THURSDAY, AUG. 17, 1893.

Before discussing the Japanese request for the franchise, the annexation organs might find it profitable to interview some prominent members of their own party. It is no secret that the real missionaries, apart from party classification in the vulgar sense, have been quietly pushing the cause of the franchise for both Chinese and Japanese in this country. One of these religious leaders, who is now propagating annexation sentiment in the United States, was enthusiastic and outspoken in behalf of Asiatic suffrage in this country.

What the Star wants, it now appears, is a grand jury on "a new plan." It is impossible, therefore, for us to continue the discussion until at least the outlines of the new plan are divulged. There does not seem, however, to be a surplus of material available now for petit juries, since the panel has been considerably enlarged without reduction in the exempt list. With the Star advocating a grand jury, and the Advertiser the abolition of trial by jury, the public will be apt to have its faith shaken in the inspiration of the Government press.

Another flatfooted violation of the Constitution, where it is not in conflict with the Proclamation, has been committed by the Government in the appointment of Mr. J. H. Waipulani as a District Magistrate. Having been a member of the last Legislature, he was constitutionally ineligible for any public office outside of the Cabinet. It makes the matter worse that the appointment has been made clearly as a reward for political services in voting out Ministry after Ministry until one of the "family compact" could be installed. All principle seems to have been blunged to the winds by our present rulers.

MUSIC HATH CHARMS.

Clement Scott, a special writer and musical critic for the Illustrated London News, gives a humorous reminiscence of the late U. S. S. Boston's revolution here, in an article republished in this issue. His reference to our band, using it to illustrate his plea for music in the London parks, will remind our readers of the fact that "music for the masses" was one of the many benign features of the monarchy here. There is no saying how much of its peace-loving and peace-observing character this much-mixed community owes to the influence of the regular band concerts in the public squares. That character has proved superior to revolutions and plots without number in the past ten years, and who can say that this is not largely due to the sympathy created between the varied classes and nationalities by habitual elbowing of each other at band concerts? If Cooper and his crowd had abolished the band with other appurtenances of the monarchy, the Emeluth-Mendouca Senate, it is safe to say, would not be astonishing the world with its marvelous law-making to-day. And if Bandmaster Berger had been seated on the throne instead of Judge Dole, Minister Blount might have been able to report a happy commonwealth, wanting neither annexation nor restoration!

SCANDAL IN THE STATION.

Notwithstanding the furious outcry for having the police department "cleaned out," when Marshal Wilson was in office, it appears that about all the officers of proved integrity and efficiency now on the force are remnants of Wilson's regime. At the opening of the Circuit Court term, it will be remembered, Mr. Peterson, counsel for two young Hawaiian women charged with keeping a disorderly house, objected to accepting a nolle prosequi on behalf of his clients. He wanted to have the doings of the police in effecting the arrest of the women exposed in open court. However, he relented on learning the Court's disinclination to have the unsavory case tried, and on hearing from the Attorney-General in court that the officers implicated in the scandal had been discharged. Thus the public exposure of one of the most disreputable episodes in the annals of the police force was avoided. Although the officers had been discharged, though, it was not on account of their disgraceful conduct on the occasion in question. One was allowed to retire in peace through resignation, giving as his reason for leaving the want of harmony in the force. The other was, as he said himself, only "suspended" pending investigation of a serious charge preferred against him by a Japanese. The fact remains that these men, the first choice of the new regime, were retained in their positions after they had utterly disgraced their badges. They were certainly not discharged openly for the vile offense of which their superiors were made cognizant in the District Court. It is astonishing that in that Court the officers were not summarily dismissed and their victims, instead of having to appeal to a higher court, discharged. There has never been a period when police station affairs were more odorous with scandal and crime than during the rule of the Provisional Government. And, judging by the fact that the Attorney-General has already been granted $10,000 above the appropriation of the Legislature, for "incidentals and civil and criminal expenses," this is proving a most expensive regime also to the taxpayers. It is no wonder if Marshal Hitchcock has grown sick and tired of the whole establishment.

HE GOT MANY MEALS.

How a Jailbird Worked Annexation for His Stomach.

The presence of Puahala, an old jailbird in a prisoner's garb, as general workman in the vacant lot below the Post Office, recalls a story of how he worked a game on the annexationists when he was a free man. Puahala was convicted of extortion and sentenced to imprisonment. He served his sentence and early one Monday morning was set at liberty. He made straight for the Annexation Club quarters and signed the roll. Donning the ribbon he marched down Fort street. He had come out of prison and his craftiness conceived an idea for getting a meal. Puahala stopped a gentleman (white) and pointing to the ribbon asked him if he was an annexationist. Receiving an answer in the affirmative Puahala asked for a half dollar, which was handed him. He performed this twice that day, and continued it during the week, raking in enough, through the magic power of the badge, to live right royally. Finally he ran across a snag—a man who knew the convict's record gently told him that if he didn't stop his practice he would be handed over to the police. Puahala walked around the corner and unpinning the annexation ribbon threw it away with a grunt of disgust. Shortly after he was arrested and is serving another sentence.

COURT CHRONICLE.

Progress on the Foreign Jury Criminal Calendar.

Before Judge Whiting at Circuit Court term, the following cases came up to-day:
Provisional Government vs. Pow Gium alias Pan Chau. Perjury. A foreign jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Wilder for prosecution; Creighton for defendant.
Provisional Government vs. Ah Po. Unlawful possession of opium. Deputy Attorney-General Wilder for prosecution; Creighton for defendant. Tried by a foreign jury, who retired to consider verdict at 3:10, and ten minutes later returned a verdict of not guilty.
Provisional Government vs. Lam Kow. Selling liquor without license. Wilder for prosecution; Davidson for defendant. Jury sworn at 3:15.

GREAT FALL IN GLASS.

Largest Window Pane Ever Imported Here Collapses.

The monster plate glass for the front window of the Safe Deposit building was landed safely from the barkentine Hilo and stored until this morning, when a gang of workmen under supervision of J. W. Gibbs, painter, carried it upright along Fort street to the building. They carried the precious article carefully and safely into the building, but as they were laying it flat, previous to raising it into position, the plate broke in the middle. At the same time the men let go both ends and the glass went crash on the floor, breaking into a thousand pieces. The noise made by the fall sounded like the report of a cannon, and the storekeepers in the vicinity ran out to see what the matter was. The accident is attributed to the absence of men, who should have been supporting the glass in the middle, as the plate was thin. It was the largest sheet of plate glass ever imported here, its dimensions having been 11 ft. 3 in. x 7 ft. 9 in. and a quarter of an inch in thickness. It was valued at $150.

Hood's Cures.

In saying that Hood's Sarsaparilla cures, its proprietors make no idle or extravagant claim. Statements from thousands of reliable people of what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for them, conclusively prove the fact—Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver, rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

"German Syrup"

Martinsville, N.J., Methodist Parsonage. "My acquaintance with your remedy, Boschee's German Syrup, was made about fourteen years ago, when I contracted a Cold which resulted in a Hoarseness and a Cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbaths. After trying a Physician, without obtaining relief—I cannot say now what remedy he prescribed—I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received such quick and permanent help from it that whenever we have had Throat or Bronchial troubles since in our family, Boschee's German Syrup has been our favorite remedy and always with favorable results. I have never hesitated to report my experience of its use to others when I have found them troubled in like manner." Rkv. W. H. HAGGARTY, of the Newark, New Jersey, M. E. Conference, April 25, '90. A Safe Remedy.

When the grandfathers and grandmothers of to-day were boys and girls their chief delight on baking days was to sit around and watch their mothers beating eggs for the cookies and watching an opportunity to get a finger in the custard. An ordinary fork was good enough in those days for use as an egg beater, time was not so valuable nor were cooks so expensive; patent egg beaters were not so common as they are to-day nor were the people of forty or fifty years ago so apt in grasping labor saving ideas. But time brings many changes even to egg beaters and one of the best is the "Keystone." Simply break the eggs in the glass container, put the lid on and turn the crank for a minute or two and you have a mass of eggs beaten lighter than air. A child can do it as well as a grown person.

Lime and Lemon Squeezers are used every day and it's a pretty good scheme to get a good one so as to catch all the juice. There are wooden ones, solid metal ones and combination metal and porcelain. For every day family use the latter is decidedly the most economical because you get the juice without having the bother of picking out the seed. They're a little more expensive than the ordinary sort but they are much better.

In a fruit country like Hawaii an article much called for is a Glass Jelly Jar. We've sold hundreds of dozens during the present season, sold all we had in fact and had to disappoint many of our customers who wanted to put up a little more fruit. We have enough in stock now to carry us over until the next regular season. If you want a dozen or ten dozen telephone and we will be pleased to send them to your house.

In renewing our stock of Silver Plated Ware we selected some handsome Tilting Ice Pitchers suitable for wedding gifts. The designs are new—no two alike—and decidedly the handsomest we have had the pleasure of offering you. Silver Match Boxes are another inexpensive article for a gift to a gentleman and we think we have some very pretty ones. And for the accommodation of ladies who do not care to buy a full silver tea service we have imported a few Single Tea Pots to sell separately.

We mentioned a few weeks ago the expected arrival of some "Multum in Parvo" Charcoal Irons. They arrived by the "Australia" and ladies who wish to have their pillow shams or skirts fluted can do it at home with one of these irons. They are an admirable and simple combination of iron and fluter combined and sell at a very reasonable figure. We had a few of them some months ago and the people who bought them have expressed themselves as being well pleased.

If any of the readers of this column happen to be ill enough to require champagne as a medicine it is cheaper for them to use a Syphon and take their doses moderately. We have the Syphon.

Three thousand feet of Rubber Garden Hose came to us on the "Australia."
