STILL HAS JURISDICTION

STANLEY'S INTERESTING RULING THIS MORNING.

Thinks Old Maritime Cases Belong to Territorial Courts—Opinions on the Point at Variance—Other Matters.

In the matter of the Wilder Steamship Company vs. the ship John C. Potter, filed for salvage, Judge Stanley this morning filed the following decision: "The respondent in the above entitled cause pleads to the jurisdiction of this court herein and claims that the District court of the United States for the Territory of Hawaii, is vested with full and exclusive jurisdiction within the Territory of Hawaii of all matters of admiralty or maritime jurisdiction. This would be undoubtedly true in the case of all proceedings instituted on or subsequent to the fourteenth day of June, 1900, but, an said cause was pending in the Circuit court of the First Circuit of the Republic of Hawaii on the said fourteenth day of June, it should in my opinion be carried on to final judgment and execution in the Circuit court of the First Circuit of the Territory of Hawaii. See section 10, chapter 1, of the act to provide a government for the Territory of Hawaii. Plea to the jurisdiction is accordingly overruled."

The decision is interesting for the reason that it creates or draws attention to an anomalous situation. Some of the lawyers contend that on June 14 the authority of the Territorial courts over maritime matters ceased absolutely and that any cases pending passed to the United States court. An appeal will be taken. Whether the Supreme court can settle the contention opens a new question. In the minds of some lawyers a settlement will have to be reached by a compromise between the United States and Territorial courts.

VICTIM OF A DEVIL FISH

HORRIBLE DEATH OF SEAMAN DE BAR.

Explanation of His Drowning Indicated by the Finding of the Body Last Night—The Inquest.

The finding of the body of the drowned seaman Jules De Bar solved the mystery of why he never rose to the surface after he sank for the first time, in the sight of his comrades. The unfortunate man appears to have been seized by a large cuttlefish or squid and held down on the bottom of the harbor till he drowned. The remains show where the devil fish had its tentacles on his body, and the monster had eaten away some of the flesh before the body finally rose to the surface.

De Bar's body was found last night within a few feet of the spot where he sank. It was seen floating in the water by the janitor of the Healeani boat house. He telephoned to the police and the remains were taken to the Williams undertaking parlors. Part of the face was eaten away, and the body presented a most horrible appearance. It had apparently been in the grasp of the monster for many hours.

The drowning of De Bar was remarkable in that the body never rose to the surface after it first sank. It is well known that drowning persons usually rise and sink several times and those who were trying to rescue the sailor watched for him to rise, but never saw him after he went under. They supposed that a strong current had carried him away, though native swimmers say that there is no current at that place where the tragedy occurred. It is now thought that when the drowning man sank to the bottom for the first time he was seized by the long, powerful tentacles of the slimy monster at the bottom, and held there till he drowned. There are many squid at the mouth of the channel.

A devil fish large enough to hold a man on the ocean bed is no new thing in these waters. Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth recalls the case of a native diver who was similarly seized some years ago by one of the horrible monsters. The man dived to the bottom of the harbor in a shallow spot and soon his companions noticed that he did not rise. His feet were seen just below the surface and it seemed as if he were fastened to the ocean bed. They grasped his feet and pulled him up, after considerable effort, and when him came a large squid. The squid was fastened to his head. Its tentacles had penetrated through his mouth and nose and had a grasp that nothing could loosen till the fish was killed. In a few moments he would have drowned and the disgusting fish would have had its prey secure.

A coroner's jury will sit in the case of De Bar this afternoon. The jurors are Samuel Kuby, J. Richardson, J. D. Trelogan, D. Schoenfeld, J. J. McDonald and J. B. Gorman.

PEACE AGAIN ON KAUAI

ALL STRIKES AT AN END ON THE ISLAND.

Japanese Laborers Return to Work Before the Arrival of Their Consul—The New Conditions.

The Japanese strike on the Island of Kauai is at an end. The laborers have all returned to work, and the managers are happy that the troubles have been settled so speedily. The Japs are now free laborers and at liberty to work or not, as they wish, but like other laborers, they realize that if they don't work they are likely to be without food and without a place to sleep in.

The settlement was made before Consul Salto arrived at Kauai. At Lihae the men all went to work the day before yesterday, and the last of the strikers on the other plantations of the Garden Island turned to yesterday. Consul Salto arrived yesterday and will carry out his intention of visiting the various places and giving his countrymen information about the new conditions.

The laborers are freed from the clause in their contracts which provided that the plantation should pay $2 or $3.50 a month from each man's salary to the immigration companies, the money to be kept in trust till the expiration of the contracts. Many of the laborers will continue to have the monthly sum paid to the companies, as they regard it as a good way of saving something. The payment of the money is optional now, however, instead of being a part of a labor contract. Contracts have been returned to the men all over the Island of Kauai.

The immigration companies received word this morning by the steamer Mikahala that the troubles had all been adjusted in a satisfactory manner. The strike is attributed to the work of agitators. The companies are of the opinion that the news from the other islands will be about the same. The laborers at Healea have all gone back to work.

A report was current in Honolulu this morning that 600 Japanese on Waialua plantation had gone on strike and were coming to Honolulu, to demand the return of money paid in, from the immigration companies. Inquiries by telephone at Waialua were answered by the statement that there was nothing in the story and that there is no strike at all on that plantation.

ARE YOU ENUMERATED?

IF NOT, THE CENSUS BUREAU WANTS YOU.

Closing Up the Census of Honolulu—Enumerators Turning in Their Books—Final Revisions Being Made.

The census bureau is finishing up the work of the census for Honolulu. Most of the enumerators have finished and have turned in their books, and Special Agent Bigelow, who has immediate charge of this part of the census is revising and correcting the work, and seeing that everything is in perfect shape. For the department at Washington will not tolerate incomplete or slovenly work.

A number of people have notified the census department that they were not included in the census. All these reports are thoroughly looked into, and in most cases it has been found that the individuals were in fact included in the enumeration, the enumerator having secured the information from some other member of the family or in other ways. At the same time, Mr. Bigelow says that it is morally certain that some individuals have been left out. This is unavoidable on account of people being away from home on other parts of this island, or on the other islands. No matter how diligent the enumerators were, some omissions have in all probability occurred. He therefore invites people who have been omitted from the enumeration to report the matter to him, and to this end has issued the following:

"The census bureau would be pleased to have any persons who are certain that they have been overlooked by the census enumerators, to notify the department, postoffice box 294, or telephone 451, Judiciary building."

In many cases enumerators have been obliged to go to the same house a great many times before finding anyone who could give the information required. At other places, especially among the Japanese and Chinese, they have been obliged to go very early in the morning before the inmates left for their work, or late at night, after they returned from their work. Some of the enumerators have worked on Sunday because they could find people at home then who could not be found at any other time. It is believed that the census taken at this time will be one of the most complete ever taken of the Islands, mostly considered as an enumeration, and in other respects its scope is very much broader than has ever been attempted here before.

HOW TO CURE A SPRAIN.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on at first said it was a slight strain, and would soon be well, but it grew worse, and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. I continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50-cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Bathecock, Erie, Pa. SPECIAL MAIL DELIVERY

INSPECTOR FLINT BALKS IN HIS TRACKS.

Wants Houses Numbered Before Taking Up His Manifest Duties—Threat That Honolulu Will Have to Wait.

H. M. Flint, the post office inspector here, has stated to certain of his friends that the "mahope" antics of Honolulu people will lose to the city the free letter delivery system for some time to come. The whole said to Jonah "This is your misfortune—not my fault." The rules of the post office department prescribe a delivery system for a city the size of Honolulu. Nothing is said of street or house numbering in the opinion of substantial business men the inspector is taking a great deal on himself. It is argued that it is here to establish the system as prescribed by post office rules; if there is any difficulty at first in reaching a few new people in remote lodging houses, the city is prepared to shoulder the blame. Honolulu has been paying additional city postage since June 14, the offset for which is free delivery.

So much is public opinion and common street talk today. People had been led to believe that the free delivery system would go in at once. Now they are told that it may be delayed for months, if not until after the Legislature meets next February.

Mr. Flint is disgusted because when he came here he asked the Government to number the houses and it was not done. The inspector expected the Council of State had, of course, the same power in the matter as the Board of Health, fire commissioners or the poundmasters.

"If there is any board or any person in the Government with power to act in this matter, I would like to know it," said Superintendent McCandless. "I appreciate fully the importance of having all houses correctly numbered, for my mistakes to President McKinley's appointee as postmaster at Honolulu. It is certain that house numbering will be attended to, and perfectly, as soon as the Legislature meets."

CHARITIES BENEFITED.
Those in charge of the bazaar in connection with the recent celebration of the feast of the Holy Ghost have distributed the net proceeds as follows: Victoria hospital, $50; Charity Society of Portuguese Ladies, $50; Portuguese Stable Society of Hawaii, $50; widow of Manuel Gomes, $25.

The paper chase from the Y. M. C. A. will start at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The cover about five miles, and will take nearly two hours.

TRANSPORT DUE.

An army transport is due this evening or tomorrow morning from San Francisco, with two days' later news and probably mail.

MR. HASSINGER RETIRES.

Was the Oldest Man in Hawaiian Public Service.

John A. Hassinger, who retired on June 14 from the office of chief clerk of the interior office, was longer in public service than any other man in the Hawaiian Islands. He was in the interior office alone, almost twenty years, serving under every minister from the late S. G. Wilder to Alexander Young. Prior to that time, far back in the early days, he had charge of the customs business at this port. Mr. Hassinger is above 60 now, and has been in poor health for some time. This forced him to retire. His numerous friends, among whom are newspaper men of the city, most sincerely regret his departure from the public service.

J. H. Boyd, the new chief clerk of the bureau, has been second clerk for some time. He is considered wholly competent, and has a wide circle of friends to wish him well. Mr. Rowell becomes assistant superintendent of public works.

DIED.

NEILL'S SEASON OPENS

FIRST PERFORMANCE AT OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT.

"An American Citizen" Will be the Initial Bill—Remarkable Success of the Star and His Admirable Company.

It will be with a curious and cordial spirit that Honolulu will attend the first Neill performance at the Opera House this evening, yet there seems to be no noise of controversy over the superior merits of Mr. Neill and his famous company, all according to them the first place among high class repertoire organizations of the states.

The present western tour of Mr. Neill and the Neill Company has been a remarkable one in several respects. They have visited many cities new to them as strangers to the public, yet at the very first performances everywhere, patrons of the Neill performance have been impressed with Mr. Neill's talents, and in a dash he has sealed the fortress of the soul and the garrison of doubts and questions have unconditionally surrendered. The class of plays that are in the Neill repertoire are all wholesome and pure, and the best that the theatrical market has to offer.

The first play that the organization will offer here this evening, will be Neill's greatest comedy success, "An American Citizen." Like many others in the Neill repertoire it is the best sample of its class among the most prominent later day stage successes.

Many of Honolulu's prominent citizens have received letters from social friends in the States stating that the Neill Company is entitled to the most liberal patronage, and that it certainly stands at the head of companies of a similar nature that adorn the stage of America.

To break a lance in the defense of such actors as James Neill and such pure and wholesome plays as are in the Neill repertoire, would be an honor; but there will be no occasion, for experience in other cities has shown a result that after one sees the first Neill performance, all are James Neill's champions, and the tournament of a doubt resolves itself into a court of admiration.

Among other plays in the Neill repertoire from which selections will be made for presentation here during the company's stay, are: "Lord Chumley," one of E. H. Sothern's successes; "Captain Lattarblair," another Sothern success; "Captain Swift," C. Haddon Chamber's powerful drama; "The Way to Win a Woman," Amy Robson's dramatization of Sir Walter Scott's "Kenilworth." The Neill Company has the first call on about all of the prominent successes of the past ten years, and that about the quality of the dramatic feasts to which Honolulu is bidden at the opera house, there can be no question. The company carries a very large amount of special scenery and specially designed effects, and its stage settings have been described by critics elsewhere as artistic to a high degree.

HEALEANI DANCE.

The Healeani dance last evening was a signal success in quite all respects. About fifty couples were present. The program was all that could be desired and was thoroughly enjoyed.

FRENCH CRUISER PROTET.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

New Board of Directors of W. W. Dimond & Co.

The annual stockholders' meeting of W. W. Dimond & Co., Ltd. was held yesterday afternoon. The plan for the selection of officers approved in corporation organization in California was adopted, the stockholders electing the board of directors, and the directors electing the officers. The directors elected were W. W. Dimond, President; J. A. Heineberg, Treasurer; and Belle Heineberg, Secretary.

W. W. Dimond has been at the head of the corporation ever since it was organized. The vice president is his brother, the well known Harry Dimond, J. A. Heineberg, the treasurer, has been a trusted employee of the firm of Nathan, Dohrmann & Co. of San Francisco, for eighteen years. The secretary of the corporation is his wife, F. W. Dohrmann, who becomes a director, is the head of the well known porcelain and pottery house of Nathan, Dohrmann & Co. of San Francisco. He was one of the chief organizers of the Emporium, and has been president of the Merchants' Association of San Francisco ever since its organization.

THEY PLAN A LITTLE COUP

WHAT INDEPENDENTS PURPOSE DOING.

Will Play a Game of Tag With Governor Dole on the Appointments—One of the Leaders Talks Interestingly.

The native Independents are planning a coup on Governor Dole that may bring about an unusual situation, in case it is carried out. Information concerning it comes from one of their leaders, and may be taken as authoritative.

In the past two weeks the Independents have been watching closely the course of President McKinley in making appointments here. They have become dissatisfied because only one native, Judge J. W. Kihua, received recognition at Washington. In their opinion the government intends following a policy that will not give them what they consider proper representation.

"We will get men in spite of McKinley and Dole," declared the leader. "The Hawaiians now have full rights, and we purpose exercising them. As matters now stand this is a huge government and the natives have nothing. What would you think if the entire government was native and the whites were represented by but one man, and he a judge in a country district? I dare say there would be some loud kicking, and perhaps trouble."

"The Hawaiians will control the next legislature. That is a foregone conclusion, because we have the votes and will stand together. It is there that our work will be done. The statement has been made that if we fail to prove the appointments of the Governor that he will wait until the session is over and reappoint the same men again. We are as sharp as the men devising this little scheme. If any such business as that suggests itself we will simply cut down the salaries of important officers to $10 a month. Then where will Dole be, and what will he do? He will simply have to make satisfactory appointments, and when this is done we will raise the salaries again. That is one line along which we will work. Does it not promise success?"

The speaker went on to say that at least half of the important offices would be held by natives, and that no other arrangement would be satisfactory to the Independent legislators. He said that J. A. McCandless, superintendent of public works, would be turned down, and that the legislature would insist upon the appointment of J. H. Boyd to that post. Other offices were mentioned, but plans with respect to them seem not to have been completed.

FISHING AT WAIKIKI.

Five natives were on trial this morning in the police court on charges of malicious injury preferred by Captain Hobron, on account of their having fished in the stream at Waikiki through the captain's property. The captain claimed that the fishing rights were exclusively his, while the fishermen stated that it had been common custom to fish in the stream for many years. A lot of testimony was introduced in the case, showing that the fishermen had fished in the stream for a long time. The defendants were Piki, Iona Kaki, Ione Kaulikole, Kahale Kapule and Kalepa. Judge Wilcox discharged all five of them, deciding that the case was rather one of trespass than of malicious injury.

JUDGE JUDD'S WILL.

The will of the late Chief Justice Judd was admitted to probate yesterday, and Agnes H. P. Judd, the widow, was appointed executrix without bonds. There are ten children. The estate is valued at $222,000.

CAMPBELL ESTATE.

James Campbell's will was before the court yesterday for probate, and Cecil Brown was appointed executor. He, with Mrs. Campbell and J. O. Carter, will be the trustees. Figuring all stocks at par the estate is valued at $1,538,160. Mrs. Campbell was allowed $1,500 a month for expenses.

RELIC OF 1891.

Mr. H. M. Beecher of Prospect street, has in his possession a copper plate stipple memorial engraving which possesses more than ordinary interest. It represents a monument which consists of two parts: the base, or lower part, is a large cubical block of marble, which is surmounted by a tapering shaft of the same material. Upon part of the base is inscribed: "Sacred to the memory of the illustrious George Washington." Above the inscription is an excellent likeness of the "father of his country," and in the foreground there are three figures standing at the monument, two of them representing weeping friends, the third being an allegorical figure, representing Hope, pointing upward. On the shaft is the conventional figure of a cherub. The work is most exquisitely done, and bears name and date: "T. Clark, sculptor, 1891, Boston"—two years after Washington's death.—New Haven Leader.

SURE.

If Senator Clark really intends to go back to Montana to be vindicated he must have some money left.—Chicago Record.

WOULD NOT SUFFER SO AGAIN FOR FIFTY TIMES ITS PRICE.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic, and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night for fifty times its price.—G. H. Wilson, Liverman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Hawaiian Islands.

Don't Preach

Economy these good times some one says—but the smokers we cater to are men of affairs who know what's what and we'll get their cigar trade if we convince them they save money buying here.

We pay a little more than some dealers for cigars to get extra care in the selection of the tobacco leaf and for better work.

Our specialty is selling imported cigars that you pay more for elsewhere—and don't get as good tobacco either.

Alsen Portland Cement

WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED a large shipment of this celebrated Cement, which is the STRONGEST AND MOST SERVICEABLE MADE, and will permit the admixture of a larger amount of sand or gravel, with less loss of strength, than any other brand; it is therefore the most economical. ALSEN has no equal in color, fineness and sand carrying capacity. It weighs less per bushel, measuring about 10 per cent more cement to a barrel than other brands, which very materially reduces its cost as compared with other cements is therefore an economical cement to use, and specially adapted for fine concrete work.

The following tests, made in actual work by Col. D. C. Houston, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., at the seawall around Governor's Island, New York Harbor, has never been equalled by any other cement. It is as follows: Tensile strength per square inch—One day, 384 pounds; seven days, 600 pounds; thirty days, 818 pounds.

For sidewalks it gives the best color and the most enduring wearing surface. A few of the large contracts in which Alsen Cement was used: Cable R. R., Baltimore, 35,000 barrels; Quebec Harbor Improvement, 20,000 barrels; Northern Pacific R. R. bridges, 20,000 barrels.

ABOUT HATS.
It is related by the Marion (Kansas)
Record that on Easter Sunday the Rev.
Mr. Heatwood, pastor of the local Methodist church, asked the ladies to remove their hats. "Ordinarily," says the Record, "he would have succeeded, for Marion ladies, heaven bless them,
are sweet and reasonable creatures.
But think of a man, a mere man, asking a woman to hide her hat on Easter Sunday—a new Easter hat at that!
Preposterous! Ridiculous! Absurd!
Horrible! Only a few hats went off, and some of these, like the Boers at Spion Koppe, soon returned to their former elevation."

OUTING'S JUNE NUMBER
CASPAR WHITNEY'S INTERESTING MONTHLY.
A Long List of Interesting Articles on Sporting and Other Outdoor Subjects Travel and Adventure.

The June issue of Outing, a monthly edited by Caspar Whitney, who is well known here, was received in last mail.
Mr. Whitney is an authority of worldwide reputation on all matters connected with outdoor sport, and he is publishing a magazine that is taking the first place in its line. Outing is very finely illustrated, and its list of contributors is a long and notable one, including men who are prominent in all sorts of sports and in travel and adventure all over the world. The articles in the June number cover very wide range of subjects of interest not only to the reader who wants the latest in outdoor sport, but also to the general reader, who enjoys stories of adventure and travel, and descriptions of what most interests the traveler and observer in all lands.
Caspar Whitney has an article on "The Country Cart of Today" that will interest all who take pleasure in driving and in the fashions of gentlemen's rigs. It is illustrated in colors, showing the latest things in carts, gigs, chaises, etc. Among other articles dealt with are kinds of sport, such as golf, polo, yachting, fishing, etc., every contribution being by a well known authority. "Evolution of the Trout and Artificial Fly," by Harry Gore, M. D., is interesting not only to anglers but to the general reader as well, showing how far the science of angling has developed, and how wonderful is the knowledge investigation has brought to the aid of the makers of artificial flies, so that they may know just how to tempt the wary trout. The coming yachting season, angling, universities, sports, golf, and other kindred articles are discussed by many writers who are well up in their subjects.
Among the general articles and stories are the following: "His First Race," by Arthur Ruhl; "In Woodland Byways," a morning walk in June, Lynn Tew Sprague; "The Singing Gibbon," a vocal ape of the Philippines, Arthur Erwin Brown; "A Bit About Bass," E. W.
Sandys; "A Jungle Duel," a tiger fight to the death, A. H. Waddell; "Twenty-four Hours in the Ropes," an ascent of the Matterhorn, Charles W. Hodell;
"Educating a Polo Pony," Owen Wister, and "The Snake Dance," the mystic ceremony of a strange people, by George Wharton James.

INDUSTRIOUS CONGRESS
BROKE TWO "LONG SESSION" RECORDS.
Was the Shortest "Long Session," and Passed the Largest Number of Bills—
Some Bills That Failed.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—This Congress will go into history as one of the most industrious on record and this session as the shortest "long session" on record. In 157 working days both houses have passed 1,215 bills, of which 282 are public laws of general importance, and 932 are private acts granting pensions, paying claims and giving relief to people who have been injured or suffered damage in some way or another through the government. A large number of private acts were passed during the growing out of the war with Spain. The best previous record was 723 bills in 175 days.

During the session 12,152 bills have been introduced, so that ten per cent of them have been enacted into laws, which is another remarkable record. The bulk of this business exceeds the work of the four previous Congresses combined during their "long sessions."

Of course, so many bills could not be passed without a great deal of debate, and the Congressional Record for this session will make ten big volumes of 100 large pages, with two columns of fine type to the page.

The two most important bills that have failed of passage are those for the construction of the Nicaragua canal and to tax oleomargarine. The House passed the Nicaragua bill, but it was lost in the Senate until the Clayton-Bulwer treaty could be amended. That treaty pledges the United States not to build a canal across the isthmus. Several of the best lawyers in Congress believe that the treaty is dead, but there is so great a difference of opinion that the President instructed the Secretary of State to negotiate for a formal revocation of the canal item, to which England promptly assented, but the Senate refused to ratify the new treaty for fear of antagonizing the Irish vote. It will be ratified after election, however, and the canal bill made a special order for the 10th of December.

In the meantime the Secretary of State will have an opportunity to negotiate with Nicaragua and Costa Rica securing for the United States a right of way across their territory for the canal.

Electric Railway.
Contracts have been let for material, and the work of construction equipping and installation placed in the hands of a competent electrical engineer to be fully completed by June 1st. Having an independent power plant we are prepared to furnish electric power for lighting, heating and other purposes, to our home builders at most reasonable rates.

As Promised.
Our reservoirs are now completed and water mains laid so as to supply each lot. Permits for making water connections will be granted on application.
An inspection of the attractive homes now building, or the name

THIS EXTRA SESSION.

The question of a special session has two sides. For certain reasons it might be advisable to have it; for some reasons it is distinctly inadvisable. Originally the bill did not have a clause in it allowing a special session; the clause was put in as an afterthought by those who thought that legislation was immediately needed.

When reviewing the bill, before it appeared in its final form, the Star pointed out that the arrangement made for carrying on the government for a period anterior to the regular meeting of the legislature was of distinct value in that it enabled those who might take office to bring matters into smooth working order; give opportunities for both the public and the officials to fully understand the working of the organic act, and of appreciating the legislation which might be needed under the changed conditions, and save the hasty and crude legislation which would infallibly take place if a legislature were called together before the many subjects which will interest the people, were fully understood by them. This, apparently, is the view taken by the heads of departments. It is also the view taken by many careful thinkers.

On the other hand a special session might serve as an education for the legislators, who would then be the better able to cope with the questions which would be presented in February. This might be of advantage if the personnel of the legislature called early in October or November, were going to be the same as the personnel of the legislature of February. But this will not be the case. Those who sit in the special session, if one is held, are not likely to sit in the regular session of February, 1907. The acts of the special session are likely to be reversed in the regular session, and we would only have confusion worse confounded. What the Territory needs is peace and progress; this it is not likely to get out of hasty and crude legislation made before the voters have fully realized what it is they want.

Kruger is reported to be ready to go over the border when the end of the war comes, and he has his grip stuffed with some millions, so that he is evidently prepared to receive or meet the buffets of "outrageous fortune." Besides what he has in coin, loaded on his train he must have a very considerable amount of investments outside of the Transvaal. He is credited with an enormous private fortune.

WATER.

The artesian water supply of these Islands is one of the chief sources of their wealth. Before the discovery of the supply hundreds of thousands of acres of the most fertile soil in the world were lying idle. Since the discovery of the wells there has sprung up an industry unprecedented in its success. Lately, in working up enterprises, lands have been opened up where it was hoped that artesian water could be obtained. It has not been obtained and the enterprise has gone dormant. It is by no means sure that even in that case, the true origin of the trouble has been reached, but to argue that because there has been a failure of artesian water for the American Sugar Company on Molokai there may therefore be a diminution in the supply elsewhere, is a very untenable proposition.

Of course, as a matter of argument, it may be tenable to put forth the statement that at some distant date the whole aqueous vapor of the earth may be put into the form of a most attenuated gas, and there may be no water on the earth. Such conditions may occur. Our geological knowledge enables us to reconstruct in a clumsy manner, the world of the past, our mental perception enables us to forecast a possible world of the future. Neither is probably within thousands of possibilities of the truth, as facts found in the old rocks show us of the past. We have nothing to check our imagination of the future. What we have to deal with, however is the present. It is going to be our present, and the present of many generations of our grandchildren. So we can eliminate any arguments of future conditions as far as present conditions are concerned. It is one of the unfortunate conditions of mind which projects itself, as far as practical conditions are concerned into a future which under present conditions is impossible.

This is the position between an editorial published in the May "Planters' Monthly" and Dr. Maxwell.

Dr. Maxwell's argument was published yesterday in The Star, and undoubtedly his views will be accepted by those who know how thoroughly this scientist has studied the question. One may say at once that upon such questions the Professor is "facile princeps."

It is a subject that he has given practically a life study to. When a man of the Professor's eminence tells us, as he does in his recent letter to the "Planters' Monthly,"

"I am absolutely sure that the supply of artesian water will keep up in all of those localities where its abundance is ample and before our eyes. If more land continues to be brought under irrigation, that does not lessen the material supply of water. It may, and it must, lead to a more scientific and economic use of the supply. Personally, I am quite sure that the volume of water that is being used in given localities today is capable of rendering double its present duty—that is, it can be made to furnish double the present equivalent of sugar."

We may be satisfied that he is correct.

The effect of the comment upon the Hawaiian water supply as stated in the "Planters' Monthly" for May, can be judged from the following which appears in Willet and Gray's circular dated June 7, probably the earliest date that the statements in the "Planters' Monthly" could be published. The circular, after discussing American sugar and Kamalo, and the trouble of the one has nothing to do with the trouble of the other, proceeds to quote from the "Planters' Monthly" editorial, as follows:

"It would seem possible that what has happened on Molokai may in future decades be repeated on our other islands, where artesian wells now supply abundant fresh water. The freshness of artesian water depends largely on the abundance of the rainfall which supplies the subterranean reservoirs. For this reason all of our wells should be placed under strict surveillance, and no new wells be permitted to be bored except after full investigation, and by special license by the government, accompanied with such restrictions as may be deemed necessary for the protection of the whole artesian interest. If the subterranean reservoirs on Oahu should once be overtopped, causing a decrease in older wells, the warning must be immediately heeded, and a prompt and peremptory halt called, forbidding any new wells being opened. The average rainfall on Oahu may be an ample supply for the wells now in use, provided all water running to waste from them is rigidly stopped, but there must be a point when nature will suddenly step in and shut down all alike, and this may be nearer than any of us now think."

The idea is given out by this publication that the plantations on the Islands are apt, practically, to dry up. Professor Maxwell in his reply upon the point, shows that there can be no drying up unless a cataclysm happens, and of course, we shall then all go under.

The point that the Star wants to make, and the point which the community wants to make, is that Professor Maxwell is right, and that the diagnosis of our water supply in the "Planters' Monthly" of May was very wrong. The question can be pushed further. The basis of the argument in the May number of the "Planters' Monthly" was the failure of the American Sugar Company on Molokai to reach results satisfactory for the irrigation of cane. On this promise the Jeremiah, which has gone into every sugar paper in the world was pinned, to the detriment of our principal industry.

But those who are studying the question are by no means satisfied that such a mistake has been made as the "Planters' Monthly" would have people think. There are scientific men outside of Dr. Maxwell, even, who believe that the failure to get adequate water supply for the American Sugar plantation is due to inadequate knowledge of the physical conditions, rather than to lack of water supply if it can be only tapped. But the Star is not going to write up possibilities for any plantation.

What the Star has to consider, and what all people have to consider, is the advancement of our Territory. This is dear to our hearts. We are all proud to state "Civis Americanus sum," but there must among those who love the Territory and believe in its advancement be a feeling that "Civis Hawaiianus sum," is a very good motto. Whatever militates against the success of the Territory; whatever touches its prosperity is going to be watched carefully by the Star. There has certainly been an injury done by carelessness to the Territory; fortunately there has been an able man like Dr. Maxwell to spring forward into the breach and in some measure counteract it.

The rat question seems to be receiving solution in Australia. From March 2 to May 27, a period under three months, sixty-eight thousand had been killed. Our health authorities had better give attention to the southern colonies and take a leaf out of their book. The danger from rats is ever present, yet the Board of Health is doing absolutely nothing to mitigate it.

Yesterday was a record breaker in the matter of heat. The thermometer was up to 88 in the shade at the office of the weather bureau. This is the greatest heat since records have been kept scientifically—a period of eighteen years. People coming from the Coast report a perfectly calm sea and not a breath of air from the Golden Gate to Honolulu harbor, so we are not the only people who are suffering from heat and absence of wind.

The somewhat improbable statement is made that Mr. Kaula has a scheme for the restoration of the ex-Queen. There is a harmless society of cranks in England which still believes in the possibility of the return of the Stuarts to the British throne. Mr. Kaula should go over and study the success of that society and the estimation in which the aforesaid cranks are held. There is as much chance of the Duke of Cumberland becoming King of Hanover, or the descendant of the Stuarts becoming monarch of England as there is of the ex-Queen's ever being restored. It is a silly dream, and no one realizes it more fully than the ex-Queen herself, who has accepted the inevitable with good grace.

ANOTHER KICK ON STREETS

RESIDENTS OF MAKIHI HAVE A PROTEST.

Sewer Contractors Said to Have Turned up Macadam and Left a Layer of Dust in its Place.

There is a strong kick among the property owners and residents of the Makiki district against the condition in which the streets are being left after the construction of sewers. The former hard surface has disappeared, and there is only dirt on top in many places, causing clouds of dust, and leaving dust several inches deep on the streets.
Now macadam will have to be put down and the steam roller put to work before the conditions will be improved.
It is stated that the people who live in the district are wondering if they will have to wait for government action, or if the sewer contractors will fix the streets.

One resident of the district stated this morning that a movement was on foot to call a meeting for the purpose of protesting against the condition of the streets, and getting up a petition to the authorities to have new macadam laid. "There ought to be an inspector," said the complainant, "to follow the sewer construction and see that the streets are left in as good condition after the work is done as they were in before.
As it is now, a man cannot get to his home without wading or driving through several inches of fine dust. The men say that they cannot get water to fix it, but water will do no good. It will only make mud of the dust and as soon as it dries there will be dust again.
A steam roller will have to be used and new rock laid down."

STARS WIN AGAIN.

Wrest Victory From the Kailani
School Ball Tossers.

The base ball players of the Kailani school challenged the stalwarts of The Star newboys to decide the supremacy. The challenge was accepted and the game played this morning on the Drill shed grounds. The Star new-boys won 7 to 6. The Stars did fine team work. Louis at first base made some fine plays. A. Lubeck in the right field, handled some long hits into his locality in fine shape.

The teams were as follows: Stars:
Victor, catcher; Manuel, pitcher; C.
Louis, first base; Correo, second base;
Manny, third base; Ezekiel, short stop;
A. Lubeck, right field; F. Lubeck, left field.

Kailani school: J. Colburn, catcher; Johnny Shaw, pitcher; Henry, first base; Kalana, second base; Jack, third base; Tom, short stop; Thomson, right field; John, left field.

THAT TIRED FEELING.

What constitutes a load depends on the strength of the man or beast who has to carry it, and the conditions under which he carries it. We hear people continually talk of being tired who have not done enough work to make them so. This sensation is popularly spoken of as "that tired feeling." People who have it often take stimulants to drive it away. A relapse follows and they feel more weary and depressed than before. For the trouble is not in the muscles but in the blood.
Certain humors or poisons arising from indigestion or otherwise deprive the blood of its sustaining life-giving power, producing a result similar to what would follow from too much exertion and too little rest. But whereas in the case of a healthy person the tired feeling would pass away under the influence of sleep and repose, it is not so in this instance. The sleep is broken and the sufferer rises in the morning unrefreshed and feeling as heavy and dull as when he went to bed. An effective remedy like

WAMPOL'S PREPARATION

is needed to purge the blood of the impurities which prostrate the nerves and sap the sources of physical vigor.
It is palatable as honey and contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. In all cases of Wasting Disease, Rheumatism, Bowel Complaints, Fevers, Poverty of Blood, Weakness and lack of Nervous Tone, it comes more nearly to being a specific than any other known remedy.
You may trust it on its merits. One bottle convinces. Genuine is effective from the first dose. "You cannot be disappointed in it." Sold by all chemists.

Hawaiian Electric Company.

The cleanest, brightest, safest and really the longest running electric light and power system in the world, is the Hawaiian Electric Company. Safe, nothing could be safer. A few days ago a prominent gentleman of Honolulu came rushing down to the office of the Electric Company and said:
"Give me figures for wiring my house, and I want it done at once; no more lamps for me.
Last night a lamp flared over and it came so near setting fire to the house and burning my children and I take no more risks." This is the sentiment of quite a number in the past few weeks, who have ordered their houses fitted with the perfect light.
Just think it over and make up your mind that you want the best and safest light; send for the Hawaiian Electric Company and tell them what you want.
We have a complete stock of everything in the line and have just received a lot of the very latest designs.

RELICS OF WEST POINT

REMINISCENCES OF CADETS WHO ACHIEVED FAME.

Two British Flags Captured by the Revolutionary Forces at Yorktown and Brandywine.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 14.—There are many interesting relics at the military academy in addition to the old forts that were built during the revolution.
The venerable buildings that were erected early in the century and the other historic monuments. In the chapel are three Hessian flags and two British flags that were captured by the revolutionary army at the battles of Yorktown and Brandywine, and were taken by Washington at Mount Vernon. It is said that these are the only British flags in the possession of a foreign nation except two that hang in the Hotel des Invalides at Paris.

The walls of the chapel are adorned with small tablets of distinguished officers, and the one which has the name erased, was intended for Benedict Arnold. It gives the date of his birth and the date of his death, and the words "In memory of," but the place for the name is blank. Imbedded in the walls are a number of cannon captured at Saratoga in 1777.

Over the channel is a picture painted by the late Colonel Weir, formerly professor of drawing at the academy, and the teacher of Whistler. A mailed figure of a man represents War, and a graceful woman in Greek draperies represents Peace, both looking at the dawn. Some years ago Professor Weir's successor at the academy attempted to improve the picture by painting in a number of stars, which so enraged the artist that he sued the government for damages, and according to the story they tell here, got a verdict of $10,000, which he expended in erecting a chapel in the neighboring village of Highland Falls.

Among the relics in the drawing department are two pictures, one in black and white, and the other in water colors, by Whistler when he was a cadet in 1853. One of them represents a mil-lmaid entering a cottage and the other a kind distributing alms to a group of beggars.

General Sherman's artistic ability is illustrated by a charcoal sketch of the well-known group representing Perseus slaying the dragon. It was made on May 1, 1858.

A French musketeer in water colors was drawn in 1851 by Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, Jr., a nephew of the great Napoleon, who graduated in the class of '52.

One of the best pieces in the collection is an old Dutch village by Gen.
George C. Meade.

HOW HIGH MUST A CHURCH BE?
The strangest ecclesiastical suit on record in this country, perhaps any country, has come before the courts in a city not far away. At a Episcopal church is being sued because it is not sufficiently "high church." It appears that a certain person left money to this church with the provision that the services should come up to a certain standard of churchmanship. While the minister is doing his best to live up to the convictions of his people, he has failed. It is claimed, to get as much ritualism into the service and the responses of his flock as the money calls for.

It will be very interesting to find out who is to blame in a peculiar case. The patron has solicitedly "turned"
on all the ritual within his knowledge, and the people declare they have taken all they can digest. As no canon of the church tells just where high church-manship begins and broad churchman-ship ends, it will be very edifying if the court will throw some light upon the vexed question.—Boston Transcript.

Retailers of Dry Goods at Popular Prices

Just in Time.

We received a large shipment of European Goods including some handsome designs in BLACK CREPONS and TAILOR SUITINGS just before the rise in tariff.

Low Prices

We will be able to give the public the benefit of this purchase at the same old prices for a short time only; as the lot will not last long.

Muslin Underwear

A great opportunity for ladies to replenish their wardrobes with Under-Muslins is presented this week. We bought up a few lots of high grade underwear which have just arrived and which we offer at much less than regular prices.
