Vivian Richardson Is In Police Court Committed For Trial

The case of Vivian Richardson, charged with embezzling $100 from the office of the Superintendent of Public Works, came up in the Police Court this morning. The case of the prosecution did not seem over-strong, still it was sufficient to cause the defendant to be committed to the Circuit Court for trial. High Sheriff A. M. Brown conducted the prosecution, while Attorney A. A. Wilder appeared for the defendant. After the complaint had been read by the High Sheriff, Wilder demurred to it on the grounds that the complaint did not contain sufficient facts to constitute the crime of embezzlement and that there was no such person as the clerk of the Superintendent of Water Works who was in charge of the safe-keeping of public money. Wilder stated that he had not had time to put his demurrer in writing but would do so. The High Sheriff answered that he would waive that and asked Wilder to go ahead with his argument. Wilder argued that there was no such person as the clerk of the Superintendent of Water Works who had charge of the money collected by the department. He based his contention on the statute providing for a Water Works Department, which stated that it was the duty of the Superintendent to collect the water rates, and vested the custody and safekeeping of the money in him. He quoted the United States Supreme Court's decision in

GRAND JURY AND AN ELECTRIC HOUSE

Territorial grand jury is preparing what will probably prove to be its final report. This, however, may not be handed to Judge Robinson until the end of the month. Vouchers, community morals and other matters will be included in the findings of the inquiry. This afternoon the jury visits the fire stations of the city for the purpose of thorough inspection. In connection with the examination into moral conditions, relative to the presence of houses of questionable character in the city, it is said that one establishment has been discovered which is unique in appointments of a precautionary nature. It is said that when one steps upon the veranda electric bells sound the alarm all over the house and that the same thing happens should an attempt be made to raise a window, open a shutter or turn a door-knob.

THIRD VENIRE FOR JONES MURDER TRIAL

Judge Robinson this afternoon ordered a third special venire of fifty names to be issued in the Jones murder trial. The last man to be called to the jury box on the second venire, V. Kealoa, was challenged for cause and excused, as not being sufficiently familiar with English to serve on the case. Kealoa was not present this morning when his name was called and a bench warrant was issued. Upon appearance this afternoon Kealoa stated that he did not think it worth while to show up as he could not talk English and so though he would not be wanted. Special venire is returnable tomorrow morning. If this fails to provide a trial jury, Judges Gear and De Bolt will have to give up their juries. Eleven men, as elsewhere noted, now occupy the box, having passed for cause.

FAILED TO PROVE IN LIBEL A FOREIGN LAW

Sailors were called in rebuttal in Federal Court this forenoon in the libel for wages and damages of four seamen against the British bark Ivanhoe. They testified that Captain Grant, at Iquique, Chile, had refused to allow more than four men to go ashore and make complaint to the British Consul at that port against the officers of the vessel for alleged brutal treatment. Two of the witnesses referred constantly to a joint note sent ashore by the seamen, dealing with charges of cruelty. Judge Stanley, for defense, moved in each instance to strike out testimony in this regard and it was so ordered. A copy of the Merchants' Shipping Act, passed by the British Parliament in 1894, sought to be introduced by defense, was not admitted, defense being unable to prove its authority. Judge A. S. Humphreys and J. J. Dunne, for the libellants, pointed out marginal ink notes in the copy of the act owned by H. B. M. Consul Hoare, to the effect that certain sections had, since 1894, been repealed. There was nothing to show that the whole act had not been repealed; nothing to show the authority of the law could be produced by the defense. The case is drawing to a close. Libel against the British bark Ivanhoe is continued in Federal court until tomorrow morning for argument.

GRAND JURY SEES FIRE DEPARTMENT

On an invitation extended by Chief Thurston the grand jury this afternoon paid a visit to the central fire station. The chief showed the visitors all over the property and explained to them the workings of the various apparatuses. On this occasion he showed the jury that the efficiency of the service is somewhat impaired on account of the lack of space. One or two additional buildings were needed. After a thorough inspection of the station the jurymen expressed much satisfaction at the efficient manner in which the department was handled.

Senator Clarence Crabbe and Wm. H. Hoops were among those in conference with the Governor this morning. Subjects discussed included Aala park, embezzlements and a special session of the Legislature. Secretary Atkinson stated today that nothing could be determined in regard to an extraordinary session of the Legislature until statements were received from all the heads of departments showing the possibilities in the way of retrenchment.

Would Give Jones Says Juror "All He Deserves!"

With one man who declared he would not believe an interested witness under oath in a criminal case, another who was related by marriage to the alleged murdered woman and several whose already formed opinions were so strong that they could not be impartial, the getting of a trial jury in the Jones murder case proceeded slowly, and without progress, in Judge Robinson's criminal court this morning. Matters are less advanced at the present time than they appeared to be when court adjourned late yesterday afternoon. At the latter time twelve men had been passed for cause: H. A. Parmelee, E. R. Bliven, Wm. Dunbar, J. J. Egan, John Coffee, J. D. Dougherty, H. C. Brown, I. Bray, B. F. Vickers, J. W. Bergstrom, Emil Berndt and E. P. O'Brien. This morning Judge Robinson stated that he had reconsidered, upon a study of the law, his denial of challenge for cause by defense in reference to the last juror passed, E. P. O'Brien. The Court ordered the previous order vacated and excused Mr. O'Brien on the ground that he was not qualified as a juror under the law, not being a registered voter. The Court had in mind only the Constitutional requirement that a man possess the qualifications of a voter to serve as a juror, but the Organic Act allowed the Legislature to demand further qualifications and, according to Territorial law, a man must be a registered voter to act on a jury. O'Brien was not registered. Upon a calling of the roll of names of jurors left unexamined on the last special venire, W. E. Brown and V. Kealoa, Bench warrants, returnable forthwith, were ordered issued for these gentlemen. At 11:45 Kealoa could not be found and recess was taken until 2 p. m. Brown put in an appearance meanwhile and was excused as being opposed to the death penalty. All men left on the special venire were, in turn, called to the box, examined, challenged for cause and excused. This afternoon Kealoa, if found, has his examination. It is said that he is a minor. If this be so he will, of course, be excused without being called to the box. Judge Robinson will probably issue a third special venire for fifty men this afternoon. This fifty will exhaust the panel, unless jurors now serving in the civil courts of Judges Gear and Robinson are requisitioned. It is now said that grand jurors will not be needed. Judge Robinson has not yet decided the law point raised yesterday afternoon as to the order of peremptory challenges; whether, after prosecution has exercised one challenge, the defense shall challenge once or twice, having, as it does, twice the number of challenges of the prosecution. This will probably be settled when the peremptory challenges begin. Men excused this morning were A. W. Rice, J. C. Quinn, Louis Marks, E. S. Cunha, Willard E. Brown and E. P. O'Brien. Defendant Edward Mitchell Jones.

PANAMA TREATY SIGNED FOR GOOD

Mr. Cunha was challenged for cause and excused. Cunha stated that the late Mrs. Sarah Parmenter was a second cousin of his wife. He said he knew more of the facts than had appeared in the newspapers. He knew all the parties concerned. Nevertheless he could be absolutely impartial and fair, although he "could not reject his own opinion already formed." Peters followed up this strange state of mental affairs with: "In this condition of mind do you mean to say that you could give defendant a fair trial?" "I'd give him a fair trial, alright. I'd give him all he deserves," said Cunha. Mr. Cunha was challenged for cause and excused.

KILEY TO CATCH FOR HONOLULU

The Honolulu Athletic Club will put a very formidable baseball team in the field during the coming season. New players have been secured and every position will be secured. The major part of the old veterans will be in uniform when the time comes. Kiley, formerly catcher for the Malle Ilma team, has gone over with the Malle Ilma team to play under the Malle colors. He will take the position behind the bat and backed up by the strong team the H. A. C.'s will put in the field, he will prove a most valuable acquisition. He is one of the best catchers in the league and his batting has always been the delight of the various teams he has played with. In base running, he is also second to none. Leslie, who caught for the H. A. C.'s last year, will hold down first base, a position he plays like a professional. Barney Joy, the old stand-by, will occupy the box and he will have an able second in De Fries, who pitched for the Kaplani team in the park series of games. De Fries is a coming pitcher with many very strong points. The new players are as follows: Ed Fernandez, of the Malle Ilmas; C. Alwohl, George Townsend and George Clarke. The old players enrolled are as follows: Joe Fernandez, Pat Gleaves, son, Kaanol, Alwohl, J. A. Thompson, En Sue, Williams, Louis and Aylett. The team will be picked from these sixteen men. Practice is now being indulged in regularly at Makiki.

VLADIVOSTOK ATTACK

The following message from Minister Takahira was received by Consul Mikki Saito last evening: Washington, March 10th.
Mikki Saito, Honolulu.

The official report of Vice-Admiral Kamimura, commanding the Second (cruiser) Squadron, runs as follows: "On the sixth instant our squadron approached the northeastern forts of Vladivostok and demonstratively bombarded the port from 2 p. m. for about forty minutes and then withdrew. We could see the Russian artillery lined up on the forts but they did not respond to our fire."

"In the morning of the next day, the seventh instant, our squadron surveyed American Bay and Sterok Bay but did not find the enemy's fleet in those places. At noon on the same day we returned to Vladivostok and approached the east of the entrance to that port but our examination of the place gave us no indication of the presence of the enemy's squadron in that harbor."

"Later we surveyed Posselt Bay but the enemy's fleet was not there."

TAKAHIRA.

TWELVE IN THE BOX.

A twelfth man was passed for cause on the Jones murder trial jury in Judge Robinson's court late yesterday afternoon. This left the following in the box, pending the exercise of preemptory challenges: H. A. Parmalee, E. R. Bivens, Wm. Dunbar, J. Egan, John Coffee, J. D. Dougherty, H. C. Brown, I. Bray, B. F. Vickers, J. W. Bergstrom, E. A. Berndt and E. P. O'Brien.

Deputy Attorney General E. C. Peters moved that, when the prosecution had exercised one challenge, the defense should exercise two until the jury was found satisfactory to both sides or the challenges were exhausted. Any other course, said Peters, the defense having twice as many challenges as the prosecution, would enable the defense to bring six new men in the box after the prosecution had exercised its six challenges. Court adjourned with this point of law undecided.

A GERMAN SUICIDE.

An old German, Albert Kaiser by name, committed suicide in his home in Kakaako last night at about 11:30 o'clock. For a couple of weeks past Kaiser has evidently been mentally deranged. Last night his condition was such that his wife had summoned two neighbors to help her watch her husband.

Kaiser appeared to be asleep under the bed, his chosen resting place, and the women went to sleep. Kaiser managed to get out and get a razor. Before he could be stopped he had severed an artery in his arm above the elbow. Everything possible was done to save the man but when the police arrived, he was dying. He was taken to the Queen's hospital, where he died.

CAPTAIN TESTIFIES.

Captain Grant of the British bark Ivanhoe was on the stand in Federal court yesterday afternoon in the libel of four seamen against the vessel for wages and damages. He denied having seen any of the alleged brutality aboard but admitted having been informed of certain grievances against the mate at Iquique. The Ivanhoe's log was produced. Among the entries was one concerning a sailor slashing his wrist with suicidal intent at Iquique. No account of ill treatment was recorded.

Another entry noted the disrating of three of the libellants and the reduction of their wages. It is said the men were found to be green.

TEXAN WITH COAL.

Freight Agent C. Percy Morse has received word that the A. H. S. S. Texan sailed from Seattle for this port, March 7, with a large cargo of lime, grain, coal and general merchandise. This will be the first shipment of coal to arrive here from the mainland for over a year. When the duty of foreign coal was taken off for a year to relieve the price of coal in the States, Honolulu bought all its coal from Newcastle. Now that the tariff has again been placed on the foreign coal, shipments from the mainland are beginning once more.

Will You Write a Postal Note to a Sick One May Get Well?

Send no money—simply a postal card, giving the name of someone who needs help. Tell me the book to send.

Then I will do this—I will arrange with a druggist near him so that he may take six bottles Dr. Shoop's Restorative. He may take it a month at his risk. If it succeeds the cost is $5.00. If it fails the druggist will bill the cost to me.

That month's test will show you what the remedy can do. It is the easiest way to convince you. It is the only way to induce all who need help to accept it. I make this offer to multiply my cures, and I am willing to trust the cured ones to be fair with me.

In the past 12 years I have furnished my Restorative to hundreds of thousands of sick ones on just those terms, and 99 out of 100 have paid gladly, because they got well. I pay just as willingly when one says I have failed.

The remedy is my discovery, the result of a lifetime's work. I have perfected it by watching results by thousands of the most difficult cases that physicians ever meet. I know what it will do.

My success comes from strengthening weak inside nerves, and my Restorative is the only remedy that does that. When an organ is weak I bring back the nerve power which alone operates every vital organ. It is like giving an engine more steam. I give the weak organ power to do its duty, and there is no other way to make a weak organ well.

Can you conceive of a sick one who will neglect such a treatment when I take the entire risk?

Simply state which book you want and address. Dr. Shoop, Box 5311, Racine, Wis.

Book 1 on Dyspepsia Book 2 on the Heart Book 3 on the Kidneys Book 4 for Men (sealed) Book 5 for Women (sealed)

HE FROWNED.

"Full well the busy whisper, circling round, Conveyed the dismal tidings that he frowned." Goldsmith's "Pedagogue" was a man of moods, and his pupils understood them.

He frowned, probably because his eyes were defective; it was an indication that he needed glasses, but in those days they were not to be had, scientifically adjusted for such defect.

We live in a different age. Here we supply glasses for all defects of vision—properly adjusted.

POINT PINOS BUOY.

The following of interest to ship captains proceeding with their vessels to coast ports, has just been issued from the office of the local lighthouse inspector:

San Francisco, Cal., March 1, 1904. Notice to Mariners—Point Pinos—California. (List of Beacons and Buoys, Pacific Coast, 1903, page 17.) Notice is hereby given that Point Pinos Whistling Buoy, painted red and lettered "Pt. P." in white, heretofore moored about 3/4 mile N. W. 1/4 W. of Point Pinos Light Station, California, has gone adrift. At last accounts the buoy was one and one-quarter (1 1/4) miles south of its proper position, and about one mile off shore. Efforts will be made to tow the buoy into Monterey, and it will be replaced as early a date as practicable.

A RAPID TRANSIT EPISODE.

This morning about half past ten, a tall lady with a half-sized husband, boarded a King street car. The lady was wearing her husband on her right hand, when they entered the husband looked up, and said to his wife: "You're tall enough to reach a strap, but what can I hold," she said, "If I was as short as you are, I'd hold my tongue," so he took hold of his tongue, whereupon his dutiful spouse hollored, "What's the matter, can't you stand up?" Said hubby, "They both slipped." "Both my feet and my tongue," said the little husband, but let's get off the car and go and see Beth the plumber and have a look at that new line of Douglas Patent Closets that have just arrived. His telephone is 61 Main.

WHY THE

U. S. Washing Machine Is the Best.

BECAUSE

It is the only Rotary Washer that has revolving steel ball gearing, reducing the friction and thus making the machine light running and almost noiseless.
The gear wheel turns right or left, the pin wheel or dasher reverses automatically, turning the clothes back and forth through the hot soap suds and cleaning them without rubbing them to pieces. Over One Hundred Thousand in use.
The U. S. Machine have no equal because they wash clean.

Schuman Repository In Early Morning Is Burned To Ground

The carriage repository of the Schuman Carriage Co., Ltd., on Lanikai street, in the worst portion of Kakaako, was burned to the ground between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning and the valuable contents, valued at something like $15,000, were totally destroyed. The fire was fierce while it lasted and the fire department had a very hard time preventing the flames from spreading to the near-by shacks in which that particularly foul-smelling portion of the city abounds. The cause of the conflagration is unknown.

It was just two or three minutes before 2 o'clock that the first alarm sounded and the engines and hose carts went rattling through the deserted streets at a very fast clip. The alarm was from box 37, corner of Queen and South, this being the nearest to the place. Everyone at once thought that the Magoon block was going up in flames.

Officer Mueltnier is the man responsible for getting the fire department out. He was down in the locality hunting up witnesses to the suicide of Albert Kaiser and was on Lanikai street when he noticed flames coming through a crack in the iron roof of the carriage repository. He mounted his bicycle, made for the box mentioned and turned in the alarm.

The department was on the scene in an incredibly short time and a hose was run all the way from the hydrant nearest the scene of the fire, on King street, the stretch being some 250 feet. The connecting up of this hose took some length of time and it was fifteen or twenty minutes before water could be played on the flames. By that time the building was blazing in a most threatening manner and it looked for a little as if the fire would spread to the other buildings near by.

About five minutes after the first alarm came a second and every engine and hose cart of the department turned out on the run.

When water was finally secured the firemen got in their work in such good shape that they confined the fire to the burning building, although if there had been dryants closer to the scene, many of the carriages might have been saved.

The slowness in getting water on the building was due neither to the fire department nor the water works. The whole responsibility lies in the failure to provide the proper amount of hydrants for the district, necessitating the running out of great quantities of hose in streets where at night time a fireman is liable to fall into one of the foul smelling holes and break a leg or an arm, if not his neck.

At a little before 3 o'clock the out whistle blew, the fire having been completely subdued. However, a hose and some firemen were left at the place to see that there might be no further blazing up.

The firemen were given considerable trouble by the falling of the galvanized iron roof, which pinned the burning carriages and other material underneath, making it very difficult indeed to get water where water was most needed. There was but little saved. Five or six wagons of various descriptions and a couple of dozen shafts, which had been placed outside the building, were taken out into Queen street by the firemen and residents of the vicinity. The carriages in the building and the building itself were totally destroyed.

White Moves in Two Moves.

The following, taken from the Literary Digest, is worthy of careful study and it will be found instructive as well as amusing:

The Falkbeer Counter-Gambit.

Charousek's Attack.

During Pillsbury's recent visit to Chicago, the American champion made public some highly interesting analyses on the Crausek Attack in the Falkbeer Counter-Gambit, which he had been at considerable pains to work out. The attack was introduced by the late Rudolph Charousek in his game against Pillsbury in the Nuremberg Tournament of 1886. This resulted in a draw after an exciting game of fifty-two moves, the Hungarian missing a win on the thirty-first move. Pillsbury now claims to have demonstrated the unsoundness of the novelty by continuing with S... Kt-Q B 3, instead of S... B-K 2, as in the Nuremberg game. His research involved the fathoming of extremely intricate complications, which of course could hardly be accomplished in cross-board play.

(a) This move constitutes the Charousek Attack and against an indifferent move—say, the obvious B-K 2—White gains at least a Pawn, and if Black should Castle on his ninth move, Pawn takes B P, winning a piece.

(b) This is Pillsbury's defense to this ingenious attack on White's part, and its soundness has been conclusively demonstrated by hours of elaborate analysis on his part.

(c) If White plays P-Q B 3 to prevent the entrance of the hostile Knight Black can give up a Pawn in something like the following continuation: 9 P-Q B 3, B-K 2; 10 B-Kt 2, Castles; 11 Kt x Kt, P x Kt; 12 B x P, B-R 5 ch; 13 K-B sq Q-B 2; 14 K-Kt 2, B-K 3; 15 Q-B 3, Kt-K 4 and wins. [See foot note.] In other variations resulting from this line White is equally helpless.

(d) It is obvious that Kt x Kt at this stage results in the loss of a Pawn.

(e) For a long time Mr. Pillsbury thought Q-B 4 was the winning move at this juncture, but patient analysis discovered the following flaw: 11... Q-B 4; 12 P x Kt, P x B; 13 Kt (not queen) x P, Kt x P ch; 14 K-Q 2 (the only move), Q-B 3; 15 Q x Kt, B-K 5 ch; 16 K-Q 3. This last curious move effectually dispirits Black's attack and prevents his recovery of his piece.

(f) If K-Q sq, then Kt-K 6, winning the bishop.

(g) And Black remains a pawn plus, winning in all variations after his tenth move.

[If White plays 16, P x Kt, Black has the reply 17... Q-Q 2.—Ed.]

PARENT'S WARNING TO AVOID BOTTLE

The drowning of young Siemsen yesterday recalls the history of the elder Siemsen who was at one time one of the most promising business men in the islands.

In the early days Siemsen was a sugar boiler for Captain Tom Spencer in Hilo. While engaged at this work, he received a letter from Germany telling of the death of a relative and the leaving of a will which included a goodly inheritance for himself.

Siemsen at once returned to his old home in Germany, secured the money and returned to Hilo with his pockets bulging with glistening gold. Soon after his arrival, there entered the port of Hilo a large sailing vessel which was laden with a cargo of goods, wares and merchandise consigned to him.

The cargo landed, Siemsen went into partnership with W. P. Conway. Not only did he do this but he financed the Honokaa plantation, which was then running on a small scale, entered into partnership with Joseph Marsden, who was recently in the city and established him as the manager of the sugar estate.

Then came the thing which wrecked the prosperous German and led him to take his own life some ten years ago at his place in Iwilei. He started to drink and the liquor in the cargo which had come out from Germany soon reached low water mark through the steady drains made by Siemsen and those who surrounded him.

The firm of Siemsen & Conway was soon bankrupt and Siemsen lost all he had, both in Hilo and Honokaa, although he had financed the plantation and put Joseph Marsden, W. H. Rickard and others on their feet.

Finally, Siemsen drifted to Honolulu and was given odd jobs here and there by German firms, a good deal of his time being spent along the waterfront.

Then came the end. Drinking had continued, and with it came the inability to secure work. Disgusted with himself and seeing no good in living longer, Siemsen placed a gun against his head and blew out his brains.

A letter, brimful of pathos, was left to the wife and in it pardon was asked for the deed. In conclusion, Siemsen asked that his children be brought up properly but above all things they should be warned against the gin bottle.

Women Are Barred From Catholic Choirs

New York, Feb. 27.—All doubt that may have existed in the minds of Brooklyn singers who are members of the different choirs in the various Catholic churches in this diocese as to sweeping reform inaugurated by Pope Pius X. in the matter of church music are practically set at rest by a recent letter issued by Bishop O'Donnell to the priests of the diocese, enjoining them to carry out the orders of His Holiness to the letter.

It will be remembered that in the recent utterance of Pope Pius X. entitled "Motu proprio," His Holiness said, among other things, that the services of women as singers in the choirs were clearly inadmissible, according to the strict rubrics of the church. The carrying out of this provision will mean that all the women vocalists now employed in the Catholic churches must now seek employment elsewhere.

Figured music, too, will be abandoned, and nothing but the plain chant, or Gregorian, as it is properly called, will be allowed in the churches during the celebration of the mass or during vespers and benediction.

THE POWER OF ONE MAN'S WORD.

Early in the winter of 1901 the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co. mailed to certain men of great wealth in this country and in Europe a circular containing a proposition. It stated in the fewest possible words that a syndicate was being organized to finance the United States Steel Corporation. The terms on which subscriptions would be received followed. That was all.

The response that this circular evoked was the most tremendous demonstration of the asset value of one man's word ever given. From all parts of the country letters containing offers of subscriptions, checks, and pledges of various kinds poured in on Morgan & Co. Through all the hours of the day the anteroom of the great banker was thronged with millionaires, begging as the highest favor the privilege of participating in the syndicate. Within a few days the subscription was closed. The amount asked was $200,000,000. Had it been $100,000,000 the offering would have been more than sufficient to meet the call.

Three years earlier, Lyman Gage, Secretary of the United States Treasury, offered for sale $200,000,000 of United States two-per-cent. bonds. The integrity and asset-value of these securities are indisputable. Behind them is the nation's credit. Yet Mr. Gage was several months in marketing the Government's offering, while Mr. Morgan's proposition was oversubscribed a few days after its announcement. The credit of the Wall Street banker outmatched that of the United States Treasury.—E. J. Edwards in Everybody's Magazine for March.

Miss Elizabeth Howard, of New Brunswick, N. J., has resigned after completing more than forty years of continuous service as a teacher in the public schools of that city.

When Japan is in doubt Port Arthur is bombarded to keep Russia guessing.

It's some satisfaction to know that Hawaii isn't the only section of the tourist traveled world that is enjoying a spell of weather.

The strategist says the Russians are all mixed up, which is another way of saying that the strategist is tangled in his own stratagem.

Gambling establishments will hereafter require a written guarantee from the money of others or not get caught at it.

Political discussion indicates, that notwithstanding the hard times, there are more than twelve men able and anxious to pay the price of a trip to Chicago as convention delegates.

The President has placed the salaries of Panama commissioners at $12,000. It's a dollar to an old hat that some wise man will use this as an argument for raising salaries in Hawaii.

In time of peace Russia called the Chinese brigands and sent more troops to strengthen its hold on Manchuria.
In time of war these Chinese are recognized as regulars violating the rules of neutrality. Russia may now protest but it can't gain much sympathy from the public if given a little of its own diplomatic medicine.

What is the difference between an embezzler and a government that draws on appropriations without warrant of law? Until the test case is decided the Territory is in a position that at least calls for all possible haste in bringing its own status to final determination. The money belongs to the taxpayers, not the executive officers of the Territory.

Without an exception the Republican Oahu members of the House favor a special session of the Legislature to straighten out the finances of the Territory. Only one of these approves action on other than financial matters.
Opinions of elected representatives of the people are generally and properly regarded as a safe guide for American executive officers.

Egg throwing at a band concert is a reminder of incidents of the Birbemorning-press-citizen movement in the Seventh precinct. The community has not forgotten the glee with which the morning paper referred to the "eggs on wool." Present day egg throwers demonstrate how well they have followed the teaching of the morning paper in political work.

Honolulu is not wholly satisfied with the war in the Orient unless there is a battle every other day. If Honolulu's desires could be satisfied the war would soon be ended and the final treaty of peace drawn before the ice leaves Vladivostok harbor. Fortunately or otherwise neither Russia nor Japan is conducting its campaign according to sham battle plans, and armies are not moved in a day.

Discussion of Russia's old time friendship for the United States has started the people thinking. They are not prepared to sanction all that Russia does but it is very apparent that these reminders are creating a sentiment that will make it warm for any officials who attempt to drag this country into an implied alliance with either Great Britain or Japan. The American people are not prepared to view with indifference any program that contemplates fighting any one's battles but their own.

The present situation in the Territory proves nothing if not the superiority of county government over the present unwieldy Territorial regime.
A Board of Supervisors could quickly, legally, and effectively reduce the expenses of the county to a level with the revenue. Under existing conditions the reduction must be made at the expense of a legislative session or left to the arbitrary determination of executive officers in Honolulu. No sensible man will claim that officials in Honolulu can determine public necessities to better purpose than county officers elected by the people.

The United Irish Societies of New York city have voted that St. Patrick's Day is not a holiday. This is likely to shock the sensibility of all Irish-Americans until it is learned that the vote was influenced by the determination of the German Mutual Protective Union to charge holiday prices for their music. Union music holiday prices are high. The Irishmen responded to the German demand with the statement:

"You'll be asking us to feed on limburger cheese and pigs' knuckles and sauerkraut on that occasion. We celebrate the day enough, and what is the use of making it a holiday?" Thus is St. Patrick's Day preserved as an Irish holiday in fact but not for the benefit of German music unions.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR EM- BEZZLEMENT.

Two more Hawaiians gone wrong.
This general comment, freighted though it be with a tinge of injustice, nevertheless points a moral to Hawaiians. It brings out the fact that the community watches with interest the course of the Hawaiians; that the fall of one tends to cast a reflection on all, and places an additional weapon of attack in the hands of those prejudiced and vicious men seeking incidents wherewith to establish their claim of Hawaiian incompetence or lack of responsible character. In spite of the fact that the proportion of absconding Hawaiians is no larger than any other race, it carries the impressive moral that a man is his brother's keeper.
Especially when his race or associations are taken as the special object of malicious misrepresentation or unjust attack.

The fall of a young official in the Water Works Department and of another trusted employee in a local business house has called for diverse views on embezzlement, the gambling house and the influences that lead young men astray. Street corner wisecracks have said "I told you so," moralists point to gambling dens and call the police to account. Among the sincere and thoughtful people there is deep regret that young men with promising prospects have succumbed to temptation and betrayed the trust imposed in them.

Comparatively few, however, appear to have considered the responsibility of employers, whether it be the Territorial government or a business house.
It is the duty of every institution to conduct its business in such a manner that temptation shall not be placed in the lap of an employee. Exact business methods, constant checking of accounts, always used in properly conducted business are not the result of inherent dishonesty or a natural trend of human nature toward thieving. Average humanity is honest. It is a recognized principle of every well ordered institution handling money in large or small amounts that the temptations presented employees shall be reduced to a minimum.

A thoroughly dishonest man will steal in spite of all the schemes men may devise to prevent it. The honest man is in constant danger of going astray—taking a little today and more tomorrow with the intention of paying it back—when left to his own devices in handling the coin of others. According to general report it would seem that the recent cases of embezzlement come more within the scope of the latter.

No employee has a right to steal. No employer has a right to throw a quantity of money in the control of another with no other check than a kindly warning that it must not be misappropriated.
The United States Government has a most perfect and intricate system for preventing peculations by its employees, from the man handling millions a day to the petty officer holding a few dollars of the public monies. This is not done on the presumption that all Government employees are dishonest.
It is to maintain business accuracy and remove the suggestion of dishonesty.
Employees, good, bad, and indifferent know that their affairs are open to an accounting at any time. The influence of these strict methods is to secure accuracy and honesty all the time.

Such a system of accounting and checking should obtain in every office of this Territory, from the accounts of the Department head to the bureau clerk. Until it does, the business management of this Territory is open to just criticism if not censure and the young or old employee overcome by the tempting glitter of gold he handles may be considered as more sinned against than sinning.

RICHARDSON COMMITTED

safe-keeping. He had charge of money belonging to the Territory of Hawaii.
He had had no orders to remove Government money from the department safe on February 17. Witness had had a conversation in his private office with the defendant. Witness had asked him on what night he had come into the office and how much money he had taken from the safe.
"Was that conversation in the manner of a confession?" asked Wilder.
"Yes," answered Mr. Brown.
"Did you tell him that he was under any charge?"
"No."

Wilder objected to questions with regard to this confession on the ground that it was not a proper confession and should not be allowed.
Judge Dickey allowed the question.
Witness went on to say that Richardson had told him that he had taken $100 but had replaced it the next morning. He said that everything else was all right. Richardson did not come to Mr. Brown voluntarily. He had been sent for. He said he took the money on or about February 13, but did not remember the exact date. This conversation took place March 1.

On being cross-examined by Wilder the witness stated that the defendant and the second clerk had the combination to the safe. There was a regulation that the chief clerk should have charge of the money. This regulation had been in vogue before Brown took office.

Hackdriver John Gouveia was the next witness. He stated that on February 17, between 7:30 and 8 p. m., Richardson had called his back at the Anchor saloon. He gave Gouveia a note to take to Clerk Woodward on Punchbowl. Woodward refused to come with Gouveia, who returned and reported to Richardson.

Richardson told Gouveia to go back to Woodward and get the key to the safe. Gouveia got it and gave it to Richardson in the Anchor saloon.

Gouveia and Richardson then drove to the Capitol. Richardson went into the Water Works office alone. He came back and told Gouveia that the safe combination had been changed and that he could not open it. He then drove back to Woodward's place and got the combination. Richardson then returned to the Water Works office. He stayed in there about ten to fifteen minutes. He then drove back to the Anchor saloon, where he paid Gouveia $1. He had lots of gold in his pocket. Richardson offered Gou-veia a drink and both entered the saloon. There were some fellows in there playing dice. Richardson paid for the drinks and gave some money—gold—to the fellows, saying: "I'm in this game."

Wilder wanted to know how Gouveia could tell that Richardson was going to open the safe. Witness answered that Richardson had told him so.

Daniel M. Woodward, the second clerk in the Water Works office, stated that Richardson came to his house February 17 between 8 and 9:30 p. m. in Gouveia's hack. Gouveia had been there previously with a note from Richardson. He had given the note back to Gouveia.

Witness started to state what were the contents of the note but Wilder objected on the ground that the note itself would be the best evidence. The objection was sustained.

Woodward further testified that he had given the key to the outside door of the safe to Richardson. Half an hour later Richardson came back. He wanted Woodward to come to the office with him to open the safe. He said he was too full to do so himself.
Woodward refused to go and Richardson went off alone. Woodward got the key back from Richardson in the office the next morning. Witness never knew of any other money than Government money being in the safe.

High Sheriff Brown took the stand, stating that he wanted to testify with regard to an admission made by the defendant to Assistant Attorney General Fleming on the morning of March 9.

In answer to questions by Wilder the High Sheriff stated that the defendant had been told by Fleming to tell the truth and hide nothing. He was not under arrest then.

The High Sheriff stated that the defendant had said that one evening in February he had driven from the Anchor saloon to the office and had taken $100 from the safe. He wanted to use it but did not exactly know for what purpose. He had been in the Anchor saloon with a gang whose intention it was to go to the Brunswick billiard parlors. He did not go there, however, but went to the Anchor saloon. He returned the money to the safe the next morning.

The defendant had admitted to Fleming that he was in the habit of taking money from the safe, leaving 100 U's for the sums taken in its place.
The $100 in question was Government money. Richardson had said that he knew it was wrong to take in that manner but that he had returned the money.

The High Sheriff stated that this was that case of the prosecution.
Judge Dickey committed the defendant to the Circuit Court for trial.
Attorney Wilder having declined to produce any evidence for the defense.
The bond of $5,000 put up by Richardson was deemed satisfactory by both sides and remained unchanged.

At the annual meeting of the Mc-Bryde Sugar Company, Ltd., on the 10th inst., officers were elected.

The above is a list of the insurance carried by the Schuman Carriage Co., Ltd., whose repository was totally destroyed in the fire of this morning. Although the exact value of the goods destroyed cannot be learned just yet, it is estimated that $15,000 should cover the whole. A part of the insurance is in the name of Mr. Schuman himself and a part in the name of the Stud-baker Carriage Company. If the estimate secured at the Schuman Carriage Co.'s office today is correct, the loss will be about $3,000, a very fortunate outcome when such a large amount was involved.

The Schuman Carriage Co. represents a consolidation of this concern, the C. F. Herrick Carriage Co. and the Pacific Vehicle & Supply Co. The La-nival repository carried a large stock of goods taken over by the consolidation, the remainder of the stock being carried at the store in the Alexander Young building.

Mr. Schuman is at present on Maui on business, having left on Tuesday.
C. F. Herrick sent him a wireless this morning and although Mr. Schuman anticipated making quite a stay on Maui, he is expected back in the steamer of tomorrow.

The cause of the fire is unknown although people connected with the company are disposed to believe that a cigar or cigarette stump was responsible.

It appears that yesterday a gang of Japanese carpenters were set to work laying a floor on the makai side of the building which was formerly without one. This was done on account of the dampness in the repository, caused by the recent heavy rains and the consequent damage to vehicles in the way of rust.

This floor had been all but completed when the 5 o'clock whistles blew yesterday and the carpenters quit work. It is said by residents of the vicinity that they saw the Japanese smoking during the day. It is therefore possible that one of these men might have carelessly thrown a cigar or cigarette stump into a carriage, the result being a slow burning of wood and leather and a final communication of the fire to the other vehicles.

A great deal of the stock was wrapped in paper and if the cigar or cigarette stump had been thrown into this inflammable material, the fire would have taken place almost immediately.

It is calculated that there were over a hundred vehicles besides other supplies in the repository.
