ANNEXATION AND SAKÉ

VIEWS OF JAPANESE NEWSPAPERS ON HAWAIIAN QUESTIONS.

The Mainichi Says the Saké Duty Will Probably be Put Back to the Old Rate.

The following extracts from Japanese exchanges on Hawaiian matters will be of interest:

THE ANNEXATION QUESTION.

By the annexation of Hawaii by the United States not only Japan's interests in the Pacific, but those of England, Germany and France will also be greatly affected. They will therefore make a formal protest when a proper opportunity arrives. At present they are watching the proceedings of the U. S. Senate and the general attitude of the American people as well as the reply of the U. S. Government to Japan's protest. It is probable that the Powers will protest jointly or singly when the Foreign Affairs Committee reports the result of their investigations to the Senate. Undoubtedly the Senate will carefully consider the question of how the interests of other Powers will be affected by the annexation and objections arising therefrom. Of course the Treaty cannot be hurriedly ratified as the Powers may raise objections after its ratification. It is therefore very important for the Senate to ascertain the attitudes of the Powers before any definite decision is arrived at. The reason why Japan has made a protest as soon as the signing of the annexation became known is that she has done so simply out of friendship so as to make known her views in the matter before formal diplomatic negotiations are opened. The Senate therefore will not regard Japan's action with ill-feeling but will act quite impartially. Supposing, however, the Senate passes the treaty how will Japan act then? The U. S. Secretary of State in reply to Japan's first protest has stated that the annexation of Hawaii does not injure the interests in the Pacific of Japan or any other countries and that Hawaii has, as history shows, for the past 75 years been under the protection of the United States. From this it appears that the determination of America on the subject is very firm. The Japanese Government, however, has not relied on the attitude of other countries from the outset and this policy will be adhered to to the last.—Mainichi.

Since a reply has been received from the United States to Japan's protest with regard to the annexation of Hawaii, the Japanese Government has made another protest. The gist of the latter, according to the Mainichi, is said to be as follows:—As the annexation of Hawaii by the United States is inimical to the maintenance of the existing place in the Pacific Japan must do all in her power for the independence of Hawaii. Japan, therefore, desires to fully enter into negotiations in the matter with the United States irrespective of the attitude of the Senate in order to obtain the necessary guarantee from America not only for the present but for the future.

The French Government is reported to have instructed the Minister to America to investigate the particulars of the annexation problem and report the result of his investigations.

With regard to Mr. Sherman's reply to Japan's protest against the annexation of Hawaii by the United States as wired by Reuter the Hoochi remarks that the true meaning of the reply is not exactly the same as that which has been published though we are not a position to make it public. Nor is it complete. It simply refers to part of the reply. It is the reply to Japan's first protest. Since then Japan has forwarded a second protest and no reply has yet been received to it.

THE HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

San Francisco, July 9.—Mr. Shimamura, Japanese Minister, asked the Hawaiian Government to give a definite answer to the subject of negotiations by the 26th June and the latter on that date positively refused to admit Japan's claim.

As the matter grows serious Councillor Akiyama has decided to return to Japan to report the proceedings to the Government.—Jiji.

SAKÉ DUTY IN HAWAII.

Referring to a recent telegram of the imposition of increased import duty on saké in Hawaii the Mainichi states that the proposal was discussed and passed by the Hawaiian parliament some time ago and afterwards it was promulgated as law. Japan's formal protest was made after it was promulgated and therefore it is reasonable that importers of saké should pay the revised duty after the 1st of July pending the settlement of negotiations on the subject. It has further been agreed upon between the Hawaiian Government and the Japanese Representative in Honolulu that should the duty be restored as heretofore—15 cents per barrel—the difference between the increased duty of $1 shall be paid back to the importers. It is probable that the duty will be again altered to that originally exacted.

MISSING A FORTUNE.

Saw the Lena L. and Thought She Was an Island Craft.

L. L. McCandless reports having seen a strange schooner lying off Keena, on the other side of Waianae, all day last Sunday week. It was undoubtedly the same one reported by the captain of the Mille Morris as having been seen by him lying at anchor there at 6 p. m.

On comparing notes with Marshal Brown Mr. McCandless has no doubt that the schooner was the Lena L. and he now regrets that he did not telephone to the Marshal on the spot. That official figures that McCandless is out $5000 by not doing so, and he figures it up as follows: One-fourth the value of the schooner $500; a dollar a pound for say two tons of opium, and half the fines of the captain and crew, say $500 more. All of which would have accrued to Mr. McCandless, if his timely intelligence had resulted in the capture of the schooner and her supposed cargo. Mr. McCandless says he will report every schooner he sees anywhere near Keena after this.

Reuter's Mistake.

We published on the 22nd of June a Reuter's telegram, dated London, 21st June, stating that M. Gerard had signed a convention with China giving France fresh commercial and political advantages in Southwest China, including the right to work mines in Chinese territory. We now learn on good authority from Peking that there is no foundation for the statement, except that the French Minister had been trying unsuccessfully to put through some such agreement.—N. C. Daily News.

Russian Press Laws Relaxed.

The Russian Minister of the Interior, acting under instructions from the Czar, has alleviated the severity of the press laws in all the larger towns and the cities of the Empire, in fact wherever the population is over 100,000, by exempting the newspapers from the obligation of submitting all articles on political subjects to the censor before publication. Hitherto only a few of the principal papers of St. Petersburg, Moscow, Warsaw and Odessa have enjoyed this immunity.

There arrived in the Belgic and registered at the Hawaiian hotel the following people: Mrs. M. Farber, California; H. P. Grosser and wife, Germany; G. B. Rives, T. D. Leonard, U. S. A.

INTERVIEW WITH DR. DAY

HE TELLS OF THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN JAPAN.

The Consumption of Sugar in Japan Just Equals the Product of Hawaii.

Among returning passengers by the Belgic this morning was Dr. F. R. Day, who has recently been sent to Japan and China on a mission for the government, having for its object the establishment of joint quarantine regulations for intending immigrants to Hawaii or the United States. On this subject Dr. Day declined to say anything at present, as he has prepared a long report for the Board of Health, which will be read at the meeting tomorrow. He met Dr. Brooks, the representative of the United States in this matter, at Hongkong and was with him four or five days. Dr. Brooks expressed himself as highly pleased with the quarantine measures put in force by the Hawaiian Government at Hongkong and elsewhere and promised to report favorably on the project to apply them to all immigrants for United States ports.

Leaving here Dr. Day went direct to Hongkong to meet Dr. Brooks and together they inspected the quarantine arrangements recently inaugurated by the Pacific Mail Company at the suggestion of the Hawaiian Government. Dr. Brooks was unable to return with him, having arranged his itinerary to include a visit to the northern coast of China as far as Tientsin and possibly to Corea.

Dr. Day saw several cases of the plague at Macao and gained much experience in its treatment both there and at Hongkong. At Macao when he left Yokohama there were only one or two cases daily as against forty or fifty a few weeks ago. At Hongkong there were only five cases in all, evidently brought there from outside ports. At Amoy and Formosa ports the plague was reported as raging virulently, but little reliable information could be obtained. The Japanese Government was taking elaborate precautions against it, and every vessel from Formosa, Macao and other infected places was required to report at Japanese quarantine stations, whether there was sickness on board or not.

Returning to Japan Dr. Day visited Kobe, Nagasaki and Tokio and made a two-days' trip into the interior to visit the famous Kusatsu springs, being everywhere accorded the utmost courtesies by Japanese officials. Asked to tell of the political situation there and the feeling on Hawaiian affairs Dr. Day said:

"The present Japanese government, or perhaps I should say the party in power, is not by any means a strong one. The opposition is formidable and the present Cabinet has all it can do to keep in office. Judging from what I learned in conversation with foreigners who have lived a long time in Japan, I should say the country is on the eve of a political revolution which may put an end to the present Ministry at any time. The course of the present government towards Hawaii in the immigration difficulty is conservative and since the annexation treaty has come before the United States Senate will be more so. I was in Shanghai on June 19 when I got the news of President McKinley's action. When I got to Japan the Japanese papers and the common people—the rabble—were furious and if they could have had their own way would no doubt have sent a squadron down and taken forcible possession of the Islands. But the rabble does not control the Japanese government, any more than it does others. The Japanese papers are extremely unreliable, if they can't get at the facts they manufacture something to answer the purpose. That story about a squadron being sent to Hawaii was one of their yarns. While the Japanese Government has denied officially that it ever had any intention of annexing these islands, everything points to an opposite conclusion, and from what I learned on my visit I have no doubt that Japan has long had her eyes in this direction. An attaché of the Tokio Foreign Office significantly remarked to me that the consumption of sugar in Japan just equalled the product of that commodity in Hawaii, and stated that Hawaiian planters need not worry if they lost the American market.

"I was much interested in my visit to the Kusatsu springs," continued the doctor. "They are two days distant from Yokohama and there are no accommodations for European tourists. They are hot springs, gushing out of the mountain side everywhere. The water has a temperature of from 128 to 138 degrees Fahrenheit, is strongly impregnated with sulphur and contains much free sulphuric and hydrochloric acid, so much that it tastes just like hot lemonade. The water is not drunk, however, but used for bathing. The Japanese are very fond of hot baths and will lie for hours in water at a temperature that would cook Europeans. These springs have been noted for over a thousand years and are greatly resorted to by people from all parts of the Empire. They are visited annually by over 400 lepers alone, and it was partly for observing their effect on leprosy that I visited them."

THE WOOSUNG INCIDENT.

One Theory of the Affront to H. M. S. Immortalite.

In the BULLETIN a few days ago an account was given of the firing of shots across the bows of the British warship Immortalite by Chinese artillerymen, and the response of clearing the ship for action which was made. A letter appears in the Japan Gazette of July 12, which treats the incident harshly as follows:

"Sir,—Although some Chinese are the biggest fools under the sun, especially Chinese military (save the mark) mandarins, the yarn which was concocted to explain the attack of the Woosung forts upon H. M. S. Immortalite is really a trifle too thin for ordinary consumption. 'I am strongly inclined to think that the excuse was all ready prepared before the attack was made, and that it had some connexion with the proposed wheel-barrow riot.'

"It may have occurred to the idiotic imbeciles in charge of the forts (by the way, are not some foreign instructors at these forts?) that they could scare off the Immortalite and thus ensure the rioters a freer hand than they otherwise would have had, but whether or not this be so, they are such blooming idiots, from a military point of view, that nothing they might do should astonish or be too ridiculous to the eyes of

"ONE WHO KNOWS 'EM."

THE HOUSEHOLD.

A New Discovery in Pies Related in Good Housekeeping.

Some time ago I was making some custard pies and found at the last moment I had no flavoring in the house, neither lemons, oranges, coconut or anything else available. I had boiled the custard, and what should I add to give it taste? There was a half cupful of fine white cherries, canned ones, in the cupboard, so I hurriedly stirred them in, put on my meringue, browned it nicely and was charmed with the result. So I thought if cherries would do why not other fruit?

For the custard for 2 pies take a pint of sweet milk and boil it. Have beaten together the yolks of 3 eggs, half a cupful of sugar and 2 tablespoonfuls of corn-starch or flour. Stir into the boiling milk. It should be quite stiff if it is to be thinned by any fruit. For the pie crust use 4 cupfuls of flour, a cupful of lard, salt and as little water as possible. Handle lightly and roll out, fill the pie pans, prick well and bake. If carefully made, this is almost equal to puff paste. Add half a cupful of sugar to 3 beaten whites of eggs for a meringue for 2 pies.

Peach Custard.—Make the plain custard and add half a cupful of mashed and sweetened peaches to each pie. Cover with a meringue and brown in the oven.

Strawberry Custard.—To the plain custard add a half cupful of fresh or canned strawberries for each pie. Cover with a meringue.

A plain strawberry tart is made by mashing thoroughly a cupful of strawberries; sweeten and put into a pastry shell, beat the white of one egg, add one-fourth cupful of sugar, spread over the strawberries and brown. This is delicious and so simple.

Lemon Custard.—Grate off the yellow rind; then cut the lemon in two and extract the juice. Add the grated rind and juice of one lemon, sweetened, to the custard for two pies. Never add fruit juices until the custard is taken off the stove. Add the meringue and brown. Orange tarts are made in the same way.

Banana Custard.—Slice one banana through the custard for one pie and add a drop of lemon juice if convenient.

Style in Dining Chairs.

A dining room chair to be comfortable should have a seat that is not too soft and should be of the right height to permit the sitter to use his knife and fork with ease. The carver's and the tea or coffee pourer's chairs should be more elevated than the rest, and they generally have arms, also higher backs than the others. In illustration of these points The Standard Designer shows a number of fashionable chairs. All these with arms are carving or tea chairs. One, of most comfortable aspect, has a striped covering and is designed for the lady who attends to the tea things. A very handsome article is in carved oak.

In luxurious style is a chair of rosewood with seat of flowered velvet. The new style green oak figures in a handsome carving chair with arms, while another specimen, also for the carver's use, is of polished oak, high backed, with arms and with a seat of brown leather.

For more than fifty years has PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER stood the test against all remedies prepared to eradicate pain, and today stands at the head of the list among the medicines that are so essential to keep at hand in the home.

It is not a new fangle remedy nor do the proprietors lay claim to any wonderful revelation of the ingredients that enter into the manufacture of this ever popular remedy.

It is perfectly harmless, you need have no fear of becoming habitually inclined to its use.

For Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, Colds, and all painful affections, a few doses will certainly give relief. You cannot afford to be without a bottle in the house.

Your forefathers used it and found it beneficial.

Why experiment with some remedy that is new and its effect on the system unknown?

It has many rivals but no equal.

The new 35c. size contains over double the quantity of the 25c. size.

TORRENS LAND ACT.

Went into Force in California on July

1—Law Not Compulsory.

County officers and others have been sending letters of inquiry to Attorney-General Fitzgerald lately as regards the Torrens land act, which went into effect the last inst. says a late Call. Accordingly, he and Secretary of State Brown have had a meeting and prepared the forms necessary for going through the legal procedure.

The intention of the law is to better the system of ascertaining titles to real estate by making it unnecessary to go back to the Noachian era every time it is desired to make a transfer of property. By proper application owners of realty may go into the Superior Court and have the status of the title declared. Under the order of court a certificate of title will be issued to the owner and a copy be kept on record. Upon transfer of the property thereafter the only thing necessary will be to transfer the certificate to the purchaser, as the certificate will always serve as an abstract of the title.

The substitution of the new system for the old will take place gradually, for the law does not make it compulsory on property-owners to observe its provisions. Applications, however, on account of the simplicity of the method, will be likely to come forward pretty rapidly.

A water tank with capacity of 10,000 gallons is placed on a tower at an elevation sufficient to give a good water pressure in second story of the Main Building.

This tank is supplied from an Artesian well on adjoining premises, owned by Dr. J. S. McGrew.

The buildings and grounds are thoroughly lighted with Electric Light.

Plans of the Buildings and grounds can be seen at the office of the Minister of the Interior.

Upset price: $60,000.00.

In case there is no bidder to purchase the property at the above upset price, a lease of the same will immediately be offered for sale at an upset price of $4000 a year for a period of thirty years under the conditions set out in Act 7, Laws of 1896—and more particularly of Sections 2 and 4 of said Act which reads as follows:

"Section 2. Every such lease shall contain a covenant on the part of the lessee that he shall, during the first four years of the term of the lease, cause to be erected upon the leased premises a fire proof building of Brick, Stone or Metal, in a workmanlike manner, satisfactory to the Minister of the Interior at not less than a stated cost; and keep the same suitably insured at not less than two-thirds of its value for the benefit of the lessor; and shall keep the building in good repair during the remainder of the term of lease, reasonable use and wear thereof only excepted; and in case of damage or destruction of such building by fire, shall make good such loss or damage by the necessary repairs or reconstruction or else surrender the insurance to the lessor.

"Section 4. Every such lease shall also contain a covenant on the part of the lessor, that upon the request in writing by the lessee or his representatives, before the expiration thereof, the premises with the improvements, shall, if all of the conditions to be performed by the lessee have been satisfactorily performed, be put up at auction for a lease for a term of not over twenty years; unless said premises shall be required for public uses, of which the lessee shall receive at least one year's notice. Such auction sale shall be held not more than six months nor less than one month before the expiration of said term."

The cost of building to be erected in accordance with Section 2 as above quoted, is placed at $50,000.

JAPANESE FINANCES.

Budget statements of the Japanese Government are being analyzed by the native press. One of the criticisms copied by an English paper illustrates that things are not always what they seem. The budget for the 29th year, voted at the ninth and tenth sessions of the Diet, gave 207,230,075.415 yen revenue and 203,458,079.895 yen expenditure, thus prediguring a surplus of 3,771,995.52 yen. The National Register gave the national accounts entered up to June 30 last, showing the revenue to have been 186,886,312.981 yen, and the expenditure 186,890,243.350 yen, leaving a surplus of 19,996,069.631 yen. Upon this the critic remarks that some people may infer that the expansion of the expenditure may be easily disposed of, as the estimates for a surplus of 3,700,000 yen have actually brought about 20 million yen. He shows, however, that the surplus was not procured by an increase of the revenue, because the revenue had actually fallen below the estimate by more than 20 million yen. Also he shows that more than 20 million yen was from the Chinese indemnity and not disbursed, while of 43,745,000 yen which was to be raised in the form of public works loan only four million was raised. The sum of the two should be deducted from the revenue, when the true surplus would be 4,419,651.567 yen. The surplus was caused by a decrease of 36 million yen in the expenditure—not from its politic curtailment, however, but because public undertakings did not progress sufficiently to justify the estimated outlay. "The production of the surplus for the 29th year," the Chugai Shogyo concludes, "is therefore not at all a healthy sign."

UNITED STATES TEA.

Hawaii can hardly obtain a walkover in the American market with any of its staple products, present or prospective, unless sugar be excepted for a while. This country will meet with competition in articles of tropical growth, not only from Mexico and the farther South, but from the sub-tropical zone of the United States. Quality, that depends on skill in preparing and packing as well as in cultivation, will therefore be of the first importance to attain in all the exports that we would profitably market in the United States. There is a prospect even now that our tea industry, more infantile than the coffee though still promising well, is to have the rivalry of a home-grown article in the United States. Mr. Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture in President McKinley's Cabinet, has already received the report of a veteran horticulturist whom he sent to investigate the tea-farming industry carried on at Summerville, South Carolina. An idea of the nature of the report is had from the following summary given in a late Washington dispatch:

"The report says the labor question is the most important one in the economics of this business in this country. It estimates the minimum cost to pick one pound of tea in South Carolina about eight times as much as that paid for the same service in Asia. In districts favored with sufficient heat and rains, plants furnish from fifteen to twenty pickings yearly. In the South Carolina fields the conservation of moisture by draining is enhanced by systematic surface culture. The report suggests that it seemed impracticable to compete with the cheap Oriental labor, and, while some of the processes of development have been left to machinery, the picking of leaves requires discrimination in selection and has to be done by hand, but the problem has been met by establishing a small colored school where tea picking is included. Seeds have been imported from all tea regions, especially from high altitudes. A vegetation of one-third of the seeds is a general average, and the loss of a whole importation is no novelty. With careful pruning plants here should maintain their pristine vigor for forty years, but pruning is a costly manipulation. The report urges the development of knowledge as to tea raising by means of schools."

A horse in a King street cross-bench tramcar this morning kicked at a newspaper man who was mounting the front settee and reaching out his fare. Perhaps it was one of Bristol's educated nags left behind, which took that way of warning the passenger to look out the money box didn't fall on his corns.

It will be a funny old Legislature of this Republic which will not only put Japanese sake back to its old lay in the tariff, but vote to refund the dealers all the increased duties they shall have already paid on the liquors.

It has gratified the BULLETIN to learn that its suggestion of a local company to buy the Hawaiian hotel and put it on a first-class footing is being considered by business men who are ready to invest in the project.

Japanese newspapers are ranging the European powers against the annexation of Hawaii by the United States. What will they say to their readers if the powers don't stay put?

YESTERDAY'S CRICKET MATCH.

The Eleven from H. M. S. Penguin beaten by Local Players.

A very interesting game of cricket was played on the old baseball ground, Makiki, on Monday afternoon between the Honolulu Cricket club and H. M. S. Penguin.

The home team went first to the bat and succeeded in making a score of 106 by good steady play. The Penguin eleven made a very poor start, four wickets falling for two runs, and six for thirteen, and it was not until Lieut. Brewis was joined by Mr. Toop that the score began to increase. Lieut. Waugh and Deane did some very good batting; so did H. Herbert for the Honolulu eleven. The bowling of Maloney was very good and uniform—very few runs being made in his overs. A. St. M. Mackintosh was up to his usual form and bowled exceedingly well, performing, what is the delight of all bowlers, the "hat-trick"—that is, bowling three men out in three successive balls. It is to be regretted that Mr. Kane is about to return to Hawaii, for his fielding will be greatly missed. Yesterday he was on the spot whenever a ball came his way and made a good and useful catch which dismissed Lieut. Brewis from the field.

There will be practice on Wednesday and Friday evenings on the ground in front of the Barracks.

Timely Topics

July 20, 1897.

"In time of peace prepare for war" is an excellent adage, and one which the United States evidently believed in when the new navy was built. We in Hawaii have especial reason to be thankful that in times of peace such a magnificent specimen of marine architecture as the battleship Oregon was made ready for such emergencies as the present, and should take the lesson to heart, not alone in national affairs but in those of the household. Suppose the Japanese fleet should blockade Honolulu, for instance, we should soon find ourselves running short of lots of little household necessities other than provisions.

This week we have one of our windows filled with an assortment of articles necessary in every kitchen. Buy them today while you have a chance. Among them may be enumerated chopping bowls, all sizes and shapes, egg beaters, lemon squeezers, chopping knives in several varieties, nutmeg graters, gem ice shavers, butter moulds, fruit pickers, rolling pins and bread boards.

Another useful novelty is the family butter case which just holds one roll; the butter can be cut off as needed without moving it from the case.

See that your kitchen is supplied with all these requisites before the war breaks out.

AYER'S ARGUMENT.

If there is any reason why you should use any sarsaparilla, there is every reason why you should use Ayer's. When you take sarsaparilla you take it to cure disease; you want to be cured as quickly as possible and as cheaply as possible. That is why you should use Ayer's: it cures quickly and cheaply—and it cures to stay. Many people write us: "I would sooner have one bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla than three of any other kind." A druggist writes that "one bottle of Ayer's will give more benefit than six of any other kind." If one bottle of Ayer's will do the work of three it must have the strength of three at the cost of one. There's the point in a nutshell. It pays every way to use

 Mr. C. W. MACFARLANE:—It affords me pleasure to recommend, to any one whose hair is falling out, the use of DR. After using the oil for five weeks this ceased entirely; none whatever is now falling out. I consider it the best and only worthy remedy for this trouble.

The Sea Serpent's Successor.

Never more will the sea serpent bristling. Squirting flames from his nostrils, sport on the crest of the billow that's whistling. As the star of the summer summer. He must soon, as the hot weather hummer. Hide his head in the desert coral cave. For the airship's the star of the summer. That's the supreme on the land and the wave.

First the airship ascends Saccarappa. Then it's down to Santuctus it flies; Then it fits like a wrath over Napa. While emitting Greek fire from its eyes. Oh, it sports in a whirlwindy fashion. Leaving sulphurous fumes in its wake. And the bonfire bet in his passion. 'Twill the crown from the sea serpent rule.

The hotel men are novelties seeking. For they wish to remain in the swim. Oh, the serpent with moth holes is reeking. Though with camphor he's filled to the brim. He is coiled in the cellar, must tainted. Like the hose that along the lawn squirts. Ne'er again with bright stripes he'll be painted. In the style of our gay summer shirts.

Then hurrah for the airship uncanny. While it glides with propellers pomp. From Bersheba over to Dany. Through the forest and alpine dripping swamp! Wave reflected as in a smooth pier glass. May it like the proud albatross soar. And be seen through the tip tilted beer glass. When the sea serpent wriggles no more.

The Only Obstacle.

Advance Agent (in Oklahoma)—What! Only one dressing room in this theater? You surely don't expect a dramatic company of 18 ladies and gentlemen to dress in the one room, do you?
 Manager. Dinks (of the Spread Eagle theater)—What's the matter? Hain't they on speaking terms?—Puck.

Here Reasons.

Why people come long distances to buy at the Palama Grocery. Reason No. 1—Because one customer tells another how much they saved by dealing at this live and let live establishment. Reason No. 2—Because the saving from their grocery bill helps them to pay their house rent. If you don't believe what our customers say, just give us a call and be convinced.

The O & O S S Belgic, Commander J H Rinder, moored to the Pacific Mail wharf at 7 o'clock this morning with the following memoranda from Purser Niswander: from Hongkong, 6th; Amoy, 7th; Shanghai, 10th; Nagasaki, 12th; Kobe, 14th, and Yokohama, 19th. Passage from Yokohama, 10 days. The Belgic leaves for the Coast this afternoon.

The American bark Ceylon, Calhoun master, with a cargo of flour and feedstuffs consigned to Allen & Robinson, 23 days from Seattle arrived in port this morning and docked at Allen street. It is probable that the Ceylon and other vessels will be regularly employed hereafter in bringing flour cargoes from the Portland Flouring Mills of Tacoma and the Novelty Flour Mills of Seattle.

One of the greatest mysteries of the sea of the last twenty years is the fate of the Japanese war vessel, the Unbe Kan, which was lost in the summer of 1886. The vessel was making her first trip from France, where she was built, out to Japan, and the theory was that she struck on a sunken rock near the entrance to the Inland sea, foundered and went down with all hands. Not a scrap of wreckage was ever found. Now news comes from the Pescadores, off Formosa, that a cabin door and several other articles from the vessel have been found in the hut of a fisherman on those islands. The natives told the Japanese police official who found these relics that a big ship went ashore in a great storm off the coast years ago.—Exchange.

Most anything will go down our throats, excepting the story about the exclusive batter's five-dollar hat being better than ours at two fifty, because his name is inside.

If we could put old heads on young shoulders, there'd be but one store in town selling clothes for little fellows. It takes an old head to know what's best—in clothes. Today's offerings are a study in economics
