SUGAR WINS FIRST STEP IN BIG FIGHT

Louisiana Planters Secure Supreme Court Hearing on Plea for Injunction

MOVEMENT TO STOP TARIFF REDUCTION

Though Campaign Is Vigorous, General Sentiment Is That It Is Also Hopeless

By C. S. ALBERT

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 11.—The Louisiana sugar planters will have their day in court. Full opportunity will be given them to present arguments why the government should be restrained from enforcing the reduced duties on sugar, which became a cent per hundred pounds on March 1.

The supreme court of the United States determined to take cognizance of the petition for an injunction, filed by Attorney-general Pleasant of Louisiana. Monday, April 6, was fixed by the court for hearing oral arguments for and against the requested injunction. This does not mean that the pleas will be certainly heard on that day, but during the week beginning with the date indicated.

It is possible former Senator Joseph W. Bailey will make the leading argument for those seeking the restraining order. Attorney-general Pleasant will also present his views. Secretary McAdoo and the treasury department officials will be represented by legal experts from the department of justice. It is likely that Solicitor-general Davis will speak in opposition to the petition. A brief will be filed on behalf of Secretary McAdoo.

Although the supreme court has decided to hear the petition the prevailing opinion is that the litigation will prove futile. It is believed the court will hold that the reductions carried in the tariff act must stand and be enforced, despite possible loss to any state through employment of convicts in making sugar or any other product.

The general sentiment expressed by lawyers is that the suit will have no effect and the reduction of rates on refined sugar will stand. The only remedial action, they think, lies in a direct repeal or modification of the objectionable provision by Congress. There has been much agitation in that direction but no progress resulted because of President Wilson's insistence that the tariff law remain as enacted.

VIOLATORS OF FEDERAL LAW UNDER ARREST

Japanese and Chinese Accused of Selling Liquor Without U. S. License

[Special Star-Bulletin Wireless]
HILO, March 23.—Violators of the federal law, accused of selling liquor without a license, to the number of 23 were placed under arrest here today by David Sherwood, U. S. deputy marshal. It is believed the offenders, the majority of whom are Japanese, a few exceptions being Chinese, will be taken to Honolulu for trial in the federal court.

Quick action is promised against all violators of the federal liquor license law, according to the statement made by Charles A. Cottrill, U. S. internal revenue collector, and the foregoing wireless dispatch bears out his promise of a campaign against all offenders.

It is the determination of the collector to bring to trial all offenders, who do not take advantage of his offer of leniency, which will allow them to settle out of court for their first offense.

Federal warrants for the arrest of the 23 Japanese and Chinese on Hawaii were issued Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening Deputy Sherwood left for Hilo to make the arrests. It being believed here that the majority of them were made Sunday. It was stated at the office of the internal revenue collector, this morning, that all the persons against whom his batch of warrants was issued, had been given an opportunity to settle out of court, but had failed to take advantage of the offer. They now face imprisonment of from 30 days to two years, or a heavy fine.

It is stated that a large number of those under arrest are engaged in the illicit traffic on the road leading to Waipio valley. They are charged under sections 24-42 of the R. S. U. S.

PERLEY L. HORNE RESIGNS AS HEAD OF KAMEHAMEHA

Plans to Sever Connection with Schools Aug. 31, After Ten Years' Association

EXPECTS TO RETURN TO HIS HOME IN THE EAST

Has Made No Plans for Future But Intends Educational Work Continuance

Perley L. Horne, principal of the Kamehameha schools, who has tendered his resignation to take effect August 31, after ten years with the institution.

Having completed 10 years of service as principal of the Kamehameha schools, Perley L. Horne last Friday tendered to the board of trustees of that institution his resignation, to take effect August 31, the termination of the present school year. Accompanied by his family, Mr. Horne plans to leave Honolulu for his former home in Massachusetts shortly after the date on which he severs his connection with the school.

"I do not know whether I shall ever return to Honolulu," he said this morning. "My resignation is purely voluntary. I have completed 10 years of work with Kamehameha, and the East, I find, has a strong call for me. I have a daughter in school there and for some time I have been planning a trip back to Massachusetts. From now until the last of August I shall be busy with my annual report and with the balancing of the books and other matters, as I intend to leave everything in good shape before I depart."

Mr. Horne said that he has made no plans for the future. He informed the trustees of the school some time ago of his proposed resignation, and said this morning that he did not know whether or not any arrangements had been made by them for his successor.

"Although it is with tremendous regret that I leave Honolulu and the Kamehameha schools," he said, "I do not think I should consider any proposition of returning here to engage in like work. I prefer the East, and it is possible that I may take up educational work there."

Trustees of the Bishop estate, who are also trustees of the schools, were emphatic this morning in their commendation of Mr. Horne and his aid.

BARON LE GAY IS AFTER MONOPOLY OF SHIPPING BUSINESS WITH ORIENT

On a letterhead of "The Reform Trading Organization of China in Japan," Baron Chas. Etta LeGay, under date of March 6, writes:
To the Star-Bulletin, Honolulu.

Dear Editor: No doubt it will interest you to know that 26 branches have been established in China and Japan and today we have signed a contract to run a regular line of steamers, via Honolulu, to Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Mexican ports. Later we shall run through the canal to New York, via Honolulu.

Up to now we have chartered only four steamers of from 1000 to 3000 tons, or 6000 to 10,000 tons capacity. Later I will send you more particulars of great interest.

No doubt you read of my success in China with the oil concession of the Standard Oil Company.

I will send you regular news in the future.

MASSMEETING IS AFTER ACTION ON FEDERAL BUILDING

Merchants' Association and the Chamber of Commerce Are Sponsors for Gathering

MAY RECOMMEND THAT THE TREASURY OFFICIALS ACT

Alternative Is Postcard Vote of Membership to Decide Upon Location

"A prompt settlement of the federal building site" is the slogan of the mass-meeting being held under the joint auspices of the Merchants' Association and the Chamber of Commerce in the makai pavilion of the Young hotel this afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock.

It is probable that before the meeting adjourns a resolution, already prepared, will be presented for the consideration of the assemblage, which is to the effect that the treasury department be called upon to make a decision in the matter, in order that construction may be commenced at as early a date as possible. Provided this resolution fails to be adopted the alternative will be a post-card vote, to be participated in by the membership of the organizations calling the meeting and active in the movement for an early settlement of the controversy. In event of the vote being taken the post-cards will contain a list of the five proposed sites, viz: 1, original Mahuka; 2, enlarged Mahuka; 3, Spreckels; 4, Irwin; 5, Allen. The members of the Merchants' Association and of the Chamber of Commerce will be requested to mark their selections in order of first, second, third, fourth and fifth.

Acting upon the returns of this vote the organization will then bend every effort towards securing the adoption of the site given the preference and the result of the vote will be transmitted to the treasury and other departments of the federal government interested in the federal building.

Considerable interest centers around the talk that will be made during this afternoon's meeting by Jeff McCann, who has made an investigation of the different sites and reported his findings to Washington.

Others among the speakers are W. R. Castle, H. L. Withington, J. R. Galt, George L. Carter, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Gen. J. H. Soper. W. R. Farrington, president of the Merchants' Association, is chairman of the meeting.

It was rumored this afternoon that the directors of the Irwin estate had offered the Irwin site to the government for $200,000. E. I. Spalding when questioned emphatically denied the report. "We have not set a price on the property," he said, "and we want it clearly understood that we are not trying to force this site on the people of Honolulu against their wishes."

Y.M.C.A. SECRETARY FROM CHINA IS PAYING A VISIT TO HONOLULU

C. W. Harvey Will Spend Two Weeks in Islands, En Route on Trip to Mainland

C. W. Harvey, associate national secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of China, arrived in Honolulu on the Siberia yesterday and will spend two weeks in the islands. It is the custom of the national committee of the association to have each of its foreign secretaries spend a part of each seventh year on the mainland, the time being given over to recuperation and rest, working up interest in the foreign associations and in special study.

Speaking of association work in China this morning, Mr. Harvey said: "Of course, the conditions there are very much upset just now and, in some respects, it is hard to know just what to do next."

Mr. Messer, general secretary of the Chicago association, was in China with Fletcher Brockman, the Chinese national secretary, when I left. They narrowly escaped death when the tug in which they were traveling up the Yangtze river ran head-on into a large Russian merchantman. Fortunately, both were unhurt.

"Mr. Messer plans to spend a few weeks in China, make a hurried trip through Japan, and leave for the United States about the middle of April," he concluded.

This would bring Mr. Messer to Honolulu about May 1, where he expects to stop over one boat as the guest of the local association. Mr. Messer has a reputation of being the leading metropolitan Y. M. C. A. secretary of the world. At the completion of 25 years of service with the Chicago association he was granted a leave of absence to make a tour of the world, which he now is completing.

Sir Newton James Moore, resident general for Australia, lieutenant-colonel of the 18th regiment, Australian Light Horse, and prominent in the affairs of the southern continent, will be the guest of the Honolulu Ad Club, during the visit at this port of the S. S. Makura, from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. Wednesday. President W. R. Farrington of the Ad Club, received a wireless from Sir Newton, this morning, accepting the invitation of the local organization on behalf of himself and party of three, presumably his family.

In consideration of the visit of the distinguished guest the weekly meeting and luncheon of the Ad Club will be postponed, this week, from Tuesday until Wednesday noon. Prior to the noon meeting the guests of the club will be escorted over Honolulu by a committee from the Ad Club, during which they will call upon Queen Liliuokalani and Governor L. E. Pinkham.

HAWAII MAY NOT BENEFIT BY BILL TO BUILD ROADS

Conditions of Measure Would Not Be Help to Interests of Islands, Believes Governor

CHIEF EXECUTIVE TAKES MATTER UP WITH TEN EYCK

Construction Expenses Here Are Too Heavy to Come Within Confines of the Law

Federal aid may be given to road-building over the United States to the amount of $2,000,000 a year, and Hawaii may be the only division of the country that does not receive benefits from the fund.

This is brought out by an analysis of the bill introduced in Congress by Congressman Peter G. Ten Eyck of New York, a bill for federal aid in road building. At the direction of Governor Pinkham, the department of public works has prepared and forwarded to Washington a lengthy report on the road conditions of the islands, and in this report it is shown that Hawaii could gain practically nothing by the Ten Eyck bill.

The physical conditions of the islands, the great cost of road building here, the absence of a complete rural delivery system, make up some of the reasons why the territory cannot expect much, if any, benefit from the proposed act.

A copy of this bill has been received by Governor Pinkham, sent by Congressman Ten Eyck with a request that information be sent him on the road conditions of Hawaii. The measure recites in its title that it is "to establish in the department of agriculture a bureau to be known as the bureau of highways, and to provide national aid in the construction, improvement, and maintenance of public highways in each state and territory, and to provide funds for the same."

In reply to the request of Congressman Ten Eyck, Governor Pinkham has had the department of public works prepare the lengthy report on territorial roads, together with a criticism of the measure. The governor is of the opinion that the bill, in its present shape at least, could not be an advantage to Hawaii. He says on this subject in his letter to Congressman Ten Eyck:

"You will note the four producing islands, Kauai, Oahu, Maui and Hawaii, rise quite rapidly from the sea to a great elevation within comparatively a short distance, i. e., 10,000 feet on Oahu, 5000 on Kauai, 10,000 on Maui and 13,625 and 13,825 on Hawaii, hence none of the conditions named in your bill seem to apply here, for we have none of the determining factors your bill naturally calls for under the situation in the United States."

"Should assistance be given Hawaii." (Continued on page seven)

APPLICANTS FOR UTILITIES JOB ARE INCREASING

H. Gooding Field, Latest Aspirant, Sends Application to Governor

JUDGE WILDER AND R. R. REIDFORD URGED

Each Has Strong Backing for Chairmanship Left Vacant by E. A. Mott-Smith

H. Gooding Field, statistical expert, who is latest applicant for chairmanship of public utilities commission.

[Special Star-Bulletin Wireless]
HILO, Mar. 23.—H. Gooding Field, statistical expert of the Hawaii probe commission, has made application to Governor Pinkham for appointment as chairman of the public utilities commission.

Two applications at least are known to be before Governor Pinkham for the chairmanship of the public utilities commission. The candidacy of R. R. Reidford was made generally known last Saturday. On Saturday afternoon Judge A. A. Wilder had a conference with the governor, and his conclusion, made public late that day, was that he is a formal applicant for the position.

Today his application was made in writing. It is Judge Wilder's first application for any public position as he was not a candidate for supreme court justice until the recommendation of the governor was tendered to him, and has never before sought public office. He has much strong backing for the position. (Continued on page eight)

CHRISTIANITY MAKING GAINS IN THE ORIENT

Returning Missionaries Are Enthusiastic Over Work in Eastern Fields

Enthusiastic over the marked advances which Christianity has made in India, Japan, China and Korea during the past several years, a party of American missionaries to these countries arrived in Honolulu in the Siberia, yesterday, a majority leaving for the mainland this morning as through passengers in the Siberia, intent upon enjoying well-earned vacations in their home cities. The party includes Miss A. P. Adams, Japan; Miss A. M. Bedinger, Korea; Miss J. Dysart, Korea; Miss D. P. Fisher, India; Mrs. M. W. Gill, India; Rev. and Mrs. H. Guse, India; C. W. Harvey, China, and Miss L. Terrill, India. Miss Adams and Mr. Harvey remained in Honolulu, and plan to spend several weeks here.

When seen at the steamer this morning, Miss Dysart, who has been engaged in mission work in Korea for the past six years, said that she believes Korea is one of the easiest and most pleasant mission fields in the world, due to the fact that the people of Korea are becoming more and more favorably disposed toward Christianity. She pointed out that the station in Southern Korea to which she is attached now maintains some seventy churches, the largest of which she said has a membership of between 300 and 350, while the others have attendances ranging from fifteen to twenty. She explained that the missionaries follow a scheme of traveling from district to district, conducting Bible classes and evangelistic meetings. Besides the churches, she said, the station of which she is a member, has a school for girls, a hospital, and a dispensary.

Excitement now is focused on the reports of disaffection widespread in the British regiments ordered or expected to be ordered to Ulster. The extent of the disaffection, indicated by the resignation of officers, is unknown.

A cabinet statement on the Ulster situation today was evasive and meager.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., March 23.—The federal soldiers who clashed with the Americans today had isolated 40 constitutionalists and pursued them into the Colorado river. The constitutionalists, driven by the enemy, crossed the river and surrendered to the Americans. Notwithstanding the surrender, the federals on the opposite bank continued determinedly shooting into the ranks of the Americans, who finally returned the fire.

Disaster to Party Headed by Roosevelt Causes Anxiety

NEW YORK, March 23.—Considerable uneasiness as to the safety of Colonel Roosevelt and several members of his party now traveling in South America has been occasioned here because of the receipt of a cable message from Anthony Fiala, the noted explorer, who is a member of the Brazilian exploring party headed by Colonel Roosevelt.

Fiala has wired from Santarem, Brazil, where a courier has supposedly delivered the message after bringing it from the jungle, as follows: "We have lost everything in the rapids."

The latest letter from Col. Roosevelt said that he expected to descend an unknown stream called the "River of Doubt" to civilization. He said it was impossible to tell when he would arrive. Much anxiety has been expressed as to the safety of the party.

Harry Thurston Peck, Brilliant Educator, Suicides, Despondent

STAMFORD, Conn., Mar. 23.—Dr. Harry Thurston Peck, former professor of literature at Columbia University and one of the most distinguished of American authors and literary authorities of the last 30 years, committed suicide at his home here early this morning. Prof. Peck has been in ill-health and this, together with marital troubles and difficulties some time ago with the college authorities, which culminated in his dismissal, made him despondent.

Report on Benton's Death Infers that He was Stabbed

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 23.—It is learned here that British Consul Perceval de Juarez has made an official report on the death of William Benton, the British subject, at the hands, it is believed, of Villa or Villa's men. The report says that the death was not caused by pistol shots, and that Benton was unarmed at the time of the killing. The inference is that Benton was stabbed.

"Mother" Jones Rearrested

WALSENBURG, Colo., Mar. 23.—"Mother" Jones, the spectacular strike leader, was rearrested here today. Attorneys for the miners' union have applied to the supreme court for a writ of habeas corpus. The miners are much incensed over what they term the persecution of the aged woman.

Wilson Intimates He'd Like O'Shaughnessy to Hold Place

Honolulu Woman Dies on Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 23.—Mrs. Helulu Kapena Clark died of heart disease here this morning. Her ashes will be taken to Honolulu on the Matsonia.

Mrs. Clark, who was 46 years old at the time of her death, formerly was a resident of Honolulu, but for the past several years had been living in San Francisco. She is said to have been rather wealthy, owning considerable property both here and on the mainland. She is survived by two nephews. The remains will be cremated in San Francisco and the ashes brought to Honolulu for interment in the family plot in the Kawaiahae Cemetery. Carlos A. Long, who has been acting as her agent, this morning received notification of her death.

Prior to her marriage with Henry Clark, Mrs. Clark was the wife of Morris Kechokalo of Maui, having become separated from him shortly after Henry Clark secured a divorce from Mrs. Emma Dwyer.

LONDON, Eng., Mar. 23.—Determined, watchful and quiet, all Ulster is today silently and busily continuing preparations for defense, with the evident intention of making open resist once to activities by imperial troops.

POACHERS BUSY IN ISLANDS OF THE SOUTH SEAS

Kestrel Brings News of Japanese Removing Warehouse from Christmas Isle

The presence of Japanese in the role of poachers in the various un-protected islands throughout the south seas was brought to light with the return of the British steamer Kestrel to Honolulu this morning following a three weeks' cruise to Fanning and Washington island copra estates.

That a large and substantially-built warehouse belonging to an extensive but now abandoned plant operated by one of the phosphate companies was removed from Christmas Island by Japanese is the belief expressed by officers in that vessel today.

Christmas island lies about 200 miles to the eastward of Washington, which is now a base of operation for Armstrong & Armstrong in the harvesting of copra. Christmas island has been rich in guano deposits. To gather the deposit, a number of miles of light railway and several buildings had been constructed there. When the phosphate beds were found to have been exhausted, the laborers and much of the machinery were removed to Ocean and Makatea. A small trading schooner called at Fanning at the time the Kestrel remained there, and brought the report that a vessel manned by Japanese had spent some days at Christmas island, and before departing the men had denuded the island of practically everything of value.

Christmas island affords a last resting-place for the wreck of the British freighter Aeon, which six years ago sailed from Puget Sound with cargo valued at about $500,000 and went ashore on a reef off the island during a typhoon. The battered and torn hull is yet a prominent object as vessels near the spot. That this wreck and cargo have proved a valuable prize for the poachers is now generally conceded.

R. M. Fitt and Percy Armstrong, who accompanied the Kestrel to the South Seas when the vessel sailed from Honolulu on March 2, decided to remain there awaiting the return of the British steamer. Captain E. L. Tindell stated this morning that it is his intention to sail for Fanning about March 25. The usual daily wind and rain squall prevailed at Fanning and Washington. Fine weather was melting and returning, the Kestrel has made a record passage from Honolulu to Fanning in 5 days and 2 hours.

Speak Judge Cooper and Party.
The Kestrel sighted the schooner Yacht Luks with Judge Henry E. Cooper and party Saturday morning. The jurist-skipper reported all well on board. The Luks was at that time but several hundred miles north of destination at Palmyra.

"This prospect for a profitable yield of phosphate on Fanning is exceedingly bright," declared Captain Tindell. "We brought 45 Gilbert islanders from Washington island, where they have completed their labors. These men will be set to work installing 13 miles of railway and a plant for preparing the guano for shipment."

Percy Armstrong, representing the British syndicate, will make a careful inspection of the harbor facilities at Fanning before returning to Honolulu and thence to London, where he will report to the headquarters of the company.

The Kestrel will be discharged of about 100 tons of copra. The consignment is to be transhipped to San Francisco.

"Oh, by the way, dear," said the merchant, as he was preparing to leave the house in the morning, "if I find I can't be home to dinner I will send a note by messenger." "Don't trouble," said his wife, sweetly, "I have already found it on the blotting pad."

GUERTLER PARTY WELL FILLED IS TESTIMONY TODAY

Booze Plentiful During Night of Killing, According to Witnesses' Evidence

"Well, George, he got me all right." These, according to George Frank, witness called by the prosecution in the John W. Marshall murder trial in Circuit Judge Robinson's court this morning, were the words spoken by Charles R. Guertler to Frank a moment after Marshall fired the shot in Madame Puahi's hula house which resulted in Guertler's death.

Frank, who was a member of the Guertler party the night of August 10, 1913, was the second witness summoned by the prosecution today. He averred that he did not see any of the preliminary squabbling that occurred at the hula resort, having been asleep in an automobile outside. He said he awoke, climbed out and entered the house about 20 minutes before Marshall appeared, which meant the latter's last appearance at the place.

He noticed Marshall enter the door of the dance hall from the telephone room and heard him make some remark about his friend, C. F. Drew. Frank said Drew, at the other end of the hall, did not arise from his seat but the other men came to their feet and started toward Marshall. Frank said he turned his head away and looked in another direction. He heard no remarks by Guertler or any of the others, but suddenly heard the pistol shot. The noise attracted his attention and he looked at the crowd in time to see Guertler turn and come toward him, sitting down on the bench alongside.

Guertler then remarked: "Well, George, he got me, alright," and half slipped down off the bench. Frank said he realized then, for the first time, that the sound he had heard had been that of a revolver-shot and that it was his first intuition Guertler had been hit. He proceeded to get the wounded man's coat and shirt off and locate the puncture.

Frank declared that he himself was sober that night, though he had taken five glasses of beer and two ginger ale cocktails at the Young hotel bar with Guertler and Dick, and was suffering from a headache and sick stomach. He did not remember anything that happened between the time the party left the Young in Frank Baker's car and the time they arrived at the hula house, save a dim recollection of someone applying an ice-pack to his head. He said he was asleep practically all the time.

Frank Baker, the chauffeur, who was the first witness called today, said he believed Frank was drunk that night. He said he stopped the car at the Waikiki Inn en route to the hula resort, and that other members of the party got out and obtained the ice for Frank's head. Arriving at Puahi's he said they shook Frank to awaken him but failed, so went into the house, leaving him lying in the machine.

Baker also said the Guertler party was doing considerable drinking; that he saw Dick produce one flask of whisky and saw other flasks of the same stuff in evidence, and that he saw Madame Puahi drink, first whisky and later gin mixed with beer. He said she took five drinks of the latter mixture, filling a water tumbler half full of gin and pouring another half tumbler of beer on top of it. On cross-examination he said she was drunk.

He also re-affirmed a bit of testimony he had given at the coroner's inquest which was read to him this morning by Attorney Thompson, to the effect that in reply to a juror's query he had admitted Guertler was drinking heavily. The juror had asked if Guertler were not "pretty full." Baker's reply had been: "Yes, he'd been drinking."

Attorney Thompson also called his attention to the fact that at the inquest he had stated he heard Marshall call for Drew, when Marshall returned to the dance hall the last time.

Baker said he knew when he saw Marshall return to the dance hall that last time that there was going to be a fight, not merely because the talking became so loud or because Guertler and his friends arose and started in Marshall's direction, but because Marshall had been looking for a fight, and his return to the place was naturally the signal for one. Witness heard Madame Puahi scream thrice: "No fight here!" Then came the shot, and Baker said he didn't know what happened in the next 10 seconds because he ducked into a room at the further end of the hall, fearing he might be the recipient of a stray bullet.

Questioned by Thompson on re-cross examination as to the number of mixed gin-and-beer drinks taken by Madame

HONGKONG MARU WILL SAIL TONIGHT

Fifty tons of coal will be loaded into the Japanese liner Hongkong Maru now at the port from San Francisco and that vessel will be dispatched for Japan and China at 8 o'clock this evening.

Reporting fine weather from San Francisco to the Hawaiian islands, Captain S. Togo states that the vessel is carrying a large through cargo to the Orient. Much leather and cotton is at this time of the year being imported into Japan.

Two cabin passengers left the Hongkong Maru at Honolulu. G. G. Kinney, representing the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association in the Philippines, is returning to his station after having spent some months on the mainland. He will transfer to another vessel.

Dr. Hodel is another passenger for Honolulu. He represents one of the large daily newspapers published at Berlin, Germany.

A late mainland mail amounting to 536 sacks was received in the Hongkong Maru.

Puahi, Baker said she took "five or less."

A clerk and interpreter in the city and county attorney's office was summoned by the prosecution to testify that Madame Puahi, in her conversations with the prosecutor at his office, said nothing of any remark alleged to have been made by Guertler as he advanced toward Marshall, just before the latter fired at him. He said the mistress declared Guertler had distinctly made no remark. This testimony was introduced to impeach Madame Puahi, who stated on the witness-stand a week ago that Guertler had threatened to kill Marshall.

The clerk also asserted Helen Bowers, one of the hula girls who said she heard Guertler make the threat, had given no intimation of it in her talks with the prosecutor prior to the trial.

Harry T. Lake, special officer assisting the city and county attorney's office, testified concerning a map drawn by him of the Puahi premises. On cross-examination Attorney Thompson asked him if it were true that when he met Attorney A. L. C. Alkinson, one of the counsel for the defense, at the Chambers Drug store on Fort and King streets on March 2, Lake cursed Marshall and declared they would hang him, adding that "Marshall shot the Past Exalted Ruler of the Elks." Lake hotly denied the implied accusation. All he did say, he averred, was that he bore no ill will against Marshall, and that his work in connection with the case was merely in his line of duty.

The usual large crowd of spectators was in attendance at the trial today. The prosecution probably will close tomorrow morning, introduction of evidence on behalf of the defense beginning tomorrow or Wednesday.

POLICE STINGS

Horl, a Japanese, owner of a perambulating cake and candy wagon, called upon the police to assist him in a claim for restitution to the amount of $100 for damage done the conveyance, through a collision with a city hack. The Japanese declared that he was keeping to the right hand side of Mauna Kea street yesterday when his outfit was capsized and the vehicle wrecked. The police are today seeking the hackman.

Isaac Cockett was removed to the hospital today suffering from several bruises about the head, alleged to have been caused by a fall to a sidewalk near the corner of Bishop and King streets.

Antone Rodriguez, said to have been at the wheel of a heavy touring car, is alleged to have run down Frank Fedo, driver of a small car. The smaller car is reported to have been considerably damaged.

Tom Blackwell, chauffeur for ex-Governor George R. Carter, is charged with an assault upon a Japanese named Nakayue. It is alleged that Blackwell met the Japanese near the corner of Wilder avenue and Punahou street happening there at a time when C. Lopez and the Japanese were engaged in a wordy dispute. Blackwell is charged with having injected himself into the affray.

A dozen Hawaiians and Filipinos, who made the welkin ring with what the police declare was "a loud and disturbing noise," were released when brought before District Magistrate Monsarrat this morning. They were cautioned against further indulgence in midnight joy rides through the downtown and residential streets.

Special License Inspector Fennell made two arrests at Camp No. 2 yesterday, with the result that the defendants were arraigned this morning and were given suspended sentences of 13 months. Fennell and the officers confiscated a quantity of liquor.

Porto Ricans, Filipinos and Hawaiians, to the number of 12, were fined $5 each by District Magistrate Monsarrat this morning. The delinquency was charged with gambling in Maunatun park.

"One difficulty that confronts the court in dealing with these cases is the fact that the defendants when found guilty have no funds with which to pay their fines," commented District Magistrate Monsarrat at the conclusion of a hearing in which several Filipinos and Porto Ricans were charged with gambling. A raid had been made at Camp No. 2 by men from Captain McDuffie's department.

"The public parks are always in need of attention, and the men can be kept steadily employed there," was a suggestion from Prosecuting Attorney

TENNESSEE ATTORNEY TO DEFEND ODD FELLOW FROM STATE OF WYOMING

Odd Fellows of Harmony Lodge admitted today that there is a hint of federal politics in the fact that Attorney J. W. Thompson, late of Tennessee, and G. L. Briggs of Wyoming are to appear before the lodge tonight in connection with a mysterious case that is attracting much attention.

As has long been known, Wyoming politicians have been strong in Hawaii, many former men from the state of sage-brush and faro being elevated to federal office here. Now that Tennessee, through District Attorney McCann, has secured the inside track, some new developments are arising. Attorney Thompson has just arrived from Tennessee and it is conjectured that an alliance must be forming between the Tennesseean and the Wyoming man. At any rate, Thompson and Briggs have been summoned before the lodge tonight and it is given out that Thompson will have as his first case in Hawaii the defense of his brother Odd Fellow, Briggs.

Ladies are invited tonight, it is announced, and it is expected that there will be a large attendance of Rebekahs and ladies of Odd Fellows. A fine series of stereopticon slides of Australasian scenes is to be shown. It is to be a social session after the mysterious case is cleared up.

GOVERNOR VISITS MAN CONDEMNED TO DEATH, TO CALL IN ASSISTANCE

Governor Pinkham had a busy Sunday. He devoted the morning to the disposition of correspondence at his office in the capitol and in the afternoon inspected a number of roads and pieces of land in and around the city. He company with Attorney-general Thayer and Dr. William A. Schwallie he again visited Henry Francis Furguson, the youth held in solitary confinement at Oahu prison under death sentence.

"I saw no change in Furguson's mental condition," said the governor today. "I do not know yet what I will do in this case." There is talk that Furguson likely will receive a commutation, removing the death penalty and giving a life sentence. The governor said he intends calling in more assistance of a scientific nature to help him arrive at an opinion concerning the prisoner's mental responsibility before taking action.

Fort Shafter Notes

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence]

FORT SHAFTER, March 23.—Yesterday morning word was brought in to post that one of the enlisted men of D company had fallen and met with an accident in the high hills back of the target range. The rumor went about that the soldier had broken a leg in his fall. It developed later that the accident was not so severe as at first reported as the man had but fractured one of the small bones of the ankle. He was, however, unable to make his way back to the garrison even with the assistance of the two men who were with him. It appears that Corporal Denham and Privates Price and Duncan had started out very early yesterday to indulge in mountain climbing as their Sunday diversion, taking as their objective point the high peak directly back of the target range. When the little party had proceeded about one mile on their way and while working up a particularly rough section of the gulch, Duncan fell over a small sheer bank and in alighting fractured the bone and generally damaged his ankle so that movement was impracticable. Sending Price into the post with news of the accident, Corporal Denham remained with the injured man until a strong detail from D company under Lieutenant Lyman with a stretcher could arrive to transport the disabled soldier to the hospital. The detail had some difficulty in locating the scene of the accident since Price was unable to recall the exact spot in the gulch where the fall had occurred and Corporal Denham had remained with the crippled man and was therefore not in view until the searching party was fairly on top of him. The stretcher party reached the hospital about 5 o'clock without further accident.

The band of the 2d Infantry with a detail of field musicians will be sent in to Honolulu on the morning of the 25th to take part in an escort of honor for Brigadier-general Macomb, who will take steamer that day for the mainland en route for his new post of duty at the war college at Washington. The main body of the escort of honor will be composed of coast artillery troops under Col. William C. Rafferty of that corps. This selection of troops has been made to mark the fact that General Macomb was before his promotion to the grade of general officer an officer in the artillery arms of the service. The escort will form at the intersection of King and Bishop streets and proceed at the proper time to the steamer dock where the distinguished officer will embark for the mainland. It is with regret that the land service will say goodbye to General Macomb upon his departure as his conduct of affairs while in command on Oahu has always been marked by high devotion to duty and great fairness in his dealings with all of his subordinates whether high or low in rank or grade.

It is certain that the coast artillery is envied by its brothers of the infantry or other branch of the mobile army in the selection that gave it the honor to escort the late commander of the department from his headquarters to the steamer dock on the occasion of his departure.

CHINESE TEAM LOSES FIRST GAME ON COAST

[By Latest Mail]

SAN FRANCISCO.—The baseball team from the Chinese University of Hawaii lost its first game played on American soil to the University of California yesterday afternoon by the score of 4 to 3.

The Chinese boys have all the earmarks of a good baseball team. The players field their positions well and can connect with the ball at opportune moments. Furthermore, they have a full supply of baseball English on the field and coach on the sidelines and dispute the umpire in true American style. Not a word of Chinese was heard on the field while the players were in action.

Much credit is due the visiting players when the brand of baseball which they were opposing is taken into account. McMillan occupied the slab for California and pitched great ball for the nine innings. He retired 19 batters by the strikeout route. McMillan made his first appearance as a member of the California team yesterday.

The score:
Clubs— R. H. E.
California 5 4 6
Hawaii 3 4 1
Batteries—McMillan and Sebastian; Foster and Kan Yen.
Kern Nationals Ready.

The Kern Nationals are getting ready for the big game with the Chinese team of the Hawaiian university, which will arrive here Friday morning and will play a game with the Kern Nationals on Friday afternoon at Recreation Park.

Tickets are now on sale for the game and a large crowd is expected. Jo P. Carroll is in charge of the arrangements and this is evidence that the affair will be a great success.

Teachers of the schools have been given tickets and the clergy of the city is invited to witness the great American game. The game will be called at 3 o'clock sharp in order to give the Chinese an opportunity to see Backersfield in the evening and then catch the train for Los Angeles, where they will play on Saturday afternoon.

A long meeting is in store for the board of supervisors tomorrow evening. The 7000-word traffic ordinance, passed on first reading at the last meeting of the board, is scheduled to be read through at the meeting. This alone will consume a good deal of time. There is a small amount of routine business also to be disposed of.

The apparatus for the Palama Settlement playground is expected to arrive from the mainland about the middle of next month. The grounds, however, will be opened for use by the children of the neighborhood April 1. At the recent annual meeting of the trustees plans were laid to bring to Honolulu from the East an expert playground worker to take complete charge of this part of the settlement's activities.

The inventory of the estate of Henry K. Sniffen was filed in circuit court today by Mary L. Sniffen, administratrix. The total estate is estimated at $3072.50, consisting principally of two lots, at Aiea and Kewalo, Oahu, valued at $1500 each.

Alleging her husband has a monthly income of $500 or more, that he is at present maintaining a former girl of Honolulu who is now at his home in Japan and that he refuses utterly to maintain the petitioner, Kan Ono, a Japanese woman, has filed a bill in circuit court praying for maintenance by Kenkichi Ono. She sets forth that Kenkichi Ono is a half-owner of the Banzai Saloon and a heavy stockholder in the Hawaii Sel-shut Kwaisha, a Japanese sake brewery, that she married him in Honolulu May 1, 1899, and that there are five children as a result of the union.

No statement has as yet been made concerning the amount cleared at the Hawaiian luau and hula given Saturday afternoon in Bishop park for the benefit of the Kaohela-Pa-U Riding Club. Many of those who sold tickets have not yet turned in the proceeds, but the members of the committee in charge are enthusiastic, however, and believe that, as a result of the entertainment, the fund of the organization will be materially increased. Several hundred persons attended both the luau and the hula, and the entire undertaking is pronounced a success.

PROGRESS MADE IN TRIAL OF BERT BOWER

Mrs. D. B. Oldbury Continues on Stand and Confirms Her Previous Testimony

Considerable progress was made this morning in the examining of witnesses in the trial of George A. (Bert) Bower in the United States district court, on a statutory charge. Six witnesses in all were on the stand to testify for the prosecution concerning the relations alleged to have existed between the defendant and Victoria Mortensen during a period extending from November, 1912, to the month of March, or later, of the following year.

Mrs. D. B. Oldbury, who lives on Prospect street directly across from the home of Mrs. Garvie-Evans, and who was on the stand at the adjournment of court Friday afternoon, continued her testimony this morning, confirming her former evidence concerning the date that she witnessed what she termed "a disgusting osculatory demonstration" between Bower and the girl in an automobile which stood all one afternoon across from her home. She said it was sometime in February of last year, or possibly in March.

Mrs. Mary C. Cuning, a teacher in the public schools, who is also a neighbor to Mrs. Evans, testified to having seen Bower call at the Evans place on various occasions, and also to the kissing-see which Mrs. Oldbury described. Mrs. Cuning said that this happened in March, 1913. She described it as so disgusting that she would have called the police except for the thought that she would be mixed up in a disagreeable police court investigation.

On cross-examination the witness stated that in the first trial of the case she had been unable to positively identify Bower, but that since the new trial began she had become positive of the identity of the defendant with the man who had so often visited the Mortensen girl. She had seen Bower, she said, in company with his attorney, Leon M. Straus, call at the Evans place yesterday afternoon. She further stated in answer to a question of Attorney Straus, that since she had become certain of the identity of Bower she had called up District Attorney McCann, and asked to be excused as a witness because she knew that Mr. Straus would make it very unpleasant for her on the stand. To which intention the attorney in question made vigorous denial.

Mrs. Alden T. Speare, another resident of Prospect street, testified to having seen the defendant assist the Mortensen girl into the automobile in a "vulgar, sensual" manner. She had watched the performance from her window. The calls of Bower at the house had continued from November, 1912, till about the following March, she said. On cross-examination, Mrs. Speare admitted that she had had a few words with Mrs. Evans on one occasion, and that they were not on each other's calling lists.

Hans Mortenson, father of the prosecuting witness, who is a machinist and lives in Manoa valley, stated that he had been introduced to Bower in December, 1912, by his stepdaughter, Mrs. Garvie-Evans. On May 6th following he had called Bower into his house, where he had called on Victoria, and informed him that he had been advised that he (Bower) was a married man. Bower had denied this, saying that he had been divorced. The witness had threatened to see Mrs. Bower about this, but had never done so. He had been told of Bower's being married by Chas. H. Rose and by Mrs. Evans.

Charles H. Rose, deputy sheriff, on the witness stand, told of Bower having called at his house and asked him to induce Mrs. Evans to persuade her father not to investigate Bower's marital status, under an implied threat of exposing Mrs. Evans. Rose stated that he had replied that he had nothing to do with the matter, and had let it drop.

Alice Biart, who lives on Kapiolani street directly across from the Evans place, testified that she had been introduced to Bower by Victoria, who had brought him over to her home. After Bower had been refused the privilege of calling at the Evans home she stated that he frequently met the girl on Prospect street, and that the two had gotten into the habit of coming into the yard of her home and sitting on the lawn, after dark in the evening. The witness didn't know how long they were in the habit of staying because she and her sister would leave them at their bedtime. This she testified happened many times, and her mother finally objected to these visits, fearing that her daughters would be mistaken for the Mortensen girl.

The girl was still on the stand at the time court dismissed for the noon recess.

RECIPES OF OUR PIONEER MOTHERS

for the home treatment of disease were wonderfully dependable. True they knew nothing of drugs, but owed their success to the roots, herbs and barks of the field. It is interesting to note that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful remedy for female ills we have, was originally prepared for home use from one of these recipes. Its fame has now spread from shore to shore, and thousands of American women now well and strong claim they owe their health and happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. — advertisement.

member maintains many schools and hospitals.

Mr. and Mrs. Guse, missionaries for the Methodist-Episcopal church, have spent the last 10 years in Northern India, and are returning to the mainland for a year's vacation. Mr. Guse explained this morning that Christianity in India now is making fast headway and that the outlook is bright for a still greater increase. Mr. Guse and his wife are in charge of a separate station, and, with their assistants, conduct various phases of evangelistic work, including Bible classes. The mass meeting movement, he explained, is now one of the features of American missionary work in India.

The population of Mr. Guse's district is about 500,000 persons. During the interview he made the interesting statement that his district alone now maintains 125 orphanages, institutions which are in constant demand, he said. He stated that F. W. Wilson, an American missionary at Delhi and originator of the mass-meeting movement in India, will pass through Honolulu probably on the next Mongolia.

The members of the missionary party spent yesterday and this morning on a sightseeing tour of the city, being the guests of several local ministers and other religious workers. Last night they attended services in the several churches.

ministration and expressed deep regret that he has decided to sever his connection with the institution.

"The ten years of his administration have been steady progress," said one of them, "and it will be exceedingly difficult to find an educator and executive to replace him. He has given valued service which we highly appreciate and it will be a loss to the entire community when he leaves Honolulu for the east. However, he feels a strong desire to settle in the eastern part of the United States and we have accepted his resignation and must now find a new principal."

It can be stated that no successor for Mr. Horne is as yet even tentatively selected, the resignation being still so recent that the trustees have not been able to give the matter any extended consideration.

A meeting of the members of the Kahala Improvement Club has been called for 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the stock exchange rooms.

"MAKE GOOD" AT SAN FRANCISCO

The report that sugar men had "persuaded" the governor to call off Hawaii's plans for the 1915 exposition is fortunately untrue. Governor Pinkham's feelings with regard to the fair appropriation, which under the law is controlled by him, were amply stated some weeks ago in his letter to Chairman H. P. Wood. Nothing has happened since then to warrant a change. Hawaii certainly is in no position now to repudiate its obligation to exhibit at San Francisco.

The time is getting short. The exposition opens within a few months. Hawaii has not a great deal of money to spend on the building and all the more energy should be put on collecting and installing a well-planned and thoroughly representative display.

Hawaii must "make good" at San Francisco.

THEY DESERVE PRAISE

Not only Director-general Dougherty but each member of the various Carnival committees, deserves a vote of thanks from the Chamber of Commerce. The head of the 1914 Mid-Pacific Carnival did good work. Since the festivities ended there have been almost—not quite—the usual number of post-mortem criticisms, most of them useless. In the past Honolulu has invariably praised the director of the Carnival to the skies until the Carnival began, and then a large part of Honolulu has started "knocking," continuing the latter process for a year—until the next director became the target. A little more praise after the Carnival would make the work of the responsible officers considerably easier.

The best feature in the work for the success of the various Carnivals is that public-spirited citizens of Hawaii are willing to give of their time and energy without any financial remuneration. Aside from the secretary, there is no regular paid Carnival worker. The committeemen get nothing. It is absolutely impossible to pay them and keep the Carnival expenses within reasonable bounds. The success of the various festivals has been due to the fact that from the director-general to the last worker in the ranks, services are given free.

And, by the way, is there any move yet to name the director for the 1915 event? He cannot get to work too early.

WHAT WILL WILSON DO?

Political leaders of the mainland appear to be considerably exercised lately over the "single term" plank of the Democratic platform of 1912.

The single presidential term question, as applicable to President Wilson, was interjected in the debate in the senate recently over woman suffrage and the Panama canal tolls by Senator Bristow of Kansas. The senator criticized the president, says the Washington Star, because he had refused to aid the women seeking the ballot on the ground that the Baltimore platform did not say anything about woman suffrage, while on the other hand the president had undertaken to have repealed the clause of the Panama canal act which permits free passage by American coastwise vessels, although the Baltimore platform specifically declares in favor of the free passage of these vessels.

Senator Bristow said:

"The consideration of this woman suffrage amendment has been educational in more ways than one. It has given us a line upon some of the peculiar and interesting characteristics of our chief executive that may be exceedingly useful to the country in the future.

"For instance, the Democratic platform contains this declaration:

"We favor a single presidential term . . . and we pledge the candidate of this convention to this principle.

"At the proper time will the president inter this week.

Grouchy voter—I think Congress ought to quit sending out seeds to its farmers. Congress is visiting in his district—Why, aren't the seeds good? Yes, the seeds are all right, but Congress ought to plant the seeds in the vegetables.

pret this plank in harmony with his position as to suffrage or as to canal tolls?

"I believe it was the peerless Democratic leader, William Jennings Bryan, who recently declared that—

"A man who violates a party platform is a criminal worse than the man who embezzles money."

"In the meantime we shall with interest watch the conflict that now appears to be going on between party promises and evasive political strategy."

MUNICIPAL DANCE HALLS FOR CHICAGO

The city of Chicago, after long consideration and careful investigation, has decided that the municipal dance-hall can be so established and operated as to be an agency for improvement among the poorer people who cannot afford the polished ball-room indulgences. A newspaper clipping from the Windy City says:

"Five municipal dance halls will be established if plans tentatively announced by Mayor Harrison are carried out. The mayor obtained a report from the municipal reference library on the success of municipal dance halls in other cities and he believed the idea could be introduced here to good advantage next winter.

"In most of the cities admission is charged to the municipal dance halls," said the mayor, "but I incline to the idea of free dance halls as well as free bathing beaches. My scheme would be to have one on the north side, one on the south side, one on the northwest side and one on the southwest side, and possibly one in South Chicago. Of course, by charging an admission and selling soft drinks the enterprise could be made self-sustaining, but I think it would be better for the city to meet the expense involved. It would not cost a great deal."

"Would you permit the tango to be danced?" the mayor was asked.

"I think so," was the reply. "The tango can be danced as decently as any other dance."

THE NEW HAVEN REORGANIZATION

A brief telegraphic dispatch announces that the New Haven railroad system is to be dissolved. This is partially incorrect. The New Haven railroad system, under the plans proposed by the administration through Attorney-general McReynolds and agreed to by President Howard Elliott and the New Haven directors, is to remain intact. The subsidiary railroad, steamship and electric lines are to be disposed of. The separation of the New Haven railroad from its various subsidiaries is regarded as the most notable of Attorney-general McReynolds' achievements under the Sherman law. Many acute observers believe that he has proved that no amendment or extension of the Sherman law is necessary to enable the federal government to cope with the problem of monopolies and trusts.

China's brigands must have had Mexican training, or vice versa.

Baseball being temporarily shelved, the next most popular sport is picking a federal building site.

If the postoffice department expects Hawaii to settle the high cost of living problem by using the parcels post, it is going to be disappointed and so is Hawaii. That is one disadvantage in living on the outside zone.

THE OLD STORY OF DIVISION

Lihue, March 21.
Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin.
Sir:—In an editorial-headed "Why" in a recent issue of your valued paper it is asked why the items for the improvement of Kahului and Nawiliwili harbors were left out of the recommendations of the rivers and harbors committee in its bill recently reported to the house.

As to Kahului, the committee's reason is not clear, seeing that federal work has been going on at that harbor for some time, private parties, at large financial outlay to themselves, having laid the foundations of a harbor long before federal help was solicited, and it would seem now to be in order to make a complete and satisfactory job of the undertaking.

On the other hand at Nawiliwili, it is well-known at Washington, that nothing has been done by the people whose properties abut on the proposed harbor site, to establish any kind of a claim on the federal government for the appropriation of the large sum of $2,000,000—the amount said to be required for the construction at Nawiliwili.

Doubtless the harbors and rivers committee has much data in its possession on the subject of Kahului harbors, amongst which are now two resolutions from the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce, one strongly in favor of Port Allen passed but a few years ago, the other in favor of Nawiliwili passed recently.

Do these slight suggestions tend to answer your editorial "Why?"
Yours truly,
QUID NUNC.

SMALL INTELLIGENCE

—COL. C. J. MCCARTHY: It will not be so very long now before the tax money will begin to come in.

—E. A. MOTT-SMITH: I may alter my resignation to take effect March 27, instead of March 31. I hate to think of spending three days on the high seas and being paid for it.

—ROBERT CATHCART: My visit to the governor on Friday has been misinterpreted. I did not go there to apply for the position of chairman of the public utilities commission.

—JOHN WISE: I don't mind playing the part of a "cop" for the Meliac moving-picture people but I hate to be shown as taking 15 snags at a fleeing spy—right on top of him, too—and missing him!

—SIDNEY R. JORDAN: Someone said that I went out to Kapiolani park the other day and climbed a tree to get some coconuts for a tourist. No such thing. There are plenty of coconuts to be had in town.

—J. W. CALDWELL: The water situation is further complicated by the Honolulu planning mill's inability to make the Palolo reservoir hold water. That job is now a month overdue and is costing the firm a forfeit of $15 a day, but it is costing the municipality more than that, for about 240,000 gallons are going to waste each day.

UNIVERSITY CLUB IS SCENE OF LIVELY TIME SATURDAY NIGHT

Members of the University Club and their friends to the number of more than 200 gathered at the club Saturday evening to attend a smoker and an interesting entertainment taken part in by both amateur and professional talent. Judge A. A. Wilder acted as master of ceremony and the majority of the wit of the evening was furnished by the members of the 101 Bison Company, now in Honolulu taking a series of motion pictures.

There were monologues and popular songs, and a sketch entitled "The Trap," all of which were keenly enjoyed. Then, there was a classic dance, a scene from Hamlet, and a reading from Shakespeare. Impromptu speeches by Judge A. A. Wilder and Maj. Ernest V. Smith concluded the program, following which refreshments were served.

TRAFFIC LAW WILL BE CORRECTED BY AMENDMENT

It will not be necessary to re-publish the entire traffic law because of the few mistakes which have been found in it. P. L. Weaver stated this morning that the corrections can be made by amendment, which will make it necessary for the amendment only to be published.

With the publication of the new ordinance, and the summary of it given in the Star-Bulletin, several new suggestions for the traffic law have been made, but it is not likely that they will be acted on as it is the desire of the board for it to stand, so far as possible, as it passed first reading. Strong objections have been made to the section which makes one who has taken a drink within an hour of participating in an accident or a violation of the ordinance, prima facie guilty of intoxication. Arguments are made that this is too drastic. However, the supervisors express another view. They say that as it is only prima facie and not conclusive evidence it will be easy enough for a driver to show that he was not intoxicated but in perfect control of his machine.

Masons and Elks Considering Construction of Business Blocks and Clubrooms

The trustees of Honolulu Lodge No. 616, B. P. O. Elks, will probably within the next week or two submit to the membership of the lodge a proposition to build a fine new business block on the site of the old Y. M. C. A. building, corner of Hotel and Alakea streets, which was purchased by the Elks several years ago. The trustees have been considering the matter for some time past, and a good deal of data has been secured.

Although purely tentative as yet, it is understood that the trustees will suggest the construction of a modern reinforced concrete building, three stories in height, the first floor to be designed for business purposes, and the two upper stories for club and lodge rooms. The cost has been figured at about $60,000. It is thought that the lodge may possibly favor a four-story building, the second story to be also rented for office or business purposes, but in any event the structure will be built with a view of adding one or two more stories should conditions later seem to so warrant. The site in question is considered one of the best for business purposes in the city, and many believe that within a few years it will be even more central to the business district than at present.

Masons May Build Also.
It will be remembered by Star-Bulletin readers that the Masonic orders of the city have been considering plans for the construction of a nine-story building on the site of their present temple, directly across the street from the Elks' property, to cost between $250,000 and $300,000. If this plan is carried out it will mean one of the finest business blocks in the city at this point. It is understood that the Masonic proposition is at present in abeyance, owing to differences of opinion in the several orders concerned, as to the valuation of the present property.

The Elks are also considering the proposition of having their present quarters enlarged by the addition of a number of suitable rooms, and the remodeling of the present ones. Something of the kind is made necessary by the large increase of membership within the past year. The lodge now numbers about 500 members.

Initiation Saturday Night.
At a special meeting held on Saturday night 20 new members were initiated into the mysteries of the Elks lodge. Following the ceremonies a social session was held, which was a very pleasant affair. Members of the Spaulding Opera company and others rendered an excellent musical and literary program.

HOPE HAWAII MAY HAVE SHARE IN 'AID TO FARMERS' MEASURE

Prof. MacCaughy Active in Work for Inclusion in Lever Bill

Hawaii may have a share in the benefits of the Lever agricultural extension bill, now before Congress, according to advices received by Prof. Vaughan MacCaughy of the College of Hawaii. Though it is far from certain that Hawaii is included in the provisions of the bill, there is enough basis for Prof. MacCaughy to take hope, as the following correspondence shows:

The College of Hawaii
Honolulu, Hawaii
March 20, 1914.

Mr. Riley H. Allen, Star-Bulletin, Honolulu.

Dear Mr. Allen:—You will recall that some weeks ago cable news was received here that the Lever agricultural extension bill had passed Congress.

Inasmuch as the College of Hawaii, which is one of the "state colleges" of agriculture and the mechanic arts, is directly interested in the operation of this law, I addressed the following letter to the national bureau of education:

"Dear Sir:—We have recently received cable news that the Lever agricultural extension bill has passed Congress and soon is to become operative.

"We are naturally very much interested in this important legislation and wish to know specifically if the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts of the territory of Hawaii is to benefit by this appropriation.

"The need for extension work in this territory (which is an integral part of the United States, and in no sense a 'possession') is very great indeed, and we are endeavoring to develop this work, although upon the slenderest resources.

"I am sending you some literature descriptive of our extension work, and would appreciate from you detailed information regarding the Lever bill and its applications.

"Respectfully yours,

VAUGHAN MACCAUGHY,
"In charge of the Extension Work."

Under date of Feb. 28th the following reply was received:

"Department of the Interior,
"Bureau of Education,
Washington.

"February 28, 1914.

"Professor Vaughan MacCaughy, College of Hawaii, Honolulu, Hawaii.

"My Dear Professor MacCaughy:—In reply to your letter of February 12th, I beg to advise you that the Lever bill has not yet become a law. It passed the house, was amended in the senate, and is now in conference. Inasmuch as the administration of that law will be with the department of agriculture, I am forwarding your letter to that department.

"Sincerely yours,

Signed: "L. A. KALBACH,
"Chief Clerk."

In connection with this matter, the following abstract of the Lever bill may be of interest:

Abstract of the Lever Bill.
Section 1. Provides for the establishment and maintenance of an extension department in all the colleges of agriculture.

Section 2. Outlines the duties, viz., to give instruction and demonstrations in agriculture and home economics to persons not attending the agricultural college, by field demonstrations and otherwise, in the various communities.

Section 3. Provides for a fixed appropriation from the federal treasury of $10,000 per year unconditionally to every state. It further provides conditional appropriations, beginning with $300,000 a year to be pro rated among the states on the basis of rural population. This appropriation increases every year by the sum of $300,000 until a maximum of $3,000,000 is reached. No state will receive its pro rata of this sum until it appropriates an equal amount for the same purpose. The money goes to and is expended by the state college of agriculture in each state. The plan to be approved by the secretary of agriculture.

Section 4. Provides that any money unexpended in any year shall be deducted from the appropriation for the succeeding year.

Section 5. Provides for the time when the money is to be paid and for reports showing how it is to be used.

Section 6. Provides that any federal money lost or misused must be made good by the state. It prohibits the use of money for any purpose not strictly within the act.

Section 7. Provides for reports from the colleges to the secretary of agriculture and the secretary of the treasury. The secretary of agriculture may withhold an appropriation from states not complying with the act. Such states may appeal to Congress from the secretary's decision.

Section 8. Provides that the secretary of agriculture shall make report to Congress, etc.

You will note that this bill would give Hawaii unconditionally ten thousand dollars per year; and a pro rata increase dependent upon local appropriations.

Respectfully yours,
VAUGHAN MACCAUGHY,
In charge of Extension Work.

"SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste, and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother. If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile, and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic, remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by the "California Fig Syrup Company," advertisement.

AT THE THEATERS

THE NON THEATER

There are complications galore with a host of humorous situations to be found in the presentation of "Hotel Topsy Turvy," the latest offering from the Spaulding Musical Comedy Company, which production will be presented for the first time in Honolulu on Monday evening at the Bijou theater. The happy travesty and musical comedy will grace the Bijou boards for two performances only, as all the principals in the Spaulding cast will be featured in vaudeville beginning with Wednesday evening.

"Hotel Topsy Turvy" will be found well staged and each member of the company has been assigned a congenial part. The skit is amply interspersed with musical and dancing interpolations. Paisley Noon is featured in a new song, "Better Be Careful, Mary." Later in the evening he is down on the program for another song hit, "You're the Same Old Girl." "The Kellys Are At It" is an offering from Hatlie De Von. Margaret De Von will be heard in "Melancholy Babe." The De Von sisters are to be seen in one of their startling and eccentric dances. Miss Audelle, in "Make Me Love You," will be heard in one of the best selections in her extensive repertoire.

EMPIRE THEATER

A plot that is interesting because of the apparently hopeless way that the principal characters are scattered through the production, the feature offering at the Empire theater for this afternoon and evening in "The Penalty of Crime," presented in two reels, is predicted to be a picture of more than ordinary merit. Enthusiasm over this particular film is aroused by the happy blending of a strong story, suggestive acting in several dominant parts and a fine regard for detail that gives tone to an artistic production. There is a unity of effort displayed in the staging of the piece coupled with the clever photographic perpetuation of it all.

"Attorney for the Defense," is another powerfully enacted drama that is offered in connection with today's program. Much can be said of the dramatizing on "Where Shore and Waters Meet."

The comedy side of the bill has not been neglected in "Anonymous Love," a farce with plenty of snap, dash and ginger. All sorts of perplexing situations arise before the story is completely told by the aid of the camera. A daily change of bill will be the rule at the Empire theater throughout the L. week. Two performances are given daily.

DEMONSTRATION IN DIABETES

In proof of the fact that Hepatic degeneration can be successfully opposed and sugar eliminated in many cases of Diabetes in people aged fifty and upwards, on May 6th, 1912, we published in San Francisco dailies an offer to the effect that if any four physicians in good standing in this city would send us a Diabetic between fifty and seventy years of age, strong enough to call at our office, showing high specific gravity, thirst and a large quantity of sugar, we would attempt to return the patient in 60 days with half the sugar eliminated and thirst and symptoms largely reduced and on the road to recovery.

Later we published the name and address of a Diabetic patient with an invitation to physicians to take sample and make their own tests, and thus see the sugar declining week by week.

The ability of Fulton's Diabetic Compound to reduce sugar in many cases of Diabetes in people of fifty and upwards is not a matter of opinion but a FACT IN PHYSICS and we will send formula for sugar test that will show the percentage of sugar from week to week. As the sugar disappears improvement commonly follows, recoveries having been reported in many cases. Formula and literature mailed on request. John J. Fulton Co., San Francisco.

MAUI NEWS

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence] WAILUKU, Mar. 20.—The grand jury of the March term met on Wednesday, and after some eight hours of hard work in which five true bills were found, adjourned. It was almost a record breaker as far as expeditious work was concerned.

On Monday night a very pleasant dinner was given at the Maui Hotel in honor of Colonel Arthur Coyne and Lieut. A. L. Bump. Toastmaster J. N. K. Keola introduced as the first speaker, Lieut. Bump, who spoke at length upon the need and place of the National Guard of Hawaii. He praised the patriotic spirit of the islands. Colonel Coyne followed telling in detail some interesting facts concerning the work of the National Guard.

Manager H. B. Penhallow, Major W. E. Bal, Captain Fred Kaas followed in short and appropriate speeches. Lieut. Bump was then asked to narrate his experiences in the Cuban war and in the Philippines. He was listened to most eagerly.

Ad. Chislett, Charles Wilcox, Health Inspector J. L. Osmer and F. C. Cleghorn also made short interesting addresses.

At the Alexander House a most enjoyable social was given Tuesday last by the Women's Aid Society of the Wailuku Union Church. A large number of members and a few guests were present. The afternoon was full of fun. Mrs. D. H. Case read a few Irish stories and read them well. The games played were all more or less dealing with some subject connected with Ireland and St. Patrick's day. The prevailing color scheme was the national color.

J. J. Walsh, manager of the Kahului Store, left on Monday evening with his wife and children for an extended trip on the mainland. The manager goes on business as far as New York, and will return with his family some time in June.

W. A. Anderson, manager of Nahiku Rubber Co., was a passenger to Honolulu on Wednesday's Claudine.

Gerrit P. Wilder, has sent to Maui about 50 bundles of choice hibiscus cuttings. They were sent to V. A. Vetlesen, for distribution. Maui people were particularly pleased with the slips.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week the ladies of Kahului were invited to the parsonage to look over the building, and to see what was needed to be done in the way of renovating and preparing the house for Rev. and Mrs. Howard Harris, who are soon to arrive from Los Angeles. It was decided to refinish and repaint the floors, look over the screens and put up new shades, and do as much more as possible at a later date. The work as mentioned is to be undertaken at once. Mrs. Ed. Walsh, Mrs. Captain Parker and Mrs. H. K. Duncan were selected as a committee for this work.

A large committee of which Mrs. Frank Stevens is chairman was also appointed to prepare for the reception to the new pastor and his wife, which is to be given on April 15th at the church. This is to be a public reception and all Maui people are invited to attend. Mr. H. K. Duncan and Mrs. E. R. Bevins were appointed two members of a committee, they to appoint other members, to get up an entertainment for the benefit of the parsonage fund. They have called a public meeting of all the Kahului people at the church next Tuesday evening to talk over the matter of an entertainment which is to provide ways and means for the renovation of the parsonage. It is expected that the committee, which is to be appointed that evening, will plan an elaborate entertainment, which will attempt to raise a large sum of money at one time.

The standing committee of the Kahului church has made arrangements to thoroughly clean the house and yard of the parsonage preparatory to the coming of the new minister. Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Harris are expected on the incoming Monday. It is possible they may decide to remain in Honolulu over Sunday as they have had very urgent invitations to do so.

The committee of the Wailuku Union Church have definitely decided upon the evening of April eighteenth for the staging of Red Riding Hood, which is being worked up by Mrs. Louise Chisholm Jones and a bevy of children. Mrs. J. Chisholm Villers will assist Miss Mary E. Hoffman by rendering two selections on the organ. Mrs. Louise Chisholm Jones and the church choir will be assisted by Mr. Harry Washburn Baldwin.

Wailuku fire department's engine was called out on a quick run Wednesday night by a fire at the Alexander Settlement house. It seems that for some few days the acetylene gas plant had not been working quite as it should, and the Japanese yard boy, who being a new hand was somewhat inexperienced with the care of the premises and particularly of the gas plant was called upon to help. He entered the compartment where the plant was kept, and lit a match. The fire shot out from under the building, terribly scorching the boy's face and hands. Fortunately the time of the accident could not have been better suited for immediate help, as people were standing about waiting for the Maui theater to open its doors. Dan Carey rushed for his fire extinguisher, and with the aid of Inspector Osmer and others put the fire out.

HAWAII MAY NOT BENEFIT BY NEW MEASURE FOR BUILDING OF ROADS

Honolulu, March 7, 1914.

Dear Sir:

Roads in the Hawaiian Islands. I submit herewith certain data on roads in the Hawaiian Islands and notes on house resolution 10,522—a bill now before Congress.

In General. There are four main islands in the Hawaiian group, namely, Oahu, Hawaii, Maui and Kauai. In addition to these there are Molokai, Lanai, Niihau and Kahoolawe, which are smaller and of less importance.

Population and Area.—The population and area of these islands are as follows:

Island	Population	Area, Sq. Miles
Oahu	81,993	598
Hawaii	55,382	4,015
Maui	28,623	728
Kauai	23,744	547
Molokai	1,791	261
Lanai	131	139
Niihau	208	97
Kahoolawe	2	69
Total	191,909	6,454

The above population is taken from the 1910 census.

Post Roads.—From the post route map of the territory of Hawaii, under date of December 1, 1911, I note that there are 548 miles of post roads now in operation. These are tabulated as follows:

Islands	Railways	6 times a week	3 times a week	Twice a week	Once a week	Month	Total
Hawaii	47	35%	38	85%	106	23	287 1/2
Oahu	102 1/2	26%	36	11 1/2	80%	..	26 1/2
Maui	10	36	11 1/2	80%	128 1/2
Kauai	65	65
Molokai	26	26
Lanai	15	15	15
Niihau
Kahoolawe
Total	159 1/2	97 1/2	114 1/2	192	106	38	548
Grand total, post roads, 548 miles.				Grand total, railroads, 159 1/2 miles.

Roads, Territory of Hawaii.

Under Whose Care.—The roads of the territory of Hawaii are now being constructed by three different departments of the government—the city and county of Honolulu and the counties of each of the other three main islands, the territorial loan fund commissions and the public works department.

Counties.—The larger portion of all roads are maintained at the present time by the counties and most of the alterations and extensions are constructed by them. The care and maintenance of all roads have been delegated to the four different counties—Oahu, Hawaii, Maui and Kauai.

Loan Funds.—The session of 1911 of the legislature of Hawaii appropriated $1,270,000 for the construction of roads; this money to be expended under the direction of the four loan fund commissions. These commissions had the authority to expend the money for roads, bridges and such other improvements as were deemed necessary. The following miles of road have been built by the different loan fund commissions:

LOAN FUND COMMISSIONS' ROAD WORK.

Island	Miles	Cost to Feb. 28, 1914	Cost per Mile	Balance Due Contractors
Oahu	15	$199,479.01	$13,298.60
Maui	7.39	194,588.06	26,482.20	$42,100.00
Hawaii	30.11	425,342.66	14,224.66	71,296.31
Kauai	.92	100,000.00

* Including bridges.

There were only two road contracts made—total length .92 mile; but the amount expended also includes construction work on the belt road in sections that did not require contracts. Several bridges were also constructed for and paid for out of this amount.

Public Works.—Under the present homestead laws, money received from the sale of homestead lands can be expended; and in many cases must be expended on roads to and through the homesteads. This work is delegated to the Public Works Department of the territory of Hawaii, but the total amount of work so done is small compared with the total miles of roads in the islands.

Construction of Roads.—Roads in the territory of Hawaii are of several types. Where travel permits and supplies are on hand, coral roads have been constructed and have usually proved very satisfactory. In other places, where an abundance of coral sand is to be had, ordinary macadam road covered with same carry the traffic. Where neither coral nor sand is at hand, it has been noticed that the ordinary water-bound macadam road unravels and rapidly deteriorates. The loan fund commissions have consistently used different forms of asphalt macadam for all other work, and in most cases have made satisfactory roads.

The Public Works Department rarely has had sufficient funds to construct anything but a dirt road. It is usually the policy of the Public Works Department to grade the road, leaving the high crowns, ample drainage, and rely on the county or the homesteaders themselves to complete the road. The amount of money received from the sale of homestead lands is not sufficient at any one time to lay out and construct suitable roads, owing to the fact that the revenues are received over a period of from five to ten years.

Travel.—Travel on roads in the islands has been very heavy as compared with the area and population. No exact figures can be given as to the tonnage or the vehicles per day. There are about 1500 automobiles in Honolulu, with a population of 81,000. This is at the rate of one automobile to each 54 inhabitants, which is very high. Most all tourists use automobiles to see the sights of the islands. Pineapple haulage is performed by heavy trucks. The army makes freight and express delivery by trucks to a large extent. Many of the plantations own motor self-propelled trucks of various descriptions and use the same on the public highways.

Rainfall.—There are included in this report maps taken from the "Climatological Surveys of the Weather Bureau," dated 1912. These maps show the rainfall of the various islands and speak for themselves. It will be noted that the rainfall varies from almost nothing to 200 inches and over annually.

On the island of Maui the maximum rainfall is 209.4 inches with a minimum of 8.97 inches. On Hawaii the maximum is 230.36 inches with a minimum of 14.24. On Oahu, the maximum is at Luakaha and is 135.58 inches. The minimum is at Ewa (Oahu) and is 6.26 inches. From this report it can evidently be concluded that the roads must be constructed in some places to withstand terrific rainfall, while in others to stand up under long continued drought and high winds.

In circling the island of Hawaii one is able to see all the kinds of climate and different processes of earth construction that are known to man. While the climate is of approximately the same temperature, one sees the heavy rains along the Hamakua coast and the desert along Keaumoku. From the crude lava at the Volcano house, one can travel in a day through the successive and disintegrating lava flows of the richest soil forests by long-continued and heavy forests.

All the other islands are similar to these to a more or less degree. The belt road of Oahu passes through some of the richest agricultural lands in the islands, and also through the dry and windy point at Kahuku.

H. R. 10,522.—The intent of this bill is "to establish in the department of agriculture a bureau to be known as a bureau of highways and to provide national aid in construction, improvement and maintenance of public highways in each state and territory, and to provide funds for same."

In section 4, the bill states that one-half of the cost of certain highways may be paid by the United States, provided that one-half shall not exceed $5000 per mile and also provided that the state or territory shall pay in addition to its one-half proportion, all additional cost above an average of $10,000 per mile. There are also other provisions in this section regarding the payments, but the item to which I desire to call attention is the assumed cost of roads.

In Hawaii, $5000 will not pay one-half the cost of the roads. It has been shown that even with re-alignment and re-grade of an old road the cost will still run between $13,000 and $26,000 per mile. This, of course, is for a form of asphalt macadam road. The bill states that all costs above $5000 must be paid by the state or territory and it will readily be seen that on roads here the territory of Hawaii must pay probably twice as much as the United States for the construction of proper roads.

In section 7, a general road plan is provided for, which when completed will connect with each other in such a way as to form a national system of highways. It is, of course, obvious that no system of connecting roads can be provided for the territory of Hawaii, but that each island must be considered separately.

Section 9 gives certain additions, which literally interpreted, would prevent any benefit from this act. This act states: "That 70 per cent of a proposed road must be used by the federal government in the delivery of mail. It is more than likely that any such road would be used throughout its entire length for mail delivery, but at the present time there are some places where no mail delivery is made because of the excessive bad condition of the roads.

Again, this section states that the highways are to be so located as to pass through the center of a zone, the boundaries of which shall be 10 miles distant from said highway and shall contain at least 60 per cent of said stated territory. On the island of Hawaii the most needed road is the one from Waimea to Kailua. The road itself will pass through an almost uninhabited country, but will connect populous districts with each other. This road will be less than 10 miles distant from the seashore in most places, which is the boundary of the territory. Ten miles towards the mountains from such a proposed road would extend into a mountainous uninhabited territory. This road is badly needed and will be of great use to the territory. It is the missing portion of the belt road around the island. With a good usable road through this district, it is believed that a large amount of traffic would pass over the same.

Section 8 also states that such a road is to be of service and use to at least 80 per cent of the people, and over which 90 per cent of the vehicle mileage will travel. It is probable that such a highway would be of use to all the people of that zone and that all the vehicle mileage will travel on one portion or another of the highway.

Section 9 also states that said highway shall be selected for the benefit and use of the farmers in marketing their products to the local markets, cities and railroad stations. There is no railroad in the vicinity of Keaumoku, but this road will be of inestimable value, not only for marketing the produce of this particular zone, but for inter-communication between the richly agricultural lands on either side of it.

What is true on Hawaii of this particular portion is true on all of the other islands, to a more or less extent. It is impossible to locate any highway practically and have a 10-mile zone on each side of the highway. The highways in Hawaii are in great use in connecting the more populated districts and at present are needed mostly through unpopulated districts. Taken as a whole, the territory of Hawaii can not construct any road through a zone having 60 per cent of the population of the whole territory. The population is divided among the different islands and a road on any one island, even a highway through the center of Honolulu, will not comply with this portion of section 9.

In sections 10 and 16, three classes of roads are described: known as class A, class B and class C. Class A calls for a macadam road; class B calls for gravel, less expensive than macadam; class C calls for a dirt road. It has been pointed out that roads in Hawaii lie through mountainous and rough country for a large part, and that roads of class C and class B are of questionable value. Even class A roads will not withstand the heavy hauling and unfavorable weather conditions of this territory. It has been found necessary, by the loan fund commissions, to construct roads of a type superior in quality to that described as class A. Ordinary water-bound macadam is not sufficient. The road should be of a bituminous nature, having a rock or concrete sub-base and an asphalt or bituminous binder with suitable wearing surface. It has been found necessary to allow for many large culverts to take care of the excessive run-off due to sudden rains. On the Kona side of Oahu an exceedingly heavy sub-base construction has been required on the hillsides in some places to maintain the road over clay and water-soaked soils. It is believed that the best policy for road construction in the territory of Hawaii is to construct roads of a permanent nature. These roads should be designed to carry heavy automobile traffic and stand heavy precipitation and large and sudden run-off.

Yours very respectfully,
J. W. CALDWELL,
Superintendent of Public Works.
Honorable Lucius E. Pinkham,
Governor of Hawaii,
Honolulu, T. H.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
TO PRESENT DOUGHERTY WITH TOKEN OF REGARD

"Presented to James D. Dougherty by the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce in recognition of his successful management and direction of the Carnival held February, 1914."

This reads the inscription on a handsome silver plate which will be presented to James D. Dougherty, director-general of the 1914 Mid-Pacific Carnival, by the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce shortly after his arrival in Honolulu in the Manos Tuesday. President George R. Carter has called a special meeting of the chamber to be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at which time the presentation will be made. Besides the members, other citizens who may be interested are invited to attend.

A few days ago President Carter ascertained by wireless that Mr. Dougherty was aboard the Manoa bound for Honolulu after a three-weeks visit on the mainland settling the estate of his mother. Mr. Carter extended an invitation to Mr. Dougherty to attend the special meeting, although not setting forth the purpose of the gathering, which was accepted. The idea of the silver plate comes from the trustees of the chamber and besides being a surprise for Mr. Dougherty, will form an appropriate public recognition for services rendered.

The steamer W. G. Hall is today discharging 5000 sacks of sugar and other island products brought from the island of Kauai. The vessel will be dispatched for Abukini and Nawiliwili at 5 o'clock this evening.

FILIPINOS NOT YET READY TO GOVERN SELVES

That the new policies put in force in the Philippines by Gov. Gen. Francis Burton Harrison are meeting with almost universal condemnation among the American residents of the islands, and that, in his opinion, it would be nothing short of a crime to allow the Filipinos to govern themselves, was the gist of a statement made this morning by F. E. Muzzy, a retired capitalist of Springfield, Mass., who arrived in Honolulu yesterday in the Siberia, on a short visit. Mr. Muzzy has spent the past several months in the Orient, during which time he visited the Philippines and made an exhaustive investigation of conditions there.

"Not more than one-tenth of the Filipinos know what self-government means," he said. "Business is at a standstill in the Philippines at the present time owing to the talk of independence which has floated over from the United States. The islands are not dependent upon the United States but are self-supporting. They are an enormous source of revenue to America's mercantile interests on account of the great business which has developed among the merchants during the past 15 years. I consider it nothing short of a crime to turn the government over to the Filipinos. As to the decrease in business activity, this depression is attributed to the reports received from the United States encouraging the belief that independence for the islands is near at hand. Business men everywhere are complaining of conditions in the Philippines and even the insular government is feeling the brunt of depression."

"A large majority of the Filipinos who are able to pass on the question of independence and 90 per cent of the business men do not want it. It is always said that the United States does not want colonies, but it has on its hands now 8,000,000 people whom it is bound to protect as they are a dependent people and not one-tenth of them know what self-government means. To turn them loose in the immediate future would mean a repetition of the present Mexican situation. Manila residents say this would please Japan for Japan would gladly seize the islands and, because of their wonderful undeveloped resources could float large quantities of bonds with which to replenish her depleted treasury."

"Millions of dollars are waiting for investment in the Philippines if the country could be assured of a stable government for some time to come, but the investors realize that if independence is granted their capital will have no security. One large importer said to me that there were only two nationalities who had any reason to invest a dollar in the Philippines, the Englishman, because England protected her subjects, and the Spaniards because Spain had known the Philippines for 300 years."

"Giving the Filipinos their independence now is just as reasonable as it would have been to give the Indians all the territory West of the Mississippi and turn them adrift, say 200 years after our forefathers landed on Plymouth Rock. Or it would have been equally reasonable to give the negroes all the ruling power south of the Mason and Dixon line immediately after the Civil War. The Filipinos need today, not advice, but management and control such as has been given to them for the past 15 years. On the whole they are satisfied with this and would continue to be so if not stirred up by political agitators whose only object is to gain political honors. In the United States few Filipinos are seen and most of these are of the educated class and are capable of self-government, but what of the other 7,990,000?"

"I did not hear anyone speak of Governor Harrison personally but with respect, but his policies were universally condemned. In fact of the hundreds I talked with only two or three favored his policies, and all of these were political appointees subject to his dismissal. I am not talking from any personal interest as I am not interested in the Philippines either financially or politically, nor have I any relatives or intimate friends so interested. Neither do I pose as an authority on Philippine conditions but my stay there fully convinced me that the Philippine policy of the present administration is very bad for the Philippines."

"Your husband is willing to allow you custody of the automobile, the poodle and the rubber plant, while he takes the children and the graphophone." "Stop the divorce," sobbed the wife. "I'll never get another husband like that." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

chairmanship of the utilities commission and one prediction was made this morning that he will be named by the governor.

Mr. Reidford's long experience in business life, both before and during the years when he was manager of the Bishop Trust Company, have won to his candidacy the support of a number of business men who feel that a business man primarily should be chairman of the commission. He had a conference with Governor Pinkham Saturday morning. Mr. Reidford's friends are relying upon his record, qualifications and interest in community affairs to score heavily in his favor. He is not identified with any political faction, it was pointed out this morning, and his application, it has been made plain, is based on no political grounds whatever, but on business efficiency grounds.

As opposed to this view, several people who have expressed themselves feel that the work of the commission is so largely legal in its nature and the funds so limited, that the chairman should be versed in law so that the employment of an attorney for the commission would not be necessary.

J. N. S. Williams is not a candidate for the chairmanship and will not be, it was stated today.

One report of unusual interest today was that of H. Gooding Field, the statistical expert of the Hawaii graft probe commission, was in the field and the report was later confirmed by a wireless from Hilo. His experience in schedule-making, rates, valuations, etc., are spoken of as strong assets in his favor if he should seek the position.

There was a rumor today that the Democratic territorial central committee may oppose the appointment of Judge Wilder. Chairman Pacheco opposed Judge Wilder for the supreme bench, partly because of Wilder's reported activity with regard to the Honolulu postoffice appointment. It was intimated today that Pacheco will carry on the fight. A meeting of the committee is to be held tonight and it is said the anti-Wilder Democrats on it are ready to enter a protest backing up Pacheco's views.

Judge Wilder's letter of application is as follows:

March 23, 1914.

"L. E. Pinkham, Esquire,
Governor of the Territory of Hawaii.

Sir:

"I, A. A. Wilder, hereby make application for the position of Chairman of the Public Utilities Commission. I am a part Hawaiian, a little over 40 years of age. I was born in these islands and have always lived here. I am a lawyer by profession and have always been a Democrat. Any references which you may desire as to my character and ability can be furnished on request. I can say that Mr. Gignoux, one of the present members of the commission, is not opposed to me and I can assure you that, so far as least as he is concerned, we can and will work together."

"Yours respectfully,
"A. A. WILDER."
Though Governor Pinkham verbally accepted the resignation of E. A. Mott-Smith as chairman of the public utilities commission on the day it was tendered, the formal acceptance was not written and signed until today. Incidentally, Mott-Smith altered his resignation, to take effect March 27 instead of March 31. He leaves for Japan on the former date.

"I have received a number of applications for the job," said the governor today, "but haven't taken up the question of a successor seriously as yet."

Several representatives of public utility corporations called on the chief executive this morning, all urging that a competent man be selected for the place and expressing a willingness to submit their reports to the commission, but none offered a suggestion of endorsement of any particular man for the vacancy.

Glad to show you any of them; overcoats $25 to $35.
