THE AMENDMENT

Minister Cooper Outlines Policy of the Executive.

THEY SUPPORT PRESENT OATH

Maintenance of Republican Form of Government a Fundamental Principle.

The afternoon session of the House of Representatives yesterday was devoted chiefly to discussion on the proposed amendment of Article 101 of the Constitution. The amendment omits that part of the oath not to encourage or assist in the restoration or establishment of a Monarchical form of Government. Representative Loebenstein was the principal speaker in support of the amendment. He maintained that the clause was an objectionable one to the natives, and that were it omitted they would be willing to subscribe to it and thus secure better representation. Mr. Loebenstein stated that the amendment had the backing of the American Union Party, and threw upon the gauntlet by daring the Executive to oppose the measure.

Minister Cooper said, on the proposed amendment:

Mr. Speaker:—The introduction of the amendment had the fundamental law of the country is indeed a matter of importance, and on which it may well be expected that the Government should define its position. It has been considered a question of so much importance that it has been freely discussed in the Executive Council and our position in regard to the matter has been agreed to. While I think it is quite unanimous among us that if it was a question whether or not this condition should now be incorporated in the Constitution we would stand as a unit as being opposed to any such action, yet the framers of the Constitution saw fit to place that provision to the fundamental law of the land; and it is there now as one of the conditions of the right of franchise in this country. The institution of the Provisional Government carried with it the conclusion that the monarchical form of Government had disappeared for all the time in this country. Under the conditions that existed at that time it was quite proper that this qualification should be exacted from all those who sought to be identified with the Government. I was opposed personally to this condition being placed in the Constitution at the time it was framed; but nevertheless it is there, and I feel that it would be a mistake now to change that provision, principally as it would be misunderstood by the friends of the Government as well as the opponents of the Government. I believe it would be a sign to those who have been watching our advance, that we had changed the fundamental policy of the Government, if we should now advocate a change in this provision. It is not a mere matter of sentiment, it is a matter of substance; and would probably carry with it, if the Executive should support this amendment, the conviction that we no longer cared for the proposition of maintaining the Republic, and that it was a matter of indifference to us whether or not a change was made. It is likely that legal construction of this provision of the Constitution would go so far as to prevent a man from making any effort to change the form of Government, even by ballot; and this seems to be what is now objected to. If it is of sufficient substance to those who have heretofore refused to become identified with the Government, then there is every reason to retain it in the Constitution. The Constitution provides that all persons born within its jurisdiction or naturalized are citizens thereof. It is said that the provision now sought to be stricken from the Constitution is the only reason why many of our native born have declined to become identified with the Government. If this be true, then there should be no modification of the Constitution at this time for fear of its being misunderstood by them. For if there is one fundamental principle of this Government it is that a Republican form of government shall be maintained in this country until the consummation of the one grand object for the establishment of the Government, that of annexation to the United States of America. It is on this ground that the Executive feels that it cannot support this amendment. It is not the purpose of the Executive to enter into an extended debate on this question but simply to outline its position.

A Nice Wet March.

Colonel Fisher paraded the First Regiment, N. G. H., last evening in honor of the Military Committee of the Senate and House of the Legislature now sitting. A dress parade and review was given at the Makiki baseball grounds. Minister Cooper was in attendance. All the spectators were warm in praise of the appearance of the force and the evidences of careful training. Each company of the two battalions paraded a sixteen-file front. Frequent showers made the evening rather unpleasant for a march, but there was no grumbling. At the Drill Shed upon return, Colonel Fisher complimented the men on the turnout and conveyed to them the thanks of the Minister and Legislative party.

Just Frightened.

There were three pretty badly frightened men on the China, Saturday night. They climbed aboard that steamer before she was fairly alongside and upon arrival on deck, were informed that they would have to go to the quarantine station for the regular length of time. For fully an hour and a half they remained on board, expecting every minute to be taken over on the island. Finally they were allowed to go. Hereafter they intend to await the lowering of the gangway and find out before hand if they can go aboard.

CHARTER READY.

Five Cent Fare In Franchise of Rapid Transit Co.

At a meeting which lasted till quite a late hour last night, the attorneys and temporary directors of the new Honolulu Rapid Transit Co., Ltd., completed the draft of the charter for which application will be made.

The company proposes to begin within one year from the time leave is granted, the construction of a first-class, well equipped, modern electric street railway system, with the right to use compressed air or some other newly discovered power later. The company will agree to complete and have in operation in three years, fifteen miles of track or line, covering territory described in the franchise and heretofore mentioned in this paper. It is stipulated in the franchise that the fare shall not on any line of the Honolulu Rapid Transit Co., Ltd., exceed five cents and that school children shall be carried for half fare. One nickel would thus serve to pay the passage of an adult from Moanalua to Kapiolani park.

HAWAIIAN REGISTRY.

Amendment to Present Law Proposed By Executive.

In the Senate yesterday, Minister Cooper introduced a new bill in the shape of an amendment to existing laws on the registry of vessels. This amendment was promised during the steamship China controversy several months since.

Two sections are proposed to take the place of the present sections of the same numbers, as follows:

Section 630. No vessel shall be entitled to be registered as a vessel of the Republic of Hawaii or to be deemed an Hawaiian vessel or entitled to the privileges appertaining thereto unless said vessel shall be wholly owned by a citizen or citizens of the Republic or by an Hawaiian Corporation, the capital stock of which is wholly owned by citizens of the Republic.

Section 631. Upon a written application being made to the Collector-General of Customs, pursuant to the terms of the last preceding section, which shall include the oath of the owner of the vessel sought to be registered and in case the vessel is owned by an Hawaiian Corporation, the oath of the President, Secretary, or Treasurer thereof setting forth the name and description of the vessel, whether it is domestic or foreign built and if foreign built, how acquired, that the affiant is a citizen of the Republic and in case there is another owner, that there is such other owner specifying his name and place of abode and that he is a citizen of the Republic, and in case the oath is made by an officer of a corporation, that such corporation is incorporated under the laws of the Republic, and that the capital stock thereof is wholly owned by citizens of any foreign Prince or State directly or indirectly by way of trust, confidence or otherwise interested in such vessel, or in the profits or issues thereof, the Collector-General of Customs shall cause such vessel to be measured and tonnage ascertained according to the mode hereinafter prescribed. Said appreciation in case the vessel is foreign built shall be accompanied by the evidences of title.

DR. SUN YET SEN

Has a Grievance Against the British Government.

THE RIGHTS OF A REFUGEE

Wants Protection Only of Any Political Exile—A Newspaper Makes Argument In Sun's Behalf.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen, the Honolulu born and educated Chinese is the most prominent figure in the movement for a new political order in the Chinese Empire. A brief note on his case was published yesterday. Dr. Sun Yat Sen from a retreat which will not be named mails to the Advertiser the following newspaper clipping, with some expressions to an old friend here:

Our readers will remember the plucky little Chinaman Sun-Yat-Sen, who was kidnapped by the Chinese Embassy in London with a view of his consignment to the tender mercies of the Peking Government, and was released upon the peremptory demand of Lord Salisbury. It was rumored lately that "Sun" had been arrested by the Governor of Hong Kong and surrendered to the Chinese authorities. Upon inquiries by a correspondent, however, this report was found to be inaccurate. The true facts are as follows, and they seem to call for very serious consideration.

It appears that after "Sun's" release Dr. Cantlie, his tutor and rescuer, advised "Sun" to go and practice his profession in the Sandwich Islands, where many of his relatives reside. "Sun" refused, however, and proceeded instead to —, with the ultimate purpose of settling down in Formosa, an island yielded by China to Japan after the war.

Whilst still in —, he wrote to the Governor of Hong Kong informing him of his intention to visit the colony. In reply there came a verbose and, it may be added, impertinent letter warning him that if he dared to set foot in Hong Kong he would be immediately arrested for hatching plots against a friendly Government under an ordinance giving the Governor power to banish Chinamen without assigning any reason.

Poor "Sun" was greatly cast down at this announcement, and wrote home to his friends in England:

I think you will be surprised to hear that the Hong Kong Government have banished me from the colony and agreed to hand me over to the Tartar Government whenever I land there.

Much astonishment was expressed at the receipt of this letter. Hong Kong is a Crown colony, and as integral a part of the British Empire as London or Liverpool, yet, while Sun-Yat-Sen was at liberty to come and go as he pleased in England, his liberty and life were threatened if ever he set foot in Hong Kong.

The matter was taken in hand by the "Friends of China"—a society composed of influential Englishmen, and formed with the purpose of taking care that if an insurrection broke out in China the British Government should not take the side of the Mandarins, as it practically did during the Taiping revolt. Mr. —, the honorary secretary of this society, gave it as his opinion that the Governor has been influenced in his action by his council, composed of rich merchants anxious to conciliate the authorities at Peking, and fearful lest their trade with China should be interfered with by the outbreak of internal disturbances. If such an ordinance as is quoted ever did exist it is out of date—a rusty weapon refurnished.

However, the opinion of eminent Eastern lawyers has been taken, and they have declared the action of the Governor to be "a gross outrage on the British Constitution." Meanwhile, the affair will be brought to the notice of Parliament as soon as it meets, and Sun-Yat-Sen will put the matter to a practical test by landing in Hong Kong.

It remains to be seen whether Sir William Robinson will carry out his threat, and so lay sacrilegious hands on the most sacred of all British traditions—the right of every political exile to absolute liberty on British soil so long as he observes British law.

Insane.

A native and a Chinaman were sent to the Insane Asylum yesterday, after having been examined by Dr. Emerson and passed upon by the District Magistrate. One was Kamakaia, and the other was Ah Fat, at one time a hack driver. Kamakaia is undoubtedly crazy on religion.

Ah Fat's insanity took a different form. He seemed to delight in appropriating to his own use, the property of others. Early yesterday morning, he went to the stables of a Chinaman and there took a horse, hack and harness.

An Explosion.

The Government quarries at Kamo-Ihili was the scene of an accident at about 1 p. m. yesterday afternoon and Allan Clarke was the unfortunate victim. It was just as work was being begun again for the afternoon when the accident happened. Mr. Clarke was engaged in rebarbating one of the boxes of the stationary engine used at that place. Suddenly there was an explosion and the box was blown up. The metal flew into Mr. Clarke's face and burned him badly about the upper lip and also in the region of the eyes. He was transferred to his room at the home of Mr. Fogarty on Beretania street where he was attended to by Dr. Howard. Although the injuries by burning are very painful they are not at all dangerous as the story that was spread about the streets had it, and Mr. Clarke will be about again in a few days.

NO MEASLES HERE.

Quarantine Is Clear—Case Was a China Sailor.

A number of officers and members of the Board of Health supposed on Sunday that the case of measles aboard the S. S. China was taken to the quarantine station here, accepting it as granted that the sick man was one of the contract laborers for a plantation. This was a mistake. One prominent officer telephoned to the island in the harbor yesterday morning and learned that the case of measles was still aboard the steamer. The sick man was a member of the crew of the steamer. There is no illness of any sort in quarantine here. All of yesterday was occupied by King McVeigh and his men in fumigating the effects of the laborers and having the men and women take baths.

It is recorded in histories of the Islands that measles caused the death of ten per cent of the population here in 1848. The natives, instead of keeping warm, took baths in cold water, "drove the fever in" and perished quickly. In late years the mortality with measles has amounted to very little.

SCHOOL MATTERS

Senate Discusses Department of Instruction.

Constitutional Amendment Was Brought Up in the Lower Branch.

SENATE.

Sixteenth Day, March 7.

The Senate discussed appropriation bills and the special items referred to committees. After the usual opening Senator Holstein presented a petition from 50 people in Kohala asking for an appropriation for a road. It was referred to the Committee on Public Lands and Improvements.

The report presented by Senators Waterhouse, from the Finance Committee, and Hocking from a special committee, on special items in the appropriation bills were received and discussion had later. There was the same action on Senator Holstein's report from the Judiciary Committee on House bill 9 and Senator Brown's report from the same committee on House bill 11.

A resolution introduced by Senator Brown was passed fixing the salary of the Clerk at $10 per day, the salary of the Sergeant at Arms at $4 per day and the salary of the Janitor at $1 per day.

Minister Cooper presented an amendment to sections 630 and 631 of the Civil Code referring to the registry of vessels. The bill passed the first reading and was referred to the Printing Committee.

The House bill 9, relating to appeals from the Circuit Court passed the second reading on the adoption of the Committee's report and was set for third reading on Wednesday. The committee reported that the sections in the act were virtually repealed by implication by the act of 1892 to reorganize the Judiciary, but the Chief Justice had asked for an express repeal in order to bring less difficulty to litigants.

House bill 11, amending sections 1480-1483 of the Civil Code relating to the rate of interest on money, passed the second reading and was set for the third on Wednesday. The committee reported that under existing laws the present legal rate of interest is 5 per cent. with a maximum rate of 2 1/2 per cent. per month. The amendment fixes the legal rate at 6 per cent. with a maximum rate of 1 per cent. per month except on maritime risks and bottomry bonds.

The Senate bill to enlarge Kapiolani Park by taking in the leaseholds on the water front at the expiration of the leases was referred to the special committee to be appointed to consider Senator Brown's bill providing for the issuance of royal patents to the present leaseholders.

Items in the salary appropriation bill referred to the Finance Committee and the special committee were taken up. The permanent settlement to the Princess Kaiulani was passed on the recommendation of the committee that the item was thoroughly discussed at the previous session and there was no need for further discussion.

An appropriation of $720 for the period was passed for F. W. Fehlbehr who has been in Government service for 30 years and is now a cripple and has no means of support.

The item of $9,600 for salary of shorthand reporters for the Judiciary Department was passed on the recommendation of the committee. The report of the Chief Justice shows a need of increased assistance in the department.

Other items passed were $2,400 for salary of Clerk of 3rd and 4th Circuits. Salary of shorthand reporter of the 3rd Circuit was reduced from $2,000 to $1,800. Action on the salary of Deputy Auditor-General and Clerk of Auditor-General was deferred. The items were stricken out temporarily. Salaries and commissions of Deputy Tax Assessors and Collectors passed at $60,000. All the salary items in the Bureau of Customs, amounting to $160,580, were passed after some discussion. The wording of the items in this bureau referring to pay of Customs guards and inspectors for Kahului and Hilo was changed to read Maui and Hawaii, respectively.

There was considerable discussion over the items in the Department of Public Instruction. The committee's report advocated a radical change in the plan as outlined in the appropriation bill. The change practically continued the present system of school inspection and in addition omitted one officer provided for in the bill.

Minister Cooper defended the appropriation bill. He said that the items had been carefully thought out and several months had been spent by the Department in planning them. It was proposed to secure if possible this session an appropriation for two additional schools for Honolulu. The plans of the Department were to make the first attempt at graded schools. Great care should be taken to have the inception in a proper manner to secure the permanent bettering of the school system. The plan would require nearly all the time of the Inspector-General and this would be impossible if he were to continue to tour the Islands, as he would be obliged to do if the committee's report was adopted. The other Islands need a man to put all his time in the schools there as it is practically impossible for one man to visit all the schools and spend more than half a day in each.

Senator Brown supported Minister Cooper's position. He believed that the additional expense of the Department plan, of $4,400, for the period was a very small item if it is proposed to increase the facilities of the school system.

Senator Waterhouse was also in favor of the measure. He said the Department of Public Instruction should have the greatest consideration. Increased facilities would be a great help to the cause of education in the Islands. The members had always talked of advancing the educational system of the country and they now had an opportunity to do so.

The items were all passed including the appropriation of $450,000, which includes the salaries of some 40 prospective new teachers. An item of $1,800 for salary of Messenger and Book Clerk, omitted from the bill, was passed.

Senators Waterhouse and Holstein asked for leave of absence until Friday and an afternoon session was held, at which Senator McCandless asked that action on the Postal Bureau salaries be deferred. Senator Holstein, under suspension of the rules, made a report on several items in the general appropriation bill on which no action was taken. The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.

Sixteenth Day, March 7.

The following petitions were presented:

Kaao—For $1,500 for a bridge and new road between Makaweli and Waima, Kauai.

Achi—For $2,000 for enlarging and repairing the landing at Hookena.

Achi—For $2,500 for a court house and jail at Hookena.

Representative Wilder reported for the Committee on Commerce, Agriculture, Etc., recommending the indefinite postponement of the House bills bearing on the encouragement in the work of cultivating coffee and ramie and grapes.

Representative Kaai propounded the following questions to the Minister of the Interior. 1. Do the watering carts of Honolulu belong to the Government? 2. If not, to whom? 3. If these are owned by private parties, how much do they pay to the Government for water? 4. What are the receipts of the owners of the watering carts?

Representative Kahaulelio presented a petition from Molokai protesting against the action proposed in House Bill No. 3, which provides for making that island a part of the first judicial district.

Representative Achi announced his intention to introduce an Act repealing Section 3, Chapter 51 of the Laws of 1893, relating to poll tax.

House Bill No. 6, relating to highways, taken up in second reading with the report of the committee. After debate referred to a special committee.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The resolution regarding issuance of warrants, presented by Representative Robertson, was taken up. Representative Kahaulelio made a long speech on the subject. He stated that the complaints have come from the few new lawyers who have only lately come into the country. The lawyers who have been here for a long time have made no complaints. Only the lawyers in the House seemed to be in favor of the resolution. Representative Kaai spoke on the matter, upholding the old practice.

The Attorney-General then asked Mr. Kaai whether, in his district of Hana there had been any complaints of hardships resulting from the practice. The answer was no. However, he wished to support the motion because the Attorney-General had gone a little beyond the law. The resolution was not one of censure. If it was he would not support it for one moment.

The Attorney-General spoke in the same vein as his principal speech on the matter the other day. Representative Isenberg referred to the Attorney-General, the Marshal and Deputy Marshal as knowing nothing about the workings of the practice in the outside districts and to the Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs as being "little gods riding about the place doing as they please."

Representative Robertson said that the practice was against the law. If the subject was clear and to the point. The practice was against the law. If the law was being disregarded how could the people be expected to have any respect for the laws enacted by this Legislature. If the law was not satisfactory, an amendment could be made. Representative Robertson referred to "accusations" made by members of the House and in the morning paper. He doubted very much that it would make more money for lawyers. He was accused of being mercenary. He did not think that he was a person to seek for his own personal aggrandizement to make the House commit itself to an important measure. The resolution was brought in at the request of ten members of the House who had held a caucus since a short time previous. He had been sent word to frame a resolution and he did. He did not state this to shirk any responsibility. On the other hand he approved of the resolution in toto.

Representative Loebenstein spoke on the three functions of the Government and recommended that the duties of each be kept in their proper sphere. He was personally a friend of the Attorney-General but politically he was opposed to him. The practice under discussion was certainly wrong and should be stopped.

The Attorney General spoke again, this time asking the question that, if the people were oppressed by the practice, "Why in heaven's name do they not get out a writ of mandamus and compel the issuance of warrants that have been refused them?"

Speaking in answer to the Attorney General, Representative Robertson said that district magistrates could not be compelled by writs of mandamus to issue any warrants.

The resolution of Representative Robertson was adopted by a vote of nine to four.

Proposed amendment to Article 101 of the Constitution. Representative Loebenstein spoke on the matter. When in the middle of his speech, the Speaker declared "no quorum" and Representative Loebenstein ceased.

Five or six members had left the room, after about five minutes two were brought back. The points in favor of the amendment were set forth by Representative Loebenstein as to whether the measure was right or wrong. The central idea of the whole thing was the rule of the majority. Mr. Loebenstein spoke of the backing of the American Union party in the matter and closed his argument with the words: "Let the Executive dare oppose this measure."

The speech of Minister Cooper on the proposed amendment is found elsewhere.

Rep. Robertson moved that further consideration be postponed until Wednesday, averring that it was necessary to confer with his constituents. Representative Richards moved to amend this to a week from Wednesday averring that it was just as necessary for the other members to hear from their constituents. Motion with amendment carried.

House adjourned at 4:25 p. m.

IN STAGE LIFE

Unique and Touching Experience of Robert L. Scott.

DEATH OF ORIGINAL "OLE"

Gus Heege Was a Character—His Successes and Failures Came—A Bow Under Gloomy Conditions.

Gus Heege, the original Swedish dialect comedian is dead. That line of play will disappear from the American stage now. The only man who would take the place of Heege is anchored in Hawaii. The Honolulu citizen who would get good backing to go out as a comedy star again is "Bob" Scott, night clerk at the Hawaiian hotel.

Heege was only thirty-six when he died. He had made half a dozen fair sized fortunes with his play building and acting, but was not a saving man. He was the son of a Lutheran clergyman at Cleveland, O., and was cursed with the one fault of yielding to drink. Heege was a bright, intellectual, studious chap. He took to the stage on leaving college and while with a company in the Northwest conceived the notion of Swedish dialect pieces. The Northwest is full of Swedes and Norwegians and to Americans they are odd with their broken English and slow, innocent ways. Heege wrote successfully and produced himself "Ole Olson," "Yon Yonson" and "A Yenuine Yentleman." The history of the handling of each by Heege was the same. He sold to managing firms, then in time left the companies. His last theatrical venture was with a piece he called "Rush City," in which the Swedish character was prominent but not central. This was a money maker, too, but Heege went to pieces with it.

E. H. Macoy, who was the manager of both the first and second "Ole Olson" companies told the writer the stories of Heege and Scott at a social gathering one night in a lively town in the Rocky Mountains. "Bob" Scott was then wearing diamonds big as snowballs, but was with all his prosperity modest and unassuming as today. In the original company Scott was Dr. Shingle, the character taken by Chas. H. Ramsey when the piece was given by Mr. Scott here in the Drill Shed theater with home talent. Mr. Scott was 'Gus Heege's' understudy and was excepting to be called on any moment to take the part. "At 7 o'clock one evening," said Macoy, "there was a $700 house in sight at Havlin's theater in Chicago. I was against giving the show that evening on account of Scott. He was there for duty, but it made me cry to look at him, for only a couple of hours before he had come from the funeral of his child. 'Bob' was quiet, but he was hurt deep. I was arguing the case with the manager of the house when a messenger came rushing in with the announcement that 'Gus Heege had walked out of a third story window and been bruised to death. Another messenger followed a moment later with the correction that Heege was not dead, but was seriously injured and would have been killed but for the fact that he was well primed with liquor. He was sent to a hospital and was on his back for weeks. In fact he was never the same man physically again. I thought this situation of the company meant dismissal of the audience certainly, but the house manager insisted and I never had a harder thing to do in my life than to go to Scott and ask him to play 'Ole.' He said he would do it and we had a barber come to make his face clean, for 'Bob' was then known as the 'whiskered comedian.' In the meantime Heege's child, who was in the cast, had arrived from the hotel and though crying intermittently was ready to go on."

"No announcement was made and the play went about as usual. Scott had lots of applause, but he did not seem to mind or notice it. He had put all his will power into the task of acting, perhaps hardly thinking that he was making the difficult presentation for the first time. He made only one slip and he covered that up. This was where 'Ole' climbs the rope to rescue the heroine from the mill. Scott's strength simply gave out and he dropped back from the hawser. He threw the heavy rope end and his body against the door at the same time and made the climax strong as ever. Everything was pretty well all right after the first night. When the story went round that Scott had the part his old friends on the paper gave him considerable space. We did a big business and went up to Minneapolis with fair prospects, but with not a little nervousness. Heege had played there only a few months before and on anything Swedish Minneapolis was particular and critical. Scott suited them to a dot—carried them by storm and night after night for two weeks the house was sold out before the curtain went up."

At the time Macoy gave this account Heege was out with "Yon Yonson," into which he had put a log jam scene that was a realistic and exciting affair, but "Ole" continued to do good business everywhere. Scott was the star for two years and had an interest in the profits the second year. He was having a vacation in San Francisco when he was engaged by Price & Burns, the circus men, to come to Ho-lolulu with the Gonsalves family and other talent. "Bob" wanted to make the trip down here and besides he had been in the circus business with American concerns out in Australia and thought that he might do well financially with Price & Burns. Of course he was disappointed in every way and will remain in Honolulu unless he shall consent to return to the States to be "Ole Oleson" again, he having a standing offer of a good engagement. Before going with Macoy, Scott had his own companies and his own plays. He owned "Chip of the Old Block" and "Mugs' Landing" and starred several years in both of them. Unlucky or bad outside speculations drove him to the wall. He was pained to hear of the death of Heege, for the pair had been good friends.

TUESDAY : : : : MARCH 8.

THE "UNFORTUNATE REMARK."

President Dole's "unfortunate remark," as the Star puts it, to the reporters of Chicago, that things would go on here, even if annexation failed, seems to be regarded by the organ of the radicals, as unfortunate as the now celebrated remark of the Rev. Mr. Beuchard concerning "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion," which so seriously injured Mr. Blaine. The Star tells us that the American press is "chewing on" Mr. Dole's fatal sentence.

We have just looked over several hundred clippings from leading American papers, and no comment or allusion whatever is made to Mr. Dole's politically blasphemous remark. We would be glad to have the papers named that are "chewing on" it, and are so deeply touched by a calamity which will concern us much more than it does the American people.

Instead of posing in public as a shivering poltroon, Mr. Dole took the attitude of a brave man who says: "If annexation fails we propose to go on, and do the best we can."

If the failure of annexation utterly ruins us, as the Star says it will, on whom shall be placed the responsibility for the failure? Has not the Government fulfilled to the letter its duty and ratified the treaty? What more can it do? Ratify the treaty over again? The matter is absolutely in the hands of the United States. Does the Star wish Colonel Fisher to march with his battalion into the American Senate chamber and compel a vote for annexation? Why is it then that the radical organ has been instructed to play every few days the dreadful and harrowing "go-to-pot dead march"? Does it make the patriots feel good to hear of the awful things which will happen if America positively refuses to do what we wish her to do?

This dwelling on the hideous future by the Star is like the conduct of the old preacher, who was asked by a dying sinner what his fate would be, after death. "My friend," said the preacher, "you will go to hell, and let me observe in all kindness that you should be deeply thankful to God for providing a hell to which you can go." The Star dwells so strenuously on a calamity which we may not be able to avoid, that its next step will be to tell us that we ought to be thankful if it does come.

This is not the place for the organ to grind out the lugubrious music of the "go-to-pot march" with sniffling variations thrown in Mr. Dole's "unfortunate remarks." Set up the organ before the doors of Congress. Let the appealing music strike the ears of the men who can do something, instead of making us miserable. We shall be serious enough if annexation fails.

AN EXPERIMENT STATION.

Telling people what they can, and ought to do in developing industries, is simply idle talk, as a rule. There are many able and experienced writers in America and Europe who have for 50 years told the farmers what they could, and ought to do. There is not a county in the United States, where the local newspapers have not republished valuable articles on "how to make the farm pay." For 30 years we have read enthusiastic articles from every section of the States telling any one who thought of moving, that in each section was to be found the "home" of every fruit and vegetable, and fortunes in cultivating them were to be had for the asking.

But the average farmer is extremely conservative. He makes some ventures in new seeds, and is cheated perhaps. He makes an experiment and fails and is disgusted. Then, there is the city man, who buys a book on horticulture, and moves to the country, and fails because he has had no experience. Both farmer and city man know nothing about the commercial side of farming and horticulture.

The sagacity of advanced farmers, and agricultural writers has, within a few years, created the many and most valuable Experimental Stations in the States. Accuracy, skill, thought, brain and money give in one place, the best experiments and results for all. These stations are gradually changing the character of farming, and in some respects are far beyond the universities and colleges, in advancing civilization.

Here is needed more than in any section of America, an Experiment Station. We need a place where every man, woman and child can go, and obtain perfectly accurate information about all plants and vegetables, and the commerce in them. This information must be founded on fact and experiences here. One says: "You can raise fine tomatoes here and grapes, and fruit." Yes, but you cannot sell a car load of them. The American market is open to the trade. But somebody must organize it. It costs more to bring small freight from Maui to Honolulu, than it costs from San Francisco to Honolulu. What can the small producer do?

Babble about valuable tropical products is idle. We must produce them, and give an example of profitable industry.

It must be a political measure, besides being an economic one. A serious set back in the sugar business, means riots, and starving men. Every man who is without work, is a socialist and is determined to divide up. The policy of the Anglo-Saxon should be to diversify industries here as a purely political measure, just as Napoleon established the sugar beet industry in France as a political measure.

Of course the Government will reply: "We are not Napoleons and the people are quite content with the sugar god, and are not after strange vegetable and fruit gods. If our one (sugar) legged industry is upset, we are good Mahomedans and can say, it is 'God's will.'"

An "industrial" dictator here for 10 years, would put many diversified industries on a permanent basis.

HILO TEACHERS.

Interesting Talks On a Variety of Subjects.

On the 18th of February, the teachers of Hilo and adjoining districts held their quarterly meeting in the Union school. The large number in attendance shows a growing interest in the Union.

After roll-call to which the members responded by quotations from Parker, the minutes of the December meeting were read and adopted.

Miss Severance taught a First Year Lesson on stones. Different specimens were distributed among the pupils who stated their observations and these were written on the black-board. A simple introduction to coral, lava and sulphurous formations was given. The discussion which followed Miss Coan illustrated the development of the subject with the higher grades, relating the influences which account for our different rocks and stones. The formation of sand by erosion and the manner in which soils are formed were clearly illustrated. Several papers were read which had been prepared by her pupils on the subject.

A recitation was given by Miss Ruth Richardson after which Miss Hill taught a plant lesson. The embryo plant was found in the bean and the different stages of growth were commented on. Several plants growing in water were on exhibition and from these the functions of the roots were studied. A vote of thanks was tendered the class for having come so far. Mrs. R. A. Lyman read an account of the dwarfish and supernatural Menahunes, relating their manners and customs, their marvelous works and adventures. Ancient Hawaiian thoughts and customs have been greatly moulded by the belief in these people.

A discussion on vertical writing was opened by Mr. Carvalho. Many views were expressed both in favor of and against the system. Beginners take to it readily, but often confusion arises in advanced pupils in trying to affect a transformation. The president's view is that the system has "come to stay" and that there is no alternative for teachers.

Miss Emily Evaliko read a paper on "Band of Mercy" work. Miss Deyo was the originator of the movement in Hilo and she reports good results. Young people should be led to join from proper motives and not simply for the purpose of wearing the star. The subject of drawing was dealt with by Miss Thurston. The paper emphasized the educational values of the subject and detailed the work and methods suited to the different years. Variety was added to the proceedings by a song from Miss Willis.

Mr. McCluskey read a paper on school excursions. These train the faculties of observation and are the best introduction to the study of geography and the natural sciences. Work with an object in view and as Napoleon said "Use your resources."

The date set for the next meeting is 13th of May.

Abyssinia's social code provides for a fair chance to young married couples by forbidding the bride's mother to visit her daughter till a year after the marriage.

FORTY-SIX NEW MEN.

Waverley Club Has an Active List of 111 Members.

A special meeting of the Waverley Club was held on Saturday evening at the club hall, President A. V. Gear, presiding. Recording Secretary Copeland having read the names of the 46 applicants as posted in the club notice board, on motion of Horace Wright and J. A. Mehrtens it was unanimously carried that unless a ballot be demanded on any name the election should be viva voce as provided in Section 9 of Article III of the constitution. No ballot being called for, the 46 gentlemen were duly elected members and the Recording Secretary intended to notify them of their election. This brings the roll of active membership to 111 exclusive of 11 life members. The roll of honorary members has not yet been arranged.

Among other matters incidentally brought before the meeting by way of instruction and suggestion to the committee of management was the application of $10 a month for newspapers and periodicals and the purchase of a new set of pool balls. As showing the spirit of the charter members a sufficient amount for the purchase of the latter was immediately donated by the members present to save the expense from the current expenses and general funds.

The committee of management meets at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening next when the preliminary arrangements will be made for the first quarterly meeting which will probably be held in the first or second week in April, and for the Easter entertainment which will be given on April 19th. Applications for membership should be sent in not later than March 26th, as it is hoped that at least 50 names will be voted on at the quarterly meeting.

Bicycles and material to the value of £173.691 were imported into New Zealand during the year ending September 30th. The duty paid amounted to £27,651.

SCROFULA

It is Foul Blood's Advertisment

But It is Soon Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Yes, Scrofula, if anything, may be called the advertisement of foul blood. It is the scourge of the world—offensive, painful, debilitating, stubborn and well nigh unendurable.

Outward applications do not cure, they only drive the difficulty to new quarters. Emollients may palliate, they cannot abolish the evil. There is but one sure way out, and that is to eliminate the taint from the blood.

There is one remedy that can effect this, and it is the only one that, so far as we know, has almost invariably succeeded—even where the system has been poisoned by long years of taint, and the ravages to be repaired are tremendous. That remedy is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this:

"My daughter was afflicted with impure blood. There were running sores all over her body and they caused her much suffering. We tried medicines that were recommended as blood purifiers, but could not see that they did any good. A friend told me about Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began giving the girl this medicine. The result was that she was perfectly cured after taking a few bottles. She has had no symptoms of scrofula sores since that time." MARIETTA M. SMITH, South Middleboro, Mass.

WERTHIEM "TRIPLEX" SEWING MACHINES

And we are quite ready for the rush of buyers we anticipate as a consequence of our action. We could devote columns of space to a description of the merits of the Werthiem, but to do so would be merely a waste of valuable time and space, since the machine is a universal favorite and admits no equal. If easy running, simplicity and absolute freedom from noise were not sufficient to stamp it as a superior article, the fact of the ability of its operator to change, at will, the stitch to either chain or lock stitch, would mark it as being the most-to-be-desired machine procurable.

We have only a few left and intending purchasers should lose no time in procuring one.

Foreign Affairs Department Offers a Team Trophy.

MEDAL FOR INDIVIDUAL

Conditions Described—Military Match—Twenty Men in a Team.
Order for Election of Captain.

Department of Foreign Affairs, Honolulu, H. I., March 7, 1898. General Order No. 6. The Department of Foreign Affairs offers to the companies of the National Guard of Hawaii a trophy for marksmanship to be known as "The Department Trophy for 1898," to become the property of any company competing under the following conditions:

First.—Should one company win it at each of the first three shoots, said company will become the owner of the trophy.

Second.—Should one company win it twice and another once, at the first three shoots, they will compete alone in the fourth shoot. If the company which has previously won twice proves the victor, it will become the owner of the trophy; should the company which has previously won once beat its opponent they must shoot a fifth match to decide a tie, the winner to become the owner of the trophy.

Third.—Should three different companies win in the first three matches, these three alone will enter in the fourth shoot, the winner of which will become the owner of the trophy.

Teams will consist of twenty men each from any of the companies of the First Regiment, N. G. H., and will compete at the military rifle range.

The teams must appear and shoot in service uniform with belt; shoot ten rounds per man, 200 yards range, off-hand.

They are limited to rifles issued to the First Regiment, N. G. H., and are to be governed by Blunt's Manual.

The Department of Foreign Affairs also offers a medal, to be presented to the marksman making the highest individual score during these matches, who has been a member of a team in at least three of these matches.
(Signed.) HENRY E. COOPER, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Headquarters, First Regiment, National Guard of Hawaii. Honolulu, H.
I., March 7, 1898. Regiment, Orders
No. 32. Pursuant to orders from General Headquarters, of which the following is a copy:

pany room at the Drill Shed at 7:30
p. m., on Monday, March 21st, A. D.

officer:

giment, N. G. H., vice T. B. Murray,

"Captain Jno. Schaefer, Adjutant,
First Regiment, N. G. H., will preside at said election.

"By order of the Commander-in-Chief.
(Signed.) JNO. H. SOPER,
"Adjutant-General."

The Commander of Company H will assemble his company at the time and place above ordered.

By order of COLONEL FISHER.
(Signed.) JNO. SCHAEFER, Captain and Adjutant.

The Department Trophy has not yet been selected by the Minister. It will doubtless be something handsome. The first shoot will occur within a month and the others will follow at short intervals.

Police Court.

In the Police Court yesterday morning, Joe Ferreira was sentenced to three months' imprisonment at hard labor and to pay a fine of $100 on the charge of selling spirituous liquor without a license.

Ah Kung and Chow Wing were each fined $12 and costs on the charge of affray.

For intending to commit an offense,
Frank Hamilton was required by the Court to furnish a bond of $50 to keep the peace for six months. A Salvation Army member complained against Hamilton.

Michunago and Kutara were each fined $10 and costs for affray.

All the gambling cases were set for today.

Four cases of drunkenness paid the usual fines into the Treasury.

Of the Wife.

David Kanuha, formerly of Kameha-meha School, spoke before a very large congregation in Kawaiahao church, Sunday night. There were present in a body, both the girls and boys of Kameameha School. Mr. Kanuha chose as the main topic of his discussion, the relation of a good and pure woman to her husband, pointing out the various attributes that go to make her the crowning glory of his life. He then branched off into various topics of interest offering advice here and there as he went along. The young man's discourse was very creditable.

Theosophical Classes.

Tonight, (Tuesday), at 7:30, the advanced class in Theosophy of the Aloha Branch, will hold their usual meeting in their new hall, first floor of the Woman's Exchange, Merchant street.

Persons interested are cordially invited to this class, as also to the beginners class held every Thursday. Any information on the subject will be cheerfully given by the president. Telephone 559.

They Are Reliable.

Saturday evening, January 29th, a party of eight left the city for a trip around the Island on bicycles. The list was made up of some of the leading wheels represented here, among them a '97 Overland Special which is handled by the HONOLULU BICYCLE CO. The Overland was the only wheel in the lot which made the trip without trouble of any kind. OVERLANDS are the kind of wheels that take you away from home, and bring you back again.

By the last Australia, we received a few samples of the '98 OVERLANDS.
They are as much superior to the '97 product as daylight is superior to darkness, and are without any exceptions, the most beautiful models, and the highest grade wheels ever shown here for anything near the price which we shall sell them—$65. We defy all competition, even at a much higher figure.

DEAR SIR:—The Secretary Disc Plow I purchased from you is giving us satisfaction. We are using it to plow under a crop of lupins. They are three feet high and very thick. Your plow turns them completely under, at the same time plowing the land fourteen inches deep.

I feel satisfied that with this plow the draft for the same quantity and depth of work is as 6 to 8. That is, with the old plow, to do the same work, it takes 8 good mules; with your plow it takes only 6, and they are less tired at night.

Please send me another plow by first schooner leaving for this.

You are at liberty to use this in any way you may see fit. Yours truly,

ATTRACTIVE PLAN.

Incorporation Prospectus of W. W. Dimond & Co., Ltd.

The incorporation prospectus of W. W. Dimond & Co., Ltd., has been put into circulation. The business is the well known house furnishing goods establishment in the von Holt Block on King street. The circular sent to prospective stockholders is a very attractive one and the promoters will most likely meet with a ready response. The capital stock of the concern is to be $100,000 in shares of the par value of $20 each. The shares issued are to equal only what the business actually inventories on March 31. It is the purpose under the new arrangement to conduct the business on a strictly cash basis, but shareholders may have accounts secured by their collateral. Stock can be transferred without notice to the officers and will be redeemed at a premium in goods by the company at any time. Shareholders accounts settled at the end of the month will have a discount of five per cent. The company is to be formed without delay by W. W. Dimond and Geo. H. Paris.

Notice to Ship Captains.

U. S. Branch Hydrographic Office, San Francisco, Cal.

By communicating with the Branch Hydrographic Office in San Francisco, captains of vessels who will co-operate with the Hydrographic Office by recording the meteorological observations suggested by the office, can have forwarded to them at any desired port, and free of expense, the monthly pilot charts of the North Pacific Ocean and the latest information regarding the dangers to navigation in the waters which they frequent.

Mariners are requested to report to the office dangers discovered, or any other information which can be utilized for correcting charts or sailing directions, or in the publication of the pilot charts of the North Pacific.

WHO IS THIS MAN?

He Says He Came From Honolulu In a Sailing Vessel.

The Hongkong Press said recently: A curious specimen of fallen humanity was literally unearthed at Morrison hill on Sunday night by a Hongkong police constable. This fragment of society was found in a cave which he had himself dug out and in which he had been existing, according to his own story, for two months, during which his food consisted solely of leaves and water. It is difficult to name his nationality. He speaks a language which is more French than English, but it is certain he is neither French nor English. He doesn't know, or pretends not to know, where he was born. His skin is like bark and almost as black as his hair, which is somewhat long and not very clean. His clothes threaten every minute to fall from his limbs, and his bare feet appear as if they had never been encased in boots. How he came to Hongkong is about the only point on which he seems to have definite knowledge. He says he came in an American three masted sailing ship from Honolulu.

The captain ill-treated him and he refused to go back, preferring the seclusion of a cave to any ship's forecastle. His hands, which are like lumps of catgut, certainly suggest much handling of heavy ropes, so the story of his importation is doubtless true. He must have had a terrible experience since his arrival here and yet he seemed perfectly happy and contented. His philosophy was supreme. He had no money to rent a room and he turned to and made his own house. He obtained an old oar and with the aid of the broad, sharp blade dug out a cave in the face of a bank in Morrison hill. The entrance to the cave was about a foot and a half wide, and the cave itself was about 10 feet by 3 feet. His furniture, consisted simply of his trusty old oar. In this earthen hollow he lived undisturbed for two months. Two raw potatoes were found in the cave, but he says he ate only the leaves of the surrounding trees and drank water, and when he was not doing one of these things he slept. But for the policeman he would have been there yet and perhaps he would have eventually died there. He was found by Police Constable Hoggarth, who took him to the police station, where he had the fortune to fall in the hands of a good Samaritan. He complained of violent pains in his stomach and Inspector Mann applied efficacious remedies in the shape of wholesome spirits. The pain was allayed and then the outcast was feasted with port wine, eggs, and bread and butter. He ate ravenously and even the egg shells disappeared down his throat. At the Police Court on Monday he gave a most incomplete account of himself to the Magistrate, who sent him to the house of detention after remarking that steps would be taken to get him on board an American ship.
