Insurance.

WHY THE
Equitable Life
Assurance Society

of the United States is the Best company with which to Assure.

I.—Because of its Safety.

Its surplus is larger than that of any other assurance company.

II.—Because of its Promptness.

Of 1,043 death claims paid in 1885, nearly one-half were paid the very day proofs were received; while of the remainder, the majority were paid within the following three days. No other company can show such a record.

III.—Because of its Liberality and Reforms.

All policies are INCONTESTABLE after three years. All incontestable policies are payable immediately upon receipt of proofs of death. The Society's policy contract is clear and simple, and liberal in its conditions. Its Non-forfeiting Tontine (or Semi-Tontine) policy affords all the ultimate benefits of the full Tontine, and has during its earlier years the surrender value and other material advantages of ordinary life policies.

IV.—Profit.

No other company is paying on its policies, as large profits as are shown under the Equitable's matured Tontine policies with fifteen-year periods. Persons desiring assurance may obtain estimates of the probable results of similar policies, and of policies with twenty-year terms, which are expected to show even larger profits.

V.—Prospective Advantages.

The unexampled progress of the Equitable in the past is the best guarantee of the increasing future value of assurance with the Equitable.

LANAI.

The evidence taken before the Lanai committee appointed early in the present session of the Legislature was the subject of debate in the house during the greater part of the past two days. Certain undisputed facts were brought forward in the committee's majority report which are really of more consequence than the main question whether His Excellency Minister Gibson was directly connected with them or not. The complaints of the voters on Lanai that the campaign managers of the Ministerial party used threats and bribes to secure votes are proven beyond the shadow of a doubt to have been well founded. This is the fourth instance in which the corrupt practices by which the Ministry secured their majority at last election, have been exposed by parliamentary enquiry, and the official evidence of corruption placed upon the records of the house. The Kona and Kaunapali elections, the Molokai visit and the Lanai investigation are now matters of history and all go to prove publicly and by authority what was well known, that the Government owed its victory at the polls more to its success in debauching the electors than in placing before the people a creditable administrative record. That the evidence before the committee did not directly connect the Minister with the threats and bribes put before the voters does not alter the fundamental axiom of law that the principal is responsible for the acts of his agents. That these agents misrepresented their instructions or exceeded their powers may be true but it is a matter between themselves and their principal.

Again, the disposal of the majority reports gives to the country a fresh exhibition of the constitutional crookedness of the Ministerial party. Having appointed a committee to investigate the complaints of the Lanai voters, when the evidence presented through the committee showed the facts of the case to be precisely as alleged by the petitioners, it was suddenly discovered by the legal minds on the Government side of the house that the Legislature had nothing to do with the complaints, and the committee, after diligently attending to the mandate of the house, was discharged with a resolution that the subject matter of the whole investigation was one in which the house had no jurisdiction.

HANDS OFF.

Mr. Kaubane said in the House yesterday that "it is only of late years that we have heard in this country of Government candidates, or Ministerial candidates," and expressed the opinion that "it would be much better if the Ministry left the elections alone, allowing the people to vote as they please." Everybody who has been sufficiently long in the country knows the above statement of fact to be correct, and many people agree with the expression of opinion. Our political system, in so far as it relates to the so-called responsible Ministers, is somewhat unique, in some respects differing from every other constitutional system of which we have any knowledge. A Ministry here stands or falls solely by the Sovereign's favor, without regard to public sentiment. Neither the written constitution nor established custom requires it to be otherwise. Neither the people nor their representatives in the legislature assembled possess any constitutional power, real or nominal, to dismiss or appoint a cabinet. Then, why should the Ministry in any way interfere with the election of the people's representatives? The Ministers are not necessarily chosen from either branch of the legislative body, and as a matter of fact seldom are so chosen.

Of the present cabinet, one minister only is either a noble or representative. Its predecessor was similarly constituted; and seldom has it been otherwise. If ministries here were composed of members of the legislature, as, for instance, in England, we could see reason for their campaigning at elections; but as they are not so composed, we are decidedly of opinion that they should keep their hands off and let elections alone.

ABUSE.

Minister Dare's remark yesterday that nothing had ever been alleged against him as a public man in a career of 26 years, until he had been attacked by the press of Honolulu, was doubtless intended to convey the impression that his course had been unexceptionally correct in all respects, and also that the press of Honolulu is lacking in appreciation of his excellent qualities as a Minister. Now, we do not know whether Mr. Dare lined in with the Republican or Democratic party in California, but we do know that nowhere on this planet is a gentleman in public life more inevitably certain of being "fired at with shot and shell" by the press than in the United States of America. And if the Minister's statement that he had hitherto been exempt from all such attacks, is correct, the only conclusion that can be deduced therefrom is that his political dimensions must have been too diminutive to admit of the political sharpshooters of the California press being able to "get the drop on him." Mr. Dare is, by his own admission, indebted to the Honolulu press for considering him worth abusing.

THE LEGISLATURE.

on that island. The complainants, eight of them, left their homes to come to Honolulu, and they gave testimony that they had been oppressed on the island of Lanai, and that it was by the orders of the Minister that they had been oppressed.

Rep. Aholo, on the occasion of an interruption to the previous speaker, said that the member for Lahaina (Kalu) had listened quietly to other members, and he should then be allowed to go on without interruption.

On motion of Rep. Dickey, the ayes and noes were called, resulting in the adopting of the minority report on the following division:—

Ayes—Creighton, Dare, Kanoa, Dominis, Cleghorn, Kuhlmann, Judd, Kane, Parker, Hayselden, Keau, Liliakalani, Baker, Amara, Kaulia, Kaulukou, Pahia, Kaunamano, Nahale, Nahinu, Aholo, Kaukau, Kaai and Kauai—24.

Noes—Kauhane, Kalua, Castle, Thurston, Paehole, Dole and Palohau—7.

Minister Gibson declined to vote, being interested; and Messrs. Kauli, Brown, Wight, Richardson and Dickey, because they disagreed with the minority report only in part.

Minister Dare moved reconsideration, which was lost.

At 4:45 the house adjourned till 10 o'clock to-morrow.

EIGHTY-FIFTH DAY.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 25th.

The Assembly was opened with prayer by the Chaplain at 10 A. M. Present: Ministers Gibson, Creighton, Kanoa, and Dare; Nobles Walker (President), Dominis, Kuhlmann, Kapena, and Martin; Reps. Kauli, Amara, Brown, Kaulia, Kaulukou, Pahia, Wight, Nahale, Nahinu, Kauhane, Aholo, Kaukau, Richardson, Dickey, Kaai, Thurston, Paehole, and Palohau. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

REMARKS FROM THE CHAIR.

The President wished to say a few words. Within the last few days the privilege of debate had been very largely extended; but there appeared to have been a very general desire to have the matter before the house fully discussed. Their time was very precious, however, and he hoped members would observe that hereafter the rules would be very strictly enforced.

REPORTS.

Rep. Thurston presented a report from the minority of the select committee on a bill relating to the Catholic mission premises, as follows:—

HON. J. S. WALKER, President Legislative Assembly, Sir: A minority of your select committee to whom was referred "An Act authorizing the Minister of the Interior to release and quit claim to Herman Kockemann, Bishop of Olba and Vicar Apostolic of the Hawaiian Islands, in trust for the Catholic mission of the Hawaiian Islands of certain premises occupied by said mission for eleemosynary purposes" introduced by the late Attorney-General, Paul Neumann, report that they have given the matter their careful attention, and find the following facts:—

The land in question is situate in Honolulu, and has a frontage on the mauka side of Hotel street just east of Smith street, of 33 feet and a frontage on New Smith street just mauka of Hotel street of 111 feet having a total area of—square feet.

The history of the title of the land is as follows: 1st Kamehameha III. executed a deed July 23, 1839, as follows: * * * "I Kamehameha III. hereby give and transfer to the Government of France a certain piece of land in Honolulu, and in that part of it called by the people Kalanikahua. Said piece of land is 132 feet long and 111 broad and is designated by four stakes" etc., (giving description) "said land to be a site for a church at their pleasure to be administered by a priest of the French nation. I furthermore give a portion of ground for a road from said site to the street, and said road shall be thirty three feet wide and at the point of the house towards the sea. But if ever the time should arrive that the ground shall cease to be occupied for that purpose it shall not then be sold, but shall again revert to the Sandwich Islands Government."

2d. Land Commission Award Number 40 dated 18th May 1847 reads as follows: "We confirm to the use of the Roman Catholic Church of the Hawaiian Islands * * * the following pieces of land to be used in the service of said church and religion viz:— * * * a certain piece of land in Honolulu called Kalanikahua" (giving some description as contained in above deed).

"The condition upon which this site was originally granted and upon which it is now confirmed, was, and is—That there be erected thereon a church to be administered by a priest of the French nation. But the express converse condition of this grant was, that if ever the time should arrive when the ground ceases to be occupied for the purposes of the church, it was not to be sold, but to revert to the Hawaiian Government. Although this concession was originally made by the King on July 23, 1839, it does not appear that it has ever been used for the purpose intended to this day. * * * No specific time is however named in this grant written which the lot should be built upon, and for this reason, although a period of eight years non-use would seem in equity to have reverted the land; yet, this Board is disposed to fix a definite time for the use prospective; and accords to the Roman Catholic Church five years more from the delivery of this confirmation within which to build upon said lot, and put it to the uses originally intended in the King's grant, within which period if it be not so occupied, the claimants will be deemed to have abandoned it, and it shall revert to the Minister of the Interior for the use of the Hawaiian Government."

Since the date of the land award, May 10, 1847, it is not claimed that the condition of the grant, viz.: the building of a church, has been complied with. On the contrary it is specifically admitted that the claimants have no legal claims to the land, and it was upon an opinion of the ex-Attorney-General Mr. Neumann, to this effect, that the claimants have submitted their claim to this Assembly.

The title of this land is then vested in, and it belongs to the Hawaiian Government. The question submitted to the committee then, is, shall the Hawaiian Government make a gift to the Catholic Mission of the land in question.

The reason given for making the grant is contained in the preamble to the bill, as follows, viz: "Whereas the Catholic Mission of the Hawaiian Islands has held and occupied said premises since said time (the grant by Kamehameha) as an asylum for aged and infirm Hawaiians of the Roman Catholic faith." Therefore, etc."

Your committee are of opinion that the fact that the claimants have had the free use of the premises for so many years does not give them any equitable right to the land. Since the lapse of the five years allowed by the land commission which expired in 1852, the claimants have been simply tenants on sufferance under the Government, and the generosity of the latter in allowing a free use of the premises should not establish an equitable title on the claimants any more than it does a legal one.

The object for which the land is desired does not seem to your committee to justify the giving up of this piece of land. It is situated in a business centre, is needed for business purposes and would bring quite an amount to the treasury if sold or leased for the benefit of the Government, and to establish an asylum in such a locality does not seem to your committee to be good policy under any circumstance. Moreover the establishment of any asylum for aged and infirm Hawaiians is absolutely unnecessary. The Lunailo Home is a non-sectarian institution of ample capacity and accommodations for a much larger number of inmates than are now there. The institution has now a cash endowment of about $160,000 which is yearly increasing, besides considerable land. The existence of the institution renders unnecessary any appropriation of public money or lands for the care of infirm Hawaiians, as all such can find free accommodation upon application at the Lunailo Home.

Your committee are therefore of opinion that, as guardians of the public funds and property, this Assembly should make no grants of public land except where an undoubted right exists, or, where the use to which such land is to be put will be for the public benefit. This claim does not come under either of these heads and your committee therefore recommend that the same be laid upon the table.

J. H. S. MARTIN,
L. A. THURSTON.

Rep. Castle moved the report be laid on the table to be considered with the majority report and the bill. Carried.

RESOLUTIONS.

Rep. Kaulukou presented a resolution, calling on the select committee on the loan bill introduced by Minister Gibson, to return the bill to the Assembly forthwith, and ordering the bill to be made the special order of the day on Thursday.

Rep. Castle supported the resolution, with the amendment that the committee report to-morrow, and the bill be made the order for Friday.

Rep. Thurston, as a member of the committee, explained the delay as having been caused by the Ministry evincing no desire to have the bill forwarded. The member for Hilo had introduced several loan bills already, of three or four millions each, and just given notice of another, so that there was no particular need of the Government loan bill.

Minister Gibson said the explanation of the member for Molokai was about correct. Early in the session, under a different Ministry, several measures of importance were introduced by the Government, among others the loan bill. Since then a "cold spell" had ensued in the financial affairs, and it had not been deemed advisable to move in the matter of a fresh loan. Still, it might be well for them to consider a scheme for the refunding of debt by a new issue of bonds to the amount of a million. There were different internal improvements, such as an inter-island telegraph cable, harbor works, etc., for which it would be very desirable to borrow money if they had the precise information thereon which was necessary. In consideration of these things, he thought it would be well for the committee to report on this bill, so that it could be fully considered by the house.

The resolution was adopted with the amendment.

Rep. Kaulukou moved reconsideration, as he had not understood the question.

Rep. Thurston opposed the motion, saying the original resolution did not give the committee time. The hon. member for Hilo was reading the Elele, about the time when he should be a Minister, or he would have known how the question was put.

Rep. Aholo said he also misunderstood the question.

The motion carried.

Rep. Thurston, as a member of the committee, asked that the amendment be supported, for it would be impossible for them to report to-day.

Rep. Kaulukou said the resolution was that they return the bill to the house.

Rep. Aholo favored the resolution. The amendment carried, and the resolution as amended.

Rep. Baker moved a suspension of the rules, to have the electric light bill (Berger's) read a second time by title and referred to a committee. He accepted an amendment of Rep. Castle, that the other bill (Smith's) be also referred to committee.

The motion carrying the bills were read a second time by title and referred, after discussion, to the Committee on Public Lands and Internal Improvements.

Rep. Thurston said there were many bills that might be referred to committees. He therefore moved a suspension of the rules to take up the bills relating to the property of married women, which carried, and the bills were referred to a select committee.

Rep. Richardson moved to suspend the rule and place the bill relating to street railways at the head of the order for to-morrow, which carried.

Noble Kapena moved to suspend the rules and place the bill to promote steam communication with the United States second on the order for to-morrow, which carried.

Rep. Castle moved to suspend the rules and place the Chinese tax bill third on the list for to-morrow, which carried.

Rep. Castle moved to suspend the rules and refer the mechanics' lien bill to a committee, which carried, and the bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The President appointed, as the committee ordered on the married women's bills, Messrs. Brown, Thurston, Castle, Kaulukou and Dare.

Minister Kanoa presented a reply to Rep. Thurston's question relative to the Oceanic Steamship Co.'s subsidy, as follows:—

HON. J. S. WALKER, President of the Legislative Assembly, Sir:—I have the honor, in compliance with a resolution of the Hon. L. A. Thurston, member for Molokai and Lanai, to present a return showing the amount of subsidy paid to the Oceanic Steamship Company from Dec. 1st, 1885, to March 31st 1886, with the name of each vessel carrying the mail during the four months, within the dates specified in the resolution, but do not know the tonnage:—

Respectfully submitted,
PAUL P. KANOA,	Minister of Finance.

Rep. Thurston said the Minister could have sent a clerk down to the Custom House and got the information asked, which otherwise members would have to get for themselves. The tonnage was important, as forming a condition of the subsidy. Rep. Brown moved that the report lie on the table till the missing information is supplied. Carried.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

Third reading of an act to prevent the wanton destruction of game. The bill was read a third time and passed.

Third reading of an act to license the carrying of firearms. The bill was read a third time and passed. At 11:45, on motion of Rep. Brown, the house took a recess till 1:30.

There are two maps posted up at Messrs. Oat, Jr. & Co.'s door, one representing Great Britain and Ireland, and showing how much of the country favors home rule, and the other representing the world, and conveying an idea of the extensiveness of the British empire.

The new steamer Wailaleale, as she left the wharf last evening on her first inter-island trip, was loudly cheered by the vast throng of spectators that had assembled to see her off. She sat handsomely on the water, and as she steamed out through the passage, just in advance of the Likiepke, her deck passengers, about 100, cheered frantically. The Wailaleale was warmly received at Honolulu, enthusiastically dispatched from the same port, and now the climax of her popularity depends upon her reception at Kauai.

THE SAILORS' HOME.

The Sailors' Home Society held a meeting this forenoon. The action hitherto taken by the trustees was approved. Arrangements with the Government are not yet perfected, but it seems to be pretty fully settled that the old building is to be removed, the government taking half the land now held by the Society on Bethel street, while the society will retain the other half, and erect on it a smaller but more substantial structure.

WAR DECLARED AT THE TEMPLE OF FASHION!

S. Cohn & Co. have determined to fight opposition and great preparations are made in regard to reducing prices of the entire stock of Clothing, Gents' Furnishings, Goods, Boots and Shoes, Dry Goods, Fancy Goods, etc., etc. The great fight will commence on the first day of September. Goods WILL BE SOLD at such prices as will convince the trade, more especially some of the uptown retail shops, of the absurdity of cutting down living prices, and we mean to "fight it out on this line" until the trade, or rather those uptown retail shops come to realize that the best way of conducting business is on a solid legitimate basis. We will cut and split prices of every article above mentioned. In fact no reasonable offer will be refused. This is no humbug. We mean what we say, and intend to act up to it. Lookout for the 1st of September.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

A riot took place in Dublin, on the morning of the 7th, between the Orangemen employed in the Queen's Island Shipyard and the Catholic navvies employed by the Harbor Commissioners. The fighting was very severe for a time, and resembled in character that which occurred between the same elements on the 4th of June, when the Orangemen, greatly outnumbering the navies, overpowered and beat them, and drove them into the water, where one was drowned. A number of men on both sides were badly injured in to-day's fighting that they had to be removed to the hospital.

At night the conflicts were more desperate and the fighting was the most desperate that has taken place during the recent troubles. The mob was infuriated and fought with savage energy. Fifty persons were injured, some of them, it is thought, fatally.
Terrible struggles occurred on Shank Hill road. The police quartered in McKenna's tavern, at old lodge, were attacked by a mob with stones and revolvers and were compelled to fire from the windows of the beleaguered house. During this attack eighteen persons were injured and were subsequently taken to hospitals.
A youth named Jackson is said to be dying from injuries. Two policemen were badly wounded.

Rioting broke out in Belfast, on the 8th, and the police were obliged to fire in order to disperse the crowd. In the afternoon rioting was renewed with great violence in Old Lodge, Grosvenor and Springfield roads. Many persons with gunshot wounds were sent to the hospital, and additional troops telegraphed for. The aspect of affairs is serious. The Mayor presided at a three-hours' meeting of the Executive Committee. Rumors were current of many fatalities, but it was difficult to obtain accurate accounts.
Panic was seizing the peaceable inhabitants.

GUERRILLA WARFARE.

The heaviest fighting occurred at night in Springfield. It was stated that the battle was waged in regular guerrilla fashion. The Catholics held the field, protected by trees, while the Protestants occupied an embarras opposite, in which they lay down. The contestants were armed, and with remarkable coolness picked each other off as if they were so many targets. They were not interfered with by the police or soldiers, who were fully occupied in the city.
Sixty of the rioters were shot, many of whom were killed.

A Belfast despatch of the 10th says: Five thousand troops and 2,500 constables occupy the disturbed districts. The presence of the police tends to increase instead of suppress disorder. Protestants declare that Catholics were aggressors by wrecking Protestant houses, while the Catholics are equally certain that the Protestants were aggressors. Of one thing there is no doubt: Never did two mobs of different religions display a more bloodthirsty desire to kill or maim each other. During the fighting on Sunday and Monday whenever powder ran short viragos on both sides with flat irons and other implements ground large grains of large blasting powder into a size suitable for the smallarms, while boys of tender age melted lead into bullets and slugs.

While the rioters were firing, the youths and women stood behind them busily loading spare guns, in order to prevent a waste of time.
The fusillade lasted until 9 o'clock yesterday evening, when their ammunition gave out and a tacit truce ensued, both sides removing the dead and wounded to their homes.
Both sides are doing their utmost to hide their losses. On Monday the Protestants received a welcome donation—twenty-five rifles and much ammunition from Ballymacarrett sympathizers, while the Ballynabineh Nationalists sent the Catholics a supply of ammunition and many revolvers of the type called "Sweethearts."

The plentifulness of weapons will constitute the gravest danger in the future. There is a general demand for a house-to-house search for arms.

A visitor who has been studying the cause of the riots writes: "It is useless mincing matters. The police have fired upon and slain the people from a panic, if not from vindictiveness. The people have friends dead or dying. It is worse than useless to say that they want to only attack the police. The latter now represent the people's deadly death-dealing enemies. The friends and neighbors of the killed and wounded all regard the police as their foes. Their bare presence is a terror to be repulsed and excludes the idea of wantonness. This is now a great supreme difficulty."

Numerous complaints have been made of the behavior of the police.
One citizen says that while going home through a quiet street he was stopped by several constables, who rudely searched him, ordered him to give an account of himself, then imperatively commanded him to go home at once. Another writes that three constables, who drifted into a respectable tobacconist's shop, upon seeing a pouch engraved with the likeness of Chamberlain for "going against them;" one of them, addressing the lady behind the counter, said: "You are afraid of Tipperary boys. I put six bullets into an Orangeman last night and I'll give them double to-night. If I had my own way I wouldn't leave one."

Maurice Healy, a member of Parliament for Cork City, has been instructed on behalf of the widow of Constable Gardiner, who was killed during the Orange riots here, to claim from the city an indemnity of $100,000 for his death.

The New York Herald's Belfast cablegram of the 13th, says: By common consent both the Catholics and Protestants are husbanding their resources and their ammunition for what is expected to be a great struggle. The Catholic anniversary of the Feast of the Assumption occurs next Sunday. The Orangemen say they will not permit the slightest approach to a Catholic procession on that day. Some show no hesitation in threatening to kill all Catholics caught riding in carriages then, or who in any way celebrate the day.
The Catholic leaders promise to use every effort to prevent a procession or other irritating display.

Rioting has been resumed in Belfast on the 15th. From midnight until 4 o'clock next morning a rifle fight was in progress on Shank Hill and Old Falls road. One person was killed and many were wounded.
The town was seething. A despatch from Belfast says: A sectarian strife has occurred in a deplorable, cold-blooded fashion, as expert marksmen, joining, conducted the rifle fight from the roof tops, chimney stacks and street corners. Immense crowds of partisans who carefully kept out of range were prepared to assist by supplying ammunition and removing the wounded. The sides were equally divided. The moon shone brightly throughout the contest.

The Orangemen admit that one of their men, named McFarlane, was killed, and two others, named Smith and Johnson, were mortally wounded, also that there were a number of minor casualties on their side. They claim that they killed and wounded many Catholics, but the latter deny that they sustained serious losses.
Many houses were riddled by bullets.
Whenever the military appeared the combatants shifted their ground, and finally, at 5 o'clock, after the riot act had been twice read, the troops charged upon the crowd and cleared the streets temporarily. An old man and two women, inmates of a house on Conway street, from which many shots had been fired, were arrested. They stated that three men had forced an entrance into the house and had remained there all night, firing from the roof.
A howling crowd escorted the prisoners to jail. The mob to-day repeatedly fired upon the police. A tavern owned by a Catholic, situated in a Protestant district, was looted.
An order instructing the police to use buckshot instead of balls had been cancelled. The populace is sullen and menacing.

EIGHTY-FOURTH DAY. — CONTINUED.

TUESDAY, Aug. 24th.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The house resumed at 1:35.

Rep. Kaulokou continued his speech on the Lanai matter. He contended that it was beyond the scope of legislative cognizance, and that, even if the majority report was adopted, no relief would thereby be afforded to the people of Lanai.

There was no evidence that Mr. Gibson had authorized his agents, if they could be called his agents, to threaten the people with deprivation of their privileges if they declined to support the Government candidates.

Therefore, the committee had arrived at a strained conclusion. They were like men lost in the woods; they did not know how they got there. It amounted to nothing that Mr. Henry Gibson did not appear before the committee to deny the charges, as he, knowing that there was no case against Mr. Gibson, had no occasion to appear.

The conclusion of the committee was not justified by the facts, and he thought the members for Kan and Ewa must be sorry they had signed the report. He considered the minority had presented the case in its true light, and would therefore vote for the adoption of their report.

Rep. Kaulokou considered it was within the province of the Legislature to enquire into any complaint of the people that they had been oppressed by Government officers, particularly if any of the oppressors were members of the Ministry. He was very sorry that there should have been any occasion for such an enquiry. It was only of late years that they had heard in this country of Government candidates, or Ministerial candidates. It would be much better if the Ministry left the elections alone, allowing the people to vote as they pleased.

Rep. Richardson said this was a very important matter, and as the hon. member from Hilo said that every member should be heard from, he desired to give his opinion on it. Yesterday the speaker was not in favor of the indefinite postponement of the report. Whenever the Hawaiian version was read, a member of the Cabinet who did not understand a word of Hawaiian, jumped to his feet and moved its indefinite postponement. He thought that was very strange.

Minister Dare said he had the English version on his desk before he made the motion.

Rep. Richardson was very sure that the Minister had not read the report through before moving. He knew that the members for Lahaina (Kala) and for Molokai had worked tooth and nail against the speaker's election. Nevertheless, he did not feel himself bound to oppose everything that those members brought into the house. Now, however, having had an opportunity of studying the report, he was bound to say that he arrived at conclusions different from those of the majority of the committee. He did not consider that the Minister's responsibility for the actions complained of had been shown by the evidence. In conclusion, he referred to what he called the pitiable tale of the trials endured by the hon. member for Hilo, in running his election. He would be better pleased had the hon. member told how he had won his election, as the recital of his experience might be of benefit to the rest of them at the next election.

Rep. Paehalo related the history of the case, and claimed that the Legislative Assembly had a right to enquire into the conduct of a Minister as a member of this body.

Rep. Kaunamano admitted the industry and honesty of the majority of the committee, but dissented from their conclusions.

Rep. Dole wished to express his disapprobation of the personal remarks made yesterday, respecting the appearance and private life of a member, which had nothing more to do with the question than the phases of the moon. That style of discussion was something new to this house. In many years he had never heard a native Hawaiian engage in such a discussion. That was reserved for street hoodlums and haintboys. There was a kind of personal discussion which was admissible. Such was the discussion of the acts of a Minister. When the matter first came before the house, Minister Gibson appeared eager to have it investigated, but, if the speaker was not mistaken, he had repented of that desire. Still, he was prepared to give the Minister credit for having honestly changed his mind as to the jurisdiction of the Legislature. That those people had the right of recourse to the courts of law was no reason why this Legislature could not investigate the conduct of any of its members. In every country in the world the legislatures investigated charges against public men, in proof of which he instanced the case of Garfield, of the United States Cabinet; those of the New York aldermen, some of whom were in the penitentiary today as the result of such investigations, and other cases. The difficulty in the present case was the argument that the Minister was not acting in his official capacity; but he thought the Legislature should take cognizance of the acts of a Minister which tended to subvert the laws that he was bound to protect. If these charges were true, the Minister was certainly liable to censure by this Assembly, because the laws alleged to be traversed were those guarding not the private but the public liberties of the people. If a Government officer cheated a man in a bill of sale or a horse trade, he doubted if this Legislature could deal with the case. The questions involved here were more difficult as regarded the merits than the technical points. The defense seemed to be that the Minister had abandoned his sheep-ranch to his son-in-law (Mr. Hayselden), a cattle drover, and a stock man, and that he knew scarcely anything of what was doing on his Lanai estate. The agent was his son-in-law, the drover (Morehead) his nephew, and the stock man (Henry Gibson) his son. It was improbable that Minister Gibson turned over the ranch to those men and never heard anything more about the management. Although the fact that the agent lived with Minister Gibson did not prove the latter's knowledge of all the doings on the ranch, yet it was hardly likely that Morehead and Henry Gibson raised the rents and turned off the horses without the Minister's knowledge. Mr. Morehead said those actions were a new thing and he had no reason for them. The speaker proceeded with a review of the evidence in the report, to show a probability of the Minister's responsibility for the acts of oppression. He held that if the correspondence before the election with the agent in Honolulu was known to Minister Gibson—if it was not conducted with him—then the fact that the acts complained of were committed, without any countermand from the Minister, fixed the responsibility upon him. This was not a small matter, for if people in outside districts, with few if any superiors to consult with, were oppressed by men high in position, it was of great importance and should be thoroughly investigated by this house. He did not know any member of this house who looked better after his constituents than the hon. member for Molokai. There was a slavery of the mind which was worse than that of the body, and if the conditions attempted to be imposed on the tenants of Lanai did not constitute slavery it was certainly something very much like it.

Rep. Thurston was not going into the merits of the evidence, but desired to make remarks on some points that had been raised. His utterances yesterday were not designed to influence a decision on the main question so much as to protest against what he regarded as an attempted outrage on the decencies of parliamentary practice. The stand assumed by the hon. member for Wailuku (Richardson) yesterday was an honor to him as a member of the Ministerial side of the house. The question yesterday was not on the merits of the case—whether Mr. Gibson was guilty or not guilty—but as to whether the house was going to be driven by the Attorney-General to throw this matter over without consideration. The Ministry had not dared to bring the matter to an issue on that line. The Attorney-General had charged him with vindictiveness, with personal and partisan desire to injure the Ministry. This was not the first time that such an insinuation was put forth. He was represented as having been appointed at an opposition caucus to bring forward all sorts of resolutions and petitions against the Government. To this he would give an emphatic denial, but assure the house that, so long as any wrong existed, Molokai would be heard from while he held Molokai's seat. Referring to Minister Dare's opinion on the question, he said that when they had to go abroad for an Attorney-General, they ought to get better law from him. It was on a par with His Excellency's argument the other day that because his father gave ten cents to the support of an hon. member's father, therefore he was a better man than that hon. member. If the speaker's father had only put ten cents into the contribution box, he should be ashamed to tell of it. He should wait, at least, till his father could have afforded a quarter. It was doubtful if the father of His Excellency did put in ten cents. Probably he only put in a brass button to rattle in the box. He (Thurston) was prepared to publish a statement of his election expenses on Lanai, which amounted to $15 distributed at 5¢ apiece to three lunas. As to the statement that the report was in his handwriting, the fact was that the English was a translation from the Hawaiian version, and he had written a portion of it to assist the translator.

Minister Dare had not intended to say any more, but could not allow a charge against him of unparliamentary practice to pass unnoticed. His motion to indefinitely postpone the report was parliamentary and based on three distinct reasons. First, the report was manifestly biased; secondly, the conclusions were not supported by the evidence, and, thirdly, the committee had been guilty of the unparliamentary acts of giving it to a newspaper before presenting it to the house, and of having it printed without the authority of the house. In answer to a question by Rep. Brown, as to whether he knew what was in the report before moving its indefinite postponement, he said he had read a digest of the report before in the house. They could not always trust printers. The hon. member had reflected on his law, but had never yet replied to a single legal argument delivered by him.

Rep. Thurston remarked that when the Attorney-General submitted an argument, he might be prepared to reply to it.

Minister Dare replied that if the hon. member could not comprehend an argument, it was doubtless because he was born so. It appeared as if the hon. member had never heard of the speaker before. Well, he had been in legislatures most of the time since he was 27 years of age and was now 43, and the hon. member would have heard of him if he was a reader of the public press. Perhaps the hon. member could not read. In all his public career he had never heard a word against his character until he had done so in the Opposition press of Honolulu. Concluding, he said this report showed an unconquerable desire on the part of the hon. member for Molokai and his associates, to besmirch the character of Walter Murray Gibson. According to the report, they had the privilege, if a man came before them to give evidence, to say he perjured himself, and if he did not come before them then he was guilty of the acts alleged. The report of the minority was sound in its legal and political ethics, and was thoroughly precise and logical. It was said by the hon. member that the Ministry was afraid of having a vote taken yesterday. On the contrary, the vote was delayed because His Excellency W. M. Gibson wanted the Opposition to kill their own case, to pump themselves dry.

Minister Gibson would only occupy about two minutes, but wanted to refer to one point, as to a state of oppression on Lanai, and not countermanded by him. There had even been a reference to slavery, if not of body, at least of mind. That was strange to him. He had a liking for Lanai, having lived on that island for years, keeping his sheep. Among a population of 400 or 500 people, himself and family were the only strangers, but he had always been on the most kindly terms with those people. He often came to town, leaving an only child among those people without the slightest thought of harm. The island of Lanai had always been one of peace. For three years not a case was reported in the District Court, so that the question arose in the Legislature whether it was worth while voting the salary of a judge. There was an hon. member—he thought he was here now—who held that because the reason the judge should be paid, because he was influential in keeping peace. Lanai was not a dry island, but abounded in springs so cool that no ice was needed there. As to acts of oppression, why, it would take 50 or 100 constables to enforce such a taboo as that alleged. With regard to horses, they knew that a bucket of water was not too much for a thirsty horse, and it had sometimes been thought that a native owning 10 or 15 horses should not go to those water holes in dry times. He could bring evidence that Lapaki (one of the complainants) brought 15 horses here the other day to send to Wailuku. He mentioned that to show that there was plenty of water on Lanai and no restrictions—except, perhaps, sometimes in the case of horses. Respecting firewood, prohibition would be more difficult than that of water. There were an extensive wooded ridge and 30 ranges full of wood. It would be impossible—a man would have to be confined in a cell, in order to prevent him getting firewood. He would beg to say to the hon. Assembly that there were no acts of oppression that he had any knowledge of, which he should countermand. He never knew of his friends interposing any restrictions. There were over 800 horses on that island, and he was not aware of ever deriving any revenue from that source, for Lanai was a beautiful pasture land. It had 40,000 acres, every acre of which would support a dozen sheep. There was no land in America that would compare with the pasture land of Lanai. The people of Lanai were his friends, and he would be a desperately wicked man if he allowed any acts of oppression upon them.

Rep. Kalua, as chairman, was surprised at the conduct of Minister Dare, who insisted that the committee's work was all done by somebody else. He held that the work of the committee was impartial. Reference had been made to the peaceful character of Lanai, but there were black sheep as well as white sheep on that island. He did not agree with the contention that this was a matter beyond the province of the Legislature. If they were not to enter into such questions, the time would come when all the power would center in one man. If the Minister consented to those acts, it was a disgrace that a man holding so high a position should do such things. Hawaiians put their money together at one time to buy the island of Lanai, but one day they woke up to find it did not belong to them. He had heard of Hawaiians being harnessed to the plow
