Mauna Loa Is Triple Crowned

Special by Wireless Telegraph to the Star.

MAHUKONA, October 8, 1:30 p. m.—Outbreak continues though activity decreases.

Additional news of the outbreak of Mauna Loa was brought this morning by the officers of the steamer Helene. She arrived this morning at an early hour from Hamakua ports and Kawaihae. Everybody aboard saw the eruption and watched the display of fire during Tuesday night and part of yesterday morning.

According to the statements of the officers of the Helene, there is reason to doubt that the center of activity is in the crater of Mokuaweoweo. The volcano appears from their statements to have broken out lower down the mountain and on the Kau side. There are three distinct openings from which the fire and smoke and lava is thought to be pouring. The very fact that the officers of the Helene did not see the lava is corroborative of their belief that the volcano broke out lower down the side of the mountain. Three distinct columns of fire and smoke were seen.

In his official report to the Wilder S. S. Company regarding the matter, Purser O'Brien says:

"Mr. Berg (the Hilo representative of the company) reports that the crater of Mokuaweoweo broke out at 12:45 p. m. yesterday (6th). Last night it presented a grand appearance. There were three columns of smoke coming out, one large and two small. The larger one was towards the Hamakua side. The smoke was a bright red color, also the sky in an immense circle."

The eruption was not witnessed until the Helene reached Kawaihae Tuesday afternoon. She got in about 6 o'clock and within a few minutes everybody aboard was gazing in the direction of Mauna Loa to witness the display of volcanic fire. From the statements of the officers of the vessel the eruption was not visible at Kawaihae until darkness had begun to set in. Then the display was magnificent.

There were three different columns of fire and smoke seen rising into the heavens. They were separate and distinct from each other showing beyond any doubt, that the volcano forces had found more than one outlet. Owing to the distance from Kawaihae to Mauna Loa it was difficult to form any correct estimate of the distances that separated the three columns from each other. There was little doubt but they were toward the Kau side of the island. They were located in a direct line about east and west. The column to the east was twice as large as either of the others. There was no way of determining, either, how much lower the smaller ones were than the larger column. They appeared to be on about the same level, although it was thought that the big opening was somewhat higher than the other two.

Fire could be distinctly seen with the aid of powerful marine glasses. The columns maintained their integrity. It was not easy to determine how high the columns went into the heavens. The largest column seemed to shoot a trifle higher than the others. The atmosphere was perfectly clear at the time and the sight could be witnessed without difficulty. The smoke soon formed in a cloud overhead and spread far around the heavens, causing a dull red reflection of the brighter red beneath. Purser O'Brien thinks that the columns must have been at least two miles in height. The smoke seemed to be belching up at regular and frequent intervals.

One thing was lacking however to make the display perfect to those on the Helene and about that part of the island. This was a view of the lava flows. Absolutely nothing was seen of lava. This fact corroborates the belief of the officers of the steamer Helene that the eruptions are on the southern side of the mountain. Had the outbreak been in the summit crater of Mokuaweoweo or on the other sides, the stream of lava would undoubtedly have been seen by those at Kawaihae. The officers of the vessel scarcely credited the statement that lava was flowing, for they said that they had not seen it. The fact of the outbreaks being on the Kau side of the volcano, explains the absence of lava display from the Kawaihae side.

All night long the display continued. About 10 o'clock the fire seemed to die down slightly. This subsidence continued for only a short time and then the columns of smoke and fire broke into greater activity and continued until daybreak. With the coming of day the fire could no longer be distinguished. The columns of smoke could be seen during the early morning however. But about 10 o'clock the thick clouds began to settle down about Mauna Loa, shutting off further view of the scene. Absolutely no news of the progress of the lava flows had been received at Kawaihae up to the time that the Helene departed yesterday morning. Last night the fire was not visible to those on the Helene. She was off Lahaina about dusk last night and arrived at Honolulu about 1:30 o'clock this morning. Nothing of the fire was seen then.

But the fire was visible the night previous from that section of the islands. The steamer Kinau arrived at Kawaihae Wednesday morning, with everybody excited over the prospects of viewing the volcano eruption. The fire had been seen by those on the Kinau while the vessel was off Lahaina Tuesday night. Admiral Beckley first saw the erup-

Ferris Won't Hang

Governor Dole today decided to commute the sentence of Murderer George E. Ferris to twenty years' life imprisonment. Ferris was under sentence to be hanged for the murder of John Watson, in a Kakaako boarding house. After the trial new evidence, tending to show intoxication and self defense, was submitted to the governor. Ferris does not know that his appeal to the Supreme court was lost or that he has been for some weeks practically under death sentence that might be carried out at any time, but he will now be informed of his standing.

JUDGE ESTEE LOST HIS PURP

BUT WHEN HE STARTED TO ADVERTISE THE PURP CAME BACK.

Judge Estee lost his fox terrier purp this morning, and there was gloom in the lower corridors of the Judiciary building. The purp is a popular little pet and usually spends the day in chambers, having been successfully educated out of a taste for chewing law books and playing with important legal documents.

Yesterday the doglet ran away and after waiting for his return until this morning Judge Estee decided to advertise for him. Outside of judicial chambers the purp is not an educated dog, and it was felt that he wasn't able to make his own living and must have been picked up by someone. The judge therefore wrote the following advertisement:

"Lost: A white and tan fox terrier, collar marked Estee, with license No. 557 attached. Return to Judge Estee's chambers and receive reward."

Before the ad could be published the purp came back. He was in charge of a man who found him and saw the word "Estee" on his collar. "Teddy" as he is called, showed no remorse, but only the keenest delight at being among his friends again.

LAHAINA IS DISCHARGED.

The barkentine Lahaina finished discharging 1786 tons of coal at Elele yesterday. She is now awaiting orders.

LONGSHOREMAN'S UNION IS PAU

PASSES OUT OF EXISTENCE LAST NIGHT—MEMBERS TO AFFILIATE WITH NEW ORGANIZATION.

Jack Mansfield's Longshoreman's Union has ceased to exist. It passed out of existence last evening at a special meeting called for the purpose of incorporating. The reason that the Union was called upon to disincorporate was the fact that the new association, Longshoremen's Union Local No. 2, has received recognition from the Pacific Coast and was recently granted a charter. The charter arrived on the last mail steamer. Mansfield, the organizer of the old Union, decided that it would be to the better interests of the Union to disband and the members to affiliate with the new organization.

The meeting last night was well attended. He briefly outlined the reasons for disincorporating and urged the members to affiliate with the other Union. There is about $150 in cash belonging to the old Union and this is being returned to the contributors. The Union acted upon his advice and dissolved its organization.

After giving the reasons for joining the new Union, Mansfield spoke briefly regarding the political situation. He advised the members to support A. M. Brown for sheriff and to vote the straight Republican ticket at the coming election. The speech was well received and there was much enthusiasm manifested at the mention of Brown. No official action of endorsement was taken by the Union however.

EXAMINERS OF TITLE.

Judge Weaver of the Land Title Court has appointed Charles F. Peterson and Ernest A. Moti-Smith, Examiners of Title under the land title registration act, for the First Judicial circuit. Other examiners will be appointed hereafter. These appointments were examined before the supreme court as to their qualifications for the position under the law, and were certified as qualified.

ELECTION BALLOTS.

According to the figures of the last election 28,400 blank sample ballots are to be distributed among the voters of the Territory before election day, and a like number official ballots will have to be placed in the hands of the election officers at least two days before election. The number is double the number of voters in the last election, as provided by law. East Hawaii takes 400 ballots, West Hawaii 2500, Maui 4500, Kauai 2500 and Oahu 14,000.

Twenty-five cents pays for a Want ad in the Star. A bargain.

HOW TO REACH THE OUTBREAK

Now that Mauna Loa is active, and hardly accessible place. Approached from any direction these upper slopes of the activity, the question of how to get to the flow becomes one of interest. It is easy enough to buy a steamer ticket in Honolulu, if one has the price, for some port on the island of Hawaii, but it is an altogether different question of what to do after one lands. The upper slopes of Mauna Loa, where all the lava flows of modern times have broken out, is a distant, desolate, and

The family for whom the subscription list had to be passed around when the house they lived in burned down would have been saved much humiliation had they provided themselves with a good fire insurance policy, such as the Henry Waterhouse Trust Co. issue. ### OTILLIE FJORD ON THE REEF.

The schooner Ollie Fjord which arrived late yesterday afternoon from Eureka with a cargo of lumber, got aground on the reef very near the spot where the S. S. Clavering went ashore over a month ago. The cause for the Fjord hitting the reef was the master going to close inshore to anchor. The bell buoy failed to ring and, in consequence, he was deceived as to his proximity to the reef. The tug Fearless put on a hawser and began pulling at the boat but the line parted. Later she got a line onto the boat. The Fjord came off this morning at high tide. She does not appear to have been seriously damaged.

"NO-UNDER-SHADOW"

But don't stop at that; look at the other features too. With a minimum of expense, of trouble and of heat there is obtained a maximum of light and real satisfaction. Every annoying feature of gas, electricity, gasoline and acetylene is obviated. This tells the story of a great combination.

It uses ordinary kerosene (or coal) oil—one quart in sixteen hours. Its light is more brilliant than gas or electricity, with no more heat—no smoke—no odor—no "drawing up"—no removing of globe or top to light—filled while burning.

WHEN MAUNA LOA
BROKE OUT IN 1887

CONTEMPORARY DESCRIPTION OF
WHAT IS REGARDED AS A TYPICAL OUTBREAK.

The lava flow of 1887, which devastated a great deal of fine pasture land in Kau and flowed from near the top of the mountain, down to and into the sea, a distance of twenty miles in two days, is thus described in the Gazette of that day.

G. W. C. Jones, manager of Kahuku ranch under date of January 21, 1887, thus wrote:

The earthquake shocks began at 2:12 a. m. of the 17th and up to 7 p. m. we had 100,—as I knew that they indicated an eruption, I sat up all night taking a record of the shocks, and squints of the mountain side. At 4 a. m. of the 18th my count had reached 314, and during the day and until 12 midnight 67 were added. On the 19th we had but two and no more since. This was a total of 383 well defined shocks, strong enough to make an open door tap against a partition. There were probably as many more light tremors and jars, many of which were noticed, but which I did not register, as I preferred to hear the tapping of the door indicate the shock as of some force. At 7 p. m. of the 18th, the circus began performance. The lava burst out about ten miles N. N. W. of my ranch buildings and has been running ever since. The point would be about twenty miles from the sea, and the first stream reached there about noon of the 19th. The main flow passed about two miles to the westward of my buildings, and reached the sea last evening.

After publishing a large number of letters descriptive of the outbreak written from different standpoints, the Gazette thus summarizes the whole matter.

The district of Kau in which the flow occurred occupies the Southern most portion of Hawaii, the largest and most southerly of the Hawaiian group. The southeastern portion of the district is fine cane land, and some of the largest and most productive of the plantations are situated there. The western part contains pasture land. At a distance of a few miles from the shore, the forest commences and rolls up the sides of the mountain for twenty miles or more. The constantly active crater of Kilauea is situated just on the boundary between Kau and Puna on the slope of Mauna Loa, a huge dome shaped mountain which slopes into five out of six of the districts of Hawaii. This is the crater so frequently visited. The summit crater of Mokuawewewo 13,500 feet above the sea level is rarely visited. The journey being long and arduous. It is from this summit crater that the flows 1851, 1855, 1859, 1868, 1881, and 1887, have originated. The lava does not boil over the lip of the summit crater, but finding some weak spot in the mountain side bursts through and rushes with irresistible force down the mountain side.

A bright light and a column of fire was first observed from the summit crater of Mauna Loa on the night of Sunday, January 16th by observers from Hilo, Mahukona, and from Waiohine, Hiles, and Pahala in Kau. The time was about 9 p. m. Shortly after 11 p. m. the fire died down, and the next evening no light was observed. But that volcanic disturbances was going on on a grand scale became evident to the inhabitants of Kau, for earthquakes came with most unpleasant frequency. Mr. Jones, proprietor of the Kahuku ranch registering 383 well defined shocks from 2:12 a. m. of the 17th to sundown of the 18th, when for a time the shocks ceased.

Meantime the lava had evidently been working its way down the mountain by an underground passage and at 7 p. m. of the 18th it burst forth from the ground about 10 miles N. N. W. of the Kahuku ranch. Sheriff Smith visited the head of the flow on the 19th. The lava was coming forth from a crack, which by passing he estimated at three-quarters of a mile in length and having an average width of not more than twenty-five feet. This extended up the mountain, tending a little toward the east. About a quarter of a mile above the main track, was a cone, the side towards the sea caved in. From this lava was boiling up, but disappeared quickly and running underground and reappeared in the crack. From this cone another crack extended pouring forth dense smoke, and extending up the mountain for two miles and a half. This Mr. Smith followed. On reaching the end he had a view of the mountain and saw masses of smoke pouring from a group of cones, known as Pohakuohanaele, situated close to the crater of Mokuawewewo, and there in all probability was the real cause of the flow.

The length of the flow is estimated at twenty miles, and this distance the lava accomplished in two days, reaching the sea on the evening of January 20th. The stream continued running till Saturday night, the 29th, when, as will be found described below, there was a river of fire, distinctly visible, the whole length of the flow. The main fountain continued playing for some days after, but the flow itself rapidly cooled over, on the evening of 1st of February was only marked by a spot or so of light. The liquid lava, however, continued to run under the crust probably in a narrow pipe or channel.

After the violent shock of January 17th, 18th, and 19th, there was a cessation of earthquakes, though slight tremors were felt, till Sunday, January 23d, when several very severe shocks alarmed all the inhabitants of Kau, who, according to the report of Mr. Foster, manager of Puhala plantation, a man of fire and nerve and calm judgment, passed "a night of terror". These shocks were felt and recorded in Hilo, Hamakua and Kohala; the other districts are little settled, and have not been heard from, but the whole island must have been shaken. Mr. Jones, of the Kahuku ranch, writes that at 3:30 a. m. of the 25th a heavy jar was felt, and three shocks occurred on the 26th. Since then, to February 2, the date of his last letter, no shocks have been felt. We may add that Pele, so often named by our correspondent is the name of the Hawaiian Goddess of Fire—the genius of Mauna Loa's furnaces.

HOW TO GET TO THE OUTBREAK

The outbreak of July, 1899, was visited by probably three or four score of people, and their experiences, being recent enough to be fresh in memory, may perhaps be of service to people who want to visit the scene of the present outbreak.

It is difficult at present to give definite directions as to how best to get there, because the information at hand now does not definitely locate the point of the outbreak. Probably there will be no definite information on that point, until some one has actually made the trip up to the point of the outbreak. The information now at hand seems to place the point of the outbreak either in the so-called summit crater of Mokuaueweo, or near it. As there has not been a lava flow from Mokuauweo within historic times, the actual point of outbreak is probably lower down on the slope of the mountain. As a rule the disturbances are first manifested in Mokuauweo, but as the molten lava is forced upward by the forces within the earth, it usually finds vent somewhere lower down than the crater not infrequently somewhere within the area of the mountain which is above the 10,000 foot line. Assuming that the present outbreak is within this area, it is probable that it can be reached by any of the routes that were found practicable to reach the Dewey crater at the time of the outbreak in 1899.

Parties are known to have reached the Dewey crater by five practicable routes. Probably the first party to reach the crater in 1899, started from Pahala on the morning of July 4, 1899, and passed up through the Kapapaia ranch, riding so they claimed, to within three miles of the active cone. There they left their horses and walked the remainder of the way. In the party which made this trip were W. P. Fennell, George Dawson, William Mann, Miss Angie Crook, Miss Crook, Miss De Carmo and L. Chong. No details of this route further than are here given were published at that time.

A second route, followed probably by more persons than any other, started from the Volcano House, and passed up through the Shipman ranch striking the 1880 lava flow about thirteen miles from the Dewey crater. On this route horses were left soon after the 1880 flow was reached, and the remainder of the trip was made afoot. Among those who went by this route were W. R. Castle, P. L. Weaver, Charles L. Rhodes, Charles H. Kluegel, Richard Cooke, Albert Castle and others.

A third route which was proved practicable was taken by a party which also started from the Volcano House and passed up through Shipman's ranch, but considerably to the left of the trail taken by W. R. Castle and his party, and struck the lava flow of 1880 several miles nearer the scene of volcanic activity. This route was taken by Fred A. Jacobs, Charles E. Eagan, E. O. Hall, Harold Dillingham, Fred Alexander, Jack Wilson and E. Le Munyon.

A fourth practicable route was taken by a number of people from Hilo. One party of them included Eugene E. Buffington, James and Horace Sisson, W. P. Jarvis, and A. B. Loebenstein, Jr. The route taken was right straight up

Hoodoo Fund Is Dwindling

ONLY $27,000 OF THE CELEBRATED CHINESE FUND REMAINS—ABOUT 1600 CLAIMS HAVE NOT YET BEEN PAID AND PROBABLY A THOUSAND OF THEM NEVER WILL BE—THE REASON WHY.

There are only about 1,600 claims against the Chinese fund remaining unpaid now. About five hundred of them cannot be paid should all the money be called for, owing to the shortage in the fund caused by the defalcation of W. H. Wright. It is thought, however, that they will never be called for.

Of the original Chinese fund of over $170,000, there were $155,546.70 left when the last legislature set it aside for repayment to the original depositors. Secretary Carter began payments at once and 3,280 claims have been paid. At first the claimants came in crowds but lately there have been but few. The work is now being done by F. D. Creedon.

The fund has dwindled to $27,371, or enough to pay about 1,100 more Chinese depositors if they come after it. The demand is so small now, however, that it is thought that even this sum will not all be called for and that about a thousand of the depositors will never be heard from. This will mean a government realization of about $38,000, less the $18,000 shortage.

The claimants who have failed to show up are thought to be dead or gone back to China in a majority of cases. Some are in the islands and will come later, while a few may have lost their deposit books. In a small percentage of cases, it is thought, the depositors are afraid to appear, on account of having violated the labor contracts under which they came to Hawaii and not being aware that they are not punishable in any way now for such a violation.

All parties having to do with the hoodoo fund are glad to see it dwindling and would like to see the account closed up at once. It will probably be an open account in the auditor's books for many months, however.

tion when the vessel was off Kamalo. He too saw the three columns of fire.

Other vessels arriving, however, from that part of the islands did not see any fire. The steamer Waialeale was about Maui ports on Tuesday night but saw nothing of the volcano eruption. The clouds were reported to be too heavy about the islands to admit of the fire from Mauna Loa being witnessed. The Waialeale returned yesterday afternoon.

The schooner Charles Levi Woodbury left Hilo last Tuesday. Up to that time nothing had been seen of the outbreak. Coming home Captain Harris did not notice anything of the outbreak. No fire was to be seen from the schooner. She arrived off Diamond Head last night.

Complete details of the eruption ought to be received tomorrow morning by the steamer Mauna Loa. She was at Punaluu Tuesday and was to have left Kailua this morning on her return for Honolulu, so that every opportunity for securing a view of the eruption was offered to her officers and passengers.

Captain Townsend, the mate of the steamer Helene, says that the lava flow and eruption ought to be witnessed perfectly from Punaluu. That place is on the Kau side of the mountain. The two flows of lava reported in the wireless dispatches last night were stated to be taking a course in the direction of the Kahuku ranch. In such an event the people on the steamer Mauna Loa could see the display perfectly and also be able to form a correct idea of the exact position of the three points of eruption. The route of the steamer Mauna Loa takes her along the entire Kau and Kona coasts so ample details of the eruption will be secured by her.

That this outbreak of Mauna Loa has been amply indicated in the past is positive. The last indication was given a little less than a month ago. It was seen by Captain Mosher and officers of the steamer Iwalani while she was en route from Kauai to Honolulu. About 10 o'clock the night of September 10, Captain Mosher and his officers saw three distinct flashes of flame from the summit of Mokuauweo. The flashes occurred at intervals of about ten minutes each. Subsequently it was claimed that this light was the reflection of a brush fire in the Waianae mountains. C. J. Austin also saw the same light from Mokuauweo while he was on the summit of Haleakala the same night that Captain Mosher and his officers saw the reflection. Earlier advices from Kona reported that Mokuauweo had flashed up warning. The outbreak now proves that those previous reports of volcanic light were correct.

An excursion is to be run to Hawaii by Richard H. Trent, the tourist agent for the Volcano House. Mr. Trent has chartered the steamer Iwalani to make the trip to Punaluu and Honuapo. The vessel will leave tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. She will arrive at Honuapo Saturday night, within plain view of the volcano and lava flows and land her passengers early Sunday morning. A stage will be in waiting to convey passengers to the Volcano House from where the display can be witnessed.

That there will be a rush to the scene of the latest outbreak seems certain. Many inquiries have been received during the last two days at the two steamship offices regarding the possibility of excursions being sent out to the island of Hawaii.

The steamer will be able to carry several hundred passengers if the sale of tickets warrants it. The steamer Helene will in all probability be sent out in Saturday with freight. She will probably take passengers to Hilo or some Hawaii port in close proximity to the volcano.

The center of volcanic activity is a long way from Hilo however. Parties will be organized by the more daring to visit the scene of the lava flows. It is estimated that the lava is breaking out above the 12,000 foot level. The upper slopes of Mauna Loa are difficult of access, not so much on account of the very steep mountain climbing that is necessary, as the fact that the trail runs over extensive deposits of lava flows, and water has to be carried by parties making such a trip.

Wilder's Steamship Company received the following dispatch by Wireless Telegraph from Admiral Beckley of the Kinau.

Mahukona, October 7.

Three columns fire broke out Mokuauweo last evening. Saw the reflection from Kamalo, Molokai, last evening.

GEO. C. BECKLEY, Purser.

Wilder's Steamship Company is figuring to get the Helene away on Saturday for Hamakua ports and for Hilo if there are passengers. This will enable those wishing to go to that side of the island to see the outbreak from that point of view to do so.

Weatherwax says that with a little work over about 100 yards of a-a lava, a route could be made by which one could ride horseback all the way up to the Dewey crater. However, no one has ridden up this trail yet, all those who went that way, going afoot from the sheep station. On this route there is no water between Waimea and Pohakuloa which is seven miles from the sheep station, and there is no water at the sheep station. Water must be carried from Pohakuloa for the remainder of the trip.

By whichever route one goes, one ought to take a guide familiar with the region. The outfit should include a blanket, a raincoat of some kind, a canteen that will hold at least a gallon of water, and food for say three days in which there should be nothing salty nor thirst producing.

MORE ATTACKS ON INDICTMENTS

ATTORNEYS FOR E. M. JONES
FILE ANOTHER MOTION TO QUASH INDICTMENT.

Two more motions to quash the murder indictments against E. M. Jones were denied this morning by Judge Gear and the cases went over again, for argument tomorrow on demurrers to the indictments. The last motion to quash was based on the ground that the Grand Jury had heard no evidence before bringing the indictments, and an affidavit was filed by A. G. M. Robertson setting forth that such was the case. He called Attorney General Andrews to the stand to testify as to what took place in the Grand Jury room. Andrews stated that the jury took evidence before bringing the first two indictments which were nolle prossed, and brought the second two indictments without getting further evidence. The motion to quash, which was denied, was as follows:

"Now comes Edward Mitchell Jones, defendant herein, and moves the court here to quash the indictment herein on the ground that the grand jury attempted to find and present the same without having any legal or sufficient or other evidence upon which to base it, and that no evidence was heard by or submitted to the grand jury upon the finding of the indictment herein.

"That the facts herein relied on were unknown to said defendant and his counsel until after the court had ruled on the motion to quash said indictment heretofore filed herein.

"This motion is based on the record herein and the affidavit of A. G. M. Robertson hereto attached and upon such testimony as may be adduced at the hearing hereof."

PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY.

Kekipi, assault and battery and Louis Sin, conducting a lottery.

Judge Gear and a jury resumed the trial of Horio and Kitagawa, charged with assault and battery. A motion to instruct a verdict in favor of Horio was granted. The trial of Kitagawa was not finished when the court took the noon recess.

"I Roughed It"

Many of us have to work hard all day long. We cannot care for ourselves as we would. No wonder our blood gets out of order, becomes thin and impure. This produces boils, eruptions, nervousness, indigestion, and great weakness.

We have this photograph and letter from Mr. John Hainer, of Wagon Wagga, New South Wales. Read carefully what he says: "I have roughed it a great deal, mining, working in the sun, exposed to the heat, and have often had poor food. My blood frequently becomes impure and I have eruptions, boils, and become generally run down. But Ayer's Sarsaparilla takes hold of me every time, makes my blood pure and builds me right up."

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

There are many imitation "Sarsaparillas." Be sure you get Ayer's.

TO START JUNTA IN HONOLULU.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen the Chinese revolutionary leader, is awaiting the arrival of Leung Chi-tso the reform leader from San Francisco next week, as the pair are to have a conference of a highly important description. Sun is a revolutionary leader and represents an entirely different element than that by Leung. It is thought likely that the leaders will succeed in effecting a union of their interests and perhaps establish a junta at Honolulu with the avowed purpose of overthrowing the Manchu dynasty. Dr. Sun thinks that the time is near when the Manchu dynasty will be overthrown. He also says that the Chinese government is so harassed by internal troubles that China will cede Manchuria to Russia in return for a protection to the dynasty.

STILL A CHANCE FOR WALKER

Sir Thomas Wants a Shamrock IV and Charles D. Walker Has a Chance To Be It.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—"If I could find a designer who I was certain could beat Herreshoff I would build Shamrock IV and challenge for the cup tomorrow. I am retaining Shamrock III, so you can see that I am in hopes of finding such a designer. I intend to keep after the cup until I get it."

This was the statement made by Sir Thomas Lipton at his apartments in the Auditorium Annex last night, the first interview he has given since coming to Chicago, ill, two weeks ago.

"I want to repeat," he said, "that I have no fault to find with any one for my defeat. I have seen a suggestion that the only way to revive British interest in cup racing would be to dangle the cup in front of our eyes by waving the rules and letting the challenged American yacht race in British waters. I want to say that while I personally appreciate the kindness of the suggestion, we want to win the cup and win it fairly according to the present rules, and I believe that if we did win it it would not stay on our side more than a year."

It is probable that Sir Thomas will leave Chicago about the middle of this week. President Underwood of the Erie Railroad has placed his private car at the disposal of the yachtman for the trip to New York.

FREE COINAGE FATAL TO PESO

Mexican Commissioners Present Their Report, With Several Interesting Suggestions.

MEXICAN CITY, Sept. 27.—The report of Mexico's monetary commissioners sent abroad is now published. Among the more immediately interesting points and suggestions are the following:

In Russia, and in England especially, the immediate establishment of a gold standard in China is regarded as impracticable. In the monetary system that is recommended for the purpose of bringing about a fixity of international exchange, the price in gold or bar silver and the value in gold or silver money are absolutely dissociated. The former may fluctuate in the market, whereas silver money will always have a fixed value in gold, hence the stability of international exchange.

This fixed value in gold will be maintained by the governments in the following manner: First—By the closing of the mints to the free coinage of silver. Second—By the fixing of the ratio between gold and silver by the governments. Third—By the legal tender character of the currency for the payment and settlement of contracts of all kinds. Fourth—By reason of its being the only money in which duties and taxes will be paid, as it is supposed that there will be no gold in circulation. Fifth—By limitation of the quantity of silver money coined exclusively for the interior currency of each country. Sixth—By the creation of reserve funds in gold in those countries in which the foregoing conditions are not sufficient to maintain the stability of international exchange.

The whole of this mechanism is based on a fixity of value in gold in silver money. The commissioners go on to say that all the economists whom they consulted in Europe pronounced the closing of the mints to the free coinage of silver to be absolutely essential to the success of any plan for stabilizing the value of the peso.

DIXIE WAS GOOD ENOUGH FOR HIM

COLUMBIA, Mo., Sept. 25.—A motion to change the words to the music of "Dixie" almost caused a riot at the ex-Confederate reunion in the auditorium of Missouri university today. Resolutions were introduced by John C. Stone of Kansas City, suggesting the change on the ground that the present wording of the song is childish and undignified. Mr. Stone asserted that the wording was not in keeping with the music, which was granted. He suggested that the Missouri Daughters of the Confederacy take the matter in hand and rewrite the song.

"The words of 'Dixie,'" said Mr. Stone, "when compared to a really great poem, such as 'My Maryland,' seem foolish and unbecoming the glorious air to which they are played."

The motion was greeted with a yell of disapproval. A hundred men were on their feet in a moment. A veteran shouted, "'Dixie' as it is written is good enough for any man." Another shouted that it had been the joy of the Southerners' hearts for forty years and should endure forever. Some one started the rebel yell. Every veteran in the house leaped to his feet and cheered. Hats were tossed in the air and the women in the audience flourished banners and Confederate colors of all designs.

The motion was put to a vote and promptly defeated. Only one man voted for it. Just as it was announced that the motion was defeated the band struck up "Dixie" and the crowd went wild.

The students of the university joined in with the college yell and the tumult was redoubled. It was ten or fifteen minutes before order could be restored.

FREAK INVENTION FOR STEAMSHIP

Former Newspaperman Turns Inventor With Scheme To Put Propellers in Front Instead Behind Steamers.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Sept. 21.—Will the steamships of the future be pulled, instead of pushed along as at present?

This question has been answered in the affirmative by A. H. Gilmore, the former business manager of the first morning paper ever published in Newport News. Mr. Gilmore has just made application to the patent office at Washington for patents on a remarkable invention which he believes will revolutionize navigation by steam power.

The invention is regarded as a freak by the mechanics and shipbuilders here before whom he has exhibited it. The inventor proposes to place the propeller, wheels or screws, at the bow instead of the stern end of the vessel. He claims that the device will produce double the present speed at about one-half the cost.

"I firmly believe," he said today, "that I have solved the problem of rapid transit by water. The principle of my invention is very simple. A cart can be drawn much more easily than it can be pushed. Now that's exactly what I propose to do to the steamboat. Don't push it; pull it. It will go much faster at less expense."

The propellers are placed at the front end of the boat. Of course, they are differently constructed from those now in use at the stern. I am afraid to describe them before I receive my patents. I can say, however, that the boat will be drawn along by suction. On a large vessel the device will extend fifteen or twenty feet in front of the bow and will create a vacuum which the boat must naturally follow.

"I believe the invention, attached to a warship like the Maryland, now being built at the shipyard, would give her an average speed of thirty or thirty-five knots instead of the twenty knots which she will make. I have tried it on a small boat here in Newport News, and the success of the trial has convinced me that it is entirely practicable. I have had several offers for it, but will not sell. I hope to be able to exhibit the device at the St. Louis fair next year."

CHASED A GANG OF PETTY THIEVES

SIX BOYS FOUND STEALING IN REAR OF EMMELUTH'S STORE
LAST EVENING.

A gang of petty pilferers has been operating about the city for some days.
Last night they were discovered in the rear of John Emmeluth's store on King street. There were six in the crowd.
All of them carried gunny sacks in which had been placed various articles that had probably been stolen from various places about the business section of the city. The crowd was engaged at that time in stealing pieces of brass and other articles belonging to the Emmeluth store.

A clerk chased after the crowd. All of them took to their heels. Manuel Tichera, a Portuguese, was captured by the clerk. The youth was before Judge Lindsay this morning to answer to a charge of larceny in the second degree. The youth said that he had stolen only a little piece of brass, the big pieces had been stolen by the other boys. Inasmuch as the defendant was the largest one in the crowd, the court evidently thought a severe sentence might deter other members from further depredations. Manuel was committed to the reform school during his minority. He is 12 years of age.

The charges of burglary against Fischer, F. Buckley and Robert Nurney the soldiers charged with the burglary of the Waikiki saloon some time ago were nolle prossed yesterday afternoon in the police court and the three were immediately charged with larceny in the second degree. When the cases were called this morning the deputy attorney general was not present to prosecute, so the examinations were continued until Saturday.

Lun Hun was charged in the police court this morning with burglary in the first degree. Lau See charges that Lun broke into Lau's place. Lun claims that he is employed at Lau's place. The case was continued until Saturday.

WAR AVERTED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, October 2.—It is believed here that a conflict with Bulgaria has been averted.

NEILLS COMING IN DECEMBER

THE POPULAR DRAMATIC OR-GANIZATION WILL BE HERE
WITH A SPLENDID REPERTORY.

Honolulu is to have another season of high class legitimate drama. The James Neill Company which has been here twice and played to successful business each time, will come again to open at the Hawaiian Opera House in December.

In the company are both Neill and his wife, and some of the old favorites.
Of course there have been many changes in the personnel of the company since it was last here, but the company is a strong one with capable people for all the parts.

The company is now under the direction of Mr. Wilkinson. Charles Astor Parker so long the director of the company is no longer with it, though still interested with Neill in theatrical ventures. Neill and Morosoco have a theatrical organization which includes two or three companies playing some of the principal minor circuits in the west, and Mr. Parker is devoting his effort to the direction of these.

The Neill company will come here in December, with a splendid repertory of new and successful plays. This repertory includes "The Christian," "Conquerors," "Fool of Fortune," "Ticket
of Leave Man," "Puddenhead Wilson,"
"Red Knight," "Starbucks," "Contented Woman," "Gentleman of France,"
"Little Minister," "Cowboy and Lady,"
"Prince Karl," "Under the Red Robe," "Janice Meredith," "In the Palace of the King," "The Honorable John Grisby."

The Neill Company is now playing a very successful engagement in San Francisco. The company very lately played a long and successful engagement at Los Angeles, and then went on a tour through Montana, Idaho and the mountain region. From there the company went to San Francisco, where it is now. The season here will begin in December.

PHELPS WAS IN PERILOUS PLIGHT

CAPTAIN GRAHAM'S STORY IN COURT OF A WILD NIGHT OFF
THE HORN.

"Thirty-five times," was Captain Graham's answer this morning in the Federal court to a question from Breckons as to how many times he had sailed around the Horn. The damage sued against his vessel brought by Julius Schirmacher, for alleged neglect
after Schirmacher's leg was broken, off the Horn, has largely resolved itself into a matter of expert testimony as to what part the vessel could best make for on July 15, when the accident happened off the Horn.

The Eskine M. Phelps was in a bad plight when the accident took place,
according to the testimony of her master. "Of the 19 men before the mast," he said, "nine were injured and one had been put in the galley in the cook's place. Two or three of the ten on duty were practically useless on account of bolts and salt water sores on their hands. The second officer was on duty but practically useless. Of the seven men on deck, only two could be called sailors. Two or three more were half way sailors. They could steer and go about but they were very inefficient and did not know the ropes.

"The same sea that did the injury to Schirmacher washed all the main braces overboard. Some were washed back into the ports and cut. We could not get the braces in that night and the ship was utterly unmanageable
until we did.

"I consider that in the prevailing weather and with the crew in that condition it would have been sheer madness to attempt to make for the Falkland islands. I could have got to the region of the islands, but the danger
would have been in getting into Port Stanley. It is a region of constant storms and rain and snow. There is little daylight after four o'clock and before eight o'clock. The observations of the sun cannot be relied upon. I have frequently found the latitude shown by observations of the sun there to be over thirty miles in error, when I secured better observations from stars or planets. Had I attempted to put in to Port Stanley I think the chances were very favorable that I should have got the vessel ashore and lost her."

The plaintiffs claim that Captain
Graham should have put back to Port Stanley when the accident happened in order to give Schirmacher medical treatment and Dunne proceeded to attack the Captain's testimony. With the aid of a chart Graham showed Judge Estes where he should have had to go to enter Port Stanley harbor and he claimed that the handling of the big ship in such channels would have been impossible with the crew he had.
Dunne produced the Encyclopedia
Britannica, to show that fifty vessels enter Port Stanley every year and that there is a good repair shop there for the scores of vessels damaged off the Horn. Captain Graham said that the Britannica didn't agree with the reports made to him by captains who visited Port Stanley.

Captain Otis was called and asked by Breckons what was his opinion as an expert regarding the advisability of a ship like the Phelps in her condition putting back to Stanley from where she was when the plaintiff was injured. He said he thought it was impracticable, and Dunne proceeded to cross examine about winds and currents and sails. Dunne has been to sea himself and can talk the sails and sailing with the mariners in their own lingo.

was her birthday.

IS A DANGEROUS PLACE.

Complaint has been made of the danger at the corner of McCully and Beretania streets from the presence of a thick growth of trees and brush on the vacant lot on the ewa-makal corner. Electric cars turning either way either into McCully street or Beretania street can not be seen on account of the clump of brush and trees. The result is that passing vehicles have narrowly escaped being run down before the drivers realized that the car was any where near them. Captain Bowers the patrol captain, says that he has frequently seen vehicles all but smashed and their occupants injured
by the cars nearly running into them.
He says if permission is given he will cut down the trees and brush so that the cars can be seen.

SHERMAN SIGHTED.

The transport Sherman from San Francisco was sighted off Koko head at two o'clock this afternoon. She has two days' mail.

CHINESE IS BADLY INJURED.

Manuel Souza a Portuguese youth, is in the police station charged with assault and battery but it is likely that a more serious charge may be lodged against him. He was arraigned yesterday before Judge Lindsay for striking a Chinese named Lee Lum. It now appears that Lee is worse injured than had been first reported. His jaw was broken in several places by the Portuguese boy's blows. The Chinese is too ill to attend the trial so the case has been continued. Another charge may be lodged against Souza.
