QUIET DAY IN SENATE

HE Senate lobby who were expecting to see the question which had caused trouble on Tuesday afternoon resumed again yesterday morning, were somewhat disappointed when immediately after the reading of the minutes Senator Cecil Brown arose from his chair and virtually apologized for his behavior on the preceding

Yet there was a string attached to that apology, for the Senator gave the President to clearly understand that he would make a more complete apology if he was found in the wrong, but that he did not think he had erred. However, Brown gained his point, for his version of the incident is now, a part of the journal of the Senate, and

"The first question which arose was concerning the resolution of Achi. I claim that at that time the voting of claim that at that time the voting of rules; and to support my contention of that time I now cite section 1 of rule 9, relating to the duties of offi-cers, under the head. "Understanding the ruling of the President to be that he claimed that right under the supposition that the joint resolution was a bill, I appealed from the Chair. At that time Mr. White arose to his feet and interrupted me, and it was at that time that the Chair ordered me under arrest and the House adjourned.

"I simply wish to make this state-ment so that the facts will go on rec-ord, and if I was wrong I am willing to apologize to the House. I admit that I lost my temper and that if I had not done so the affair might not have happened."

OSS EMMELUTH created the only sensation of the day in the House when he attacked Governor Dole as a "man without backbone." During the heat of an argument on the merits of an amendment which he offered to go with House bill 4, which provides for the appointment of a commission to take evidence concerning injuries to property caused by the action of the Board of Health in connection with the suppression of the bubonic plague, Representative Emmeluth scored Governor Dole for what he considered was a lack of firmness in connection with the fire claim commission appointed last year.

MANY BILLS PRESENTED

TTENTIVE and observant, the solons of the House began their labor yesterday auspiclously. The aftermath of the wordy battle of the day before on the extension of the fire limits to include the "burned district" had its effect. As a number of Representatives had given notice on Tuesday that they would in-troduce bills, the title of many of which were novel to say the least, expectancy was written upon the countenances of the legislators. The spec-tators were numerous and appeared to anticipate a repetition of the previous day's humorous proceedings, The minutes were read and approved.

Dickey opened the ball by asking for a reconsideration, as he desired to make a correction. He was granted the privilege by a rising vote. A rule mentioned in the minutes as 12 should have been 18. The amendment was accepted.

Paele offered a petition relating to highways and bridges, in which an ap-propriation of $25,000 was asked for, and also a breakwater along the coast in the Fifth district. This was referred to the committee on public lands.

Beckley presented a petition from Hauula from a number of residents asking for a new school building. Referred to committee on education.

Haaheo presented a petition from Puua asking for $12,000 for the construction of a road from Kaola to Kahauolea, a distance of eight miles. The petition was laid on the table to be considered with the appropriation bill. Prendergast, for the committee on revision, presented a report on bill 2,

'An act to appropriate an emergency fund to be used in repairing damages caused by the late storm," and also on bill 4, "An act to provide for a commission to take evidence concerning injuries to property caused by the action of the Board of Health in connection with the suppression of the bubonic plague in Honolulu on January 20, 1900, and to report thereon," and also bill 7, "An act to authorize and bill 11, "An act to abolish personal taxes;" also bills 12 and 13, saying they had been printed.

GRAND JURY SUBMITS ITS FINAL REPORT AND IS DISCHARGED.

(From Wednesday's Dally.)

HE GRAND JURY, of which E. Faxon Bishop was foreman, made its report yesterday as follows and was discharged:

fon. A. S. Humphreys, First Judge, Circuit Court, First Judicial District, Territory of Hawaii, Sir:—The Grand Jury empanelled and sworn before you on the 4th of Feb-ruary current, have concluded their duties and beg to render the following final report:

final report:

Fifty-five cases have been brought before this jury by the Attorney General's Department resulting in the finding of true bills in thirty-one cases, no action taken in two cases, and no bills in twenty-two cases as shown by the clerk's record of our proceedings marked Exhibit "D," and attached hereto. We have made investigation in accordance with your honor's charge, as the following will show:

INSANE ASYLUM.

The Grand Jury have visited the Institution and inspected the entire premises and the buildings in use. The total number of patients at the present time in the asylum is 130.

The building known as Ward No. 2, is in a very bad condition and quite beyond repair. The other buildings are in a fair condition, although Ward 6 is a building erected for some other pur-pose, but pressed into service owing to the want of room.

The water-closet accommodations at The water-closet accommodations at the asylum are of the most primitive order, being nothing more of less than old fashioned privies with open vaults, and it may be said in passing that if the authorities would exercise the same care in this respect that they exact from individuals and tax payers as to sanitary plumbing recommodations at sanitary plumbing, no comment would sanitary plumbing, no comment would be necessary.

The Grand Jury ascertain that an appropriation of $39,000 was made by the Council of State in the early part of 1900, from current funds, for new buildings at the asylum, and if this amount were available, adequate quarterz could be provided in frame structures, but unfortunately the funds of the Government have been so depleted by reason of the plague and other causes, that no funds are available for this purpose.

At the present time the woman's ward is made to accommodate thirty-one persons, while there are rooms for but nineteen, hence the necessity of putting two patients in one room, which is most undesirable.

The woman's ward should also have facilities for washing clothes. All or the wards should be fitted with some automatic device whereby all the cells or rooms can be thrown open at once in case of fire. This can now be done in the woman's ward, but in none of the others the others. The Grand Jury specially condemn and severely criticize the action of the authorities in establishing the stone blasting and crushing plant within say 100 yards of the asylum building, and upon land set aside as the asylum reservation, and it seems strange and remarkable that wheever is responsible. markable that whoever is responsible for selecting this location for the pur-pose named, did not immediately see that it would be most undesirable for the unfortunate inmates of the asylum. the unfortunate inmates of the asylum. The Grand Jury believe it is generally an accepted fact that what is most needed by the insane is absolute rest and quiet, and this jury can testify that the continual roar of the stone crusher is most trying (lasting as it does through the entire day) to the ordinary person, while the blasting that is done at intervals is always startling, and must be terrifying to persons sufand must be terrifying to persons suf-fering from aberrations of the mind.

In our opinion the stone crushing plant should be peremptorily removed from the vicinity, even at a large cost and much trouble, as we believe that the unfortunates of the asylum are en-titled to every possible chance facility titled to every possible chance, facility and remedy to recover, which we be-lieve is denied them in a large measure so long as the roar of the stone crusher and explosions in blastfng are con-er and explosions in blastfing are continued in the immediate yielnity.

This Grand Jury believe that more recoveries would be made were the Government to employ a resident physician, a specialist if possible, whose entire time could be given to the study and treatment of the inmates of the asylum. This belief is founded on the fact that all. State and Territorial asylum. This belief is founded on the fact that all State and Territorial asylums have a resident physician, and as being logical argument. Much would depend upon the person selected to fill such a position. Dr. Herbert's administration of Superintendent of the Asylum is most efficient and praiseworthy, and it could easily be possible to have a "resident" less satisfactory in results and management than the present non-resident superintendent.

Antecedents, family history and the questions of heredity are facts absolutely unascertainable in 90 per cent of the people who inmaje our asylum—a cosmopolitan throng of unfortunates unknown to any one up to the day they come up to claim public wardship on account of their deplorable condition, many of whom are unable to make themselves understood in English.

The manner of couking we found de-cidedly primitive; a brack furnace with

The dormitories we found kept in a neat and orderly manner, but here we found a matter to condemn, viz: the found a matter to condemn, viz: the absence of sanitary closets. To take the place of these were open pans or buckets to receive the excreta which must be carried downstairs in the

We strongly recommended a proper cesspool, with water closets, et at least some sort of dry earthen system, also, the same convenience for the sick word.

We do not find any system of re-wards for good behavior, giving some incentive toward reform

We find that the lands set apart for the school have been so encroached upon for the uses of public schools, etc., that there is no opportunity for agriculture being taught or practiced. The superintendent, after fourteen years of experience and careful attenyears of experience and careful atten-tion, is strongly in favor of a location for the school where fifty or more acres of land might be obtained for cultiva-tion, believing that with a good farm the school could be made nearly, if not quite, self-supporting. We cordially commend the superin-tendence of Mr. Needham, which sutendence of Mr. Needham, which superintendence has been carried on under many difficulties, owing to the lack of funds or appropriations, even the pairry sum of $500, given for the erection of harness and tinshops, not being of present use owing to the lack of instructors, as above mentioned.

The Grand Jury disapprove of the present system of committing boys to the Reform School for trivial offenses, such as truancy, disobedience, etc., where the comparatively innocent are thrown among really bad characters.

where the comparatively innocent are thrown among really bad characters. We disapprove also of boys being committed for short terms of ten days, one month and similar short periods. This makes the Reform School a jail for youthful miscreants, which we believe is not the intention in a reformatory school. We believe that a truant school would be a remedy for this feature, where boys sentenced for short terms and trivial offenses could be held and disciplined for the period of their sentence. sentence.

This Jury have nothing but commendation for the conditions as they exist at the prison, where discipline and scrupulous cleanliness appear to be most efficiently maintained. Separate quarters should be provided for prisoners held under committal for trial, as at present, they are, for want of room, confined in the same yard with convicted criminals.

This Jury believes and recommends that the photographs of political prisoners under the Republic of Hawaii, and the Provisional Government, should be removed from the archives of the prison, commonly termed the "Rogues' Gallery."

How much of this sum of $780.10 has been paid to the attorneys by Clerk Zablan the Grand Jury does not know, and it can only be ascertained by a checking of his receipts, which would consume several weeks' time, as the clerk of the court is at present overworked, and can only give a small part of his time daily to this work, and part of his time daily to this work, and in any case, we believe it would require more time than is available during the

The Grand Jury have found no evidence of embezzlement or defalcation in their investigation of the police court accounts, but there is an absolute absence of system in the keeping of accounts of the court. No cashbook or ledger is kept, and the money paid in is noted on the record of the case to which it pertains, and an off-setting memorandum made when the money is sent up to the Circuit Court, or otherwise disposed of.

GRAND JURY REPORT.

The Grand Jury in its report exp esed the average practical good sense of the people of Honolulu and Hasan or regard to handling certain actual and alleged abuses. The tone of the report shows that its writers had not be n touched either by the humbug of a pulitical judge, the hysteria of a yellow press or by the misrepresentation of three excited women, strangers to the phantle alternation which transthe people of Honolulu how they should erward that she was the daughter of ticket. run their own affairs.

The most satisfactory thing in the report-which in this respect that of the preceding Grand Jury is the flood of understanding and common sense it lets into a question which has roused a small but very earnest declamatory effect. We shall probably hear but little more about 'official participation and connivance,' "official profit," and of the possibility of improving the tone of the city by scattering the most victous classes among schools and homes.

But no more of this subject. Except as it comes to us in official documentsit will be carefully kept out of the columns of the Advertiser.

ROM the moment of the introduction of Senator Achi's resolution shortly after the Senate convened yesterday morning the Republicans and Independents were at swords points with each other and the debates on each side evidenced much of the bitter party feeling which is being engendered in the Senate.

Metaphors were indulged in and comparisons between the Territory and a new born babe were plentiful. A few futile attempts were made to prevent the trouble which was brewing but without avail. The chair was charged by two of the Senators with showing a partisan feeling in his rulings, and at the close of the afternoon session blows were only averted by a narrow

Gov. "There has never been a death from any cause in the British Club, said Gov. Cleghorn, "since the club-was founded in 1853." The old Donau reached here in December, 1869, needing repairs from the effects of a typhoon, and left in May, 1879.

Speaker Akina suggested suspending the rules to bring the bill before the House again. A bill should be read for the second time, and was subject to two motions, either to commit or print. Emmeluth did not know how the rules read, as he had no copy on his desk, but he knew a good deal of time was wasted in the simple transferring of bills from one stage to another. He thought the chair should be permitted to use his discretion in submitting bills without vote, if no objection is made to the priper committees or procedure. Time was money to the House, and this would become more and more aparent as the session neared its close, Makekau said time was valuable, but the House should not do useless work. The bill had passed a second time, and did not believe it could be reconsid-

Monsarrat felt that if the section passed it would work a great hardship in the country districts. He speke of the Kohala District, which, he said, could not muster ten American citizens to do road work, "and God knows we have been long enough without good roads," said he despairingly. If the bill passed in its present shape, he said his district would never get any roads, and he did not believe that such a bill should pass.

kaniho, "the fiddler of Kohala," thought it was a good law, with the amenaments presented by Robertson, but he had doubts, however, about the passage of a bill which provided only qualified voters to do the work. He was from the same district as Monsarrat, and he knew of nots of men there who wanted to work, but for whom there was no work. He thought the trouble lay in the government not g.ving them any work. The government did not pay enough, if sufficient wages were given he thought plenty of cit-zens of Knu would pick up the shovel zens of Kau would pick up the shovel and go to work. He was aware that the government work was given to Asiaties, because the wag s were very low. The speaker, at this juncture, requested Representative Dickey to take the chair. Dickey called the House to order as a committee of the whole to consider Bill 21.

Emmeluth thought the substitute was a good one. While listening to the discussion he realized how vital the bill was to the voters, and he had gone through the Governor's message and found no mention of "labor." Wolk in the government departments. The Hawaiian people had cried over this state of affairs. The Hawaiians should be content though, to eat "mysterious food of the country." The interpretation seemed to tickle the House members. The bill should be passed.

Beckley's amendment made the bill read: "That all public work, except as to court interpreters, shall be performed only by American citizens, who shall have resided in this Territory not less than three years."

Kumalae did not believe in paying out money to persons not citizens. The Board of Health had done this for many months past. He called attentions are named in addition to the old ones, such as an extension of the line on the plantiff paid Desky $150 on account of the purchase price of the lots and therefore I have said it is an agreement of sale and not an option, that was sought to be charged. Makekau was strongly in favor of adopting the first paragraph of the motion, but objected to the second. The of House was just considering bill 4. It was not proper to empower the com-mittee to bring in a new bil.

Emmeluth continued. He did not care by what means the result was brought, but he refused to vote on bill until a companion bill had been brought in authorizing the appointment of a committee to investigate the fire .

Beckley believed the motion of Emmeluth was in order. A new office in the Government was created by bill 4 whereby $30,000 was to be appropriated was to ascertain the proper claimants and the amount of their loss in the burned district. As the bill stood there was no provision made for awarding damages except by order of the court. This will be the last issue of the Humane Educator. It is the twelfth number, completing the year. Though the paper and the movement it represents have been well supported in some quarters, there is not the the general public co-operation which it is felt should be given to such an enterprise. The work that falls to the duty of a humane society in Honoiulu is no light burden, and the writer, after some ten years' efforts which it is her pleasure to know have saved many a dumb brute from ill-treatment, and which, it is hoped, have also helped to spread in our community the lessons of kindness in dealing with animals, intends now to lay aside the work and leave it to ether hands.

"Horolulu has no Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. In this respect it is far behind other American cities of its size. While they have well supported organizations of large membership, which take the lead in looking after the enforcement of the laws regarding the treatment of animals, Horolulu has left the task to a few willing individuals, who have spent time energy and money for years past. few willing individuals, who have spent time, energy and money for years past, in the effort to see that the laws of civilization with regard to dumb brutes were properly enforced. A special officer has been kept at work on a salary, paid by the embryo society. He has had no money from the public treasury, and his salary has come out of a very few pockets. It remains to be seen whether the public of Honolulu will bestir themselves now that those who have carried on the work are withdrawing, and see that an officer is kept on duty and properly supported.

The many respects we regret having to leave you, having been Isolated to leave you, having been Isolated to leave you, having been Isolated to gether, as it were, for so many years, but for several reasons I feel that duty leave always.

"In our journeyings we will probably be separated from you by long distances, still I hope that will not diminish the respect we feel for one another and which you have always shown to us."

"In the effort to see that the laws of children in the probably of a very few pockets. It remains to be seen whether the public of Honolulu will bestir themselves now that those who have carried on the work are withdrawing, and see that an officer is kept on duty and properly support.

animals looked into by the officer employed during the year. The officer found 285 horses and mules in harness that were unfit for work and were being cruelly driven; in 141 cases ne prevented the overloading of vehicles, or over-driving of the helpless animals attached to them, and in 67 cases he found it necessary to kill the animals to put them out of misery for which their owners had no sympathy.

"These figures should rouse some of our community to action. How many of us would stand by and see a helpless brute suffer at the hands of an inhuman owner and not lift a finger to interfere? Instinctive horror or crueity of all kinds is almost universal in civanimals looked into by the officer em-ployed during the year. The officer interfere? Instinctive horror or crucity of all kinds is almost universal in elyilized mankind, and ninety-nine men out of every hundred are ready to come forward with indignant remonstrance, or even angry interference, when they see an unresisting animal put to needless or excessive pain. Yet what is the difference between passive, iy shrugging the shoulders and passing by which a useless lash draws blood on the fishes of a horse to urge it to a task... cannot perform—perhaps, because the weight of its load drags against raw flesh on a sore snoulder—and calmily ignoring the facts because they are not presented to actual vistor. There were $49 cases of cruetty to animals in Honolulu during 1900; there will be approximately $49 cases of cruetty to animals in Honolulu during 1900; there will be approximately $49 cases of cruetty in 1901. "There is a field for noble work on the lines suggested, not only in Honoiulu, but all over the Islands, and not merely for lovers of animals—there is an educational side to the question which is of vast importance. It has before been stated in these columns that humane education lowers criminal records. This is a truism that needs no repetition. It is as evident as that one crime leads to another—that tendencies of disposition, like muscles, grow harder and stronger through exercise. There is a story, told in every nursery, that the emperor Nero, as a boy, loved to amuse himself by killing files. Taking the story as an illustration, perhaps if he had been turned to other amusements, the murder-loving side of his nature would have developed less.

"There is a field for noble work on the lower on the lines suggested, not only in Honoin that to had towards those officers and employers, to himself and towards those officers and employers, to himself and towards those officers and employers and employers, to himself and towards those officers and employers and employers and every find to the officers of the company, was to see Mr. Gibbs stand forward as successor to Mr. Moore and him testify to the latter's well known reputation and frankly admit that in following after Mr. Moore he fully recognized he had no easy road to travel. "To friends and supporters, the Humane Educator gives thanks. It repeats its thanks to the high sheriff and the police department for their assistance, and currently hopes they will soon have a full-fledged Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to Support in the same way.

Shall the 849 dumb brutes that will be tortured in Honolulu this year have no one to make for themselves?

"Of course there are the police to look after the matter. But it is no reflection upon the police of Honolulu to say that a special officer, employed and backed by a humane society, is needed. In no city is the ordinary police force to be relied upon to do the work of a humane society, a fact which is sufficiently proved by the existence of so many such societies. The local police have well supported the work of our special officer. From a sugar plantation to a cattle ranch is somewhat of a descent to those who believe there is nothing better than dividend paying shares of a planproperty belonging at one time to the new defunct American Sugar Plantation at Kaunakakai, Molokai, have considerable faith in the cattle business is a paying venture. A. W. Carter, G. J. Watter, E. H. Wodehouse, E. A. Mott-Smith and John Eaa, have just purchased 4,000 shares in the old sugar company, which gives them the control. Brewer & Co. sold the stock, and release not only the control of the proprty, but the agency as well.

The men who have bought the business intend to turn the entire plantation into a large cattle ranch with n customs. It was a 4,000 head of cattle, and about 14,000 head of sheep to begin with. More wid r; and to some few of be added at intervals until it becomes to supply any amount of live stock let loose on the premises. There is pienty of feed grass as well, and the pro-moters of the cattle ranch have no doubts whatever as to the business doubts whatever as to the business proving a productive one, and they point to the fact that cattle raising was originally conducted on the property. There are pumps and every facility to give the live stock all the water they need. Although too salt for raising cane, it is not a bad class of water for dislater our raise. REMEDIES

THE SET

Consisting of CUTICURA SOAP, to cleanse the skin, CUTICURA Ointment, to heal the skin, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, to cool the blood, is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring skin, scalp, and blood humours, rashes, itchings, and irritations, with loss of hair, when the best physicians, and all other remedies fail.

Millions of Women Use Cuticura Soap

Exclusively for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of trusts, scales, and damtruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and softening red, rough, and sore hands, in the form of baths for anneying irritations, inflammations, and chafings, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for uncertaive weaknesses, and for red many sanative antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, and especially mothers, and for all the purposes of the toolet, bath, and nursery. No amount of persuasion can induce these who have once used it to use any other, especially for preserving and purifying the skin, scalp, and hair of infants and children. Curiculas Soar combines delicate enoflient properties derived from Curiculas, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients and the most refreshing of flower odours. No other medicated soap ever compounded is to be compared with it for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands. No other foreign or domestic toilet soap, however expensive, is to be compared with it for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Thus it combines in One Soap at One Price, the mast skin and complexion soap, the next felict and BEST baby soap in the world. Solid through out the world.
