CLAUS SPRECKELS SUED.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION ISSUED AGAINST THE MILLIONAIRE

Scores of Pages in the Documents Found to be a Celebrated Cause.

A bill in equity for declaration and specific performance of trust, for injunction and account was filed yesterday by the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company, plaintiff, against Claus Spreckels, defendant. Messrs. Thurston and Hartwell act for the complaining corporation. The bill and attorneys' affidavit occupy 28 type-written pages, and there are 88 pages of type-writing taken up with exhibits. These contain the signatures of many notable personages, both living and dead, of Hawaii and California. The first one is a petition to King Kalakaua and his ministry in Council for extensive water rights on Maui.

In compliance with the petition Judge Whiting signed the following temporary injunction:

"In the name of the Republic of Hawaii.

"To Claus Spreckels, his Agents, Attorneys or Servants.

"Whereas, the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company has filed its bill in equity against Claus Spreckels, defendant, before the Honorable William Austin Whiting, First Judge of said Circuit Court at Chambers, setting forth reasons why you should be restrained and enjoined by the restraining order or injunction of this Court for selling, leasing, mortgaging or otherwise charging or encumbering of that portion of the Ahupuaa of Wailuku, in the Island of Maui, in the Republic of Hawaii, not heretofore conveyed by you to said Company during the pendency of this suit, and order was made thereon that such injunction issue upon the plaintiff's filing its approved bond in the sum of four thousand dollars, which such bond has been filed and approved by said Judge.

"Now therefore you, said Claus Spreckels, your attorneys and agents are commanded and strictly enjoined under penalty of being adjudged guilty of contempt of said Court that you and each of you do absolutely desist and refrain from selling, leasing, mortgaging or otherwise charging or encumbering any portion of the said Ahupuaa of Wailuku not heretofore conveyed by you to said Company, until the further order of said Court."

Service of Chambers summons in the matter was made by Deputy Marshal H. R. Hitchcock on Claus Spreckels through Walter M. Giffard, his attorney.

The bill recounts the history of the great Spreckelsville plantation from its inception about eighteen years ago. Its gist is as follows: Mr. Spreckels obtained all of the property for the plantation and its water supply in his own name, and latterly conveyed all of it excepting about 16,000 acres to the Hawaiian Commercial & Sugar Company. This area comprises practically the whole Wailuku valley, which contains the sources of the plantation's vast irrigating system. It was after Mr. Spreckels had disposed of his controlling interest in the company that the discovery was made of his non-conveyance of this valuable portion of the property. The principal prayer of the petition is the following: "That the defendant be declared to be a trustee to the plaintiff's use of the fee simple of said portion held by him as aforesaid of the said Ahupuaa of Wailuku, and that he be ordered and decreed to execute and deliver to the plaintiff, its successors and assigns forever, a deed of all of the portion of said Ahupuaa of Wailuku so omitted by him to be conveyed to the plaintiff and withheld by him as aforesaid, and also to account with the plaintiff for, and to pay over to the plaintiff all moneys received by him as rents, issues and profits thereof, or of any part or parcel thereof since he acquired as aforesaid the fee simple in said land, and that he pay the costs of this suit."

A BURGLAR ABOUT.

A Slick Thief Operating on Adams Lane Last Night.

When Douglas Monsarrat goes to bed he is in the habit of putting his pants on a convenient chair, but when he woke up this morning they were not there. They were in an adjoining room and a dollar that was in one of the pockets was missing. Mr. Monsarrat is thanking the lucky star that impelled him to place his watch and chain and the rest of his money under a pin cushion before retiring. The wardrobe in an adjoining room was also tampered with and the burglar nearly wrenched the knob off in an attempt to get at the contents. Bare footprints were seen this morning on the steps leading to the veranda and from the impression and shape they were evidently those of a Chinese. An attempt was also made to open a window of another cottage in the same lot.

About the same time a lady sleeping in a room in a cottage across the lane was awakened by a noise in her room and by the moonlight detected a man standing over the bureau. She screamed and jumped out of bed, and the intruder leaped out of the open window, breaking a shelf and some of the lattice work beneath in his hurried descent. The lady did not see the man's face in her excitement, but says he was of slim build, barefooted, and appeared to be dressed only in a pair of white drawers or tight-fitting pants.

A police whistle was sounded several times and succeeded in arousing everybody in the neighborhood except the police.

WITH A CLEAN BILL.

The Australia Takes the News That This Port is Healthy.

The steamer Australia which leaves at 4 o'clock this afternoon will carry the news that the port of Honolulu is no longer infected. In other words she leaves with what is known in shipping circles as a clean bill of health.

This is nothing more or less than a certificate, signed and sealed by the American Consul-General, to the effect that the port is healthy at the time of the departure of the vessel. This certificate also carries an endorsement stating that two cases of cholera only have occurred in fourteen days, but that the disease is no longer epidemic.

The local quarantine regulations concerning the cholera and referring to inter-island traffic cut no figure in the case, as the Australia's bill of health is made out under international quarantine rules.

There was a bathing party numbering 35 to 40 at Wright's Villa last night. It was managed by Mrs. H. T. Walker and Mrs. Donnelly. Before and after the surf bath, singing, recitations and dances were enjoyed in the lanai.

There was no hearing before the Supreme Court today, on account of parties having business connected with the Australia's departure.

IN THE HIGHER COURTS.

DECISIONS ON DEATH BENEFIT AND THE CHINESE THEATER.

Bad Year for the James Woods Estate - Bail Refused for an Infamous Offense.

The bond of Bruce Cartwright, as trustee of the estate of R. W. Holt, for $20,000 executed on July 28, 1892, has been cancelled and a new one substituted for $10,000.

Henry Smith has filed a report as master on the accounts of the trustees of the estate of James Woods, deceased testate. Receipts were $12,057.69 and payments $17,805.30. There was a decrease in the receipts of 1894 of $5,448.46 as against those of 1893. The expenditures decreased also, by $8,084.05. The debt due to T. H. Davies & Co. is now $35,383.81, an increase of $5,870.31. An increase of $248.06 has occurred in the expenses of the family of the deceased, which were $4,630.28. Receipts from Beecroft Plantation show a decrease of $3,500, and from sale of stock and produce $8,521.97. Purchases of stock and ranch expenses decreased by $8,521.97. There were thirteen horses more but 177 head of cattle less in the inventory of 1894 than in that of 1893. "Altogether," the master says, "the year 1894 has not been a prosperous one in the financial showing of the estate."

An application for bail was made to Judge Cooper yesterday on behalf of Ah Wong, committed for trial for outrage. The motion was taken under advisement. Robertson for the prisoner; Deputy Attorney-General Carter for the Republic.

Before the Supreme Court on Wednesday Emele vs. C. Williams was argued and submitted. Circuit Judge Whiting sat with Chief Justice Judd and Justice Fearar. Kinney for plaintiff, C. Brown for defendant.

The same afternoon J. I. Dowsett vs. Maukela and others was heard, J. A. Magoon, barrister, sitting in place of Justice Bickerton. C. Brown for plaintiff; Kinney for defendants-appellant.

Judge Cooper has denied the application of Ah Wong, charged with an infamous offense, to be admitted to bail.

Judge Whiting has rendered a decision upon the equity claim of Antonio da Costa Daniel against the Portuguese Mutual Benefit Society of Hawaii, for a death benefit claimed by plaintiff to have accrued by reason of the death of his son, a member of the defendant corporation. Defendant resisted the claim on the grounds that the son was not in good standing on the society's books, that if he was found to be in good standing the father was not under the laws of the society entitled to the benefit, and that the evidence did not warrant the finding in favor of the plaintiff. All these points are over-ruled and $794.50, the amount shown by the accounting prayed for, be decreed to be paid by defendant to plaintiff. Neumann for plaintiff; Kinney for defendant.

Judge Cooper has rendered the following decision on the demurrer to the bill in equity for an injunction against the new Chinese theater:

"The substance of the bill is that the plaintiff is a resident of a district in Honolulu undisturbed by noisy trade and businesses; that the defendant is about to erect a building to be used as a Chinese theater, where performances are to take place upon instruments which produce harsh, strident and discordant tones of great volume and continuity; that such performances are usually acted between twilight and midnight, and that thereby the peace and enjoyment of the life of plaintiff will be an impossibility.

"Courts have declined to interfere with the erection of a building because it might become a nuisance by reason of the use its owner might put it to, unless such use is shown to be a nuisance per se.

"The only question I feel called upon to decide at the present is, taking the allegations of the bill to be true: Does it show a nuisance per se; or, in the language of some of the courts: Has a prima facie case to be made out? This I feel bound to answer in the affirmative, and for that reason I consider that the demurrer should be overruled."

Thurston and Robertson for plaintiff; Hartwell and Stanley for defendant.

MORTUARY REPORT.

Agent Reynolds' Report for the Month of September.

A glance at the monthly report of C. B. Reynolds, agent of the Board of Health, shows there were 112 deaths in this city during September, of which 49 were from cholera. Other principal causes of death were: Bronchitis 6, heart disease 6, convulsions 7, fever 5, inanition 4, pneumonia 4, and whooping cough 5.

For the last 5 years the death rate for September has been: 1891, 45; 1892, 36; 1893, 64; 1894, 45 and 1895, 112, an average of a little over 60 per month.

The new number is a beautiful specimen of the art preservative and contains some excellent photo-engravings.

The Australia's outward bound cargo is valued at $31,500.

There will be no meeting of the Board of Health this afternoon.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

TWENTY-EIGHT OFFENDERS BEFORE JUDGE PERRY TODAY.

Fined For Having Opium in Possession - The Foughtailing Perjury Case Partly Heard.

When Judge Perry mounted his rostrum this morning he found twenty-eight defendants awaiting an audience, and in his usual courteous manner proceeded to deal out justice, tempered with mercy.

The first case called was that against eight unfortunate people who would a-yachting go last Sunday and landed in Pearl Harbor contrary to the rules and regulations in such cases made and provided by the Board of Health. The prosecution evidently thought that ten hours in a leaky boat with nothing to eat or drink was punishment enough for the crowd, and allowed the charge to be nolle prosequit.

Ben Kalana, charged with drunkenness, acknowledged the corn and received the usual fine.

An Hawaiian damsel who answered to the name of Miss H. Luce forfeited her bail rather than make a shamefaced appearance before His Honor and the courtroom spectators on the same charge.

Millini, a native boy, arrested for stealing coal from the various piles about the city front, entered a plea of not guilty and will be tried tomorrow.

Ah Fat's weasel skin will not be as fat as it was after he has paid his fine. Mr. Fat pleaded guilty to the charge of having opium in his possession and was fined $50 and costs therefor.

Lau Chan is out on $50 bail, pending his trial on the charge of endangering the health of the community by fishing in Nuuanu stream. When his trial is had on the 5th Lau Chan will know whether he will get any change out of his $50 or not.

Tom Ning is a very innocent Chinese, according to his own story, helped out as it was by numerous witnesses on his behalf. Tom keeps a restaurant and instead of buying coal in wholesale quantities from legitimate dealers purchases it from native boys at a rate about one-fourth its actual value. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of receiving stolen goods, and after hearing his testimony His Honor concluded that Tom could not be induced to knowingly purchase stolen coal under any conditions, not even if it was whitewashed and gilt-edged.

Mr. Wo Chung, who is also charged with purchasing stolen coal, will endeavor to prove his innocence on the 5th, to which date his trial was adjourned.

In the case of George Houghtaling, charged with committing perjury on his recent trial for selling liquor without a license, the testimony of Judge Wilcox, who presided at the trial, and Julius Lundberg was taken and further proceedings continued till tomorrow.

The case of Gibbs and Murphy on the same charge was set for trial tomorrow morning.

The brigantine W. G. Irwin sails for San Francisco tomorrow.

Mrs. Geo. Grau and Mrs. Wm. Taylor returned by the steamer W. G. Hall.

Mrs. Bruce Cartwright and two children will leave for the Coast by the Australia.

The furniture, desks, etc., in the Police Station and deputy-marshal's office are being fixed up and varnished.

FROM QUARANTINE WHARF.

THE INTERESTING DAIRY OF
GEORGE WASHINGTON SMITH

How the Boys Eat—Immature Chickens Don't Go—Pudding and Pie—A Hospitable Skipper.

Sept. 28. General freight all aboard steamer Kanai. She took considerable cargo. Crabbe says, "Cook, what have you got for tomorrow?" "We have no eggs for Sunday breakfast." Great Scott, what have you done with all the eggs I ordered?" "I found a lot of chickens in the shells, sir, and you know yourself they were too small. If they had been large enough I might have given you a chicken pot pie, but I had to throw them away."

It is amusing to hear the remarks at the table during meals. Kelly says, "Smith, pass me the sinkers," meaning biscuits. Webb will say: "I would like some of that chow chow when you are through with it; please be kind enough to leave some in the bottom." Another, "Crabbe, why don't you order more than one bottle at a time." We seem to like it because there is not enough to go round. We had some pie for dinner one day. One of the boys asks: "What is it?" "I'll take some anyhow, on trial." Another, "That pie would take the first prize you bet." One of the boys said he did not feel hungry, and Webb told him if he had any symptoms of illness to come to him right away, he would give him a dose of Dr. Brodie's medicine that would knock it in one dose. Hewett says: "My pills will beat any medicine on the dock. They were used in India by one of our celebrated physicians and cured 90 per cent. of all cases where it was given." Crabbe says: "As I told you boys before, and I don't want to repeat my orders often, that I have the necessary goods in my medicine chest both for stopping it and bringing it on." "Great Scott, Crabbe, is that so? I did not know that or I would have called on you before. Why, I took one of Hewett's pills and I thought I was done for."

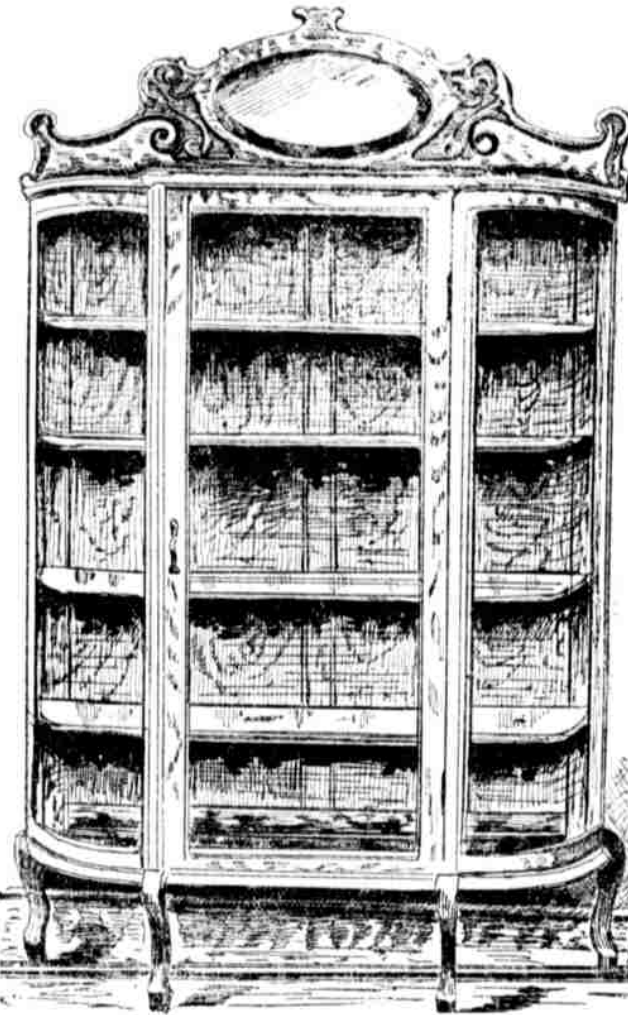

"Syren call" for supper. "Pass the mystery, please. This is good, boys. We know it is not second hand." "Sinkers, my boy. Ah, thank you." "Any more chow-chow? A little, please. Clarence, why don't you give us an oyster pie?" "Oh, you fellows will wait the world next." "May I go?" "You may." Thus ends supper. Evening the only gee club rendered us some of their pleasing songs.

Sunday morning breakfast, 8 a. m. Smith and Hewett were the guests of Capt. Drew by special invitation—verbal, no cards. Capt. Drew gave us some of his ice stories about the Kennebec River. The menu was numerous and first-class "at that." This is our special cleaning day; everything taken out and given a sun bath. We are sweet you bet. Some more of Capt. Drew's ice stories; how they cut ice on the Kennebec River; how they lay claim to sections fronting their houses, but if after a snow storm all night the party is not up early enough to scrape or shovel the snow off in front of his house on the river, whoever might be there first and have the section clear of snow has the proper claim to it, and it is his ice whether it is the party of the day before or some one else. That is the custom in that section, and sometimes they have a regular battle over it, where some one has jumped a claim early in the morning and shoveled the snow off first. They even go so far as to pour coal oil over a man's section out of spite who has jumped the claim of someone having claimed a section the day before.

Clarence Crabbe, Harry Webb and J. Robertson dined with Capt. Drew and everything was gotten up in good style, as Capt. Drew knows how, and the boys were treated to a surprise party they did not look for. Capt. Drew will be held in memory dear by the boys for his kind treatment of us all while lying at the quarantine dock.

The cook treated the native boys to a nice Sunday supper. Their menu was a very nice stew, corn bread and plum pudding. No cyclones this time. Enough for all.

Ordway & Porter

OUR aim since the organization of the firm has been to supply the people of Honolulu with first class furniture at a medium price. The growth of the business is the best evidence we can offer as a verification that never diverged from our motto.

In this advertisement we call your attention in a general way to the various articles of furniture we carry by submitting a few designs of pieces that should be in every home.

CHINA CLOSETS are as much in demand as bedsteads, they are no longer in the list of luxuries; the craze for collecting odd bits of China or bric a brac and the desire to keep them in a convenient place for showing to one's friends has made the China closet indispensable. We have them in various styles single or double, for wall or corner. Those in antique oak are fashionable because they are serviceable, the durability of the finish on oak has the effect of making them always appear new.

THE utter impossibility of an attempt to have a dining room well furnished without a sideboard has been demonstrated in half the homes in Honolulu. There is no necessity for anyone going without one when they have a stock like ours to draw from. The one shown is of quartered Oak satin polish finish and has French bevel plate glass. In the higher priced sideboards ample space is allowed for silverware. Our stock of plain oak sideboards has never been equaled in Honolulu.

ROBINSON BLOCK

YOU probably know what it is to scatter sewing, books, papers and sundries on shelves, bureaus and wherever is most convenient. This has been the case with many people because they have not been able to secure tables at anything like reasonable prices. We sell you tables with tops 20x20 inches, elegantly finished and durable, for $2.00. You've paid double the money for something of half the value and then stopped buying because you considered yourself sold. We do not confine ourselves to this cheap line but have them in every conceivable price. Heavy quartered oak with handsomely carved legs and brass mountings. Dining tables in endless variety in either oak or walnut.

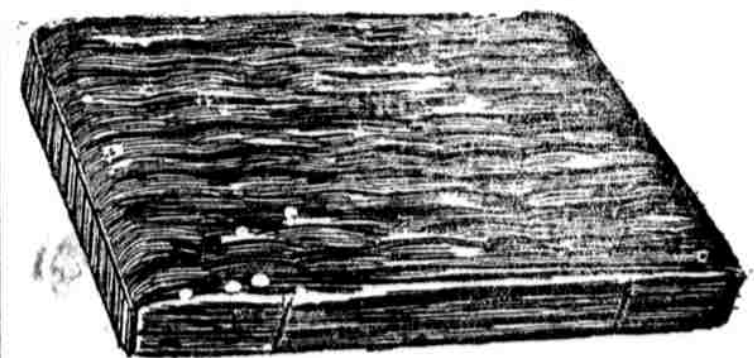

We also carry a large stock of chairs suitable for any room in the house. As with the tables the price depends largely upon the quality; we have no old stocks, so that age of the goods makes no difference in the price. We do not keep furniture long enough for them to get old. The only goods of that character seen in our store is what people have bought elsewhere and brought to us to have made over. We have an upholstery department in which work of the finest character is done. Perhaps you've noticed elegantly upholstered Conches in the show rooms and thought they were made abroad! They are the work of our men and we feel a just pride in turning out work that compares favorably with that made in the largest factories in the United States.

ONE bureau is scarcely adequate to hold all the shirts, underwear, etc., of a gentleman and wife; two bureaus in a room make it lap-sided particularly when they are not the same pattern. A CHIFFONIER, no matter what the design or color, adds finish to the room just as a piano does to a parlor.

It may sound egotistical, but we believe we have the largest stock of these articles to select from outside San Francisco.

Oak is the style oftenest selected for the same reason as given regarding China closets, but with our stock there is no limit as to style of wood. Oak, Birch or Ash, it is all the same, we can supply them in twenty odd styles. We have them with or without toilets; plain top and either with German or French bevel mirrors, and either polished or varnished surface.

The half dozen drawers in a Chiffonier makes it possible to separate the clothes and keep them always in place. If you have ever had one you know the value; if you have not get one while the price is below bed-rock.

OUR hair mattresses are made up in the best quality of tickings, bound with the best bed lace, have borders 4 inches deep, stitched twice around.

Mattresses made of moss have the same care on our part as those of hair. The difference in price is accounted for by the difference between moss and hair. This work has the attention of experienced upholsterers, and no better mattresses can be bought anywhere than we make. The prices are governed by the size of the beds and number of pounds of hair used.

MR. CASTLE TALKS.

Minister-elect Castle has opened his mouth and put his foot in it. He has submitted to be interviewed by the Boston Journal, and in his utterances allowed his tongue to wag with unbridled liberty. It is hard to determine whether what he tried not to say or what he uttered with the utmost frankness is most likely to give umbrage to the Administration at Washington. His remarks on the situation here are injudicious in the extreme, being calculated to delay the process of conciliation and pacification which has undoubtedly been for some time in progress. Universal reconciliation to the present rulers as constituting a particular faction is not here meant—such would be something unparalleled in this or any other country—but an acceptance of the new form of government that has been established by never mind what means. The foregoing judgment of the interview in question is capable of some specific elaboration.

Mr. Castle makes little or no attempt to conceal the bitterness of his faction, deeply shared by his own heart, against President Cleveland. He has the bad taste to go unnecessarily into the question of the right or wrong of the landing of American forces here in January, 1893, and while attempting to controvert the conclusions of President Cleveland regarding that event, he has the bad conscience to make misstatements and to tell half truths which are worse than whole lies. At the same time he displays the fatal forgetfulness of admitting what his associates in the revolution, if not even himself, have over and over again denied with the most intense fierceness. For instance, he says that the troops were landed 'before we [they] had obtained possession of all the branches of the Government,' and he feared that 'the act would be open to misconception.' 'It was feared by me and others,' he says, 'that it might be said that this was done for the purpose of intimidating the queen and her government; and what we feared came to pass.' This is frigid enough to put in successful opposition to the Hawaiian Electric Company's new refrigerating plant, when it is remembered, and has been testified to by the very actors themselves, that the then conspirators, of whom Mr. Castle was one, begged and prayed the American Minister to land troops before they should 'move on the works;' that Mr. Damon has testified to his grave fears of the results of action without the support of the American troops; that Mr. Soper refused to take command of the intending insurgents until assured that a movement on their part would be promptly supported by the American troops, and that the decision to act was only made when the American Minister had, while rebuffing the members of the Government, told the leaders of the revolt that he would land troops whether they were ready or not, and encouraged them to expedite their attack by promising them recognition in the name of the United States Government whenever they should have captured the Government buildings. It is with great reluctance that we report to these ancient affairs now, but the responsibility is Mr.

Castle's for wantonly tearing open the old wounds. Before leaving this particular point, however, another witness may be recalled. W. G. Smith, who arrived here when the United States protectorate was on, and who was for some months the favorite journalist and orator of the Provisional Government's party, lectured on Hawaiian affairs both in the East and in the Pacific Coast. Mr. Smith had been admitted to the inner chamber of confidence of the revolutionists, as of course a matter of necessity to the prosecution of his vocation in this country. Therefore he may fairly be regarded as an authority upon matters connected with the 1893 revolution. In his lectures Mr. Smith said that the landing of the American troops and the disposition of the main body of them in front of the palace were contrived and executed as 'a huge game of bluff.'

This citation from a recognized P. G. oracle brings up other assertions of Mr. Castle in Boston respecting the American troops on that occasion. He mentions the sending of a squad each to the Legation and the Consulate, then talks of the disposition of 'the third detachment' as if it were also but a squad, whereas it was the main part of the Boston's battalion of marines and bluejackets. Mr. Castle has the effrontery to deny that the troops were 'at any time paraded in view of the palace windows,' when he knows that they were deployed into Mililani lane looking right up to the palace front, and their galling guns placed where they commanded the same object and in full view therefrom. This was not 'after dark' either, Mr. Castle to the contrary notwithstanding, as is proved by the evidence of the revolutionary leaders themselves. 'Arion Hall' [in the lane just named, where the troops were quartered] 'did not command the Government buildings,' Mr. Castle is reported to say, 'neither was it within sight of the palace.' 'Is reported to say' is a phrase used advisedly, for it would make one sick to believe that Mr. Castle should be capable of such shameless misrepresentation. Arion Hall is sheltered from the view of the palace only by the Opera House, and the American pickets stationed in front of it could have been picked off by marksmen in the palace. 'Did not command the Government buildings!' A word of three letters describes this assertion. The hall is under the very shadow of the building then occupied by the ministerial departments and the higher courts. As has often been stated a body defending that building against an attacking force attempting to surround it could not shoot at the assailants without danger of casualties to the American troops. Enough of these stale falsehoods and half truths that are worse.

There is not space to take up all the points inviting criticism in the interview. One of the sections in the vilest taste is the Minister-elect's presumption of apologizing for Minister Willis's position here as the representative of his Government and its policy. The interview concludes with a deliberate falsehood about the Anglican Bishop here. In answer to a question about Bishop Willis's protest against the closing of the churches on account of cholera, Mr. Castle is represented as saying: 'The Bishop has been so outspoken and so unreasonable in his opposition to the Government that a schism has occurred in the Cathedral parish of the English church, and a faction, led by Mr. Mackintosh, has formed a new congregation.' And the Adviser, which has been largely owned in Mr. Castle's family for many years past, republishes this infamous lie without a word of comment or any conjecture that Mr. Castle must have been misreported. The 'schism' in St. Andrew's Cathedral occurred eight or ten years ago. It had nothing to do with politics. Part of it was due to the Bishop's disapproval of the breadth of the religious affiliations of Rev. George Wallace, one of his clergy. That gentleman would take part in Y. M. C. A. meetings, etc., which is against the Bishop's opinion that the Church affords scope enough for all religious enterprise. For a long time after the 'schism' Rev. Alex. Mackintosh adhered to the Bishop and ministered to his flock. The so-called 'faction,' led by Mr. Mackintosh, contained throughout the controversy many of the most prominent and stalwart 'royalists' and sympathizers with the deposed monarch. Major Wodehouse, British Minister, who became privately and almost officially persona non grata with the P. G. and the Republic for his supposed royalistic sympathies, was a lay reader in Mr. Mackintosh's congregation, who read the lessons at the stated Sunday services up to his departure from the city. Theo. H. Davies, the foremost champion of the lost cause, occupied a front pew at the services of the same faction. And who does not know the political sentiments of honest George Harris, an office-holder under Mr. Mackintosh in the church? At the meetings of Mr. Mackintosh's flock held to make efforts for coming to an amicable understanding with the Bishop it was the 'ranked royalists' who felt constrained to burst forth with the bitterest rhetoric against the Bishop. At the same time some of the earliest and most constant adherents of the P. G., including not a few holding office thereunder, are members in good standing and regular attendants at services of Mr. Mackintosh's congregation, and their relations with their royalist brethren in the sanctuary have been in the highest degree harmonious.

Faugh! Mr. Castle. You are making a bad beginning.

An account of the ravages of cholera in China and Japan elsewhere given would indicate that foreigners there who take care of themselves are about as immune from the disease as they have been in Honolulu.

—ON THE—
WERTHEIM
TRIPLE OR THREE-STITCH
Sewing Machine

This week we want to call the attention of the ladies of Honolulu and the Hawaiian Islands generally to the merits of the Wertheim Sewing Machine. This is provided with a Belgian invention by which three different stitches may be sewn according to the will of the operator. Whether the lady of the house wants a single chain stitch or a combined two-thread or embroidery stitch without in any way impairing the excellence of the machine as a lock-stitch one, is simply a matter of pressing a button, this machine does the rest. With this machine by simply pressing a button either a lock stitch, chain stitch or combined lock and chain stitch is produced as desired. In other words this one machine performs the work of three distinct ones, and not content with that can furnish in addition a beautiful darn in linen as well as woolen materials and underwear by means of its far reaching chain stitch, and the need of any special darning appliance is therefore avoided. To produce the chain stitch all that is necessary is to press down a button near the stitch regulator and move it from left to right and go right along with your sewing.

For dressmakers and those who have much making over to do, this machine is the best out. The chain-stitch is easily unraveled by undoing the last loop at the end of the seam, and although the embroidery stitch is just as firmly locked as the lock stitch and is much more elastic, yet it is easily undone. All the operator has to do is to draw out the interlaced shuttle thread and the chain stitch remains, which latter unravels easily as stated above. The machine can readily be changed from one stitch to another and back again to the ordinary lock stitch without any danger of getting out of order.

"Seeing is believing" is an old and true saying and we cordially invite all the ladies to come in and see this machine in actual operation in our store. We have a large number of these elegant machines on hand and will sell them at reasonable prices. We guarantee them to do all that we advertise.

There are any number of ladies in this city whose hearts would be made glad by one of these machines in place of the antiquated ones they are now using, and if their husbands only knew what was good for themselves they would come right down to the store in the morning and order one sent home.

English View of Cholera.

Some of the English papers are very intemperately denouncing as folly the suggestion that a strict supervision should be exercised over vessels from cholera infected ports. They argue that England has enjoyed immunity from infection during recent years, when the disease was presumably as bad in the Orient and Russia as it is now, and that there is therefore no ground for alarm. They do not say so in express terms, but they intimate that an interruption of trade such as strict quarantine regulations would involve would be more harmful than a visitation of cholera.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Rio Janeiro's Freight May be Brought Back.

The Board of Health held a special meeting yesterday afternoon to take action on the matter of the return of the Rio Janeiro's freight for this port. A letter from the San Francisco agents of the Pacific Mail Company to H. Hack-feld & Co. was read and President Smith said he could see no reason why the freight should not be allowed to land. As foretold in yesterday's BULLETIN a motion was passed that the Rio's freight be allowed to return to this port, if it be accompanied by a certificate of fumigation and the mode of fumigation used.

G. W. R. King was appointed an agent of the Board of Health.

The question of raising the embargo on evening meetings was discussed, but it was decided to continue the present regulations in force for the present.

A request from several mer-size of a man, freckle built and slim complexion; he wore a pleasant smile, and carried a wooden bag containing a couple of left-handed railroad tunnels, a second hand porous plaster, also one of

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR CHOL-ERA—When promptly and properly treated a recovery is almost certain. This was fully demonstrated during the prevalence of Cholera in New York in 1866.
Go to bed as soon as the first symptoms appear, remain as quiet as possible, and take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in double doses—until the pain ceases, and then after each operation of the bowels more than natural. Send for a physician, but take this remedy in this way until he arrives. The remedy should be kept at hand ready for instant use. It should be taken within five minutes after the first symptoms appear. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the most successful medicine that has yet been produced, not only for the milder forms of bowel complaint, but for the most virulent forms of Asiatic Cholera. For sale by BENSON,

Blood Diseases,

When the blood is diseased and the system Anemic or Scrofulous, it carries sickness through the whole body, for the current of human life is in the blood. This proves how necessary it is to have pure rich blood, because an impoverished condition of it brings

THE LIQUOR RELEASE.

Successful Argument of E. C. Macfarlane Before the Board of Health.

At the meeting of the Board of Health on Monday, a petition signed by all the wholesale firms dealing in wines and liquors, excepting Chinese and Japanese was presented, asking the Board to permit shipments from the stores in the Customs bonded warehouse. The goods they said had been stored in the bonded warehouse for months, and must be clear of any possible danger of infection.

E. C. Macfarlane, head of the firm of Macfarlane & Co., represented the interests of the trade before the Board. He argued that the warehoused goods in question had come from uninfected ports, and were of such a character as made the packages very easy to be fumigated. The supplies were entirely run out on the other islands, and Mr. Macfarlane considered the request of the petitioners not at all unreasonable.

President Smith did not want to "let down the bars" for the introduction of other articles than those already permitted. He asked if there was not saki now stored in the bonded warehouse.

Mr. Macfarlane admitted there were a few packages of saki, but they were stored apart from other goods. The goods asked to be released had been locked up for months, without any access thereto by the outside public.

President Smith thought it would be a bad precedent to discriminate against Chinese and Japanese merchandise.

Mr. Macfarlane replied that the other merchandise did not come from infected ports, whereas the Japanese saki had come from Kobe, Japan, and any articles from there ought to be excluded. He asked the medical members of the Board if they could see any danger, even the most remote, arising from the goods in question, provided the shippers would submit them to disinfection.

Dr. Day answered that he could see little or no danger under the circumstances.

Dr. Wood expressed himself to the same effect.

A vote was then taken, resulting in the granting of the petition.

Mr. Macfarlane, in making the strong and availing fight he did for the concession, earned the gratitude of the whole wet goods guild. On this part he is well pleased with the courteous manner in which President Smith discussed the question, as well as gratified at the cordial with which the medical members coincided with his argument.
