ANTISHAMUS'S MEDLEY.

A friend of mine once said in reference to a friend of his, "He is an exceedingly nice man, with the very best of intentions, and always so polite and affable, but he is such an ass." I meet with men every day, both in public and private life, of whom my friend's language is wonderfully descriptive, particularly the concluding sentence, and am not without suspicion that I am another.

Sense and reason concede that in public affairs measures are of greater moment than men. Politicians are apt to lose sight of measures in their preference for particular men, actuated thereto by feelings of friendship or motives of self-interest; but measures are what concern the general public. Yet the fact remains, that measures depend upon men—for their conception and execution. Without men there can be no measures, and men unfitted by nature or education cannot formulate or execute measures.

By what authority does the Government exchange a public property for a private property? I understand that this has been done under circumstances which indicate that the Government has exceeded its legal prerogative. The public property was worth more than the private property, and persons were ready and anxious to give more for the former than was asked for the latter; and if the public property had been submitted to public competition, as the law requires, it would have realized a materially larger sum than the private property would have fetched similarly submitted. If the case is rightly understood by me, I suspect that the Government has "erred and strayed" from the law and the public interests.

Rev. S. E. Bishop likes to talk plainly, and some people dislike him for it, not including Antishamus. A man who has the pluck to utter his convictions is a man to be admired. I have read his essay in the "Friend," on the native race. Perhaps all his statements and conclusions are absolute truth; perhaps some of them are extreme; I believe the latter. Anyhow, the article seems out of place in the "Friend." In a medical journal, or any class of paper or periodical not intended for general family use, it could not be objected to on the ground of unsuitability; but the "Friend" is not the place for it. The "Police Gazette" is just as good family reading; in fact, I would prefer it. From this on, don't accuse the daily papers of admitting improper matter.

Mr. Correa likes Washington Territory, and thinks it a good place for the Portuguese who are dissatisfied with these islands. I don't. That is, I don't like Washington Territory, and I don't think it a good place for Portuguese. I know a trifle about that country myself, and some of my clan who have spent years there think less of it than I do and dislike it more. I embraced the first opportunity of getting out of it, and was glad of the chance. Nobody was sorry and nobody missed me, except a few creditors, a class of people distinguished for close attachment to their debtors. Washington Territory has too much frost and snow to be pleasant for people accustomed to tropical or semi-tropical climates. Then there is no room there. The Territory is big enough, and there is a plenty land; but it is all occupied. Every clear spot is occupied by man, and the rest by dense forests. Trees are very good in their place, but they are in the way when you want to cultivate the soil. All the Portuguese in the country may go to Washington Territory if they wish, and Correa along with them, for anything I care; but I am not on. I would rather vegetate in this sunny clime than revel among plunder in that chilly region.

I like the "Hilo Record," but I don't always agree with it. I thought very highly of my mother, but considered her decidedly in error when she applied the birch to my bare back. The "Record" believes that "no reasonable man will claim that the present Ministry are perfect." That is my opinion, too. It does not think "that in all things they have done what was best." We agree again. The "Record" further believes that it was not "the best" to retain in office some of the old officials, "notoriously in the Interior and Finance Departments," but that "justice" to persons "in the ranks of Reform" required that the latter should be placed in the offices of the former. Here the "Record" and Antishamus cross swords. The "Record" smells of the doctrine, "to the victors belong the spoils," which thing Antishamus hates. Reformers, before the revolution, were supposed to want purity of Government, and not the emoluments of office; but subsequent events have tended to dissipate this belief, and the "Record" utterance helps in that direction. My opinion is, that most of the men retained in office by the present Cabinet, were wisely retained, they being capable and faithful men. Of some of their appointees I haven't so good an opinion.

The privilege to growl is said to be an Englishman's safety-valve; and therefore his most precious inheritance: its use is the salvation of his mental boiler. The people of this country have as much freedom to growl as the people of England or the people of any other country, and they are just as ready to avail themselves of the privilege. Perhaps it is well they are. Dissatisfied thoughts and feelings are better let out than kept pent up inside. A hearty growl occasionally is a great relief to the system, and helps to make life bearable. Growing in print appears to be the most effective method of clearing the liver. When a man sees his growl in a newspaper he feels a depth of satisfaction which a mere verbal utterance fails to bring. By stopping the action of this safety-valve the boiler is endangered, and sooner or later an explosion will result, with damaging consequences. Some people are constitutionally opposed to every species of growling, and above all abhor newspaper growling. They don't know how much good it does to the growlers. Others profess to be cautious to all growls, saying that they are nothing but wind. Yes, but wind is a powerful agent, and effects stupendous consequences sometimes. Those who are the objects of growls are not always wise in receiving them with deaf ears or proud indifference. Better investigate them, and see if in the heaps of chaff there are not some grains of sense and reason. Forget not the history of this country, which shows that indifference to popular growls led to the downfall of the power which governed this country less than two years ago.

The "Hilo Record" says, "If it had not been for the decision of the Supreme Court on the veto question, which in our humble mind we believe to be erroneous, we to-day would have had a government entirely under the control of the people." Now, in my humble mind I believe the "Record's" opinion to be erroneous. If the Court's decision is erroneous, it is because the Constitution is erroneous. The decision simply harmonizes with the plain language of that document. The Supreme Court has no authority to decide that white is the regulation color when written law says that black is. As to the Government being "entirely under the control of the people," it is just as near that point as any government in the world, and a great deal nearer than most. The United States, numbering sixty millions of people, boast that their government is "the people's government," and their government is good enough for me; but their government is no more "under the control of the people" than the Government of the Hawaiian Islands. The President of the United States has a veto power, and so has the King of the Hawaiian Kingdom. The President's veto can be overridden; so can the King's; and both in a precisely similar way. Almost every veto the King sent to the last Legislature was disannulled—one only excepted, I think—showing how little the King's veto amounts to when the Legislature is against it. It is utter nonsense to complain that "the people" are lacking in power to control the Government under the present constitution. Going back again to the Supreme Court, it strikes me that when the "Record" undertakes to teach the Judges he is instructing his maternal progenitor how to extract the germ of incipient gallinacea from the conchoidal integument.

ANTISHAMUS.

DEFENSE OF KAHUNAS.

EDITOR BULLETIN:—Allow me space in your valuable columns to say something in regard to enlightened medical profession versus the Hawaiian medicine man. Much has been said of late in derogatory terms of kahunas as being "unquestionably one of the curses of the Hawaiian race." Curse it may be to us Hawaiians, but it is unquestionably true, that the kahunas do make a cure after the enlightened medical man has given up a case, and there are many instances to prove this assertion. Suffice it to say that the kahuna treatment, in certain instances, is false, the same as foreign quack doctors, but it is true in very many instances, and they use very simple remedies, taken directly from Nature's vast drug shop. If kahunas are a curse to the Hawaiian race, I may here add that doctors are also. Why not put doctors under the same legal restrictions as the kahunas? When a doctor fails to effect any improvement in a patient and the patient dies, nothing more is said about it, for science has done all it could in the matter, but when it is known that the failure was on the part of a kahuna, what a howl goes up to implore heaven to pour down destruction on the head of the sorcerer, otherwise, the kahuna. Your correspondent, as a Hawaiian, understands the Hawaiian's opinion on this point, and emphatically states that doctors are as much in the fault, and more, than are the Hawaiians.

The general Hawaiian impression is that it is a foregone conclusion amongst medical men to annihilate our race, and that the doctors have been the main cause of the destruction of the race, but I do not impute such grave charges to the profession. Before civilization and before Christianity first set foot on these shores, kahunas thrived and flourished, and the race also flourished, but since the race has dwindled down, and the medical profession has not been able to stem the downward stride of the national deceleration, I am not a firm believer in sorcery, as practised by some kahunas, but I am a believer that kahunas have as many virtues as doctors, and I have my own reasons for so believing, as I have been an eye-witness to some of their doings. There are some foreigners who believe that kahunas can do things which doctors have given up all hopes of. What I would like very much to see is a legal enactment whereby a person can be treated for any ailment according to the dictates of his own conscience, the same as is provided for in the fundamental law of the country, that a person may worship according to the dictates of his own conscience. Compulsory legislation, that a man must go to doctors for bodily ailment and to a certain religious denomination for spiritual welfare is, I think, of no benefit at all to the general cosmopolitan race of our kingdom, but let him who wishes to win a race run for it.

Excuse me, Mr. Editor, for trespassing so long on your space. I subscribe myself as KAHUNA LAPAAU.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

In another column will be found some most interesting facts and figures from the forty-fourth annual report of the New York Life Insurance Company for 1888. The total income of the company is over twenty-five millions; new insurance written, over one hundred and twenty-five million dollars; assets, over ninety-three million dollars; insurance in force, nearly four hundred and twenty million dollars. All these items show increases over the figures of 1887, from an increase of over half a million in interest receipts to an increase of sixty millions in insurance in force. There is something really astonishing in these figures. Mr. C. O. Berger is the general agent for the company in these islands.

NO TROUBLE AT PANAMA.

The U. S. Department of State has received dispatches from Consuls of the United States at Panama and Colon Feb. 25, in regard to the situation of affairs on the isthmus. The Consuls report no disorders had taken place up to February 13th, and that no trouble was anticipated because of the final collapse of De Lesseps' company. The event of the collapse had been discounted by the fact that a gradual suspension of work has been going on for the last two months and the overflow had drifted out easily and in several directions. The West India negroes were returning to their homes at the rate of about 500 a week, and the French steamers three times a month were taking 200 or 300 Frenchmen each. The Chilean Consul at Panama was also shipping about 300 white laborers per month to Chile, nominally to work on railways. The Consuls thought that if the collapse had taken place all at once, as was at first expected, there would have been serious danger of a disturbance.

With much secrecy and difficulty the first incineration has occurred in Paris, the body which was reduced to ashes being that of a boy eleven years old, the son of the Russian Dr. Jacoby.

By order of the Trustees of His Majesty's Estate, I will sell at Public Auction

On TUESDAY, March 12, 1889,

AT 12 O'CLOCK NOON.

At my Salesroom, Queen street, that desirable property known as

The Leilehua Ranch

Situated on the Island of Oahu. The Ranch comprises about 9,000 acres of land, mostly held in long leases from the Commissioners of Crown Lands, as follows:

Land of Waianae Uka!

Containing 11,700 Acres.

Part of this land called NANAKULI, containing 3,000 acres, is used as a racing paddock, capable of supplanting from 500 to 700 head of cattle. In connection with and adjoining Waianae Uka are the Lands of Waikakalo, 500 acres; Kaleia, 400 acres; and Poupou, 80 acres. These lands make the Estate Leases a part of the Waianae Uka. The Cattle, comprise from

2,500 to 3,000 Head!

Branded X, about 700 of these are at the fattening paddock at Nanakuli. Among the cattle are a number of good well-bred Bulls.

The Ranch owns 23 Work Horses and Colts and 2 Mules. Also, 3 Ox Carts, Yokes, etc.

The Ranch is conveniently divided into paddocks, 2 large ones being near the Ranch house and 1 at Waikakalo; also, 3 Sets of Double Pens.

The Ranch is nearly all fenced, having 18 miles of fencing. The Dwellings, comprise,

Ranch House &amp; Dwelling House

At Ewa, With Stables, Iron Water Tanks, etc.

A portion of the land at Ewa is planted with cane.

The close proximity of this Estate to Honolulu, together with the large area of pasture and the amount of Stock, render this one of the most desirable investments offered for sale.

Whale Boats.

IN answer to several enquiries concerning Whale Boat Frames, we have now in course of construction, 3 Whale Boat Frames 74 feet by 32 feet long. These frames are built in one piece of oak, and held to shape, thus requiring little tuck to set them up and build. The full frame for such boats, including cuts, 45 sections in number, is sold at $28; with large stuns on keel, and ready to plant $40. They are not intended to be clinker built, nor are the frail imported whale boats proper, but are intended for rough use and durability, yet light enough for fishing and trading purposes. We have exported these frames and intend doing so, and make this offer to amateurs and others desirous of trying their hand, with plenty of leisure and small cash to make a business. Will bend frames to any given model from 5 to 25 tons. Also on hand for sale Surf and Pleasure Boats, Steams, Knees and Timbers. Mutual Telephone No 325.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM A VETERAN.

AS this is Jubilee year it tends to make one look back and think of the flight of time, and in this way I am reminded that I am one of the veterans in the sale of your valuable and successful medicine. I have sold it from the very first, and have sent it into every country in England and many parts of Scotland. Well do I remember the first circular you sent out some nine or ten years ago. You had come to England from America to introduce Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and I was struck by a paragraph in which you used these words:—"Being a stranger in a strange land, I do not wish the people to feel that I want to take the least advantage over them. I feel that I have a remedy that will cure disease, and I have so much confidence in it that I authorize my agents to refund the money if people should say that they have not benefited by its use." I felt at once that you would never say that unless the medicine had merit, and I applied for the agency, a step which I now look back upon with pride and satisfaction.

Ever since that time I have found it by far the best remedy for Indigestion and Dyspepsia I have met with, and I have sold thousands of bottles. It has never failed in any case where there were any of the following symptoms:—Nervous or sick headache, sourness of the stomach, rising of the food after eating, a sense of fullness and heaviness, dizziness, bad breath, slime and mucus on the gums and teeth, constipation, and yellowness of the eyes and skin, dull and sleepy sensations, ringing in the ears, heartburn, loss of appetite, and, in short, wherever there are signs that the systems is clogged, and the blood is out of order. Upon repeated inquiries, covering a great variety of ailments, my customers have always answered, "I am better," or "I am perfectly well." What I have seldom or never seen before in the case of any medicine is that people tell each other of its virtues, and those who have been cured say to the suffering:—"Go and get Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, it will make you well." Out of the hundreds of cures I will name one or two that happen to come into my mind.

Two old gentlemen, whose names they would not like me to give you, had been martyrs to Indigestion and Dyspepsia for many years. They had tried all kinds of medicine without relief. One of them was so bad he could not bear a glass of ale. Both were advised to use the Syrup and both recovered, and were as hale and hearty as men in the prime of life.

A remarkable case is that of a house painter named Jeffries, who lived at Penhurst, in Kent. His business obliged him to expose himself a great deal to wind and weather, and he was seized with rheumatism, and his joints soon swelled up with dropsy, and were very stiff and painful. Nothing that the doctors could do seemed to reach the seat of the trouble. It so crippled him that he could do hardly any work, and for the whole of the winter of 1878 and '79, he had to give up and take to his bed. He had been afflicted in this sorry way for three years, and was getting worn out and discouraged. Besides, he had spent over £13 for what he called "doctor's stuff" without the least benefit. In the Spring he heard of what Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup has done for others and bought a 2s. 6d. bottle of me. In a few days he sent me word he was much better—before he had finished the bottle. He then sent me for a 4s. 6d. bottle, and as I was going that way I carried it down to him myself. On getting to his house what was my astonishment and surprise to find him out in the garden weeding an onion bed. I could hardly believe my own eyes, and said:—"You ought not to be out here, man, it may be the death of you, after being laid up all winter with rheumatism and dropsy."

His reply was:—"There is no danger. The weather is fine, and Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup has done for me in a few days what the doctors could not do in three years. I think I shall get well now."

He kept on with the Syrup, and in three weeks he was at work again, and has had no return of the trouble for now nearly ten years. Any medicine that can do this should be known all over the world.

Yours faithfully, (Signed) RUPERT GRAHAM, Of Graham & Son, Holloway House, Sunbury, Middlesex, June 25th, 1887.

The above wonderful cure of Rheumatism was the result of the remarkable power of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup to cleanse the blood of the poisonous humours that arise from Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup is for sale by all chemists and medicine vendors, and by the proprietors, A. J. White, Limited, 35, Farringdon Road, London, Eng.
