NO REBUFF TO DE YOUNG

TRUSTEE JUDD GIVES REASONS
WHY MUSEUM IS NOT OPEN EVERY DAY.

A. F. Judd, one of the trustees of the Bishop Museum, stated today that M. H. De Young was not rebuffed when he requested permission to visit the museum the first of the week, being doubtful if he could make it convenient to go thither on Friday a regular open day.

"When I read the complaint, which was more in the headline than in the text of the Advertiser news article, I went to see Mr. Wiant about it. He said Mr. De Young was informed that Monday was vacation day for the staff, but that the museum would be open the next day, Tuesday, and again on Friday. Mr. De Young did not appear to have been turned down when he left the office."

"There are two reasons why the Bishop Museum is not open every day," Mr. Judd continued.

"The first reason is that the effect of daily exposure to the light would be to take the color out of some of the exhibits, such as tapas and casts of objects finished in natural colors. Even in the British Museum, with the usually subdued light of London, much deterioration of exhibits from exposure has been found to occur."

"The other reason is that there is a serious purpose in the museum, besides its exhibits for the instruction and entertainment of the public. There are descriptions and records to be prepared for printing, and the staff must have time for doing this work without interruption of receiving visitors and showing them around."

WITNESS IS DOPEY

OPIUM FIEND'S DREAM IN COURT
PREVENTS HIS GIVING ANY EVIDENCE.

Ah Hoy, a distinguished appearing Chinese, was this morning fined fifty dollars in Police Court by Judge Andrade for selling opium without a license in law so to do.

Officer Apana, one of the slickest of policemen, was the chief prosecuting witness. He had caught Ah Hoy in the act of weighing out fifteen cents' worth of the poppy-pulp to a dope fiend and had bounced in and grabbed the scales, the opium, the money, the defendant and the purchaser of the drug.

A. M. Brown prosecuted and Charles Chillingworth defended, exchanging more or less witty sallies.

Chillingworth put on a witness, the chap who had bought the dope, who appeared still to be in dreamland. Brown objected to Chillingworth's line of questioning and the court inquired as to the defendant attorney's idea in interrogating the witness in the manner objected to.

"I want to find out," said Chillingworth, "whether this witness has been so doped up with opium by the prosecution that he cannot testify."

"This is no Atcherley case," said Brown.

Judge Andrade fined three Japanese each $9 for gambling. They had been playing in a billiard parlor. All denied passing money, but Officers Kellett and Apana were sure they had seen cash change hands and that settled all dispute.

Former Secretary of the Territory A. L. C. Atkinson was in court to represent Minatotaui, the Japanese fisherman who refuses to pay $5 license for his sampan, the case being in the nature of a test and Atkinson representing the Japanese Fisheries, Limited.

The matter was put over, however, until Tuesday next.

S. Kipolani was given thirty days on the reef for drunkenness and will have an opportunity to sober.

Lee Ho sues for divorce from his wife Lum Shee Lee Ho, who he says utterly deserted him in 1895 and departed from the Hawaiian Islands.

GAMBLING AND LIQUOR APPEALS

Appeals from District Magistrate Andrade have been entered in the Circuit Court as follows:

Sam Apollona, George Kaes, Kaonohi Kekipi and W. Vida, from fines of $250 and costs each for gambling. Hashigawa, from fine of $100 and costs for selling liquor without a license.

K. Sato, from fine of $100 and costs for selling liquor without a license.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS INSANITY LAW IS VALID

Since the enactment of Act 149 of the Laws of 1909 no appeal lies to a circuit court from the decision of a district magistrate adjudging a person to be insane.

The provisions of Act 149 creating a board of commissioners of insanity are not in violation of Sec. 81 of the Organic Act.

The procedure prescribed by Act 149 relating to the examination and commitment of persons alleged to be insane secures to such persons due process of law within the meaning of the constitutional requirements on the subject.

Assuming that sections 10 and 14 are unconstitutional, the remainder of the act is not for that reason invalid.

So reads the syllabus of a decision rendered by the Supreme Court this morning, in the matter of John Atcherley, an alleged insane person, on reserved questions from Circuit Court (Judge Robinson presiding). It shows that Dr. Atcherley is legally detained in the Insane Asylum, and that at least so much of the insanity law of 1909 as makes it effective is constitutional.

Justices Wilder and Perry and Judge Whitney, the last sitting in place of Chief Justice Hartwell, heard the case on August 10 and 11. Following is the opinion of the court in part:

OPINION OF THE COURT BY PERRY, J.

Upon a motion by the petitioner that the cause be set for trial and a motion by the Territory and the County that the appeal be dismissed on the ground of lack of jurisdiction, the circuit court reserved for the consideration of this court the following questions:

"First. Has the circuit court power and is it its duty to set down for trial before a jury the matters and things at issue upon said appeal taken from said decision, judgment and order of commitment of said district magistrate?"

"Second. Has the circuit court jurisdiction under the law of the appeal from a decision, judgment and order of commitment made by a district magistrate finding a person to be insane and that the public safety requires his restraint, and committing him to the Insane Asylum of Honolulu, City and County of Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, until such person becomes sane or is discharged according to law?"

The petitioner claims (1) that Act 149, approved April 28, 1909, does not repeal the statutory provisions in force just prior to its enactment granting, as held in the case of In re Atcherley, 19 Haw. 346, an appeal from the decision of the district magistrate to the circuit court; (2) that the provisions of Act 149, attempting to create a board of commissioners to hear and determine insanity proceedings, are invalid contrary to Sec. 81 of the Organic Act; and (3) that Act 149 is unconstitutional (a) because it does not secure to an alleged insane person due process of law as a prerequisite to a commitment to the asylum, and (b) because it authorizes detention of an inmate after he has become sane and without permitting him due process of law to ascertain whether or not he has become of sound mind.

(1) It is true that Act 149 does not in terms repeal or declare inapplicable the statutes which in 19 Haw. 346 were held to give an alleged insane person the right of appeal to the circuit court; but by necessary implication the act contains such repeal or declaration. Upon its face the act shows that it was clearly intended to make complete provision in the matter of commitment and discharge of persons to and from the asylum.

(2) Sec. 81 of the Organic Act provides "that the judicial power of the Territory shall be vested in one supreme court, circuit courts and in such inferior courts as the legislature may from time to time establish."

The contention is that if the board of commissioners of insanity is a court at all it is a court of last resort and therefore not an inferior court and beyond the power of the legislature of Hawaii to create. It is also contended, however, by the petitioner that the board is not a court at all. If the latter be the correct view, there was certainly no violation of Sec. 81 in the creation of the board. On the other hand, if the board is a court, it is in our opinion an inferior court within the meaning of the term as used in that section.

(3a) No definition of the words "due process of law," appearing in the fifth and fourteenth amendments to the constitution, such as can apply in all cases, has been attempted by courts or text writers. Courts have merely determined with reference to the particular case under consideration whether or not the procedure followed secured to the parties interested due process of law. Its essential elements, all recognize, are notice and an opportunity to be heard. The hearing required by the act to be had before the magistrate complies with all requirements. Notice to the alleged insane person is provided for and "a full hearing, at which the alleged insane person shall have the right to be heard personally or by counsel and to produce witnesses on his or her own behalf" is required. Nor is it now contended that the prescribed proceedings before the magistrate lack any of the essentials of due process of law. What is contended is that since the act permits an appeal by the alleged insane person to the board of commissioners the procedure before the latter must in turn be such as to

JEWISH RABBI SAYS DIVORCE IS BENEFIT

SEATTLE, Aug. 2.—"The divorce courts are doing what the churches have failed to do—purify the homes." This is the startling view of the divorce problem taken by Rabbi Joseph Krauskopf, D. D., of Philadelphia, one of the most noted lecturers in the East, who is to deliver an address at the A. Y. P. E. Auditorium Sunday afternoon.

"I firmly believe that far from being an evil, divorce is but one of the many upward steps that women are taking, and that divorce will eventually bring about a higher standard of morality."
MEN MUST TOE THE LINE.
Dr. Krauskopf is certainly a friend of womanhood, and every upward step she has taken meets with his hearty approval. "Why should a young woman who meets and marries a young man remain tied to him if he does not observe the same high standard that he expects her to?" he said this morning. "Two-thirds of the divorces are granted to women, which shows that in time the men will be whipped into line. They will wake up to the realization that if they want a woman for a wife they will have to treat her as a human being and observe the same moral obligations that she does."

DIVORCE LAWS ALL RIGHT.
"The greatest discovery of the 19th century is this," says Dr. Krauskopf: "Woman has found herself and in so finding herself, she is accomplishing what ages of churches has not done. What woman will suffer indignities now that she can go forth and earn her own livelihood? When a woman can work and honor herself why should she be linked to a man and dishonor herself? It is not right. Divorce laws do not need remodeling. They will work out it left alone. Woman and her advancement will accomplish this."

BELIEVES IN HIGHER EDUCATION.
Dr. Krauskopf says that he believes firmly in woman and higher education and that woman should enter every field of life. "Every occupation that woman takes up or every field she enters she makes better. Woman is a great factor in the betterment of the world," he said.

"In the days long past, and even now in some of the European countries, the daughters of poor families are married off just as soon as they are 15 or 16 years of age. They are a burden on the already large family and, as they cannot earn a living, they are bartered as soon as they can. This is the reason of the dowry custom of these countries. The father of the family scrapes together enough money to put his daughter up for sale and the man who buys her treats her accordingly. "continued Rabbi Krauskopf. "But woman ever on the climb, has gone beyond this impossible now."

SUFFRAGE IS ALL RIGHT.
Dr. Krauskopf says that he believes the suffrage agitation of today is just another move of woman and that it will result in her ultimate advancement. "The water that is stirred up and muddy now," he says, "will in the end clarify and bring joy to the hearts of many. It is this upward movement on the part of the woman which will purify the homes."

Rabbi Krauskopf is a guest of the Washington hotel and stated this morning that he intended to see every part of the exposition before his departure and began by taking an automobile ride with friends.

Honolulu, T. H., August 16, 1909.
GENERAL SUMMARY.

The rainfall was light throughout the section; and below the average for the week at all stations having a record of ten or more years, excepting in the N. Kona district of Hawaii.

The greatest amounts of rainfall were reported from the Kona districts of Hawaii. No rainfall was reported from several stations in the leeward districts of Maui and Oahu, and from the western portion of the N. Kohala and northern portion of the Kau districts of Hawaii.

The total amounts of rainfall for the week, in inches, in the several districts were: Hawaii—N. Kohala 0.00 to 0.30, Hamakua 0.03 to 0.34, N. Hilo 0.67 to 1.63, S. Hilo 1.57 to 1.98, Puna 0.88, Kau 0.00 to 0.07, S. Kona 2.55, and N. There was more rain than during the preceding week in the Kawaihau, Lihue and Koloa districts of Kauai, the Honolulu district of Oahu, the Makawao and the northeastern portion of the Hana districts of Maui, and generally on Hawaii. Excepting in the Kona districts of Hawaii the increases over last week were slight—less than 0.50 inch—the greatest being 0.87 inch. In the Konas the excesses ranged from 2.38 to 3.13 inches. At no station was the deficiency, as compared with the previous week, equal to 1.0 inch.

The changes in mean temperature, as compared with last week, were slight; and were slightly higher generally on Hawaii, Kauai, and Maui; and slightly lower on Oahu.

Earthquake shocks were felt at Kohala Mission, Hawaii, at 4:30 a. m. of the 12th, and Kukuiahele, Hawaii, during the night of the 11th. The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal Islands and for the group:

	Temperature.	Rainfall.
Hawaii.....	73.6 deg.	0.93 inch.
Maui.....	74.6 deg.	0.54 inch.

3Kauai.....	74.3 deg.	0.53 inch.
Entire Group.....	74.5 deg.	0.68 inch.

At the local office of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Honolulu, clear to partly cloudy, showery weather obtained, with measurable rainfall on three dates amounting to 0.14 inch, 0.21 less than the normal for the week, and 0.07 more than during the preceding week. The maximum temperature was 82 deg., minimum 71 deg., and mean 76.3 deg., 2.3 deg. below the normal, and 0.7 deg. lower than last week's. The mean daily relative humidity varied from 62 per cent to 73 per cent, and for the week was 67.4 per cent. Easterly winds prevailed on four dates and northeasterly on the remainder, with an average hourly velocity of 9.1 miles. The mean daily barometer ranged from 30.08 inches, and the mean for the week, 30.04, was 0.06 inch above normal.

REX FLINTKOTE ROOFING

It is made on honor and backed by a firm with a business reputation covering the past 70 years

What Should a Good Roof Do?
Protect from water, cold, heat, sparks and fumes—be laid with economy, and wear without expensive repair.

Unlike shingles, REX Flintkote ROOFING will not blaze up at the first spark—unlike slate, it will not yield to the gale of wind—unlike tar, it will not melt and run—unlike tin, it will not rust nor leak at the first chance.

Unlike them all—it may be laid by any ordinary workman—with a hammer—everything else needed is in the roll.

Unlike them all it is suitable for every kind of farm building.

We have it in stock, and heartily recommend this roofing to all who believe it is economy to pay a fair price for a superior article.

TALKS BY DE YOUNG AND SCHWERIN

One of the largest assemblies that ever gathered there was in the hall of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon to hear the addresses of M.
H. De Young, proprietor of the San Francisco Chronicle, and R. P. Schwerin, general manager of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, for which a special meeting with the general business public invited had been called.

Secretary H. P. Wood asked the members to elect a chairman, as both the president and the vice president were absent from the city. L. Tenney Peck was on motion called to the position, and coming forward thanked the Chamber for the honor and stated the object of the meeting. He said that when he told people in San Francisco that he was from Honolulu he needed no further passport to good treatment. Mentioning the positions of both guests he first called on Mr.
De Young.

That gentleman came forward smiling and said that he had long taken an interest in the Hawaiian Islands.
Every hour of the five days he had been here had been full of enjoyment.

Mr. De Young spoke of the beginning of the State of California, when people crowded in from all parts of the world to dig for gold, when cities sprang up in a night and the population spread out and made other towns.
When $1,500,000,000 had been taken out of California the supply of gold was practically exhausted, but another sort of gold mines was discovered. Right on the spot where the yellow metal had been extracted from the ground, golden oranges were produced. The new gold mines of agriculture were like those of the Hawaiian Islands, whose sugar industry today produced $36,000,000 a year. For years this was almost the only industry here, but of late the pineapple industry had become great, with 300,000 cases last year and the promise of 500,000 this year. It ought to become as large as the sugar industry. They had 75,000,000 people in the States besides the European market. Then they were experimenting with cotton, tobacco and sisal in a small way. It ought to be more than experiment with these and other products for which the soil and climate were suited.

He would venture a word of warning. That was that the price of the pineapples should not be made higher than the capacity of the average wage earner to buy. It was the patronage of the clerk and the mechanic, men on moderate salaries or small incomes, that made business. He knew an industry that had been nearly killed by high prices. A slight increase in the price of a can of salmon proved just one too many, and a plant worth $2-200,000 found its product unsalable.
There had been no dividends since,
although it was now all right again.

Besides diversifying their products they should diversify their labor. Lately they had sustained a strike on the sugar plantations, which was the result of being largely dependent upon a single nationality for labor, and that one having the swelled head on account of successes of the past decade.
Referring to the policy of bringing in a class of population to build up American citizenship, Mr. De Young said that something more was needed than advertising the amount of untitled land, the capacity of the soil, the things that could be raised, etc. They must ascertain from the large holders of land what areas they have for disposal to settlers, and advertise the size of farms that can be had, where they are situated, for what crops or products
they are adapted and the price of available farms. It was no use to bring a man to the islands to sit around in Honolulu until some one made an offer to sell him a piece of land. They wanted to bring here the farmer from the West and the planter from the South.

As the president of the California
Automobile Club he took an interest in good roads, and he was glad to see the progress that was being made here in that respect. There had been considerable experimenting in California and for the benefit of our road builders
the speaker described a type of road which was far superior to common macadam. This was made by laying a four-inch base of concrete reinforced with steel wire mesh, on which was superimposed oiled macadam. This road would sustain heavy loads even when the earth underneath it was washed out, and it did not cost more than macadam of the old-fashioned kind eight inches thick.

Mr. De Young in conclusion spoke of the beauties and the restfulness of Honolulu. Its attraction for him had been so great that he could not leave this island even for the five days that it would take to visit their great volcano.

He was heartily applauded on resuming his seat. Mr. Peck then introduced Mr. Schwerin with a reference to the identity of the Pacific Mail steamship service with Honolulu for the lapse of perhaps two generations.

Mr. Schwerin said he felt rather glad that the president and vice president were absent, as his friend Mr. Peck had paid the Pacific Mail the warmest compliment he had heard in years.

Honolulu's leaders were building for the future, and there was a future for the harbor of Honolulu, when the Panama Canal was opened, which the imagination could hardly exaggerate.
There was no doubt that steamers would come here from all directions for orders, besides the calls of vessels on the great mail routes. Honolulu should be made one of the greatest harbors of the world. They should therefore avoid building wharves out into the harbor. It was not land they needed to make but water. There had been a natural breakwater here, which Uncle Sam had unwisely cut away. And the space that Uncle Sam had filled in would better have been dug out for docks. In Hongkong, which had more shipping than any other port in the world, the opposition to piers had been so great that a system of lighterage was preferred. But Honolulu harbor could not be extended out into the ocean. It would not do to have steamers anchor outside and lighter their passengers and cargo between ship and shore.

The speaker then spoke of the handicaps upon the American mercantile marine. When he took hold of the Pacific Mail business he saw that it was necessary to make San Francisco the gateway of transcontinental freight in Pacific Commerce. Before then a pound of cotton had never been shipped through that gateway. An arrangement was made with the railroads and a commerce was built up. A few years ago this traffic attracted the attention of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which forthwith put experts to work not only on the Pacific Coast but in Japan, to find if the Pacific Mail was not giving rebates on transcontinental traffic. Probably it was the venerable age of the Pacific Mail which caused it to be singled out for criminal indictment. The Commission did not manage to put the speaker in jail but it did procure an indictment of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. And this on a mere technicality. One of the rules of the Commission was that any change of the freight schedule should only be upon six months notice. It must also be published, but the company obtained a modification of this which allowed of telegraphing a change, which could later be forwarded by mail and published. Well, there was a new clerk taken on, who omitted to mail
a change with the result that the company was indicted.

There were three things to be considered in an ocean transportation enterprise, namely—the cost of the plant, the expense of operating and the return on the investment. None of the business men before him would put money in an enterprise the prospectus of which would show a certain loss.
As to the cost of the plant the Korea, Siberia, Manchuria and Mongolia which the company had procured to meet the expanding commerce, were built in the United States for $4,600,000, whereas they could have been built in England for $2,900,000. With regard to operating expense, some of the opposition to a subsidy was on account of the part Asiatic crew which the steamships carried. Now, to replace the Chinese members of the crews of their steamships would make a difference of $800-000 a year. And this in competition with the Japanese steamers which had mixed Japanese and Chinese crews, and which for every trip received a subsidy of $93,000. In the meantime, owing to the discouragement from the Interstate Commerce Commission the vessels were showing more and more red paint, or "boot tops," on their voyages. Mr. Lane, a member of the commission, had told him that it was no use fighting against the natural outlet to the Orient, namely, the Suez canal. W. R. Castle asked the speaker where Mr. Lane belonged, and the answer was San Francisco.

Mr. Schwerin spoke of the difficulty of pleasing the people of Honolulu and travelers desiring to get passage hence by the Pacific Mail steamers. One of the advantages of the competing lines, which could not do local passenger business between here and San Francisco, was that passengers embarking at Chinese or Japanese ports were assured of not being disturbed through reberating at Honolulu. He hoped in time that the Pacific Mail boats could offer the same advantage and still accommodate people waiting for passage at Honolulu. This was the purpose of his present visit. A plea was made for patience as well as support from the people here, where business for the steamers had been increasing by leaps and bounds.

In the course of his address Mr.
Schwerin mentioned that of the $10 a ton transcontinental rate through to the Orient, the railroads received $6.66 2-3 and the steamships the rest. He also spoke of a pretty hard bargain the government drove with the company for a rate on the Manila trips. On sitting down he was heartily applauded.

Ex-Governor George R. Carter proposed a vote of thanks to Messrs. De Young and Schwerin for their interesting addresses, which was heartily adopted and there being no further business before the Chamber the meeting dispersed.

Here is some advice---

Honolulu more than any other city in the World, is a place where the EVENING PAPER gets the news first. The clock here is over two hours behind the clock at San Francisco, five hours behind New York and ten to eleven hours behind the clocks in the European capitals.

This means that when THE STAR is going to press

The News of all the World

For the day just ended

Here are some of the features that go to make the evening paper the predominating factor in an advertising campaign:

It is delivered at the home each night when the whole family has plenty of time to read it.

It is carried home by the business man when his day's work is done and it stays there. A morning paper is usually carried down town by the head of the family and hurriedly read.

The evening paper is not read hurriedly, but thoroughly, so that all the advertisements receive their share of attention.

It presents the store news a little ahead, giving the prospective purchaser time to plan a shopping tour for the next morning.

The evening paper presents the news the day it happens. The morning paper the day after.

GEORGE F. HENSHALL, MANAGER

FRIDAY, AUGUST 20, 1909

An anonymous writer using the editorial columns of a local paper and assuming the disguise of editor thereof, says in the course of an article criticizing other editors who do their own work and stand by it "Above all things, the editor should be willing to fight in the open." The combination of circumstances under which that sentence was written and published make it very unkind, or thoughtless, and make it the rankest bit of hypocrisy we have had the pain of encountering since Abe Ruef wept as he pleaded guilty to a ban indictment which he knew was going to be nullified. Even if your editor does allow you to walk all over him, Mr. Prosecuting Attorney, it is not decent to do it with spiked shoes.

SELLING OUR LANDS.

M. H. De Young went to the heart of Hawaii's problem when he gave the advice to sell land to white settlers. The text of his address shows that he had in mind, very largely at least, land privately owned. But there is great area of good public land in this Territory, rich in possibilities of development. There are plenty of buyers for it. We beg to repeat, that every land opening carried out by the federal government on the Mainland sees hundreds of thousands of people of the "middle class" ready to hustle for a chance to get some. They rush in tens of thousands to take part in the land lotteries which have been adopted as the fairest means of distributing the available plots. The fortunate ones take the bare undeveloped land, and quickly change it into prosperous farms. They have the money to build homes and make a start, and great new prosperous communities spring up in a day, as it seems. This class of people could do the same thing for Hawaii. All that is needed is to let them know what land we have, what it will produce and what terms are asked. As De Young put it, they will know that they can pay their later installments out of the products of the land, and unless every expert who has studied the conditions here is mistaken, there need be no doubt about that,—unless it lies in the transportation problem.

COLOSSAL EFFRONTERY.

Everybody knows "just what constitutes fair play" in a newspaper. Everybody knows it by instinct common to all humanity, even if many could not put the code into concrete form, or have never thought it out. As concerns court trials it consists simply of reporting cases fairly to both sides and avoiding editorial drawing of conclusions for the jury or court. That is all there is to it. To abuse either one side or the other, or to boost, flatter and commend either one side or the other, is not fair play and readers instinctively realize it. During the strike trial just ended one local writer constantly abused the defendants, belittled every point their counsel tried to make, attacked his case and criticized him, lauded the prosecution, enthused over its attorney, magnified every point he made and actually told the jury, in editorial comment, that there was "abundant evidence for conviction." That was not fair play. It was not American journalism. It was rather like that which disgraces Paris. For the same writer now to produce a column or so of platitudinous stuff about fair play, is colossal effrontery.

DE YOUNG'S STRAIGHT TALK.

Mr. De Young talked plain United States to the "leaders" of Hawaii, as he called his audience, in more respects than one. To get citizens to populate and build up American civilization in these fair isles, landed homes must be found for them. They must know what they are to get, and the price of it, and the terms of payment, before they come. When the available public lands have been plotted and placed within the reach of the western farmer and the southern planter, then a relentless campaign should immediately follow to secure the present large holdings, or what is lying unimproved of them, for the same purpose. If not voluntarily placed in the market by their owners at prices on a parity with those of public lands, they should be assessed for taxes up to the highest figure the government receives when it puts up land of equal value for the highest bidders at upset prices, taking either leasehold or fee simple sales for the criteria. This Territory will never be developed along American lines while great areas of land—there is none too much land here anyway—are tied up from settlement.

Dhingri, the Hindu assassin who was hanged in London the other day, committed his murder on July 1. And his trial and conviction took just one hour of the court's time.

Treasurer Conkling's yarn when he was a steamer purser or a Kona storekeeper, about fish that milked cows has been plagiarized in Virginia. Leastwise a story of that kind is the subject of a Richmond despatch and it is scarcely possible that two intellects on earth could independently hit on one so fantastic an invention.

Without any butting in of private prosecutors, and with no self-constituted organ of law and order to stigmatize attorneys for the defendants as "shysters," or to keep up a callopie-like shriek about "thugs and agitators," the Federal court has within the past few weeks placed a large number of Japanese malefactors behind prison bars.

Private or "assisted" prosecutions will always have the smell of selfishness, malice or vengeance and thus tend to defeat justice even where justice cries aloud for vindication. The pursuit of crime is a government and not a private function.

On tina boom except the extraordinarily bright outlook for the estate. All sorts of rumors, each purporting to be a cause, have been set afloat; but there is nothing behind it except the most natural and well understood reasons. Coast orders have had nothing to do with it—in fact San Francisco showed no special interest in the matter up to yesterday. A good deal of the stock sold lately has been Coast holdings—sent here prior to the big advance. This outside stock is now exhausted and new inquiries from San Francisco have only just started in again.

Oahu sold for $22 between boards, which was the same as yesterday. It was very strong at that figure. Hawaiian Commercial remained about the same, $34.75 being asked and $34 bid. A reliable report has it that a cable from San Francisco for large lots on a basis of $34.25, Honolulu, came in during the night, but the stock could not be obtained this morning at that figure.

Honolulu sold readily between boards at $19, although on the boards $19.125 was bid and $19.25 asked. Ewa sold for $31.25, though holders demanded $31.375 at the close this morning. An interesting sale of the forenoon was $10,000 Wai'ala sixes at $109.

KUHO WHOLE CHEESE.

It now seems unlikely that the Merchants' Association will participate in any way in the entertainment of the visiting Congressmen; while the Chamber of Commerce will only be allowed to wedge in a dinner, to be given prior to the departure of the party from the islands. The Legislature resolution providing for the entertainment of visiting Congressmen places the Delegate to Congress at the head of the scheme of entertainment. Prince Kuhio has construed this resolution liberally, and has proceeded to make himself the "whole cheese" in the coming entertainment.

For instance, he has mapped out a program which takes up every day and evening of the Congressmen while they are in Hawaii, save for the last couple or three days when they will be tired out and will desire to take things easy.

At the meeting held Monday evening Kuhio proceeded to take everything upon his own shoulders, and clinched the matter by announcing his own program. At least two of the delegates to the meeting from commercial bodies thereupon declined to participate further in the proceedings. It was arranged, however, that the Chamber of Commerce be allowed to entertain the visitors at dinner one evening. The Merchants' Association is left out altogether. There the matter stands today. Delegate Kuhio is, at this writing, lord of all in the entertainment scheme; and the Chamber of Commerce, Planters' Association, Merchants' Association and any other bodies that may wish to express their aloha in a substantial way to the visitors must knuckle to the Delegate.

MODELS OF SWIMMERS.

Next Wednesday W. A. Bowen, chairman of the Promotion Committee, and several of his associates will visit the studio of Mr. Osborne, in Makiki, for the purpose of viewing different models of surf riders prepared by the artist and to decide upon a figure to be produced in plaster for the use of the committee here and abroad.

One of these figures will be entirely of plaster of Paris, ten inches tall and will sell for $1.00. The other will be partly of plaster of Paris, trimmed in bronze and will be thirty inches tall. It will sell for a much larger price than the smaller figure. It is the intention to place these statues, or figures, on sale in the local curio stores and in like places all over the world.

To those who have not followed the subject, the idea of the Promotion Committee is to reproduce the surf rider in plaster and bronze, in a working position, the same to be a feature of art as well as an advertisement. The models will be sold for just enough to cover cost and expenses.

LAND AT KAALAWAI.

W. A. Kinney has purchased a fine lot at Kaalawai, the growing suburb beyond Diamond Head, upon which he will shortly erect a fine home. The cottage out there which belonged to a number of Punahoa teachers has been purchased by John Guild, of Alexander & Baldwin, for the sum of $3,000. Kaalawai and neighborhood are just now coming into great prominence as a desirable location for suburban residences. The tendency now is to acquire beach property beyond Diamond Head, the planting of fortifications at Waikiki rendering that locality unpromising for future development as a residence locality.

THE NEW CENTRAL.

The old Brickwood premises in Adams' lane, which has been acquired for a central office for the Mutual Telephone Company, is situated on the Waikiki side of the lane about half way between Hotel street and Union street. The large house on the lot will be removed and a fine, fireproof building erected there. It is expected that this will be the first home of the automatic system in Honolulu.

EWAS' SPECIAL.

The August dividend of Ewa plantation will be three per cent in place of one—one per cent regular and two per cent special. Stock books will be closed at 12 o'clock noon next Monday, August 23, and the dividend noted will be payable on August 31. Stock transfer books will be reopened on September 1.

ALAMEDA REPORTS.

The following wireless was received from the S. S. Alameda by the agents: "August 19, 1909. "Alameda, 8 p. m. All well, fine weather, light breeze and smooth sea, 484 miles."

MONEY FOR COTTON.

W. W. Harris: "It seems to be that the banks would do a great thing now to interest themselves in cotton. That the industry can be made a paying one is now a certainty, and a little of the liberal hand on the part of the banks would be a great help. When the pineapple industry was being developed the banks held off in the same way. Pineapples came to the front, it is true; but not as readily and easily as would have been the case had the banks helped out at the right time. It will be the same with cotton. The industry is a comer, but it will take money to develop it properly. The banks have plenty of money. Why do they not make it known that they will deal liberally with legitimate cotton propositions? I do not know that any of the large experimenters in cotton need money. But they may, and the city is full of active men who would take up the industry if the seal of approval were only put upon it, in part, by the banks."

SHINGLE GOING AWAY.

R. W. Shingle, President of the Waterhouse Trust Co., will be a passenger in the Manchuria for San Francisco and the convention of the American Bankers' Association to be held in Chicago, beginning September 13. Mr. Shingle will be accompanied by his wife and mother.

At San Francisco the local man will join the California delegation to the same convention and will travel with those gentlemen to Yellowstone Park, thence to Chicago. Mr. Shingle will attend the Trust Company section of the big convention.

GENERAL.

Charles H. Atherton writes from New York that he will return to Honolulu the last of September. Mrs. J. B. Atherton and daughter will return by the Lurline.

Messrs. R. P. Schwerin and M. H. De Young will both be passengers by the Manchuria, sailing early Sunday morning, for San Francisco.

Richard Weedon is moving his bazaar from the Masonic Temple to the Love building in Fort street, where it will be reopened tomorrow.

DEAL NEARING CLOSE.

The deal between the Bishop estate and the Brewer Estate, by which the latter will come into possession of a valuable piece of land on King street near Fort has been practically completed, the merest details yet remaining to be settled. The land in question runs about 70 feet on King street and extends back some 260 toward Hotel street. On it are the building occupied by the Evening Bulletin, an express company, etc.

The original proposal in the matter was amended somewhat by the trustees of the Bishop Estate and returned to the agents of the Brewer Estate for further action. A right of way between the property affected and adjoining properties was one of the points in question. It is understood that the proposal of the Bishop Estate is satisfactory in the main, and that a complete settlement of the deal is imminent.

The deal represents a money value of something like $200,000. On the lot will be built a very fine business block, although the details of the building have not yet been fully decided upon.

NO RELEASE FOR DOCTOR ATCHERLEY

meet all of these requirements or otherwise the act is unconstitutional. The weakness of this position is that due process of law does not require more than one trial. The right of appeal is not essential. The petitioner cannot complain that the legislature in its anxiety to make it impossible for a sane man to be committed to the asylum permits him a second trial, before the commissioners of insanity, which the constitution does not guarantee him. It is optional with him whether to exercise the right so conferred or to omit to do so. If he exercises it, he takes it as it is given to him. We are not to be understood, however, as in any way intimating that the trial provided for before the commissioners does not in itself fulfill all the requirements of due process of law. The only objection made to it by the petitioner is that the commissioners are not given the power to compel the attendance of witnesses or to administer oaths. It may be that by a proper construction of the act such power must be held to be conferred by implication, or it may be that the procedure provided, notwithstanding the omission of such power, is sufficient and valid. Upon these questions we express no opinion.

The petitioner further contends that due process in the matter of the commitment to the asylum is denied him in that a trial by jury is not permitted. The constitutional provision under consideration, however, does not of itself require continued adherence to that method of trial, if such was the sole procedure at the time of the adoption of the constitution. Other provisions of the constitution secure such a trial in certain classes of cases, but this case is admittedly not within any of those classes. The law is to a certain extent a progressive science. It may be that originally in England questions of insanity were tried by a jury called for the purpose by the chancellor and it may also be that in some jurisdictions in the United States trials by jury in such cases are required by statute, but he constitutional provision does not prohibit the abandonment of that procedure and the substitution of a trial before a board of experts or before a district magistrate or circuit judge alone.

(3b) The specific objection, and the only objection in this connection, is that Sec. 10 of Act 149, read in connection with Sec. 14, prohibits an application by an inmate, who has become sane, for a hearing to determine the question of his sanity. Again, it may be that if any part of the act is unconstitutional it is merely that portion of Sec. 14 which provides that no person shall be discharged from the asylum except as in the act provided, in which event Sec. 10, not being in its terms exclusive, would still be operative and would stand with the remainder of the act, resort to habeas corpus being then clearly possible on the part of an inmate on whose behalf no application had been made by any relative, sheriff or deputy sheriff.

Upon none of these questions, however, do we express any opinion, for even assuming that Secs. 10 and 14 are inseparable and unconstitutional, the remainder of the act should, in our opinion, be sustained.

The reserved questions are answered in the negative.
T. M. Harrison for John Atcherley, Lorrin Andrews, Deputy Attorney General, for the Territory, and F. W. Milverton, Deputy County Attorney, for the City and County of Honolulu (C. R. Hemmway, Attorney General, and J. W. Cathcart, County Attorney, with them on the brief.)

The remainder of the party is to arrive in the Mauna Kea Wednesday forenoon as originally planned.

ST. LOUIS ALUMNI AMONG THE LOSERS

A number of local merchants are regretting the very sudden departure of Eugene McCann on the Alameda the other day and at least one organization of which he was a member is considering proceedings against him on account of financial matters which he did not straighten out before he left. McCann was secretary of the St. Louis College Alumni Association, and he is stated to have come out about $150 short and left without making good the shortage. Several mercantile firms have unpaid bills which led them to feel chagrined when they heard that he wore the leis of a departing passenger when the Alameda pulled out.

THE PROMOTION OF TRADE WITH CHINA

A diplomatic controversy between the United States and China, relative to the participation of American bankers in the Hankow railroad loan, has been given more attention at the east than on the Pacific coast, although, in fact, it has an important indirect bearing on the extension of American trade with China. The controversy grows out of the exclusion of American bankers from participation in a railroad loan amounting to $27,500,000, guaranteed by government. The protest of the American bankers was backed by a strong note from President Taft to the Chinese government, and these representations have called a halt in the proceedings, with a reasonable certainty that American capital will be allowed to participate.

If this affair had no other bearing than the effort of financiers to find a profitable investment it would be matter of small public concern, but it has an important influence on the status of our trade with China. The case is stated by Charles Denby, late consul general at Shanghai, who says:

To achieve success we must cease to regard China merely as a market and begin to consider it a region for permanent investment. We can not hope to sell our goods by standing at the doors of our warehouses. We must get closer to the Chinese people. They are usually friendly toward Americans as a result of our generous policy in Chinese affairs during recent years. The government is likewise cordial, and investment of American capital is desired.

The time must come when our financiers and businessmen, to promote American trade in China, will regard 7 per cent in that empire as safe as 7 per cent here. It is futile to hope for orders for American materials to be used in the construction of works financed by foreign capital. In all government loans made for the construction of railroads, etc., it is now stipulated that the materials shall be purchased from the nation providing the funds. I have known Germans constructing a railroad in Shantung to refuse to consider American tenders for material and equipment solely on the ground that the orders must go to Germany, even at a higher price, because the enterprise was being financed by German banks.

The development of American trade with China is the direct and intimate concern of Pacific coast merchants and producers, and in that view every means to establish close financial relations with Chinese enterprises should be fostered.—S. F. Call.

ANOTHER TOBACCO PLANTATION

HILO, August 17.—Hilo district will soon have its first tobacco plantation. It will be started by T. A. Dranga and J. E. Gamalielson, with the backing of eastern capital, and while the first venture will be in the main in the nature of an experiment, the promoters thereof feel absolutely assured that they will meet with success.

Dranga and Gamalielson returned last week from a nine days tour around the island, during which they inspected tobacco plantations wherever these could be found.

"We went to every place where a tobacco plant could be found," said Dranga on his return. "We saw the plantations in Hamakua and all those in Kona, spending an entire day with Jared Smith, from whom we received a lot of valuable information. Smith is very busy at present building big barns for his coming crop. He is now building his eighth. Some of them are built on ohia posts with corrugated iron roofs, with walls of cloth or even thatch as he is very enthusiastic about the future of the tobacco industry on these islands."

"From all that we have learned on this trip we have become convinced that tobacco will do well anywhere in this district, and we intend to start in with our first experimental plantation in the near future. Yes, both I and Mr. Gamalielson will be in it, but we are only small fry. The big people who are lack of the venture, are from the East. I feel such that tobacco is a splendid crop, better than coffee, better than pineapples.

"The coffee planters all over the islands are extremely satisfied with the present conditions, and both the Hamakua and the Kona planters are looking for a record crop, as the weather has been ideal for the coffee crop."

One thing I want to say about the things we found out about on our trip, and that is that it is a shame the way the Supervisors are doing about the roads. The roads in Hilo and Hamakua are very bad, and every effort should be made to place them in good condition. However, the roads from Waimea as far as Kainaliu and in excellent condition, with the exception of a few small places, which would not require much repairing. On the whole the roads in the Kona districts are fine and there are plenty of them. It is a downright shame for the supervisors to appropriate these thousands of dollars for the roads in Kona, and in Kau also for that matter, when the roads in Hamakua and Hilo are in a crying need for repairs. Furthermore the traffic which goes over the roads in Hamakua and Hilo is ever so much greater than that on the Kona and Kau roads, especially in the few places there on the lava flows where the road is not as good as it might be, but is plenty good enough for the small traffic which passes over it."

COTTON-RUBBER

W. L. Howard was going around town today displaying two handfuls of cotton, which came from one tree on Palolo hill. It is of the Caravanica tree variety propagated by an Australian grower. This cotton produces much more than the Sea Island cotton, and though it does not command so high a price as that it ranks higher in market than the standard cotton. It is declared to be the genuine article of wool cotton.

C. J. Austin, manager of the American-Hawaiian Rubber Co.'s plantation at Nahiku, is in town. He reports the trees on that estate as being in exceedingly fine condition. Tapping there will not be due until two years hence. The trees were later in being planted than those on the plantation of the Nahiku Rubber Co. Mr. Austin was formerly assistant plant quarantine inspector at Honolulu.

McCandless and James Armstrong, after engaging Judge Robinson for several sittings, has been settled out of court.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR CRICKET MATCH

The following correspondence in regard to the coming cricket match between Oahu and Maui will be read with interest by all interested in the game:

Kahului, T. H., Aug. 13, 1939.
J. H. Fiddes, Esq.,
Secretary Honolulu Cricket Club,
Honolulu, Oahu.

Dear Fiddes—Referring to the Honolulu vs Maui match the date of which is rapidly approaching, it occurs to me that immediate action should be taken by your club with regard to holding the "Claudine" a few hours late on Wednesday the 25th, to enable the players to take part in the dinner to be given by our team at 6 o'clock that evening.

I would suggest that a committee wait on Mr. Kennedy and ask him to have the "Claudine" wait here till say, eight or eight-thirty p. m. for the players. I feel sure that he will do this for his "britisher countrymen."

We are hard at practice and mean to make you fellows play all you know.

Do not forget to have the matting shipped by "Claudine" of the 29th inst.

With kindest regards,
Yours very sincerely,
TOM D. SKINNER.
Honolulu, Hawaii, Aug. 17, 1939.
T. D. Skinner, Esq., Kahului, Maui.

My Dear Skinner—Your favor of 15th inst. to hand, and in reply would say, that Mr. Kennedy has very kindly consented to hold the "Claudine" until 8:30 p. m. on the evening of August 25th.

This will give us at least two and a half hours in which time you fellows will have an opportunity to tell us how it happened. You good Maui-ness certainly have the reputation of doing things lavishly when it comes to entertainment, and this is evidently going to be on a par with former visits of Honolulu's sportsmen.

McGill again wishes me to state that it is imperative for the local team to have a good practice match on Saturday next, and that as a consequence we will be unable to ship the matting on Friday.

No doubt you can get along all right without it, and if you hasten to reply to my letter on the subject, which has evidently crossed yours of the 13th, we will bring the matting with the team next Tuesday on the "Mauna Kea." Glad to hear you are all hard at practice.

It will certainly come as a great surprise to all here if you manage to take us into camp. One never knows, however.

With best regards and again ex-

Racing Enthusiasm Is Very Strong On Maui

The Sporting Editor of the Star is in receipt of a letter from D. H. Davis, one of Maui's leading horsemen, which indicates that the good work of booming racing on Maui is going merrily along. The letter reads in part as follows:

"Just a few lines to let you know that the racing spirit on Maui is very much alive. The Maui Racing Association held a very enthusiastic meeting last Tuesday at which eight new members were elected—active members not dead ones.

"The spirit of the meeting was to have a banner day's racing on the next Fourth of July, and from present indications we will have it. There will be another meeting of the Association on Saturday of this week for the election of members and a general revision of the rules and by-laws governing local racing, which, by the way, were framed to suit such conditions as existed here twenty years ago and need changing badly.

"The racing here will probably be under the rules of the California Jockey Club and the National Trotting Association. That should about suit everyone.

"You may assure horsemen down your way that the rules will be strictly enforced and no favoritism shown. We want the people to come but they must come with the intention of racing fairly and squarely and abiding by the rules of the Association, which is what a good many have failed to do in the past.

"It is quite probable that the Association will negotiate for a baseball nine and possibly two to add to the attractions of the day. It is also probable that a special steamer will be chartered. Tell the Honolulu folks to pressing the hope that I may see you at McGregor's sometime during the evening of the 24th inst.

I beg to remain,
Sincerely yours,
JAMES H. FIDDES,
Secretary Honolulu Cricket Club,
Kahului, T. H., Aug. 18, 1939.
J. H. Fiddes, Esq.,
Honolulu, Oahu.

Dear Fiddes—I have received your letters of August 13th and 17th and am glad to know that preparations for your teams visit to Maui have been completed.

With regard to the matting, I note that you will require this for Saturday's practice and will bring it along on the "Mauna Kea" with the team.

I am glad to see that your men are having all the practice possible, as it will certainly be required if you are to put up a game which will be in any way interesting to us.

I will meet you at McGregor's on Tuesday night. With kindest regards to all the boys, I am,
Very Sincerely yours,
TOM D. SKINNER.

From the tenor of Mr. Skinner's two letters it would appear that the Maui eleven hardly expect to lose the coming match. While the local team is not a particularly strong one, yet, judging from past experiences with teams from the other islands, it should experience no difficulty in holding its own with the Maui aggregation. One never knows, however, and there may have come to the Valley Isle two or three experts at the game who by their coaching have managed to whip an eleven test match shape.

Then again it may be that the Maui-ness are simply putting up a sporting bluff or, in other words, preparing to take part in the match with a weak team backed up by the indomitable never-say-die spirit for which Maui sportsmen are famous.

Whichever view of the matter is correct the game is bound to be an interesting one and the visitors are sure to have a most enjoyable time whether they win or lose.

The team, as at present selected to go to Maui, is as follows:

J. C. McGill (Capt.), Jack Denham, T. P. W. Gray, D. L. Withington, F. B. Withington, R. A. Jordan, H. B. Bailey, R. Anderson, C. P. Morse, J. H. Fiddes, C. F. Maxwell, W. L. Stanley and H. M. Ayres.

There will be a game at Makiki this afternoon, commencing at 2:15 o'clock, between the team selected to go to Maui and The Rest of the Club. It promises to be by far the best game that has been played this season, and should be attended by a large crowd of lovers of the game.

GOOD RACES ARE PLANNED

The rowing clubs are doing steady work in preparations for the races of Regatta Day.

Those old opponents, the Myrles and Healanis, will cross oars in some interesting races, which, judging from the make-up of the crews, should be of a most interesting nature.

The crews, as at present outlined, are as follows:

The crews will probably be: Senior six-oar: Healanis—John McCandless, stroke; W. W. James, 5; A. Lota, 4; Duke Kananamoku, 3; Charles Brown, 2; Lawrence Cunha, bow. Myrtle—Bill Center, stroke; Walter Mcougall, 5; John Mackoley, 4; Harry Gorman, 3; McKenzie, 2; Ernest Bell, bow.

Pair-oar race: Healanis—Dick Sullivan and Carl Oss, Myrtle—Bill Lyle and Charlie Padeken.

The recently arrived artillery company are trying to break into the Oahu Baseball League.

of the Nippon players to play in both the morning and afternoon games, there is hardly any doubt that the Goldsmith League will be composed of five teams instead of our.

C. M. Tai, who has already presented a handsome trophy for the Riverside League, said to be the best ever presented to any of the minor leagues here, will also donate one to the Goldsmith League. Tai has lately shown a keen interest in amateur baseball and this has made him many friends among the ball players.

RED DOG IS NOW MARRIED

"Brick" or "Red Dog" William Devereaux, well known to Honoluluans, and one of the shining lights in the Coast ball yards, writes to a friend in Honolulu that he was recently married.

Wild Bill, who has hurled defiance at flocks of umpires, meekly submitted to the dictations of Umpire Dan Cupid, when he secured a marriage license to wed Miss Grace M. Hodge of Oakland.

"Whenever it is handy for the priest," is the way Brick is said to have set the time for the ceremony. Devereaux's marriage is the culmination of a romance of the diamond which started three years ago when he was playing third base for the Oakland team. Wild Bill's grin won a home in the grandstand.

Devereaux is playing third base for the Sacramento outlaw team. His age is 38 and his bride's 22.

PETER BARON SUES ROLLER

Word was recently received from old Pete Baron, who left here several months ago in company with Dr. Roller, to act in capacity of trainer to the big wrestler, that he has brought suit against Roller for training services. He writes that Roller hasn't paid him a cent since leaving here and that he still owes him for services rendered while in Honolulu.

Roller, says, Baron, is in poor odor on the coast, being regarded as a notoriety seeker and a four-flusher.

It was recently announced that a six-round boxing match between the wrestling medico and Al. Kauwman would be pulled off in the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition arena. This arrangement has fallen through, however.

Sheriff Hodge, writing to President Chiberg on the subject said "I must ask you to assist me in preventing any boxing or prize-fighting contests on the fair grounds as I do not believe that it would be in keeping with the honorable way in which the fair has been conducted to receive money from any illegitimate or unlawful sources."

NEW LEAGUE DOING THINGS

There will be an important meeting of the Goldsmith Baseball League tomorrow evening, at which time the committee who were selected to draft the constitution and by-laws will report; also the official lists will be issued to the four teams.

The league expects to start its series at Aala Park on the 29th inst., and if arrangements can be made with the Riverside League, the opening games will be played in the afternoon. There will be two games every Sunday morning and as there are many of the star players of the junior leagues who will play with this new league, the fans may expect some real classy ball.

The teams which will take part in the games are: Kukui, managed by Henry Aki; Chinese A. A. Jrs., Goldsmith A. C. and the Sunlights, who will have S. C. Kanoe, one of the most enthusiastic fans here as manager. The Japanese are also thinking of entering a team and if Sawai, the former manager of the Okuwans, can make proper arrangements with some

VIERRA SAYS DON'T MEDDLE

SPORTING EDITOR, HAWAIIAN STAR.

Sir:—In order that the public may not misunderstand the frequent suggestions made in the morning paper as to how the Oahu Baseball League should be run, I enclose the following letter, which was entirely unsolicited, and which you are at liberty to publish, in your widely read sporting columns:

"Dear Friend Vierra—I see by the paper this morning that the scorer of the Oahu Baseball League should have his salary raised again. I think that the paper is coming it a little too strong when it writes that way. I am not kicking and, furthermore, I am well satisfied with the remuneration that I am receiving.

"Yours, with best aloha,
"NIGEL JACKSON."

We have so far been able to conduct our affairs without any outside advice, as we have men in the league who are as capable as men outside of it, that is as far as baseball matters are concerned.

This perpetual nagging as to how we should conduct our affairs is becoming very monotonous and only ten to engender dissatisfaction. At the same time suggestions will gladly be received in private.

Yours very truly,
A. J. K. VIERRA,
Manager Oahu Baseball League.

BIG LEAGUE TO PLAY TWO GAMES

The Honolulu Baseball League held a meeting in the store of E. O. Hall & Co., yesterday, the following being present:

President C. J. Falk, Pat Gleason, Dr. Monsarrat and Edwin Fernandez.

The most important business transacted was the arrangement of the schedule on a two-games an afternoon basis. The new arrangement will start tomorrow, the games scheduled being as follows:

At 1:30 p. m.—Punahou vs. Diamond Heads.

At 3:15 p. m.—Kams vs. St. Louis.

The Hawaiian band will play during the progress of both games.

On the suggestion of Eddie Fernandez it was decided to make tomorrow "Ladies' Day," and the fair sex will be admitted to the ball park without money and minus price, free, gratis and for nothing.

The first game looks like being won by the Jewels though the Punahous are coming along very fast and may easily occasion a surprise.

Of the Kams little definite is known. They are stacking up against a man's size nine when they tackle the conquering Saints and one that is sure to test their capabilities to the utmost limit.

The crowd should be a good one for an excellent afternoon's sport is promised. There will be two exciting good games, plenty of delightful music and the presence of the ladies to grace the auspicious occasion. What more could a fellow ask for his little, old two-bits?

AUSTRALIAN GAME SOUGHT

There is little doubt than an effort will be made to have the Australian cricket team play a game with the local club on their way back to the Colonies. While there could only be one result to such a game, the contest would stimulate cricket in Hawaii immensely.

The California Cricket Association have taken definite steps toward inducing the Australians to play at least one game against Californian wielders of the willow. An enthusiastic meeting of cricketers was held and it was decided to offer F. Laver, the Australian manager, a definite cash guarantee and a large percentage of the gate receipts for a two days' game.

A letter was received by the secretary of the Californian Cricket Association in answer to one written by himself in which Laver asked for a guarantee which it was impossible for the association to comply with. The Californians hope, however, that the large gate receipts which a game with the Colonials would be sure to attract, will be sufficient, in addition to a moderate guarantee, to secure a game with the famous Australian visitors.

The pugilistic mill-pond remains absolutely untrifled.

The Labor Day cruise of the yachts will be to Lanai. This has been definitely decided.

The Oahu Baseball League games for Sunday will be: Marines vs. Japanese, and Kaitis vs. C. A. C.

Tomorrow's big league game will be between the Kams and St. Louis.

BURGLARS STOLE A SAFE

IRON STRONGBOX CONTAINING $300 AND PAPERS SPIRITED AWAY FROM WAREHOUSE.

HILO, August 17.—A rather remarkable burglary took place last Wednesday night at Punaluu, Kau when the safe at the landing warehouse, with its contents, was packed off by unknown parties. Neither safe nor contents have been heard of since, and there is considerable mystery connected with the affair.

It appears that the burglars gained an entrance through the door by unlocking it, having evidently been in possession of a key. They took the safe, an iron box weighing about 150 or 200 pounds, with them bodily, leaving no trace of the method employed by them in doing so. The safe contained somewhat over three hundred dollars in cash, as well as a number of papers and valuables, which were the property of the keeper of the warehouse, Robert T. Forrest. Among the trinkets which were much prized by Mr. Forrest, which were thus lost, were a Queen's Jubilee medal, a valuable meerschaum pipe, which was a gift from a dear friend, and a cigar case bearing his initials.

Sheriff Pua, who happened to be in Kau at the time, made a thorough investigation of the affair. "I came to the conclusion that there must have been, at least two or three men concerned in the matter," said the Sheriff yesterday afternoon. "One man could not possibly have packed the heavy safe away without leaving some signs behind, and there was not a single scratch on the floor, showing that the safe was lifted bodily. It is the theory of Mr. Forrest, and I believe that he is right therein, that the safe was lifted by several men and carried some distance from the warehouse where some vehicle was awaiting them. An examination has been made of the bottom of the sea outside of the warehouse, but the safe was not there, and I feel certain that it must have been taken away quite a distance. The only clue which we have to work on is an old lahuala hat which was left behind by one of the burglars."

The case is now being worked up by the Kau police, and they hope that they may be able to locate some of the easily identified articles which were taken, and thus be enabled to get on the track of the burglars.

JAPANESE SCRIBES CHARGED WITH LIBEL

AHARA TAKES EXCEPTIONS TO ARTICLE WHICH APPEARED IN THE HILO SHINPO SHA.

HILLO, August 17.—Again there is trouble in the local Japanese newspaper circles, and the errand fancies of the unrestrained pen have caused the arrest of three prominent Japanese in charges of criminal libel. The men arrested are all said to be connected with the Hilo Shinpo Sha, namely Dr. S. Kushima, president of the company; T. Ito, the editor; and Sasai, a member of the staff. Ito and Sasai were served with the warrant last Thursday evening, while Dr. Kushima was served the following morning. All were released on furnishing bail in the sum of five hundred dollars each.

The complainant is one Ahara, who alleges that a certain article, which was recently published in the Hilo Shinpo Sha, made libellous statements which were directed against him. In the warrant the translation of the offending article is given as follows: "Messrs. Hilo Shinpo Sha: I beg to notify you that in Laupahoehoe there is a rogue by the name of O Hara (meaning and intending thereby to say Ahara), whose height is cut into the half of six feet (meaning and intending thereby to say that this affiant is a dwarf), and who is known by the name of 'Old Baby Soul.' He is roughing it here and there as a wordy vagabond (meaning and intending thereby to say that this affiant is a vagrant). The nature of this kid is extremely vicious and he is doing his business as a vehicle driver here for the time being and is giving a great deal of trouble to all parties, and during the last four or five months he started the same business as a driver in Hilo, yet being anxious to get rid of the grand failure he had made, again he came back here."

The rest of the article is even more strenuous in its language, stating in many words that the affiant had lived on the earnings of his mistress until she finally declined to support him.

The matter came up before Judge Andrews last Thursday forenoon, Attorney Wise appearing for the defendants, while Attorney Irwin gave notice that he would appear as assisting the prosecution. The hearing of the case was continued.

ands, such as Kahoolawe or Niihau, and the prevailing currents should have taken her to the latter island, but we have had a search made everywhere on the group and I now feel sure that she has not touched anywhere in the islands.

"The schooner is, according to Alec Lyle, the strongest in the trade, and other island captains tell me that it is very unlikely that she has foundered. Personally I believe that she rolled the masts out of her, and became unmanageable, though even then, it seems to me, the crew should have been able to rig up a jury rig, which could have brought them to some island port by this time. One thing is certain, and that is that the schooner is still afloat, her crew is not starving. She always carried on board provisions consisting of flour, rice, coffee, sugar and the like, enough to last for five or six weeks, so the crew had this to fall back on other they had finished their salmon and poi. I am more worried about their water supply. It was the habit of the crew to fill up their barrels whenever they left a port, and I figure that they must have had on board about two hundred and twenty gallons when they left Punaluu."

"On the whole the affair is a mystery. She may be afloat, or may have foundered, but if the latter were the case the crew ought to have been able to make land, as there was a good sun boat on board, unless the vessel went down very suddenly."

The lighthouse tender Kukui which arrived in Hilo last Thursday afternoon is doing all she can to get information which may tend to clear up the Ada mystery, but she has met with no success.

"We came from Honolulu down the Hamakua coast, and have called at every light on this island on our way," said Lieutenant Houston of the Kukui last Friday. "We have also made inquiries everywhere for information about the schooner Ada, but we have learned absolutely nothing new about her. We leave Hilo tomorrow, and will go back to Honolulu by way of Kau and the Kona coast, and I do not have any hopes of finding out anything about the schooner. If she is anywhere at all, she is probably nearer Samoa than Hawaii by this time."

MANCHURIA DAY

Passengers by the Manchuria at the time of her grounding on the reef recall the fact that tomorrow will be the third anniversary of that event. A coincidence at present is that the Manchuria will be due in this port this afternoon or tomorrow, coming from the Orient. On the occasion of her grounding off Rabbit Island the Manchuria gave Honolulu ample excitement and talking material for days. She was little injured by her dangerous exploit. It is of interest to note that early this week Mr. R. P. Schwerin, vice president of the company owning the Manchuria, paid a visit to the scene of the first grounding and examined the new light—for the lack of which the accident occurred three years ago and to urge the building of which he made a special visit to Washington.

HELD FOR RANSOM

A HAWAIIAN STOPS BOLTING HORSES AND KEEPS THEM TILL PAID $5.

Bill Bray, a young Hawaiian who sometimes works in the Moiliili quarry this morning charged and collected five dollars for stopping two runaway horses attached to a dray which excited Queen street for a few blocks. The horses and dray belong to Heu Ying who conducts a draying and firewood establishment on Smith street opposite the offices of the Hawaii Shiping.

A Chinese was the driver and he left his animals standing near the Mauna Loa wharf about 9 o'clock.

Some flying trash frightened one horse and he bolted, his comrade having no choice in the matter and having to run also. They dashed along Queen street, miraculously dodging wagons, autos, buggies, pedestrians, building obstructions and everything else en route.

The Chinese driver jumped into a hack and gave chase but Bill Bray, near Kaahumanu street, boarded the dray from behind, gathered the reins and brought the steeds to a comfortable stand beyond the Hackfield building, while Queen street stood agape in wonderment.

Bray did a neat job. He then seated himself in the driver's seat and still held the reins, quite the proprietor in his attitude.

The Chinese driver arrived in the hack and wished to take possession of the dray, but Bill remarked that he thought the job of stopping the runaways was worth five dollars. The Chinese demurred, whereupon Bill calmly proceeded to drive the captured team to the police station, the Chinese expostulating all the way and a small crowd of boys and men following in the wake, those who did not ride in the dray.

And so the argument was maintained until the postoffice was reached, when the Chinese asked the young Hawaiian captor please to drive the dray to the office on Smith street where the five dollars would be paid.

At the office the "boss" was seen. "It is a big team, two horses and large dray, and there was no damage. I stopped it, a very bad runaway, I think. I charge you five dollars," said Bray.

"Can you change ten dollars?" asked the Chinese boss.

Bill couldn't have changed a dime, so he was given a check on Bishop's bank which he lost no time in taking to be cashed, followed by the same crowd of small boys who appeared much elated.

"I wasn't working today," said Bill, "because I have a friend going away on the boat at 5 o'clock this evening and I want to see him off. I don't think five dollars was too much to charge. It was a very bad runaway."

ART THEATER.

Do you remember the Charlot Race in General Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur"? Or the descriptions of the luxurious home of Petronius, the satirist, and your fascination at the word-painting of these authors? Of course you do. Well, just such another esthetic treat awaits you at the Art Theater today in the colored film "The Vestal".

Time and space will be alike forgotten, and when the lights are again turned up, you will awake as from some enchanting dream of Ancient Rome.

Then there will be comedy films, illustrated songs, choice musical selections and in short, something to please all sorts and conditions of men. The "piece de resistance" however, will be the phenomenal juggling feats of Lessio, the Australian Ciguevalli, a refined act, with nothing to remind you of the sawdust vulgarity of the circus tent. Admission as usual.

OCEAN BREEZES

Lying in the Mid Pacific, swept by the trade winds which blow across leagues of ocean and are absolutely pure, with the mountains from whose higher altitudes cool breezes descend upon the city, with its delightful climate all the year around, is one of the many reasons why Honolulu is being recognized as one of the world's most healthful places in which to live. There are no biting, cold winds, but, instead, refreshing, health giving trade breezes that make every person want to return—especially if he has been at that elevation where he can get a glimpse of Diamond Head in its majesty on the left, the panoramic view of the city on the right, the beautiful ocean view and its exhilarating breezes on the south and the mountains with their picturesque scenery on the north; all of which can be obtained from any point on Kaimuki where choice, residential property is being sold by the Real Estate Exchange.

TURRILL'S NEW STUNT

FOLLOWS UP FENNEL'S WORK WITH THE LATEST LEGAL PROSECUTION.

When license inspectors work hand in hand there is little chance of the City and County losing out on taxes.

U. Take, a Japanese restaurant keeper with an establishment on River street, has discovered that there are more ways than one of being punished for infringement of the law.

Liquor License Inspector Fennell has had him arrested for selling booze and now comes License Clerk Turrill to the Treasurer's office and lodges a complaint against Take for violating the provisions of his restaurant license which declare that no booze can be sold on the premises.

Take, if found guilty, will not only be fined for selling liquor without a license, but he will forfeit his restaurant license and the City and County will probably be in the fee for another license for the same restaurant under the name of some other man.

This is a new method and one that Turrill believes will benefit the Treasurer's office and advance regard for the law.

SEE'S MOON THEORY CAUSES A ROW

BERKELEY, Aug. 3.—A shock was sent through the scientific world today by the charge that Professor J. T. See of the United States naval observatory at Mare Island had adopted and proclaimed as his own the discarded theories of Dr. Forest Ray Moulton, head of the astronomical department of the University of Chicago. The accusation came from Dr. Moulton himself. The eastern authority referred to Professor See's conclusions as "aberrations" and added that the Californian was more to be pitied than censured.

The conflict of the heavenly altitudes has been precipitated by Dr. See's theory as to the origin of the moon. The Mare Island scientist declared in an address delivered here last month that the generally accepted belief that the moon had been thrown off from the earth was erroneous. Instead, he asserted that it had been captured by the earth from celestial space, that it was approaching the larger sphere at the rate of a quarter of an inch a year, and that in time the two would be welded.

REJECTED THE THEORY. In letters received here today, Professor Moulton says that he and Professor Thomas Crowder Chamberlain, president of the Chicago academy and the Walker museum, discussed this question a great many years ago and rejected the theory that Professor See now puts forth as his own.

Professor See is not a plagiarist in so many words, but Professor Moulton writes of him in terms unmistakable in their meaning and says that his conduct justifies the use of strong language.

The investigations of the Chicago scientists, according to Dr. Moulton, began back in the early 90's and the supposed discoveries of Professor See were made known at that time, they claim. However, Professor See diverges in two particulars, which Drs. Moulton and Chamberlain claim they discovered but rejected for good reasons.

ARE NOTED SCIENTISTS. Both Professor Moulton and Doctor Chamberlain occupy positions in the scientific world which entitle them to consideration, and statements denouncing the discoveries of Professor See, which caused the great interest here when presented to the Astronomical Society of the Pacific, are being carefully weighed.

Doctor Chamberlain is head of the Walker museum of Chicago and is a member of all the scientific societies of note throughout the world. He holds a degree of doctor of laws and is president of the Chicago academy. Doctor Chamberlain has written many books.

Dr. Forest Ray Moulton, who occupies a faculty position as head of the department of astronomy of the University of Chicago, is better known than Professor Chamberlain as an author. His pet hobby is the nebular hypothesis and he is thought by some astronomers to be an authority on this phase of astronomy. Doctor Moulton says:

"In Professor See's paper there are only two points of divergence from the ideas fully developed by Professor Chamberlain and myself. The first is that spiral nebulas have their origin in the meeting of two or more streams of cosmic dust. The second is that satellites are captured bodies.

"This latter view has been advanced by many amateurs and a few astronomers. It was considered in my writing and rejected for what seemed to me to be good reason. The resisting medium, on which so much stress is laid, is simply a special case of the collisions of any character considered by Professor Chamberlain and myself.

"This is perhaps sufficient to remove the clouds which See's pretensions of long study of and valuable contributions to this subject might raise in the minds of those not particularly familiar with the history of recent development of cosmogony.

"I wish to point out that notwithstanding the evidence furnished by his paper of his familiarity with our work, and in spite of the fact that at his request I furnished his reprints of my papers several months in advance of his recent announcement there is in it no direct nor indirect reference to Professor Chamberlain or myself. Ordinarily such conduct justifies the use of strong terms in characterizing it but in the present case I believe astronomers and others who are familiar with the situation will fully agree with me that these aberrations are more deserving of pity than of censure.

"He modestly states: 'It is only fair to say that no constructive results of a consistent character had been reached on this subject until my own investigation was completed last year. As I have worked on the subject uninterruptedly for 25 years I am prepared to speak with some degree of authority.'

The Riverside Baseball League games for Sunday afternoon at Aala Park will be: Aalas vs. Palamas, and Kewalos vs. Fort Shafter. These will be the last games of the first series.
