touches of pink.

Mrs. Luther James, wife of Lieut. Luther James, was attractive in a yellow gown ornamented with silver lace.

Mrs. Walter Macfarlane was lovely in white satin with trimmings of gold.

Mrs. E. J. O'Hara was attractive in a costume of pink satin.

Miss Myra Angus Entertains.

Miss Myra Angus was hostess at a delightfully informal affair on Tuesday afternoon when she entertained a few friends at tea. The decorations were in pink and green and were of an effective combination of pink begonias and maidenhair fern. Her guests included Mrs. Edward B. Loomis, Mrs. George David, Miss Jordan, Mrs. M. T. Cleary, Miss Jean Angus, Miss Marjorie Freeth, Miss Blanche Soper, Miss Catton, Miss Florence Hoffman and Miss Vance.

An Interesting Engagement.

An engagement which was announced this week which interested Honolulu society folk was that of Miss Gladys Evans Thomas and Mr. Robert Armiger Young. Miss Thomas came here some time ago from her home in Santa Cruz, California, and has many friends in the islands. Mr. Young is a son of Alexander Young and is well known throughout the islands. His home is on Hawaii though for several weeks past he has been in Honolulu.

No definite date has been set for the wedding but it will probably take place sometime in the spring or summer.

Dinner at the Country Club.

Prior to the dance at the Country Club on New Year's eve Miss Mildred Bromwell entertained at dinner at the club. Her guests included members of the Academy set and they were chaperoned by Mrs. Charles Bromwell and Maj. and Mrs. F. W. Coe. Covers were laid for Miss Margaret Young, Miss Clemence Gifford, Mrs. Charles S. Bromwell, Maj. and Mrs. F. W. Coe, Messrs. John Gifford, Lorin Thurston, John O'Dowda and the hostess.

British Women of Honolulu Who Make Clothing For Wounded Soldiers

Standing, left to right—Mrs. W. W. Taylor, Mrs. Anna S. Wright, Mrs. E. S. Range, Mrs. A. G. Ferguson, Mrs. Robert Scott, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Miss Hester Smith, Mrs. J. C. McGill, Mrs. J. M. Macconel. Seated, left to right—Mrs. J. R. M. MacLean, Mrs. Edward W. P. St. George, Mrs. W. Daniel.

Since war was declared between Germany and Great Britain these women have been busily at work making flannellette nightshirts for the wounded British soldiers being nursed back to health in hospitals at home. The nightshirts are made from a special pattern—the one adopted by the R. A. M. C. as being the best for the purpose. In the pocket of each nightshirt is a handkerchief and a box of cigarettes—the handkerchiefs being furnished by the British children of Hawaii, and the cigarettes donated by three British residents.

REMINGTON CO. OFFICIAL DENIES 'DUM-DUMS' WERE NOT FOR ALLIES

Declares Soft Bullets Were Made for Big Game Hunting

[By Latest Mail]
NEW YORK, N. Y.—Replying to the charge made by Count von Bernstorff, German Ambassador to the United States, against manufacturers of arms and ammunition in this country to the effect that soft nosed or "dum-dum" bullets were being made in this country to be used by the Allies against the Germans, the Remington Arms Company Metallic Cartridge Company declares that Count von Bernstorff has been misinformed. The bullets are for the use of hunters after big game.

The reply to the charge that the company had manufactured 8,000,000 of the bullets and had shipped them to Canada, written by S. F. Pryor, vice-president of the company, follows:

"I enclose herewith a clipping from the New York Times of December 9, and I understand that the same article was published in almost all of the New York morning and evening newspapers, and beg to state that if the article is correct you have been misinformed as to the facts so far as this company is concerned, as there is no foundation whatever for the statement made with reference to it. The only basis for such a statement is as follows:

"For several years prior to the year 1912 our sales department reported a demand for a better sporting cartridge, with soft nose bullet, than we had been manufacturing. After numerous experiments our Mr. F. O. Hoagland, manager of the Bridgeport factory, applied for a patent on the bullet in question, certain claims of which were allowed under date of March 24, 1914, under patent No. 1,091,224. This patent was challenged by another manufacturer and in October, 1914, Mr. Hoagland found it necessary to modify his claims in order to better his chances for a patent, and did so.

"From the date of the original application for the patent up to the date of the second application only 117,470 of these cartridges were manufactured. Eight thousand of them are still in stock and not one has been manufactured since the date the second application was filed. So it is hardly necessary for me to point out how absurd is the statement that we have sold 8,000,000 of them. The cartridges as above mentioned, is purely a sporting one, used in hunting big game only, and could not be used in any of the military rifles used by any of the foreign powers.

"All of these statements can be substantiated and we are ready to give you the evidence that you may require on this point. The charge made by you is so serious and your own position as ambassador is of such conspicuous importance at the present time that we feel it devolves upon you either to retract the charge as publicly as you are said to have made it or to avail yourself of the right to ascertain the facts for yourself."

HOW THIN PEOPLE CAN PUT ON FLESH A New Discovery.

Thin men and women—that big, hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food does not work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny sawdust diets. Omit the flesh cream rub-ons. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating now and eat with every one of those single Sargol tablets. In two weeks note the difference. Five to eight good solid pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should be the net result. Sargol charges your weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh, new red blood corpuscles—gives the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food and prepares it for the blood in easily assimilated form. Thin people gain all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol, and the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a scientific combination of six of the best flesh-producing elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive. ARMY AVIATOR DROWNED AFTER FALL IN OCEAN

[By Latest Mail]

OCEANSIDE.—Lieut. F. J. Gerstner, observer in one of the six army scout aeroplanes that started on a flight from San Diego to Los Angeles, was drowned at sea at Las Flores, ten miles north of here. Capt. L. R. Miller, pilot of the machine, was rescued by Capt. L. W. Patterson, another army aviator, who himself barely escaped death when his machine fell and turned over.

Lieut. Gerstner sacrificed his life to save Muller's. Realizing that the wreckage could not support both men he attempted to swim to shore, more than half a mile away, but sank after covering half the distance.

Capt. Patterson, after his own accident, glanced seaward and saw the wreckage of Muller's aeroplane in the water. He was some distance from Las Flores and procured a handcar, on which he raced to the hamlet. He obtained a boat there and in company with a boatman rescued Muller, who, badly bruised and exhausted, had been in the water an hour. Gerstner's body was found entangled in the wreckage, according to word from Las Flores, and also was taken to San Diego.

Four of the six aeroplanes that started on the flight to Los Angeles were brought to earth near this place. They were the machines piloted by Muller, Patterson, Capt. B. D. Foulis and Lieut. Carberry. Foulis was accompanied by Lieut. W. R. Tallafarn, Lieut. T. de Wet Milling shared the bumps of Capt. Patterson when the latter's machine came down. Lieut. Carberry's observer was Lieut. A. R. Christ.

The only aviator scouts who reached Los Angeles were Lieuts. Morrow and Holliday, and Capt. Dodd and Lieut. Fitzgerald.

The weather was stormy, and the bad air conditions were held responsible for the accidents which cost the life of Gerstner and caused the accident to Capt. Patterson's machine.

Eighteenth Federal Victim.
WASHINGTON.—Lieut. Frederick J. Gerstner, killed at Oceanside, was the eighteenth aviator to give his life in the interest of government aviation. Since Lieut. Selfridge fell to his death at Fort Meyer, Va., in 1908, testing the first aeroplane for the army, fourteen army officers, two naval officers and two civilian instructors make up the toll.

Lieut. Gerstner was only 23 years old. He was born in Michigan and was appointed to the military academy in 1909. On graduating in 1913 he was assigned to the Tenth Cavalry, but recently he was assigned to the aviation school at San Diego.

RENAUD, FAMOUS SINGER, PROMOTED FOR BRAVERY

PARIS, France.—Maurice Renaud, the singer, who enlisted despite the fact that he is 53 years old, is about to be promoted to a sub-lieutenancy for bravery under fire.

Renaud recently took part in an improvised concert in a church in a Lorraine town, which had just been evacuated by the Germans. Although the roof had almost been destroyed by shell fire, the organ remained. A soldier priest officiated and Bousquet Renaud sang the star song from "Tannhauser" with patriotic words substituted for those of Wagner.

The Sayre library building and the Alumni gymnasium building of Central University, Danville, Ky., were destroyed by fire at a loss of $60,000.

UNIFORM CHANGE FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Officers of the National Guard of Hawaii will start the new year with a new collar ornament, this change in the uniform having been announced from the adjutant general's office yesterday. The H.A.W. in block letters that has been the insignia of the territorial service has been done away with, the letters T.H. being substituted for the collar of the service and white uniforms. This change is looked upon with favor by everyone, as the old three-letter ornament was both ugly and clumsy; the pin being so long that it was constantly becoming unfashioned, and the ornaments lost.

Notice has been given for a meeting of all officers of the Guard next Monday evening at 7:30 at the armory. At this time Lieut. W. A. Whitener, inspector-instructor, will outline a comprehensive plan for a basic and post-graduate school for officers, and for a non-commissioned officers' school. The uniform will be either the white or service.

ARMY NOTES

Major Gen. Leonard Wood, commander of the Eastern Department, has conferred with Secretary Garrison, preparatory to a trip to Fort Sill, Okla., at the Secretary's request. Gen. Wood will be accompanied by Col. John L. Chamberlain and Capt. Frank R. McCoy. He will observe the work of the school of artillery fire at Fort Sill, paying particular attention to the performance of the experimental battery of field artillery recruits.

Assistant Secretary of War Breckinridge has asked permission of Congress to dispose of the army transports Meade and Crook. The former, the assistant secretary said, has been in commission 40 years, and the latter 32 years, and both are useless as transports.

The maximum number of enlistments reported to the navy department on any single day since the Spanish war was reached recently when 192 men came under the colors. The total number of enlisted men is 52,451.

BAND CONCERTS.

The Hawaiian band will play in the Children's Playground, Beretania street, from two to four o'clock this afternoon. Beginning at three o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the band will give a public concert in Kaplania Park. From eleven in the morning to the noon hour Monday the band will play in the city hall for the outgoing and incoming mayor and supervisors.

Beauty is a human necessity. Taste is the faculty of discerning it.

Every time we make a selection for ourselves, our home, or our friends we are revealing our true selves, and putting ourselves on record as possessing taste or lacking it.

As we read the story of the ages we are reminded that certain qualities which men have woven, and carved, and infused into their works have lived because they have satisfied human demands; and while it is true that some will manufacture the things the many require, it is also true that the many will demand better things.

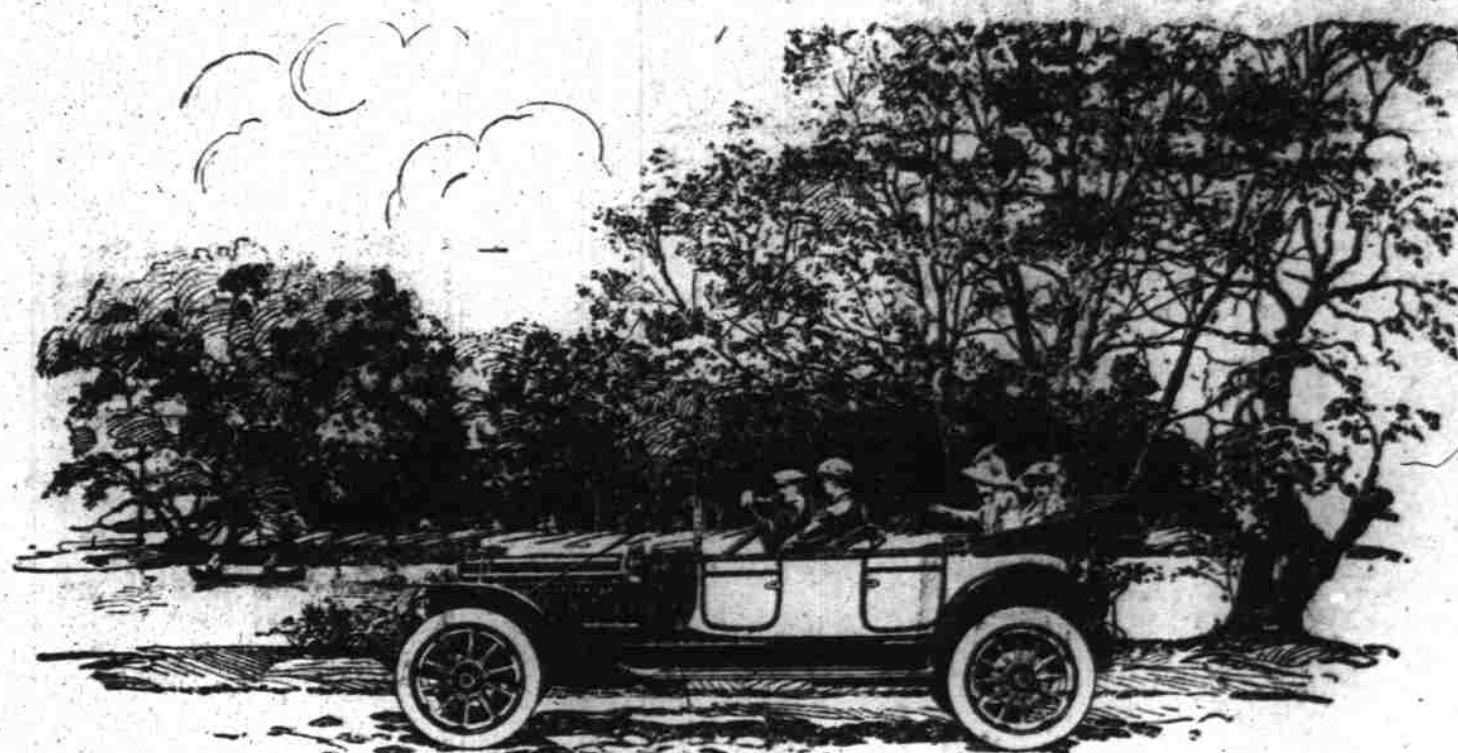

There are some who have been more fortunate than their fellows. They have learned to appreciate Nature's universal laws of order, perfect fitness, unity, rhythm, balance and harmony.

Prestige of the producer increases in direct ratio as raw material is advanced from the level of mere utility to the higher one that seeks also to beautify and convey esthetic satisfaction.

The People Want Facts In Want Advertising

While almost any sort of a Star-Bulletin Want Ad will bring results, the Want Ad that is carefully written and carries with it definite information brings GREAT results.

Real Estate ads should state location, improvements, accessibility, price, terms, address and phone number.

Situation Wanted ads should carry definite information of the advertiser's ability.

Situation Wanted ads should carry definite information of the advertiser's ability.

Help Wanted ads should state what the work is, whether steady, wages paid, class of workers desired.

For Sale ads should describe article to be sold, state price, give location.

A few extra pennies spent for a Star-Bulletin want ad means quicker action.

NEEDED CHANGES IN PRIMARY LAW TO BE DISCUSSED

Plan is Suggested to Chairman Andrews by William Thompson in Form of Resolution

Needed changes in the direct primary law are to be considered by the Republican territorial and county committees, if the suggestion made today by William Thompson is adopted, as it probably will be. Thompson today handed to Chairman Andrews of the Republican territorial committee the following resolution:

"Whereas, the platform adopted by the Republican territorial convention held in Honolulu on July 13, 1914, contains the following promise to the people relative to the present primary law:

"We pledge our Republican members in the coming legislative session to the enactment of such amendments as may be suggested by the working out of the present primary law in the coming campaign, and basing any changes made on the principle that the will of the majority of the voters shall be registered on the question of who are proper candidates for office."

"Whereas, Section 13 of Article IX of the party rules requires that all party pledges in fulfillment of party pledges shall emanate from the territorial central committee, and in discharging its duties in this respect this committee is now engaged in formulating amendments to the primary law; and

"Whereas, the performance of these duties requires that its members shall be familiar with all the imperfections of the present law as evidenced in the primary election recently held throughout the territory; and

"Whereas, it is the belief of this committee that this information can best be obtained through the medium of the several Republican county committees throughout the islands; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the secretary of this committee be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the several county committees with the request that they, by such means as they may consider advisable, obtain the consensus of opinion of their respective constituents relative to the shortcomings of the present primary law and the amendments that should be made to remedy these defects; and transmit a report thereon to this committee, together with their own recommendations, in order that its work in this connection may be intelligently and effectively accomplished."

While sleeping in her home in Newark, N. J., acid was poured on Miss Rose Feister. It fell on her hair, changing it from jet black to bright red.

CLEARANCE SALE AT SACHS STORE STARTS MONDAY

The annual January clearance sale at Sachs' for 1915 will start Monday morning with the opening of the doors. Each year this sale ranks high in the estimation of those who are pleased to take advantage of opportunities to save money.

For the past several days this store has been preparing for this event and now both floors are in readiness, embodying offerings from every department.

The January clearance sale has a characteristic that is rather different from some sales. At this season of the year it is very necessary to make as much room as possible for the daily arrivals of new goods that have been purchased for the new year. Consequently in order to facilitate the handling of them to the best advantage the "January clearance sale" is the means by which this end is reached. The point is that the merchandise on sale at this time comprises the same staples that are sold every day at regular prices, there being no "junk" offered as is a great many times the case.

1915 WILL SEE BUSINESS BOOM, SAYS C. S. DESKY

Charles S. Desky, sales agent for McInerney Park tract, feels that in connection with the "Happy and Prosperous New Year" spirit the real estate market may well be taken as a reliable criterion of business conditions in general.

Since McInerney Park was thrown on the market, approximately two hundred lots have been sold, the majority having been purchased by those intending to erect homes. This fact in itself is every demonstrative of the faith that people have in Honolulu.

"When a man of moderate means buys a piece of ground and builds a home, it is a pretty sure sign that he is settled for a time at least, and that his every effort will be toward the general good of the city in which he resides," says Mr. Desky. "Concerted activity along these lines is bound to work good for the community at large, for it is really the 'home-town' men that form the firm foundation for any town."

In the same breath, Mr. Desky expresses it as his firm belief that if business in every line, as well as his own, continues throughout the new year as it has maintained itself the latter part of this, the year 1915 will go down in the annals of business history without a peer.

The Connecticut Company is to pay the town of Norwalk $8000 as its share of the expense of building the new Washington street bridge in that town.

Drinkers of Fairmont, Va., are eagerly awaiting the day when the concentrated liquor which has been collected will be poured in the Monongahela river.

HARRISON AGAIN CANDIDATE FOR CHICAGO MAYOR

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 2.—Carter H. Harrison announced last night that he would again be a candidate for re-election as mayor of Chicago. He had previously refrained from stating his candidacy, but said last night that he had been waiting to ascertain his wife's wishes, and that she had given her permission for him to run.

GIRLS! STOP WASHING THE HAIR WITH SOAP

Soap dries your scalp, causing dandruff, then hair falls out—Try this next time.
After washing your hair with soap always apply a little Danderine to the scalp to invigorate the hair and prevent dryness. Better still, use soap as sparingly as possible, and instead have a "Danderine Hair Cleanser." Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one strand at a time. This will remove dust, dirt and excessive oil. In a few moments you will be amazed, your hair will not only be clean, but it will be wavy, fluffy and abundant, and possess an incomparable softness and luster.

Besides cleansing and beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, stimulates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Men! Ladies! You can surely have lots of charming hair. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it—advertisement.

WILSON URGES ACTION ON COAST GUARD MEASURE

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—President Wilson yesterday addressed letters to Representative Underwood, chairman of the committee on ways and means, and to Representative Adamson, chairman of the committee on interstate commerce, urging the prompt enactment of the coast guard bill.

"It is of the highest consequence for the efficiency of the revenue cutter and the life saving services that this bill should pass," declared the president.

YOU'RE BILIOUS AND COSTIVE!—CASCARETS

Sick Headache, Bad Breath, Sour Stomach, mean Liver and Bowels Clogged—Clean up tonight

Get a 10-cent box now.
Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—advertisement.

SOCIETY

Cards at the Courtland.
A delightful affair of this week was the bridge tea at which Mrs. Daniel N. Swan, wife of Lieut. Swan, was hostess at the Hotel Courtland on Tuesday afternoon. The lanai where the eight card tables were arranged was prettily decorated with varicolored cut flowers, relieved with potted palms and ferns.

After an afternoon devoted to cards dainty prizes were awarded the guests making the highest scores. Mrs. Frank Applin won the first prize and was given a dozen after-dinner cups and saucers of Canton china. For the second prize Mrs. Edward J. O'Hara received a dainty sandal wood fan. A hand-embroidered bag was the trophy for the third score and was given to Mrs. H. B. Berry, and the consolation, a brass candle stick, was given to Mrs. Conman.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. L. L. Wilson, Mrs. Frank Lowry, Mrs. Arthur G. Smith, Miss Harriet Hatch and Mrs. John Gamble called for tea. Other guests were Mrs. E. J. O'Hara, Miss Delia Holmes, Mrs. H. H. Zornig, Mrs. Frank Coe, Mrs. Mather, Mrs. C. H. Baxter, Mrs. J. P. Edgerly, Mrs. Otto B. Rosenbaum, Mrs. William H. Carter, Mrs. J. D. Reardon, Mrs. Charles Brownell, Mrs. C. E. Smith, Mrs. A. L. Ede, Mrs. H. B. Berry, Mrs. Paul Bates, Mrs. F. W. Scanlon, Mrs. Cochran, Mrs. P. J. Willett, Mrs. William C. Whitener, Mrs. S. D. Barnes, Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Harold Nichols, Mrs. Frank Applin, Mrs. George F. Humbert, Madam Phister, Mrs. E. Reynolds, Mrs. Demmer, Mrs. Joseph Andrews, Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Mrs. Floyd Emmons and Miss Barrie Gamble.

General Carter Receives.
It has long been the custom in the United States army for the general at every army post to receive the other officers at noon on New Year's Day. Yesterday General Carter, commanding officer in the department of Hawaii, received the officers of Fort Ruger, Fort Shafter, Fort De Russy, Fort Armstrong, Fort Kamehameha and the Naval Station during the afternoon. This was one of the most notable of the week's affairs and was strictly a military function, no civilians having been invited.

Many of the officers were accompanied by their wives, and the dress uniforms of the officers and pretty frocks of the ladies were very attractive. There were perhaps two hundred callers during the afternoon, for all the officers who were not on duty paid their respects to their general.

The home of General and Mrs. Carter was prettily decorated for the occasion with ferns and flowers.

Judge and Mrs. E. M. Watson's Egg-nog Party.
Judge and Mrs. E. M. Watson chose a novel form of entertainment yesterday when they invited several of their friends in for an egg-nog from four to six o'clock. The Watson home was transformed into a bower of greens and flowers using the regular holiday colors, green and red. Some among the invited guests who called were Mr. and Mrs. Robbins Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Lymer, Mrs. Bessie Abbot Howland, Mr. and Mrs. F. Prosser, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson, Miss Jessie Kennedy, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Hich, Miss Marie Ballentyne, Miss Irma Ballentyne, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Frear, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dekum, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hodgins, Mrs. William H. Heiserman, Captain and Mrs. William B. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Marx, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Murray, Miss Thelma Murphy, Mr. Arthur Hough, Judge C. F. Clemons, Judge A. G. M. Robertson, Mr. Clarence Olson, Mr. E. B. Franklin, Mr. William Warren.

A New Year's Eve Party.
One of the informal New Year's eve parties was that at which Mrs. Will Wayne and Mrs. William C. Whitener, wife of Lieut. Whitener, entertained. Early in the evening the party motored to the armory to the governor's reception, returning to Mrs. Wayne's home in Waikiki later in the evening to watch the old year out and the new year in. Carnations and roses were combined effectively in the decorations and an attractive arrangement of these blossoms ornamented the table, where a delicious supper was served at midnight. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Blair, Mrs. J. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Lelan Pomeroy, Dr. Schifferdecker, Lieut. and Mrs. William C. Whitener and Mr. and Mrs. Will Wayne.

Society Personals

So many of the army ladies, who, because of the orders of the army department, have to live at Schofield Barracks, bewail the fact that this is not so with Mrs. Jerome Pillow, wife of Lieut. Pillow. Mrs. Pillow on her occasional trips to town says that she is delighted with the out-of-town post.

After spending several years on the mainland, Miss Vera Damon is returning to the islands in the Matsonia next week. After graduating from Punahou academy Miss Vera went east to school and has remained there most of the time since. When leaving the academy she was accorded the highest honor in the school when she was given the trustees' loving cup and had her name inscribed on the bronze roll of honor.

PRESIDENT IS FIRM AGAINST LITERACY TEST

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—The paramount issue before congress is the immigration bill now pending action in the senate. It is generally understood in administration circles that if the literacy test to which the president has made known his objections, is included in the bill when it is passed, the president will veto the measure.

JAPANESE TO LOOK AFTER THE PICTURE BRIDES

[Associated Press by Fed. Wireless.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 2.—Japanese Interpreter Haworth, now at Angel Island, has been appointed to succeed Thomas Walker as secretary of the Japanese Association of America. His principal duties will be to see that Japanese picture brides arriving in this country reach the prospective husbands for whom they are designated.

TWO HONOLULU BOYS ON CORNELL CLUB TOUR

Two Honolulu boys are with the Cornell University Glee Club on its annual tour of the mainland, which ended yesterday in New York. They are R. Alexander Anderson, a graduate of Punahou, and Lester Marks of McKinley high school.

The tour was the longest ever made by the club, reaching from New York state to Denver, Colo.

Anderson was honored by being the only junior on the trip, only seniors being allowed to go as a rule.

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondent.]
WAILUKU, Jan. 1.—Their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary was properly celebrated last Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. T. Buriem at their Wailuku home. A very pleasant luau was enjoyed by some 50 of their guests, and the affair was most delightful. After the luau many of the party went directly to the Orpheum to see "The Perils of Pauline," which is running here and attracting large houses.

On Christmas evening Messrs. Collins and Watson, who are keeping house in the cottage formerly occupied by W. J. Cooper, invited a few friends in for a Christmas dinner. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. Leslie West, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Taylor and Miss Alona Whisler. Most attractive decorations made the table festive in appearance.

Last Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. W. Leslie West entertained a number of their friends at a delicious turkey dinner. Plates were laid for Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Vettesen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peacock, Miss Alona Whisler, Mr. T. Desmond Collins and the hostess and host.

On Monday afternoon last week the piano pupils of Mrs. J. Charles Villiers gave a very pleasing recital at the rectory. Parents of the young people were invited to be present. After the recital ice cream and cake were served. The recital was a most pleasant affair.

Mrs. Capt. D. B. Penhallow, who has been absent some five or six months on the coast, returned on the last Lurline to Maui. She is in fine health and says the visit was most enjoyable. She is residing with her son, Manager Harry B. Penhallow.

Mrs. Annie B. Howell, who spent a few days week before last in Honolulu, returned in time for Christmas eve celebrations at the home of her son, Hugh Howell.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Baldwin are spending a short time at Kulamau, which estate Mr. Baldwin recently purchased from J. P. Cooke of Honolulu.

CADILLAC PRODUCTION INCREASES; EQUIPMENT WORKS AT TOP SPEED

Production is rapidly increasing at the Cadillac Motor Car Company plant, according to General Manager W. C. Leland. "When we had developed the eight cylinder engine up to a point where we felt absolutely sure of our ground and staking our reputation on it," said Mr. Leland, "the most gigantic part of the task was still before us."

"Notwithstanding our equipment, amounting in value to more than five millions of dollars, it was quite inadequate for the production of the new car."

Practically every single part of the new car called for new machinery, new fixtures and new tools for its making.

"Of course, much of the former equipment could be utilized by re-designing and re-building, yet the new equipment has involved an investment of more than a half million dollars.

"When it is considered that after we finally decided to bring out the eight-cylinder car, it was then necessary to design, manufacture, install and get into working order hundreds of new automatic machines, together with literally thousands of special jigs, fixtures, tools, limit gauges, etc., the task was not a small one."

"We now have many parts ready to assemble for more than 5000 cars. There were a few parts which, while they have been coming through in fair quantities, were not enough to make maximum production possible. But all new machinery is now here and installed. About 5500 men are employed. Some departments are working with a day and night shift and we are looking forward to a full production schedule in a short time."

The body of "Rose V. Busick of Buffalo, N. Y., stewardess on the steamer Curtis, lost recently during a storm, was found on the shore near Whitefish Point, Minn."
