Chairman Smith announced the above list of standing committees at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors last night, and the board did a little harmless politics in the matter of the tee to consider the matter. employment of prison labor in the quarries. Also, the board did some business. It always does, being a body

After the minutes had been read and approved, Treasurer Trent reported regulating shooting and the carrying that he had been served with a garmishment in behalf of E. C. Waterhouse against Peter Correa, an employe of the fire department, for $98.90. Supervisor Moore explained that this was an old debt, inherited from the territorial regime, and that the man acknowledged | anything about it. However, the Lucas that it was just. The matter was placed on file. Like action was taken in the case of the garnishment brought by John Reddy against W. W. Boyd, also employed in the fire department, for $33.18. These matters were reported to the board by Trent in pursuance of an order already made.

The following opinion was received from the county attorney, and placed on file: "In response to your comenunication as to whether the territorial auditor has the right to prescribe the form of books to be kept in the ty offices, I beg to state that Sec-85 of the County Act undoubtedly rests this power in the territorial auditor. The duty is imposed upon the territorial auditor of 'instituting a uniform system throughout the several counties,' and of prescribing a form of books to be kept by each county of-

Supervisor Adams introduced the following resolution:

"Be It Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Oahu: That the County Treasurer be and he is hereby authorized to negotiate the sale of the Territorial Warrant to be is-sued by the Auditor of the Territory of Hawaii to the Treasurer of County of Oahu on the last legal day of July, 1905, as provided in sub-division 1 of Section 1 of Act 93 of the Session Laws of 1905, at a discount for each of one-third of one per cent. "And the County Treasurer is hereby authorized to pay out of the pro-ceeds of the sale of the sald warrant the said discount of one-third of one per cent, taking a proper voucher therefor and submitting same to this Board for approval and appropriation." Treasurer Trent said that he could discount the warrant at about the rate named in the resolution, which would be at the rate of six per cent for four months. If the entire warrant could be discounted by the county, it would enable him to pay employes in cash, and save them discounting their county warrants. This would cost the county $100, and save $600—an amount worth saving. The resolution was committee on public expenditures, and committee on public expenditures, and back favorably and The resolution was referred to the adopted, after the Supervisors had had a short recess to enable the commit-

Lucas moved that the county attorney be asked to draw up an ordinance of firearms, as he said that boys who went shooting in private grounds had become considerable of a nuisance. He thought the matter might be reached by imposing a small license tax.

Mr. Douthitt told the Board that the matter was covered by Territorial law, and the Supervisors could hardly do motion carried.

Pacle introduced a resolution appro priating $500 for the month of August to be expended on the roads in Koolaupoko. Referred to the roads committee. A number of communications from various road supervisors went the same way, and a couple of bills from the county attorney went to the public expenditures committee.

In response to a question from Su-Lucas, County Douthitt gave it as his opinion, off hand, that the road department could spend sums of $500 and upward for road work without advertising for bids. Mr. Douthitt, however, wanted time to prepare a formal opinion and this was

Then Supervisor Moore brought up the matter of the removal of the convicts from the quarries, to say that he would be opposed to convict labor if its employment involved the expen diture of any money. But it did not. The convicts were extra. All the citizens that could be employed for the noney in hand were employed. To out the prison laborers would mean a loss of that much labor to the county. The prisoners furnished the rock, and the citizens were paid

Road Supervisor Sam Johnson, being asked his opinion as to what was the best labor for the quarries, said the onvicts were better for the reason that they were more accustomed to the work and had been at it longer.

Lucas said the citizen laborers were getting all the money the board had to spend on the roads now. The convict labor was in addition to that, and Reorganizing the Departments.

The executive committee of the Republican county committee has passed the patronage buck up to the Board Judd building, a number of important of Supervisors, and thereby somewhat crippled the proposed Brown political machine at its very inception.

That was about the net result of the meeting of the executive committee held behind closed doors at the committee rooms on Fort street at noon having expired these gentlemen were Wednesday. It seems that there had re-elected for a new term of six years been a plan on foot to reorganize the Police, Fire and Garbage and Road Departments, turning out all those men who had not supported the straight Republican ticket in the county election, and filling their places with party workers, without much regard to any qualification other than party standing -if that is a qualification.

Thus, the county committee was to be used to build up a machine that would smash any and every effort hereclude administration in behalf of the MIDWAY ISLAND, July 21 .- A terrific storm has swept this island. The camp of the United States marines has been destroyed.

LATER-The local office of the cable company received a dispatch early this morning stating that the weather had cleared up and that the storm was over.

Midway Island, a little speck of sand in the midst of the sea some 1200 miles northwest of Honolulu has been visited by a terrific hurricane that threatened to sweep the island and all its is inhabited by the employees of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company which maintains a station composed of fine buildings on the island. With the cable people are about twenty United States marines whose camp of tents has been destroyed by the fury of the storm. These marines are from the detachment at the local naval station and are relieved at intervals.

Last Monday morning the storm broke with tremendous fury. The wind blew at a rate estimated as from seventy to eighty miles an hour and great seas were hurled over the reef. SUPERVISORS HELD SESSION

(From Wednesday's Advertiser.)

The Hawaiian band has been given leave of absence for two months by the Board of County Supervisors with mission to visit the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland, Oregon. present plans are carried out, the band will leave Honolulu on or about August 8, on an army transport, and will play for several weeks at the Fair. During the period of its absence from the Territory, the county will be relieved of the expense of its maintenance. Cohen guaranteed at the meeting that the members of the band would get back safely to the islands.

Another important matter discussed and passed upon was the determination to employ citizen labor in the quarries instead of prisoners. This will increase expenses somewhat in the road department, but the Supervisors believe in citizen labor wherever it can be used. Furthermore the Superintendent of Public Works has withdrawn prisoners from quarry work where the county is concerned.

The old question of whether the county can raise revenue was revived, when County Attorney Douthitt filed an opinion regarding some of the rules in which the word "revenue" had been used. He sald that the county had no power whatever to seek to raise funds for revenue only. The question of fees in certain directions would be regulated by police rules.

At the opening of the meeting Treasurer Trent presented a report concerntuition of boys and girls desirous of at- ing his department. It was as follows: Honolulu, Hawali,

A discussion arose over the bonds of various officers. It was moved that they be referred to the Treasurer. Adams moved to refer them to the County Attorney to see whether they were in proper form. Lucas said the Board had already ascertained that the companies furnishing the bonds were sound. Adams insisted on going over the bonds in due form. After adopting the rules the ordinances could conform to This estimate takes no account of the rule by being published.

The rules were finally adopted as whole,

The chair said he would announce the standing committees at the next meeting.

The attorney then explained his opinion rendered last week as to the question raised by the Treasurer concern ing the assignment of warrants.

He said a man could not be legally prevented from making an assignment of his wages or salary. A valid assignment could not be legally refused. All that the head of a bureau could do, is to come before the Board and say: Here is a man who is assigning his salary or wages every month." The special road tax of $1746 in the Board could post rules and regulations against where employees could see it. saying the Treasurer would refuse to honor a mere assignment. But a negotiable instrument, in legal form, would have to be honored.

The Territory had spent a good deal of money on the road, but a fence had not been erected as had been agreed upon between the Territory and the Oahu Sugar Co. Moore thought it proper if the chairman of the Ewa road board is to be called before the Board to talk of the situation, the people at Wahiawa should be given a chance also. The road was a great benefit to the people of Wahiawa as they could haul heavier loads over It.

COUNTY COMMITTEE ON APPOINTMENTS

An executive meeting of the Republican County committee was held yes-terday noon at which the members discussed at some length the matter of endorsing men for county offices. The case of Captain Parker was cited, but no action was taken. Captain Parker has an application before the committee for endorsement for a captaincy on the police force.

Very little of the doings of the meeting have been given out, but it is known that all this talk of endorsements is to meet many possible changes in various departments on and af er August 1. The reunion of the Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges last evening was one of the most succes ful affairs of the kind night there was music, merrymaking and a feast.

All the local Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges were well represented., In the first hall the banquet tabes were set mittee under the direction of Mrs. Chas. Crane. Three long parallel tables were crossed at one end by another long table, at which sat the District Deputy Grand Sire, Dr. Rodgers, Bro. Robert Lewers, one of the charter members of Odd Fellowship in Hawail, and the officers of the various lodges Each table was prettily decorated with ferns and carnations. Over the dais of one of the stations the three links were wrought in carnation and maile with "F. L. T." in white occupying the oval portions, one letter in each link.

After enjoying card playing on the first floor and dancing on the roof garden to the music of the Ellis Quintette by Perkins. Dr. Rodgers made a few remarks at the opening and Canon Mackintosh, the chaplain, offered prayer. Almost at the close of the banquet Dr. Rodgers spoke on Odd Fellowship, telling how marvellous had been the growth of fraternal societies in the last few years. the new liquor license law will be considered by the specially chosen arbitrators at a meeting to be held in the office of the United States District Attorney, R. W. Breckons, at 2 o'clock this afternoon,

It seems that under the provisions of the new law, when an application is made for a license to sell liquor, provision is also made for the filing of protests against the granting of the license. And then, if the license is refused and the applicant is not satisfled with the ruling of the Treasurer, he has the alternative of submission to a Board of Arbitration to be chosen under the law,

There have been two licenses refused under the protest section by Treasurer Campbell, both on the Island of Hawaii. It appears that H. Akana, doing business at Walmen, and Chock Hoo, whose place is at Kawathae, each applied for a $100 license under the provisions of the new law, and in each case there was a protest filed containing the names of a majority of the voters in the election precinct in which it was proposed to sell under the license this case it was the second precinct of the second district in both cases, and it is said that the Parker ranch has taken an interest in the matter. Both applications for license were refused, and both applicants asked for arbitration under the law. there was nothing for the Treasurer to do but to grant the request. He accordingly notified the applicants that he had appointed J. R. Galt to arbitrate the matter in behalf of the Territory, and the applicants on their part had already named E. R. Hendry. These two had a meeting yesterday, ed States District Attorney R. W. THE DEVELOPMENT OF AGRICULTURAL

(Frank G. Carpenter.)

Cuba has put on the seven-league boots of modern progress and is marching, double-quick, toward prosperity and wealth. Its surplus this year is greater per capita than that of any country on earth. Sugar has gone skyward, and the crop will bring about $40,000,000 more than the usual price. In addition Cuba has more than $20,-000,000 from the bonds which have been recently allowed to the soldiers. From these two sources alone it has From these two sources alone it has "Are many Americans coming into new $60,000,000 more than a year ago, Cubaf"? and all this in a population of 1,500, 000 souls. This means an average increase of $40 for every man, woman and child in the country, or, at five to the family, an increase of $200 per family. To realize that, suppose that every family in the United States could suddenly add $200 to its present pile. Suppose that every mother's son of you and every mother's daughter, too, had $40 more than you had last year, or, in any year preceding, and you have the condition of the Cube of today. Such an increase in the United States would mean the sudden addition of about $3,500,000,000 to our national wealth; and also that this vast sum would almost all go into immediate circulation for the booming and build-

That is what they have in Cuba to-

They have more. Every business is good. The island is fast becoming the fruit and vegetable garden of the United States, lands are being sold in large tracts to Americans and there is a general rise in real estate and other properties throughout the island. There were three times as many American tourists here last winter as in any winter preceding, and today scatter-ing companies of young Yankees are prospecting the provinces and picking up good things in cheap lands and other investments. 1 felt that we other investments. I felt that we should soon have a big industrial and commercial invasion of Cuba, and came here as one of the advance scouts of our business army to report to you the possibilities of that peaceful invasion. I find, however, that the movement is advance of what I supposed, and that this invasion, although entirely unorganized, is well under way.

A TALK WITH OUR CONSUL GENERAL.

Perhaps no American in Cuba better posted on the situation than Mr. Frank Steinhart, the consul general from the United States. He was here during the war and was closely assowith General Wood and other officials in the reformation of the country. He has done much for American and chose as the third arbitrator Unit- | trade since then and he sees Cuba through the eyes of a practical business I met Mr. Steinhart in the offices of the consulate this morning.

"You cannot appreciate the changes in Cuba since the war without having been on the ground. At that time the people were the poorest of the poor. Thousands had not enough to eat and hardly enough clothes to cover their This was so when the war closed and long thereafter. At the Inglarerra hotel, where you are stopping, the cafe, as you know, is right on the street. Eating dinner there, in those dark times, one would have a crowd looking in at the windows, reaching out its hands and begging for food. You would see famine in the ribs of You would see famine in the ribs of every other person you met; many of the children were skin and bones. The cattle had been caten up during the war, and there was practically no meat for sale at prices which the people could pay. There was no money. The merchants had no business. Everything was poverty. Today the people here the higher officials of the company of the largest department stores of the United States, for instance, tells merchants had no business. Everything was poverty. Today the people here could pay. There was no money. The merchants had no business. Everything was poverty. Today the people here are fat and well dressed. All have are fat and well dressed. Business s good everywhere and every one has work. Lands are rising and real estate sales are made every day."

I here referred to the increase in circulation from the sugar surplus and the loan, whereupon the consul general said: "Yes, but that is not all. The sales of lands will bring in many millions of new money this year, and Cuba's of new money this year, and Cuba's foreign trade with the balance in her favor has enormously increased. Indeed, I don't know of a country which has so much good new money as this."

THE SUGAR SURPLUS.

"But much of Cuba's surplus is from sugar, the price of which is liable to

"Sugar may fall," replied the con-sul general. "Indeed, I believe that a lower price would be for the good of this island. It would prevent inflation and put us on a sounder business basis. Sugar is bound to bring a fair price in the future, and this is the chief sugar country of the world. Cuba can produce more on the same area at a lower cost than any other country. They talk about the Philippine Islands as a possible competitor of the sugar industry. That is ridiculous! We can raise sugar here for less than freight on the manufactured uct from the Philippines to the United We can lay our sugar down in New Orleans at a lower cost than sugar can be produced on the Louisiana plantations. The majority of those now here are men of ments selling lard, hams and canned money, who make large purchases. They are entirely different from the drug stores, an American news stand, Americans who overran Cuba at the close of the war. Those were mostly the straggling offscouring of our army and adventurers without money, whose chief idea was to get something for nothing and to sell it for a big price. Those now arriving bring money with them or have such backing at home with short time. The lands are held in large to buy small farms of Cubans. Since the war closed we have land. Since the war closed we have getting our meat on the hoof from Texas, Venezuels, Porto Rico and elsewhere. We have, I venture, something like 2,000,000 cattle in Cuba now, and wore than 1,500,000 on the register books. Our furmers are surprised at how well cattle do here. "Yes, if our merchants will send the proper men here and will take advantage of the opportunities now offer-ed to increase the trade. They should realize that they are working not only that a public appeal had been made for the Cuba of today but the Cuba of the future. This island is just at its beginning. It will rapidly grow in population and wealth. The Cubans are money spenders, and their market legislature having falled to make an will be worth far more to us than that appropriation for its maintenance. THE MACHINE PROGRAM.

Soft words butter no parsnips. Smooth explanations of why it is propose ed to annex the police force to the Republican machine, do not conceal any of the revolting features of the job. The true inwardness of this indecent attempt to make a partisan body out of a force which should be chosen solely for its capacity to preserve the peace, prevent crime and guard property, is that Sheriff Brown wants to make himself the political master of Oahu and as such, not only keep himself in power indefinitely but name future supervisors, making sure of men who will not interfere with his appointments. It is so raw a scheme that even Tammany would blush for it; but nothing seems to be too crude in the way of spoils and graft to suit the present police administration of this county.

machine at the polls? Will anybody have the innocence to suppose that a felony committed against the purity of the ballot, would interest policemer when the results of such felony must inure to the benefit of the machine! Is it not to be supposed that the interference of the police in campaigns would always be directed against people and interests on the other side of politics? And when the force is engaged upon politics what time has it left to do Vida, Leslie and Chillingworth are its prophets!

The Advertiser registers the fact that there is in process of creation a ring for political spoils, disgracing the Republican name, which is more unscrupulous, less honest and more offensive to good citisenship than was the corrupt but which, in days gone by, brought the Hawaiian monarchy to ruin. The men who are doing politics for a living in Honolulu are beginming about where the Tweed ring left off and in proposing to debauch the police force they are doing what even Boss Buckley did not dare undertake in the most reckless days of his San Francisco career. If they can, these people will run the Fire department on the same lines as the police, and project their demoralizing influence into the school system as well. They are after everything in sight and are entirely careless of the methods to be employed.

Meanwhile the Civic Federation, which smashed the straight ticket in the late election, has a joint duty of watchfulness and organization which calls for its best political qualities. It needs to be careful about new membership so as not to let the enemy in, and cautions about such proposals for harmony as are meant to lure it into ambush. The Civic Federation can have no compromise with spoils politicians-and like the poor, the spoilsmen are ever with us.

PRESIDENTIAL POLITICS.

It is hardly probable that the Republican party, in 1908, will accept a nominee from Mr. Roosevelt unless the choice shall be one of which the party can approve on other grounds. Americans still have enough prejudice against the hereditary form of government to distrust a testamentary form; and in no case where the retiring President has sought to indicate a successor other than himself, and only then at the close of his first term, has the party made good. However strong in influence Mr. Roosevelt may now be, he will have none to spare, in the last hours of his administration, for convention work. Men do not worship the setting sun, and there is no man of public life whose wishes are so little considered by his party as the one who is about to leave the White House forever.

It is on these accounts that the friends of Secretaries Taft and Root will not gain hope from the active work which the President is doing to advance the cause of one of them if not the other. He can very easily spoil any natural chances they may have, just as President Grant, in 1876, spoiled Mr. Conkling's opportunity to get the Republican nomination. One of the first results of the President's urgency may be the industrious grooming of La Follete and of certain strenuous Republican governors and mayors for the race. And in the next two or three years various great reputations may be made outside the cabinet which will prove even more attractive to the people than a record of vast expenditure in the Philippines or of star-spangled imperialism in the Department of State.

The Bulletin imagines that the machine won the county election and is four machine candidates whom the Civic Federation opposed, three were polls and the remaining one had to be content with a plurality to free labor gained, in large degree, by an election-day roorbach. As for the straight ticket it was reduced to fragments. Hence for the beaten and infuriated machinists to talk about "granting" this to or withholding that "concession" from the independent voters of Oahu, is to simply earn some of the derision which has so long been visited upon their newspaper. So far as the Advertiser can learn no voter of independent mind is asking any favor of the machine, least of all one which would bind him to vote for grafters and incompetents. One might as well try to get such men to subscribe for the organ of veal and vacuity which tries its illiterate best to insult them.

Complaint is made that Hawaiians were not properly represented at the Taft reception. But few of them were there though many were invited. The list of Hawaiians who sent regrets to Secretary Boyd is much more impressive than the list of those who paid their respects to the distinguished American visitors. Among the absentees was Delegate Kuhio who felt a yearning to visit a cattle ranch on one of the other islands when he heard that so many of his colleagues in Congress were coming-perhaps because the most of them were strangers to him. Certainly the Hawaiians can have no valid complaint against the committee, which would have been glad to present many representative natives to Secretary Taft and Miss Roosevelt if it had been given the chance.

Dowager Queen Margherita may be Honolulu's next distinguished guest. After touring Japan she will come this way en-route to San Francisco. Her Italian Majesty is reputed to be a kindly and gracious woman who has been especially considerate of Americans in Rome. It is not unlikely that her first appearance in American waters, at Honolulu, will be the occasion for a naval demonstration in which the North Pacific squadron will take part. Certainly nothing would be left undone by the United States government to give the mother of the King of Italy a royal greeting when she first comes under the protection of our flag.

Rev. P. K. Yoon, the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary, of the 7,000 Koreans of Hawaii to the Peace conference at Washington, sailed by the Alameda this morning .- Star.

Mr. Yoon had already ascertained from Mr. Saito and the Advertiser that sovereign states still retain the sole right to name envoys and ministers plenipotentiary and that they have not, as yet, consented to share with field hands and Bands of Hope.

It is safe to infer that the falling Star will not fall into the error again of saying that the United States will have to build mere ships to carry Hawaii's small farm produce.

Hawaii is "now so short of ships" that a man is going to Japan to see if he ean't sell four of her idle ones.

JOHN PAUL JONES.

The near approach to their last reating place of the remains of John Paul Jones, is likely to receive in the foreign and home press the discussion. of whether the Scotch-American naval genius was a pirate. Great Britain paying cash on warrants pasterday. has called him such for over a hundred years and within a few weeks' past the London Times has given to that epithet the weight of its great authority. One handles enrelessly the names of naval entmies and it is not so long ago that the North always spoke of the Southern commerce-destroyers and their hardy navigators as "pirates." And "piracy" was the mildest of charges brought by Spain against Drake and his compeers who did so much, in the old days, to crush her sea-power and decimate her commerce. Yet there was nothing adhesive in such epithets because there was nothing just.

It is true that John Paul Jones was born a British subject, but that is true, also, of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson. The question of riracy would be settled by his flag and his naval methods as gauged by international law. It is undoubted that he first sailed under an American commission and flew an American flag and that he sailed later under the authority of France. As for his sea-buttles no historian denies that he fought to Washington, them fairly and that his prisoners were treated with chivalric kindness. There are none who had to walk the plank. If Jones descended upon the British coast and carried away the property of a nobleman, whose castle he took, it ought to be held as a mitigating circumstance that he returned the valuables and, in that respect, did better than the sailors of British Admiral Cochrane who, when they ravaged the American coast in 1812-participat-Cochrane who, when they ravaged the American coast in 1812—participat-driving a swill cart, was upset by ing also in a carnival of fire and plunder at Washington—kept and used what-Rapid Transit car at Nuuanu and Ku ever of spoil they had pillaged from the inhabitants.

. It is not unlikely that the legend associating John Paul Jones with acts of piracy grew out of the need of some explanation for the desperate valor which enabled him, in every battle, to overcome a stronger enemy. "He When a strictly partisan police is organized can anybody look for the fought like a man with a halter ground his neck," explained the beaten cap—
It is as yet impossible to say how arrest of men, whatever they may have done, who would be useful to the tains who went home to tell how they came to lose their ships. "Oh, he much of this will be available for set is a pirate," they said, "and a pirate has no choice between death and tlement. victory." Such an excuse for defeat was a balm to the wounds of pride, but it surely ought not to have survived in the calm air and under the pulseless analysis of history.

Indeed the time ought to have come for every branch of the Anglo- The papers in the case are now bein Saxon race to acclaim John Paul Jones as one of their greatest sea-captains. prepared. the work for which it was paid? Great is this scheme of Brown's, and It was the judgment of Napoleon Bonaparte that, if Jones had lived, he would have changed the course of history by winning for France the battle of Trafalgar. So wide and genuine was his contemporary fame that the King of France made him a noble and the Empress Catherine, Grand Admiral has made application at the secr of Russia. THE SUN-STROKE CLIMATE.

It is always a satisfaction to the people of the east to feel, when their hospitals fill with sunstruck patients, that they would be much worse off if The office will not deal with agents they lived in the south. The impression that southern heat is always north- any more, and will insist upon using ern heat magnified is the common one among northerners; yet they must now its own interpreter. The new rule i and then note with surprise that all the sunstroke news comes from themselves. There is plenty of such data from New York and Chicago, Pittsburg and Philadelphia and from northern points of Europe, but not a word from New Orleans, Atlanta, San Antonio, San Diego, Ponce and Honolulu. At a time when New York reports 76 deaths from heat, New Orleans ought, to report 760, even without considering the proportion of inhabitants, and Honolulu, 1760; but neither New Orleans nor Honolulu has anything of the sort to register.

In some southern latitudes, that of Southern California for example, an element essential to sunstroke, humidity, is nearly absent in summer. The heat may register above that of New York, but its quality is different. In some of the tropics the fiercer the sun's rays the more likelihood there is of question came the executive committrade winds to temper them. But in tropics where the meteorological conditions are similar to those of the northern dog days, exemption from sunstroke is had by leading a less feverish life and eating the food of warm head of the Police and with Sam

The trouble is in the great northern cities that people do not know Garbage Department, with a view to bow to adapt themselves to the sudden change from coolness or cold to intense heat. They continue to rush while the southern man is taking things easily. Their clothing is bought to conform to the extreme changes in temperature which even one day may afford; and one rarely sees them in white duck or pongee. They do hard manual labor in mid-July or August and and excited talk" was heard coming spend as many hours at it as they do in November or March. And to make over the transom from the room in matters worse they eat meat three times a day, as if their blood needed heat; which the committee was in session. to resist the snow and sleet of January, and deluge themselves, as a rule, with cold alcoholic drinks. The wonder is that a city the size of New York reports so few deaths from heat as seventy-six in one day.

What the sun-smitten east needs is a propaganda of Summer Livingan education, which might very well be given in the schools, of what to wear, eat, drink and how to work and rest when the dog star rages.

PRISON LABOR ON PUBLIC WORKS.

The Advertiser hopes that nothing will be permitted to interfere with the employment of convicts in quarries and parks. These men do not crowd able to dictate terms to independent voters. As a matter of history, out of cut free labor because there is no money to pay free labor for such extra body, and one of its duties to the party work as they perform. All that can be afforded by the taxpayers is paid is of course to gather in all the spoils ow for service on public works and gratuitous helpers. Where would be the economy in driving them back to different. They constitute a public

Such a course would neither be thrifty nor humane. Every enlightened lie. And they do not want to build up State keeps its convicts busy at something, partly that they may help pay anybody's political machine, either. At their way and mainly because idleness in long confinement would tend to least, it would not be to their interest sicken or craze them. Another reason is that the class of people who are to help a move of that kind. Whereready to take the risk of physical or mental disability for the sake of being fore, the Supervisors stated their ultisupported in idleness by the public, is large enough to increase, in a very material way, the commission of offenses which lead to prison. The moral of it all is that we had better leave well-enough alone,

According to our asteroid contemporary, there are faint hopes, that the two new 11,200 ton steamers of the A.-H. line will be able to keep pace for a time with Hawaii's needs and that it will perhaps be safe to add a few a time with Hawaii's needs and that it will perhaps be safe to add a few the cases of new appointees, we will more pineapples and cabbages to the small farm output. Evidently the Star's pay heed to the recommendations of recent discovery that America has a coastwise as well as a deep-sea merchant marine, is beginning to win it from its settled impression that there is not enough American tounage in the world to warrant Hawaiian export and, other things being equal, the farmers in raising another banana.

It looks as if there was an African in the che fa woodpile. If cases can be brought in such a way before the District Court as to win a decision which "makes it harder for the police" to secure che fa convictions, then the police will have a plausable excuse for letting che fa games alone. That trick was played several times by the police up to the arrival of Sheriff. Brown machine. Indeed, this makes Henry in power. At present when che fa is running all over Chinatown, the game of "letting alone" ought to be highly profitable to somebody.

The Advertiser has a picture of Duke Charles of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha this morning. The person represented wears a German uniform and does not look a bit like Admiral Terry .- Star.

When the Star reproduces it about six months from now it will probably label the picture "The parlor car of an American millionaire."

The news from Russian sources that Linevitch has fixed things so that the Japanese cannot advance any further will be reassuring to the Russian marines. However, when Marshal Oyama begins to give his views on the matter it is not probable that Linevitch's men will stay to hear him finish. Long after they are out of sight he will hear them whiz,

When the local Chinese consul begins interrogating this government about harm done to a Chinese subject it looks as if Peking had at last awakened and begun to take notice. Of late the dragon has shown that it isn't a turtle as many had supposed.

apparently, because when the direct tee was instructed to confer with the Supervisors, with Sheriff Brown as Johnson as head of the Road and finding out what their ideas of the scheme were.

The supervisors, and Sam Johnson, kicked at once. That was when "loud Indeed, that kind of reorganization would not only have removed Captain Parker and every other man who voted for Henry from the ponce, giving so many vacant places to be filled by the machine, but it would probably have knocked out a lot of the road lunas, and nobody could possibly tell where it would land the fire depart-

The county committee is a partisan that it can. But the Supervisors are body, with a responsibility to the pubmatum to the executive committee, as follows:

The present organization of the po lice, fire and road and garbage depart-ments shall not be disturbed. That is to say, there shall be no man removed from any of these departments for po-litical reasons, and no other. But, in the county committee. That is, when vacancies occur, we will consider the recommendations of the committee the committee recommendations will be given weight.

And that was as far as the Super-visors would go in their surrender to the spoils system. May be that was too far, but they went that length. Now, of course this blocks the plan to reorganize the police on the first of August in the interest of the so-called slower and more laborious process than the men behind the plot had hoped that it would be. Because, if no ma-chine men are to get in excepting on legitimate vacancies, the workers will find their reward much slower in coming, and may get impatient before it comes. But there are many ways of foreing a man out, for all that, and good citizens will do well to be watchful.

As to the executive committee, of the Republican county committee, affects to be very well satisfied with the turn events has taken,

"Oh, very well;" say the commit-teemen. "If you see fit to hold traitors in office, that clears our skirts.

We are willing to punish them.''

It is not at all probable that this will disturb the screnity of the Supervisors. They have an accountability to the people, the whole people, and as busi-ness men they realize that more things than political standing are to be taken into the account in filling a public of-fice. There is, for instance, the point

FEROCITY

(From Thursday's Advertiser.)

Some interesting developments resuited in Judge Robinson's court yes-terday during the hearing of the Jessie of the two dormitories and a central Kaai accounts in the Dr. Carter estate building between the two, which will Edgar Henriques, who appears as the next friend of the Carter minors and who is seeking to displace Jessie Kaal as executrix, on the ground of her being an incompetent and for other causes, charges that many items of expense in her accounts were entirely unnecessary. Lorrin Andrews appeared for Mr. Henriques and W. Ashford for Mrs. Kaal.

One item objected to was the payment of a $100 fee to T. McCants Stew-The objection was that the authority for such a fee had never been obtained from the court, nor had any application been made for same. Mr. Ashford went on the stand to explain why Stewart had been retained and paid. It was "due to the tremendous opposition shown by the opposing side." As to the fee itself Mr. Ashford thought $100 reasonable. He offered to give expert testimony on fees.

"We will admit that Mr. Ashford knows how to charge a fee," remarked drews the fee of $100 was not too much." said Ashford.

The court remarked that he did not know just how far the element of "ferocity" had to do with the fee. "You would not expect to charge more if an attorney talked in a very loud and determined voice," asked the court laughingly. Other objections were made to several items of expense for kitchen utensils, feed for horse, coffee pot, etc. "What has a coffee pot got to do with a horse?" asked Andrews.

Mrs. Kaal went on the stand and was questioned in detail by Mr. Andrews concerning various money matters af-fecting the estate. With reference to one item of $10, which was for the entertainment of the appraisers while looking over the property at Macao, Mrs. Kaai said $5 was for the cook, $1 for a horse and the remainder for "cleaning up." Asked whether this was the expense incurred, Mrs. Kaai said that she had bought the stuff for the meals out of her own pocket, which she did "for charity and love for her nleces."

PARKER RANCH CASE.

The Parker ranch case held the attention of Judge Lindsay all day yes-The reading of the testimony of E. P. Low in the previous trial was finished. This was given in the hearing of his petition to remove Carter as guardian of Annie T. K. Parker, a minor. After the reading of this testimony, the examination of Mr. Lov in the present case was continued.

He testified as to conditions on the Parker ranch as he knew them during the management of Fred Carter, whos regime has been criticised by Mr. Lov and associates. Photographs of the map of the ranch, were exhibited.

SUSTAINS DEMURRER. In the case of James Love, spend thrift, who is seeking to break the trust deed held by the Waterhouse Trust Co., Judge De Bolt yesterday rendered an oral decision sustaining the demurrer of the trust company. At the request of Mr. Highton, the court allowed the petitioner three days in which to amend the petition.

TOO BIG A BLAST AT NORMAL SCHOOL

A giant powder explosion on the grounds of the new Normal School destroyed one of the toilet buildings yesterday afternoon and caused about $1000 damage.

The explosion was not due to carelessness, but owing to a misjudgement of the character of the rock blasted. Too great a charge was set off, with above results.

The building, a frame one, was being constructed by Contractor Aheong, and W. J. England had charge of the plumbing. The explosion smashed manded to know what Kruger was dothe building which was only partially completed and twisted and broke the plumbing beyond repair.

The prisoners have been at work in Normal School grounds enlarging and cleaning them up, and heretofore a great quantity of rock has been blasted without any dire results.

in the district of Ewn. Now, it may oraif may not have been a coincidence, but it seen afterwards became known to the petics that the fa was being played at Waipahu, and that Ah On and Ah Fat, two well known experts at that game, were frequenting the plantation.

Upon this information coming to the knowledge of the police, a raid of the place was planned, and it was in the course of this raid that the Chinese about whom the Consul has interested himself was killed. The story of the raid, it will be remembered, was told in divers ways at the time. In fact there was a lot of conflict as to what the police did or did not do, and as to whether the shot that killed the Chinese was fired by a man on horse back or a man on foot. Eben Low scored in the Parker the matter of the advisability of the his advancing companious while he is partition of the ranch, in cash or by left behind. His white lips move slowsold in a proceeding apart from that under the Carter management. That, of course, was what he was expected to do to make his case.

Along late in the afternoon, just before court adjourned, his attorney, Magoon, got to the point of asking about the possibility of the partition of the ranch in kind, and the preservation of the rights of the minor under such partition. Mr. Kinney, of Carter's counsel, at once objected, saying chance he may catch sight of some that this was a matter that would be threshed out in due time in the partition proceeding proper. To this Magoon replied that his contention was that any proceeding in partition was ground for the removal of Carter as guardian, as jeopardizing the interests of the minor. The point was argued at length by Mageon and Kinney, and then Judge Lindsay overruled the objection.

The examination of Low proceeded after that upon this point, and was still in progress at the hour of adjournment. The examination yestermuch more with the Parker ranch than was done with it under the Carter management.

A HEROIC SOLDIER OF THE CZAR

The present conflict in the Far East has furnished occasion for many excellent short stories by the Russian writers. While these tales treat war as a horrible business, they bring out the noble side of humanity, showing that the soldlers of the Czar carry out their had heard long term prisoners from Christian faith in action amid scenes of danger and carnage. One of the most interesting of these stories, as it appears in the Nineteenth Century, is as follows:

"A regiment of Russians is advancing through a wood to attack a Japanese position. The wood is all stlent and ling in the wind. A thick gray mist has cast a haze over the branches, deadening the sound. But the troops lence is broken by a hail of shell crashling down into the midst of the forest. hauled,

And they hurry to throw shell after shell before the Bussians emerge from the wood. "Steadily the regiment marches forward a soldier dropping here another there. This time a builet has gone straight through a comrade's heart, another is hit in the breast and sinks down with a groan, only just able to murmur, 'My comrades, my comrades.' When he succeeds in half raising himself he finds he is alone, only dimly hears the dull tread of the disappearing soldiers. In an almost familiar form, but a dark mist scures his vision. At last he faintly whispers, 'Ah, comrades, ah!' But ever and ever onward, passing dead and wounded, passing dying and fallen, the regiment unheeding marches on. Words of command now and again re-eche through the forest, and at intervals exclamations of 'No surrender!' 'Eyes to the front!' sound through the ranks. And so the body moves on.

"Presently an officer is wounded in the hand and foot, and is obliged to fall out. At the sight of the wounded officer a soldler leaves the ranks and asks if he can assist him, but the look day took a very wide range, Low of the wounded man grows stern, and claiming that it was possible to do with a wave of his hand he cries, 'Join your rank. HOW TO SEE THE CRATER.

Of course, to see the crater properly, you should make the first trip to it on any moment there would be a cave in down from the Volcano House, is full all around the line, or if a surface flow of the lore of the place. He has been the grack.

In fact, the lava within this line is all her moods. Also, he is years, and has seen Madame Pele in lives in the crater, literally. I believe, And I know he has petitioned George Lycurgus to let him down on a rope

"I could go down there," Alex said "I have askto me, in a grieved tone, ed them to let me. Well, they would What can I do?"

I know what I would do, under the circumstances. It is what Alex will do, too, but from different motives. Because George Lycurgus will not let him go down.

After Alex has shown you all that there is to see, in the way of show places, the thing is to go down by yourself, preferably on foot, although the corral on the lava if you like, and entirely safe to go. Then, when it overcomes you, as it is certain to do in back to the Volcano House, take flow that you have been watching, and long rest before you do down again. And the second visit should be, preferably, at night. If the volcano is going too busy, the flames in the Pit will light the sky as soon as the sun goes

Honolulu, T. H., July 17, 1905.

GENERAL SUMMARY.

The weather during the past week has been warm and sultry in practically all sections of the group. Abundant showers have fallen in most portions of Hawaii, windward Oahu and northern Kauai, while elsewhere the precipitation has been light. In Hawaii, high winds during the middle of the week produced heavy seas along the windward coast, blew down banana trees in the Puna district, caused considerable damage to cane of last year's planting in portions of the Hilo district, and dried out pastures in the lower levels of the north Kohala district.

Conditions were generally favorable for growing cane, which advanced rapidly in most sections, but needs rain, however, in the Kau district of Hawaii, the Kipahulu district of Maui, and portions of Kauai. The harvesting of matured cane has been finished at Pepeekeo, Hawaii, and Puunene, Maui, nearly forty thousand tons of sugar being the output of the latter mill. Cane planting and other field operations continue in all sections. Pastures need rain in the lower levels of the north Kohala and Kau districts of Hawaii, the Kula district of Maui, and other leeward sections. Windward pastures are in good condition. Pineapple growers are all very busy harvesting, canning and shipping summer fruit. The harvesting of the first crop of rice is nearly completed, and lands are being prepared as rapidly as possible for the second crop; no planting is reported yet. Coffee is doing nicely in all sections.

A conference was held yesterday morning between Superintendent of Public Works Holloway and A. V. Gear over the proposed exchange of the Coney estate's Tantalus property. The territory is willing to exchange other public lands for the Tantalus tract merely in order to save the trees. The Superintendent expressed the belief that the exchange would be made.

SELF CURE NO FICTION!

MARVEL UPON MARVEL! NO SUFFERER NEED NOW DESPAIR, but without running a doctor's bill or ralling into the deep ditch of quackery, may safely, speedily, and economically cure himself without the knowledge of a second party. By the introduction of the New French Remedy, THERAPION, a complete revolution has been wrutht in this department of medical science, whilst thousands have been restored to health and happiness who for years previously had been merely dragging out a miscrable existence.

THERAPION No. 1 in a remarkably short time, often a few days only, effects a cure, superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the fundation of stricture and other serious diseases.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, earry, plumples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, gout, rheumatism, secondary symptoms, etc. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly climinates all poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, impaired vitality, sleeplessaness, and all the distressing consequences of disaplation, worr, overwork, etc. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.

BAWAII MAY MAKE DISTILLED LIQUORS

There is a man in town who came from Chicago to investigate the possibilities of establishing a distillery in Hawaii. Acting under the consent of has been making experiments with various products of the islands which may be turned into distilled liquors. The result of these experiments will be laid before his business associates in Chicago, and in time the establishment of a distillery may follow.

The Chicago man, Altman by name, has been here several weeks looking up the situation. It is well known that the native brew, okolehao, is made from the ti-plant. Okolehao is pronounced a fine liquor. In days gone by its manufacture was surreptitiously carried on on a very large scale. and those who had a liking for the liquor generally knew where and how to obtain a supply. DRILLING ON QUEEN STREET.

One is reminded of a California mining camp by the whire and the chur of the steam rock drill that is working Queen street just Ewa of the old California Feed Company building. A big force of men are at work making Queen street and the Esplanade conform to the official grade. There is a big hummock of coral in the middle the open space opposite the new Kinau wharf and the steam drill crew is at boring holes in it. These holes will be plugged with dynamite sticks and the top of the cora; blasted off. 'A good-sized crowd is always at hand at all hours of the day watching the fascinating operations of the lightninglike drill that eats its way into the coral as if it were cheese. When the lot is leveled down the waterfront in the vicinity of the Inter-Island docks will be greatly improved.

HARBOR BIDS OPENED.

Bids for the improvement of Honobulu harbor were opened at the office of Lieutenant Slattery, engineer officer in charge, in the Young Building yesterday noon. There were seven bids, ranging from that of Cotton Brothers-43 cents per yard-to that of the San Francisco Bridge Company. which bid 24.87 cents, and will, without doubt, receive the contract. All the bidders were represented at the opening of the bids yesterday, and there was great interest in the result. John McCullen, general manager of the victorious company, was present and certified as to the genuineness of his company's bid. The company has six dredgers on the Atlantic coast, seven on the Pacific coast and two at Manila, so it will find no trouble in carrying out the contract. Expert men will be brought from the coast to be in charge of the work, but practically all the laborers will be secured here. Gus Desha will be in charge of the work. Lieutenant Slattery will forward the bids to Washington with a recommendation that the San Francisco company's bid be accepted, and without doubt it will be approved. This contract covers sections A and B of the harbor project, the cutting off of the lighthouse point and the dredging of the channel to 25 feet. The preliminary estimate of the amount of material to be removed is 1,500,000 cubic yards, and this at the Bridge Company's figures would cost the government $363,122.00. It is stated that private investigations have shown the amount to be removed to be much les than stated.

The bids received were as follows: M. C. Harris, 31 cents. Hawaiian Dredging Co., 261-2 cents.

San Francisco Bridge Co., 24 87-100 Cotton Bros., 43 cents.

North American Dredging Company,

SCHOONER SPRINGS LEAK

Captain Belleson and the officers and erew of the schooner Cecilia Sudden are thanking their lucky stars that they are not now reposing in Davy Jones's locker at the bottom of the deep blue sea. Drifting along west-ward from Iquiqui with calms and baffling airs, the schooner ran into a terrific storm nine days ago when some 200 miles east of this port. It is esti-mated that the wind blew ninety miles an bour at times and all on board thought that the ship was about to founder. To add to the danger the ship sprung a leak and the men at the pumps almost all the way to Honolulu. The Cecilia Sudden has as cargo 900 tons of nitrates consigned to the Hawaiian Fertilizer Co., Ltd. It is thought that the cargo is uninjured. The schooner is a comparatively new port. She was built two years ago at Whateom, Washington.

"It seems strange that while no revolutionary biography can boast none is so bare and meager in personal detail. He has immortalized a name which was his only by selection and adoption, and yet the fact is slurred over in history with the calm statement that 'he changed his name for unknown reasons.' As the reasons Walamanalo and all Koolau ports, p.m. were not known and, although difficult to obtain later, were then easily accessible, it appears to have been more a lack of intelligent investigation than of any suppression of evidence.

"As a matter of historical fact the Scotch sailor, John Paul, took the name of Jones from two of the most famous patriots of the revolution-Allen and York via Pacific Coast ports, 2:15 p. m. Willie Jones. I am the great-greatgranddaughter of Allen Jones and daughter of Col. Cadwallader Jones, who died in 1898, aged eighty-six years. I have often heard my father speak of the well-known circumstance of John Paul's adopting the name of his great-grandfather, which he had heard from his great-aunt, Mrs. Willie Jones. In a family genealogical history which he wrote occurs the following:

> ADOPTED THE NAME OF HIS GOOD FRIENDS.

" 'A recent sketch of the life of Paul Jones in the Century has revived the memory of his gallant achievements and rekindled public interest in this famous hero. There is much inquiry as to his reason for adopting the name of Jones. It is not a little remarkable that such an incident in the life of one so renowned should so soon be forgotten. Let me tell you what I know about this man and how I know it. The public mind needs to be refreshed. When John Paul came to Virginia, some three years before the war of the revolution, looking after an estate left him by his brother, he visited Halifax, N. C., at that time a place of considerable repute. Here he made the acquaintance of those two grand old Per stmr. STATEMENT CORROBORATED.

"These statements, which I heard from my father, are all corrobotated by the history of North Carolina. Wheeler, in his reminiscences of North Carolina, says: The daring and celebrated John Paul Jones, whose real that for no reason for which he had name was John Paul, when quite young visited Willie Jones at Halifax, and became so fascinated with him his charming wife that he adopted their family name. He wrote to my father and myself and obtained some data in regard to it. He says that young John Paul, before coming to America, was in quite stringent circumstances and is said to have lived for nearly two years on small sum of £50. Brady says: 'It is probable that his poverty was due to his inability to realize on his brother's estate, and the difficulty in getting a return of his West Indian investments on account of the unsettled conditions." MARK OF AFFECTION FOR BENE-FACTORS

"It is stated that in view of this determination on his part to begin life anew in this country, and as a mark of the affection and gratitude he entertained for the family of his benefactors, he assumed the name of Jones. 'He did not assume the name of Jones, however, out of any disregard to his family or any desire to disguise himself from them, for although he last saw them in 1771, he ever continued in correspondence with them, and found means, whatever his circumstances, to make them frequent mittances of money during his busy life. To them he left all his property at his death. It is certain, therefore, cause to be ashamed did he affix the
