NO FIREWORKS AT OPENING OF CONVENTION

Everything Went Smoothly While
the Rain Dampened Enthusiasm.

BRECKONS IN THE CHAIR

Some Want to Adjourn Until Next Tuesday, but Majority Want to Get to Work.

And it rained. And the oratory,
though not lackluster, was much dampened; likewise the enthusiasm.
There really wasn't any excitement.
The program, so carefully prepared,
went through as smoothly as a Tammany slate. Breckons, as per prear-rangement, took the chair. Willie Harris gracefully moving to make it unanimous when he had heard enough votes announced to make it sure that he wasn't even in the running.

All of the above, of course, relates to the Republican county convention, which met at the Orpheum last night
and endeavored to make itself heard above the pelting of the rain on the roof overhead.

A malibini unacquainted with local political conditions might easily have supposed that all is harmony within the party, and that any such thing as a contest is utterly unheard of in Honolulu. There really wasn't a single fight of any consequence during the entire session, the only semblance of any such catastrophe being the nomination of R. W. Breckons and W. W. Harris for temporary chairman of the convention. But Breckons won out so handily that the slight contest could hardly be dignified by the term of "fight," and Harris, early recognizing his defeat, very cleverly headed off the leading of the total vote by moving,
before all the delegations had announced their votes, to make it unanimous for Breckons.

As a matter of fact, Breckons won out in everything. Like the careful organization man he is, he had everything planned out before the convention assembled and did not slip up on a single detail. He was ably backed up by the rest of his delegation, the fourth of the fourth, which, in effect, dominated the entire convention. Every proposition but one advanced by this delegation went through with hardly any opposition—once more demonstrating the value of organization and forethought.
For the fourth had in caucus carefully planned out every probable move, both of itself and the enemy, if any enemy appeared on the political horizon. The one exception was the important one of adjournment. The convention, evidently, does not want to wait.

All Smooth.

The convention didn't get very far,
but it went off like clockwork. On account of the rain, which was pouring down in bucketfuls when the convention was called to order, the galleries were not well filled, but most of the delegates were in their seats. Clarence Harris called the convention to order,
and after the usual preliminaries George
A. Davis nominated Robert W. Breckons
for temporary chairman, while J. A.
Kenny placed before the delegates
the name of W. W. Harris.

As soon as the voting commenced it became evident that it was all Breck-
ons. The total vote, though not announced to the delegates, was 147 for Breckons to 47 for Harris. This was taken by some as indicating the relative strength of Lane and Hueston as candidates for the nomination for mayor, it being generally taken for granted that Breckons is a Lane man.

MORE FUND AND EXTENDED POWERS

Platform Framers Asked to Insert Plank for Waterworks
and Right to Borrow.

An indication of the trend of the Republican campaign may be judged by the resolution offered last night by Oscar Cox of the Waiwala precinct, which was referred to the committee
on platform, which meets this morning to prepare its report, to be submitted to the convention this afternoon.

The resolution calls for the county convention to adopt a platform taking over the waterworks system from the Territory by the county, and to provide means whereby a possible loan made by the county may be met, interest and principal, by a sinking fund from a share of the inheritance tax and the liquor licenses. The resolution was taken in charge by the committee on platform, and possibly some of these suggested planks may be incorporated, although there may be opposition to the plan in general when the report is made to the convention. The resolution is as follows:

Be It Resolved, That the committee on platform is hereby requested to insert in the platform the following planks, to wit:

1. That the waterworks of Honolulu should be transferred to the city and county of Honolulu, with provisions to safeguard the interests of the Territory relating to bonds issued on account of said waterworks.
2. That the belt road around the island should be relocated and macadamized, and the principal streets in Honolulu should be blocked or paved; that the officers of the city and county should be provided by the municipal government with its own home; that more fire stations should be provided, so that the Kaimuki, Manoa and Kalihi stations
would be provided with fire stations;
that provision should be made in order to get more schoolhouses in the island.
3. In order to assist the above plans, the inheritance tax and the fees for liquor licenses should be divided equally between the Territory and the counties,
the money to be used to pay interest on principal of any loan which may be made by the municipality.
4. We demand honest conduct of public office and businesslike and economical administration of public affairs in the City and County of Honolulu.
5. We recommend the purchase of buildings of the Aala Park block for the enlargement of said park.

PLATFORM AND RULES COMMITTEES MEET TODAY

The Republican committee on rules will meet this morning at the office of J. F. Morgan, Kan-ahumanu street, at ten o'clock.
The committee on platform
will meet at the office of A. L. C.
Atkinson, Judd building, at nine o'clock this morning.

LITTLE STORIES ABOUT POLITICS

F. E. Steere stated yesterday when the Star story of Makalea's treachery was shown him, that the Manoa insurgent committee had not paid him $500. Mr. Steere stated, also, that the expense incurred by the insurgents in the campaign against Andrews were legitimate and only legitimate, and included the expense of the luau given the night before the primaries. As to the liquor interests he stated that he was now aware that the liquor people had been working among the Manoa people, independently, and that they did spend money right and left, but the sole purpose of the liquor men was to defeat Andrews.

Eben Low, a delegate of the Manoa precinct, stated he knew nothing of

CIVIC PRIDE AND COOPERATION

These Are Needed to Make a
City, Says Lyman Before
Commercial Club.

Civic pride, cooperation of citizens clubs and centralization of effort for public welfare, were the principal elements of an able address before the Commercial Club at noon yesterday by David B. Lyman, a leading attorney of Chicago for the past forty years, but born at Hilo. The address was dignified and contained many features which point to necessity for action along civic lines in Honolulu.

The speaker has a dry humor which permeated his address which was replete with homely tales for illustrative purposes. Forcefully he called attention to the need of action of making the volcano of Kilauea and the drive leading to it from Hilo a national reservation,
saying that this was the age for public parks and public reservations throughout the American republic. His address was also filled with tributes to the Hawaiians who left estates of hereditary ownership for charitable and educational purposes, and dwelt upon the example so set as being capable of duplication by other moneyed residents of Hawaii.

Mr. Lyman was a guest at the table of President E. H. Paris, at which were also guests United States Judge Robertson, Doctor Emerson, Attorneys Olson, Stanley and F. E. Thompson. Mr.
Lyman, in opening, said he realized
more and more the power of commercial clubs and other kindred organizations.
This is an age of centralization. Men were busy nowadays and it was necessary to centralize efforts for all to do
each his share in the common work.
Every growing city has commercial clubs
and wherever they are these cities are always clean. He referred to the progressive commercial club of Chicago which was one of the most active organizations and helps to create civic pride and to raise public issues above sectional and factional struggles.

Honolulu needed a commercial club.
The city was in the formative period,
and the world is beginning to realize that Hawaii is in the midst of one of the most active sections on the globe.
He always felt proud to have been born in the smallest kingdom in the world.
As to his own city of Chicago he had seen the city grow from 150,000 to 2,500,000 population. They had had most terrible civic problems, and it has all developed good, strong law-abiding citizens who dropped personal matters, with organizations which tackled all the live questions, standing them all the time, getting in touch with the political parties and always winning out. There was the great fire which brought them

MARINES GO IN DECEMBER

Battalion at Marine Barracks
Will Be Relieved From Mainland.

The latter part of November or the early part of December will be the time for the departure of the battalion of marines at Marine Barracks for the mainland. The battalion has been stationed here about two years, which is the prescribed tour of duty for a station.

As far as known the marines will go to the mainland for station, and will probably be distributed at various navy yards or assigned to duty, by detachments aboard the big warships.

The battalion will be replaced by an equal number of men from the mainland.

The present marine aggregation has become well connected with the city, in social and athletic affairs, and the officers have become almost a part of the community, which will regret their departure. Major Long has been commandant during the entire stay of the battalion here.

Other changes in the personnel of the naval station are contemplated, and probably the paymaster may, after all,
be assigned to duty elsewhere, his tour of two years' duty having come to an end. It was thought he would remain here for a much longer period, but after all may have to move on in accordance with the regulations covering details of duty. Rear-Admiral Rees, commandant, although retired, has been ordered to remain on duty as commandant, the length of additional duty being indefinite.

LEADING HAWAII TO DEMOCRACY

Wall Street Journal Comments
on Islands' "Foreign Complications."

Says the Wall Street Journal:—Late
in the sixties a few gentlemen, assembled at Secretary Seward's house in Washington, were discussing the reciprocitiy treaty brought by Judge Harris from Honolulu. One objection was that it might ultimately lead to annexation and foreign complications.
Mr. Seward then made use of the following observations, which were so remarkable that the writer, who was present, made a note of them:

"Policies suitable to adolescence are ill-fitted to manhood. It is the mission of the United States to lead the world to democracy, and it can not continue to do this by staying at home. Some day or other we shall have to go abroad. This means an abandonment of the protective system, the cultivation of foreign markets, the organization of a sea-going navy, and the acquisition of commercial outposts."

What has happened since? We have acquired Alaska, the Hawaiian Islands, Guam and the Philippines, to say nothing of Porto Rico, Panama and certain other "commercial outposts." We are sinking $500, 000,000 in the Panama Canal—for what purpose? Chiefly in the hopes to gain the Chinese trade, the only trade of sufficient magnitude to warrant the outlay. And we relinquished a portion of the Boxer indemnity in order to assure the Chinese that our desire to trade with them is natural, sincere and unmixed with any political design.
Plenty business; good friends.

In conformity with the policy of William H. Seward and John Hay, our colonial administration of the Philippines is making distinctive arrangements to push the Asiatic trade, while the railway system of Alaska appears to be speedily approaching that shore
of the straits which is destined ultimately to connect the road with a line of steamers to Manchuria and China.

The course of our principal commerce in the future will not be eastward, but westward; and commerce means not the higgling gains of rival manufacturers, but the generous profits of international exchange.

The first step in this business will be to cut down our tariff to a commercial level; the next will be to assist China to bring her monetary system into such harmony with our own that it will form no obstacle to trade; then full steam ahead.

KONA CREW ANNOUNCE COMING BY WIRELESS

Tom King received a wireless yesterday from Kona, Hawaii, stating that the Hawaiian outrigger crew would be on hand for the Regatta Day canoe races without fail. Kenneth Brown, the captain of the hulk crews of the Outrigger Club at Waikiki, has had considerable difficulty in getting his men together this year and while he will not have all the same boys who made up last year's crews, he said yesterday that he was sure his four-paddle crew would win against the Hawaiians and the six-paddle crew would be very close.

MR. BALLINGER'S HONOR HIT HARD

Democratic Minority Finds He's Unworthy of Confidence of the Public.

WAS UNTRUE TO HIS TRUST

Republican Majority Calls Meeting in Chicago, but Democrats Won't Go.

MINNEAPOLIS, September 10.—Republican members of the special congressional committee investigating Ballinger have given notice of a meeting to be held on Tuesday in Chicago for the consideration of their decision as to the truth or falsity of the charges against the secretary of the interior.
Yesterday the Republican members of the committee failed to attend the meeting held here and the Democratic chairman ruled that there was no
quorum.

The Democrats will now follow the action of the Republicans and will refuse to attend the meeting of the Republican members of the committee to be held in Chicago.

They made announcement to that effect today and have made public their minority report which finds, in a seath-ing arraignment, that Secretary Ballinger has been untrue to his trust and that he is unworthy of public confidence. The minority report declares that he should be asked to resign his official position.

Pinchot and Glavis are declared to have been, according to the evidence brought out in the investigation, ever faithful to the interests of the people.
The committee has adjourned to meet in Washington, D. C., on December 3.

ALLEGED LORIMER BRIBER ACQUITTED

CHICAGO, September 9.—L. O'Neil
Browne, Democratic leader in the last Illinois house of representatives, was today acquitted of the charge of bribery brought against him in connection with the alleged payments of bribe money to secure the election of Lorimer as United States senator. Browne was accused mainly on the testimony of Representative White, who declared that he had been paid $1000 by Browne to vote for Lorimer. Other charges are pending against Browne.

TWENTY THOUSAND VIEW AERONAUT'S AWFUL AGONY

SACRAMENTO, September 10.—During the aeronautics at the annual State fair here yesterday, Aviator Charles Hamilton, flying in a biplane, was hurled to the ground from a height of sixty feet when his machine became unmanageable.

The desperate efforts of the airman
to control his engine when he realized that something was wrong were viewed by a crowd of twenty thousand visitors
at the fair.

Hamilton was seriously injured by the precipitation, suffering great agony
from his wounds.

TEDDY SEES ALICE AND THEN TALKS

CINCINNATI, September 10.—Ex-
President Roosevelt arrived here today and visited his daughter Alice and her husband, Congressman Nicholas Longworth.

Following the family call, Colonel Roosevelt addressed a large gathering
of citizens, both admirers and critics, declaring enthusiastically for the increase of the power of central government.

Roosevelt defended his already famous doctrine of "new nationalism," emphasizing what he believes to be the necessity of giving to the federal government still greater powers over national affairs, for the benefit of the entire Republic.

NO FIREWORKS AT OPENING OF THE CONVENTION

and Harris a Haste supporter. But it is doubtful if the actual vote for mayoralty candidate will concern very closely to the vote above mentioned.

Oratory Lacking.

Oratory was not much in evidence last night—perhaps the voices of the political Demosthenes were put out of commission by the pouring rain. Be that as it may, all the speeches were short and devoid of the flowery figures that generally distinguish the efforts of the Hawaiian speechmakers. It would task any man's voice to make itself heard above the thunder of the rain on the tin roof of the Orpheum, anyhow.

Precinct Jobbers Win.

When the credentials committee took up its labors, it had one contest to consider, that of the voters of the sixth precinct who considered that they had been defeated by a crooked political deal. But, as had been expected, the Bartlett-Brewer-Wise combination won out and their delegates were seated.

Some discussion took place as to whether the convention, after having been regularly organized, should go ahead with its work or should adjourn to await the action and platform of the territorial convention which meets next Monday. E. A. Douthitt headed the faction that was in favor of expediting matters and going ahead at once. The committees on rules and platform were appointed and the convention adjourned to two o'clock to-day. The chances are that at that time there will be another contest between those who favor going ahead with the selection of candidates for the county offices, leaving the territorial candidates to be nominated after the territorial convention shall have adjourned, and those who favor concluding the entire business of the county convention as speedily as possible.

It now appears likely, however, that today the candidates for county offices

THE CONVENTION.

At seven-thirty C. L. Crabbe, chairman of the county committee, called the convention to order, but his voice was almost drowned by the fall of rain on the iron roof. Secretary called the roll with results as follows:

Fourth district, 123.

Fifth district, 84.

A majority being present, the convention was declared ready for business. Geo. A. Davis for the fourth precinct of the fourth district nominated E. W. Breckons as temporary chairman, as a loyal Republican, and with him in the chair he believed the convention would close its business with a united front.

J. A. Kennedy of the fifth precinct endorsed W. W. Harris as the vote for his precinct. The nominations closed, both candidates being received with cheers and applause.

Davis moved that the chairmen of the different delegations announce the vote of their delegations. Carried. J. H. Boyd arose to discuss the motion to vote by delegations but was told he was too late as the matter had been settled.

J. H. Boyd for the fourth district of Breckons be unanimous. This was received with applause and the motion carried with a shout.

At this juncture Delegate Kuhio arrived, as also A. L. C. Atkinson, who were invited to the stage. Temporary Chairman Breckons was escorted to the stage by Geo. A. Davis and Sol Mahelona.

No Oratorical Fireworks.

Mr. Breckons said it was too damp for oratorical fireworks, and he would leave that for the permanent chairman. He said, however, he had heard a request for Delegate Kuhio to come up on the platform, but get him in the platform," he said. (Applause.) He then called for the election of a temporary secretary, and Jas. W. Lloyd received the appointment, on motion of J. J. Belser.

Breckons suggested a committee on credentials. He suggested a committee to be composed of one member of each precinct. The secretary was asked to call each delegation. The choice resulted as follows:

Committee on Credentials.

The committee thus nominated was: E. A. Douthitt, Thos. Cummins, Geo. P. Denison, John Waterhouse, O. C. Swain, A. L. Bright, C. L. Olo, Vincent Fernandez, R. D. King, J. H. Wise, A. Akani, U. N. Jones, Mark A. Robinson, L. K. Neane, C. Bridges, Edward Here, J. J. Mundon, F. E. Greenfield, J. H. Travis, Eddie Marino, E. J. Gay, W. K. Simerson, A. S. Kaleiopi, W. H. Thornton, Chang Chan and William Henry.

Kaleiopi moved the convention take a recess until after the credentials committee could make its report. The motion passed and the convention broke up while the committee went over the list of delegates.

Kakaako Protest Ignored.

The committee held a session, at which the protest of the sixth precinct was ignored on the ground that the protestants had failed at the primary nominating meeting to put in its list of nominees in writing. In the seventh of the fourth, Nihui Manuwal was put in the delegation in place of Chas. Costa absent. "Sorry" Gay was made proxy for De Coito, who is in Kana'i.

Chairman Breckons said that with one exception all names would be members of the convention, and this would be explained by the chairman of the committee.

Chairman Douthitt of the credentials committee made a brief explanation of the sixth precinct protest, as above shown. The report was accepted, on motion of J. H. Boyd of the first of the fourth.

Permanent Organization.

J. P. Cooke moved that the temporary officers be made the permanent officers of the convention. The motion was put by Mr. Cooke and passed unanimously.

Breckons said he had prepared to say a number of good things about them, but he would wait until he felt they would justify his prophecy.

He tried to get the Delegate on the platform, and he said "No," but he said, he wouldn't until the chairman made a certain speech about it all. He knew and felt that the speech he had carefully prepared would not need revision when they were through. The honest body of men which he saw before him could not go wrong. With the assistance of the interpreter, he intended to make that speech.

The convention vigorously applauded the compliment to itself.

"The next matter is, when are nominations to be made?" said the chair. There were differences of opinion. Some politicians said it should go over until after the territorial convention. He therefore wanted an expression of opinion. He asked the chairman of the fourth of the fourth as to what course his delegation wished to pursue.

Wanted to Defer.

Mr. Cooke said his delegation was in favor of postponing all action until after the territorial convention had met. They could not proceed intelligently before the platform was adopted. The county platform should be consistent with the territorial platform. The delegation was in favor of having the whole business go over until after the territorial convention had passed upon its platform, after which all nominations should be made.

Mr. Cooke asked to hear from other chairmen and suggested a vote be taken by delegations.

E. A. Douthitt said many delegates were from the country districts at some expense. A platform committee could be appointed tonight to confer with the territorial delegates and report this morning. He believed the convention should go ahead and finish its work at once. Applause followed this statement.

H. E. Murray said it seemed improbable anything the county did would be in contravention to anything the territorial convention would do, and he asked for an immediate vote.

A. S. Kaleiopi could not see how the convention could proceed without rules to guide its deliberations. It was customary to have a committee on rules appointed and he so moved. The motion was seconded by Dan Logan.

LANE AND A FEW FROM THE FIFTH.

Explaining just how the play came up.

will be nominated and then the convention will adjourn over to await the action of the territorial convention before naming candidates for the legislature.

Breckons and his cigarette were inseparable, as usual, except for a few minutes when a committee of two was delegated to escort him to the platform. The two men took him by the arms, and although he hung on to the smoke as long as possible, he really had to drop it when he reached the platform, so as to address the convention.

Jimmie Lloyd, of Siberia, was made secretary of the convention on account of his ability to write shorthand. Then Jimmie Boyd demanded an interpreter, although probably all the delegates understand the English language, and Eli Crawford was elected to the position. He had to work harder than anybody else for the interpreter had to interpret a lot of things that were never said—as is the custom of most Hawaiian interpreters.

The joke of the evening took place when John Wise was appointed a member of the committee on credentials. Even the most hardened organization men snickered.

Rivals Watched Each Other.

Charlie Hustace, aspirant for the mayoralty, occupied his seat in the delegation from the fifth of the fourth, but his chief opponent, John Lane, hovered about in the galleries sizing up the situation. A few other notables were in the outside seats, including Albert Judd and Rudolph Buchly. Colonel Knox graced a seat in the section reserved for the fifth district delegates.

Joe Cohen stood in the background and counted up the house, mournfully lamenting the fact that none of them had paid admission. "It's the best house I've ever had," he groaned, "and there's no money in it."

Lorrin Andrews peeped in but didn't show himself.

The lone delegate from the eleventh of the fourth created a ripple of laughter when he had to nominate himself as a member of the credentials committee because there was no one else to nominate.

Ed. Towse circulated wistfully but that was about all.

The real work of the convention will probably begin this afternoon when the committees on rules and platform make their reports. It seems to be conceded that the unit rule will prevail but the secret ballot will probably be defeated.

Joe Lead was busy leading delegates during recesses down the Young Hotel alley. He was said to be boosting himself for deputy sheriff.

SAYS CLUBS SHOULD NAME CONSOLIDATION COMMITTEES

John R. Galt Suggests Plan to Effect Merger of Auto and Yacht Organization—The Scheme Generally Favored.

"The Hawaii Yacht Club needs the life," said John R. Galt, member of the latter, yesterday when asked for his views on the proposed consolidation of the two, "and it would be a good thing to get them together, talking won't do it. To accomplish anything some one with executive ability who can spare the time must work it. The best way to start the movement would be for each of the two clubs to appoint a committee and these committees get together and frame up, then select the best available man to carry out the arrangements. Those about here who take an interest in yachting happen to be men of moderate means. They do a little sailing, but when a race or any affair of magnitude is gotten up they have to go around begging from the public to make it. Those who own automobiles, however, must be comfortably well off and in this sport, but the trouble with the automobile club here is that the members haven't enough interest to draw them together. We used to hold a meeting once in a while in the recreation committee rooms, but we haven't come together for a long time and the organization is practically dead. M. F. Prosser, who is not a member of either club, suggested the merger and he would be a good man having it about, but he says he can't spare the time. If the automobile owned a clubhouse to go to down along the shore where they would come in with the yachtsmen they would be able to get interested in boating and the things up, while the yachtsmen would benefit in the way of financing their affairs."

Prosser said that the motorists who take auto rides now have no particular interest in going and nothing to do when they get there. Having this in mind he conceived the idea to combine the auto and automobile clubs, build an attractive clubhouse closer in town than the present Hawaii Yacht Club is located, so the motorists would have a place to go to where they could have dinner and take a short trip by moonlight. This diversion in the auto trip there and back, he thought, would greatly enhance the pleasure of motoring and the owners of cars would get interested in sailing; the roadster contingent would soon acquire a fleet of launches and enjoy themselves immensely while the yachtsmen would be made glad by the financial boost; both lines of sport would be materially benefited and everybody would be happy.

Commodore James E. Jaeger, of the Hawaii Yacht Club, was sounded on the proposition yesterday and he said, "That's the only thing to do." Will McNerny was highly in favor of the proposed scheme and said that with a nice clubhouse on the shore front down about Aiea some of the members would probably build cottages along the beach and a colony of autoists and yachtsmen would spring up there.

Alexander Hume Ford wished to be quoted to the effect that if the two clubs did consolidate, which he considered a good move, they would do well to secure club rooms down at Haleiwa in addition to the clubhouse at Aiea. This would give them a greater diversity of sports than yachting and motoring, for they would have both fresh water and the sea for bathing and fishing and would have tennis and golf as well. The yacht crews and the auto parties could change places at Haleiwa, the yachtsmen returning by auto and the motorists by sail. The bay at Haleiwa, Ford said, would make a fine rendezvous for yachts and the road is in good condition all the way, while the distance is only about thirty miles from Honolulu.

PREDICTS MORE PENALTIES UNDER NEW RULES

NEW HAVEN, August 20.—Candidates for the Yale varsity football team have received final orders to report on Monday, September 12, at Lakeville, Conn. Capt. F. J. Daly plans to spend from September 12 till September 27, the day before the opening of college, in rudimentary drill there. None of the Yale football officials has yet appeared except Walter Camp, who has been here most of the summer.

Mr. Camp says that the officials will have an extremely difficult task enforcing the rules this fall, as they will be compelled to watch many places at once and looks for more than double the penalties usually enforced. Otherwise he has not commented on the rules. Captain Daly has been spending the summer in Canada and Head Coach E. H. Cox has been in a lumber camp in Wisconsin with his brother, Sherwood Cox, the former Yale end.

While no announcement has been made, it is rumored that Yale's veteran coach, George Foster Sanford, will be seen frequently with the eleven this fall and that he will appear at Lakeville as soon as the players report. Yale football players have been in despair at making anything constructive and definite out of the new rule code and have appealed to Sanford to help them.

It is deeply regretted at Yale that Howard Jones, who was a splendid tactician, cannot be secured for Yale this fall, but Jones gave his entire time to giving Yale a champion eleven last year and will be at Ohio State University this fall.

Yale begins this season with the smallest number of veterans on any eleven in years. Only Captain Daly, J. B. Kilpatrick and Quarterback Howe are in college. Walter Camp, Jr., and Holladay, Phillips and Spalding, the back field of the freshmen last fall, are prominent candidates for the team.

INDIANA MILITIAMAN WINS INDIVIDUAL SHOOT

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, August 26.—The National individual rifle match was won by Sergt. Scott Clark of company D, second Indiana regiment, who by two points led Capt. Frederick H. Heidenreich of the District of Columbia.

The military rifle championship of the United States, which goes to the contestant making the highest aggregate score in the President and national individual matches, was won by Corporal Earnshaw of the marine corps, who scored 547. Corp. Harry L. Adams, troop 546, and Corp. W. A. Eganer of the marine corps third with 544.

The national pistol match was won by Captain Pearl of the coast artillery corps, who scored 419. Private Dennis, troop A, Ohio, was second with 418. The winners of the special $20 prizes were:

Slow fire, Captain Hopkins, 72; rapid fire, Captain Hopkins, 105; timed fire, Sergeant Major Elliott, first Missouri, 174. The 10 leaders' scores in the national individual match were as follows:

Sergeant Clark, Co. D, 2d Indiana, 274; Capt. Heidenreich, D. of C., 272; Corp. Adams, troop C, 15th Cav., 270; Militiaman Smith, Navy, 268; Corp. W. Farnham, Marine corps, 266; Corp. Nesler, troop A, 1st Wis. Cav., 265; Sergt. Klein, troop D, 15th Cav., 265.

COMING ON SIERRA TO COACH FOOTBALL TEAM

Austin Jones Will Train College of Hawaii Boys Under New Rules.

Austin Jones, who is to coach the football team of the College of Hawaii, is expected back from the Coast on the steamer Sierra which is due here next Friday. The team have already received their new uniforms which Jones selected for them in the States and as soon as their coach arrives the team will start training. The football players of the college have been studying the new rules which were formulated this year so that they just need to put them into practice to get familiar with them. There are many changes, but with the exception of one or two radical departures, the 1910 game will be very similar to that of 1909.

The most noticeable changes from a spectator's point of view are the fact that the field once more takes on the appearance of a gridiron, abandoning its checker-board marking, and that there will be four periods instead of two halves. The first change is due to the fact that the forward pass can go over the line of scrimmage at any point and that the man with the ball can advance in any direction. The division of the game into four periods of 15 minutes, replacing the former halves, will seem strange at first, but it will only be a short time before the spectator becomes as used to the periods as to the halves.

The game will start as heretofore, the captain winning the toss choosing goal or kickoff. At the end of the first and third periods the ball will be placed in the corresponding place on the opposite side of the center to that at which it was downed when the whistle blew signifying the end of those periods. The time between these periods will be three minutes and between the second and third it will be ten minutes. Starting third period the side kicking off has the option of kicking off or receiving the kick.

The new rules which will govern the forward pass are expected not only to take away the element of personal danger evident last year, but to make it a more finished play. The ball cannot now be passed behind the line of scrimmage, and no player can be interfered with in any way after he has passed the line of scrimmage and before he has gone more than 20 yards. This will prevent the bowling over of players unable to protect themselves and will make it compulsory to try to catch the ball. The reduction of the penalty for an incomplete pass will also tend to make it a more popular play.

With the exception of the forward pass, the defensive rules are practically the same as in the old game.

The fact that pulling and hauling will not be allowed in the new game and the requiring of seven men in the line of scrimmage at all times have materially weakened the offense to all outward appearances; but the new rules have also made changes which are expected materially to make up for these losses. The offense has gained one man through the fact that the player who receives the ball can advance with it at once in any direction. The fact that the forward pass can go over the line of scrimmage at any point should also help the offense materially.

That the modifying committee had a difficult task on its hands is very evident. A close study of the new rules will also show that they have worked hard in an effort to eliminate all the objectionable features of the 1909 game without materially affecting its system of play, and while it will take the actual playing of this fall's games to show how successful they have been in this direction, it would seem as if the rules would prove satisfactory to every one.

CATCHES BALLS FROM WASHINGTON MONUMENT

WASHINGTON, August 25.—Catcher William Sullivan of the Chicago Americans duplicated the feat of Catcher Chas. Street of the Washington American league team last year in catching a baseball thrown from a window at the top of the Washington monument, a perpendicular drop of 542 feet. It is estimated that the ball was traveling at the rate of 161 feet a second when caught.

Subsequently Mr. Sullivan caught two more balls thrown from the monument window. After observing Sullivan's first attempt and ultimate success, White ascended the monument, and standing well back within the window, hurled ball after ball as far as he could. Sullivan caught the first one and the 49th. Of ten balls thrown by White the catcher could get under one other, but he was unable to hold that one.

FIVE WRENS TO RACE FOR THE HOWARD CUP

Wilder Enters Swan for Harbor Event to Be Sailed Tomorrow.

At nine-fifty-five o'clock tomorrow morning the get-ready gun will give the signal to slip anchor and at ten o'clock sharp the sea wren fleet will round into the wind for a get away in the race for the Howard cup in which Howard Bowen has planted one leg. If Bowen wins again tomorrow with his Sea Mew the trophy will go to him on two legs, but if he doesn't his one leg is off, for the one who gets the cup must win two events in succession. The other entries are: George Crozier, with his Galloping Mary; Charley Wilder, with his Swan; Captain Reilly, with his Dancing Sally; and Bob Hendry with William McNerny's Roaring Glimlet.

The course is from the starting line between the Myrtle boathouse and a float anchored in the harbor to the striped can buoy off the peninsula, leaving this to port, along the channel north and east of Ford's Island, leaving the black stake to port, to a mark anchored off the Waianae mill, leaving this to starboard, and following the channel around Ford's Island, leaving the outer stake to starboard, back and across the starting line, to and around the mark anchored about a mile from the clubhouse, this to be left to starboard, and back to the starting line.

WANTS MYRTLES TO SEND IN NAMES OF FRIENDS

All members of the Myrtle Boat Club wishing invitations sent to friends to attend the Regatta Day sports as guests of the club are requested to notify R. B. Rietow at room number two hundred and seven, Judd Building, telephone number 1294.

SUPERVISORS WILLING TO LOOK AFTER GAME

Quinn Says Ordinance Should Be Passed to Prohibit Shooting for a While.

"An ordinance ought to be passed to prohibit the shooting of game birds on Oahu for two or three years," declared Supervisor Quinn yesterday afternoon, when interrupted in the heat of a political confab by the sporting editor of The Advertiser, "but don't quote me until after the nominations," he added. Queried further, Mr. Quinn said that the supervisors should look after the protection of the game on this island, and then he flitted away to confer with one of his constituents.

Supervisor Logan was quizzed a little on the game protection subject and he stated that the supervisors were afraid of their shadows. "Something ought to be done," he asserted, "to stop the slaughter of the birds, but the supervisors haven't the authority at the present time to order the sheriff to detail an officer to act as game warden. The supervisors may complain if the sheriff is remiss in the duties of his office, but if we complained that he was neglecting his duty in not detailing a game warden he might say that his force was not large enough to spare a man on this special service."

The supervisors are evidently willing to exercise such prerogative as they have in the premises and it only remains for the sportsmen interested to take the matter up with the supervisors and if there is any legislation necessary to get together and work for it.

KINGSTON, Jamaica.—An invitation has been received by the cricketers of Port Antonio from the Philadelphia team, which last year visited Jamaica, to pay a return visit to the United States next June to play a series of matches. The news was enthusiastically received.

SAINTS WOULD PLAY PUNAHOU FOR PURSE

Say Adversaries Refused Them Satisfaction—Puns Talk of Swelled Heads.

The Saints say they are just getting back at the Puns at the latter's own game; that once when the Puns played a tie game with the Saints the Puns claimed the championship on the ground that they had not been beaten and refused to play it off then, so now the Saints claim the championship, having won every game in the big league series even defeating the Puns. The Puns say: "The Saints have got a swelled head. They think nothing but a professional team from the Coast can beat them, but let them give us a chance. If they can beat us three games out of five we will acknowledge them the champions, but they are afraid to do that. They were lucky enough to pull through without losing a game in the league series and they are afraid now to accept our challenge. There is nothing doing after two o'clock on Regatta Day and the afternoon of that day would be just the time to start a championship series."

"If the Puns are so anxious to play us let them put up their share of a substantial purse," exact the dictators, "and we will play them for the purse and the gate receipts. If they don't want to play as bad as that then it's all off."

VOTE FOR MARCALLINO TO GET BASEBALL LEGISLATION

Antonio Marcallino, the baseball diplomat, is hustling around these days for votes to score a run into the legislature and the fans are promising him theirs. If he gets in there will probably be some good baseball legislation. The leagues will draft bills authorizing appropriations to send teams to the States and Marcallino, with his persuasive oratory, will put them through. All those interested in promotion work will vote for Antonio Marcallino, the mediator.

THE CONVENTION'S DUTY.

The Republican county convention got a good start last night with a good chairman in charge. What is needed now is the nomination of the county ticket before the convention adjourns this evening. If it is decided best to await the action of the territorial convention before nominating the legislative ticket, well and good, but the reasons that would make this course wise cannot apply to the purely county end of the ticket.

The sooner that is nominated and the delegates given a chance to forget the contests over the mayoralty, the shrievalty, the auditorship and the supervisors, the better.

There has been criticism of past conventions because the delegates concentrated their attention on the county ticket and paid too little attention to the matter of nominating representatives. By nominating the county ticket today and adjourning for a day or two until things cool back to normal, the proper deliberation may accompany the naming of the party standard bearers for the legislature, while they will know what platform they are running on.

There is a wing of the convention prepared to kill time. The majority wants to get to work. The majority can rule, unless the time killers prove smarter.

It is up to the majority.

SOME MANOA EXPOSURES.

"A remarkable and sordid story of political graft," is a portion of the headline the Star puts over a review of the Manoa precinct fight, adding that "insurgents got very substantial help which they did not know about," this being one bribery fund of five hundred dollars, paid out to corrupt the Hawaiians of the precinct by some of the liquor interests. The Advertiser is glad to see that the Star is finding out some of the particulars of the Manoa fight. The Advertiser warned the Manoaites early in the fight that they did not know what they were doing, that they had mired themselves in a political cesspool and that they had become allies of the forces for corruption that were fighting Andrews all along the line in both the fourth and fifth districts. All the credit this paper got for its warnings was the announcement in an open letter that the reports were "vicious and untrue." The Star has now uncovered a portion of the mess to which this paper referred and the half has not yet been told.

This paper rests content with the knowledge that time will prove the correctness of its stand in the Manoa precinct fight.

THE LORIMER CASE.

As is unfortunately too often the case in similar matters, the trial of Lee O'Neil Browne in Illinois on a charge of bribery, on which he was yesterday acquitted, was complicated with politics. One jury was hung, the next was dismissed because the judge had reason to believe there had been wholesale tampering with the talesmen, the third acquitted the defendant.

A resume of the Lorimer case, that Senator Lorimer bribed his way into the United States Senate being the charge on which the action against Browne was instituted, is given by Charles Edward Russell in the Cosmopolitan Magazine, as follows:

On May 26, 1909, the legislature of Illinois in joint session elected to the United States Senate, William Lorimer, long the Republican boss of Cook County and powerful and autocratic in state affairs. The election was accomplished chiefly by fifty-three Democrats that joined with a knot of Republicans to elect Lorimer over A. J. Hopkins, the regular Republican candidate. This action by Democratic members (who deserted the candidate chosen by their own primary) aroused suspicion in even the simplest minds. Many Republicans and Republican newspapers in Illinois did not care much for Mr. Lorimer. In one of these newspapers, the Chicago Tribune, appeared on April 30, 1910, a confession by Charles A. White, a Democratic representative in the legislature, that he had been bribed with $1000 to vote for Lorimer and that the bribe had been paid to him by Lee O'Neil Browne, the Democratic leader in the lower house.

Upon the publication of this astounding document, which was absolutely cold-blooded and circumstantial, the state's attorney of Cook County, in which Chicago is situated, secured the indictment of Browne for bribery, and wrested from other members of the legislature confessions that corroborated White's. These indicated that Lorimer's election had been bought by the payment of a very large sum, possibly $250,000.

REMEMBER THE COFFEE PLANTER.

One of the things the framers of the territorial platform might very well take into consideration is the insertion of a plank pledging the Delegate to work for the enactment of a tariff duty upon coffee.

The question of a duty on the berry is by no means a dead issue. In the last session, thanks as much as anything else to the persistency of A. Louissou as a lobbyist, the duty came within an ace of being imposed, having been at one time actually inserted in the tariff bill. At the present time, the firm of Crossman & Sieleken, the great New York coffee house, one of the strongest in the world, is working for a coffee tariff.

In this connection, the Tea and Coffee Trade Journal for August says: Not a few people in the trade believe that Mr. Sieleken is getting ready to urge a duty on coffee before the next congress. The notion that this is the only way in which the final salvation of the valorization scheme can be worked out is gaining ground every day.

Some editorial utterances on this topic in our last issue have called down upon our heads some criticisms from certain trade quarters. One subscriber writes us, wanting to know whether we are really in favor of a duty on coffee. We shall answer him by saying that as a general proposition we are not in favor of a duty on coffee, especially where it is designed to save the skins of a group of speculators. At the same time we do believe that in so far as the growing of coffee is an American industry in Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines, the coffee planters in those countries are entitled to some measure of protection. The sugar interests are protected—why not the coffee interests?

Yesterday was one of the warmest days temperately and politically that the Crossroads of the Pacific has ever experienced. In the words of the poet: "It was fierce."

Lane repeats that he has made no promises of jobs, but he dodges the main question. What the public is entitled to know is whether he will promise NOT to appoint an incompetent like Wise as road supervisor.

The Republican members of the Ballinger investigation committee are hurting the secretary almost as much by refusing to attend the commission meeting to vote for him as if they had attended and voted against him.

There is no significance in the presence of Shark Oil Walker in town at the time of the Republican conventions.

Quinn and Logan are the two members of the old board of supervisors out for another term who deserve renomination and reelection.

Has anyone heard anyone making a noise like a Democrat?

ENCOURAGEMENT TO TRICKERY.

The Republican county convention last night missed an opportunity to declare in favor of clean politics. The acceptance of the delegations from the sixth and the seventh precincts of the fourth without in some way criticizing their manner of election and their personnel made each member of the convention a party to as dirty a piece of political trickery as has ever been pulled off in this Territory.

Everyone knows that the delegates from these Kakaako precincts were elected by sharp practise, everyone in the convention knows that there are members of the delegation from the seventh who have no right in the convention as representing that precinct, yet the delegations were seated and not a voice was raised against their being seated.

This may be politics. It may even be smart to allow the delegations to vote their stolen seats. It may be in the interest of harmony, but it certainly is a shame that things like this can be and be without protest.

What was allowed by the acceptance of the report of the committee on credentials last night is an encouragement to trickery and jobbery at the polls and further jobbery at the next precinct primaries.

NO FIREWORKS AT CONVENTION OPENING

Room for Differences.

Breckons said the reason he brought up the question was because it might guide the committee on rules. He had had the honor of listening to a conference in the afternoon in regard to immigration and land policies, and other matters important to the Territory. And that conference adjourned until this morning. He also listened to a draft of a platform drafted by George A. Davis. There were things in the county platform which did not agree with the planks of the territorial platform. Therefore he wanted an expression of opinion then and there. The platforms must be adjusted to agree with each other.

W. W. Harris said in the matter of the territorial platform which might not conform to the county platform was something the county had nothing to do. He said Kalelopa's motion should prevail. Mr. Murray then withdrew his motion to clear the way for the rules committee question.

Harris moved an amendment that the committee on rules be composed of five members.

Andrew Adams said Harris covered the ground, but he moved that after the appointment of the committee on rules and platform the convention adjourn until after the territorial convention had finished its work.

Pianina moved that the rules committee be increased from five to ten which amendment was accepted by Harris.

Breckons put the motion. Wise said the whole organization of the convention should be completed. There were committees on printing, etc., to be considered, and these should be at work simultaneously with the other committees.

The chairman ruled that the amendment was not germane to the motion and he ruled it out of order. The motion was then announced, to be five from each district to comprise the committee on rules. The motion passed.

Before appointing the committee he asked for an expression as to how many should compose the committee on platform. Harris moved to have a committee of ten, five from each district. This motion passed.

Breckons said the two committees would be at work all night, and he asked for an expression as to how long the convention take a recess, and meanwhile he would appoint both committees.

Douthitt moved a recess of fifteen minutes, and this was so ordered.

LITTLE STORIES

ABOUT POLITICS

any promise Jack Scully may have made to the sixth and seventh precinct delegations in caucus on Thursday night that he, Low, would support Scully for the senate, in return for the support of the sixth and seventh for Low for supervisor. He stated he had not talked with Scully. Mr. Steere disclaimed any knowledge of such a deal, and both Low and Steere, showed that Scully formed no part of their program. In fact, he was not considered in any, and his name was not mentioned at the caucus of the third precinct.

Charley Clark and the Pearl City delegation emerged from Cunha's alley yesterday afternoon, each of the Hawaiian delegates smoking a 15-cent cigar, with the band still on. David Douglas of Ewa, candidate for supervisor, and who thought he had Pearl City, Waipahu and Ewa tucked under his belt, saw them and remarked: "I see that I'm dumped." When he asked the delegates how they stood, he received extremely evasive answers.

Charley Arnold, on the contrary, opponent of Douglas, wore a wide smile.

The great gathering district for politicians yesterday, prior to the Republican county and district convention in the evening, was along the makai side of King street between Bethel and Fort streets. Wise and his men were evidently enamored of the Bethel street end, while Charlie Hustace and his particular standbys stood around the corner, down Fort street, near the Trent Trust Company; and W. W. Harris and his associates favored the front of The Grill and the Elks' hall, and Silva's Toggery.

Colonel Knox promenaded between the extremes.

Willie Crawford hovered between a tailor's shop and the mid-King-street eating house.

Charlie Chillingworth was as busy as a bee. Breckons was not to be seen passing that way, though Charlie Clark and Frank Kruger, known supporters for Breckons' chairmanship, were very conspicuous.

Yesterday the political block of Honolulu was well defined. It is the block bounded by King, Fort, Merchant and Bethel streets. This is an interesting block and also houses several Democrats who were not remiss in endeavoring to ascertain the direction of the wind.

Cunha's alley is also in the block, in fact it splits the block, so that it might be said that there was a material split in the Republican party. In any event the delegates to the convention and their helpers found Cunha's alley mighty convenient for going from one side of the block to the other.

Before noon yesterday there were at least three hundred politicians on the sidewalks on the block above described. Some were from out of town and were being put wise to proposed schemes by the Honolulu men.

Take this block and delineate it by the individuals doing business therein, and there will to the reader come some understanding as to the psychological significance of the fact that it becomes so favorite a gathering center in time of great political stress as was alleged to have been the case yesterday.

First of all, of course, there is The Advertiser office, and everybody was at least a little bit anxious to know what The Advertiser would have to say in the morning about his part in the campaign.

Then, as aforesaid, there is the refreshing lure, to some, of Cunha's alley, where so much politics is born, and where some of it dies.

And then The Grill, for one must needs eat, especially when doing politics. Then the Elks' Club, and every one knows that there are several fine

IT COST $500 TO BUY A MAJORITY

Evening Journal Publishes a Part of the Plan Taken to Defeat Andrews in Manoa.

The Star published the following yesterday:

"The champion political grafter of the Islands has been discovered, it is claimed, in the person of one Makalena, who is said to have cleaned up something from every side of several contests in more than one precinct in the recent primary. Incidentally, the story of his graft involves a charge that the sum of $500 was paid over as the price of switching the Hawaiian vote in the Manoa precinct and winning the famous 'insurgent' victory. This sum, it is said, was not paid out by the insurgent leaders, but was liquor money. Its influence may account for the surprise of some of the insurgents at their own victory and for the bigger surprise of Buffandeau and Andrews at not getting the Hawaiian vote.

"Makalena's work was in the Manoa precinct and in the first of the fourth. He has long been a political associate of Buffandeau and is said to have touched the latter for expenses of a luau he felt it necessary to give in the course of his political activities. Andrews contributed likewise.

"The interview between Buffandeau and Makalena when the former discovered that Makalena had worked all day for the straight insurgent ticket contained remarks not to be published.

"Out in the first Makalena was openly strong for the regular ticket. Here also, he felt that a luau was only proper in the course of the campaign. He made at least two touches for expenses of entertaining his political friends. Primary day found him working for the other side, though unsuccessfully in this precinct. What he got for it is not known, but whatever it was it was clear profit, for the only luau he gave was the 'regular' one.

"The election over, both sides in both precincts began to compare notes, with gasps of astonishment and snorts of rage. Makalena announced himself as a candidate for supervisor. He met with a chilling frost and changed over to a house candidacy, which he is now seeking."

fellows who are Elks and who are running for office, though, as a club, the Elks have nothing to do with politics.

Then comes the haberdashery and the drug store, the latter being handy for those politicians in need of refreshment who do not partake of hard drinks. Around the corner, down Fort street, it is not a long stretch to the Democratic stronghold, that of City Treasurer Trent who had his eye peeled for the weakness of the Republicans, if such exist.

Frank Kruger, supervisorial aspirant, is just a little further down, and then there is the McInerney store, full of political genius though not always manifest.

Around the turn on Merchant street comes Peacock & Co., leading the liquor interests and necessarily having something to do with politics, affidavits or no affidavits.

Ed. Towse is in a printing office a little further along, and he, too, was not idle yesterday. Charlie Chillingworth has an office in the old Honolulu Hale.

Then, around the postoffice, up Bethel, comes the McCandless building, which houses the "independent" Star newspaper, edited by Daniel Logan, who has all the chances in the world to be re-elected supervisor, while upstairs, of course, is Link McCandless, the noted "landed" Democrat, the Bryan of Hawaii.

No wonder there was a political crowd on the block mentioned.

C. C. James is said to have strong backing in his fight for a supervisorial post. He is an employee of the Hawaiian Fertilizer Works and a capable young business man.

There is apparently no contest between Al Castle and S. P. Correa in the race for the house from the fifth. The real contest is between Castle and Kama.

It's a Wise man who never knows his candidate for mayor.

Yesterday morning one of John Wise's stadholders, a delegate to the convention from the Pauoa precinct, where John shines as the Whole Cheese, was approached and asked whether he was a Lane man or a Hustace man.

The budding politician scratched his head for a moment, as he was caught unprepared, and he sidetracked for a moment the thoughts of the glory he would attain on the political rostrum.

"Well," he said, after he had scratched an idea in, "I'm not going to vote for Lane, and I ain't going to vote for Hustace, because I hear Joe Fern is going to run again."

WATERFRONT NEWS

HONOLULU WELCOMES
BIG NEW FREIGHTER

Balfour Co.'s Greystoke Castle
Here From Antwerp to Start
New Line.

Late yesterday afternoon there entered Honolulu Harbor, much to the admiration and curiosity of the waterfront, Balfour's big British freighter, Greystoke Castle, all the way from Antwerp. She is the first of the European-American-California system, and will be followed by other boats of the line, one of which leaves Europe next week and another of which will leave about the middle of next month.

The Greystoke Castle is a steamship of nearly 2500 tons. She sailed from Antwerp on July 1 of this year, making the run to Honolulu in a little less than twenty days. Hence she goes to San Francisco and thence to Vancouver, which route will be followed by other vessels of the same line.

She comes consigned to F. L. Waldron of this city, and has general cargo and mail for this city. Her voyage was uneventful as far as exciting or disagreeable incidents were concerned, the Greystoke Castle not being inclined to put into anything but scheduled excursions. She is a fine vessel and officered by fine men, the company of which she is a fine example being particularly in the employment of its officers. Captain Smith will effect her discharge here as soon as possible and take away for San Francisco and Vancouver.

At five-forty p. m. yesterday the Greystoke Castle left for San Francisco.

Army and Navy News

Attacks on Navy Officers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 22.—Naval authorities are incensed with the Rev. G. E. Webster, pastor of Grace Methodist Episcopal church, of Johnsville, N. Y., for a letter which he has written the secretary of the navy. They say that the Rev. Webster has gone out of his way to insult the men of the navy. The feeling against the New York clergyman grew out of the following letter, which he sent to Secretary Meyer:

"Sir: Of late the recruiting station for the navy, located at No. 130 Manhattan street, New York city, has been sending my son, R. Webster, literature, urging him to join the navy. He is but a boy under 16, and controlled by myself and his mother. We are in every way capable of educating him without any of the assistance from the loafers and hoodlums that make up the rank and file of the officers who man the floating houses called battleships. I want this sending of literature to him to cease, and appeal to you to stop it. He is in no way qualified to enter the navy, and when of age will think differently of it. It is a shame and disgrace to the nation when the navy department descends to such despicable practices as sending out letters and booklets urging young boys to leave their homes for such life as awaits them in the navy. I am very sorry to be obliged to thus express myself in what may seem strong terms about such things."

The Rev. Mr. Webster's complaint is founded on some circulars which are being sent out to addresses furnished by the recruiting officers from various sources. It occasionally happens that the names are those of boys too young to enter the navy, and when this is known the sending of circulars is discontinued. A new system of presenting the advantages of an enlistment in the navy was recently adopted with considerable success, as is shown by the increase in the number of recruits.

The navy department advised the Rev. Mr. Webster that he had been misinformed as to the character of the enlisted force of the navy and that there is no intention on the part of the naval authorities to induce boys to leave their homes.

Survey Maine Wreck.

WASHINGTON, August 29.—Engineers soon will be sent to Cuba to make a preliminary survey of the conditions of the battleship Maine, which was blown up in Havana harbor just before the Spanish war. This was decided today, at the first meeting of the Board of Army Engineers, appointed several weeks ago under the authorization of congress, to proceed with the removal of the wreck. Composing the board are Col. William H. Black, Lieut. Col. M. M. Patrick and Capt. H. H. Ferguson.

Two objects will be kept in mind by the board in removing the battleship. The first will be to recover the bodies of the sailors who lost their lives when the ship was blown up, but second will be to ascertain whether the vessel was blown up from the inside or from the outside. The impression of the board today was said to be that the best method of accomplishing these objects was to raise the vessel in the open. This would be possible by the construction of caissons around the wreck.

LAND BOARD AT LAST GETS BUSY

Large Number of Minor Matters Discussed and Definitely Acted Upon.

The advisory land board actually did things yesterday afternoon. In fact, it settled down and cleared off a big bunch of accumulated business—all small matters but all of more or less importance and all matters that needed attending to.

The meeting of the board was entirely harmonious yesterday. There was not a ripple of excitement and any differences that had previously existed between the land commissioner and any member of the board appeared to have been forgotten. The meeting was, in fact, so harmonious that it was agreed among the members that they should take turns in moving and seconding, so that the records should not make it appear that any one member was making himself too conspicuous. This made it necessary for Commissioner Dwight to take active part in the deliberations, which he did by saying "yes" when he was asked if he would move something or other.

The word "homestead" appeared to be a fetter with Commissioner Trent, who always objects strenuously to letting any land of any kind for any purpose slip from the grasp of the Territory unless it is to be homesteaded. Mr. Trent announced himself as opposed to leases of more than five years and kicked on selling residence lots to people who want them for residence purposes. Even the residence lots along the volcano road he wanted homesteaded—just like the Kawaiiloale lots.

None of the big propositions before the board was touched on, but a large number of minor matters were definitely passed upon.

Secretary Brown read a report from the attorney-general in regard to the application of the Kwock Hin Society to be allowed to purchase three acres of land now occupied by them at Kula, Maui. Mr. Lindsay wrote that as no such society has filed articles with the treasurer, he could not say whether or not the application should be granted.

Another opinion of the attorney-general was in reference to a question in regard to the exchange of public lands. The board wanted to know whether or not the law provides a double limitation—preventing an exchange on any land over forty acres in area, and also on any land over $5000 in value. Mr. Lindsay stated that his reply must be in the affirmative. The land sought to be conveyed must not exceed forty acres in area or be over $5000 in value.

Bishop Estate Request.
The board voted to accede to the petition of the Bishop Estate to be allowed to purchase a lot of about 14,000 square feet at Kaunakapili. The land will be put up at public auction and the Bishop Estate may bid on it.

The board approved the application of T. H. Gibson for a lease of land at Puunui, only changing the term of the lease from twenty-one years to fifteen years. Trent objected to any lease of over five years except where a large amount of money must be expended by the lessee.

A general lease of land at Pohala, Ewa, term fifteen years, upset rental $225 per annum, was allowed, but at Trent's suggestion the term of the lease was cut down from fifteen to five years. The land is less than ten acres in area. The applicant was Cecil Brown for Tong Wo Wai.

University Club Lease.
The lease of the University Club lot, corner of Miller and Hotel street, was taken up. Trent again objected, saying he was not in favor of leasing any city lots. It was suggested to reduce the lease to five years. Andrade said the club would not consider a five-year lease. Campbell said all the club wanted was to get rid of the government stable that is now on the lot, and he said he intended to remove the stable and improve the lot. On this showing, and on Andrade's motion, the board declined to consider the lease.

The board also refused to consent to the sale of Alai 3 and 4, the land being greater in area than can, under the law, be sold.

The board also rejected the application to sell a three and one-half-acre lot of sugar land, a portion of the old Mission lot in the town of Hana. The applicant was the Kaheka Sugar Company. The application of the same company for a strip of land in exchange for land already taken by the government for a road, an ancient matter, was approved.

The board declined to act on the application of J. H. Raymond for the exchange of land at Kaneohe, for the reason that the land involved is too great in area, several thousand acres. General lease of seventeen acres of rice and kula lands at Pololu, Hawaii, applied for by G. C. Akina, term five years, upset rental $250, was consented to.

An application for a fifteen-year lease of 367 acres of land at Olaui II, South Kona, upset rental $50 per annum, was approved.

The application of A. Lewis, Jr., for the sale of a lot in Nuuanu Valley was considered. Mr. Lewis offered to pay at the rate of $700 an acre. The lot is a gulch lying between the lots owned by McCandless and Lewis. There being no objection on the part of the government, the board, on motion of Andrade, consented to the transaction, waiving the formality of advertising.

An application for an exchange between the Bishop Estate and the Territory of land at Heaia, Koolan, for road purposes was approved.

Suggest Right of Way.
An application of E. D. Tenney, president of the Wahiawa Water Company, to be allowed to purchase for $500 sixty-two acres of a government remnant of grant 1120, Wahiawa, was read by the secretary. The land is a gulch which the company, until a recent survey, thought it owned. The opinion was expressed that as the company only needs a right of way for a ditch and does not need sixty-two acres, it might better apply merely for a right of way. It was admitted that the objection was merely technical, as the land is worthless to anybody else. The secretary was instructed to write to Mr. Tenney to the effect that the board would not act on the application until it was modified to meet the law.

To Help Hilo Grow.
An application of the Knights of Pythias Hall Association, Ltd., of Hilo to be allowed to buy a lot on Bridge street, Hilo, as a site for a hall was approved. Campbell said that anybody who wanted to improve Hilo ought to be given anything he wanted.

Residence Versus Homestead.
A petition of A. Beamer and twenty-eight others of Hilo for the purchase of lots at Nine Miles Olua for summer homes brought forth Trent's usual objection, as to sell lots for residence purposes removes them from the homestead class. He decidedly opposed the granting of the petition. Some members of the board appear to look upon a homestead as a fetish to be worshiped, and no others need apply, not even if they want to purchase lots to live upon. It was finally decided to have the applications advertised for eight weeks.

Mistake Made Good.
The application of the Hawaiian Evangelical Association for the purchase of 2420 feet of land on Fort street was read. The association offered ten cents a foot for the land, for which the government a few years ago paid twenty-five cents a foot. Theodore Richards, writing to Land Commissioner Campbell, stated that the Evangelical Association through a mistake needed the land to the Territory and thereby lost its frontage on one side of the street. Campbell said he couldn't see why the board should go into the philanthropic business and try to remedy at its own expense the mistakes of others. Trent, however, moved to approve the application and Andrade seconded the motion, which carried.

The application of the beneficiaries of the will of Geo. M. Robertson for the exchange of a strip of land in the Maunaloa gulch, Hanalei, Hawaii, was approved, advertisement being waived. The application of the Mormon Church for lot for a church site at Palapa, Hawaii, was approved. The board adjourned, to meet next Thursday night, unless called together sooner by the chair.

FOR CHINESE PRINCE.
George Beckley's great blue Packard landaulet has just come out of the shop after a month of overhauling and has been put on the stand under the care of Chauffeur Machado. This car will have the honor of carrying Prince Tsai Hsun about the city when he arrives on the Manchu.

Beckley's gray Packard, which was misappropriated by Walter McDougall last Sunday and joy ridden around is again on the stand after four days in the shop. No legal steps were taken in this matter.

Another of Beckley's cars has been traveling steadily between Waikane and town under direction of James Hart in the service of Jorgen Jorgensen, who is working on the new water system on the other side.

Gasoline Row

Two new Chalmers "30s" were added to the stock exhibit in the Associated Garage during the week, but both were quickly taken out again, ready purchasers being found for both.

Mrs. C. Montague Cooke, Jr., was the purchaser of the touring car, and is one of the first in the city to own a 1911 model of the make. The garage holds an option on the other car, a pony coupe, which has already been sold, and will use it for several days as a demonstrating car.

The sales department of the von Hamm-Young garage reports the sale of a Packard touring car to J. de Rego of Wailuku, who will put the car in the rent service on the Rose Island. It already has other cars operating, and will soon have a good business.

W. D. Adams of Bergstrom & Co. was another purchaser during the week, taking delivery of a Buick, and finds much use for it in getting back and forth between town and his country home on the other side of the Pali.

Judge Cooper has added a Pope-Hartford roadster to his garage, the von Hamm-Young garage being the seller in this case also.

H. L. West of Chico, California, is a visitor in town, having brought his Buick over to sample the boasted Oahu roads. He will remain about a month in the Islands before returning home.

Manager Wells of the Royal Hawaiian garage disposed of a four-cylinder Cartier during the week to Joe Gaspar of Kona. The car carries five passengers, and the Cartier's celebrated hill-climbing capacity will be found welcome on the Kona and other Hawaiian district roads.

Manager E. E. Bodge of the garage department of the von Hamm-Young company is back at work at his old stand, after several months on the Coast, where he has been mixing business and recreation happily. During his stay he sold eight second-hand cars to Coast parties, four being steamers and the others gasoline cars.

He made several tours into the country, taking a jaunt over the road to Leno in a Pope. The road, he says, was bad, but not so bad as the northern Californian roads, which he also traveled over.

He made one trip to Eureka, the southernmost seaport of California, and declares the roads there to be "rotten." Trips were also made to Santa Cruz and other points of interest.

The Associated Garage will soon have to start remodeling its building on Merchant street, as about twelve feet of it will be sliced off by the extension of Bishop street.

Manager Hall has not yet been notified, but the board of supervisors has been told by Marston Campbell that the property for the new street has been secured and that they can commence work at once. Mr. Hall will erect a wall along the line of the new street and take off enough of the roof to fit.

The garage has been waiting for this change before it added any of the permanent improvements which have been planned for it. The front part of the garage will be turned into a salesroom and the exhibits arranged attractively therein, while the back part of the store will be used as the garage proper.

A. C. Aubrey is the latest adventurer in the hotel business on the island. His situation, however, necessitates an auto as an adjunct and he is finding plenty of use for the Mitchell, which he lately purchased from the Schuman Carriage Company. He is situated midway between Kahana and Kahuku.

The acetylene oxygen welding plant which has been installed in the von Hamm-Young Garage during the past month has proven a satisfactory adjunct to the repair department. Cylinders which are slightly cracked or a leaking water jacket can now all be repaired in the city instead of having to be sent to the Coast and a great many other repairs which could not hitherto be done in the city find the welding plant useful.

Don't think that it is possible to blow up tires sufficiently to compensate for the lack of size that should be used on your car. If the tires are not big enough for the work they are placed to do it is not possible to inflate them sufficiently to prevent excess flexure.

Don't get used to thinking that fabric as it is used in the making of tires is some supernatural material that will stand all sorts of abuse—it costs money and plenty of it to indulge in such a dream.

Don't forget that flexure is the bane of tires—anything that will eliminate flexure is worth its weight in gold.

Don't forget that a power pump is far more likely to afford the requisite pressure for purposes of inflating tires than when a small hand pump is employed.

Don't run on a flat tire just because it is something of a job to make a road-side repair—ten miles of flat running will foot up to the price of a tube and a casing; even a single block may be a sufficient distance to bruise the fabric beyond repair.

Don't wait for the ball bearings in the hubs of the road wheels to go to pieces before taking the hub-caps off and determining as to the prevailing condition. If the bearings are flushed out once a month and new grease is applied the cost of maintenance will be relatively very low.

Don't let the repairman tell you that he is going to burn off all the old finish and refinish from the ground up, and then let him get away with a retouching job instead—a little superintendence once in a while does no harm.

Don't let water accumulate in the fuel system. Drain out all the liquid, say, once a week, and start with a new gasoline supply.

Don't demand the last ounce of power from your motor; it will last longer if it is worked under average conditions.

Don't feed gasoline too fast; carbon accumulations will then be deferred, if, indeed, they ever appear.

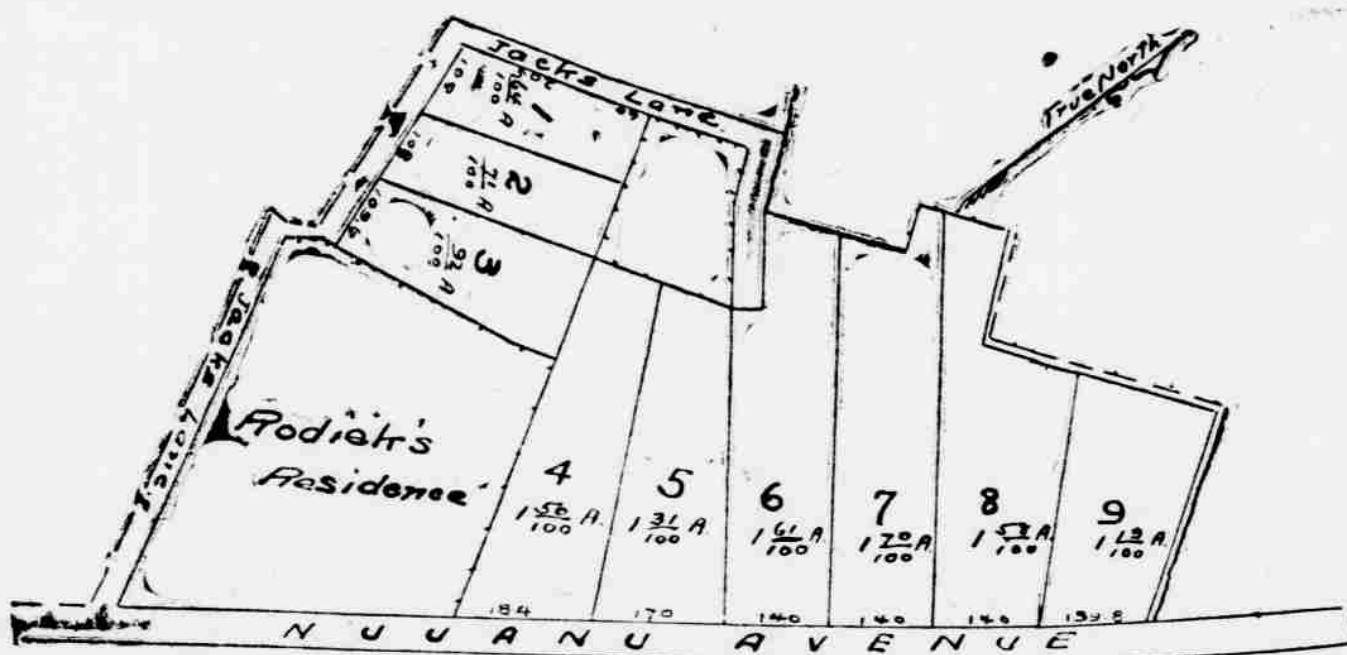

Don't expect gasoline to feed through a pipe that is plugged up with solder—it is a form of trouble that is too common.

Don't fill the radiator to overflow. When the water heats up it swells and a little "expansion" room is desirable.

Don't scoop dirty water from a pool

The Schuman Carriage Company expects the arrival of several of the popular E. M. F. cars on the Sierra.

F. E. Hewes, the salesman for the von Hamm-Young Company, left for Kauai during the week, and while there will deliver a Cadillac touring car and an Overland demitonneau to Garden Island purchasers.

The Schuman Carriage Company shipped an E. M. F. car to Hasegawa, the Japanese merchant of Hana, and also delivered a Mitchell to the Kahului Railway Company at Kahului. The Schuman people have placed a number of orders on Maui lately.

The Sierra, due next Friday, will have a number of autos on board consigned to local garages, among them being the first 1911 Cadillac to arrive in the Islands. A number of purchasers have already placed their orders for these cars with the von Hamm-Young, the agent.

The first model of a 1911 Packard phaeton arrived last week in the Wilhelm, to the same agent, and was delivered at once to John Waterhouse.

DO PEOPLE INHABIT ALL THE PLANETS?

United States Astronomer Holds This Theory After Years of Research.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 27.—Prof. T. J. J. See, in charge of the naval astronomical observatory at Mare Island, in addressing the popular educational society, known as the Materialists Association, last night announced the completion of his researches in astronomical evolution to which he has devoted ten years.

He stated that his investigations have evolved a new and improved theory of the sidereal universe. The scientist claims that his theory of astronomical evolution involves the action of both attractive and repulsive forces, and has enabled him to account for classes of heavenly bodies. By his discoveries during the last two years Professor See said he had reduced cosmology to an exact science.

Professor See's concluding argument was that the planets now shown to revolve about the fixed stars are inhabited by some kind of intelligent beings so that life is unquestionably a general phenomenon of the universe. He cited an address delivered at Philadelphia in 1897 by Professor Newcomb in which similar views were held, and said that the proof is much more complete now than at that time. "Men of science," he said, "must admit that life is general on the countless worlds revolving about the fixed stars, or else concede that life on earth is an accident and a mistake existing for hundreds of millions of years in direct violation of the laws of nature."

HIGH PRICES IN 1936.

The question of high prices for all foodstuffs at times has agitated the public mind for three-quarters of a century, and will continue to do so during all future times if the population of the world continues to increase more rapidly than the supply of food products.

In 1836 Daniel Webster was making a fight against the high cost of living, which in some respects resembled the efforts many of our legislators are making today. One comparison of prices between then and now is interesting, as it illustrates the soundness of the claim that the law of supply and demand obtains on the average during all time. In 1836 flour per barrel ranged in price from $6 to $8, and the total population of the United States was around 17,000,000, with a total production of wheat of about 75,000,000 bushels. In 1909 the United States produced 767,389,000 bushels of wheat; and the price of flour this year is from $4 to $6 a barrel, so the price of flour has not advanced any on the average, owing to the fact that our production has kept pace with our increasing population.

By following the various articles of food through an analysis of supply and demand there will be found an approximate reason for high prices of staple articles that are not affected by special trade-mark or fancy packages.—Moody's Magazine.

KAISER DESIGNED ENSIGN OF PEACE

Head of Great Military Nation Suggests Flag for the World.

BERLIN, August 27.—The well-known peace advocate, Herr Alfred Fried, gives in his new book, "The Kaiser and the World's Peace," a full description and picture of an international peace flag sketched by the Kaiser on his menu card at dinner on the Hohenzollern at Kiel in the summer following the Peace Congress at Monaco in 1902.

The Prince of Monaco was relating to the Kaiser how one of the problems left unsettled at the congress was what the Peace Flag should be like. The Kaiser started to scribble on the back of the menu, and produced a sketch of a flag with a white cross on a red background. In the middle of the cross was a great star. The top left hand section of the flag was intended to take the flag of each different country, while the other three sections were to be filled with white stars on the red ground.

The Kaiser authorized the Prince of Monaco to show the sketch to the next Peace Congress. This the Prince did at the Ruman Congress in 1903. The matter, however, leaked out, and was taken up by a section of the Jingo press which gave an anti-German interpretation to the Kaiser's dinner table suggestion. The French delegates in their turn feared that a tumult would be aroused in the French Chamberlain Press if the Kaiser's peace flag was accepted as the official banner of the congress. As the congress did not like to take a division on so delicate a matter the whole proposal was dropped. A picture of the flag, as painted by the Kaiser's orders, has been deposited in the Peace Museum at Monaco.

Herr Fried adds that if the matter could have been kept quiet the proposal would certainly have been accepted, and today the Peace Congress would march under a banner designed by the emperor of the greatest military power in the world. The congress would then have had the right to regard the Kaiser as its protector. Herr Fried says he believes that the French delegates would no longer object, and that the flag might be adopted this year.

Newbro's Herpicide

More men and women have gotten positive results from the use of NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE than from all other hair remedies combined.

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ. It eradicates dandruff, stops falling hair and permits a natural hair development by destroying the tiny vegetable growth (a germ or microbe) that causes hair destruction.

Nature constantly struggles to supply life and vigor to the hair, but the dandruff germ saps this vitality and strangles the life out of the hair.

EXTRAORDINARY RESULTS SOMETIMES FOLLOW ITS CONTINUED USE.

It Benefits a Lady Scalp Specialist

2807 Archer Ave., Chicago, Ill.

"I am sending you my photograph to show what Newbro's Herpicide has done for me.

"Since I first tried Herpicide upon my hair I have used it exclusively in giving scalp treatments to others, and I would not think of trying to get along without it."

(Signed) MRS. ANNA CONNER.

Indispensable Following Severe Illness

1717 Tremont St., Denver, Colo.

"I was convalescent from a critical illness of pneumonia and my hair was left in a deplorable condition, falling out and breaking off, dry, harsh and brittle. The scalp lacked nutrition and seemed dead. I used Herpicide according to directions with most beneficial results and attribute the restoration of my hair entirely to your Herpicide. I can conscientiously endorse it for doing all you claim, and it gives me great pleasure to recommend it."

(Signed) MRS. M. MEGRUE.

For regular toilet use, Newbro's Herpicide easily occupies first place. It is sold in practically every civilized country on the globe, and a single trial will show why discriminating ones prefer it. Contains no sticky substance. It will not stain or dye the hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES.

Kidney Diseases Cause Half the Common Aches and Ills of Honolulu People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and when good. Since taking this remedy I feel better than I have in years."

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists and storekeepers at 50 cents per box (six boxes $2.50) or will be mailed on receipt of price by the Hollister Drug Co., Honolulu, wholesale agents for the Hawaiian Islands. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Their activity is lessened the whole body suffers from the excess of uric poison circulated in the blood.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards diabetes and fatal Bright's disease. There is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys and cure every kidney ill. Here's the best of evidence:

Mrs. Mary E. Perry, 111 W. Eleventh St., Mitchell, S. Dak., says: "It is impossible for me to express my gratitude to Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, as I feel that they have saved my life. After everything I tried had failed and the doctor said I was going to die, this remedy helped me wonderfully. My kidney complaint was no doubt inherited, as I suffered from it since I was a small girl. I was told that I had Bright's disease in an acute form. My limbs became so badly swollen that I could not move and sometimes I had to be assisted to turn over in bed, as I seemed to have no strength. There was a retention of the kidney secretions and my health was badly run down. Finally my husband procured a box of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills for me and I can say they did me a world of good."
