ROOSEVELT LOSES IN NEW YORK

BOTH SIDES CLAIM THE LOCAL VICTORY

PARTY VOTE WILL CARRY EVERYTHING, SAYS ATKINSON

There is more straight ticket voting today than ever before in the history of territorial elections," said Chairman Atkinson of the Republican Territorial Central Committee today, after visiting many of the precincts where voting was going on. "The developments of the day only confirm me in the opinion that we shall make a clean sweep. There are many Republicans, I know, who are doubtful about one or two important local offices. But I look for a strict party vote that will carry everyone through. That is what I am figuring on. I hope and expect a Republican party vote today which will elect even the Republicans who run behind their ticket."

GLAD CAMPAIGN IS OVER

"I'm glad it's over," was the sentiment of most of the candidates and apparently most of the people of Honolulu with regard to the political campaign today. For most of the candidates it has been an unusually strenuous contest, and it has been a longer one than usual. It began too early, in the opinion of most of those who have taken part, but it kept up a rapid pace to the end.

The two leaders, Kuhio and McCandless, both show the effects of weeks of strenuous work, day and night. They have chased one another over every precinct in the Hawaiian Islands for about four weeks, and the traveling, as well as the speechmaking, has been hard. It was feared that Kuhio would not be able to hold out, on account of his throat affection, but he finished in fair condition, and was able to make a long speech last night. McCandless, who appeared to enjoy and even fatten on the campaigning at the start, shows now the effects of the hard work.

QUIET ELECTION SCARE OVER INFANT DISEASE UNWARRANTED

Honolulu was extremely quiet this morning, and the only thing to indicate that a general election was in progress was the number of automobiles that spun around the city with flags or distinguishing devices on them.

Everywhere it was quiet. The streets were practically deserted, and what few people who were standing around seemed to be discussing the political situation. Automobiles were at a premium; in fact they could not be obtained, every one having been

VOTING SLOW IN SOME PRECINCTS, WITH CROWDS IN LINE

Today's election proved one of lively hustling. Every automobile in the city was engaged, either in carrying candidates and others who are interested, to the various precincts, or in carrying voters to the polls. The voting did not start rapidly in many places. Between fifty and sixty per cent of the registration was the average of votes cast up to 1 o'clock. A quick round of the polling places between twelve and one o'clock showed pretty rapid voting almost everywhere. Inquiries among the various "runners" and party workers on every hand brought forth the statement that the Republican Territorial ticket appeared to be running far ahead. The runners also agreed generally that a hard fight was on over the offices of sheriff and deputy sheriff of Honolulu, as well as in saying that Shingle was beating Trent for treasurer and Lane in all probal defeating Fern for mayor.

FOURTH DISTRICT

The biggest crush at the polls was in the Kakaako precinct the sixth of the Fourth. At noon there were over forty voters in line awaiting their turns and all the voting booths were full. The voting was slow, with a prospect that some voters would get left. At half past twelve only 192 votes had been cast out of the total of 473 registered. At the rate the votes were being cast, it would be impossible to poll the full registration. Many of the voters took a long time to mark their ballots, in this precinct. A big crowd was on hand all morning. There was speechifying from the linal of a house across the street from the voting place, and the atmosphere was dense with the odor from the government stables which didn't encourage visitors to stay long.

Another precinct where there was a line of voters in waiting at noon is the twelfth of the Fourth, on Punchbowl. Party workers were specially in evidence here. "Kuhio is running far ahead," said the runners. They further reported some even contests on county tickets. Associate Supreme Justice Perry was among those in the line waiting a turn to vote shortly before noon.

The following, printed on a dodger in both English and Portuguese, was being well circulated in this precinct. In reply to a report which was spread early in the day:

"Democrats as a final effort to bolster a lost cause have circulated the report that Delegate Kuhio made the statement that the Portuguese born in Honolulu are nothing but hoodlums. This statement made by the Democrats is an absolute falsehood. Don't be fooled by the Democratic Boss-rulled manipulators who see their finish in a straight Republican victory."

At Kaimuki there was much early voting. A hundred and twenty-five ballots were in before eleven o'clock. This precinct will poll its full vote, and go strongly Republican.

The tenth of the Fourth, at Nuuanu avenue and Bates street, led all other in the proportion or early voters, also, according to the party watchers, in Republican straight

FIFTH DISTRICT

At eleven thirty 155 votes out of a total of 480 were polled at the ninth precinct. Extra precautions were taken around this booth by order of C. C. James who had a burly Hawaiian policeman on duty there to prevent anyone from approaching within ten feet of the booth, except in front of the door, and here there was a queue extending right across the roadway. "Mostly Democratic votes here," said James, but he smiled as he said it.

The votes were coming in first rate at the tenth precinct at 11:20, according to the officers in charge. At that time 138 votes had been cast out of a total of 285. "At this rate," said one of the tellers, "we will be through at eight this evening instead of eight tomorrow morning," and he looked as though he would be pleased when he was through. Matters were very quiet round the booth, just a knot of men here and there quietly discussing the situation.

The voting was brisk at the eleventh precinct at 11:40, but prior to that time it had been slow, for only 162 votes had been recorded up to that time out of 443 on the roll.

Voting commenced briskly at the twelfth precinct when the booth was opened this morning, forty electors arriving in a bunch and casting their votes within a short space of time. A hull followed, but by 11:45 over sixty per cent of the voters on the record had visited the booth, there being 78 votes recorded out of 129 on the register.

"Just about the usual rate for this precinct," was the report from thirteenth at 11:55, 192 votes having then been cast out of 359 on the register. "Until about five minutes ago," said one of the election officers, "not a booth was empty, but it is slackening off just now." This booth had been visited by two serenading parties, several Democratic ladies singing for the Democrats in a wagon, and the Ernest Kaal Glee Club for the Republicans. The efforts of the serenaders helped to while away the time during the slow moments. All of it was watching the voting interestedly, and as

M'CARTHY PREDICTS ELECTION OF TICKET, INCLUDING LINK

Col. C. J. McCarthy, campaign manager for the Democrats, said this afternoon that his reports from many volunteer workers for the Democratic ticket, were that McCandless and the rest of the party would win. "McCandless will run with the ticket this time," said the colonel. "He ran behind it last time. In spite of the big showing being made by Republican workers, we have every reason to expect a sweeping success. I shall be surprised if we do not get it."

FIRST RETURNS INDICATE DIX FOR GOVERNOR

(Associated Press Cable to The Star.)

SAN FRANCISCO, November 8.—Early and incomplete election returns from the east indicate that Dix, the Democratic candidate, has carried New York for governor by over a hundred thousand plurality. This estimate is based upon the proportion of the votes so far counted.

Heavy Democratic gains have been made in all the doubtful states, carrying out the predictions of a Democratic landslide, and the Democrats are claiming to have a majority assured in the next House.

It is reported as possible, from the returns so far in, that the Democrats have carried Massachusetts and Connecticut.

A heavy vote has been cast in California.

TAFT GOES HOME TO CAST BALLOT

CINCINNATI, Ohio, November 8.—President Taft made a flying trip here from Washington in order to cast his ballot in the election today.

AUTOS DESTROYED

SAN FRANCISCO, November 8.—Thirty-five automobiles were destroyed here today in a fire in a garage. The loss is estimated at a hundred thousand dollars.

CARGO ON FIRE.

ASTORIA, Oregon, November 8.—The Hawaiian-American steamer Falcon has arrived here from San Francisco with her cargo on fire. The loss will be very heavy.

MORE RIOTING IN WALES.

LONDON, November 8.—Rioting has been resumed in the coal fields in South Wales, where a strike is in progress. The situation is serious.

IT RESTED WITH HIM.

Upton Sinclair discussing the fast-acting cure that he has done so much to advance, said in New York: "Fasting has become as popular as appendicitis. I hope, though, it won't fall into the same disrepute. 'It's currently believed, you know, that a leading surgeon said to his wife one day, answered absently, 'I haven't decided yet.'"

SACHS' SNAPPY SALE.

Beginning Monday there will be snappy bargains in Bedspreads, Linen and Turkish Towels at Sachs. Every thrifty house-wife will be greatly interested in these bargains.

"I operated on Mrs. Gobsa Golde for appendicitis last night. 'Goodness!' said the lady. 'I wonder who'll have it next?' 'I don't know,' the surgeon answered."

The ship Loch Garve went ashore on the Coast of Molokai so long ago that many people had almost forgotten about the case. The I-L. S. N. Appeal was taken and the case was strenuously fought out in the Court of Appeals by Abram Lewis, Jr., for the local company, and E. B. McClanahan, of San Francisco, for the ship.

Both sides win for the reason that the I-L. S. N. Company gets $12,500, and the Loch Garve owners save $2,500.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE WHITE PLAGUE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 26.—

The crusade just begun by the federal authorities to stamp out the "white slave" traffic is to be the most sweeping ever undertaken in this country, according to one of the officials of the Department of Justice charged with directing the campaign.

Assistant Attorney General William R. Hart and James A. Finch, chief of the secret service bureau of the Department of Justice, announced today that they had instructed every agent of the department to assist the force of special investigators in their roundup of men and women engaged in the business.

All prosecuting attorneys, state and federal, have been asked to co-operate with the movement to crush the vice.

"This crusade was started three years ago," said Mr. Finch today. "Our plan is first to close the channels through which the procurers operate, thereby stopping interstate and foreign traffic. Then we intend to arrest and prosecute every person liable under the Mann act."

Mr. Finch said immigration officials at the various port cities have been asked to watch more closely the women who come to America. A stricter surveillance on the part of the government inspectors has been kept for the last week or so, and several arrests of the "men higher up" have already been reported.

It is the purpose of the secret service bureau of the Department of Justice to shatter the idea that the machinery of the national government is too ponderous to take up "white slave" cases, and the officials intend to strike simultaneously at the big cities. It was said at the bureau this morning that Pittsburg is the center of the vice trade, while some of the lines developed in Chicago by recent arrests can be traced throughout the United States.

District Attorney Sims of Chicago, who visited the Department of Justice yesterday, is said to have brought information that more persons are now engaged in the "white slave" traffic than at any previous time. Evidence collected by him in his crusade in Illinois will be used by the government agents.

Mr. Finch intimated that Washington would be included in the investigation.

While it is understood that the special investigators will not attempt to "clean up" the various cities, every person known to be engaged in the vicious traffic will be prosecuted, and houses wherein "white slaves" are harbored will be closed.

Those investigators who have been working on the "bucket shop" cases and a number of agents detailed to investigate the custom house frauds have been drafted into this campaign. The scope of the probe extends to foreign countries and representatives of this government have been requested to aid by ascertaining the identity of the men who are sending women to the United States to be claimed by agents of the "white slave" dealers.

Discussing the crusade today, one of the department heads said: "This movement differs from other campaigns heretofore instituted in that we desire the utmost publicity to be given to the investigation. When the Mann act, with its sweeping penalties, was passed, it was believed that many of the 'white slave' dealers would be frightened out of business. This has not been the case. Judging from information already in our possession, the business seems to be flourishing more than ever before."

By the terms of the Mann act, approved June 25, 1910, any person convicted of trafficking in "white slaves" is liable to a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment of not more than five years, or may be punished by both fine and imprisonment. In certain cases a fine of $10,000 and imprisonment of not more than ten years is provided by the terms of the law.

Discussed in Purity Congress.

NEW ORLEANS, October 26.—A discussion of the so-called white slave traffic was included in today's program of the American purity congress, being held here under the auspices of the American Purity Federation. Dr. Ernest A. Bell of Chicago was announced as the principal speaker.

IN THE COUNTY TREASURERSHIP

The Republican county committee yesterday prepared the following last appeal to voters in the interests of Robert W. Shingle, the party's nominee for treasurer:

In most of the States of the Union statutes have been enacted limiting the term of the office of county treasurer to two years. Such a statute is in full force in Iowa and a large majority of the other western states, and the passage of legislation in the Territory of Hawaii limiting that no one person shall occupy this important and responsible office for more than two successive terms is earnestly demanded, and a consensus of public opinion in Honolulu today is for the immediate passage of such an act.

Richard H. Trent, the present Democratic nominee for the office of city and county treasurer, is now before the electors of this constituency for the fourth time, and while there is no constitutional nor statutory prohibition, public opinion must be regarded as a dangerous precedent to establish to allow any one man to be the custodian of the public moneys of the county for eight years.

No one questions Mr. Trent's honesty or integrity, but public policy and good government call, and call loudly, for a change in this office. If Mr. Trent is determined to stay in public life, and if his patriotism and love of remaining in public office is so great that he can not resist the temptation of accepting public office, his long public service would entitle him to consideration at the hands of his party to the office of chief magistrate of this city and county, and it is surprising that his ambition did not lead him to seek promotion from the leaders of his party.

Why he should cling to the money bags for the fourth time can not be understood by those who regard public office as a public trust and who are not office-seekers of job-chasers. The Republican convention of 1910 has selected as its candidate a young man who has every qualification to fill the office of treasurer. His knowledge of the finances of the Territory has been displayed upon the floors of the legislature.

He is the head of a strong trust company whose financial transactions reach hundreds of thousands of dollars, and his standing and integrity in the business world is unquestioned. It is submitted that the Democratic party should not monopolize the office of custodian of the public money and that a change is desired.

Mr. Trent has endorsed his leader, Lincoln L. McCandless, and his policy, and he stands committed to the Democratic platform and every plank therein contained. One plank in that platform, if carried out, would impede the progress, endanger the vast business interests of this Territory, and would certainly affect values throughout the Territory, and thus reduce the taxable wealth from which our institutions receive their support.

Richard H. Trent is before this constituency as the ally and confederate of Link McCandless and his associates on the Democratic ticket, and every elector in this constituency who owes allegiance to the Republican party is called upon to cast his ballot and express his disapproval of the leader of the Democratic party, his policies and those who are responsible for them. Richard H. Trent can not escape from the position in which he stands as the ally and confederate of McCandless, and the Republican party, in placing Robert W. Shingle on the ticket for treasurer, persuaded him to accept the nomination at a sacrifice, and therefore the party expects a united Republican support for Robert W. Shingle for the office of treasurer as well as for the candidates nominated by the Republican convention of 1910.

PLAN TO AID
AGRICULTURE

In response to a request for information in regard to the work being carried on in other tropical countries, Dr. Victor S. Clark has received some information from Washington concerning Brazil. This forms interesting reading, and is as follows:

"The government of Brazil in accordance with its policy of stimulating the development of agricultural and similar industries in the country by government aid, has called for bids for the construction of a system of cold storage warehouses, cold storage ships and refrigerating cars which is designed to furnish all the more active commercial portions of Brazil with modern cold storage conveniences. The bids called for are to be given within sixty days of April 7, and are to present propositions for the construction of the maximum number and size of cold storage warehouses, number of refrigerating cars and refrigerating ships for the minimum of government aid, the limit of which is fixed in the regulations calling for bids.

"According to the Presidential decree Brazil is divided into three zones for the purpose of establishing a complete refrigerating system for the care of Brazilian export products and foreign import goods of a perishable nature. The first zone includes the states of Bahia and Pernambuco and the plan proposed provides for cold storage warehouses at the cities of Pernambuco and Bahia. The second zone includes the states of Sao Paulo, Rio de Janeiro, Minas and the Federal District, and contemplates warehouses at Rio de Janeiro and Santos; the third includes the states centering about Rio Grande do Sul and contemplates a warehouse at Rio do Sul. At each of these centers there are also to be established modern abattoirs and the bids called for are to include propositions for each establishment in each of the several zones. The bids for the refrigerating car service are to be made to cover the railways centering in each of the cities having cold storage warehouse conveniences, and the bids for refrigerating shipping services must provide for service of the sort in ships serving such ports. To secure the establishing of the above services the government of Brazil purposes to give the following aids and premiums or subsidies, the bids asked proposing the least amount of the proposed aid the proponents will accept for the services required.

"The government will pay, in addition to the charge for the service made to the individuals benefited, 20 reis (about six cents) per cubic metre of Brazilian products benefited per day, with additional remuneration for transportation when the transportation is not made by the government itself; and with additional remuneration also for each mile travelled by ships furnishing cold storage, or refrigerating conveniences. The government purposes to admit all materials for the construction of this cold storage system free of duty, to arrange for custom house conveniences in connection with the storage warehouses, to give companies furnishing the service all favors possible, other conditions being equal, in matters of transportation over government lines, and in contracts with the government, and the right of condemning property for the use of such companies in establishing the warehouses or abattoirs.

"The government also proposes to pay subsidies as follows: For the first cold storage ship designed particularly to serve in the export of Brazilian products a subsidy not to exceed 10,000 pounds per annum, for the first two such ships not to exceed 9,000 pounds each ship; for the first three not to exceed 8,000 pounds each. But if the trade within five years demands more than three ships all the subsidies will be withdrawn.

"The granting of the contract on the bids submitted will turn upon the subsidies demanded of the government within the limits above fixed and the rates required; upon the size and equipment of the cold storage warehouses and the abattoirs; upon the size and equipment of the cold storage ships and the subsidies demanded for them, within the limits fixed; and for the most complete system as a whole proposed by a single bidder. The duration of the subsidies and contract generally is five years."

MRS. WILCOX
COMING AGAIN

Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, the "poetess of passion," who was a visitor in Honolulu for some weeks a couple of years ago and has many friends here, is coming this way again. Letters received from her in the last mail state that she will be a passenger on the steamer Siberia, which is due to arrive here on December 5. Mrs. Wilcox plans to make a trip round the world and will probably stop over in Honolulu on her way.

The annual medical inspection of the public schools of Honolulu commenced yesterday at ten o'clock when Dr. Sinclair of the board of health made an examination of the pupils of the Kauluwela school.

CAMPAIGN ENDS WITH PARADES AND MASS MEETINGS

Before seven o'clock last night the Capital grounds and the immediate vicinity were alive with a large and excited throng of Republican adherents, who adopted all sorts of ways of working off the energy that had been surging within them for some time.

The procession began to form at an early hour, and the thousands of lights that flickered in one long line, threw into bold relief the people who were in the uncertain range, and accentuated the deep shadows cast by the trees. Shortly before seven the members of the procession began to get restless, and a few starts were made, only to result in a stop after a few yards had been travelled. Cowboys galloped about, and the horses could scarcely be restrained. Everybody seemed to have the fever of restlessness in his or her veins, and wanted to do something. Therefore, it seemed a great relief when the long line eventually moved off to the strains of the band, among which were mingled weird noises produced by the tooting of horns, the jangling of cowbells, or the beating of tin cans.

Everybody seemed to want to do something, and grown men, who in their calm moments are staid and stolid, acted in a puerile manner, or cheered without any provocation. Some seemed to find satisfaction in twirling fire sticks that shot out colored lights at frequent intervals, but the mad desire seemed to be to do something towards satisfying the demon of unrest that was apparently moving within them.

The procession was a long one, and took some time to pass a given point. It was a fairly orderly one, considering the wild excitement that seemed to be in the air, and its progress towards Aala Park was witnessed by a large concourse of people who cheered from the sidewalks, or dropped into the human river as it flowed on its way.

The scene was undoubtedly a brilliant one, and the transparencies that contained some home truths concerning the objects of the party met with warm demonstrations of approval, while the multi-colored balls of fire, or the flares that were hung from the floats, cast lurid glares over the faces of those around.

The procession wended its way slowly, for length made it unwieldy and caused many stoppages on the way in order not to dislocate the traffic. Eventually it reached the rendezvous without mishap.

If the two processions that were held last night should form any indication of the relative strengths of the two parties, then the Republicans should have an overwhelming majority. Shortly after the Republican procession had passed along King street, an almost silent and attenuated body of Democrats passed along Hotel street. The silence that pervaded their ranks gave the impression that they were seeking to escape observation. If this were their object, they were fairly successful, for they passed along with scarcely a cheer to urge them on, and the number of voters who watched their progress was very small indeed.

At Aala park was the largest crowd that ever gathered in Honolulu. The three parties held meetings at once, and each had a big audience. The Democrats appeared to win out in the matter of noise, while the Republicans had a crowd about equal to the other two combined.

Speeches were made by the leaders and candidates of all the parties, and the meetings lasted until a very late hour.

JAPAN TO INCREASE
HER NAVAL BUDGET

TOKIO, October 21.—Count Katsura the Premier and Minister of Finance speaking at a dinner of the Associated Clearing Houses this evening, outlined the next budget briefly and said that the government would faithfully adhere to the policies already followed.

The only new feature in the next budget will be an appropriation for naval increase, amounting to 140,000,000, payable in six years. This, the Finance Minister said, had been necessitated by the sheer requirements of maintaining peace.

The speaker pointed out signs of activity in the various industries and commerce, statistics showing that the new undertakings and the extension of existing business from January to September last represent capital of $18,000,000.

Count Katsura emphasized Japan's friendly relations with the powers and her determination to maintain peace in the Far East.

COUNTY FINANCES.

At last meeting of the Kauai board of supervisors the chairman announced that the condition of the treasury was such as to require the immediate suspension of all new road work in the county. Thereupon the board unanimously resolved to borrow eight thousand dollars for three months, in order to liquidate the present indebtedness of the county.

This condition of affairs in Kauai, the smallest and which has been regarded as one of the best managed counties, does not appear much better than that long prevailing in Hawaii, the biggest county, where, owing to the great distances and rugged topography, there is some ground of extenuation for unsatisfactory finances.

Citizens of the city and county of Honolulu have reason for congratulation in the manner in which its present board of supervisors have regulated finances. Expenditures on roads—constituting about half of the entire expense of running the municipality—have been maintained at a constant monthly average in each half-yearly period, excepting when it was raised by special votes like those appropriating $30,000 for the belt road contracts, also those for reconstructing suddenly collapsed bridges and for various roads urgently needing repairs. No suspension of new work has ever been necessary, no cutting down of road estimates, no registering of warrants from first to last. The only reduction on roads ever made was one to bring the expenditure back to the original estimates for a certain period, which the members had adopted in caucus, but, against the protest of the ways and means committee, suddenly hoisted by some $32,000 on the final passage of the appropriation bill.

For the twenty-two months past of its term, the board of supervisors has never allowed the municipality to fall one dollar in debt. At no time were there warrants out without available funds to cover them. And at the present juncture the municipal finances, contrary to some campaign talk, promise to leave to the board to be elected to-day a balance at least equal to that with which the present board started the present year, and more than the county of Oahu left to the municipality of Honolulu to start its housekeeping.

Strange to say, the Republicans have made no campaign use of the creditable record of their own majority of supervisors in financial management. Their orators have rather by implication disparaged the general performances of the board, dwelling upon "friction" that has been, with a few exceptions, mere newspaper fiction. Even the chairman of the road committee, in his campaign speeches, sometimes omitted to point to the record of road work done but lamented a lack of funds which, he well knew, never existed under this board when compared with the previous county boards or the preceding territorial administration. More money has been devoted to roads and bridges on this island the present term than was done in any former corresponding period.

At the same time, the various new objects of expenditure loaded upon the counties by last legislature have all been taken care of in manner practically above criticism.

THE GRAND JURY UPHOLD.

Some states do not have grand juries. Hawaii as a territory must have them in obedience to the federal constitution. Before this came into operation here indictments were prepared by the attorney general and made valid by the approval of the judge presiding at a trial jury term. There have been heard in Hawaii opinions to the effect that the grand jury system is an antiquated institution which has outgrown its usefulness. Judge Hardy, the Nestor of local judges, confesses to having once entertained such a view but declares that he has changed his mind on the subject. The Garden Island reports remarks of Judge Hardy in this regard as follows:

Judge Hardy said a few words in praise of the conscientious work done by the jury, and commending the grand jury system in general—saying among other things that our grand juries are a credit to the community, and that while they are on duty there is very little chance of crime getting the upper hand. He said he had been forcibly struck with the scandalous reports from Denver of the trouble which Judge Lindsey had been having in dealing with criminals and the good work which had been done by the grand jury there.

Long ago, he said, he had been inclined to think that the grand jury was not a necessary adjunct to a nation's usefulness, but as the years have gone by, and he has seen more and more the good accomplished by the system, he has come to believe fully that the grand jury is one of the leading factors in the strengthening of the morals of a community, and that the nation would lose much of its power if this safeguard of the people were removed.

If you have not voted early, your vote will still count up to five o'clock.

The spectacle of Home Rulers fraternizing with Republicans upon a common rostrum last night was a good sign for today, but it boded still better things in encouraging a prospect of fusion before next election between the party of Hawaiian patriotism and that of American progress.

It speaks well for the orderliness of Honolulu's crowds that last night, despite the extraordinary enthusiasm which was displayed by adherents to both parties, and the dual or triple gathering in Aala Park, there were only three arrests made, two of these being for drunkenness. Fights were the exception rather than the rule, and, though there were one or two slight outbreaks, the contestants had the good sense to restrain themselves before any damage was done. An occasional row is to be expected on such occasions, and that none such last night developed into anything like a serious brawl is matter for congratulation. The police handled the crowds well, and poured oil on troubled waters with an expedition born of experience.

It is to be hoped that the measures being taken by the board of health will stamp out infantile paralysis. The slaughter of the innocents has been at a terribly high rate here always, and no new weapon against the babes should be allowed to be formed.

For the height of absurdity take a triangulation on the opinion

Some time ago a dauntless soul went soaring o'er the snowclad Alps, and folks who saw his pinions roll had tingling feelings in their scalps. He landed on the other side upon a cruel heap of stones; and shortly after that he died, a poor bruised mass of broken bones. Heroic soul! had I the fire of Austin, I his praise would sing! But when I need it, my old lyre is sure to have a busted string. To tell the truth, that brave man's deed does not enthrall me worth a darn; I'd rather write a humble screed about the man who paints a barn. A man may fly to beat the Dutch, across the Alps, across the sea, and not accomplish half as much as some plain guy who plants a tree. Some aviator risks his neck, defying gravitation's rules; but let me praise the human wreck who hitches up a span of mules. For gaudy men and gaudy deeds the birds will always twang their lyres, but who'll supply the soulful needs of those who fight the kitchen fires?

Marriage may not rightly be regarded as a sacrament as some levelers contend, but certainly it should not be degraded into a bench show. The employment of pug dogs for bridesmaids at the wedding of a Pacific coast couple is one of the doggonest instances of depravity in fashionable society yet reported. It beats the monkey dinners of Newport to a frazzle.

According to the Garden Island, a Republican paper, the election on Kauai promises to be close. In a straight ticket appeal the paper admits that the candidates opposing the Republicans are "as fine men personally" as their opponents. There appears to be no question that Delegate Kalaniana'ole is more than safe on Kauai.

American railroad managers, in a recent conference, discussed a proposal to make a charge for carrying baggage. Any attempt to do this would raise the biggest storm of insurgency against the railroads heard in a while. Free carriage of baggage may be a hardship to the railroads, but they are rather late in the day squealing. There are many anomalies of custom which have become vested rights that are dangerous to traverse. This is one of them.

Four for deadly weapon assaults out of five indictments returned by the grand jury of Kauai form a startling exhibit. There should be a truce to leniency, in all the courts of the Territory, when dealing with this class of offense. Attempts should receive the limit of penalties as well as accomplished injury with weapons.

MOVING PICTURES AND CRIME.

EDITOR STAR:—A friend of mine who is a constant attendant at the moving picture shows wants to know how much these shows are responsible for many of the crimes that have taken place in this city? He claims that many of these pictures are of such a revolting and degrading nature that he cannot possibly endure them and has to go away and leave them.

That there is some cause or reason for this complaint no one can deny, who at all frequents these shows, and though not so much as there formerly was, still there is still frequently to be seen criminal suggestions that are simply appalling, and it is claimed that such pictures can have but a bad effect upon the young in exciting the imagination and in influencing their conduct. Not only are there pictures shown of a criminal nature, but there are at times seen pictures of women and children, whom we are taught to revere, treated, and made to act in a most objectionable manner, and which are calculated not to do anything but harm.

This I want to say is a great pity, because these shows could be made a great influence for good and a great source of pleasure. Here for instance could be seen all that is grandest in nature, in landscape and seascape of the entire world. Indeed we could stay right here in Honolulu and see not only what is finest in scenery but also everything else that is our fous, wonderful and beautiful in art architecture. We could be shown all that is curious in the customs of other nations, and some of the most wonderful things that they have accomplished. We could be shown some of the greatest inventions of the world, and see the machinery in operation and the various articles manufactured. We could be shown the great historical events, that are so wonderfully interesting, which have taken place in the various nations of the world.

In fact, these shows could do a world of good if they would only give pictures that are worth while, and which would not only amuse but would teach and instruct and have an influence for good.

It is pleasant to note that some of the managers of these shows show a disposition to give a higher grade and better class of pictures, many of which are of the kind just mentioned and which are highly appreciated, and for which they are to be highly commended.

And it is to be hoped that all of them will see their way to cut out all those pictures that are in any way objectionable and which are calculated to do harm, instead of good.

COMMERCIAL MEN IN TOUR OF CHINESE CITIES

The press agent of the commercial travelers from the Pacific coast and Hawaii, now touring China, has sent the following interesting letter to the Hawaii Promotion Committee:

HANKOW, China, Oct. 3rd, 1910
There is no doubt about Hankow being a city; there is an electric "feel" of business in the air. We came up the broad yellow Yangtze river, with the quiet green valley spreading as far as the eye can reach on either side and we reached the union of the Han river and the great water way we had been traveling. On both sides of both rivers the smoke was streaming from tall factory chimneys; the water was alive with varied craft; the scene was as modern as though we had not come through miles of ancient graves and primitive ploughs drawn among them by water buffalo. Hankow is stirring with the certainty of growth. The city has

This has been about as near a complete holiday in Honolulu's Wall street and the mercantile community as business necessities would permit. Thayer Checked On Honolulu For $30,000

Another chapter of the doings of A. Finlay Thayer in the Philippines has reached this city, and it is even more racy than the last budget.

The new information has resulted in a cable message being sent to Manila this morning authorizing a lawyer there to publish certain "credentials" of Thayer, which are being held by the attorney, together with the statement that they are rank forgeries.

This course was taken reluctantly by the Honolulu gentleman concerned, and local friends of Mr. Thayer will regret that he (Thayer) has made such extreme measures appear necessary; for, despite what has occurred in Manila, Mr. Thayer bore a reputation in Honolulu of being a very excellent gentleman and perfectly honest in every respect.

It has now come to light that Thayer (or, at any rate, someone signing his name) has drawn on local people and banks for sums aggregating $30,000, although having no funds in the hands of the parties concerned here. The Bank of Hawaii and Bishop and Company were the financial institutions drawn upon, and A. V. Gear was one of the private individuals. Two checks were drawn on W. F. Dillingham, of the Hawaiian Dredging Company, but, strange to say, perhaps, they were the smallest of the lot, one being for $1500 and the other for a less amount. It is said that one of these checks was drawn at Hongkong only a short time ago, after Thayer had left Manila.

In order to secure large funds at Manila Thayer is alleged to have displayed letters bearing the (forged) signature of W. F. Dillingham. Upon these letters he secured large sums from the Manila banks and from prominent business men of Manila—including the lawyer above referred to. The lawyer, by the way, insisted upon retaining copies of the fake Dillingham "credentials," and from that source copies have been received here. One of these letters happens to be dated at a time when Dillingham was on the Pacific ocean about half way between here and San Francisco.

When Thayer left Manila a trustee was appointed for his affairs, and his interest in the Calamba estate was to have been sold. From Manila he went to Hongkong and there evidently drew other checks (one having turned up here.) Arrangements were being made for having the fugitive extradited from Hongkong, when, it is alleged, he "skipped out" of that city, leaving his baggage behind. His whereabouts were not known at last accounts.

A strange part of the whole story is the arrival of reliable information that in securing an option on the big Calamba estate Thayer actually had a mighty good thing in his hands. His plans, also, were exceedingly promising and easily won the confidence of moneyed men. His failure to make good with the property was as great a surprise in Manila as were the other features of his meteoric career. It is now claimed that if the property is ever sold at auction or otherwise it will bring far more money than Thayer had contracted to pay for it.

In the meanwhile local friends of Mr. Thayer sincerely hope that he may some day be able to explain his behavior and clear up a situation which now appears sadly clouded.

STOCK SALES ON THE STREET TODAY

The vigor assumed by stocks yesterday did not cease with the morning's session of the board, but continued on to the end of the day and was in evidence this morning. Although most of the brokers are "doing politics," a few were around all of the forenoon and were rewarded by some business and a few promising "bibles" which may result in sales tomorrow.

It is not unlikely that considerable of a boom will follow the election, largely by virtue of the fact that the public will have more time for other things than politics. Should the Republicans score a heavy victory this activity may be hastened; but whatever the party results, there will be more or less of a "boom" for a short time, if for no other cause than the release from the strain which has been placed upon the community for the past several weeks.

This activity will be temporary, however, for the enormous output of sugar in other countries this year will have the effect of keeping stock prices down for several months—probably until late in the Spring at the earliest. But to return to the market of today.

On the street 200 shares of Oahu are known to have been sold at $27, which was the basis of the last previous transactions. Another deal for a larger block is in, but will probably not be closed until tomorrow. It is understood that the prospective buyers are offering $27, but the owners of the shares are holding out for $27.25. Another street sale was of 25 Pioneer at $185. This is a slight advance, as the market closed yesterday at $184 bid and $187.50 asked. Still another sale is under way.

Also on the street 30 shares of Wai-alea have changed hands at $102, which was the basis of the last sales on the board yesterday. It is understood that more stock is for sale at this figure, and also that buyers are seeking the stock at $102. With this condition of affairs it is not improbable that further sales may be reported tomorrow.

There are inquiries for McBryde, Oahu, Ewa and Honokaa, but so far as can be gathered no sales have been effected.

A report came in this morning of very fine rains on the plantation of the McBryde Sugar Company, Kaula, and also at Maunaloa, same island. McBryde plantation was so thoroughly soaked that pumping has become unnecessary, and the plant in Waihiha has been closed down indefinitely. The cane on Kaula is in very fine shape, and it now looks like a banner crop for the entire island.

GILMORE BUYS CATTLE.

The following appeared in the Pacific Daily Review (San Francisco) of October 20:

President John W. Gilmore, of the College of Hawaii, was a visitor at the Review office last week. As we have previously stated, Prof. Gilmore is in California for the purpose of purchasing thoroughbred dairy cattle for the Hawaiian institution and advised us that he has succeeded in getting what he wanted with the exception of some Jerseys, which he expected to secure from some California breeder before sailing for the islands. His purchases up to the time of his visit included some Ayrshires secured in Washington, Holsteins from the Stanford ranch at Vina, and Guernseys from the herd of Chas. G. Lathrop at Stanford University.

MOST VALUABLE FACULTY.

"The late William James," said a Bostonian, "used to smile at the brain tag that so often attacks the American business men. Prof. James had his own opinion of the average business man's hard work. He thought

LISTENED TO SONG OF THE BUNCHMEN

G. Giacometti, mill superintendent and chemist at Oloa, had a little bunch experience in San Francisco, which the Post, of October 29, tells about in this wise:

Willing to listen to the song the alien bunchmen sang but too smart to fall into their clutches, G. Giacometti, an expert chemist of Honolulu, had a thrilling experience on Market street.

While walking leisurely along Market street the visitor from Honolulu was approached by a suave fellow who called him "Mr. Jack." Conversation concerning the Hawaiian Islands followed when the bunchman suggested a trip to Oahu.

Ready for an adventure, "Mr. Jack" accepted the invitation and they took a Key Route ferry boat.

At the corner of San Pablo and Fortieth street "Mr. Jack" was introduced to a man standing on a corner counting a large roll of bills. The bill counter informed "Mr. Jack" that he had just won a large bet on a horse race and tried his best to interest the stranger to the extent of signing a check to make a wager.

Giacometti at this juncture decided that the adventure had gone far enough and threatened to call the police, whereupon the men broke and ran. The police of Oakland and San Francisco have been given a description of the men and are endeavoring to locate them.

That brain tag came more frequently from an excess of whisky and tobacco than from an excess of mental application.

"Apropos of this he used to tell a story about a little boy who asked his father:

"Papa, what is executive ability?" "Executive ability, my son," the father replied, "is the faculty of earning your bread by the sweat of other people's brows."

BATTLING NELSON NOW A HAS-BEEN

Battling Nelson and Antonio La Grave, the San Francisco lightweight, fought a fifteen-round draw at Dreamland Bink, San Francisco, on October 31, writes Harry B. Smith in the San Francisco Chronicle. The Dane protested mildly at the draw verdict, but a majority of the spectators, together with the press, agreed that Referee Eddie Smith gave the one decision that was possible under the circumstances. Battered down it means that Battling Nelson couldn't come back. He was lacking in everything that he lacked when he faced Ad Wolcott at Richmond, and even more than that. Nelson missed more frequently than he did on the day that he lost his lightweight title. His accuracy was but a mockery of the past, his speed was wholly absent, and he did not appear able to stand punishment as well as on previous occasions. He showed all this from the first round, and another has been added to the long list of men who have failed when they thought there was still another chance for them.

In spite of the failure of Nelson to make good, as he had predicted, there is triumph for La Grave in his draw decision, a verdict that would ordinarily elevate him from the list of the unknowns in the boxing world to a position where he might claim a match with the champion. Almost any other man than La Grave would have knocked out the former terror from Hegewisch.

La Grave showed not a sign of a punch and he proved in more ways than one that he isn't built of the material that stands the gaff. There were times last night when it looked as if La Grave was willing to cry quite. Towards the close he was evidently lasting out the fight, but he made a whirlwind finish, carried Nelson fairly off his feet and had the Dane just a slight bit in jeopardy.

BASEBALL RECORDS SMASHED
CHICAGO, October 31.—The world's series of 1909 remains at high water mark with total attendance and receipts, but it lasted seven games, two more than this year. If the Athletics-Cub series had gone two games further it would have surpassed all records. In the five games played the attendance was 512 larger than the total for the corresponding five games played last year. The receipts were $17,872 more than those for the first five games between Detroit and Pittsburgh, and the players' share of the receipts this year was $12,147 greater.

MARINES' BALL GAMES

The Marines continued their baseball series on the diamond near the barracks yesterday, two games being played. The surprising feature of the day's play was the unexpected defeat of "D" Company by "B" Company. "D" Company has had a victorious career in this series but almost every man of the team broke up badly in yesterday's game, and fifteen hits were registered against the team. The winning nine scored fourteen runs and all that "D" Company could do was to prevent a shut out by getting a solitary run.

"A" Company had the better of the game against "C" Company, shutting them out after hitting three runs. An effort is being made to run the series off as expeditiously as possible, and to this end games will be played as often as may be found convenient. Tomorrow and Friday ball will be played and Sunday next the diamond will also be in use. The diamond is on a sandy square and this has the effect of deadening the game, as once the ball lands in the sand it stops almost without bouncing at all. Many hits which would probably be two baggers often result in merely singles for this reason.

than the pool which was divided between the Pirates and the Tigers. Former records for big money were swept into the discard in the world championship series this year. Less wise the players of both teams will draw more coin. The final count set the total attendance for five games at $172,980. In 1909 the seven game series drew 145,444 for a grand box office of $188,502. Twenty-three athletes of each club will out into the melon to be served by the National Commission, that gives each Philadelphia $2,952.70 and each Cub $1874.77. Last year the champion Pirates received $175 apiece, while the Tigers were given $333 per man for the shares of losers.

MORE REGISTRATION.
Thirty-four more voters were registered yesterday when the board of registration for this island sat for the last time and registered those who had been sick or missing when the board was last in session. The totals, as they now stand, are: Fourth district, 3793; fifth district, 3777; total, 7570. Of those registered yesterday, twenty-two were from the fourth and twelve were from the fifth district.

JAPANESE DOGS WEDDING MAIDS

NEW YORK, October 24.—Just the minute Rev. E. L. Copeland started the wedding service, making Mrs. Mary Schley Bowen, a wealthy San Francisco society woman, and Percy W. Evans, head of a Seattle shipping concern, man and wife today, the three bridesmaids began to frisk and caper about. It took all the soothing efforts of the best man, Arthur Delroy, and Mrs. B. P. V. Caldwell of San Francisco, matron of honor, to keep them fairly quiet so that the ceremony could proceed.

The wedding was held at the home of Mr. Delroy, lavishly furnished with rare objects of art from Japan. The bridesmaids were Kond-San, Kinda-San and Otaya Gelsina, and wore gorgeously embroidered gowns with lace. They are highly pedigreed Japanese spaniels from the Mikado's Imperial kennels and were simply glad to see their mistress, who held them by the leash.

Japanese sconces shed light on the scene. On a pedestal near the improvised altar stood hideous grinning dog of Chinese porcelain, and close by a great bronze Buddha smiled benignly in his gilded niche.

The setting for the wedding was quite appropriate, for the couple first met while traveling in Japan a year ago. After the ceremony the dog bridesmaids were given a dog dinner by Mrs. Eugene Clarke, wife of the opera singer, at which Miss Lillian Russell's spaniel was also a guest.

Mr. Evans arrived from Europe today and will return with his bride tomorrow. After a trip of three months they will go to live in Seattle.

JAPAN'S WAR PREPARATIONS

TOKIO, October 30.—A decision has been reached by the Japanese Government to construct five super-Dreadnoughts for Japan's navy within five years at a cost of $40,000,000. The first will be laid down early next year. Japanese newspapers announce that new war ship aggregating 93,320 tons will be added to Japan's navy shortly. The battleship Aki and the cruiser Kurama will go on the active list next month and the battleship Settsu and the cruiser Satsuma, Yamagi and Hirato and the destroyer Yamakaze are almost ready for launching.

An armored cruiser of 15,500 tons is to be laid down at once at Yokosuka, and others have been given to Japanese commercial yards at Nagasaki and Kobe for two cruisers. To offset the new construction, however, nine war ships of 25,460 tonnage will soon be struck from the active list. The Nippon of Tokio publishes an

ROOSEVELT'S PREDICTION

NEW YORK, November 8.—"We will knock them through the ropes tomorrow," declared Colonel Roosevelt in one of the half-dozen speeches made by him last night on the eve of the hottest election fight this city and State has ever seen.

Colonel Roosevelt appears most confident of the result, although the betting odds throughout the city are three and a half to one on Dix, the Democratic nominee for governor, against Stimson, the Republican, for whom Roosevelt is fighting. Even at those odds no takers for Stimson are to be found.

CHIEF OF STAFF TO ASK FOR AIRSHIPS

WASHINGTON, November 8.—Major Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff, announced yesterday that he purposed asking congress to provide the army with an aerial military squadron. He states that the science of aviation has reached a point where its usefulness for military purposes cannot be questioned, adding that America was lagging behind the other powers in taking up and developing the science of military airships.

Chalmers MOTOR CARS

THE Chalmers "30" is the only medium priced car that was ever awarded the Glidden Trophy

Of all the Glidden Tours, that of 1910 was the longest, and by far the hardest. It lasted for sixteen running days and covered 2,851 miles. It started at Cincinnati and went "by way of Dallas, Texas," through thirteen States to Chicago.

Words and pictures cannot make plain the racking cobblestone roads of Kentucky—the stump-studded forest trails of the Tennessee mountains—the swamps of Arkansas—the deep, treacherous sands of Texas—the mud of Kansas—the bridgeless southern streams or the sweltering heat that punished cars and men alike.

It is the opinion of experts who made this tour that no car in the world could have completed it with a perfect score. Yet, from Cincinnati to Louisville—to Nashville—to Sheffield, Ala.—to Memphis—to Little Rock—to Hot Springs—to Texarkana—to Dallas—to Lawton, Oklahoma—to Oklahoma City—to Wichita, Kansas—eleven consecutive days out of the sixteen, through the hardest part of the trip—and for five days after every other car on the tour had been penalized, not a single point could be assessed against the Chalmers "30"—the $1500 car—$1600 with magnet, Prest-O-Lite tank and gas lamps.

In all the history of motoring, there is no performance like this. The Glidden Trophy has never been won before by a car costing less than $4000.

If you are thinking of buying a car, what better proof could you ask of reliable performance under all conditions than you have in the Glidden Tour record of the winning Chalmers "30"?

The Chalmers "30" has never been defeated in any important motoring event by any car of its price and power class. The Chalmers "Forty" won the Detroit Trophy in the 1909 Glidden Tour. Chalmers cars have won more events of all kinds in proportion to the number entered than other cars.

In addition to perfect mechanical performance, you get in the Chalmers all the beauty of line and finish that you can find in any car.

What more could you ask in any car at any price than you get in the medium-priced Chalmers?

We have never had so large a volume of business as we have now. There has never been so satisfying a demand for Chalmers cars as there has been since we announced our 1911 models. Yet this demand will not affect the Chalmers policy of building cars for quality, not quantity.

We suggest, therefore, that you place your order now, so as to be sure of getting the car that is your first choice. Chalmers cars are the first choice of those who look most carefully into the automobile question and know the most about automobile values.

1911 cars are now on exhibition. Deliveries are being made according to schedule.

COMMERCIAL MEN

grown immensely within the last few years; new industries are being added yearly and a new city has been planned and already started as an extension along modern lines. Shutting our eyes to the low buildings and narrow streets of the original Chinese settlement or looking beyond it at the clustered chimneys and stacks, it was easy to forget that we were in unawakened China. There is nothing sleepy about Hankow.

The reception at Hankow has been in keeping with the welcome extended to us all along the line since arriving at Shanghai. Our first night here was spent aboard the comfortable river steamer Kiang Hei, where we had been so royally accommodated for three days and which we were loth to leave. We were visited on board by the representative members of the Hankow Chamber of Commerce. In the morning we were transferred from the steamer by launch to a jetty where the Chamber of Commerce was in line to greet us. There was a deafening roar of firecrackers, the biggest of which were set off in the hands of the men firing them. After bowing and handshaking we were taken in carriages to our hotels. There were four of these, one of them being a real hotel and the others three houses which had been furnished for us and supplied with servants.

The first morning in Hankow was devoted to visiting the industries which are earning for the city the title of the Chicago of China. The Yangtze Engineering Works were first visited. This Company was founded two and a half years ago and is engaged in the manufacture of engines, steel barges, and several grades of heavy machinery. The plant is a very creditable one considering its age, though hardly in the class with the largest plants of the kind in America or even up on the Pacific Coast. The waste scale is higher than in a similar plant at Shanghai. The only machinery imported from America was a compressor, although a modern bolt and nut machine has been ordered. Most of the machinery is of British manufacture. Nevertheless, the manager of the works expressed his preference for American machinery. This manager, Mr. Wong, is a superior man. His father and grandfather were Christian native preachers in China.

The Hanyang Iron and Steel Works are today the biggest expression of the new industrial life of China. The works were founded by Tehan Tshi Tung, a former viceroy and a man who had a vision of China's future. The original installation was through British and Belgium firms. This was twenty-two years ago, but the real activity of the works covers a period of about ten years. The works are part of a business trio which includes also the Ta Yeh Iron mines which we visited on the way up the river, and the Pinghsian collieries further up the river. In both instances these mines are connected with the Yangtze by a short level railroad and the ore and coal are floated by river to the works. It is an exceptional layout and it means very cheap production. The triple enterprise employs about twenty thousand Chinese; there are 30 Europeans, Germans and Belgians at the Iron Works and twenty at the mines.

In the afternoon a formal reception was tendered at Victoria Hall, with the usual elaborate decorations and "Hall Columbia." Mr. Stern, of Spokane, responded to the address of welcome. In the evening a reception was held at the Recreation Club, a kind of country club, including a race course, exclusively for the foreigners in the Concessions here.

On Sunday afternoon the Viceroy gave a tiffin, an elaborate function, at Wuchang, the viceregal seat. There was an exceptionally fine band there and it played many Chinese military airs, composed after foreign models. The Viceroy of Hupeh is a fine man and exceptionally enlightened official. He is new here and has already made himself dreaded by the disconcerting habit of exploring his district incognito, a habit that has already resulted in the axe being dropped and official heads falling in the literal way still in use in China. Sunday evening was quiet and restful; most of the party attended a special vesper service at St. John's Episcopal Church where the rector preached eloquently upon the practical results of the missionary work in that section.

Monday morning early we crossed again to Wuchang, where we saw a cotton and silk mill, both of which were not in action, save for the catering department, which set before us, one hour after breakfast, a banquet of some fourteen courses. Mr. C. H. Moore, of Spokane, spoke at this function. The Liang Hu college, a most picturesque group of cloister like buildings gathered about gardens and lotus ponds, was visited next and then we had tiffin at the Boone school, one of the oldest and best of the mission schools. Here we saw a creditable military drill of the students, and heard some excellent glee club singing. Afterward we drove spiritedly in carriages down narrow stone paved lanes never intended for carriages and took the launches for Hankow.

That evening the most elaborate entertainment yet offered us was given at the Chinese Race Club. Here we passed through a crowd of about fifty thousand people, through lines of saluting volunteer soldiers, past bugle and drum corps blowing assembly at us and under a palio or triumphal arch of gauze and silk and paper flowers, illuminated, until we reached the brick building where a banquet of the most famous Chinese delicacies was served, with chopsticks. This was followed by elaborate fireworks, which explained the vast crowd, in good part, and at midnight we drove back through the returning masses of people, all carrying gay lanterns and flags which had been furnished free to them by the government.

Tuesday morning we found our special train at the station of the Peking and Hankow railway and a crowd of our Hankow friends to see us off. We have been met in some gentlemen from the Waikiki, the foreign office at Peking, and we are off for the capital, with the roar of send-off fireworks in our ears and the realization that we have just been welcomed in the coming industrial capital of the new China.

BIG CUT IN PRICE OF E. M. F. CO. CARS

SAN FRANCISCO, October 11.—The first definite step in the much heralded talk about the impending revolution in the automobile industry was taken yesterday by the E. M. F. Company of this city in the shape of a sweeping reduction in the price of two standard cars manufactured by it for the 1911 output. The reduction is to take immediate effect.

The E. M. F. "30" which has heretofore sold for $1250, has been reduced to $1000, and the Flanders "20" has been reduced from $750 to $700. It is the understanding that this reduction from the list price will in no way affect the dealers' discounts. In view of the bargain sales offered by some other manufacturers to reduce their stock of old cars, this move upon the part of the E. M. F. Company cannot but have a marked effect upon other companies and the automobile trade in general.

MATERIALS CHEAPER NOW.

This cut in price by the Studebaker Company shows that there has been a decided drop in the cost of materials and that cars of proven durability and workmanship can be sold for reasonable prices. For the last two years the rush for material had reached the stage where companies were willing to bid against each other in order to secure preference. The reaction has set in; in fact, it began some time ago, and the market for material is cheaper and there will be a decided drop in rubber, so that the companies which have the manufacturing facilities have the advantage of existing conditions.

The announcement that the E. M. F. Company is able to lop off $250 from the price of the "30" car is regarded as little less than sensational, and can only be accounted for by the fact that the company manufactures the car complete. There have been very few minor changes in this car, and instead of a new model every year it has become standard, and is so recognized. Another pertinent fact is that the company is backed by the Morgan interests, and the reduction in the price of cars can be taken to mean that it is seeking to broaden its market.

Manager Ollier of the Southern California branch and local distributor of the E. M. F. and Flanders cars, in making the announcement yesterday, very frankly discussed the details of the situation.

"$7,000,000 INVESTED.
"Let me say to you," he said, "that we will be able to make the same market of profit at the reduced cost as we were two years ago. We have been an investment of $1,000,000, every cent of which is paid, and we enjoy unlimited financial resources. In addition to this we have a highly developed manufacturing and selling organization and we are able to turn out every day 20 cars of the "30" type and 125 Flanders cars, so you see, we are not carrying any burden.

"Again, we are very heavy buyers of raw materials and enjoy facilities by reason of that fact, which very few companies can touch. Now, as to present conditions, the price of materials has dropped. It had to drop because we had been having inflated values. In producing a perfected car in large quantities the manufacturing cost has been reduced and we found that for 1911 we could reduce the price and maintain the standard.

"We have never believed in changing the shape of the door or using different colored paint in order to bring forth a so-called new model. We add and improvements just as soon as its worth is proven, but it goes with the car."

The action of the company will be welcome news to agents of the E. M. F. throughout the country, who have been disturbed by the uncertainty of the past few months.

It is hinted that the E. M. F. Company has in process of construction a seven passenger car which will sell for less than $2,000 and which will compete with any car regardless of cost, but this is evidently a state secret, as Mr. Ollier would neither deny nor confirm the rumor yesterday.

A WEEK'S REST.

The community has had strenuous times and a rest is due. No place within touch of the stock market is better for a vacation than Haleiwa. It is an excellent hotel providing guests with excellent meals and rooms and unlimited means of enjoyment of golf or tennis. If you have been campaigning with the boys—try Haleiwa.

ROOSEVELT PETITIONS

FOR A "SQUARE DEAL."

NEW YORK, October 26.—It is learned today by The Star's correspondent that Col. Roosevelt has made an appeal to his literary friends and backers in the newspaper and magazine press to come to his assistance at this critical stage of the campaign and defend him against the charge of being a "boss" and of having imperial ambitions for the future.

It is evident to everybody that the repeated hammering of the democratic press, and, more than that, the statements by republicans of prominence, are having effect upon the voters of this state, and it would seem that the colonel himself has become alarmed.

I am told the colonel made an impassioned request of his literary friends to clear him of the charges being hurled against him, and to go directly to their readers with a demand not only for "the square deal" for him, but to go further and assert upon their own responsibility that the colonel is being unjustly treated.

This was not to be done through the pages of the public prints, because the time is too short, but by letter or leaflet addressed promptly to the readers.

KAUAI GRAND JURY DENOUNCES WEAPON USING

In its report to Judge Hardy last week the Kauai grand jury said:

"We, the grand jury, investigated five cases brought before us, in four of which the charge was assault with a weapon obviously and instantly dangerous to life.

"We consider that this variety of crime is far too frequent for a community having as small a population as ours. In one case we investigated we find that an assault was committed with a dangerous weapon, to wit: a revolver. The assaulted person received two wounds—one in the body and one in the arm.

"The defendant in this case was allowed to plead guilty to assault and battery before the District Magistrate of Waimea and received a sentence of six months.

"This sentence we consider by far too lenient in a case of this kind. We consider that all such cases as this one should be brought before the grand jury.

"We consider that the free use of weapons, such as knives, revolvers, etc., such as the cases brought before us prove to exist, should be dealt with in the most severe manner, and that all persons proven guilty of such offenses should be dealt with so severely that the punishment meted out would be a warning to such offenders."

The grand jury found true bills against Elais Gabino, Marlan de la Santos, Pedro Castro and Domingo Arida, each for assault with a dangerous weapon; and Pak Pun Go, child stealing.

ZEALANDIA IN THIS MORNING

Reporting a fine weather trip from Sydney the Canadian-Australian liner Zealandia arrived in the harbor at seven o'clock this morning and berthed at the Alakea street wharf shortly after nine. She had in all seventy-seven passengers, twenty-eight in the first saloon and forty-two in the second, and of these twenty-six were for Honolulu. Most of the Honolulu passengers are bound for San Francisco and will connect here with the Wilhelmina which is due to leave tomorrow.

Among those who are to stay in Honolulu for some little time are the Musical Millers, who are to appear at the Novelty Theater, and Willis and Hassan, who will display a sensational acrobatic act at the Park theater. Both doubles come with big reputations.

The Zealandia left Sydney on the 24th ult., and three days later left Brisbane arriving at Suva on the 31st. At 6:26 a. m. on the following day the Zealandia left Suva for Honolulu, arriving here as stated. Fine weather with strong north-east and south-east trades and choppy seas prevailed during the voyage from Suva.

The Zealandia looked light as she came up the harbor, a couple of feet of her hull showing above the water line. She has a large cargo for Canadian and American ports, and has mutton, butter and jam for Honolulu. Her Honolulu cargo includes 740 bags of sulphate of ammonia, 252 carcasses of frozen mutton, 89 cases of butter, 55 cases of jam, and 9 cases of postcards. She has also a quantity of general merchandise for Fanning Island.

pre-arranged. Nearly all the business houses and offices were closed, and those that were open might just as well have closed their doors, for there was really no business doing anywhere.

The courts and their offices were open for awhile. Clerks did some routine work, but they got through at an early hour, and left. There were no cases tried at all, and the interior of the building presented a gloomy and deserted appearance.

In the Capitol building too, it was very quiet, and many of the offices there closed at an early hour after a morning that was practically resultless. Some of the offices only remained open because there was no rule that enabled them to close their doors on polling day.

Around the polling booth for the seventh precinct of the fourth district, things were extremely quiet and orderly. Voting began at an early hour, and for a while there was quite a rush, but this was easily coped with, for the electors formed a queue outside the entrance door, and passed out in a rapid and orderly manner. Men sat around the booth in little knots and talked about the outcome, but everything was quiet. Some there were who took exception to road supervisor Wilson leaning in the doorway while the voting was going on, on the grounds that his action was in contravention of the rules.

he turned away he remarked: "The thirteenth looks all right. The men are voting well."

"For Treasurer Shingle is leading," was the report current at the fourteenth precinct at 12:05, but the speakers may have mistaken the wish for the deed. However, voting was proceeding along all right, 180 votes being then registered out of 498. Slow, it is true, but there were lots in line awaiting their turn.

At Ala park the polling booth for the fifteenth matters were very quiet and at 12:10 only 121 votes had been recorded out of the 242 on the roll.

SAYS MANCHURIA WILL BELONG TO THE JAPANESE

MANILA, October 4.—Mr. J. J. Connell of the Connell Brothers Company is in Manila for two weeks or so, with Mrs. Connell. They are at the Metropole Hotel. Mr. Connell is well known in Manila, though the bulk of his business, and his home, are in Shanghai, China. Coming as he does from the business center of China, Mr. Connell is thoroughly familiar with the prevailing conditions there, and talked very interestingly last night on the various Chinese questions. In particular, he mentioned the effect of the "Shanghaiing of Shanghai" by the rubber promoters. It will be remembered that a lot of companies were formed to boom rubber in that city a few months ago, and that the great majority of them went under, causing a loss to the city of Shanghai alone, of over 50,000,000 pesos. Mr. Connell says that this has had a very demoralizing effect on the trade market of Shanghai, and that it will be some time before a full recovery can be looked for.

As to the unrest in China, Mr. Connell, speaking from a long observation of Chinese affairs, says that the outlook so far as a man can determine from constant business relations with the people, is not particularly ominous at the present time although the Chinese are gathering their grievances slowly and surely against the Manchus, and in time this must, Mr. Connell thinks, lead to an outbreak of a serious nature.

Mr. Connell says that Manchuria will, in five years belong to Japan as Korea does now. Japan is now represented there by over a million people. The last railroad deal of the United States, will, he says, hold this off for a short time, but the Americans are, like the English, growing continually weaker as the Japanese grow stronger in this great country.

STILL AT IT.

F. Hopkinson Smith, the brilliant author and critic, said at a dinner at the Century Club in New York:

"Oh, yes, we have many excellent modern painters but it is only the old masters who are indeed immortal. The old masters, you know, are still turning out new works for the galleries of our multi-millionaires."
