Hatch County Mission Seeking Ratification Greatly Misunderstood

Governor Carter will attend the public meeting of the Merchants' Association on Saturday evening when the present status of the county act will be discussed.

"I think the calling of such a meeting is an excellent idea," said the Governor this morning. "Whatever questions in relation to the county act and Mr. F. M. Hatch's work in Washington there may be needing discussion can be best ventilated at such a gathering. Yes, I expect I will attend. It is understood, I shall take pleasure in going with the rest to hear what has to be said."

"I do not understand this talk of there having been secrecy in connection with Mr. Hatch going to Washington with a view to getting Congress to ratify the county act. I know of no secrecy in the matter. The proposition was given out and published. Mr. E. J. Testa, I believe, was one of the first who asked me concerning the matter."

Carter was asked if he would name the representative business men who furnished the funds necessary to meet the expense of Hatch's work in Washington.

"I cannot give out their names," said the Governor. "I have no right to. These gentlemen went down into their own pockets; they were sufficiently interested in the general welfare of the community to provide for expenses. The amount was not large, anyway. Mr. Hatch was going to Washington on his own account and his extra expenses as far as the work of the county bill is concerned will not amount to much."

When the matter of getting Congress to ratify the county act first came to the serious attention of the Governor the matter was discussed by the Governor, A. L. C. Atkinson, U. S. District Attorney Breckons, Clarence Crabbe and others.

Breckons advanced the suggestion that a bill be drawn up to be submitted to Congress ratifying the County Act but leaving with the Territorial Legislature the full power to repeal or amend. The idea was to so firmly establish the county act that it would be impossible to knock it out, perhaps section by section, in the local courts. Ratification would mean a saving of a great deal of money to the local government, the act would be established and county government would proceed unhindered. It was distinctly understood that the Legislature should have absolute power in amending or repealing; the law would not be changed by Congress, amended or otherwise altered. It was to be approved so that the independence of the counties could be assured; so that the progress of local self-government would not be hampered by continually arising contests.

Without ratification by Congress, in view of the various possible objections to the act its legality and integrity, it was argued, where would the counties stand financially; where would its credit be?

A meeting was called and L. A. Thurston, W. O. Smith, F. M. Hatch, A. L. C. Atkinson, Clarence Crabbe, U. S. District Attorney Breckons and others were present.

It was understood that Mr. Hatch had some fault to find with the proposition of taking the county act to Congress and it was particularly desired that anyone who had an objection to make should be present when the matter was discussed. When Mr. Hatch understood what the proposition was, that under no circumstances would the power of the Legislature to amend the act be interfered with, his attitude was changed. He was going to Washington and the matter was placed in his hands.

Incidentally L. A. Thurston was not at the meeting. He was not at the meeting. He could not be reached or was not connected with by message. He was, nevertheless, among

ACTION BY EDUCATION BOARD IS TAKEN TODAY

REPORT FROM REFORM SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT — TEACHERS RESIGN AND OTHERS ARE APPOINTED.

A meeting of the Board of Education was held this forenoon for the purpose of taking action on several important matters that had accumulated since the last meeting. There were present Superintendent Atkinson and the following Commissioners: Charles Hopkins, Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Hall.

After the usual preliminaries, the Superintendent presented his new commission and announced to the Board his reappointment as head of the department.

The Superintendent reported the resignation of Cyrus A. Merriam, instructor in Science at the High School and the fact that progress had been made toward the end of securing a successor to him in San Francisco. A letter had been written and a reply been received, stating that search was being made for a suitable person.

The resignation of Miss Elizabeth Cartwright from the High School, was also reported and it was announced at the meeting that Prof. M. M. Scott had written to Berkeley for a teacher to fill the vacancy.

Miss Eleanor Koelling was appointed to the Hanalei school on the other side of the island. In the place of Robert Plunkett, whose time is up and whose intention it is to come to Honolulu for the purpose of taking a course in the Normal School.

The resignation of R. L. Oelive from the school at Kipahulu, Maui, was reported.

Miss Winifred Andrews having resigned from the Royal School in November, the Superintendent appointed Miss Alice D. Ewart to the place. This action was approved at the meeting of the Board today.

It was reported that Miss Florence J. Scott had resigned from the school at Kailua, North Kona, and that Miss Mary Cockburn had been appointed in her place temporarily, by School Agent M. F. Scott.

The resignation of Miss Emma Williams from the school at Kaunahua, Kohala, Hawaii, was reported.

The resignation of Abel Cathcart from the Makana, (Maui) school and the appointment of Miss Mille Morris to the place, was also reported.

Mrs. Bridgewater was appointed principal of the school at Pohakupuka, North Hilo, vice Mrs. MacGregor Deacon resigned. This school is now being run by two instead of three teachers, it having been found that the attendance was not large enough to warrant the larger force.

The Superintendent reported that the Kalaupapa (Molokai settlement) school, to which John Unea, formerly a school teacher of Hilo, was recently appointed, was in a very much improved condition. Investigations had been made by Inspector King, who expressed himself as more than pleased at the condition of affairs.

The dates of the closing of the government schools for the Christmas holidays and the opening again of the same for the winter term were set for Friday, December 18 and Monday, January 4, respectively.

The subject of releasing seven boys from the Industrial School on December 25, upon the score of good behavior, was thoroughly discussed at the meeting and a parole was passed by the Board to be delivered to each boy as soon as he is released.

The Board members were in possession of a history of each boy which had been kept by Mr. Gibson, head of the school. These were read at the meeting today and the agreement was reached that the boys be allowed to go free on Christmas day.

The Board members are of the opinion that in freeing the seven boys, the efficiency of the school will be increased and every boy given a chance to get out on the score of good behavior, previous to the time for which he might be sentenced.

The fund of $5,000 set aside by the last Legislature for the support of worthy students attending the Normal school, was discussed and the Superintendent proposed the appointment of a committee to take charge of the fund and to investigate all applications thereunder. On the passage of this motion, the Superintendent appointed Mrs. Hall and Mr. von Holt as the committee and then the Board adjourned.

STILL AFTER A JURY

TO TRY E. M. JONES ON CHARGE OF MURDER

PROSECUTION SATISFIED WITH TWELVE MEN BUT DEFENCE CONTINUES TO CHALLENGE—END NOT YET.

When the special venire of the jurors was returned in Judge Gear's court this morning in the case of E. M. Jones, it was found that three of those named were on the other islands and one was dead. Several, including Messrs. Holloway, Mark P. Robinson, J. P. Castle Meyer and Francis had been excused for good and sufficient cause by Judge Gear.

When it came time for excuses to be offered there was a line-up at once and the excuses offered were many and varied.

One of the most unique excuses was that of Markham, the ice-man, who stated that he was only one in charge of the ice works in Kewalo and he would be injured greatly in his business if forced to serve on the jury. Judge Gear asked the juror a number of questions and finally ended, by excusing him, saying: "We need jurors pretty badly but not so badly as to stop ice works."

Manager Goodale attempted to get off on the score of being postmaster at Waiolua but finally admitting that he had an assistant and further that it was not for the purpose of attending to the duties of postmaster that he wished to get off, his name was put in the jury box with the rest. Later, he was excused for cause.

Henry De Fries had a government contract which had to be completed in two months' time. He was the only one at the head of affairs. Mr. De Fries was excused and Messrs. Oudert Kirk and Bertelmann got off on the score of being contractors with private jobs on their hands which had to be completed within certain limits.

Mr. Kellogg of Waiolua was several things, besides being the deputy sheriff. He thought any one ought to get him off. Judge Gear thought differently but excused him on the score of being a deputy sheriff. Several others were excused for various reasons.

At 11:15 o'clock with seven Hawaiians and five white men on the jury and one challenge left to the prosecution, Attorney General Andrews announced the jury satisfactory. There were seven more challenges left to the defence and attorney Robertson proceeded to exercise one of them, excusing the newspaper man who had been caught.

Three or four other jurors were examined up to the noon hour but these were all excused for cause and when court took a recess the twelfth man, with seven more challenges to the credit of the defence, was still lacking.

A rehearsal of "Carmen" took place at the Elks' Hall last evening. There was a very large attendance.

FORGING WATER TO DIAMOND HEAD

Checkvalving At Night When Demand Is Not Great.

PAHOA WORKS WOULD BE USED IF PURCHASED

BERETANIA PUMP'S FIVE-MILE JOB THROUGH 8-INCH MAIN WITH 125 POUNDS PRESSURE.

Superintendent of Public Works C. S. Holloway and Engineer Marston Campbell, having visited the scene of operations where the Diamond Head reservoir is in the course of construction, for the purpose of determining the best method of supplying that receptacle with water, have arrived at the conclusion that the Beretania street pumping plant can furnish sufficient power to fill the tank under favorable conditions.

Mr. Holloway stated that a certain portion of the night could be set aside when check valves in the water mains could be set at certain points between Diamond Head and the Beretania pump and the pump would have a direct line on the reservoir. Some talk of the Beretania pump not being able to supply the Diamond Head reservoir; that it had not sufficient power and that the friction for the distance of five miles between the pump and the tank would interfere with successful action; that a bursting of the main would likely result through the attempt to place water at Diamond Head with the present appliances.

Mr. Holloway stated that it would certainly be impracticable to attempt to supply the reservoir during the day, when the demand for water was so great. During the night or a certain portion of it, however, certain sections could be cut out and the power devoted to filling the Diamond Head reservoir.

Mr. Holloway said that it was impossible to say just now what time would be required to fill the reservoir, it would all depend, of course, upon the amount of water used and this could not be determined until the reservoir was in use.

The Diamond Head reservoir will have an elevation of about 120 feet. The highest possible pressure of the Beretania pump is 125 pounds. The main is an eight inch affair and the distance about five miles.

In the daytime a tank at an elevation of 60 feet on the lower Waikiki road receives feeble tricklings of water, it is only at night that it gets anything of a supply. The difficulties of supplying Diamond Head are therefore considerable.

Superintendent Holloway stated that if the Pahoa water works were purchased by the Government the Diamond Head reservoir would be supplied in that way. It was a question, however, whether the Territory or the county should take the works.

PUBLIC SERVANTS

CLAIM INCOME.

TAX NO LAW

Certain public servants are claiming that the last Legislature repealed, by inference, the income tax law enacted by the Legislature of 1931.

Many of those whose salaries were fixed by the last Legislature have realized that there is an inconsistency somewhere and that, whereas the law of latest enactment provides that certain salaries shall be received by them from the government, they do not, as a matter of fact, receive the amount allowed by the Legislature if they are compelled to return to the Government a certain percentage as a tax on their income, the income which the latest Legislature has declared they shall receive and which, so the government officers claim, cannot be touched by the law of a previous Legislature; the law of the last Legislature providing definite sums in the way of remuneration for officers necessarily stands, and if a previous law in any way differs with the latest enactment, the first law is, by inference, repealed by a later provision.

Appropriations from the Territory's current receipts are made to pay the salaries of government officers and then these officers are taxed to increase the current receipts; in other words, say the officers discussing the matter, the Government takes back a portion of the salaries which the Legislature provided for.

There is some talk of contesting the matter of the payment of the income tax by those receiving Government salaries, on the ground above stated.

An officer of the Government said this morning, "I guess I'll have to pay my income tax, but I wish someone would contest the legality of requiring an officer, whose salary is fixed by the Legislature, to give back a portion of that salary in income tax. There is no reason why the contention should not stand."

EAST LYNNE POPULAR.

A good house witnessed East Lynne last night at the Orpheum. The play was well represented and the players showed that Melodrama is not their entire forte.

Miss Wall as Lady Isabel was very good and her work especially in the emotional parts drew great applause. East Lynne brought the tears and there were few dry eyes when the curtain dropped.

The play will be repeated tonight and at the Matinee Saturday.

KAUAI SHIPPING REPORT.

The steamer Kaula arrived from Kauai ports this morning at 6:45 o'clock with 5,155 bags L. P. and 1261 bags H. M. sugar.

The following sugar is reported at Kauai ports ready for shipment: H. M., 2,029 bags; L. P., 975 bags.

Purser Kane reports as follows: The steamer W. G. Hall was at Eleele discharging freight when we left. We had fine weather throughout the trip. On Dec. 1 we spent five hours at Abukani overhauling the moorings.

John H. Wilson, who returned from Molokai yesterday, states that there was what appeared to him to be a tidal wave on the windward side of Molokai on Sunday last. A big sea washed away two houses at Kalaupapa and at Pelekunu the waves rushed clear through the houses on the beach, causing great fear. The sea reached a point 250 feet inshore of the highest former tide mark. The flooding prevailed all along the coast from Kalaupapa to Halawa for about two hours. Mr. Wilson reports further that a quarter of a mile from shore the ocean was smooth.

Frank M. Jenifer, traveling passenger agent of the steamship and rail way lines between Australia and American and European ports, has been engaged as Pacific Coast agent of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, with offices in San Francisco. The committee has also secured the services of L. L. Whitlock, who conducts in Los Angeles the Travel and Hotel Bureau.

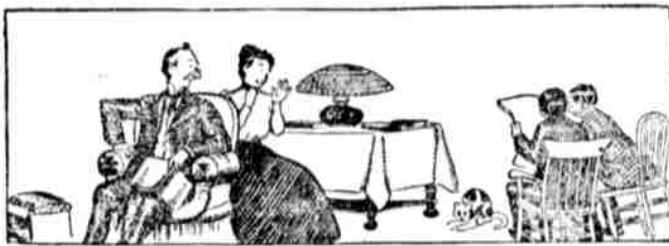

JAPANESE PROTEST

At the meeting of the Japanese Association in the primary school on Nuuanu avenue yesterday, there was a lively discussion over the question of Japanese laborers sent to Vancouver by people here. Consul Miki Salto reported to the meeting the correspondence and cablegrams he has with reference to the detention of Japanese in Vancouver. This started the discussion. The result was a unanimous vote of the delegates present on the adoption of a resolution denouncing the methods used to get Japanese away from Hawaii. The resolution also contained a clause expressing disapproval of Japanese leaving Hawaii for the mainland and it was agreed that steps should be taken to prevent further emigration of this character.

A petition to accompany the resolution will be drawn up and sent to the Japanese Minister at Washington, through the local Consul General.

WHAT THE BOYS WERE INFORMED ABOUT.

"I'm so glad that our boys are taking an interest in the newspapers. So many boys of their age have no idea what is going on in the world, and it's such a pleasure to find a boy that is well informed. I suppose they are reading up on the Japan and Russia scrimmage. By the way, boys, what's the latest news from the east? Will those Japs have the nerve to tackle Russia's lines?"

"Why, those Japs didn't stand a ghost of a show against our rushes. Our lines were too strong for 'em, and we simply chewed 'em up. The score was 27 to 3."—Chicago Tribune.

While You Wait

Thousands Write Me and Get Well.

Why do you stay sick while an offer like this is waiting?

Why not try to get well? I will mail you an order—good at any drug store—for six bottles Dr. Choop's Restorative. You may take it a month on trial. If it succeeds, the cost is $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the Druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

If my way succeeds, think what it means to be well. If I fail, simply say so and the treatment is free. Remember two things: First, I know what this remedy will do, and the offer proves my faith in it. Second, it is apparent that I usually succeed, else the offer would ruin me. For your own sake, let me convince you.

My success comes from strengthening the inside nerves, which alone operate the vital organs. I have spent my life in learning how to do it. A weak organ means weak nerve power. It is like a weak engine that needs more steam. To doctor the organ is useless; what it needs is power to act. My Restorative alone brings back that power, and in most of these diseases no other way can cure.

My book will tell you why.

PROFESSOR KOEBELE IS CALLED BACK

Superintendent of Public Works Holloway was unanimously elected secretary of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry at yesterday afternoon's meeting.

Holloway touching on condition of appropriations for the Board showed total balance available to be $21,561.02, estimates for November and December expenditures totaling $13,125.21.

Professor Perkins was authorized to prepare a requisition for necessary material for fumigation of trees.

Perkins read letter from Professor Koebele, dated in Alameda. Koebele had found a new beetle, a destroyer of the leaf hopper.

At President L. A. Thurston's suggestion it was voted to call Koebele home at once.

Five hundred dollars was voted for entomological books and instruments. Thurston reported that circular letters had been sent to volunteer foresters concerning their duties.

Holloway stated that the construction of the new headquarters would soon begin at the nursery.

Superintendent Holloway read a letter to the Governor from Customs Collector Stackable in reference to the inspection of imported plants. It was suggested that a Federal order might be obtained giving authority for protecting the Territory from the introduction of pests.

W. M. Giffard suggested that the Board have a journal of its own, perhaps the "Hawaii Monthly" might give a portion of its space. Giffard, as a committee, will look up the matter.

A. W. Carter had received word from Forester Hall to the effect that Forester Hosmer would almost certainly accept the management of forestry affairs here.

Governor Carter asked that an answer be sent to a letter from Mr. Olliver regarding the opening of a proposed homestead settlement in the Honouliuli forest land in the Hilo district. Thurston said there were other cases awaiting action. The question could not be decided until Forester Hosmer had time to look over the whole situation.

Mr. Kidwell's complaint about foul trees in the King street nursery was referred to and an examination determined upon.

It was decided that meetings of the Board be held on Wednesdays at 2 p. m.

THEY KNOW BARRY.

Men in Honolulu who know Dave Barry, the pugilist who is to arrive here in the Alameda tomorrow for the purpose of going into training to fight Jack Weday, state that he has no advantages over the latter. They have seen him fight a number of battles and say that he will fight on about a par with Weday. They go a little further still and say it is their belief the latter will win since he has the advantage of having been long enough in the country to become used to the peculiar conditions of climate. At all events, they are willing to wager that the fight will be one of the closest ever seen here.

OFFICERS OF EAGLES.

The following officers were elected for the year in Honolulu Aerie 140 F. O. E. at last evening's meeting: Worthy President—H. T. Moore. Worthy Vice President—F. A. Mayfield.

Worthy Chaplain—H. A. Juen. Worthy Secretary—Henry Viera, Jr. Worthy Treasurer—W. W. Carlyle. Worthy Conductor—J. W. Asch. Inside Guard—Chas. Freeman. Outside Guard—T. F. Hope. Trustees—H. E. Gares, T. A. Simpson, Morris Rosenberg. Aerie Physician—Dr. C. E. Camp.

The band will give a concert on the grounds of the Moana hotel this evening at the usual time. A fine program has been arranged. Included among the numbers will be the intermezzo "Anona" which the band has played so frequently of late by request.

Electric Power

Reduced In Price

The Hawaiian Electric Company announces a reduction in the rate for electric current supplied for power. On and after December 1st, 1933, the rate for power will be 15 cents per kilowatt hour for all power up to 100 kilowatt hours per month; thence on a sliding scale to 10 cents per kilowatt hour for 1000 kilowatt hours per month; thence on a proportionate scale to 6 cents per kilowatt hour for 2700 kilowatt hours per month. All current above 2700 kilowatt hours per month will be 6 cents per kilowatt hour. The usual 5 per cent discount will be allowed on all bills paid on or before the 10th of the succeeding month.

A minimum charge of $1.00 per horsepower per month will be made.

THURSDAY, DEC. 3, 1903.

John Alexander Dowle finds that faith will not revive a "busted community."

The public is deeply interested in knowing when it happened that the morning paper criticized Governor Dole.

When the Advertiser says Clerk Meheula did not call for bids on the House Journal it says what it knows to be untrue.

The House of Lords wants no women lawyers, possibly because the Lords find themselves sufficiently petticoated when at home.

Backing a policy of political and administrative dishonesty in dealing with the county law, the morning paper naturally finds itself repudiated.

Panama has given so much under the canal treaty that there will not be much additional right or title to offer when the Republic applies for admission as a State.

Great Britain evidently decides that it had better buy battleships on the market rather than allow them to pass into the hands of possible belligerents whose war might force the British to take a hand.

What Congress can do is to pass an amendment to Hawaii's Organic law that will make the right to establish municipal governments so broad and clear that the most ardent enemies of decentralization will realize that their game is up.

President Roosevelt now has Collector Crum and General Wood furnishing him a great deal of trouble, but the final fate of these appointments will largely determine whether the President or the Senate is the chief appointing power of the land.

Governor Carter says the morning paper does not speak for his administration. Later this was amplified by the statement that the morning press does not bespeak the sentiment of the Republican party. Both statements are full of truth that grates harshly on the morning paper, which is properly placed as the organ of misrepresentation.

The only difference between Governor Carter's position and that of the morning paper is that Carter wants to make sure of the continuation of the County law and the power behind the paper wants to kill it. The people stand with Carter on the general principle though they may differ as to the advisability of perfecting the law in the Federal or Territorial legislature.

Discussion of the status of the County law in public assembly is a very good idea, but after all has been said on both sides the result will depend largely on what Mr. Hatch and Delegate Kubio report on what it is practical to do in Washington if anything. People who are howling over Hatch's mission seem to forget that mighty few cogs will be turned either way without the cooperation of the Delegate. Mr. Hatch will have a wide range of possibilities to canvass before he can report progress.

PRINTING FIGURES.

Yes, it (Advertiser) refused to pay any commissions to drafters whereupon most of the work went to the Bulletin at a price far above current rates.—Advertiser.

Judging from the foregoing the Advertiser enjoyed experiences during the Legislature which did not fall to the lot of the Bulletin. If, as the Advertiser states, it was approached on the commission basis, it merely shows to which printing institution such wares naturally trend.

Speaking of the amount of printing done the following figures, showing the printing done by both legislative houses by three newspaper printing offices is worthy of attention though the morning press fails to publish it:

House. Senate.
Bulletin $3,247.25 $1,501.15
Star 1,387.15 1,095.75
Gazette 657.20 688.00

This shows that the morning paper did the smallest amount of printing of any newspaper office in town. If the House printing done by the Bulletin at prices established for all printing offices was graft, what was the Senate printing done at the same price and under exactly the same conditions?

A NATIONAL FORECAST.

One of the most interesting commentaries on the New York city election and its possible influence on the national political game is found in one of Walter Wellman's dispatches to the Chicago Record-Herald about a week before the election. Wellman, in speaking of the interest at the White House in the November election, said: "President Roosevelt is keenly interested in next week's elections. His greatest anxiety is as to New York city and the State of Maryland. It is admitted by administration leaders that if Tammany carries New York city against Low, the result will indicate that next year's presidential battle is to be a hard-fought contest. New York state will be a debatable ground, with grave danger that the Democrats may be able to win its electoral votes. Should New York go Democratic in the presidential contest, New Jersey or Connecticut, or possibly both, might follow suit. While this would not defeat Mr. Roosevelt without the loss of some western states usually considered Republican, it would make matters uncomfortably close.

"A Tammany victory in the metropolitan area next Tuesday, indicating a possible triumph of the Democracy in the State next year, would cheer up the Democratic faithful in all parts of the country, and encourage greater efforts on their part to 'get together'."

"On account of the lack of harmony in the opposition forces, and the apparent impossibility of their finding a man upon whom they could unite, some of the President's friends have hitherto been disposed to regard next year's campaign as a mere 'walk over' for Mr. Roosevelt. But it is now admitted that a Tammany triumph next week might greatly change the situation."

According to the result judged by this forecast, a hard fought political battle is in sight during the coming year, provided the Democrats can rise to the opportunity and present a solid front. With New York in the doubtful list the Democrats have a real nucleus about which they may assemble. The reasonable hope, Roosevelt is sure of all the electoral votes South of the Mason-Dixon line. Provided the Democrats can obtain a man and a platform that will appeal to the great pivotal States, they have a chance of making a fairly close fight. Another bright star on the Democratic horizon is an apparent tendency toward the almost invariable hard times that follow a period of prosperity. Searching around for a reason, the people usually decide a national change is needed and turn the Democrats loose to bear the brunt of responsibility till they make such a mess of it that the voters are glad to call on the Republicans to set the country straight again.

Though Wellman's forecast presents a somewhat dangerous outlook for the Republicans, his opinions are not shared by political leaders whose review of the situation seldom appears in print. These men state privately that President Roosevelt and the Republican party will have to make some terrible mistakes in order to give the Democrats a fair chance of success. They are not so sure of conditions four years hence, when the Democrats will have had time to patch their broken fences and the periodical demand for a change may arrive.

COOPER FEDERAL ATTORNEY.

Henry E. Cooper was this morning admitted to practice in the U. S. District Court, upon motion of W. O. Smith, President of the Bar Association.

In the Police Court this morning the cases of Chas. O'Neill, charged with selling liquor to a woman, and of Hiral, charged with vagrancy, were both nolle pro'd. The case of Kudo, charged with vagrancy, was stricken from the calendar. Wong Hing was fined $25 and costs for having chefa tickets in his possession. The cases of six other Chinese, charged with a similar offense, were continued until next Tuesday. Antonio Moke was sent to the Reform School for the rest of his minority on the charge of truancy.

U. S. Marshal Hendry last night returned from Kauai where he served ten subpoenas in a Japanese immoral importation case, accomplishing the work in very quick time.

TOOK HER OWN LIFE

INSANE WOMAN KILLS HERSELF IN HER CELL

TIES A CORD AROUND HER NECK AND STRANGLES HERSELF AT THE POLICE STATION.

Saga, a Japanese woman, committed suicide in a cell in the police station lock-up this morning between 7:30 and 8 o'clock. Saga was brought to the station yesterday in a hack by her husband who explained that he and his wife had recently come from Hawaii, Kauai. The woman had been subject to fits of insanity for some time past and had attempted suicide five or six times. The husband wanted the woman committed to the asylum.

Saga was locked up in cell number 2 until such time as she could be examined by Dr. Emerson. The door of cell number 2 faces the main side of the police station yard. The cell window faces the lock-up corridor.

Turnkey Scott Wright, who was on watch last night, paid special attention to the woman. Throughout the night he was sitting in the corridor under the window of the cell. Every time there was the slightest noise in the cell Wright got up and looked through the window to see that the woman did herself no harm. At 7:30 this morning Wright left his position outside the window and went to change his clothes as he goes off watch at 8 o'clock. Before leaving he looked into the cell. The woman was alive at the time and quiet. After changing his clothes Wright went to the receiving station. At 7:55 he was called from by Kahuna, a trusty, who told him that Saga had strangled herself. Wright rushed to the cell and hastily unlocking the door found the woman lying on the platform which is placed in the cell for a sleeping place. Around her neck she had tied a piece of black cloth and about five feet long, twisted in the manner of a cord. She had twisted this cord around her neck twice in what is known as a "clove hitch." No more efficient hitch could be thought of for strangling purposes. By pulling the ends of the cord the loop tightened without any possibility of loosening. The woman's body was still warm and the officers thought that they detected signs of life. Resuscitation by means of artificial respiration was at once attempted but without success. The woman had carried out her insane design only too well.

No blame is attached to Turnkey Wright who is known to be an efficient and conscientious officer. A coroner's jury viewed the remains this morning.

CARTER FAVORABLE

GIVES BUILDERS AND TRADERS SATISFACTION

GOVERNMENT WILL FAVOR LOCAL BIDDERS AND SUPPLY HOUSES — CONFERENCE HELD YESTERDAY.

When the members of the Builders and Traders' Exchange called on Governor Carter yesterday to present their memorial on the patronage of local supply houses by the government, they were taken into the conference room and, upon emerging, showed by their countenances that the conference with Mr. Carter had been of a very satisfactory nature.

The memorial was read and the matter laid before the Governor in all its phases. It was stated that the Exchange had been continually reminded from various sources, by word of mouth and by means of written communications, that the Government was persisting in the practice of sending to the mainland for bids on various public works.

Governor Carter made answer that such was not the policy of the present administration. So far as he was concerned, it was his wish and it would be his endeavor to see to it that the local supply houses should be given the preference.

The Governor said that in nearly all cases this was his idea. Where the local supply houses and bidders were ready to submit fair valuations. However, there were certain cases where it would be absolutely necessary to send to the mainland, and then the Government would most certainly follow out this course. The members of the committee present acquiesced in this.

HAND PAINTED BARN

Have been known in this neighborhood as long as we can remember. They're an old story. The new and improved method of barn painting is to blow the paint on by machinery. It lasts as long on rough work, looks as well, and costs less. If you've a barn or fence to paint or a cellar to white-wash, let us give you an estimate on the machine-painted way.

One of the members of the committee, who drafted the memorial presented yesterday, said to a Bulletin reporter today: "Our conference with the Governor yesterday was eminently satisfactory. Mr. Carter realized what a continued taking away of business from the local concerns means and sees the justice in our protest. Not only this—he has outlined the policy of the government on this question and says that the local men will always be given a choice where their valuations submitted are fair. We want nothing better and if private parties will only do what the government proposes to do, I do not see why there are not good times ahead for us."

Justice Henry B. Brown, of the Supreme Court, is as great a walker as Justice Harlan, whose long tramps to the Chevy Chase golf links are frequently spoken of. Justice Brown walks from five to ten miles every day, and now that the sessions of the Supreme Court are over and he has no cause to take his daily exercise going to the Capitol he walks about the West End and out into the suburbs. His niece, Miss Morgan, who has been with him since the death of his wife, accompanies him as a rule, especially if the weather is good.

WILCOX WANTS PROOF

An open letter to the Editor of the Star.
Mr. Editor:—In your attempt to defend that epic of grandiloquence and political bunkum authored by the Federal Grand Jury you state that all of my bills were for "printing, etc." I challenge of the Federal Grand Jurors or any other set of liars in town to produce said "bill for printing."

In the list of bills you allege as mine are two bills dated April 28 for $17.25 and May 8 for $18.25, approved by Hon. F. W. Beckley who is in town and has expressed a wish to have these things printed to the bottom. Please have the kindness to ask him to prove these bills.

It has come to my knowledge that Judge Dole has released the indicted Clerk, Mokuia, for whose appearance his prosecutors demanded a $2,000 bond, on his own recognizance. It is quite evident that justice and the Federal Grand Jurors have disagreed. Mr. Prosecutor will probably not take this as a gentle hint to his himself back to the woolly wilds of Montana. Yours truly,
CHAS. WILCOX.

WILL CHECK TAMMANY

New York, Nov. 5.—From an authoritative source it was learned today that Tammany will be in hot water if it attempts to have a "wide open" town here. It will not be the District Attorney alone with which the vicious element will have to contend. The forces that created the Committee of Fifteen, the body that did so much to purify the town and to bring about the inauguration of a reform administration, are getting together to consider ways and means of defeating Tammany.

It is an open secret that since Jerome became District Attorney the members of the Committee of Fifteen have offered to contribute to a fund as large as the District Attorney might consider necessary to aid him in suppressing the crimes that are incidental to a Tammany administration. The men who have offered Jerome funds believe he is the only public official in New York who will have the heart to fight vice after Tammany assumes control of the city on January 1st. It is reported that John D. Rockefeller is one of the men who have offered Jerome financial backing. Jerome said today that he knew of thousands of men who would contribute to a fund to prevent a wide open town.

THE NEILL ENGAGEMENT

The announcement is made that Jan. Neill and his company will arrive by steamer Alameda and open at the Opera House next Saturday for three weeks engagement.

The opening play is to be "A Gentleman of France," a stirring heroic drama in which Mr. Neill has been starring the past season with success. He brings with him his entire company and a repertoire containing such great plays as "The Christian," "Under the Red Robe," "The Cowboy and the Lady," "The Little Minister," John John Grispy and other well known successes.

The patrons of the Opera House have a rich treat in store and should respond in a liberal manner. The sale of seats opens tomorrow morning at Wall, Nichols & Co.

Tried To Raise Woman From Dead

Eureka, Nov. 5.—One of the most aggravated cases of religious fanaticism that has occurred in these parts was witnessed yesterday when the members of Peniel Mission of Eureka attempted to raise the dead body by prayer before the body was lowered into the grave. Mrs. Alice Seow, who while in life had been associated with the mission, died three days ago, although many prayers were offered at the mission to have her life spared.

After services had been held at the grave yesterday and the box containing the body had been lowered into the grave, four women of the Peniel Mission, headed by a Miss Spillane, stepped to the edge of the grave and asked that the box be lifted out again, which was done. The undertaker was called upon to open the box and raise the head lid of the coffin, when the women knelt about the ground and Miss Spillane called three times: "Alice, arise. I command thee in the name of Christ to arise, now." Receiving no response from the dead woman she called upon the Lord to raise the dead, saying that his honor and character were at stake as he had promised that the dead woman should be brought to life. Fanatic but ineffectual attempts were then made to have the coffin lid taken entirely off so that the dead might arise, but the box was finally closed again and lowered into the grave.

CHAPTER I.

A STERN CHASE ON A LEE SHORE.

"The wind is freshening. We gain upon her easily. I think, sir." "Decidedly. This is our best point of sailing and our best wind too. We can't be going less than 10 knots," said the captain, looking critically over the bows at the water racing alongside.

"I can almost make out the name on her stern now with the naked eye," replied the other, staring hard ahead through the drift and spray.

"Have you a glass there, Mr. O'Neill?" asked the captain.

"Yes, sir; here it is," answered that gentleman, handing him a long, old fashioned, cumbersome brass telescope, which he at once adjusted and focused on the ship they were chasing.

"Ah!" said the elder of the two speakers, a small, slender man, standing lightly poised on the topgallant forecastle with the careless confidence of a veteran seaman as he examined the chase through the glass which the taller and younger officer handed him. "I can read it plainly with this. The M-a-i-d-stone, a trader evidently, as I see no gun ports nor anything that betokens an armament." He ran the tubes of the glass into each other and handed it back, remarking, "At this rate we shall have her in a short time."

"She is a fast one, though," replied the other. "It's no small task for anything about to show us her heels for so long a time. Let me see; it was six bells in the morning watch when we raised her, was it not, sir?"

"Yes, it's rather remarkable going for a merchant vessel, but we have the heels of her and will get her soon unless she goes to the bottom on those reefs round the Land's End yonder. It's a nasty place to be tearing through in that wild way," he added thoughtfully.

"Shall I give her a shot, sir, from the starboard bow chaser?" "Not just yet; it would be useless, as we are not quite within range, and she would pay no heed; besides, we shall have her without it, and 'tis hardly worth while wasting a shot upon her at present."

The brief conversation took place forward from the forecastle of the American Continental ship Ranger, between her captain, John Paul Jones, and her first lieutenant, one Barry O'Neill, marquis de Richmond, sometime officer in the navy of his most Christian majesty the king of France. O'Neill was the son of a marshall of France, an Irish gentleman of high birth and position, who had gone out as a mere lad with the young Stuart in the '45, and whose property had been confiscated and himself attained and sentenced to death for high treason. Fortunately he had escaped to the continent, and had entered the service of the king of France, where, through his extraordinary ability and courage, he had risen to exalted station and great wealth. He had always continued more or less of a conspirator in the cause of the royal Stuarts, however, and his son, following in his footsteps, had been mixed up in every treasonable Jacobite enterprise which had been undertaken, and was under the same ban of the British throne as was his father.

When Paul Jones in the historic ship Ranger came to France, O'Neill, moved by a spirit of adventure and his ever present desire to strike a blow at King George, received permission to enter the American service temporarily, with several other French officers. The Ranger was already some days out on her successful cruise, when, early on a morning in the month of April in the year 1778, they had sighted a ship trying to beat around the Land's End. Sail had at once been made in chase, and the stranger was now almost within the grasp of the American pursuers.

"It seems to me, sir," said O'Neill to the captain, "that unless she goes about presently she won't weather that long reef over beyond her, where those breakers are."

"Aye," said Jones, "and if she goes about, she's our, and!" He paused significantly.

"The wind is freshening. We gain upon her easily. I think, sir." "Decidedly. This is our best point of sailing and our best wind too. We can't be going less than 10 knots," said the captain, looking critically over the bows at the water racing alongside.

The brief conversation took place forward from the forecastle of the American Continental ship Ranger, between her captain, John Paul Jones, and her first lieutenant, one Barry O'Neill, marquis de Richmond, sometime officer in the navy of his most Christian majesty the king of France. O'Neill was the son of a marshall of France, an Irish gentleman of high birth and position, who had gone out as a mere lad with the young Stuart in the '45, and whose property had been confiscated and himself attained and sentenced to death for high treason. Fortunately he had escaped to the continent, and had entered the service of the king of France, where, through his extraordinary ability and courage, he had risen to exalted station and great wealth. He had always continued more or less of a conspirator in the cause of the royal Stuarts, however, and his son, following in his footsteps, had been mixed up in every treasonable Jacobite enterprise which had been undertaken, and was under the same ban of the British throne as was his father.

When Paul Jones in the historic ship Ranger came to France, O'Neill, moved by a spirit of adventure and his ever present desire to strike a blow at King George, received permission to enter the American service temporarily, with several other French officers. The Ranger was already some days out on her successful cruise, when, early on a morning in the month of April in the year 1778, they had sighted a ship trying to beat around the Land's End. Sail had at once been made in chase, and the stranger was now almost within the grasp of the American pursuers.

"It seems to me, sir," said O'Neill to the captain, "that unless she goes about presently she won't weather that long reef over beyond her, where those breakers are."

"Aye," said Jones, "and if she goes about, she's our, and!" He paused significantly.

"A good shot, Master Price."

that fellow. What's he doing now? "Fore Gad, he's got a gun over the quarter, a stern chaser. Must have arms on board."

The Ranger was rushing through the water again at a rapidly increasing rate, almost burying her lee cathead in the foaming sea under the freshening breeze, and was now very near the Maidstone, which at this moment discharged the small stern chaser which had been dragged astern, the shot from which passed harmlessly through the bulging foresail above their heads.

"Give her another, Price," said O'Neill upon a nod from Jones.

"Into her this time, sir?" "Yes; anywhere you like."

The Ranger luffed again, losing a little distance as she did so, but weathering appreciably on the stranger, and at this time the flying splinters from the stern of the chase showed that the shot had met its mark. There was a sudden scattering of the men upon her quarter, and most of them disappeared, but the young girl could be seen holding on to the weather spanker vang and apparently looking defiantly at them. O'Neill took up the glass and examined her.

"Faith, sir, she looks as pretty as she is brave. See for yourself, sir," he added as he handed the telescope to the captain, who took a careful look at her through the glass.

"You have a good eye for the beautiful," he replied, smiling, "even at a long range. Secure the bow chaser, sir; we are within musket range of her."

While this was being done the Ranger had crept up on the stranger till her bow began to overreach the weather quarter of the other vessel. As they held on recklessly together suddenly the speed of the chase was diminished. Her helm was put down, and with sails quivering and swaying she swung up into the wind.

"We have her now," said Jones, springing on the rail and leaning over forward. "Nay, it's too late. Missed shots! By heaven, she's in iron! She's doomed! Aft there, steady with the helm! Give her a good full."

In the next instant, with a crash heard above the roar of the storm even upon the other ship, the ill fated Maidstone drove upon the reef; broadside on. The shock of meeting was tremendous. Her masts were snapped short off like pipestems; the howling gale jerked them over the sides, where they thundered and beat upon the ship with tremendous force. The girl disappeared.

"Breakers ahead!" on the instant roared out a half dozen voices in the forecastle.

"Breakers on the starboard bow!" came the wild cry from all sides.

"Down with the helm—hard down!" shouted O'Neill, with a seaman's ready instinct, without waiting for the captain. There was a moment of confusion on the deck.

"Steady with the helm—steady, sir!" cried Jones in his powerful voice, with an imperious wave of his hand. "Steady fore and aft the decks! Every man to his station! Keep her a good full, quartermaster. Keep that helm as you have it. Look yonder, sir," he added, pointing to leeward; to another danger. "Ready about, stations for stays! Aft with you, Mr. O'Neill, and see that the helm is shifted exactly as I direct. Make no mistake! Live! Live, for your lives!"

The eager crew sprang to their stations. There was another moment or two of confusion, and as they settled down the silence was broken only by the wind and waves. The water was seething and whirling under the forefoot of the Ranger. The reefs upon which the Maidstone had crashed were dangerously near. But the keen eye of the captain had seen on the other side a slender needle of rock over which the waves broke in seething fury as it thrust itself menacingly out of the angry ocean. They were right among the reefs, and only the most complete knowledge and consummate seamanship could save them. They were there. (Continued Tomorrow.)

INTER-ISLAND FANCIES.

There was a young lady from Hilo, Who posed as the Venus de Milo, Till her pedestal broke,

And she uttered a spoke, There was once a young man on Kauai, That sounded much more like a squeal "O."

Who tried like a mynah to fly, Till one day on a trip, His wings they did slip, And now he is soaring on high.

A Jap in a hurry one day, Jumped off from the car the wrong way,

Now he's riding on cars, That don't give any jars, And where passengers don't have to pay.

A hubbly was in a great wrath, 'Cause the plumber had torn off a lath, The next time he'll know, The right place to go, For good plumbing, and that is to Hato.

FINCH GETS PRESENT.

Captain William Finch of the Occidental and Oriental steamer Gaelic was presented yesterday with a handsome Indian head leather sofa pillow, the gift of little Oscar and Baby Helen Anderson of the schooner Andy Mahony, says the Chronicle of Nov. 25. They are children of Captain Anderson and were passengers on the big schooner Andy Mahony when that vessel was spoken 800 miles off this Coast on August 25th last and supplied with provisions. The schooner had been having a hard time beating up from the southern coast, and was on short rations when the Gaelic came over the rim of the horizon and replenished her larder. Captain Finch has given the leather pillow a prominent place in his room.

BOOKED TO ARRIVE.

From San Francisco, per S. S. Alameda, Dec. 4.—D. Barry, F. E. Shaw, Mrs. N. H. Zeve, Miss A. Ebbets, Mrs. P. Owen and child, Mr. and Mrs. J. Neil, J. F. Clay, Mrs. Clay, Miss Hickstein, Miss Longmore, Mrs. C. Walters and child, Geo. Bosworth, Mrs. J. W. Cathcart, J. W. NEBRASKAN WAITS ORDERS.

The Chronicle of November 25 containing the following about the Nebraskan: The American-Hawaiian steamer Nebraskan is lying at Greenwich street wharf awaiting orders from New York as to her future movements. Like the Nebraskan, the Nebraskan was built specially for the trade between here and Hawaii, and upon arrival from New York a year ago was supplied with an oil-burning plant. It is believed that she will be placed on the San Francisco and New York route. Bernard Mills has recently come out from New York to take the position of chief engineer on the Nebraskan, succeeding Chief Engineer Hough, who has accepted a position at Honolulu.

BURFORD TO RETIRE.

According to the Chronicle of Nov. 24, Captain Burford of the Army transport Thomas is to retire on the first of the month and go back to Rhode Island to settle down ashore. He has been a master mariner, and a good one, for the greater part of his life, his ordinary experience having been augmented by a naval training obtained in early years. His successor as commander of the big transport has not been announced. Capt. James Barnson, a well-known and popular transport master, has been on the waiting list for some time, or ever since the Warren was laid up, and is in line for the appointment.

BARK PARIS REINSURANCE.

The reinsurance rate on the overdue French bark Paris, which is today 204 days out from Hamburg for this port, is steadily rising. The Chronicle of Nov. 24 contains the following: The French bark Paris, 198 days out from Hamburg for Honolulu, is quoted at 10 per cent., and this is expected to rapidly advance if the vessel is not soon favorably reported. The British steamer Hardwick Hall, recently on the boards as overdue from Delagoa bay (or Calcutta), is ashore at Fagur Island, with a rate of 80 per cent. quoted for reinsurance.

PASSENGERS DEPARTED.

Sale To Liquidate Copartnership of Puuloa Sheep and Stock Ranch Company.

The copartnership known as the Puuloa Sheep and Stock Ranch Company, composed of George W. Macfarlane, E. C. Macfarlane and Henry R. Macfarlane, having been dissolved by the death of E. C. Macfarlane, February 16th, 1902, for the purpose of finally liquidating and closing the said copartnership with the consent of the survivors thereof, the undersigned, George W. Macfarlane, Fred W. Macfarlane and Henry R. Macfarlane, executors, and Florence B. Macfarlane, executrix, of the Last Will and Testament of E. C. Macfarlane, deceased, duly appointed, qualified and acting, having filed a certain verified petition in the matter of the said Estate of E. C. Macfarlane, deceased, in the Circuit Court in and for the First Judicial Circuit of the Territory of Hawaii, in which the matter of the said estate then was and now is pending, before the Honorable George D. Gear, Second Judge of said Circuit Court, sitting at Chambers, and made returnable before the said Honorable George D. Gear, as said Judge, on Monday, November 16th, 1903, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day, and the said petition having been duly heard and granted by said Honorable George D. Gear, as said Judge, on the date last aforesaid, and the said Honorable George D. Gear, on November 24th, 1903, having duly signed an order judgment and decree granting the prayer of said petition, and on December 1st, A. D. 1903, having also signed an order modifying and amending the said order, decree and judgment, as by reference to the said petition and orders on file in said Circuit Court, and to all the proceedings relative thereto, will more fully and at large appear.

Now therefore: Under the law and the proceedings and each of them aforesaid, for the purpose of finally liquidating and closing the copartnership aforesaid, and in conformity with the order, judgment and decree aforesaid, to which the survivors of the said copartnership, George W. Macfarlane and Henry R. Macfarlane have consented in writing, as by the petition aforesaid fully appears, the undersigned, George W. Macfarlane and Henry R. Macfarlane, survivors of the said copartnership, as said survivors, and the undersigned, George W. Macfarlane, Fred W. Macfarlane, and Henry R. Macfarlane, executors, and Florence B. Macfarlane, executrix, of the Last Will and Testament of E. C. Macfarlane, deceased, will offer for sale and will sell as a whole, at public auction, through James F. Morgan, auctioneer, hereby chosen and designated for that purpose, at the auction sales rooms of said James F. Morgan, Nos. 847-857 Kaahumanu street, in the city of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, on Saturday, January 9th, 1904, at the hour of 12 o'clock M. of that day, to the highest bidder, beyond or for the sum of twenty thousand dollars, the entire property, assets, and goodwill of the said Puuloa Sheep and Stock Ranch Company.

DESCRIPTION OF PROPERTY.

List of Freehold and Leasehold Lands and Improvements, Sheep and other Live Stock and Property owned by the Puuloa Sheep and Stock Ranch Company, viz:

FREEHOLD LANDS.

LAND OF OULI, Ahupua'a, containing 4,000 acres, more or less, and extending from the sea, near Kawaihau, to the top of the Kohala range of mountains, with a stream of water running through same, said stream having its origin in those mountains.

LAND AT LIHUE, in Waimea, the former homestead of James Luzada and Frank Spencer, and formerly the headquarters of the Lihue Cattle Ranch and Beef Packing Establishment, adjoining the land of Ouli and containing 50 acres. This also has a stream of water running through it, and is a beautiful block of land.

LAND OF AHULI, in Waimea, the former homestead of Edward Sparke, and formerly the headquarters of the Sparke Sheep Ranch. This is probably the finest residence site in the District of Waimea, and is a magnificent block of land having an area of 22 acres, through which there is also a running stream of pure water.

There are valuable stone fences and pens on the above properties.

The two last mentioned free blocks of land are very advantageously situated, and are almost in conjunction with the fine residence property of the late Hon. John P. Parker, the headquarters of the Parker Cattle Ranch.

These lands are covered with fine Maniote Grass, ornamental trees, &c., and the climate of this locality has no rival anywhere else in the islands, being at an elevation of 2,500 feet and at the base of snow-capped Mauna Kea, where the average temperature is from 50° to 60°.

LEASED LANDS.

LEASE OF THE LAND OF HOLO-KAWAI, near Waimea, from the Hawaiian Government, containing 10,250 acres, and expiring January 10th, 1909, at $225 per annum. There are two streams of water from Mauna Kea running through this land.

LEASE OF LAND AT WAIMEA

from Crown Commissioners, containing 258 acres, expiring June 1st, 1908. Rent $250 per annum. The boundary of this land on one side is on the Waikoloa stream.

LEASE OR MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT between the Puuloa Sheep and Stock Ranch Company and John P. and Samuel Parker, for running sheep on a portion of the large Ahupua'a of Waikoloa, in exchange for the privilege granted to the Parker Ranch of running cattle on the Sheep Co's. lands. This agreement expires in 1909.

There is also a lease, just expired, of Crown lands in Waimea, which the Puuloa Sheep & Stock Ranch Co. and its assigns, have held for 50 years, containing 679 acres, of which they are now in possession; and they have made application to the Territorial Government for a renewal of the lease. This application has not yet been acted upon.

THE IMPROVEMENTS.

Consist of a Dwelling House of Manager at Keamoku, Men's Quarters, Large Shearing Shed, Yards, Pens, Wire Fences, Stone and Cement Cisterns, &c., and the following appurtenances, viz: Wool Press, Iron Water Tanks, Redwood Water Tanks, Harness, Furniture, Scales, Sheep Shears, Wool Packing, &c., &c., and the following:

LIVE STOCK.

7,000 Sheep, more or less, including Ewes, Rams and Lambs;
25 Work Horses;
40 Mares and Unbroken Foals;
8 Team Horses and Hauling Wagons.

The whole comprising a complete Sheep and Stock Ranch.

The sheep are principally of the Merino breed, crossed with Southdown and Shropshire, and the wool produced by the Ranch has always commanded the highest price in the Hawaiian Wool Market.

TERMS OF SALE.

No bid for less than twenty thousand dollars, in gold coin of the United States, will be received.

Cash, in gold coin of the United States, payable as follows:

1. Ten per centum of the purchase price, at the time of sale, upon the fall of the hammer, to be paid either in gold coin of the United States to the survivors above named, George W. Macfarlane and Henry R. Macfarlane, or in a certified check or certified checks, payable to their order.

2. The remainder of the purchase price, within ten days after confirmation of the sale by the Judge of said First Circuit Court, before whom the said Estate of E. C. Macfarlane, deceased, may then be pending, and, upon the execution and acknowledgment by the undersigned, survivors, executors and executrix as aforesaid, and by each of them individually, of all conveyances, deeds, bills of sale, and other instruments, necessary to the full consummation of said sale and to the vesting of the title to the said property, real and personal, and of the good will of the copartnership aforesaid, in the purchaser, and concurrently with the delivery of the same and of possession of the said property to the purchaser.

All deeds, bills of sale, and other papers at the expense of the purchaser.

Further particulars can be obtained at the law office of Henry E. Highton, corner of Fort and King Streets, at the law office of Hatch & Ballou, Stangenwald Building, Honolulu, or from the undersigned, George W. Macfarlane or Henry R. Macfarlane.

Dated, Honolulu, H. T., December 1st, A. D. 1903.
