

WARSHIPS FOR MAUI

Half A Fleet For Honolulu

"The fleet will undoubtedly be divided between Honolulu and an anchorage under the island of Maui for the purpose of coaling and immediate communication may at times be imperative."

Rear Admiral C. S. Sperry, U. S. Navy, embodies the above in a communication to the president of the Wireless Telegraph Company of Hawaii.

Admiral Sperry's letter is in part as follows: "Referring to yours addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, in regard to use of commercial wireless while the Atlantic fleet is in the vicinity of Hawaii, the letter has been referred to Rear Admiral Sperry, as he will succeed to the command on the 15th instant."

Then follows the paragraph quoted above. "The Wireless Company is to recognize the urgency of any call sent out from the fleet during the daylight hours, to give it the right of way and to leave the hours between 6 p. m. and 7 a. m. for the use of the fleet. "Between the hours of 7 a. m. and 6 p. m., except on Sundays, no vessel except the senior officer's ship, in either of the places between which the fleet is divided, is to send out any message or signal."

PETE IN THE PIT SEES FIRE PLAY

STUPENDUS DISPLAY OF SURGING LAVA IN THE VOLCANO AS VIEWED BY THE PURSER OF THE MAUNA KEA—RISING AND FALLING OF BILLOWS OF MOLTEN MATTER AT SHORT INTERVALS—MOST UNFORGETTABLE SIGHT.

"Pete" Phillips is a changed man. The popular purser of the S. S. Mauna Kea has seen pictured all the emotions he ever dreamed man was capable of, and all in a few full moments when fabled hells and heavens kaleidoscoped within his field of vision and sunk their sentiment into his soul.

"I have been to the volcano of Kilauea many times," said Phillips to a Star man this morning, on the return of the Mauna Kea, "but never have I witnessed so awesomely impressive a sight as it was my good fortune to behold when I visited the crater this week, taking advantage of Belser and McConachie going that way in their gas machine. If people could but realize what I saw, the steamers to Hilo would be packed with folks wanting to catch the lake of fire as I caught it, or rather as it caught me.

"The lake of fire, a good three hundred feet across, was surrounded by blackened lava that enhanced the glow from a central cone punctured on the Hilo side and pouring molten matter, streaky rivulets of flame running to the rim.

"From the ragged orifice there poured the live lava and then, with a suddenness that staggered, there was an inbreath, as it were, like a great receding wave, or a subterranean swallow, and all that had belched out seemed to skurry home to the bowels of the furnace that had given it birth.

"For a few minutes there was a darkness rendered blacker for the memory of the recent flare, and then a crust around the cone—the color, it seemed, of a dried tobacco leaf, seemed to form, turning in a moment to a russet and then to gold; then, crimsoning and blushing into flame, it stirred and started, pulsed and played a passion of changing lure; crisped and crackled like the breaking of a roof into conflagration and then again fell back into the center, the lake falling some six or eight feet, it seemed, with a huffed gurgle.

"I timed the phenomena and it appeared that about every twenty minutes the heart of the lake heaved and broke in an outburst of fiery fury, spread outward in an exuberant now and then fell back into the open core, bubbling and geysering.

"It was magnificent, both inspiring and awful, a suggestion of omnipotence, a mystery one would know more of, a spectacle that will live always in my memory."

ADVICE COMES FROM M'BRIDE

GOVERNOR'S PRIVATE SECRETARY TELLS ACTING GOVERNOR HOW THE FLEET IS ENTERTAINED IN SAN FRANCISCO—HE COMMUNICATES THE SUGGESTIONS OF MAYOR TAYLOR AND OTHERS AS TO HOW THINGS SHOULD BE DONE IN HONOLULU.

The letter received by Acting Governor Mott-Smith from C. H. McBride, who is in San Francisco, being wined and dined, as the personal representative of Governor Frear in the fleet reception functions, contains innumerable pages of matter. Certain parts of the letter have not been given out for publication. Mr. Mott-Smith explains that they had principally to do with McBride's trips and dinners. Certain suggestions, especially in regard to the attention to be paid to the wives of the officers, who are reported to have been neglected on the coast, are called to the particular attention of the public by the Acting-Governor. The sections of the letter given out for publication are as follows:

On last Saturday morning I presented the letter furnished me by you to the Mayor of San Francisco, Mr. Taylor. I had the honor, as well as pleasure, of spending Saturday with the Mayor. After a short ride in his automobile, we went to the Fairmont Hotel, where we met Hon. James D. Phelan, George A. Newhall and Frederic W. Hall, the last-named gentleman being chairman of various fleet committees here. We had quite a delightful as well as prolonged, lunch at the hotel, during the great part of which the conversation concerned suggestions from the Mayor and others as to how we in Hawaii could make a success of fleet matters there, based on the extensive experience the San Francisco people have had in this matter.

2. All of our functions should be divided as to officers, warrant officers, and sailors, a coalition of the three being contrary to naval etiquette. For instance, a dance and banquet should be given to the officers, some functions arranged for warrant officers, about eight of whom there are on each battleship, and separate events arranged for the sailors. But half of the officers obtain liberty at a time, so that each function for them will have to be duplicated; I think this applies also to warrant officers; but a third or fourth of the sailors get liberty at once.

3. The Mayor and Mr. Phelan strongly urge that the principal feature of our entertainment in Hawaii should be in the nature of exhibiting to the fleet those things for which Hawaii is so well known, to wit, Hawaiian dances and luaus. Mr. Phelan stated that if we eliminate those features from the program universal disappointment would be felt, and said it would be a very serious mistake.

The fleet has been entertained by a number of the coast cities and expert-

GREAT BALL TODAY

When Bert Bower calls "play ball" this afternoon at the opening game between the two teams tied for last place in the big league, one of the largest crowds that have been present since the Fisher team was here last year is expected to be on hand to root for the favorites. Two of the best games of the year will be decided before the curtain is rung down, which may be the curtain of darkness.

The Kams and the Saints, which have been unlucky so far this year, will meet, and singles, doubles, triplets and home runs will be in order from the welders of the different weights of bats. D. Reuter, the strong right-handed pitcher of the Kams, stated this morning that he was in A1 condition and with Jones behind the bat ought to be able to pull the Kams through to victory. Bill Vannata, the crack second baseman who has been out of the game this year so far, will probably be back at his old position, and will bettle any one of the Saints who attempts to steal second. The difference of opinion as to the outcome of the game is wonderful. The majority seem to favor last year's champs, although there are a number who think the old school boys will be able to do the trick.

The second game, which will be for blood from the first to the last, is between the Diamond Deads and the Puns. Both of these teams have each won two games, and the lead in the league is bound to be settled unless the game goes on until it is too dark to see the ball. The odds among a large number seem to favor the Puns, although there are a number who are willing to lose their whole payday on the Heads. Bill Chillingworth, the man with the iron arm, is going to pitch for his team, while Bill Hampton, the captain of last year's All Hawaii team, will do the fancy curving for the boys from Punahou.

At any rate, however the games turn out, the public will be treated to the very best kind of baseball, and the advice of one who knows is to get busy and go out and cheer your team to victory. Berger will be there to liven up things during the intermissions, and a treat is in store for all.

$362,773 IN TAXES

RECEIPTS UP TO MAY 15 SHOW ABOUT $30,000 OVER THOSE OF LAST YEAR.

The tax returns which came in yesterday were far above the most sanguine expectations of Tax Assessor Wilder. In speaking yesterday of what he expected to receive from the District of Honolulu for the day he placed the limit at between $90,000 and $100,000. Much to his surprise the collections yesterday amounted to $121,000.60.

While the returns from delinquent taxes this year have been higher than they were last year, this is hardly the reason of such a good showing. Money is evidently much more free in the city, and the claim of business stagnation on account of lack of funds is one which must be completely abandoned. This is shown by a comparison between the tax collections of this year and last. In 1907 the tax collection up to the last day of May amounted to $337,099.49. This year up to May 15 the sum taken in is far in excess of this, reaching $362,773.30. To have a showing like this certainly proves that the financial conditions here have improved.

METZGER TO BUILD HILO BREAKWATER

The contract for the Hilo breakwater has been awarded to D. E. Metzger. The news reached this city this morning through a cablegram received by Captain Otwell. This means that the Mayer bid was thrown out on account of the fact that the securities furnished by him were interested in the contract.

DAVIS RUNS WILD IN RHETORIC MAZE

Arkansas Solon Scorns Sequence and Definition in Volcanic Eruption in The Senate.

THE INNOCENT PRESS SUFFERS.

Dogs, Imps, Cravens, Carrion Among Mildest Characterizations of Nation's Newspaper Men.

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 1.—All Washington is laughing at the extraordinary speech delivered by Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas today in behalf of his bill to suppress pools and trusts and do some other things.

The speech makes about forty typewritten pages and is full of the most remarkable English ever perpetrated upon the United States senate.

It may be that Mr. Davis wrote it himself. If he did he is possessed of a peculiar faculty for stringing words together without regard to their sequence, and has a delicious sense of insecurity in the use of adjectives, which makes his literary efforts irresistibly comic.

To give a correct idea of the eloquence of this Arkansas senator, heralded as a possible rival of Tillman it is only necessary to make a few extracts from the verbatim manuscript of his speech.

HIS IDEAS ON WORLDLY POMP. They follow:

"At such times, within the experience of every man, however rich or exalted before the world, thoughts, as if part or proceeding from the voiceless speech somewhere within the mystery of our being, engage the mind with the problems of human life, its relations and its ends. Wordly pomp, glory, and power, effervescent wealth, pageantry, resplendence, ambition—these—all these—at such times, turn to wormwood, and as a sick child we roll upon our pillow and cry for God."

"Whatever beliefs exist in any part of this country, I would defend from aspiration, unless the truth debarred me, any or all departments of the government. Upon crucial exigencies I have faith that no department will fail, that they, each and all, will prove in a critical hour the most sincere and unobedient adherence to the public weal. I cannot permit my mind to dwell upon the contrary, nor will I allow my thoughts to speculate concerning what may be the consequences of such improbable contingencies." DEATH'S AWFUL STALKING HABIT "Life, sir, has its own laws. Fundamentally, righteousness and justice, infinitely various in forms, are its essential demonstrants. All else is death. You cannot escape. In awe of one is life beyond, Mr. President, death stalks, stern, remorseless, and solitary, through halls where laughter has not entered, and silence in sabled stiffness enshrouds oblivion.

"So that, Mr. President, on the occasion named, my few simple words of truth and justice scarcely left my lips when a pumpered, sliken, robed schveling set of conspirators, surprised and alarmed, curled laughingly though nervously their choppy mustaches and hit their patrician finger nails in puzzled hate, so importunate was their eagerness to hurry a polluted press to work and ridicule the homely friend of labor.

"Surrounded as we are by allurements of luxury, seeing hourly the scintillations and glitter of wealth it need not be doubted that the public servants are made the objects of its attentions. As the country well knows, this capital city is overflowing with seductive meshes which, though falling often to enthrall, are designed to ensnare the stoutest heart.

"Puniest of creatures, miserable monncarpous, misnamed men, pressed trousers and all, slinking cravens at the golden feet of Mammon, frothed madly upon seeing my word. Their little, weak bodies trembled their limbs twitched and jerked as if in spasms, their eyeballs rolled nervously, and their eyes emitted a greenish light, while the poor brainless creatures snarled and snapped aimlessly as do ordinary dogs, as it is said, afflicted with hydrophobia.

"Under wise and patriotic guidance no power or influence goes before unbridled journalism when justice and freedom are at stake.

"Miserable travesties upon noble manhood, post graduates in all arts of slander or defamation, I challenge the subsidized press. The people know your designs and spurn your pretenses, whether under show of argument or more servient hypocries. IMPS, FILTH, CARRION, ETC., ETC. "Go, damnable imps of pelf and greed. I defy your taunts. Tear to fragments my political career if it comports with your execrable will. Stifle and distort my every utterance.

"Not satisfied, if such be your brutal frenzy, lash my poor form into insensibility; then, if it be your further pleasure, glean from my stiffening limbs every vestige of quivering flesh; howl in wretched bestiality through my innocent blood as it drips through your fiendish visages.

"Drag then, if you want, what remains into the filth and vermin of your foul dens and burn it upon the altar of Baal or scatter it before the friendly winds of heaven to your betters, carrion crows of the field.

"I cannot forego the proud declaration, and I make it in reverential thankfulness to God, that nowhere has the sun yet kissed a spot nor set upon a foot of earth where liberty is more indigenous or where by nature independence is courted with the same passionate abandon as in America.

"Return, O return, traitant spouse, to a proper sense of domestic fidelity and felicity, for, related morganatically though you may boast to English royalty through George III., know, vain and foolish one, that your ancestor is none other than whom, once upon a time, George Washington flung, in flagrant delicto, from the throat of his beloved country."

CALL FOR PRIMITIVE PURPOSES. "Restore this republic, therefore, I pray the senate, to her primitive purposes; mpor her back to an anchorage where justice is deep, where contentment and peace is as a greensward level shore, and where far and wide an overspreading sky of eternal morning, from horizon to horizon, seems vibrant in the rising glory of fraternity and union."

ADMIRAL EVANS PRAISES FLEET

"WHOLE FLEET COULD STEAM AT ITS CONTRACT SPEED TOMORROW"—NAVY OFFICERS HAVE NO BUSINESS DISCUSSING THEIR IMPLEMENTS—"IF YOU WANT TO PRESERVE THE PEACE OF THE WORLD GIVE US PLENTY OF BATTLESHIPS.

Admiral Evans, in his speech at the banquet at the St. Francis, San Francisco, said:

"Gentlemen, I would like to have the pleasure of saying a few words in this State of California. Governor of the State of California and comrades, it was most unfortunate for me, and a great disappointment when, after reaching the shores of California, I found myself too ill to join in the festivities which were made for the Atlantic fleet. But I had a friend named Symmes. He told me of the springs that cured rheumatism at Paso Robles. If I had stayed at Paso Robles I would have been a well man, but I came to San Francisco as I said I would, and I would have been a great deal worse if I had not. What rheumatism I had was taken away yesterday by the welcome I received at the hands of the people of San Francisco. If I ever have this rheumatism again I am going to think of the reception we have received here.

"People ask why this fleet came to the Pacific. I can only answer that I was told to bring it here, and here it is. I suppose I may say, without violating any ethics, that I was assured by the President of the United States that this was purely a peaceful cruise of the Atlantic fleet, but I must be prepared to fight if necessary. So I came on this peaceful cruise and in the end I have presented to you the Atlantic fleet.

"I would ask you to be good to the men of the fleet. They are white as a yard. In a few short weeks I shall have put in forty-eight years of Navy life. In that time I have seen many changes in the dear old Navy—from sails to the great fleet that you see here now. One of the greatest of all the things we have done is to show the line officers can boil water without burning it. It was held for many years that no line officer could boil water, that he would burn the thing it was boiled in. There is a mistake about that. And today, in the beautiful fleet you see lying here, every ship is run by line officers, and they were never in better condition. I bet that whole fleet could steam at its contract speed tomorrow.

"You heard a good deal of talk lately about water line armor belts. There is a gentleman here who started that conflict. One would imagine that eggs were hung around the water line of a ship to be smashed by every shell that came along. Armor will never win a battle. The man who can shoot straight and stand the brunt of battle the longest is the man who will win, whether he has armor belts, or eggs, or anything else.

causing the implements they have been given to work with. If you want a larger Navy Congress will give it to you. If you want to preserve the peace of the world give us plenty of battleships and fewer statesmen. When we have plenty of battleships we can keep the peace if we have to fight about it. If you have to fight, press the button and tell us what you want done, and we will do it.

"Gentlemen of San Francisco I have no words with which to express my thanks to you for the treatment you have accorded to the men under my command. I only wish I had the all-venerable tongue of our Secretary so that I might say what I feel.

"My men will always remember San Francisco. "Good night, and good-by."

GROWING OBSOLETE. The old-fashioned notion that there is a hereditary enmity between the peoples of some nations is becoming obsolete. The latest bit of evidence on that point is furnished by the close relations said to subsist between Austria and Germany. Within the memory of comparatively young men these nations were fighting for supremacy on the field of battle; now they are putting each other on the back. Nations shape their actions on the demands of the present and not on the prejudices of the past.—S. F. Chronicle.

SECRET LOBBYING A CRIMINAL OFFENSE GUTHRIE (Okla.), May 8.—Both branches of the Oklahoma Legislature today agreed to the anti-lobbying bill, which provides that criminal action may be had on any lobbyist who does not first file his name and a statement of his business with the Legislature. The bill is similar to a measure proposed by Governor Folk of Missouri. Governor Haskell has said he will sign the bill.

CHEERS WHEN HAWAII CABLE WAS READ

THE GREAT PETITION ASKING SECRETARY OF THE NAVY METCALF TO USE HIS INFLUENCE TO HAVE THE FLEET REMAIN IN THE PACIFIC—TELEGRAM FROM DELEGATE KUHIO READ AT A BREAKFAST TO METCALF.

"To the Honorable the Secretary of the Navy.

"We respectfully petition for proper and adequate naval protection for the Pacific coast of the United States. We realize that with the constantly growing commerce of the Pacific this ocean is to be the scene of the future struggle for commercial supremacy, and that to no nation is this supremacy more essential than to the United States.

"We realize that the Pacific coast of the United States is in such unprotected condition that incalculable damage could be done to the nation, and more especially to that part of it lying on the Pacific ocean, by a foreign enemy before an adequate fleet for protection and defense could be mobilized on Atlantic waters and sent to Pacific waters.

"Therefore we respectfully pray that you will in the exercise of your authority order that there be maintained permanently upon the Pacific ocean a fleet of warships consisting of not less than 12 first class battleships and eight large armored cruisers."—Memorial from 132 commercial bodies of the Pacific coast, Hawaii and Philippine islands, which was presented by Governor George L. Sheldon of Nebraska to Secretary of the Navy Metcalf on May 6 at a breakfast given in his honor at the St. Francis hotel, and which the secretary promised to lay immediately before President Roosevelt.

Metcalf said that the disposition of the fleet was a matter he was not prepared to discuss.

"I shall present this memorial to the president," said Secretary Metcalf, "immediately after I return to Washington. The matter is one of great importance, and I can assure you it will receive careful consideration. As to the disposition of the fleet, that is a matter that I am not prepared to discuss in public."

But, following his remarks, Metcalf significantly read telegrams from 15 Pacific coast congressmen strongly urging the measure as advocated in the petitions. Among them were telegrams from Senators Perkins and Flint and Representatives Knowland, Hayes, Englebright and Kahn of this state and Senator Piles and Representatives Humphrey, Cushman and Jones of Washington. The one from the three latter read: "We again urge you to retain an adequate squadron of battleships and cruisers on the Pacific. The fleet is there; keep it there and build another for the Atlantic. We congratulate you and the officers and men upon the safe arrival, and especially congratulate the people of California."

TOWN TALK

By THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

I suppose my friends of the Kihohana Art League would feel very much hurt if called anarchists, but according to Mr. Donley, a socialist is simply an anarchist who believes in killing everyone but without dynamite or bombs. The idea of the Territorial Government's going into the theatrical business in opposition to the two local houses is a little beyond me in the line of socialism.

At present the Opera House is hardly used two nights a month on an average. It is a building which is a credit to the city, but which can hardly pay expenses, if it does that. In the face of this, and I have not mentioned the Orpheum at all, some of my good friends would like to have the government run an opposition show house. There would be one good thing about it though, the government would not be allowed to employ any but citizen labor.

Last evening there was good attendance at the meeting of the Commission Committee and much business of importance to transact.

A wireless message had been received from the bluejackets of the fleet inquiring if the boys could, without loss of dignity, attend society functions in Honolulu. A petition from the Walking Club for the pardon of Lopez was on file and also a request from Waialeale that the big fleet visit there.

"A lady does not go where she is likely to find men under the influence of drink," said the Morning Moulder of Public Opinion.

"I've seen Salvation Army lassies in sa'oons, selling War Cries," said the Occasional Nipper.

"Salvation's free," said the Mad Missionary, "freer than it ought to be, sometimes; however, angels go in where ladies fear to tread."

"A man under the influence of drink would be a rare sight in Honolulu if there were less laws on liquor," whispered the Close Observer.

"Ow do you make that out?" asked St. John the Martin.

"People always ache so do that which is forbidden," replied the C. O., reaching for the silver cuspidor.

"Besides, there won't be any drinking where ladies are invited," wheezed the Second-story Reformer.

"Of course not," said the Sarcastic-gator, "There never is. There's never a drop of punch tickles the throats of the smart set or the upper hundred."

"It's foolish talk," roared the Decider, "all this is foolish talk. The sailors don't want to be patronized at promiscuous functions. If there's a big general ball, the self-styled cream and the so-called skim can foregather if they wish; nobody's going to get the hook and drag exclusives from their padded cells. The matter is referred to the Mixing Committee."

The petition from the Walking Club for the liberation of Lopez was read.

"He and M. M. Scott would be well matched in a walkin' race," said the Dead Game Sport.

"[Referred to the Governor with the recommendation that Lopez be pardoned," said the Decider: "his 'keep' costs the Territory altogether too much."

I have hesitated in giving suggestions for entertainment of the fleet, but he who hesitates too long is lost and I don't want to be lost like some "men about town."

Now when the American armada passes Paul Isenberg's cocoanut grove the bran-new mortars at Fort Leali, back of Diamond Head, having been loaded with shells of papier mache charged with Manoa roses, Nuuanu violets and Palolo ginger blossoms should be fired so that a rain of flowers hits the decks of the warships.

Passing the Diamond Head lookout, the watchman would at once telephone to town the name of each vessel as it passed and the usual three toots of the Electric Company's whistle should then be given, for each warship.

There will be only about 40 warships and that means only forty mistakes on central's part when Diamond Head calls for the Pilot House number, and only 120 toots of the lightning factory's whistle.

Off the harbor the battleships and cruisers and torpedoers could line up in formation of the word "aloha" and a hundred Hawaiian swimming boys could be taken out in the S. S. Mauna Kea and start diving for whatever the jackies might have to throw overboard in the way of coin.

It would be a unique reception, and one that would not be equalled anywhere in the fleet's long journey, if prominent citizens were themselves to get in and shovel coal aboard the warships. It would please the boys of the fleet more than anything else.

"I'll take a shovel if Jimmy Dougherty, Jack Doyle and "Cookie" will do likewise.

Let several hundred business men, financiers and society men get in and "coal ship" and the ladies can follow them with brooms and "clean ship."

Say the fleet would come to Honolulu every time it needed coal. Jack hates to coal.

I don't want to make all the suggestions, so I'll close, thank you, with a reminder that it is up to Admiral Beekley to call on the flag officer of the fleet.

One of the local Japanese newspapers is running a voting contest. It is run on the regular old programme, which struck Mainland American newspapers about fifteen years ago, but was soon worked out. However, it is creating quite a lot of excitement among Japanese cooks, yard-boys and others. For example, who is the most popular Japanese cook in Punahou district? It is being submitted to a vote. The way to vote is to pay so much per vote, in the form of subscriptions, to the paper running the contest. Subscribe for the paper for a year and get several hundred votes to prove that your own particular servant is the most popular. The Japanese have been often said to be wonderful imitators, and they have naturally picked up the vote contest scheme, which is said to bring in ready money if only enough rivalry can be aroused. The plan for starting a voting contest is for a newspaper to spring some prize or other as a reward for the biggest vote. The next step is to take a city directory and pick out the names of a few individuals who are likely to be candidates if encouraged a bit, and to give them a few votes and attract their attention. When they get to thinking they are running, it is wise to bring forward a new candidate, giving votes enough to make him (or her) a sudden leader. Then you have the rest on their mettle—and the contest is started. Each candidate starts out to work friends for subscriptions, to a year's subscription counts hundreds of votes absolutely proving popularity. It is the best scheme so far invented for forcing people to take a paper they don't want and won't read.—I am told that there are kind people interested in the contests of this sort who get half a dozen copies per day of the same paper.

MILLS RUN ON SHORT TIME.

Logging Firm Ordered To Stop the Splashes in Wishkah River.

TACOMA, May 8.—With the price of shingles dropping until they have touched a point admitted by shingle manufacturers and wholesalers to be actually below the cost of manufacture, those having at heart the welfare of the red cedar industry are bestirring themselves to do something to protect the millmen and to put the business back to a paying basis. The price of red cedar shingles has dropped at least 5 cents a thousand in the last week.

Manufacturers are now fortunate if they can secure $1.55 for stars, and clear show the same proportionate loss. Orders are not coming from the East, because retailers will not buy on a falling market. Nearly every mill in the Northwest is operating under a limited capacity. Stocks in transit are not heavy. An attempt to engineer a concerted shutdown movement is lacking and manufacturers have so far been unable to fix an absolutely minimum selling price and stay by it.

Notice received from the Government by the Wishkah Boom Company to stop all splashes on the Wishkah river at and above Aberdeen and keep free the channel has caused consternation among the logging companies on that stream. The order is the result of the persistent fighting of the ranchers along this river, who complain that the stream is monopolized by the Wishkah Boom Company to the exclusion of all transportation.

If the order is made permanent, it will compel the logging companies practically to quit business.

A VERY NOTABLE VISITOR.

In Dr. Koch of Berlin, who arrived here yesterday as a visitor, Honolulu has a guest whose name must ever be linked in world history, with a discovery ranking high in the record of the benefits his profession has given to the human race. It is an old story in these days of statistics that tuberculosis is mankind's most terrible enemy,—in the Hawaiian Islands, month after month for a long time past, attention has been called over and over again to the grim figures which show its lead in deadliness to the Hawaiian and other population. The basis of modern scientific treatment of this fearful scourge rests upon the discovery of the phthisis bacilli by Dr. Koch in 1890. As the years go by, improvements follow one another in the methods of treating this disease once classed as inevitably fatal, and it is now generally recognized that the disease is curable, that it is not hereditary and that it is highly contagious. The value of knowing these three facts regarding it is of course apparent and can hardly be overestimated. To Dr. Koch, more than to any other one man living, is due the credit.

KOCH'S HONOLULU DEPARTED DISCIPLE.

It is interesting to recall the fact, in connection with Dr. Koch's visit to Honolulu, that shortly after the announcement of his great discovery a Honolulu physician went to Germany to study the famous bacteriologist's treatment of tuberculosis based upon the detection of the devastating bacillus. This was the late Dr. John Brodie who, after returning, started a sanatorium at Waikiki in a house he built for the purpose which is now a portion of the Moana Hotel. Unfortunately the public-spirited healer, who had thus at great expense placed himself in the front rank of modernism in medicine, broke down in health and passed away before having more than begun to apply the Koch method to the saving of his adopted country from the ravages of the white plague.

Perhaps the doctor was more devoted to his contemporaries to this irrepressible conflict, now being systematically waged over the world, from the fact that the iron had entered his own soul. Besides the pulmonary delicacy of himself he had been preceded to the grave by a talented brother, a victim of consumption, the late James Brodie, V. S., who was the first government veterinarian ever employed in these islands. He had during his incumbency stamped out glanders and thus doubtless saved from decimation the equine stock of the kingdom, at a time when horses and mules were far more important on the sugar plantations than today when other modes of transportation have largely superseded animal.

In recording the progressiveness of the present, with the due meed of praise to its exponents in professional and commercial lines, let us not forget to place wreaths occasionally on the tombs of the departed worthies who sustained the good name of Hawaii as a community advanced in civilization when Hawaii was less glaringly in the world's eye than, through the march of great events, it has now been placed.

TRUSTS POWERFUL.

What the diamond trust did, by sheer financial strength and control of the supply, in holding up the prices of the gems when the demand had almost disappeared is only what might be expected of any uncontrolled monopoly. With diamonds it makes no difference to the general sum of human comfort and happiness, but when depression comes to the financial world one of the things that ameliorates its results to the workers—the reduction or loss of pay—is the automatic fall in prices of the commodities that constitute the necessities and comforts of existence. When monopolies artificially hold prices of these up in hard times, the occasion is made for social war against monopolies. It is indeed scattered efforts of the kind that have happened in the recent past which has imparted a great deal of the vitality to the pernicious type of socialism that is appearing on every hand. Trusts are a natural development of the period no doubt, but they must be controlled.

If the cranks and the snobs will but "keep off the line" the entertainment of the fleet can be nicely arranged.

May there not be danger that a permanent Convention of Governors will tend to dim the constitutional chalkline between the executive and the legislature? A survey of the field even now would show a surprising number of governors who are assuming the initiative in legislation.

"If you have to fight, press the button and tell us what you want done, and we will do it." So Admiral Evans put the duty of the fleet at San Francisco, and the Nation may depend upon it that it is no vainglorious boasting. The traditions of the United States Navy are epitomized in the brave words.

Public discussion of whether local society women would care to mingle with the men of the fleet at a ball or any other function is very unfortunate and harmful. Such a discussion, if it gets to the ears of the officers and men, is almost enough to make them boycott any sort of entertainment here. For the sake of preserving a friendly feeling in the navy towards Hawaii, we hope that the circulation of yesterday's issue of our only morning newspaper, having for its first article a discussion of this question, will be very limited in San Francisco. The society of Honolulu will act towards the visitors just like the society of other communities the fleet has visited and it is not only unnecessary for them to say so, but the mere fact of their having had to speak on the subject gives a bad impression. Jack and his officers are very sensitive about this sort of thing.

BRIGHT THINGS IN CONGRESS
(From the Congressional Record.)
"The Congressional Record is the greatest daily published in the wide, wide world."—Congressman Clayton of Alabama.

SENATOR BORAH of Idaho: But no leader of the colored race ever did a greater injury to the thousands of colored men who are struggling up to the high plane of civilization than to teach them that their Government will connive at a breach of the law. For one and all, white race and black race, there is but one rule, which is that when the rights of the American citizen are involved, the peace of the home and the protection of life, party politics disappear. American citizenship is the only chord which will receive a responsive strain from the American people. I can not imagine a more cowardly act, a more pusillanimous act upon the part of a great party than to undertake to connive at a crime so thoroughly proved as this Brownsville affair because of anticipated political exigencies. It is our duty to say to the people of this country that the party which gave the colored man his freedom will also teach him that this Government can only be preserved by observing the law and observing the rights of citizens in their homes.

CONGRESSMAN HUMPHREY, of Washington: A trust exists upon the Pacific Ocean. It is called the "Shipowners International Union." It represents more than 1,200,000 tons—practically all the sail tonnage on the Pacific Ocean. It is composed of English, German, and French ships. It is open and frank in its purposes. It makes no attempt to conceal its objects. Its rules and regulations have been printed and can be easily obtained. A year ago I inserted a copy of this agreement in the Congressional Record. As set forth in the agreement, the principal object of this ship trust is to raise freight rates from American ports. In its declared purpose it has been most successful. It has raised freights on the Pacific more than 400 per cent. It has increased the freight on a ton of wheat from Seattle to Europe from $1.25 to $5.92 per ton. Any ship is free to charge such rates as it may think best for carrying freight from Europe to this country, but any vessel that charges less than the minimum price fixed by the trust for carrying freight from an American port is subjected to the heavy fine of a shilling per ton on the dead weight capacity of the vessel.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE, of Indiana: Does the fact that we are not a divided nation, but a united Republic, change the fact that we have two great sea lines of the world on two different coasts? Does any man question the fact that if the Mississippi River divided this country in two there would be a great navy on either coast? Is there any reason why there should not be an equally great navy on the same coasts because this country is one country. We have got to come to it.
As I said the other day, the people of the country are demanding that we shall have an equally great Navy on either coast. I think the consensus of opinion of the people of America is that the fleet now on the Pacific ought never to leave those waters; and I do not believe the American people would ever permit it to be ordered away if we had facilities there for overhauling it, for cleaning it, and for putting it in repair. The exigencies and the conditions are of the world, our two great coast lines—coast lines greater than those of any other three nations in the world put together—demand that we shall have as one Republic what we certainly would have if we were two republics—a Navy on either coast.

CONGRESSMAN CUSHMAN, of Washington: Mr. Speaker, I was raised upon the farm. What little philosophy there is in my make-up I imbibed from these surroundings. On the farm of my grandfather, years ago, he had a certain mongrel dog of unknown antecedents and doubtful pedigree called "Tige." (Laughter) In the courage and capacity of that same Tige my grandfather had great confidence. On that same farm there was also a certain unruly, crumple-horned, breachy cow called "Boss"—and she was well named, too. One summer afternoon my grandfather discovered that old Boss had knocked down a couple of panels of the farm fence and was grazing in the midst of the timothy meadow, contrary to the statutes in such cases made and provided. (Laughter.) He said, "Tige will fetch her out," and he yelled for the dog. The dog came out from under the smokehouse and grandfather pointed to the center of the meadow and said, "Fetch her out, Tige," and at a tremendous rate of speed and with a very fierce canine expression Tige made for the tall and uncult. That cow had a full-grown disposition of her own. (Laughter.) She lowered her head and made for that dog under a full head of steam, and he turned tail and made for the gap in that fence. Every jump he took he could feel the hot air from that old cow's nostrils fanning his flanks. Ah, Mr. Speaker, there was a race that was never surpassed or even equaled by anything pulled off on the Benning track. Tige covered that 40 rods in an amazing short space of time, and came out exactly 5 3/4 inches in the lead. Grandfather leaned back, with much complacence, and said, "I knew old Tige would fetch her out," although it appeared to the other spectators that old Tige had been fetched out. And, Mr. Speaker, it occurs to me that in this so-called "fillbuster" the Democratic minority of this House have afforded us a similar spectacle. When they behold the gentleman from New York (Mr. Payne) grazing peacefully in the midst of the Republican legislative meadow, about ready to bring forth a piece of sound legislation, they wait until he is all ready to start, and then they call for the Democratic watchdog and say, "Bring him out, John." (Loud laughter and applause on the Republican side.) And then John, with the same enthusiasm and lack of judgment which was evidenced in old Tige, starts for the tall and uncult. (Laughter.) But, Mr. Speaker, the country has not failed to notice that when that legislative procession came out of the meadow the gentleman from Mississippi was not chasing the gentleman from New York, but, on the contrary, was being chased by him. (Long-continued laughter and applause.)

Why "VUDOR" PORCH SHADES Are Needed?

You need Vudor Porch Shades to get the most out of your porch.

To make it a spot where you can rest or work on the hottest days—outdoors, yet free from the sun's glare and heat.

You can do this with Vudor Porch Shades; you can add to the house another room, cool and shady, where you may enjoy every refreshing breeze, in secluded comfort.

Vudor Porch Shades are very durable, and will last many seasons.

Another good feature about them is the peculiar fact that those sitting on the porch can see out, but passersby cannot see in. In other words, you have complete privacy, and can use the porch or veranda the same as an inside room, with infinitely more comfort on hot days.

Vudor Porch Shades are just the thing for "boxing in" porches or balconies that are to be used as outdoor sleeping or living apartments.

Vudor Porch Shades are made of thin, flat strips of Linden Wood, closely bound by strong Seine Twine, in a lock-stitch weave.

They are artistically stained in soft weather-proof, and will not fade or crock off.

The shades can be instantly raised, or lowered (operating on the principle of a theatre curtain) and are easily and readily put up.

HAWAII COUNTY LIQUOR LICENSES

Hilo, May 11.—John T. Moir, chairman; R. A. Lyman Jr., secretary; A. W. Carter, A. Lidgate and John Maguire are the members of the Board of License Commissioners who will meet at ten o'clock this morning in the room used by the Board of Supervisors.

The object of the meeting is to receive applications for renewals of liquor licenses under the law passed by the Legislature in 1907, which went into effect on July 1, 1907.

During the first year there were 68 applications for licenses in this county, of which 50 were granted as follows: Two wholesale, 2 hotel, 38 second class, 6 third class and 2 fourth class. This year there had been 33 applications filed up to Tuesday night. The amount of fees collected in this county, from liquor licenses, was $15,092.53, one-half of which comes back to the county. There has been one license surrendered during the year, but there was not one even that was cancelled.

Inspector Sam K. Kauhane has practically made no complaints of the way in which the holders of liquor licenses have transacted their business, but the grand jury at Kailua has recently been investigating the liquor business in the Third Circuit, and there are several matters that Inspector Sam Kauhane has been asked to report to the Board, and which are referred to in the report of the grand jury.—Hawaii Herald.

TOURNEY AT HALEIWA.

Last Sunday the rooms at Haleiwa were all occupied by guests from Honolulu and there are indications that the same conditions of affairs will exist next Sunday when there is to be a turn at the links. Haleiwa is the mecca for all the automobilists. Those who go around the islands and others who go down just for the run and a good meal. The roads are in first class condition and the ride pleasant in the extreme. For that reason Haleiwa attracts people. A number of them take in the pineapple district at Wahiawa as a side attraction and enjoy the trip. If you contemplate going down write or telephone Manager Bidgood for accommodations.

LOOSE LAW ENFORCEMENT

DEPUTY SHERIFF LEWIS OF
NORTH KOHALA CENSURED BY THE GRAND JURY.

HILO, May 11.—In their final report to Judge Mathewman at Kailua, the Grand Jury of the Third Circuit say:

"Several matters not specifically mentioned in your Honor's charge have been presented to us for our investigation, all of which have had our careful attention and we would respectfully report further:

"First. In three matters investigated we have been able to bring specific charges and indictments have been prepared for same and placed on the secret file:

"Second. The County Attorney made a statement to the effect that liquor was being dispensed by certain parties. The Inspector of licenses was interviewed and after his explanation we fully realize the impossibility of the Inspector carrying out his work properly without better assistance from the police. Particular attention was called to the Volcano House Company having a bar within its hotel premises, and the Kohala Club and Transportation Company having lockers also within its hotel premises, where liquor is stored for the convenience of certain favored individuals, the same being unlawful.

"We recommend that the matter be laid before the Board of License Commissioners by the Inspector of liquor licenses, and the report of the action of said Board submitted to the next Grand Jury.

"Third. A case was brought to our notice in which arrests were made for the illicit selling of liquor in the District of North Kohala. Three Japanese were arrested and taken to the court house, together with one five gallon demijohn of wine and a five gallon demijohn of sourmash, as evidence in the case.

"That before proceeding further in the matter the Deputy Sheriff, John D. Lewis, called in Mr. H. L. Holstein, the complainant in these cases, and after a consultation with the said H. L. Holstein no action was taken in the matter; the prisoners were released and allowed to take the evidence with them. No official report was made of these cases by the Deputy Sheriff to his superior officer and no arraignment was made before the District Magistrate. In our opinion this is an instance of very loose procedure on the part of the officer charged with the execution of the criminal law in this district, and submit that such practise is a too common occurrence and should be put a stop to at once. It seems very apparent from the evidence that the Sheriff of North Kohala permits the affairs of his office to be regulated by an outsider. We would recommend that the attention of the Sheriff of the County of Hawaii and the County Attorney be called to this matter, that full investigation may be made and some action taken to correct the same."

arrangements. One of the disappointing features of the entertainment in the coast cities, aside from San Francisco, has been the fact that they have been overlooked. And, there is the other side to it also. Mr. Hall told me that the thing most commented upon by the fleet thus far, was a little incident that happened in Los Angeles. There, a prominent society woman, of her own accord, at her own expense, and aside from the official reception arrangements, had prepared a number of button hole buttonholes and she herself presented these to the enlisted men. This made an awful hit. It must be remembered, also, that the enlisted men, during the present cruise, have conducted themselves in a gentlemanly manner in every respect. They have shown the people of the world that it is an honor to belong to the United States Navy; and I have been told that they appreciate very much, and do not in the slightest abuse, any attentions which they may receive from good women. I therefore strongly urge that the ladies of the Hawaiian Islands should have a prominent part in our arrangements; Mr. Puelan to do me last night at the banquet that it was not necessary, but that in San Francisco, they had been put on sub-committees with every prospect of success.

7. Now, the ten or fifteen thousand enlisted men (which by the way they should be called, instead of sailors and jacksies) are going down to Honolulu with the idea of seeing Hawaiian dances, going to lunas, etc., and the first thing they get there they will be on the quiver for these things. If we can give them in a public, respectable way, under supervision of the committee and the police, I think we ought to do so.

8. I am sending enclosed, an official program. I have subscribed to the daily papers for a period from April 15th to May 15th, and will now mention some of the features of entertainment which have proved successful. The fleet should enter Honolulu harbor in single file. The harbor should be cleared for that purpose. An anchorage place should be arranged for them. We will have sixteen war vessels, and I think, a larger number of auxiliary craft. The minute the anchor is dropped, the executive committee should go aboard to extend the welcome of Hawaii to Admiral Sperry and his staff who will be in charge. The next thing in order, is the official call by Sperry and staff upon the governor, after which the governor will return the call. Two banquets would be required if they are on the program, as only half of the officers can attend at a time. The way it was arranged here, the Governor of California gave a banquet which was separate and apart from the arrangements of the reception committee. He appointed his own committee, which looked after the whole business. This might be done in Hawaii.

One of the grandest features of the whole business would be to make arrangements to have ten or fifteen thousand leis made up and distributed by the ladies of Hawaii.

9. In the way of sight-seeing, separate trips could be arranged for portions of the officers and a portion of the enlisted men, by rapid transit; busses and automobiles could take the officers to the Park; special trains could be utilized to take such as desired to visit Oahu plantations; Diamond Head could be seen with busses. Here, as you will notice by the official program, automobile rides were given to the officers, two being arranged for. Owing to the small number of machines in Honolulu, I am afraid this feature should not be attempted, unless it was limited strictly to the admirals and commanders of the different war ships and vessels.

One of the most important features would be a large space of ground somewhere, to be known as the enlisted men's athletic grounds, where the enlisted men, unhampered by program, red tape, committees, or anything else, could meet and enjoy themselves, playing baseball, etc., in whatever way they wished.

Lemonade and sandwich stands should be provided.

10. An inter-squadron boat race could be arranged, as well as baseball matches between the teams from the different vessels. Band concerts are quite a feature here. A high-school track meet is one of the novelties here.

One of the pleasant incidents, I understand, of the entertainment at Los Angeles, was the fact that the local committee did all the entertaining themselves, and required nothing from the fleet in the way of a parade, etc. Of course, if a parade is given, pavilions would have to be erected, one to contain the government territorial officers and officials, officers of the fleet, consuls, distinguished visitors, etc., and others to accommodate a certain number of citizens.

The fleet will probably be illuminated, on stated occasions, at night; San Francisco has certainly spread itself on the illumination and decoration proposition.

Princess Kawananakoa was the hostess on Thursday night at her home, at one of the prettiest parties that have been given this year, which was given in honor of Mrs. Hampton, Miss Downey, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Burnett and Miss Burnett, who left for home in the China.

The beautiful home was tastefully decorated with carnations, roses, ferns and palms, while the long table was voyced by every one to be the dearest thing they ever saw.

Ernest Kaaf's quintet boys sang during the supper, and until quite late in the evening.

The Princess looked very handsome in a princess gown of yellow satin, trimmed with lace, wearing a number of diamond ornaments. Besides the guests of honor those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. Widdifield, Judge and Mrs. Ballou, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macfarlane, Miss Davison, and the Messrs. Wiebert, Roth, Shingle and Dillingham.

One of the prettiest surprise parties that have been given here for many months took place last night in honor of the natal day of ex-Postmaster J. M. Oat.

Mr. and Mrs. Oat were invited to a friend's home to spend the evening and, just as they were in the midst of a game of bridge, the telephone rang and their Japanese servant informed them that they were wanted home at once. When they arrived home, a party of friends were there to extend to Mr. Oat their best wishes for a long life.

A dainty supper had been prepared, after which bridge and music were indulged in to a late hour. Those that gave Mr. Oat such a pleasant surprise were Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. V. Forster, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Morse, Mrs. Robert Halstead, Mrs. W. D. Lackland, and Mrs. George F. Renon.

Mr. Oat received a number of very handsome presents from his surprising friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson entertained at luncheon last Saturday at the Commercial Club in honor of Senator Dosilio Labra Palacios of the training ship Baquedano. The other guests were Major and Mrs. Purdy and Mrs. George Ross.

W. M. Alexander and Mrs. Alexander left for home on the China yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Gastenberg and their two children left for the Coast yesterday. It is not at all certain if they will return here.

Mrs. Raymond C. Brown, Miss Helen Brown and Master Brown returned yesterday after a long visit on the mainland by the Korea.

Mr. Edward Hofemann returned home yesterday in the Korea.

Archie Young and Mrs. Young were returning passengers yesterday on the Korea.

Society will greatly miss the charming Hopper girls who left in the China for the coast with their mother. They will probably not return until late in the fall.

Miss Lillian Downey and Mrs. J. C. Hampton were departing passengers for the coast in the China. Since coming here they have been extensively entertained and have made many friends by their charming manners. They hope to return for a visit next year.

Miss Sargent of New York, who will visit Princess Kawananakoa this summer, is expected the latter part of the month.

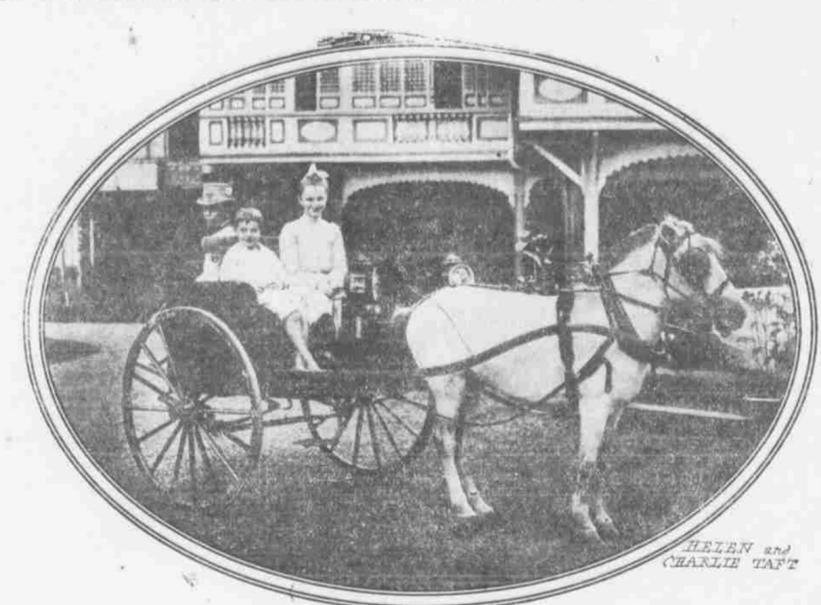

R. W. Shingle entertained at luncheon last Saturday at the Commercial Club in honor of Mrs. Hampton and Miss Downey.

Hon. and Mrs. W. J. Powell of Melbourne, Australia, who arrived yesterday in the China, will be guests for a few weeks at the Pleasanton.

The engagement of Miss Alice M. Moor of Boston and E. P. Irwin has been announced. Miss Moor will leave in the Hilonian on Tuesday and the wedding will shortly be solemnized in Salem, Oregon, where Mr. Irwin is at present. Miss Moor has been here nearly two years and during that time has made many friends by her charming manners. The position that Miss Moor has held at Castle & Cooke's will be filled by Miss Tuerke, who is a new arrival here.

J. Lot Kaulukou, Jr., but known now as Sig. Carlos Sebastian to the musical world, made a successful debut at the Opera House in Mondovi recently. The European papers have raved over his triumph and they all predict a wonderful future for him.

Word was received in the mail today from Mrs. Turner, stating that Sig. Carlos would probably go at once to London and sing there in grand opera before going to New York, the musical center of the United States. Of all the musical centers in Europe none have such a critical number of residents as Mondovi, where he made his first public appearance.

Several of the greatest musical critics in Europe remarked, after they had heard him sing, that he would startle the world by his wonderful voice when he appeared in grand opera.

Hawaii should well be proud of her greatest singer and for his great success Mrs. Turner and C. M. Cooke deserve the credit as they have made his musical education possible.

If Lot ever come here and give a concert, it is safe to predict that the Opera House will be taxed to its utmost capacity. Hawaii is now able to boast of having in the rank of world artists one of the greatest baritone singers alive today, and when his fame is written by the best musical critics in New York his success will be received with the greatest enthusiasm here.

The beautiful Nuuanu home of T. Clive Davies was the scene Thursday afternoon of a large afternoon tea given by Mrs. Davies, who has always been very prominent in the social life of Honolulu.

"Cragside" was tastefully decorated with the season's flowers and all afternoon a steady stream of ladies called to pay their respects.

General and Mrs. Pratt, Hon. S. A. Duke and his charming grand-daughter, Miss Marguerite Duke, who have been guests at The Pleasanton for some weeks, will leave for their home next week in the Manchuria.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brown will probably leave for their annual trip to the States next Saturday in the Manchuria.

Mrs. J. W. Saunders and Miss Dora Saunders, who have been domiciled at the Seaside for the past few months, will leave for their home Tuesday in the Hilonian.

Miss Saunders has made many friends here among the younger set of both sexes, who will be very sorry to hear of her departure. They will probably return next year, as they are very much in love with Hawaii.

Miss Ella Wight was a returning passenger yesterday in the Korea. This will be good news to her many friends, as she is one of the most popular girls in the younger set.

Paymaster and Mrs. Brooke entertained at dinner on Tuesday for Lieut. Alfredo Robello at the Seaside.

Mrs. Brooke will probably leave for a trip to the mainland in the near future.

It is rumored generally, around drawing rooms and dinner tables, that Dr. Carl Ramus on his return from abroad, will be accompanied by a well-known local society matron as his wife.

Lieut. W. Garland Fay and Mrs. Fay entertained at dinner last Saturday night at their home, for some of the Fort Shafter colony. Mrs. Fay has become very popular in the younger married set by her charming manners.

Miss Soper and Miss Wadman, who were also in "Ma Cherie", have consented to take part again in July.

Mrs. Harry Macfarlane gave a very pretty tea yesterday afternoon at her Walkiki home in honor of Mrs. Strong and Deaconess Potter. The house was tastefully decorated with palms and outflowers, and during the afternoon many friends of the hostess and the guests of honor called. After the tea was over a number of friends stayed to dinner, going over to the concert and dance at the hotel afterward. Those that remained for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. George Davies, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers, Major and Mrs. Potter and Dr. and Mrs. Brinckerhoff.

Miss Marion Roth, who made such a success in the "Ma Cherie" dance in The Mascot, has consented to take part again during the three nights that the popular opera will be given during the stay of the fleet. Marion is always a favorite at any function that she attends, as her wit and manners are so bright that she makes friends everywhere she goes. It is quite possible that she will go East this fall to study music, as she has a rich, clear, soprano voice that could be greatly improved by good training.

James F. Morgan left in the Alameda for a trip for his health. Mr. Morgan has been far from well for some time back and his physician ordered a complete rest for a few weeks.

Miss Adele Morgan and Mr. John Fleming will probably be married some time in the early fall.

The Seaside this last week has been the gathering place for society at the two dances that have been given. The beautiful moonlight evenings and cool breezes have drawn more than the usual number of the smart set to enjoy the dancing. Among those that I have noticed have been the Wilders, Davies, Macfarlanes, Iverses, Brookes, Deerings, Dunninges, Saunderses and many others.

Colonel A. G. Hawes of the bohemian club will leave shortly after the departure of the fleet for Honolulu, where Mrs. Hawes and his married daughter are residing.—Call.

Society will be given a treat in Miss Katharine Oliver, the celebrated reader and interpreter of Scotch dialect, who will arrive in Honolulu on June 30 and will give a series of six dramatic recitals at the Young Hotel and the Kiloana Art League. Miss Oliver comes with the highest testimonials from all the cities in which she has given readings, and has personal letters of congratulation from such authors as J. M. Barrie, Ian MacLaren and S. R. Crockett, whose works she has used in her recitals.

Society at present is all absorbed about the reception and ball which will be given for the sailors of the fleet when they arrive in July.

A number of matrons and maids are very doubtful if they will consent to dance with "Jack," but a number of the most exclusive set are perfectly willing to dance with the boys that help to make history.

In San Francisco and other places that the fleet have visited, the leading members of the smart set have only been too willing to receive Jack the same as the officers, and it seems very narrow-minded on the part of society here to even think of slighting the man behind the gun.

In the navy are any number of sailors who have blood, standing and social position behind them, and to refuse to dance with them would mean a gross insult.

Society here have been very willing in the past to hobnob with many who have no social position anywhere in the world, and when the matter comes down to the realization of facts, the sailors are just as much and possibly more entitled to be received than a large number who attempt to be called eligible in the smart set.

At any rate it is to be hoped that when they do arrive, the members of the smart set will receive them and not make the brave boys in blue feel that they have no right in the gay round of pleasure which will reign supreme during the stay of the fleet in Honolulu.

Frederick H. Cowen's cantata, the "Rose Maiden," was presented for the first time last night at the Opera House before a very enthusiastic and appreciative audience. Every seat in the house with the exception of the boxes was filled at the time Stanley Livingston raised his baton for the opening chorus.

The stage was completely filled with the chorus of three hundred voices composed of boys and girls from the High, Normal, Kamehameha and Mills schools.

The chorus which was trained under the direction of Stanley Livingston, rendered each number very well, although it lacked correct articulation and volume in its work.

The soloists were at their best in every number being roundly cheered at every appearance. Mrs. Mackall deserves the greatest credit for the way she rendered her different solos, which were musically charming, although lacking in literary quality.

Mrs. O'Day endeavored herself with her first Honolulu audience and proved herself to be an artist of no little ability. Her volume of voice is remarkable for a contralto.

C. E. Edmunds, who sang the tenor solos, proved very pleasing, his rendition being very finished.

Chester Livingston was also highly acceptable, his rendering of The Spring Song being especially fine.

A large number of society people were present, among them being Princess Kawananakoa, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Atherton, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Cooke, Mr. and Mrs. T. Clive Davies, Miss Lorna Iaukea, Miss Rose Davison, Mr. and Mrs. von Holt, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Hall, Miss Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. R. Isenberg, Mrs. McGrew, Miss Schaefer, Harold Giffard, Dr. and Mrs. Frear, C. W. Ashford, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Dillingham, Rev. J. W. and Mrs. Wadman, Walter Dillingham, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wall, and many others.

PLAGUE OF MICE DESTROYS CROPS.

RENO (Nov.), May 8.—A horde of black mice, carrying destruction from field to field, has caused damage estimated by the officials of the Department of Agriculture at $250,000 in the Carson River valley. The press of that part of the State reports that whole fields of alfalfa have been devastated, potato crops ruined and shade trees even stripped of their leaves.

The Government station on the Carson river has placed men in the field to exterminate the plague. Strychnine is being used in many cases, as was done by the Danberg rangers south of here. The black mice plague razed in Humboldt county last fall, and during the winter was reported near Genoa.

FIREMEN START FIRE TO SHOW THEIR USEFULNESS

NORFOLK (Va.), May 8.—Four members of the Jamestown Exposition fire department and two of the Powhatan guard were today held to the Grand Jury on the charge of arson. Two of the men filed written confessions that they started the fire on the grounds which destroyed the Philippine villages and other villages ten days ago. They said it was understood that Fire Chief Miller had recommended a cut in both force and salaries, and they thought a fire would demonstrate the value of both the firemen and guards of the grounds.

CURRENCY CONFERENCE.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The currency bills have been sent to a conference committee, the House having adopted the Ireland bill and the Senate the Aldrich bill.

GIVEN A BIG VERDICT AGAINST LONDON TIMES

LONDON, May 8.—John Murray, the publisher, has obtained a verdict of $37,500 damages against the London Times because the Times accused the publishing firm of extortion in selling the letters of the late Queen Victoria at a high price. This case has been an incident in the war between the Times and the book publishers of London, which began when the Times inaugurated a book club scheme in connection with subscriptions to the paper, and has attracted much attention in London.

DICK MILITIA BILL REPORTED TO SENATE

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The Dick militia bill was reported to the Senate today by Hemenway from the Committee on Military Affairs. It provides that the militia shall consist of every able-bodied male citizen and every able-bodied male of foreign birth who has declared his intention to become a citizen, between the ages of 18 and 45 years. The President is given full authority to call upon the militia in advance of any volunteer force which it may be determined to raise. A limitation upon the cost of equipping the organized militia is fixed to not exceed $2,000,000 in any fiscal year.

Some of the baseball fans who are given to speculation as to the outcome of today's games favor the Saints and the Puns. The money is even on the Kam-Saint game, while odds at 10-8 rule in favor of the Puns in the second game. It is almost certain that the largest crowd of the year will be on hand to see the games this afternoon, as all the teams are prepared to play ball of the best kind.

Jones and the old reliable Bill Vanatta will probably be in the game again for their old team this afternoon, and with them the Saints will have to go some if they want to win out.

Dick Reuter and Jones as the rapid fire battery will be a hard combination to beat this afternoon, although Hampton and Lyman will also be there with the real kind of goods.

Bobbie McCorriston will be at the initial bag this afternoon for the Puns, with the crack Hoogs at second.

A match race at a quarter of a mile will be run this afternoon at the Park between Sonny Gays Sunrise and Dixon's Makala.

The first yachting cruise of 1908 will start this afternoon a little after one, the destination being Waimanalo, where the captains after dinner will meet the members of the regatta committee on board the Hawaii to arrange the dates for the different races this season. Vice Commodore Charles Wilder will be in command of the fleet with his flag on board the Hawaii. The yachts will return to Honolulu some time tomorrow afternoon.

The first yacht race of the year will probably be for the Governor's Cup around the island.

Bill Chillingworth will be in the box for the Diamond Heads this afternoon against the Puns, his arm having entirely recovered from its soreness. Hampton will twirl for the Puns, Reuter for the Kams, and probably Barney Joy for the Saints. Enough said.

Two prizes that are worth winning have been presented by the management of the Hotel and a good time is assured every one who goes down to play.

SANTA CLARA TEAM.

Quite a little interest is being taken in the much talked of visit of the Santa Clara baseball club, inasmuch as they are the pennant holders of the Coast championship, having defeated all the college as well as some of the best professional teams. Many of the big leaguers advanced from the ranks of Santa Clara's baseball squad. In a recent game they put up a class of ball that has seldom been witnessed on any California diamond, defeating the famous San Jose team, a professional aggregation composed of such players as "Stricklett," star National League twirler; Hall Chase, greatest first baseman in the world and a former Santa Clara college boy, now playing at an enormous salary with the New York Americans; "Wolter," the leading pitcher of the National League, another Santa Clara boy, and "Arre-James," one of the fastest men on the Coast. Bill Devereaux, or "Red Dog Bill," as we knew him last year, was also on the opposing team and after an eleven inning game filled with flashy plays, the winning run was finally brought over by Santa Clara, through a squeeze play.

A promising sporting writer on the Coast is quoted as saying: "Never saw such ball. Some of those youngsters will be wearing big league suits before long."

Baseball is a hobby with the students of Santa Clara College, their record dating back to the birth of baseball in California. Honolulu fans are indeed fortunate in securing the visit of this team for their midsummer tournament, and there is no doubt that the season will prove even better than the visit of the "All Star Spalding" team last year.

FAILED TO MOVE

EWA PLANTATION COMPANY LET A PRIVILEGE OF BEING HEARD ESCAPE IT.

A statement of facts handed down by the Supreme Court yesterday—in re assessment of income taxes of Ewa Plantation Company—concludes with the following dictum: "In view of these facts, and of the company's offer before the tax appeal court to show actual expenditures in the nature of running expenses which had been included in its total claim of $1,290,109.76 expended in the production of its crop, this court, upon reversing the decision of the tax appeal court, reserved leave to move for the introduction of the evidence. No such motion being made, the assessment made by the tax assessor was affirmed.

ARGUMENT HEARD ON STANDARD OIL FINE

CHICAGO, May 8.—Arguments in the appeal of the Standard Oil Company from the fine of $29,240,000 imposed by Judge Landis were concluded today. Assistant District Attorney Wilkinson, for the Government, declared that the evidence all tended to show that collusion between the railroads and the oil company existed and there could be no doubt of the guilty knowledge of the defendant company. The Court took the appeal under advisement.

LAW VERSUS WAR.

There can be no question that the topic which dwarfs all others in the minds of all men of every nation is expressed in these three words. Upon them Editor Walter G. Smith of the Advertiser will speak tomorrow evening at the international mass meeting on behalf of world peace in Central Union Church. He will be preceded by Judge Sanford B. Dole whose address will be entitled "Is Peace Practicable?" To this service which is under the management of the Clerical Cabinet and over which Acting Governor E. A. Mott-Smith will preside, the consuls of all nations officially represented in Honolulu have been invited, and by the way the responses are being received the seats reserved for them and their families will be well occupied. The mercantile bodies of the city have also been specially requested to attend. A hearty welcome is also extended to all English speaking merchants and to the public generally. The chorus will sing Dudley Buck's grand "Festival Hymn of Peace" composed for the world's musical jubilee of 1872. A new departure in these "cabinet services" is the fifteen minutes of twilight organ music beginning at 7:15 to which all are invited.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—Just before the transport Crook cleared from Honolulu, seven stowaways were discovered and put ashore, but Willie de Mello, a 15-year-old, dressed himself in a soldier uniform and succeeded in making the trip here.

A Swedish stowaway from Nagasaki arrived with the Crook yesterday, but it is thought he will be compelled to leave on the next transport.

At Nagasaki the Crook took on 1100 tons of coal and at Honolulu an equal amount, in preparation for her trip to Alaska with the Twenty-fifth Infantry. The second battalion of the Fifth Artillery on board, has received orders to proceed to Fort Leavenworth, and the first and second battalions of the Second Infantry to go to Fort Thomas.

RENT TRUST CO

A children's day to visit the ships, might be arranged, as well as a G. A. R. reception.

11. As now arranged, the entire Atlantic squadron, consisting of sixteen war vessels, and other craft, will rendezvous at San Francisco on July 2nd, and will sail for Hawaii on July 7th.

12. I am sorry that I have not time to go into the matter at great length, but I think I have said enough, and you have enough data at hand, to understand the situation. Of course, all I would do with the officers of the fleet would be to agree on certain arrangements, subject, of course, to the approval of your committee, and the ability of the island people to carry them out. Doing this here with the officers, would not only be satisfactory to them, but would make quite a hit.

All matters of naval etiquette, and of who shall attend the various functions in Honolulu, will have to be left to Commander A. W. Grant, chief of the staff.

13. On every side, I hear nothing but pleasant anticipation by members of the fleet, and the enlisted men, of their coming visit to our island territory, and in closing, I might add that Hawaii has a chance to distinguish herself, in many ways. She will be entertaining the grandest, noblest and largest, peaceful armada that ever crossed the Pacific, and I am sure, that every one, prejudiced or feeling to the contrary, is anxious to make her reception a success in every respect, and the way to do that, in my opinion, as well as in the opinion of all, is for the committee to authorize me, by cable, to proceed in the matter, with the assistance which I can get as above mentioned.

14. Frankly, I am afraid that I have gone a little further in this matter than may meet the wishes of some of the Honolulu people, but I think after you have a talk with Taylor and have digested the newspapers and my letters you will be inclined to agree with what I have done, and I hope it meets with your satisfaction. Rest assured that my sole aim in this matter has been to do something for our fleet committee, and the plans we can make with the officers of the fleet here and the prominent entertainers will certainly inure to the benefit of our Honolulu reception, etc.

15. With kindest regards to Mr. Morgan and Mr. Smith, as well as to yourself, and assuring you of my utmost desire to carry out your wishes, I beg to remain.

WADE MUST WAIT

The habeas corpus case of George Wade, the negro whose freedom from jail, where he is now confined as the result of conviction on a charge of murder, is being worked on by Attorney C. C. Bittling, has been continued till further notice.

The case was to have come up today, but the Moses Koli case has the right of way and will last for some time, as every legal point on which there is a chance is being taken up by both defense and prosecution. This will be followed by the John Wynne murder case and it is hard to say when Wade will be heard again.

The application he presented to Acting-Governor Mott-Smith this morning for the restoration of Kakae to civil rights. Kakae was convicted of larceny some ten years ago and given a short term in jail.

One half of the property and income taxes, and the tax on dogs, bicycles, automobiles, wagons, carts, carriages and other vehicles are due and payable now, and will become delinquent on the 15th inst. A penalty of 10 per cent will be added to all such taxes remaining unpaid after the 15th of May.

The habeas corpus case of Anamalia Maunakea, an inmate of the Kalaiki detention camp, was brought up before Judge Lindsay yesterday and the writ asked by Attorney C. W. Ashford was granted on the ground that the procedure of the law had not been followed in the case. An appeal to the Supreme Court was perfected by Attorney-General Hemenway within an hour and the woman is still at the Kalaiki camp.

The Vidor shade introduced by J. Hopp & Co. is the finest thing for your hand or your study windows. You can see out but nobody can see in. They can be raised or lowered like an ordinary shade and are twice as durable and neater looking.

MR. MURAKAMI DIES SUDDENLY

T. Murakami, one of the pioneer Japanese merchants in Hawaii, died suddenly last night at his residence on Hotel street of heart failure.

He was with a number of his friends during the early evening, and seemed to be in his usual good health. He retired shortly after ten o'clock, and when a servant went into his room a few minutes after eleven he was dead.

Mr. Murakami has been in these islands for over twenty years, having been in the importing and general merchandise business for that time. He is survived by a wife and child who are at present in Japan. His remains will probably be sent to Japan on the next steamer which will be on the 25th.

W. Hall, W. R. Castle, G. P. Castle, B. F. Dillingham and C. M. Cooke. The interment will be at Nuuanu cemetery. Friends who wish to give flowers are requested to leave them at the church at the close of tomorrow morning's service. Arthur B. Ingalls, organist of the church, will have charge of the music.
